DROWNED IN KELLY CREEK

A Young Clarendon Boy Loses His Life While Swimming Sunday Evening in Deep Water.

Rex Colville, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Colville, was drowned Sunday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock in the famous "Thirty-foot Hole" on Kelly creek, about four miles north of town.

Rex, together with John B. Pope, Jr., another lad of about his own age, walked out to the swimming hole immediately after dinner Sunday. The boys were alone and said nothing of their intentions. Young Pope says that on reaching the hole they immediately disrobed and he jumped in, swam across and back, and climbed out. Rex then essayed the same feat, but in swimming back when about half way across he gave out and called for help. John went to his aid but instead of being able to help him out was almost dragged under himself by the frantic boy. He then went to the bank and got his trousers, went out again and extended them to the lad who caught them but was too far gone to retain his hold and sank for the last time. Young Pope tried to regain his comrade by diving, but on account of the extreme depth of the water (about 25 feet) was unable to do so, and was forced to abandon the attempt and come to town for help.

A large crowd immediately went to the scene, many ladies being in the anxious throng, and soon there were several hundred people on the banks of the creek. Good swimmers at once began diving for the body, and drag nets were used freely, but the body could not be found by those means, and was only secured after many drags were made with a farm hay rake, being finally raised in this manner about 6:30 o'clock, too late for any attempt at resuscitation.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Dodson officiating. Rex was a fine lad, a student of Clarendon College, and a boy who was esteemed alike by his teachers and playmates. To be thus ruthlessly cut down is indeed sad, and the Banner-Stockman joins our entire citizenship in extending an abiding sympathy to the grief-stricken parents.

Attention, Democrats.

The democratic voters of Lelia, Rowe, Giles, Bray, Whitefish, Old Town and Jericho voting boxes are requested to recommend to the chairman some suitable democratic voter for the appointment as member of the county executive committee by or before June 8.

The executive committee is called to meet in the court house at Clarendon on Monday, June 18, as required by law at which time it will be determined whether or not democratic primaries will be held to select candidates for county offices. The committee will want to represent the sentiment of the people, therefore let there be a full and free expression from the people.

SATURDAY WAS A BIG DAY

The Old Soldiers Came and Were Royally Entertained by Citizens of The Town.

The old soldiers' re-union held here Saturday was a success. Indeed, considering the limited time in which the preparations were made it, was perhaps the most successful event of the kind ever gotten up in Clarendon. While the out-of-town visitors were not as numerous as on some former occasions still they were here in considerable numbers, and the town people turned out en masse to do honor to the veterans and other visitors of the day, bringing with them baskets of good things to eat and a hearty welcome. Of the dinner under the beautiful shade of the courthouse trees there need be little said, except that it was ample and of almost endless variety. The old soldiers, of whom there were a goodly number present, were seated in a conveniently shaded nook, with a party of young ladies to wait upon them, bringing hot coffee and food in endless profusion until even Capt. McGee was ready to sound the retreat.

The program in the district court room occupied nearly all day. Beginning about 9:00 a. m. it was only completed late in the afternoon, with an hour or two intermission for dinner. The program as printed in last week's Banner-Stockman was carried out almost to the letter. Judge J. W. Veale and ex-Governor J. N. Browning being present were added to the list and both made excellent addresses.

The speech of Hon. J. R. Bowman, of Amarillo, was a principle feature of the day, and we have since heard compliments too numerous to mention concerning his effort. Strictly an ex-Confederate talk he completely captured the fancy of the old boys present who wore the gray, and held the closest attention of the entire audience throughout. Mr. Bowman is a young man of brilliant attainments, and the district has done well in sending him to the state legislature to represent our interests.

Easily the feature of the program was the recitation, "The Pride of" (Continued on 4th Page.)

Big Ranch Deal

The Priddy-Reeves Realty Co. last week sold the W. A. Johnson ranch in the eastern part of this county, near Giles, to J. T. McKnight, of Illinois. The price paid was $20,000. There are seven sections in the ranch, three school and four patented. No cattle were included in the deal.

An informal dance was given at the opera house Monday night by a number of ladies in honor of several visiting ladies now in the city. It was one of the most enjoyable of like occasions seen in Clarendon for some months.

A postoffice has been established at Southard, this county, with T. F. Lewallen as postmaster. The first mail was exchanged on the 16th inst.

Clarendon College commencement exercises are now in progress, beginning yesterday morning, and there are a number of visitors. Tomorrow morning the board of trustees will hold their annual meeting, and in the afternoon the primary department will be seen in an interesting entertainment. The annual inter-society debate comes off tomorrow night. On Sunday morning the commencement sermon will be preached at the Methodist church by Rev. Griswold, presiding elder of the Colorado district, and at 8:30 p. m. Rev. Oswell will preach to the young people. Clarendon, Tex., May 25, 1906

A big eight-stand gin is to be erected at Memphis in Hall county. This serves to show the increase in cotton in the Panhandle country, and also of the energy and progressiveness of the people of that section. The facts are that all portions of that most favored country are coming to the front rapidly. It is but natural that this should be the case when it is taken into consideration that its possibilities and resources are almost unlimited. If there is a country on earth that has a bright and glorious future, West and Northwest Texas is that country. —Dallas News.

After slinging such a huge boquet at the head of the Panhandle the News is cordially invited to sip out of our canteen when she is in this prohibition precinct. She is correct, as she most always is. The Panhandle has no past, except mavericks and buffaloes, coyotes and antelopes, and it is the height of folly to assert that her future does not promise something good. The country is bound to come; in the natural order of things it can't be avoided. A good shove like the News has just given this section helps some, and makes the country come to its own at a more accelerated gait.

Even the real estate man who believes in newspaper advertising will sometimes say of a certain property: "No, it wouldn't pay me to advertise that. It appeals to too small a class of people." And yet that same man if he loses a bunch of keys will rush an ad to the newspaper office, although he knows that in the wide, wide world there is but one individual who can possibly be influenced by that advertisement.

Hon. J. R. Bowman, of Amarillo, is a candidate to succeed himself to a seat in the Texas Legislature. Mr. Bowman was elected to fill out the unexpired time of Representative Ware, who moved out of this district. As boy and man, the editor of the Enterprise has known "Dick" Bowman for some years, and knows him to be a man indeed. It is fitting, just, and in keeping with usage to give him another "chance" or term. As far as sentiment in this section indicates, he's "done got it." —Silverton Enterprise.

No Longer Denies It.

It is admitted upon all sides that water is needed at Childress, in fact the town is at a standstill, almost, because of the fact that the water supply is limited. —Childress Index.

H. D. Ramsey has been shaking hands with his numerous Clarendon friends this week, having just returned from San Antonio. Mrs. Ramsey is now visiting at Pilot Point, and we are glad to hear is greatly improved in health. Mr. Ramsey says he has not yet definitely decided on just where he will locate, but thinks he will not find a better place than Clarendon.

The Cash Store

MEMPHIS, TEXAS

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

To show our appreciation of your trade, we offer a plan whereby you get a dividend of the profits on your purchases. The goods will cost you no more than our customary close-market prices. The difference is this, you get something valuable free of cost to you, as a dividend. There will be a list of useful, valuable articles, and you can choose one or more free of cost. The more you spend at the CASH store, the more you get. You don't have to buy it all at once, but every dollar you spend, will count, until you have bought $25 worth of goods, then you can call for your dividend. If you buy $50 worth you get more in proportion. For example: If you buy $25 worth, you can have a washing machine free. If your purchases amount to $100, you can have a set of single buggy harness free.

The increase in our business will pay the cost of the premiums. This offer takes effect June 1, and holds good indefinitely.

You call for and get a receipted ticket for the amount of your purchases each time, and keep them until you want your premium which your purchases have earned. All classes of merchandise go in this deal, except in special cases, when we make special net wholesale prices.

Why not work together? You have to buy the goods somewhere. Here are bargains all the year around and our prices are published in four papers.

Will you help yourself?

Battery B," by Little Miss Zou Blair, the sweet and pretty seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Blair, of Rowe. The little lady from her perch on a table not only showed no sign of timidity but evinced a talent for elocution to a remarkable degree.

We have not room for an extended mention of all parts. Suffice to say that the program as a whole was a success in every sense of the word.

The Clarendon Band furnished music for the day, and did well. While really just organized the boys rendered some excellent music, and their imitation of the Civil Union and Confederate forces going into action, with its martial music and musketry bombardment was so realistic that more than one old veteran present just simply had to get to his feet and cheer the flag with the old time rebel yell. The piece was enthusiastically received by the entire audience.

Altogether the day was a pleasant one to all. In the late afternoon Camp Sam Latham, U. C. V., held a business meeting at which the following officers were elected: E. E. McGee, captain; B. T. Lane, 1st lieutenant; G. W. Smith, 2nd lieutenant; W. R. Bondland, 3rd lieutenant; T. N. Naylor, adjutant.

For Sheriff

J. Marion Williams, yielding to the solicitation of friends, announced himself as a candidate for sheriff and tax collector of Donley county, and his name is found in the proper column.

Mr. Williams does not need much mention at our hands in this connection. He is well known over the county, having been a citizen of it for the past eight years. For a number of years he lived on a splendid farm at Lelia, and during the entire eight years he has been in reality an active farmer and cattleman. During Mr. Williams' residence at Lelia he held for one term the office of county commissioner of Precinct 3, making a good officer and serving the people of his precinct to their entire satisfaction. He left the precinct and was succeeded by R. H. Jones.

Mr. Williams, in applying for the office to which he aspires, feels that he is fully capable, and in this opinion he has the hearty accord of his friends. Coupled with his wide acquaintance over the county, his knowledge of the needs of the people, and his educational capabilities, he has had practical experience as a peace officer, having served as deputy sheriff of Tarrant county under the old-time Ft. Worth sheriff, W. T. Maddox. If elected he promises to devote his time to the business of the office, administering his duties at all times without fear or favor, and he solicits your vote and support strictly on his merits. Consider carefully his claims. A truly good citizen makes a good officer, and Marion Williams is without doubt one of Donley county's best citizens.

At The Safety Razor.

To The Business Public:

Having just bought a "Safety" draw up your easy chair and take a good look at it. What a wonderful thing the little article is. The advertisement says "good for 10,000 shaves at a cost of less than a cent a shave." The freight on latter is also very low, so you have certainly got a lead pipe stuck on cheap barber work. Does it pay? Study that question a minute. You shave twice a week; that's two cents expense, not counting the pro rata share of expense entailed in the purchase of the "machine," soap, mug, brush, etc. "No experience necessary," therefore you get a good(?) clean(?) sweet(?) shave. Of course they don't have to be cut close under the chin and the back of the neck don't need shaving anyhow. So you get two shaves for two cents, and the chapped face on account of not having hot towels and lotions handy thrown in as a part of the bargain.

Suppose you had patronized the barber. It would have cost you thirty cents without investment. You have saved 28 cents this week. But how about the barber? Like other people he has to eat and wear clothes, and once in awhile he is expected to take a little flyer in the luxuries of this life. Who does he patronize? If he had bought his groceries from you that week would not the profit from the articles sold him have made you more money than the measly little 28 cents you have saved? If he needs a pair of shoes, a plug of tobacco or an automobile is he likely to patronize the man who patronizes him? In other words, if you spend 30c a week with him regular isn't there a chance that you will get back that 30c, and then some, before the week is over? On the other hand if you are one of those who make a practice of putting by for a rainy day that 28 cents every week is it likely that when he needs a suit of clothes, a bill of hardware or drugs, a bag of flour or the services of a physician he will buy from you, or is it more likely that he will call on the man who spends the 30 cents with him? This is a small matter in one way, but the barber has to live, and while thirty cents isn't much to him when you multiply that amount by the number of weeks in a year it does mean something. By all means keep your "Safety" if you are satisfied with it, but when you want a good, clean, easy shave, a nice, stylish haircut, a shampoo or a bath, call on the

A Question of Honesty

Too many business men consider anything honest in business which is not against the law, and will do a great many reprehensible things if they think they will not be found out. They will make shoes and sell shoes in which every skimping trick has been resorted to--they actually take the leather out from under the toe caps and put in a piece of rough canvas to keep you from discovering that the leather had been abstracted.

A Sudden Death.

Mrs. Rosaltha C. MacDonald, mother-in-law of the Rev. H. C. Goodman, Rector of the Episcopal Church, died very suddenly Friday evening last, supposedly of heart failure.

The deceased had been more or less unwell for the past three weeks, but not enough to cause any uneasiness in the family. She had risen very much earlier than usual on the day of her death, owing to considerable pain in her chest.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Goodman had been absent the day before in Childress, but returned the next morning and were greeted by their mother in her usual smiling and genial manner, and all breakfasted together.

During the day the pain did not seem to leave her very much, yet she continued to perform her occasional duties in the household, resting now and again.

Preparations were made for supper, then she laid down once more, and her daughter not wishing to disturb her did not call her until 7:30, when she discovered a marked change. The alarm was sent to the nearest physician, who after a careful examination pronounced life extinct.

Mrs. MacDonald had but a month ago received the laying-on-of-hands by Bishop Garrett, and since that time seemed very happy, and was expecting to return to her home in Boston. This was Providentially prevented, as her daughter, an only child, was privileged to minister to her in her last hours on earth, which was a great comfort to mother and daughter.

The funeral services were held Saturday. The casket was removed from the Rectory to the Church at 10 o'clock when a Solemn Eucharist was offered for the deceased, and from that time kind friends watched by the casket until the hour of 4 o'clock when the service of Burial for the Dead was performed, a large concourse of friends accompanying the mourners to the grave where the final prayers were offered up.

"May she rest in peace,
And light perpetual shine upon her."

For County Treasurer.

Guss Johnson authorizes the Banner-Stockman to announce him as a candidate for office of treasurer of Donley county. Mr. Johnson has been a citizen of the county for seven years. Five and one-half years of that time he spent in farming on his brother's ranch near Giles. At present he is employed as clerk in the store of W. H. Thompson. Guss has made a wide acquaintanceship with our people, and has uniformly impressed all with his quiet, unassuming and gentlemanly bearing. He says that he feels himself fully competent to hold the office of treasurer, being a good accountant and understanding the duties of the office well. From a financial standpoint he needs the office and is seeking it he says simply for the salary that it pays, promising his constituents that if elected he will serve them in a manner to reflect credit on himself and them.

Mr. Johnson asks us to say that in so far as he is able he will try to see personally all the voters of the county before election day, his duties toward his present employer permitting. He will appreciate your support and solicits it, confidently expecting to "make good" if elected. Consider well his claims before casting a vote.

Ralph Jefferson.

Regarding the death of Ralph Jefferson, formerly one of the most honored and honorable of old time Clarendon citizens, the Washington Star has the following to say:

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock over the remains of the late Ralph Jefferson at his late home, 1509 Q street. Mr. Jefferson had for a long time been confined to his home by an attack of locomotor ataxia and stomach trouble, and was a great sufferer. The end occurred last Sunday morning, the direct cause, peritonitis.

Mr. Jefferson was a native Washingtonian, his father being the late Ferdinand Jefferson, long an employe of the State Department, and during the troublous times of the civil war was one of Secretary Seward's confidential clerks. Prior to that time he was one of the editors of the Republic, of early days. The last position held by deceased was that of special deputy collector of customs at the port of Georgetown, to which he had been transferred from the pension office.

He was educated at Gonzaga College, and was prominently identified with Carroll institute from its inception, serving several times as its president, and until his health gave way took a very active part in its affairs. He was a reader and elocutionist of ability, and an amateur actor. During the career of the Shakespeare Dramatic club, of which he was for a long time president, and the Thalia Club, Mr. Jefferson was often seen in leading roles. He was a French scholar and an old member of the Cercle des precieuses ridicules. His widow and adopted son survive him, his own son having died in Texas in 1889.

The interment was in the family lot at Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were Mr. Thos. B. Nolan of the War Department, Mr. J. D. C. Koogle of the custom house, Messrs. A. J. Wagstaff, Henry T. Hutton and Frank White of the pension office, and Mr. George S. Warren of the government printing office.

If you had all the wealth of Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, you could not buy a better medicine for bowel complaints than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened, is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it. Sold at Dr. Stocking's drug store.

Two couples of Clarendon young people enjoyed a quiet tete-a-tete picnic all to themselves at Lelia Lake Sunday. That is, most of the day was enjoyed, for one feature of the occasion not on the program was anything but enjoyable. While taking a boat ride all four occupants of the frail craft happened to get their chews of gum on the same side of their faces all at the same time. The result was a capsized boat and a ducking for all concerned. They say Homer had to throw away his gum before he could get back into the boat.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the sheriff or any constable of Donley county, greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon P. S. Bryant and Mrs. Rebecca J. Ridley, a feme sole, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published there in, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 47th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 47th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District court of Donley county, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Clarendon, Texas, on the first Monday in July A. D. 1906, the same being the 2nd day of July A. D. 1906, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 10th day of May A. D. 1906, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 378, wherein D. L. McClellan, agt. is plaintiff, and P. S. Bryant and Mrs. Rebecca J. Ridley, are defendants, and said petition alleging that defendant's places of residence are unknown to plaintiff, that plaintiff is the owner and holder and in possession of 160 acres of land in Donley county, Tex., known as all of the southeast one-fourth of survey 35, block C6, certificate No. 4-669, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co., holding the same as remote vendees of defendants herein; that said land was on about July 8, 1890, conveyed by S. H. Madden, then of Donley, but now of Potter county, Texas, to Chas. B. Ridley and P. S. Bryant, and afterwards about May 31, 1893, said Chas. B. Ridley conveyed his interest in said land to defendant Rebecca J. Ridley, and afterwards on about the day of —1898, defendants herein for a valuable consideration conveyed said land back to said S. H. Madden, who in turn conveyed it to plaintiff's vendors, J. D. Jefferies and L. C. Beverly, composing the firm of Jefferies and Beverly; that J. D. Jefferies subsequently conveyed his interest to L. C. Beverly. L. C. Beverly subsequently conveying his interest to W. H. Cooke and W. H. Cooke subsequently conveying to Taylor Warner, who conveyed to plaintiff; that said deed reconveying said land from defendants back to said Madden does not appear of record in the deed records of Donley county, Texas, which constitutes a cloud upon plaintiff's title, so that plaintiff holds the same clouded with an apparent break in his chain of title; that plaintiff and his vendors have held the peaceable and adverse actual possession of said land under title and color of title for more than three years next preceding the filing of this suit; and that his vendors are holding and have held for more than five years next preceding the filing of this suit, the peaceable and adverse actual possession of said land, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, and paying taxes thereon, claiming under deeds to him from his immediate vendors, which deeds are duly registered, so that plaintiff says he is entitled to recover the same as under limitation, as well as under said chain of conveyance.

Wherefore, plaintiff sues and prays for citation by publication, for judgment of the court establishing his title to said lands, free from all claims on the part of defendants, their heirs, and assigns, and quieting his title, removing the cloud therefrom east thereon by reason of said deeds not appearing of record, and for general legal and equitable relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, C. A. Burton, clerk of the district court of Donley county.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Clarendon, Texas, this the 10th day of May A. D. 1906.

It is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale at Dr. Stocking's drug store.

Dr. Burkhead at Hereford.

On last Sunday morning at the usual preaching hour, almost our entire town as well as many from the country and nearby towns assembled at the Presbyterian Church on the occasion of the commencement sermon for the graduating class of the public school, which was delivered by Dr. S. E. Burkhead of Clarendon College. All who had heard of the ability of this man as a platform orator were anxious to hear him on this occasion, hence by the eleven o'clock hour both the large church and the Sunday School Annex were filled to their extreme capacity, even standing room being considerably above par.

Dr. Burkhead had fitly chosen for his subject "Gateways to Success" and after the preliminary exercises, which were participated in by the other ministers of the town, he took up a line of argument which, for profundity of thought and broadness of view, has seldom been equaled in West Texas. The chief "Gateways to Success" as were pointed out are "the spirit of Tolerance," "the spirit of Conviction," "the spirit of Unselfishness" and "the spirit of Hopefulness." Under these headings, those things which go to make up a completely successful man were included. Unabated interest was centered in Dr. Burkhead's sermon from beginning to end.—Hereford Brand.

Lou Robbins, of Boulder, Colo., has bought the J. E. Tracy restaurant and he and wife have cast their lot with Clarendon's citizens. Mr. Robbins has a wide experience in the business and says he expects to make "The Clarendon, on the corner," one of the nobbiest eating houses on the Denver Road.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bagby, who left Clarendon a few weeks ago for Colorado Springs, expecting to make that city their home, have returned to their "native heath" as it were, and say they are here to stay. Mr. Bagby will enter some line of business, not just yet determined. Clarendon people will welcome them back with kindest feelings.

—Cooked meat morning and evening on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays at the Cold Storage Market. Phone 16. Don't forget the days. tf

Amarillo was represented at the old soldiers' picnic in Clarendon Saturday by three of her most distinguished citizens, ex-Lieutenant Governor J. N. Browning, now candidate for district judge; Judge John W. Veale, candidate for state senator; and Hon. J. R. Bowman, candidate for representative. Each of these gentlemen made speeches during the day, and it was noticeable that neither referred in any way to his candidacy. All were loud in their praises of the manner in which our little city entertained her guests. Governor Browning remained over Sunday, visiting friends.
