

BANNER STOCKMAN

VOL. XIII.

CLARENDON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APR. 6, 1906.

NO. 24.

The Banner-Stockman Offers a House and Lot to the Man Who will Cite us to a Worse Mess than Tuesday's Election

CITY ELECTION A MIX-UP

Little Interest, Few Voters, No Candidates, Many Names, and—Who is Elected? Search Us.

The city election Tuesday resulted in a general mix-up as regards candidates and votes. As there were no candidates there were consequently no tickets, each voter making out a ticket to suit himself. There were 35 votes polled, with fully that number of names voted for for the various offices, with a variety of spelling and an indiscriminate use of initials. It will require a canvass of the vote by the city council before it can be stated just who is elected, the only certainties being I. W. Carhart for mayor, and H. W. Taylor, W. H. Cooke, John Clark and J. D. Stocking for aldermen. To give an idea of the voting we give the full vote for mayor, as follows:

Carhart, Whit	3
Carhart, I. W., Jr.	8
Carhart, I. W.	13
Carhart, Witt	1
Williams, J. M.	1
Alexander, J. J.	2
Carhart	1
O'Neal, H. L.	2
Beville, A. M.	1
Bevel	1
O'Neal, Hugh	1
O'Neal, J. H.	1

In the city marshal race F. A. White received 9 votes, Frank White 2, J. J. Alexander 9, and various others one and two votes each. Mr. White says he will not qualify if declared elected.

The council will meet Monday to canvass the returns.

One of the handsomest specimens of the bald eagle we have ever seen was sent over from Silverton this week by Eph Stephenson to Dr. T. W. Carroll who has long wanted one of the noble birds to mount for a house ornament. Mr. Stephenson killed the eagle up on the Tule creek. While no measurements were taken we judge that it would measure six or seven feet from tip to tip.

Ft. Worth Hog Market.

Yesterday's Quotations.

Choice sorted	$6.20 to 6.30
Mixed packers	5.00 to 6.15
Lights	4.50 to 5.90
Pigs	4.00 to 4.90
Stags and roughs	3.25 to 4.00

Watches, clocks and jewelry repaired in the best and most lasting manner by J. M. Clower. tf

The city has received the fire hose ordered some months ago, and the fire department now only lacks a hose cart, fire chief, captain and cordon of men to be complete. The hose cart has been ordered, but the men are yet to be secured. It occurs to the Banner-Stockman that right now is the time to organize the fire department. We trust it will not be as hard to get men to serve in this capacity as it is to serve the city as mayor and aldermen. If such should be the case a bargain sale of fire fighting apparatus will shortly be in order.

Jim Beverly Killed.

L. C. Beverly on Wednesday received a telegram stating that his brother, James, had been shot the day before and had died that day at his home in Ardmore, I. T. No particulars were given. John Beverly, another brother, who was here from his home in New Mexico, left Wednesday night for Ardmore. Jim Beverly was the youngest of the three brothers and had not been heard from by the other two for several years.

W. C. Cottrell is now engaged in the work of putting in the foundation and cellar for the new residence to be erected by Mrs. Al Gentry in the west part of town. The house when completed will be one of the handsomest in the city, and will cost something like $3500.

C. W. Adair, of Graham, Tex., has bought a half interest in the J. H. Rutherford saddle and harness business and has moved to town. He and family will occupy one of the new Teel houses in the south part of town.

—Let Priddy & Reeves write your policies. tf

OPERATOR IS IN TROUBLE

J. W. Mackey, Night Operator at Clarendon Depot, in Jail on a Serious Charge.

J. W. Mackey, a young man about 22 years old who was sent here to take the place of night operator made vacant by the promotion of R. C. Jackson who was sent to Wichita Falls, got himself into a mess of trouble Sunday night which will be more difficult to get out of than it was to get in. According to statement on Sunday night Mackey, or Ray as he now claims his name to be, sold several tickets and pocketed the money, or else pocketed the ticket direct, filled himself out a tickets to St. Louis and the next day took passage on a freight train going south, unknown to anyone. The loss of the tickets was not discovered until Monday night, when Mackey not showing up for work the ticket case was checked over and the missing numbers ascertained. Agent Baldwin wired to Childress and had his man apprehended as he was preparing to board the south-bound passenger train. Sheriff Patman went down and brought the offender up the next day and landed him in jail. He had an examining trial before Justice Wood yesterday afternoon and was remanded to jail to await the action of the grand jury, his bond being fixed at $500. On the witness stand he admitted his guilt as above stated.

The Rain.

The Clarendon country has again "gone wet" in the fullest sense of the word. Tuesday night about dark the rain began and continued steadily all night and at intervals all day Wednesday. The ground is wet as deep as the farmer cares to see it, and grass is already beginning to spring up.

The government rain gauge in Clarendon registered three and three-quarters inches rainfall.

Rev. J. Winford Hunt, of Chaning, delivered his lecture "A Model Citizen" at the opera house last Friday night under the auspices of the Clarendon College Lyceum course. A good audience greeted Rev. Hunt, and those attending pronounce it the best feature yet rendered in this course. Rev. Hunt is conducting the revival meeting at the Methodist church with good interest and a number of conversions to date. The meeting will hold over next week.

—Dr. J. J. Hanna, specialist on diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, of Amarillo, will be at Dr. Carroll's office in this city April 11. tf

SALES AND SHIPMENTS

A Small Bunch of Stock Items Gathered Locally—Big Steers Bring Good Price This Week.

C. T. McMurtry sold this week to a Mr. Gill, of Kansas, 263 4- and 5-year-old steers at $31.75 around, with a ten per cent cut; delivery April 25th.

A sale of steer cattle not previously reported was made just before the Dallas convention by A. R. Letts of this city. Mr. Letts sold to Messrs. Michael and Sharp, of South Dakota, 600 3-year-old steers at $28.25. This was a bunch of stuff bought by Mr. Letts from Lewis & Molesworth some time ago, and delivery will be made at Canyon City later on in this month. The same parties also took off of Mr. Letts' hands 260 steer yearlings at p. t.

Manager Dick Walsh of the JA ranch reports the sale of 40 JJ yearling bulls to W. W. Turney, ex-president of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, of El Paso. Delivery will be made in May; terms private.

Twenty-three cars of speyed heifers of the Spur and Shoebar brands will be shipped from Southard today by Richard Walsh. They go to Congressman J. W. Wadsworth, of Geneseo, N. Y., and were bought for that gentleman by Mr. Walsh last fall, having wintered in the JA pasture.

The JA ranch has 70 cars ordered for May 1st to be used in shipping cattle to pasture in Kansas.

C. A. Burton.

In our announcement column this week appears the name of C. A. Burton as a candidate for the office of county and district clerk of Donley county. Mr. Burton is now completing his first term in this office and to say that he has made a good official would be but to express the convictions of every citizen of the county who knows anything about the matter whatever. He is prompt in all business, always to be found when wanted and attends to the duties of the office in a manner to reflect great credit on his ability as a thorough-going business man. Charley Burton is deservedly one of the most popular men in the county, and the Banner-Stockman predicts that when the votes are counted after the November election he will be found right in the lead on the ticket. We commend him to the new voters of the county as entirely worthy of the office; the old voters know him, and with them he does not need our endorsement.

—For handsome collars, belts, Ties, etc., always see my line. Mrs. A. M. Beville.

LAST OF THE CASTALIANS

This Popular Society Makes Its Farewell Appearance at Clarendon College Saturday Night.

I seized the opportunity to hear the Castalians last Saturday evening, because I have known the organization for several moons and have learned that they are artists of a very high order in the entertainment line. I really regret the passing of the society, since this was their final appearance before the public. Yes, the Castalians are no more. The wind around the corners of the old college building has a lonelier note, but it will doubtless do as the rest of us—become so interested in the affairs of the two new societies formed from the old one, that it will forget and be glad. The names of the two new societies? Well anybody who can spell them can go ahead—I left my spelling book at home.

It was a typical college crowd that assembled in the chapel.

The stage has a beautiful new curtain the work the artistic Mrs. Will Clower. The scene is a sketch from the mountains, whose massive sides cast a shadow over the brawling brook and forest and the white houses nestling among the trees, while their dizzy peaks are half sheathed in the tumbling clouds marshaling to cut off the last ray of the sun pouring its victorious shafts through one ragged aperture, in their ranks. The stage was beautifully decorated. I was taking in all this and trying not to hear what—said to his sweetheart, when the curtain rolled up and those two gifted and favorite performers, Misses Hawkins and Thompson came on the stage for a piano duet. It was an exquisite selection and skillfully rendered. There is something about a piano that makes me want to sing and cry and be right still at the same time. How anybody can talk when such music as that is going, I can't understand, but I guess it had been some time since the last suspension of the rules and—er—O well, that "Dad Said So," dialogue made me laugh until I forgot what I was going to say. "Mr." (?) Harpe was ably seconded by Miss Rush in making things get lively. I hadn't got sobered down when the "Action Song" by Misses Gordon, Rush, Alley, Smith, Talley, Jefferies, Crosnal and Houk began. It was a decided hit—hit the boys in the region of the heart.

Clarendon College is fortunate in having such an artist as Mrs. Tresi in the oratorical department. Her rendition of "Francesca's Confession" was equal to the best—and I have heard the best. A Piano Trio must be a difficult performance, but it was gracefully accomplished by Misses Talley, Harris and Harrington. The "Posters" represented the final fates of the several Castalians, among these being, cook, society belle and bride.

The Monologue was very amusing and Miss Buie's perturbation over the boots protruding from beneath the curtain was quite real.

I think from the laughter and cheers, the encore, and the comments since, the duet of the "cats" was the most "cat"-chy thing on the program. The young ladies, who did the "caterwauling" to the piano accompaniment, and disguised as cats carried on the mimic feline sport over the top of the screen may live to be old maids—the "Pans" and "Ads" forbid—but they will never need any cats for companions—just let 'em live together. The duet was unique on a stage, though we have all been aroused from our peaceful slumbers by the real thing and arisen in righteous wrath to throw the bureau or cook stove at the disturbers.

Miss Houk pleased the audience very much with the recitation, "A Smack in School," which was substituted—the recitation was—for a number on the program that could not be given.

The programme closed with a chorus consisting of Misses Hawkins, Talley, Harpe, Harrington, Houk, Alley, Crews and Harrington. It was that magnificent old "Larboard Watch." I wish I could hear it sung, as they sang it, every night for a year and three days and twice a week after that, indefinitely. Like the "Holy City" it has tears and prayers, dreams and battles in its mighty cadences. I feel like I want to storm, but can't even whisper, as I listen. The varying desires to weep and pray and dream and fight, chase each other over me so rapidly I am impatient. Sea waves, sea breezes, sea birds, the swaying deck, the lonely vigil, the storm, the suspense, the sky, the clouds, the stars—and God—are in its thrilling harmony.

Out under the star-filled sky and waning moon tonight, I hear birds a-warble, streams a-ripple, cataracts a-tumble, and see sunbeams a-dance and life a-cakewalk. I rub my eyes; I shake myself—it is just the echoes of the Castalian Entertainment. Thank you, ladies! May I come again?

Caught Cold While Hunting a Burglar.

Mr. Wm. Thos. Lanorgan, provincial Constable at Chapleau, Ontario, says: "I caught a severe cold while hunting a burglar in the forest swamp last fall. Hearing of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I tried it, and after using two small bottles, I was completely cured." This remedy is intended especially for coughs and colds. It will loosen and relieve a severe cold in less time than by any other treatment and is a favorite wherever its superior excellence has become known. For sale by J. D. Stocking, druggist.

"The Jolly Lecturer, Entertainer."

F. P. Jolly, a Humorist, Impersonator, Entertainer and Lecturer of wide reputation will appear at opera house next Tuesday night. His lecture entertainments are a resistless medley of chaste fun, solid common sense and classic beauty mingled with humorous recitations and impersonations. He is mindful of the likes and dislikes of an enlightened public, has something for everybody and never fails to meet the highest anticipations of his audience. People who have heard him have demanded to hear him again and again because of his power to entertain, instruct and delight his audiences. He is both a lecturer and entertainer.

During winter seasons he gives part of his time to the leading lyceum bureaus of the country, and Clarendon people are indeed fortunate in this opportunity to enjoy a rich "feast of fun."

Human Blood Marks.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures hemorrhages, chronic coughs, settled colds, bronchitis, and is the only known cure for weak lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by J. D. Stocking, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Would rather have lost five dollars than missed "The Jolly Side of Life"—Halstead Independent.

We need a Rider Agent in every town and can offer an opportunity to make money to suitable young men who apply at once.

Regular Price $8.50 per pair. $4.80 per pair. PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRES ONLY $4.80 PER PAIR

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES. Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CACTUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS. Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.

Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "holding back" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two Sampson metal puncture closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination.

We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. Ask your Postmaster, Banker, Express or Freight Agent or the Editor of this paper about us. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a small trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

COASTER-BRAKES, built-up wheels, saddles, pedals, parts and repairs, and everything in the bicycle line are sold by us at half the usual prices charged by dealers and repair men. Write for our big SUNDY catalogue.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a wonderful offer we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

HE DROPS INTO POETRY

Prof. W. R. Silvey, of Clarendon, Replies to Address of Welcome at Amarillo Today.

The Panhandle Teachers' Association is in session at Amarillo today and tomorrow, and a number of the local pedagogues are in attendance? Prof. W. R. Silvey will read the following original poem in response to the welcome address by Attorney Truelove of Amarillo.

We are here from the east; we are here from the west,
We've been graciously welcomed; we're the city's guest;
It was done in language that was free from mere art;
It was not empty form; it was the thought of the heart.

We've come up to visit the Queen of the Plains,
Where the zephyrs are cool; they'll cure all your pains.

They are brimful, they tell us, of the purest ozone;
They will make you forget every pain, every groan.

In commercial interests she stands without peer.

In this land of the west she has a career,
That goes without rival, and her future is bright;

And her public schools have strengthened her might.

For with a faculty strong at whose head stands WELLS,

At the mention of school his bosom swells,

And a vision grand stretches far and wide,

Till the public school is the city's pride.

And there is another, who in progress presses the van;

You'll surmise from these words; you've guessed the man.

His school is as good as the best of the day.

He has advanced the city with his A. and A.

We are all teachers in the far-famed Pan, toiling assiduously for the uplift of man;

You say, "Not the Pan"—I mean in its handle,

We've lit Reason's torch—or at least its candle.

That teacher is here who is rich in his land,

And the intelligent "school mam" is also on hand,

And the city superintendent with a salary so fat,

That he is almost equal to a fine silk hat.

And then you will find of the rank and the file,

Of the army of teachers that make up the pile,

Who teach in town, village, or in country place,

A variety of age, and talent, and grace.

So fellow teachers, please to remember this well,

You are now in a city, and who can tell,

When a trolley car, carriage or an automobile

May crush you like Juggernaut beneath a wheel.

And further I'll warn you that your genial host,

Who will open you a home of which you may boast,

Will serve for your comfort a most bountiful fare,

Beware of your appetite! eat only your share.

For the teacher, like others, when tempted severe

With viands that an Epicurus might deem good cheer,

Will yield his judgment to a long-felt want,

And thus in discomfort return to his haunt.

The speaker in words that with eloquence burn

Has lifted our thoughts, so that each may learn,

Of his mission grand, of his work sublime,

That does not perish with the lapse of time.

If enthusiasm warm, like Apollo's lute,

Will move stones and trees and the dull senseless brute,

We'll return to our homes with such a full store,

We'll cherish Amarillo and the teachers evermore.

Now shall I not, before closing this ditty

The Fortunate Isles.

You sail and you seek for the Fortunate Isles,
The old Greek isles of the yellow bird's song?
Then steer straight on through the watery miles,
Straight on, straight on, and you can't go wrong.

Nay, not to the left; nay, not to the right,
But on, straight on, and the isles are in sight,
The Fortunate Isles where the yellow birds sing
And life lies girt with golden ring.

These Fortunate Isles they are not so far,
They lie within reach of the lowliest door;
You can see them gleam by the twilight star;
You can hear them sing by the moon's white shore—

Nay, never look back! Those leveled gravestones
They were landing steps; they were steps unto thrones
Of glory for souls that have sailed before,
And have set white feet on the fortunate shore.

And what are the names of the Fortunate Isles?
Why Duty and Love and a large Content,
For these are the Isles of the watery world,
That God let down from the firmament.

Lo, Duty and Love, and a true man's Trust;
Your forehead to God, though your feet in the dust;
Lo, Duty and Love, and a sweet babe's smiles,
And these, O friend, are the Fortunate Isles.

—Joaquin Miller.

Don't Rush Milking.

On the American farm there is always a tendency to rush things. The American farmer generally lays out for himself a very large amount of work and then is in great haste to get through with it. Too often when the milker goes into the stable he has the same nervous haste that has been spurring him on in the doing of the other farm work. Nothing interferes more with the milk-giving of the cow than this nervousness. The big milker especially is almost always a nervous animal. This is especially true of the Jersey and the Guernsey. We have seen cows refuse to give any milk when a nervous milker sat down with a milk pail. Some cows have to be treated with a great deal of care to induce them to give down their milk. The milker should always be calm and quiet when he begins milking. He should assume that many cows will not stand the work of a rapid and excited milker.

Our own errors in judgment are usually about as many as are the downright meannesses of the people we know.

Irrigation in Mexico.

The Mexican government is giving attention to the problem of irrigating on a large scale.

Import Farm Products.

Great Britain imports $900,000,000 of farm products a year.

Draining Large Areas.

The draining of large areas of land calls for expert advice and superintendence. The man that owns a small piece of land and has an outlet for his surplus water will find little trouble perhaps in getting a drainage system to work; but it is far otherwise with a large area, whether that area consist of a level plain or of hills. It is very easy to construct a drainage system that will not work well on the hills and that will not work at all on the level land. Expert advice and superintendence cost money, but they are worth money. A drainage system should be built to last; but if it is built unscientifically it may have to be partly torn out before it has been in the ground many years.

Advance in Dairying.

Gradually dairying is becoming a very important factor in our agriculture. This is especially true of the rougher states, where general farming is carried on at a disadvantage. The hoof of the cow is made for walking on hillsides, and she finds the hillside pastures entirely to her liking. We see by a recent report that more than half of the Vermont farms derive their chief income by the selling of dairy products. Taking the six New England states and the state of New York together, from 27 to 33 per cent of all the farms find dairying their mainstay. In New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, from 15 to 17 per cent of all the farms find their chief revenues in dairy products.

Failures and Successes.

Men have two kinds of ambition—one for dollar-making, the other for life-making. Some turn all their ability, education, health and energy toward the first of these—dollar-making—and call the result success. Others turn them toward the second—into character, usefulness, helpfulness—life-making—and the world sometimes calls them failures; but history calls them successes. No price is too great to pay for an untarnished name.—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

Order to Lewiston Hibernians.

In Lewiston, Maine, lived a certain policeman who was also captain of the local company of Hibernians. On one occasion a street car approached while he was marching the company along the street, and, as it seemed the proper course to pursue, he decided to execute the movement known as "open order." Turning to his men, he shouted, in his most martial tones: "Attention! Here comes the street car, schmitt!"

The Miser and the Miser.

The miser is the poorest of men, for, while he lives solely for self, he gets less out of life than any other man. He has money, but denies himself the things that money can buy. In making money the end, instead of the means, of life he narrows his purposes and achievements down to nothingness. But the despicable example of one miser or a thousand can never shake the firm foundation upon which rest wholesome saving and thrift. The soul of thrift is saving. Most men who have learned the trick of making millions at a single deal first learned how to double their pennies. To the man who would become rich the habit of saving, once firmly fixed, is his most important capital.—St. Louis Star-Chronicle.

Idlers Barred.

"We are told, you know," said he, "that the eyes are just the windows of the heart. Now when I look into your eyes—"

"I hope you notice the signs in the windows," the sweet girl interrupted. "What signs?"

"No admittance except on business."

Homes in Texas.

Of six millions of acres put on the market by the state of Texas in September, homemakers have already taken about a million acres, at prices ranging from five to ten times the minimum of a dollar an acre, fixed by the State Land Commission.

Clarendon College

Rev. J. Winford Hunt came down from Channing last Friday morning to deliver his lecture which was a part of the Lyceum course. He made a short address to the students at chapel in the morning, then delivered his lecture at the opera house that night to a good audience. His subject was "The Model Citizen" and it was pronounced by many to be the best of the course so far.

The last Castalian entertainment ever to be given by the young ladies was given Saturday night in the college chapel. As usual a full house greeted the young ladies and the audience showed themselves, as always, very appreciative of their efforts. Henceforth the entertainments will be by the Sapphos and Euterpeans.

Miss Martella Espy of the senior class was forced to give up her work on account of trouble with her eyes, and returned to her home at Plainview. Her loss is greatly regretted by all.

Robert Edmondson made a short visit to homefolks at Claude the last of the week, returning Tuesday.

Quite a little excitement was caused at the young ladies' dormitory last Sunday evening by the explosion of a chafing dish in which the children were making candy. The lace curtains at the window caught fire and a conflagration threatened, but was prevented by the prompt action of Misses Burkhead and Hawkins who were in the parlor practicing some music for the church service. Almost every one else had gone to church.

Miss Julia Hunt visited her sister, Miss Mollie Saturday.

Marvin Law went to Leslie in Hall county Saturday and preached there Sunday. He was accompanied by Newbill Ferguson and Miss Lacona who visited their sister who is teaching there.

Mr. Wallace of Canyon spent a few days visiting at the college the latter part of the week. He was here prospecting with a view to coming to Clarendon. We hope he will do so, as he would be a valuable acquisition.

Wesley Hall was quite sick for about three days, but is all right again.

Bro. Hardy went to Claude and preached last Sunday. He has been at home sick since.

Several young men were down from Goodnight visiting with our boys on Saturday, but we failed to get their names.

Bro. Dodson and Bro. Hunt were at chapel Monday morning.

Ross Noland is at Washburn at his uncle's recuperating from a case of grip. He is expected back the latter part of the week. Hugh returned Sunday.

Dr. Burkhead has been quite sick all week. Is not yet able to meet his classes. D. B. Doak is assisting in the school room.

Chapel services are being held at 8:45 this week in order to dismiss from 11 till 12 o'clock for the church services which are being held in the college chapel. Owing to the rainy weather, the services were held there on Wednesday night also.

School will be dismissed on Friday in order for the college faculty to attend the Panhandle Teachers' Association at Amarillo Friday and Saturday.

Rev. Hunt is domiciled in the young men's dormitory during his stay here.

AUCTION SALES

Thoroughbred Herefords at Public Sale in Amarillo on April 17, 18 and 19.

In our catalogues of last year we made the following announcement. "Feeling that we know the needs of the ranchmen and believing we can supply them in a way beneficial and satisfactory to all, we have decided to hold annual sales of thoroughbred cattle of the beef breeds during the meeting of the Panhandle Stockmen's Association. Our offering this year is composed of as grand a lot of Herefords as were ever offered at public sale in Texas or elsewhere. It is our aim to bring these cattle to your very doors and sell them to you on their merits strictly, and at your own price, feeling assured of fair treatment at your hands. A "square deal" is all we ask. These cattle have been handled and wintered as they should be for range use. They show for themselves. The produce of these cattle will be such as the feeders of the Corn Belt will always buy."

In making our second annual sale, we can only reaffirm the above statement. This year during the annual meeting of the Panhandle Stockmen's Association, we will offer 75 bulls and 25 cows, all registered Herefords and of suitable age for immediate service, from several of the best known herds in the Central West, and many of them bred in the Panhandle of Texas. The majority of this offering have been either bred in Texas or have been held here for the past year and are therefore thoroughly acclimated and consequently worth more to the buyers than those recently shipped in.

The sale will be held at the stock yards commencing promptly each day at 1 p. m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April, 17, 18 and 19. Ample provisions will be made for the transportation of prospective buyers and all visitors from the city to the stock yards.

We are trying to do you good; help us by your presence and bids. Col. R. E. Edmonson will officiate as auctioneer and will be ably assisted by C. R. Thomas, secretary of the American Hereford Association.

The explosion of a chafing dish at the young ladies' dormitory on college hill Sunday evening came near causing a serious conflagration. The dish was near the window and the lace curtains were in flames in a moment, and before the fire could be extinguished, the wall paper and wood work were ablaze. The presence of mind of Miss Mary Burkhead, who seized a pail of water and put the fire out, while others were screaming for help, saved the building.

Uncle Nat Smith was up from Rowe Tuesday and reports the farmers all smiling over the rain and getting ready for lots of work and bigger crops. He says that considering the mild, open winter just passed, the splendid season in the ground and the pretty weather now in sight the crop prospects were never better or brighter than right now. Much sod has been broken this winter and the acreage in the Rowe community will be much greater than last year. New farmers are thick. Uncle Nat says that he can count from his home twenty-four new farm houses, built during the past fall and winter, each representing a new settler and a new farm. He has on his own farms thirteen renters who will cultivate besides other crops 640 acres of cotton.

A Buffet Luncheon.

The ladies of the Episcopal Church Guild will serve a buffet luncheon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duke Martin at a date soon to be announced in this paper. Music throughout the afternoon and evening. A pleasant time promised to all. The public cordially invited to attend. Admission 25c each.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of a gripe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a double dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." Sold by J. D. THE WOMAN IN HER

By JEROME HARTE

Copyright, 1905, by Daily Story Publishing Co.

Ring! ring! ring! The telephone bell had been ringing at five minute intervals all morning and the woman's nerves were on edge. How she hated the very sight of the neat oaken telephone box and the shine with its leaden bells! It brought back unpleasant memories; and there are some things that even a woman with a firm, determined chin and cold eyes will want to forget. The two men—the one whom she loved although he did not love her, and the one who loved her although she did not love him—were unpleasantly associated in her mind with the box on the wall. To the one, she had overdone the matter of telephoning until she had lost his good comradeship—more fool she! The other had telephoned her until she was tired of it—more fool he! It's a queer old world we live in!

It was raining and the snow underfoot was getting slushy and gray. The sky was low and leaden—and the telephone bell kept on ringing. The woman was out of temper when she went to answer it. A certain dress-maker was ready, now, after a long wait, to finish her a gown, but the woman thought just then that she didn't care if she never again saw a new gown. She answered sharply and hung up the receiver with a bang.

On her desk beside the fire was a great bowl of red roses from the man who worshiped at her shrine. Beside it was a letter from the man at whose shrine she worshiped. She picked up the letter and read it again, perhaps for the dozenth time.

"My dear Miss Allen"—it ran—"I am sorry that I think our quarrel past mending, but I suppose that it is really better so. Our friendship was a source of great pleasure to me; but now that we have disagreed so persistently, that friendship could never be the same again. We will both be happier if I continue to accept your first ultimatum and remain, as you said then, just a mere acquaintance. You are generous to take the blame so entirely upon yourself, but I will not take advantage of your generosity. You will understand, I am sure."

She understood! She was no fool! She was clever enough to read between the lines, as he had meant that she should. She was young yet, but there had been many men—and she understood. She had done a brainy girl's earnest work in school and in college, and she had creditably filled for two or more seasons now, the position of a clever, attractive young woman of society. Marriage, she had always said, was a matter of tact and management and, while she had been too busy and too gayly occupied to take serious thought of the future, she had always felt that when the one man came to her, she would be wiser than some other girls had been. Well! the one man had come—and gone—and the fault was hers! She clenched her hands and laughed a strained, unnatural laugh. She could not believe it of herself!

She drew a great leather chair before the open fire and sat down in it, staring hard at the blazing logs. If there had not been two men, she told herself, perhaps she would not have been so tactless. But then, that was to be! She sighed. Mentally, she was comparing the two men. A vision of the man she loved, although he did not love her, flashed before her eyes. She saw him in the chair opposite her, as she had seen him so many times in the days that had just slipped back, leaning forward in the characteristic easy pose that became him so well—big and broadshouldered and handsome, with a smiling, sanguine face. Resolutely, she turned her head and stooping sniffed the roses on her desk. She summoned up a picture of the other man. He, too, was big and broadshouldered and good to look at, and there was much about him that appealed to a refined, fastidious woman of the world. The woman was a fair thinker. She knew in her soul that if the one man had never come, this other man's devotion would have won her heart. But what now, when the one man had gone?

She got up, restlessly, and wandered to the window. What a gray day it was! Would it never stop raining? Could anything pleasant happen in such a mud-colored world on such a God-forsaken day? It was a day to weep about, and the woman wept, her head against the window casing.

By-and-by, she threw aside the curtain, savagely, and came back to the fire. She sat down again, leaning her elbows on her knees and her chin resting in her hands, and stared again into the flames. As it was a day for weeping, so it was a day for serious thought. What did she want to do with her life, the woman asked the fire. She had been a drifter and a butterfly too long. She had always said that God put us here for a purpose, to do some work in the world—but what was her purpose? What was her work in the world? She must answer those questions some day. Was it time to answer them to-day? Had she a serious work to do alone in the world, a name to achieve? Did she want to go on like this, admired and courted, as long as she could? Or did she desire—something else? An oft-quoted line came to her. "There is a tide in the affairs of men—" She felt that she had just made a bitter mistake. Suppose this were the tide and she was about to take another step yet more unfortunate? She knitted her brows. Oh! for sense to think calmly! Would she choose her future life to-day when the opportunity was given her? Or would she—wait?

It seem to her all at once that little faces wreathed themselves in the darting flames and little forms reached out their arms to her—a chubby-faced boy with a hurt finger to be kissed and rosy cheeks to be washed, a blue-eyed girl with curls to be smoothed and a sash to be tied, and a baby, round and dimpled, to be cuddled. The woman bent nearer the fire. The room grew very silent and she sat quite motionless, staring into the grate. The clock ticked loudly and the rain hit the window pane. Dusk was falling, but she did not appear to notice.

The telephone bell rang sharply and the woman, with a new, strange light in her eyes, got up softly and went to answer it.

"You were good to send me the roses," she said into the mouthpiece. "To-night?—Yes. I had meant to call you and tell you that you might come—My answer?—A woman's voice is a telltale thing! I think you have guessed my answer, dear."

MEMPHIS, TEXAS

Postmaster Lewis this week received a little surprise in the shape of money. He was paid an old account which had been owing him ever since he was in the mercantile business here some 15 years ago.
The account amounted to $42.
The party in paying handed Mr.
Lewis what both thought was two twenty and one ten dollar bills, receiving $8 in exchange. When Mr. Lewis checked up his cash that night he found that he had received a $20 bill instead of the ten, and on hunting up the party corrected the error which would not have been noticed by him. An instance of honesty in two different channels.

Brother Jenkins' Misfortune.

Says the Adams Eagle: "We are mighty sorry to report an accident that happened to Brother Jenkins last week—and it was one of the strangest accidents that ever happened in this settlement. While he was peacefully pulling off his shoes, previous to retiring for the night a cow—a fine Jersey cow—walked into his room, which is on the ground floor, and bit off the calf of his left leg. Some of the neighbors seem disposed to be superstitious about it."

WELL NAMED CANNIBAL PLANT.

Nicaraguan Vegetable That Preys on Living Objects.

On the shores of Lake Nicaragua is to be found an uncanny product of the vegetable kingdom known among the natives by the expressive name of "the devil's noose." How delighted Poe would have been to make this cannibal plant the subject of one of his weird stories!

Dunstan, the naturalist, discovered it not long ago while wandering on the shores of the lake. Attracted by cries of pain and terror from his dog, he found the animal held by black, sticky bands, which had chafed the skin to the bleeding point. These bands were branches of a newly discovered carnivorous plant which has been aptly named "the land octopus."

The branches are flexible, black, polished, without leaves, and secrete a viscid fluid. They are also furnished with a great number of suckers, with which they attach themselves to their victims. It certainly deserves to be classed as the octopus of the vegetable world.—New York Herald.

Brace of Amusing Errors.

A famous sculpture group recently exhibited in Glasgow represents Adam and Eve after they left Eden. Eve, in despair, lies at Adam's feet.
Through a mistake an intelligent attendant placarded it with this description: "Motherless." At the same exhibition was a sleeping nymph, by a well known sculptor, which by another mistake appeared in the catalogue as "Mrs. —," greatly to the horror of Glasgow.

Gem From "Success."

If there is a pitiable sight in the world, it is that of a man when the executive ability, sagacity, and foresight to make a clean fortune, yet using his energies and abilities in making a dirty one,—a fortune which denounces and condemns him, and is a perpetual disgrace to himself and his family.—Orison Swett Marden.

Odd Recurrence of Digits.

"The most remarkable arrangement of numbers that I know of," said a local business college man who takes a delight in solving curious problems and digging up mathematical oddities,
"is the combination of the six figures or 142,857. Multiply this number by 2 and the answer is 285,714, by 3 and the answer is 428,571, by 4 and the answer is 571,428, by 5 and the answer is 714,285, by 6 and the answer is 857,142. Each answer contains exactly the same digits as the original sum, and, to cap the climax, multiply the number by 7 and up comes the answer 999,999."

Superstition in China.

Religious superstition asserts itself in Chinese architecture, and the universal sacredness of the numerals three and nine is shown in the arrangement of temple doors. There is a triple gateway to each of the halls of the imperial palace, and the same order prevails at the royal tombs, while the sacred person of the emperor can only be approached even by the highest officials after three times three prostrations have been given.

Transferred to Channing for September Term—Pierce Given Five Years, Burke Two.

About fifty witnesses were called to Dalhart from this city last week and this week to appear in the famous Coon ranch horse theft case in which Chas. McCrae, of Clarendon is one of the defendants.

The witnesses were mostly all character witnesses, and all have returned, reporting that McCrae's case was continued and transferred to Channing where it will again come up in September.

Rip Pierce, the main defendant, was tried and given five years in the penitentiary, while the young fellow, Burke, was sentenced to two years at hard labor. McCrae's friends say that from the evidence produced in these cases McCrae will likely come clear.

Makes home baking easy. Nothing can be substituted for it in making, quickly and perfectly, delicate hot biscuit, hot-breads, muffins, cake and pastry. Insures the food against alum.
