KINGSVILLE TEX
UNDER THE AUTHORITY GRANTED ME. I HEREBY DESIGNATE YOU CHAIRMAN OF THE COORDINATING BOARD OF THE TEXAS COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY SYSTEM
PRESTON SMITH GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

(458).

FATEFUL TELEGRAM — With this telegram, Hereford's Wayne Thomas learned he had been appointed by Gov. Preston Smith as chairman of the Coordinating Board for Texas

Colleges and Universities. He succeeds Manuel DeBusk of Dallas, whose appointment to the Coordinating Board was rejected by the Texas Senate Thursday.

Thomas to chair college board

Hereford attorney Wayne Thomas said Saturday he is "almost overwhelmed by both the honor and the challenge" that faces him as the new chairman of the Coordinating Board for Texas Colleges and Universities. Thomas, 42, received the prestigious post Thursday by appointment from Gov. Preston Smith, after the Texas Senate rejected the appointment of Manuel DeBusk of Dallas to the Coordinating Board. DeBusk had been chairman for more than a year. Thomas learned of the appointment after he arrived in Kingsville for a meeting of the Coordinating Board on the Texas A&I campus. The Coordinating Board has the responsibility of planning and coordinating the future of 22 senior colleges and universities and 43 junior colleges in Texas. "With the full awareness that this task is beyond the capabilities of any one individual and with the complete assurance of the assistance and wisdom of this board and this staff, I accept this challenge," Thomas told other members of the board in Kingsville. "The quality of higher education in Texas will not only, in very large measure, determine the effort and destiny of the younger generation but it will also determine the social and economic growth, development and effort of all the citizens of this state," Thomas said. He pledged "whatever talents I may have" to foster the stewardship which has been given to him. He praised his predecessor, DeBusk, who was at the meeting also for the service he gave the board as its chairman. As his only change in the pattern of the board's work, Thomas removed himself from the chairmanship of the committee on Financial Plans and Policies and named newspaper publisher Harry Provenca of Waco as the new chairman. Seventeen other men — 16 now that DeBusk is off — are on the Coordinating Board. All are highly influential men in their own businesses and communities. It was not until all of them, without exception, pledged their support of him and their intention to intensify their efforts on the board that Thomas agreed to take the post, he said. The Senate rejected DeBusk's appointment to the board Thursday afternoon and within three hours Smith appointed Thomas the new chairman. Thomas and three others also came up for confirmation before the Senate Tuesday, and their appointments were okayed Thursday. The governor did not communicate with him prior to appointing him and he has not had any verbal contact with Smith since the appointment, Thomas added. He learned from other board members that the governor polled them on the selection of the new chairman. The appointment came while Thomas was in the air. He arrived at his hotel room in Kingsville about 6:30 p. m. "and I had all sorts of lights flashing in my room, and this is where the confusion started. You can't imagine how flabbergasted I was," Thomas said, when he opened a telegram from Smith and read that he had been appointed chairman of the board. There was some inkling that DeBusk was in danger of being rejected when Thomas, DeBusk, L. B. "Preach" Meadors, of Dallas, Dr. James P. Hollers of San Antonio and Sam D. Young Jr. of El Paso appeared before the Senate Nominations Committee Tuesday. Almost all of the questioning, most of it hostile, was directed toward DeBusk. "I was a little worried about it but the committee moved it right out, and historically when a nominating committee approves it, it is automatically passed in the Senate. After that, I wasn't really worried, but some of the others were," Thomas said Saturday. He learned different when he ar-

Two cagers take honors

Mike Wartes pulled off his second All-District of the season and Keith Kitchens snared Sophomore-of-the-year honors in voting among district 4-A AAA basketball coaches Thursday for the league's premier players. Wartes, a senior who was a unanimous selection on the All-District football team as quarterback, also was a unanimous pick by the basketball mentors. The 5-11 guard was voted the No. 1 player in the league by one coach. "I think it's great. It's quite an honor to be on something like that," Wartes said about his selection on the All-District team. Player of the Year honors went to 6-5 Plainview senior Charlie Bassett, a center being courted by numerous colleges. Also on the team are 6-3 junior Curtis Thompson of Plainview, 6-8 senior Mark Davis of Lubbock and 6-5 junior Grady Newton of Monterey. Kitchens, a hands-down choice as Sophomore of the Year, was voted to the second team. The 6-foot guard joined Monterey senior David Thetford, Plainview junior Leroy Buckner, Coronado junior Mark Curry and Coronado senior Mark Stafford. John McNeely, Hereford's 6-3 senior postman, made the honorable mention list. Other players getting votes were Lubbock junior Ricky Lusk, Lubbock junior Bert Goodwin, Lubbock senior Mike McDowell, Monterey senior Dale Gannaway, Monterey senior Kip Bass, Plainview junior Willie Carrethers, Plainview senior David McAllister, and Coronado senior Donny Malone. Bill Phillips of Plainview won Coach of the Year accolades. Bassett, Davis, Newton and Wartes all were named as among the league's top five players by all opposing coaches. Each of the five coaches in the league was asked to vote his choice of the league's top 10 players, excluding any members of his own team. Wartes was named first on one ballot, third on another and fifth on the other two. On a point system of 10 points for first, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc., Bassett had 39 points out of a possible 40. He was No. 1 on three ballots of opposing coaches and No. 2 behind Wartes on the fourth. Davis was second with 35 points, getting one vote (apparently Phillips) as the league's top performer, two votes as the No. 2 man and one vote as the league's No. 3 player. Newton had 31 points, Wartes 30 and Thompson 29. Kitchens was not named on the first five players of any coach. He drew 18 points, the equivalent of four coaches all naming him the No. 7 player. The second-team voting was paced by Thetford with 23, Buckner had 22 points, Curry 14 and Stafford 12. The only vote Kitchens failed to get for Sophomore of the Year was that of Hereford Coach Ron Mayberry, and that was because Mayberry was unable to vote for one of his own players. In Coach of the Year voting, Plainview's Phillips got three votes, Monterey's Joe Michalka got one vote and Lubbock's Doyle Edmiston got one vote. Plainview won 32 games and broke the Bulldog record for lost 3 in the past season to victories in one season. The old mark was 26. Plainview plays Pampa in the Amarillo Civic Coliseum Tuesday night for the bi-district championship.

HEAVY LOSSES — This scene at Hereford Bi-Products shows a small number of cattle that died during the recent blizzard. Losses in this area were estimated at over $1 million and the death count continues.

Cattle loss from storm rises here

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer
Cattlemen in Deaf Smith County, as well as those in other Panhandle counties, continue this week to add to the total number of animals lost as a result of last week's blizzard. Estimates on the loss range from $100,000 to $1 million in death losses and close to $2 million in profit loss from weight the cattle lost. Virgil Marsh, farmer-rancher-cattlemaster, said the total killed in the storm may well reach the 10,000 mark within a 30-mile radius of Hereford. "There will certainly be about 5,000 in a 30-mile radius and this will definitely pass the $1 million mark," he said. "You add to that the weight loss from the storm and you have another $1.5 million loss on the animals that are still alive." Bill Edds, manager of Hereford Bi-Products, said Saturday his rendering facilities had processed about 600 head of cattle that were victims of the blizzard. "A very conservative estimate on the loss is about $100 a head, and this is real conservative," he said. Edds said the dead animals, brought to the plant by the truck loads, ranged anywhere from 250 pounds to 1,200 pounds. The majority, he said, were between 350 and 450 pounds. The loss by death also is expected to be matched by the profit loss in weight the cattle lost during the storm. "The loss in pounds is going to be about as much as the loss in death," Gerald McCathern said. "Whatever it is, it is going to be tremendous because this will add up in the thousands of dollars when the animals shrink." McCathern, who runs the McCathern Charolais Ranch, was a one of the very few cattlemen who did not suffer any losses because of the storm. The cattle, driven by the gushing wind of the storm, sought shelter in bar ditches and that was where many of them died. McCathern said the ones who were out on wheat and sugar beets were the ones that died as a result of the storm. "They would come to a live wire fence and just huddle up there, maybe in a ditch, and just get covered up and freeze," he said. Jack Wilkinson at Hereford Feed Yards, said he was "pleasantly surprised" at the small number of cattle that died from the storm at the yards. "The death loss was minimum," he said, "and when we checked this morning (Saturday), we were again real sur-

Suit's changes owners Monday

Suit's Auto Supply, one of Hereford's oldest and established businesses, will change ownership Monday. Ray and Emma Suit, owners of the business since 1947, announced the purchase of the business by David Beavers, another long-time Hereford auto parts businessman. Beavers will take over operations of the business effective Monday and will continue operating his present business of Beavers Parts and Machinery Company, Inc. Suit will continue to maintain an office at the business "for a reasonable length of time." Suit opened Suit's Auto Supply in February of 1947 at 208 Main St., then moved the business to its present location at 115 Schley in January of 1967. When he first started in the auto supply business, Suit and his wife and one employee made up the working force of the business. Today, the business employs 13 persons. Suit and Beavers, in a joint statement Friday, said the change in ownership will be the only change to affect the business. There will be no changes in personnel, name of business or policies. Beavers, who has been connected with Beavers Parts and Machinery Company, Inc. for 13 years, has been in the automotive business since the late 1950s. Beavers Parts and Machinery Company, Inc. also is one of the city's oldest businesses, celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. "We feel very fortunate to be able to keep Suit's Auto Supply as a locally-owned operation. It is an opportunity for us to continue to be a part of Hereford and this entire area," Suit said. Suit was born in Arkansas and raised in Oklahoma. He moved to Hereford in 1939 when his first became involved in the automotive parts business. Beavers was born in Hereford and attended Hereford Schools. He started part-time in the automotive business when he was a small child.

Delinquent taxes eyed

School hires Amarillo attorney to prosecute
By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor
Area residents who have been slow to pay their school tax may find an added incentive soon. Hereford school trustees Friday authorized an Amarillo attorney to notify all persons with delinquent taxes and to begin filing against them in court to bring the money in. "At the first of the month, we had $142,000 in delinquent taxes on the tax rolls, and we've got a few that go way on back," school tax officer Orpha Click told the board. The attorney, Howard Perdue, will receive 15 per cent of all delinquent taxes, penalty and interest which are collected and paid to the Hereford Independent School District as a result of his efforts. He will receive no other compensation. In case there is no payment, but money is collected through the forced sale of real estate to meet the school tax, Perdue will receive 15 per cent of that. "We haven't been paying out any money for this type of thing in the past, but we haven't been getting any money either," Click said. He said Perdue has been highly successful in identical work for schools in Perryton, Friona and White Deer recently. "They were all well pleased," Perdue was tax officer at Amarillo for four years, Click said. Trustee Raymond White called the action "something that certainly needs to be done. There's no excuse for people not paying their taxes." Supt. Roy Hartman, in recommending the action to the board, said he feels the mere fact the school is entering into a contract for such a purpose should bring in considerable money. "In my opinion, after people see that he will be collecting delinquent taxes, many will come in and pay," Hartman said. Under the contract, either the school or Perdue can terminate the agreement by giving the other party 30 days written notice, with the provision that Perdue will have six months to reduce to judgment all tax suits filed prior to the date of termination of the agreement. Further, Perdue will be required to advise the school board of all cases where investigation reveals taxpayers to be financially unable to pay their delinquent taxes. Persons owing back taxes to the school can anticipate a letter from Perdue soon. The first one will be a "pretty nice letter," Hartman said. It will say something to the extent that it has been brought to his attention that the person is delinquent in payment of his taxes to the school and will they please pay. Margaret Schlabs, Jack Norman, Suzanne Smith, Mike Avon and Elov Valdes were named winners in their respective divisions during competition last week in the annual Hereford Science Fair. Miss Schlabs was named the senior girls grand champion and Miss Smith the junior girls grand champion. Norman grabbed the senior boys grand champion spot, Avon the junior boys grand champion and Valdes the elementary grand champion. Both Miss Schlabs and Norman are high school students, Miss Smith is a student at Stanton Junior High and Avon is a student at La Plata Junior High. Valdes, after winning the right to represent Alkman Elementary School in the annual fair, was tabbed the over all elementary winner. Rodney Laubhan, coordinator for the fair, said the number of entries in this year's show dropped somewhat from the total of last year. He said 363 students entered the fair as compared to almost 430 last year. Only 76 entered from the high school, he said, which is down considerably from previous years.

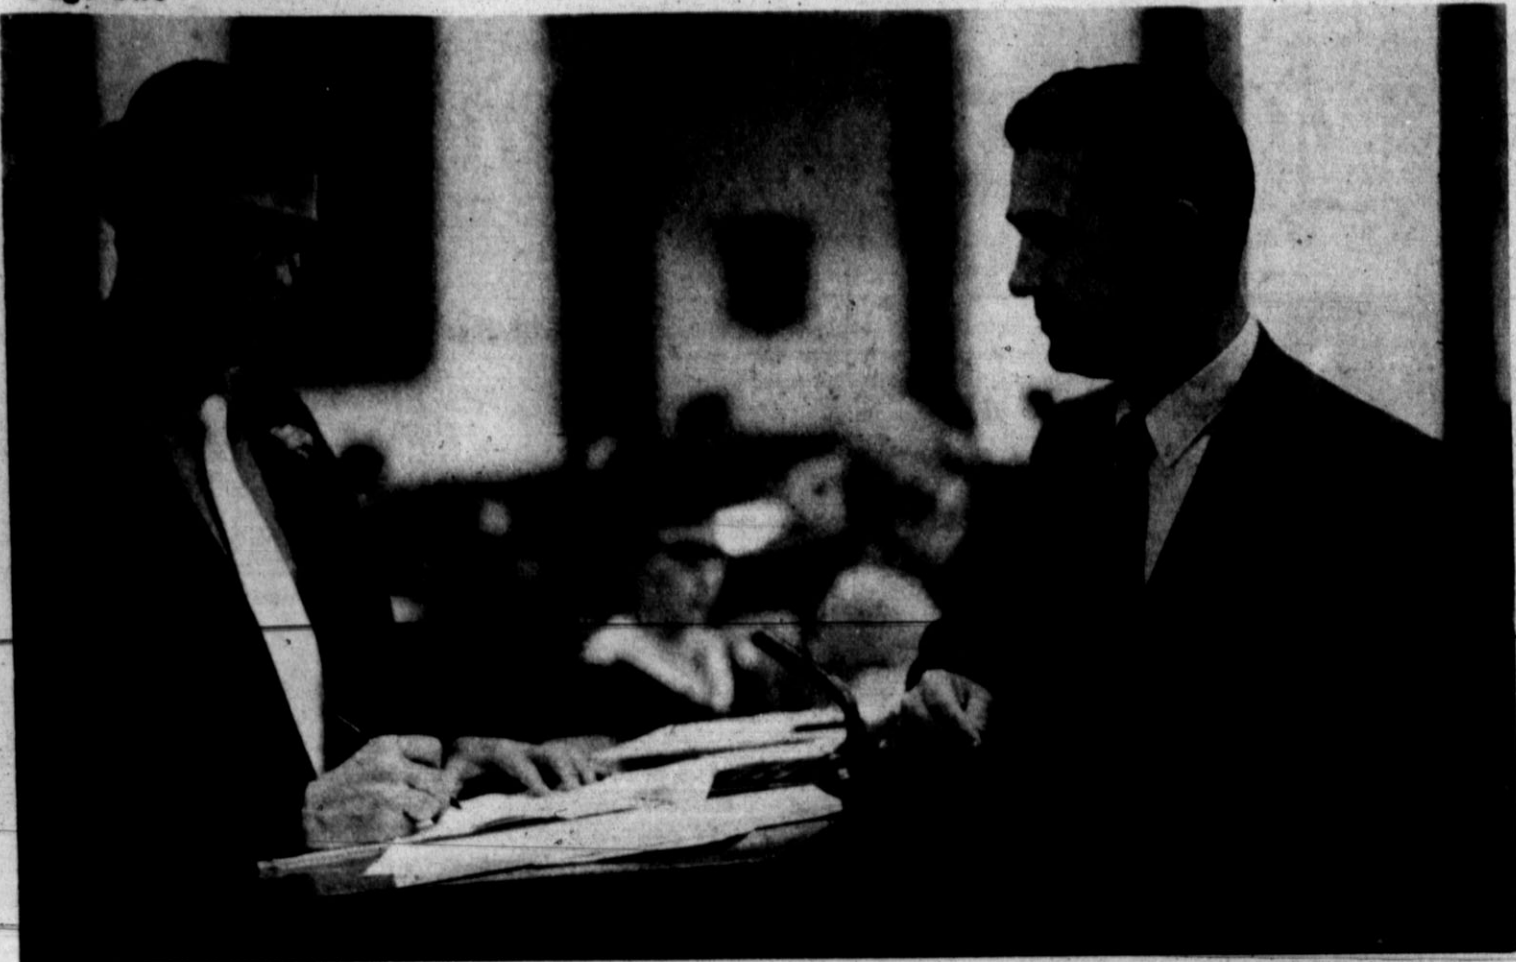

Commission post still open despite closeness of deadline

With less than one week remaining before the deadline for filing for school board and city commission posts, one vacancy still remains. The position of city commissioner, Place 1, which is being vacated by Troys Carmichael, has not been filled for officials at the city office said. An off-year election record of 5,633 voters registered to vote in elections this year. A one-month extension of the voter registration period increased the total from 5,446 to the new figure, and a few more were expected through the mail this week. The deadline for filing for the city commission is Friday at 5 p.m. The deadline for filing for the school board is Thursday. Dr. H. A. "Hap" Cavness, who was appointed to the com-

Randall queries PRPC

Randall County is investigating salaries paid to the executive staff of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission. The Randall County Commissioners said a letter they received this week from the PRPC did not answer all the questions they have about whether PRPC officials might be getting too much salary. The commissioners court voted in January to ask the PRPC to justify the salaries of Ernest Clark, executive director, and Larry Goodman, director of regional planning. "They did not answer all our questions," said Bill Butler of Amarillo, one of the commissioners. "They did not say what these men made before they came here, and they did not compare the salaries to comparable non-governmental jobs." Another commissioner, John Fulgenzi of Amarillo, said: "If they can't get that comparison, well I can." Clark receives $16,500 a year and Goodman receives $13,961. The letter from the PRPC, signed by Dr. O. E. Hackley of Spearman, chairman, listed educational and professional backgrounds of both men and described the jobs they hold. It compared the salaries to those listed by the Texas Municipal League.

mission last year to fill the unexpired term of Don Baugous, is still unopposed for the post of commissioner, Place 2. Mayor Jim Sears, who filed for reelection last week, also is unopposed for that office. Hilrey Aven and Dr. A. T. Mims both have filed for reelection to the school board. They are running unopposed. Absentee voting for the school board election will be from March 15 through March 30 and the election will be held on the first Saturday in April. Voting will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the high school cafeteria. Absentee voting for the city commission election will be from March 15 through April 3 and the election will be April 6. Voting will be at the Community Center from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. on April 6.

LOCAL BILL — Sen. Max Sherman, right, gives a copy of the bill to create a criminal district attorney in Deaf Smith County to Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel before presenting it to the Senate for a vote. The Senate approved the bill Tuesday and sent it to the House, which also must approve it before the bill becomes law.

High officials sought to evaluate protests

A leader in the protest by Mexican-Americans against the Public Health Clinic says an attempt is being made to bring state or federal officials here to look over the situation because "you've seen that we're not going to get anywhere with the people in Hereford."

Manuel Gallegos, 20, declined to identify the persons, but he confirmed that local individuals have been in touch with Lubbock lawyers.

The protest began a week ago Friday with picketing outside the health clinic. Demonstrators walked quietly outside the clinic and carried signs demanding that two Mexican-American women be put back into the jobs they were fired from a day earlier.

About 30 to 35 persons actually walked in the picket line at one time, and about 50 other Mexican-Americans stood nearby in support. They have reappeared several times since.

The reaction to the pickets was generally strongly negative with the Anglo populace and mixed among Mexican-Americans. The incident silted up the largest "letter to the editor" response of anything since the controversial junior college issue last spring.

"You've seen that we're not going to get anywhere with the people in Hereford, so we have to bring somebody else in, either state or federal, it doesn't make any difference," Gallegos said Friday.

"We have to get somebody in, somebody that will listen. You can't deny there is a problem. The people around here can't close their eyes to that."

Gallegos is a reporter for the Chicano Habla organization that recently formed in Hereford, but both he and other officers of the club have said strongly that the group is not involved in any way in the current protest.

"If we were, we would have more people marching," said Johnny Gamez, president of the club, in a letter to the editor.

Gallegos said he was at the first demonstration merely to gather facts for the organization and was thrown forth as the spokesman almost by accident, because others knew he could express himself clearly.

Julio Valdez, adviser to the club, said the controversy it has caused many persons to connect the protest with El Chicano Habla, but that the connection is false.

"We organized to bring about good things in this community, and this is just going to ruin everything we've done," Valdez said.

Pat Barber, the project director of the clinic, said she has been trying to carry on business as usual since the trouble began. It was her dismissal of an aide and a licensed vocational nurse (LVN) for "repeated acts of insubordination, lack of cooperation and failure to carry out assigned duties" that incited the protest.

The number of patients has declined since the protest started, but not significantly, she said. Mrs. Barber said she had received a number of telephone calls at home, all favorable to her stand in refusing to rehire the women she dismissed. The pickets contend the women were fired because they are Mexican-American and were helping other people of their race.

Mrs. Barber said she has two applicants, both Mexican-American, for the jobs vacated by the two she dismissed, but had not filled the positions yet.

The Public Health Clinic board of directors stood behind Mrs. Barber and her right as project director to use her own discretion in the hiring and firing of employees.

Gate receipts for basketball are up

The surprising turnabout in Hereford High School basketball fortunes the past season brought about a big increase in the crowds at La Plata Gym. Figures released Friday showed that total receipts for the 11 games in the 1970-71 season are more than twice the receipts for the previous season.

For example, gate receipts for four home conference games this year in District 4-AAAA were $1,397.63. Hereford's five home conference games last season in District 1-AAA brought in only $988.08. Despite having one less conference game, the team attracted $729 more in gate receipts. Hereford won 10 games, lost 14 in the 1969-70 cage campaign. The past season, the Whitefaces went 21-12, the first season in 11 for a 20-victory output.

Six non-conference games in 69-70 brought in $547.20, an average of $91.20 per game. Seven non-conference games in 70-71 brought in $1,560.84, an average of $222.98 per game.

For conference play, the average $173.62 in receipts per contest last year and $399.41 per game this year.

Both last season and this season, there were 11 home games. Ticket price remained the same over the two years. For the entire 11-game home slate, the gate receipts in 1969-70 were $1,415.28 for an average of $128.66; in 1970-71 they were $3,133.47 for an average of $287.13.

In both years, a number of students—including the players, the band, the pep squad, the drill team, the cheerleaders, the twirlers—got in free. Plainview and Dimmitt brought in good crowds, but the visiting stands were only sparsely filled for most of the other games, meaning the increase is predominantly in the local crowd.

On the Coordinating Board, besides Thomas, are Dr. G. V. Brindley Jr., chief M. D. at Scott and White Clinic, Temple; Hollers, immediate past president of the Texas Dental Association; Meadors, president of Halliburton Corporation; Tom Sealy, Midland lawyer and chairman of the Coordinating Board until January of 1970, when DeBusk took over; Young, president of El Paso National Bank; Newton Gresham of Houston, vice president of the Coordinating Board and former president of the Texas State Bar Association, a partner in the prestigious firm of Fulbright, Crooker, Freeman, Bates and Jaworski.

Also, Fred H. Moore of Austin, a chief executive officer of Mobil Oil Co.; William Hunter McLean, president of a life insurance company headquartered in Fort Worth, and former chairman of the State Insurance Board; Will Davis of Austin, an attorney and former State Democratic Executive Committee chairman; Provenca, owner of a group of Texas newspapers; O. H. Elliott of Austin, former president of Huston-Tillotson College.

Also, H. B. "Pat" Zachry of San Antonio, owner of the state's largest contracting firm; Harvey Weil, Corpus Christi attorney; Wales Madden Jr. of Amarillo, general counsel for Mesa Petroleum; and Watson Wise, who is involved in municipal bonds in Tyler; and Walter Bassano of Paris, Tex.

Building permits slow to $48,930

Building permits for February slowed to a sub normal pace of only $48,930 after going through two near-record months in December and January.

Only 10 permits were issued in February and the largest of these was for $36,000 for the construction of a house.

The December total hit the $1,522,300 mark followed by the January total of $610,800. In December, one permit was issued for $1.3 million for the construction of a housing complex, and in January, another large one was issued for $350,000 for the construction of a feed mill.

In both years, a number of students—including the players, the band, the pep squad, the drill team, the cheerleaders,

Pony League meet is Tuesday

Persons involved in the Pony League baseball program this summer will meet at the Pioneer Natural Gas warehouse on East Highway 66 Tuesday night. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m., according to Art McQueary. All coaches, managers and other persons interested in the program are invited to attend.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION

L. J. Iwig, rancher who lives about 20 miles north of Hereford on the Vega Highway, is in a Canyon hospital with injuries received in a fall when he slipped on ice at Sugarland Mall Tuesday.

His condition was reported serious, Mrs. Iwig said Saturday.

Flowers are good to eat

By Mrs. Argen Draper

Home Demonstration Agent

FOOD flowers — that's what two vegetables popular this time of year really are. These food flowers, broccoli and cauliflower, are underdeveloped buds of the cabbage family. Rather than the leaves, they are grown for the thickened, profuse, undeveloped flowers and flower stalks.

While plentiful and attractively priced, you should find many ways to serve broccoli. Cooked until just tender to retain its green color, it can be served with butter and seasonings. But as the aristocrat of the cabbage family, broccoli can also star in imaginative, off-beat dishes.

Try baking layers of fresh broccoli with layers of ham and sharp Cheddar cheese, covered with a white sauce, for a gourmet's casserole delight.

Or, marinate stalks of cooked broccoli in French dressing, then arrange them over slices of lettuce. Top with lemon-spiked mayonnaise for a salad that is as different as it is delicious.

IN ADDITION to good looks and elegant taste, broccoli is an excellent source of vitamins and minerals. Best of all, the broccoli's calorie content is low — 132 calories per pound.

To preserve the delicate flavor and texture of broccoli's stems and blossoms when cooking, stand the stems upright in salted water.

The buds will cook in the steam as the water boils. Cook for about 15 to 20 minutes, lifting the cover several times to help retain the fresh green color.

CAULIFLOWER, the other "food flower", is generally thought of as a substantial full-bodied vegetable. But it is a low calorie treat; one cup of the cooked flower buds contains about 30 calories.

In selecting cauliflower, choose heads with small, firm clusters of flowers white or creamy in color. The jacket of outer leaves should be fresh and green.

A cauliflower head weighing two and one half pounds generally serves six people. The size of the head has nothing to do with maturity, so buy the size that best fits your needs.

SEASON IN and season out, cabbage should top the shopping list as a budget stretcher as well as tasty. Cabbage is not only flavorful and convenient, but versatile too. Served raw, it is a salad treat. Cooked, it becomes a main vegetable item with an entirely different flavor. Either way, it is easy to prepare, easy to serve and easy to eat.

Choose heads that are solid and heavy for size. Look for fresh green leaves that are firmly attached to the stem. Be sure the cabbage is free from bruises, decay and yellowing leaves.

To keep cabbage crisp, remove any withered leaves then wash and dry the head. Store in a covered container in the refrigerator. To keep for several days, put the cabbage in a film bag or wrap in a damp cloth before storing in the refrigerator. Don't forget kraut as a salad.

This is a salad that can be kept on the pantry shelf. The recent snowy weather proves that the pantry should be stocked with a variety of foods.

IN GRANDMOTHER'S day, celery was considered a soothing agent and as a low-calorie nibble food.

Celery is 94 percent water; one cup diced has only 20 calories. It contributes a distinct aromatic flavor, bulk and texture, as well as minor amounts of nutrients to the diet.

When storing celery in the refrigerator, sprinkle it with water and wrap with plastic film to protect against dehydration.

MESSENGER Club is making laprobes for the Veterans Hospital. Mrs. Bill Page says the laprobes should be 36 x 40 inches, pleated to cutting, laced to cutting and tacked or quilted.

No cotton padding that will lump in laundry. The laprobes will be sent to a commercial laundry so, keep this in mind when making these. The laprobes are needed and this is a very good way to use washable scraps.

GARBAGE — A big municipal problem is garbage — and how to get rid of it. In 1930, the average American generated 2.7 pounds of trash daily. This figure today, however, is more than 4.5 pounds per person daily.

According to a 20-year projection for New York City, trash is expected to increase to more than 12 pounds per person each day.

CREDIT CARD I. D. — Some method of identification, such as a signature or photograph, must be on all credit cards issued after January 24, 1971. Companies will have until January, 1972 to update all their credit cards with such identification.

CUTTING POLYESTER FABRICS — Polyester fibers are strong and durable, so you may find them more difficult to cut. To make the task easier, use shears made of Molybdenum steel with knife-sharp cutting edges.

Lay the fabric on a flat surface to prevent stretching. Before placing the pattern pieces, check to see if the centerfold will press out. If the crease has been heat set, you will need to lay out the pattern pieces to avoid it. Position the pattern pieces with the lengthwise grain or the fabric design since polyester knits can't be straightened.

DENIM — Back-to-nature and earthy — that describes the trend to denim fabrics this spring. This trend is making denim perhaps the hottest fabric on the market.

Denim has many substitutes and imitations, along with tremendous varieties of the real thing. You can choose from many designs to stretch and non-stretch fabrics. The rugged yet beautiful denim is available in both cotton and cotton-polyester blends, and even polyester knit.

Everybody is wearing denim practically everywhere making it the chief raw material for the "fancy pants revolution."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Harken To Your Heart

IS IT necessary to have an electrocardiogram every time I have a physical examination? I am 56 years old and have had no complaints about my heart.

Mr. J. L., North Carolina
Dear Mr. L.: I assume that your regular health examination takes place about once a year.

Certainly, an electrocardiogram at these intervals is entirely correct. Even in the absence of symptoms it may be possible to uncover early evidence of changes that might be rectified before they advance.

Anyone who has had any heart condition deserves constant supervision. The electrocardiogram is an instrument that is of vast importance in both the diagnosis and prognosis of heart disease. [For further information, you may consult Dr. Coleman's booklet, which is described below.—Ed.]

Why do some people have a tendency to collect wax in their ears?

Mr. S. F., Kansas
Dear Mr. F.: It is perfectly normal for wax to be secreted from the glands in the skin that line the ear canal.

Some people, however, do have a tendency to a greater secretion of wax than others. The reason a ball of wax becomes impacted may depend on the curvature of the canal. It then "snowballs" until it blocks the ear, causing discomfort and even a moderate loss of hearing.

Attempts to remove the wax with toothpicks, hairpins, (© 1970, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

and the favorite homemade instrument, the paper clip, can injure the ear canal. It is much safer to have it removed by a physician who does this in one of two ways: with a syringe, or with a specially designed blunt instrument.

Can syphilis be transmitted through the blood from a pregnant mother to her unborn child?

Miss R. E., New Jersey
Dear Miss R.: It most certainly can be! And when it is, the baby is frequently born with definite evidences of it. Syphilis, unrecognized and untreated, can impose the greatest heartaches on parents and their children.

I must again emphasize that venereal disease is now at a level of epidemic proportions in the teenager and the young adult.

Unfortunately, it is in this age group that a sense of responsibility is diminished. Fear that their parents may learn of their infection keeps these youngsters from revealing it to their doctors. Only with proper and intensive sex education can young men and women be taught the need for immediate treatment if exposure to venereal disease becomes known.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: Harsh laxatives are often more injurious than beneficial.

Dr. Lester Coleman has prepared a special booklet for readers of the column entitled, "Pay Attention to Your Heart." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed 6-cent stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

Insurance group policies rise

Catholic Life Insurance Union, a Texas fraternal organization with a number of members in the Hereford area, sold 25 per cent more policies during the past year than any previous year, says District Supervisor Tom Acker of Nazareth.

Across the state of Texas, 25,000 policies have been sold, Acker told about 245 local members and their families Tuesday evening at the annual supper-meeting at the K of C Hall.

Ed Schilling, local president, introduced and presented a gift of appreciation to the group's new spiritual director, Rev. Boniface Riedmann, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Hereford.

Another gift was presented to the administrators of St. Anthony's School, for supplies.

Other officers present for the meeting were Bill Kahlich, salesman; Rick Reinart, sec-

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

In regard to the person who wrote the letter in the Thursday Brand, I ask for this letter to be printed.

I am a Spanish-American and like you am a taxpayer and I don't like my money to be misused.

I also like to indicate that we did not come to this country, as this person is saying, for Texas, New Mexico, and other states belonged to Mexico and was overrun by the Anglo. And one thing else, the people of the Anglo race, about 80 per cent are German, Polish or other descendants, when at that time we were already living here. Now you tell me, who came to this country to have what didn't belong to them? And you tell me who is discriminating against who?

I still have my pride and very much of it, and for a person to make a mistake is not very uncommon and I speak for my people.

Some of the Anglos have been mistreating our race and I don't blame Manuel Gallegos for doing what he believes is right.

And speaking of the Spanish-Americans spending their money, this may be true to some extent, but up to a few years back we have been earning more money. As for the years before, we came here to pick up the crops because the Anglos (most of them) didn't know one end from the other of a hoe or a shovel! And the farmers paid just barely to let us eat and to have the luxury of buying a few clothes and traveling expense and a little left over for our education. You also say we have top wages, but don't you know that food and clothes have top prices too? Answer it yourself.

As for the clinic, you say you're weary of paying your taxes. Well, I don't see why, since our people are helping 75 per cent of the way, because we work like animals to make 80 to 100 dollars a week while you stay home and receive the profits and always have enough to have what you need, and you never have to worry about the tomorrow.

As for the children having free lunches and some not attending schools, I cannot answer because I don't know of their needs, do you?? But I do know that we are not paying out of county funds, but the government alone. And it belong to you and me and everybody else. The Bible says that we are all created equal. I certainly feel equal.

I sure hope you know what this means. Think about it. Many of the Spanish-Americans didn't finish their school because while you were attending schools and colleges we were growing old by working in the sun and wind earning our daily bread, while most of you were receiving all the profits. While you or your family probably were riding around and looking pretty in the parents' car, while all we could afford was a movie, and sometimes not even that.

About church or to some kind of festivities, the Anglos don't treat you as a person, and this person that wrote this letter, how would you feel if somebody threw notes at you like "You dirty stinking Mexicans"? Put yourself in our point of view and check you or your family to see if you or your children respect our race as I teach my children to respect the Anglos.

Please pray for the togetherness of all races and for the equality of all.

I am sorry if this sounds rude or unreasonable but I couldn't let you go on thinking that this land is yours, when I know it all belongs to God. What we have doesn't come easy. We earn it the hard way.

Name on file.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

There was a letter written by a certain person Thursday. In this letter it was stated that the Chicano Habla Club was responsible for picketing the Public Health Clinic. If this person can prove that the Chicano Habla Club is involved, he better be sure before making a statement like that. I know who this person is, I want this person to know our club can sue for slander, if we wanted to. We could have one of our lawyers who represent the "Club" to visit you if you wanted to discuss it further.

Our adviser, Julio Valdes, has stated that the Chicano Habla Club has NOTHING to do with the demonstration at the Public Health Clinic. If we were involved, we would have more persons marching. I myself can vouch for this because I'm President of the "Club."

So to this person, you watch what you say cause you may find yourself in a lot of trouble, legal wise.

President of Chicano Habla Club, Johnny Games.

DEMOCRATS WAY AHEAD IN STATE LEGISLATURES | MARGIN COULD AFFECT LINES OF NEW DISTRICTS

By HENRY CATTEGAR
Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The elections that disappointed Republican congressmen most this fall were not in the national headlines the day after the voters went to the polls. But their results could effectively kill any chance the GOP has of taking control of the House of Representatives in the decade ahead.

The elections in question were for seats in state legislatures which will draw congressional district lines next year. The Democrats won control of 24 legislatures, the Republicans 17. In half a dozen states each party controls one house. In Washington state the margin is still undecided, with Democrats holding a slight edge. In Nebraska, the one-house legislature is elected on a non-partisan basis.

Republicans were counting on GOP legislatures in key states to apportion congressional districts in a way as to favor their candidates, as was the case in New York state last year.

Fast with the court-ordered reapportionment, the Republican-controlled legislature shifted traditionally GOP voters into the Long Island district of liberal Democrat Rep. Allard Lowenstein, placed a Democratic incumbent in a district with a Republican incumbent, and created a district without an incumbent in GOP territory. The result was Lowenstein was defeated and John Terry, a Republican, was elected in the district without an incumbent.

DISAPPOINTING—With California set to gain five new congressmen in 1973 because of the recent census results, the GOP was waiting gleefully for the time to draw new district lines. They well remembered how the Democrats, who controlled the legislature 10 years ago, sketched boundaries so that a slight 16 to 14 Democratic edge in the California congressional delegation in 1961 became a 25 to 13 edge in 1963.

In the mid-1960s Republicans in California began working on winning state Senate and Assembly seats and they proved quite successful. By 1968 the GOP held a slight edge in both Houses and with the popular Gov. Ronald Reagan leading the ticket in 1970 prospects for Republican map making looked good.

But the campaign was not the walk away victory for Reagan that Republicans expected. He won by a comfortable half million votes, but Republicans lost seats in both Houses, especially in areas where high unemployment hurt the party in power. The Democrats now control the legislature.

The Republican governor has a veto power so the reapportionment should be reasonably fair. But it won't be what Republicans in Washington expected.

SAME STORY ELSEWHERE—The story is the same in other states. Florida will gain three congressional seats in 1973, but Democrats captured the governorship and retained control of both legislative houses. In Pennsylvania, which will lose two seats, Democrats ended eight years of Republican rule, winning the governorship and both houses. You can bet more than one Republican congressman will be affected in 1973.

The GOP's loss of 11 governorships, giving Democrats a small edge in the 50 states, likewise affects reapportionment. In Ohio, where the Democrats won, the Republican governor appoints a special board to redraw district lines. The GOP held the legislature, however, and will have veto power over reapportionment.

Shortly before the election, GOP national chairman Rogers Morton asserted, "The control of the state legislatures after this election will determine control of the House in the decade of the '70s." If that is true, look for ten more Democratic years.

Funeral held for member of pioneer family

Funeral services for Arthur Clarence Thompson, 94, a resident of Deaf Smith County since 1901, were conducted Friday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home by Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery with Masonic Lodge members as pall bearers.

A resident of Kings Manor retirement home in recent years, Mr. Thompson died in a local hospital Wednesday. He was a member of First Baptist Church.

He was born Feb. 4, 1887, in Marietta, Okla., a member of the J. D. Thompson family which came to this county from Marietta and lived first on one of the largest ranches of the area, then moved to Hereford. He married Cora Short at Hamilton, Kan., in 1915 and her death occurred in May, 1963.

Survivors are a son, Arthur C. Thompson Jr. of Amarillo, and two sisters, Mrs. Ida Davis of Amarillo and Mrs. Carrie Stah of Bakersfield, Calif.

Burial in Dumas follows funeral

The funeral of Albert James Frederick, 67, of 205 Ave. B, was conducted Saturday morning in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home by the Rev. Don Larkin, pastor of Avenue Baptist Church. Burial was in Dumas Cemetery.

Mr. Frederick died Tuesday in a local hospital after a long illness. He had lived in Deaf Smith County since coming from Oklahoma in 1909. He was born March 18, 1903, at Wilburton, Okla., and saw military service during World War II.

Survivors are a son, James Warren, and a sister, Mrs. Marie Larson, both of Oklahoma City.

Jesus' Use of Parables

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buscher

Scripture—Matthew 13:1-35, 44-45.

Speaking from a boat so all could see and hear, Jesus used parables from nature to illustrate the truths of God's kingdom.—Matthew 8:1-9, 18-23.

Jesus taught in parables so only those obedient to God and interested in his teachings could understand the truths revealed in them.—Matthew 8:10-17.

In the parable of the tares and wheat, the sons of the kingdom are separated from the unrighteous and brought into heaven.—Matthew 8:24-30, 34-43.

As he had foretold, Jesus revealed principles of God's kingdom through parables.—Matthew 8:24-35. GOLDEN TEXT: Luke 8:17, 18.

Little Dribblers' basketball program is launched Monday

Four games in the High School gym and four more at Stanton Junior High Monday night will inaugurate the Little Dribblers' Basketball program in Hereford.

Fifth and sixth grade boys will compete in five of the games and third and fourth grade boys in the other three, kicking off a five-week season that will culminate April 5 with a doubleheader to decide the championships of both leagues.

The older boys comprise the National League and the younger boys the American League. An admission charge of 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children will be charged.

Four games will be played in both Stanton and the High School, starting at 8 p.m. and running until about 10 p.m.

The headline match of the evening is a match at Stanton Gym at 8 p.m. involving two National League teams—the Celtics and the Hawks—who figure to be the frontrunners in the northern zone race. Kelly Kittens, the No. 1 pick in the player draft, is on the Celtics, coached by Mack Tubb, and Archie Crim, the No. 5 pick is on the Hawks, coached by Terry Hale.

Also on the Stanton Gym slate are the Knicks vs. the Bucks at 7 p.m., the Bullets vs. the Lakers at 8 p.m. and the Warriors vs. the Pistons at 9 p.m. The fourth National League game is set for 9 p.m. on the High School Gym a block away, matching the Suns and Royals.

Earlier at the High School, American League matches pair the Bears and Longhorns at 6 p.m., the Raiders and the Owls at 7 p.m. and the Apples and Frogs at 8 p.m.

In both leagues, boys will use regulation basketballs and goals.

Terry Hill, a member of the sponsoring Jaycees and president of the Little Dribblers Basketball, Inc., board locally, said All-Star teams will be selected at the end of the season and announced after the two championship games on April 5. The National League All-Star team of 10 players then will represent Hereford in an area tournament April 9-10 against All-Star teams from Levelland, Dimmitt and Pampa. The winner of that tournament will advance to the national tournament in Levelland April 29, 30 and May 1.

Both the area and national tournament will be double-elimination affairs.

The world's most deadly animal may be the sea wasp, a five-inch jellyfish which drifts with the waters off northern Australia. Swimmers brushed by its trailing tentacles usually die within five minutes from cobra-like venom. There is no known antidote.

For centuries Finland's 55,000 lakes have served the country's major industry, the production of paper, lumber and other wood products. They furnish not only transport but often a cheap source of hydro electric power to run giant mills.

Forest workers call quaking aspen the "disaster tree." It is the first tree to grow again in areas where forest fires, strip mining or other circumstances have stripped the land of vegetation.

DOROTHY MANNERS' Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—A wood fire shimmered along quietly, casting enough glow into the rustic, wood-beamed room so that lights were not yet necessary against the fading afternoon.

A very famous little girl, age 4, named Jennifer Grant, was playing with a beaten-up doll whose hair she had cut and shampooed and now was drying.

The family dog had decided it was a good time for a snooze, with one eye open, of course, against any unexpected excitement.

"I have the best of two worlds," said Dyan Cannon, "and this is the best."

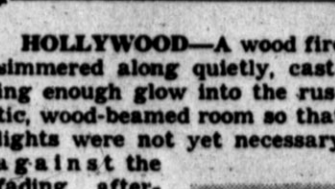

Breathless from running up the long steps to the canyon house, long blonde hair flying, she had just come in from a hectic session with her "other" world—hours spent at Columbia Studio conferring with director Jack Haley Jr. about her role in "The Love Machine."

She had dropped by Robert Weitman's office to see how he liked the rough cut of the picture she just completed for him in New York, "The Anderson Tapes" (he loved it, and her). A columnist had called to ask if her dates with Johnny Carson were serious.

It had been a day in the life of an actress on the verge of stardom — invigorating, demanding, exciting, and Dyan had loved every minute of it.

But now, curled back deeply into a big chair so Jennifer could get in it with her from time to time, sipping tea, pushing the long hair back from her face, housewife style, she was unwinding into her "best world."

"If you don't mind, I don't want any best of two worlds to last longer—as it is."

Dyan Cannon

want to go over the past, my nervous, unsure, unhappy past when I was that 'crazy girl, divorcing Cary Grant and taking his little baby girl away from him.' Everybody else knows everything about it anyway. We were NEWS in capital letters. The bad times are over and things are good between Cary and me again. That's the way it should be for Jennifer's sake.

"Over the past three years I have become an entirely new person, not a different person—a new person. I've gotten rid of hang-ups I thought might haunt me forever. And, yes, some PEOPLE I thought might do the same."

"I've never felt so confident, so sure of being able to handle my responsibilities, so completely ALIVE in my life. Every day I seem to be learning something delightful. Jennifer's world fascinates me."

Jennifer is a beautifully mannered child, soft-spoken, obedient. Her eyes, like her mother's, are light blue-green, but more serious. Thinking something might be expected of her since her name had been spoken, she asked, "Do you want to hear my homework?"

"Not now," laughed Dyan. "We can get into that later." Jennifer is in her first year at the Buckley School and when asked what she does, says, "I learn things."

"The most amazing things," her mother amplified. "Do you know that even the children as young as Jennifer are warned against drugs, what pills look like so they will know not to accept them if offered?"

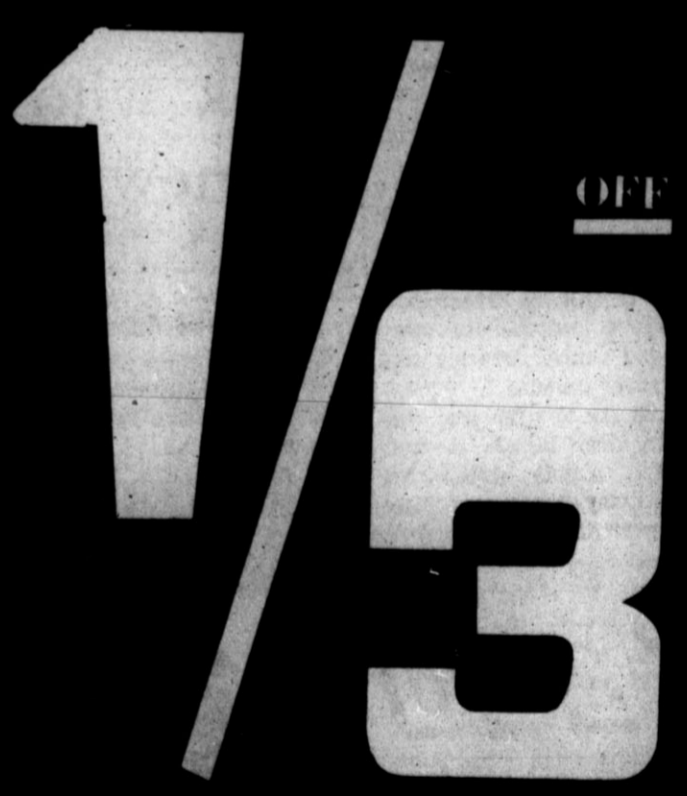

How about men? Any one of them turning her on these days?

Dyan laughed so hard even Jennifer joined in. "Men? They are all special. I know a lot of men I like, I date a lot. I actually enjoy them, their friendship, talking with them, going things with them. But it will be a long time before I settle down to one again."

Suddenly serious again, she said, "I want my best of two worlds to last longer—as it is."

Mark Waters was a chain smoker. Wonder who'll get his office?

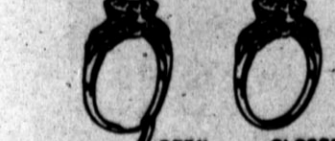

Too bad about Mark. Kept hearing the same thing everyone does about lung cancer. But, like so many people, he kept right on smoking cigarettes. Must have thought, "been smoking all my life... what good'll it do to stop now?" Fact is, once you've stopped smoking, no matter how long you've smoked, the body begins to reverse the damage done by cigarettes, provided cancer or emphysema have not developed. Next time you reach for a cigarette, think of Mark. Then think of your office—and your home.

Small talk

MAYBE you've wondered, as I have, who was having that house in the 500 block of North Miles remodeled. Or maybe you are smarter and already know about it, but I was happy when Katie McGehee, across the street, told me it is the George Suggs.

Several people whom I'd asked, didn't know; so this may still be news. When I called Emily Suggs, she said they do plan to live in the house, have already sold their former home on Ranger and are living in the trailer at the construction site now.

Furthermore, I learned that the house was built in the first place by George Suggs' grandfather, moved to its present location and remodeled.

You can tell before it is finished that it is going to be a handsome home after the current rejuvenation, and I'm looking forward to telling its complete story, with pictures.

THIS IS another in a series of sprucing up old houses to make some of the most attractive homes in Hereford, and I hope the trend continues. Of course it costs as much to buy an old house and have it put in good condition, as to build a new one, but some families share my opinion that you have a better home when you do — and do-it-yourself families find it costs less.

There's something about a house with a history that is more appealing than making history in a new house — to some folks. Just a matter of taste. And the Suggs think they will like living closer in, near churches, etc., and still on a quiet residential street.

A WEDDING that will interest friends of the groom and his family here is to take place in Fort Collins, Colo., March 13, when Deborah Kathleen Lawrey of that city and Joel Wayne Wallace, son of the Wayne Wallaces of Clovis, are to be married.

Mamie McGowen, who plans to attend the wedding and who went to a shower for the bride-to-be last week, told me about it. The Wallace family formerly lived in Hereford. Wayne is a medical student in the university at Fort Collins after receiving his bachelor's degree last spring.

The wedding is to be in St. Joseph's Catholic Church here, and a reception afterward at the University Center.

SOMEHOW, a sentence I wrote lightly in this column (and there isn't much in it that isn't written lightly!) got me taken to task by Edna Marnell, who sort of accuses me of being in cahoots with people, from government officials on down, whom she says are no friends of the farmers and in fact plan to eliminate family-type farms.

Wish there were room to quote her entire letter here; she writes about the value of the farmer to our society and its economy and gives statistics about farm income and federal farm payments. To all of which I firmly agree, so I'm not sure where my words caused offense. Giving information from a news release about catfish farmers, I remarked that they should have federal payments too, "no use letting the grain farmers get all the gov'ment money."

NOW THAT was intended as a small joke — nothing hilarious but sort of faintly humorous, in a minor way. If it was the mere mention of federal money that was annoying, it seems to me so much has been written, pro and con, on that subject, and so many corny jokes made, that farmers could not possibly object to so mere a mention.

Anyway it's horrifying to think maybe all the farmers around here are mad at me — there are so many of them! But even worse is the blow when Edna wrote, "Everyone I have talked to has said they failed to see the humor you intended." Maybe that should be a lesson to me, not to ever try being even sort of funny!

Shower honors bride

A tea-shower honoring Mrs. Alvin Davis, who before her marriage Feb. 6 was Miss Rena Ferguson, was given Friday in the home of Mrs. Henry L. Solomon, 500 Star. Guests called during late afternoon hours.

Mrs. Davis and her mother, Mrs. John Ferguson, with Mrs. Solomon received callers informally. Mrs. Davis Sorrels was at the bride's book where they registered.

Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Willis Duggan and Miss Suzanne Solomon from a table covered with white satin and centered with an arrangement of pink tapers and peonies.

Hostesses with Mrs. Solomon were Mes. Merlin Kaul, C. E. Watts, Jack Gilliland, Velma Solomon and Duggan.

GIWANIS GUESTS — Gene and Bobbie Moore, right photo, song leaders for the Evangelistic Crusade which ends tonight following week-long services sponsored by four churches, were guests at Kiwanis luncheon Thursday, at which time they sang Battle Hymn of the Republic. LA PLATA ACTORS — The all-school play at La Plata Junior High School, a comedy titled Papa Was a Preacher, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday. The director is Norma Gripp; some of the student actors are in these scenes. Shyla Thomas as Miss Jonas, second from left in top photo, is indignant about misdeeds of the preacher's daughter, played by Monica Herring while Andrew Wingert and Lee Line as two more of the parsonage kids, listen to her complaints to the preacher. A quiet conversation by Papa and Mama, portrayed by Dan VanderZee and Donna Munnerlyn, is interrupted by daughter Janette, Sharon Dearing, in the lower photo.

Family comedy to be staged as La Plata all-school play

A comedy of life in a Texas Methodist parsonage some years ago, Papa Was a Preacher, will be the all-school play which La Plata Junior High students will present Thursday and Friday evenings in the school auditorium. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. and the public is invited.

Based on Alyene Porter's happy reminiscences of her preacher father and sympathetic mother, both fortified with a sense of humor, and their lively children, the play recounts some hilarious episodes in the youngsters' conflicts with more straight-laced members of the small-town church.

Norma Gripp, who has directed a number of student and faculty plays at La Plata, is the director.

Dan VanderZee plays the wisely tolerant father and Donna Munnerlyn the patient mother of the family. Monica Herring has the role of Alyene, who grew up to become the story teller, and Sharon Dearing that of her sister Janette.

Boys in the family are enacted by Jim Hetzel, Andrew Wingert, Wayne Schumacher and Lee Line. Miss Jonas, whose complaints about the children's escapades make their lives miserable, is portrayed by Shyla Thomas.

Linda Womack, Gayle Gripp, Lynette Clearman, Tommy Loerwald and Jay Williams have other supporting roles, while Betty Banks and Ross Condanko appear in a comedy scene as a couple who come to the parsonage to be married.

Lynn Lauderback is stage manager, with Cathy Carrothers and Mike Aven on the stage crew. Rex Lee is serving as prompter. James Waits will be head usher.

Don Shirley to give CCA program

Shirley concert to end CCA year

Ending the Hereford Community Concert Association's season, Don Shirley and his instrumental ensemble will appear in a program at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

Admission is by CCA membership card. At this concert CCA members will have an opportunity to renew their memberships for the 1971-72 season. Enrollment of new members will come during the annual campaign next fall, preceding the first concert of the new season.

Already booked as a "hold" attraction for next year is the famous Stan Kenton orchestra. Other artists will be engaged after the membership campaign is ended and the budget set.

Shirley, a young American pianist who is a native of Jamaica, was a "hold" attraction for the current season. He is called "one of the most brilliant artists and exciting personalities to illuminate the world of music in America in many a season."

He and his ensemble tour some 50 cities in this nation each year; Shirley has been applauded as a piano soloist in Carnegie hall, with symphony orchestras in numerous cities and with an orchestra in La Scala opera house at Milan Italy in a Gershwin program.

Not only the jazz music for which Gershwin is famed, but in other musical idioms Shirley has won admirers who range from classical Igor Stravinsky to Duke Ellington. He plays classical, folk and modern works marked by his own imagination

Music festival rates 51 tops

Rating of "Superior" was given to 51 music pupils of this area, out of the 130 who played or sang in the annual Junior Festival sponsored by Federated Music Clubs and held in First Baptist Church Friday.

One pianist, Dee Anne Caison of Hereford, was rated Superior for the seventh consecutive year, playing in the "very difficult" division. Kathy McLean of Friona received Superior rating for the fourth year as a coloratura soloist in the musically advanced group.

Rated Superior for the third year were Phillip Zinser for piano solos in the musically advanced division, Gary Mingus of Friona as a baritone soloist in the jr. division, and the Trebellaires, singing group from the Keyboard Club of Friona.

Zinser was also Superior in junior concerto playing his first time for that achievement.

Sixteen students were classed as Superior for the second year. From Hereford were piano soloists Susan Skaggs, David Arney, Ruth Griego, and Kimberly Martin, Primary IV; Rebecca Hickman, musically advanced II; also, in vocal solos for intermediate Class I, Susie Hickman.

Teresa Rhoton of Dawn in primary IV piano, was rated Superior—the second time.

Those from Friona with that distinction in piano were Sarah Ann Mears, Paul Alan Lindley, Holly White, Dana Miller, Sharla Beth Duggins and Laura Ellis, primary III; Linda Anthony and Paige Osborn, primary IV.

John Carson of Friona made his second Superior rating in intermediate, class III, vocal solos.

Hereford pupils rated Superior the first time were Julie Chapman, Sharon Skaggs, Kenyon Weldon and Sharon Chapman in piano solo, primary I division; Kay Suttle and Deana Finley, primary II; Tammy Ward and Grace Bullard, primary III; Pam Nowotny, older beginner; Tonja Black medium class.

First-year Superior ratings to pupils from Dawn went to Tommy Weaver and Lisa Hones, primary I; Scott Ward, primary II; Teresa Rhoton, primary IV; Pam Garrison, very difficult, all piano solos.

Those from Friona who earned Superior marks the first time were Jan Mason, primary I; Karen Edelman, primary II; LaDonna Broadhurst, Teresa Clark and John Carson, primary III; Paula London, Pamela Lindley and Regina Walters, elementary I; Lorri Euler, elementary II; Lisa Edelman, moderately difficult I; Troy Messenger, moderately difficult II; Sally Kendrick, moderately difficult III; Phillip Duggins, medium class, all for piano solos.

He has recorded numerous albums and is a composer as well as performer, with symphonies performed by the Philadelphia Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic to his credit as well as shorter pieces.

For a time he left music for study of psychology, earned his Ph. D. degree, taught and lectured in colleges including the University of Chicago.

Club to observe 25th birthday

Past presidents and charter members of Hereford Garden Club will be honored guests during the club's 25th Anniversary Guest Day activities Friday in the home of Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, 557 W. Fifteenth Street.

Co-hostesses are Mrs. V. W. Hennon and Mrs. Bruce Burney.

Past presidents still active in the club are Mmes. Bartlett, Deward Roberson, Ansel McDowell, Charles Noland, and L. H. Lookingbill.

Others are Mmes. Maurice Vocal soloists from Friona who rated Superior were Nancy Martinez, intermediate, class I; Carolyn Murphree, mezzo II, junior.

Mrs. Carl Wimberley of the Dawn Music Club, Festival chairman for this section in District I, TFMC, was in charge of arrangements for the annual meet, assisted by other members of her club and the Music Study Club of Hereford.

Judges, Mrs. Allen Casler of Hereford, Mrs. Frank Scott, Mrs. Thomas Hambrick and Robert Goodnow of Amarillo, were entertained at lunch in the Civic Club Center, arranged by Mrs. A. O. Thompson.

Tannahill, E. W. Hopson, R. N. Lamar, Robert Veigel, Carol Whiteside, Forrest Minton, O. M. Dickey, George Graham, Townsend Douglas, Lloyd Pool, B. E. Roberson, Westlie Owen, J. Howard Walker, E. W. Young, and W. S. Kerr.

Mrs. Tom Carter will present a travelogue including picture slides of her recent trip to Asia and Australia.

Leo members 'adopt' Indian girl in Oklahoma

The Hereford LEQ club has "adopted" a 12-year-old half-Cherokee Indian girl through the Christian Children's Fund Cherokee Indian Project at Park Hill, Okla.

The girl, Lola Mae McCombs, is an eighth grade student and was placed in the care of the CCF Cherokee Indian Project.

The LEQ club contacted the project office in Park Hill to apply for the "adoption" of one of the many children there. The club was just recently notified of the girls named to it.

In adopting the girl, the club will send $12 a month to the girl along with used clothing and gifts.

The CCF Cherokee Indian Project supervises more than 5,000 youngsters attending almost 60 different schools. The schools are located in northeastern Oklahoma, with the project in Park Hill as the nucleus.

New forms of staging add interest to drama

Innovations in staging and lighting for the Hereford Community Players production of the drama, The Glass Menagerie, Friday and Saturday evenings proved as interesting to the audience as the play itself. Directed by Meredith Wilcox, the drama was acted by a cast of four, Lorene Johnson, Fred Howard, Amy Gilliland and Robert Stewart. Howard also served as narrator to unify the many short scenes which made up the story.

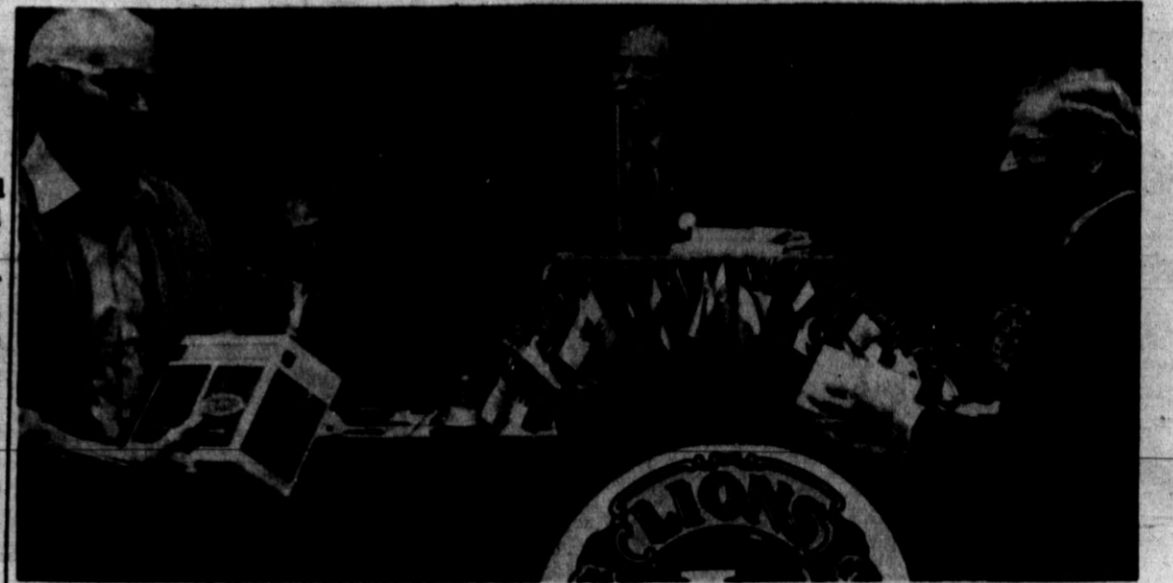

In-the-round staging was a first attempt for the local Players, and audience reaction indicated approval with the method which was well adapted to the "memory play" with its subdued lighting, background music and quiet pace.

Credit for the effectiveness goes primarily to a stage and lighting crew which actually built an intimate theater inside the Little Bull Barn, erecting flats and hanging curtains to surround the risers which held chairs and in turn surrounded the stage.

Curt Weyerman was producer and the stage-lighting crew was headed by Bobby Byers, Dale Moore and John Claypool. Lana Weyerman was chairman of props, Sylvia Emerick of costumes, Juanita Owen of sound effects. John Gilliland was make-up man.

Alice and Bill Gilliland manned the box office and Kay Claypool the coffee bar in the foyer at intermission. Polly Bulard, promotion chairman, was responsible for posters heralding the play.

Members of Hereford Art Guild arranged a display of their paintings in the foyer, to be viewed before curtain time and at intermission.

Area cattle losses are going to be heavy following the blizzard that hit last Sunday. What at first was thought to be minimal losses may well turn into a disaster to many area cattlemen. And it may be several days before a full assessment can be made since many of the cattle strayed miles from home pastures and a full scale round up of these strays is now in progress.

several Latin-American volun-teers who give their time working with the Clinic. And according to the information we have received, their aid has been invaluable. We too appreciate these ladies for what they have done, and we sincerely believe that their ef-forts will not be in vain.

There are now 5,623 good souls in this county eligible to vote in upcoming elections ac-cording to Deaf Smith County Tax Assessor-Collector Nell Mil-ler. This is a net gain of 177 over the figure released at the end of January, the date when registration normally ends. The additional 30 days allowed by the State for registration did some good of course, but as the above figures show, the bulk of the people who want to vote had already made their wishes known by registering before January 31. And that's probably not too bad for an off year.

Book reviewed by Mrs. Mann for Night WMS

Review of a book titled The Diakonic Task was presented by Mrs. Gerald Mann for the Night WMS of First Baptist Church at its meeting this week in the home of Mrs. Lynn Kester.

Mrs. Mann defined the word, diakonic, as "the activity of helpfulness which Christi an s render to their fellowmen," and discussed the ministry of helping as a task for the church in today's society.

Mrs. J. O. Clark conducted business and Mrs. E. W. Young read the prayer calendar for missionaries.

Refreshments were served to them and to Mmes. Tandy Legg, L. H. Lookingbill, Clarence Shultz, G.P. Owen, Cecil Ogles-by, Otis Lee, A. R. Foster,

Look who's new

Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Reyna are the parents of a son, Guada-lupe, born February 24. He weighed 5 lbs. 7 ozs.

A gold mine near Johnsville, Calif., may have been the home of America's first ski lift. In the 1890's skiers slid down the moun-tain slope there on Sundays, rid-ing up again aboard the mine's chain line ore buckets.

The peso served as a stand-ard coin in the Orient, until in the 1870's when the Unites States, Japan and Britain's As-ian colonies minted special Trade Dollars containing equal-ly high amounts of silver.

DRUG PROBLEM — John To-masi, local pharmacist, was the speaker Friday morning before members of the Whiteface Breakfast Kiwanis Club. He told them of the various drugs and what they will do to the body.

Ray Suit, who has owned and operated Suit's Auto Supply for the last 24 years, this week an-nounced sale of the organiza-tion to another long time Here-ford businessman, Dave Beavers. The company will continue to operate under its established name.

Beavers, who grew up in this community and was edu-cated at Hereford High School, has been associated with the family auto repair business at Third and Schley for many years. He will continue operat-ing Beavers Motor Company and we understand that he will name a manager for the sup-ply company.

And our congratulations to Wayne Thomas upon his ap-pointment to the chairmanship of the Texas Junior College Co-ordinating Board. This appoint-ment came as somewhat of a surprise since Thomas is a jun-ior member of the board, but we're real pleased and glad for him. Wayne has proven his cap-abilities in the field of education over the past few years and we believe he will do a superb job as chairman of the board.

We very much enjoyed the fellowship with the Chamber of Commerce group from Ober-lin, Kansas, Thursday and Fri-day and feel that local citizens have also benefited from the visit. The Kansas visitors were a very congenial bunch eager to learn everything they could about Hereford and what makes it tick. We'll bet too, that these people will never forget Here-ford and its citizens.

We have had a number of calls this week concerning the Public Health Clinic and we believe that the consensus of opinion has been that the Clin-ic is definitely needed and that it will continue to have strong support from local peo-ple in spite of the picketing. And incidentally, just to keep the record straight, there are

The fight against the weed, Canadian thistle, is as old as the United States. The weed got into America from Europe by way of Canada as seed in the horses' hay carried by General Burgoyne for his redcoat cavalry.

NATIVE TREES
FRANKFORT, Ky. — The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture says only one of five Christmas trees purchased is grown in this state, and that every type of evergreen is feasible as a native product.

LAW RECOMMENDED
FRANKFORT, Ky. — A legislative subcommittee has recommended passage by the 1972 legislature of a law requiring every policeman investigating traffic accidents to submit a report to the state Public Safety Department.

MORE PRISONERS
EVESHAM, England — A record number of more than 40,200 prisoners are serving time in English and Welsh jails, compared with more than 35,300 a year ago, W. R. Cox, director of the prison service, said in opening a new 500-capacity jail.

How to mistake a Realtor for an anybody in real estate.
It's easy. If you don't know what a Realtor is. He's not just anyone in real estate. He's the professional. The one with experience and expertise, who is pledged to the strict code of ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. If he weren't, he couldn't be a Realtor. That's good. Especially when he's working for you. Because you can relax, knowing your best interests are being taken care of, ethically, professionally. There's no better way than that, is there?

Hereford Board of Realtors
Your Realtor®
Somebody good to have working for you.
A Realtor is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local and state boards and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. You can recognize him by this seal.

SMART PIGS
LEXINGTON, Ky. — Pigs at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture have revealed a high level of intelligence during testing which may determine the quality and price of pork at local supermarkets. Animal scientists at the school say that the learning level of swine breeds can influence the quality of future litters. A U. K. team of testers also discovered that porkers rate high on the list of the more intelligent laboratory animals. They said pigs are considered superior to dogs, rats and mice in their ability to adapt to environmental changes.

La Plata captures three trophies in junior high basketball league

The La Plata Junior High Mavericks ended their 1971 basketball campaign this month with all three first place trophies in the High Plains Conference.

The ninth graders had a perfect district record of 10-0 and an overall record of 22-3. The eighth grade finished with a 8-1 conference record and a 16-10 season record for their first place trophy.

The seventh grade, had to depend on fate to receive its trophy.

La Plata, Stanton, Canyon White, Dimmitt and Tullia all tied for first place in the seventh grade division and a flip of the coin was necessary to determine the winner.

La Plata's seventh grade won the toss and the trophy.

The seventh grade team finished the year with a 6-4 conference mark and 15-8 for the season.

Representative of Cong. Bob Price will visit Friday

Charles Lanehart, district representative for Congressman Bob Price, will be in Hereford Friday to assist local residents with any problems they might have with the federal government.

Lanehart will be at the County Commissioners Court Room from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p. m.

He will be available to discuss problems of individuals and groups in the county.

"I find that with each passing year my legislative work load becomes heavier in Washington and it is becoming more and more difficult for me to be in each of the 28 counties in our district on a regular basis. For this reason, I have made arrangements for Mr. Lanehart to be in each county in the 18th District as frequently as possible, hopefully once a month," Price said.

"BED AND BOARD"
NEW YORK — Columbia Pictures' "Bed and Board," the latest film from French director Francois Truffaut, began its American premiere engagement January 29 in New York City.

Starring Jean-Pierre L aud and Claude Jade, "Bed and Board" is the third film in Truffaut's trilogy which was begun in 1969 with the highly successful, "The 400 Blows" and continued with "Stolen Kisses" in 1968.

Hereford FHA member voted to area office

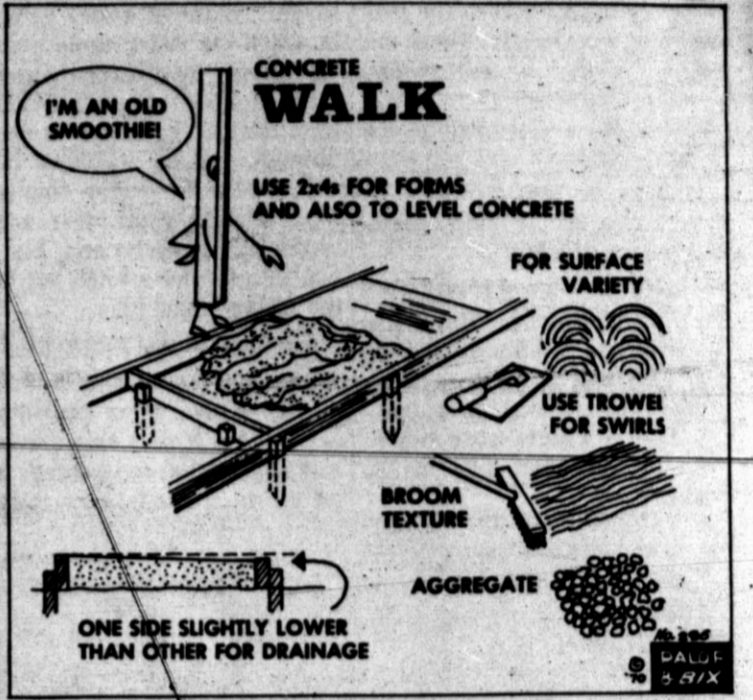

An office as a vice president of Area I, Future Homemakers of America, was won by Sandy Fry, FHA member from Hereford High School, in voting at the area convention at Lubbock Friday. Miss Fry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Fry.

She was one of a large group of FHA members from HHS, Stanton and La Plata Junior High Schools, who attended the Lubbock meeting Friday and Saturday. The delegation included sponsors and voting delegates from each FHA chapter here.

Also from Hereford were members who took part in the talent show and in singing groups, as well as the HHS Stage Band directed by Ben Gollehon. Mrs. Charles Weatherford of the local chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas, as Area I president of YHT gave a message from that organization at the first general session Saturday morning.

CHEVROLET LEADS THE WAY!
Sales Campaign now in Full Swing
Chevy trucks come back strong. (double strong!)

Select from a big stock of better-than-ever buys on totally tougher '71 Chevrolets. The buys have never been better—the trucks have never been tougher.
Double-strong pickups. You get two walls of steel where they do the most good. In the cab roof, cowl, body sills and rear wall panel. And all the way up on the cargo box on Fleetsides.
More power. Nobody can top Chevy's 400-cu.-in. V8. And they don't come any bigger than Chevy's standard 250 Six, either.
Standard front disc brakes. They give you fade resistance and longer brake life. At no extra cost.
Super Suspension for smoothest ride. Absorbs bumps and road shock at the source. Lets you ride smooth and level, even when the road's not.
Get our deals on the truck that works harder, lasts longer and costs less in the long run.

Farmer fills in unsightly gully

Most soil and water conservation practices benefit the general public indirectly. There are times when a conservation practice installed on a farm may be of direct benefit to the general public.

Such is the case on the A. C. Hays Jr. ranch 17 miles northeast of Hereford.

Through the Great Plains Conservation Program, Hays has stopped severe gully erosion on his ranch and at the same time stopped the erosion from spreading into a county road which runs on the west side of his property.

The gully was formed from several years of water erosion in which the water came across the county road through a culvert onto Hays' land. The gully, wide enough for a bus to drive through, led to a playa lake area where the water emptied. Over several years of running water, the gully became bigger and bigger and started eroding the county road area.

A bulldozer and motor grader were used to smooth and fill in the gully. After smoothing and filling, a diversion terrace was constructed to intercept the water as it came onto Hays' land. The diversion terrace will carry the water around the lake area to empty onto grassland without causing erosion.

The area where the gully was, will be seeded to grass. Hays said the gully, besides being of damage to his land and the county road, had become an eyesore to him. He did not like the sight of the ugly gully on his land, but since the work with the Great Plains Conservation Program, he said another value has been added to his land — that of preserved beauty.

Herbert C. Hoover received 84 honorary degrees.

CARD OF THANKS

WE Wish to express our thankfulness for the kindness of our loved ones, friends and neighbors who sent cards, food, flowers and offered words of comfort during the passing of our beloved Mother and Grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Hawkins

Also our appreciation to Dr. McBrayer, Bro. Prentice Smith of the Greenwood Baptist Church, the Gilliland Funeral Home and especially to Mr. Charles Watson for his kind assistance. May God bless each of you.

Great Wall of China is 1,684 miles in length.

A bicycle built in 1898 could seat 10 people.

THE BEFORE — Steady run off onto a portion of the A. C. Hays ranch northeast of Hereford created this huge gully big enough to park a school bus in. The run off also was causing erosion of the county road.

AND THE AFTER — After assistance from the Great Plains Conservation Program, the huge gully on the Hays farm was covered over and a large diversion terrace was constructed to handle the run off water.

Our Story: EACH EVENING PRINCE VALIANT GOES TO THE WASTELAND TO WATCH THE BATS. HE IS SEARCHING FOR MERLIN'S CAVE AND, KNOWING THAT BATS LOVE CAVES, HOPES THEY WILL LEAD HIM TO IT.

THEN ONE EVENING HIS PATIENCE IS REWARDED. FROM AN OUTCROPPING OF ROCK THE BATS APPEAR. IT IS BECOMING TOO DARK TO EXPLORE A CAVE, SO VAL PLANS TO RETURN ON THE MORROW. AS HE TURNS TO LEAVE, A TALL FIGURE RISES FROM AMONG THE GORSE.

"I HAVE BEEN WATCHING YOU, SIR VALIANT, AND KNEW YOU WOULD EVENTUALLY FIND MY CAVE," SAYS THE MAN, "AND YOU DO WELL NOT TO ENTER WITHOUT MY INVITATION."

HE IS CALM AND COURTEOUS AND HIS WORDS CARRY NO THREAT. "COME FOLLOW ME," THEN WITH A SMILE, "YOU NOW HAVE MY INVITATION." THE CAVE IS SPACIOUS AND HIS HOST HANGS A HIDE OVER THE ENTRANCE BEFORE HE LIGHTS CANDLES AND STIRS UP THE FIRE.

"MY NAME IS LIONORS AND I, TOO, WAS MERLIN'S PUPIL, EVEN BEFORE KING ARTHUR WAS BORN. IN THESE PARTS THE NAME OF MERLIN IS REVERED MORE THAN THE SAINTS OR EVEN THE HIGH KING. SO IT IS NOT STRANGE THAT YOU AND YOUR DEEDS ARE A PART OF MERLIN'S SAGA. NOW, WHY DO YOU SEEK HIS CAVE?"

VAL REPLIES: "I WAS THE LAST TO SEE HIM ALIVE. ON THE EDGE OF BODMIN MOOR IN CORNWALL, NIMUE, THE WATER-MAIDEN, SAID, 'FOLLOW ME' AND MERLIN, IN HIS DOTAGE AND BESOTTED WITH LOVE, FOLLOWED HER OUT INTO THE STORM AND VANISHED."

"I HAD HOPED HE MIGHT HAVE RETURNED TO HIS CAVE AND LEFT SOME EVIDENCE THAT MIGHT GIVE HOPE HE STILL LIVES."

JUST BEFORE DAWN LIONORS ARISES AND UNCOVERS THE ENTRANCE AND THE BATS RETURN WITH TINY SQUEAKS AND A RUSTLE OF WINGS. FINALLY EACH FINDS ITS PLACE ON WALL OR CEILING AND ALL IS QUIET AGAIN.

THE 70 SUO

HELLOISE

DEAR HELOISE: About five years ago my son received a bag to hold his baseball equipment, and it is still in constant use. I think this would be a nice gift for a Little Leaguer or any boy interested in baseball (and aren't they ALL?). Easy and inexpensive for mothers and grandmothers to make...

Use pillow ticking (a piece three feet long) and trim it in red felt. There are four pockets for balls, a larger pocket for the cap, a still larger one for the glove, baseball shirt, socks or extra cap.

Finish with a clothes hanger placed in the top of the bag opening by which to hang this "catch-all" bag.

Mrs. John Keane

You just made a "home run" with that nifty idea, gal! Can't you see a little boy's eyes beam with delight over such a personalized bag for that precious equipment? You'll be a hit with him forever!

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: One of the handiest little gadgets I have at my house is an old hairbrush that was discarded and then later retrieved and put to good use after a thorough cleaning. I have found so many ways to use it. I use it when cleaning barbecue grills, upholstery in the home and in the car, spots on the carpets and rugs, and it can't be beaten when giving the dog a bath.

I have found a thousand ways to use it, and the reason it's so handy is because of the handle.

Mrs. L. H.

PARAKEET TREAT

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered something I think is very great for anyone who has a parakeet. This morning I wanted to clean my bird's cage and wondered what to do with him while I was at it. Here was my solution: I placed his cage tray on the kitchen counter, set him on it and put my plastic colander over the top. It's tall enough to give him lots of room and the holes in the colander allow him plenty of air.

I then proceeded to clean his entire cage and this way he was not frightened by the commotion.

Ginny D.

WHAT A BOON

DEAR HELOISE: I was going to throw away my last year's boots, as they smelled rather badly. But at the last moment I decided to spray them with a disinfectant deodorant spray. After I had allowed it to dry, I found the unpleasant odor had gone, so I'll be able to wear them again this year.

Mrs. M. Fitzgerald

BAKER'S DOZEN

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a quickie if you bake rolls a lot... Roll out your dough, shape your rolls, then fill that sticky mixing bowl with hot water and set your covered pan of rolls on top of it.

In jig time your rolls are ready for the oven and your bowl is easy to wash.

Jennie Bleazard

A HOT IDEA

DEAR HELOISE: With a "too thin" coat and an overly large figure, I could find no inner lining of any type that would fit me.

Then I thought of trying to use an old quilted house-robe. Eureka! It worked.

I just ripped the lining at the cuffs, pulled it out and inserted the robe sleeves. Tacked robe here and there down the front and back of neck and shoulders. Then put back the coat lining and restitched at the cuffs.

Absolute fit... and I'm snug as the proverbial bug in a rug!

Mrs. T. S.

PANTYHOSE SPECIAL

DEAR HELOISE: To check your manicured nails and cuticles for rough spots, use an old nylon stocking.

Just run your hand into the old stocking and you will "feel" the rough spots catch.

It's better than snagging a brand-new pair of hose!

Reader

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: The other day I got a package of "stuff" with no directions on how to open it. Heavens... one could starve to death!!

Mrs. R. Smith

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

ALL HUNG UP

DEAR HELOISE: When washing draperies made of glass fibers, I hang them as you would at the window in order to let the water run off.

Then I take clip-type clothespins, straighten the pleats out on top, and clip the pleats all the way from the top on down.

When dry and rehung, you have your pinch pleats in.

Elberta Wade

MARSHMALLOW TIP

DEAR HELOISE: A great-grandmother sent you a quick marshmallow roast for the little ones (to toast marshmallows on crackers). We add a bit to ours this way...

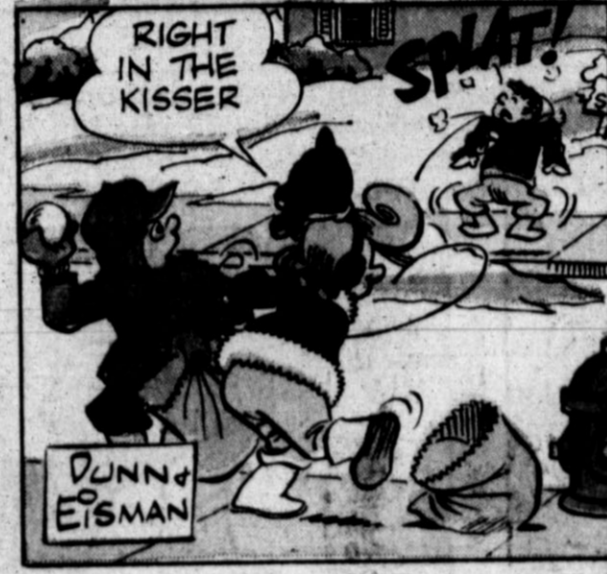

On a graham cracker place squares of chocolate bar (the same size as the cracker) and top with a marshmallow. Then broil just until the marshmallow browns to your liking.

We call these "s'mores" because our grandchildren demand "some more and some more and some more!"

CAN YOU TRUST your eyes? There are six differences in details between the top and bottom panels above. How quickly can you point out what these differences are? Answers below.

Differences: 1. Dog's tail is shorter. 2. Pupling is missing. 3. Cap is altered. 4. Keyhole is repositioned. 5. Dog's nose is repositioned. 6. Word 'CANDY' is repositioned.

Hal Kaufman's JUNIOR WHIRL

Take a Chance?

TO WIN at the wheel of chance above you must be lucky 20 out of 21 times. But don't let that discourage you. Beginning with any number on the wheel, call that number "1," and count 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., clockwise. When your count agrees with the number met, cross out that number; call the next number 1 and proceed as before. Object is to eliminate 20 of 21 numbers as described.

- ORANGE AID? How fast can you peel an orange? A Spanish restaurant owner, using a knife and fork, claimed a record of 12.5 seconds. How fast can you do it by hand?
 - The slogan, ad astra per aspera - to the stars through difficulties - seems an appropriate motto for enterprising spacemen. But it is already the motto of a Midwestern state. Which state? It is the motto of the state of Kansas.
 - Sun Fun: Discover a number containing two zeros which will be doubled by adding 14 to a quarter of it. P.S.: It's tricky. The number is eight (we told you it was tricky).
 - "How often do you stutter?" asked the doctor. What was the patient's reply? "Only when I talk."

Adrian news

By ANN BEAVERS
Wallace D. Foy, Management trainee of the Adrain Wheat Growers, is attending an animal health course this month at Farmland Industries School in Kansas City, Mo.

Farmland Industries School is the center of training for employees of local cooperatives from throughout mid-America. Students are selected by local managers and sent to the center, where they are trained to better serve the members of the local cooperatives that own Farmland Industries.

The school is a modern facility situated on a 24-acre wooded campus about ten miles north of downtown Kansas City. Forty different subjects are taught at the school, involving nearly 2,000 students per year. Instructors for the classes are specialists in feed, fertilizer, petroleum, farm supplies and other products.

Mr. and Mrs. Foy recently moved to Adrian from Lake Charles, La., where they both were raised. While Foy was attending school for four weeks, Mrs. Foy visited in Lake Charles with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fortie, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Foy. He flew down for the weekend and brought her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Williams and boys of Amarillo spent Saturday thru Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Betts and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fortenberry spent the weekend in Abeline with Patty Fortenberry.

Stephine Brown of Clovis spent the weekend with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown.

Mr. Robert Wiggins of San Diego, Calif. suffered a heart attack last Monday and is in serious condition. He is the father of Mrs. Keith Kromer.

Gene and Bobbie Moore of Abilene and formerly of Adrian are the musicians for the Challenge for Living crusade held all this week in Hereford. The services are held 7 p.m. daily at the First United Methodist Church and every 7 a.m. with breakfast at the First Christian Church. Special singing every night.

Rev. Ed Robb, Evangelist, Rev. Cliff Trotter, First United Methodist, Rev. Gene Brink, First Christian, Rev. Bill Ray, church of the Nazarene, Rev. Don McWhorter of the Wesley United Methodist, will be conducting the services. There is a nursery provided and all denominations are invited to attend. It started Sunday the 21st and will last thru Sunday the 28th.

Mrs. Billie Morell spent Friday thru Monday in Levelland with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barker and boys.

Mrs. Emma Whaley of Marlow, Oklahoma passed away

Sunday. She was the mother of Dean, Doug and John Whaley.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bronnman are staying in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Franks in Amarillo, while they are visiting their daughter Twilla and her family in Perfection, Kansas for a week.

Debbie Wagner of Vega visited during the weekend with Mrs. Claudia Loveless and Tommy and Larry.

The Adrian boys district tournament was held at Adrian Thursday and Friday.

Claude Mosteller of Stigler, Okla., suffered a heart attack and died Friday. He was a cousin of Mrs. Clara Cruhlyk and Mrs. Stella Horton. The funeral was held Tuesday morning.

The Caprock 4-H cooking fourth and fifth year groups met in the Home Ec. room Wednesday afternoon. They made Pig in the Blankets and Grape Crush.

Girls attending were Sherri Webb, Leann Warren, Brenda Wilson, Resmita Wilson, Sandra Webb and Sherry Blankenship. The leaders that are helping these girls are Cherri Betts, Susan Webb and Jan Cavin.

Mrs. Daisey Harrington of Bradley, Okla. was here Sunday morning to pick up her two dogs that got away from them, Sunday a week ago, 12 miles west of Adrian at the Road side park. Pudd Gruhlkey found them Saturday at his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fuller of near San Diego, Calif. spent a week in the extra trailer house at Stuckey's Candy Shop due to an accident wreck they had last Sunday west of Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Gruhlkey and Jay of Amarillo visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. George Gruhlkey.

No School at Adrian, Monday due to the snow.

Sgt. Larry Pridmore of Fort Ord, California is here for a week with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pridmore and Linda. Sgt. Pridmore will then report to Fort Banning, Ga.

The Adrian P. T. O. will meet Monday night in the School Auditorium. The program is by Mr. John Perry of the United States Public Health Service. That is also Public Service Week. Following the P. T. O. Meeting there will be Open House. Hostess for the night will be Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wood, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Engle, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cavin, Mr. and Mrs. Brub Beavers, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rusk and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Zaring.

Thursday and Friday is the area FHA Meeting in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hale and Monty took three girls to Levelland Saturday to watch the regional girls basketball tournament. The girls going were Teddi Hale, Janis Wood and Patty Zaring. The Adrian girls lost to Pollett, last Tuesday in the Panhandle Gym.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Maupin and Chad of Hereford met her

Along the Frio

Among out of town relatives and friends here for the funeral of Mrs. Earl Cole recently, were Mrs. Rodney Cluck of Rock Falls, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Brett, Mrs. Charley Murphey and Karen, all of Wichita, Kan., Miss Margaret Henderson, James Henderson, Oklahoma City, Mrs. Hugh Shaw, Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Henderson, Burk Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cole and Cory, Spearman, Kay Angeley, Lubbock, Mrs. Bob Klein, Ft. Rucker, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson, John Gentry, all of Duncan, Okla.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cole and Shane, Yuma, Ariz., Thurman Cole, Yuma, Mr. and Mrs. John Cole, Hugo, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cole and Steve, New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Don Savage and Tammy, Spearman, Mr. and Mrs. David Helfenbein and family, Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. J. Book review heard

Mrs. Bill Bradley presented a book review entitled "Family on Wheels" at a Tuesday evening meeting of Veleda Study Club in the home of Mrs. Howard Birdwell.

Author of the novel, a sequel to the Sound of Music, concerning the Trapp Family Singers, is Maria Trapp.

Mrs. Bradley said "In the adventure of faith there is no final encore because the end of one thing is the beginning of another. When God closes a door, He opens a window."

The next meeting will be March 9 in the home of Mrs. Armon Lauderback, 339 Centre.

sister Mrs. Kirby Campbell of Wellington in Amarillo, Friday and they all flew to Phoenix, Ariz., where Mrs. Maupin will have surgery Wed. to give one of her kidneys to her nephew Steven, son of Mrs. Bobbie Murphy of Phoenix.

Open house set at Northwest

Mrs. Shepard Townsend
new Women's Division head

Women's C of C has busy person as leader

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A BUSINESS partner of her husband, the new president of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Women's Division says she has filled all sorts of jobs, "from scrubwoman on up," during the years the couple have operated their own businesses.

Wilma and Shepard Townsend have a cleaning plant here, were previously in the automobile business at Amarillo and Canyon, then involved in ranch and feedlot operation in Colorado before they came to Hereford six years ago.

"At the plant I'm the extra hand; I do whatever needs somebody to do it," she explains. Fortunately, the duties concur with two of her main interests, dealing with people and working with fabrics.

SHE LIKES handling fine fabrics, studying the many different synthetic fabrics which make today's clothing and solving the problems of cleaning them.

"Problems are what our customers bring to us often," she says. "There is always a crisis, and nearly every customer thinks he has an emergency."

"Sometimes he has, like the man who stilled in, holding his coat awkwardly across his back.

On his way to a funeral he discovered a rip in his trousers, and could we fix them quick? We did, while he waited none too patiently in the dressing room. Most people aren't in quite that big a hurry!"

Impatient or not, Wilma Townsend enjoys the people she meets at work and in her duties with the Women's Division, of which she has been a member since it organized three years ago. She has served on committees and was one of the two directors of work divisions last year.

AS PRESIDENT she hopes to see its present rapid growth continued, and its programs carried out through various committees. A budget committee is a new addition, needed because of increasing demands on Women's Division funds.

"Three very competent women have held this office before me, and it's going to take a big effort for me to follow them even though they have set a pattern and shaped an organization which will function now without so much guidance," Mrs. Townsend says.

She has more time to give to civic affairs now that her daughters are grown and away from home, although she still sews some for the two daughters and for the small granddaughter who is her special pride.

The Townsends' daughters are Linda Sue Burnett of Amarillo and Kathy Townsend of Delmar, Calif.

THE FAMILY moved to Texas from Santa Monica, Calif., but Mrs. Townsend started life in this state. She was born at Royston, near Abilene, then her family moved and she attended school at Hobbs, N. M., and in California. Her business career began with part-time jobs while she was in school.

Graduated from high school during World War II, she married soon afterward and the couple called Santa Monica a home for 15 years. They came to Texas to go into business for themselves.

For recreation the Townsends like to be outdoors "around mountains and water." Both like to fish but Wilma says she likes best of all, "just to relax and rest in a peaceful place, a change from everyday living."

Most accurate clock in the world is in the Copenhagen Town Hall, Denmark, and its celestial pole motion will take 25,768 years to complete a full circle.

Questions about social security

(Have you a question about social security? Address it to: Travis C. Briggs, District Manager, Social Security Administration, 317 East Third Street, Amarillo, Texas. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.)

Q. I am 62 years old, and my husband is only 60. Can I receive benefits on his social security record now?

A. No. Your husband must be entitled to monthly benefits before you can become eligible for wife's benefits on his record.

Q. I receive social security benefits as a student. I worked last summer and I still work part time. Will I lose any benefits because of this work?

A. You will lose no benefits if your total earnings for the year do not exceed $1600. If you earn more than $1600, you will lose some benefits depending upon how much your total earnings are for the year.

Q. My daughter who is age 17 has been disabled since birth.

She and I are receiving benefits on my deceased husband's social security record. Is there any way her benefits can continue after she reaches age 18 since she does not attend school?

A. Benefits may continue after age 18 for a disabled child depending upon the severity of the condition. You should visit the social security office about 6 months before the child's 18th birthday to file a claim for disabled child's benefits.

Officers, firemen did yeoman jobs

In the wake of the blizzard that ravaged the area this past weekend comes hundreds of reports of the fine work done by our local volunteer firemen, Sheriff's Department employees and City Policemen. We would like to add our words of appreciation and support as well, and while we're at it we might also include the wonderful people at Deaf Smith County hospital who made sure that everything remained in order there.

It has become common sport over the past few years to criticize our public officials, apparently just for the sake of criticizing, and we have heard so much about discrimination, police brutality and other such garbage emitted from the mouths of those who would tear down rather than build up, that it is encouraging again to hear people say, "They have done a wonderful job in this emergency."

Actually, few people really appreciate the work of the law enforcement agencies, the volunteer firemen or our doctors and nurses — until an emergency arises and they are needed.

But we'll not belabor the point. We'll just say to each of these people... thanks for being there when you were needed.

Power to the people

But the idea that the federal government generally is cleaner and more efficient than local governments deserves careful examination. It is a sweeping generalization and doesn't hold up well under close scrutiny.

There are some 80,000 local governmental units in the United States and they employ over twice as many people as the federal government. Their biggest job, running public schools, ranks only behind national defense as the nation's most costly public enterprise.

In local government — running schools, police forces, fire departments, garbage crews and the like — failures usually are highly visible. Incompetency in managing the national debt by the U.S. Treasury might go unnoticed for years, but no mayor is likely to be complacent for long if the garbage isn't being picked up.

Where there is intense public interest and participation, local government often is very good. Some of the nation's public schools, for example, are models of intelligent and enlightened management.

It also can be shown that some of the problems of local governments have been visited upon them by a federal bureaucracy not as much in touch with realities as they are. A good part of the pernicious crime problem of New York and other large cities is heavily attributable to heroin addicts, who rob to get the vast sums they need to buy the illegal drug. Nut narcotics and narcotics laws have for years been largely a federal responsibility, so the blame for this sorry mess must rest heavily with the federal government.

It would be hard to argue that some other federal programs, such as the redevelopment of Appalachia, have served local needs well. Even the federal government's conduct of foreign policy, which has always been within its purview, has not attracted many admirers in recent years.

President Nixon's proposals for bringing government "closer to the people" have been challenged by some Congressmen on grounds that local government, by and large, is not to be trusted.

The objection is given a certain plausible ring by examples of boodling and incompetency that have surfaced in city halls and other local power centers over the years.

The point of all this is not so much to try to prove that local government is better than national government, but that it is no more deserving of distrust. As the authors of the United States Constitution so wisely envisioned, some of the most important of government functions can be, and should be, under the control of local communities. There is less reason to fear even fairly numerous local failures than a single one perpetrated on a national scale.

Still, can it realistically be expected, after decades of expanding federal power, that the Nixon "power to the people" revolution can be achieved? Somehow, the idea that passing federal money down to lower levels is a means to that end does not ring true. A donor only gives up money, not power.

A far more convincing commitment — but alas one that would need more support from Congress than is now evident — would be the beginning of a real dismantling of federal programs that impinge heavily upon what traditionally have been local responsibilities, such as education.

It is not likely that this sort of thing will begin to happen soon. It is not even likely that the tokenism represented by revenue sharing will happen very soon, given the opposition it has aroused in Congress.

But if the President suspects that a public distrust of giantism is developing in this country, he is probably right. The instinct to try to break large organizations down into smaller, more controllable units, seems, in fact to be growing throughout the Western world.

President Nixon obviously perceives this better than his opponents in Congress. However, he cannot will decentralization into being; it will only come as it is increasingly demanded by the electorate. The fact that some of the nation's lawmakers are suspicious of the very concept shows how much will have to be overcome.

—The Wall Street Journal

PURSE SNATCHER

MAIN STREET, U. S. A.

It's becoming a habit to order a new count

By BERT MILLS

Washington — Counting is a virtual obsession with the Federal bureaucracy. Usually when somebody wants to count something, the job has already been done by somebody else, so what is done is to bring the old figures up to date.

Occasionally, somebody finds something that has never really been counted before, for example, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, a relatively new branch of the U. S. Department of Justice, discovered a while back that the jail population of the U. S. had never been measured accurately. So L. E. A. A. put the Census Bureau to work, and we now have a National Jail Census.

Within the next few weeks, a final report will be issued that will show there are more than 4,000 locally administered jails, and that on March 15, 1970, there were more than 160,000 incarcerated therein — more than half of them confined for reasons other than having been convicted of a crime.

Why were so many people being held without having been sentenced? Because 35 per cent of the jail population has been arraigned but were awaiting trial, and 17 per cent either were being held for other authorities or had not yet been arraigned. No wonder that so many jails are overcrowded, with less than half of the inmates being convicted serving sentences imposed by a court.

Naturally, you can't count jails or prisoners or jailkeepers until you decide how to define a jail. Do you count hospitals for the criminally insane, drunk tanks or lock-ups at police stations or sheriff's offices? No, said the Justice Department surveyors, and they also decided to exclude institutions designed for exclusive occupancy by juveniles.

So for purposes of the census, a jail is any individual facility operated by a unit of local government (a municipality or township with a population of 1,000 or more or a county) for the "detention or correction of adults suspected or convicted of a crime." To be a jail, such a facility must have authority to detain a person at least 48 hours.

Even with such a precise definition, problems remain. Connecticut, Delaware, and Rhode Island have state-operated facilities in local communities. They were excluded from the census, but jail farms or annexes which are administratively independent were counted as a separate unit if located in a different geographical area.

Another problem was the definition of "juvenile." Legal definitions and age limits vary by states. This hurdle was cleared by not attempting a Federal definition but using the local interpretation even though that means some 18-year-olds are classified as adults.

Jails are a problem almost everywhere but the census makes clear the major population centers have a disproportionate share of the inmate population. Out of more than 160,000 jailed men, women, and children, only about 4,000 were incarcerated in municipalities with a population of less than 25,000. That means 39 out of 40 inmates were jailed in cities or population centers.

Fifteen states had less than 1,000 jail inmates when the census was taken. Vermont had only 22. However, California had more than 27,000 at the top of the list, followed by New York with over 17,000 and Texas with more than 10,000. Of the total jail population of over 160,000, less than 8,000 were females and a similar number were juveniles. Over 90 per cent were men.

For every person jailed by a local jurisdiction, there are two others in state or Federal prisons. It is estimated that there are close to half a million people behind bars in the U. S. In addition, there are about 800,000 others on probation and parole.

It costs the nation $18 million per month just to pay the salaries of local jailers, even though the average salary of all full-time jail employees is only $617 per month. Other costs raise the annual bill for operation of local jails to $324 million.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

WRONG HOLIDAY — Texans will celebrate March 3 as their Independence Day, but the declaration actually wasn't signed until March 3.

A Texas blue northern, accompanied by rain and hail, had chilled the crude 25 by 50-foot frame building at Washington-on-the-Brasos to 38 degrees when George C. Childress called the delegates to order at 9 a.m. on March 1, 1836. They elected Richard Ellis of Peach Point as president of the convention and appointed Childress head of the committee to draw up a Declaration of Independence from Mexico.

The next day, March 2, Childress read the Declaration — a document which most historians believe that he had written long before arriving at the convention. It severed Texas' ties with Mexico and proclaimed an independent Republic. It was adopted unanimously.

However, errors were found in the copies drawn up for signing and the meeting was recessed so they could be corrected. As a result, the Declaration of Independence actually was not signed until March 3.

HOW HISTORY REPEATS — When the Williamson County courthouse needed a general overhaul a few years ago, the county officials employed an Austin architect, Charles H. Page, Jr., to oversee the job.

Page's interest in the remodeling was more than professional, however. His father designed the structure when it was built 61 years ago.

THE CHANGING TIMES — A Dallas printing company is using robots to replace live salesmen.

Entex, the printing division of Ennis Business Forms, has devised a robot 24 inches high which they mail to prospects in an attached case. When the case is opened, the robot pops up and delivers a 13-minute message from magnetic tape.

The robots — which are able to get to top executives when live salesmen often cannot — have been so successful that the firm is increasing the number that it has on the road.

FREE MOONLIGHT — Austin, which claims to be the only city in the world illuminated by artificial moonlight, paid not a whit for its famous tower lights.

In 1894, the city traded a narrow-gauge railroad that ran from Congress Avenue to a dam on the Colorado River to a Fort Wayne, Indiana, electric company that agreed to erect the towers in exchange.

Originally there were 31 of the towers, each of which illuminates an area of four blocks. Today there are still 26 in operation.

TEXAS LAG — East Texas forests may be the most beautiful anywhere, but the state can't brag too much about the variety of its native trees.

There are at least 14,000 species of the tree in the world today, but only 138 are native to Texas.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

WASHINGTON — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California is shaping up as the national leader best informed about the nature of the welfare mess and most determined to effect genuine reforms.

The Reagan approach entails a work requirement for all able-bodied persons receiving welfare assistance in California. Unfortunately, the Nixon administration is playing down such a requirement in connection with the proposed Family Assistance Plan. Instead, administration insiders are talking about increasing the scope of welfare assistance.

Richard Wilson, Washington Evening Star columnist, recently commented that Gov. Reagan believes that "the President seems to be out of touch with a national revulsion against welfare abuses and transfixed by Washington bureaucrats who have sold him on the idea of the guaranteed income idea."

As a result, the President is receiving praise in liberal quarters for the first time in his career — even as conservatives are expressing disillusionment with the administration. Joseph Alsop, a veteran Washington columnist and exponent of the liberal viewpoint on domestic issues, recently said of the President's welfare plan: "If FAP ever passes this will certainly prove to be a far more radical measure than most people suppose. The end result, in fact, will be public welfare mainly federally administered, on the pattern of the Social Security System."

Mr. Alsop rightly terms FAP "a centralizing measure." It will deprive the states of any significant degree of control over welfare. Hopes of ever reducing the welfare burden — the burden of free-loaders — will be small indeed if the administration's proposal is enacted into law.

Both administration strategists and liberal Democrats — the latter massive new food stamp programs to the FAP plan — are failing to take the public pulse on the handout issue. Sen. Lawton Chiles (D-Fla.) is one important officeholder who has taken the public pulse. In his successful election campaign last fall, he walked more than 1,000 miles and talked to countless Floridians.

"On the road," the senator recently told a capital correspondent, "I ran into a lot of the working poor — the guy who is making $3,000 to $7,000 a year. He is making it on his own and to take that away from him would be the worst thing they could do."

Sen. Chiles asserted that the Nixon administration's FAP legislation would encourage more lower-paid workers to seek welfare. He noted that people making it on their own are among the most outspoken critics of the welfare system, giving the example of a mechanic whose "veins pop out on his head when he talks about welfare."

These citizens are the forgotten Americans — forgotten by opportunists in the administration and slick headline hunters in the Senate who pose as humanitarians in a "war against hunger." The forgotten Americans — the self-reliant Americans — still have plenty of fight left in them. They undoubtedly will find leaders at the national level capable of articulating their objections to schemes designed to get the votes of the houndout hounds.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reports he has been doing some thinking about taxes this week. Some people may not agree.

Dear editor:

It doesn't make any difference what newspaper turns up out here, every one of them will have an article or two about the dire necessity of finding a new source of tax revenue.

All levels of government are desperate for new tax money, cities, towns, counties, states, Washington. State governments alone right now are hunting ways to raise over six billion dollars in new revenue. That's 15 per cent more than the 48 billion they raised last year. In Washington the story is even worse.

I have been wracking my brain to find a new source of government revenue, knowing that if you leave it up to most office-holders they'll just come up with an increase in the old taxes, apparently believing that for example raising the sales tax a penny or so constitutes original thinking, or maybe cutting the property tax rate 2 per cent and raising property valuations 50 per cent is a new idea.

But I have actually found a new source of government revenue that won't cost tax payers a cent. It's simple: charge all office-holders office rent.

You take a Congressman. He's now making $42,000 a year, plus free postage and free stationery, plus an allowance for travel and telephones, and pays nothing to heat or cool his office or to even have it cleaned up.

Surely he could pay a little office rent. You take say a lawyer and guarantee him $42,000 a year and he'd be delighted to pay his own office rent. He's doing it now, frequently on less. The same goes for most professions and businesses. I know there are some millionaires in Congress, and if they all paid office rent you can see the revenue throughout this country but it's a pretty good sized figure, but I know also there are a lot of Congressmen who're making more in Congress than they could out. Why couldn't they all pay some office rent?

Now I don't know how many office holders there are throughout this country but it's a pretty good sized figure, and if they all paid office rent you can see the revenue would mount up.

Furthermore, since the people after all are the landlords, whenever office-holders raised their salaries, all we'd have to do to hold our own is raise their rent.

If you think this idea is sound, you promote it. I'm afraid to. I don't want Judge Williams and President Nixon both mad at me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The price of dependence

WESTERN OIL companies are now facing another showdown with Mid-East rulers—this time the Libyans. It is an appropriate time for Americans to take another look at government restrictions in this country that have reduced incentives for the development of our own domestic oil and gas reserves.

Our national economy and our standard of living are dependent on our energy supplies. And 75 per cent of our energy is drawn from oil and natural gas. Yet liberals in Congress and in the courts have succeeded over the years in placing a number of crippling restrictions on the growth of our domestic petroleum production.

Though this would appear to be economically suicidal, the champions of these restrictions have claimed that the U. S. could do far better to depend on imported oil. They have shrugged off warnings that the U.S. must not rely on oil supplies that can be cut off in wartime. When American oilmen have warned that cheaper imported oil won't remain so cheap once the exporting countries realize their customers are (See THE PRICE, Page 6)

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to address my letter to the person who wrote about me in the Brand a few days ago.

In the first place you have your information all wrong because the El Chicano Habla Organization has nothing to do with this. It never did and it never will. I don't know where people got this idea. I never said this picketing was being backed by the Organization.

As for hurting "our race", I don't think it will be me or people like me that will hurt. What hurts us are hypocrites like you. People who say I am a "Chicano". Then when we need help, when we need to pull together to accomplish something you back down.

Also, you say I'm just a kid, that I don't even have the legal age to vote. Didn't you ever hear that the 18 year olds got the right to vote?

I don't see as how the fact that I went to WTSU has anything to do with this. Everyone is making a big deal out of the fact that I went to school there.

As for my being a Big Wheel. I never claimed to be one. For that matter I never even claimed to be the leader of anything.

As everyone already knows I am the Reporter for El Chicano Habla and I just happened to be there getting some facts for our club. But, because I have the ability and the vocabulary to speak and get my point across, I was asked to talk to the reporters. I am not trying to deny anything that I have said; I am not trying to back out of this thing either. I will stand behind everything that I have said. Like I said before I don't think I'm a Big Wheel and I never claimed to be one.

You said no one knew anything about me. That you wanted to know some of my background. You also said that I should pack what little I have and go back to Mexico where I belong. Well for your information I was born in Weslaco, Hidalgo County, Texas on October 4, 1950. I think this makes me an American citizen. Or don't tell me Texas isn't in the United States! From the time I was 4 to the time I was 9 my parents were migrants. In those five years time we travelled from state to state to work. I know what it's like. I may have been very young but I don't forget the way people looked at us or talked to us just because all that we owned were the clothes on our backs. My parents sacrificed themselves a great deal and endured hardships to send me to school. Well I finally graduated in 1969, just barely, not because of poor grades, but because my parents were so short of money I had to miss school to go work. Anyone can ask the Assistant Principal at the high school. I am sure that Coach Munnerlyn will tell you that I almost didn't go back to school for my senior year.

I did not read in your letter whether you have ever been a migrant farm laborer. I have said this many times. "If you haven't experienced it you don't know what it's like." If you have never been a migrant farm laborer you have no right to criticize anyone who has been or is a farm laborer.

You say you're a foreman. Well I am glad for you because you have accomplished something that very few Mexican-Americans can do. I will say this just start to say something against the materialistic values that everyone is trying to protect and see just how long you will have your job.

Recently Ceasar Chavez, the labor leader from California was in Austin to lend his support to a boycott on a furniture store. While in Austin Chavez had this to say, "If we pull ourselves up by our own bootstraps and turn around and help our compadres — be he black or white or Chinese — If we can do that, it could be a credit both to the movement and to our race."

This is where many of us fall, the minute we get in a stable social position we forget where we came from. I could leave Hereford and get a good job somewhere. Don't you think I could do what you have done? Forget that I or my parents have worked 9 or 10 hours in the hot sun to make a living! I could do this but I could never live with myself knowing that my people are still out in the fields.

By showing that we are united I don't mean that everyone should carry a picket sign, that is not necessary. I mean by your actions and words and by letting people know that you're willing to help.

In your letter you say, "Some white women give one day of their free time to help in any way in the clinic. So far I haven't known of any Mexican-American woman to give one day of their free time to aid in any way." I would like to ask where you got your information. Before you make any statements you should be sure you are right. Check at the Clinic and find out just how wrong you are.

You say that we just want to see America go down in a hole. Once again you are wrong my friend. I am an American citizen just like you and a few million other people, and I am concerned about what happens.

This is my way of showing my concern, when something goes wrong. The nature of your letter reminds me of something I read in my Government book. It goes like this: Americans say, "This is a free country." But Americans also say, "If they don't like it why don't they leave." The book also said this, "Americans say, Everyone is created equal; but, "Americans also say, the trouble with Mexicans and Negroes is that they don't know their place."

This is Equality? If everyone is equal why won't anybody listen to us instead of just saying that the matter is closed.

In answer to the other letter that appeared in the Brand you say the Spanish-Americans were a proud race. We still are. I know that there a great many who always have their hand out. This is another thing we are trying to stop, but before we do we have got to get people to listen to us when we have a complaint. As it is now no one wants to listen to our side of the story. It makes you wonder if the ones that were fired had been white, would the people be more ready to listen to this complaint?

You said the Spanish people get better wages and better living conditions than elsewhere. This may be true but take a close look at these conditions and ask yourself if you would live the way these people do.

I for one agree that our tax money is being misused but not entirely. What's happening now is just like what happened with the negro. At first everyone was glad to have some surplus labor.

Former resident of India speaks

From the viewpoint of one who has lived in modern India, a talk on Historic India was given to Calliopean Study Club Thursday evening, one program in its season-long study on The Great Ages of Man.

Mrs. Vernon Swanson, was hostess for the meeting. The speaker was a club member, Mrs. Gene Parsley, who grew up in India as a member of a British family in the years just preceding the separation of India from British rule.

In an informative talk, Mrs. Parsley defined historic India as "not a country but a culture, one of the oldest on earth." She said this culture consists of a religion and a mode of living

Then it became a problem because of a shortage in jobs. What do you suggest we do? Should we just stop all Public Welfare programs and let the people starve? Or what else should we do? Should we send everyone back to Mexico? If we did that where would all of the ideology behind the Constitution be? I grant you these are problems but there is no quick solution to them.

Respectfully, Manuel F. Gallegos

Silver wedding day is marked

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ruland, 223 Ave. B, was marked with a family dinner party Tuesday evening, attended by their children and other relatives in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ruland.

Married February 23, 1946, in the Methodist parsonage here, the couple lived in Hereford during the 25 years of their marriage. Mrs. Ruland is the former Miss Frankie White.

An anniversary cake, decorated in pink and white with a wedding bell design, featured the dinner menu. The Rulands' children are Roger, David, Vickie, Becky and Timmy. Also present at the dinner were Mrs. Roger Ruland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ruland and children, Shelly and Robin, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ruland and children, Cody and Clinton, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ruland.

dependent on it, our liberal consumers champions have hoted them down.

TODAY THE other major industrial powers in Western Europe and Japan are almost totally dependent on oil imported from the Mid-East. Now the Libyan military government is demonstrating how this dependence can be used by exporting countries to demand higher and higher prices from customers.

Libyan production alone supplies about a third of Western Europe's requirements. Though the American-owned companies that produce most Libyan oil have offered Libya the same increased prices recently won by Mid-East countries, plus extra money for the fact that Libyan oil is nearer the market, the Libyan rulers are holding out for far more.

Only last fall, according to a report on The News' oil page, Libya's rulers gained a large price increase plus another boost in taxes already topping 50 per cent. Now they want another raise in prices, another 5 per cent in taxes and a 69-cent-a-barrel bonus for the nation's location near the markets. Some experts have estimated the cost of this package at an extra $800 million, and the oil countries are said to be prepared to resist the new demands even at the cost of a shutdown.

IT HAS BECOME clear that dependence on imported oil is a handicap not only in times of war and political unrest, but at any time that the rulers of the oil countries are determined to charge more than the traffic will bear.

As these countries continue to exploit their advantage, the price of the "cheap" imported oil becomes less and less of a bargain, economically. Dependence on oil supplies that can be cut off easily by foreign states has never been a good bargain from the standpoint of national security.

We now face a national energy gap because demand is outracing supply. Isn't it about time that we remove incentive-killing restrictions that have hobbled the men and companies who develop our own oil and gas supplies? Granted that many liberals get great ideological satisfaction out of bashing the oilman, is this game worth making our country increasingly dependent on oil controlled by foreign governments? — The Dallas Morning News

VISITOR FROM JAPAN — Kayo Wakai has been a recent visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin, 204 Northwest, who were the American "parents" of her sister, Machiyo Wakai, six years ago when Machiyo attended Hereford High School as an American Field Service student. A guest at the FHA banquet last weekend, Miss Wakai wore the traditional Japanese kimono, right, but she is more at home in the smart school dress, left, as she chats with Mrs. Martin.

Girl from Japan

Sister of AFS student visits

Younger sister of a student from Japan who came to Hereford in the American Field Service program six years ago, Kayo Wakai, herself a student this year in Gruver High School, visited last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin, 204 Northwest.

The Martins acted as Machiyo Wakai's American parents the year she spent in Hereford High School and were pleased at the opportunity to entertain her sister. Kayo, a high school senior at Gruver, lives in the home of Mrs. Beulah Jones in that North Panhandle city.

She is not an AFS student as Machiyo was, but came to America under arrangements made by Mrs. Jones as a friend who invited her to spend the school year with her.

The Gruver woman had become acquainted with the older sister, and on a trip to Japan last year visited her, met her sister and was so well impressed that she began at once with plans to bring her to Texas.

Kayo says she is enjoying her school days at Gruver and, after hearing her sister's accounts of life on the Texas Plains is finding school much as she had expected.

Like most persons who come from other countries, she was handicapped at first by inadequacies in her "schoolbook English". She has made fast progress in colloquial use of the language, and laughs now as she tells of thinking she had reached her destination, Amarillo, when her plane landed in Albuquerque on the trip over.

Her small knowledge of Southwestern cities is more than matched by West Texans' general ignorance of her home, Gifu City, which is actually an important Japanese city with a population of more than a million.

Her sister, who became acquainted with many Hereford residents, is now married to a medical student and is herself studying law in a Japanese university.

Paul Scott gets new Holly job

Paul Scott, an agriculturist at Hereford's Holly Sugar factory, has been appointed agronomist for the Hereford factory district, Glen W. Yeager, vice president-agriculture, announced Saturday in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The change will become effective March 1.

Yeager said that Scott's primary responsibility will be on beet quality improvement in this important growing area.

Scott joined Holly as an apprentice fieldman at its Worland, Wyo., factory following graduation in 1953 from Colorado State University. He also worked in Montana as an agriculturist from 1955 until 1964 when he was transferred to Hereford as associate agronomist.

Scott and his wife, Lois, and four daughters live at 125 Aspen Street.

Glady's Garden
By Gladys Howton Manjeot

The other morning I was in the back yard stirring the soil around the tulips, and daffodils. Was real pleased to see the nice formed buds on the daffodils, and that there was a real good stand of tulips. Think most every bulb came up.

After a while I went to the grape hyacinths, and while working around them I found a beautiful iris in bloom. The bloom was on one, of the collection of Mixed-Species-Mixed (which is a new iris for we gardeners). The color was a rich purple, and the throat had a mixture of gold on it. Very beautiful iris. One of the nice things about this kind of iris is that they like very little room, as they grow very low.

The foliage is similar to other iris, yet it is very miniature. This bloom really gave me a thrill, and as I approached the house I found another pretty blossom, this one was a daffodil, and as usual it made me realize that perhaps spring was not far off. Surprises like these fill the heart of a gardener with happiness, and makes the day a lovelier day.

For the past two weeks or more we have been meeting some of the new introductions of the flower world for 1971. For the benefit of the new gardeners, I feel I should define annuals and perennials, since we have been and are going to continue to learn of the new introductions.

An annual is a plant that normally completes its outdoor cycle of growth in one year. (The area in which they are grown plays a large part in their growth habits, some grown here as annuals would be a perennial in another area. Much depends on the conditions. For example the petunia is an annual here, and would be defined as a perennial in a southern climate, as they would winter through.)

A perennial is a plant that lives, blooms and seeds more than two years. Some plants societies include in this group, perennial bulbs, such as tulips, hyacinth, etc. In some areas they must be lifted each year, because of soil and climatic conditions, therefore would be classified as an annual. Trees and shrubs are hard-wooded perennials. Rosa (roses) are listed as shrubs, in the plant dictionary.

A number of perennials are listed in the New Introductions for 1971.

There are four new peonies, and each will add beauty to our gardens. They are "Honshu Dawn", a Japanese type. Vibrant deep rose color with self colored filaments. Blossoms average 6 1/4 inches across, and the foliage is rich and full.

Height of plant is unusual, and blooms produced are numerous. "Yellow Dream", is soft yellow in color, and blossoms have a nice fragrance.

Large 9 inch blossoms. "Osaka Flame", another Japanese type, in Rose-pink color. Attractive center accented by the gold petals. Long graceful stems, for the luxurious blooms, which are adaptable for arranging.

Another new friend in the Peony family is the Hybrid peony, "Yellow Heaven." It is a result of the crossing of the tree peony with herbaceous peony. Double flowers, sweet fragrance, exceptionally large sized blossoms, growing on a sturdy stem of rugged texture. Is a Japanese development.

(The Japanese types are one of my favorites. Exceptionally good for corsages, and makes beautiful oriental or line arrangements.)

Two new iris. Their names are real interesting. One is called, "Lovely Ripples", it is a tall bearded iris with light wisteria-violet fluted blooms, well spaced on the stem. The other one is named, "Fiery Furnace", and the color goes well with the name as it is a brilliant hot yellow. It too is a tall bearded iris. Good characteristics listed, are; non-fading, ruffled, swirled. Blossoms with good branching.

Both of these will appeal to the Garden Club members as they have characteristics of good flower show material.

The chrysanthemum growers will be glad to know that there is an new Anemone type, in the introductions. It is called "Angel Face". Has delicate lavender-pink with pin-cushion centers, grown on a busy plant 20 inches high. Early bloomer. "Lolo" is an exhibition type.

Traits are long stiff stems, sturdy strong plants, and produces blend of chamols, fawn dark ivory blossoms. It too blooms early September.

"Autumn Glory" is a garden type chrysanthemum, listed as F hybrid. Can be started from seeds. Plants are swart, growing approximately 6 inches in height. Comes in a riot of lovely fall colors, and these produce full size semidouble or double blossoms.

The annuals outdid the perennials in number, of New Introductions, but am sure the perennials will be lovely to grow and add interest and beauty to any garden.

Next week we will meet the new vegetable introductions, and start planning for some tasty edibles.

Oldest surviving working clock in the world is that dating from at least 1308. It is at Salisbury Cathedral, Wiltshire England.

Dear Editor:
God-fearing people do know that the use of the Lord's holy name in vain is becoming widespread among the people. Almighty God, creator of all that is seen and unseen, command man to revere His holy name. Let those guilty of this sin repent, that we may receive God's blessing which may come to us in the form of rain.

Let us in particular, during this season of Lent, rededicate our lives to Him through our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Name on file.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:
I am writing this in reference to the picketing that has been going on here in Hereford. Before I can say any more, I would like to make it clear to you that I am a Chicana myself, and I am not against my own race. We are discriminated in some things, but I do think this whole thing is ridiculous. I think that Mrs. Pat Barber did what she should have done months ago. Like she said, these two nurses (or rather one of them) did have a poor attitude and sometimes they didn't seem to care how they did their duties. I say this because we went to the Public Health Clinic to get shots and I didn't like the way we were treated by these two so-called nurses. I would rather have had Mrs. Barber see us.

It said in the paper that this picketing was going on because these two women were fired for no reason. Well, I think they were doing this because the women were Chicanas and were fired by an Anglo-American. They didn't seem to care about the way these two women had treated their patients (some, even of their own race), just as long as they got back at Mrs. Barber.

These people that are demonstrating for their rights should understand that to have these rights you have got to earn them. It comes down mainly to these two individuals that want to work at the clinic. To keep their jobs, they should do them properly, have good conduct and obey the orders from their superiors.

These people should appreciate this free clinic was put up especially for us.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Good (But Foolish) Samaritan

Farmer Green was standing near a highway crossing when he saw a car run a red light, bounce off a truck, and land in the ditch. Green ran over. Finding the car on its side, with the driver trapped and injured, he managed to lift it upright.

Unhappily, he also managed to strain his own back. Later, after the first few doctor bills, the farmer decided to seek damages from the man he had saved.

"It was his original bad driving that led to my injury," Green reasoned in court.

"But he took his own chances in coming to my rescue," countered the motorist. "If the car was that heavy, he should have gone for help. I appreciate his effort, but I am not liable for his bad judgment."

Nevertheless, the court upheld the farmer's claim, because his injury was indeed a direct result of the motorist's negligence. As for any "bad judgment," the court said a Good Samaritan could not be expected to show perfect prudence under the stress of an emergency.

Generally speaking, because of a Samaritan's good motives, his conduct is judged with extra tolerance. This is true even if there is no real emergency at all. Take this case:

A faulty freezer in a hotel kitchen began to leak fumes of ammonia. One of the waiters, fearing for the cook's safety, rushed to her aid. But in his haste, he suffered a painful fall.

When he sought damages afterward for his injury, the hotel management pointed out that at no time had the cook been in any real danger. Yet the waiter won a judgment, because there had

VA sets interest rate for mobile home GI loans

The rate of interest on GI loans to buy mobile homes has been set at 10.75 per cent, the Veterans Administration has announced.

Purchase of mobile homes under the GI loan program was authorized for the first time by the Veterans Housing Act of 1970, and Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson says that 20,000 veterans are expected to make purchases during the first year of the program.

been at least enough appearance of danger "to excite a person of ordinary humanitarian instincts to take action."

Still, the law does draw a line when the Samaritan's action is not only risky but downright reckless. In another case, a woman was killed by a train when she tried to snatch her dog from in front of an oncoming express.

Was the railroad legally liable for her death? A court said no. The judge held that with danger so obvious, and with no human life at stake, she had taken a risk that could not reasonably be justified.

ENOUGH FOR DRINKS
VANDEBILJ PARK, South Africa — Enough money for a bit of marijuana and a bottle of brandy. That was all crane driver Pieter Bouwer Schutte willed his eldest son John when he died. Schutte stipulated that the remainder of the estate be divided among three other children — apart from Rands 50 ($70) which he wanted spent on drinks for every man attending his funeral.

Rebecca Kay Lowrey to wed Ronnie Roberts

Wedding planned

The approaching spring marriage of Miss Rebecca Kay Lowrey of Knox City to Ronnie Dale Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Roberts of Hereford, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lowrey, also of Knox City.

The bride-elect is a 1967 graduate of Knox City High School and is earning a BBA in business education from Texas Tech University. She is active in Campus Advance, is vice-president of the National Collegiate Association for Secretaries, holds membership in Phi Gamma Nu and Pi Omega Pi, national and professional business honoraries, and is on the Dean's Honor List.

Miss Lowrey is currently student teaching at Cooper Rural High School in Lubbock. Her fiancé is a 1964 graduate of Hereford High School and a 1967 graduate of Lubbock Christian College.

While at LCC, Roberts was a member of the LCC varsity baseball team, served as vice president of Meistersingers Musical organization and Kohna Social Club, and was on the Dean's Honor Roll. He received his BBA in Personnel Management from Texas Tech last year and was active in the Society for the Advancement of Management. He is presently serving in the United States Army at Ft. Polk, Louisiana.

Blizzard delays club's meeting

Postponed from Tuesday to Thursday evening to avoid aftereffects of the weekend blizzard the meeting of Young Mothers Study Club this week was held in the home of Mrs. Don Samuels, with Mrs. Harvey Milton as co-hostess.

A program guest, Mrs. Joe Frank Huckert, gave instructions and short-cut hints for making and altering pants, garments which have gained a new popularity as women's wear this year.

She showed material suitable for casual and dressy pants and suits, and sketches of the various styles, saying pants should be worn as part of a complete costume with attention to appropriate accessories.

Mrs. Travis McPherson conducted routine business. The hostesses served refreshments in an informal social period.

Members present included Mmes. Burl Spears, Eugene Bladwin, Don Brush, Raymond Gerk, Paul Jones and Charles Brown.

Shower is given for bride-to-be

A compliment to a bride-elect, Miss Betsy Hine, was a shower Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Rita Hoffman. The honoree and Johnny Kuper are to be married March 27, in a double ceremony with his brother, Larry Kuper, and Miss Kay Williams.

Decorations for the shower were in blue and white, with candles and a floral centerpiece on the table where the hostesses in turn served tea.

Greeted at the door by Mrs. Hoffman, callers were received by the bride-to-be and her mother, Mrs. Rita Hoffman. The honoree and Johnny Kuper are to be married March 27, in a double ceremony with his brother, Larry Kuper, and Miss Kay Williams.

The honoree wore a velvet dress in hot pink shade, made empire style. Her corsage and those of houseparty members were white carnations.

Hostesses with Mrs. Hoffman were Mmes. Roy Smith, V. E. Hennen, Keith L. Simmer, Lester Wagner, W. J. Schumacher, Walter Kuper, Marvin Kuper, Bruce Miller, John Warren, Edward Schilling, Joe Schulte, Elmer Reinhart and Carl Last.

AIRPORT EXTENSION
SYDNEY — Work has started on the further extension into Botany Bay of the main runway at Sydney Airport. The runway is to be lengthened from 9,000 ft. to 13,000 ft. to enable long-haul supersonic and jumbo jets to operate economically. About 9 million tons of sand are to be dredged from the bottom of the bay to complete the project.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT (SJR 5)
Special Election May 18, 1971

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Article III, Section 51-a, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 51-a. The Legislature shall have the power, by General Laws, to provide, subject to limitations herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions and regulations as may be by the Legislature deemed expedient, for assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and any other services included in the federal laws as they now read or as they may hereafter be amended, providing matching funds to help such families and individuals attain or retain capability for independence or self-care, and for the payment of assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and other services to or on behalf of:

(1) Needy aged persons who are citizens of the United States or noncitizens who shall have resided within the boundaries of the United States for at least twenty-five (25) years;

(2) Needy individuals who are totally and permanently disabled by reason of a mental or physical handicap or a combination of physical and mental handicaps;

(3) Needy blind persons;

(4) Needy dependent children and the caretakers of such children.

The Legislature may prescribe such other eligibility requirements for participation in these programs as it deems appropriate.

"The Legislature shall have authority to enact appropriate legislation which will enable the State of Texas to cooperate with the Government of the United States in providing assistance to and/or medical care on behalf of needy persons, in providing rehabilitation and any other services included in the federal laws making matching funds available to help such families and individuals attain or retain capability for independence or self-care, to accept and expend funds from the Government of the United States for such purposes in accordance with the laws of the United States as they now are or as they may hereafter be amended, and to make appropriations out of State funds for such purposes; provided that the maximum amount on behalf of any needy person shall not exceed the amount that is matchable out of federal funds; provided that the total amount of State funds paid for assistance grants for needy dependent children and the caretakers of the children shall not exceed Fifty-Five Million Dollars ($55,000,000) during any fiscal year.

"Provided further, that if the limitations and restrictions herein contained are found to be in conflict with the provisions of appropriate federal statutes, as they now are or as they may be amended to the extent that federal matching money is not available to the State for these purposes, then and in that event the Legislature is specifically authorized and empowered to prescribe such limitations and restrictions and enact such laws as may be necessary in order that such federal matching money will be available for assistance and/or medical care for or on behalf of needy persons.

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, modify or repeal Section 31 of Article XVI of this Constitution; provided further, however, that such medical care, services or assistance shall also include the employment of objective or subjective means without the use of drugs, for the purpose of ascertaining and measuring the powers of vision of the human eye, and fitting lenses or prisms to correct or remedy any defect or abnormal condition of vision. Nothing herein shall be construed to permit optometrists to treat the eyes for any defect whatsoever in any manner nor to administer or to prescribe any drug or physical treatment whatsoever, unless such optometrist is a regularly licensed physician or surgeon under the laws of this State.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on May 18, 1971, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition. "The constitutional amendment removing the limitation on the total State appropriations for assistance grants for the needy aged, the needy disabled, and the needy blind, and setting a limitation on total State appropriations during any fiscal year for assistance grants for needy dependent children and the caretakers of such children."

March 31 is Medicare deadline

"March 31 is the final deadline for some to enroll in the part of Medicare which helps pay part of the doctor bills," warns Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager.

If you were born after October 1, 1902, and before October 2, 1903, this is your last chance to get this valuable protection.

Persons born in the last three months of 1903 or anytime in 1904 or 1905 and who have not enrolled before can still enroll also, Briggs said. The current enrollment period ends March 31. Those already enrolled need not enroll again.

Briggs explained that anyone reaching age 65 can sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare during a period which starts the three months before his birthday month and ending three months after that month. People who do not sign up then generally have three more chances to do so in the open enrollment period January and March of the three years following.

The current monthly premium for this coverage is $5.30 per month, increasing to $5.60 beginning in July, 1971. Late enrollees pay higher premiums. Persons born October 1, 1902, or earlier who have not previously enrolled are no longer eligible to do so.

The Amarillo social security office can help you enroll by telephone if you wish to do so. Dial 376-5151 and an enrollment form will be completed and sent to you for your signature.

Kershens attend sister's funeral

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kershens left Thursday to attend funeral services Friday morning for Sister Mary Cieta Kershens, sister of the Hereford man. The service was conducted in Sacred Heart Convent chapel at Wichita, Kan.

Sister Cieta died Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital at Enid, Okla., where she was on the administrative staff. She entered the Precious Blood Convent in 1931 after teaching for a number of years, and served in their hospitals in Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

She had visited many times in the Andrew Kershens home west of Hereford, and was well acquainted in this community.

Survivors, in addition to the brother here, are six sisters and two brothers.

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (SJR 15)
Special Election May 18, 1971

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III, Section 24, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 24. (1) The State Ethics Commission is created as an agency of the State. The commission consists of nine members. Three members shall be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas with the advice and consent of the Associate Justices serving on the Court, three members shall be appointed by the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas with the advice and consent of the other Judges serving on the Court, and three members shall be appointed by the Chairman of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission with the advice and consent of the other members of the commission, of each group of three appointees no more than two shall be attorneys engaged in the active practice of law. In addition thereto there shall be two ex officio members, one from the House of Representatives and one from the Senate to be elected on the first day of each Regular Session of the Legislature by a majority of the membership of each House for a term ending on the first day of the next Regular Session.

"(2) With the exception of the initial appointees, each member shall hold office for a term of six (6) years and until his successor is appointed and has qualified. In making the initial appointments, each appointing officer shall designate one (1) appointee to serve a term of two (2) years, one (1) appointee to serve a term of four (4) years, and one (1) appointee to serve a term of six (6) years. Interim vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as vacancies due to expiration of a full term, but only for the unexpired portion of the term in question. The membership shall designate one of its members to serve as chairman for a period of two (2) years.

"(3) The members of the commission shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

"(4) The commission shall recommend the compensation, per diem, and mileage allowances of members of the Legislature, and may recommend the salary of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Lieutenant Governor; at an amount higher than that of other members notwithstanding any provision to the contrary of Article IV, Section 17, of the Texas Constitution.

"(5) The commission shall promulgate rules of ethics to govern the conduct of all legislators, legislative officers and all officeholders, appointive or elective, of any office, department, district, agency, commission, board or any governmental unit or branch established by or under the authority of the constitution and laws of the State of Texas and all persons who shall use any privilege of the floor in either House of the Legislature. The Texas State Ethics Commission shall further promulgate rules providing that each member of the Legislature and each of the hereinabove named officeholders upon election and any appointee to any of these offices shall file with the State Ethics Commission a statement under oath setting out a complete financial statement in detail within 10 days after being elected or receiving an appointment. This information shall be privileged information to the State Ethics Commission to determine if there exists a conflict of interests or if there is or has been a violation of any of the rules of ethics promulgated by the Texas State Ethics Commission or any laws of the State of Texas. The Legislature shall enact statutes dealing with unauthorized disclosure or misuse of said privileged information.

"(6) The commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet in Austin at least once each year to review existing rules of ethics. Legislative compensation rates, mileage allowances and per diem rates, and to make any changes deemed necessary.

"(7) All rules of ethics, compensation rates, mileage allowances or per diem rates currently in force, as well as all changes and recommendations by the State Ethics Commission shall be promulgated before the convening of any session of the Legislature by filing a certified copy of the proclamation with the Secretary of State.

"(8) Each rule of ethics or change thereof made by the commission shall take effect on the 15th day of the legislative session following the proclamation unless disapproved by the Governor.

"(9) The commission shall recommend compensation for members of the Legislature and the Lieutenant Governor and recommend improvements and economy in the legislative process."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the 18th day of May, 1971, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to create a State Ethics Commission empowered to set rules of ethics for members of the Legislature, State officers and legislative officers, to investigate violations thereof, and to recommend compensation for members of the Legislature and the Lieutenant Governor and recommend improvements and economy in the legislative process."

proved before that day by resolution of either House of the Legislature.

"(b) All rates of compensation, mileage allowances or per diem rates and all changes and recommendations made by the commission thereof shall not take effect until approved section by section by resolution of both Houses of the Legislature.

"All votes on these resolutions or parts thereof shall show the individual votes in the respective journals of both Houses.

"(8) The commission shall investigate any alleged violation of any rule of ethics promulgated by it and report its findings to the appropriate State agency, official, legislative body, grand jury or district attorney.

"(9) Until otherwise provided by the commission, each member of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury an annual salary of Four Thousand, Eight Hundred Dollars ($4,800) per year and per diem not exceeding Twelve Dollars ($12) per day for the first 120 days only of each Regular Session and for 30 days of each Special Session of the Legislature. No Regular Session shall be of longer duration than 140 days. In addition to the per diem, the members of each House shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed Two Dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for every twenty-five (25) miles, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel from a table of distances prepared by the Comptroller to each county seat now or hereafter established; no member to be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after adjournment of the Regular or Called session.

"(10) The commission is further authorized to recommend to each Legislature changes which will update, improve, and effect economy in the legislative process."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the 18th day of May, 1971, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to create a State Ethics Commission empowered to set rules of ethics for members of the Legislature, State officers and legislative officers, to investigate violations thereof, and to recommend compensation for members of the Legislature and the Lieutenant Governor and recommend improvements and economy in the legislative process."

Concerning veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their dependents are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some inquiries, additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — How may I use my dividends to prevent my National Service Life Insurance from lapsing or to pay my premiums in advance?

A — You have the choice of a "credit option" or a premium option.

If you use the former, you must notify the VA before your next dividend is due and request it be held as a credit. Then, whenever needed to prevent a policy lapse, one monthly premium at a time will be deducted from the credit, and you will be notified.

If you use the latter option, your dividend will be applied to pay your premiums as far in advance as possible, and you will be notified.

If you use the latter option, your dividend will be applied to pay your premiums as far in advance as possible, and you will be notified. You will not be billed for premiums again until at least one month in advance of the date your next premium is due.

Q — I am a veteran who receives compensation from VA. Are my children eligible for educational assistance?

A — Yes if you are 100 per cent permanently disabled from a service-connected cause. If less than 100 per cent disabled,

Q — The VA guarantees 90 per cent of a $8,000 loan for a mobile home. If a veteran pays off the loan and desires to buy a conventional home, how much guaranty is available?

A — Under provisions of the Veterans' Housing Act of 1970, if the original mobile home loan is paid in full, a veteran is entitled to the standard conventional home loan guaranty of $12,500.

Q — My first husband was killed in action during World War II. I remarried in 1950, and my payments from the VA were terminated. My second husband died in 1960. I am receiving a small pension from the VA, based on his nonservice-connected death. Can the VA pay me anything on my first husband's service, now that I am a widow?

A — Legislation effective Jan. 1, 1971, permits the VA to again pay death payments on your first husband's death. VA cannot pay you for the death of both husbands, but you can elect to receive the larger payment. The minimum payment to a widow for a service-connected death is $187 monthly. A greater amount may be payable, depending on the pay grade of your first husband. You should contact your VA office immediately.

Q — I am under 65 years of age and am receiving a disability pension through the VA as well as disability Social Security benefits. May I deduct my medical expenses from my income reportable for pension purposes?

A — You should list the medical expenses paid for the treatment of the disabilities which qualified you for Social Security disability benefits. The VA will deduct these expenses from your Social Security income.

Q — Are business loans available for post-Korean and Vietnam Era veterans under any VA program?

A — No. Business loans are not authorized by VA for these veterans. Like other citizens, they should contact the Small Business Administration.

Q — I attend school under the GI Bill, and married after I started classes. Will I receive more money because I now have a wife?

marriage. To apply for these benefits, send the VA a copy of your marriage license, along with your VA claim number.

Q — I have a 10 per cent rating and am in a VA hospital because of a service-connected disability. Will I receive a permanent increase in my compensation?

A — Only if there is a permanent increase in the degree of your service-connected disability. However, if you are hospitalized more than 21 days, a temporary 100 per cent rating will be assigned for the whole period of your hospitalization.

Q — Is it true that World War II veterans may apply for a GI loan without regard to the length of time they have been out of service?

A — Yes, a recent law restored unused GI loan guaranty entitlement to all veterans who were previously eligible. There is no longer a time limit on applying for a GI loan.

Q — My 88-year-old father is a veteran of World War II, and he is receiving a pension because he is unable to work. Can he be treated in a VA hospital even though his condition is not related to his military service?

A — Yes, if a VA examination confirms that he needs hospitalization and a bed is available. Because he receives a pension, it will not be necessary for him to sign a statement of inability to pay.

Q — My husband is in a nursing home. He is a veteran, but his condition is not related to military service. Will VA pay for his nursing home care?

A — VA is permitted to provide nursing home care for a limited time, only for those veterans who have received maximum benefit from VA hospitalization yet still need nursing.

Guests fill Merry Mixers dance floor

Seven persons were special guests at a Merry Mixers Square Dance club meeting Thursday evening in the IOOF Hall, with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Amold and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barber as hosts.

Stuart Rowan called dances and was assisted by Herrick Allen of Amarillo, guest caller. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Alexander of Dimmitt, Jim Childers of Canyon, Keith Rickwartz and Susan Lindeman of Umbarger and Kathy Allen of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Eubanks were welcomed back into the club after a few months absence.

Rowan will call for the Dimmitt Promenaders Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Dimmitt Country Club.

Next Merry Mixers dance will be March 11. Beginners meet at 7 p.m. and regular dance activities will start at 8.

FOREIGN AID

TEL AVIV — Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban says Israel plans to increase its extensive foreign aid program. The program provides training in Israel for about 1,300 foreigners a year. About 500 Israeli experts are sent abroad each year. The foreign minister told newsmen that no country has ever refused an Israeli offer for aid due to pressure from the Arab states.
