BAILEY'S SPEECH A TREAT

Everyone, Irrespective of Politics, is Entertained by the Senator's Effort Here on the 3rd.

Senator Bailey's train was late and it was eleven o'clock when he stepped from the Pullman to be greeted with ringing cheers from the assembled multitude. The old soldiers were lined up to receive him and the Woodmen were much in evidence. The large reception committee was headed by Mayor A. M. Beville and Hon. A. T. Cole, of Clarendon, and Mr. Bailey was escorted through the crowd by them as quickly as possible. However, he did not fail to shake the hand of every old Confederate soldier in the line and speak a word to each before he took his seat in the carriage provided.

The procession, headed by the band, then marched through the business streets, past the place of speaking and to the residence of Mayor Beville, where Mr. Bailey remained chatting with a few friends until the preliminary exercises at the tent were over. When sent for he proceeded immediately to the tent, accompanied by ex-Governor J. N. Browning, Judge A. T. Cole, Hon. J. R. Bowman, Dr. H. J. Winn, J. B. McClelland and John E. Cooke. Arrived at the place of speaking Senator Bailey was given an ovation as soon as he appeared upon the platform, and the cheers only ceased when Mayor Beville arose to introduce Mr. Cole, who in turn, in a very brief though expressive and complimentary manner introduced the "greatest statesman of the age."

The tent was crowded to the utmost of its standing capacity. Several thousand people braved the suffocating atmosphere under the canvas which alone protected them from a typical July sun. The manner in which the discomforts of the occasion were born by the people was even a greater compliment to the speaker than the manner in which he was cheered and applauded.

The distinguished speaker began by paying the county and the country a compliment, following it up with a statement that no better people in the world existed than in this section. His statements along this line were not vapid utterances, but simple statements of fact followed by the speaker's reasons for making them. He followed with delicate compliments toward Governor Browning and Dick Bowman, past and present representatives from the district, and recognizing in the audience some old Mississippi friends of long years ago (the Messrs. Cobb) called them by name and gave as his reason for saying the people of this country were of such a splendid type was that they came from such old Mississippi and other old state stock as did they. For two hours, and without apparent effort, this remarkable man held the rapt attention of his audience although the heat was intense and the discomfort most vexing. From time to time he was interrupted by cheers and protestations of satisfaction at points made on certain subjects. Only twice was he interrupted by an opposing voice, both time the party being the famous "singletax" advocate of Amarillo, and both times his logical and lightning-like answers were so effective as to "close the incident" immediately.

Senator Bailey referred to the fight that had been made on him and took occasion to show up his enemies. His sarcasm was biting during the time he devoted to this subject, and when he reached "the run-away Senator from Amarillo," that gentleman was handed a package nicely prepared, neatly tied with a true-blue Bailey ribbon and duly labeled, "To the Tall Woods Next Election." "It is remarkable," said the speaker, "that a man who would join that conscientious crowd who would not allow a United States Senator to practice law during the vacation of Congress, should quit his post of duty and in spite of his instructions from his constituents to vote a certain way in the election for U. S. Senator, be found practicing law himself in a court-room far away when that election was being held in the state senate." He stated further that no representation was better than misrepresentation, and that if the people of this district could find no better timber than Veale or Decker they would do well not to send anybody to Austin to represent them.

Mr. Bailey then took up some of the political questions of the day and from then on his speech was pure democratic gospel all the way through. He referred to his record as an open book and was assured by his audience that such reference was not necessary. He pleaded for an old-time democracy as the only solution for existing conditions, and said that between the danger of monopoly on one hand and socialism on the other it behooves every American to be wide awake and intelligently informed, and he plead for democratic harmony, saying that the republicans were responsible for every break in the democratic ranks, knowing full well that that was the most effective way to combat democracy. His recital of how Jefferson's democracy saved this nation at its inception and had been its safe guard ever since was good history and splendidly applied.

The question of taxation and extravagance in government administration was discussed at length, the speaker taking occasion to say that he wanted to see a home for the old Confederate soldiers at Austin that will be a "home" and not an asylum, and where the old boys who wore the gray will be our guests and not our pensioners; and he wanted to see another home by its side for the widows of the old soldiers. In this connection his eloquence assumed electrifying proportions, and not only did the old soldiers applaud but the people as a whole seemed carried away. His entire review of the political situation was a master piece of eloquence and learning and held the closest attention. If there were more Baileys to preach democracy there would be more democrats, for his ideas are all pure democracy and expressed in a manner carrying conviction to every hearer.

He took issue with Bryan on the government ownership of railroads. Mr. Bryan has about given up hope of regulating the roads, but he has not. For twenty years the republican party has been in power, and it will take a democratic government to do the work. When democracy is given the chance the people will see that the corporations can be controlled and will be controlled. He referred to Grover Cleveland as a thousand times better than a republican but a thousand times worse than a true democrat. The opportunity for success is before us now, and a united democracy will win.

In summing up this speech the Banner-Stockman editor feels that he can not better express his personal appreciation of Senator Bailey than by reprinting the final paragraph of the write up appearing in the Channing Courier, and written by J. W. Hunt:

"There were flights of genuine eloquence and beautiful sentiment that electrified as only a master of assemblies can electrify, and were extremely fine. His sincerity was impressed upon friend and foe and elicited thunders of applause. Bailey is a great orator and a great man, though when I say it, I do not subscribe to any undue adulation of the man. Many of his ideals are beneath the level of his ability. Like any other man, he would be a far better one if he were a Christian, as Roosevelt and Bryan are. His 'brimstone' policy toward his enemies is unbecoming any great character, though popular with many shallow and unthinking persons in whom the savage instinct is still much alive, if not dominant. At the same time those who condemn Bailey for his intemperate utterances, have no word of condemnation for the vindictiveness, unfair methods and persistent and underhanded assault of the crowd that is fighting him. From a fair view-point, he is no worse than they in that respect."

At the conclusion of his speech Senator Bailey was given an ovation and it was many minutes before the tent was cleared and the crowds dispersed. The speaker was the guest of Mayor Beville while in the city, and during the afternoon he held a continuous informal reception at the handsome Beville home, meeting many old friends, forming new acquaintances and answering logically and learnedly all questions of a political nature. The remarkable memory of the man was never better evidenced than during this reception. R. H. Jones, the Hedley merchant, entered during a time when the guest was talking, and modestly took a seat at some distance from the junior senator. At the first opportunity Mr. Bailey's attention was called to the new comer and he was asked if he remembered him. After a few seconds study of Mr. Jones' features he stated that he did not know him. "He looks like Horace Jones, of Dallas county," said Mr. Bailey, "but he isn't." He was then informed that he was a brother to Horace Jones, and was quite a boy when last known to the Senator nearly twenty years ago. The Senator was greeted during the afternoon by nearly all the prominent visitors in the city, as well as by many local people, both gentlemen and ladies.

W. H. Wilson will lecture at the Christian church Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock on "Creation." All are invited.

Reliable Footwear.

If you are looking for a pair of shoes you can wear from the first, without the unpleasant "breaking-in" process, read the ad of Bryan & Land in this issue.

One of the meanest of scamps is the fellow who will, under cover of darkness, destroy another's property. One of these rascals was abroad in Clarendon Saturday night, and threw a rock through the large plate glass front of the Dr. T. E. Standifer building. That the attempt was deliberate is shown by marks which bear evidence that two rocks were thrown, the first missing the glass and denting the woodwork.

Mrs. D. L. McClellan returned home with her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Noland, and will spend some time at Stratford.

Childress Barbecue.

Next comes Childress with her three-day entertainment on the 18th, 19th and 20th of this month. Advertising matter has been sent out and a big time is promised. The racing feature will be especially strong, large purses having been hung up, and it is expected that some splendid horses will be there. A new circular track has been constructed recently. Childress invites everybody, and promises a fine entertainment.

CITIZENS MUST CLEAN UP

Clarendon Must be Clean, Says the City Council—Clean Up Your Premises or Pay Fine.

Ordinance No. 2 of the city of Clarendon reads as follows:

"Section 6:—Whoever shall in this town suffer or permit any cellar, vault, drain, pool, privy, sewer, yard, grounds or premises belonging to or controlled by him to become from any cause noxious, foul, offensive or injurious to public health, or unpleasant or offensive to adjacent residences or persons, shall be deemed guilty of a nuisance and on conviction be fined not less than five and not more than twenty-five dollars.

"Section 7:—The owner or occupant of any premises in this city upon which there is located a privy shall every six days during the months of April, May, June, July, August and September of each and every year thoroughly disinfect such privy with lime or other disinfectants.

"Section 8:—Whoever fails, refuses or neglects to comply with section 7 of this ordinance, shall, on conviction thereof, be fined not less than five nor more than fifty dollars."

Other sections of this ordinance define nuisances such as decaying flesh or vegetable matter and prohibits the throwing upon any street alley or lot of another, any "Glass, tin, queensware, crockery, paper or other rubbish, slops, water or manure, or any substance that is offensive or that may become so, 'filthy hog pens and lots' are also included as nuisances.

Public health demands the strict enforcement of our sanitary regulations. Many complaints are reaching our city authorities of the unsanitary conditions, and the city marshal and city scavenger are hereby instructed to make complaint against all persons failing or refusing to comply with any part of this ordinance. It is hoped that everyone will at once meet every requirement in the interest of health and general cleanliness. A carload of lime ought to be put into use in the next week, and too loads of rubbish ought to be carted away.

By order of the

CITY COUNCIL.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the firm of Tucker & Tax has been dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. J. R. Tucker retiring and Mr. J. F. THE CHOPPERS WERE HERE

Woodmen of the World Met in Clarendon on the 3rd and 4th in Large Numbers.

Woolbine Camp, No 476, W. O. W., entertained visiting choppers from Rowe, Memphis, Amarillo, McLean, Groom, Jericho, Alanreed, Childress, Claude and Goodnight on the 3rd, many of the visitors remaining over for the 4th.

The occasion was the previously well advertised unveiling ceremony. The Woodmen were first on the program at the big tent with an address of welcome by Judge A. L. Journey. He was followed by Judge S. P. Huff, of Vernon. The judge was slated for a fraternal order talk, but on account of the lateness of the hour he voluntarily cut short his remarks to make way for Senator Bailey, who followed.

In the afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock the choppers met in a body at the Methodist church, Hon. O. S. Lattimore, of Ft. Worth, here made a short talk for the good of the order. Procession was then formed and the march to the cemetery begun, headed by the band, then the Woodmen in double column, followed by a large number of vehicles. W. R. Silvey was master of ceremonies and Odus Caraway captain. At the cemetery the usual wedge was formed and the beautiful unveiling ceremony was performed according to the ritual governing the lodge. Four monuments were unveiled, as follows: Sovs. W. W. Curran, J. C. Scoggins, Sol Gray and George Melton. Miss Susie Patterson rendered a recitation. A male quartette composed of Messrs. F. D. Martin, Hayter Bros. and H. G. Shaw sang a beautiful song and then Hon. O. S. Lattimore delivered the address of the occasion. Mr. Lattimore spoke for thirty or forty minutes, and those who were fortunate enough to hear him say he made as fine a talk on fraternalism as has ever been heard in this section of the state.

The unveiling ceremony of the Woodmen is an imposing scene, and this part of the program was one of the very best and most attractive features of the celebration. Mr. D. C. Sullivan, the popular Consul Commander of the local camp, expressed himself as being well pleased with the occasion.

Prompt Attention.

Carl Lochridge, who died at his home near Hedley some weeks ago, was insured in the Franklin Life Insurance Co., of Springfield, Ill., in the sum of $1000. The following letter shows prompt payment of the claim and is self explanatory:

DALLAS, Texas, July 6.
HON. GEO. F. MORGAN,

Clarendon, Texas.
DEAR SIR:—The records indicate that you have been agent for the beneficiary under policy No. 29,224, Carl Lochridge, and we take pleasure, therefore, in handing you herewith the company's check for $1000 and for $5.48. The former is the face of the policy, and the latter is the refund of one quarterly premium paid in advance by the insured. Trusting that you will soon have the pleasure of handing to the widow these checks and that we will receive the policy and receipts, we are,

THE celebration was all that Clarendon people had hoped for or expected. The largest crowds in the history of the town were here. The various features of the occasion were carried out in the best possible shape. The various events are treated in other columns.

WE neglected to give the names of the executive committee elected at the N. W. T. P. A. at Plainview. It will be composed of W. P. Blake of the Clarendon Chronicle, S. A. Brewster of the Amarillo Daily Panhandle, and Geo. A. Brandon of the Canyon City News. This committee will draft the next program, set the time for the meeting and attend to such other duties as may come up during the ensuing year.

WE wish to give our readers a fair warning concerning the advance in subscription price which goes into effect October 1st. Therefore we say again that up to October 1st one dollar will pay for one year, back dues or in advance, and you have the privilege of paying $5 far in advance as you choose at the dollar rate. It is not that we want to make more off our subscribers that we advance the price, but simply a matter of saving ourselves loss. With the present high price on paper, ink, type, and the increased scale of wages together with the increased cost of living, it is impossible to publish a paper at a dollar a year and not lose money on the deal.

ONE of the most pleasing features of this year's celebration is the many nice things now being said concerning us by visiting newspaper men. There were several of our brother editors here during the two days, and without exception all have gone home to write entertainingly about the celebration and complimentary to Clarendon and her people. Editor Brewster, of Amarillo, was particularly pleased with our little city, and did not hesitate to say so. We feel constrained to publish his article in full, but as it covers so much ground already familiar to our readers we desist and next week will present that part of it telling of his impressions as regards our civic beauty. Other editors present were: L. E. Haskett, of the Childress Index; W. A. Johnson, of the Memphis Herald; S. J. Thomas, of the Comanche Chief and Ft. Worth Record; J. W. Hunt, representing the Clanning Courier; and W. A. Thomas of the Childress Post. All have seen fit to compliment Clarendon, and evidently nothing but the kindest of feeling prevails among the newspaper boys for Clarendon, "the city of trees and homes." The Banner-Stockman is duly appreciative of this brotherly regard, and on behalf of our citizenship we thank the boys, one and all.

FOR the benefit of the editor of the McLean Herald we would like to state that the members of the Clarendon baseball team are all Clarendon boys. Not only are there no salaried players on the team, but there is not even any money being spent on the team, and the boys lose their own time when they play. We believe we are safe in saying that Clarendon has the best amateur team of strictly home boys in the Panhandle.

WITH THE TRAP SHOOTERS

Clarendon Gun Club's Informal 4th of July Shoot Fairly Well Attended.

The informal shoot given by the Clarendon Gun Club on the 4th brought a fairly creditable attendance from other towns, Memphis, Childress, Wellington and McLean all being represented. With the exception of the last event wherein Rawlins of Memphis broke 25 straight, the shooting was below the average, and for no apparent reason, as the afternoon was well suited for the sport. The money was pretty evenly distributed, "Lucky Dick" Allen, of Clarendon, carrying off the largest individual pot. Boston, of Memphis, was second in point of money; Scruggs, of Memphis, third; Smith, of Clarendon, fourth. Of the total prizes Clarendon shooters captured $64.05; Memphis, $59.00; Childress, $12.00; Wellington, $3.45; McLean, $1.50.

The events:
1st—20 rocks—Allen 1st; Scruggs 2nd; Cooke, Gardenhire, Van Sickle and Rawlins, 3rd.
2nd—20 rocks—Boston 1st; Cooke and Van Sickle 2nd; Love and Gilreath 3rd.
3rd—20 rocks—Allen 1st; Smith 2nd; Cooke and Scruggs 3rd.
4th—15 rocks—Allen 1st; Van Sickle and White 2nd; Boston and Rawlins 3rd.
5th—25 rocks—Rawlins 1st; White, Smith and Scruggs 2nd; Boston and Cooke 3rd; Kilpatrick 4th. (Rose system, 5-3-2-1).

The individual scores:

Shot at	Broke
Allen	100
White	100
Kilpatrick	100
Gilreath	100
Van Sickle	100
Rawlins	100
Crabtree	100
Cooke	100

Big Hereford Bargain.

N. N. Martin, proprietor of Donley county's famous Lone Star Herd of Registered Herefords, having sold his ranch is now looking for a purchaser for his herd. The herd consists of 8 bulls, 11 yearling heifers and 31 head of cows from two years old up. Anyone who may be desirous of acquiring a strictly first-class herd of registered stuff will do well to investigate this proposition. We understand that the herd can be bought for $50 around, this spring and summer calves thrown in. These cattle cost Mr. Martin from $100 to $160 per head when they were yearlings, and all of them are of the very best strains of blood. Mr. Martin's address is Clarendon. He will make terms to suit purchaser.

For Sale.

THE CHILDRESS RACES

Program of the Races to be Held at that Place on July 18th, 19th and 20th.

At the time of holding the annual celebration the Childress Racing Association will hold a three days race meet. The program announced calls for purses to the amount of $745. The program is as follows:

July 18.—Free for all pace or trot, 2 best in 3, half-mile heats, $50; running dash, one fourth of a mile, $100.

July 19.—Free for all trot, 2 best in 3 half-mile heats, $75; Childress County buggy horses, 2 best in 3, half-mile heats, $50; mule race, half-mile dash, $20; saddle horse race, half-mile dash, $35; free for all, half-mile dash, $100.

July 20.—Free for all pace or trot, 2 best in 3, half-mile heats, $100; free for all 300-yard dash, $75.

The purses put up for these races should get the very best horses in Northwest Texas. The association also announces that time will be given for any match races on either day.

The association has good sheds and stalls upon the ground, also plenty of water for the use of stockmen, and every care will be taken to accommodate the visiting owners.

For any information regarding races or arrangements address T. J. Jefferies, Childress, Texas.—Childress Index.

The Doctor Away from Home when Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramp colic and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save your life. For sale by all druggists.

Remember that after October 1st the Banner-Stockman will cost you $1.50 per year. Previous to October 1st we will accept $1 as a full year's subscription, no matter how your date may read. You may pay as far ahead at the rate of a dollar a year as you like, provided you pay between now and October 1st. But after October 1st the rate will be $1.50.

FIVE YEARS IN THE PEN

Jury Rendered Above Verdict in Case of State vs. Cornelius, from Amarillo.

The Cornelius case, transferred to Donley from Potter county on a change of venue, occupied several days of the district court's time last week, the jury bringing in a verdict Tuesday of guilty of manslaughter and assessing the penalty at five years in the state penitentiary.

This was the third time the case had come to trial. At Amarillo the first time the jury could not agree. The second time a verdict of five years was rendered, but later developments regarding the jury resulted in the setting aside of this verdict and a new trial being ordered. The case was then sent here.

Cornelius killed George Highfill in Amarillo in October, 1905. Cornelius and Highfill were partners in the meat market on Polk street. A difficulty over settlement of business affairs came to an acute stage and finally one morning Cornelius shot Highfill in the back room of the shop. Highfill died within a few minutes. The only witness of the killing was Fern Cornelius, the son of the principal in the case. Many other circumstantial witnesses, however, have been introduced by the state and the defense. Reeder and Cooper assisted the state's attorney, Henry Bishop, in the prosecution and Veale, Crudgington & Underwood represented the defense.

A Good Chance.

We have yet unsold, our nice dresser and wash stand, good couch, center table, rockers, chiffonier, kitchen table, dishes, good heater, cook stove and cook vessels, good as new. If you want part or all of them come quick. We are closing out.

WILSON C. ROGERS,
Baptist Parsonage.

The Ft. Worth & Denver road has received twelve new passenger coaches and four baggage cars, the delivery being made at Fort Worth last Saturday. The passenger coaches are electric lighted and are among the most modern and elegantly appointed made. The coaches are being pressed into service as fast as possible, seven of them being brought to Childress Tuesday and fitted up for service. These coaches are as fine as any in the state of Texas and will add to the prestige of the Denver road as running the best passenger train in the state.—Childress Index.

Best Medicine in the World for Colic and Diarrhoea.

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mrs. C. L. Caster, of Skirm, Ala. "I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half bottle of the twenty-five cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and this morning I feel like a new man." For sale by all druggists.

Roy Kendall reports a hard rain at his place on Lake creek early Wednesday morning. He is badly damaged by the water washing his crop, some of it acreage being entirely ruined and nearly all somewhat damaged. Hail also fell, but the principal damage was due to the water. The rain extended on east and a heavy fall is reported from Hedley.

THE BASEBALL GAMES

Clarendon Victorious Over McLean in Two Rattling Good Games July 3 and 4.

The two best games of baseball seen in Clarendon in several years resulted on the 3rd and 4th when the teams of this city and McLean crossed bats. The games were witnessed by thousands of people. Not only was the grand stand full but the side lines were packed and jammed with people, while the outfield was crowded with vehicles, barely room enough being left on the grounds for the game to be played.

The first game resulted in a score of 3 to 2 in favor of Clarendon. The score was 1 to 1 until the last half of the ninth inning when a couple of hits on the one side and a couple of errors on the other allowed Clarendon to score twice and McLean once.

The second day's game was equally close, the score being 1 to 1, when in the last half of the ninth two bad throws by McLean players allowed Clarendon to run in three scores, the final score being 4 to 1.

We endeavored to get the scoresheet, but failed, therefore cannot print a detailed account of the games. Atteberry and Kerbow pitched for Clarendon, while Killough caught. We failed to get the names of the other battery.

The visitors play excellent ball, and Clarendon fans were well pleased with the games.

Take the Postmaster's Word for it.

Mr. F. M. Hamilton, postmaster at Cherryvale, Ind., keeps also a stock of general merchandise and patent medicines. He says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is standard here in its line. It never fails to give satisfaction and we could hardly afford to be without it." For sale by all druggists.

THE OLD SOLDIERS MEET

As Clarendon's Guests the "Johnny Rebs" Hold Enjoyable Reunion on the 3rd and 4th.

The 4th of July, 1907, was "Old Soldiers' Day" in Clarendon, just as it was intended to be, and the attendance of the ex-Confederates was better than for several years and almost, if not quite, up to the expectations of the local camp. Camp Sam Lanham, No. 1383, was out in full force, and had the pleasure of entertaining visitors from other camps from all over the district. Amarillo sent down a strong delegation with a flag. Other camps were represented, and the sturdy old veterans of the "Lost Cause" passed a day of unalloyed pleasure as the guests of Clarendon, and if their testimony is to be taken at full face value (as it is) no better reunion has ever been held in the Panhandle.

They began gathering on the 3rd—in fact most of them were here especially to hear Senator Bailey on the 3rd, and did hear him and enjoyed his speech. They were given places of honor on the platform and the speaker was warmly applauded by them.

On the morning of the 4th the old soldiers met at the Presbyterian church, were called to order by Capt. R. S. Kimberlin, listened to a prayer by Chaplain Burkhead, then formed a line and marched through the streets to the courthouse where they posed on the front steps for a photograph. They then marched up stairs where the district court room had been prepared for the exercises of the morning. The arrangements had been made especially for their comfort, and Mayor Beville had seen to it that everything necessary in the way of comfortable arrangements had been prepared for them.

Through the cause of sickness ex-Governor Sam Lanham was unable to be present to make the speech of the day as he had promised. He wrote at the last hour that he was not able to make the trip. In his stead Hon. T. H. Peebles, who had been slated for the address of welcome, addressed the audience, and with all due respect to any other speaker who might have been engaged we wish to say that he did as well as anyone could have done. His talk was able and patriotic and he was applauded frequently and with energy.

Other speeches were made by Judge Browning and W. H. Cooke. The latter speaker had all the old boys and himself crying before he got through, and aroused in them a brotherly sentiment which lasted throughout the entire time the camp was together. Col. Sheard, an old Tennessee veteran, also made a good talk. Miss Marion Barnett recited a patriotic piece, and the band furnished music to fit the occasion.

When dinner was announced it was found that special arrangements had been made for the old soldiers and their wives. A special table had been prepared. Special baskets were there with especially tempting viands to satisfy the appetite. The best parts only of the barbecued meat were brought to this table, while to cap off the entire feast Mrs. J. T. Morrow had prepared a freezer full of ice cream, while other ladies furnished cake of all kinds. The old soldiers were completely overwhelmed with attentions, and everyone seemed to vie with his neighbor in seeing that all had a good time.

In the afternoon a re-union and experience meeting was held at the court house. The battles of '61-'65 were fought over; the humorous and the serious sides of different occurrences were told, and while the crowds of the younger generation enjoyed themselves at the races and ball game, these old and grizzled warriors renewed acquaintanceships and memories of bygone days and passed the afternoon in brotherly love and comradeship.

The Amarillo delegation sought and secured the passing of a resolution thanking Mrs. J. T. Morrow, especially, and the people of Clarendon generally for the generous hospitality accorded. They also insisted on a special resolution thanking Mayor A. M. Beville for his untiring efforts in their behalf. For supper Capt. Kimberlin saw to it that each of the visitors was provided before train time.

The following is a list of the names of the old soldiers present, giving their company and command, as well as their present address: Where no town is given the party's address is Clarendon. R. S. Kimberlin, Co. D, 2nd Mo. Cav., Now Captain of Camp Sam Lanham, No. 1383.

The fight seems to be on over at McLean between the two newspapers. Too bad that the two gentlemen couldn't get together and save the trouble of the second paper in a town of that size. There are frequent instances of where one paper is better than two, and this seems to be one of them.

DR. MOOD STRUCK DOWN

Clarendon College President Suffers Severe Illness While Out on College Business.

Dr. J. R. Mood was taken seriously ill at Lubbock last week and his wife from Clarendon, and brother from Amarillo, were summoned to his bedside. He was able to be brought home Tuesday, but is still confined to his room. While a very sick man we are glad to be able to state that he is so much improved as to be able to write the Banner-Stockman the following note Wednesday afternoon:

"DEAR MR. COOKE:—There have been no 'College Notes' sent in for several weeks because I have been away traveling in the interest of the school. I have visited Dalhart, Channing, Tucuman, N. M., Colorado City, Fort Worth, Snyder, Gail and Lubbock. It was at the last named place that I was so violently ill that I fell on the gallery at Bro. Galloway's, staying there until my wife and brother brought me home."

"Information about the College is eagerly gobbled up. The catalogues are in great demand. Already requests are being received from parents begging that certain rooms be reserved for their children. I am already sure of the attendance of as many pupils as we can honestly care for."

"Most sincerely,
"J. R. Mood."

Hedley Headlights.
Hedley, Texas, July 10.

EDITOR BANNER-STOCKMAN:
Fine weather.

Crops are looking well around Hedley.

Farmers are very busy, most of them are done laying by their corn.
Joe Kendall is harvesting his alfalfa crop this week. It is fine.

Smith Lewis (our gin man) is in Memphis on the sick list this week.

Prof. H. I. Reed and wife, and Mrs. Craue, of Giles, were in Hedley last week taking in the Mollie Bailey show.

Mrs. K. W. Howell was called to Frath county Saturday night on account of the serious illness of a brother.

The Presbyterian church house has been completed on the inside and is a credit to any town. Contractor J. A. Roberts can fix them up right.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White and daughter, Miss Ethel, visited Lee Blair's family Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Phillips and two daughters were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Graham Sunday.

Mrs. G. A. Wimberly returned home last Friday from a visit with friends at Memphis.

The Misses Miller have been visiting friends at Memphis this week.

T. R. Kidd and Dee Curd, of Bray, were in Hedley one day last week.

H. L. McCarroll and brother, of Bray, were in town Saturday on business.

The young peoples' society will give an ice cream supper at the Adamson building Friday night, proceeds of which will go to the painting of the Presbyterian church.

Rev. J. T. Stanton, of Childress, Rev. E. L. Farmer, of Memphis, and Rev. G. A. Oller, of Bray, assisted in the organization of a Baptist church here last Sunday.

S. L. Adamson, the Telephone Exchange man, says he would attend Sunday school every Sunday morning but just before the time for Sunday school to open the switch board gets out of fix and he just can't go.

Miss Bennie Suddith, of East Texas, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Bales.

H. T. Youree, of Bray, was selling alfalfa on our streets Monday.

The young ladies of Hedley have organized a basket ball team, they will play each week.

Homer Wilkins will begin the erection of a dwelling house in the east part of town soon.

The boys have all taken new vows this week, the grand-jury is in session.

Good rains have fallen over this part of Donley County in the past few days, this will almost insure a good feed crop.

W. H. Horn, of Bray, sold alfalfa here yesterday at $15.00 per ton.

Citation by Publication

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Donley, if there be a newspaper published in said county, (but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published,) for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon B. P. Hardy whose residence is unknown to be and appear before A. J. Barnett, Justice of the Peace for Precinct No. 2, Donley County, Texas, at the next regular term of the Justice's Court to be holden in the town of Clarendon, said County and State on the last Monday in July, 1907, same being the 29th of said month, then and there to answer the suit of G. W. Antrobus, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 539, wherein G. W. Antrobus is plaintiff and B. P. Hardy is defendant, filed in said Court on the 4th day of June, 1907. The nature of plaintiff's cause of action being suit on note executed by defendant, payable to plaintiff, of date of March 10, 1906, payable at First National Bank of Clarendon, Oct. 1st, 1906, bearing ten per cent interest from date till paid and providing for ten per cent attorney's fees if collected by suit or by attorney. Alleging said fee to be due and reasonable and earned and alleging that no part of the said note has been paid though often requested, and praying for citation, judgment for principal, interest and attorney's fees. Said note being in the amount of $46.50, principal.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you then and there before said Court this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand at Clarendon, Texas, this 25th day of June, 1907.

A. J. BARNETT,
Justice of the Peace in and for Donley County, Precinct No. 2.

YOUNG OWENS NOT GUILTY

So Declares the Jury in the Case of State vs. Solon Owens in the Turbyfill Killing.

The case of State vs. Solon Owens, charged with the murder of B. S. Turbyfill in April last, this county, was called for trial in the district court Tuesday and was immediately entered upon. The jury was secured with slight trouble, and the taking of evidence and argument brought the case up to last night, the jury hearing the charge and retiring at about 9:30. When court convened this morning the jury reported ready, and on being brought into court returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The case is well and widely known. Solon Owens, with his father, S. B. Owens, came up with B. S. Turbyfill and T. C. Fleming at the Rockledge railroad crossing in the northern part of the county on April 25th. The senior Owens and Turbyfill immediately rolled out of their buggies and began shooting at each other, the evidence showing that Turbyfill fired the first shot. Owens was killed on the spot, and the evidence further shows that his son, Solon Owens, then took up the battle with Turbyfill, having picked up his father's pistol when he dropped it, and finally killed Turbyfill with a Winchester rifle. Self defense was the plea, and how well this claim was proven in court is shown by the verdict of the jury.

Young Owens, who was attended throughout the trial by his mother and sisters, received the hearty congratulations of many friends after the jury rendered the verdict. The verdict meets the unanimous approval of the county, who almost to a man, think the lad (he is only 18) was entirely justified in the shooting.

Sheep for Sale.

I have a number of sheep for sale and can supply most anything in the sheep line that a man might want. Every farmer should have a small bunch of sheep on his place. See or address me at Clarendon.

Too Many Flies.

The celebration of the 3rd and 4th has left Clarendon with a few million more flies than the town is justly entitled to. Probably some of our readers are wondering why so many flies are in evidence. Wherever large crowds gather, big dinners are served, red lemonade is the main beverage and meat is barbecued, flies are more numerous than usual. We have them, have you?

District Court.

District court has been grinding regularly the past week. The two criminal cases, (Cornelius and Owens) have served to occupy the greater part of the court's time, though several land suits have been continued and one divorce granted—to wit: J. K. Rambo vs. Mrs. M. J. Rambo.

The grand jury made its report Wednesday and adjourned for the term. They returned only three bills.

Several witnesses in the Cornelius case were fined for non attendance.

The newspaper man is the last man to advance prices on his commodity. The grocer, the butcher, the dry goodsman—in fact all merchants and tradesmen, are ruled in making prices by the prices they are forced to pay for their raw product. The newspaper man has been paying the same advance as others, and for years, but he is just now awaking to the fact that he is foolish to keep selling at the same old price. The price of all periodicals is bound to go up, and the editor who waits the longest is the one who loses the most money.
