VOL. XII.

CLARENDON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPT. 1, 1905.

NO. 45.

At the Last Moment Japan Conceded every Contested Point to Russia, and Peace has Practically Been Made Sure.

Clarendon College Opens for Work.

Attendance is Larger Than Usual. Some Good Talks Feature of Opening Day.

With the returning school year College Hill began to take on new life and activity. For several days previous to the date for the opening preparations for the reception and accommodation of the students had gone on constantly in both dormitories as well as in the college building, where recitation, music and art rooms were being put in order for work.

As early as Friday students began to arrive and almost every train since has brought some new ones, while a large number came overland from adjoining counties and from the plains country. The incoming of covered wagons and hacks day after day has demonstrated the fact that Clarendon College is becoming widely and favorably known and this fact is indeed most gratifying to the president and faculty of the school as well as the people of Clarendon generally.

The public were cordially invited to be present at the opening at 9:30 o'clock on Tuesday, August 29th, and at an early hour the people began to assemble. Some time before the stated time the chapel was crowded and many stood in the aisles and doors through the entire exercises. The chapel exercises were conducted by Rev. J. M. Sherman, the congregation joining in the good old hymn, "How Firm a Foundation." A large number of prominent citizens of the town, including lawyers, preachers and teachers were seated on the stage with the president and his faculty. A short musical program had been prepared, consisting of selections by Misses Maud, Mamie and Ruth Harrington, Misses Sherman and Chamberlain and Mrs. Wood and closing with an instrumental duet by the director of music in the college, Mrs. Wedgworth, and Miss Nora Talley. These selections were interspersed with speeches by various gentlemen, citizens of the town and visitors. Among these were Rev. J. M. Sherman, Messrs. Cooke, Wedgworth, Peebles, Rev. B. W. Dodson, who much to the surprise of the people present, "quoted poetry." Prof. Silvey, superintendent of the public school, Prof. Willis, principal of the public school, Mr. Lacy, an old teacher who said he proved his confidence in the school by placing his oldest son in it for the term, Rev. J. R. Hix, a theological student from Decatur, who referred humorously to the fact that Decatur remembered that Clarendon College existed somewhere out here and said they hoped to meet us again some day, and Mayor A. M. Beville, who assured the student body of a hearty welcome by all of Clarendon. Mr. W. E. Garrison, of Childress, who was one of last year's graduates and who was on his way to Silverton where he is to take a position in the Silverton school, was called on for a speech and spoke briefly of his pleasure at being here even if for only a day, and gave a few earnest exhortations to the incoming students.

Many earnest words were spoken and much good advice given to the students. President Hardy, who had been badly hurt in a run-away on his last trip from home, stood up on his crutches and spoke a few words of welcome and counsel to the students and expressed his gratification at the fine opening.

The stage walls were decorated with pictures which were the work of the new art teacher, Miss Felder. These were much admired, and many lingered at the close to meet Miss Felder, who is making a fine impression among the students and people generally.

Mrs. Tresise, teacher of voice and elocution, was unavoidably absent from the opening, her father being very ill at the time. She has since arrived, ready for work and is organizing her classes.

The prospects for a good year have never been finer within the history of the school. The two dormitories are almost full already and Bro. Hardy thinks he will soon have to make additional arrangements to accommodate those who come. However, he will gladly make such arrangements as needed.

All the departments are well represented. The primary department has never known a better opening, while Mrs. Wedgworth, who is so popular as a piano teacher, was overwhelmed for days before the opening by applications for places in her class.

The other departments are doing well and the outlook is most encouraging. The large attendance of business men from the town at the opening showed the general interest felt in the prosperity of the college. The faculty have been very busy the remainder of the week enrolling and classifying. They hope to be ready for good work by the first of next week.

Appreciated Donley Fruit.

G. W. Antrobus recently favored the John Deere Plow Co., of Kansas City, with a nice basket of fruit from his farm near town, and is in receipt of a letter from the firm, stating that the basket came to hand in good shape and that the fruit was the finest they had ever seen and could not be beaten by any country. Donley county is receiving much good advertising from her orchards this year, and it is being thoroughly demonstrated that we have as good a fruit country as the United States possessess.

Big Melon.

W. V. Smith, living three miles east of town, last week favored the Banner-Stockman with a fine watermelon weighing 61½ pounds. This is the largest melon so far entered in the subscription contest and Mr. Smith will get a year's subscription for this melon if no larger one is forthcoming. The melon was expressed to General Passenger Agent Glisson, of the Denver Road with the compliments of the Banner-Stockman.

Elder E. Dubbs went up to Boydston Saturday to hold the funeral service over the remains of Ethel, the 9-year-old daughter of Chas. Boydston. The child died of heart trouble with which she had long been afflicted.

THE MAJESTIC

is made of the same material as the Locomotive

The boiler jacket of a locomotive—exposed to wear, weather and heat—is made of sheet iron, because for such purposes sheet iron is more durable than sheet steel. The Majestic Range is made of sheet iron—not steel—for exactly the same reason.

It is a long step from locomotives to the range in your kitchen, but the material of which your range is made is of vital importance in your household economy—less repairs.

Sheet iron costs twice as much as sheet steel, but steel will rust, and cracks in your cooking apparatus means loss of heat, waste of fuel, and in a few years the range is ready for the junk heap.

In the body of all Majestic Ranges we now use Majestic Old Style Charcoal Iron. The top and framework are made of Majestic Malleable Iron—the iron that never breaks, cracks or warps, and is so thin that you can do all your cooking without removing the lids.

The locomotive is compelled to stand up under severe tests—good looks will not draw a train of cars. A range built to endure and stand every test is the most economical range that you can buy, and that range is

Least Expensive*

THE BIG RANGE CONTEST.

Beginning to Warm Up a Little—Mrs. Adams Makes a Big Gain, While Mrs. King Goes to Third Place.

Voting was quite lively in the Banner-Stockman Range Contest this week, all of the candidates polling many votes. Mrs. W. J. Adams made the biggest gain and remains in the lead with 1705 votes, which places her nearly one thousand to the good. Mrs. J. O. King, of Lelia, steps from last to third place with 700 votes. There are thousands of votes out which some of the candidates can get by working a little for them. It is not too late for new entries in the contest and we would like to see a candidate from Rowe, also one from the plains section of the county. There are large numbers of votes going to waste in both these sections and candidates from those points would stand a most excellent chance to win the range.

The standing this week is as follows:
Mrs. W. J. Adams, Clarendon,.....1705
Mrs. W. B. McKeown, Clarendon,.....780
Mrs. J. O. King, Lelia,.....700
Mrs. J. T. Bain, Bray,.....685

There are no new entries in the watch contest which is somewhat surprising as the work of soliciting is pleasant and there is a good field for the work. Miss Mattie Trigg leads Miss Aris Baldwin by a slight margin.

J. R. Mace this week sold a half-section five miles east of town to M. L. Tucker, of Stephenville, consideration $3700.

Sheriff Patman came in last night from Archer City, having in custody Henry Holder, who left here last November for Indian Territory. Holder is wanted here for disposing of mortgaged property belonging to G. W. Antrobus.

H. C. Kerbow this week bought from G. S. Hardy the latter's brick business house on Kearney street, occupied at the present time by W. H. Thompson's confectionery store. The consideration was $2700.

ANOTHER BOQUET.

The Amarillo Herald tosses the following beautiful bunch of flowers at Donley county. The Banner-Stockman acknowledges the compliment with a graceful sweep of our journalistic sombrero:

Some of the peaches that are being sent out from Clarendon are of a size and quality that compares favorably with the Carlsbad product, which is about the highest praise that can be bestowed. If the Panhandle can produce that kind of fruit the future has a rosier look than even the optimists have seen. It really shows that there is no limit to the productiveness of the plains country.

THERE are fewer "panhandlers" in the Panhandle than in any other section of Texas. The knocker crop this year is not as good as usual, either.

THE Dalhart Fair, advertisement of which has been appearing in these columns the past few weeks, will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 6 and 7. The published premium list shows up well, while a good list of attractions is guaranteed the visitors. The Dalhart Fair last year was a big success and the Banner-Stockman hopes a like tale will be told this year. It requires nerve for a little town to put on a big show as they are doing, and the business people deserve all sorts of good things for the loyalty and pride they are showing in their town and country.

COL. J. Q. MORRISON is reported very ill at his home in Wichita Falls and his recovery is doubtful. This thing of sprinkling flowers on the graves of the dead is not what it is capped up to be, and we hope the kind words we say of this veteran railroad man will be a tiny flower to cheer him while in this life. If ever a man deserves an entire conservatory of rare exotics and multi-colored and richly perfumed blossoms it is this man, who has scattered so many happy moments in the paths of his fellowman. There are few so fortunate as to possess the gift of pleasing all classes, but in Col. Morrison this rare gift found rich expression. When he comes to the Stygian shore, where the darkness envelops the soul, and where man is nothing but a spiritual envelope of uncertainty, he will not fear. His dissemination of happiness will bring him light, and even before he reaches the celestial city he will feel its near presence, and have the escort of a legion of angels to the gates of paradise. If there is a man who deserves a just reward for the services he has performed for his fellowman, Col. Morrison is he, and if he does not enter with the chosen few there are many who have forever lost the slightest chance of entering into the grand joy of which they seemingly feel so sure.

IN another column will be found a communication from "Giordan Whiffletree" ament the evident intent of certain commission people to "knock" Panhandle cattle. Some people, of course, will say that it is nothing but a lot of hot air, that there is nothing to it, etc., but one illustration given in the article is a matter of fact and does not partake of any of the elements of uncertainty. We refer to the paragraph calling attention to a photograph of Panhandle cattle and its misuse. Dan Black is feeding the Chicago champion steers, from the SMS ranch. The paper referred to give them a write-up and used a picture of the previous year's champions (which were JA cattle) to illustrate the SMS bunch. The attention of the writer was called to the mistake (?) and he was requested to make a proper correction. In doing so, however, the writer simply stated that the picture was a bunch of "other Texas cattle," refusing to let it be known that they were Panhandle cattle. It was a direct knock at the Panhandle cattle, and the reason is very plain to the initiated, viz:—The commission firm referred to can't handle the JA stuff. Mr. de Ricques is in the same boat. He roasts Panhandle cattle because he is not willing to pay the price necessary to handle them. He has bought a lot of cattle from below the line which have been trailed to points above the line, and this stuff has proved unsatisfactory, as they are not in the same class with Panhandle steers. He chooses to call them "Panhandle cattle," however, and then proceeds to roast the genuine Panhandle product.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Dr. Stocking's drug store.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." Dr. Stocking druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

John W. Kibler, of Silverton, was here last week to visit his father-in-law, Capt. E. E. McGee of Lelia. He returned home Friday, taking with him a new binder.

Clarendon, : : : Texas.

SHIPMENTS of fruit from Clarendon continue to go out every day and the demand is not nearly supplied. Some of the finest peaches that have been seen in Texas this year have been grown in Donley county and shipped to various points. These peaches have attracted considerable notice from abroad. F. N. Page on last Friday shipped a crate of Elbertas to W. S. Polhemus, Superintendent of the T. & P. and Katy joint track, Ft. Worth. Mr. Polhemus had heard of Donley county's fine peaches and sent an order for a crate to the secretary of the Donley County Improvement Club. Needless to say he was supplied with as choice a shipment as ever went out of town. General Passenger Agent Glisson compliments our fruit highly; his letter is published in another column.

Like Finding Money.
Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. He says: "I had a terrible chest trouble, caused by smoke and coal dust on my lungs; but, after finding no relief in other remedies, I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds." Greatest sale of any cough or lung medicine in the world at Dr. Stocking's drug store; 50c and $1; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Fine Peaches.
Agent Baldwin is in receipt of the following letter from General Passenger Agent Glisson. The peaches referred to were Elbertas and were grown by F. N. Page at his home in Clarendon:

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 16.
My Dear Mr. Baldwin.—I beg to acknowledge and to thank you very kindly for the consignment of peaches with which you favored me per express as per your letter of the 15th, and have pleasure in advising that same has been much enjoyed by a number of us.

The fruit referred to is certainly of "First Quality," and I am pleased in being able to state that I do not know of having ever been favored with anything superior. Assuring you of my appreciation of the spirit prompting your action in the premises, I am

Yours truly,

D. C. White was in from his farm ten miles east of town Friday. He says his orchard will this year produce 200 bushels of peaches, and he is advertising them for sale, wanting buyers to come to the orchard after them as he says he has not the time to spare to gather and deliver them himself. He also has a fine crop of grapes this year. Mr. White is a new comer, and says that he has never seen a finer fruit county than this.

NEW FEED GRINDING PLANT.

A Long Felt Want to be Supplied the Farmers of Donley County This Fall and Winter.

Clarendon has long needed a first-class feed grinding plant to take care of the enormous crops of feed raised in the county. Several attempts have been made to fill this want but they have all proved to be on too small a scale to meet the emergency and the farmers have suffered as a consequence. The Banner-Stockman is glad to announce that this state of affairs is to be brought to a close this fall and that a plant of sufficient capacity is to be put in by the Cold Storage Power Co., of which concern James Trent is the head. Jim Trent never does things by halves, so when we say he is to look after the feed grinding of the county this fall it means that every farmer who has feed to crush can have it done, and done right on short notice.

Mr. Trent will add the equipment to his cold storage plant in plenty of time to catch the earliest orders. He will put in a crusher which will handle any kind of feed, be it threshed kaffir, shelled corn, kaffir in the head or corn in the shuck. Another good feature of the business will be that he will grind for the public on demand when as much as a half day's work is offered, and will take in payment for the service either cash or toll. This toll taking is a good proposition for the farmer. It enables him to have his crop put in saleable shape without any cash outlay. Mr. Trent can well afford to do this because he is a cattle feeder and buys large quantities of feed each year and the toll is the same as money to him. Speaking of this feature he says that he has demonstrated to his own satisfaction that kaffir corn and maize will fatten cattle as well as any other feed if properly crushed and properly fed. Last winter he carried on an experiment with 100 head of cattle of different classes, feeding them crushed feed with all the roughness they wanted. Of the 100 head one died and the balance all did well, netting him on an average 500 to 600 pounds of dressed beef. In his experiment were included big steers, yearling steers, old cows and heifers, and all did well, the big steers making the largest per cent gain.

In connection with his feed mill Mr. Trent will put in a mill for making corn meal. He will get a machine that will make a good article of meal, and expects to do considerable business with same.

Got Off Cheap.

He may well think he has got off cheap, who, after having contracted constipation or indigestion, is still able to perfectly restore his health. Nothing will do this but Dr. King's New Life Pills. A quick, pleasant, and certain cure for headache, constipation, etc. 25c at Dr. Stocking's drug store; guaranteed.

G. W. Hard, formerly master mechanic of the Ft. Worth & Denver machine shops at Clarendon, was here Saturday shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Hard is now located at Ft. Worth, though for the past three years he has been in St. Louis writing insurance. He is in fine health. He expresses himself as being still in love with Clarendon, and is firm in the opinion that she will yet be the leading city of the Panhandle.

Clarendon, Tex., Sept. 1, 1905

THE editor of the Alkali Eye turns from the enticing mouth of his subscription jug long enough to remark that it is none of his business if Booker T. chooses to eat with Wanamaker. This great friend of bust-head booze and Mary Jane thinks some fine thunks once every semi-occasionally, and we are inclined to believe that this is one of the times. Of course the Banner-Stockman, along with several more leading journalistic rags butted in on this occasion, but we are ready to take back what we said and wish we had said more to take back. Booker T., being a "nigger," can't be very choice about whom he associates with. He might have been like Harry Lehr's monkey—couldn't help himself.

Car Load of Fruit Jars.

Rev. G. S. Hardy has been confined to his bed since his return from Plainview as a result of a runaway accident in which he figured while in that burg. Hens for Hatching.

In spite of the fact that incubators and brooders have been brought to a great state of perfection, the old hen will still be used on most farms. The hen is a more skillful producer of chicks than is the incubator in the hands of the average man and woman. Where only a few fowls are kept and only a few chicks are desired the hen will still hold her popularity. We believe that where the farmer desires to keep a good-sized flock of hens and to raise yearly in excess of 100 chicks the incubator should be used. But we realize the fact that on millions of our farms just enough fowls are kept to consume the scraps from the table.

The hens for setting purposes must come from some of the breeds that have not had the maternity instinct bred out of them. We would not think of selecting any of the Leghorn breeds for sitters. Probably there is no breed that produces better sitters than the Plymouth Rocks. But in selecting a fowl for this work, preference should be given to those that are light in weight, as the heavy fowls both break eggs and trample chicks to death. We have found the lighter weights to give most excellent satisfaction. While they cannot cover so many eggs as the larger fowls they will bring more chicks to maturity.

Frequent Spraying.

The novice in spraying cannot afford to be so careless about his sprayings that he will miss the end for which he is working. Neither should he try to get along with the fewest possible number of sprayings. The best sprayers have indeed reduced the number to the minimum, but they are experienced men that have learned to make every spraying count for the most possible.

In many cases it has been found that so far as the orchard is concerned, four sprayings in spring give the greatest returns, while spraying every two weeks from the middle of April to the middle of August give the greatest proportion of perfect fruit. The additional sprayings cost more than the additional fruit is worth, as a general thing.

Taking all things into consideration the method that will pay the best consists in spraying the trees as soon as the blossoms fall and then every two weeks till four sprayings have been given. The sprayings must be well done if they are to be of any value. Slipshod work will not prove effective in preventing the ravages of insect and fungous pests. Leaving the work to the boys is never profitable. It requires mature judgment and thoroughness to do the work as it should be done.

Memorial to Archimedes.

The latest historical personage to be commemorated is Archimedes, the Greek who only wanted a place to stand on outside, in order to move the world with his lever. Syracuse, in Sicily, has made him a monument, representing the geometrician and physicist with his inventions grouped around him.

No Americans in Liberia.

Although Liberia was founded by American philanthropy, America is not represented there by a single firm. England and Germany monopolize its trade, a 5-cent cotton cloth having a value of 24 cents when offered in barter for coffee, palm oil, palm wine, ivory, skins and rubber.

Notice to Farmers.

Believing that the raising of alfalfa in this section is going to be of immense value to this country, and wishing to do all in our power to encourage the planting of same, we have made arrangements with the largest and most successful growers in Kansas to supply us with choice Turkeystan Highland alfalfa seed. Every farmer in this section should plant at least a few acres. Call on us and let us know how much seed you want and we will see that you get it. New crop seed will be ready for shipment about the last of August. We want to know as early as possible about how much seed we must order. So come early and give us your name and amount of seed wanted.

PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING

The High Contracting Parties Being Mr. W. M. Clower and Miss Laus Deo Houk.

At the Methodist church in Plainview on Wednesday evening, Aug. 23, Rev. G. S. Hardy, President of Clarendon College, spoke the words that made as one Mr. William Morgan Clower of Dallas, and Miss Laus Deo Houk of Plainview, formerly of Virginia.

The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens, palms and goldenrod, having three arches tastefully festooned in green and white. The background, formed of palms, ferns and carnations, was a vision of loveliness, and the chancel was a solid bank of flowers, ferns, etc.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Coleman and Randolph, passed slowly down the aisle. First Little Misses Ware and Knight opened the gate to the altar, and the ribbon girls, Ella Houk, Lillie Mertz Clower, May Kinder and Annie Maude Davidson, passed through, forming an aisle for the bride who entered leaning on the arm of her maid of honor, Miss Blanche Houk, and the groom, attended by his best man, Mr. W. V. Switzer, of Georgetown, followed by Mr. J. J. Lash and Miss Ella Fair, Mr. George Pierce and Miss Lena Ford, Mr. J. E. Coulter and Miss Joe Rush, Mr. Clarence Wofford and Miss Edith Clower, Mr. D. B. Doak and Miss Martilla Epsy, Mr. Walter Birch and Miss Perle Harp, Dr. C. L. Wayland and Miss Rosa Fowle. The bride and groom took their place beneath the wedding bell while the words of "O Promise Me" softly floated out and deepened the solemnity of the occasion. As the music died away Rev. G. S. Hardy in his usual impressive manner performed the ceremony that joined them together as man and wife. As the blessing was pronounced the initials "H" and "C" dropped from the wedding bell, and the word "Clower" came slowly into view. The music starting again the flower girl strewed the pathway with roses as they marched from the church and repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Houk, where a reception was tendered.

The bride has a large circle of friends in both Plainview and Clarendon, she having formerly lived here and last year holding the position of teacher of art in Clarendon College. She is a beautiful and talented young woman, and enjoys the confidence and love of all with whom she has been associated.

The groom is a son of County Treasurer J. M. Clower and grew to manhood in Clarendon. He is a young man of high moral standing and strong character and is entirely worthy of the esteem that is bestowed upon him. He is at present with the Clower Electrical Co., of Dallas, and he gives promise of entering upon a bright business career.

The bridal party arrived in this city on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 30, and that evening were tendered a reception at the home of the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clower. The lawn was illuminated with colored electric lights, giving it a very pleasing appearance, and chairs and rustic seats here and there were occupied by merry crowds of young people. The home was beautifully arranged and brilliantly lighted, and throngs of guests passed in and out or spent the time in pleasant conversation. On the long table in the dining room were placed the wedding presents for the inspection of the guests. There were something over one hundred presents in all and they represented many beautiful and useful articles. During the progress of the reception ice cream and cake were served to those present, and on the front porch was the punch bowl at which Mrs. Myrtle Tresise presided. Mr. and Mrs. Clower received in their usual hospitable manner and all those present were delighted with the pleasures of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Clower will remain in Clarendon for a few days when they will leave for Dallas, their future home, where after Sept. 10 they will be at home to their friends at 154 Allen street.

The Banner-Stockman offers to these worthy young people its heartiest congratulations and wishes them bon voyage through life.

A Unique Entertainment.

Mrs. W. E. Betts entertained a number of friends Saturday evening. This was a unique entertainment, and if the elderly ladies of Clarendon were not our dear particular friends we might say that it was an entertainment of antiques. Some half-dozen widows, none under 55 years of age, partook of Mrs. Bett's hospitality on the above mentioned date, and from the manner in which refreshments disappeared we venture the assertion that if this crowd does not gather again in years to come at the same hospitable home the fault will not be indigestion, but change of residence.

THE PANHANDLE NURSERY.

A Half Million Black Locusts and Big Stock of Fruit Trees, Roses and Ornamental Shrubbery.

Several years ago George Clothier, the U. S. Forestry agent, gave a lecture in Clarendon, his subject being the growing of the Black Locust tree, and dealing more especially with the propagation of the tree by seed. Mr. L. K. Egerton, of the Panhandle Nursery, at once went to work on a series of experiments with seedlings. His first experiment three years ago with the seedlings was a failure. His second experiment was a partial failure by reason of the tender plants being almost entirely ruined by a hail storm. The third experiment, however, has proved a grand success, and Mr. Egerton now has at his nursery grounds two miles north of town upwards of half a million of as fine seedling trees as was ever grown. He has trees from three to five and one-half feet high, the seed of which were planted last May. His yearling trees are thrifty and beautiful, ranging in height from eight to twelve feet. Mr. Egerton says he has found out by actual experiments just how to grow the Black Locust from the seed, and he is now in a position to sell this valuable tree to farmers of the Panhandle at prices which seem almost ridiculous in their lowness. His seedlings will be sold this fall $1.50 per thousand on up, and in extra big lots he is prepared to make the price $1 per thousand. At these prices there is no reason why every farmer in the Panhandle should not have from 5,000 to 25,000 trees on his place. It is a well known fact that a locust grove will yield big returns in a few years. The wood makes fine fence posts, and for fire wood it cannot be beat.

Mr. Egerton also has a big supply of general nursery stock, including grapes, and all other fruits, roses, ornamental shrubs of various kinds, in fact he has as good a stock to select from as can be furnished by any traveling man, and his stuff has the advantage of all being home grown and therefore thoroughly acclimated. Buyers are thus protected, in that they have greater assurance that their trees and plants will stand a better show of making a successful growth than the stock furnished by the traveling salesman who ships in stock that has been grown in an entirely different climate under more favorable circumstances than can be had here.

Another point in favor of the Panhandle Nursery is that the stock is at hand and can be inspected before being bought. Buyers can call on Mr. Egerton at his home in the city and be shown the stuff they need and can see for themselves just what they are buying. Mr. Egerton solicits the support of his home people and puts a guarantee back of everything he sells.

Cured of Lame Back After 15 Years of Suffering.
"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gilman, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale at Dr. Stocking's drug store.

Quinn Qlutts, of Quitaque, was here this week to place his daughter in Clarendon College for the coming session. He reports his section in fine shape and conditions prosperous. He has recently sold his land holdings, consisting of five sections, two patent and three school, for $2000 for one and $1500 for the others. He bought this land five years ago for $100 per section.

and beaten, in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon sound and well. "I use it in my family," writes G. J. Welch, of Tekonsha, "and find it perfect." Simply great for cuts and burns. Only 25c at Dr. Stocking's drug store.

J. J. Creighton, one of the Banner-Stockman's D. L. McClellan subscribers (of whom we boast quite a number) was here last week from Abilene. In conversation with our reporter Mr. Creighton said he was here for the purpose of buying land and if he could find a place to suit him would locate at once. His wife says he reads the B.-S. more religiously than he does his Bible. On the face of it this appears a strong statement, but we expect if an investigation were put on foot same might be found true of nine-tenths of our subscribers.

We are in receipt of catalogues of Clarendon college and public school. In the elegant rule and half-tone work we easily recognize the handiwork of that clever craftsman, Alvis Weatherly of the Banner-Stockman. TRICKS OF THE TRADE.

How Certain Commission Dealers in Cattle Endeavor to Slander
Panhandle Cattle in Order to Benefit Their Own Pockets.

"And how do these cattlemen observe the Lord's day?" cried the Panhandle Texas preacher. "Every week day you will find them on the streets whittling and swapping lies; and where do you find them on the Holy Sabbath? Out on the stock pens like a flock of buzzards. It is the only day the cowman works."

A few years since on a Sunday in May a lot of cattlemen "like a flock of buzzards" were on the fence of the stock pens of a Panhandle town looking at a herd of two-year-old steers being shipped north by the American Live Stock & Loan Co., of Denver. These steers were of the kind that the "Rudyard Kipling" of the cow business comments upon in the Breeders' Gazette of July 12, 1905, only they did not have the "color of fat," but the big necks and graphically described carcass was there, and the Sabbath breaking cattlemen were commenting that the man who AGED these steers would "get it in the neck", and he must have, as Mr. de Ricques has certainly "got wise" since.

Now this lot of steers were so-called Panhandle steers; that is they were born below the quarantine line, wintered as yearlings just above the line, trailed up to the railroad, and sold to go to the northern ranges, and this is the bulk of the kind of steers that have been bought for several years by the two commission firms who handle the most of this business.

Recently for some reason there has been a studied effort to give the Panhandle steers a black eye. The circulars sent out every spring by the aforesaid firms are marvels of classical cattle literature, and it is no wonder that the buyers rush over each other to get these commission firms to buy for them at so much "less than last year," as they "know just where, when, why and the kind to suit, etc., etc."

The past spring season was the first in many years that the steers of Southeast Arizona, Southwest New Mexico, and the Texas country adjacent to El Paso could be handled early, and the literary, classical writer of the cattle business comments upon same and says "many good bulls are now being used by the ranchmen of this district," but he forgets that the Panhandle was supplying these bulls from the JJ ranch. "This is a matter of fact and record. The Panhandle will still continue to raise the best cattle on earth, and still continue to brag about the good bulls brought in, as the demand for calves for Iowa, Illinois and Ohio is such that the Panhandle steer calf brings almost as much as the average north-bound two-year-old steer—often not two dollars difference.

The steers now on feed in Ohio for the International exhibition have been recently made the subject of an article by one of the aforesaid commission firm's Scotch stock newspaper; that is, it is principally for the Scotch cattle trade and companies on both sides of the Atlantic. Strange to relate one of the pictures of 19 steers was recognized by their flesh marks as coming straight from the Panhandle. This queer mistake on being commented upon brought forth the very unsatisfactory answer that the picture was of "other Texas steers."

"Cattle do not get fat on the range in the Panhandle in the winter time," said as good a cowman as ever lived—John Hollicot—former manager of the LX ranch, "but they are the best range cattle on earth when properly handled."

Kansas, Illinois, Iowa and Ohio every year want more and more Panhandle steers and calves, spring and fall, and the quality cannot be too good. The Panhandle steers have got to have feed. It occurs occasionally that certain sections are short on grass and in these years the steers do not get their growth, but on the average they winter well. The best brands of Panhandles are wanted and go nearly always (and have gone for years) to the best feeders in the states, and if they do go north you will find them topping the market both in weight and price, notwithstanding the seductive writings and "infloence" of the gentlemen who are trying to beat down the price for quality and have the minds of the northern buyers run to numbers and low prices.

Kinloch PURE RAW LINSEED OIL
MAKES THE BEST PAINT

Important Memorandum—The painter is the most important factor in good painting with the best quality of paint. Kinloch's Pure Raw Linseed Oil will last five years. The same paint applied to a surface with Kinloch's Pure Raw Linseed Oil will last only one year. Thus the "pre-put" oil of the good painter's job is $12.00—the poor painter's $20.00.

When we sell you paint, you buy the linseed oil separately. We know from our experience that paint without fresh linseed oil is not going to last very long. Of course, it may look well in the beginning—but in the end—what? We're here in business to stay and when we recommend Kinloch Paint we certainly must be positive of its staying qualities, too. We can give you some real information on painting. When you are ready to buy come and see us about

SUGGESTION

If by a little exertion of "common sense," you can save "ten cents" on a "hundred cents" purchase, why not give the boy a chance to start a bank account with what you waste. Ten cents on one dollar means one dollar on ten dollars or ten dollars on one hundred dollars. Is it worth saving? This is intended for the other fellow.

Society's Whirl.

The young people of the city have been right in the midst of a round of pleasure the past week, quite unusual by reason of the exceptional high character of the entertainments. We have not room for a detailed recital of all the affairs, but prominent among them were the musical and lawn party by Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin, last Friday evening; the "general good time" party given the young folks by Mrs. Frank D. Martin Monday night, and the "Contest" party at the home of Mrs. Carl W. Bennett Tuesday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Miss Thames, of Taylor. All attending each of the above occasions are loud in their praises of the manner in which they were entertained.

One of these tickets will draw the range and the holder of the duplicate number will be presented with the stove. Read the ad, and watch for further announcement. 45-1t

Organization of The Public School.

The public school will be organized and classified on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 7th and 8th. This will be done in order to avoid confusion and delay at the opening of school on Monday, Sept. 11th.

Pupils who hold promotion cards from last term are not wanted at the school building on the above dates. All pupils who did not attend the public school last year; all pupils who failed to take their final examinations and all who wish to take examinations for promotion are requested to attend on these days.

We hope that parents and pupils will take notice of the above request as it will save some time at the opening of school.

GETTING A STAND OF CLOVER.

Although the principal object of growing clover is to increase the nitrogen of the soil, land should be seeded to clover for this purpose long before it approaches a condition of actual poverty. Although the poorest field may be the one most in need of additional nitrogen, it is not the one that will receive most benefit from the clover crop, as it does not contain humus enough so that a good catch of clover may be expected. The poorest fields should have a good large share of the barnyard manure plowed under, so that they may be ready for clover seeding another year. The clover seeding should be confined to lands with a sufficient supply of humus, so that a good catch may be obtained. There are several definite reasons why soils rich in humus give the best clover catch. These soils retain more moisture and in a capillary way. They are in a better physical condition, and plant food is not only plentiful, but available.

Suitable preparation of the seed bed is of almost equal importance with humus. The most common practice is to seed clover after grain in ordinary cultivated fields, but the plan only succeeds well on comparatively new land, rich, mellow and crumbly. Ordinary grain fields are rather unfit for the tiny clover seeds. Unless these are scattered on a smooth, well pulverized surface, many will fall to lodge at a depth permitting germination, and many will be covered too deeply. Also, a poorly pulverized soil does not permit the rise of the needed capillary moisture. The field should be planked and dragged to a good seed bed and uniform covering. Rye makes the best nurse crop, as the clover gets the sun the quickest; and the stock should always be kept off the first year.

The consumption of food for heat is increased with the increasing size of the body. More internal work must also be performed to add increase to a large animal than to a small one. The younger animal eats more food in proportion to its size, hence has a greater excess above the food of support, and its organs of digestion and assimilation do their work better.

NOTICE.

After this date we will close the forms for the Friday's paper at noon on Thursday and will positively not receive any item for publication after that time. This rule will be strictly enforced.

A train of 26 cars of cattle went out of Clarendon Saturday to market. The stuff was mostly fat cows and was owned by John Browder, L. C. Beverly, Joe Horn, A. R. Letts, Lewis & Molesworth, and parties from Silverton. Most of the cattle were billed to Kansas City, but a few cars went to St. Jo and three belonging to Letts were sent to Chicago.

Earl Cole, of Mangum, made a flying visit to Clarendon Saturday night. He came over to take his wife and baby home. His train was delayed, the up and down trains meeting at the coal chute, and he had to make a flying switch in order to make the train on which his family was leaving. Mrs. Cole has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Talley, here for some time.

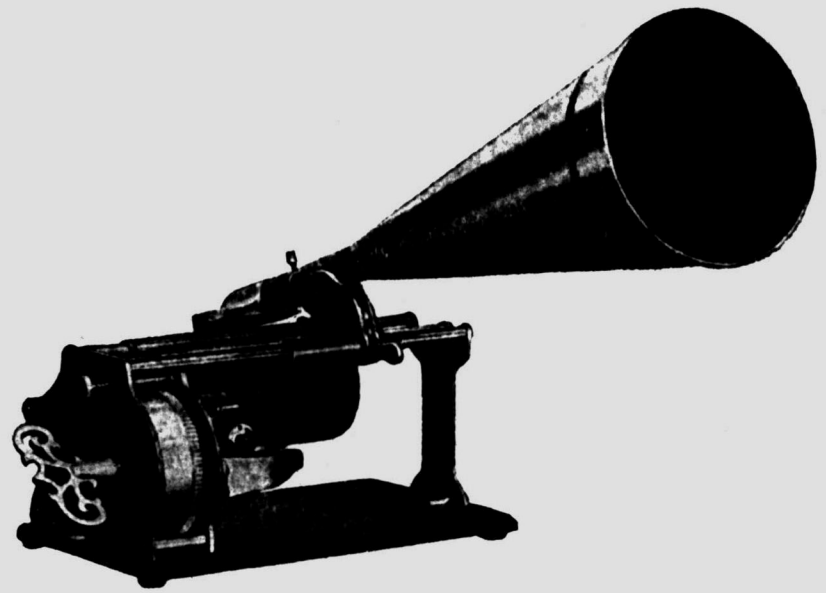

Adkissonian Reception.

Last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Clark last year's members of the Adkissonian Literary Society, of Clarendon College, tendered a reception to the new students and the young lady "Addis."

The parlor was decorated in the "Add" colors, purple and white, and at an early hour the new boys began coming in. They were made to feel free and the conversations were begun at once, which were mainly about Adkissonians and the Adkissonian Society.

The principal features of the evenings program were instrumental and vocal music and recitations by Misses Ruth Gage and Marion Barnett.

Refreshments were served after which conversation was carried on for a little while and then the crowd departed all voting the Adkissonians royal entertainers.
