Examine Your Flues

Reports to the State Fire Marshal from December 10, 1910, to September 10, 1915, show that 3766 fires, or 15 percent of the total number that occurred in dwellings, private boarding houses and other like occupancies were due to unsafe flues. Assuming that the same proportion of fires reported, "Cause Unknown," is due to unsafe flues, the total number is 4,580, or 20 percent of all such fires. Unsafe flues cause a larger number of fires than any other one thing to which fires are attributable. The saddest thing about this fact is that all such fires are preventable. They occur by reason of carelessness and indifference that almost amounts to criminal negligence. The season when fire must be had for warmth and comfort is almost here. HAVE YOU EXAMINED YOUR FLUES? The rules of ordinary prudence and business sagacity require that everyone make a careful examination of all flues in his property at the beginning of each season before fire is permitted in them. This precaution is absolutely imperative at the beginning of this season, and more especially so in the Gulf Coast country, and that portion of the State passed over by the recent hurricane. The high winds of that storm left in their wake a veritable chaos of unsafe flues, which, if not put in order will cause the fire demon, with hellish glee, to follow the storm and take a fiendish delight in completely destroying what the wind only damaged. Again we ask: HAVE YOU EXAMINED YOUR FLUES AND PUT THEM IN GOOD ORDER? If you have not, DO IT NOW. If you do not, and a fire occurs by reason of your negligence, destroying valuable property of your own and perhaps that of your neighbor's as well, your conscience will rightfully accuse you as responsible for a fire that you could have prevented by heeding this warning to EXAMINE YOUR FLUES.

State Fire Marshal.

Panhandle Fair a Success

Although more sunshine and fewer showers, would doubtless have increased the attendance at the fair, especially that from out of town, yet notwithstanding these handicaps, this year promises to be a record breaker, in point of attendance, exhibits, and general excellence of attractions.

It was estimated that eight thousand people were on the grounds Thursday.

Deaf Smith county is coming in for her share of premiums and her exhibit is indeed creditable.

With good weather today and tomorrow the success of the big fair is assured.

At Christian Church

The subject of Dr. Faris' address on Sunday morning at the Christian church will be "Manufactured Gods."

Attention, Girls!

There will be a meeting of the girls, between the ages of eight and eighteen years, at the home of Mrs. W. G. Ross, for the purpose of organizing a canning club. All girls urged to be present.

YOUNG PEOPLE OFF FOR COLLEGE

Some Return to Take Up Last Year's Studies, and Some Go For First Time.

Among the young people of Hereford who are enrolled in different colleges and universities this year, are Gilbert Fox, an alumnus of Hereford high school, class of '15, who has entered Trinity college, at Wazahachie, Fred Oberthier, who will continue his work in A. and M. College Station, and Misses Louise Oberthier and Elzina Mounts who go to Crecent college, Eureka Springs, Arkansas.

These young people number among Hereford's best and brightest and will doubtless make excellent records in these institutions.

Wheat Growers Attention

All farmers wanting "Miracle Wheat" can get it through H. B. Webb local distributor who will take your order for immediate delivery. This wonderful wheat has been thoroughly tested on the Plains and in Okla. and has proven a great producer and is hardy, and on account of its heavy stooling is not easily blown out or froze out, standing the cold weather well making it very valuable for winter pasture.

The deceased was known by many Hereford people, as he had often visited here, and it is with deep regret that they learn of his death.

The funeral services were conducted Friday, at 3 P. M. at the M. E. Church, by Rev. Henson.

The sympathy of all is extended to the bereaved relatives.

All Imagination

Some get the foolish notions in their heads that store goods at home are inferior to those in bigger towns abroad. But a Stetson hat, a Clapp or Peters or Star or Walkover shoe are the same the world over. The same can be said of other brands. Do not get tired of home and go away to trade when you can do just as well at home. Did you ever notice how good home looked to you after you had been abroad quite awhile and had come back? Well home was good all the time, but you imagined differently. And so it is with the home stores—you just imagine they are not as good as those abroad.—Ex.

CAPTURE SLAYER OF E. W. McCASLIN

J. E. Hearin, Santa Fe Brakeman, Surrenders to Officers—Makes Confession.

E. W. McCaslin, gatekeeper at the Panhandle Fair, at Amarillo, was killed Tuesday, by Jamie E. Hearin, who claimed he had been short-changed by McCaslin.

Hearin, who is in custody, and has confessed, hit his victim over the head with a piece of one inch plank, while McCaslin was looking over his money to see if there had been a mistake.

Mrs. Dan K. Usery was called to El Reno, Oklahoma, Sunday by the death of her mother, who died while being taken from an Amarillo sanitarium to Eureka Springs. She had stopped off at El Reno to rest and visit with a daughter at that place and becoming suddenly worse, a message was sent to Mrs. Usery who started at once, but reached El Reno after her mother's death had occurred.

Mr. B. F. Guthrie: I received paper the Hereford Brand of Sept. 10 the Booster Edition and you certainly give a good true account of your town and county, and think it will be the means of bringing in many new people. I visited your town and county in July and it is certainly a fine place.

DEMAND FOR TEXAS RANCHES

One Sold for $700,000, Another for $374,000—Small Farms

Austin, Texas., Sept. 11.—The high priced cattle and the prospects for a continuation of the existing prosperity of the livestock industry is creating a big demand for ranches in Texas and other parts of the Southwest. Several deals of this class of property of more than ordinary magnitude have been made the last few days.

Major George W. Littlefield of Austin has sold his 155,000 acre ranch in Eastern New Mexico, to a syndicate of men for approximately $700,000. Included in the transaction were four thousand head of cattle. R. C. Paxton of Glasgow, Scotland, has just closed a deal for the sale of his 88,000 acre ranch in Western Texas, to T. M. Pyle of Clarendon, Texas, for $314,000. Many smaller ranches have been sold recently to men who plan to divide them into farming tracts and sell them to new settlers.

FURNITURE AND UNDERTAKING—HEREFORD, TEXAS

The Big Furniture Store and Leading Piano House of the Panhandle

Opened their doors for business in Hereford some fourteen years ago. Since that time we have been striving to obtain from the markets of the United States the best values possible for our customers.

We have had in mind an ideal, and have been untiring in our efforts to attain it. We buy Furniture and Pianos in car lots. This, of course, enables us to sell to our customers at a more reasonable low price and big saving.

We pride ourselves in the fact that we handle the most dependable lines made in our country. We shun trashy merchandise.

The chief factor in our success is we buy right and we are satisfied with small profits. It has our most ardent desire to satisfy our customers and give them the very best for their money.

As we enter the third seven-year period of our business career in Hereford, we cordially invite the public to join hands in cooperation with us to make it one of the most pleasant as well as mutually profitable periods in our history.

We are just launching the most attractive campaign of low price making you have ever seen in this section of the state for fall and winter.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Henry N. Pope
On Where is the Money?

The bankers of this state have undertaken the patriotic duty of providing money to relieve the distress of the present cotton crop. Conventions have been held, committees appointed and resolutions adopted which make a good beginning.

Most every kind of information has been given out on the subject except the amount of money available and rate of interest demanded on the cotton fund. The farmers would like to hear this phase of the subject discussed by the bankers. The crop is beginning to move, where is the money?

Will the bankers, who are willing to lend money, at the rate of six per cent per annum, on cotton stored in an interior warehouse the loan to terminate at the option of the farmer, please state the amount they have available for such purposes. We are fast approaching the time when the Texas bankers must fish or dig bait, and the farmers of this state want to know what they can depend upon.

I recall the $135,000,000 cotton pool of last year that spent its energies in discussing plans, organizing committees, hurrying across the continent, sending telegrams and giving out newspaper interviews but no money was available for lending purposes. Cotton is the thing and a movement that exhausts itself before it gets the money to the farmer had better never be started. A broken promise is worse than a drought. I am not questioning the integrity of that movement but the results were disastrous to the farmer for the cotton was held down to a low price until it left the hands of the producer and every effort should be made to prevent repetition of that calamity.

Lending money on cotton at a low rate of interest is as much the part of the warehouse system as the warehouse itself. Building warehouses will not solve the problem and warehouses without money would be of little use to the farmers. The purpose of the warehouse is to make the loan of the banker more secure. If a banker would lend money to a farmer on cotton held on a farm there would be little necessity for a public warehouse except as a safe and convenient means of storage.

The farmers will patronize the warehouse if it is to his interest to do so. The interest rate, storage and insurance charges will determine largely whether or not he will store his cotton. What are the rates? We now have on deposit in the banks of Texas about $200,000,000. Is any part of it available for handling the Texas cotton crop?

It is time to get down to business. How much money have the bankers available for cotton loans and what do they want for it? That is the question and its answer determines the prosperity of the farmer of the South.

The farmers are depending upon the Texas bankers to handle this year's crop and I have no doubt they will do so for they have announced a willingness to do it and are thoroughly capable of the task, but the danger of all public movements is that we urge and expect the other fellow to put up the funds, hence the question where is the money?

We're For Judge Hall

The people of Collinsworth county where Judge R. W. Hall is so well and so favorably known are indeed glad to learn of the movement among his friends to insist that he becomes a candidate for a place on the Court of Criminal Appeals in the primaries next year. There is no section of the state that has not heard of and know of Judge Walker Hall of "Panhandle" fame and this knowledge of the probate candidate is all to his credit for where he is acquainted and known he is liked for his genial personality one recognized ability as a jurist. Judge Hall is a man of clean and irreproachable personal life, has the benefit of years of experience as a practitioner and the splendid reputation he has made in the five years service in his present position as a judge of the appellate court of the seventh supreme judicial district at Amarillo, eminently qualifies him to fill any position in the higher courts of the state. We think Judge Hall could figure on practically the solid support of the voters of north, east and west Texas and the only reason he should not carry south Texas is that the Mexican and Negro vote through the influence of the saloon men would be allied against him because of his splendid prohibition record.—Wellington Leader.

LETTER FROM MISS EDWARDS

Writes Very Interesting Letter on Board Ship Returning to the Foreign Mission Field.

S. S. Mongolia, Sept. 2, 1915.

Dear Earl and Jennie:—

We are now more than a day's sailing out of Honolulu, and it has just been announced by the official bulletin that we will pass the "Siberia" S. S. tomorrow about noon and that mail will be transferred, so I will this afternoon write you some more about our lovely voyage and stop-over in Honolulu.

On account of the exceedingly large amount of freight and baggage to be loaded in San Francisco, we were a few hours late in leaving and so we arrived in Honolulu a bit late, however, we came in sight of the islands early in the morning of August 31.

We anchored in the harbor in full sight of the beautiful city about 11:30 and the physician and other officials came out and looked the ship's crew and passengers over to see if there was any contagion on board, then we sailed right into dock, (the harbor there is said to be one of the deepest and finest in the world) and all went ashore for a sight see of the wondrously beautiful little city.

Some of us having been there before knew just what was most worth while to see, so we hired a car as soon as we came down from the ship and our party of eight drove across the island to an opening in the high mountain range where we looked down on the beautiful little fields of pineapple and other tropical fruits on the one side of the pass and the great billows of the Pacific as they broke on the rocks at the base of the mountains. The view was indeed wonderfully beautiful. In fact the whole island is beautiful beyond description.

Every avenue of the city is bordered on either side with either the royal palms or with the cocoanut.

The lawns of the pretty little cottage homes are shaded with great banana trees and with great blooming trees called the "Yellow Shower tree" and the "Flame of the Forest." Oleanders and ferns grow into large trees.

The air of the city and country alike is fragrant with the perfume of flowers and fruits.

After driving through the city we drove around the "punch-bowl crater" which has been extinct for hundreds of years, but is still barren near its top. We visited the Aquarium where we saw some of the most beautiful varieties of fish in the world. Then we went to the beach and enjoyed a frolic with the waves of the Pacific for an hour or more.

Oh, I wish you might see the beautiful coloring of these waters as the big waves roll in and break near the shore. The tints under that tropical sky are wonderful.

By the time we had seen and done all these things we were quite ready for our evening meal and went at once by street car to our ship where a good dinner of nice fresh things taken on that day was ready for us, and it is useless to say we did it justice.

A Korean young man—Mr. Kime—who came from Korea only last winter, and is teaching in the Christian school for Koreans, had learned from another Korean, Mr. Alm, who had come with us from San Francisco, that we were on this ship bound for Korea, came to call upon us that evening while in harbor and it is impossible to tell you how glad we were, both he and we Korean missionaries.

As our time for Honolulu was so limited, we decided to go out into the city as the stores were all open until 9 P. M. The young Korean being well acquainted with the town was a fine guide for us, so we enjoyed our evening very much.

We returned to our ship tired, but having had a very full and happy day. A night of sweet sleep and rest in a bed which was not moving, made us ready for a new day, so when the young Korean came immediately after breakfast we went out again and visited some more shops and I bought a fresh cocoanut with its outside smooth green hull on it. The cocoanuts grow on trees something like pecans do—in bunches of three to seven—and in outside hulls about an inch thick, which burst off like the green hull of a pecan: I am taking the one I bought to Korea to show to the Koreans.

After seeing the shops we went to the dry dock to see the ships, especially the submarines. You may have read of the recent recovery of the submarine which sunk several months ago near the Hawaii Islands.

It has been found after many months of faithful search and is now there in dry dock where the experts are examining to find out the cause of its sinking.

Only a few bones of the twenty-one men which went down with it were found with it. We also saw several good submarines and it was interesting to see their mechanism and how they are used.

Our vessel was to sail at 10 A. M. so we hurried back to our pier and came aboard with many messages and little remembrances from the Koreans there to their friends and dear ones in Korea.

I was surprised to learn that there are about 5,000 Koreans on the Hawaii Islands.

Another thing of interest there was to watch the Hawaiian boys dive in the harbor. Passengers on the decks of our ship would throw coins into the sea for them and they would dive off the piers or decks of other ships—sometimes 50 and 100 feet into the sea and come up with the coins in their hands. If another coin was thrown to one of them he would put the one he had into his mouth and dive down and bring up the other. It was indeed interesting to see them.

We sailed out on time and altho making good time were in sight of the other islands of the group until late yesterday. I hope you may sometime visit Honolulu, for it is indeed a wonderfully beautiful and interesting city. I think I should like to live and work there.

The only thing that one could dislike about that city is the awful heat when out of doors, but it is not bad when under roof for the sea breeze is fine. It has been quite warm on ship deck yesterday and today and we are now bearing back in a northerly direction and it is much cooler. We are now nearing the 180th meridian and will loose Saturday, Sept 4th, I think.

We will probably reach Yokohama, Japan, Sunday, Sept. 12.

So far the sea has been fine and everybody is feeling fine.

It is indeed delightful to cross the sea with such a happy congenial company. I think I wrote to some of you about the large number of Missionaries on board. There are 132 of us representing Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Episcopal churches, bound for Japan, Korea, China, India, Siam and Burmah. We have most helpful services every morning; then the sight, ever before us, of this wonderful and mighty sea, the work of our Father's hands speaks of His power and His wisdom.

Oh! what a privilege to be His Ambassador! Our U. S. Ambassador to Japan, Mr. Guthrie and his wife are on this ship returning to their home and work in Tokio, Japan. He seems to be very much in sympathy with the Missionaries and their work. In our service yesterday morning he spoke of his appreciation of their work as he has seen it in Japan.

Our ship's splendid string band is composed of Philipinos. They themselves, as well as their music are quite interesting.

I am enclosing a copy of our menu-card for last evening. You see from it that we have good fare on board. And so with nothing to do but eat, sleep and rest we ought to reach our fields of work in good condition. I weighed this morning and find that I have gained one pound already.

Our next mail for the U. S. A. will be mailed at Yokohama.

If you think the friends would care for the contents of this letter you may ask the Brand to publish it.

I hope the ship which follows ours will bring our mail to Seavel as I think I will be there several days before going to Choon Chun.

When you see Mrs. Roloson tell her I have met her friend Miss Bowman on board and think she is very sweet and fine.

With lots of love to everybody.

Your sister,
Laura Edwards.

SELFISHNESS OF WEALTH

One of the best illustrations of the ability of money to draw nice, hair splitting distinctions in order to satisfy its conscience if it have such a thing, and to present a good face to the public is the nice distinctions the underwriters of the proposed war loan are making. They know that public sentiment in this country is very strong against war and opposed to doing anything that will aid or abet the war in Europe. So one of the conditions of underwriting the eight billion dollar loan is that none of the money be used for buying war munitions such as ammunition, guns and so forth. Of course they are to make the loan in order to get the four million dollar rake off. Now just why it would assist the allies any more to furnish them with guns and bullets than to furnish them with bread and meat to make them able to use the guns and bullets they already have, is a little hard to see. Everyone now sees that this war is a financial one, and the side that can get money to buy food and clothing the longest will win. To withhold credit from both sides would hasten the end of the war and let the wholesale murder cease.

This is another illustration that wealth and the money power is without conscience or heart and would sell its birthright or kill men by wholesale to swell its coffers. The voice of the people should have been lifted loudly against this loan. Money is needed in this country to develop our resources and our capital should be used for this instead of being sent abroad to kill our fellow man.

STEWARDSHIP OF MONEY

The following article on the Stewardship of Money is taken from the Christian Standard and is worthy the careful study of rich and poor alike:

The stewardship of money is related to all that is progressive in Christianity. Great enterprises for the uplift of humanity cannot be prosecuted without large financial outlay.

Some enthusiastic advocates of missions have suggested that the great missionary enterprises of the Church be put on a war basis. If that were done the Churches would be literally swamped with a surplus of funds that would bewilder and embarrass all the missionary boards of Christendom.

The prodigious cost of war confronts us today as never before in the history of the world. Great empires are squandering their wealth on a gigantic scale. Blood and treasure are flowing like a resistless tide. Here we have the expenditure of money in carrying forward colossal enterprises of destruction. Billions are spent in destroying human life and property by wholesale, and as the crashes of ruin follow each other on land and sea in rapid succession the whole world stands aghast at the appalling wastage of war.

Wars of defense or aggression tax the National Exchequer to an enormous extent. The battle of the giants now in progress on the European continent would soon cease if the twenty millions of armed men representing the belligerent forces were not backed by almost inexhaustible treasure that keeps pouring its Niagara flood of wealth into the vortex of strife at the rate of forty millions of dollars per day according to recent published reliable estimates.

One could wish that the hoarded billions that have been covetously withheld from God through the generations had been consecrated for the extension of the Redeemer's kingdom. Had such been the case what a different showing we should have in the moral condition of the world today. What an impetus would have been given to the march of Christian civilization. Had every professed follower of Jesus been a Christian steward of his Lord's money, handling the wealth committed to him only for the glory of God and the coming of the kingdom, surely the Church would have shone with a ten-fold lustre and the record all down the centuries would have been one of splendid achievement. Instead of begging and pleading for necessary funds to carry on the urgent work of evangelization at home and abroad her treasuries would have been full to overflowing with the consecrated offerings of the people and thus with spiritual power and adequate financial equipment she could have moved forward as a triumphal, conquering Church, accomplishing her God-given mission in the world and responding to every appeal of suffering humanity. It is evident if we would recover our lost laurels and be reinstated as an irresistible moral force in the community, we must retrace our steps to Pentecost and emulate the spirit of unselfish love and lofty consecration that characterized the Church in her pristine simplicity and purity. A repetition of Pentecost on a broad and universal scale would be the solution of a thousand present-day problems which the Church is striving in vain to solve in some other way.

It is certain that the spirit of Pentecost would place man in right relations to God on the question of property. He would realize that his possessions were not his own in any sense of the word; that all the original capital upon which the production of wealth depends is the gift of God. Man is prone to forget that all the mental and physical energy, all the mechanical skill, all the subtle forces of air and sunshine and cloud, of rain and dew and soil, all the secret chemical combinations and transformations that are constantly going on in the great secret laboratory of nature are traceable to a divine source and that without them human nature would be unable to produce a single grain of wheat or make a solitary dollar of money. Consequently the assumption of independent ownership on the part of man is a usurpation of the Divine right and a gross insult to God, the absolute proprietor of all material wealth. Selfishness is the source of all human sorrow and disaster, and covetousness, which is idolatry, is the most prevalent and dangerous form of selfishness. The inordinate love of money and the avaricious desire to hold and hoard it are the most insidious sins.

The lust of gold has slain its tens of thousands. Worshippers of mammon wearing the badge of Christian discipleship are to be found in every community. Many are not aware that they are in bondage to this debasing and tyrannical passion of the carnal mind. This vice of the soul puts money in the place of God and claims worship for the idol. Covetousness is idolatry.

The only way to "escape the corruption that is in the world through lust," the lust of gold, is to recognize the solemn and imperative obligations of Christian Stewardship, and thus honor the Lord with our substance. Such observance will prove a bulwark against the idolatry of a covetous heart, will preclude all indirect methods of raising money, and will bring blessing into all the relations of business life. Let the tithe be faithfully rendered unto God in token of His universal ownership and let the remaining nine-tenths be regulated by a faithful, conscientious stewardship.

But "Beware, lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses and dwelt therein; and when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied and all that thou hast is multiplied; then thine heart be lifted up and thou forget the Lord thy God, and thou say in thine heart 'my power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth.' But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God, for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth."

The communication from State Fire Marshal, S. W. English, which appears in this issue, should be carefully read and its very sound advice followed.

The knowledge that ones flues are absolutely safe is worth the cost of making them so in the sense of security it gives, to say nothing of the possible prevention of even one fire—a fire which may destroy not only one's own property, but that of his neighbor as well.

Our insurance rate is based largely upon our fire record, so let's be on the safe side.

Society and Club News

The ladies of the Presbyterian church were hostesses to a large number of friends on Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. A. J. Lipscomb.

All the dignity of a formal reception was combined with the spirit of cordiality which is especially emphasized at the pleasant affairs which make up the social life of the church. An ideal harmony between the beautiful floral decorations and the appointments of this charming home was the keynote in every room. A profusion of exquisite roses and feathery ferns found a perfect environment in the reception hall and living room, while rich purple asters and multi-colored nasturtiums reflected in sparkling cut glass, intensified the beauty of the elaborate floral piece—a great mound of yellow nasturtiums and graceful ferns—which smiled replendent from the dining table.

A musical and literary program of exceptional merit, was rendered; some of the city's very best talent appearing in readings and in vocal and instrumental numbers.

Grape punch, followed later by an ice course with angel food cake, all faultlessly served, was an enjoyable feature.

The perfect autumn day, the very excellent entertainment, and the large company of congenial friends, all, contributed toward a most delightful afternoon.

S. W. P. Club Meets With Mrs. Wink Valentine

Eight years ago there came to this Western country a little school teacher, a bride of a few short months. At first life in this far distant west was strange and romantic; but when time passed and the days became months, and the months lengthened into years, this lonely little woman came to realize what she was missing in being unable to form friendships, and come in contact socially with her neighbors, so she decided to try her success at organization of a club. She was encouraged by the enthusiasm with which her neighbors received her plan for the work of the club. The ladies met, and organized, electing the originator of the club president, and she is none other than Mrs. W. B. Higgins.

That this is a live wide awake club you will agree when I describe a meeting of this organization last Friday morning with Mrs. Wink Valentine. Twenty ladies, club members and visitors gathered for the purpose of combining work and pleasure in the form of an old fashioned "quilting" and "talking". Each lady tried hard to make her needle keep to the tune of her conversation until the noon hour arrived. Then they were invited to feast at a table that fairly groaned with the load of delicious edibles. How the guests did enjoy that magnificent dinner so beautifully served! Music was furnished by Mrs. Millerton and Mrs. Eberle, adding to the pleasure of all present, with the selection she sang so sweetly.

Dinner over, a business meeting of the club was called, and the visitors learned something of the plans of the club. At present they are striving to obtain a circulatory library. We feel that only success could come from their efforts when we recall the faithfulness and loyalty of the members. Some of those dear members live fifteen miles apart and yet they do not fail to answer roll

What Interlocking Tile Is

It is a general wall-building material, suitable for use in every character of structure, from the cottage and small store to the mansion and skyscraper.

In it are combined the "cooler in summer, warmer in winter," and lightness of weight features of the hollow wall, with the strength of brick and concrete; in addition, it interlocks in the wall, making the strongest and most rigid wall that can be built. Every unit is a header.

Interlocking Tile is not to be confused with ordinary square tile, which is only designed and intended for partition, and other interior non-load-bearing walls.

WHAT INTERLOCKING TILE DOES FOR ITS USERS

It builds at amazingly low cost (little more than that of good frame) walls that are non-conductive, light in weight, damp proof, comfortable the year around, and more efficient in every way. It increases the buying value of the building dollar.

Men, If You Like Good Meals Give Your Wife a Hoosier Cabinet NOW!

A well equipped kitchen is one of the natural rights of every good housekeeper. This is the greatest opportunity you will ever have to make your kitchen perfectly convenient at a bargain price.

You are not the sort of man to expect your wife to go along year after year with no better conveniences in the kitchen than your grandmother had. Men, nowadays, don't cut wheat with a cradle; don't write with a quill, or work in the shop with out-of-date tools. You have things up-to-date in your work. You bet you do, and you expect

3 square meals a day right along, too. Listen, men! Is it fair to the wife to let her get along with old-fashioned, woman-killing household equipment when you can have one of these new Hoosiers delivered tomorrow for only $1? Of course not. You mean all right. You would like to have a convenient kitchen:

Just Hand Us $1.00

We will put one of these new Hoosiers in your home at a price so low you will think we are cheating ourselves. The Hoosier Company let us make these prices this week to introduce these new models. They are so far below the market standard simply because enormous Hoosier sales have made big factory savings, and your wife gets the benefit. Send her one of these at our risk.

Note wide cupboard space—uncluttered by partitions or cubby holes.

This is "HOOSIER BEAUTY" The National Step Saver

- The New Hoosier Wonder —at $9 less than standard prices—with aluminum table and white enamel cupboards
- The New Hoosier Special —midway between Hoosier Wonder and Hoosier Beauty in convenience—and equal to Hoosier Beauty in size.
- The New Roll Door Hoosier —the only kitchen cabinet with roll doors that are removable and sanitary—no cubby holes or partitions catch dirt or dust.
- The New Hoosier Beauty —the National Step Saver; most complete and most practical kitchen cabinet ever made; most popular cabinet in world.
- The New Hoosier De Luxe —all white enamel inside and out—a kitchen cabinet of remarkable beauty.

Surprise Her!

Send one of these out tomorrow. Come early before some of these styles are all gone. Just a dollar now; then a dollar a week for a few weeks. If she isn't delighted, we will take back the cabinet and hand back your money with a smile. Do this much for your wife NOW. You owe it to her.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Peter Radford
On Advertisements in Texas.

As a citizen of Texas and one intensely interested in its material development, I want to add my approval to the "Buy It in Texas" movement. Commercial patriotism and business pride are the foundation stones of success in industry and no country can become supreme in commerce and trade without it fosters a spirit of friendship and partiality for its own products and institutions. It is the spirit of the hive that makes the wheels of industry turn and each community should be a progressive unit in our industrial universe. All things being equal the farmer should patronize the local merchant who is always a good citizen, a heavy taxpayer and friend of the farmer. The farmer ships train loads of raw material to out-of-state and foreign markets and factories that load out loads of finished and foreign grown products coming to Texas. Any effort to minimize this economic waste ought to be encouraged.

But as a farmer and a friend of the manufacturer and merchant I want to suggest an "Advertise It in Texas" movement. The manufacturer and jobber may blow loud blasts on the horn of patriotism but if they will put an "ad" in the newspapers of this state making a business presentation of their goods they will find it far more effective than waving the star-spangled banner. The farmer is as much interested in the price of the things he has to buy as in the price of the things he has for sale and the advertising columns of his newspaper is his price list. The price is the thing and the farmer wants the figures in cold type. The politicians give him all the patriotic buncombe he craves for.

Business enterprise is a far more successful salesman than business patriotism and organized enterprise among merchants will become as important a revenue producer as organized patriotism among the people. There are many most worthy organizations working to promote commerce and trade but we seldom find organized effort to promote the price, yet it is recognized as the most powerful agency for progress the world has ever produced. We have all sorts of days calculated to promote business such as Trades Days; Dollar Days; pay days and why not have a price day and all business concerns advertise the things they have to sell and everybody subscribe for the local paper and all consequents pay a year in advance. There is nothing so elevating in civilization as the smile of an editor and nothing will contribute more toward the welfare of a community than the prosperity of the press.

The Farmers' Union is a friend of the press and its members subscribe for a liberal number of newspapers and periodicals and it is the best investment a farmer can make. There is no news so valuable as store news; no information so interesting as market demands and no tragedy so entertaining as the rise and fall of prices and no page more closely studied by the farmer than the advertising columns of the press.

Comments on Booster Edition

We are in receipt of the last weeks Booster Edition of the Hereford Brand and must say that it was one of the best, neatest and most well gotten up special edition that we have had the pleasure of seeing. It told the plain facts about the wheat farming, the cattle industry, the fine water, the beautiful residences and business buildings and many other fine prospects of Hereford and of the entire county of Deaf Smith. —Pannhandle Herald.

The Hereford Brand printed a fine 32 page Booster Edition last week. It is well filled with ads as well as much splendid information about that city and community. Numerous illustrations are contained that show up well for the stability of that city. We congratulate the Brand on the success attained. It is no small job to get out a paper of that class in a country shop. —Claude News.

The Hereford Brand issued a booster edition last week, a copy of which graces our exchange table. It certainly is deserving of its name, "Booster Edition" for if it forgot anything good about the Hereford country, we fail to notice it. Its workmanship and make up shows that its editors (Mr. C. C. Smith) understands the printing art, as it shows brains and artistic ability. —Frisona Sentinel.

The Magazines Again

Please, don't destroy or throw away your magazines. Those that have been bro't to this office have been read by several parties. Some have been returned and many calls have been made for special numbers which we have not had. Any care taken to bring successive numbers, even as many as two or three will be appreciated.

We should be glad to have them just as soon as you are through with them as the current articles are then available and useful to a much greater degree than they would be a month, or two months, later. However, all good standard magazines will be gladly received, so if you have any for which you have no further use, please send them to this office.

Your Business appreciated. —Geo. E. Burns Druggist. 20tt-

Mr. Geo. Dent the champion fisherman of this section is not only a good fisherman but has some luck with bees as well. He took 45 pounds of honey from a this spring's swarm of bees. He has a number of swarms and they are doing well. This is likely to be a great bee country when the alfalfa acreage is increased. Besides there are lots of wild flowers that furnish good honey.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE. "Dodson's Liver Tonic" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick. Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes nervousness of the bowels. Dodson's Liver Tonic is despoiling the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine, entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal. Don't experiment with something new and untried. Use a tested kidney remedy. Begin with Doan's Kidney Pills. Used in kidney troubles 50 years. Recommended here and everywhere.

The following statement forms convincing proof of merit. R. E. NATURE WARNS

Against Using Calomel

The sickening, nauseating feeling that follows the use of calomel is the natural result of disarranging your entire system. Doctors everywhere are agreeing that the action of calomel is much too strong, and leaves the body sick and weakened. LIV-ER-LAX is a wonderful substitute for calomel, that has all of its good effects and none of its bad ones. It acts thoroughly on the liver, cleansing it of bile, and ridding the entire system of stagnating poisons.

LIV-ER-LAX is strictly a harmless vegetable compound, and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money will be returned. Insist on the original, bearing the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby. For sale here at Corner Drug Store.
