Double Geared, Double Strength Wind Mills

The most powerful and the most durable of all wind mills. This mill differs from other mills in every particular that goes to make strength and durability. The Double Gear is supported by Four Bearings, with Pitman and Plunger in the center. This absolutely overcomes all cramping and hanging that other mills have. The Oil Cups with wick feed are quite an advantage. One oiling will keep the mill in good condition for two or three weeks. We also handle the Ideal, Standard and Eclipse Mills. Also a complete line of Pipe and Galvanized Iron Casing. Will have a car of Steel Casing within the next week or so. If you are in the market for anything in this line we would like to figure with you

Stock News.

There has been "something doing" in cattle circles this week in the way of heavy feeding.

J. J. Harrison, Virge Hays and "Shorty" Reynolds came in Saturday from Tucumcari, N. M., with a bunch of horses which they had driven cross-country. They report pretty severe weather for such work, but say cattle on the range looked very well indeed considering the recent cold spell.

The weather this week has been anything but conducive to the best interests of the cattle business. During the first part of the week a heavy fog prevailed, freezing and covering the ground, trees, houses and fences (and cows, too, perhaps) with a coating of ice. Wednesday it began snowing lightly, continuing at intervals up to this writing (Thursday afternoon,) and the icy ground is now covered with about two inches of snow. This spell has not yet reached the point where it can be called the equal of the one a few weeks ago, but it is anything but encouraging. Cattle will necessarily be continued on full feed, and farmers who have not yet sold their forage crops are anticipating a big demand for same soon and at an increased price. While there will probably be no material loss of cattle in this section bad reports are expected from the Plains ranches if this kind of weather keeps up through February.

The approaching meeting of the Panhandle Stockmen's Association at Amarillo in April makes the announcement of O. H. Nelson, to be round in another column, especially interesting to all stockmen just now. The prospects for a large attendance at this convention are extremely good, and the fact that the auction sale of registered and high grade cattle this year will be under the management of such a man as Judge Nelson is ample assurance that those who contemplate making purchases of fresh blood for their herds will find just what they want at this sale. For 25 years Judge Nelson has been working for the general improvement of Panhandle cattle. He was, perhaps, the instigator of the move to "breed up" which has resulted in such widespread improvement in the herds of this section. He is also the originator of the "Corn Belt" market for the "good kinds" of Panhandle cattle, having by his own efforts proved the value of Panhandle young stuff in the feed lots of the corn belt. Judge Nelson is president of the Western Stock Yards Co., of Fort Madison, Iowa, and established these yards principally for the dissemination of Panhandle cattle. His efforts along this line and the results of same are too well known to need any further comment. He announces that this Amarillo sale will be conducted at the new

To Occur at Time of Panhandle Cattle-men's Association Meet

There will be a sale of thoroughbred Hereford cattle held at Amarillo, Texas, on April 19th and 20th, during the annual meeting of the Panhandle Stockmen's Association. At this sale there will be offered 200 head of bulls of suitable age for service, and 50 head of young cows, either with calf at foot or about to calve. These cattle will be contributed by some of the best breeders in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas.

The sale will be under the management of the Western Stock Yards Co., in their new union stock yards, which they will have completed at that time.

A complete list of contributors will be given as soon as catalogue is made.

We have now on hand and for sale 100 head of very choice Hereford bulls in our stock yards at Ft. Madison, Iowa.

For particulars or information write

J. W. Kibler came over from Silvertown last Saturday with his brother-in-law, W. E. Seitz, who had been visiting him, and who has since returned to his home in Denton county. The Banner-Stockman will keep Mr. Seitz posted on local affairs and it's dollars to doughnuts he locates with us ere the end of the year.

New Grocery Firm.

Adams & Wood is the style of a new grocery firm which will open its doors to the public soon in the Driskell building lately vacated by the Witt-Richardson Co. The firm is composed of W. J. Adams and R. F. Wood, both well known Clarendon business men, and a line of general family and fancy groceries will be handled. Mr. Wood informs us that they have their order for stock and will be placed ready for business within a week or ten days.

Jim Treadwell has now taken to W. J. Adams, and Treadwell is now in the hands of W. J. Adams and R. F. Wood.

R. I. Moss says his little ad for land breakers has brought him more replies than he can answer. For genuine results Bob says the Banner-Stockman ads are just about the proper thing.

Union Stock Yards, of which concern he is also president, and which he says will be in a state of completion by the time of the convention, April 18, 19 and 20.

Pastor Resigned.

Rev. Edgar L. Storey, for the past several years pastor of the local Presbyterian church, has resigned his pastorate and we understand will take the Panhandle Mission field. This leaves three of Clarendon's churches without a pastor at the present time. It is likely that Rev. W. P. Dickey, who was the first pastor of the Presbyterian church here will be called to succeed Bro. Storey.

A. L. Daily put on sale this week some fancy sleds for boys, articles which our scribe has never before seen except in illustrations in periodicals published for the benefit of the young folks. They are light, strong and very pretty, and the small boy will immediately go wild until he becomes the proud possessor of one.

From Uncle John.

Alanreed Tex. Jan. 29.

Today is foggy and freezing like most of the past week has been.

The car of Hoyt's Lump Lignite coal from Consumers' Lignite Coal Co. at Grand Saline, Texas, has come in and was loaded off of the car at $3.15 per ton and is fairly satisfactory. Lignite is a sort of a mineral charcoal and does not make cinders but goes to ashes like wood. We have no coal to sell and our people will order another car of Lignite in a few days for their own use. Lignite coal is a soft brown coal and is not as good as the black lump coal from Colorado or Indian Territory.

No particular farm work is yet done though our people are having J. W. Lane to put their plows in repair and are getting ready.

Our people are feeding cattle generally and cattle are doing fairly well, not much loss so far.

There is a prospect for a newspaper in Alanreed under the management of R. Y. Mangum.

Wm. M. Greenwood is building a nice residence near Greenwood switch, the proposed site of the Junction City of Alanreed and McLean.

The postoffice was moved from the Wilson W. O. W. building to store of Alanreed Mercantile Co. and from there to G. H. Simpkin's building on lot 7 in block T. R. Y. Mangum, the efficient postmaster, remains in charge.

Well, as far as I know this will be my last letter to Banner-Stockman: I reckon I am too lazy to write every 2 weeks and my time is up with the contract with A. M. Beville of the News whereby became a part of the intangible assets of the News that went to the Banner-Stockman when it bought out the News. I am glad to say that I have good wishes for the success and continued prosperity of the Banner-Stockman, and in giving your readers a rest from the opinions of your Uncle John we trust that a more worthy correspondent will take the place and make the paper more interesting. Accept for yourself and readers my thanks for many courtesies, I am as ever,

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's, or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. ### Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by Fleming & Maulfair, Druggists, at 50c a bottle.

Heavy Land Sale.

The Will A. Miller Land Co. sold last week to some Illinois and Iowa parties $36,000 worth of land between Amarillo and Washburn. This land will be subdivided into quarter and half sections by the purchasers, and a good big settlement established. This all helps Amarillo, as this will be their trading point, besides these people will demonstrate what this country will do. What we need is smaller farmers, and this is the way to get them.—Amarillo Herald.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street, ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

DAMAGE CASE AFFIRMED.

Judgment Against the Texas & Pacific for Failure to Furnish Cars.

The Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth has affirmed the judgments in eight cases from Mitchell county against the Texas & Pacific Railway company wherein suits for penalties for not furnishing live stock cars were brought. The penalty as fixed by the statute is $25 per day. The opinion was written by Chief Justice Connor, who said that since the decision in the case of Houston & Texas Central Railway Company vs. Mayes by the Court of Civil Appeals for the third District, in which a writ of error was subsequently refused by the Supreme Court, a decision of the cases before this court appeared superfluous.

Judge Connor said that in the Mayes case the two principal contentions involved in the cases before this court were decided adversely to the railway company. That it was held that not only did the penalty statute apply in cases of interstate shipments, but also that an application in writing to the station from which it was desired to make the shipment was in substantial conformity with the statute on that subject.

That the further contention that the judgment and the court's findings were unauthorized by both the pleadings and evidence must be overruled, the statute providing that the shipper must show by evidence that he had the property he desired to ship "on hand at the time the demand for cars was made." The court said that it could hardly have been intended by this to require that the intending shipper should have the property at the immediate point of shipment at the time of demand, inasmuch as the statute gives the railway company as much as six days from the time of the demand within which to furnish the cars, and the shipper forty-eight hours within which to thereafter load them, so that the provision of Art. 4502 to the effect that the shipper must have the freight on hand must mean, the court said, that he has or owns the property so circumstanced as that it may be shipped within the time named by the statute after the delivery of the cars at the point demanded.

In conclusion the court stated that if this be the proper construction it was of opinion, in the absence of special exception, that the petition sufficiently alleged that the shipper had the cattle he intended to ship "on hand," and that the proof on the subject tended to support the court's finding to that effect, and the judgment was in all things affirmed.

The judgments in the eight cases were as follows: Oz Smith $200; J. D. Sears $200; W. I. Scrivner $25; Thomas Martin $25; E. A. Birdwell $700; J. V. Riley $375; W. W. Nelson $150; Dave Sims $200.

There are seven other similar cases on the docket.

CONSCIENCE FUND.

Denver Road Receives Another Contribution Yesterday.

A. A. Glisson, the general passenger agent of the Denver road, yesterday received $250 from a person in Chicago, to be placed in the "conscience fund" of the Denver road. This party wrote Mr. Glisson some several months ago that he had ridden on a Denver train many years ago between two points and asked how much was the regular fare. Mr. Glisson answered this letter and stated that the fare, had he paid it, would have amounted to $5.

Almost immediately on receipt of this answer the party sent Mr. Glisson $250 and announced that as soon as he could get the remainder he would forward it. Yesterday the other $250 arrived.

"I have been in the railroad business over twenty-nine years and during this time I have had some fifteen or twenty people settle through the 'conscience fund,'" said Mr. Glisson yesterday. "It does one a whole lot of good to receive remittances like this one, not so much on account of the money involved, but it shows us that there are a few people who believe in doing the square thing right up to the handle."—Ft. Worth Record.

Startling But True.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theatre in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet five times this number or over three thousand people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have warded it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia." W. D. Wilcox, Logan, New York. Sold at Dr. Stocking's Drug Store.

Clarendon College.

The enterprising management of Clarendon College, through the local representative, has placed a card in our columns. The school is no longer an experiment, but a thoroughly and permanently established university and training school, the equal of anything of its scope in the state. Its graduates are carrying off first honors in the higher institutions of learning, which is indicative of the character of the training they have received. The college is for Panhandle and all Northwest Texas people, who need an institution of learning near home. It has over 200 pupils, which attests its popularity, and each session brings in a larger number than its predecessor. A stronger faculty is not in Northwest Texas and the president's name is a guaranty in itself of the institution's stability. Its fine library and equipment for experiment and demonstration in the scientific and mathematical departments are both special inducements for placing your child where he can have modern advantages near home. Add to this the religious influences and healthful location and you have an ideal school and just the one for your son or daughter.—Channing Courier.

Think of it! A hundred and one acres—bigger than the average farm. That's the Studebaker—the largest vehicle factory in the world. It means something to you, for the Studebaker wouldn't have grown from a humble little country blacksmith shop to the largest plant of the kind in the world, increasing in size and growing in popularity and reputation, if it hadn't deserved to grow. The truth is people buy more Studebakers because they have found that the Studebaker gives better satisfaction. If you could go through the factory and see just how the Studebaker is made, you would find high with air-dried lumber—the pick of the whole market—the most improved modern machinery—the care and thoroughness taken from start to finish—you'd understand why the Studebaker is the most popular vehicle in the world. If you're thinking of buying a farm wagon, a spring wagon, a survey, a buggy, a family carriage, a set of harness or a vehicle of any kind for business or pleasure, look up the Studebaker agent. THE beef trust has received a knockout blow from the U. S. Supreme court. For particulars see page 2.

THAT a farming population adds to the growth and stability of a community is daily evidenced in Clarendon.

THE cowman who is attempting to winter cattle on the "baldies" this winter, without ample sheds and feed is up against it. Reports of losses will begin to come in before the end of February.

THERE are now half-a-dozen more first-class business concerns in Clarendon than there were when we had the Denver shops and division point. Not a vacant dwelling in town and property values greatly enhanced.

N. W. T. P. A., Attention.

Dear Boys: Your secretary wishes to commence in the near future his work of preparing for the 1905 convention and the pleasures incidental thereto. To this end, he asks that every member drop him a card right away, offering suggestions as to what excursion we should try to arrange for, etc. From these suggestions he will formulate plans for the "greatest good for the greatest number," and will commence the campaign for a repetition of the successful convention of last year. Please do not neglect this matter, and also kindly publish this communication in your papers, that it may reach every newspaper man in North-west Texas. Suggestions are solicited not only from members, but from bona fide newspaper men who intend joining us this year at Hereford.

Fraternaly,

ORION PROCTER, Sec.,
Bridgeport, Texas.

H. W. Taylor & Sons greet you with a quarter page ad this week. The have contracted for this space for a year and will have something of interest to say to the public every week during that time. This firm's hardware and furniture business is conducted on lines similar to the Banner-Stockman's job department, i. e.—not the cheapest perhaps, but without doubt the best. Their stock is bought with a view to giving the best values for a fair price, and it has become a common saying among Donley county people that "when you buy from Taylor you get the best goods obtainable."

Public School Notes

The damp drizzly weather moistened the ground enough to make mud plentiful in all the halls and rooms of the school house, the first of the week; later everything was frozen including the water supply.

Prof. Willis this week introduced a class of two dozen 9th grade pupils to the study of geometry. We hope this introduction by Prof. Willis may lead these pupils not only to form the acquaintance, but an attachment for the study.

New supplementary readers, for the third and fourth grades have been received and the classes will be organized very soon. The books belong to the New Literary series of readers.

Clarendon Independent District was the first to organize in this part of the state. The progress of the public school as made under this organization has been an inspiration for other districts throughout the Panhandle to organize independent districts, and although an extra tax has been assessed each year to meet the expenses of operating the school and paying for the new building, this has been fully met by the citizens.

J. B. McClelland, Jr., has been out of school this week on account of a serious and painful rising of his jaw. Bruce is one of the best students of his class and we regret his absence and his affliction.

Five new pupils entered the public school this week. Three from the family of Mr. Shaw, recently from Plainview, and two pupils in the primary department whose names we failed to get.

The primary department has had a diversion this week from their ordinary work to the study of birds, the specimen used being a large "hoot owl." The little ones have been much interested in this. His wings and tail have been placed among the wall decorations. The composition work of these little folks describing the habits and home of the owl is especially good.

Clarendon Hilderbrand has been compelled to stay at home the week and nurse a painful boil near his left eye. Other pupils from the various rooms are reported sick and the weather has kept the greater part of our pupils from the country at home.

Mr. Ryan, the carpenter, came up to the school house Tuesday evening and repaired some desks for the pupils in Miss Hardin's room.

The tenth grade has for the first time been encountering literal quadratic equations during the last week. Considering the assistance they have received their progress with this difficult subject has been good.

Prof. Silvey in looking over an old scrap book this week, containing various items of interest concerning Clarendon public school, found an honor roll published for the primary room in Oct. 1895. Among the names found upon this list are those of Millie Baker, John Brinley and Roy Stephens. All three of these pupils are in the graduating class this year. So it seems they are to close their public school work under the same superintendent that they began under. This surely speaks well for all these pupils. This was the first year Prof. Silvey had charge of the school.

Loss in Seed Selling.

The Grain Dealers' National Association, recently in session in Milwaukee, passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, Seed houses do a large business in the sale of seed grains and thereby may materially affect the general business of the crops of grain thus produced, either for better or worse; and,

Whereas, It is known that seed thus sold by seed houses does not always possess the merit of type and breeding sufficient to meet the expectations of the purchaser, and in fact often does not tend to raise the standard of the general crops produced. For example it has been too common a practice for seedsmen to purchase ordinary corn from farmers' cribs and sell the same under special brands when in fact it possessed no special merit whatever, with respect to type and breeding, and the same is true in regard to other grains; therefore,

Resolved, That the Grain Dealers' National Association, now in convention assembled in Milwaukee this 23d day of June, 1904, does hereby urgently request all firms engaged in the selling of seed grain to adopt a line of business policy that will result in giving more attention to the questions of type and breeding and adaptability and thereby assist in improving the quality and yield of grains; also,

Resolved, That the secretary be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to all the principal firms engaged in the business of selling seed grains in the grain producing states, and also to all the leading agricultural papers in the country.

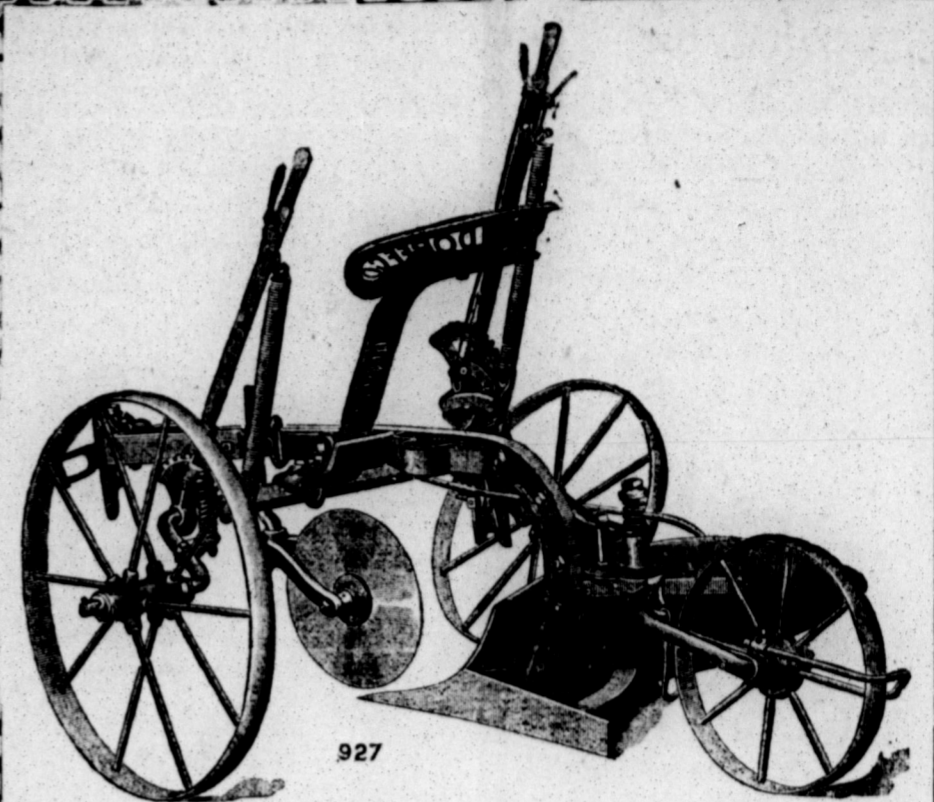

The practice against which the resolution is directed is one that has long been condemned by conscientious dealers. It not only injures the farmers, but injures the firms that are trying to do an honest business. It is gratifying to see a great association take the stand that this one has taken. The agitation is sure to bear fruit—Farmers' Review.

Spelt (Triticum Spelta).

Spelt is a cereal which in appearance is intermediate between wheat and barley, but, in reality, is one of the types into which wheat is divided. It is a native of the countries near the Mediterranean sea. At the present time it is grown principally on the poorer soils in Switzerland, southern Germany and northern Spain. It is also grown at an elevation in Switzerland where the common wheat (Triticum vulgare) will not thrive. For general cultivation it is considered much inferior to the finer varieties of wheat. The head is open, narrow, bearded or bald, and is usually very long. When the grain is threshed the head breaks into pieces at the different joints, or nodes, leaving the grain still clasped firmly by the chaff. In order to make a separation of the chaff from the seed, special machinery is required. The grain is medium hard, and somewhat compressed at the sides. The grain in Ontario frequently called Spelt belongs to the Emmer class, and is, therefore, improperly named. To find out the value of Spelt for growing in Ontario, we have imported at different times no less than ten varieties from Switzerland, Russia, Germany, the Argentine Republic and the United States. Two of these varieties proved entire failures, two others gave poor results, and the other six varieties yielded moderately well. As the grain is enclosed by a chaff somewhat similar to oats, and weighs less than 40 pounds per measured bushel, the results here presented are given in pounds, instead of bushels of grain per acre. One of the best varieties of Spelt has now been grown in the experimental plots for five years, and has given an average yield of 1,623 pounds of grain per acre.—Ontario Station.

Loss in Over Ripe Wheat.

In 1879 Dr. R. C. Kedzie, in an exhaustive study of the ripening of wheat, pointed out that there was a slight loss in weight between complete ripeness and the stage generally designated as dead ripe. Subsequent experiment at this college and elsewhere have given like results. There is not only a loss in weight when the grain becomes over-ripe, but a given number of well ripened ears or the product of a given area, kept in the ordinary manner, will weigh less if taken from an over-ripe field than if taken from a field cut at the proper time. Moreover, the amount and quality of the flour produced and the germinating power of the grain itself are less if the wheat is allowed to become over-ripe than if cut at an early period. These facts are now well recognized by farmers and grain dealers.

Breaking Plows Superior GRAIN DRILLS

NOW is the time to buy your Breaking Plows and Grain Drills. We are prepared to supply your wants in this line. If you would do up-to-date farming you should use only the very best tools and machinery obtainable. Too many people for the small sum of two or three dollars will buy inferior Plows which prove very unprofitable. We have the Success Sulkey Plow which is one of the most successful plows ever sold. We also carry the Good Enough which is good enough for the most prosperous and up-to-now farmer in any old country, the Panhandle not excepted. In Grain Drills we carry the Superior which has the right name because it is superior to all other Grain Drills. In Walking Plows we have the Canton and Moline which are not excelled by any. If you need a Stove or Range you should not pass the celebrated Buck's because they are Peace Makers in any family. Look at them before buying. Our Builders' and other Shelf Hardware is what we want to show you. To see and price will convince you of the fact that we are in the front row on this line. Don't pass by but drop in and jolly with us awhile.

Clarendon College.

On last Friday evening a very pleasant entertainment was given in the college under the direction of the Art Department. It was something out of the usual line of entertainments, and was highly enjoyed. The entertainment was in form of a mock wedding. Many people are opposed to such weddings but one could have found nothing objectionable to this one. The ceremony of the officiating "magistrate" was one that was amusing and also one that will make the young remember that married life is something more than a song. The college chapel was arranged very tastily, and the wedding party, added charm to the room when it entered. We would be more definite in speaking of the wedding party but some of the young ladies of the party gave us instructions not to call any names. After the ceremony light refreshments were served in one of the recitation rooms. Some time was spent in social amusement. The evening was a pleasant one to all.

Little out of ordinary has taken place since our last notes. We note that the unpleasant weather of this week has had little effect on the attendance. We are glad to see the students so regular. Nothing less than regularity can develop the student to the fullest extent. One good rule for all pupils to use is, "to miss no recitations." Some members of our school has never had the experience that follows missing a lesson in college.

Some of the boys and girls are sick this week, but none of them are seriously sick. They remain in their rooms and are soon ready for work again. There is little sickness in Clarendon now. We note that there are more than 700 cases of lagrippe in Taylor, and more than 1200 in Denton. It is said that more than 1/3 of the pupils in those towns are out of school now. We feel for the school interests in those towns.

During the last fall of snow and ice one of the electric light wires leading to the young ladies home broke. Fortunately it was just about the time the lights were turned off. The men at the plant were notified and the line was ready for use before night. The students are very thankful for the excellent service the electric light men are giving us.

Webster Hawkins, of Claude, went home the first of the week. He has not been in good health since the holidays. He is not seriously sick, and he intends to return soon.

Mr. Lee keeps us well supplied with coal now. The rooms of the college are kept comfortable all the time. Comfort is one necessary element in the life of the student that does the best work.

The conduct in the young men's hall is much better than one might think it would be with so many young men in the same building. There is no reason why anyone should be disturbed. Some of the boys think the requirements are too much, yet they are all falling in line.

The class in plane geometry is doing some excellent work in the original exercises. Some of the pupils who take an interest and delight in solving the problems think it is hard to have all their efforts crowned with the words, "It is a special figure." For further information, call on Messrs. Travis

Brady and Lonnie Sweeney. While they have heard that response often still they have had some pleasure in seeing some of their work stand the test. It is the rule of the class that the positions taken on a proposition must be sustained by facts or the proof will fall. No one thus far has been able to sustain all positions taken.

The grade cards will be delayed a few days this month. A number of new pupils entered at the beginning of the second term, and it was desired to give them more work to be examined on than they had taken at the end of the fifth school month. Mr. Johnston gave all his examinations on Wednesday.

The February number of the Magazine is being mailed this week. The printers did some excellent work on it.

KANSAS CITY MARKET REPORT

Special to BANNER-STOCKMAN.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Jan. 30.—The cattle run last week was not heavy at all, but it constituted more largely of fed steers than usual, and they were of better quality. A few sales were at $5.60, and a great many at $5.25 to $5.50. Fed western steers sold up to $5.40 and the fair to good beef steers advanced 10 to 20 cents for the week. Medium to common cattle sold lower, however, and the mistake of taking cattle out of the feed lot too soon was again illustrated in a good many cases. Best cows held steady, but other kinds sold lower. Receipts today are moderate here and elsewhere, and the market on all kinds is strong to 10 cents higher. It has been demonstrated half a dozen times since the holidays that any day when receipts are small, or there is a prospect of continued light receipts, as in case of a storm, prices immediately jump up, and competition is keen among buyers. And besides, there is a gradual upward movement, and prices have now reached a point where feeders are making a little money. A shipment of 18 cars of short hayed cattle were here from Hotchkiss early in the week, that sold very well. The steers sold at $3.70, and $3.85, 650 to 900 lbs., and cows around 1000 lbs. sold at $3.15 to $3.45. All around, the cattle market may be called fairly healthy.

An Adkissonian Prophecy.

FROM CLARENDON COLLEGE MONTHLY

Once I dreamed a dream. I dreamed I sat in a great theatre and looked upon beautiful scenery set upon a great stage. I saw great actors play a great drama.

The theatre was the "World"; the stage was "Life"; the scenery was painted by that greatest of artists, Nature, and the actors were Adkissonians. The drama is, "The successful "Ads." The time is 1925.

The first to come before my vision is Roy M. Stocking, the first president of the society. He is now a great M. D. You can scarcely glance through the columns of a newspaper without seeing the praises of his "little pills".

Then I see another who has risen to fame as President of the great State University of New Mexico, Prof Ed Hall. Then there is Dr. Walter Hightower, who is now President of a great Baptist University.

Then on down the line I see our first Inter-society debaters, Clyde Wright and Will Clower, both of whom have been successful in life. It is now Attorney General Wright and Chief Electrician Clower. Also James A. Hall, the Panhandle orator, who was once an "Ad", is now United States Senator from New Mexico.

Now comes that inimitable orator and statesman, R. Delbert Jones, U. S. Senator from Texas, who was once one of our "crack" debaters and represented Clarendon College in the inter-collegiate Oratorical contest and won out. His colleague in the Senate is O. T. Warlick, also one of our best debaters and first speaker on inter-collegiate debate.

The ministers of the Gospel are successful too, for I see Rev. George Harris as pastor of a great city church, charming many thousands of people with his great sermons. Then there is W. E. Garrison, the head of the Methodist missionaries in Shanghai, China.

I see an airship floating in the air. I look and behold Rev. Harris holding in his hand the Book, preparing to pronounce the ceremony that will join C. E. Thacker to an intensely fascinating widow, with seven children. Poor "Thack."

Hark! I listen and hear a great and famous orator and lecturer. This is Travis Braly. His most noted lecture is, "Is Marriage a Failure?"

Then there is J. E. King, the greatest living mathematician, who has discovered that which has baffled so many, perpetual motion.

Wiley Stockett, from carrying the mail to Naylor in a cart, became Post-master General and is noted for the encouragement he gives rising young men.

Fletcher Isbell has become a noted instructor. He teaches by the phonograph method. This up-to-date method leaves him free to play ball or to go hunting or fishing, while his students pursue their work.

Well, Lonnie Sweeney has become by common consent, the greatest comedian in the world. Sometimes people actually laugh themselves to death while listening to him, hence those with weak hearts are advised to take him in "broken doses."

Van Roberts is Democratic President, having totally eclipsed all the tribe of "Teddy R." and "Booker T."

Richard Peebles, always wanting to go somewhere, has fitted out an airship and accompanied by Clarence Lindsey, Clarence Self, Sears, Biffie and Drew Burton, sailed away to find the South Pole. The last heard of them was a wireless telegram saying they had found it and climbed it. They are holding down their claims with airships and the "Pans" are planning to make a run and wrest the claims from them, but the followers of the Purple and White will withstand the attack.

John Arnold always ambitious, took Alaska in hand, organized it into a state, by the help of Palmer, Ealum, Kimball, Rush and Richard Dailey, and each of them managed to have himself elected to a fat office and is living at ease.

No influence in our country is stronger than that exercised by the press and no man has more power than the editor of a great daily. Will Roberts is known as the second Horace Greeley, as he sits behind his desk and wields power as editor of the N. Y. World.

As the world progresses it has become absolutely necessary that North America and Asia should be united. An Adkissonian mind was equal to the emergency. Jesse Stanford, one of the greatest civil engineers of the world, projected an underground railroad beneath Behring Strait, aided by Foster, Gibson, Walker, Anderson and Roy Wilson, all eminent in this line of work.

Now the curtain is drawn and the great play is continued in other scenes. Read Friday evening, Dec. 16, 1904, before the Adkissonian Literary Society, by Harwood Beville.

Such a condition may be best and quickest obtained by Herbine, the best liver regulator that the world has ever known. Mrs. D. W. Smith writes, April 3, 1902. He says he had one hog in the bunch that tipped the beam at 600 pounds and that this hog would bring more money than any man's beef steer. Mr. Harrell is an enthusiast on hog raising and is making a splendid success of it. —Hall County Herald.

THE LIVER QUARANTINE

"TAKING HIS MEALS OUT."
HURried eating has ruined many a man's stomach. The digestion-destroying process is gradual, often unnoticed at first. But it is only a short time until the liver balks, the digestive organs give way, and almost countless ills assail the man who endeavors to economize time at the expense of his health.

A torpid liver causes a quarantine of the entire system. It locks in the diseased germs and body poisons and affords them full play, inviting some serious illness. In families where August Flower is used, a sluggish liver and constipation are unknown, so are all stomach ailments, as well as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, headaches and kidney and bladder affections. No well-regulated family should be without this standard remedy. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists
