THE DIFFERENCE.

Tennyson and Longfellow could take a worthless sheet of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000—that's genius. Rockefeller can write a few lines on a piece of paper and make it worth $5,000,000—that's capital. A woman can purchase a 75c hat but prefers one that costs $27—that's foolishness. The proprietors of the Globe can write a check for $1,000,000 but no one would honor it—that's rough. But when a man wants a bargain or a good suit of clothes from any one of our tailoring clothing houses that's good sense, and he goes to

WEEK WITH EDUCATORS

Being a Weekly Digest of Events Transpiring on College Hill as Told by Miss Betts.

Miss Rebecca McMicken spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks at Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Brummett spent Saturday with their daughter, Miss Agnes at the dormitory, returning to their home at Claude Sunday morning.

Misses Ruby Easum and Aris Baldwin are visiting home folks this week, one at Amarillo, and the other in Okla.

Rev. Hardy moved this week to the Calvary place which he bought a few days ago.

Messrs. Iva Neeley, Robert Ranney and Marion Tillson went down to Rowe last Friday evening to try their skill at cotton picking on Saturday, but the rain came so early that they did not accomplish very much. They came home that night.

Bro. Mood went to Hereford Monday evening to return Thursday morning. He was invited to address the District Woman's Home Mission Conference which is in session in that city.

Henry Mills came pretty near being the victim of a serious accident last Saturday afternoon. In running over some steps, he slipped and caught his foot, barely escaping breaking his leg. He has been laid up all week on account of it.

The new Clavier which Mrs. Tresise had ordered came in this week and is much appreciated by herself and class.

Dr. Burkhead was elected editor in chief and Prof. Quigley business manager of the magazine soon to be launched by the college societies. The associate editors are as follows: The Euterpeans, Miss Agnes Brummett; the Sapphos, Miss Mollie Hunt; the Panhandles, D. A. Neeley, and the Adkissonians, Harwood Beville. With this staff the success of the magazine is assured.

BOY'S NAME IS DOCKRAY.

The boy murdered in Amarillo was not Luther Johnson. Young Johnson was found to be alive and well at Vernon. The Banner-Stockman has it over the long distance telephone this morning that a Mr. Dockray, from Oklahoma, has positively identified the body as that of his son who had been working in Roswell, N. M., and who had written his father some weeks ago that he had saved up $130 and was coming home. The supposition is that he was on his way home and was murdered for his money.

proves the pupils penmanship, but it also cultivates the habit of attention.

Jennie Dale Powell is absent on account of sickness.

Mr. Ayers was a welcome visitor of the fifth and sixth grade rooms. Also Miss Dora Burdette visited the seventh grade room.

Will Ray is back in school after a week's absence.

John Bugbee, of the eighth grade, happened to quite a painful accident Wednesday. His horse fell with him breaking his leg just below the knee.

Little Misses Nellie and Pauline Bell, of Childress, entered the first and third grades, respectively, this week.

Ruth Anderson, of the first grade, is improving, and will soon be in school again.

Miss Cole, teacher of third grade, says her room contains the

WIDOW OF JEFF DAVIS DEAD

Wife of the President of the Confederate States Succumbs to Pneumonia.

New York City, N. Y., Oct. 16—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the president of the Confederacy, and who had been ill for a week at the Hotel Majestic in this city, died at 10:25 o'clock tonight.

Death was due to pneumonia, induced by a severe cold which Mrs. Davis contracted upon her return from the Adirondacks, where she had spent the summer months.

Although fears were felt from the first, Mrs. Davis' wonderful vitality, which had brought her through a similar attack a year ago, gave hope of ultimate recovery until last night, when a change for the worse was apparent. Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning she had a sinking spell and Rev. N. A. Zagle, rector of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church, was hurriedly summoned to give religious comfort to the patient in her last moments of consciousness.

The clergyman remained some time and an hour later it was announced that Mrs. Davis had lapsed into a state of coma. The period of unconsciousness continued to the end.

A Congressional Nomination

By Arthur Hendrick Vandenberg

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Rowles.)

Brown & Blue, promoters of trade, faced a brand-new problem. Mr. Brown was forced to acknowledge that in his entire career in the advertising business he had never undertaken a similar case.

"Who is Amos Judd?" he inquired of his partner. A card bearing this prosaic name had been laid upon his desk by the office boy.

Blue attempted to explain. "Brown, my dear boy, our fortune is as good as made. The future of the firm of Brown & Blue is assured. All that's necessary is to hang tight to Amos Judd. He's the richest man in Michigan."

"Show the gentleman in," interrupted Brown, as the office boy was about to back out of the room.

Judd entered, drew off his gloves, proffered cigars to the advertising men, lit his own weed, and plunged into his business.

"Gentlemen, I am like a fish out of water when it comes to talking advertising. I am informed, however, by those competent to judge, that the firm of Brown & Blue, although a new one, is backed—pushed, I should have said—by two vigorous young men with rich red blood throbbing through ambitious veins. If you can do what I want you to do, you can send the reputation of the firm of Brown & Blue flying upon wings throughout the country—and, incidentally, you can make $25,000 in 60 days."

Brown was clutching the arms of his chair in sheer astonishment. He was unable to speak. He glanced at Blue in time to see the latter mop a wet brow.

"Gentlemen, I am a Republican," continued Judd. "This district is Republican. I desire the Republican nomination for congressman. I have but recently moved here. I am unknown. Your business is that of bringing unknowns into prominence. Before I leave this office I shall place in your hands a check for $100,000. I desire it to be spent during the next 30 days in furthering my candidacy for this nomination. I don't want any politician's thought. I don't want any ward bosses subsidized.

"How would you market a new baking powder? That's the way I want to be marketed. After I leave here to-day I shall not bother you again until June 30. The nominating primaries are held the 1st of July. My opponent is the present congressman. He is a good official. You can't beat him on his record. You simply must whirl him off his feet at the last minute. Put the name of Amos Judd in the mouth of every man in this district on election day. Get me the nomination. That's all I ask. Kindly hand me your pen." Judd dashed off a check and handed it to Brown, who seemed partially paralyzed.

Brown & Blue opened their campaign modestly. There appeared the following day in every newspaper in the district, this notice in the personal column:

"Amos Judd, for many years one of the most honored and respected residents of the Upper Peninsula, has taken up his residence at Wayne. He will receive a hearty welcome because of his well-known public spirit. Celebrating the opening of his palatial residence on Madison avenue, Mr. Judd yesterday sent checks for $100 to St. Luke's hospital, the City Rescue Mission, the Children's Home, and the society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals. Wayne has long felt the need of more citizens of Mr. Judd's caliber."

insignificantly tucked away on another page was this:

"Col. Addington will have no opposition for re-nomination as congressman. Republican endorsement will of course amount to election. Some grumblings are heard in the party councils, however, because of Addington's failure to secure the $500,000 appropriation for a new post office."

Brown & Blue carefully preserved both clippings and paid the charges. The war was on.

Two days later, Amos Judd gave $1,000 to the fund raised by the labor unions for the erection of a temple. The same day he presented a handsome silk American flag and a 100-foot flag-pole to the veterans of the Soldiers' home. The papers noted his generosity with more or less prominence—and again repeated their predictions relative to Addington's re-nomination and their comment upon his failure to secure the new government building which the city of Wayne coveted.

Again Brown & Blue entered up the clippings in their Amos Judd scrap-book. Again they paid the bills.

Toward the end of the week Judd presented four drinking fountains to the city, and paid the mortgage on the house of the widow of a fireman who had lost his life in a gallant effort to save a child from death in the flames.

On Monday, he chartered a special train and took all the Wayne school children to the state capital.

On Tuesday he endowed free beds in three prominent hospitals. On Wednesday he bought an island in the river and presented it to the city for a park—Judd park. On Thursday he gave 5,000 new books to the public library. On Friday he bought an athletic field for the university students. On Saturday he succeeded in closing every store and factory in town for a half-holiday. On Sunday he sent checks for $50 to every church in town. And all this while the papers were predicting Col. Addington's unanimous re-nomination, but suggesting dissatisfaction with his services as congressman.

The following Monday Brown & Blue sent this lengthy telegram to Amos Judd, charges collect:

"We have spent your hundred thousand. In explanation, we quote briefly from voluntary editorial in to-day's Record to wit: 'Amos Judd is to-day the biggest man in Wayne. Best of all, he is big-hearted. He is a man Wayne will love to honor and one whom she will honor at the first opportunity.' Nobody knows you're a candidate. Everybody is grumbling about Addington. If you're satisfied, send fifty thousand more."

The answer came back to Brown & Blue by return wire. It ran as follows:

"Fifty thousand sent you in to-day's mail. I must win. The nomination means more to me than you know."

Brown & Blue held a long conference. Ten days remained before the primary election, and thus far Col. Addington had no open opposition for his re-nomination.

"We've taken 20 days to get their respect," said Brown, "and now we've got just ten days left in which to attract their attention and land their votes."

That night a wonderful scheme was laid. A wonderful plan was perfected. It astonished a congressional district, worked that district to a fever heat of curiosity, and, best of all, accomplished its purpose.

Three days before election day an army of sign painters went forth into the city of Wayne. Bill boards were made resplendent with dazzling new coats of paint. Dead walls were rejuvenated with vivid dashes of color. Every possible place where a sign could be put was utilized. Everywhere this single slogan confronted the voters of Wayne:

DON'T MAKE A MISTAKE!
That night every newspaper in the district devoted half a page to one single announcement:

DON'T MAKE A MISTAKE!
Election morning dawned clear and sharp. Brown & Blue had done their task. Not a voter awoke that day but anticipated the unanimous re-nomination of Col. Addington. Not a voter but involuntarily caught his breath as he scanned the first page of his morning paper:

DON'T MAKE A MISTAKE!
YOU WANT AMOS JUDD IN CONGRESS.
GO TO THE PRIMARIES TO-DAY AND VOTE FOR HIM.
YOU VOTE!
DON'T DEPEND ON YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Appended to the glaring announcement was a short personal paragraph signed by Amos Judd. It read as follows:

"I have received numerous requests from my newly-made Republican friends to stand for the congressional nomination in this district. I know nothing of machines or bosses. I stand only on my merits. My platform is simple—honesty, energy, and a new post office. I promise you all three. If I fall in the last I'll build you a government building myself.

"I owe you an apology for asking this nomination on such short acquaintance. As a substantial evidence of my feelings in this regard, I shall this day offer the city of Wayne, through its common council, a life-size bronze statue of Gen. Anthony Wayne, the heroic revolutionary colonial whose illustrious name has fallen to this city as a priceless heritage. I ask your vote, and promise you will not regret the giving."

The cat was out of the bag. "Vote for Judd" succeeded "Don't Make a Mistake" as the popular slogan. Both motions now stood side by side on bill boards, dead walls and posters. A hundred Chinese box kites fluttered over the main business streets. Gay streamers bore the "Vote for Judd." The laboring men remembered his donation to their temple fund. The veterans at the soldiers' home remembered the silk flag and its sturdy pole. The parents of the school children remembered the trip to the state capital. In fact, Judd's candidacy was accepted as a public boon.

Brown and Blue collapsed when the last returns were in. A slight revival came in the form of a telegram from Judd:

"Your $25,000 fee is in to-night's mail. Smiling Steve Polish and Congressman Judd owe their success to you. Forty years ago Col. Addington shut my father out of house and home by foreclosing a mortgage of $500. To-day I am satisfied."

"Just as Good" Paint

You never hear of a paint better than Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil. "Just as good" is what they say. Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil are acknowledged to be the standard by which all paints are measured.

The skillful painter invariably prefers to use it, and mix it himself. He knows that his business reputation is best built by the use of that paint which will give you the most satisfactory results.

He knows Pure White Lead wears evenly, and when ground in Pure Linseed Oil has greater elasticity and adhesive force than any other paint known.

He knows, too, that the best results are obtained only when the paint is mixed with special reference to the surface to be painted.

Why?

Why is it that when a man wants a suit of clothes he doesn't call for the cheapest thing in the house? The answer is easy—you know cheap clothing is the dearest in the long run. Why is it that a man almost invariably figures on the cheapest lumber he can buy? The answer is simple—the ordinary individual knows about as much about lumber as a monkey does about frenzied finance, and something cheap looks goods. A carpenter will tell you why the best is the cheapest, AND HE KNOWS.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

Rev. Hall's Death.

Reverend R. A. Hall died this morning at six o'clock at the Mason House with heart failure. Mr. Hall had been ill for some time and was brought here enroute to Clarendon for his health. Two sons and a daughter-in-law and a physician, Doctor Helm, of Elida were with him. He rested unusually well last night and this morning he rose and dressed ready to take the south bound Denver train. Dr. Helm went to him and told him they were ready to start and took hold of his hand and noted that his pulse was intermittent. In a few minutes he expired. He died quietly and seemingly painlessly. The body was embalmed and shipped to Elida, New Mexico, where he has been residing. Mr. Hall was at one time presiding elder of this district and had many friends here. About three years ago he started a paper at Elida and run it for some time in connection with his ministerial duties. His wife died about two months ago and is buried at Elida. —Amarillo Paragon.

A Successful Theatrical Venture.

"Nothing succeeds like success." This has been fully proven by the enormous measure of successful business that is being done in each and every city where "The King of Rogues Co." has shown. The management of this great play, finding they are greatly handicapped for time, from the fact that most of the opera houses in the southwest were either too small or in the hands of the theatrical trust, decided after serious consideration to put the play under canvas and thus kill two birds with one stone—have sufficient room to accommodate their patrons, and avoid the grasping hand of the trust. They at once arranged to have a large water-proof canvas theater made, a special portable stage with all necessary scenery, built, opera chairs purchased, and last but not least, finding that it would be impossible to get sufficient electrical power in a great many of the smaller cities to get their required effects during the action of the play, a special $1000 light plant was added. The company travels in its own private palace cars, carries its own band and orchestra of 20 pieces. Free concerts are given at noon and at each performance. There is no doubt that this organization will be greeted here on Saturday, Oct. 20, (tomorrow) with a crowded house, as it has shown on so many occasions in neighboring cities. Sale of Steers.

Wesley Knorpp reports the sale of 400 head of 3-year-old steers to a Kansas buyer at $30 around. It was a splendid bunch of stuff and the price was good. Delivery will be made at Southard on the 1st of November.

Mr. Knorpp says late market reports on fat cows look good to him and he will test Kansas City with a shipment of five cars from Southard tomorrow.

The JA's are shipping eleven cars from Southard today.

Died at Claude.

Oliver, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Martin, died at the family home in Claude yesterday with diphtheria. The many Clarendon friends of the family—who formerly lived here—will join us in extending sympathy.

John W. Anderson Dead.

John W. Anderson died Saturday afternoon at his home in this city from the effects of a hemorrhage of the lungs. Mr. Anderson had been a sufferer from consumption for some years. On Saturday he was feeling about as well as usual, but shortly after noon was seized with a spell of coughing, the hemorrhage resulting and death ensuing almost immediately.

Only last week we gave an account of the death of a 12-year-old daughter of this family, and the double bereavement under which the widow and remaining children are suffering is a blow which draws out the tenderest sympathy of our entire citizenship.

The funeral of Mr. Anderson was held Monday morning, the Masonic fraternity taking charge of the remains and interring them according to the rites of the order. Previous to their ceremonies Rev. B. W. Dodson officiated in the Methodist burial service.

Mr. Anderson, as stated last week, had only been living here a month or six weeks. He was 52 years old, and leaves a wife and several children.

The Imperial Barber Shop last week moved into its new home in the Standifer brick on Kearney street. Mr. Blackwell, the proprietor, is fitting up what we believe to be the nicest tonsorial parlor in northwest Texas. While all of his new fixtures are not yet in still the shop is already taking on a Wall street appearance, with three workmen to handle the trade (soon to be increased to four), and three elegant bath rooms. These bath rooms are large and roomy, fitted with large sized porcelain tubs, and being in all things strictly in keeping with the general elegance of the shop. The room was fitted up especially for this business and as soon as the balance of the new furniture is received and set up Lloyd will be able to stand comparisons between his shop and any other shop in the state.

T. H. Benson Dead.

T. H. Benson, aged 77 years, died at his home at Brice, about 18 miles south of town, Sunday night, the trouble being Bright's disease. The funeral was held at the Citizens cemetery Tuesday afternoon, the local Masonic lodge having charge of the ceremony. Mr. Benson was an old time citizen and had many friends throughout the section.

—The snappiest thing in ladies' shoes seen in this town is now at Rathjen's. It is the world famous "Dorothy Dodd" line. Ladies please call early.

—We want your patronage and bid for it by putting in the best barber shop and bath room establishment in the Panhandle. Everything first-class at The Imperial.

Some Seasonable Bargains

We find ourselves a little overstocked on Misses' and Children's Coats and Jackets. We therefore offer liberal discounts on these garments, ranging from 20 to 25 per cent.

At these prices they will go rapidly, so the early buyer will get choice of the lot.

Our blanket department is attracting much attention and sales are heavy. However, we still have plenty at prices that are sure to be a pleasant surprise to the prudent buyer.

We invite particular attention to our Hosiery Department where a full line of the celebrated "Ironclad" can be seen. Our 10c straight heavy ribbed for Misses and Children is a snap. Extra good values at 12 1-2c, 15c and 25c. They deserve the name of "Ironclad" as many of our pleased customers can testify.

We are constantly receiving new and attractive merchandise. See the beautiful Plaid Silk Waist Patterns on which we had to re-order several times. When it comes to staple dry goods we guarantee our prices as low as the lowest and our qualities as good as the best.

Kansas City Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 15th. As expected last week's cattle receipts were the heaviest of the season at this point. The run was 86,000 head, including 13,000 calves. Large numbers of country buyers were here and the general market advanced 5 to 15 cents during the week. Run today is 23,000 head, including 3,000 calves, market strong, except on western cows and heavy calves. It is getting late in the season and most country buyers are about ready to lay in cattle for the winter's operations, so that a brisk demand from that source is assured for awhile. There is a shortage of hay in some localities, but as the corn crop is good nearly all over the feeding section, special pains is being taken to preserve the fodder where ever the hay crop is short. Continued high prices for hogs will insure a profit in feeding, even if cattle prices do not prove satisfactory. Stuff is coming from the range freely now, stockers and feeders mainly at $3.00 to $3.90, killing steers $3.40 to $4.25. Colorado cows $2.65 to $3.30, Panhandle cows $2.35 to $2.85, canners and bulls $2.00 to $2.25, light calves $4.75 to $6.25, heavy calves $3.25 to $4. Some sales of Panhandle cattle at Kansas City this week:

Lewis & Molesworth, Bovina, Texas, 107 cow, 748 lbs. $2.55.
Lewis & Molesworth, Bovina, Texas, 24 wet cows, 806 lbs. $2.25. 74 calves, 179 lbs. $5. 76 calves, 251. $3.75.
Worth Blanks, Texline, Texas, 72 stockers, 535 lbs. $3.20.
J. Couless, Dalhart, Texas, 29 cows, 880 lbs. $2.80. 18 cows, 769 lbs. $2.50.
L. C. Parker, Pampa, Texas, 45 cows, 724 lbs. $2.40. 65 canners, 767 lbs. $2.15. 28 calves, 179 lbs. $3.50.

Dr. T. E. Standifer this week moved into his elegant new office on Kearney street. In fitting up this office the doctor had an eye for comfort and convenience, while the surroundings bear an air of quiet elegance and good taste.

—The Imperial Barber Shop is now ready for business in their new location—Standifer building, Main street. Call and see us.

Hayter Bros. Open Up.

Messrs. Hayter Bros. this week opened up a part of their stock of men's and boys' clothing in the office room recently vacated by Dr. T. E. Standifer, just in the rear of the First National Bank. While the room is small they are enabled to show some of the handsomest suits ever seen in the entire Panhandle country. They will only be in this room a few weeks, or until the Lane building is completed and the Powell store is enabled to move, this giving them their permanent home in the Barnett brick building. These gentlemen have entered business with the motto, "Not the cheapest, but the best." They have, among other high class lines, the celebrated Hart Schaffner & Marx clothing. This line is too well known to need much in the way of an introduction. The new firm is showing an elegant assortment of this clothing. They call your attention to their store in a large ad on third page of this issue, and everybody is cordially invited to call and get acquainted. Messrs. Hayter come to Clarendon from Seymour. They are splendid business men, and men who will make good citizens. The Banner-Stockman welcomes them to a place in out business and social life.

Judge O. H. Nelson's initial sale for this season of Panhandle calves to the feeders of the corn belt was made at Ft. Madison, Iowa, last Tuesday. Buyers were present from Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Michigan, and 1263 head were sold for $17,855 or a general average of $14.13 per head. The Judge will conduct other sales during the season.

Show Coming.

The Whyte Dramatic Company opened its first engagement in Mena at the Davis Opera House last night. A good sized audience was present and the play "The Bondsman," was well received.

Miss Millie Whyte and Charles Whyte who play the leading characters are both very capable.

The specialties were all very good. Miss Whyte surprised and delighted the audience with her singing. This young lady has a deep full baritone voice that is quite remarkable and her illustrated songs were greatly enjoyed.—Mena, Ark.

This company will appear at the Clarendon Opera House on Oct. 22-23 and 24. Prices 25, 35 and 50.

Rev. J. T. Bell left Tuesday night for Robeline, La., where he will conduct a two weeks' revival meeting. Rev. Bell formerly lived at that point, and held a pastorate there during the early days of his ministry, and is anticipating a most pleasant trip on this occasion.

Jesse G. Martin will leave tomorrow for a trip to Tennessee. He will go via Dallas and the fair, and will also visit friends in Mississippi while away.

—Three bath rooms now at your service at The Imperial. Three good barbers. Give us your patronage. LLOYD BLACKWELL.

Then the Cook Cut In.

The cook was going.
"How shall I word this recommendation, Marie?" her mistress asked. "You know I can't touch upon industry, and on the question of neatness, the less said the better, while as for culinary skill—"
"Well, ma'am," the cook cut in, "suppose you just say I stood this place four weeks. That will be sufficient, I think."—Washington Star.

G. J. Frame, the largest individual cotton planter in the county, perhaps, was here Wednesday with the best of reports from his crop. Mr. Frame has 125 acres in cotton, and says he feels sure that he will get 75 bales. He has a large acreage which will make three-fourths of a bale to the acre, and says he has never seen cotton so uniformly good as this year's crop. It is also of a uniform growth and development and opening nicely. He does not think the rain of the past week will hurt the cotton crop, provided of course that the falling weather does not hang on too long. Up to the present he has taken out 17 bales. Mr. Frame reports all other crops in the Rowe country to be in excellent shape, and the farmers well satisfied with results.

—Fleming & Bromley handle school books. tf

The revival meeting continues at the Christian church. Since Bro. Bearden's return there have been twelve additions to the congregation and new life has been infused into the work. There was a nice baptismal service Tuesday night. The singing is good and those who have been in attendance speak in praise of the preaching. The meeting will close Sunday night. Subject for Sunday morning: The Model Church. On Sunday night: What the Church of Christ Stands For. A church meeting will be held on Sunday evening, 6:30 to 7:30 at which an election and ordination of officers will take place. All members are requested to be on hand at that hour. Everybody cordially invited to attend these meetings.

The Albert Taylor Company is billed for the Clarendon opera house two nights, Nov. 17 and 18.

Clarendon, Tex., Oct. 19, '06

THE Hall County Herald announces that it will build for itself an elegant brick office. We congratulate Bro. Johnson on his prosperity.

A FELLOW down at Valentine has started an elephant ranch. Our opinion of him is the same as the Norwegian's opinion of the man who started a monkey ranch; "he ban wan tam fool."

SIDEWALK building is all the rage in a number of Texas towns just now. The fever hasn't struck Clarendon yet, but we believe we could stand a severe epidemic if it should come our way.

THERE was no need of the daily papers informing the public that the man who married Bertha Krupp is a diplomat. Even to the most casual observer it is a self-evident fact. It takes a diplomat to keep the richest woman in the world from thinking that her money is not the chief attraction.

THE heavy character of the editorial matter contained in the Amarillo Paragon is indicated by the following want ad in a recent issue of that paper: "Wanted—A boy, with a horse to carry The Paragon." By the time Sister Morgan gets "the bowery" cleaned out she will need a man with a freight wagon to carry her journal.

ALMOST every town has its crazy man but Denton, Texas, has all other communities skinned in this respect if we are to judge from the frequent contributions to the Denton News by a citizen who is riding in a dead lope a hobby entitled "The International Political Specialists' School and World's Diathetic Institute." Why don't you use a side stick on him, Bro. Bailey?

MR. OGDEN, the Wisconsin millionaire, who lives on six cents a meal and picks up his reading matter from the park benches, may be eccentric but he knows enough to make a million. He says that land values double every fifteen years in every locality, which calls to the mind of the old timer the halycon days of '91. That was a banner year, and exactly fifteen years ago.

THE editor of the Baylor County Banner has been in the business for five months and acknowledges that he has a great deal to learn. In the life of a young editor this denotes the passing of the stage of macrocephalism, and shows that his mind is in a receptive mood. The mills of gods grind slow, and sometimes exceeding fine, and a true editor is only ground out occasionally. Mr. Harrison's modesty shows that in one respect, at least, the mantle of the editor has not fallen on unworthy shoulders.

REV. SAM JONES IS DEAD

The Famous Evangelist Dies on Sleeping Car in Georgia With Heart Disease.

Rev. Sam P. Jones, the well known evangelist of Cartersville, Ga., died early today of heart failure in a sleeping car on train No. 4 of the Rock Island railroad near Perry, Ark.

Mr. Jones had been conducting a most successful revival at Oklahoma City, and left there last night for his home in Georgia. He desired to attend a family reunion, it being the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birth. Mrs. Jones and his daughters, Mrs. Annie Pyron and Miss Julia Jones, were with him when he passed away.

Mr. Jones arose from a berth in a sleeping car about 5 o'clock and complained of sickness in his stomach. He drank a glass of hot water and immediately afterwards collapsed. Rev. Walt Holcomb, who has been associated with Mr. Jones for a number of years, took the dying man in his arms, and in a few minutes the evangelist breathed his last.

The body has been embalmed and will be shipped to Cartersville this evening, where the funeral will be held. The services there will be conducted by Rev. George H. Stuart, Rev. George A. Bowen of Mississippi and Rev. Walt Holcomb.

Rev. Samuel Porter Jones ("Sam Jones") was born in Chambers county, Ala., Oct. 16, 1847 and removed to Cartersville, Ga., in 1859. He studied under private tutors and in boarding schools, was admitted to the Georgia bar in 1869 and began professional life under bright prospects of success, but broke down in health from nervous dyspepsia and soon ended his professional career as a lawyer.

He professed religion in 1872, became a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the same year; was pastor of various churches in the North Georgia conference for eight years, and was then agent for the North Georgia orphanage for twelve years.

He devoted a great deal of time to evangelistic work over the country and also on the lecture platform, having held revivals in almost all the cities of the United States and appeared on the lecture platforms of various Chautauquas.

The type for the following local items was set up for last week's paper but was crowded out:

E. J. Weeks and wife have bought 640 acres of land near Southard from J. H. Reeves at $13 per acre. S. P. Brown and wife bought 392 acres adjoining at same price. These are estimable old people from Iowa, notice of whose location in Clarendon was made in these columns last week.

At Rowe Monday a scaffold on which carpenters were at work on the new store building for Hollifield & Thornton collapsed, injuring three men, one of them quite badly. John Kibler was one of the injured, and a Mr. Wyatt was another. We failed to get the name of the third man.

Mr. Lewis, of the Lewis & Wimberly gin at Rowe suffered a severe accident one day last week while at work in the plant. The door to the cotton press in falling caught his leg, a hook therein badly lacerating the member. He will be laid up for some time, says report. Mr. Wimberly, the other member of the firm, is said to be at Memphis, very sick with typhoid fever. The gin is reported as doing a heavy business.

Marion Williams report his gin at Rowe now in fine shape. They have just finished installing a new boiler and engine of greater horse power than they had before. On account of slow freights this gin was delayed in opening the season, but is now ready for any demands that may be made upon it.

Adrift.

"Far out in the bay there lies an incoming ship. Her captain paces restlessly upon the deck, with many anxious glances toward the inner harbor. He is waiting for the pilot boat. Out in the open sea he does not fear the surging billows, nor the storms that blow, but here must have a guiding hand, lest run to the rocks and his cargo and passengers perish. It is with glad heart that he sees the pilot boat approach, for he knows that he will soon be safely anchored and his cargo discharged without mishap.

"You, Mr. Merchant, are out on the sea of Commerce. You, like the mariner, are safe in the open sea. You can obtain your cargo unassisted. But when you approach the landing you are in need of a pilot, that you may dispose of your goods without a loss. You may eventually drift to the landing in safety, but it is a slow and dangerous process. Don't drift to the rocks of ruin through an attempt to avoid the expense of the pilot's service.

"The newspaper is the pilot for every merchant. The newspaper can bring to you the people to whom you wish to speak, and put you in touch with the parties who are looking for the class of property you wish to dispose of. Are you just drifting along? This paper's circulation is open to the public."—Cimarron (Kas.) Jacksonian.

Texas Farmers

Located in the Panhandle Country constitute a vast proportion of those who are out of debt, possess an abundance of all that is necessary to comfort and easy hours, and own

BANK ACCOUNTS.

Those who are not so fortunate should profit by past experiences and recognize that these conditions are possible in as nowhere else, for the reason that no other section now offers REALLY HIGH-CLASS LANDS AT LOW PRICES, and that the Agricultural and Stock-raising possibilities of this section are the equal of, and in some respects better than, three to five times higher priced property located elsewhere.

In a word: Many Magnificent Opportunities are still open here to those possessing but little money. But prompt investigation and are advisable, as speculators have investigated and are fast purchasing, with a knowledge of quickly developing opportunities to sell to others at greatly increased prices.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ground, of Archer City, are in Clarendon visiting their daughter, Mrs. J. S. Hayter.

A CHICAGO young lady wants to sell herself to the highest bidder for cash. Prospective bidders will please take notice that in this case produce is not accepted as cash.

Mr. J. L. Scarborough has returned from East Texas where he bought lumber for the new firm of The Kimberlin Lumber & Coal Co. He will be manager of the business, and has already taken charge of the Lee & Co. stock.

Prof. Pile was up from Rowe yesterday. He is taking a lay-off just now as so many of the pupils of the Rowe school have been called to the cotton fields. His lady assistant is continuing the school with a good attendance of the younger children.

Opinions seem to differ as to whether or not the recent rains have done the farmers much damage. Some farmers say they are not hurt in the least, while others think the wet weather, coming as it did in the harvest season, has damaged some crops. To say the least of it, the rains have proven a serious hindrance to harvesting operations.

Good Evidence

THE best evidence that goods give satisfaction is when people who use them come back and re-order. This has been true of a number of lines that we carry.

Our Tailor-Made Suits, Worth Hats, International Shirts, Finks Overalls, Gloves, and in fact all our staple lines are good, dependable goods.

Our line of Confections, Fruits, Etc. are fresh and of first quality.

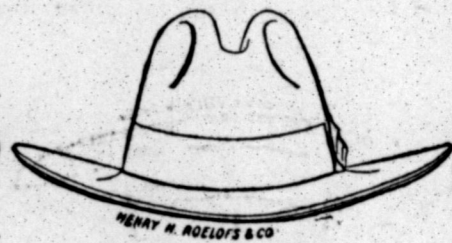

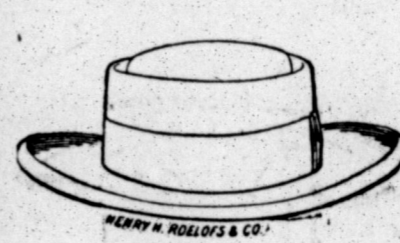

Give us a trial; we will treat you right.

Better give us your laundry work.

We guarantee satisfaction.

A GOOD HAT

There are hats that cause the wearer to fall in love with them and regret when the time comes to discard them. Such a hat is usually not only comfortable but stylish and holds its shape well. The Henry E. Roeloff hat is the kind that lasts, retains its shape and is an ever present indication of individuality of style in the wearer.
