

Bonus Brings 38,000 Bushels of Wheat Out Of Hiding in Deaf Smith County by May 25

B & P W Club Has Delegates Present At State Meeting

The Hereford B & P W Club sent Bessie Lee West and Lilye London as its representatives to the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Convention. The convention was held in Amarillo at the Herring Hotel May 24, 25, 26. The theme was "Victory! What Shall We Do With It."

Other members of the local club to attend were Frances Young, Billie Watts, Juanita Kelley, Adeline and Marie Koelzer, Ursalee Jacobsen, Gertrude London and Jeannette Smith. Gertrude Neal was a visitor.

An award was given by the National Federation to the B & P W Club of Hereford for increasing its membership 20 percent in the past club year.

Friday night an informal reception was given by the Hereford and Dimmitt clubs on the mezzanine floor of the Herring Hotel honoring the National President, Margaret Hick, Honorary President, Dr. Minnie L. Maffett, and members of the State Board of the Texas Federation.

Programs and meetings were carried on the next two days. Saturday evening the delegates and members attended the President's Dinner and heard an inspiring program. Margaret Hick's address was broadcast at this time.

Sunday morning there were several breakfasts from which

By the time the deadline on bonus wheat had arrived last Saturday midnight, more than 38,000 bushels of stored wheat had been turned in to local elevators and grain dealers for an estimated price of around $75,000.

A month ago, when the 30-cent bonus was first offered, the local ACA office had estimated that not much more than 5,000 bushels of wheat was left in storage in this county.

Part of the 38,000-bushel total brought in came from Castro county and from New Mexico, but the bulk of it was Deaf Smith County wheat, and millers now believe that there are still several thousand bushels of wheat stored around farms in this county in small lots which have not been brought to market.

Wheat For Export
Of the total, 16,390 bushels of the grain will be shipped out of the county, but local mills will retain 21,700 bushels which will probably be milled in Hereford, although none of this grain is expected to reach local markets in the form of flour, since the entire lot is earmarked for export to famine areas overseas.

Although contracts have not yet been signed, it is reliably reported that the Production Marketing Administration, which controls the export-grain, will contract with the two local flour mills for milling the grain here.

May Mill Flour Here
Packard Mills have been shut down for a month due to lack of grain for milling, and Fraser Mills, with a big back-log of government contracts, have stayed in operation but face an early shut-down unless the bonus wheat recently turned in is released for milling locally.

Both mills are optimistic concerning the government contracts, however, and Packard officials expect to have the mill back in operation by June 1.

Fraser report that the new contracts, if delivered according to schedule, will keep the mill in operation at full capacity until the current wheat crop begins to arrive at the elevators.

Packard, however, reports that even with the government contract, the mill will be able to operate only one shift until the new wheat crop begins to arrive.

No Flour For Local Market
Neither report much hope of releasing any flour to the local market before the 1946 crop is milled.

Local stores still have flour on their shelves, but a critical shortage has developed already in other sections of the state. Dimmitt stores report shortages of flour, and in the eastern part of the state, grocers shelves have been bare in many places for weeks.

In the meantime, every effort is being made by the government to impress on local people the critical conditions existing abroad, where millions of people face death by starvation unless food can be shipped in a steady supply from this country.

All of the 30-cent bonus wheat collected during the drive which closed Saturday is earmarked for export, and the Department of Agriculture has already an-

Summer Recreation Program Starts Next Week; Benefit Show at Star on Tuesday

Will Begin to Organize Kids Next Monday

The newly-organized Hereford Kids Club, modeled after Amarillo's "Kids, Inc." will start its summer recreation program next week, or as soon as Coach H. V. Stanton, who will direct the organization, returns to the City.

Enrollment and organization of youngsters was to get under way, June 1, but coach Stanton was called out of town last Saturday night to be at the bedside of his mother near Austin. The elder Mrs. Stanton was injured Saturday, when she fell and broke her hip.

Plans are moving forward rapidly for getting the summer program underway under direction of the joint committee from the Hereford Rotary and Lions Clubs, which are sponsoring the club.

Sale of tickets for the benefit show to be presented at the Star Theatre next Tuesday night was started this week. All proceeds will go into a fund for carrying on the summer program.

Coach Stanton told Lions Club members last week that more than 270 youngsters had already signified interest in taking part in the program. Boys 14 years old and under are eligible to take part.

For the younger group, 9 years old and under, a daily play program will be arranged in the mornings at the high school gymnasium. Included will be tumbling, organized games, and physical training. The youngsters will compete against a standard, not against each other, in these activities, which will be under the direct supervision of Coach Stanton.

For the older group, between the ages of 10 and 14, a track and playground program in the afternoons will be conducted at Lake Park. The city has agreed to level off a playground and track in the park, and to assist in preparing softball diamonds at various points in the city.

Two softball leagues will be organized, with a championship tournament in each league, and two winners playing for the city championship at the end of the summer.

Coach Stanton wants volunteer workers after five o'clock in the afternoon to coach the teams. Two coaches for each team are wanted so that one or the other can be on hand at all sessions. The teams will probably play three scheduled games each week, and will hold practice sessions on off-days.

Fred MacMurray and Marguerite Chapman co-star in the hilarious "Pardon My Past" which will be shown at a benefit performance for the Hereford Kids Club at the Star Theater next Tuesday night.

Stage, Screen Show to Raise Funds for Kids

A top-notch comedy film, "Pardon My Past," starring Fred MacMurray, will be presented on a double-bill with a local-talent stage show at the Star Theater for one performance only next Tuesday night for the benefit of the Hereford Kids Club.

All proceeds will go to the Kids' summer recreation program fund, and a goal of at least $500 from ticket sales has been set by the sponsoring Lions and Rotary Clubs.

Minimum price for tickets is sixty-cents, but buyers may pay as much more as they like for the seats. The entire membership of the Lions and Rotary clubs have pledged themselves to buy a block of five tickets each at a minimum price of $1 per ticket. Only the seating capacity of the theater for one performance will be sold. There will be no box-office sale.

Heading the twin-bill for the night will be a variety stage show presented by Hereford youngsters. Rev. Roy Ford, pastor of the First Christian Church, will open the show by leading a community sing. Manager Jim Snelson of the Star Theater will act as Master of the show. (Continued on Back Page)

Vacation Bible School Will Open Saturday at First Baptist Church

The annual Vacation Bible School will open at the First Baptist Church in Hereford Saturday, June 1, Rev. R. H. Cagle, pastor, announced this week.

Registration for the school will begin at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the church. Boys and girls between the ages of 4 and 16 years are invited to attend.

After registration, there will be a parade, with moving pictures filmed by Alex O. Thompson. Refreshments will be served at the church at the conclusion of the afternoon's activities.

The school will be conducted from 9 o'clock until noon each day, Monday through Friday, during the two-week period concluding on June 14.

A competent faculty has been enlisted, Rev. Cagle said, including three state workers from the Baptist Sunday school department in Dallas.

A varied program of music, Bible drills, memory work, stories, missionary activities, hand work, and recreation will be offered to those who attend.

Long before V-J Day, we made plans, and started putting them into effect. New generating capacity in six power plants, one complete new plant, miles and miles of new transmission lines to bring more electric power to more people at a lower cost than ever before. That, in a nutshell, is what our vast expansion program consists of.

All this means better living in the home electrically, better farming, more and bigger industries, more profitable business.

Yes, we're on our way to help develop a better, more prosperous territory.

School Inspector Recommends Immediate Action for Over-Crowding in Schools Here

Deputy State Superintendent E. H. Boulter, who visited the Hereford School system last week, recommended that immediate action be taken for the crowded conditions which exist in the school, especially at the elementary level.

In commending the work of the school, Mr. Boulter made the following statements:

"The school program has progressed in a splendid manner his year. This is a consensus of opinion among people that are in a position to know. The exhibits are filed in due order and show some good teaching.

"The school as a whole is stimulating and encouraging when viewed from the idea of steady educational growth. The curriculum is varied and well balanced. The band and choral club add to school life.

"The school is well organized and some splendid supervision is being carried on by the Administration. Thanks are extended to the school officials for their cooperation. To Supt. Strickland, we must say that he is affable and courteous in manner and careful in his planning."

Three's Unlucky Number for Trio Of Bootleggers

Three officers of the Texas Liquor Control Board spent three days visiting in Hereford last week, and wound up their business Saturday morning with a trio of surprise visits to three local dispensers of alcoholic beverages.

The take: a total of thirteen charges against three men, one woman; a considerable quantity of outlaw liquor; and three automobiles.

Charges were filed in County Court for possession, transportation, and sale of liquor, and the week-end beverage market in Hereford was reportedly dried up.

Officers reported that local bootleggers were selling cheap whiskey for six dollars a pint. One establishment was offering bargain rates at $5. Another was holding to the established price of $8, but sold only "fifths" and charged the two-pint price, netting $12 per bottle.

Two negroes had been arrested by local officers earlier in the week, and charged in county court, bringing the number of liquor cases to six, the number of charges filed to fifteen.

Mrs. Urilin Streu, Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Mrs. Herman Ford, and Mrs. Frances Maxfield left Sunday morning for Camp Cimarron near Coyle, Oklahoma, where they will receive training at a four-day conference on Campfire work.

Feed Supplies To Be Lower in 1946 Than Last Year
All available information indicates that supplies of feed high in protein will be 10 to 15 percent less during 1946 than the record quantity available last year. The current feed situation is almost a repetition of conditions existing during at least part of the three past seasons. The situation this season may be more acute however in some areas because only small quantities of grain are obtainable from Canada and other countries.

Deaf Smith county producers may avoid some feed difficulties by making preparation now to produce high quality feed at home.
Soybeans harvested at high grade have when harvested as the beans are about half mature and the beans are an excellent source of protein when harvested at maturity. The beans can be processed at Amario or Lubbock and processors at both places are anxious to obtain beans according to recent information.

According to Mr. D. L. Jones
Superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station the best feeding ration at Lubbock is fairly freely and is like mature pig. Feeding in May or June allows the beans to mature during cooler weather thus reducing shattering somewhat. This practice in connection with harvesting the beans when they are in the late dough stage of development keeps shattering to a minimum.

Williams Kills Hopes for Opening Agriculture Experiment Station

D. W. Williams, vice president for agriculture of Texas A & M College, virtually killed all hope of having an experiment station established in this area by A & M in a letter to Wayne Evans, president of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce last week.

"The Legislature is not making any appropriations for the purchase of land for additional branch experiment stations,"

Williams said, "and it is necessary to get the legislature to make an enactment before any new station is established."

"I am frankly of the opinion that the advisability of establishing an experiment station in the Hereford area is questionable, because of the expense involved."

Williams suggested that a possible solution of the problem would be to send a man either from the Lubbock or Amarillo station to conduct a series of trials on farms owned by people willing and anxious to cooperate in order to get the information.

"I do not want to pass the buck," he told Evans, "but am referring the matter to C. H. McDowell, acting director of the Texas Experiment Station."

Both McDowell and Williams were in Hereford in March, and at that time both appeared favorably impressed with the need for an experiment station in this area.

Local vegetable growers pointed out that none of the existing stations are conducting experiments along the lines, and under the conditions, found in this area.

A & M, until recently, had voiced the intention of trying to acquire the Hereford Prisoner of War campsite for the establishment of a sub-station here.

Teacher Shortage Serious in State; Twelve Vacancies in Local Schools

A survey just completed by the Texas State Teachers Association points up the critical shortage of teachers in the state schools, and Supt. Chester O. Strickland of the Hereford schools reports that the local situation is as bad, if not worse, than that over the state generally.

The Hereford schools, employing a faculty of 40 teachers, still have 12 vacancies to be filled before the next term of school.

Four of these, the superintendent reports, are teachers who are returning to college next fall. Four more are leaving to join husbands recently returned from overseas; and others, Strickland said, are getting married.

The State Association survey shows that ten percent of the teachers in the state schools have resigned their positions since last September, and approximately 15 percent more are teachers with sub-standard qualifications.

Practically all of the cities in Texas, the report states, report resignations at the end of the current school term averaging 13 percent. It is estimated that 8500 Texas teachers entered the armed forces and industry between September 1941 through 1945, and only 1277 have returned to school teaching.

Elizabeth Koch, president of the Association, summed up the situation with the statement, "If we are to keep a staff of well-trained teachers in the public schools of Texas, we must materially increase salaries. There is no other solution to the problem. We must give our attention to this problem immediately with the hope that local communities and the next session of the Legislature will provide greatly increased support for the local schools."

Many local school districts, the Association points out, are already increasing their tax rates or increasing property valuations and many others are planning to do so.

Hereford Urges Amarillo to Buy Palo Duro Park

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce, in a telegram last week to Rex Baxter of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce urged that Amarillo purchase and operate Palo Duro State Park under a plan offered to that city by the bond-holders.

The telegram was read at a meeting of the board of directors of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce last Friday.

The Hereford message stated: "We understand Amarillo as a municipality has the golden opportunity to acquire Palo Duro State Park without cost or impairment to its present and future bond structure. We respectfully request and urge the selection of the Legislature will provide greatly increased support for the local schools."

city of Amarillo to acquire and preserve this miniature Grand Canyon for the beneficial use of the Panhandle area. As one of the smaller towns in the area, we favor and endorse the move submitted, and Hereford will feel disappointed should Amarillo pass up the opportunity."

The proposed sale, now being studied by the Amarillo city commission, would permit the city to buy the park site without down payment and purchase it out of the operating income over a 40-year period, provided that all profits during that period, over and above payments, should be returned to the park in the form of improvements.

The park was first offered to the City of Canyon on that basis, but was turned down. The offer was not made to Hereford.

E. B. Posey, secretary of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce points out that Hereford, as well as the entire Panhandle, would benefit if Amarillo purchases the park and keeps it in operation.

The present bond-holders, it is understood, want to sell the property, and if it is not accepted on the above terms by some municipality in the Panhandle, it will be closed as a park and sold to cattle and ranching interests for grazing land.

Veterans Office Explains Rights to Unemployment Benefits in GI Bill

Many veterans apparently do not clearly understand the regulations governing payment of unemployment benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 (G. I. Bill). To help clarify the matter, the Veterans Administration offers these reminders.

Veterans who take temporary jobs retain their rights to unemployment allowances after they are released from the jobs.

Veterans are not required to apply for jobless pay immediately upon leaving service in order to protect their right to unemployment benefits. These benefits may be obtained any time within two years after the official end of the war, or within two years after the veteran's discharge, whichever is later.

A veteran may be eligible for unemployment compensation up to $20 a week if he becomes unemployed any time within the time limit. The maximum period for which he may draw jobless pay is 52 weeks, but benefits need not be drawn for consecutive weeks. A veteran with at least 10 months active service is entitled to the maximum 52 weeks' benefits.

The veteran may apply for compensation as often as he becomes unemployed, provided he does not voluntarily leave his job without good reason, or is not discharged for cause, and still has benefits available. Should veterans become unemployed after using all their veterans' unemployment credit, many of them will have built

Margaret Barrett Receives Degree

Miss Margaret Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barrett, will receive a B. A. degree from Trinity University in San Antonio on June 3. All schools in San Antonio have been closed on account of an infantile Paralysis epidemic and while no exercises will be held degrees and diplomas will be issued.

Miss Barrett attended West Texas State College, Canyon the first year of her college career and two summer sessions. While there she was a member of Alpha Chi, national honorary fraternity, and Gamma Phi, college social club.

She attended Trinity University her junior and senior years, majoring in history with a minor in sociology and Journalism.

At Trinity she was a member of Symposium, philosophy club; Scriptwriters, creative writing club; and Spurs, a woman's social club.

She received the honor of being elected editor of "The Trinitonian" college newspaper during her senior year and was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. During her student year she was also a member of the Student Council, student governing body of the University.

up enough credit to be eligible for regular State unemployment compensation.

A veteran also may qualify for self-employment allowances if he engages in his own business for profit and does not realize a net income of $100 a month. In that event, an eligible veteran may draw the difference between his net profit and $100 for the month for which the allowance is claimed. Self-employment allowances may be drawn for a maximum of 10 2-5 months.

A veteran who reenlisted in the service during the war years will be eligible for unemployment benefits when he leaves the service, but in no case can such payments be made later than five years after the end of the war. Thus, a veteran who has reenlisted for two years will still have a full two-year period to claim his unemployment benefits after he is discharged.

Engagement of Dorothy Dishman and V. C. Hopson Told at Supper Party

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Dishman to V. C. Hopson was made at an informal supper party given Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Kinsey. Miss Dishman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Dishman and Mr. Hopson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hopson.

Pink and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors, were emphasized with tapers and flowers. The announcement was made on tiny scrolls, with "Dorothy and V. C. June 9" written inside, attached to small bags of rice at each guest's place. A program of appropriate readings, including an original written for the bride-elect by Mrs. Carroll Whiteside, was presented by Mrs. Whiteside.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Whiteside in serving and the bride-elect, her mother and Mrs. Lee Hopson received the guests.

Those attending the announcement party were Mesdames W. J. Smith, Howard Turner, D. R. Vandiver, Elmer Mathies, Ralph Smith, L. H. Lookingbill Jr., L. H. Lookingbill Sr., George Benson, Lee Hopson, Harry Ingman, Carroll Whiteside, T. W. Roberson, B. R. Dixon, Bill Hutson, Arthur Thompson, A. L. Manjeot, P. L. Dishman, Miss Elizabeth Benson, and the honoree.

Ceremonies.

The program includes novelty songs by Ralph Fullwood, David Sowell, and Bobby Carnahan; musical reading by Cecilia Guseman, accompanied by Barbara Burney; an accordion solo by Wanda Lee Terry; novelty numbers by Gilbert Carlyle, Gene Roberson, Reuben Knox, and Keith Hudson; and Jimmy Alford, Magician.

The film feature, "Pardon My Past," stars Fred MacMurray in a dual role as a pair of twins, both in trouble. Rita Johnson and Marguerite Chapman are his co-stars.

The trouble begins when Fred is mistaken for his twin brother, and the cast rolls through an hour and a half of high comedy before the situation is straightened out.

Ticket holders are guaranteed an evening of fun next Tuesday night. The entire proceeds from the show with the exception of film rental and operating expenses, will go to the Hereford Kids Club.
