SUNDAY MORNING SERMON.

Rev. T. B. Pittman Preached One of the Best Sermons of the Series Sunday Morning.

Sunday morning Rev. Pittman preached to a magnificent congregation, using the following text: Come unto me all ye that labor, and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me for I am meek and lowly in heart and you shall find rest unto your soul, for my yoke is easy and my burden light." Matthew 11:28-30. He said in part:

This is one of the many gracious invitations which Christ gives to come to him. This invitation rings like a silver bell all along in the gospel of our Lord. It is saying come, come, come, come to me. In the last book of the Bible and in the last chapter and among the last verses of the chapter we have this gracious invitation like a silver bell still ringing. In Revelation 22:17, it is recorded "The spirit and the bride say come, and he that heareth let him say come, and he that is athirst, let him say come and him that will, let him come and take the water of life freely." almost the last words of God's wonderful book is an invitation to come to Christ.

In discussing the text and the gracious invitation which it contains, I shall call your attention to three thoughts: (I) First we shall notice the description of the people invited. (II) Secondly and the blessings promised. (III) Thirdly the directions given by which the blessings may be obtained.

For a few minutes let us consider the description of the persons in the text they are described as being persons that are weary, that labor and are heavy laden. This represents a two fold state as to those who are included in the invitation. They are represented to us first as persons who labor. This indicates an active state of being while the term "heavy laden," a passive condition, or things under which the weary and heavy laden suffer. Many at the present time labor that they may find peace and rest, and at the same time burden themselves with many things that do not give rest to the soul. Many seek salvation through the channel of good works, many others burden themselves with forms and ceremonies which do not give peace of conscience. Many are burdened with sin and sorrow and worldly and family cares. To all of these the Son of God extends the invitation to come to him for rest. This brings us to consider in the second place the blessings which Christ offers in this gracious invitation this blessing is rest. It is probable that much of the pain and sorrow of the lost comes from the restless condition in which the soul finds itself when finally separated from God. Our Lord tells us in the 12th chapter, that when the unclean spirit goes out of a man the spirit goes through desert places seeking rest and finds it not. Here this lost spirit is defined as not being able to find rest. At the close of the 14th chapter of the Revelation the same thought is suggested, when it is said of the best and false prophet that they have no rest neither day nor night. Much of the punishment in the future life to the lost may consist in doing these evils without rest to the soul, while we here do as acts of sin. For instance the blasphemer may go on in his blaspheming forever without rest. The unholiness in his unholiness of acts of sin forever without cessation. Our Lord in his gracious text holds out to us the promise of sweet rest if we come to him. He will give rest to conscience, rest to the mind, and rest to the heart. Those who believe in Christ come to him for rest of the conscience, rest of heart and rest of the contended mind. Not only so but rest for all the faculties of the soul in eternity, for there remains a rest for the people of God, and blessed are they that die in the Lord from henceforth saith the Spirit, for they rest from their labors, and their works do follow them. But time compels us to hasten to the third thought of the text, and that is how to obtain the rest.

First to obtain this rest we must come to Christ—not to the minister, not to the church, not to forms and ceremonies, not to some faithful friend, but we are to come to Jesus Christ himself. The direction is "Come to me." Thus if the soul is to find rest, it must not stop short of Christ. But not only so, to obtain this rest we must submit ourselves completely to the authority and instruction of Christ. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me." Men are not saved because they will not submit themselves to this divine authority. They lean to their own council and are anxious to have their own way instead of submitting themselves to Christ. We must come to our Lord and put our neck under the yoke of his authority. But not only must we submit ourselves to the authority of our Savior but we must become learners in His school. God becomes our great teacher and we his pupils. The law of discipleship has ever been to take up the cross and follow Christ. The Savior declared that "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth and shall believe in thy heart that God raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believes unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation."

Mrs. Sherwood and family, of Clarendon, have returned to Wellington to make this their home.—Wellington Times.

Injured in a Runaway.

Last Friday Mrs. J. B. McLelland, Miss McLelland and their guest, Miss Allen, of Dallas, visited Mrs. Goodnight at Goodnight and as they with Miss Dyer were going to the station to catch the south-bound train to return home, the horse Miss Dyer was driving ran over something near the gate of the ranch and turned the buggy over, throwing the entire party to the ground. In their haste and excitement they did not realize that there was any serious injury to any of the party until they reached Clarendon, when Miss Allen, who had been suffering with an arm called Dr. Carroll and he found that the arm had been dislocated. The injury has been quite painful and inconvenient but not so serious as it might have been with so many in the buggy. Miss Allen is improving nicely and the many friends she has made in this city together with the many friends of her popular hostess wish for her steady recovery.

Joe L. Blankenship, of Chicago, Gospel singer, and R. Fred Burt, of Dallas, who is a pianist for Mr. Blankenship were in the city Monday evening enroute to Timpson, Texas, to work in a revival at that place. With them was Rev. Kiger who has been with them in the revival just closed at the Baptist church in Canyon City.

Mrs. Mann says they are here to spend the hot months of the summer as the heat is so excessive there that she could not remain there longer. Mrs. Mann says she likes her new home but that she will always have a warm space in her heart for Clarendon.

At the Court House Sunday Afternoon.

A large crowd greeted Dr. Burkhead on Sunday afternoon at the court house where he preached to the Confederate Veterans.

The sermon by Dr. Burkhead was full of enthusiasm, thought and suggestion, the theme being: "Righteousness exalts a nation but sin is a reproach to any people."

Dr. Burkhead first spoke of the greatness of our country in territory, in wealth, in institutions of learning, in inventive genius, and finally in trusts and combines which latter he said was to be regretted very much.

The speaker said that the people ought to pray for a statesman to step upon the scene to deliver them from the clutches of these miserable trusts and combines which are unamerican, antagonistic to a government of the people, for the people and by the people. The idea, said the speaker, of the members of these trusts and combines praying on their knees on Sunday and then on Monday preying on the other fellow, should be abhorrent to the thought of every good citizen.

Dr. Burkhead discussed at some length what should be the characteristics of our rulers and what they should stand for.

The occasion was highly appreciated and the old soldiers went away saying that they had been very much helped by the sermon of their chaplain.

Dr. Burkhead preaches to the Confederate Veterans every first Sunday, and every body, men, women, boys, girls and children have a cordial invitation to attend.

Prohibition Rally.

At the prohibition rally last Sunday afternoon held at the Opera House a large crowd listened to R. C. Dial of Clarendon explain the organization and work of the Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Dial is not what we could call a "polished speaker." He goes a little on a mixed style between Sam Jones and Granville Jones, not being so rough as the former nor as logical as the latter, but he made some telling points and his deep earnestness carried conviction with his remarks. After his address, he assumed further charge of the meeting and organized a league for Hereford with the following officers: L. Gough, Superintendent; T. E. Shirley, Geo. W. Barcus and G. W. Ross, chairman respectively of the education, legislative and order committee. Judge L. Gough called the rally to order and introduced the speaker. Rev. J. W. Story lead in prayer.—Hereford Brand.

Clean up! Clean up!! Clean up!!!

A weed cutting crusade is needed in Clarendon.

Clarendon is woefully short on concrete sidewalks.

There are some cases of fever in Clarendon and great care should be taken lest it becomes epidemic.

The prospect is good for several new business houses to adorn Kerney street ere the present year closes.

The sewer mains are being distributed along the routes surveyed for them, and it will not be many months until Clarendon will have an up-to-date sewer system.

The prospect for the coming session of Clarendon College is very promising. Bro. Slover says the main trouble is going to be a place to put the boys and girls.

Reports from all parts of Donley indicate a fine crop this year. The farmers are getting pretty well up with their work and crops are doing just as well as could be expected.

Now that the West Texas Normal locating committee have postponed their coming indefinitely let us redouble our diligence and make such a showing as no other town can make.

The iniquity of a newspaper that knocks its town is exceeded only by the iniquity of a paper that wilfully exaggerates the true conditions and makes things appear better than they really are.—Wichita Times.

There are a great many church members who think more of the church than they do of God. Their worship is centered upon the wrong thing.—Stamford News.
"Thou shalt not judge."

The Randal County News has just issued a twenty-four page Special illustrated edition, which is a model of beauty and art. There were a hundred and forty-four half tone cuts used in the issue.

The people of Canyon City show their appreciation of the splendid paper by giving it a liberal patronage. Few towns have a more wide awake newspaper than Canyon City has.

The Amarillo campaign against the house fly is being led by a Doctor fly, which is further evidence that there's nothing in a name.—Wichita Times.

After all it takes a fly to catch a fly.

We have decided to change our day of publication from Friday to Thursday and you may expect to get your paper a day earlier from now on. Advertisers will have to take notice of the change and get their changes in a day earlier too.

According to the Record, only true democrats are voting with Senator Aldrich. To what particular place in Hades is that Fort Worth paper trying to lead certain faction of the Texas Democracy?—Quannah Tribune Chief.

Every farmer in Donley county should remember that the securing of the normal means much to them. It will bring new people to both town and county, besides it will increase the demand for every thing raised on the farm for the table.

On Monday the first bale of this years cotton was sold in Houston, for $425. The bale weighed 368 pounds, and brought more than $1.15 per pound. The second arrived a few minutes later weighed 432 pounds and brought $432. This is going some in cotton selling.

Surely the trustees of the public school will not fail to provide more room for the coming school year. To fail to do this will be a great mistake. It will be a manifest injustice to the children and will also hurt the town. Any interest of the community can better afford to suffer than our free school interest.

There is great need in Clarendon for a campaign against the fly. There are many things that cause this little pest to be so bad here. The condition of lots and barns and hog pens breed these little nuisances. Every body should see to it that what ever is drawing or producing flies is removed from their premises.

The railroad played short with the Hedley people. The road promised one and one third fare for fifty miles each way and promised to stop at Hedley. People from Clarendon had to pay eighty cents' the regular fare, and most of them had to stand up all the way. The committee at Hedley were very much displeased but what does the Denver care for that, there is no competing line and the people that don't like its ways can go to thunder.

The Fort Worth Record makes it appear that Attorney General Davidson made a flash in his speech at Cameron. The Record's estimate of the Attorney General amounts to very little and will therefore cut little figure in determining the result of his candidacy. Everybody knows how the Record spread itself against him last year and how he over came the prejudice against the third term and the influence of the Record and defeated Col. Wynne, an honored Confederate Veteran.

Speaking of the probable candidacy of Judge Clark for governor, the Fort Worth Record says:

"Quite a number of his friends and admirers here believe an affirmative answer can be given to that interrogation if he is convinced of the fact that this state requires the services of such a man at this time."

The thing that will bring an affirmative answer from him is, the convincing him that there is any show for him to win. "Requires the services of such a man" indeed! The state does not require the services of any one man much less that of a corporation lawyer of Judge Clark's type. Let him try if he and his friends think so.

Lloyd Blackwell is in Canyon City this week attending the Panhandle District convention of the Christian church.

The revival at the Chamberlain schoolhouse, which was announced to begin the first Sunday in this month, will begin next Sunday.

Miss Mary Bourland left Saturday for Seattle, Washington, to attend the fair. She is with the Bankers excursion, and they will make some fine side trips.

Miss Allen is in the city from Dallas visiting Miss Lila McClelland. Miss Allen was Miss McClelland's voice teacher at St. Marys College at Dallas.

The architects picture for the new Methodist church to be built in this city this fall is now on display in the show window of Will M. Clower. It is a beauty and is attracting considerable attention. These pictures are never so pretty as the building is when finished and that is proof of the beauty of the finished church.

10 DAYS ONLY

10 DAYS ONLY

OUR JUST MERELY

CLEANING UP SALE

Just Merely Cleaning up the Odds and Ends from the Season Sellings

This sale will begin Wednesday July 14th, and will positively close Saturday July 24, lasting 10 days only. The object of this sale is two-fold--We take inventory of our stock twice a year--February 1st and August 1st. At these seasons we want our stock the lowest. Again the object of this sale is to clean out the odds and ends and broken sizes that have accumulated during the season, and there is no other way known to the mercantile world to clean out these odds and ends, except to reduce the price at the end of the season. It is very easy to see how a merchant who has sold three-fourths of the merchandise that he bought for a season at a fair legitimate profit, can afford to clean out the other one-fourth that is left of the odds and ends, at quite a low figure (possibly cost or less than cost.)

We offer during this sale, broken lines and season's goods that we have left from the season's selling. We can afford to clean these up at a very low figure for the simple reason that we have had a good season's business, and have sold, at a profit over three-fourths of the merchandise bought for the season.

If you have observed closely, you have found that our advertisement claims nothing impossible. There's nothing miraculous at all. You'll not even find the words "Stupendous," "Gigantic," "Tremendous" or "Kum-Kum-Kum." No Hurrah scemes. But a straight-forward, business proposition. Just Merely Cleaning Up--that's all.

Our store will be closed Tuesday July 13th, to go through the entire stock, get out every piece of merchandise that we want to close out and arrange it conveniently for the trade as well as for ourselves. Clothes bought on this sale will be altered (when necessary) without charge.

Read the above statement carefully and don't misconstrue it. Remember this sale is just what the "Heading" implies and nothing more--"Just Merely Cleaning up the Odds and Ends." You'll not find at this sale a lot of leader and baits.

SALE OPENS JULY 1 CLOSSES SATURDAY JULY 17

On account of having bought heavier than usual for this season and the dry weather preventing business from coming up to expectations, we find ourselves in possession of a much larger stock than we ordinarily carry, and as it is our custom at this time of year to unload all surplus stock at a great sacrifice we are going to inaugurate a 15 days clearance sale. By this we mean a genuine cut price slaughter sale, and in order to convert this immense stock into cash and to make a quick and sure clearance, prices will be slaughtered to the limit. Every effort is being made to make this sale eclipse all previous ones. Thousands of dollars worth of dress goods, staples, notions, clothing, shoes, hats, ladies' and men's furnishings, groceries, etc., will be offered at prices, in many instances, less than cost of production of raw material. For 15 days we will wage an unceasing and relentless warfare on all profits. For 15 days the wildest excitement will prevail and great scrambling for bargains will take place. Therefore it's "up to you" to seize the opportunity that now confronts you. Borrow money; beg money; leave the fields; leave the homes; come afoot; come horseback; come in buggies; come in wagons; follow the crowd; join the procession that will lead you to this, the most wonderful, astounding, unprecedented, unparalleled feast of low prices ever known. Come and bring the whole family to The Big Sale.

"The Greatest Game in the World; His move."

That great game was pulled off yesterday evening between the business men of the East and West sides of the business streets and today there are many sore joints, muscles, and other parts of the bodies of those who played. The drug stores had a run made on them last night it is reported and are having to order a new stock of arnica, Snow Liniment, Pond's Extract and other liniments which go to helping Lo, the poor base ball player to take some of the soreness out of his aforesaid sore joints and muscles.

Well, that game was a hot one. It took two scorekeepers to handle the score card and they had to be expert business men who knew how to keep books in order to keep up with the high score that was made. And it has been impossible to get an account of how many errors were made because the scorekeepers were half a mile or so from an adding machine. The score was finally found to add up to 27 for the West side and 16 for the East side. Home runs, three-baggers, two baggers and singles galore were served up to the fielders and the pitchers had the time of their lives watching the horsehide go bounding out into the ambient atmosphere at the rate of 283 3/4 kilometers per second, which is said to be a very fast rate of speed.

Price Baker, opened the game for the West side on the slab and lobbed the sphere over the pau to Bagby the first East side batter in the old time way, Bagby swung the timber around and in the play happened to connect with the ball like he was handling racket store goods over the counter for the racket the ball made when hit by the bat. Dick Allen next came up and swung at the ball like he was reaching for Club house can goods on the shelf at his grocery. Coch just fairly swatted the sphere as he would rinse some dirty collars at the laundry which is a good sign that he made a hit. In the batting order Baldwin followed and slung things around considerably. Billie Clower who did the receiving act for the East side also did some slugging in the slugfest which took place during the event.

Johnnie McLean handled the balls around the short field and hit the ball as he used to do when he played for Clarendon. Hicks the moving picture man shoved the bat against the ball and caught them on second like he was showing a very appreciative audience some fine pictures, in fact he moved around like some of the subjects in his pictures. Homer Mulkey took a few snapshots in right field and pressed the button against the bat a few. Tucker the only barber in the game shaved the ball a few in left and also shaved it against the West side's shins a few when slugging. For the West side Price Baker batted nicely as in ye olden times. Jack Rawlings received for them like he was taking a telegraph message off the wires for the slants that came across the pan from Baker and Stocking were just like hot wires. Tillery shoved out a few bolts of dry goods on first and hit a nice few. Joe Houk lammed several like he was stabbing at them with a pen on a bank ledger. Ad Asher thought several times he was handling furniture and mattresses for he tried to use the bat and ball like he was moving steel ranges in the hardware store. Alvis Weatherly scooped up and down at short and as a good printer lammed them out with a "stick." Lelsie Kelso "undertook" a few in the left garden and came near being "undertaken" several times although he was the official undertaker for the players. Charlie Madison swung the horsehide in a knowing way though it wasn't like slugging groceries.

Each side used a relay of pitchers, the Easters using three while the Westers let only two sling em across. Allen started the twirling for the East side and did some good work. Blake the confectionery man, recently married, spit on the sphere and ambled a few through the ambient atmosphere while the other side took fits. Hicks tried flinging the ball over the plate awhile. Baker pitched all but the last inning for the West side. Stocking, Clarendon's old time left hander twisted a few around the rubber twisters of the East side's last inning.

Of the features of the game there were many, and also many, many errors plus many runs and lots of fun both for the spectators and the players. Perhaps the long run backwards and catching of a high fly with one bare hand by Coch was the best feature, for it caused the most comment. Bakers, batting was also nice. Weatherly on short caught a high liner and didn't know till after he saw the ball in his hand that he had, it was a good one. Both pitchers did well considering their not having practiced. Johnnie McLean always got behind an East side runner as he came in from third and assisted him in home by pushing him on, like he would push a letter into a bag at the postoffice. Another feature was the condition the balls were in when the game was over. It was harder on the balls than it was on the players, but it was hard enough on them. It was interesting to watch some of those dignified business men run, but they are only boys grown tall and for the day had harkened back to the best boyhood sport that is truly an American game. All the players acquitted themselves well and each one took a special delight in torturing the opposing pitcher by swatting the cover off the ball and knocking it out into the field. And we might also mention the fact that Joe Houk and Leslie Kelso made some nice catches of flies in the field, and Bagby did well on first and Baldwin on third.

Before we close this we should mention that Clarendon needs a ball team. There is plenty of material in town for a splendid team and it should be gotten up by all means. There was a time when the town supported a team that was almost undefeatable and some of that team's old players yet remain in the city and might be induced to play. During the dull summer months a good healthy sport that both the player and spectators enjoy is a help to any town and gives the people something to go to and enjoy. Let us have a ball team, if not a town team then get up the sport between teams of business men in town who enjoy good healthy exercise. There is plenty of time after 6:30 or 7 o'clock to play ball and the stores all close at that time. Play ball.

The line-up of the teams was as follows in batting, at the beginning of the game:

East side: Bagby, 1st b; Allen, p; Coch, c. f. Baldwin, 3rd b; Clower, c; McLean, s; Hicks, 2nd b; Mulkey, r. f.; Tucker, l. f.

West side: Baker, p; Rawlings, c; Tillery, 1st b; Stocking, 2nd b; Asher, 3rd b; Weatherly, s; Kelso, l. f.; Madison, c. f. Houk, r. f.

The score by innings is as follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
West side	3	0	3	4	5	0	2	9	1	27
East side	3	2	0	0	0	3	4	3	0	15

Time of game; 2 hours, 15 minutes. Umpire Wesley Knorpp.

Resolutions.

Whereas, it has pleased our all-wise Father to call up higher, Captain Car Forrest, past associate, Grand Patron, of the grand chapter, Q. E. S., of Texas, 1885-1886, and beloved father of our faithful friend and co-worker, Mrs. Lee V. Patterson. Be it resolved:

(1st) That we, as a fraternal order extend our heart-felt sympathy to her in her sorrow.

(2nd) Words we know have little power to give genuine consolation, and yet we feel and realize all that she is called upon to endure, we can only hope that time will restore again the strength and courage that alone enables us to bear such burdens.

"They are passing away, these

dear old friends,
Like a leaf on the current cast,
With never a break in the rapid flow;
We watch them as one by one they go,
Into the beautiful past.

(3rd) Be it resolved that a copy of these resolution be spread on our minutes of this chapter and be delivered to Mrs. Patterson and family and set to each of our city papers. Respectfully submitted,
MRS. FANNIE POWELL,
MRS. OLLIE THORNTON.

Mrs. J. G. Miller and daughter, Miss Lida left Tuesday for Boulder Colo., where Miss Miller will pursue a study of some special work in music, preparatory to doing her work in the college this year.

P. P. P.

Makes Marvelous Cures in Blood Poison, Rheumatism and Scrofula.

P. P. P. purifies the blood, builds up the weak and debilitated, gives strength to weakened nerves, expels disease, giving the patient health and happiness, where sickness, gloomy feelings and lassitude first prevailed.

In blood poison, mercurial poison, malaria, dyspepsia, and in all blood and skin diseases, like blotches, pimples, old chronic sores, tetter, scald head, we say without fear of contradiction that P. P. P. is the best blood purifier in the world.

Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood cleansing properties of P. P. P., Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.

Agonies Of Pain

Never give up, and think that all women, yourself included, have to suffer pain.

Thousands of women have written to tell how they have cured their womanly ills, and relieved their pains; and over a million have been benefited, in various other forms of female disease, during the past 50 years, by that popular and successful female remedy

WINE OF CARDUI WOMAN'S RELIEF

"I believe I would now have been dead," writes Mrs. Minnie Lamb, of Lebanon Junction, Ky. "If it hadn't been for Cardui, I had suffered with bad cramping spells, pains in my back, sides and arms, and awful bearing-down pains. Now these pains have all gone, as a result of using Cardui."

CLARENDON, TEXAS

Panhandle Stockman Meet.

AMARILLO, Texas July 5.—The Panhandle Stockman's association of Texas met in regular session at Amarillo, July 3, with the following members of the executive committee present: J. T. Sneed, Amarillo; P. B. Fuqua, Amarillo; Thomas S. Bugbee, Clarendon; C. T. Herring, Amarillo; Pat Landerquin, Vega, E. H. Brainard, Canadian; Jess Jenkins, Dalhart; William C. Issacs, Canadian; John M. James, Bovina; Ed Tyson, Artesia, N. M.; J. H. Avery, Amarillo, secretary.

President George Slaughter was absent on account of sickness in his family.

The association shows a substantial gain in membership since its annual meeting and its finances are in fine shape. Additional inspectors were provided for at Kansas City, St. Joseph, Mo., St. Louis and Chicago and all range inspectors were retained and none were laid off during the summer season. The additional inspectors will be put on when the shipping season begins.

Reports show eight arrests for stealing association cattle last month, with a few more to follow. "Protection is our watchword," says Secretary Avery, who also reports: "I never saw a range looking better in ten years. Cattle are, mending fast and crops are looking fine. I saw about 325 hogs rolling fat at Colonel C. T. Herring's 'Flag' ranch in Castro county. They ran on twelve acres of alfalfa all winter and spring and this was their only feed. The hillside was lined with pigs."—Texas Stockman-Journal.

Sunday at the Churches.

Elsewhere will appear the notices of the Sunday services at the Baptist revival.

At the Methodist church Rev. J. G. Miller preached a very fine sermon in the morning to a large audience. There was special music by the quartette. The Sunday school and all three leagues were well attended. The Senior league service was especially interesting.

There was no service excepting the Sunday School at the Presbyterian Church last Sunday.

Sunday School and Mission Band meeting were the only services at the Christian Church.

Mrs. N. N. Martiu entertained a number of children in honor of the birthday of her baby daughter, on Wednesday afternoon. A very pleasant time is reported.

HEDLEYS BIG CELEBRATION

A Larger Crowd Than Has Ever Been in Hedley Before Enjoyed the Third of July Celebration There. Lots of Good Dinner.

Saturday morning both the editors of this paper, together with about 200 other Clarendon people boarded the train for Hedley, where we were to enjoy the splendid celebration they had prepared for the largest crowd of people who ever enjoyed the hospitality of this hustling little city.

The train stopped at Hedley on Main street and a large number of the city's population were on the ground to meet us and make us welcome. Before the coming of the north-bound train a large number of people from surrounding towns and country had reached the town in buggies and other private conveyances. Several autos went from this city. The north-bound train brought about two hundred passengers or more.

With the visitors there it is estimated that there were at least three thousand five hundred people present.

After both trains were in, the crowd went to the new tabernacle in east Hedley. This building has just been completed, is 60 by 80 feet with a large rostrum and is well seated. It is estimated that it will seat 2600 people. It is open all around and has props for shelves on the outside, which fact proves to us that they intend to have picnics every year and thoughtfully provided a place for the dinner to be spread. It cost the city about a thousand dollars, and right here let us advocate the building of such a tabernacle in Clarendon. Very cool and pleasant indeed was the tabernacle, and although it was comfortably full for the morning program one could but enjoy the time spent listening to the program.

Rev. J. B. Wood, pastor of the Methodist church at Hedley called the audience to order and delivered the address of welcome, speaking so earnestly of Hedleys pleasure in welcoming and entertaining us that we could not feel otherwise than as Rev. Wood said, "thrice welcome", following the welcome address J. Paul Sarvis read, in splendid voice, the declaration of Independence, which was followed by the national hymn. Miss Jessie Clark then read a beautiful story of patriotism and loyalty. Miss Clark is a talented elocutionist and was in fine voice, reading loud enough for the entire audience to hear distinctly every word, and she certainly deserved the very hearty encore which was accorded her. The editor of this paper, R. C. Dial made a short talk, commending Hedley for its enterprise in building the tabernacle and making such successful efforts to entertain the large crowd present. His speech was followed by a very humorous reading, "The girl I left behind", by Miss Lola Lacy of this city. To those who have heard Miss Lacy we do not need to say that close attention was given and that the selection was perfectly read. Hearty applause was accorded Miss Lacy.

Judge O'neal made the closing speech before dinner, making a splendid address along lines complimentary to Hedley for erecting their large tabernacle, and in fact complimenting and extolling the citizenship of the entire Panhandle for their enterprise and morality. He mixed just enough anecdotes with the serious of his speech to hold the attention of the audience while the good women of Hedley prepared the best picnic dinner we ever enjoyed.

Now that dinner! We would tell you about it if we could. Had you been there and seen the enjoyment with which we ate more than our share of the good things you would not have had to ask if the dinner was good and plentiful enough. We never saw a better or a larger spread for a crowd of that size. There was enough and to spare for both dinner and supper. We could not begin to tell you what they had, but we must mention that there were good country hams, plenty of fried chicken and chicken pies, lots of roast beef, and all kinds of salads, pies and cakes. We want however to make special mention of a dish of fresh beans which was cooked especially for the proprietor of the Banner-Stockman by Mrs. E. R. Clarke. Hearing that we are keen on the above mentioned dish she gave us a large dish of beans, Irish potatoes and onions for our supper and—well for the lack of a better way to tell it—we will just have to say it was fine. In fact everything was good that was spread.

In the morning there was a game of ball between Memphis and Newlin in which the former was victorious, in the afternoon a large crowd witnessed the game between Memphis and Lelia the score being seven to ten in favor of Memphis. During the rest of the evening evening the young people spent their time in autoing and driving, the older ones in talking over old times or meeting new people, the children in playing with the rubber return balls or blowing the "squalling balloons", all of which are the usual picnic sports. A stand near the tabernacle sold ice cream cones and candy as well as pop-corn, and in fact there was everything there which is usually to be found at a picnic, excepting the band, which had been engaged and was expected to go from this city. It was not learned until the evening before the picnic that it would not go and although the picnic managers phoned every where one could not be found. But every body was so busy enjoying the many other attractions that there was no room to regret not having a band.

Hedley furnished an up-to-date picnic this year and we will welcome another opportunity to visit their hustling little city, for we had a fine time and in fact that is the unanimous decision about the day.

Blind Stagers Remedy.

I will send a valuable recipe to be published. It is for blind staggers in horses. If it is heeded it will save many dollars worth of valuable horses. I personally know of the remedy being given to thirty-three head of horses last year. It did not fail in a single instance. Don't fail to try it. You will be rewarded. The last horse that I tried it was my own. He was blind and down, and had been down about one or two hours. In eight hours after the first dose, and one hour after the second, the horse was grazing. I have the greatest confidence in the remedy. The ingredients are: "One pint whisky, two tablepoonsful turpentine, quarter of an ounce quinine. Mix well.

The above is enough for two doses; hardly ever have to give the second dose. Drench with half-pint and with turpentine, rub the forehead between the eyes thoroughly. Be careful and not get it in the horse's eye. If the first dose doesn't relieve the horse in three or four hours give the second dose. Who ever tries it write me the result.—W. A. Higgins, Lockney, Texas.
