The Secretary is appearing in Lubbock as one of the stops on his "grassroots" tour of major agricultural areas in the United States, and Lubbock is the only place in the cotton belt where such a session is scheduled.

Freeman is scheduled to arrive shortly after noon by air. He will be accompanied by Congressman George Mahon, and Graham Purcell congressman from the 13th district. The general meeting is slated to open promptly at 2:00 p.m.

Cards on which those attending may submit questions will be handed out at the door of the (See Freeman Page 4)

Absentee Vote Almost Nill For Election

Only two absentee ballots for the Nov. 9 election on constitutional amendments had been cast at the Bailey County clerk's office by Friday morning.

The election will be for the approval or rejection of four proposed Texas Constitution changes. The most widely publicized amendment concerns the abolishment of the poll tax as a voting requirement.

Voters who expect to be out of town Nov. 9 can request absentee ballots. The absentee balloting continues until Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Four other persons have been filed on for worthless checks and will be tried in the immediate future. They are Mrs. Carol Kennedy, Mrs. Reba McElroy, Floyd Billington and Lewis Maceance.

TOUCHDOWN — Kenny Heathington covering the final four yards for the third quarter's tying TD. The touchdown was considered the key that roused the Mule spirit after a first half deficit to win the game 21-13.

RUN — Lloyd Bradshaw carrying the pigskin for a Laz-buddie gain to set-up a Longhorn TD by Ken McGeehee. Bovina's Mustangs rolled over the Longhorns 33-6. Bovina is now 2-1 in district play.

Muleshoe Overcomes 13 Point Lead To Trounce The Olton Mustangs 21-13 Friday

By JAY SPAIN
The Muleshoe Mules ran the ball to tromp the Olton Mustangs Friday night at Olton 21 to 13.

Olton received the kickoff on their 30 yard line and moved to the 37 yard line before they had to punt which was downed by Kenny Heathington on the Muleshoe 32 yard line.

After three, five yard penalties, the Mules were on their Fullback Joe Costello rammed the ball to the nine on the first play and then pushed over to score the first tally of the ball game. With seven minutes still left in the first quarter, The kick for extra point was blocked.

Muleshoe received the kickoff on their 30 yard line and made seven yards before punting to the Olton 28 yard line. As the Mustangs took possession they could move only six yards against the big Mules' forward wall. They then booted

Telephone Company Union Talks Killed

A strike vote against General Telephone Company was narrowly avoided this week by the plea of a federal mediator in San Angelo. Although an immediate strike vote was avoided, labor contract negotiations between the company of the communications Workers of America went into indefinite recess. The Union suggested the recess in the light of the respective positions taken by the parties in negotiations, and the existence of the current strike by CWA against General of the Southwest's sister Company in California.

The bargaining terms which are at issue are strikingly similar in both Companies. The Un-contract recess be called pending developments in the California situation, or pending other developments. Both parties have expressed firmly that this actually is a recess and is not a break-off in negotiations. Over 9,000 General employees are currently (See Telephone Page 4)

State Offers Possible $80,000 Assistance For Local Library

State Offering Books, Bookmobile And Staff Salaries Over A Two Year Period To Library

The Texas State Library, in essence, gave Muleshoe and Bailey County a first class library Thursday—if we really want it.

Charles Gholz, rural library service division, Texas State Library, meeting with the Muleshoe Library Committee in the First National Bank stated that "Libraries cost money and if you do it half way, you might as well not do it at all". He then offered from $50,000 to $80,000 in direct assistance to a Muleshoe library.

Gholz stated if the situation rated it, the state would provide an entire library package to Muleshoe and the county. The package would include books with a valuation of approximately $50,000, a book-mobile worth $10,000, and salaries for a mobile librarian and driver to serve the far corners of the library district. Such salaries will amount to about $16,000 over a two year period.

Three Things
However, in order to receive the state assistance, Bailey County must do three things. 1. Form a cooperative library district with two other counties which also have substandard libraries. (Muleshoe would be the location of the main library and act as headquarters for bookmobile service to other counties, and possibly provide sub-library service to them). 2. Provide an adequate building to house the books and services. 3. Provide janitor service for the building and pay the salary of the head librarian.

The cost of such a building was approximated at $20,000. A additional $5,000 to $10,000 would have to be spent on furnishings and eventually another $20,000 on books.

Have Plans
Blue prints and floor plans of the proposed library are in the hands of the library committee today. They show a one-story, open-planned structure about 40 to 50 feet and containing about 2,000 square feet.

In addition to the cost of the structure and its furnishings, Bailey County would have to pay the salary of a professional librarian. Gholz stated that a good librarian "can not be somebodys old aunt Nettie who needs a few dollars and can't do anything else. She should be a person highly trained in her line and a professional. The salary of such a person would run about $6,300 a year.

More Than Books
The state official stressed that a good library must have more than just books. "It must be a place where people want to come — where they can be comfortable," he stated.

The entire yearly cost of operation would run about $14,000. This budget would be divided by the three county area, and would include the cost of new and replacement books which average about $4 each in the current market.

The library would be governed by a three county board, composed of no more than five to seven persons, who would act in advisory and public relations capacities.

The next step of the library committee is to prove to the state that Bailey County residents actually desire a library. When the desire is proven the state will survey the three county area and decide if assistance is to be given the area.

Success of the survey is contingent on the attitude of the population, financial condition of the county, and library plans. Bailey County already has one of the three necessities whipped. Our taxes this year far surpassed the $12-million necessary.

Presently the library committee is considering approaching Cochran and Parmer Counties to form a multi-county library area. There is no library in Morton. Littlefield has already been approached and wants nothing to do with the proposal.

Only Texas Voters Can Decide

Believing that a community newspaper must be non-biased and that it's primary job is to present the facts pertinent to both sides of any issue, The Journal is presenting a roundup of both sides of the poll tax question.

The roundup is divided into three parts: Background, which brings forth the history of the poll tax in Texas; Arguments For Abolishment and Arguments for Retention.

It is the duty of every voting citizen to acquaint himself with the facts and make known his wishes in the election Nov. 9.

Background: For Tax: Against Tax:

In 1962, Texas was one of only five states — the other four included Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Virginia — which required payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting. Although the history of the poll tax in Texas dates back to the Republic, which in 1837 placed a way of $1.00 on each female between the ages of 21 and 55, it was not until 1902 that the Texas Constitution was amended to make the poll tax a prerequisite for voting. Under the Constitution and statutes at the present time, the maximum poll tax that may be levied is $1.75; $1.00 is levied by Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution for public free school purposes; 50 cents is levied (See Background Page 4)

1. Texas is one of only five states in the nation which makes payment of a poll tax prerequisite to voting. To some Texas citizens, payment of the poll tax means deprivation for their families. Exercise of citizenship should not bear a dollar and cents price tag.

2. In the Southern States requiring payment of the poll tax, inhabitants over 21 voting in the general election in 1960 ranged from a low of 14 per cent in Alabama to a high of 40 per cent in Texas. In contrast, 77 per cent of those over 21 in Minnesota, where there is no poll tax and voter registration is required only in the larger cities and counties, went to the ballot box at the (See For Page 4)

1. Payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting prevents ignorant, corrupt and disinterested citizens from voting, but the low fee levied does not prevent any citizen who really wants to exercise his rights and fulfill his obligations to his state and nation from taking a stand at the ballot box.

2. The poll tax inhibits the purchase of votes by corrupt candidates and political machines and helps preserve the purity of the ballot box.

3. Abolition of payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting could result in depriving the public schools of Texas of more than $1.5 million in revenues annually, since Section 3 of Article VII (See Against Page 4)

NEW QUEEN — Despite heavy rains and cold weather over 1,500 persons turned out for the Annual Band Boosters Halloween Carnival and saw Toni Welch crowned Halloween Queen by her escort, Corky Green. The carnival, held at the old bus barn, brought the band booster fund an estimated $400-$600.

Cotton Makes The Grade--Halloween And Still No Freeze; Crop Excellent

Bailey County farmers breathed a sigh of relief as Halloween came on the scene with no early frost to hurt promising cotton prospects.

Beginning with one of the most pessimistic outlooks in many years, the 1963 cotton crop in Bailey County has made an almost unbelievable recovery.

Late June-planted cotton that didn't appear to have a chance in July may yield from 3-4 to 1 bale per acre in many areas.

The frosts put on many farmers' faces by a late start, followed by heavy hail damage and a worse than usual insect attack, have now been erased. An

Annual Friendship Night Given By Local Eastern Star Chapter

A very amusing and entertaining program, under direction of Mrs. Glenn Lust, was enjoyed. Nine Ed Bovell gave the humorous reading: "Just stepping in

Out Of The Rain", and a hilarious telephone conversation mix-up was given by Spencer and Phyllis Beavers. A choral group composed of Wynnie Dunn, Lois Norwood, Barbara and Glenn Lust, Pat and Bill Johnson, Buck and Myrtle Creamer, Elbert Nowell, Wylie Bullock and Mary Hunt, entertained with songs of yester-year. Ruth McCarty accompanied at the piano; then, the entire assembly sang some of the old, but much loved songs.

As finale, Mike Hunt, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hunt, displayed unusually fine talent in his rendition of "The Lord's Prayer". Mary Farley and Jewel Strong presided at the Guest Register and in the presentation of badges, Year Books and Bible Markers. They reported an attendance of approximately 125 members and friends. ### Mrs. Laura Provence Directs Mathis Service Club At Reese

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following appeared in last Sunday's issue of the Lubbock Avalanche Journal in the column "The Woman's Angle" by Ruby Osborn. Mrs. Provence is the wife of SP-5 Phil Provence stationed in Maryland and the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George Provence, Muleshoe.

Mrs. Laura Provence, 3319 21st St., is one of those persons who likes her job because "each day's work is different than the one before." She is director of Mathis Service Club at Reese Air Force Base.

She has been at Reese only since August, but she has been connected with work of service clubs for five years. She came to RAFB from Fort Hood where she worked at the Army Base.

WORK IS CHALLENGE — She finds her work "very challenging" because she enjoys the field of recreation "very much." It is a challenge to the "quiet-spoken" director to supervise a recreational program which has a wide enough variety to be suitable for the man in the Air Force and his family.

"We consider the club as being a place for men away from home but all airmen are welcome and we encourage them to bring their families," Mrs. Provence says.

Included in the recreational program are dances, all types of games, rooms for listening to records, reading, lounging and crafts.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES — Birthdays of the airmen are recognized at a birthday party given each month. Gifts are presented to the honorees and everyone is invited to participate. The next party is planned for "Sadie Hawkins Day."

Dances are given weekly at the club. Music is furnished by local bands and Air Force groups, both here and from Amarillo. Young women of the area are invited to attend the dances.

The game room is available during the time the center is open. Also available is a kitchen if the airmen wish to prepare meals to entertain guests. A patio area with barbecue grills is also available.

OPEN DAILY — The club is open from 2:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. Sunday through Wednesday, to 11:30 p. m. Thursday and to 11 p. m. Friday and Saturday.

There are 1100 enlisted men at the base who may use the facilities offered at the club and attendance averages about 200 men a day. Mrs. Provence is assisted by Mrs. Ruby Grice, assistant director and two assigned airmen, George Docken and Gregory Cantu. One of the airmen is on duty at all times the club is open.

A group meets in a room at the club one each week to prepare cancer bandages. Also included in the program directed by Mrs. Provence is fencing, gymnastics for women dependents and career girls, male chorus, craft lessons and a wide variety of games such as pool and ones of the table variety.

"It is the little things that men say and do that make the job so interesting. I like people and the wide variety of personalities of military personnel make my job the best one in the world. I've taught classes from children to grandmothers but I prefer the programs outlined for the servicemen," says Mrs. Provence.

Luncheon, Open House Honors Couple On Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Beyer, Bartlett, were honored with a luncheon and open house Sunday in the Bartlett American Legion Hall in observance of their golden wedding anniversary.

Attending the event from Muleshoe were the couple's granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Malone and Marty.

Mr. and Mrs. Beyer were married October 28, 1913, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Zschiesche in Bartlett. After their marriage, they resided in Bell County and then moved to Littlefield. Following his retirement as a farmer in 1960, they returned to Bell County.

Hosts for the occasion were the couple's six children and their husbands and wives. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Messer, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taack, Hart; Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Beyer, Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Coy Rogers, Olton and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Coslett, Maydelle.

The Beyers have 16 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Decoration featured the theme "The Rose Loving Beyers" and included a floral arrangement of red roses. The reception table, covered with ruffled net over white, was centered with a large satin-covered Bible, red roses and crystal appointment holders.

The island of Marajo, at the mouth of the Amazon River, is twice the size of Massachusetts.

and began to produce their "White gold" with amazing vigor.

County Agent J. K. Adams terms it "one of the most remarkable recoveries I've ever seen." He thinks the cotton crop is going to be "real good on the acreage we have."

He estimates that 70 percent of the cotton will be ready to defoliate this week. "It looks 150 percent better than it did in July," remarked the veteran agent.

The agent also agreed that it has been a real unusual year. "The good weather we've had late in the season just comes along about 1 in 20 years," he remarked. Adams estimated the county cotton production at 90,000 bales early in the season, and he admits his guess might be under the mark.

"Due to the cool weather, the cotton won't gain much more maturity," the agent said. Normally, farmers figure cotton should be at least 60 percent open for a true defoliant or 80 percent for a desiccant. He thinks some farmers with late cotton might be gambling if they wait much longer.

With the normal first killing frost date about a week away, based on the past 16 years, the move to defoliate may get underway with a bang this week. The starts two or three weeks after the defoliation process.

Cotton farming has become an enterprise. The farmer, with a big investment in irrigation, fertilizer, insecticides and other factors, does his utmost to insure himself of a crop in spite of the antics of Mother Nature.

But the year 1963 is proving, once again — if there was ever any doubt — that farming is a lot like coaching — you've got to have all the winning ingredients plus a whole lot of luck!

A wet and cold spring caused many farmers to replant, then one of the worst rash of hail storms on record battered the plants.

But the weather suddenly turned almost perfect, with only a few minor showers over irrigated, or irrigated just before the last showers, but on the whole things started looking up.

striking in California.

The Union previously had filed a request with the executive board of CWA International for permission to conduct a strike balloting. However, at the close of negotiations, General was informed that the Union did not contend with a strike vote.

Marvin Collins, chief negotiator for the Union, informed the Company that he would be returning to his home office by reason of the recess. Collins has been acting as chief negotiator as an alternate to L. A. Sykora of Lubbock, Texas, who has been unable to attend the sessions by reason of family illness.

Negotiations have been in process since June 20, 1963, over changes, amendments, and modifications to the existing labor contract. The contract contains an "Evergreen Clause" which means that it continues in effect until and unless either party serves 30 days' notice of termination. Such notice has not been filed by either party.

Bargaining items at issue revolve largely about "National Dethe score read 13-0 in Olton's favor with only 59 seconds left in the first quarter.

The Mules then started a drive which pushed to the 32 yard line then the second string fullback, Dan Smith, rammed to the eight yard line, fought to the four and then scrambled over for the T. D. Don Murray's kick for extra point was good with only four minutes and five seconds left in the first half.

The Mustangs received the kick-off on their 20 yard line and moved it out to 47 before punting to the Muleshoe 18 yard line. The Mules could not move the ball and punted to the Olton 40 yard line. Olton moved to the 50 yard line before the half ended with the score reading 13-7 in favor of Olton.

As the Mules came back on the playing field for the second half of play they were a different ball club. Heathington received the kickoff on the five yard line and ran it out to the 37 before anyone could stop him. Sixteen plays later Heathington ran around right end from the four yard line to score the Mules second T. D. ball out of the ballgame. Murray's was again good for the extra point and Muleshoe led for the first time.

The Mustangs received the 20 yard line and moved to the Mules' 45 yard line before the ball went over on downs. Now is the time for all good me-39 and punted to the 17 yard line. The Mustangs then began to romp as they moved from their 17 yard line via airways and power plays to the Mules' four yard line before being stopped by the tough Muleshoe defensive unit. Heathington moved the ball to the seven and Smith moved it to the 15 yard line. On the next thriller, Dan Smith was smothered on about the 20 yard line, but managed to roll off and run 85 yards for the touchdown. Murray's toe again found the mark.

Olton took the kick on their 10 yard line and moved out to the 40 but had to punt and Muleshoe took over on their 37 yard line and ran five plays before fumbling on the 59 yard line. As the ball game ended Olton had the ball on their own 49 yard line. The Muleshoe Mules had won their second conference ballgame 21 to 13.

An additional $828,055 went into the state's general revenue coffers from the 50 cents allocated for that purpose from the total $1.50 state tax.

led by an act of the Legislature for general revenue purposes; and the Legislature has further authorized each county to levy 25 cents for county fund purposes.

There have been spasmodic attempts to abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in Texas almost since its inception. In recent years, the issue first received considerable attention during the 1938 gubernatorial race when W. Lee O'Daniel introduced the subject in his campaign. Intermittently poll tax repeal has received the attention of Texas Legislatures, and the proposed repeal amendment submitted to voters in 1949 received support from the State Democratic Executive Committee, labor, veterans' organizations, and church and women's organizations. Submitted as one of ten proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution in November of that year, poll tax repeal was opposed by 56.3 percent of the voters.

Next serious consideration of poll tax payment as a requirement for voting came in 1962, when a referendum proposition for abolishing payment of the poll tax for voting eligibility was submitted to voters by both the Democratic and Republican parties in their primaries. The issue carried in each election.

Earlier, the 57th Legislature showed concern for the entire Texas election system when it created an Election Law Study Committee through passage of S. C. R. No. 30 during the Regular session in 1961. The committee was directed "... to make a complete study of the Texas Election Code, with amendments thereto by the 57th Legislature, and report its findings and recommendations not less than ninety days before the convening of the 58th Legislature."

The proposal to abolish the poll tax was among the many revisions of the Texas Election Code which were considered by the Committee. The Committee decided not to include a recommendation for enactment of a voter registration law supplanting the poll tax, but developments in the Congress during the course of the study caused a change in this decision.

On August 27, 1962, the House of Representatives of the Congress adopted Senate Joint Resolution No. 25, proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution to abrogate payment of a poll tax as a condition for voting for federal offices. The United States Senate had adopted the same resolution five months earlier, on March 27, has now been submitted to the legislatures of the states for ratification.

Thus the Election Law Study Committee reconsidered its earlier decision not to recommend enactment of a registration law to the 58th Legislature in view of the possibility that the proposed amendment to the United States Constitution could be ratified by the required number of states before the 1964 elections. The Committee did not elect a bill drafting set up a voter registration system in its recommendations, however. Instead, it outlined certain principles which it felt should be embodied in such legislation.

Senate Bill 132, the voter registration law enacted by the 58th Legislature, incorporated each of the recommendations of the Election Law Study Committee except that which would have without any exemptions. The does not permit any person who is over 60 years of age at the time of making application for registration to register unless he resides in a city of 10,000 or more inhabitants. A qualified elector over 60 years of age on the day of an election at which he offers to vote, and who does not reside in a city of 10,000 or more inhabitants, may vote at an election without having registered further provides —

1. 25 cents registration fee.
2. Eliminates agents in applying for registration, except that husband, wife, father, mother, son, or daughter may act as agent.
3. Adds provisions permitting persons to vote on poll tax receipts and exemption certificates, as well as on registration certificates, during the first voting year after the registration law goes into effect.
4. Permits persons to obtain poll tax receipts without payment of the tax, for use in voting for federal offices, during the period of 30 days after the amendment to the U. S. Constitution takes effect.
5. False registration or false statement of information in registering is punishable by not less than one year or not more than three years in State prison.

The voter registration law, for the most part, can become effective and operative as a law only "upon the condition that a shing payment of the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting and authorizing enactment of a general registration law — becomes a part of the Constitution of Texas." However, the 58th Legislature assured the Texas electorate that there could be no disfranchisement in voting for federal officials because of a conflict between the United States and the Following this period, comments, statements and questions will be heard from the floor. In order that as many people as possible may be heard, comments from the floor will be limited to three minutes each.

3. Citizens in the depressed or low-income areas of Texas are the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

4. The ease with which block voting has been accomplished in Texas under the poll tax system refutes the argument of poll tax proponents that it helps preserve the purity of the ballot box. Abolition of the poll tax system would result in election reform by giving all citizens the free opportunity to exercise uninfluenced choice at the ballot box.

5. The amendment to the United States Constitution now making the rounds of the states in the course of ratification abolishes the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in elections for federal offices. It would be unwieldy and costly to maintain two separate and distinct types of registration for voters for local and state officials on the one hand and for federal officials on the other.

Mrs. Rayford Masten was program leader in her home. Scripture was read by Mrs. Leon Reeves.

After meditations by Mrs. Masten, "Urban Community Centers" were described by Mrs. Reeves and Rev. Ruth Cooper, Union prayers were given; then work projects in India, in the areas of education, medicine, and literature, were presented by Mrs. Loyd Warren, Mrs. Tommy Galt, and Mrs. Cass Stegall.

After the offering, the closing prayer was given by Mrs. H. W. Garvin. The hostess served coffee and cookies to six members and one guest.

Mission Study At Three Way Baptist Church

The Woman's Missionary Society met at Three Way Baptist Church last week for mission study.

Mrs. Jack Lane read the scripture and gave the Call to Prayer. After the group sang "O, Zion Haste", Mrs. D. P. Brinker gave the devotional.

Mrs. Bud Pruitt was in charge of the program, and gave an informative review of the book, "Grace McBride, Missionary Nurse". Mrs. Ed Neutzler offered the closing prayer. Attending besides those above-mentioned were Mrs. C. E. Strickland, Mrs. Sammy Sowder and Mrs. Ray James.

She's chief bone thrower and shampooer for a bloodhound named Corpuscie, whose occupation is mascot on a television show. The two love it. Corpuscie gets fan mail — birthday and get well cards, and Kathy, a Junior H. S. student gets to feed, exercise and groom her hundred-pound canine.

Corpuscie, 14-month-old, is at the stage where he nibbled toes, slippers or anything else that looks good. He sleeps on Kathy's bed and goes to obedience school. "He's very good in school," ed to sit in no time, and now he's earning to associate with other dogs, so he won't be distracted if one shows up on the stage." around and chews up cardboard tubes while waiting for his turn on "Discovery," the TV documentary on which he performs. He's learning to be a working dog in field and track trials too, to demonstrate to youngsters what a "wonderful companion a dog can be."

Kathy helps him with his homework, so he can stay at the top of the class. But naturally she's waiting for him to act like a real bloodhound. She and her mother have taken him man-trailing in "sort of a fun way." He won't be up to this stage of his education for a long time.

"He really has natural instincts," Kathy says. "Mommy holds him and I go off in the woods in another direction. Then she lets him go, and believe it or not, he can really find me."

Corpuscie filled a great void in Kathy's life recently when Teena, the poodle she's had for six years, died.

"It's good to have two dogs in case something happens to your favorite," Kathy says. "Other-

Cattle Feeding Gaining Fast

Although the Corn Belt still ranks first in the production of fed cattle, the region is rapidly losing its monopoly in the cattle feeding business, says Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In the early 1930's the Corn Belt accounted for 83 percent of all cattle on feed, but in 1963 only 7.9 million head, or 67 percent of the fed cattle were from these states. The western states now report over five times as many cattle and calves on feed as they did 39 years ago, says Uvacek.

Texas is not the least of the competitors for a part of this cattle feeding business, says Uvacek. The state will feed three times as many cattle and calves in 1963 as it did in 1958. This means that more than 850 thousand should be marketed from Texas feedlots this year, he said.

The increased production of feed grain, a stronger demand for fed beef, and good supplies of feeder calves have stimulated cattle feeding in Texas. In 1958 Texas ranked as the 13th most important feeding state in the U. S. while in 1963 the state was the sixth most important feeding state. This increase came mainly because of the added number of large feedlots, says Uvacek. About 88 percent of the cattle and calves on feed were in these lots, which have capaci-

They have a terrific rapport and you need that with a dog. Kathy's a wonderful dog handler. She's been a junior handler in dog shows," says her mother.

Kathy accompanies Corpuscie to the studio when it doesn't interfere with school. He's a great favorite with the studio crowd

Yankees May Have Lost Series, But Don't Underestimate Power

The howls and shouts of joy rang loudly through Los Angeles and other towns and cities when the New York Yankees had their noses rubbed in the mud, but good, in the World Series.

Neither extreme is true. The Yankees can be beaten, of course, for the Los Angeles Dodgers have just done it, in four straight games, and limited this team, which was supposedly the best-ever Yankee team, to fewer runs than any other team ever scored in a four-game Series.

Sol are the Yankees' finished? Not true; the Dodgers had superlative pitching. Actually, New York pitching in the Series was not bad. Whitey Ford had an off day in the first game, and the Dodgers scored five runs that day — but they never did thereafter.

Many baseball folk, like Charlie Dressen, of the Tigers, was impressed at the job left-handers did on the New Yorkers. But Drysdale did well too. Dressen says he wants five left-handed starters on the Tiger team next year. But Frank Lary, the most famous Yankee killer of recent years in the junior major loop, is also a righthander. So the left-handed thing could be overrated.

The Series proved again, as it will in future years, that great pitching will win. It is great enough, it checks the hitters. And the Dodgers had great hurling, though Don Drysdale, the only righthander to work for the Dodgers, probably pitched the best game of the Series. Not so spectacular, just the best!

roll over now and die. They are still the team to beat in the American League next year, though their humiliation might give heart to some of the many weak sisters in the American, who have in recent years been handicapped when playing New York by an inferiority complex.

If the Yankee defeat brings about a closer league, it will have been a fine thing for organized baseball. The Yankees are plenty good — and they will be rough if they are in the World Series next year — but the National League has better balance, and more good teams. Perhaps the Yankee humiliation will add emphasis to good pitching and out some starch into several would-be American League contenders.

Many baseball folk, like Charlie Dressen, of the Tigers, was impressed at the job left-handers did on the New Yorkers. But Drysdale did well too. Dressen says he wants five left-handed starters on the Tiger team next year. But Frank Lary, the most famous Yankee killer of recent years in the junior major loop, is also a righthander. The Yankees played good ball generally, in the field. The had good pitching, not wonderful, but good. They failed to hit, and the Dodgers got most of the breaks admitted. The Yanks will not

It may be too early to know what the water fowl situation in the Central Flyway will be this year, but it is not too soon to learn about ducks.

Just issued by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is a 25 cent bulletin titled "DUCKS AT A DISTANCE."

Booklet contains 24 pages. It reveals the shapes, colors, various flight patterns, rising views and flock formations of these fascinating fowl.

There is increasing necessity for such a book among hunters.

Bag limitations on certain species now make it a requirement to know your ducks. For the average hunter, who gets out after waterfowl only two or three times a year, this identification is not easy job. Especially where the duck supply is limited!

Most men know a mallard at a glance. They'll recognize a spoon bill or a teal. But they have difficulty in identifying a canvas back, sprig or other species.

Same is true of geese. If you see them every day, or if you hunt a good many times each year, it soon becomes easy to know the species. But when the laws say you can't kill but certain species and perhaps only one or two, at that, then it becomes very important to every hunter to know the difference.

I have been told many times about hunters in the rice fields of south Texas finding dead birds stashed away in straw stacks where hunters have hidden them. Such a bird doesn't do anyone any good.

Sometimes we wonder at the manner in which biologists reach their conclusions about bag limits.

Most of them will tell you that legal gun pressure will not deplete the birds. Then they will put a limit on them that is so impractical it results not only in violation, but worse still, in loss of the game entirely.

Same can be applied to turkeys. In Texas we have an all-gobler law. Yet in the field every year, there are hundreds of hens killed and left in the woods. Occasionally on winds up in the pot, but most of them are wasted.

No sportsman will shoot a hen intentionally. In fact it is seldom that a hen is killed by a sportsman accidentally.

Usually he knows the difference between a hen and a gobbler. And in hunting season the two seldom run together, unless it is a young tom not yet broken away from the mother hen.

Basically there is no reason for a hunter to kill a hen. But when one is killed, it is a shame that its meat has to spoil. Perhaps a longer look at the system might improve this. Other states have

Tailwater Recirculation System Studied

The High Plains Undergruod Water Conservation District has worked with a number of irrigation farmers in Parmer County for the past six months collecting data concerning the recirculation of irrigation tailwater. In this water management project, the Water District has collected data on the amount of water salvaged, pumping cost and irrigation methods.

The most important benefit of a tailwater return system is the water salvaged. Records covering a six month period on four tailwater return systems show an average of 65 acre feet of irrigation tailwater recovered per system. There are nine wells contributing tailwater to these installations which would be an average of 29 acre feet of irrigation tailwater recovered per contributing well.

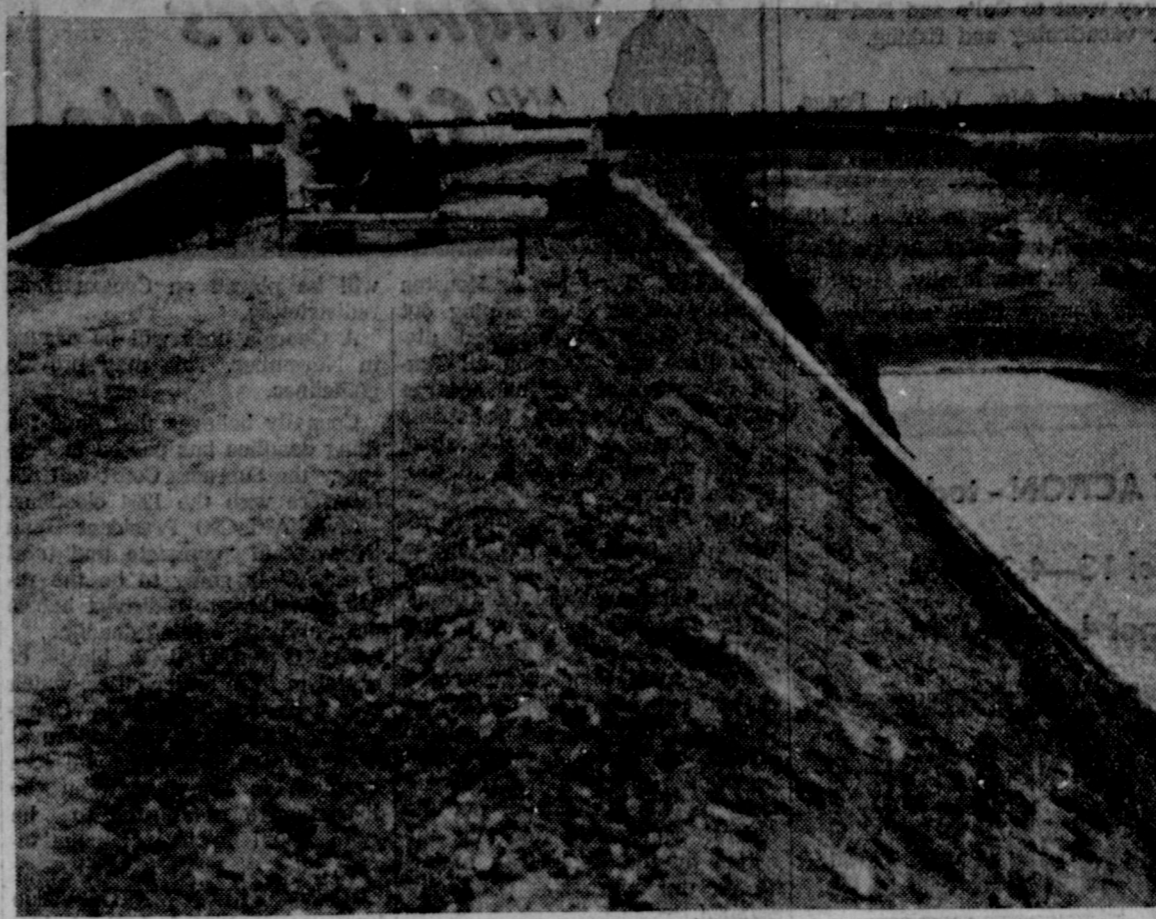

Economists have estimated that an acre foot of water when applied for irrigation will increase the yields above dryland yields approximately $40. Therefore, the average of 65 acre feet of irrigation tailwater recovered would have a gross value of $2,560 per system.

The average pumping cost for fuel, both butane and electricity, on a recovery system is $1.90 per acre foot of water. Compare this to the $3.20 fuel cost per acre foot of water for the contributing irrigation wells. The difference in cost per acre foot of water for pumping is $2.30. This would mean a saving of $84.50 in fuel cost alone on the 65 acre feet of water salvaged.

Once a farmer begins using a tailwater return system he commences to find many side benefits. Probably one of the most advantageous of these is that by using the return system he can control the application of water in such a manner as to eliminate hot-spots or dry-spots without wasting water.

When deciding the amount of turkey needed, she must also take into consideration the number of people to be served and whether she wants to have left-overs. When buying whole turkeys allow about 1-2 to 3-4 pound per person, and about five to eight ounces of uncooked turkey roll or five to six ounces of cooked roll per person, explains Beamblossom.

Build is the next consideration

How To Select Ready To Cook Turkeys

It's almost gobbler time again and every homemaker should know some of the basic rules for buying turkey, says F. Z. Beamblossom, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The first consideration when buying ready-to-cook turkeys is the amount of turkey to buy and whether to buy a whole turkey or a turkey roll, says the specialist. Whichever the choice, the homemaker should consider cost on the basis of the edible portion of the pounds bought to get a true picture of the cost of each, he says.

When deciding the amount of turkey needed, she must also take into consideration the number of people to be served and whether she wants to have left-overs. When buying whole turkeys allow about 1-2 to 3-4 pound per person, and about five to eight ounces of uncooked turkey roll or five to six ounces of cooked roll per person, explains Beamblossom.

Build is the next consideration in buying turkey, he says. The bird should have a broad breast large drumsticks, and bulging thighs, be well covered with fat over the body and be fully fleshed.

I should be free of defects such as torn skin, bruises, and broken bones, and should be free of pinfeathers.

Wholesomeness means the condition of the bird as to cleanliness, freedom from disease and completeness of processing, says Beamblossom. If processed under USDA supervision, tags on the wings of the birds will show their grade and that they have been inspected for wholesomeness, he adds.

Beamblossom explains that turkeys vary in price from one to another because of differences in quality, wholesomeness and in some cases because of special sales at holiday seasons.

American pencil manufacturers, who produce 1.5 billion pencils a year, make some 350 different kinds of pencils.

Approximately one million Negro men and women served in World War II and about 387,000 in World War I.

Livestock Owners Should Look For Feeding Bargains

College Station, Oct. — Livestockmen should be alert for bargains when buying feed, says Shannon E. Carpenter, area dairy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The important point to watch in buying feed, according to the specialist, is the price you pay for the actual nutrients of the feed. Feeds that seem expensive may be cheaper than low cost ones when the price is figured according to the actual amount of nutrients in the feed, he says.

The majority of livestockmen continue to buy the same kind of feed year after year without comparing prices, assuming that the market will even out the price they pay for feed. Carpenter says that the producer should not rely on the market to keep prices in line because they will vary between locations.

As an example of how the producer can save money, Carpenter says that the purchase of cheap protein supplement may offer an opportunity to lower the cost of production. These supplements are available in 32 percent, 41 percent, 44 percent or higher amounts of protein content, he says. One pound of protein in a 32 percent supplement at $65 per ton will cost the same as one pound in a 41 percent supplement at $80, or in a 44 percent formula at $85. This makes it clear that all feed is not the same and that the higher priced materials are not always the most expensive, points out the specialist.

It pays to compare feed prices with feed values, concludes the specialist. The real feed bargains may be hidden behind a higher price tag.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — A Houston federal court's order wiping out present State congressional district lines and directing all Texas congressmen to run at-large until the legislature redistricts on the basis of population alone is on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's request for a stay of the federal judges' decision pending final disposition of the appeal was granted by Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black.

Gov. John Connally conceded that the present line-up is unfair, with districts ranging from 213,000 to 960,000 population. But he argued that it's the responsibility of the legislature, not the federal courts. He felt that the action by the Republican majority on the court was politically planned.

GOP members filed the lawsuit attacking the population imbalance among districts.

The Governor pledged to fight the order to the last legal ditch. He termed it "ridiculous" and he would call no special session on redistricting "until all other avenue of action are closed." He felt it would be a waste of their time and $400,000 in tax money. His belief was that such a complicated measure could not be worked out in 30 days, especially since there have been no decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court to show what, if any, rules will be placed on Congressional redistricting.

A Georgia case will be argued in November. This may provide guidelines.

Connally believes that once the filing deadline has passed in February the Supreme Court will not interfere with the 1964 elections.

State AFL-CIO President Hank Brown said "complete and total anarchy" is going to be the result of failure to redistrict before the February 3 filing deadline.

The Governor drew blasts of criticism from major cities, which are under-represented in Congress. But there was approval from rural areas. They will lose strength in Congress when the districts are re-adjusted to be more equal in size, population-wise.

THE COURTS SPEAK—Aside from congressional redistricting, the courts had plenty to say last week. State Supreme Court held that the City of Haskell can spend municipal tax money to fight building of a dam by the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority. Its decision upheld a Court of Civil Appeals finding that overruled the trial court verdict for the Authority.

The city considered the proposed dam on Miller Creek would be detrimental to its water supply.

FEEL RICHER? — Texans' incomes were at an all-time high in 1962 at $20,360,000,000, reports the U. S. Department of Commerce. This was 4.4 per cent above 1961. It means that 4.6 per cent of the dollars earned by all Americans belonged to Texans.

But when the massive figures are put into averages, Texans fall back. Texas ranks third in population, but sixth in total personal income. New York's $50,990,000,000 and California's $40,180,000,000 mean that people in those states have higher average incomes than Texans.

HOSPITAL FUNDS APPROVED — State Board of Health has approved $11,200,000 in applications for federal Hill-Burton hospital aid funds on 21 projects. Grants usually finance half the construction cost.

The Water Pollution Control division of the Health Department found that the U. S. Congress had voted $340,000 more than ear-sewage treatment plant projects. It is finding funds for several projects in addition to the 38 originally requested.

SLANT-HOLE OIL WELLS — Raoy D. Payne, field supervisor for the Railroad Commission, now reports that there are 900 oil wells shut down in the giant East Texas Field, and about 300 of them have been found to be deviated.

Payne estimated that thousands of barrels of oil from deviated wells is in storage. He said operators are being given the choice of putting it back into the reservoir, or giving it free to the county from which it came for use on roads.

TALK OIL PROBLEMS—Representatives of five independent oil associations have asked Governor Connally to examine the "serious condition" of the Texas crude oil producing business. They pointed out that other States have formed economic study groups for this purpose.

Increased requests to the State Highway Commission for "farm-to-market-type" roads, connect-

Screwworm Problem Is Slowing

The worst of the fall screwworm season may be over, but the danger period is far from over, past officials of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program have warned.

The dry weather which has been plaguing much of Texas has helped keep native screwworm fly populations down, eradication workers said. However, infestations could appear in many areas worm-free, if considerable rain in received and cold weather does not help keep down fly migrations.

The number of infestations reported to eradication headquarters at Mission last week was less than half of what it was three weeks ago. Counties reporting the most cases are those that have had some rain in recent weeks, officials pointed out.

Eradication workers said nearly all of the cases are located in the southern parts of the state where screwworms have been known to be able to survive year-round. This makes it even more important that livestock producers take all precautionary steps to prevent additional cases from developing, they stated. Measures recommended by eradication program experts that will aid in the battle to eliminate the screwworm from the Southwest include frequent inspection of livestock, treatment of wounds with smears and sprays and collection of samples from infested wounds so that positive identification of the insect can be made.

Sexually sterile screwworm flies are released near farms and ranches where screwworms are reported. The sterile males mate with native females, thus causing the eggs that are laid to be infertile and incapable of hatching.

FRANKLY SPEAKING
 By REV. J. FRANK PEERY

RELIGION IN THE U. S. S. R.
 (by request — the First of Three Articles)
 The Christian world at large, as well as all nations professing belief in God, have never ceased showing interest in the religious situation of the Soviet Union. Long before Sir Winston Churchill first made mention of the "Iron Curtain," the U. S. S. R. was already surrounded in mystery and secrecy regarding religion. In the past forty-six years, the conflict going on between the religious convictions of the people of the U. S. S. R. and the atheistic regime in power has become more and more confused.

Ever since the year 1943, when Stalin was compelled to favor the election of a Patriarch, giving the church (Russian Orthodox) only a semblance of liberty while it remained rigidly controlled by the Kremlin, the Christian free world has been asking: Is there any religious freedom in the U. S. S. R.? Do the citizens still worship after years of repressive persecution? Do people still go to church? Are there any churches left open to divine worship? What are the conditions under which the clergy may exercise their sacred functions?

During the period of August 2 to August 23, 1962, I walked inside thirty-seven churches in the U. S. S. R. From Leningrad in the state of Uzbek, I worshipped in twelve different services conducted in five of these churches. The other 32 churches I visited as religious museums, museums to themselves — the terrible past, I visited clergy, seminary professors, and students at Zagorsk, thirty miles northeast of Moscow. It was part of a seminar group that met with religious leaders in five major Soviet cities. I received a personal autographed picture of Ephraim II, the Patriarch of the Georgian Orthodox church in Tbilisi. Not only did Ephraim II talk freely but posed for a picture. It was in the cathedral church at Tbilisi that a little Georgian woman, of at least 75 years, gave me a broken cast iron passion cross. During the twenty-one day stay in the U. S. S. R., conversations with believers and nonbelievers about church, weddings, funerals, many things.

The religious population of the U. S. S. R. seems to be made up in the following way: Russian Orthodox Church, 50,000,000; Roman Catholic Church (no figure); Lutheran Church of Latvia and Estonia, 850,000; Union of Evangelicals: The Georgian Orthodox Church, which does not list its membership but has 100 active churches; Adventists, Methodists, Methodists, Calvinists, some Jehovah's Witnesses, a small number of Pentecostals and Old Believers (those turned away from the American Embassy in Moscow about a year ago). The non-Christian religious groups are made up of Moslems, 20,000,000; Jews, 2,000,000; and an unknown number of Buddhists.

Frankly Speaking — Since World War II, the Orthodox Church has continued to serve the Kremlin faithfully, and today it enjoys a measure of freedom to worship and safety from persecution. Other Christians have not fared as well. I believe Christ to be there, but the Church is dead.

(Next week: Details of Soviet Religion.)

Who is worse: The man who claims to believe in God but never worships, or the atheist? The youth who listens to cheap music or the station that broadcasts it? Who is worse: The married man in a house of ill repute or the single man there? The nation which claims to be "Under God" but isn't, or the nation which denies God?
