Jan Marie Ohlenburg

Jan Marie Ohlenburg Honored On First Birthday

Friday, November 17, was a happy day in the life of one-year-old Jan Marie Ohlenburg as she was showered with gifts and love of friends and relatives who arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonny Ohlenburg, 319 West 9th to help her celebrate the occasion.

Not only was she one-year-old, but she was a beauty and a sportsman... all in one on that gala night. At 9 p.m., long past her bedtime, she was dressed in red-velvet trimmed with a lace collar and sleeves of white and as bright-eyed as the colorful dress she was wearing.

A table decorated in her honor was centered with a chocolate cake bearing one pink candle and pink lettering spelling out the words "Happy Birthday." Behind the cake, the table was laden with gifts from "well-wishers" and birthday party noise makers, a doll and birthday hats.

Attending other than her parents as host and hostess, was her grandfather, A. L. Ohlenburg, Odessa and Muleshoe friends Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoneham, Trey and Tommy and John Beller.

The luncheon was the only fund raising project the auxiliary will sponsor this year and a portion of the money will be used to sponsor the annual Christmas party at the nursing home.

The services of the auxiliary are strictly voluntary, and an average of 60 to 65 hours a month in voluntary services are given to the hospital and nursing home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Watson attended the 21st annual Conference of the Texas Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development held November 5-7 at the Terrace Motor Hotel, Austin.

"A Creative and Critical Look at Innovations" was the theme for the conference.

Dr. Earl C. Kelley of San Francisco, Calif., said that the goal of education must be the production of better people -- "people who are more able to cope with change." Here are more of the comments of the retired Professor of Education at Wayne University: "We've been shaking teachers through the wrong screen -- I'm not sure the all A's standard of selecting teachers is the right one in finding out about a person's love of children and how to deal with them." Teachers of the future, he said, will see themselves in a helping role instead of an authoritarian role. They will cherish everybody "instead of a few." They will also cherish freedom and creativeness and do their bit to get them for the learner. Teachers need to stop running scared and acting hectic for that does not get them anywhere, he said.

Dr. Jack Frymeir, Professor of Education at Ohio State University said that teachers need to see themselves as the crucial factor in education and use themselves to help young people learn. "We have to tailor our teaching techniques to each individual child. The old cliché of treat everybody alike no longer works. We have to realize that the most powerful variable is the teacher."

In addition to the three general sessions there were small assemblies, group discussions and debates. The banquet was on Monday evening and Mrs. Bernice Rallsback, president, Dr. Donald McDonald of Texas Tech is the newly elected president for 1968-69.

Over 400 members registered for this three day conference. The membership for the state is over 700 including supervisors, curriculum directors, administrators and college and university people.

Muleshoe High Halls Decorated

By Vickie Street

Each year during Homecoming, the halls of MHS are divided into four sections. Each class then decorates its portion, and competes with the others for first place.

The class with the most beautiful hall wins the contest. This year, the Juniors are going all out to win. With multi-colored streamers looped across the halls, it's harder than ever for students to get from class to class, but when they finally get there, they're all in a better mood.

In the unbiased opinion of the Juniors, they feel that their hall is outstanding this year.

That's So Teacher--Give an example of minority rule.

Jefferson--When there's a new baby in the house.

Ah--

Gob--You say you were twins once!

Ditto--Yes, my mother has a picture of me when I was two.

TAKING OATHS---Taking oaths of offices for Muleshoe Junior High Student Council are Stephanie Bryant, Debbie Parks and Marilyn Pool.

THOSE TESTS---Junior class favorites, Terry Reasoner and Debbie Burrows are shown relaxing with a coke while they discuss books they studied for six weeks examinations.

Lubbock Mayor to Address Richland Hills P-TA

Mayor W. D. "Dub" Rogers Jr., Lubbock, will address the Richland Hills Parent-Teachers at the school cafeteria at 4:15 p.m. Monday, November 20, Mrs. Haney Poyner, program director, announces.

Mayor Rogers will use as his topic, "Youth Responsibilities for Better Neighborhoods." This is in keeping with this year's education theme "Developing our Neighborhoods."

Mrs. James Macha, president of the Richland Hills P-TA said "We feel it would be worthwhile for all parents to plan to hear this speaker. His political history, voiced through the confidence of Lubbock residents, spells out his reputation as a capable citizen."

W. D. "Dub" Rogers Jr. was elected Mayor of Lubbock on April 5, 1966. Texans take their politics seriously, so you might imagine that Mayor Rogers was elected by a vigorous campaign, marked by a strong platform and popular campaign promises . . . not exactly. In fact, Rogers name wasn't even on the ballot.

In an unprecedented event, "Dub" Rogers was elected Mayor by a two to one majority when Lubbockites penciled his name in on the ballot, while Rogers was in Dallas on a business trip. As Rogers has termed it, this "election was a miracle!" This mandate of the people, electing a Mayor by writing in their vote, has never occurred in a city of this size in recorded political history, according to national newswire services. This was real democracy in action, since Rogers was defeated in a close contest for Mayor on two previous occasions, and had stated several times that he was not interested in being a candidate a third time. . . indeed, as late as two days before this election, Rogers had publicly stated, when the press contacted him in Dallas, that business commitments prevented him from considering serving in ANY capacity.

Well, Texans do things differently, and overnight this growing city decided, almost one, to elect "Dub" Rogers Mayor. . . and elect him they did, by scratching the name of the only announced candidate and writing in his name. When the polls closed on Election Day, Rogers was still in Dallas, was completely unaware of what had taken place in the city election until he returned to his hotel. By this time, the Lubbock Press and State Wire Services plus dozens of well-wishers had telephoned and wired the astounding news of his write-in election.

Rogers returned to Lubbock immediately, completely disrupting any personal and business plans. Rogers was met at the airport by hundreds of Lubbock citizens, and as Rogers put it, "In good conscience, it is impossible for me to turn my back on this amazing election, and I accept the challenge." With this, Rogers took office as a Mayor who hadn't shaken a hand or made a talk on behalf of the political race. . . the most unusual in municipal election history.

He is a television pioneer in the true sense of that designation for in 1949, he availed himself of an opportunity to enter the "television world of the Unknown" and since that has become well known as the constructor of the San Antonio pioneer station and exercising an abundance of pioneering spirit, continuing on in the field to become well established in several locales.

Mayor Rogers was featured in the Saturday Evening Post in a story titled "Home Town Television Makes a Hit."

He has been very active in the affairs of the television industry at the national level since its inception.

In addition to the broadcasting business, Rogers has had considerable experience in manufacturing, marketing and finance, his knowledge in these areas has been gained through either direct day-to-day operations or as a member of directorates.

Mayor Rogers has a long history of participating in business, civic and fraternal organizations. He has been or is presently a member of:

1. the Board of Directors of Champion's Life Insurance.
 2. Former member of the Board of Directors of Texas United Fund.
 3. Member of the Board of Directors of the Lubbock United Fund.
 4. Former member of the Board of Directors of the Caprock Girl Scouts.
 5. Member of the President's Advisory Board of Lubbock Christian College.
 6. Member of the Masonic Lodge.
 7. Life member of the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children.
 8. Former Director and member of the Lubbock Lions Club, which gives just a few of the many civic and service organizations he has been or is associated with at the present time.
- He is a member of the Board of Deacons of the First Christian Church and is married to the former Edith Tighe of Dallas. They have three daughters, Kerry, Kay and Karol.

He displayed artifacts of the country.
Among the artifacts displayed were items of apparel worn by both men and women of Africa, handcraft, including baskets and musical instruments. His mother modeled a dress she had designed for her similar to those worn by the native women of the country. Grain Sorghum Yields Upped By Row Spacing

Grain sorghum yield increases ranging from 10 to 30 percent have resulted from narrower row and double row spacings in recent trials conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.
The project was described by M. J. Norris of the Livestock and Forage Research Center near McGregor, a speaker during the annual meetings of the American Society of Agronomy, Soil Science Society of America and the Crop Science Society of America November 5-10 in Washington, D. C.
Norris, an agronomist at the center, said there were no important differences in grain sorghum yields due to planting rates, but there were highly significant differences due to row spacing.
"Narrow rows and double rows resulted in grain yield increased ranging from 10 to 30 percent," he said.
Row spacings of 10, 20 and 40 inches at planting rates of four, six, eight, and ten pounds per acre were used with grain sorghum during a three-year period. Other row spacing experiments were made using a uniform planting rate of seven pounds per acre, including comparisons of single rows on 15-ter beds 40 inches apart; double rows spaced 12 inches on 15-ter beds spaced 40 inches apart; and grain sown on a flat seed bed with a grain drill spacing of 14 inches between drill openings.

Norris said the work was done on dryland, upland soils of the Grand Prairie near McGregor.
