Fairview And Daniel Communities Set Example In Family Recreation

By DORIS MAHAFFEY
Assistant H D Agent

Fighting many odds but with the determination of having worth-while recreation, the citizens of the northeast part of the county staged a country fair Friday, October 21. This is the second such festivity they have had.

The community leaders got permission to use the Daniel School building as a community center. Many hours of work were devoted to cleaning up the building. Necessary furniture was added and the building was wired for REA. The committee making the plans for the 1949 country fair were: Mrs. E. W. Womble, Mrs. Wayne Higgins, and Mrs. E. W. Womble, Jr. Mrs. Byron Campbell, president of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club, expressed her appreciation to the community by saying "We certainly appreciate the good job that has been done by the committee in making and carrying out plans for this fair. We also appreciate the help the entire community has given." The divisions of the country fair were baked goods, canned goods, fancy work, clothing, hobbies, and farm products.

The hobby division was very interesting. Mrs. Irvin Shugart exhibited a collection of unusual pot holders she has made. The exhibit was made up of about 30 pot holders of various kinds including crochet, embroidery, and applique. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Womble, Jr. had an interesting photography exhibit consisting of a series of vacation shots and also some outstanding color shots, which they have made during the past 2½ years. Also in the hobbies division were a stamp collection exhibit by Donald Troy Moore, and plant exhibit by Mrs. T. E. Price, pictures painted by Mrs. E. W. Womble, and woodcraft done by Mrs. Lee Moore.

Mrs. J. F. Matthews displayed a collection of labor-saving devices which included aluminum foil pan linings, dish drainers, plastic bags, and others. An interesting part of her exhibit was the use of a funnel as a rack for cooling cakes made in angel-food cake pans.

The Fairview Home Demonstration Club exhibit was made up of the various projects they have carried on during the year, and included samples of glove-making, glass etching, and rug making. As a 4-H Club exhibit, Betty Lou McGoughey showed her record book and clothing and canned goods.

Mrs. R. L. Campbell exhibited material which outlined her program of work as president of THDA.

The exhibit of farm products including corn, squash, pumpkins, strawberries, other fruits and vegetables, and lent an atmosphere of a real country fair.

were made by Mrs. Ky Higgins. She won five firsts and two-second prizes on her fancy work.

As an additional entertainment feature for the young people, there were side shows and fortune telling.

The fair was judged by Mrs. T. J. Parsons, a member of the Progressive Home Demonstration Club, and the Assistant Agent.

The community spirit and good fellowship at Daniel Friday certainly repaid all the effort in plan and work that were put out to make this fair a success.

ATTEND GAME

Colby Conkright and Hugh Clearman left Friday for Dallas to attend the University of Kentucky-S.M.U. Football game Saturday. Mr. Conkright joined his brother, P. J. Conkright and a group of friends from Winchester, Ky. for the game.

Letters To The Editor

cashier to pay the ticket. For the first time I realized my billfold was gone. I turned to Mrs. Simons and asked her if she had any money. She opened her purse and said, "I have $25—why?" I said, "I have been robbed or at least my billfold is gone." I then counted the change I had in my pocket. With Mrs. Simons' $25 and what I had we lacked two cents having enough to pay for our dinner.—So, now what?

The cafe man looked at me for a brief time. (I am glad he didn't say what he thought). Then he said, "Just keep what you have—you may need gas—and send it to me when you get home." I said, "Sir, I will not be home for two weeks. I know where I lost my billfold and if those station men found it, I will get it back." I offered him my watch and Mrs. Simons offered him her gold compact to keep until we came back. But he wouldn't take either.

I came back to Hereford at a speed my old '39 Chevy should not be driven at and, at that, it seemed we'd never get there. But we finally made it and the same man that serviced my car met us and asked what I wanted. I asked him if he remembered servicing my car and he said yes. And then I asked if he remembered what I paid him and he said yes. You paid $3.55. I then told my story and that I had come back because I felt if either of them had found it they would keep it for me. I thought I had left it laying on the counter when I looked at the road map—that I was not accusing either of them—that I would not have driven back if I had not thought they were honest men which I'm sure they are.

I had three $20 bills before cashing my check of $100. The banker gave me four $20 dollar bills, one $10 and one $5.00 and four $1.00 and one dollar in silver. I put the bills in my billfold and change in my pocket and went to the station and paid for car service, so I knew exactly the amount in billfold was $156.00. It went so much faster that Mrs. Simons and I earned it. We were trying to save enough to make a down payment on a new Chevy.

If anyone who reads this story, knows the power of prayer, will you please join us in prayer for the thief—that he may come to know the Lord and the glory of living a life for Him.

Rev. A. A. Simons

Hereford Romps to 32-0 Victory Over Rangers

Number six in the Hereford Whiteface victory string fell Friday night in Perryton as the Rangers went down under an avalanche of five touchdowns and 10 extra points, 32-0.

All eyes now turn to the crucial Dalhart-Hereford tilt next Friday night in Whiteface Memorial Stadium when the only undefeated district 1-A team goes on the line, with the winner a solid bet for the district title.

The Whiteface squad played aggressive tough ball against a band of Rangers who were "up" this game. Hereford power, passing and head-ups brand of football was too much for them. Bill Kelly went back into the Hereford line-up for the first time in three weeks, following operation on his arm the evening after the Sudan game.

Setting this advantage was the fact that high scorer Duane Christian was sidelined with a twisted ankle in practice Wednesday. However, he should be ready to go against Dalhart.

Darrell Janssen and Leonard Walterscheid played bang-up games in the line with Bill Engman and Bill Kelly standing out among the backs. 147-pound half Earl Olmstead carried the burden for Perryton, punting, passing and carrying the ball about three-quarters of the time.

CONFERENCE PACE-SETTER—McMurry halfback Brad Rowland shows the form that West Texas State followers saw too much of in Canyon a few weeks ago. However, these same boosters aren't surprised that Rowland is leading the Texas Conference in individual statistics in four departments: rushing, punting, total offense and scoring. The Indians are also tops as a team in rushing with an average of 427 yards per game.

Wellington 35—Memphis 20
District 2-A also saw some-what of an upset when the often-beat Wellington Skyrockets downed the Memphis Cyclone 35-20. Wellington passes accounted for the volume score and McCutcheon passed for three of the Rocket tallies, also carrying over one run himself.

Levelland 26—Brownfield 7
Levelland, a 4-A victim of the Whiteface eleven, showed considerable strength by handing class 4-A Brownfield a 23-7 defeat. Defensive work of the Lobbes held Brownfield scoreless until the final period.

Sudan 33—Morton 13
Sudan Hornets, a not her Whiteface casualty from District 4-A, also continued a winning march in 4-A play by defeating

Morton 23-13. Sudan's defense, which also held the Whitefaces scoreless until the last period, was strong in the Morton contest.

Shamrock 0—Clarendon 0
Shamrock and Clarendon, District 2-A, battled to 0-0 tie on the Shamrock field. Clarendon took honors, however, with a 2-1 penetrations ruling. Both squads showed strong defense and 237-pound Gene White of Clarendon was standout man of the game.

Other scores over the Panhandle area follow:
Wheeler 20—Panhandle 20
Hereford B 19—Perryton B 0
Quitauque 19—Estelline 6
Fost 13—Snyder 7
Graver 46—Sunray 28
Abernathy 25—Paducah 13

Regional Football ROUND-UP

High school football players dug their cleats into turf over the entire Panhandle Friday night to emerge with a series of upsets and surprise scores. Crowds thronged most stadiums to the point that S. R. O. signs hung out over the entire section and crisp October weather gave just the right tinge to gridiron fans.

Amarillo 7—Lubbock 47
The Lubbock Westerners, just for a starter, soundly trounced the Amarillo Sandies—47 to 7. Lubbock rolled up 21 first downs to 10 for the Sandies, gained 158 yards rushing as compared with 112. Fans said that the score was indicative of the game, despite the fact that quite a few Amarillo betters took Amarillo and gave 21 points.

Dalhart 39—Phillips 20
Dalhart Wolves, already recognized as top contenders in the 1-A District, eliminated any doubt about the matter when the Wolves trounced Phillips 39-20. Dalhart gained 496 yards rushing as compared with Phillips' 180 yards. It was Dalhart from the first quarter. Another surprise came in the third quarter when the Wolves shifted from a T formation to a double wingback which caught the Blackhaws flatfooted on defense.

Canyon 27—Dumas 13
The Canyon Eagles, also 1-A, definitely rounded the Dumas Demons out of the district questionnaires by running up a 27-13 score. Both squads used some aerial tactics, but ground plays accounted for most of the scoring.

Hereford Garden Club Turns Spotlight To Chrysanthemums at Guest-Day Tea

Hundreds of chrysanthemums in bloom now all about town reflect the interest of garden club members who are devoting much time to both civic and home-plot beautification. The result is a burst of bloom which is bright and gay, in keeping with the autumn foliage of trees and shrubs.

One of the highlights of the year for the Hereford Garden Club is the annual Chrysanthemum Exhibit and this year Mrs. W. S. Fluit, president of the club, was hostess for the exhibit which was turned into a guest-day affair, Friday afternoon.

To paint a true picture of their beauty, members of the club took special assignments to select and arrange the flowers to fit the container and the space available in a complete range of color from white to pinks and lavender to bronze and gold.

In the living room shades of bronze and yellow were used in a mantel-line arrangement by Mrs. Jim Black with the coffee table featuring a low horizontal piece done by Mrs. Jim Higgins. Mrs. A. L. Manjeot used Lvaendar Beauty and Florence Miller Spiders for a mass line arrangement for the buffet in the dining room, combining a Chinese red cabbage made to look like a huge chrysanthemum, with the flowers. The refreshment table was done by Mrs. J. P. Slaton, who featured two shades of pink Spider Souvenirs in a large center piece.

White Silver Sheen was used in the bedroom with Mrs. E. W. Harrison's mass-line arrangement. For the kitchen Mrs. Fluit had arranged small yellow blooms in a brown teapot. Members of the club exhibited specimen of chrysanthemums showing the progress of their work with old favorites and offering new varieties.

Business Session
A brief business session was held when dates for the judging School were announced for October 25-27 in Lubbock and Mrs. A. M. Jones' sustaining membership was announced. Mrs. John Collier was welcomed as an active member.

Refreshments, arranged by the hospitality committee under the supervision of Mrs. J. O. H. Jacobsen, Jr., were served with Mrs. F. M. Kester presiding at the table, assisted by Mrs. Jack Roberson.

Guest Speaker
Mrs. J. A. Kendall, past president of the Amarillo Garden Club, and chairman of the chrysanthemum division of the horticulture department of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., was the speaker for the afternoon and gave a dissertation on "Chrysanthemums and How To Have Early Blooms." She recommended English varieties for best results in this area where grow-

B Squad Wins 19-0 Over Perryton B

Hereford's B squad defeated the Perryton B team at Whiteface Field Thursday afternoon by a score of 19 to 0. This was the yearling's first home appearance. They dropped their season opener to Happy there.

Randolph Thomas scored first for the local eleven, and Bill Rhodes' running try for extra point was stopped. Dale Winget crossed the opponent's goal line twice and added one extra point by running, completing the scoring.

Buyrl Fish, tackle, was outstanding on the Hereford defense, blocking a pass, recovering a fumble and intercepting a lateral.

Perryton's only threat came in the fourth period when they completed a 30 yard pass from their own 30 and drove to Hereford's one yard line to be held on downs.

Mrs. Graciel Easley of Amarillo is spending a few days with her brother, Forbis Blahemore.

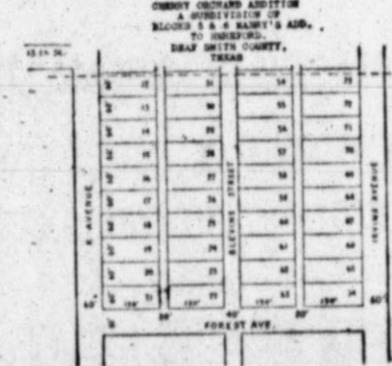

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cannon, Medical Service Representative of Honolulu, T. H., was guest of his uncle, Mr. L. L. Cannon, Mrs. Cannon and Mable and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cannon several days this week.

FROM THE GRANDSTAND
By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff
Keep an eye on Arkansas' Don Logue.

Take a look at the statistics of the Southwest Conference and note he's among the leaders in individual scoring. Remember he's young, just past 19, and in a tough spot—quarterback on a team that has just switched to the "T" formation. Logue is fairly little for the average football player, five feet nine and one-half inches tall. He packs 170 pounds on his compact frame.

One of the bright spots in Arkansas' flat showing against Baylor was this ex-Fayetteville, Ark., high school star. The Razorbacks lost that game 13-25. One of their touchdowns was scored by Logue. He passed for the other.

A "T" quarterback must pass. Logue can pass. Even in that Baylor game, where protection for the passer on numerous occasions was non-existent, he showed this.

Logue's ability to step into the No. 1 quarterback slot made the transition from the Tennessee single wing to the "T" easier for Coach John Barnhill. Barnhill can be grateful that Logue didn't pay much attention to doctors who told him he would never play in an athletic event again. That was when his right leg went down "to nothing" after he wore a cast for weeks on a knee injured in a baseball game.

Tulsa University would like to have had Logue, an all-state football player, all around athlete, and top scorer on his schoolboy grid team. He liked the home town school better.

For a fellow who wasn't supposed to play any more sports, Logue does very well. He's a good baseball and basketball player, a trackman and a crack middleweight boxer.

He credits what knowledge he had of football before going to Arkansas to his high school coach, Elwin Geiser, now tutoring the North Little Rock, Ark. high school eleven.

Arkansas may not set the Southwest Conference on its ears this year. Or next year. Or the year after that.

But don't say that about the Razorback's quarterback.

1 cup cold water
3/4 cup sugar
1 level tablespoon salt
1 heaping tablespoon shortening
6 cups flour (about)
Soften the yeast in the lukewarm water. Scald milk, add sugar and cold water. When cool add the dissolved yeast and beat in enough flour to make a moderately stiff batter.
Let batter rise until doubled in bulk, add salt and shortening to batter and work in enough of the remaining flour to make a moderately stiff dough. Turn out on board with the flour not yet used and knead into a stiff dough and until smooth and satiny (about 15 minutes). Shape into ball and place in greased crock of bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled. (About 1 1/2 or 2 hours).
Divide dough into two equal parts and shape each portion into a smooth loaf and place in greased bread pans. (Dough should come about halfway up pan but need not fit it exactly). Brush the top lightly with melted fat and let loaves rise again until doubled. Bake in preheated oven at 350° F about one hour.
Mrs. Stanford says it is hard to measure the exact amount of flour. Sometimes it requires a little less and sometimes a little more, but after making the bread once or twice the cook can determine for herself.

TATER PEELIN'S

By ROBERTA CAMPBELL

Sometimes we are inclined to put a lot of emphasis on a house but it is the people who share it with us that makes it worth livin' in.

Never have we been more aware of that fact than when we drove away from what had been the home of Mrs. Sina Scott, mother of Homer and Noah Ewton, who died last week in Canyon.

"Ma Sina" as she was affectionately called by Mrs. Homer had by her very presence just two years ago made this house a very happy home for us while our boy did his first year at the Demonstration School and we our last in college.

What has become of the proverb at the back counter in Close Drug? We used to read it while we riddled with our Scotch blood over the price of those very effective but not irresistible prescriptions Dr. Willa writes up for tonsillitis.

Oh yes the Axiom.
"We had no shoes and we complained until we met a man that had no feet."

We still have our doubts about that man at Childress who won the prizes for canning at the county fair.

Maybe he had guests while his wife was out of town or perhaps we are just suspicious because we have a brother-in-law who makes a run for the kitchen every time he comes home to find his wife gone. What he cooks would hardly be awarded a blue ribbon.

MRS. W. J. STANFORD Homemade Bread, A Delight To All, Is An Art Only Practice Masters

Homemade bread means so many things, its so comfortable and homelike, so solid and satisfying and so fragrant. It can well be the staff of life, for made with enriched flour and milk it is not only good but good for you.

The homemaker whose culinary skill includes good homemade bread merits the tall white hat and neckerchief reserved for the finest professional chefs. Any woman, however, who aims to become a proficient home baker can do so for the art is relatively simple. It takes a bit of practice, with maybe a few batches not up to the best, but if directions are followed accurately the art is soon accomplished.

Mrs. W. J. Stanford's recipes for homemade light bread and Boston Brown Bread are excellent ones for the beginner or even for the veteran bread maker. Her standards for bread are enough to insure a delicious product, flavorful enough to awaken any appetite.

Hammock-Hampton Vows Given In Home Ceremony

In a pretty home ceremony Saturday afternoon, October 15, Miss Patsy Hammock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cord Hammock, became the bride of Billy Hampton, son of Mrs. D. R. Vandever, with Rev. Roy Ford reading the marriage service.

The Hammock home was decorated with baskets of large white chrysanthemums with tiny cushion mums as the accessory blossoms. Seven branched candelabra against a large window background formed an improvised altar with tall white tapers providing illumination for the ceremony.

Carrying out an early fall theme, the bride and her attendants were dressed in October's color-tones with the candlelighters appearing first in brown iridescent taffeta frocks highlighted by corsages of russet carnations. They were Sharon Alexander, cousin of the bride, and Wilceina Witherspoon.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Pete Garnett of Ft. Sumner, N. M., served as honor-matron. She wore teal blue satin accented with over-size pockets, black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Miss Bobbye Lee Witherspoon was maid of honor. She wore a black crepe dress with black accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Junior Hampton, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride, who entered with her father, was attractive in a copper-colored frock of slipper satin, designed with fitted waist and full skirt featuring diagonal tucking to form squares the skirt length. The collar, worn high in the back, formed pointed lapels and the bodice was accented with pockets of the tucked satin to match the tucking in the skirt. Self covered buttons adorned the plunging neckline to the waist and were also used on the bracelet length sleeves. She carried a white Bible topped with a single orchid tied with satin streamers.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hammock hosted a reception with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple, decorating the bride's table. Tall white tapers flanked a low bowl of white mums and a decorated musical stand, which played the wedding march in delicate background tones as the vows were spoken, completed the table setting.

When the couple left on a short trip the bride wore a Lillie Ann silk in brown sharkskin with long feathering jacket with velveteen trim and worn with gold colored blouse. Her shoes and purse were in darker brown to match the velveteen trim and her hair was of brown velvet. She wore the orchid from the wedding bouquet pinned to her left shoulder.

Mrs. Hampton is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended W.T.S.C. before her marriage and she was employed at the John McLean Insurance Agency. Mr. Hampton attended Hereford schools and served three years in the Navy with part-time overseas duty.

Slagle-Ireland Wedding Held At Methodist Church

In a traditional ceremony held in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church, Miss Patsy Ann Slagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Slagle, became the bride of Richard Ireland, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Ireland, Sunday, October 16 at four o'clock.

Pyramiding white tapers in bronze candleholders centered the background decorations for the fair flanked by tall white baskets filled with white glad-balls and chrysanthemums. Lavasets of glad and chrysanthemums were placed immediately at the altar which was decorated with glistening lemon and huckleberry leaves dotted with small clusters of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Glenn Snyder, organist, played a prenuptial program of music including "To a Wife," "Indian Love Call," "Love Thee," "I Love You Truly," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life,"

"At Dawning," and "The Roseary." She also played the "Lobengrin" and Mendelssohn wedding marches and accompanied the soloist Miss Mary Jean McGilvary, who sang "Alway" and "O Promise Me." Blaise De Lune was played softly as the vows were spoken. Rev. Don Davidson, pastor, officiated at the single-ring service.

Miss Janice Boston was maid of honor, Miss Linnea French of Del Norte, Colorado was bridesmaid and Sharon Dee Moore lighted the tapers. All were identically made dresses of cream satin fashioned to complement that worn by the bride. The low necklines were outlined with folds of satin which formed the cap sleeves, the very full skirts were attached to light fitting bodices and they wore matching horsehair tail-hats. Long mums made of matching satin and crushed early to the elbow completed their costumes. The maid of honor carried an arm bouquet of coral pink chrysanthemums accented with satin ribbon and silk. The bridesmaid's flowers were in pale yellow arranged as the maid of honor's bouquet. Sharon Dee Moore's taper for lighting the wedding tapers rested in a nosegay of yellow cecubus.

Woodrow Ireland served his brother as best man and groomsmen were John Estes of Plainfield and Donald Hensley. Witnesses were Wayne Phillips and Charles Hill.

Bride Wears White The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal white gown of slipper satin made with portrait neckline and yoke of illusion draped with folds of the material fitting over the shoulders, and with long pearl point sleeves. Tiny self covered buttons outlined the center back of the bodice with cupped folds of the material outlining the long, low waistline and forming washed ends in the back. Overlapping, petal-like folds extended the length of the skirt giving the full skirt a slim silhouette effect. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a Mrs. Stuart cap trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a single white orchid arranged with Stephanotis on her Rainbow Bible. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Slagle, mother of the bride wore navy with a winter-bank felt hat and Mrs. Ireland, black with black accessories and fur stole. Both wore gardenia corsages.

Seated within the ribbons with other members of the two families were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ireland of Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams of Panhandle.

Reception Is Held The bride's parents were hosts at a reception honoring the couple immediately after the ceremony.

The bride's table, laid with white satin damask, was centered with three white tall tapers rising from tufts of orchid tulle arranged with tiny cushion mums. The wedding cake, topped with sugar-spun orchids, was encircled with tufted tulle and the punch bowl, mirrored on a silver stand, was wreathed with maiden-hair fern and orchid cushion mums. Helen Aker and Barbara Burney presided. Others assisting in the dining room were Mesdames Woodrow Ireland, Troy Moore, Howard Gault and J. B. Noland.

The bride's going away ensemble was a brown men's-wear woolen suit worn with brown made accessories with an orchid, from her bridal bouquet, corsage.

After a ten day trip to San Antonio and other Texas points the couple will return to Hereford to live. The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended N.T.S.C. at Danton and Texas Technological College, Lubbock. Before her marriage she was employed at the First National Bank. Mr. Ireland is also a graduate of Hereford High School and before entering the armed service attended Texas Tech. He served four years in the Army Air Corps with three years in overseas duty. The couple will live on his farm near Hereford.

Other out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williams, Panhandle; Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Boyles and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Forester of Amarillo; Mrs. Perry Graham, Mrs. Will Wright, and Mrs. A. ## Bay View Club Hears About The Land Of The Northwest In Imaginary Tour

In a program built around the theme "Let Us Show You the Great Northwest," members of the Bay View Club heard "Cities of the Northwest" and the book "Evergreen Land" by Nard Jones discussed at length Thursday afternoon when a meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Henry Benson.

Mrs. Frances Houston told of the cities of the Northwest as she conducted an imaginary tour through Washington and Oregon, leaving Spokane which was the city beautiful center for the state for four consecutive years, and is the home of Henry Kaiser and Bing Crosby. Over the Cascade Mountains and across the largest floating bridge in the world and to Seattle with its universities and colleges, art museums and a stop at the public market on the water front and on again to Portland, largest city in the Northwest. Mrs. Houston described this city as presenting a picture of cultivation and repose, concluding the trip at Tacoma, the tide-water terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Mrs. Roy Ford reviewed the book which has been chosen as the author's finest work. "With a keen sense of humor he takes the reader traveling along while he paints a portrait of one of the last frontiers," Mrs. Ford said.

A description of Washington State was highlighted by the comparison drawn between the Eastern and Western portions of the state. The story of the exploration of the Oregon Territory and of its Indian population was combined with tales of winter sports, fishing and skiing at the same time, the tulip blossom and daffodil fields and even stories of land so dense in forest that it has never been touched by the sun. The author describes the colorful apple blossom festival, the rodeos, Messianic festival, the rodeos, the Salmon Derby and the County Fairs held often by the ### St. Thomas' Episcopal Church Starts Enquirer's Course For Public Thurs.

The first of a series of lectures answering such questions as what is the faith and practice of the Protestant Episcopal Church, what is the history of the Episcopal church, and others will be held Thursday, October 27. Future meetings will be held on a suitable day and hour for those attending this week.

Rev. Henry Seaman, Vicar of the local mission, will instruct the course.

Mr. Seaman recently pointed out that these classes are ordinarily attended by those desiring confirmation into the church but the public, as a whole, is invited. This class will be known as an Enquirer's class and anyone interested in religious discussion will be welcome and under no obligation to become a member. Those who have no active affiliation with a church are especially invited.

Mr. Seaman is particularly well qualified for this type of instruction. Prior to the war he graduated from the University of the South at Sewanee, Tennessee. During the war he served as commanding officer of a navy mine sweeper in the Pacific. Last June he graduated from Virginia Theological Seminary. He is the son of The Rt.

Rev. E. C. Seaman, retired bishop in the Episcopal church and long-time resident of Amarillo.

The local church has been organized little more than a year. In that time the lot at Ninth and 25-Mile Avenue was secured and a church building moved from Spur. The church exterior was painted and a carpet laid. Landscaping the lot has been held up pending the installation of sidewalks and curbs around the lot. This work is now in progress. Curtis Tra-week, warden of St. Thomas' Church, reports that the local church is on a sound financial footing. The lot and building are paid for and funds necessary for the immediate improvement program are on hand.

Morning prayer service is held each Sunday morning at 8 o'clock and church school is at 10 o'clock.

The buffet table was lighted by pumpkin-face lanterns and miniature stalks of grain were interspersed along the table's length.

Miss Allen recently made a trip to New York City to attend Broadway plays. In her review of two plays, "Anne of a Thousand Days" and "Mr. Roberts," Miss Allen gave reasons for their popularity; most outstanding are the use of the revolving stage, ability of the casts, and beauty of costumes.

Mrs. David Rodgers reported the purchase of two new books for the library. Refreshments were served to members, Mrs. Carl Wimberley, Mrs. Gayle Neal, Mrs. H. H. Millre, Mrs. Alfred May, Mrs. David Rodgers, Mrs. A. T. Frye, Mrs. H. V. McCabe, Mrs. Melvin May, Mrs. Zed Stewart, Mrs. Floyd Walton, Mrs. William Wimberley and Miss Lynn Allen.

Texans in Washington

Washington (AP) — A Texas woman is one of the authorities on the farm bill pushed through Congress in its closing days of this year's session.

She is Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo, executive officer of the House Agriculture Committee.

She has the privilege of sitting in the House during debate on farm legislation, and goes there armed with facts and figures. It's her job to have them ready when a congressman on the committee may be called upon suddenly to back up a statement about the need or effect of some law.

Since 1933 Mrs. Clark has been accumulating a knowledge of farm and ranch problems. Her fresh outlook, twinkling blue eyes and brown hair belie her age; she has a recently-married son employed with Hawaiian Airlines in Honolulu.

Born in Iowa, Mrs. Clark went to Texas "as soon as I was old enough to show good judgment," to use her own words.

She was working as purchasing agent for the Panhandle Lumber Co. in its general offices at Amarillo, when she got a chance to come to Washington in 1933. Her boss at the time, John E. Hill, was a good friend of the then Panhandle Congressman Marvin Jones. When Jones became chairman of the House Agriculture Committee he offered Mrs. Clark a position on the staff.

From 1933 to 1940 the friendly Texas woman stayed with the Agriculture Committee. Then the veteran Representative Jones was appointed to the U. S. Court of Claims, where he is now Chief Justice.

Mrs. Clark then was employed by Judge Jones' successor, Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock. She went back to the Agriculture Committee staff at the beginning of this year, to become its executive officer.

It was during her years on the committee when it was headed by Judge Jones that Congress enacted most of the basic farm legislation in effect today — dealing with the AAA (now embodied in the Production and Marketing Administration), the Soil Conservation Service, crop insurance, Farm Security Administration, Farm Credit Administration and Commodity Credit Corporation.

Around the Capital:

A slender oak, some 15 feet high, grows now on the lawn out in front of the House of Representatives' wing of the Capitol.

It's officially designated the "Rayburn Oak," and Texas' own Sam Rayburn tossed on the first shovel of dirt that finished its being transplanted there recently. One other tree in the past was officially named after a Speaker, but Rayburn is the only one holding that office ever to actually take part in a transplanting ceremony, of the kind.

As he shoveled the dirt, an onlooker commented that just a few months ago and only a few yards away they felled the giant "Washington Elm" that had been transplanted there by the nation's first president.

"Wonder what things around here and in our country will look like when the 'Rayburn Oak' is felled if it dies of old age," mused the spectator.

Rep. Lindley Beekworth of Gladewater says he is getting results from his concerted drive to make the various branches of the Armed services aware of the good taste and nutrition of plain old black-eyed peas.

The first report he has gotten back on results of tests being initiated at various military centers throughout the country came from Connally Air Base of Waco. There it was found that 70 per cent of the boys served them like black-eyed peas. The 30 per cent who didn't came largely from northern and eastern states and had never eaten nor heard of them.

The Poney Express was known as the marvel of the Sixties.

Roberson Installs Refrigeration For Hospital Addition

Roberson Distributing company which has sold refrigeration, commercial and domestic as well as Home Freezers in this territory since coming to Hereford in 1945 as distributors for the Genuine Sioux City Win-charger, installed the refrigeration system in Deaf Smith County Hospital.

After serving the territory near here for three years they expanded, taking in territory including New Mexico, Arizona, the Panhandle of Oklahoma and Texas. The expansion was the factor forcing the company to move into Amarillo for a more centrally located general office.

They bought out the Johnson Refrigeration when they made the move.

Bob Wear Speaks To Amarillo Club

"There isn't much to be gained by fighting and dying for liberty unless those who are alive and remain are diligent in their efforts to live for liberty," said Bob Wear in his address before the Optimist Club in Amarillo Thursday noon.

In discussing the subject, "The Price of Liberty" Mr. Wear continued, "The hardships, sufferings, heartaches and bloodshed of our founding fathers and of those who have participated in the wars which were fought to bring into being and preserve the American way of life must become a large part of the 'price of liberty.' The liberty we use and enjoy was purchased at great price, and if it is retained by us and preserved for our posterity we must pay the price of everlasting watchfulness and diligent endeavor.

There are several dangers threatening our liberty. Some of the dangers are: communism, socialism, the movement to unite church and state and the growing octopus of governmental control. We must be on guard against these and all else which abridges individual freedom, or interferes with our system of 'free enterprise.' We must be well informed if we are to remain free. Christ was speaking of religious matters when he said, 'You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free,' but this principle applies in the matter of our civil citizenship, also. God said of his people, on one occasion, 'My people have perished because of a lack of knowledge.' We must be well informed in order to maintain a government by, of and for the people.

LAYMEN'S VIEWPOINT FROM A STRETCHER—(Pretending you came into Deaf Smith County Hospital on your back, here's how it might happen)—(from the top down), If you arrive by ambulance they will carry you in this ambulance entrance on the east end of the hospital. If you are an emergency case you'll be taken into the emergency room where John Hamby is posing while RN's Mrs. Vida Grady and Miss Lillie Hoover are checking a pulse or something. But if you aren't an emergency, you'll either end up in the next room which is the new operating room with the most modern equipment possible or in the one below that, which is the delivery room. Mrs. Pearl Dickerson, RN, and Mrs. Louise Zumwalt are in this picture. If that won't take care of you, there's probably something wrong with you, not the hospital. Miss Hazel Querry, RN, lab technician might be able to find out in the new technician's laboratory in the bottom picture, otherwise from a laymen's viewpoint your's is probably a lost cause.

Good Management Causes County Hospital To Be One Of The Few In State That Breaks Even

By JOHN SCOTT

Elmer Mathis, manager of Deaf Smith County hospital, likes his job just fine were it not for the fact that everytime something goes wrong people always come running to him about it. He says that is his job, alright, but he would rather do his accounting work than anything else.

Mathis, who took over the job of running the hospital January 1, 1947, "has been about everything." He once had a fleet of trucks and operated a truck line out of Crosbyton, Texas. From 1944 until February 1946 he was accountant for the Prisoner of War post exchange. He handled the bulk of the liquidation of the camp when it shut down in 1946.

Although born March 21, '900 in Oklahoma, Mathis has spent most of his life in Texas. He graduated from Crosbyton High School and attended Texas A&M for two years. He farmed for a time near Crosbyton before coming to Hereford in 1925. In 1938 he graduated from an accounting school in California.

Worked in Bank
In Hereford he worked for the First National Bank, Blanton Butane and the Army before going with the hospital. He works at the job he has now anywhere from 14 to 16 hours a day fixing things that go wrong and trying to find people who have left without paying their bills.

"I like my work with the hospital just fine. I think it is fascinating and I certainly enjoy working with people. I think I like accounting work, alone, better though," Mathis said.

"People come to me when they can't pay their bills and it is my job to judge whether or not they are good risks."

"The hospital has lost quite a good deal of money from people who run out without settling up," he said. He added that it is the county who loses money when they don't pay. The financial-customer end of his work is what Mathis likes least.

He said he was proud of his hospital because there was not a glaring deficit at the end of every year as in the case of most county hospitals. He explained that most county hospitals were losing money.

621 Babies Born
The manager has recorded the number of births since he came on as head man. Before that very little record was kept. He said that 621 babies had been born since January 1, 1947. Since the first of this year, 167 of these have been born.

He will be glad when another story is added because, he says, the place is badly overcrowded now. If and when the other story is added he is certain that the situation will be under control for several years. Most of the addition would be in rooms.

Mathis says that, on the average, most of the patients are very nice.

"Some will jump all over you and tell you what all has gone wrong and then some will come up so nice and tell you they had the best service ever offered in any hospital," he said. "I don't pay any attention to any of them."

But he is still looking forward to the time when his job will be, mainly, book work.

New $250,000 Hospital Addition Will Be Open To Public Sunday

The public will get a chance to view the new Deaf Smith County hospital $250,000 addition at open house Sunday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. Punch and cookies will be served to the visitors.

The hospital now boasts 36 beds with the added facilities. A new operating room, emergency room, X-ray lab and the new kitchen are a part of the improvements.

Hospital officials say conditions are crowded, however, in spite of the additional room. Paving and a possible ground story are practically a necessity already. It is said the hospital could use the additional beds another 13 rooms would provide. The need of a driveway was shown when the driver of the car bringing Mary Lou Cannon to the hospital drove around the block twice trying to find the way in. He finally had to carry the girl almost a half a block to get her to the emergency room.

Donations from many organizations made up the $250,000 spent on improvements. Manager Elmer Mathis said that $2,000 of the needed $4,000 for paving was already on hand.

Kitchens Are Popular Regardless Of Where You Are -- At Home Or Hospital

Most popular spot in Deaf Smith County hospital is the kitchen right across the hall from Manager Mathis' office. There one may see the nurses gathered drinking tomato juice or coffee around breakfast time every morning.

The efficient kitchen is under the direction of 31-year-old Mrs. Evelyn Francis. She prepares the schedules for meals and maps out the various diets for patients and buys groceries for the entire hospital. Her work requires a good mind and a knack of working with all types of people. She must keep patients happy.

Mrs. Francis likes her job. She was well prepared for it when she took over Jan. 1, 1948. Born in New Mexico she insists she is a true Texan.

H. H. S. Graduate
She graduated from Hereford High School in 1936 and got her B. S. in Home Economics Education from Texas Tech. She worked in Abilene and in Wheeler county with the Home Demonstration Agencies before she married in 1942. She has a boy, Jerry Paul Francis, age 6. When she came to Hereford Hospital she was working for Nieman Marcus in Dallas.

One of the best possessions of the hospital in Mrs. Francis' opinion is the freezer purchased enabling the hospital to save great amounts on food, especially meats.

Average costs to patients for meals in the hospital is second lowest in the state of Texas. Smart food handling accounts for this. The patient gets well prepared meals from a spotless kitchen for his money.

Measures Food In Grams
Assisting Mrs. Francis in the kitchen is Mrs. W. H. Craig, Mrs. L. E. White, Mrs. Lon Harrison, Mrs. Elinora Woolsey and Mrs. Pearl Pursefield. Only Mrs. Woolsey and Mrs. Pursefield have been with the hospital under a year's time.

Mrs. White said that "the most trouble comes when the food has to be measured out in grams for the patient's consumption." This is due to various conditions of the persons eating.

The operations on food start about six every morning and they are supposed to be closed up by seven in the evening. Potato peelers, dish washers and other modern gadgets help make the kitchen one of the best up to date.

There is always something to do there, though. Mrs. White said that no one ever had any time to sit down.

More compliments than complaints have come into the kitchen. The patients are all very nice. The people who work in the kitchen are a pleasant group to work with. Any one of them will say they think so.

Steady Growth Of Hereford Hospitals During Past Twenty-Eight Years Signifies Progress

Hereford's first hospital was born when four doctors, all now dead, bought the old Savoy Hotel from Mr. C. H. Carl in 1921. The four doctors were Dr. G. H. LeGrand, Dr. J. W. Hicks, Dr. Floyd Gabbert and Dr. W. A. Price. Dr. Price was the head doctor.

One year later on July 4, 1922, Dr. Price died. His one regret was not being able to see the hospital fully developed. The fine Deaf Smith County hospital today, with its future additions, was the dream of Dr. Price.

Homer Wilkinson played an important role in the first hospital as Chairman of the Hospital Board. Edgar Sowell also helped to no small degree in all aide phases of the hospital. First nurse, although she was not a registered nurse, was Mrs. A. D. Godwin. Major operations were performed in her home and she accompanied the more serious cases to the larger hospital in Amarillo.

First Bond Issue
Upon Dr. Price's death, his wife (now Mrs. John P. Slaton of Hereford) was called in to take over to supervise and manage the hospital. It was through her efforts that a petition was circulated to obtain names for presenting a bond election for a new hospital. The bond carried.

Nurses in the old hospital were Mrs. Barbara Ward who had just graduated from Baylor University, and Mrs. Ruthia Smith from Portales, N. M. Mr. Smith became head nurse. Both were moved into the new building.

On March 6, 1924 the Commissioners Court announced that the new hospital would be erected on a block and a half of land lying in East Hereford between Third and Fourth Streets and between the U. D. C. Park and the home of Dr. J. W. Hicks.

The firm of Sangrelet, Statts and Hedrick of Fort Worth was employed as architects to build the hospital. The construction was to be for service first, with a south front. Operating rooms were to be placed to the north to obtain soft even light.

Opened In 1925
Deaf Smith's new hospital was formally opened and dedicated January 22, 1925. Mrs. Price (now Mrs. John P. Slaton) quit soon after in June of that year. She said she stayed "long enough to get the place running like it ought to run." She considers the hospital her "child" as it was her first husband's and her own fondest dream.

The new building had 10 beds when completed. In the basement lived the nurses and other employees. This served for a while until conditions became crowded. Each when the old Savoy Hotel Hospital was in service, if they had four patients they were really doing business. Now the trend had turned the other way and there was a marked lack of space.

The lower part of the building was then made into a part of the actual hospital making it a 17-bed institution.

Until April of 1948, the hospital operated in that form. Crowded conditions arose again, however, and addition was necessary in the eyes of the public.

ing of the new addition finds almost the same conditions that prompted the enlargement in the first place. Envisioning you will not see an empty room. One lady was having to occupy a room that was almost a part of the hall.

This hospital does not have the enormous deficit that are common to most hospitals. This year the hospital broke even in finances. That is a good mark for a county hospital. Much of this good showing can be credited to the efficient management of Mr. Elmer Mathis. He made the company some money during one of his first years in the position.

Hope For Another Floor
All who are familiar with the hospital hope that, soon, another story can be added. The building is constructed so that the only building necessary would be the constructing of the walls and ceiling as the present roof is already made of as a floor. This act was the result of looking ahead of the original builders.

The present staff consists of four doctors, Dr. R. R. Wills, Dr. L. B. Barnett, Dr. M. W. Nobles and Dr. E. E. Rush. Fifteen registered nurses and 10 nurses aides are required to run the place.

Dr. Wills, who has been there since 1929 is now attending a surgery school in New York.

The hospital kitchen, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Francis, turns out delicious and nourishing food to the patients. It is one of the more pleasant aspects.

Manager Mathis says that the other floor will be a necessity one day. Ever increasing demand for rooms and attention have made the conditions almost crowded before opening the present addition for the public inspection.

Ber Chemical Company Watches West Texas

Ber Chemical company of Dallas, Texas, supplies disinfectant, insecticides, soaps, waxes and janitor supplies for concerns all over West Texas and eastern New Mexico, including Deaf Smith County Hospital.

The company was incorporated three years ago by Joe L. Berg, president and his son, Lee H. Berg. Mr. Joe Berg organized the Ber Chemical company after spending twenty years in the maintenance supply field. The majority of his time before this was spent in organizing and making direct contact to the users of this merchandise, finding out the basis of what is important in keeping a good maintenance program. His knowledge of this business is said to be unsurpassed in the southwest, and the majority of his time was spent while in the field of securing a good program and good materials for floor protection.

Since he organized the Ber Chemical Company the majority of his time has been spent in office management and the development of new products and new ideas, and the building of a well instructed sales program. Mr. Joe Berg has spent the majority of his time however, working toward the maintenance setup for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

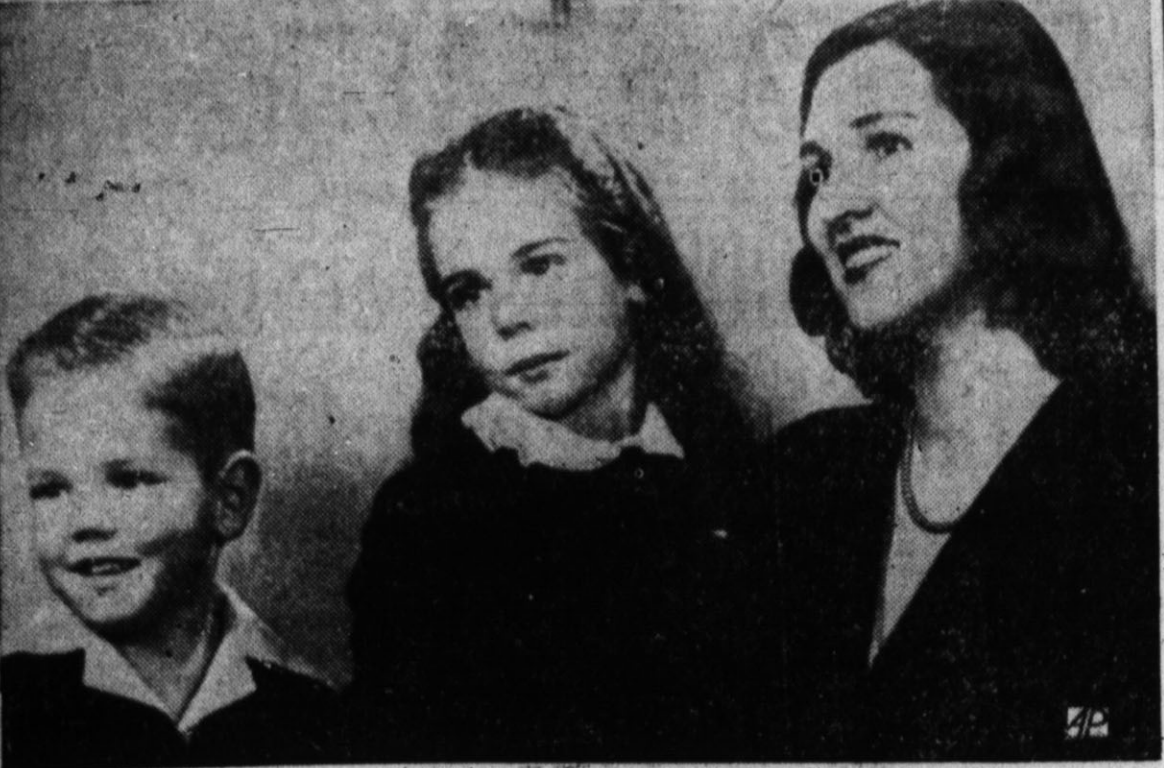

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hedrick have returned from Dallas where they attended the Texas-Oklahoma football game and from Palestine where they visited Mrs. Hedrick's daughter, Mrs. Lamar Hamilton and family. Mrs. Hedrick's brother, Lev Frederick of Palestine came home with them for a short visit here.

$15,000 Bond Issue
Construction of the proposed additions was assured by Deaf Smith County Commissioners when they moved to issue $36,000 in time warrants to make the difference between the $150,000 bond issue passed by the voters.

Oysters Only In Months With R's Is Disclaimed

AUSTIN, Texas — Some people claim oysters are good only during the months which have R in their spelling. But the Texas State Health Department says oysters are not safe any month, with or without the R. If the seafood has not been cultivated, shucked, packed and shipped under sanitary conditions. Texas' veteran state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says oysters have much to commend them as a source of food. "They have protein of good quality, iron, and copper, (important as a protection against anemia), iodine, which is essential to proper working of the thyroid gland, and a fair amount of vitamins," Cox says. Eat he adds emphatically, "Beware of uncertified oysters." According to the doctor, each oyster grower in Texas is given a certificate of approval for the oyster beds he uses, provided health department officials find the beds are free from pollution, and the shucking houses are clean and well-kept. Otherwise, no certificate. Each shucking house, (where oysters are opened) must have a certificate showing all employees are free from communicable diseases, especially typhoid fever. The certificates are issued annually. The Federal government cooperates with the State by keeping a list of all certified shippers in Texas. If a shipper isn't certified by the State Health Department his oysters can't be shipped in interstate commerce. And since Texas has some fine oyster beds, Dr. Cox says the interstate commerce ruling is an incentive for oyster shippers to adhere to sanitary practices.

Otherwise they miss the out-of-state market. That's the situation on oyster sanitation from a man who knows. So don't look at the calendar when you order oysters. Ask the seller if his product is certified by the proper health officials. ATTEND PRESBYTERIAL In Amarillo Wednesday to attend the annual Fall Presbyterian were members of the Hereford's Woman's Council of the Presbyterian Church, included Mesdames Henry Hastings, Vern Witherspoon, Lee Conklin, Bruce Wooddeil, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., William F. Smith, Pete Cowart, Paul Mathers and D. H. Alexander. Guests of the Amarillo Woman's Council, the group at open house at the Manse and visited the Children's Home in the afternoon.

HIPPOCRATIC OATH

I swear by Apollo, the physician, by Aesculapius, by Hygieia, Panacea, and all the gods and goddesses, that according to my ability and judgment I will keep this oath and stipulation: to reckon him who teaches me this art equally dear with my parents; to share my substance with him and to relieve his necessities if required; to look upon his offspring upon the same footing as my own brothers; and to teach them this art if they shall wish to learn it, without fee or stipulation; and that by precept, lecture, and by every other mode of instruction I will impart a knowledge of this art to my own sons, to those of my teachers, and to disciples bound by a stipulation and oath, according to the law of medicine, but to no others. I will follow that system of regimen which, according to my best judgment, I consider best for my patients and abstain from whatever is injurious. I will give no deadly medicine to any one if asked nor suggest any such counsel. Furthermore, I will not give to a woman an instrument to procure abortion. With purity and holiness will pass my life and practice my art. I will not cut a person who is suffering with stone, but will leave this to be done by those who are practitioners of such work. Into whatever houses I enter I will go for the advantage of the sick and will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption, and, further, from the seduction of females or males, bond or free. Whatever in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it, I may see or hear, I will not divulge, holding that all such things this oath inviolate, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of my art, respected always by all men; but should I break through and violate this oath, may the reverse be my lot.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
T. J. McGill, Olton in Lamb County, arrived and his was the first bale of cotton to come out of the new Hereford cotton gin. Cotton was really getting started in Hereford about that time. Sam F. Dunn, who had maintained for years that he would move to Arizona when this became cotton country drifted with the current and enthusiastically over the prospects of cotton. He authorized the Brand to say that he had no intention of moving to Arizona now, and that he would stay and devote all his time to inspection of various types of cotton that could be grown here. Brand reporters said that the price offered for the first bale was from three dollars to four dollars more than offered at any other railroad point.

George Burns sold his interest in the drug store and his residence in Hereford to E. B. Orr in consideration of which Mr. Burns becomes possessor of Mr. Orr's well improved section of land and cattle 13 miles north of town. Best part, according to Brand, Hereford would lose neither of these fine citizens. The new gin machinery arrived by railroad from Dallas and was to be added to the still new gin as early as possible. J. C. Cox, one of Hereford's oldest and most respected citizens, died. George Burch, who had been down east picking cotton, returned home to help his brother, Ollie Burch, with the feed crop. Maple Daniel returned from Gainesville and informed a Brand reporter that an agricultural exhibit, grown and sent to Gainesville by A. J. Thompson of Hereford, took the premium at the street fair in that city. Brand said that Cook is a splendid county but when it comes to the production of fine vegetables she must of necessity give way to Deaf Smith county where cabbage has been accused of growing wild. The season's last excursion to Ft. Worth via the Denver Road was to be run October 30, 1904. Troy Womble had the best coal and ice. Brand was authorized to present to the voters the name of L. R. Bradley as candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of this precinct. Judge T. S. Barnett moved back to Whitesboro because, although he thrived on this climate, his wife couldn't. The safe of the Hereford Business College was blown open and all was saved by the early arrival of a new unnamed student. That was the year President T. Roosevelt invited the world powers who participated in the Hague Treaty to convene again for the purpose of broadening and strengthening the agreement, eliminating the possibilities of horrors and barbarous practices of modern warfare. In 1904 Hereford Lodge 849 AF and AM met Saturday evenings on or before the full of each moon. Bell Brothers were putting up citizen's stoves on short notice with no risks of bad pipes and flues and were also saving money. Mrs. Mary Stambaugh, Weston, returned home after a two-weeks visit with her son, George A. Stambaugh, in response to a message of illness in her family. T. J. Graves visited his former home, Waxahachie, to dispose of his black lands. Troy and Clarence Womble were suffering from an attack of typhoid fever. Mrs. J. C. Newman and children returned from an Indiana vacation to be with her husband who was confined to bed with fever. Frank Oyler returned from a visit to his old home in Chicago. W. B. Beach went to Dimmitt to look after his Castro county interests. G. A. F. Parker was in Bovina on business.

THREE MORE AMENDMENTS FOR NOV. ELECTION

Lunacy Hearings, Women On Juries And New Ruling To Permit More District Court Freedom Described

(Ten proposed changes in the Texas constitution are to be voted on at the polls Nov. 8. Three of them are discussed in the following article, the third in a series).

By MAC ROY RASOR Associated Press Staff Austin, Texas (AP) — Should women serve on juries?

That question is one of three posed by three constitutional amendments aimed at changing court procedures in Texas. Voters will decide on them at the polls Nov. 8.

The other two judiciary amendments propose (1) to remove necessity for juries in lunacy trials and (2) to allow the legislature to pass laws providing exceptions to the requirements that district judges hold all proceedings in the county seat where a case is pending.

Women jury service was the victim of long and loud debate and filibuster in the legislature. The amendment provides that persons should neither be denied nor excused from jury service because of their sex.

Opponents hang to the time-tested argument that a woman's place is in the home, that few court houses have facilities for women jurors, and that the so-called weaker sex should be protected from the sordidness of criminal trials.

Proponents pooh-pooh this reasoning for modern-day womanhood, argue that there is no valid reason why this one citizenship function should be withheld from women, who have taken their place alongside men in all other citizenship functions and in business, professions and politics.

Last on the ballot, the proposition is worded: "FOR (AGAINST) the amendment to the state Constitution qualifying women as grand and petit jurors."

Removal of required juries in insanity hearing is argued on that basis that the mentally ill should be entitled to benefit of treatment without the stigma of being adjudged insane in open court.

Provision for a mandatory jury trial would be preserved by the amendment, however, if there is a single request for it. It would also be required that the person under inquiry be notified of his right to demand a trial by jury. If there is any criminal offense involved, trial by jury would also still be required.

Proponents contend that mental illness itself is no crime and that Texas is the only state holding to the mandatory jury trial procedure. Opponents cling to the concept of trial by jury no matter what the question.

No. 9 on the ballot, the proposal will read

"FOR (AGAINST) the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that the legislature may provide for trials without a jury in lunacy cases."

The seventh proposition on the ballot will read:

"FOR (AGAINST) the constitutional amendment providing that the district court shall conduct its proceedings at the county seat of the county in which the case is pending, except as otherwise provided by law."

The existing constitutional requirement that two regular terms of court must be held annually at the county seat of each county in the district would be retained.

Adoption of the amendment would otherwise open the road to the legislature to pass whatever laws it considered necessary regarding court terms and sessions and rules connected therewith.

For example, it would permit a law under which a district judge could issue orders affecting cases in other counties in the district without necessarily going to those county seats to do it. The proposal has drawn little, if any, public controversy.
