YOUNG MINISTER PREACHES

Rev. Joe Owen Fills Pulpit at Christian Church Sunday Evening.

No church service in Hereford for many a day has attracted more wide spread interest, or has been attended by so large an audience of real, sympathetic listeners as was the service at the Christian church Sunday evening when Rev. Joe Owen, a student minister in Decatur College and a Hereford boy whose Christian Character, bright mind, pluck and ambition have given him a warm place in the hearts of his home people, preached his maiden sermon to an audience made up of his neighbors and friends. While the service was held primarily to accommodate the many who, it was expected, would be turned away from the Baptist church by the large crowd, the announcement that Joe Owen was to preach, drew many who would otherwise have remained away.

Boys and girls, young men and women former school mates and childhood friends, all were eager to hear the message they felt sure their young friend would bring. They were not disappointed. In simple, earnest, straightforward manner that touched every heart in the audience, the speaker painted a series of graphic pictures illustrating the words of his text, "The Wages of Sin is Death." Clearly and forcibly with a directness born of sincerity and lofty purpose, he impressed the old, new truths of freedom from sin's bondage only through Jesus—the Christ—the world's Redeemer.

At the close of the service people crowded around the young minister with good wishes and congratulations. Joe, as he is familiarly called by his friends carried off more honors in his school work last winter than any other student in the college at the same time paying his school expenses by his own work. Such determined effort will win, and no one doubts that life holds in store for Joe Owen much of useful service in the work he has chosen and to the world.

Joe's Settings.

Tuesday evening of last week a hail storm visited our part of the country doing damage to a great many of the crops. Quit a number of the farmers are going to have to replant their row crops. We will not need rain for a while as there was rain with the hail.

COMMENDS REV. FARMER.

The following letter was written to the management of Wayland College from Canadian, where Rev. Farmer formerly worked:

Canadian, Texas, May 12, 1916.
Dr. J. H. Wayland,
Plainview, Texas.

Dear Sir:
I understand R. E. L. Farmer has accepted the presidency of Wayland College at Plainview. I feel it my duty in justice to Rev. Farmer, to state that I congratulate your choice. Rev. Farmer was president of the Baptist Academy at Canadian for a number of years and worked under great disadvantages, and his work was successful. He conducted our school under very adverse circumstances, and conducted it without financial loss. He also had charge of the dormitory, and his management of that branch of the school was highly satisfactory. We found Rev. Farmer to be not only up to the full measure in his educational work, but also far beyond our expectation in his ability to manage the financial end both of the school and the dormitory.

We predict for Wayland College great success under the superior management and financial ability of Rev. Farmer.

Yours truly,
H. E. HOOVER.

HUGHES REPUBLICAN CHOICE

Nominated on Third Ballot; Fairbanks Running Mate.

After almost five days session the Republican national convention nominated Chas. E. Hughes, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court since 1910, as their standard bearer. Former Vice-President Fairbanks was chosen as second on the ticket. The selection of the New York man came Saturday on the third ballot, the selection being made unanimous after the favorite sons began to withdraw.

About the same time the Progressive nominated Roosevelt, who declined to accept at present.

Judge Hughes wired his acceptance and at the same time sent his resignation to President Wilson.

Charles E. Hughes was born in 1862 and is 64 years old.

He was elected governor of New York in 1906 and again in 1908 and was appointed to the Supreme bench by Taft in 1910.

The Progressives were very much dejected by the failure of Roosevelt to accept and that their course in the future will be is uncertain.

Band at Work.

W. F. West, director of the recently organized band, reports encouraging progress among the players. It is thought that by the middle of next month they will have had sufficient practice to be able to give some really creditable concerts and after that time the Hereford band can be depended upon for music for the many occasions when a good band seems absolutely essential.

The boys are working hard, and though handicapped by the failure of some to secure instruments as soon as they expected them, they nevertheless are doing good work and will undoubtedly make good.

A good band is one of the things that Hereford needs badly. It will give pleasure and it will be of real worth to every business interest in town.

The Civic Club through the kind cooperation of the business men has been enabled to assume the financial support of this worthy organization hence its permanency is assured.

Miss Agnes Chariton of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting the family of A. M. Jones. Miss Chariton is a cousin of Mr. Jones.

Manual Training Building Moved.

Several days ago the manual training building with all of its contents was moved to the new high school location, the Hereford College grounds. This building, an old frame store building, with its square board front, was placed at the rear of the campus and facing the new street running east and west. It looks rather odd in this position and has brought forth a number of questions. While the building might be improved somewhat by the removal of the "store front" still it has served well the manual training department.

Mr. J. W. Ham, one of the good farmers south of town shipped a car of hogs last week. He raised these hogs on his ranch and they were finished on home grown feed.

JUDGE KNIGHT RECOMMENDED

Members of Hereford Bar Heartily Indorse his Candidacy.

The following indorsement of Judge William M. Knight, Mayor of Hereford, to succeed Justice Hendricks of the court of Civil Appeals, is evidence of his ability as a lawyer and of his excellent standing with the members of the bar. Judge Knight could have no stronger indorsement than this testimonial from those who have been his professional associates for years and who are competent to judge of his fitness for the position to which he aspires.

Hereford, Texas, June 5, 1916

We the undersigned, being all the members of the Hereford Bar, sincerely commend to the voters of the Seventh Supreme Judicial District our fellow citizen and professional brother, Judge Wm. M. Knight, for the position of Associate Justice of the court of Civil Appeals to succeed Justice Hendricks.

Judge Knight has been actively engaged in the practice of law in Texas for a quarter of a century. His private and public life is exemplary. He is a deep thinker, a clear and logical reasoner, an energetic student and by nature and training is of a judicial temperament. He will give patient hearing to both sides of all questions, and is competent to and will render a fair and impartial decision, uninfluenced save by the law, facts and justice. Physically and mentally he is in the prime of life to render his best services.

Having personally known Judge Knight for a number of years, we unreservedly and sincerely recommend him to the voters of the Seventh District as a suitable person for Associate Justice.

(Signed) W. H. Russell, W. E. Dameron, C. D. Wright, W. M. Meggert, F. T. Robinson, Carl Gillhand, Cliff Estes, Jno. P. Slaton, Jas. A. Hughes, County Judge.

Mr. G. A. F. Parker, President, Western National Bank says:

I think Hon. Wm M. Knight especially qualified for a high judicial position.

He is well educated, a graduate of Brown University. A man whose natural love for learning has made him always a close student.

A man of wide experience not only as a lawyer but as Assistant Attorney General, member of the legislature, and now for the third time Mayor of Hereford. He is a bright Mason, of pleasing address, a good companion, and above all a man of good habits and good morals.

In politics a consistent democrat and prohibitionist. And last, but not least, my good friend for more than twenty years.

Mr. Henry Wilkinson, President of the First State Bank & Trust Company said:

I have known Judge Knight intimately for ten years and think him eminently fitted by natural ability, education and character for the high office he seeks.

W. S. Higgins, President of the First National Bank said:

I have lived in this county about twenty-five years and have been well acquainted with Judge Wm. M. Knight for a number of years and know him to be one of the best among lawyers as well as among men. The people of this district can not do better than to elect Judge Knight as Associate Justice.

Mr. J. Frank Potts, President of the YOUNG MEN'S BUSINESS LEAGUE, said:

I did what I could to get Judge W. M. Knight in this race for APPELLATE JUDGE and am now doing all I can to further his interests, for we need men of his training and temperament in such positions.

Dwelling Destroyed by Fire.

On Monday afternoon the large frame house on north east Hereford belonging to the First National Bank and occupied by J. S. Stantifer was destroyed by fire.

The fire department was called out but was slow getting there and the water pressure was low and little could be done.

The house with practically all the contents was a total loss. Only a piano and one or two other things were saved.

A Mr. Willis, who formerly lived in the house had his goods stored up stairs and they were all burned, except the piano.

The house was insured for $2,500, which will nearly cover the loss.

Another Building For Main.

Mr. J. T. Wilkinson has purchased the corner lot just south of the Brand office from Earl Wilson and will erect a modern brick building on it. The building will be used for a confectionery and be in charge of Lester Wilkinson.

Everyone is beginning to realize that Hereford is on a substantial basis and real estate is in demand. Let the good work go on.

Misses Ruth and Temple Sites, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sites, two of the graduates of this year from the Hereford high school are attending the summer term at the Canyon normal.

Mrs. W. A. Stewart spent yesterday in Amarillo.

Daddy's Bedtime

How Glad Odysseus
Dog, Argus, Was
To See Him.

WHEN Odysseus planned to enter his own home as a beggar so he and his son could learn the best way to drive out the nobles who were making themselves at home there, daddy began the bedtime story, "you must know that old-time beggars had many more privileges than those of today, who often get arrested. Ancient beggars were often travelers and good story tellers, who were welcome at palaces and were received like guests if they were interesting. So Odysseus warned his son, Telemachus, not to betray him, but to act just as if he had never seen the beggar before. He also made Telemachus promise that if he saw his father insulted or even beaten he would not act any differently than toward a stranger."

"What a queer way to come home!" cried the children.

"With this plan well understood between them the two men went to their home to find the nobles feasting and having a good time. The old beggar was permitted to enter and was given a scrap of food from the table. The nobles pretended to be glad Telemachus had come back, although in their hearts they planned to kill him.

"One of the saddest parts of all Odysseus' homecoming was his old dog Argus, that lay in the courtyard almost dead with old age. When the old beggar entered the yard, seeing a stranger, the poor dog raised his head and picked up his ears. Twenty years ago he had been Odysseus' favorite hunter and many times they had spent happy days together. Argus recognized his master and wagged his tail for joy, although too lame to stand up. And Odysseus was afraid to stop and pet his dog for fear the nobles would see him.

"So Odysseus sat in his own palace and ate his own bread just as a beggar would have, and soon two or three of the nobles began to insult him. When he mildly asked them to let him alone one of them seized a stool and struck him with it. Telemachus had hard work to obey his father's orders now, seeing him so badly treated, but he said only what any master of a house would have to protect a guest.

"Now, you must remember that Odysseus' wife, Penelope, who believed her husband had been killed in the Trojan war, had held off the nobles who wanted to marry her by saying she would when she had finished weaving a shroud for Odysseus' father. Then each night she had revealed out what she had knitted that day. So that the wedding never took place. But when the nobles learned what she did they compelled her to make her choice of them. So she said that the man most skillful in a trial of skill might be her husband," daddy ended.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick. I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour, bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

A Worthy Creed.

I believe in myself—believe that what ever mistakes I may or may not have made heretofore, I am endowed with limitless possibilities for growth, struggle, triumph, and development—making each today better than its yesterday and each tomorrow better than today.

I believe in my work—Believe it offers opportunities as an industry, requiring faithful labor; as a profession, requiring scientific knowledge; as a business, requiring commercial ability—each with its challenge and its reward.

I believe in my family—believe that love in the home is God's best gift on earth and that to rear noble sons and daughters—with strong bodies, trained minds, clean hearts, and cheerful spirits—is the highest achievement in life.

And finally, I believe in my creator and father—believe it is His will that His Kingdom should come to earth, and come here in my own particular nook of earth, and that in my every aspiration toward this end, I am a co-worker with Him whose power knows no defeat.

Tillage Suggestions
(By H. M. Jackson, Texas County (Okla.) Agent.)

Texas county farmers are facing a failure in wheat, and it should be a lesson taken to heart by all farmers who see their glittering prospects of a few weeks ago destroyed by the continued drought and a few days hot winds. Nature's laws are immutable, we can profit by heeding them or be destroyed by not doing so. Available moisture is the limiting factor in crop production in Texas county, because without the necessary moisture to make available the stored plant food the fertility of our lands that we so often boast profiteth us nothing. Last summer I offered some suggestions as to the better method of handling our soils if we expected to make a crop this year, and those who followed the plan outlined, whether influenced by my suggestions or not, still have a good chance to get pay for their labor. Don't think for a minute, that I claim any unusual knowledge along this line of work, for I find right here in Texas county, farmers who have learned that it pays as well in Texas county to prepare land before planting as in any other section of the state. As we sow so shall we reap. If we sow three times as much seed per acre as the moisture we have will dissolve plant food for we can expect only one-third of a crop, and often less, for the moisture will likely be nearly all thrown off before the grain is ready to form.

It requires heat, air and moisture to develop plant food and in order to get these in the required quantities it also requires time, so that up to certain limits the longer time that elapses between the preparing of the seed bed and planting the better, provided the seed bed is properly handled to retain as much moisture as possible. This time also allows for better, or I might say greater development of the bacteria growth in the soil without which we cannot expect good plant development.

A dry winter followed by a May drought invariably spells disaster for wheat in this section of the state, but it does not necessarily mean that we will not get rain enough to make a row crop usually after the driest of May's well prepared land yields a fair crop of milo or kafir or cane. These facts give us something to base our operations on and we should take advantage of the opportunity before it is too late.

If your wheat is not going to make yield enough to pay to head don't let it stand another day, either turn your stock on it and get what benefit you can that way and then plow the land good and deep as early as you can get it in condition for sowing this fall, or if you need the row crop, and you get rain in time plant it in a quick maturing crop that can be put into your soil if you have one or the one you are going to build if you have none.

Do not forget that the dry farmer or the farmer in this dry section can not afford to let any vegetation except the crop that he plants grow on his land. Weeds and volunteer crops should never be allowed to sap the moisture from the land you expect to get a crop from, and in summer tilling your land do not forget this: Seventy per cent of the rain fall here is thrown away by improper tillage methods and neglect. Try to save at least 50 per cent of your rainfall and if you have 10 head of stock dig a pit silo, if you have 20 or 30 head dig two or more about 80 ton capacity each and get 25 or 50 per cent more out of the feed you raise, store two years supply of feed ahead when you make a good yield, and you won't have to buy feed when the price is high. Quit fussing about market for your feed, make your own market by feeding it at a profit over what you can sell it for. The other fellow feeds it at a profit after paying the railroads to haul it and giving two or three middle men a profit to boot. One last bit of advice: Get acquainted with your neighbor, you might like him. Find out how he prepared the land that stood the drought better than yours did. Some of your neighbors get better returns from their cows—find out how they do it. Some get a better price for their products, find out how they produce a superior quality. And you that have learned something good in farming methods pass it along.

Straw Vote For Senate.

Political straw voting is of little value and misses as often as a bad guess. Such a vote is being taken over the state by a Dallas newspaper and a request was sent to Hereford to obtain preferences for the various candidates for the United States Senate. A straw vote has been taken in Hereford and the result, as reported, shows as follows: Senator Culberson, present incumbent, first choice; S. R. Brooks of Waco, second choice; Tom Campbell, third choice; Bob Henry of Waco, fourth choice; O. B. Colquitt, fifth choice; Geo. Riddle of Dallas, sixth choice. The straw vote was taken by making a canvass of the voters on the streets and offices and the canvass revealed some facts of interest—that about one-half of the voters did not know who was running some could not name the two present incumbents, some of the candidates were unknown to the voters, "not even heard of them," they said. No questions were put to the voters about the prohibition issue and no voter expressed a preference for a candidate because of his stand upon that issue.

Blue Lodge Elects Officers.

Last Saturday night, the following were chosen by the members of the Blue Lodge of Hereford as officers to serve for the next term: Geo. Beams, W. M. Lester Wilkinson, S. W.; George P. Garrison, J. Announcements will be made later.

Days are so short and there's so much to do

Let's forget it, let's brush it away
Now and forever, what do you say
All of the bitter words said shall be praise

Hereford, the city of trees, of flowers, of grassy lawns, and of the best people on earth!

Let steps be taken to give Hereford a more efficient fire fighting equipment. The volunteer boys are trying to do their best in giving service. They should have better equipment and it should be in running order at all times.

Good and evil are relative terms. A good thing may under certain conditions become a positive evil and vice versa. Your opinion or ours does not make a right or a wrong.

"Therefore thou art inexcusable, Oh man, whosoever thou art that judgest for wherein thou judgest another thou condemnest thyself."

There are thousands of dollars worth of business going out of Hereford that should be kept at home and it would be if the business men would get up and go after it as aggressively as the mail order house. What we need is a good old Southern revival of "Get up and Get there."

JUDGE KNIGHT'S CANDIDACY.

Hereford and all this section of the Panhandle take especial pride in being able to present a strong, worthy candidate in the person of Judge W. M. Knight for Associate Justice of the court of Civil Appeals.

Judge Knight is a man admirably fitted for the place. He is a worthy man and a citizen of Hereford whom all respect. He is a man of scholarly attainments and a constant student. He is a lawyer of more than usual ability. He is of a deliberative and judicial turn of mind. He will give all sides to any controversy a fair and patient hearing and after the facts are before him he will bring a well trained mind to bear on the subject matter and his conclusions will be sound. Such a man is needed in our higher courts.

We take especial pleasure in pressing the claims of this worthy citizen.

The same book that admonishes us to avoid the appearance of evil also states emphatically that all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone.

Many times things would have less the appearance of evil if zealots in their efforts to compel the world to look at life through their own glasses, would adhere more strictly to the truth.

Charity thinketh no evil.

River Park is looking unusually well. The trees have made a remarkable growth since last season and are surely paying for their care.

Every tree planted and cared for in Hereford is an investment in the welfare of the city. It may be your tree but it is a direct benefit to many others besides yourself.

The bird that sings in its branches, the child that plays beneath its shade, the town itself which because of your tree and its companions becomes known as the city of attractive homes, parks and drives, all are indebted to you daily. Plant trees and take care of them.

BETTER FIRE PROTECTION.

The fire of last Tuesday should set people to thinking about the matter of better fire protection. In the first place during this warm weather when so much water is being used for domestic purposes the supply is not adequate for a big fire and the pressure is low. In cases where the water must be carried through a thousand foot of hose it is difficult to get the required pressure for quick action.

Then the machinery should be kept in such condition that the fire may be reached with the least possible delay. The fire department should have the hearty co-operation of every one to the end that funds may be provided to give the needed equipment and then some one should be charged with seeing that every thing is ready on a moments notice. Five minutes in time of a fire often means the difference between a total loss and a small damage.

BIG CAMPAIGN ON.

With the close of the Republican and Progressive conventions last week at Chicago and the Democratic Convention at St. Louis big politics is taking the leading place on the front page of the big dailies and in the minds of politicians.

The nomination of Wilson is a foregone conclusion and his most severe critics admit that he will be a strong candidate. However, his election or defeat depends largely upon what the progressives do. If Roosevelt finally refuses to run on the progressive ticket and remains silent, a difficult thing for Teddy, no other candidates they can nominate can poll a great percentage of votes. If Hughes has the united party in New York and the German-Americans line up for him as now seems possible he will give Wilson a close race.

There is a large majority of people in the United States that are in favor of keeping peace with other nations if possible without a sacrifice of our real rights. If these can all be counted on for Wilson his chances of election are still at least as good as that of Hughes.

In the meantime the rest of us will go on working hard to pay increasing taxes and to get the necessities of life that are climbing skyward in price.

When a man of thoughtful mind sees a nation's flag, he sees not the flag only but the nation itself; and whatever may be the symbols, he reads chiefly in the flag, the government, the principles, the truth, the history which belongs to the nation that sets it forth.

This nation has a banner, and wherever it streamed abroad, men saw day-break bursting on their eyes, for the American flag has been the symbol of liberty, and men rejoiced in it. Not another flag on the globe has such an errand, or went forth upon the seas carrying everywhere, the world around, such hope for the captive and such glorious tidings. The stars upon it were to the plating nations like the morning stars of God and the stripes upon it were like beams of morning light.

As at early dawn the stars stand first, and then it grows light, and then, as the sun advances, that light breaks into banks and streaming bands of color, the glowing red and intense white striving together and ribbing the hoarse with bars effulgent, so on the American flag, stars and beams of many-colored light shine out together. And wherever the flag comes, an dmen behold in it they see, in its sacred emblazony, no rampant lion and fierce eagle, but only light, and every fold indicative of glory, liberty.

Let us then twine each thread of this glorious tissue of our country's flag about our heartstrings, and looking upon our homes and catching the spirit that breathes upon us from the battlefield of our fathers, let us resolve, come weal or woe, we will, in life and in death, now and forever, stand by the stars and stripes.

They have been unfurled from the snows of Canada to the plains of New Orleans; in the halls of the Montezumas and amid the solitude of every sea; and everywhere, as the luminous symbol of resistless and beneficent power, they have led the brave to victory and to glory. They have floated over our cradles; let it be our prayers and our struggle that they shall float over our graves.—Henry Ward Beecher.

H. H. Jackson has returned from Verdon, where he was a delegate to the Epworth Leagues of the North West Texas Conference.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xvi, 19-24.
Memory Verse, 25, 26—Golden Text,
Acts xvi, 31—Commentary Prepared
by Rev. D. M. Starnes.

In verses 19-18 of our lesson chapter we read of an evil spirit possessing a woman who, as she followed Paul and his friends, cried out, "These men are the servants of the Most High God, who show unto us the way of salvation." She continued to do this many days, but Paul, being grieved by even so good and true a testimony from such a source and knowing her to be controlled by an evil spirit, commanded the spirit to come out of her in the name of Jesus Christ, and he did. It was certainly strange to hear such a testimony from such a source, but an evil spirit in the synagogue at Capernaum one day when Jesus was present cried out, "I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God!" And Jesus commanded the spirit to come out of the man (Mark 1, 23-26).

Truth may be talked without being known in the heart, but the Lord reads the heart and does not want testimony from His enemies. Knowing the truth about the Lord Jesus does not save any one, yet it may be that many think they are saved because they believe that Jesus lived and died and rose again and that He is the Son of God. But it is he that hath the Son of God that hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life. Only such as receive Him become children of God (1 John v, 12; John 1, 12).

When those who employed this woman and made money by her saw that this source of income was taken from them they incited a riot against Paul and Silas and had them beaten and cast into prison, and the jailer, having received a charge to keep them safely, put them in the inner prison and made their feet fast in the stocks (verses 19-24). There are some things right on the surface of this record, and one is that people are apt to grow very angry if they are making money wrongfully and their business is interfered with. Compare the riot of the silversmiths at Ephesus in chapter xix, and then think of the opposition of the liquor dealers and all who dishonor Jesus Christ to the work and teaching of Rev. William Sunday and all true evangelists; also the opposition of those who profit by graft to those who desire righteousness.

Then notice that if you won't let the devil help you he will take pains to show you how he can hate you and persecute you. Compare in Ezra iv, 1-5, the decided opposition of those who were not permitted to help in the work. There are still those who are ready to help in many a good work if they may belong to the devil while they do it. But if asked to renounce the devil and to receive the Lord Jesus and put their trust in His great sacrifice as the Son of God, then one is apt to witness the enmity of the carnal mind against God.

How grand was the victory of faith in these men of God, who, with sore and bleeding backs and feet in the stocks could praise the God whose they were and whom they served and talk with Him in heaven from their prison! Not only did the other prisoners hear them praising God, but they were heard in heaven, and suddenly the earth was shaken, and the prison, too; prison doors were opened and every one's bonds loosed (verses 25, 26). Oh, how great and wonderful is our God, the God of Israel, who only doest wonders! (Ps. lxxii, 18, 19). As some one has said, these men had not influence enough on earth at Philippi to save them from this shameful treatment (1 Thess. ii, 2) and from prison, but they had influence enough in heaven to shake the earth. It was midnight when they prayed and sang praises, but the God of Israel neither slumbers nor sleeps; He watches over His people night and day (Ps. cxxi, 4; Isa. xxxvii, 3).

Not only was the prison shaken, but the keeper was so shaken when he saw the prison doors open that he would have killed himself if Paul had not cried out, "Do thyself no harm, for we are all here!" He was shaken deep down in his soul, too, for, falling down trembling before Paul and Silas, he brought them out and said, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Then did Paul at this unexpected midnight service speak to him, and to his house the word of the Lord, and they believed—that is, they received the Lord Jesus Christ—and, being saved, they confessed Christ in baptism and were all filled with rejoicing. The second saved household at Philippi (verses 14, 15, 27-34).

Reading of saved households, I always think of the Lord's word to Noah, "Come thou and all thy house," and I find great encouragement to believe that the Lord still loves to save households. It would seem that before the baptism those poor scared backs were made more comfortable, and then what a love feast they must have had in the jailer's house, and what joy there was in heaven as well as on earth! Next morning those who had imprisoned the apostles wanted to let them go privily, but Paul insisted upon a public acquittal, which was granted them, and after a call upon Lydia they departed.

Baptist Meeting Closes.

The revival meeting conducted by Rev. Wallace Bassett of Amarillo, which has been in progress for over two weeks closed Sunday night. Notwithstanding the overflow meeting at the Christian church the house was packed and a hundred chairs placed in the aisles were insufficient to accommodate all who desired to hear this closing service of the big meeting.

Rev. Bassett has won an enviable place in the hearts of Hereford church goers. He is a man of pleasing personality and a logical, forcible speaker. His sermons were all powerful exponents of Gospel truth. He has recently had the degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred upon him by LaGrange College of LaGrange, Missouri.

The meeting just closed resulted in eighteen accessions to the church.

Not to Rebuild Seth Ward.
No effort will be made to rebuild Seth Ward College. This course was decided upon at a meeting of the board of trustees of the school. It had been thought that bids from other towns would be received for the school but no definite propositions were made. The board, although a tentative one was submitted by Floydada persons, but no title in fee simple would be granted the school according to that proposal.

The board decided to sell all of the property of the school, except the land windmill and barn now standing on the property, and the sale will be made by W. A. Nash at public auction Thursday, June 9th, on the college campus. Between two and three thousand dollars worth of stock, machinery, household goods, etc., will be offered that day.

The insurance money on the building which burned in March has been received, and the loans which were outstanding obligations have been liquidated. Nothing but current accounts, for merchandise, etc., remain to be paid. These claims amount to about $8,000. In addition to the property which will be sold next Thursday the school owns twenty three acres of land and 240 lots. It is thought that all claims can be settled. There is yet due some interest on the endowment fund of the school, and the board hold some two thousand dollars in accounts and notes for tuition and board. It is thought that the assets will liquidate all liabilities and that in the near future settlement in part, if not in full, will be made on the outstanding accounts.—Plainview Herald.

Sandhill Folks Raise Hogs.
Sandhill community farmers were among the first to recognize the feeding value of the hog in a country where the immense feed crops are raised, such as Floyd County, and these livestock farmers are realizing at this time their forethought.

Three carloads of hogs were shipped from Floydada Station Saturday, two cars being those of S. A. Greer and one belonging to J. E. Riley. Saturday week three more loads will go out, making a total for June from the community of six loads.—Floydada Hesperian.

Getting Improved Stock.
M. C. Melton, Geo. B. Davis and F. G. Dennis have been encouraging the growth of better stock by getting thoroughbreds for their own private herds. Messrs. Melton and Dennis attended an auction sale at Chickasha a few weeks ago where the prices were fancy and the stock as fancy as the prices. They bought three roan Durham female calves and one male calf. Mr. Melton has a herd of white face Herefords and to this bunch he and Mr. Davis brought two whiteface male calves.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Buy Fine Stock.
A. L. Carter living two miles north of Oehltree, was in Glazier this week to receive five head of registered cattle, coming in over the Santa Fe from Canyon, for which he paid eight hundred and seventy-five dollars. The herd consists of a bull and four heifers.—Glazier Review.

Panhandle Cattle to Missouri.
L. M. Price sold one hundred and fifty head of steers this week to a man from Missouri and they were shipped to that state to be prepared for market.—Stratford Star.

Just Like Finding Money.
C. E. Dodson, living south of town, brought to market Saturday three pigs which he says scarcely cost him anything to raise. The three weighed nine hundred pounds, netting Mr. Dodson $72 ash. C. E. says raising pigs in the Panhandle is just like getting money from home.—Farwell Tribune.

Mrs. W. E. Hicks left Tuesday for Henrietta, Texas, to visit for a short time.

No Cyclones on Cap Rock.
A cyclone on the Texas plains is an impossibility because of the level surface of the country and in the history of the pioneers, none has ever witnessed a "twister" here. However, the mountains in New Mexico, west of here, must in a measure be responsible for the cyclones down beyond the cap rock. In Northern Texas, Oklahoma and the eastern States for in the spring and early summer, when we have an all day drizzle, hard wind from the west or southwest, residents of the plains expect to hear of cyclones below the cap rock, and are rarely disappointed.

This was borne out last week when the destructive cyclones in Oklahoma and Alabama occurred, following hard winds across the plains. After the wind gets off the cap rock the "breaks" hills and valleys beyond evidently give it a whirl.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Prof. Ben Short and son of Vega, Texas, were here Monday coming down in his faithful "Maude." Mr. Short is interested in the gasoline gas heating and lighting systems.

Federal Valuation of Railroads

(By A. M. Howe.)

For about two years the Santa Fe Railway has maintained a force of men at Amarillo in connection with the valuation of railroads that the Interstate Commerce Commission is making of all the American railroads. These are at present fifty seven men employed in the Amarillo office in connection with the physical investigation of Western Lines of which F. C. Cox is General Manager. The expense is borne by the railroad.

When congress authorized the Interstate Commerce Commission to take this valuation, it was generally understood that the cost of this enormous undertaking would be paid by the Federal Government. But when the plans of work were finally made, it was determined that the railroads themselves should supply the data, many of them along lines that required absolutely new schedules. It then became apparent that the heaviest cost would fall on the railroads and eventually their customer, the American public.

So far nineteen orders for information have been made by the valuation division of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The first required detailed maps to be filed as of June 30, 1914, showing everything as to lines, location, lands, structures, grades as shown on the profiles, in short the map must be one with every detail, a kind few railroads had. Then there came an order for an inventory of all the property of the carriers. Field parties were organized to go over the roads in detail, the railroads being required to supply pilots and other assistance.

Much has been done so far. But it will take at least four more years to complete the work, including accounting, original cost, present value, and estimate of what the reproduction cost new would be. Yet really the only work organized and progressing satisfactorily is the physical examination of the property, something like sixteen field parties being at work. They expect to cover close to 50,000 miles a year. About 50,000 miles are completed out of over 250,000 miles of railroad.

The director of valuation Commissioner Chas. A. Prouty estimates that this valuation work will cost the railroads $35,000,000 and the government, about half of this amount. It is likely that the total cost will exceed this amount. The making of the above maps according to the commissioner is costing the railroads in some cases $100 a mile to say nothing of other things fully as costly.

In this connection a statement made last November by Mr. Prouty in a public address is interesting. He said: "Now I speak from my experience of seventeen years as a railroad commissioner when I say I am sure that all of us in the past have inclined to feel that whatever was required of a railroad did not cost anybody anything, certainly that it did not cost the public anything. But, my friends, we have come to a time when that error has become apparent. We have come to a time when we realize that somebody has had to pay for this work which the railroad does, and that somebody is the public."

The object of this Federal valuation of railroads is to get a basis for rate making. It is agreed that the railroads are entitled to a fair return on the investment. When the value of the roads have been definitely settled, the rates will be made accordingly. When the work was first started, many people in government circles thought that this was the first move towards government ownership. But in two years those closest to this valuation work have changed their minds, because it would involve the United States in a national debt of close to twenty billion dollars as against less than a billion after the building of the Panama canal.

Dip Cattle for Lice.

Dr. R. M. Olbeter has been in the various parts of the county this spring having dipped to date about 15,000 head with five to ten thousand more to dip. Dr. Olbeter says this is the only certain method of treating for lice and the cattle over the county have been very badly affected with this pest this spring. New dipping vats have been erected at the Otto-Johnson ranch in Oklahoma, W. B. Plunkett's, Hill Burrows, Nester C. de Baca's, Chas. Kennan, Joe Koger, Fred Wolford and Roedler Bros. The government is anxious to encourage practice of dipping cattle at least once and if possible, twice each year. This is a preventive against disease of all kinds and insures a much smaller percentage of loss than where they are not dipped at all. The doctor has experimented a good bit with the louse and its habits, and while not nearly so prolific as the house fly, it will hatch and be ready to lay eggs in 23 days after its advent into the world.

Dr. Olbeter says the government will send men to help in the erection of these vats, will assist in planning, and in every other way possible to exterminate disease and vermin for the stock. It costs from eight to 10c per cow to dip and the cost is more than offset in the saving of the cattle.—Clayton (N. M.) Citizen.

Move Steers to Pasture.

Almer Seliger left Monday for Dalhart with 800 head of steers. Mr. Seliger will place these steers on a 23 section ranch that he has lease in this section of the country.—Lockney Beacon.

Post City will have a big barbecue at Two Draw Lake on the 4th.

A Great Hog Country.

Bowsher and Miller shipped a carload of hogs last Saturday.

Hereford is fast becoming a big hog shipping center. Already forty cars of hogs have been shipped from here since January first of this year.

Last year there were only fifteen cars shipped during the year and in 1913 there were only 300 hogs of all sizes in the county.

At the present time there are farms with 400 or 500 head.

Farmers are learning that the climate and water with the cheap feed furnished in the grain sorgums is making hog raising profitable. Whenever alfalfa can be raised it makes the best forage crop. Alfalfa can be raised here on small tracts sufficient to graze a car of hogs on from wind mill irrigation and the use of reservoirs. Five acres of alfalfa will graze a carload of hogs.

Where alfalfa cannot be had sweet clover is the next best for summer grazing and wheat and rye for fall and winter grazing. Grain sorgums and alfalfa, sweetclover and hogs will make this the poor man's best place.

The Crop Outlook.

(Fashville Weekly)

Despite the fact that the recent rain fall was accompanied by hail and was exceedingly destructive to crops in some sections of the Plains, one and all are agreed that the good done will outweigh the losses and even those who suffered most severely have gone to work at once to replant their devastated acres. It frequently happens that crops that seem ruined after a hail storm, come out later and make very good yields and a great improvement has been noted in many of the wheat fields that had been about given up by their owners before the rain.

Carlsbad, New Mexico, failed to get the rain that visited other sections of that state and the drought has assumed serious proportions in that section: Not only are the non-irrigated crops suffering but the range is so poor that the cattlemen are losing stock from lack of grass. Big Springs had no rain at the time this section was drenched and neither did Baca county, Colorado. Kenna and Blanco, New Mexico, are also complaining of lack of moisture though they had rain earlier in the season that did not extend over the Texas Plains.

Harvesting has begun in earnest and many of the farmers have had to buy headers with which to cut the grain on account of the shortness of the straw. A few farmers are estimating their yields at 20 bushels but the majority say they will not have more than 8 to 12 bushels. The government crop report of June 1st forecasts a yield of 9,620,000 bushels for Texas as against 22,862,000 last year.

The partial failure of the wheat has caused a large increase in the cotton acreage on the South Plains, a corresponding increase in the maize and corn acreage on the North Plains and an increase in the bean acreage in New Mexico. Some of the farmers are trying the summer fallow system on their abandoned wheat fields and the result of their experiment will be watched with interest, though there can be little doubt that it will prove beneficial to the following crop. It has been conceded by many of our farmers that planting the wheat fields to catch crops does not pay in the dry farming area since it takes moisture from the soil that might better be conserved for the next crop but if it does not pay to raise a useful crop on the land, it certainly does not pay to raise a crop of weeds and let them take the moisture. Follow the harvester with the plow is a profitable practice for the Plains farmer and one that is proving its worth more and more every year.

A goodly number of spring fries and young turkeys went to an early grave in the storms and some pigs and lambs were lost. Also some of the alfalfa farmers had some hay spoiled and orchards and gardens suffered considerably.

Coal oil is 9c per gallon. Get a New Perfection stove at the Variety Store and save the price of this season. C. A. Skelton.

Society and Clubs

On Saturday evening the young ladies of the Beta Psi Delta Club were entertained with a slumber party, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gregg, the occasion honoring Miss Mattie Sloan, of Navasota.

The party met at the Corner Drug Store, going from there to the Star theatre where they enjoyed its "opening" program and later the carnival attractions.

At the Gregg home five hundred, the club game entertained the guests most pleasantly until a late hour when a salad course followed by cream and cake were served. Sunday morning a breakfast with the following attractive menu was enjoyed:

- Shredded wheat biscuits with cream and sugar.
- Breaded Veal Loaf.
- Potato flakes.
- Hot toast.
- Quince Loaf.
- Grape-Jelly.
- Coffee.
- Fresh Fruit.

Before separating, the party attended Sunday School and church.

The dancing club enjoyed an informal dance at the Club room Friday evening. About twelve couples were present.

True to her title as the month of brides and roses, June is being very generous this year in bringing to us both these lovely creations.

Another of Hereford's fair daughters was claimed in marriage on Saturday, June 10th, when Miss Mamie Begeman, with a simple marriage service and with only the loved ones of her own home present, became the bride of Mr. Woodson Coffee, Jr., of Miami.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. E. L. Farmer, of the Baptist church of Hereford, who had been the bride's pastor prior to her going to Miami last year.

Always charming with a graciousness and simplicity which endeared her to her friends, the bride was especially so in her bridal dress of dainty white net with satin trimmings. After the ceremony light refreshments were served, the young couple leaving at once on the evening train for Miami their future home.

The bride's going away gown was of navy blue taffeta with accessories to match. She is the only daughter of Mrs. H. C. Begeman and was for years a very efficient clerk in the postoffice, leaving here to accept a similar position in Miami. She is a most excellent young woman with graces of mind and character more than ordinary.

The groom is the son of President Coffe of the Miami State Bank. He has the management of large farming and ranch interests owned by his father and is a young man of splendid business ability and integrity.

Mr. and Mrs. Coffee will be at home in Miami after June 25th.

On Friday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Barber, occurred the marriage of Miss Isabelle L. Brainerd of Emporia Kansas, and Mr. Robert E. Dutton of Hereford, the ceremony being performed by Rev. R. E. L. Farmer, pastor of the Baptist Church.

The bride is a stranger in Hereford, having arrived here only immediately preceding her marriage. She was accompanied from Emporia by the groom's sister, the journey being delayed two days by the washout which derailed the Santa Fe train near Canadian.

The groom is employed by Mr. Barber and is a very estimable young man, whose friends will extend to his bride a warm welcome.

Mrs. Albertina Rogers was a charming hostess to the S. W. P. Club and members of their families Thursday evening, June 8th.

The beautiful home was attractively decorated, the club colors, black and gold, were harmoniously used throughout the decoration.

A delicious three course luncheon of chicken sandwiches, salad and oysters, Neapolitan whip cake and ice cream was a delight and enjoyed by all. Delicious fruit punch was served throughout the evening.

Five tables of "48" furnished enjoyable diversion, the favors were won by Mr. Fletcher Rogers and Miss Eva Rogers, Mr. Rogers favor was a book, "Their Yesterday," Miss Rogers won "Cheer".

That the occasion was enjoyed by all present is assured since no one was hurrying away until someone "happened" to notice the hands of the clock were pointing to the "wee small hours," when all reluctantly took their departure of the host and hostess who were assisted by Miss Eva Rogers, agreeing that it was the most enjoyable evening spent in a long time. Reporter

Another delightful meeting of the Beta Psi Delta Club was enjoyed on Friday when the entire day was spent at Willow Wood, the pretty suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gregg.

A kodak party in which interesting souvenirs of the occasion were made and which were in quantity and quality something unusual, created much merriment during the morning hours.

At 1 p.m., a picnic luncheon in whose making each guest shared, was served on the lawn.

Five hundred was played during the afternoon, the games vying with music and dancing in contributing to the pleasure of the guest.

Misses Mattie Sloan and French Davis were guests of the Club.

A picnic and fish fry was enjoyed by a number of Hereford families on Monday evening.

The big drag wagon belonging to Mr. F. A. Whitterrow was called into service and the jolly ride to the river was not the least of the afternoon's pleasures.

Games, fishing and later a delicious supper, to which was added a bountiful supply of fish provided by the fishermen of the party, made a most enjoyable evening.

In the party were: Mr. Jack Moore, and family, Mr. E. A. Waterrow and family, Mrs. Jesse Stilson, Mack Watson, and Misses Jessie, Dora and Gracie Watson and Mr. Brown and family.

Another Good Rain.

On Tuesday evening this section was visited by a half inch rain.

West of here, near Summerfield, the rain was much heavier as it was East and far southeast while south near Dimmitt there was very little.

Most of the Panhandle is now in good shape for a good crop. There will be some replanting but most of the row crops are in good shape.

Attend the Chautauqua.

Everyone should make arrangements to attend the chautauqua that opens here next Sunday night.

All the talent that appears on this four days program comes highly recommended. In the towns where they have appeared they are given the highest endorsement. Make arrangement to attend and hear something good.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lamb of Ridge-way, Mo., who have been here for a few weeks looking after business interests returned to their home yesterday.

Miss Ida Hall and Mrs. Mat Halley, of Leander, Texas, are visiting Mrs. J. W. Ham, south of town.

Att'y Dennis Zimmerman of Tulsa is here this week looking after some legal business.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

How a Little Boy Saved His Playmate's Life

DADDY took both his children on his knee. "Now I am going to tell you the true story of a little boy only five years old who saved the life of his playmate, who is three," he told Jack and Evelyn. "They both live in Pennsylvania, and you must please imagine a deep hollow in a clump of trees standing in a big lot where six children had gone to play. In the middle of this hollow, with beautiful still snow lying over the frozen ground, is a pool covered with a thin sheet of ice."

"Just like Uncle Ben's pond," cried Jack.

"The three-year-old, Davy, ran to the very edge of the pool, and just beyond his reach was a pine branch sticking up out of the ice. Davy wanted to go to play with 'so before any of the older children could stop him he ran right out on to the thin ice and tried to pull the branch out. Oh, but the thin ice wobbled, awayed, snapped, cracked, broke, and little Davy went right down out of sight into the cold, cold water. A six-year-old boy reached for him, but when more ice snapped and cracked he turned and ran off, crying. But five-year-old Ivan saw Davy's little head bobbing up and down in the water and, without even knowing what a little hero he was making of himself, with a clear mind that any man might be proud of, slowly, surely crept his way out across the fatal ice, hung on to the branch with one hand and reached the other down into the icy water till it grabbed Davy's. Then, strong as anything, he tugged and pulled till he fetched the sopping, frightened, drowning little three-year-old safely back to land."

"By this time all five of the children were crying, and their cries brought a bigger boy who happened to be going along the road near by. This big boy took Davy in his arms and ran home with him. So his mamma put Davy in a hot bath and petted and loved him back to comfort and happiness."

"And what happened to Ivan?" shouted Jack.

"Oh, Ivan is the little hero of the Pennsylvania town," said daddy. "When people ask him to tell how he saved his playmate he just says, 'this brave, handy little five-year-old: I was standin' on the bank when Davy went fra. So when Gene, Davy's brother, began to cry I just crept out by the branch and hung on to it wif one hand, and all the time Davy was bobbin' up and down I just reached out my other hand and grabbed his.'"

"Were Davy's mamma and his papa glad?" asked Evelyn.

"Rather," cried daddy, giving his own children a huge hug.

"And did Davy catch cold?" the children wanted to know.

"No, not even sniffles," said daddy.

Range Suffers from Drouth.

The Black River Land & Cattle Company, whose range is in Eddy county, New Mexico, has lost about 100 head of stock because of the short range. Recently they have shipped 250 head of their cattle to a pasture near Elida.

The Jones Brothers, whose ranch is on the west side of the Pecos, have moved nearly 1,000 head of their stock to the east side.

Mr. Hart, of Dark Canyon Wells, has been feeding sotol to a bunch of 18, giving them an average of two heads per day and they are in fine condition. In dry years, many of the cattlemen have fed been feeding sotol to a bunch of 18, giving them to thrive on it.

His Skull Was Broken.

M. Major whose accident was reported last week, was taken to Dalhart Friday, where an operation was performed. His skull was opened and raised, but a large blood clot found on his brain was not removed, as it was considered unsafe, in his condition, to attempt its removal. His skull was found to be fractured for about six inches, commencing at the top of his head and extending down behind his ear. Saturday a message was received saying that he could live but a short time, but later rallied and his mighty constitution is asserting itself in a heroic fight for life.

How the accident occurred is still veiled in mystery. He seems to regain consciousness at one time and said the horses did it, but only talked a few moments. Our last reports are that he is better and has a chance, which we all hope is true.—Hansford Headlight.
