

Grand Jury Calls For Unity

The Deaf Smith County Grand Jury has issued a report decrying a lack of cooperation among various agencies of local government and calling upon each group to do what it can to bring about harmony.

The report, addressed to Dist. Judge Archie McDonald, was released Wednesday afternoon. McDonald said supposition and speculation would be greater if it were kept secret.

The grand jury said it found its investigations "that there is not complete cooperation between the Police Department, the Sheriff's Department, The County Court, the Commissioners Court, the Juvenile Officer and the Probation Officer."

It made no specific charges against any particular person, but the panel added: "... we do feel that there is a lack of cooperation that exists between all of these agencies which is detrimental to our city and our county."

The report, signed by foreman Jimmie Allred, carried the unanimous approval of each of the grand jurors.

"We fail to see why all of these bodies cannot cooperate with each other when they are all engaged in the same purpose; that is, the promotion of the welfare of our city and county and the prosecution of the offenders of the law," the report added.

The report was critical of the news coverage given matters involving the community.

"We feel that there has not been a fair and unbiased presentation of all of the facts as reported by our local newspaper and area television stations and in some instances there has been incorrect reporting, all of which results in a very unfavorable publicity for our community."

The grand jury also threw some criticism toward Dist. Atty. Jerry Tucker, who announced his resignation after the panel was discharged last Friday.

Tucker said he resigned because the salary of the district attorney's job is insufficient considering the recent big increase in the criminal caseload over the six-county district.

The grand jury said it found several instances where the district attorney permitted indictments returned by previous grand juries to remain on the docket for a considerable length of time without any kind of disposition.

"We have also found that indictments which have heretofore been rendered by previous grand juries, based upon evidence then found by the jury sufficient to render an indictment, have been dismissed on motion of the district attorney without knowledge of the arresting officers or the other law enforcement bodies. In several instances it has been brought to our attention that the officers who made the arrest and worked up the evidence and presented the same to the grand jury have not been consulted at the time when these indictments have been dismissed."

The grand jury said it recognizes the work load in the district attorney's office is too heavy.

"In this connection," the grand jury said, "we lend our support to the effort that is being made to have an act passed by our legislature to create a criminal district attorney's office for Deaf Smith County. We believe the work load that has existed and will continue to exist in this county requires a full-

Chamber Leaders Told

Hereford Needs To Get With It, Shift Into Gear

The personal involvement by the entire community which moved Hereford to a position of economic prominence in the region and state in the past decade is tapering off, a civic leader told the leadership of the local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

He challenged the officers and directors to take the initiative in re-instilling in Hereford's residents their pride in being part of a "winner" and desire to move the city to higher and higher goals.

Clint Formby, the speaker at the chamber's annual installation of new officers and directors at Hereford Country Club, said Hereford laid down impressive marks in 1970 in several areas — its retail sales, bank deposits, medical facilities, school system, building permits, and other things. But virtually all can be traced to leadership exerted several years ago, he said.

There is indication that residents now are settling into complacency and leaving it up to scattered individuals to carry the city and county forward, Formby said.

"The time to make repairs is when the sun is shining," Formby said, quoting an old saying. "The sun has been shining very bright here, but our momentum can become a double-edged sword if we're not careful. We must rekindle pride in our citizens. We must make some repairs now."

At the dinner, Charles Hoover was installed as president, succeeding Virgil Marsh, Rocky Lee as vice president and Harold Close as secretary-treasurer. Earl Stagner, Bobby Veigel, Jim Conkright and A. J. Major Schroeter were installed as new directors.

Formby, owner of radio station KPAN, stressed that he is not presenting himself as an authority or an expert, but he threw forth several suggestions as a place to start Hereford moving in high gear again.

"For example, let's talk about community involvement. Let's talk about the United Fund, which is falling badly, floundering, here. It does not have the support, the entire support, of the community. And I'm not saying this in criticism of its leaders last year, because it was not the leaders, but the lack of community support, which caused it to fail," Formby said.

"But we should either make sure it goes over or do away with it. I'm not saying the Chamber of Commerce should take it over, but it can move in and exert its leadership in getting the support of the community behind it," he said.

He also threw forth these specifics, as something for the chamber officers to begin giving serious thought to:

—an improvement in the city's recreational facilities, including creation of new parks, nine more holes at the golf course and expanded summer sports programs for youths.

—Sponsorship by someone of a Christmas lighting program.

—an annual one, two or three day event to spotlight new industries that have come into the city and county in the past five or six years.

—an effort to get nationally-known personalities into Hereford for various events throughout the year.

—reconsideration of an industrial foundation for Hereford to put forth a stronger effort in bringing new industries to the area.

—improvements in transportation, especially concerning a lengthened runway at the local airport if the city is to continue flying in prospective new industries for an evaluation of Hereford as a future site.

—a local beauty pageant, from which the winner would go to the Miss Texas contest.

—reestablishment of the Jaycees in Hereford.

—work toward making Hereford a cleaner and more attractive city.

—reactivation of breakfast "awakening" meetings for the exchange of thoughts and ideas on various topics.

"We could go around the room and you could come up with several other ideas. These are just some possibilities. We have got to look the people straight in the eye and tell them in 1971 that we're at the crossroads right now. I can't help but feel that," Formby said.

"How many new industries were announced for Hereford in 1970?" Formby asked his Chamber of Commerce audience. "I don't mean opened, or construction finished. I mean announced. You're going to be hard pressed to think of a new one. I have not even been hearing any rumors lately. It used to be we had rumors going on all the time. It was something else every day. But what do you hear now?"

Formby said he realizes the city has been working on several areas, such as recreation, "but maybe they need a push. Maybe they need your encouragement. When was the last time we added a new park here? I'm discouraged every-time I go to East Texas and they have more recreation within 10 miles than we have within 100 miles."

He said among Hereford's boasts in a few years may be that the city is the largest in the state with only a nine-hole golf course.

"I hate to bring the golf course up, but every industry wants to know what its employees can do after they get off work," Formby said.

"And a Boys Club. I don't know if we need one, but maybe we do. Perhaps we should look into some expanded summer recreation program, an indoor swimming pool, a YMCA."

The appearance of the city is "one of those intangible things," Formby said. "We are accustomed to driving through town, and we take it all for granted. But a city employee told me the other day he feels Hereford has probably the worst alleys and the worst yards in West Texas," the radio owner continued.

"Maybe a cleanup, fixup week is not enough. Maybe we need to try to convince the property owner that to clean up his property may make it more valuable. Somehow, we need to get the involvement of the city of Hereford back up to what it was a few years ago."

This area has had less rain than ordinary in the past few years, but new industries in the past five or six years have given Hereford a broader-based economy, keeping the town moving despite occasional agricultural losses, he pointed out.

"Why can't we have a day — taking a key from our teacher appreciation banquet — and recognize these people, these new industries, for what they are doing for our community?" Formby asked.

He pointed out that Plainview is bringing Art Linkletter to town for one event and Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin for another this month. Such an event as the spotlight on industry would be an ideal setting for bringing in such a "name" personality, he added.

State Says County Erred On Hodges

Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled that the county commissioners court violated the law in appointing Billy Hodges as deputy sheriff and ex-officio juvenile officer five months ago.

The ruling said, first, that county commissioners may never themselves hire a deputy sheriff, or even influence the selection of a particular deputy, regardless of the deputy's duties.

Second, the opinion said that even if a deputy is assigned to juvenile duties, state law prohibits him from carrying out the duties of a juvenile officer as mentioned in the statutes.

County Judge H. C. Williams requested the ruling, through the office of County Attorney Andy Shuval.

A seven-man screening board made up of Williams and two representatives each from the commissioners, city commission and school board came up with the idea of using a deputy appointment to select the juvenile officer, and the county commissioners followed through. Williams declined to participate in the deliberations.

Shuval's letter last Nov. 13 to the attorney general's office also asked a question the judge had not requested: whether it is legal for a juvenile judge to commit a juvenile to jail.

To that, Martin replied in the negative.

"It is manifest that a juvenile court judge has no power or authority whatsoever to order a juvenile delinquent committed to a county jail to serve a sentence," Martin said.

An order of commitment by Williams ordering a 16-year-old boy, judged a delinquent, to the Deaf Smith County Jail "for a period of 90 days, subject to the Court's review," was sent to Austin with Shuval's letter.

The youth actually stayed in jail 25 days, in the juvenile quarters, the judge said. The boy went to school each day and returned to the jail to spend each night, he added.

Williams said the youth was in the upper age bracket for a juvenile — he turned 17 while going through the 25-day detention period in the juvenile quarters. The alternative to sentencing the youth as he did would have been to commit the youth, who had previously been involved in various violations, to the state reformatory, he said.

Hodges, a member of the Hereford Police Department until his selection as "juvenile officer," took office last Sept. 1.

The five-page, single-spaced opinion said, selection of a deputy belongs exclusively to the sheriff.

The attorney general said the sheriff himself may appoint a deputy and assign him to juvenile matters. But even then, the ruling said, the deputy's duties in that regard would be limited.

"We hold that a deputy sheriff has no ex-officio authority to perform the duties of a county juvenile officer, with the exception of those duties set forth in Article 2338-1 (7), supra. However this opinion does not restrict the duties or functions of any peace officer relative to any offenses committed by juveniles," the opinion said.

In Article 2338-1 (7), the only mention of a deputy is this: "Any person may, and any peace officer shall, give to the Judge, County Attorney, or to the Probation Officer of the county, information in his possession that a child is within the provisions of this Act."

The attorney general's ruling said no further authorization can be found in Texas statutes for the performance by a deputy sheriff of the duties of a county juvenile officer.

The opinion then cited a statute that reads: "Public officers possess only such powers as are expressly conferred on them by law or are necessarily implied from the powers so conferred. They cannot legally perform acts not authorized by existing law."

Texas law does provide for a juvenile officer, the opinion pointed out, with these powers: "Such (juvenile) officers shall have authority and it shall be their duty to make investigations of all cases referred to them as such by such (county juvenile) board; to be present in court and to represent the interest of the juvenile when the case is heard, and to furnish to the court and such Board any information and assistance as such Board may require, and to take charge of any child before and after the trial and to perform such other services for the child as may be required by the court or said Board, and such juvenile officers shall be vested with all the power and authority of police officers or sheriffs incident to their offices."

Williams said he wanted to look over the ruling more thoroughly before commenting on his future course of action. He delivered a letter to county commissioners and to the juvenile officer appointing committee on Nov. 11 that said "the 'deputy' presently serving as a juvenile probation officer in Deaf Smith County is not in compliance with the law."

Williams claimed in that letter the right to personally appoint any juvenile officer and said that "as of this date" the juvenile officer had no right to continue and that "this court from this date on will handle all juvenile matters including the supervision of any juveniles placed on probation and all other juvenile matters."

Hodges, on the advice of the appointing board, refused Williams' request the next day for all his records, however, and continued to function as juvenile officer. The following day, then, Williams had Shuval ask the attorney general's office for channels," McPherson said. The new system will cost approximately $185 per month, but the federal government has agreed to pay half that cost. McPherson said with the installation of the new system, the monthly cost of running the teletype system might even go down from what it has been in the past.

McPherson said his office needed an answer to the request as soon as possible so it could put its name on the list of cities that want the system.

Sheriff Wins County's Approval For Statewide Teletype Hookup

The county commissioners, in a light session Monday, approved the spending of approximately $150 for the installation of a new computer teletype machine for the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Travis McPherson, in asking the commissioners to grant the installation, said the new network would help his office keep closer contact with the state offices in Austin.

"With this new system, we will be able to get our information direct from Austin without going through all these other channels," McPherson said. The new system will cost approximately $185 per month, but the federal government has agreed to pay half that cost. McPherson said with the installation of the new system, the monthly cost of running the teletype system might even go down from what it has been in the past.

McPherson said his office needed an answer to the request as soon as possible so it could put its name on the list of cities that want the system.

Top Citizen To Be Named

Chamber Banquet Is Tonight

The naming of Hereford's Citizen of the Year will highlight the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet tonight at 7:30 at the Bull Barn, during which Oklahoma's Lt. Gov. George Nigh will be the guest speaker.

The Lions Club annually selects a Citizen of the Year, honoring the outstanding man or woman of the past year.

Approximately 600 tickets to the banquet were reported sold through Wednesday. Tickets will be sold until 5 p. m. today at the chamber office for $5 each.

Wilson Beef and Lamb will provide the rib-eye steaks to be served by the Caison House. Nancy Jones, music teacher at Bluebonnet School, will provide the dinner music, and the Rev. Gene Brink will give the invocation.

Nigh, hailed as "Oklahoma's Second Will Rogers," has been involved in Oklahoma politics almost half of his life. At the age of 22 he was elected the youngest member of the Oklahoma House of Representatives and served there for eight years. In 1958, at the age of 30, he was elected the youngest Lt.

Governor in the history of Oklahoma and the youngest then serving in the United States.

In 1963, at the age of 35, Nigh was elevated to the office of Governor to fill an unexpired term. In 1967 he was re-elected to the office of Lt. Governor where he is now serving.

A teacher by profession, he taught history and government in the high school at McAlester, Okla., and later taught political science at Oklahoma City University.

He is currently serving as vice chairman of the nation's

Lt. Governor's Conference, and also on the board of governors for the Council of State Governments. He is a former state officer in the Junior Chamber of Commerce and served as Executive Director of the World Congress of Junior Chamber International held in Oklahoma City. He received the Distinguished Service Award three times in his home town of McAlester.

His talk tonight at the chamber of commerce banquet will be "You Gotta Be Careful What You Say!"

ROLAND BARTON will vacate post

Barton Leaving Hereford

City Commissioner Roland Barton confirmed Wednesday he will be resigning his commissioner's office sometime in the near future to accept the position of executive vice president of Shur-Gro Industries, Inc. of Clovis.

Barton, who has been a commissioner just over two years, said he does not plan to submit his resignation at the Monday meeting. He said he would like to continue as a commissioner until the time he has to make the move to Clovis.

"It could be anywhere from one month to six months," he said. "I haven't completely decided on everything just yet and I am going to have to meet with the other commissioners and talk it over with them."

Barton came to Hereford in August of 1963 and was appointed city commissioner in 1968. He took the unexpired term of Johnny Pool who was elevated to mayor upon the resignation of Ray Cowsert.

He has served as president of this division of Shur-Gro Liquid Feeds and will be replaced by Jerry Skaggs who has been sales manager here since 1961.

City Manager Dudley Bayne, caught completely unaware of Barton's intentions to resign, said he, as well as the other commissioners, would certainly miss Barton when he leaves.

When Barton submits his resignation, the city commission will have to appoint a successor to fill out his unexpired term. Bayne said the commissioners have no replacement in mind and will wait until after they have a chance to discuss the matter with Barton.

Students Selected All-Area

Hereford High School landed three students on the all-area band and two students on the all-area choir in tryouts at Canyon last Saturday.

Sherry White and Caye Clearman will compete in Lubbock Saturday for spots on the all-state choir.

Gary London, Cella Hutcherson and Connie Walker—a trio of clarinetists—will vie in Lubbock the following Saturday for the all-state band.

The three band members will be among 240 in Lubbock, trying for 60 available spots on the all-state band. Their actual competition will be against 41 clarinetists. Eleven clarinet places are available from each of the state's four areas in the all-state band.

Success in Lubbock, at the all-area tryouts, automatically would put the winners on the all-state band or choir.

The all-state band and choir will perform in Houston Feb. 10-13, concurrent with the annual Texas Music Educators Association convention. About 20,000 persons are expected to attend, including all categories of music teachers—whether choral, band, orchestra or elementary.

At Houston the top bandmen will audition for the top band, known as the symphonic band, or the No. 2 band, called the concert band. Both will perform before the convention.

They will work under an internationally known composer, rehearsing for three days before giving the grand concert before the entire convention.

About 300 band members performed in Canyon for the 60 spots from this region on the all-area band. In University Interscholastic League band and choir competition, all students compete together in one category, regardless of size of school. Hereford provided three of the region's 11 clarinetists going to Lubbock.

Correction

Because of a transmission error in the story in The Sunday Brand on last week's grand jury indictments, Terry Eugene Warren of Amarillo was named as having been indicted on two counts of theft over $50.

This is incorrect.

Warren, 25, of 5013 Lue, Amarillo, was indicted for possession of marijuana.

The person indicted on two counts of theft over $50 was Douglas Tatom of Hereford. One count against Tatom, a high school senior, concerned about $600 taken from Gibson's Discount Center in September and another count concerned $120 or more missing from Hereford Meat Market in December.

Resolution Heads For Austin

Beet Growers' Annual Banquet Draws A Crowd

A half-hour of humor laced with serious moments entertained the approximately 520 persons attending the banquet Saturday night which closed the annual convention of Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, as Edward McFaul of Chicago spoke.

A former university teacher and a nationally known after-dinner speaker, McFaul classified confused people in his address on the subject, How Confused Can You Get?

Interspersed among a series of humorous stories, his serious points were that modern man may become so confused that he fails to consider people with whom he associates in ordinary life, at work and at home, and so confused that he fails to realize his own place in time.

Reporting on the 1970 sugar beet crop in this area, Robert F. Ginn, agricultural manager with Holly Sugar Corp. here, said the average production was 19.9 tons an acre and the sugar content averaged 13.4 per cent. Although this was better than the previous year, production is still two tons per acre short of the goal and sugar content is two per cent lower than desired, he said. Ginn added that he believes the production goal could have been reached if the crop had been protected from curly top disease, and he hopes a new fungicide will enable production to be higher next year.

Glenn Yeager, vice president for agriculture in the Holly Corporation, also was introduced and spoke briefly.

Jay Boston, president of the association, introduced speakers, out of state guests including representatives of the Michigan, Minnesota and Red River Valley Sugar Beet Growers Associations, and members of the board of directors.

The invocation was by the Rev. Fred Howard, vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Organ music by Elson Clark preceded the program.

Directors' wives, with Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham as chairman, decorated Deaf Smith County Bull Barn for the banquet. Other wives are Mmes. Virgil Marsh, Donald Shipley, S. L. Garrison, Boston, L. E. Davis of Clovis, Donald Kimball of Amarillo, A. L. Black of Friona and Cloyce Terrell of Sunray.

Students Take Two Days Off; Teachers Stay

Students will be dismissed today and Friday at all Hereford schools while faculty members will be putting in two days of in-service work with some of the state's top educators.

Roy Hartman, school superintendent, said the in-service workshop here is "possibly the best of its kind in this entire area."

Teachers and administrators will attend "classes" between 8 a. m. and 3 p. m. each of the two days where noted educators from throughout the state will present talks and discussions.

Goodwin Attends Student Session

John Goodwin, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Homer T. Goodwin of Hereford and a sophomore student at Oral Roberts University, attended the ninth Inter-Varsity Missionary Convention at the University of Illinois in Urbana, one of 10,999 students from colleges over the nation.

He participated in seminars on anthropology and missions, the relevance of missions to black Americans, church growth principles, Islam, occultism, mission goals and structures, social concern and the Gospel. The convention, held every three years, is sponsored by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship and Student Foreign Missions Fellowship.

Leaders of those organizations, Dr. John W. Alexander and the Rev. David M. Howard, were speakers, as were Dr. Leighton Ford of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, the Rev. Tom Skinner, a former gang leader from Brooklyn and author of Black and Free, and others.

The Hereford Independent School Board Tuesday approved the resolution for the creation of a county juvenile board, thus sending the resolution before the state legislature with the unanimous support of the city, county and school governing boards.

The resolution, under consideration for the past month before the city and county governments, was approved in its revised form by all three local governing agencies. If the state legislature approves the resolution, as it has in similar cases, Deaf Smith County would be authorized to create a juvenile board to oversee matters of the juvenile office here.

The board of trustees, in a closed meeting, also approved a new five-year contract for Supt. Roy Hartman, with a $50 per month increase in travel allowances.

The five-year contract was the maximum allowed by the state law for a school district the size of Hereford's.

The review of Harman's contract was a matter of board policy that requires the board to review the superintendent's contract during the first regular meeting of each new year.

The School Board set the trustee election, to name two trustees whose terms expire this year, for April 3 at the school tax office on Sampson Street.

Members whose term expires this year are Hiley Aven and Dr. A. T. Mims. Neither has indicated whether they will seek reelection.

The final filing date is set for March 4 with the absentee voting set for March 15-20. Voting will be conducted at the school tax office and at the Dawn Community Building, from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. on April 3.

Orpha Click and Geraldine Frank were named clerk and deputy, respectively, for the absentee voting and five election judges were appointed.

In other action, the board: — Accepted the resignation of Larry Brown, assistant principal at Tierra Blanca, and replaced him with Roger Huber, science teacher at La Plata.

— Accepted the resignation of Joyce Bryant and granted a leave-of-absence to Cathy Tubbs.

— Set March 26 as a tentative date for the past board member's dinner.

— Heard an extensive report on the high school cosmetology department.

— Voted to include in the board policy a written statement making it mandatory that all school-employed personnel reside within the school district, and — Set the next meeting for Feb. 15 instead of the regularly scheduled Feb. 9 date.

The question would be moot if the Legislature authorizes this county to create a juvenile board, and such a board goes into operation.

Regarding the jailing of juveniles, the attorney general said no juvenile may be placed in any compartment of any jail in which persons over juvenile age are incarcerated. The law says juveniles shall be placed in a room or a ward separate and apart from that occupied by adults.

"The proper authorities of all counties shall provide suitable place of detention for such juveniles separate and apart from any jail or lockup in which adults are confined. Said detention place may be in the same building housing adults, or in a building separate and apart from that where adults are confined," the ruling quoted the pertinent state statute.

The grand jury also lent its endorsement to efforts being made by city, county and school officials for the creation of a juvenile board for Deaf Smith County.

The report was prefaced by this explanation:

"This grand jury has completed its labors and in addition to the indictments that we have heretofore returned we feel that we should make an additional report concerning the investigations that we have made pertaining to law enforcement and the attitude of the various departments of our county and city to the end that a better co-operation may be obtained through all agencies of our local government."

Lightning generated by storms around the world strikes the earth 10 times each second.

County, was rejected in December by the city commission after it was approved by both the county and school boards. "The city commissioners said the resolution gave the juvenile board unlimited spending authority and because of that, would not accept it.

City attorney Earnest Langley and County attorney Andy Shuval met with the county commissioners in their last meeting in December and revised the resolution to where it would be agreeable to all three bodies.

With the final approval given by the school board, the bill will now be mailed to State Rep. Bill Clayton and State Sen. Max Sherman with a request that they present it to their respective houses.

This is expected to take only a short time and if the resolution is approved, the county commissioners will have the authority to create the board immediately.

The resolution, as it was first written, asked the state to create a juvenile board for this county. This was changed in the revised addition to say the state will authorize the county commissioners to establish a juvenile board, thus giving them the power to dissolve the board if they saw fit to do so.

The initial resolution also said the juvenile officer would receive a salary to be fixed by the juvenile board. This was changed to read where the juvenile officer will have his salary and allowances fixed by the county commissioner's court.

Under the resolution, the city, county and school would each put up one-third of the costs of operating the juvenile officer's office. It was this clause that the city commission did not agree on and the reason they rejected the first proposal.

The new proposal was amended to read that the commissioners court "may enter into an agreement with the city commission of Hereford and the board of trustees of the Hereford Independent School District to provide the necessary funds for payment of the salary and expenses of the juvenile department. Such an agreement to extend for such a period of time as the three governing bodies may determine from time to time."

This addition to the resolution would give each of the three bodies the power to withdraw from the agreement if it felt the office was spending an excessive amount of money or was not fulfilling its duties.

Herd Seeks 6th Straight In Tascosa Tilt Friday

The Hereford Whitefaces, in the midst of a six-game winning streak, take a steadily growing hometown support with them to Amarillo Tascosa Friday night to tangle with the District 3-AAAA basketball favorites.

The contest also should give Hereford a further idea of how it compares with other District 4-AAAA teams. Lubbock Coronado played Tascosa in Lubbock Tuesday and escaped with a 54-50 verdict.

The Hereford and Tascosa junior varsities will clash in a 6:15 p. m. preliminary game.

Hereford's sophomores will play Canyon's sophomores at 3 p. m. Friday in Canyon.

The Whitefaces got a little more seasoning Saturday night, battling the Clovis Wildcats to the wire in New Mexico before David Myers—with his shotput-like delivery—sank two free throws with one second to play, providing Hereford a 58-56 victory.

John McNey scored 20 points to lead the Herd. He got all of them in the first three quarters. Keith Kitchens added 13, Mike Wartes 9, Myers and Blake Arwine 6 each and Dana Rush 4.

It was a storybook finish for Mayberry's Mob. Hereford was leading 54-52 and had the ball with only 1:20 left in the game, when things turned sour. The Whitefaces were whistled for fouls twice, and each time a Wildcat made both halves of a 1-and-1 situation.

That put Hereford down, 54-56, and the next field goal attempt missed, with Clovis getting the rebound. Only 14 seconds were on the clock.

But Kitchens made an aggressive move for the ball, came up with it near the mid-court line and drove unmolested for a lay-up with 11 seconds left to tie the game again, 56-56.

Clovis brought the ball down and fired four straight times from close-in range, missing each time but also controlling the rebound. Then, just before the clock expired, a Clovis lad landed on Myers' back trying to get the ball and get off another shot.

Both of Myers' shots fell cleanly through the net, bringing the win.

Clovis led, 15-12, after one quarter but McNey made a 25-foot jump shot at the buzzer to send Hereford into the dressing room with a 30-28 lead. The Whitefaces widened that to 44-41 after three quarters.

Clovis then reeled off five straight points to regain the lead, 46-44, and it wasn't until almost half of the final period went by before Hereford scored its first points of the quarter, on a jumper by Kitchens from the free throw line, to tie it, 46-46.

Clovis moved out again, 50-46, on a pair of baskets, and Hereford called time out with 3:25 remaining. Back on the court, Kitchens promptly hit a 10-foot-er to cut the deficit to two points, and then Wartes stole a pass and drove for a lay-up to tie the game, 50-50, with 3:06 to play.

Clovis got two free throws for a 52-50 lead and got the ball when a three-second violation was whistled against the Herd with 2:30 to play. Clovis lost the ball on a bad pass 15 seconds later and Kitchens made both free throws on a 1-and-1 chance to tie it again, 52-52 with 1:55 left.

McNey then dived to the floor to knock the ball away from a Clovis player and into the hands of a Hereford teammate, and Arwine's 15-footer put the Herd into a 54-52 lead.

Clovis came back, then on its free throw shooting but fell victim to the pressing Hereford defense and the final madness under its own goal.

Dogies Drop Two To LP Mavericks

The La Plata Mavericks captured two of three cage games Monday night as they defeated their cross-town rivals the Stanton Dogies.

La Plata won the eighth grade game, 31-22 and the ninth grade contest, 57-54 while losing the seventh grade game, 36-31.

The seventh grade of Stanton collected that school's only win as they downed the Mavericks, 36-31. Albert Gonzales was high point man for the Dogies as he tallied 13 markers. Dave Charest led the losing effort for the Mavericks with 11 points.

La Plata led in that game, 8-6 at the end of the first period but fell behind 16-17 at the half. Stanton held the one point lead through the third quarter then outscored the Mavericks 10-4 in the final quarter.

Marvin Harris poured in 14 points to lead the La Plata eighth grade to its fourth win of the season as they defeated the Stanton Dogies. Billy Wilson had six points for the losing Dogies.

The Mavericks' ninth grade squad, with reserves playing most of the game, made short work of their opponents in downing the Stanton ninth, 59-54. James Harris had 14 points for La Plata, and Jim Marsh had 17 and Dan Vander Zee had 10 to lead the win.

The win over Stanton hiked the ninth grade's record to 8-1 for the year.

Thirty Years Of Indian Life Told

If adventure stories are your favorite you'll enjoy an epic now available at the Deaf Smith County Library which tells, with rousing action, the story of three disorderly decades of Indian life. Check this one out today.

FOR INFAMOUS CONDUCT

by Derek Lambert

Three turbulent decades of Indian life—from Lord Curzon's Great Durbar to the first rebellious stirrings of Indian nationalism—come vividly alive in this epic adventure rich in rousing action and magnificent effect.

To a Gurkha regiment in the hills in 1900 come two impressionable young subalterns whose Indian experience will profoundly alter the destinies they had determined for themselves, as well as those of a small group of men and women whose lives touch theirs:

For Dr. John Couldridge of the Indian Medical Service, India represents a tremendous challenge—to his abilities to serve the Indian people and to his consuming ambition to go down in the annals of medicine as a pioneer ophthalmic surgeon. Ironically, Couldridge's obsession with the impaired vision of others blinds him to dangerous jealousies developing in his medical colleagues and especially in his close friend.

Neville Spenser, a ruthlessly determined young officer who regards India as the setting for the brilliant army career that will erase his modest middle-class origins. What Spenser fails to take into account are the harsh demands of Indian military life that, combined with his corrosive envy of John Couldridge, will radically alter his plans.

For Charlotte Spenser, his wife, India is a threatening land that transforms her husband into a sadistic stranger and drives her to escape in the half-world of alcoholism and romantic fantasies of John Couldridge, for Joanne Couldridge, beautiful and fiercely independent American, India is at first simply a spoiled debutante's playground.

Later, as John Couldridge's wife, she is forced to come to terms with the realities of personal and professional hatreds that could jeopardize her husband's career and the entire texture of their life together, for Dr. Bose, Couldridge's gifted Indian colleague, India is his home and his hope, and he is willing to risk all to see it independent of British control. Against a brilliantly-realized background of stark and brutal army camps, the glittering assemblies of Delhi and the crowded slums of Calcutta, these driven and driving men and women play out their destinies in an ambitious, richly textured narrative that splendidly fulfills the promise of Derek Lambert's previous novels—novels that led the critics to acclaim him a master storyteller in the grand tradition of John Masters and Hammond Innes.

CHARITY GIRL

by Georgette Heyer

"My aunt said in the future I should be called Charity," said Cherry Steane pathetically, "to keep me in mind of the fact that that is what I am—a charity girl."

Lord Desford's chivalrous instincts are instantly aroused, and, in spite of support from Miss Henrietta Silverdale, his childhood playmate and best of friends, and from his irrepressible brother Simon, he finds himself in a rare case of pickles in which he is balked by Cherry's lickpenny grandfather and her rascally, worthless father, and from which he is finally delivered by the timely intervention of Henrietta's worthy suitor, Cary Nethercott.

Charity Girl, the latest of Miss Heyer's lighthearted and highly entertaining novels, proves that she is as ever "up to all the rigs."

by MELVIN YOUNG

Earl Stagner, who is the most avid sports fan in Hereford, now thinks the Amarillo Daily News has "done gone to meddling." Earl is peeved over the recent headline in the news referring to Oakland's fabulous 43-year-old quarterback, George Blanda, as being "old." "That's an insult to all us young fellows," Earl says, "and it's obvious to me that that headline writer is just a kid who's not dry behind the ears."

Well sir, we'll have to agree with Earl. Blanda is in the prime of life right now and if you don't believe it, ask some of the quarterbacks he's beaten this year. They'll tell you how it is.

Actually, 43 is pretty old in the sports world, but there are always a few who are exceptions. Blanda, at 43, did a fabulous job this year. As a backup quarterback, he pulled the Oakland Raiders out of a number of holes and perhaps made Darrell Lamonica wonder how secure his own position was going to be.

In the boxing world, old "Jersey Joe" Wolcott became world's heavyweight champion after he turned 40, and one-time light-heavyweight champ Archie

Moore did some of his best scrapping after he topped the 40 mark. Although Moore would never tell his age, most sports fan and officials knew approximately how old the gentleman was, and all marveled at his ability to keep pounding out the victories at that age.

Like Earl says, you just shouldn't underestimate the ability of those of us who are over 40.

By the way, the Hereford Camp Fire Council, and the many little girls who will enjoy it, do appreciate the donation of the cord of firewood. And the Council would like to express its appreciation to the donor, whoever it may be. The firewood was left on the doorstep at the Lodge and the Council doesn't know who the donor is. Anyway, they appreciate it.

And speaking of the Camp Fire Girls, we would like to report that 541 girls are now enrolled in the program locally. That is an all time high, and about the only thing that keeps the organization from getting bigger at this point is the availability of leaders. This has always been a problem and we suspect always will be.

Nita Lea, executive director of the organization, estimates an attendance of over 1100 people at the annual Father Daughter Banquet to be held February 15 at the Bull Barn.

As one Council member put it, "That is a wonderful turnout of fathers and daughters but an awesome responsibility for the people in charge of the event." And that it is.

We understand that the City Commission will be losing a member in the near future. Roland Barton, local manager of Shur-Gro Inc., and vice-president of the organization, will be moving to Clovis soon. If our information is correct, Mr. Barton will be receiving a promotion within the company.

We're not sure just when Roland will be moving. He wasn't positive at the time we visited with him, since the advancement came rather suddenly, but we assume that he will take over his new duties soon.

We hate to lose Roland. He has been a fine citizen, active in civic affairs, governmental affairs and church work. However, we do want to offer our sincere congratulations and wish him well in future endeavors.

It is interesting to note that the Texas Attorney General has concurred with the Deaf Smith County Judge that the appointment by the County Commissioners of Billy Hodges as Juvenile Probation Officer is not in accordance with the law. Texas statutes specifically prohibit a county commission from appointing a deputy sheriff, or even trying to influence the appointment of a deputy sheriff in whatever position he may serve in that office. We would think also, that county commissions, or any other county official other than the county judge, would be barred from serving on any committee to appoint a juvenile probation officer. That appears to be the duty of the local juvenile judge.

We understand also, that the AG has stated that a juvenile cannot be sentenced to county jail. However, he can be detained in juvenile quarters in that jail (the local jail has such quarters approved by the federal government) as long as the juvenile judge deems it necessary. The question of the jailing apparently arose over the sentencing of a juvenile to the juvenile quarters, supposed to be for a period of 90-days. The youth actually spent 25 nights in confinement, going to school in the daytime.

In discussing the case with Judge Williams, we learned that he chose the local situation rather than committing the boy to Gatesville Reformatory for Boys. He released the youth after 25 days and school officials report no more trouble with him. He's apparently getting along fine in school and has not been in trouble again. We believe the Judge made the right decision in this case.

A juvenile judge incidentally, has a great deal of latitude in which to work in handling juvenile cases. He can do about anything he wants as long as he feels it is in the best interest of the juvenile. It is an awesome responsibility for any man but we're sure it is gratifying too when the action taken puts a youngster back on the right road.

Rebekah Lodge Has Installation

Succeeding her sister in the office, Mrs. Jim Loving was installed as Noble Grand in Hereford Rebekah Lodge Tuesday as Mrs. P. B. Sowell completed her term and became junior past Noble Grand.

The installation was conducted in the IOOF Hall by a team from the Friona Rebekah Lodge led by Mrs. Charlie Wise. A Hereford team had gone to Friona the previous evening to install officers there.

Mrs. George Green took office as vice grand; Mrs. Bea Cox, warden; Mrs. Buck Parker, conductor; Mrs. Henry Murrell, chaplain; Mrs. R. E. Curtsinger, musician; Mrs. Anna

Freeman, flag bearer; Mrs. Q. O. Brown, banner bearer.

Also installed were Georgia Holliman and Mrs. A. N. Hopson as supports to the Noble Grand; Mrs. Leonard Davis and Mrs. Nola Halston, supports to the vice grand, Mrs. Betty Cox and Mrs. David Rettman, guardians; Mrs. Clarence Beauford, recording secretary; Mrs. Ross Lomenick, financial secretary; Mrs. Clarence Hollibaugh, treasurer.

A covered dish supper was served after the installation, honoring the new officers. Among those present were three new members, Mmes. Ola Wade, Edna Mathes and Betty Cox.

Max L. Stipe Is New Chief

Max L. Stipe is the new fire chief of the Hereford Fire Department.

Firemen named him Tuesday night to succeed J. W. Dickerson, who gave up the position after 11 years.

Other officers named were Bill Brady, assistant chief; Jay Spain, treasurer; and Milton White, secretary. Dickerson was named to a three-year term on the pension board, filling the spot held since 1968 by Steve McKee.

West Hereford H. D. Club Meets

Mrs. E. M. Cox was hostess to West Hereford Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon, when Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, gave the program on Tailoring Details.

She demonstrated making buttonholes for tailored garments by using a new attachment, and said cording gives a smart look to buttonholes.

Messenger Club Picks Special Senior Citizens

As Senior Citizens of the Year for Messenger Home Demonstration Club, two former members, Mrs. E. M. Jacks and Mrs. Alta Wylie, were chosen at a recent meeting. Members select each year older residents of the community to whom they pay particular attention.

Mrs. Cecil Bass, who is a shut-in because of illness, will also receive cards from the club during the year. All three now live at Friona.

The club met in Mrs. A. P. Hagan's home for a program on Tailoring Details by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent. Yearbooks for the next six months were completed. Opening the program, Mrs. Elmer Northcutt read Thoughtful Solutions for 1971 Resolutions and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt directed a scrambled word game in which Mrs. John Garpett was winner.

The floating prize went to Mrs. Thweatt, who is to be next hostess on Jan. 22, when Mrs. N. A. Brown and Mrs. Tom DeShazo will be birthday honorees.

Cash Is Reward For Winner In TOPS Contest

The teen members of Sugar Blues TOPS Club, Carolyn Skaggs, was winner of a contest in weight loss for the holiday season, which ended as members weighed-in at their Monday evening meeting in Community Center. She was awarded $10 cash for her loss of 9½ pounds since Dec. 1.

Another contest period began at the meeting, to continue through Feb. 8. A Valentine Salad supper was planned for Feb. 15. The dozen members present Monday evening reported a total loss of 9 pounds for the past week. Recording weight begins each TOPS meeting, to check members' progress in the club objective, Take Off Pounds Sensibly.

Dorothy Troxell was pianist for a song period led by Mrs. Woodie McDermitt, who also presided for business.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Bread Or Cake, Good!

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

WHETHER YOU CALL it pumpkin cake or pumpkin bread, it's a delicious food by itself, topped with an icing or served with whipped cream. Mrs. J. Raymond Flores says her family likes it so well the cake usually disappears before she gets around to putting icing on it.

The Flores discovered pumpkin bread on a trip, at a restaurant where it was served as a house specialty with boasting of an old family recipe which was a secret. Mrs. Flores talked about it after she got home, and when her stepmother, Mrs. Hardy Benson, later saw a recipe for pumpkin cake she suggested that it might be similar.

It was identical, so far as the Flores' tastes could tell, and it's the recipe Mrs. Flores uses.

PUMPKIN CAKE

- 2 cups sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1½ cups oil (butter-flavored oil is extra good)
- 2 cups flour
- 1 can pumpkin (2 cups)
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 2 tsp. baking soda
- ½ tsp. ginger
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. nutmeg

Combine pumpkin, eggs, oil, sugar and salt. Sift together flour and other dry ingredients and gradually beat into pumpkin mixture. Bake in greased and floured pan 1 hour and 15 minutes at 325 degrees.

Mrs. Flores uses a tube type pan but it is also good baked in a loaf pan and served as a sweet bread; it may be baked in a 9x13-inch pan and cut into squares to serve with whipped cream; it is also good cooked as muffins.

If an icing is desired, this one is recommended:

- CREAM CHEESE ICING
- ½ stick margarine
- 4 oz. cream cheese
- ½ box powdered sugar.

Blend ingredients well and ice cake while still warm.

LIVING ON THE FARM where she was born, about 18 miles north of Hereford on the Vega Highway, Mrs. Flores is the former Mary Lou Benson, who came back to this county after college and ten years' employment in Dallas.

After graduation from Hereford High School she attended Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene three years, then completed work for her degree at Southern Methodist University after a switch in majors from journalism to psychology. She married while she was working in Dallas.

The Flores have three children, eight-year-old Benson and daughters Judy, six, and Lou Ann, nearly four.

IN ADDITION to her major interest as a farm homemaker, Mary Lou Flores likes to read and devotes as much time as she can spare to that occupation. Another hobby, redecorating her home and refinishing furniture, is related to the household chores which she enjoys.

With her husband, who is the carpenter for decorating projects, she has turned open bookcases adjoining the living room fireplace into attractive cabinets with glass doors to protect books and other objects from dust, and refinished to match an old bookcase which once belonged to the famous JA Ranch.

"It was shuffled from family to family, and finally wound up in my Dad's ownership when he was farming adjacent to JA lands," she says.

ALL THE BOOKCASES are painted with an antique finish in light and dark grays, and so are bricks of the mantel and where gas logs are set.

Choosing a green and blue scheme, Mrs. Flores has brought those colors into all rooms of the red brick ranch style house which is located at the top of a rise on the highway, looking westward over pasture slopes down into a playa lake.

Blonde chairs have been painted for an antique blue finish with floral upholstery, and the carpet repeats the green-blue note.

Pictures on the walls stress those colors, including a composition of leaves in crewl embroidery done by Mrs. Flores and a seascape painted by her aunt, the late Mrs. Vivian Majors.

A discarded radio cabinet transformed into a handsome cabinet for a record player is typical of other changes made by the Flores' teamwork.

A longtime member of Ford Home Demonstration Club, Mary Lou Flores is secretary and reporter this year. She followed her late mother as a member of the club, and says, "She was in Ford Club as far back as I can remember—probably from the time it was organized."

"What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits?" (Psalms 116:12). Every man of earnest and serious mind must ask himself this question as he meditates on the goodness and the Grace of God toward him. We want to do what is right in our every association with God and man. The Government takes as its proper share at least twenty per cent of every man's income. WHAT IF GOD SHOULD REACH DOWN INTO YOUR LIFE AND MINE AND TAKE WHAT REALLY BELONGS TO HIM? How much would be left for us? Have you raised corn? Or did you and God work together in making the corn crop? And just which of you put more time and energy into the process? Have you "struck" oil? Who spent centuries creating the oil and holding it in the underground lake until you came along? Is the oil really all yours? What is God's share? YOU AND GOD ARE PARTNERS IN THE OIL BUSINESS; WHAT IS HIS PORTION?

Jesus Christ is our revelation of the generosity of God who has been the eternal Giver, enriching us with every sort of good thing. From the day of the first creation God has been at work with and for man. Each of us represents in his body and in his soul the everlasting toil of God, who truly wants to make us His children and who desires us to join Him in making an ever better world for His sons and daughters to live in. JESUS IS OUR PATTERN OF WHAT A MAN CAN GIVE TO HELP IN THE PURPOSE OF GOD. HOW MUCH DID JESUS GIVE BACK TO GOD?

Jewish and Christian people have agreed that we ought to give at least a tenth of our income to God and His Church for the carrying on of His redemptive program. A tenth will not necessarily discharge all our debt, but it will show a sense of deep gratitude. Everything is His, even the cattle of a thousand hills and the abundant harvest from the fields. He gives us everything which makes life abundant. Our ideal is to join in the prayer, "Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord to Thee." Let's be good partners with God. Let us be His co-workers. MAY WE GLADLY GIVE BACK TO HIM AT LEAST A TENTH OF WHAT HE SO FREELY GIVES US.

IRS Asks For Estimated Tax From Farmers

DALLAS — Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their 1970 gross income from farming should file their 1970 declaration of estimated federal income tax by Friday, using Form 1040-ES (F).

However, farmers do not have to file an estimate if they file their 1971 return and pay all the tax due by Monday, March 1, according to Ellis Campbell Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas. "Farmer's Tax Guide," IRS Publication 225, furnishes information on this subject and may be obtained free by dropping a post card to "Tax Forms", Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson St., Dallas, Texas 75201, or your county farm agent.

Fishermen who expect to receive at least two-thirds of their gross income from fishing follow the same rules as farmers.

VEGA 2300 KAMMBACK WAGON

KAMMBACK WAGON — A new type of sports wagon blending improved handling stability with cargo carrying utility is the Kammback Wagon model of Chevrolet's 1971 Vega 2300 economy car line. This four-passenger fun-to-drive vehicle has a rear window-door that lifts for maximum accessibility and a fold-down rear seat for extra load capacity. This is one of four Vega models. Better handling than usual economy cars, Vega has a new, domestic-built lightweight overhead cam engine to fill performance needs of American drivers. It gives impressive fuel economy and low emissions. Among "firsts" in economy cars are Vega's power-flow interior ventilation (with air exhausted through louvers on rear fenders), comfortable molded foam seats and steel side-guard beams in the doors.

Need Some Extra Money? See IRS

Come January 1 each year the Government or Internal Revenue Service owes about two-thirds of our Nation's tax payers a refund. On the day after Christmas there are probably more than two-thirds of our taxpayers who owe more Christmas bills than they thought they did.

The Internal Revenue Service is perfectly happy to get tax returns right after New Years and to start processing refund checks.

Of course, some taxpayers have trouble in getting their W-2's from their employers before the end of January but there are a lot of folks who sweat over Christmas bills bankruptcy that have a nice refund but haven't filed.

Don't expect IRS to provide instant cash to help you kick the wolf from the door, but you may find the solution to at least part of your problem by filing for that refund as early as possible.

Internal Revenue requires an average of six weeks to process refunds, but early filers usually get their checks sooner.

Fourth Quarter Estimated Tax Is Due Friday

DALLAS — The deadline for final payment of 1970 estimated federal income tax is Friday, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas, said today.

Some persons may have to make an amended estimate by Friday if their income changed substantially during the last quarter of 1970. Space to compute an amended estimate is provided on the worksheet contained in the estimated tax package received by taxpayers for 1970.

Others may have to file an original 1970 declaration on 1-8. John Neal Newton and Ina Sue Thompson 1-7.

Trinidad M. Martinez and Tomasa Cervantes 1-6.

Form 1040-ES by Friday, if they just met the filing requirements during the fourth quarter.

Payment of the last installment or the filing of an original or amended declaration otherwise due Friday, is not required if the taxpayer files his 1970 income tax return and pays all of the tax due by Monday.

Due dates are different for farmers and commercial fishermen, Mrs. Campbell said. Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," furnishes additional information on this subject and may be obtained by dropping a post card to "Tax Forms", Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson St., Dallas, Texas 75201.

Vets Don't Have To Make Report

Benny Womble, veteran's service officer, said Tuesday that persons drawing compensation under the veteran's program do not have to report salary earnings as was stated in a release in the Amarillo newspaper last week.

The Amarillo paper said people who draw compensation should fill out a card and mail it by Jan. 15.

"The people don't even get a compensation card," Womble said. "There was an error somewhere and it has caused a lot of misunderstanding."

Womble said the only people who are subject to reporting salary earnings are those who are drawing pension. People who get compensation, such as veterans, their wives, widows and dependents, do not have to report their earnings and the compensation sum is not affected by their earnings.

He said disability compensation and disability indemnity compensation are not salary related and people should disregard the statements made in the Amarillo newspaper.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

That massive challenge to the decorator's art, Deaf Smith County Bull Barn, is being prettied-up often these days, for one banquet after another. Women here are getting to be plumbing experts at giving an elegant look to tables arranged in the huge auditorium.

RED AND GOLD ARE elegant colors, and they were used for the Sugar Beet Growers' Banquet Saturday night, with gold letters and swag across the scarlet background of the speakers table, and big bouquets of flowers in the same colors set in front of the table.

Directors' wives did the decorating, with Nedra Higginbotham as chairman. Big paper flowers, the kind that are currently stylish, were lined down the center of tables where the ordinary diners were seated, and the space around the entrance had a western scene with a windmill surrounded by a fence drifted with tumbleweeds.

A WINTER WONDERLAND setting for the Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight has been arranged by the C of C Women's Division — with assistants from a few husbands; Lynton Allred and Rocky Lee were present at the Monday work night, and seemed to be taking care of some chores.

Margaret Young is chairman for this decorating job, and began making plans and lining up helpers several weeks ago. About 40 women responded to her announcement of the work night, showed up in old clothes and armed with pruning shears, and pitched in to slice up leftover Christmas trees.

JUST BEFORE THEIR party Saturday night for visiting Sugar Beet Growers, Elizabeth and Jim Witherspoon had four new paintings hung in their home, where paintings from their extensive collection decorate all the rooms.

These four, commissioned for specific places in the upstairs bedrooms, were delivered Saturday afternoon so late that Elizabeth had her first look at them along with some of her YOUNG CONDUCTOR LONDON — One of London's oldest choral societies is led by one of Britain's youngest conductors.

Robert Secret, 21-year-old student at the Royal Academy of Music, is the new conductor of the Peoples Palace Choral Society of Mile End road, founded in 1887.

Nearly 10,000 full-blooded aborigines still live in Western Australia, more than half in the tropic north, where they labor as iron miners, irrigation workers, and cowboys.

Success Is Home-Grown

Most successful farmers and ranchers find their opportunities in the same place they were born and raised — or perhaps a mile or two down the road. Success is a crop we like to cultivate at the Land Bank Association — and it's best if it's home-grown.

A pair of flower pictures are in a room where another wall is dominated by a painting of a young girl, while two unusual landscapes in light greens and blues complement the decor of another room.

AS PRETTY AS pictures were the women at the party, where the hostess chose one of the vivid pastels she likes to wear for good reason — they are most becoming. This time she dress was pink. Mrs. Jay Boston, wife of the Beet Growers president, was in sophisticated black with a velvet ribbon choker as the final touch. Ruth Word wore one of the most striking dresses, a simple shirtwaist in a gorgeous paisley print, mostly red.

Margaret Formby's dress was hardly noticeable because her high laced white boots had gay-colored flowers climbing up the sides to get all the attention.

SOCIAL NOTE FROM district court, where I was on the jury panel last week, called to my attention by Meredith Ireland, a fellow panelist. Several women were enjoying the hospitality of the coffee pot in the county clerk's office, during a courtroom recess, when Meredith pointed out that I should note that "Mrs. Robert Veigel poured the first hour."

Party Is Given After Banquet

A party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Witherspoon Saturday evening brought to a happy end the convention of Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, as out-of-state visitors, directors and their wives, and other guests were entertained after the banquet.

Witherspoon is executive secretary and legal adviser of the association. He and Mrs. Witherspoon greeted guests at the door of their new home on Plains Ave. The house itself provided part of the entertainment, as all rooms were open to guests including the huge third-floor room where the Witherspoons' collection of paintings is hung.

Casual conversation, as friendships were renewed and new acquaintances made among members from over the Texas-New Mexico area and visitors from other states, featured the evening. Edward McFaul of Chicago, the banquet speaker who is a noted humorist, was among the guests.

A buffet table was set near the fireplace in the den, with a bowl of red roses in the center. Jay Boston of Hereford is president of the association. He and Mrs. Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Garrison assisted in receiving guests. Raymond Higginbotham and S. L. Garrison received congratulations on their reelection to another term as directors. Other directors are A. L. Black of Friona, L. E. Davis of Clovis, Donald Kimball of Amarillo, Cloyce Terrell of Suray, Virgil Marsh and Don Shipley.

Despite Lagging Economy, New Industries Choose Texas In Past Year

AUSTIN — Despite an economic situation that kept the nation's populace holding on to all available pennies, more industries chose Texas for new plants in 1970 than in the rosier years of 1966-1968.

The Texas Industrial Commission reported that 319 new industries were located in the Lone Star State during 1970, second only to the record 1969 total which led the nation and made Texas number one in industrial growth. "I must admit we are surprised with the total," Chester Wine of Corpus Christi, chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission, said upon hearing the figures. "We expected it to be quite low since the entire nation suffered economically during the year."

Jim Harwell, executive director of the TIC, said the 319 new plant locations compare with 309 in 1968 and figures in the 290 area for 1967 and 1968. "We are especially pleased with these results because the total was located in the face of adversity," Harwell said. "I've always said that Texas has every natural resource any manufacturer would want and it is up to us to make sure that they find out about it. However, state-offered location incentives are becoming just as important."

As an example, Harwell said the Texas Industrial Commission and its allies were trying to attract industrial growth with nine percent conventional money, while states with industrial incentive programs, including all states bordering Texas, were offering money as low as five or six percent.

He said 40 states now have an industrial incentive program of some kind.

However, the economic situation did show up in figures on industrial expansion in Texas. Wine said existing manufacturers generally held on to what financing they had in the face of the tight money, with only 367 new plant expansions reported for the year.

This figure is the lowest during the past five years, compared with 505 in 1969, 444 expansions in 1968, 370 in 1967 and 437 in 1966.

Unemployment showed an increase during the year, but Texas was still better than the national average. Labor statisticians reported manufacturing employment down 52,000 jobs or 6.8 per cent from November 1969 to November 1970, compared with a national figure showing a 7.4 per cent decrease. A spokesman for the TIC anticipated more layoffs during the first quarter of 1971 due to continued expiration of government contracts.

Major employment declines came in the areas of electrical machinery and transportation equipment, just as on the national scene.

The Industrial Commission, honored only year by year by the U. S. Department of Commerce for work in export development with presentation of the coveted "E" Award, continued to increase in that area.

Latest figures from the Commerce Department indicate an increase of 25 per cent in the past three year period, with $1.5 billion in Texas goods being traded internationally.

During the year, the export division of the TIC added another unique feature to the trade mission.

The Governor's office led a group of 25 Texas manufacturers on a flying trade seminar-mission, allowing the Texas industrialists to learn first-hand of the ins-and-outs of trade with Mexico, and meet personally with prospective purchasers in that country.

USEFUL COURSE

CHICAGO - Ira Distenfield, a young stockbroker trainee, has convinced his stock brokerage firm and Illinois state officials that a course in stocks and bonds would be useful for prisoners.

Distenfield said he will teach a six-week course to Stateville prisoners at Joliet. The course will be held two hours a day, two days a week.

"We believe the interest is there, and, if everything works out, we hope to make it a continuing course," he said.

In Mountains Of Mexico Local Youth Spent Holidays Aiding Impoverished People

Billie Ray Betzen, a University of Dallas student from Hereford, has spent his Christmas vacation deep in the interior of Mexico working among the impoverished mountain people.

Betzen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Betzen of Route No. 5, Hereford, and five other UD students gave up their holidays to continue a building project begun by earlier groups from the University in 1967.

It was Betzen's fourth trip down. He has been a moving force in a long-term project during which UD students, working in villages south of Morelia, have helped put in a pure water system, constructed 23 three-room homes, built a combination chapel-rectory-clinic, and strung electrical power lines into the homes for the first time.

This trip the students took on the formidable task of making construction bricks, which they hand-pressed in an ancient mold one at a time. The bricks will be used for a chapel and rectory, long needed in a tiny village called La Soledadita.

La Soledadita ("the little lonely one") is located about 40 miles south of Morelia, in the Mexican state of Michoacan.

It consists of little more than a group of houses along a narrow dirt road which winds deep into the mountains. Even during December and January, before the six month rainy season isolates the mountain people from spring to fall, the road is barely passable, and a 25-mile drive can take as long as 2 1/2 rough hours in a truck.

Deep in these mountains Betzen, a senior student, and his five volunteers spent their Christmas and New Year's holidays. They left Dallas Dec. 19 and will return in time for spring semester registration Friday.

The trip down, which they made in Betzen's old mini-bus, was financed by the Catholic Foundation. They drove the 1,225 miles in two days, and the second night they spent in a Benedictine Monastery in Morelia.

From there they made their way into the mountains where they were welcomed by the villagers who shared their food—mostly beans and tortillas—and provided shelter. The students slept in sleeping bags.

Only Betzen had been down before, and he was the natural team leader, introducing the other five to the villagers.

The mountain people are extremely poor, making their living by sapping the pine trees for resin which is trucked into the cities and sold to make turpentine. The people suffer from internal parasites because of their diet and lack of sanitation. The little children, their round and pretty faces caked with dirt, play alongside the hogs that roam free in the villages.

But the people are generous. They shared their lives with the UD group, inviting them to pinata parties and to the traditional "posada" ceremonies held nightly the nine days preceding Christmas, a rare treat for an outsider.

"I was 18 when I first came down here and had my 19th birthday in the mountains," Betzen remembers. "My folks really didn't know what to think that first time, but they said I was old enough to take care of myself. Now, you know, they are really for it, even during Christmas. They even bought a new motor for my mini-bus so we could drive down."

The project has become a tradition with UD students, so much so that every year the Student Government holds a "Charity Week" to raise money to support it.

An American priest on loan from the Diocese of Little Rock, Ark., Father John Manchino, is the usual recipient. Two years ago the $2,000 the students raised bought him a jeep; this year's money may replace that vehicle, already worn out by the roads he travels administering to 14,000 people in a 150-square-mile area.

"I hope one of these students will take over the project now," says Betzen, a graduating senior who has been driving down to help Father Manchino since 1968. "Once you get to know the people, the kids, it begins to feel like a home," he says. "That's what hooks you on this place."

The real value of the students is their effect on the villagers, Father Manchino explains.

"You see, we are catalysts," the priest says, "and it really works. As soon as the villagers see us making those bricks, they will build for themselves."

Accompanying Betzen were Ed Wray of Lawton, Okla., John Cocharo of Arlington, both freshmen; Frank Faecke of Forth Worth and Anthony Suelentrop of Great Bend, Kan., seminarians at Holy Trinity Seminary on the UD campus; and Tom Sexton of Fort Smith, Ark., a graduating senior.

HELPING THE POOR — Billie Ray Betzen, right, chats with a villager in front of the chapel he helped build deep in the interior of Mexico for impoverished mountain people. The building also serves as a rectory and a doctor's clinic.

VOE Students Plan Observance Of Week, Hear Guest Speaker

Vocation Office Education Week will be observed Feb. 1-6 by the VOE Association of Hereford High School, and plans for an open house were launched at the association's meeting Monday evening for dinner in the Caison House.

Employers of students involved in the cooperative class, and parents of all office education students will be invited to the open house in classrooms at the high school.

Also planned Monday was representation at area contests

March 12 and 13 in Lubbock. Members were invited to enter any of the 15 contests.

Dale Young, district manager of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, was the dinner speaker with the subject, What Is Expected of the Office Employee. He was introduced by Rhonda Goeringer, VOE student who is employed in Young's office.

He discussed relationships of the office worker to employer, fellow employees and customers. Listing qualities important in a good employee, he stressed interest and attitude, and closed by saying, "The Golden Rule is the best for success in any career."

Present at the dinner were 23 members and the sponsors, Pat McDonald and Elizabeth Wills.

Relatives Here Attend Funeral

Funeral services for Lawrence Morgan of Nocona, father of Mrs. Noble Howard of Hereford, were conducted Sunday at Nocona, his home for many years.

Attending the services from Hereford were Mr. and Mrs. Noble Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth and the Don Howard family. In addition to the daughter here, Mrs. Morgan Morgan is survived by a daughter in Nocona and a son who lives in Big Spring.

He was a retired farmer, and died in a rest home at the age of 79.

SYMPHONY STUDIES STRESS

VIENNA — The Vienna Symphony Orchestra has commissioned a study dealing with stress and art. It will investigate the strains which influence musicians' health, performance and mental well-being.

Hawaii has imported just about everything including such familiar symbols as the pineapple from the Caribbean, the ukulele from Portugal, and the grass skirt from Samoa.

BEHIND-SCENES WORK—Not Jack Frost's workshop, but the Little Bull Barn was where decorations for tonight's Chamber of Commerce banquet were put together this week. Members of the Women's Division of Deaf Smith C of C made and arranged components of the Winter Wonderland scene which will greet banquet guests. Photographed at the Monday work night, these and other members cut branches and twigs from discarded Christmas trees, arranged them for flocking and placed them on the dinner tables in the County Bull Barn. Mrs. E. W. Sign-Up For Spring Term Starts Thursday At WTSU

CANYON — West Texas University opens for spring semester registration Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Activities Center, according to Dr. Donald Cates, dean of admissions and registrar.

Students who were not enrolled last semester but plan to re-enter this spring must fill out readmission applications. The registrar's office is open now for this purpose.

Cates said registration will be smoother if this step is taken. He also advised returning students to bring to registration all materials they received the week of finals and their fall grades.

"Students who are lacking some of the registration materials will line up at the southeast entrance to the all-purpose room of the Activities Center," Cates said. "Those who have their materials will begin registration at the northeast entrance."

The American College Test (ACT) will be given to all beginning freshmen Jan. 11 in the auditorium of the Old Administration Bldg. Freshman orientation will be Jan. 2 in the Activities Center.

YOUR HOUSE

STRETCHES and SHRINKS

SO DOES OUR HOUSE PAINT!

That's why it lasts longer...

SUN-PROOF FOR THE HUSBAND WHOSE IDEA "GETTING OUT" DOESN'T INCLUDE PAINTING THE HOUSE.

Your wife says, "Paint the house before you do anything else this summer." So what do you do? As little as possible.

That's why you need Sun-Proof Latex House Paint. It does as much as possible.

To begin with, it normally allows you to skip priming completely. Further, it stretches and shrinks with your house. Which eliminates cracking and peeling. Also, a special paint film resists air pollution, smog, and mildew. This all means that your paint will last up to four years longer. So you spend less time painting and more time relaxing.

SUN-PROOF... the husband's easy way out.

PITTSBURGH PAINTS DO MORE SO YOU NEED TO DO LESS.

Your house actually stretches and shrinks with variations in temperature and humidity. It's this expansion and contraction that often causes house paint to work loose, crack and peel.

PITTSBURGH PAINTS new SUN-PROOF® Latex House Paint stretches and shrinks with your house... this flexibility enables it to resist the cracking that ruptures an otherwise sound paint film. It has four times the stretch power of other latex paints, and it resists fume staining and discoloration. Available in a wide choice of attractive outdoor colors. Come in today for a free color chart.
