COUNTY TEACHERS MEET

The Donley County Teachers' Institute Now in Session With an Average Attendance.

The Donley County Teachers' Institute met Wednesday morning for a four-days' session with 22 teachers present.

The first subject discussed was "Friday Evening and Opening Exercises," which was discussed at length by Prof. Silvey and Miss Lizzie Stevens. Many important points were brought out.

"Geography" was discussed by Miss Pearl Betts, who refreshed the memory of some of the teachers in regard to the map of North America.

Prof. H. M. Pile, of Rowe, brought out a great many good points concerning the verb.

After noon the subject of "Percentage," by Prof. N. C. Duggins, was deferred till Friday when he will occupy the time assigned to Physics.

"History" was next treated by Miss Pearl Lide, who asked many important questions and gave some important ideas in regard to history teaching.

"Composition" was treated in a good paper by Miss Susie Patterson. "Figures of Speech" was especially treated. Samples of same were read and classified by members of the institute and the memories of a great many were refreshed along this line.

The institute opened with singing and prayer on Thursday morning, matters proceeding with increased interest. Mrs. A. R. Harris coming first on the program read a good paper concerning reading in the intermediate grades.

Misses Lizzie Stevens and Freddie Currie read good, lively papers on "Spelling."

Lastly, a great many timely remarks were made concerning good manners and politeness in general. A healthy interest has been manifested by the teachers throughout the meeting so far. The sessions will continue until Saturday evening, this report covering the business transacted up to noon yesterday.

We learn that E. C. Britain yesterday closed a deal whereby he buys the Mrs. James Walsh business house and lot next door to the Citizens Bank. The consideration was $1250. Mr. Britain has in contemplation the erection of a brick building on the lot at a future date.

Little Misses Ethel Rutherford and Bessie Gray went down to Rowe yesterday morning to spend a few days with the wife of Prof. Pyle and have a general good time.

Encouraged by past successes her purchases this season will be much larger in every line than heretofore, and with increased facilities and help will be better prepared than ever before to serve all her customers. As heretofore correct styles, low prices and courteous treatment will prevail.

BIG DAY'S LAND BUSINESS

McClelland Bros. Close Deals for Panhandle Lands Aggregating the Sum of $120,000.

We learn that the firm of McClelland Bros., of this city, closed deals last Saturday for the sale of $120,000 worth of land in the Panhandle, the buyers being parties from Oklahoma and other sections. The sales included the San Jacinto county school lands in Briscoe and Swisher counties, owned by Mrs. C. Adair and aggregating 15,500 acre in one block. The price paid for this land was $5.50 per acre. The purchasers will, we understand cut this block up into tracts of 160 and 320 acres for the purpose of inducing immigration and gaining new settlers.

Two sections of land near Tulia, in Swisher county, were also sold, the price being $15 per acre. Besides this various tracts of land in Armstrong, Gray and Carson counties were sold at prices ranging from $6 to $8 per acre, the total of the one day's business footing up the tidy sum of $120,000.

This is an item of news that will prove particularly interesting to outsiders, as it will serve to show with what leaps and bounds the Panhandle country is now settling up. The firm of McClelland Bros. is the oldest land firm in the Panhandle, and it is safe to say they have sold more land than any other company doing business in this country.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold at Dr. Stocking's drug store.

Planting Trees.

L. K. Egerton, of the Panhandle Nursery, this city, reports business good in the shade tree line just now. Among his latest orders is one from Col. R. E. Edmonson, the Kansas City breeder of fine cattle, who owns a ranch in Armstrong county. Some of the biggest planters of Black Locusts in Donley county are: J. H. Adams, Bray, 40,000. J. H. Myers, Rowe, 10,000. P. J. Smith, eight miles east of town, 20,000. J. H. O'Neill, four miles south of town, 40,000. He has sold a large number of smaller orders of from one to three thousand trees, and expects to sell fully as many more before the planting season is over for this spring. Mr. Egerton says the fame of his little forestry nursery is beginning to spread. It is now placed on the U. S. Forestry list as the only one of the kind in the state, and the orders he is receiving are an indication of the business being done. The nursery grounds will in the future be located south of town about two miles on a choice block of the Chamberlain land. Parties contemplating planting locust trees will do well to see Mr. Egerton at once. 17-11

It may interest some to learn that seven years ago Tuesday of last week was the coldest day the Panhandle has ever experienced. This information is given our reporter by Dr. Stocking who has formed a habit of keeping up with such matter.

The Yellow Fever Germ

has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria, poison and constipation. 25¢ at Stocking's drug store.

C. F. Doherty, of Rowe, one of the recent additions to the farming population of that community, was here last week and made us a pleasant call. Mr. Doherty has made one crop here and says he has never seen a country where a farmer could do as much with as little work, or make as much money at as small an outlay, as Donley county. Last year he made 12 bales of cotton on 33 acres, besides having splendid feed crops, and meeting with good success in the handling of a small bunch of cattle. He is now breaking sod and will increase his farm by 50 or 60 acres this year. One of the first things he did on coming here was to subscribe for the Banner-Stockman, and in renewing last week he took occasion to compliment the paper as the best county paper he had ever seen, commending our course in at all times working for the development of the country.

Your Appearance IS WHAT YOU ARE JUDGED BY

A man or woman is judged more or less by their clothes. The clothes don't make the man, they are only an index to his characteristics. A woman is a woman's judge, and a critical one. You can not afford to look "skimpy." When you are down town step into Chamberlain's, price what you wear and see if your purse will not justify a complete up-to-date outfit. If you buy our "BEST" you look your best, and are judged according to your merits.

B. W. Chamberlain

Donley County's Leading Merchant

H. I. Walker and family, of El Paso, have located in Clarendon and will make this their home. Mr. Walker is an expert painter and sign writer, and has been visiting this town for the past several years, all the neatest and best signs in this city being of his creation. He is an expert in the true sense of the word, and while he makes sign writing his specialty he also does all classes of house painting, carriage painting; in fact anything in the house, sign or ornamental painting lines. Parties desiring the services of such a man will be glad to welcome him to the city. His location for business will be announced later, and until then he can be found at one of the J. C. Asher houses near the convent.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a Godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in 50 minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me. Great remedy for weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at J. D. Stocking's drug store. Price 50c."

Messrs. John W. Smith and W. W. Ferrell, of Randolph, Fannin county, came in Monday morning on a prospecting trip. They say that Donley county looks as good to them as Fannin. Mr. Smith has been a reader of the Banner-Stockman for several years, and is therefore pretty well posted on this section. We trust both gentlemen will find farms to suit them, as they are substantial men who will make good citizens.

Walter Hollifield was up from Rowe last week and reports that burg still flourishing. W. P. McKenzie has bought lots from Uncle Nat Smith opposite the postoffice and will erect a new hotel building. ## FARMERS LOSE MONEY.

Kaffir Corn in Hogs Would Bring Them More Than if Sold as Grain.

General Freight Agent Sterley of the Denver road has been out through the Plains country, and his confidence in the future of that part of the state has been greatly strengthened by what he saw. Upon his return to Ft. Worth he told a reporter for one of the city papers:

"The finding of a market for kaffir corn is adding many dollars to the wealth of that country. This product is going for export. In the neighborhood of 300 cars of kaffir corn will have been shipped out for export by the close of the season, April 1. One cargo of 480,000 pounds has gone and one buyer says he has 1,700,000 pounds bought. In addition to kaffir corn there is a considerable movement of Indian corn. Then, too, cane seed is in demand and there will probably be about 100 cars of that product, and it is worth about $1,000 a car. This output is principally from Childress, Hall, Donley and Armstrong counties.

Through the wheat belt the farmers are perfectly well satisfied with conditions. Since the light rain of Monday they ought to be in a much happier frame of mind. Plowing is in progress everywhere and the power they use indicates they are doing a good job of it. Six-mule teams are the rule—in fact I saw but one four-mule team on my trip.

"Since July 1, 1905, the Denver road has unloaded at points on the Denver road and on the Wichita Valley, 553 carloads of immigrant movables. This means the people have come to stay and have brought their things. Every car will represent a family. While a few have more than one car of stuff there are others who double up to fill a car. This record is not taking into account the less than car load movement which has gone into that country, or the movement by wagon. Of this, 124 carloads went in January, 160 cars in December and 279 cars from July 1 to November 30. The banks are bulging with bullion and all are in a happy, prosperous frame of mind. It is all in this trade territory, and there are live merchants along the line of the road in all of the towns."

After reading the article, a reader of this paper, who is an authority on hog raising and is much interested in that industry, submitted the following communication, which should interest kaffir corn raisers in the Panhandle:

Mr. Sterley says there should be more hogs raised along that line of railway, and his statement should receive the careful consideration of all ranchmen, farmers and agriculturists in the Panhandle country in Texas.

Mr. Sterley further states that his road has handled this year 300 cars of kaffir corn; that one man has shipped 480,000 pounds, and expects to ship 1,700,000 pounds more.

Although we have no means to ascertain what price this grain nets the seller at shipping point, let us estimate that he realizes 30c per bushel, or 53½c per cwt.

Estimate the 300 cars as 7,200,000 pounds; grain to be shipped 1,700,000 pounds; total 8,900,000 pounds. Worth at 53½c per cwt. $47,615.

Now let us figure what could have been realized for same amount of grain if converted into pork.

Demonstrations have recently been made which show that 320 pounds of kaffir corn, and 52 pounds of tankage produced 100 pounds of pork.

On this basis 8,900,000 pounds of grain would produce 2,781,200 pounds of pork, worth at $5.50 per cwt. $152,966.

Tankage fed with corn, 1,447,224 lbs., worth at $35 per ton $25,322.50. Freight to Ft. Worth, estimate 17½c per cwt., $4,876.10. Interest on $47,615 at 8 per cent for 90 days, which is the feeding period $952.60. Making a total expense for feeding of $31,142.20.

This subtracted from the net proceeds realized for the hogs leaves a balance of $121,823.80, or 74,208.80 more than if the grain was sold for 30c per bushel.

There has been no allowance made for the labor in connection with the feeding, as the feeder can best figure what it costs, but it is reasonable to presume that the labor will not decrease materially the surplus gain by feeding same to swine instead of selling the grain.

There must further be taken into consideration that in this amount of grain there is considerable food value in the stalk and leaves, of which no account has been made in the above figures. This would no doubt balance the labor expense.

This is only one illustration of what might have been accomplished in one section of Texas in the raising of hogs, and other sections offer just as favorable inducements.

The receipts of hogs at the Ft. Worth market are away below the requirements of the packing houses at that point, in fact it is compulsory to ship pork from Missouri river points to Texas to meet the demand.—Ft. Worth Live Stock Reporter.

John A. McCall is Dead.

New York, Feb. 18.—John A. McCall, until recently president of the New York Life Insurance company, died at 5:33 o'clock this afternoon at the Laurel house in Lakewood, N. J., where he had been taken three weeks ago, in the hope that the change might benefit his health, which had suffered a break down two months ago. The news of his death was not given out by the family until some time after it occurred.

Mr. McCall had been unconscious since about 1 o'clock this morning, except possibly for one brief minute this afternoon when his eyes opened and looked into the face of his wife, who was bending over him. He smiled and as he did so, his eyes closed again, and he remained in the coma until the end came.

The attending physicians notified the family at 1 o'clock this afternoon that the end was close at hand. It was announced that Mr. McCall's death was due to enlargement of the liver and the end had been peaceful and without pain.

Mrs. McCall is now under medical care. She had become worn out by the long vigil at the bedside of her husband and when he died, she practically collapsed, although it is thought her condition will not develop seriously.

Sam Dunn, of Greer county has bought the residence of Mrs. J. A. Shoemaker, north of the track, and will move to Clarendon for school benefits.

If blockheads were not full of gas and it were not against the law to burn them the Panhandle's fuel supply would be inexhaustible.

Donley county is going to experiment with the sugar beet industry this year. Donley is always after the sweet things of this world.—Wellington Times.

Yes, and she is getting some of the sweetest. First thing you know it will be a sugar factory.

THE city has begun its usual spring cleaning and a force of men is now at work picking up the trash on our streets and alleys and carting it to the dumping grounds. It is in order for all citizens to help along this good work by having their premises put in a thorough state of sanitation. Clarendon has some little reputation for being a clean town; let's keep it so.

WE would warn the boys that it is strictly against the law to be hopping on and off passenger trains as they pull in and out of the station. While our reporter was at the depot last night he witnessed the disgraceful conduct of one of Clarendon's young men. The train had just arrived when this boy proceeded to climb up in the window, and when jumping down knocked a lady to the ground. Such things should be stopped and that at once.

The Banner-Stockman is advocating the growing of sugar beets in Donley county. Several farmers will be asked to grow beets this year which will be tested for sugar next year and if found profitable a move will be started toward getting a sugar mill. In Potter county last year several small patches of sugar beets were put in with good success and there is no doubt but that the beet can be raised with profit on sections of the plains. The Herald has on exhibition in its office a sugar beet raised near this city weighing a fraction over 9 pounds. That should be evidence enough.—Amarillo Herald.

Hon. R Walker Hall.

For benefit of Clarendon College Hon. Walker Hall, of Vernon, will deliver a lecture at the opera house tomorrow night. Mr. Hall has been advertised to appear several times this season, but owing to various reasons he has been prevented from coming until now. Pres. Hardy authorizes us to say, however, that he will positively be on hand tomorrow (Saturday) night, at the usual hour.

The patronage of the public is respectfully requested, and all attending will be assured of a treat.

James Trent bought this week through the firm of Martin-Bennett Co., 75 tons of threshed kaffir corn at 65 cents per cwt. Fifty tons of this amount were furnished by T. S. Bugbee. Mr. Trent will grind this grain and feed to his beef steers.

Dr. Fly's Address.

Dr. D. R. Fly, of Amarillo, addressed a small audience at the court house Wednesday afternoon on various subjects, particularly the necessity of state and federal laws for the government of patent and proprietary medicines and food products. The doctor did some genteel "skinning" and was in turn genteelly "skun" by several present who were asked for an expression on the subject in hand. We had intended treating of the occasion at greater length but lack of space prevents our so doing this week.

The physicians of the United States, according to Doctor Fly, are now awake to the patent medicine evil and are joining forces with Collier's Weekly, Ladies' Home Journal, Amarillo Paragon and other publications of note which are trying to stamp out the bugaboo which they style "The Great American Fraud."

House Party.

Misses Bessie Chamberlain, Elizabeth Martin, Helen Molesworth and Lindley Anderson are the members of a jolly house party at the home of Mrs. Frank D. Martin this week while Mr. Martin is away at market for his firm. The ladies are having a good time all to themselves, and masculine society is eschewed entirely, except for a little musical on Monday night when J. G. Martin and Mr. Burkhart, of Jericho, were lucky enough to secure invitations to be present.

Giles Glimmerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Shelton entertained quite a crowd with a party Friday night.

Miss Dessa Young got hit in the eye with a baseball Saturday. While the wound was not serious it was very painful, and her eye was of a very "dusky hue" for several days.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank Drs. Standifer & Caylor, the Woodmen and liverymen and all our friends, who were so kind and helpful to us during the sickness and death of our dear daughter and sister. We sincerely hope that God will give to each one just such friends when needed.

Business Change.

E. W. Bromley has bought the interest of E. C. Maulfair in the drug business formerly known by the firm name of Fleming & Maulfair. The new firm will be Fleming & Bromley, and the business will be conducted as before by Mr. J. S. Fleming, who is a thorough druggist and registered pharmacist, as is also Mr. T. L. Goodman, the obliging prescription clerk. The new firm will endeavor to merit a continuance of the splendid patronage now being enjoyed by keeping a full stock of everything in the drug line, always of the best qualities, and extending to one and all prompt and courteous treatment. it

Buys Good Bulls.

M. T. Howard received this week two fine registered Hereford bulls for his ranch in the Paloduro canyon. The animals were bought from R. H. Norton, the breeder, at Hereford, Texas, and are fine specimens of the Whiteface breed. One is 29 months old and weighs 1090 pounds; the other is only 22 months old and weighs 990, pretty good weights for youngsters right from the range. The two cost Mr. Howard $280, and appear to be well worth the money.

WAY PIPE SHOULD BE LIGHTED.

Subject of Vastly More Importance Than Appears.

There has been a little newspaper discussion recently on the subject of "How to Light a Pipe." This may seem to the feminine mind, a trivial matter, and quite beneath the notice of any dignified journal.

How wrong! For a pipe ill-lit is a pipe ill-smoked, and a pipe ill-smoked is a man made testy, and a man made testy is a man looking out for trouble, and a man looking out for trouble is a man finding trouble, and a man finding trouble is a woman in tears, and a woman in tears is the last word in human dreariness. Never let us be ashamed to inquire, then, how a pipe may be lit with the utmost satisfaction to the smoker.

One paper, I see, recommends spills. That is good, but the spills, of course, must be wooden ones.

Another paper retorts that spills are of no sort of use to the man in the train. This is the kind of frightfully true thing that causes a hush in the noisiest assembly. What, then, should the man in the train do?

I will tell him. He should carry a box of wooden matches, and he should use exactly two matches to light his pipe. The first one will dry the tobacco on the surface, and the second one will produce the vivid, even glow beloved of smokers.

The man, by the way, who lights his pipe with a wax match is a bad man right from the start. Never trust him, dear friend.—Sketch.

OLD PLACE WAS GOOD ENOUGH.

Comprehensive Reason Why Citizen Came Home.

"Squire" Lord, of local fame in Effingham, N. H., fifty years ago, had accumulated, by all sorts of methods, a fortune for the times and place. Keeping the country store, being practically the "bank" of those parts and increasing wealth beyond expenditures had nourished an ambition to live in a place larger and with more social opportunities than the little village afforded. So he packed up one autumn, took a house in Portland, which was the town of the world to country people then, and with his family started in to cut a dash.

To his chagrin, he found he was one of many in that place, and not a scrape or bow was coming his way. Christmas saw him back, bag and baggage, in Effingham, and that evening in his store, to the inquiry of one of the village loafers, "Why'd ye come back, squire, 'fore you'd calculated?" he replied:

"I've had enough of that place. Yer see, I'd rather be a king among hogs than a hog among kings."

Songs That Have Won Favor.

The intensely popular song is not the only one which it is very profitable to write. Among the most successful of better-class songs may be mentioned "Violets" and "Oh Dry Those Tears." The manuscript of the former was offered to and rejected by nearly all the principal publishers in London before it was eventually accepted and printed. It speedily won its way to favor, and its sale has been both large and regular ever since.

AGRICULTURE

Sugar Beets.

Many of our farmers can add greatly to the value of their farms by growing a small area of sugar beets for use on the farm. Nearly all farm animals are very fond of sugar beets. Cattle thrive on them as do hogs and poultry. The large amount of sugar in them makes them very palatable. If they are grown only for home use, much of the labor usually attendant on the growing of sugar beets is avoided. When they are grown for factory use it is necessary that a great deal of labor be put upon them in the way of thinning and topping to produce a beet not too small and not too large. In producing beets for factory use also it is necessary to have a variety that will grow largely under the ground. But when these beets are produced for use on the farm it is not at all necessary to be careful as to variety, or whether they are grown both above the ground or under the ground. Some of the varieties of sugar beets, on good soil, will project 3 or 4 inches above the ground. The man that is going to sow a small patch of beets should secure the seed as early in the winter as possible and test the germinating power, that he may be able to form some conception of how much he needs to sow to get a fair stand. He should buy enough seed so that he can sow it in a row and get a compact stand, which will give a compact mass of foliage. This in turn shades the ground, helps the nitrifying bacteria and keeps the weeds from growing. It leaves space between the rows free for the passage of the horse cultivator. In the fall these beets will prove to be very valuable, whatever way they are used. The amount of work put upon them will be then comparatively small.

Trading With Savages.

Beads and tobacco are the openesame to the affections of a savage. An Australian official who has been visiting British New Guinea brings back with him a gorgeous headdress made of the feathers of birds of paradise, the many-colored plumage of parrots and various other of the brilliant birds of that region, all securely sewn together and bound with beautiful shells. Two axes and a pocket knife were at first offered for the treasure, but the Papuan owner shook his head. A strip of calico was added, with the like result; but the owner's eyes glistened at the sight of a string of beads and a plug of tobacco and the bargain was clinched.

PROOF POSITIVE OF MISTAKE

Frog Was There to Back Up Assertion of Doctor.

Many years ago Dr. Woodward, founder of the Woodward Institute at Quincy, Mass., was much annoyed by a wealthy maiden lady who was very positive she had swallowed a young frog and that it was growing in her stomach. After many attempts to disillusion her, the doctor resorted to a stratagem. He procured a medium-sized frog, and placing it in his pocket, visited the patient and informed her that he proposed to remove the frog. He administered a powerful emetic. He then produced the frog, and she was very happy, and kept the frog as a souvenir.

In less than a week he had an urgent call from the lady, who tearfully informed him that the frog had left one of its family in her stomach. He took the frog, placed him on a table, and with his microscope examined him long and attentively. At last, with a sigh of relief, he exclaimed: "Madam, you are mistaken; the frog is a he one."—Exchange.

Husband's Best Points.

A happily married woman writing to one of the household magazines says that the qualities she most admires in her husband are these, says the Philadelphia Bulletin: "A readiness to be pleased is one of his traits which brings much quiet happiness into our married life. In the management of the home he trusts me entirely, and, though he may suggest, he never dictates. He is seldom too busy or tired to listen interestedly to all I may have to tell him. Though he tells me his business vexations, he does not make me suffer on account of them, and is always ready to do the helpful little things that mean so much to a woman. In money matters he takes me into his full confidence and partnership."

Why "Old Hickory."

Andrew Jackson's most common nickname was Old Hickory, bestowed on him by the soldiers he commanded. "Tough as hickory" he was, so the men said; the name was at once popular in the army and spread among the people. The Indians of the southeast called him Big Knife, and the name Hero of New Orleans came as a natural sequel to his victory.

Civil War Freight Route.

About the time of the civil war freight was carried from Cleveland to the Ohio river, by way of the Ohio canal and the Muskingum river, which is never transported now in that way, through Ohio. Iron ore from the Lake Superior region was carried by water to Ohio river furnaces, and it was not uncommon to ship Lake Erie ice down the canal and the Muskingum.

The firm is now Green & Holder. Mr. Gardenhire's reason for selling is that inasmuch as his company has a large amount of land, the owners of which are depending upon the company to sell, he considered that in justice to them his entire time should be devoted to the settling of farmers on the fine farming land in this country now being used for grazing purposes.—The McLean News.

YEARS ARE AS WE MAKE THEM.

Annual Milestones Need Frighten None But the Foolish.

I have very little regard for the fight against Time which spends itself on a strife with gray hairs and wrinkles. There used to be a picture published as an advertisement in which an elderly woman had one side of her face all ironed out smoothly, while the other was wrinkled and worn. The wrinkled side was the more pleasing. As we grow older every line in the countenance should tell a story of loving deeds. We are making for ourselves in youth the masques we shall wear to the very end. Every fretful, discontented, dissatisfied expression writes itself upon the face so that the sweetest and ripest natures will have the rarest loveliness when they grow old. A woman is as old as she looks, and as old as she feels. A sign of our increased health and vitality to-day is found in the fact that a woman of fifty looks about as old as a woman formerly looked at thirty-five, and many an active woman of eighty has the vigor that was formerly common at sixty. The milestones need frighten nobody. Older people are no longer put in a corner, nor are they expected to hug the chimney corner. It is a woman's obligation to be charming to her latest day.—Margaret E. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion.

Big Sassafras Tree.

The sassafras does not usually grow to be a very large tree, but a correspondent of the Bloomsburg Democratic Sentinel says there is a tree of this species on the poor farm about two miles from Bloomsburg which measures nine feet seven inches in circumference one foot from the ground, and six feet seven inches six feet above the ground.—Philadelphia Record.

Royal Gifts.

Prince Danilo of Montenegro sent his father the head of a notorious bandit as a birthday present. A king of Naples, whose life had been attempted several times, had each assailant put to death. From their skins he had made pocketbooks, cigar cases and other articles, which he was accustomed to send to other rulers as birthday presents.

Thought Tom Was Near at Hand. She is a devoted mother, whose loving attentions to her family have given her little opportunity for keeping abreast of the world's advancement.

The eldest son had been absent from home for the first time, and the elder members of the family planned a surprise by placing her in telephone communication with him. After hearing the voice of her boy through the receiver she could not believe that he was far away in Atlanta, Ga., as he assured her he was. Dropping the instrument, she looked under the table and called out, "Now, Tom, come out of there and stop your nonsense." —Baltimore Sun.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

By W. A. Allan, Clarendon, Texas.
"George Washington, 'First in peace, first in war, first in the hearts of his countrymen'."—"Lighthorse" Harry Lee.

Washington told the truth, he said
"Father, I cannot tell a lie."
George Washington shall never die.
Tho' childless, we're his posterity.
In his broad Federal creed laid our prosperity.

He held the whole truth's fine vesity:
In him manhood towered up toward Deity.

He spoke the whole truth and let lying to others go.
This was his manly way, whatever might ensue.

The changing stars could not his word undo.
Sages said he was not great because too good!

But the adventurer, Lee, put the devil in his blood.
Then such lordly swearing, such consuming rage,

Such thunderbolts of lightning must not illumine this page.

T'was the touch of mighty Nature that made the world akin,
If there is sin in swearing: but he made it a lordly sin.

Said one of his staff, "Sir, the battle is lost."
Then like a meteor torn from the skies

The leader and patriot, Whitehorse, like a tempest flies
To Lee; "Back, sir, back, to the rear and your shade,

It was not talent nor country that led you, but envy," he said.
Like an angry archangel who can fight without sinning,

So he forth and away was sure of his winning.
Now the ring of English steel upon American steel,

English lancers in this Old Virginia Reel
They fight like mastiffs, like duelists, Madmen like falcons, cut, parry, fence, thrust—

As two eagles fight in midair in the face of the sun,
Armed with wing, beak, the fearful scream.

Ah, this is the glorious manhood's fight, the past a dream.
But not all those weapons in the battle so regal,

Tis the soul of the man that strikes—the soul of the eagle.
The soul of the American that strikes—the soul of the American eagle.

But this Fabian leader did that which Caesar's legions,
Nor that genius of war with his masterful battalions,

Napoleon, that matchless god of Mars, Could not do in all his wars.

George Washington conquered England.
He quailed not at King George, proud Tudor's frown,

Would not bow his head to wear a crown; That matchless man and leader bowed his head to none but God.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.
"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At J. D. Stocking, druggist, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

He has appeared in this city a time or two in the past, and all who heard him then will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity to again enjoy his flow of words.

The Mail Order Business.

None of my business men would like have me advertise the mail order houses, and yet almost every paper that comes from outside of my town to subscribers does advertise them, says G. L. Caswell of the Denison, La. Bulletin. They are putting the game of business in front of the local merchant hard, and he has got to play it out. I find that most merchants are tackling the problem with a center rush and a steady guard. They have the catalogues right on their desks, and when customers declare what they can do at Buckro, Sears & Co. the merchant shows them he can duplicate the order or beat it. In many instances he can beat it and does if given a chance.
It is the chance that he wants to get, and that is as far as I believe the newspaper can help him out.

There is but one argument the newspaper can make that no catalogue house can meet, and that is one of home patriotism, showing, if possible, that it is the home merchant and business man that pays the taxes, contributes to the relief of sufferers at home, gives credit in time of need, makes the property of town and country more valuable and is the bulwark of the country's prosperity as much as even the farmer is himself. The trade of home spirit is one there is no argument against if it is backed by fair business methods on the part of the local merchant, and it will win its share of the victory if given a chance through the home paper.
Increased and study advertising to attract the trade away from the mail order business and prices as low as business judgment and legitimate profit will permit will do all that can be done to counteract the mail order habit.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale at Dr.
Stocking's drug store.

G. C. Rhoderick, father of Mr.

the Middletown Register.

wounds, sores, eczema and piles. 25c at

DECLINED.

If a fairy should say she could take me back To the days of youth, down the sun-rise track
Where the blood flowed quick and the skies were blue,
I'd laugh right out and would holler,
"Do!"
But before she had time to wave her wand
I'd make a motion to stay her hand;
I'd jump at her and I'd holler, "Whoa!
Git out o' here! I don't want to go!"

Git out o' here! I don't want to go!
Where the streams o' boyhood' rush and flow!
I don't want to go! I don't care at all
For the whippoorwill's far, plaintive call!
Don't talk to me o' the apple trees,
Nor of daisies growin' above my knees,
Nor of swimmin' holes, nor of school,
nor chums,
Nor of clover fields where the wild bee hums.

Don't talk to me of the windin' way,
Nor the jouncin', bouncin' loads o' hay;
Don't talk to me of the riyer's song
Where we fished for graylin's the whole day long;
Where we swum an' "chawed" each others clothes,
Where the kites still ride on each breeze
that blows,
Of the pirate cave and the robber's den;
Don't offer to make me a boy again!

I don't want to go, I don't want to go Way back where the perfumed breezes blow
Of youth; where, o' nights, from the distant hill
Came the sad sweet song of the whippoorwill.

I've a little lass turned four years old Who calls me "Daddie", her locks are gold
And she lilt and sings and laughs with glee;
She's worth all the years that have come to me!

And her mother and baby sister wait
Each night for me by the old home gate
Just to wave me greeting, and romp and run

In a race to me when the day is done;
Why, I couldn't have them and my boy-hood, too,
So please don't talk of the days I knew Away back there where the wild birds call.

For my little home is well worth them all!

—J. M. Lewis in Houston Post.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale at Dr. J. D. Stocking's drug store.

J. J. Harrison returned Sunday from Hollis, Oklahoma, where he went to dispose of a shipment of horses he had been pasturing there market dull in Oklahoma and drove from Hollis to Quanah and shipped to Ft. Worth, where he sold at good figures.—Tucumcari News.
