County commissioners discuss solid waste agreement

Discussion and action on a solid waste agreement with Spearman, and liability insurance for county officials were the two main issues taken up by the Hansford County Commissioners' Court at its regular meeting Monday, Oct. 22. Despite having an agenda with only six items, the court was in session from 10 a.m. until almost 3 p.m. because of discussion on these two items.

The City of Spearman submitted a document to the county court titled "Solid Waste Management Agreement." In the document the city spells out what the county court needs to do so county residents can continue to bring solid waste to the Spearman landfill. The item on the list which caused much debate among the commissioners and eventually led to their rejection of the agreement was the item requiring the county to pay the city $14,000.

The commissioners felt the money was being required to finish digging a pit at the Spearman dump. This pit is required so that waste can be buried to meet EPA regulations. The commissioners felt they had already spent more than their share of money and county personnel time digging pits at the dump. They also felt that this amount of money was more than for this project when it was begun.

Commissioner Val Winger summed up the commissioners' feelings by saying, "We have been digging a lot of pits and spent a lot more monies than this." He went on to say, "We agreed to spend $18,000 when this started, and that's it." According to County Court records the commissioners have already given the city $14,250 of that $18,000.

The lone dissenting vote on the court was that of R.L. McClellan, county judge. He said during the discussion, "We agreed to dig whatever pits are necessary." The commissioners allowed there may have been a breakdown in communication between the city and the court.

At the end of the debate the court rejected the city's proposed waste agreement, and made a counter proposal. The county's proposal differs from the city's only in the amount of money the county court will pay the city.

In formulating its proposal the court expressed a desire to work with the city to solve the waste disposal problems of the county, along with its regrets at any miscommunication that took place between the city and the county. The court's proposal states that the county court will provide $4,000 to the city to finish the pit already begun. In addition, the county will provide county personnel and equipment to work on the pit if needed.

The city council's agenda for its meeting on Oct. 30 indicates it will consider the county's proposal then.

In other business the court voted unanimously to change the public official liability insurance carrier. The court voted to drop the policies now in force and to pick up policies from the Texas Association of Counties. Judge McClellan indicated the change would give the county more coverage for about $2,100 less money.

In dealing with the payment of claims, the court was informed by the county auditor that the county would have to pay the justice of the peace's part-time secretary $8 an hour. The auditor stated that the secretary was working full time as a dispatcher in the sheriff's office and therefore is entitled by law to overtime pay for her work in the JP's office.

The commissioners decided to give the secretary her choice as to the office in which she chooses to work. If she indicates a desire to continue with the sheriff's office, the JP's secretary duties will be taken over by the county judge's secretary.

R.L. McFarlin reported to the court on the Hansford County law enforcement agencies' involvement in a high-speed auto chase through Spearman. He reported that the county agencies responded according to policies laid down by the agencies. The Spearman police cleared traffic from the highway and streets of Spearman, and the sheriff's personnel worked with DPS officer Ed Longoria to stop the suspect five miles east of Spearman on Highway 15.

The sheriff reported that they responded to a report from the Hutchinson County Sheriff of a theft suspect fleeing from their officers at speeds up to 100 mph and entering Hansford County. Sheriff McFarlin said the suspect was finally stopped when all four tires on his vehicle were shot out.

In a final piece of business the court voted to change its next regularly scheduled meeting to Tuesday, Nov. 13. The reason for the change is to avoid meeting on Veterans' Day, a county and federal holiday.

Fire protection contract given approval by Gruver city fathers

Gruver city commissioners approved a fire protection contract with Hansford County, approved increased costs for emergency medical services and discussed repairs for the Golden Age Center at their Oct. 17 meeting.

Approval was given to a reworded fire protection contract with Hansford County. The contract is essentially the same as in the past, according to City Manager A.J. Ratliff, but the new contract has some added wording. The new contract language specifies that firefighters will each receive $10 per call. Ratliff said the firefighters had previously been paid the fee, but the contract had not specified the amount.

In other business, commissioners approved Ordinance 222, increasing the Emergency Medical Service rates. Cost of basic life support was increased from $35 to $75; advanced life support cost was increased from $75 to $150; and ambulance mileage cost increased from $1.50 per mile to $2.50 per mile.

City fathers also discussed repairs which are needed for the roof of the Golden Age Center. Ratliff said the building has some structural roof damage, probably due to snow accumulation. Estimated cost for the necessary repairs is $23,000. The city commission is awaiting notification from an insurance company as to whether the company will pay for the repairs.

Regular business for the commission included approval of minutes of the previous meeting and approval of bills for the month of September.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Keith Gibson, Commissioner Buster Davis and Ratliff.

A proclamation declaring Texans War On Drugs Red Ribbon Week in Gruver was signed Wednesday, Oct. 17 at Gruver High School, with participation from GHS students. Attending the signing ceremony were (seated, l-r) Kyle Haenisch, student body president; Keith Gibson, Gruver mayor; Harley Jackson, GHS student; (standing, l-r) Barry Haenisch, GHS principal; and GHS students Gretchen Lowder, Jennifer Baker, Cynthia Winn, Benny McClenagan, Clay Gillispie and Steven Foster.

A small but enthusiastic group of Spearman students and adults gathered Monday for a Texans' War On Drugs Red Ribbon Week rally at Spearman City Hall. The group invited all Spearman area residents to "Join Me - I'm Drug Free" as part of Red Ribbon Week activities. In addition, the group inspected a flag designed and created by Spearman PTA member Janet Scarborough. The flag, which urges businesses, schools, families, clubs and organizations to join in substance abuse prevention, will be on display at various locations in Spearman throughout Red Ribbon Week.

First Baptist Church Puppet Team learning tool

by Jean Ann Behney

If you haven't met Corky, you are missing out on one of Hansford County's most unforgettable characters. From the top of his vivid green head to his wide alligator smile...

Alligator smile? Yes, Corky is a reptile. An alligator puppet, to be exact, who resides at the First Baptist Church of Spearman and with his cronies comes to life through the hands and voice of young people.

"I initiated the Puppet Team and I've worked with it since we started it in the spring of 1988," explains First Baptist Church Youth Minister Scott Taylor. "The idea of using puppets in church has been done for a long time, because it has been found to be an effective outreach tool for children."

Taylor says he was inspired to begin his Puppet Ministry when he saw the First Baptist Church of Gruver's puppetry several years ago. At the time, Taylor was a youth minister in Perryton and he "never forgot" the magic of that puppet show.

Corky the alligator is now the main character of the First Baptist Church of Spearman's Puppet Team, because, says Taylor, he has the most appeal. "He is the easiest puppet to create expression with," Taylor adds, "I guess it's because of his big mouth!"

The winsome alligator is supported by a cast of several others including both human and animal puppets. "We even have some that are interchangeable—with a wig, one might be a girl, but without a wig, a boy," comments Taylor with a smile. The puppets come from all over, according to the youth minister, but recently he discovered a lady in Amarillo who makes and consigns them to area Christian bookstores. "These are not as expensive as the ones I ordered from California, and the quality is just as good," says Taylor.

Puppets require hands and voices, and these are provided by Taylor's Puppet Team. "Some of my kids have done this several years, since I started the puppet ministry when they were in junior high," explains Taylor. Those with some experience have become "very adept," in Taylor's words, at manipulating the puppets and ad libbing during programs. Original members still on the team are Michael Cummings, Holly Jarvis and Adrian Blackburn. Other current members are Alan Hutchison, Kara Faries, Donette Cates, Melissa Baker and Tracy Tigrett.

Taylor gives his team a topic outline of a lesson or theme that correlates with scripture and then gives his puppeteers the freedom to create their own dialogues. These lively skits are broken up by taped songs which Taylor orders from a company called PRISM.

After the team has decided what the puppets should say and do during the sketch, the material is practiced two or three times to make it workable. "Then it's show time!" says Taylor.

And the puppeteers take so much pride in the programs they create!

The response of young children to the puppets is "amazing," Taylor declares. "They hang on every word, because when Corky or one of his friends says it, it is Gospel!" he says. He adds that the children are impressed by the scripture each puppet has "memorized" and that the lessons taught by entertaining puppets in "magical moments" are easily understood and very memorable to impressionable young people.

He tells the story of the time the puppets taught a unit on the verse "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God" to a class of two-year-olds. The dialogue ended with a toe-tapping version of the song by the same title. As the program ended and the toddlers marched out of the room, one small boy chanted "Seek ye First, seek ye First!" while snapping his fingers.

The music played includes old familiar hymns and songs for both children and adults, such as "Jesus Loves Me," but the arrangements used are "jazzed up" versions with catchy rhythms and instrumentation. Taylor says this gives the music more appeal to a generation accustomed to rock and roll.

Taylor says the puppets and their songs appeal to children as well as teens and adults, and also believes the puppeteers themselves are changed by their own participation in this ministry.

He says living through a puppet has allowed some of the less confident team members to "come out of themselves" and develop stronger self-esteem. "And not only are the kids able to let it all hang out," so to speak," Taylor adds, "but they can also see others' appreciation for their skills."

The Puppet Team has tried practicing pre-packaged skits in which an audiocassette tape speaks all the lines the puppets are saying with the puppeteers merely using their hands to move the puppets' mouths. "But the kids and I don't like these," says Taylor, "because that's just lip-synching and it doesn't demand any creativity to bring the puppet to life."

"As it is," he continues, "some of my puppet team members get very attached to the character they play. They have created that puppet's personality and they don't want anyone else putting words in its mouth!"

Given the fun and spontaneity of the puppet ministry, there has been no end of misadventures. One time the puppets made the mistake of informing their eager vacation Bible school audience that they loved marshmallows. The following morning, dozens of children arrived with big bags of marshmallows for Corky and his friends to eat.

"What do you do with 6,000 marshmallows?" Taylor groans aloud as he reminisces. He reports that the first time this happened, the puppets 'shared' the treats with all the children attending the vacation Bible school.

"But one kid brought a jar of marshmallow cream for the puppets to eat. The kids (puppeteers) were eating it behind the stage so it would sound like the puppets were eating it, and the stuff ended up everywhere!" recalls Taylor.

Taylor reports he sees no flagging of interest in the puppet team, either on the part of the audiences or the puppeteers, as this special ministry heads into its third year. The puppets have "run" the church's vacation Bible school opening and closing exercises for two years now and also helped at First Christian Church of Spearman's vacation Bible school last summer.

"The Puppet Team is an enjoyable learning tool for everyone involved," he summarizes.

Spearman First Baptist Church puppeteers are (l-r) Donette Cates, Tracy Tigrett, Michael Cummings, Sammy Graham, Kara Faries and Melissa Baker.

PDP 'Plaza Suite' presentation delightful

by Jean Ann Behney

Those with a need for comic relief were richly rewarded last weekend by attending the Palo Duro Players' performances of "Plaza Suite."

The Players did justice to the well-known Neil Simon comedy as they trod the boards at Gruver High School Auditorium Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon.

The play is a typical Simon-ish "slice of life" look at Americana and the Players were well-cast for maximum effect. In the first act, married-in-real-life Spearmonites Bruce and Sharon Bailey starred as Sam and Karen Nash, who meet at New York's Plaza Suite to celebrate 24—or is it 23? years of marriage. That question is only one of many provoking some funny/sad quarrels.

In spite of their off-stage relationship, the Baileys were adept at portraying the Nash's eroding relationship. Bruce had his character's feelings of indifference down pat and Sharon's sarcastic wit was delivered with a wonderful deadpan.

Dwayne Smith of Spearman and Brenda Ross of Gruver rounded out the scenes with small roles as the waiter and Sam Nash's secretary.

The second act gave us Hollywood producer Jesse Kiplinger, played with dashing sliminess by Spearman's Cecil Biggers. In the play, the seedy producer is in town to re-ignite an old flame, his former high school sweetheart, that nice girl he left behind. She is the moral, married mother, Muriel Tate.

Brenda Ross also played Tate and she was brilliant at evolving from Kiplinger's nervous, naive visitor to the vodka-guzzling disoriented housewife. Hers was undoubtedly the most difficult role to play in "Plaza Suite."

Dwayne Smith reprised his bumbling waiter role in this act, with comic facial expressions that provoked much audience mirth.

By the third act (on opening night), the cast was warmed up and the play was hysterically funny. Spearman's Linda Butt and Gruver's Russ Chisum starred as Norma and Roy Hubley, the distraught parents of a bride-to-be who has locked herself in the bathroom of the hotel room.

Butt and Chisum are the Palo Duro Players' calling cards, whether they admit it or not, and they made the comedy crackle on-stage! Chisum's portrayal of Roy Hubley's frustrated rages over the money he has already spent on the wedding were extremely funny as the audience saw him go from angry to pleading to angry again at the locked bathroom door. Butt's dithery Norma Hubley was the perfect foil for Chisum's character.

Dwayne Smith and Brenda Ross again took bit parts in this act: he as the goofy fiance, Borden Eisler, and she as daughter Mimsey Hubley.

The Palo Duro Player's "Plaza

Suite" was a true delight and this reviewer's only sorrow was that the Saturday evening audience was so thin of company.

It is apparent that director Ron Dunning of Gruver attained the success he was working for with this play. Denise Schumann as stage manager and Kari Russell as lighting director saw to it that everything ran smoothly backstage.

It is time for Hansford County to wake up to appreciate the gifts of its fledgling Palo Duro Players. Let us hope the ticket sales to the troupe's next event will reflect this acknowledgement!

Solo auditions set

Perryton's 36th annual presentation of the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" has been scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 25 at 7:00 p.m. in the Perryton High School auditorium. This year's presentation will again feature an areawide chorus, members of the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra (including members of the Harrington String Quartet), and area soloists.

Solo auditions have been set for Sunday, Oct. 28. First time auditioners should contact Cloys Webb, conductor, at 806-435-5308 evenings or mornings prior to 10:00 a.m. for audition arrangements. Rehearsals for this year's presentation have been scheduled for Nov. 8, 15 and 19 from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the PHS choir room. Rehearsal with the orchestra will precede the concert on Nov. 25.

Last year's presentation boasted a chorus of over 125 voices from the tri-state area, 10 soloists and an orchestra of 19. Perryton's "Messiah" began in 1950 as a part of the First Methodist Church's Christmas celebration. Strings were added in 1979, and in 1980, the site was moved to the high school auditorium.

Area churches are urged to support this annual Christmas production by incorporating this year's performance into their Sunday evening worship services. As in the past, there is no admission charge for the hour long presentation.

Sequel called a hit

"Die Hard 2: Die Harder" is a resoundingly action-packed sequel starring Bruce Willis, William Sadler, Dennis Frantz, Bonnie Bedelia and Fred Dalton Thompson.

Produced by Lawrence Gordon, Joel Silver and Charles Gordon, the film is directed by Renny Harlin and written by Steven de Souza and Doug Richardson. It earned an "R" rating for language and strong violence.

"Die Hard 2" is a smash hit with a frenzied pace, awesome effects and sense of humor. L.A. cop John McClane (Willis) is at Dulles International Airport in Washington, D.C., awaiting the arrival of his wife (Bedelia). But an international drug lord (Franco Nero) is flying into Dulles at the same time to stand trial.

A band of terrorists, led by Colonel Stuart (Sadler), a traitorous U.S. military officer, is out to shut down the airport and whisk the drug lord to freedom. The hapless McClane once again finds himself the sole opposition to their murderous plot when airport officials refuse to listen to him. McClane's wife is at risk of falling victim to the terrorists, because her plane is running out of fuel. Then she finds she is trapped on the plane with the very same egotistic TV reporter (William Atherton) that hounded her in the first film.

As incongruous as it all sounds, it does work, thanks to Willis' winning portrayal of this reluctant hero. And up against McClane is a ruthless villain of the first order; when Stuart coolly allows a packed airliner to plow into the ground and explode, his brutality is established with gruesome power.

Crisis Center reports activity

by Mary Frances Ellzey

You readers familiar with us may skip this paragraph, and start with the next one. The PCC offers services to men or women who are victims of domestic violence, whether verbal or physical. We give counseling, support, and information to these victims, plus a shelter to those who feel themselves to be in danger at home. These services are free of charge. If you want information only, call us at the office from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. We are available for help at any time, 24 hours a day. Our number is 435-5008. For those of you who must call us long distance, we have a toll-free number: 1-800-753-5308.

Remember, all you groups and organizations, we have speakers who will be delighted to address you with information about our operation. Last month Mary Frances Ellzey spent the day with Mrs. Karber's Home Economics class, and also journeyed to Morse to present the Parenting Program, where even her husband enjoyed the talk. This month she'll go to Gruver to present Parenting. Last month, too, Debbie Sanford spoke to an organization in Spearman. She reported that some of them cried, though she hadn't planned on her talk's being a tear-jerker. Jeanne Garrison is an excellent speaker, and there are others of us, all of whom are very happy to fill speaking engagements. So give us a call.

Remember that the outreach office opens between 9:30 and 11:30 on the first and third Wednesdays in Spearman and on the second and fourth Wednesdays in Follett. In both cities we need volunteers to help out at these times, so all you who are interested in lending a hand in relieving the pain of battered women - give us a call and make an application.

The community assistance program is continuing, with the PCC serving as the intermediary. You who are desperate for aid in paying your utilities or rent, call the office and come around for your application.

September saw two women and four children at the Shelter. You'd be amazed to learn how many women are finding themselves pointed toward Parenting Classes by learning that corporal punishment, from spanking to beating, is not only forbidden, but is proved to be unnecessary. It's like a whole new world! How much more fun parenting becomes!

Keep in mind our Big Fund Raiser at the Expo Center on October 27. The tickets are only $5 per person, and are as readily sold to singles as to couples.

ASCS gives facts

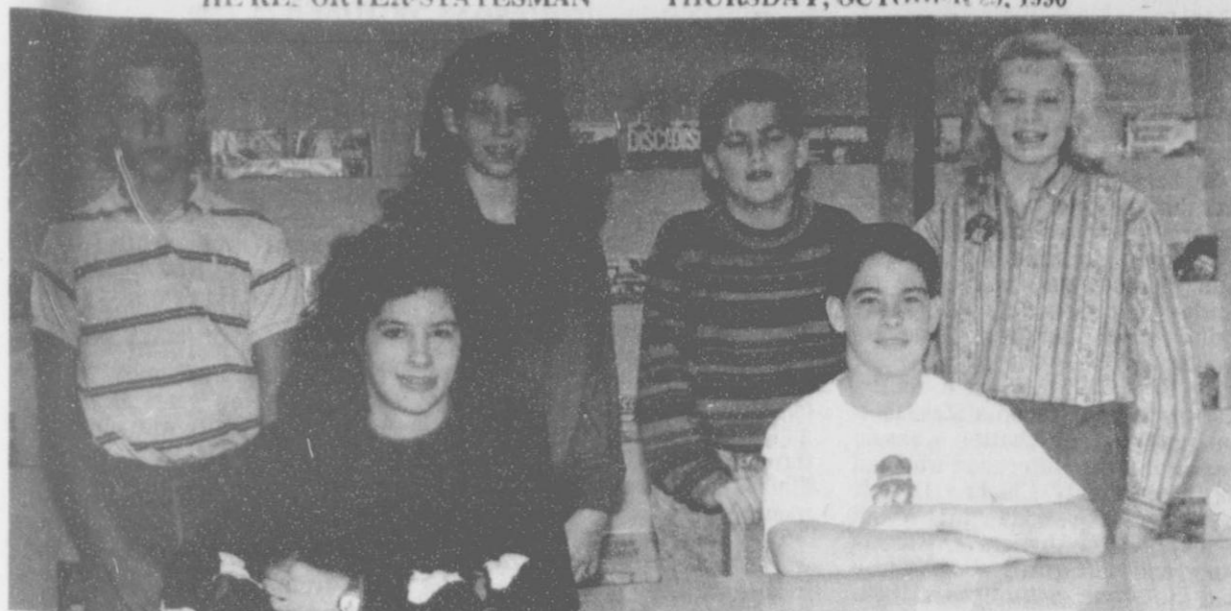

"Much has been written in recent weeks about CRP rental payments, much of it contradictory, depending on where it was published or who was being quoted," said Keith Martin of the Hansford County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office, "The facts are these:"

"OMB did sequester the CRP program for FY 1991 (as it did in FY 1990, when no reduction was ultimately necessary because of excess carryover funds," he explained.

He went on, "Until the budget agreement was announced Sept. 30, the possibility of a reduction was very real. In fact, until legislation to implement the budget agreement is law, and final FY 1991 appropriations are in place, full payment cannot be guaranteed."

Martin continued, "Payments cannot be made on Oct. 1 because we must wait for the final CRP appropriation to be enacted. We anticipate that this may occur about Oct. 20. Following enactment, the law requires that the funds be apportioned by OMB. While no problems are anticipated, we must deal with these procedural hurdles."

"ASCS regrets the necessary delay of these important payments and hopes to make 100 percent of payments due, possibly as early as Nov. 1," he concluded.

Two teachers chosen for listing

Two Hansford County teachers are among a select group of America's teachers being honored by their toughest critics, their former students, in the inaugural edition of "Who's Who Among America's Teachers."

Listed in this edition are Brenda Sue Dahl of Gruver Elementary School and Karla McCarter Flowers of Spearman Elementary School.

All of the 24,500 teachers being honored were selected by their former students who themselves are currently listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students" or "The National Dean's List," publications which recognize the top five percent of our nation's high school and college students, respectively.

Paul Krouse, publisher of "Who's Who Among American Teachers," said, "There is no greater honor teachers can receive than to be recognized by former students for their excellence and dedication. In this publication we clearly have the best teachers in America selected by the best students."

The students were requested to nominate teachers who "made a difference in their lives" by helping to shape their values, inspiring interest in a particular subject and challenging them to strive for excellence. Many of the students commented about the enthusiasm and knowledge their teachers demonstrated in the classroom, and many praised their teachers for their ability to relate to youngsters on a personal as well as a professional level.

One student wrote about her teacher saying, "she made education something pleasurable, instead of a dreadful ordeal, by letting me spread my wings and showing me the best way to fly."

Some years ago a personal friend of mine, a professor at Abilene Christian University, set out to write a book on Christian counseling. I visited with him periodically through the first few months of research. After almost a year I saw him on campus and asked, "How's the book coming along. Got your research done yet?" He immediately replied, "I've decided not to write the book!" "Why?" I responded. "Two reasons," he said, "First, there are too many books in that field already and second, the greatest book on counseling is available to everyone already."

I have the greatest respect for this man. His word and reasoning carry much weight with me. He is a Ph. D., full professor of counseling in the university, and has preached the Gospel of Christ since his undergraduate days in college. He is head of a counseling firm and presents many seminars in various aspects of his field of study. When he said we have the "greatest book on counseling" readily available to all of us, it piqued my curiosity. He readily explained: "The more I researched, the more realization I had that modern man adds nothing new to what God gave us long ago in His Book. Therefore, I thought it foolish to me to contribute another book to an overburdened people. My approach now is to remind everyone I meet of the great principles of life God sets forth in His Word." That made sense to me. I began to study and search further myself.

What does God claim in His Word? "Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in righteousness: that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work" (2 Timothy 3:16,17, American Standard Bible, 1901 edition). That says a lot. In counseling, what more could anyone do than that which is described in these verses? Admittedly, these verses were addressed to Timothy as he labored with Christians, but the principle stands for all. Every man and woman is made in the image of God (Genesis 1:27). Therefore, God's Word will make every man complete. Counseling can do no more. If it does any less it has basically failed. But, that isn't all that God's Word claims in matters of direction for us.

"Seeing that his divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that called us by his own glory and virtue" (2 Peter 1:3, American Standard Bible, 1901 edition). All things that pertain unto life is very inclusive. If we have it, we have no need for additional counseling. Peter said God gave it to us through Jesus Christ. And, again: "These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how men ought to behave themselves in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth" (1 Timothy 3:14, 15, American Standard Bible, 1901 edition). Behavior correction is the prime purpose of counseling. Again, God says it is written in His Word. Need we search further?

Space hardly allows us to continue quoting from Scriptures. Hopefully we are all aware of the goodness of the Proverbs, Psalms, Ecclesiastes, and many books of the New Testament which give God's directions for life. The more we read the Bible, the better we understand why my friend decided another book on counseling really isn't necessary. Spiritually speaking and in the daily walk of every day life, God has given us directives to follow. As Solomon wrote in Ecclesiastes, there is nothing new under the sun. Good books on counseling definitely have their place and are helpful in understanding God's principles. May we ever remember, however, that He made us and He gave all the guidance we need to survive and flourish in this world and prepare for that better world ahead.

Among the Neighbors

Muriel and Granville Boyd may feel that they can qualify as sports experts after a recent weekend. First they attended the Liberal, Kan. homecoming and game on Friday night. Granddaughter Traci Brinkley was the Junior Class Attendant for the event.

On Saturday they went to the Kansas State-Oklahoma State football game at Manhattan Kansas, then on Sunday afternoon watched the Kansas City Chiefs - Detroit Lions game. Granddaughter Mindi Brinkley is a Junior at Kansas State and performed at pre-game and half-time activities at both games. She is a member of the Kansas State Pridettes - a dance troupe of 20 girls.

Then back to Manhattan for a "midnight madness" pep rally for the basketball team Sunday night.

Joining the ranks of that exclusive club, great grandparents, are Ruby and Floyd Allen Hull. They were initiated on Monday, October 15 when Tyler Allen Hull was born in Houston. He weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces and is the firstborn of Donna and Allen Hull of Houston.

Grandparents are Lois and Wilbur Allen Hull of Lago Vista and Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Miller of Pittsburg, Tx. Tyler Allen is the 4th generation Allen Hull, and it is remembered that his grandfather Wilbur grew up in Spearman and is now an Attorney for Texaco Co.

Pete Ochoa spent three days last week out of Amarillo at an artillery battery training session. He is in the Army artillery reserve, and his group, Charlie Battery, won the Battery of the Year award. This is given for exemplary results in various functions. Pete was promoted to Corporal.

During the session, parents and spouses of the soldiers met and were given instructions and information on being prepared to handle emergencies, including the call-up of their men with little notice. Red Cross personnel outlined procedures to be followed in various situations.

Many enjoyed the contact, though brief, with former Spearman residents, Mal and Lois Gunther.

He was principal of grade school here a number of years and she taught; they left here in 1958. They have lived in New Jersey a number of years, but have moved to near Denver. Their daughter, Pam, is living in Denver. The Gunthers had been to Corpus Christi visiting another of their children.

It is hoped they will visit here more often now that they are closer.

Dr. Earl and Bobbie Novak returned Thursday from Boston and a Northeastern tour. They were in Boston to attend the American Dental Association convention. After seeing many of the historical places, they took a car and drove up the coast and back through the fall foliage area of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

They report that they haven't the words to describe the beauty of the foliage. A place of special interest for them was the ski lodge in New Hampshire built by and still owned by the Von Trapp family. Many will remember this family whose life was depicted in the movie "Sound of Music".

So Dr. Earl is back at the old "grind" without stating if he had learned any new methods of drilling, filling and billing.

Usually in this column when Gene Cudd is mentioned, it is about an interesting trip - this time his trip may not have been so interesting - to High Plains Baptist Hospital for surgery. He was hospitalized for a few days only - maybe thinking, like a t.v. commercial, even a short one is too long. Or perhaps he prefers the efficient nursing of Frances, especially the cost. However, he is recovering and expects to be back to normal quickly.

In an impressive ceremony recently, Scarlett Jackson had the rare opportunity of pinning Wings of Gold on Marine First Lt. Tal Jackson, son of Scarlett and George. Tal in turn pinned a gold pin on her.

The event was at Chase Field at Beeville, Texas. Tal had been flying A-4 Sky Hawk Jet Trainers and his landings had been on the air craft carrier, Lexington.

He is being assigned to Cherry Point, North Carolina Marine Air Base where he will be flying the Harrier Jet.

Others attending the ceremony at Beeville, in addition to George and Scarlett, were his sister, Tiki Farrar, and friends Harland and Sue Gerardy of Gruver.

Tal graduated from high school here in 1981 and from Texas Tech in 1987 with a degree in Ag-Economics.

The Amarillo News-Globe issue of October 18 in a column by Bryan Painter stated that in the Invitational Steer Ropers Association Finals held at Anton, Hadley Reed handled four head in 79.53 seconds to take the average in B roping. He also won in the first-go and short-go and a first-go in the A roping, so his earnings came to $2565.66. Members are from Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Congratulations, Hadley.

Lois Gibner had cataract surgery last Tuesday at Pampa. She had one done a few years ago and expects no difficulty with this one.

Mabel Edwards was delighted to have a good visit over the weekend with her grandson, Paul Van Cleave and his son, Justin. They are from Missula, Montana and were enroute to Portales to visit other relatives. They stayed in the home of Frank and Kitty Edwards and visited other members of the Edwards family.

Many Happy Returns to that gentle and strong-hearted Lady-Opal Scroggs, on the occasion of her 80th birthday.

Her children arranged a celebration by taking her and their father, O.A., to K-Bobs at Perryton for a dinner. They then went to the home of their daughter, Mary Harper, in Perryton. The beautiful birthday cake was complete with 80 candles which the honoree blew out! Afterward the family joined in the singing which has been traditional with them.

All except two of the 13 children were there. Those absent were Coline, of Lebanon, Missouri and Zada of Ft. Worth.

Attending were: Peggy and Gary Mitchell, Ft. Worth; Joyce and Albert Leach, Dumas; and Irene and Loyd Ford, Fritch. From Spearman were sons Tilden; James and Marilyn; Dallen and LaDell; and Ted and Barbara and daughters Doris Jean and J.W. Pipkin; Sharon and Don Lane Whitfield; and June and Wayman Edwards.

A guest of the Monnie Edwards family from Saturday to Thursday of this week was her mother, Mrs. Earline McDonald of Levelland. Mrs. McDonald has visited here many times and never tires of the pleasure of her little grandchildren.

Many were the caring relatives and friends who interrupted their daily responsibilities to come to share the sorrow of the family of J.R. Stump at his passing.

Cousins of Frances with their spouses were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller and Randy, Walters, Ok.; Debbie Miller, Randette, Ok.; Marcelyn Humbert, Wellington, Ks.; Harold and Maurine Barber, Anthony, Ks.; Keith and Sally Dusenbury, Guymon; Grace Dusenbury, Guymon; Larry and Jan Boyer, Friona; and E.R. Boyer, Amarillo.

Friends coming were Wallace and Jo Haygood, Amarillo; Tim and Dana Fort and baby, Hale Center.

Frances' grandson, Jim Ladd, planned to stay with her for awhile, but his company, Abbot Labs, called him back to Ronoke on an emergency.

Another grandson, Mike Ladd, will remain here with her for some time. Mike is with the Peace Corps in Ambarto, Ecuador. His work is in the agricultural realm, primarily veterinarian. Living conditions are incredibly primitive and harsh, but Mike intends to return as soon as possible.

Renner Woman of Year

Hansford County's Clementine Renner was named "Woman of the Year" at the annual convention of the Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women convention held in Pampa Friday and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20. She was given this special honor and award "in recognition of her many years of unselfish dedication to and participation in prayer and work for the benefit not only of the Catholic community but of the civic community as a whole." Her contributions and efforts for the benefit of both have been and are many.

This year, Sacred Heart of Jesus Catholic Church in Hansford County is marking the 40th anniversary of its founding; this honor to one of its founding members gives to the members of that parish special joy. Clementine has served more than once as an elected officer of the Catholic Women's Guild of the parish as well as an elected officer on the deanery (district) level. Her work on behalf of the Stationmaster's House Museum and the American Cancer Society in Hansford County continue to be part of her community involvement.

An important part of the D.C.C.W. convention was the celebration of a special reception in Clementine's honor. Bishop Leroy Matthiesen of Amarillo participated in that reception as well

by Joy Henderson

Hansford County American Cancer Society met Thursday, Oct. 18 in the Hospitality Room of B&B Farm Industries. A salad luncheon was served at noon by the Gruver members as hostesses.

The welcome and introduction were given by Mozelle McClellan to several new members and Amy Marshall, staff representative from Amarillo. New members attending were Doris Armes and Virginia Taylor.

After reading of the minutes by Clementine Renner, there were reports given by officers and committee reports from Medical,

Public Education, Patient Services, Communications, Crusade and Nominating Committees.

Plans were made to conduct the Great American Smoke Out, to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 15. All those who smoke will be encouraged to give up smoking for one day and if any would like to stop "for good," make that the target day for this step. It has been proven that chances for a longer life can begin with giving up this habit.

Members attending were Mozelle McClellan, Virginia Taylor, Clementine Renner, Arbeta Nobles, Mary TeBeest, Joy Henderson, Pat Morley, Doris Armes and Amy Marshall.

On The Go With Joy

by Joy Henderson

Well, I've had my first one day vacation. For those of you who are unaware of my one day vacations, I'll explain. Every fall, I enjoy making a few trips to the Arts and Craft Shows or to the fairs and - I'll confess - to get ideas for Christmas gifts. So, I schedule Guymon, Spearman, Perryton on my calendar and tell M.H. that these are my vacations and if he says one cross word about it, I'll insist on a big trip to Dallas, Okie City, or Carlsbad or maybe worse. So, even though he is biting his tongue, he tries to be quiet and understanding.

I try to hint around that maybe to help pass the retirement time, he should get involved in some type of craft so we travel together and be a part of this special group. Life seems so exciting - especially if you sell a lot of stuff. But, he just snores on while relaxing in a comfortable chair in a nice warm home. Why should he attend on of these "special" events, stand on his feet for 2 or 3 days, load it up, unload it when you get home and etc...well, you get the idea.

Besides, if this gas crunch keeps getting worse, some of us will have to stay at home more often and learn to tiddle thumbs.

To catch up on news of those who are ill, we learned that Rita Gross spent several days in the Amarillo hospital for a spinal infection but is now home. She is scheduled to return later this week for back surgery. Pete Cluck remains in High Plains Baptist with heart problems.

Newborn son of Barry and Kerri Barkley has had heart surgery in Lubbock and is doing fine. After having this corrective surgery, the doctors believe he should not have this problem later on in life.

Shiloh and Charles Parrish are the parents of a new son. He was born at N.W.H. weighing a little over 4 pounds. He has been kept in the hospital to correct a problem with jaundice.

Proud new parents welcoming a son are Brooke and Edward Mayfield. Colton Thomas was born October 19 at N.W.H. in Amarillo and weighed 6 pounds and 13 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Jim and Betty Roberts of Gruver and paternal grandparents are Fred and Janice Mayfield of Spearman. Included as great-grandparents are Sherman Spradling of Hollis, Okla., Mrs. Earl Roberts of Gould, Okla. and Jo Butler of California. Spearman great-grandparents are Harvey and LaRue Whitfield and Mary and A.V. Mayfield. Great-great-grandmother is Mamie McLain of Brownfield.

Several college students made quick trips home to Gruver. Those seen were Trevor and Cynthia Williams, Andrew Burgoon, Carol Massie, Tasha Haight and Christy Brown. While home, Christy was able to visit with her grandparents, Jerry and Ace Gailey of Memphis. They are Diane Brown's parents.

Enjoying a visit with her mom was Ann Dorman. Mamie Blackard of Clarksville, Ark. spent a few days here in the home of James and Ann Dorman.

Fred Meyer recently had surgery in Amarillo but due to some complications has had to be hospitalized at High Plains. We hope for a speedy recovery.

We are happy to repeat that Lil Fletcher's daughter and son-in-law were able to visit in Gruver. Phyllis and Richard Cutter live in Waco.

Cancer information targets detection

HOUSTON - The Cancer Information Service (CIS) will observe October's National Breast Cancer Awareness Month with an educational campaign stressing early detection as the best protection. Women can call the CIS at 1-800-4-CANCER to receive information in English or Spanish about easy steps to find cancerous breast tumors early.

About 10 percent of all women in America will develop breast cancer this year, but nearly two-thirds of all cases will be treated successfully if discovered early. It is not clear why breast cancer occurs, but hormones, diet, age and family history may contribute to the formation of breast cancer. The relationship between oral contraceptives and breast cancer is indefinite.

"Every woman is at risk for breast cancer and that risk increases with age," said Jo Ann Ward, director of public education at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. "But the risk can be decreased by practicing consistent early detection habits."

The CIS at M.D. Anderson will target two forms of early detection during the educational campaign this month: breast self-examination and mammography, a detailed X-ray of the breast.

Women should examine their breasts monthly while standing in the shower and in front of a mirror and while lying down on a bed. A woman should conduct a self-exam while her arms are over her head and hanging at her sides.

Once a year, women over 40 also should have a mammogram, a safe X-ray of the breast. These are especially important because mammograms detect tumors up to two years before they can be felt.

Women interested in knowing more about the early detection of breast cancer may call the CIS between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays. Free information about early detection and other breast cancer issues will be mailed upon request.

Ten GJHS students apply for TIP

Ten students from Gruver Junior High have qualified and applied for participation in this year's Talent Search for mathematically and verbally advanced students sponsored by Duke University's Talented Identification Program (TIP). The program identifies highly able seventh graders from a 16-state region in the south, southwest, and midwest.

To be eligible, students must have scored at the 97th percentile or better on an in-school achievement or ability measure. They will sit for the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or ACT Assessment (ACT), normally taken only by college-bound juniors and seniors, in December, January or February. Many of these students score as well as or better than the average college-bound senior on these measures. All participants receive Certificates of Merit and some become eligible for statewide recognition ceremonies or a variety of educational programs.

TIP, established in 1960, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and educational options. The purposes of the program are to help academically bright students develop their special abilities, to assist schools in working with their brightest students, and to understand the nature of exceptional mathematical and verbal ability.

'Healthoween' made by creative shopping

HOUSTON - With a little creative shopping, treat-givers can turn this Halloween into a happy "Healthoween."

"Children are much more health conscious these days," said Dr. Corinne Montandon, nutritionist at the Children's Nutrition Research Center in Houston. "Those of us on the giving end can reinforce the health message by sending trick-or-treaters home with a bag of nutritious treats."

Potential treats can be found on nearly every grocery store aisle if shoppers look carefully.

Montandon, an assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine, encourages shoppers to look for individually wrapped snacks or boxed items containing packets.

She suggests the following nutritious treats:

- Packaged fruit snacks
- Granola bars with raisins, oatmeal or peanut butter
- Boxed or canned pure fruit juices
- String cheese or other small cheese packages
- Sugarless gum
- Mini-puddings or applesauce
- Miniature packs of nuts (for older children)

- Dried fruits, such as raisins or banana chips
- Single-serving, boxed cereals
- Packaged crackers with peanut butter or cheese filling
- Freeze-dried ice cream

Non-food items make good treats, too. Mini-pumpkins to decorate, crayons, pencils, stickers, food or frozen yogurt gift certificates, and even coins can be special treats.

Halloween sends a mixed message to children, Montandon said, because "all of a sudden we forget good eating habits and say come get more candy than you can possibly eat."

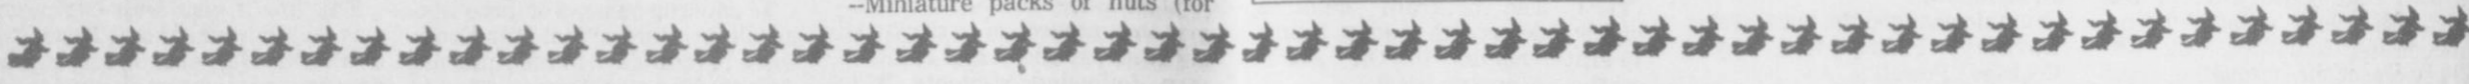

Montandon thinks it is time to change that message.

"Coming home with a bag of healthy treats can be just as rewarding because the treats can be part of lunch and after-school snacks for the next few weeks," she said.

Rules for Goblins

All trick-or-treating should be done between the hours of 6 - 8 p.m.
 Parents should accompany groups of trick-or-treaters. All treats should be taken home for inspection before they are eaten.
 Only young goblins (13 and below) should be encouraged to go trick-or-treating.
 Young goblins should wear short, non-flammable costumes which are light in color. For greater visibility, costumes can be decorated with reflective tape that will "glow" in the beam of a car's headlights.
 Youngsters should not wear Halloween masks, which tend to restrict vision. Colorful facial make-up can be used instead.
 Trick-or-treating should be confined to the young goblin's own neighborhood.
 Flashlights should be carried for after dark. If a pumpkin is carried, it should be lighted with a flashlight, not a candle.
 Hobgoblins should trick-or-treat only at homes with porch lights on.

Follow these pedestrian safety rules:

- Cross only at corners, never between parked cars, never diagonally across an intersection.
- Look in all directions before crossing the street.
- Watch for and obey all traffic lights.
- Walk, never run across the street.
- Use sidewalks, not the street, for walking. If there is no sidewalk, walk on the side of the road facing oncoming traffic.
- Wait on the curb, not the street, until the street is clear to cross.

Over Memphis . . .

Hounds win 34-15

by Bob Bort

Never mind the Gruver Greyhounds had scored only 19 points in six ball games this year, including a 15-quarter scoreless streak snapped last week at Wheeler. On Friday, Oct. 19 before a large home contingent of fans at Greyhound Stadium, the Hounds dropped the Memphis Cyclones to the tune of 34-15, assuring one and all they are indeed alive and well.

All year long the Hounds offense has moved the ball well, only to be struck down when they seemed to come apart in the shadow of their own goal. Friday night it was tailback Dan McCloy who led the Hounds from the pits of a four-game losing streak to the very brink overlooking the end of the rainbow - three more victories over Shamrock, Claude and Booker will result in a playoff spot for Gruver, and the trials of the first half of this season will be forgotten. Three more victories is not beyond the realm of possibility.

Dan McCloy was awesome. He carried the ball an unbelievable 42 times for 166 yards and scored all five Gruver touchdowns. As if that weren't enough, he also intercepted an errant Memphis pass. And he recovered a Memphis fumble.

Trailing 7-0 in the first quarter, the Hounds marched 62 yards in 13 plays for the touchdown. All 13 plays were carries by Dan McCloy. Cousin Marty McCloy ran for the 2-point conversion after a fake kick by Trevor Shipley, and the Hounds never trailed again.

Gruver extended that first quarter lead to 15-7 in the second quarter, but Memphis came back to tie the game at 15-15. Just before halftime the Hounds took a 21-15 lead, and they added two more touchdowns in the second half for the victory margin.

The Cyclones, in addition to that pass interception, had four lost fumbles for five turnovers. Three of the fumbles were followed by Greyhound touchdowns.

Field general Matthew Hoel of the Hounds completed only 3-13 passing for 54 yards, but with Dan McCloy in the backfield there was little need to pass.

Early in the fourth quarter, however, Hoel let loose with a beautiful floater to a speeding Geronimo Ortega down the west sideline. It dropped artfully in his hands at the one yard line, where he was tackled. That pass was a perfect spiral for a 38-yard gain. Dan McCloy, of course, completed the touchdown by sailing in untouched on a sweep right.

Gruver ranked first

by Bob Bort

The Gruver Lady Hounds cross country team outclassed the competition at the District 1-A cross country meet held Saturday, Oct. 20 at Thompson Park in Amarillo. The only challenges this year came from Texline and Channing, and all seven Gruver ladies finished in the top 10 in the individual standings. "There wasn't much competition, but schools like Nazareth and Irion County will be at Lubbock, so the competition will be better," states Lady Hounds Head Coach D.D. Bradshaw. Nazareth is ranked second in the state rankings, and Irion County is ranked third. Gruver, of course, is number one.

Gruver will compete in the Regional Cross Country Meet at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock Saturday, Nov. 3. Cora Meyer, Elda Pando, Brendy Brown, Kasey Davis, Monica Ward, Jennifer Hart and Meredith Runyan will be competing. In addition, Traci Crawford will go as an alternate.

7th and 8th teams blank Boys Ranch

by Bob Bort

Thursday, Oct. 18 was a banner day for the Hounds 7th grade and 8th grade teams, as they combined for a 49-0 whitewash of the two Boys Ranch teams.

The 7th grade Hounds won 30-0 (their defense has yet to allow a point in five games this year). The 8th grade won their second game of the year with a 19-0 spanking of the Roughriders.

In the 7th grade game, Travis Ferguson rushed 14 times for 65 yards and a touchdown to lead the Hounds' rushing attack. Max Frick had 39 yards on six carries, an average of over six yards per carry. Wylee Maupin averaged over seven yards per carry, with 22 yards on only three carries.

Bailey Barkley, the Hounds' field general was outstanding. He completed six of seven passes for 58 yards. Four of those catches were made by Frick, for 50 of the 58 yards.

Frick, Ferguson and Daniel Bort each accounted for eight points, while Maupin got six points on one touchdown.

In the 8th grade game, Aaron Frick rushed 15 times for 123 yards, accounting for 13 of the 19 points in the shutout. Frick also caught a pass from quarterback Jace Dawson for 21 yards, and threw a touchdown pass on the halfback pass to Ryon Atwood for a 59-yard touchdown. Frick also handled kickoff duties, with four for an average of 45 yards per kick. Frick is one versatile ball player!

Here are the scoring summaries for the two games:

JV

The Hound JV has not won a game this year. They are having trouble finding the end zone just like the varsity, but they are an improved team from what they were at the start of the season.

They lost their first two games of the year 28-0 and 24-0 to Stratford and Boys Ranch. Last week they lost only 6-0 at Stratford, and this week again they lost 6-0 to the boys from Boys Ranch.

There was a lot of aggressive play by the Hounds, who had chances to score throughout the game but couldn't quite manage the points.

Next week the Hounds 7th-8th-JV teams will be playing at West Texas beginning at 5 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 25.

Hounds battle Irish

by Bob Bort

On Friday, Oct. 26, the Gruver Greyhounds will travel to Shamrock to do battle with the Irish, and it may be the first-ever meeting for the two schools in football. It is certain they have not met since 1958, and records before that year are sketchy.

The Hounds have picked up some momentum with their 34-15 trouncing of Memphis, while the Irish are coming off a surprising loss to the Booker Kiwas. For the Hounds, they know that if they win their last three games over Shamrock, Claude and Booker, they will be playoff bound. The only event that would mess up those plans would be a Booker victory over Wheeler, which might effect a three-way tie for Wheeler, Booker and Gruver - that is, if the Hounds win three more games. But playoff talk is premature, and the Hounds now have to take them one victory at a time, hoping to maintain and gain momentum.

Shamrock was the pick for the second playoff spot in district 1-A prior to the start of the season, but as mentioned, the Booker upset over the Irish has thrown that spot wide open. The Irish head coach is Ed Johnson, who has been in coaching 19 years, three years at Shamrock. Last year the Irish were 6-3 in AA. This year they are 2-4, but they have scored 132 points while giving up only 117. They are 1-1 in district play, beating Memphis then losing to Booker in the upset.

"We will see a 5-3 defense, and a double-tight Wing T offense," says Coach David Steele of the Hounds. "They are very big - their offensive line goes 240-195-190-250, and only their center is smallish. Number 73 is Mitch Johnson (250), and Number 72 is David Wright (240) - those two are on the line. The quarterback is Shea Davis, No. 44; and their running back is Lynn Mills, No. 30. They are small, at 150 and 140, respectively. Johnson is the coach's son."

"We look at the game plan now - to win the three remaining games, and we will have done our best," says Coach Steele.

It is a long drive to Shamrock, but hopefully the Hounds faithful will all want to make the trip and see the Hounds extend their winning streak.

For The Short Of It

by Bob Bort

What a great win for the Gruver Greyhounds this past week - for the kids and for the coaching staff, who have deserved a better fate than a 1-5 start. I certainly hope tailback Dan McCloy is honored on Tuesday when the word comes out from the Amarillo newspaper on the Class A Player of the Week honors. He truly deserves it. By the time you readers are reading this column, the word will already have come out. It looks like a kicker from Farwell may be Dan's major competition.

Imagine a 140-150 pound running back carrying the ball 42 times in a football game. He must have really given out some punishment with his small frame, and taken some too!

Here are my predictions for the week. For the year I am 12-9 for a percentage of .571.

Gruver at Shamrock (Friday, Oct. 26): Hounds 28-23.

Miami, Fla. at Texas Tech (Saturday, Oct. 27): Miami, 47-21.

Philadelphia Eagles at Dallas (Sunday, Oct. 28). Cowboys, 14-13.

There was quite a stir around GHS last week when it was announced that the Lady Hounds cross country team is ranked number one in the state of Texas. As if that isn't enough, Hansford County's other cross country team - the Spearman Lynxettes, are also ranked number one in the state in the AA poll. Wouldn't that be something if Hansford County had two state championships!!!

In the Class A poll, Nazareth is ranked second to Gruver, but Gruver has already beaten them once this year, by 40 or 50 points. So it looks like the Lady Hounds will be making the trip to Georgetown, just outside of Austin, for the state meet. Last year, in their first year of competition, the Lady Hounds finished third to Munday and Nazareth there at Georgetown. This year they won't settle for anything less than state championship trophy.

ASC nominations requested

"Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice by Monday, Oct. 29 to be on the local ASC county committee ballot," says Jerry Harris, chairperson of the Texas State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The local ASC county committee elections will be conducted from Nov. 23 to Dec. 3 by mail ballot.

the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals, Harris said. Local county farmers have the opportunity to nominate people they feel would best serve the farm community. Farmers have received petition forms by mail and are now submitting them to their local county ASCS office.

limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible farm voters in the ASC community, and must be received in the local county ASCS office by the Oct. 29 deadline.

Farmers may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election should contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for office holders.

"Farmers should petition for and elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as a member of the ASC committee. The election of concerned farmers to positions on ASC committees is essential in the administration of farm programs," Harris said.

Harris further explained that the county ASCS office welcomes all valid petitions. The opportunity to nominate, vote and be elected to office is guaranteed to all farmers regardless of race, color, religion, sex, age, marital status, handicap or national origin.

The Hansford County ASCS office is located at 711 W 7th in Spearman, phone 659-3036.

New VA number given

A change in telephone service has resulted in a new toll-free number for the Department of Veterans Affairs national hotline for veterans seeking information about their government insurance.

By calling 1-800-669-8477, insurance holders and beneficiaries can obtain immediate service on address or policy changes, dividend information and general insurance information.

Not only is calling the VA Insurance Center faster than communicating by mail, it also is more personal and allows the policyholder to raise additional questions based on the response to the original inquiry or request.

Established in 1988, the Philadelphia VA Regional Office and Insurance Center hotline answered 1.3 million calls in its first two years. In recent months, some 2,500 calls were answered daily. An overnight message service, which began in May 1990, allows callers to leave messages after 5:30 p.m. (ET) and on weekends. Insurance specialists return those calls within two working days.

Gruver GT students attend seminar

Gruver High School students in the Region XVI Gifted and Talented program traveled to Amarillo Wednesday, Oct. 24 for a day-long session on medical ethics. The seminar was sponsored by the Harrington Regional Medical Center, Inc. and Region XVI Education Service Center.

Students scheduled to attend the seminar included Will Evans, Kenton Odom, Cody Barkley, Benny McClenagan, Luke Miller, Jennifer Hart, Elda Pando and Katie Williams.

The day began with a lecture on general ethics by Dr. Gerald Moriarty, M.D., who defined medical ethics and posed several ethical questions to the students. Students then selected two of the nine elective sessions to attend.

The elective sessions were conducted at the Texas A&M Research & Extension Center. Topics included an overview of biotechnology and the ethics of adapting this new technology; and dying with dignity and the hospice concept of caring for the terminally ill.

A tour of the neonatal intensive care unit, diagnostic imaging department and trauma center at Northwest Texas Hospital allowed students to ponder the ethical decisions which must be made in these areas each day. Topics including high-risk pregnancies and a look at "high-tech babies" age 2 to 3 were examined in a session featuring the benefits of prenatal care and barriers to accessing it.

A session on ethical issues in medical research explored the issues involved in basic research and preclinical research through videotape and discussion. A tour of the Bivins Center for Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation showed students how patients suffering from head injuries, spinal cord injuries, strokes, major trauma and neuromuscular disease are rehabilitated.

Harrington Cancer Center hosted a tour of its research and treatment therapy areas, including the electron microscopy lab and the new research institute. A tour was also offered of the Coffee Memorial Blood Center. Discussion there included the moral and ethical implications of donor questioning regarding high risk activities, donor confidentiality and notification of test results.

The seminar concluded with a panel discussion involving several participants from the Harrington Regional Medical Center and moderated by Dr. Moriarty.

Harrington Regional Medical Center, Inc., sponsor of the seminar, is a non-profit organization which provides for the orderly growth of the medical center.

SPD investigates accident

The Spearman Police Department investigated a two-vehicle accident, checked on a reported criminal trespass and received a report of a shoplifting within the past week.

A two-vehicle accident resulted in minor damage and no injuries Thursday, Oct. 18 at 6:50 p.m. Officer Alex Gonzales was dispatched to the intersection of South Highway 760 and East Kenneth to investigate the incident.

According to the SPD incident report, a 1977 Chevrolet pickup driven by 17 year old Traci Ann Scribner of Spearman was travelling north on 760. A 1989 GMC pickup driven by 31 year old Israel Vasquez of Spearman was westbound on Kenneth. Scribner stated she did not see the other vehicle and pulled into the intersection. Vasquez swerved to the right to avoid the accident as Scribner continued across the intersection.

Scribner was cited for failure to yield right-of-way at a stop intersection.

Officer Gonzales also investigated a report of criminal trespass Oct. 18. At 8:05 p.m. he was sent to Taylor Food Mart to receive the report.

At 5:17 a.m. Monday, Oct. 22 Officer Bruce Goehring took a report of shoplifting at Allsup's Convenience Store. A 47 year old male was reported to have taken $12 worth of food items, which were recovered.

Lynx defeat Bobcats 19-3

The Spearman Lynx got back on the winning track by defeating the Sunray Bobcats 19-3. According to Lynx coach Don Mullins, it was tough defensive play and a good night for quarterback Khris Kelp and running back Tim Dooley that lifted the Lynx over the Bobcats.

Mullins highlighted several defensive plays that helped the Lynx to their win. One of these was a goal line stand the Lynx made just before the half. They kept the Bobcat offense out of the end zone from the 2 yard line.

Another defensive play mentioned by Mullins was a pass interception made by freshman Brandon Vanderburg (33). Vanderburg, along with fellow freshman Lonnie Gallegos, were moved up to the varsity two weeks ago to fill in for injured players.

The most decisive defensive play mentioned by Mullins was made by Dallas Trosper. Trosper stole the ball from a Bobcat kick returner in the fourth quarter. This set up the Lynx' final TD and put the game on ice.

Offensively, Mullins pointed to good play by Kelp. "He had one of his best games ever," said Mullins. Kelp scored two fourth quarter TDs, setting one up with a 40 yard pass play to Tim Dooley. This play put the ball on the Bobcats' 1 yard line, from which Kelp ran it in on the next play. Other offensive players mentioned by Mullins were Dooley and Brian Beck. Dooley put the Lynx on the scoreboard first with a first quarter TD run. He had 91 yards on 24 carries. Beck contributed to the offense by gaining 89 yards on 12 carries.

Mullins went on to report on the team's efforts to get ready for its game with the Boys Ranch Roughriders. The Lynx will be traveling to Boys Ranch for the 7:30 p.m. game Friday night. Mullins indicated that the Roughriders are a close match to his Lynx team. They have a balanced offense with good team speed. He expects a hard, close game.

The varsity Lynx defense line up to gang tackle a Bobcat running back.

P.E. classes 'Jump Rope for Heart'

The 4th - 6th grade physical education classes at Spearman Elementary School will be participating in the "Jump Rope for Heart" program Oct. 22 - Nov. 5. The program, sponsored by the Texas Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, to benefit the American Heart Association, is twofold. Students first collect money from family and friends, which is then turned into the Texas Affiliate of the A.H.A. The A.H.A. uses the money for research, education and community service.

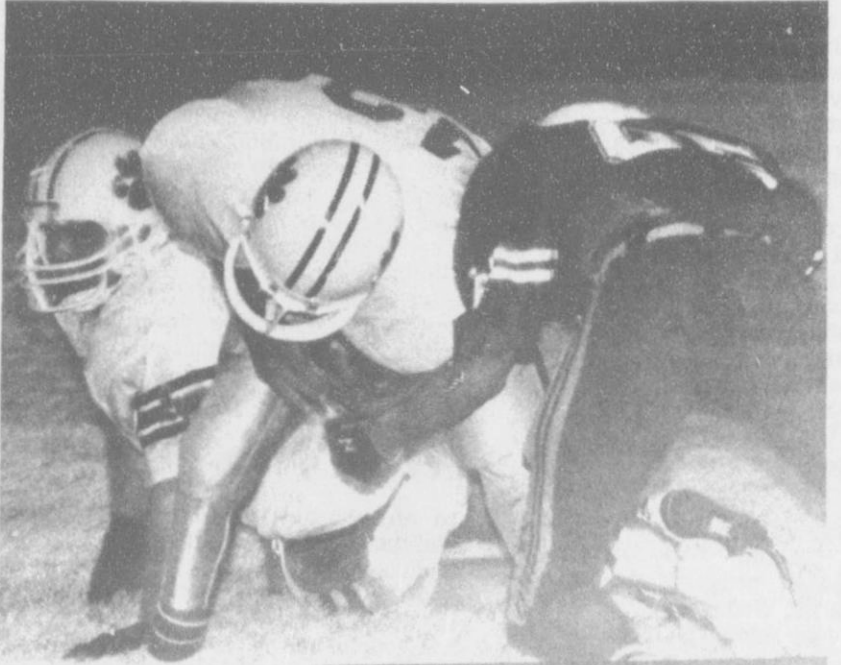

The students receive prizes based on donations turned in, such as jump ropes, T-shirts, wallets, sunglasses, bags, and even a Nintendo Hand-Held Game, if enough money is collected. Secondly, the students will participate in a rope jumping unit in their P.E. class.

The lifelong benefits of this program include:

- a healthy heart,
- a sense of service to the community, through volunteering
- a feeling of accomplishment
- learning to work toward a goal as part of a team
- the joy of helping others keep their heart healthy.

Diseases of the heart and blood vessels kill more Texans than nearly all other causes combined, including AIDS and cancer. The students should be made aware that diseases of the heart can occur or have occurred in their own family. The money they raise helps the citizens of Hansford County and could save their own lives someday.

This bit of hard running contributed to Brian Becks 89 yards he gained on 12 carries.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
Next month we, the people of the 13th District, have the power to impact Congress as a whole, and set a precedent for all other U.S. Districts to follow. Rep. Sarpalius should be recalled home for abuse of junket trips abroad, accepting lobbyist favors such as the expense paid trip to Israel, supporting foreign aid bills, and his strong opposition to line-item-veto authority for U.S. Presidents. Bill can run again in 1992 and might make a much better congressman. In less than 24 months Bill has been to Berlin at our expense, plans a campaign trip to Saudi Arabia at our expense, and has had a luxurious trip to Israel at lobbyist expense. Could the latter be a form of malfeasance while in office? Seemingly, Bill cannot comprehend that the deficit will never be reduced without L.I.V. authority for Presidents because of the ridiculous pork-barrel add-ons to bills. We voters must understand that members are sent to Congress to represent us and not wealthy lobbyists, and that fast turn-overs in office will keep Congress in line as nothing else will. We voters have the power to curtail rampant spending by Congress. Let's exercise our power next month.

Very sincerely,
Rick Corbyn

Tales from Burma

by Charles Ridge, M.D.

Time is different in Burma, our first inkling of this came in our flight from Bangkok. Anywhere else in the world, time goes forward or back an hour when you cross into a new time zone. In Burma, it goes back 30 minutes. Thus, 7 p.m. in Bangkok is 6:30 in Rangoon.

They do not use our calendar. Their year has 13 months of 28 days each, corresponding to the time it takes for the moon to revolve around the Earth. The first month of their year starts around the middle of April. The first day of the month is one New Moon Day (which does not have a number). The next day is New Moon Day 1, then New Moon Day 2, etc. through 13. The 15th day of the month is the No Moon Day (which also does not have a number), then No Moon Day 1, No Moon Day 2, etc.

All the months have names except one, which is simply called "the Lent Month." During that month, people are always pouring or sprinkling water all over each other, something to do with a Buddhist cleansing ritual.

As I recall, it is the year 1453 in Burma. We base our calendar on the birth of Christ. I was curious to know the basis of their calendar. It seems that from time to time, a new Burmese king thought he was such an important fellow that his birth should mark the beginning of time. All the old calendars would be destroyed and a new one issued based on his birth. The last time this happened was over 1400 years ago.

Who was this great man whose birth indicated the start of time? None of the Burmese I asked had any idea who he was.
