

Around Town

Things were happening pretty fast around the Sheriff's office when they closed at noon Saturday—but nothing like the bedraggled crew is expecting Monday and Tuesday, the two final days in which to get 1953 license plates. A total of 2,300 tags had been issued to noon Saturday. This gave the office a count of 586 tags issued since last Tuesday. Statistics indicate, however, that upward from 1,600 tags are to be secured here Monday and Tuesday. A total of 3,969 went out in 1952, and the state estimated from that point up to 4,000 this year, due to population increases.

All of which is beside the point, however, since the 1953 tags are required by law on vehicles which are driven after Tuesday, March 31.

Oil excitement seemed to have simmered down toward the end of the week, and general rumors were that some of the sponsors were wearing "long faces" following the core test at 5,600 feet. Drilling continued on toward the contracted 8,600 feet, however.

Anyone in Hereford who wishes to donate books to boys in service may take them to the local Selective Service office, 323 North Sampson, and the books will be mailed free of charge to the boys, according to Mrs. A. Petersen, clerk.

Chief Earl Phillips has been scheduled his one of a five-man Round Table discussion at the Fifth Annual Instructor's Conference for Firemen in Lubbock April 20-23, inclusive. A $75 donation from the Santa Fe has also been reported by the department as a result of their run into Friona a few weeks back, when Santa Fe lost two baggage cars.

The annual school census is drawing to a close. Supt. George Graham said today. He also asked that any person missed in the census call 1387, the superintendent's office. Figures on the census will be released as soon as they have been compiled he said.

Westway community members of the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau will meet at the Westway Community house on March 31 at 8 o'clock. Grant Hanna, membership chairman, urged all members to be present.

A Latin American cafe will again be open in Hereford in the near future. Lease was closed on the building adjoining the Texas Theatre this week by Ernesto and Louis Llerena, who will operate the cafe. They said that they will specialize in Mexican dishes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Estes left Friday to spend the week-end in Lawton, Okla., with his brother, Capt. Clifford Estes and family. Capt. Estes is stationed at Ft. Sill.

Recently moved into the Evans building, 323 North Sampson, is the Hereford Credit Union, formerly located in the courthouse. Mrs. Dyaithia Bradley is manager.

Jay Crutchfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Crutchfield, was recently promoted from the rank of corporal to sergeant at Kemper Military School, Booneville, Mo., where he is a student.

Mrs. Jessie Price announces opening of her gift shop, 513 Park Ave., April 4. Mrs. Price says in addition to door prizes, free skin analysis will be offered all visitors.

Winners of the prizes at M. and M. Plumbing company recently were Fred Muller, who won a 17-inch TV set, and Mrs. Wayne Qualls, who won the 5-piece dinette set.

Correction: Four names were omitted from the joint meeting of Wyche and South Hereford clubs recently. Also attending from Wyche were Mrs. Raymond Paetzold, Mrs. V. P. Walker, Mrs. Duane Walker and Mrs. E. C. Hewett, Jr.

Deadline for absentee voting of the coming school trustee election will be Tuesday, March 31. The election will be held on April 4. Absentee ballots may be obtained at the school tax office in the courthouse, according to Fred Baird, tax assessor.

Perryton Pastor Tells Lions Of Church League Athletic Program

Outlining an Athletic program for community youth, Rev. J. W. McKinney of Perryton, Wednesday, told of successful sponsorship of a Church League by the Ministerial Alliance in his home town, where he is pastor of the Christian Church. He spoke before the Hereford Lions Club, also relating experience with similar programs in Winfield, Kansas.

The program basically calls for two sports, basketball and baseball and in Perryton has been confined to boys. The girls are asking for a program also he said, and indicated that such a program may be added soon.

Has Fixed Rules
The Church League in Perryton operates with fixed rules, according to Rev. McKinney, and is sponsored in cooperation with the Ranger Club.

Rosters are submitted by each of the churches. A boy, to join the team of another church than his own, must secure permission. Once he starts on a roster, he cannot change. Each church furnishes equipment and uniforms—if any—for its own team. The league is divided into one group of boys ages 9, 10, 11, and another group 12, 13, 14.

John Lee Jones Funeral Sunday In Vega Church

Funeral services for John Lee Jones of Vega, father of Mrs. Charles Cogdell of Hereford, will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist church in Vega by L. E. Godwin.

Interment will be in the Vega cemetery under the direction of Gilliland Funeral home.

Mr. Jones died Friday morning, March 27, at 11 o'clock in Hereford. Mr. Jones was born on May 9, 1871 in Flippin, Ark. He married Annie Bunde in 1893 in Yelleville, Ark. and they came to Texas in 1920 from Oklahoma.

Pall-bearers will be: John Halliburton, John Ivy, J. T. Singleton, Zeb Hammer, Joe Scott, Joe Montgomery.

New Class In Home Nursing Is Popular Course For Girls

There are a total of 39 high school girls enrolled in two home nursing classes which are being taught by the home economics teacher, Mrs. Tommy Hulsey, this semester.

The course was made possible through the Red Cross office in Hereford, who sent Mrs. Hulsey to Texas Tech last summer for an instructors short course in home nursing.

The Red Cross office under the direction of Dyaithia Bradley had been trying for years to get the course in Hereford, according to Corinne Jennings, present secretary of the organization.

The course teaches the girls how to make a patient in the home comfortable and how is the best way to care for a person, who has to stay in bed.

Hereford Schools To Be Out Friday

Hereford schools will dismiss Friday, April 3, to allow an extra day for Easter. School will convene again Monday, April 6.

The Easter holiday period will be shorter this year, due to loss of several days this winter because of a snow storm and due to extra days lost during Christmas holidays, George Graham, superintendent, said.

Speech Class In League Contests

Hereford High school speech class entered their one-act play, "The Open Door" in the interscholastic league district competition in Canyon Saturday.

Members of the cast are: Terry McRight, John; Sharon Moore, Mary his wife; Marian Jo Wilson, Kate; David Stanton, Michael; and Robert Miller, Stephen.

Court Licenses Three Gas Lines To Cross Roads

A delayed session of the Commissioners Court Thursday afternoon resulted in little activity. J. T. Guinn, C. G. Richardson and Judge Horace L. Schloss formed the quorum with the other commissioners unable to attend.

Licenses, authority and permission was granted to Bob Cummings, B. T. Atchley and Chester Wiggins to construct, lay and bury a two-inch gas line across and under the county roads south of town. The pipe will cross from section 173, Block M-7, to section 10, Block B, and at similar points along the road, all three points in the same vicinity.

Since the owners are installing the pipe lines for their own convenience, the order said that they will be responsible for the line, leaving the county without liability. It was signed by all four commissioners.

Set Deputy Salaries
The court also supplemented the appointment of Ruth Loerwald as Chief Deputy clerk, fixing her salary at $210 per month, effective Feb. 1, 1953, and authorized the clerk to hire Mrs. Mary Jean Gore as part-time deputy four days per week, effective Feb. 1, 1953, at a salary of $140 per month.

Two election judges were appointed at the Thursday session. Sam Nunnally was named to succeed R. L. McGee, previously appointed judge in Precinct 2, who McGee notified the clerk he could not serve. W. F. Perry of the Adrian area was named to succeed Cord Hammock, Precinct 4, who also declined the appointment.

The commissioners completed details of the county depository and discussed the cooperative plan under which Oldham county has previously used a joint service officer with this county. No action was taken, however, pending a decision from Oldham County commissioners.

Funeral Service Held Saturday For Mrs. Melton

Funeral services for Effie Irene Melton were conducted Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Baptist church of Hereford with Rev. R. H. Cagle officiating.

Burial was in West Park cemetery under the direction of Gilliland funeral home and the Order of the Eastern Star lodge, who conducted special graveside rites.

Mrs. Melton died at the Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Friday morning, March 27, at 10:30 following illness of about two years.

Born on November 28 in San Saba, Texas, Effie Irene Waldron was married to Henry W. Melton on June 4, 1911, in Hedley, Texas.

The Meltons came to Deaf Smith county in August, 1930, from Miami, Texas.

Mrs. Melton was a member of the First Baptist church and was active in church and civic affairs during the 23 years she lived near Hereford. She was also a member of the Order of Eastern Star lodge in Hereford.

Lovejoy Believes Service Clubs Ideals Promote Lasting Peace

The ideals of Rotary and other service clubs was the theme here Friday of Dr. Phil Lovejoy, immediate past secretary of Rotary International and widely traveled citizen of Evanston, Ill., who spoke before 85 Rotarians and guests.

Dr. Lovejoy, known over the world as "Mr. Rotary", told of what other clubs were doing in the 84 countries which Rotary serves.

"Clean-up campaigns, recreation ships for nurses and even taking football players home after practice sessions, he pointed to as the varied community services which club members are performing each day.

"The average service club membership," Dr. Lovejoy listed at 50 members. "This indicates that most of our clubs are in smaller towns like Hereford," he declared, adding: "The small towns, not the cities, are the real backbone of our nation."

One In Free China
Dr. Lovejoy, recently made an honorary citizen of Texas by Gov. Allan Shivers, said that only one Rotary club still exists in Free China. This club, he said, is in Formosa and has recently asked for material with which to start five new clubs. Their reason, he said, was "Because the Rotary ideal must be kept alive in Free China."

He told of club activities in the Philippines, of the rapid spread of 100 clubs in Japan. He related how the "meat eaters" and the "vegetable eaters", always at odds in India, had been brought together through Rotary. He also cited the fact that Belgium and other countries which protested organizations of Rotary in Germany following World War II were now happy—and that members are recently visiting between the countries.

"Such relationship," said Dr. Lovejoy, "is the one and only way to achieve peace in the world."

Dr. Lovejoy also pointed out that a chief of the Fiji Islands was treasurer an ad from a Western Comic Book, planning to get his name stamped in gold on a billfold, according to the ad. "Many people," he continued, "are getting the wrong impression of America and Americans. They think we all

Riders Club Prepares For Annual Rodeo Here

"Seats for approximately 2,000 of Canada," they consider as an outstanding attraction. "Bull-dogging should also be tops," they figure, since Geo. Pedigrew is putting on a world championship contest at his place six miles north of Grady on May 30. The entries there, they calculate will also drift into Hereford to compete in the rodeo that night and the following day.

Volunteer crews were this week busy leveling and rebuilding the old East Side football bleachers, donated to the club "for hauling them away" when the school board decided to erect new stands. As the men worked, they were also talking about the coming rodeo.

Fire Penalty Is Protested Here On State Errors

Hereford will protest the recent establishment of a five percent penalty on fire insurance here, due to excessive losses in 1952, according to Fire Chief Earl Phillips and City Manager Grady Bowdry.

Grounds for the protest will be based upon the fact that the city believes the losses to have been erroneously calculated.

The State Commission established the five percent penalty upon a calculated total loss of $100,912. The local agencies feel that the true loss was only $48,599.87.

Error appears to have been made in calculating the Fraser Elevator fire June 2," Phillips pointed out. "This fire shows at a figure of $46,500 with one company then appears 10 more times in the reports in smaller amounts which also total $46,500. Since large policies of this type are generally resold into different companies, we feel that the community has been charged twice with the same fire."

The REA fire, July 23, was also protested as being shown in the report at $333.71, since the REA is located outside the city limits of Hereford.

"We do not know what action they will take," Phillips said, "but we do feel that there has been a clerical mistake, and have hopes that the situation may result in removal of the five percent penalty assessed against the community. It will mean considerable savings to the insurance buyers of the town."

Gonzales Named Deputy Sheriff

Appointment of Fred Gonzales as deputy sheriff was this week announced by Sheriff Lowell Sharp.

Gonzales, a former member of the San Antonio police force, will chiefly work in the Labor Camp, although his duties will extend to full authority of any deputy. Gonzales plans to work with his regular crews during the day and to assist with camp enforcement nights during the peak season.

As a part-time deputy, he will start on a salary of $100 per month, half of which is to be paid by the county and the other half by the Labor Camp. Camp officials are also fixing offices and quarters for the new deputy.

get divorces frequently and seem to have drawn wrong conclusions from stories and moving pictures. In conclusion, Dr. Lovejoy urged every citizen to get college students from other countries to visit in their homes for a week-end. He stressed the importance of not "doing anything fancy."

See How We Live

Just let them see how you really live. You folks are a cross-section of America," he said. "They will go back and tell their people the real truth about Americans."

American kitchens, he pointed out are the most unique of all developments to people from other countries. "Nowhere else in the world will you find kitchens like those in this country," he said—"and when they leave, give them a mail order catalog from one of the big companies. It is a revelation to people all over the world to know that Americans can buy these things when they please, and at a reasonable price."

Salinas Held On Bootleg Charges

Joe Salinas was arrested again Thursday on charges of selling intoxicating liquor in a dry county, and held in the county jail.

Salinas, released a few weeks ago on bond, also faces five other charges here, according to Sheriff Lowell Sharp.

By Kent Snare

From my hinge of the hypotenuse, angle to you, it takes little or nothing to put me back in "Memory Lane", haltingly, at this stage. Even my favorite apothecary can accomplish it, with small or no effect. He gave me for free, a tiny resumee of a happening back in his semi-boyhood, which I presumed occurred in the hinterlands of the territory, although it may have been recent enough to be entered in the annals of the state of Oklahoma. Altho at the rate he is shedding his teeth tends to create a reasonable doubt that he can, with candor, question the writer as to the state of his extensivity. . . . So as not to divagate further, back to his appendage, tale to you, it seems that the community where-in he dwelled, supported a baseball club, he did not elaborate as to its exact degree of quality. At any rate, they were in the habit of playing on the Sabbath, as well, as at other times. . . . So on one Sunday occasion when they journeyed to a neighboring village to contest one of their favorite (us-sailants, they were surprised, no little, to find that their pitching opponent was a flat-hatted adolescent. They, of course, knew of the existence of the Mennonite settlement in the vicinity, but they had no inkling that it contained a flinger of the hue and ability which was flung at them on that occasion, especially on the seventh day. My F. A. Sayeth not this character's cognomen, but he did emphasize the swift that he had on the horse hide, even to the extent of their not seeing it well, leave alone hitting it to any satisfactory degree. He also pinpointed the fact that this Amish tosser performed best sans footwear and that he pos-leaping, barefooted no less, into the atmosphere, high enough to kick his heels together, resoundingly, at least three times, on each leap an dthen zooming that apple in there. Suffice to say that the pharmacist's friends enjoyed no success, worthy of mention, on that occasion. Altho he indicated, tritely, that a rerun would have been disappointing to the bare-foot boy and his correspondents. Kidding aside, the apothecary said, the guy had it, and that's good enough for me, and as aforesaid, that put me back into the past and some of the pitchers who never hit the big time for more reasons than one, and the lack of ability, was not any of the reasons. You probably never heard of these characters, and that they were, one and all, and all pitchers. Ace Markwell, Newell Froese, John Pavonka, Bill Goff, Amos Duerking, Pint Falconer, known as pint, he having been all of 5 foot even and a 110 pounds, dripping.

Fancy and Plain

I recall that Pavonka on one try, against a good hitting aggregation, fastballing for 19 SO's, 18 free tickets to first and the sparse allocation of two hits, both round-trips and getting beat 4-1, even though he left futility rampant, around and about, with our so-called hitters. And I recall slippery Bill Goff allocating 16 hits and one run over 37 frames and decisioning Wid Matthews who yielded, graciously, 2 hits, both lappers, on the first ball and the last ball; that he threw that day. He was fit to be tied and nearly had to be. . . . It's a long time back but I can still see, Tex Carleton, with a 4 run lead, a lot of chips stacked, all eviating the bases clogged situation, by calmly tossing the ball over the grandstand, thereby clearing the sacks, and the tension, and

Household Workers Social Security Tax Is Explained

April 30th is the deadline on which social security payments for household workers for the first quarter of 1953 are due at the office of your Collector of Internal Revenue.

The federal law bringing household workers under the old-age and survivors insurance system went into effect January 1, 1951. However, lawyers say that many persons who employ help in their homes are still in the dark about requirements of the law.

Here are some provisions every one should know. Household workers covered by the law include maids, laundresses, housekeepers, cooks, nursemaids, gardeners, handymen, valets, footmen, grooms, chauffeurs of privately owned cars, practical nurses, and others.

Whether or not a household worker is included in the law depends on how many days she works and how much money she is paid. If the person works 24 days and earns $50 during any one of the three months periods into which the calendar year has been divided, a tax report must be filed and payment made.

Only cash wages are considered, which includes bus fare if paid in cash, but does not include bus tokens, clothing, room and board, or other noncash items furnished the employee. A domestic worker does not have to put in a full day to count on the 24 day rule — any portion of the day worked counts as a full day.

The rule is different for domestic workers on farms operated for profit. In such cases the domestic is considered a farm worker and is covered only if he or she meets the test for farm labor.

The tax in all amounts to 3 per cent of the cash wages paid. You, as an employer, must deduct one and one-half per cent from your household worker's cash wages if the person meets the 24 day, fifty dollar test. You then include another one and one-half per cent which is the employer's contribution. After the close of each specified three-month period you should send the tax, with a report of the wages paid, to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

These three-month periods, by quarters, end on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st. Reports and payments are due by the last day of the month following the close of each quarter. During any quarterly period that a household worker does not work 24 days or earn $50, the employer need not be concerned. You need not consider the work your employee performs for any other employer.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has a special household report form, printed on the back of a return envelope, which can be obtained from your Collector upon request. Just ask for Form 942.

Officer Warns On Home Hazard

Spring is the time of a home hazard hunt, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Accidents in the home are the second leading cause of accidental death in Texas. Each year about one thousand persons die as the result of accidents in the home.

Spring house cleaning time is a good time to remove the common hazards that cause so many home accidents. Attics, basements and closets accumulate piles of junk. Piles of papers, magazines, broken furniture and other combustible material are dangerous fire hazards. In addition, rats, mice, cockroaches and other pests thrive in trash heaps.

Loose throw rugs are notorious for causing falls. Toys and other objects scattered over the floors and stairway often cause falls. Check the electrical cords and see that they are in good shape. Frayed electric cords have caused fires and sometimes fatal shocks.

While rounding up piles of junk to throw away, don't forget to look into the garage, backyard and alleys. In your spring clean-up check your garbage can. Be sure that it is of metal and see that it has a tight fitting lid. Cooperate with your neighbor in seeing that the community disposes of all garbage and trash in a sanitary manner.

This general clean-up, if carried out all through the year, will reduce home accidents and sickness or death from such diseases as polio, typhoid fever, malaria, typhus and others.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR GROCERS

"He knows his groceries". How familiar that expression is. Yet few of us stop to consider that the corner grocery man, our grocery man, is one of the most important persons in our lives. He is a fine, value conscious merchant. He is on the job early and late. He serves you patiently no matter how difficult your food buying demands may be. His life is devoted to bringing you and your family good, nutritious things to eat, when you want them . . . and at fair prices. This city would be a most unhappy place were it not for the almost countless Grocers who keep us well fed and contented. We salute the integrity and industry of these American Citizens!

How Can I?

Q. How can I make a practical polish for all metals?

A. Use one cup of cigar ashes with a tablespoon bicarbonate of soda brought to a smooth paste by the addition of water. Use on a soft cloth, rubbing vigorously.

Q. How can I make a good pot-holder?

A. When making pot-holders, it is a good idea to insert a layer of leather from an old glove through the center. This will eliminate danger of burned fingers, as leather is a non-conductor of heat.

Q. How can I save gas when boiling liquids?

A. A good thing to remember is that boiling liquids are no better when boiling rapidly than when boiling slowly. Have just enough flame to keep the liquids at the boiling point, and this will aid greatly in lowering that gas bill.

Q. How often should the water for the goldfish be changed?

A. When the goldfish comes to the top of the bowl for air it is time to change the water. Use cool water, as goldfish do not like the temperature warm, with the exception of the tiny tropical fish.

Q. How can I make the mouth appear longer?

A. Application of lipstick to the corners of the mouth actually elongates the line of the mouth. Remember this if you wish to make the mouth seem larger or smaller than it actually is.

Q. How can I be insured of good results when painting?

A. See that the surface to be painted is thoroughly dry. Moisture, if allowed to remain in the wood, will eventually be drawn to the surface by the heat and cause blistering of the paint.

Q. How can I remove scars caused by severe burns?

A. Try massaging with pure olive oil. Use the finger tips and massage lightly with a rotary movement. It often takes many repeated treatments to do the work. Be persistent.

Q. How can I prepare honey cinnamon toast?

A. Spread slices of toast with butter, brush with honey (about one tablespoonful of honey for each slice), sprinkle with cinnamon, and toast in oven long enough to blend the cinnamon and honey.

Q. How can I make a test for watered milk?

A. Dip a well-polished knitting needle into the milk for a few seconds. If the milk is pure, it will form in a large drop at the end of the needle; if watered, it will either run down quickly and drop in several small drops, or the point will appear dry and clean.

Q. Is there a way in which I can make my powder stay on my face longer than it now does?

A. First pat on a light film of foundation or vanishing cream. Then pat on your powder over every inch of your face. Use more powder than you need and then brush off the excess.

Q. What can I do about treating brittle or very short eyelashes?

A. You should refrain from using lash coloring on them for awhile. Tug them frequently as an exercise, and massage them with cream.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. Please suggest some special care I can take of the skin on my arms and elbows.

A. In your bath use a brush to keep arms and elbows soft and clean. After drying thoroughly, massage well with cream or lotion. Go after the elbows that are rough, stained or callused with a cuticle softening preparation, and then rub with pumice stone. Bleach elbows with cream or lemon juice, and keep them well rubbed with hand cream or lotion.

Q. What is a good style of hairdress for a girl with a low forehead?

A. Draw the hair severely back for an inch or two and hold it with clips or a band. Brush a halo up above this to form a frame for the face. This will make your forehead appear higher than it is.

Q. How can I increase the apparent size of my eyes?

A. By deepening your eyeshadow in the center of your eyelids, blending it out to the outer ends of the eyes.

Q. What is a good foundation cream for both normal and oily skins?

A. Vanishing cream which, when applied to the skin, leaves a thin non-greasy film to hold the makeup. It is particularly pleasant to use in warm weather. It is either pearl-colored or lightly tinted. Apply lightly, using fingertips, and cover your face and throat.

Q. How can I make sure of cleaning my facial pores very thoroughly?

A. By use of a complexion brush—not real hard, but with gentle and firm rotary motions. Concentrate on the areas where fat glands are most active, particularly around nose and chin. Make a mask of the soap lather and let it stay on your face for a few minutes. Rinse with warm water and finish off with a cold-water-rinse.

Q. There are signs of dandruff on my scalp. What can I do?

A. Faithful and regular scalp massage, oil treatments, and more frequent brushings and shampooing should provide the answer.

Q. How can I, with my makeup, make my nose shorter than it is?

A. Place a speck of rouge (cream variety) just under the tip of the nose and blend it delicately out to the tip. Then powder over it. The tiniest bit of rouge blended along the side of each nostril will make the wide nostrils look slighter.

Bohlen Appointment Produces Showdown

SEN. ROBERT A. TAFT and other GOP leaders in the Senate this week engaged in open warfare with Wisconsin's Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy. The issue: President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. Bohlen to be Ambassador to Russia.

The President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles stood pat on the appointment. Sen. McCarthy led an opposition group made up of only three or four other Senators. Chief among them were Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) and Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev). McCarthy conceded beforehand that only a handful of votes could be mustered against the Bohlen appointment.

There was no official disclosure of the information gathered about Bohlen by FBI investigators. But this much was clear: FBI investigators customarily report what interviewees say, including rumor and gossip. The Bureau does not evaluate the information.

It was disclosed that Attorney General Brownell had reviewed the FBI investigation and had seconded Dulles' contention the nominee was a good loyalist and security risk. Wisconsin's Sen. Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, pointed out the President had "personally endorsed" the nominee.

The Secretary of State said of Bohlen: "There is not a whisper of a suggestion that I have been able to turn up throwing any doubt at all upon his loyalty or upon his security as a person."

Sen. Taft and Alabama's Democratic Sen. John Sparkman finally looked into the FBI files on Bohlen as a jury of two. After examining the information there, the two Senators upheld Dulles and cleared Bohlen for loyalty and security. Senate approval of Bohlen was then assured. It was a heavy defeat for McCarthy.

McCarthy's attack on Bohlen went much deeper than whether the 48-year-old career diplomat was the man for the Moscow post. In effect, McCarthy was challenging Dulles and the President, both of whom vouched for Bohlen.

DULLES MCCARTHY

Korea

Frontline Action

It had just turned dark on Old Baldy hill Monday night. Suddenly, two Chinese Red platoons attacked. It looked like another night of "limited action." Then all hell broke loose.

At 9:15, 750 Chinese hit Pork Chop hill in the Old Baldy sector. Other Chinese poured against Old Baldy. Just west of Pork Chop, the Reds slammed against T-Bone hill. In the White Horse Mountain sector, north of Old Baldy, the Chinese uncoiled another assault.

Altogether, the Chinese Communists lashed at the Allied lines guarding the northern gateway of Seoul, 45 miles away, with up to 3,500 troops. It was the biggest attack of the year. It was repulsed.

As first reports of the Chinese assault came into Washington, Senators who heard Gen. James A. Van Fleet detail complaints that U. S. forces in Korea didn't have enough ammunition, were demanding a more aggressive American policy in Korea.

The lawmakers disclosed that Van Fleet testified the Eighth Army in Korea lost what he considered a golden opportunity in June, 1951. "We had the Communists on the run, then," Van Fleet said. "They were hurting badly, out of supplies, completely out of hand. They were in panic and doing their best to fall back as far as possible. We stopped by order—did not pursue to finish the enemy."

The WORLD This WEEK

United Nations

THE second round in the U.N. General Assembly's current session has dragged along in New York for a month, virtually barren of accomplishments.

Delegates looked this week to Andrei Vishinsky to provide a break. In his new post as Russia's permanent delegate to the U.N., Vishinsky was in a position to answer the big question: Is the Kremlin ready to do something concrete to give substance to the conciliatory tone she has launched in East-West relations?

Western diplomats cautiously acknowledged a pause in the cold war—a hesitancy in Soviet foreign policy.

The switch in Russian tone comes at a time when the West is making headway on mutual defense and growing stronger. A new pact between Yugoslavia, Turkey and Greece has plugged a big gap in the southeast Mediterranean. The visit of Marshal Tito to Britain strengthened the bonds between the two countries. In fact, the British virtually told the Soviet bloc they were ready to back up Tito, with guns if necessary, if any one of the satellite states made a move across the Yugoslav border. In Bonn, the West German Bundestag (lower house of parliament) approved the European army treaty and contractual agreements with the west.

Some U.N. observers thought the new Russian harmony theme was prompted more by internal considerations than by any effort to settle real problems with the West. It will take Georgi Malenkov some time to consolidate his power.

WEST GERMANY'S Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is due to arrive in the U.S. April 6 for talks with top Administration officials.

In any negotiations in Washington, Adenauer will be leading from strength. He is the only West European statesman who has accomplished anything solid on the European Defense Community.

Against Socialist-led opposition, Adenauer shepherded the E.D.C. treaty and contractual pacts with the Western Big Three through the Bundestag (lower house of parliament). The E.D.C. treaty, providing for a 500,000-man German military force in a unified West European army linked to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, was passed by a vote of 224 to 165. The contractual agreements, granting virtual sovereignty to West Germany, were approved 226 to 184.

The Bundestag action does not constitute final German ratification of the pacts. They still must get through the Bundesrat (upper house) and perhaps a constitutional court battle.

Approval by the lower chamber is the first break in the E.D.C. ratification stalemate.

French Premier Rene Mayer and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault were in Washington this week, and they also had something to show credit-wise on the pact.

Just before taking off from Paris for the U.S., Mayer accomplished an impressive diplomatic victory by proposing a formula that permitted quick agreement on six French-sponsored protocols to the treaty. The protocols had been under negotiation in Paris for three weeks.

Mayer made it clear he did not want to call at the White House to discuss U.S. aid for France without an agreement on the protocols as evidence of some progress toward French ratification of the E.D.C. treaty.

One of the protocols makes it possible for the French to withdraw their troops from the proposed European army for use in French Union territories overseas—but not without consulting other partners. If the supreme commander should veto the withdrawal of French troops on the grounds it would jeopardize the security of the European Defense Community, the French could then carry the case to a joint meeting of the European and North Atlantic councils.

The five other protocols approved: 1. Nations maintaining national armies may send officers of those armies to military schools in the European community. 2. Officers may be interchanged between these national armies. 3. Nations with overseas territories may ship arms to forces there, although the commissariat of the E.D.C. licenses the production of all armaments within the community. 4. A directive defining responsibility for mobilization as between national states and the community. 5. The technique for assuring equality between France and West Germany in voting in the ministers' council eventually will be based on the contributions to the joint army.

In West Germany, general elections are due sometime in the next few months. Conceivably, the elections could nullify the gains Adenauer has made on E.D.C. The Socialists, who argue the pact lessens the chances for a reunited Germany and antagonizes Russia, are out to stop the Chancellor. It probably will be a tough fight for Adenauer and a crucial election for the West.

In the meantime, the Russians can be expected to exert maximum pressure to slow down West German action on the pact and to keep that country out of the Western military camp. This may be one objective of the newest "peace" overtures from the Kremlin. By making it appear that international tension has lessened, the Russians can take the steam out of the Western European defense drive by appearing to reduce the biggest incentive—the threat of Russian invasion.

If the peace drive fails, Moscow can put the screws on Berlin again. The Russians already have tightened the clamps on West Berlin. It would require only a signal to isolate the city, not only from the West, as was the case in the Berlin blockade, but from the East as well.

East zone Communists have vowed that West Berlin will suffer if Bonn finally ratifies the E.D.C. treaty and contractual agreements with the U. S., Britain and France.

Symbols of an Era Crowds numbering up to 1,000 people gathered silently outside Marlborough House in London, residence of Britain's regal old Queen Mary.

In a glass-fronted frame at the gates, medical bulletins told of the Queen's condition. After an uphill struggle against a gastric ailment that had troubled her for more than a month she took a sudden turn for the worse over last weekend. Tuesday night, the old Queen, who lived through two world wars and a series of personal tragedies, died peacefully in her sleep.

Her son, the Duke of Windsor, her granddaughter Queen Elizabeth II, and other members of the royal family stayed close to the bedside of the 85-year-old matriarch.

The Queen, whose lifetime spans the period from Victoria to the atomic age, is known to have been ailing some time before it was announced Feb. 22 that she was confined to bed.

Her husband, King George V, died in 1936. The throne went to her eldest son, Edward VIII. Upon his abdication, her second son, George VI, became king. His daughter, Elizabeth II became Queen upon his death last year.

Queen Mary had a strong influence on the rearing of Elizabeth and looked forward proudly to her granddaughter's coronation June 2.

In Short

Decided: by President Eisenhower and Congressional leaders, that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), set up as a "temporary" depression check by President Herbert Hoover in 1932, will be disbanded June 30, 1954.

Approved: by the Senate Government Reorganization subcommittee, President Eisenhower's plan to make the Federal Security Agency, now headed by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, a cabinet level department. A move to speed the effective date was pigeon-holed, however.

Announced: by the Defense Department, a May draft call for 400 doctors and 195 dentists.

Reported: by the Commerce Department, that U.S. foreign aid totaled more than $5 1/2 billion in 1952. This was divided almost evenly between military and economic help to the free world, the Department said.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Veazey

Lola Faye Brunson Bride Of Clarence Veazey Sunday

The marriage of Miss Lola Faye Brunson, daughter of Mrs. Ada Brunson, to Clarence Veazey, son of Mrs. Richard Fayley of Friona, was solemnized Sunday morning at the Methodist church parsonage with the pastor, Rev. T. Edgar Neal, officiating.

Miss Kathleen Brunson was her sister's maid of honor and Pete Gunn acted as best man. Miss Brunson wore a rose silk-shantung frock made with fitted bodice and circular skirt. Her accessories were in navy and she wore a small pink flowered hat and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride was dressed in a powder blue silk-shantung suit worn with navy and white accessories. Her off the face white hat was trimmed with flowers and the bridal bouquet was a single white orchid carried on a white Bible.

Following the ceremony the couple was honored at a reception given in the home of the bride's mother with relatives and close friends attending. The table was laid with a white linen cloth and was adorned with pink carnations and the wedding cake.

After a short trip to points in New Mexico, the couple will make their home in Hereford at 212 Fuller St.

Mrs. Veazey was reared in Hereford and attended Hereford schools. She is a graduate of an Amarillo Beauty School and is employed at the Ladyfairs Beauty Shop in Hereford.

Mrs. Veazey attended Friona schools and served one year in the armed service. He is employed at the Hereford Motor Company.

Out of town guest at the wedding was Mrs. Calvin Ford of Amarillo.

"The Problem of the Aged" Is Topic For Pioneer Study Club

Mrs. Frank Terrell was hostess for the Pioneer Study Club Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. B. E. Brumley acting as assistant hostess.

During the business session plans were made for erecting a marker in Mother's Park which was built by the Pioneer Study Club. A stone bench will be placed in the park.

Mesdames W. E. Holcomb, O. G. Hill and F. M. Kester gave a report on county jail conditions after a visit to the jail. They reported that the jail is clean, but space is inadequate for juveniles, and that there is no light and no heat in the juvenile quarters. They reported on other conditions at the jail and the committee was instructed to meet with the county officials at a later date.

The club score card which will be read at the 7th District FWOC convention to be held here in April was read and revealed a high score of 95.

Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, president, was named as delegate to the convention with Mrs. Rex Tynes to serve as alternate.

Roll call was answered by members answering the question "When Is Old?" Mrs. F. M. Kester read a short verse written by Mr. Kester, retired, on "Quality of Mind" in which he gave his philosophy of life and how to approach old age.

"Age is a quality of mind. If you have left your dreams behind, if hope is cold, if you no longer look ahead or if ambition's fires are dead, you are old. But if from life you take the best, and if in life you keep the best, if you hold; no matter how the years go by, no matter how the birthdays fly, you are not old."

A change in hostesses for the next meeting was announced. The April 14 meeting will be held with Mrs. H. A. Close instead of the listed place of meeting.

Mrs. A. G. Bell was leader of the program on "Wisdom of the Aged" and discussed an article on "The Rocking Chair—Or the Active Approach." She quoted Victor King who says in his book "Problems of the Nation" that the problem is how to care for the aged and not allow them to feel neglected or unwanted. He suggests many ways of meeting this problem and cites many older people who are still making valuable contributions to the nation.

Mrs. Bell listed four points that may help in solving the problem of the aged: physical check-ups regularly, better housing conditions for those who live alone, recreational centers and every-body pursuing a hobby.

Mrs. J. B. Jones gave the life history of an 85-year-old woman doctor, telling what she has done, and continues to do, in parts of Colorado.

Members of the club present were Mesdames Fred Barrett, A. G. Bell, J. E. Beyr, O. M. Dicky, Burl France, W. E. Holcomb, O. G. Hill, O. H. Herring, F. M. Kester, A. L. Manjeot, Ralph McCullough, John Patton, Wirth Phillips, Mary Seigler, F. M. Terrell, Bess Werner and the hostesses.

The party was given by her son, R. L. Ethridge, and guests were his co-workers at the telephone company, who brought a cake, and other close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Williams and children of Plainville were weekend visitors with relatives and friends in Hereford.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Easter time and fruit salads go hand in hand, but the more unusual the salad the more zest it gives to the Easter meal. Mrs. Ben Childers makes a salad that goes with anything, but is especially good with barbecued chicken, ham, or whatever happens to be your choice. For parties or the Easter luncheon or dinner, she dresses it up, but for the family she likes to serve it plain, adding a favorite vegetable or casserole. It is unusual both in taste, and appearance.

Green gage plums are popular in any form, but worked up the way Mrs. Childers uses them gives you a recipe to put in your files and keep repeating. Here is how she

Mrs. Prewett Reviews Book For Child Study Club Group

Mrs. Lloyd Prewett presented the program for the Child Study Club session held in the home of Mrs. Richard Jewell Thursday evening.

Mrs. Prewett reviewed the book "A Man Called Peter" by Catherine Marshall, a true story of a Scottish immigrant who educated himself in this country for the ministry and later became chaplain for the United States Senate.

During the business session plans were made for the club's annual guest night which will be on April 9 in the home of Mrs. L. M. McGee. Mrs. Lisle Woodford will be in charge of the program and she announces that Charles Hughes of the Home Beautiful in Amarillo, will present a program of picture slides and descriptive narration of some of the large furniture mart's of the nation.

Members of the club in attendance were Mesdames Dale Kelly, Merlin Kaul, Lisle Woodford, L. N. McGee, Bob Wear, Chester Wiggins, Joe Story, J. W. Witherspoon, John Robinson, J. C. Reese, Earl Springler, Lloyd Prewett and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutson visited with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. McCallum in Lubbock and with her mother, Mrs. G. D. Dennis in Tahoka.

Green Gage Plum Salad All Set For The Easter Table

Green Gage Plum Salad

Part I: 1 package lime jello dissolved in 1 cup hot water. Add juice and pulp of 1 number 2½ can of green gage plums.

Part II: 1 package lemon jello dissolved in ½ cup boiling water; 1 small package Philadelphia Cream Cheese creamed with ¼ cup Miracle Whip Salad dressing.

Melt 18 marshmallows in double boiler and let it cool. Combine all ingredients of Part II together and when cool fold in 1 cup of whipped cream.

Four one-half of Part I in ring or cold and let set, then add all of Part II and allow to set or congeal. Add the remaining half of Part I and place in refrigerator until ready to use.

This may be used in individual molds surrounded with fresh jonquils or narcissus. At Easter time Mrs. Childers likes to dress it up a bit with Easter lilies. For this, slice turnips very thin and chill in very cold water. When ready to serve the salad, roll the turnip slices around a tiny strip of carrot (for the stem) in the shape of Easter lilies and use as decorations. These are edible too, and very good.

This salad may also be made in a shallow Pyrex dish and cut in squares.

(Ed. Note: The column this week solves a lot of problems, including television. Since the author is Hereford's own Abe Martin and in view of the fact that some people might get mixed up and think it was the original "Abe Martin", it seems only fair and just that his real name should be listed. It was after much research, considerable contriving and with slight shock that we learned that it is the Holly Lee Martin. Furthermore, we agree that the nickname of "Abe" is what he should continue to use.)

BY ABE MARTIN
I am well prepared to write this column because I just finished reading all the fertilizer ads in the "Progressive Farmer" and the Hereford Brand, so now I'll just grab the bull by the horns and start trying to throw him.

The most popular subject at the present seems to be television, so I have an "on-the-spot" report from some of Hereford's most fertile brains.

I was sitting in the shine chair the other day and saw old Slat's Gilliland going by. I called him in and asked him about 25 questions. I said, "Slat, what do you think of television?" He said, "Oh, it's all right." I ask him if he is for or against it, and he said he wasn't against it. Then I ask him if he thought it was here to stay, and Slat said as far as he was concerned, it was, because he wasn't going to stop it. I am glad to know he is for it, and that all these people who have invested their money in a set haven't wasted it.

Saturday I asked Dennis Bernard and Frank Marrs if they had bought a T. V. yet. Frank said Dennis is building a set and he is going to watch it. All they need to finish it is a five-gallon jug which they plan to use for a picture tube. I ask Urlin Streu down at the News Stand what he thought about using a tree for an antennae. He said it might prove to be dangerous to the dogs.

They have been showing some beautiful quilt patterns, but you can't get them to be still long enough to sketch them off. The only way you can enjoy T. V. at present is to have St. Vitus dance then get in cadence with the picture. I tried it and was exhausted after fifteen minutes.

Seriously, folks, when they get on all their power it will be all right. It is not your T. V. set.

A word about public enemy number one—the other barbers in town. I am trying to figure out a way to eliminate the competition. I thought I might try to get them interested in some dangerous sport. I'm trying to get Bill Knox interested in high diving, and I have about talked Charlie Morris into taking flying lessons. Maybe I can get old Shep to make a few parachute jumps.

I think I fixed Mutt and Scott's outboard motor so it will blow up. I hope Reed and Sewell will take up mountain climbing. Cecil and his accomplice are going to finish themselves off working on their air conditioner. Of course, old Jim, I'm taking care of him. I wash and curry him every day.

I have been watching the recent A-Bomb tests our government has been making and I have arrived at this conclusion: The A-Bomb is dangerous and should never be handled carelessly. If used around the home, keep it out of the reach of children. Never use it around an open flame, and do not leave it near any door—you might slam the door on it. If you have any old bombs lying around your home, I would advise you to take them out to your trash barrel and burn them but be sure your barrel is more than ten feet from your house.

Well, I will give a little advice to the farmers in this area. Old Jim White keeps me informed on all the new developments in farming. You all know Jim. He is the fellow that came here about fifteen years back. He had nothing but a double shovel and a branding iron when he got here. Of course he has a nice spread now. He just put that branding iron to work. He brands the J—. It will fit over most any brand in the country.

Jim said you should run your rows north and south when you are planting. If you run them east and west, the sun gets in your eyes. Never plant seed when ground is too dry or too wet. Catch it just between rains if you can. Always be careful what kind of crop spray you use. He used something out there that didn't kill the insects. It ran them nutty. Now the boll weevils are eating his wheat and the green bugs are eating his cotton.

Be sure and use pure-bred cotton seed. I noticed last year the cotton was badly mixed. There were white blooms and red blooms on the same stalk.

Well, spring is here again. It came in with a bang, very colorful with a golden brown cast. With it comes the wishing fever. I see a bunch of old guys around town getting their tackle ready. I tried all day to get my son-in-law to go to the lake. We would have gone, but he wanted me to buy the bait; he is so gosh-awful tight that we can't always agree on expenses. Looks like if I furnished the brains and the drinking water that old James would be satisfied. Hope some of those six-inch channel cat we caught last year are eight inches this year. We also caught several nice beer cans, one roll of barb wire, three fishing lines, and a ladies sock full of something. If fishing isn't any better this year than it was last year, I am going to throw my motor in the lake, and take up crocheting or something.

Letter To The Editor

Editor of The Brand,
Hereford, Texas

On account of the inaccuracy published by you, regarding the location of the oil well test, in which you state the well is located 16 miles North and slightly East of Hereford, this is entirely wrong and should be corrected, when in fact the well is located in the N. E. corner of Section No. 78, in Block K-7, on the Austin Rose land, in going out to this well, you go north 14 miles on Highway No. 51, then turn to the left on pavement ten miles, West then turn North on dirt road 3 miles to the well; this gives the exact location 27 miles Northwest of Hereford.

Very truly yours,
L. Baskin.

Stream-Lined Cake Making Is Club Topic

The "Stream Line Cake Method" was demonstrated by Arsen Draher in the home of Mrs. W. E. Holcomb Thursday afternoon, March 26, at the meeting of the Cultural Home Demonstration Club.

The first step in making a cake is preparing the pans said Mrs. Draher, as she demonstrated step by step the making of a "Meringue Type Cake", using the whites of four eggs, into which one-fourth cup of sugar had been added.

Mrs. Draher also stated that the cost of the cake demonstrated was 31 cents, which was a saving of from 13 cents to 21 cents over well known brands of cake mix, and was also much better tasting and more nourishing.

Hill Top Makes Ordinary Cattle Grow Long Hair

BLANKET, Texas — There's nothing like the top of a hill to help Texas cattle grow long hair to enable them to compete in the showing with cattle from the mountain states.

For many years Heston McBride, registered Hereford breeder, has wished for a cool, comfortable place to fit out his show cattle and a place that would help them to grow longer hair.

McBride eyed Tater Hill, a steep knob that towered 135 feet above his cattle barn. Carving out a one-way road on the steep slope, he built a barn and moved his show cattle to the top of the pinnacle.

A pump has to be used to get water to the hill top and hauling feed is a tough job—there isn't enough room on top of the hill for the pickup to turn around so it has to back down. But it's serving its purpose.

At the peak the wind blows all the time because of currents rising from the valleys flanking the hill. The cattle thrive up there and McBride declares they grow better hair than anywhere else he has found in the area.

"Veto" comes from the Latin meaning "I forbid."

Time To Think Of Highway Patrol

The time has come when people should think about their policemen.

"Cops," after all, are just ordinary people in uniform. They have families and like to go to ball games. They enjoy a good steak or strawberry shortcake just like other people. They also have much the same ambitions. They want their families to be respected and friendly with the neighbors. They want their kids to live on a par with other kids.

The average police officer sometimes has a hard time doing these things. He is frequently criticized if he does his job right -- and more frequently criticized if he does not. He works for a hard taskmaster: a critical public. The average man seldom helps the policeman with a friendly tip, yet he screams because the policeman makes no arrest.

The policeman in these days is one of the few people legally authorized to wear a gun. This requires horse-sense and good judgement -- yet he is often underpaid.

Take the Highway Patrolmen of Texas. They have a tough job. They are on call 24 hours a day, including Sundays. To become a Highway Patrolman in Texas, a man is carefully investigated and screened. He takes severe physical tests, then he takes mental tests. He attends school in Austin for several weeks, then goes out on probation with an experienced officer for several months. A few make good, many do not. If he makes the grade, the Highway Patrolman receives $3,480 per year -- less taxes, insurance, hospitalization and other modern day withholdings. It doesn't leave much on which to raise a family, particularly if he runs into a long siege of illness. Worse still, this is absolutely tops. No chance of increased pay.

The result of inevitable. A lot of the better qualified men have already left the Texas Highway Patrol to enter private jobs. A few of them are taking their day off and working in filling stations to supplement their income -- and pay their bills. Practically all of the top patrolmen could get better jobs, but most of them stay with the patrol because they like the work. The same is true of city, county and state law enforcement officers all over Texas.

We hear protests from pressure groups and lobbyists on salary increases for many public employees in Austin, but never from the highway patrol. They are too busy doing a job to spend time lobbying and, certainly, they have nothing left over to pay someone else to do it for them. The Texas Highway Patrol, by lending a helping hand here, a courteous approach there, has come a long way in the past 25 years. Today, many people look upon them as friends in time of need and not as enemies who use sneak tactics. They are a far cry from the motorcycle rider who used to hide behind a sign, then slip out to catch speeders who happened to exceed the limit by a mile or two. Many people in Texas justly rebelled against such tactics.

If the Texas Highway Patrol, along with city, county and state agencies, lose their best men, these things will unquestionably once again come to pass.

When you give a man a gun, along with the legal power to use it as he deems fit and best, you have given him a lot of authority. Furthermore, he should be the most sensible, conscientious, capable man you can find; and, consequently, he cannot be expected to work at a figure too far below that of other people. Nothing is worse than a "smart-alec coup." While the Legislature is talking about salary raises, they should certainly compare and check the State Highway Patrol, the agency of Texas government which has made the least noise -- simply because they were too busy doing a 24-hour job, 365 days each year.

Store Fronts Set The Pace

The store fronts of a town are the display windows of the community. The newcomer, the passer-by or the prospective resident looks the town over and forms his opinions -- based chiefly upon the general appearance of the business fronts.

If he decides the town is backward or a "dud," he may look no further. If he is still interested after viewing the store fronts, he will continue his investigation, looking at homes, churches, schools and other facilities.

Hereford has seen an upsurge in modernization of store fronts in the past few years. It is still a long way from perfect, but at least average or better. Some of the old eye-sores, at least, have been improved and replaced. Most merchants who have new fronts have consistently reported improved volume. This could be due to the improvement, or it could be due to the fact that the merchant who keeps his store's appearance in good shape is a progressive man who will also keep his stocks and service in good shape. Anyway, that is what they report.

These things, though simple, have also improved conditions concerning the age-old complaint about people not trading at home. People spend their money where quality, service and variety of selection attracts them. Attractive store fronts are among those things to be considered: Actually, we hear of quite a few Amarillo people who come to Hereford to buy in certain lines. These people think, at least that prices here are lower, and say they can avoid the jostling crowds.

Store front improvements generally hit a snag in regard to who should do the improving. Is it a problem for the landlord, or is it a problem solely for the merchant? The merchant naturally expects more business, but many insist that they are already paying high rents. The landlord, without more income, is often reluctant to pay more into his capital investment. All in all, it is very much like the old question of, "Which came first, the egg or the chicken?"

Despite all of these things, however, store fronts in Hereford have materially improved in the past five years. It is unquestionably a sign of confidence in a progressive community.

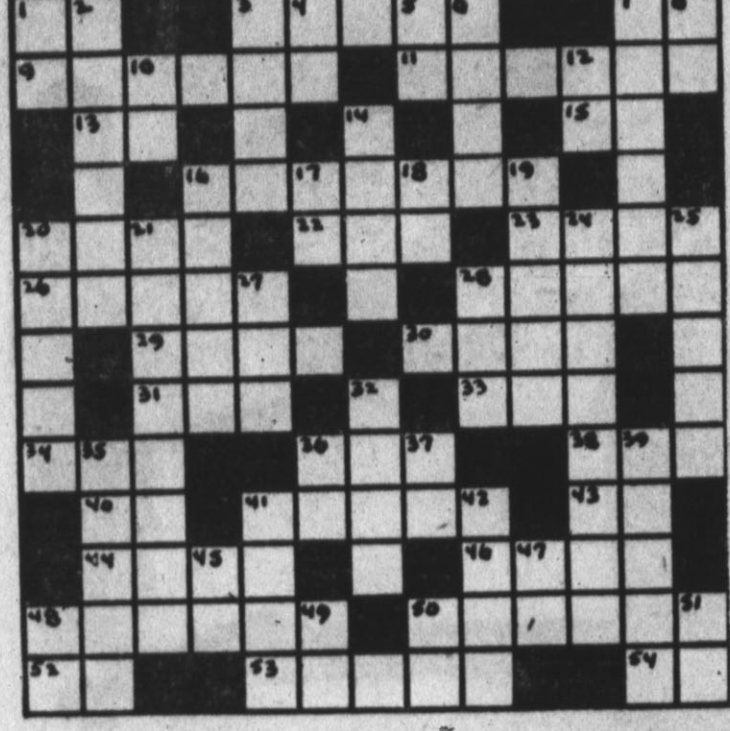

The victim who readily accepts speaking invitations will do plenty of speaking.

Advertising must be a good thing; so many growing businesses are profiting from it.

Caught by customs men as he smuggled a bottle of brandy into the country, a sailor was told to post $250 bond for the bottle. Our advice: Just leave that bottle in bond!

Oklahoma police sought a gunman described as six feet, two inches tall, and so thin he weighed only 135 pounds. Apparently, for him, crime wasn't paying so much at the time.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley

AP Special Washington Service Washington--Seizure by Mexican officials of 13 Texas and Florida shrimp boats off the Ucutan peninsula has brought renewed demands for a definite settlement of this old Mexican-U. S. problem.

Vitality concerned, along with the gulf states' fishing interests, are California fishermen who operate off the west coast of Mexico.

The proposal has been offered in congressional circles, that this government and Mexico should get around a conference table and come to a clear understanding on the fishing problem--leaving the more complicated issue of sovereignty over territorial waters out of the discussion.

The question came up during the Senate Interior Committee's hearings on the submerged lands issue. State department witnesses made it clear that the sovereignty angle in v l v e s international relations through out the world too broad to try to settle in the Mexican fishing case.

An odd twist is that the U. S. government wants to recognize only a 3-mile territorial limit, yet Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex) pointed out that in the 1848 treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo the U. S. recognized Mexico's 3-league claim to sovereignty.

Both Daniel and Sen. Russell Long (D-La) called attention to the lack of a definite policy by the State department in the shrimpers' controversy, observing that while this government holds out for a 3-mile limit, the Texas, Florida and Louisiana shrimp fishermen have been admonished to abide by Mexico's 3-league claim, 10 1/2 miles.

A state department official, acknowledging this was the situation, said 16 nations claim more than 3-mile sovereignty and that as things stand not much can be done about the Mexican seizure except to lodge a verbal protest.

Unless Mexico voluntarily agreed to some plan to prevent such occurrences in the future, the U. S. could seek recourse by one of two other courses, in the State department's view. These courses are war or world court litigation. War, of course, is unthinkable. And world court action is improbable because too many nations claim 10 1/2 or more miles.

Rep. Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen, who has kept a close eye on the shrimp seizure case, declares something should be done. Favoring the proposed conference, he said:

"Someone representing the U. S. boatowners also should join in the conference with officials of our government and Mexico. The group should go thoroughly into the matter and try to come up with an agreement."

Repercussions from the seizure of American shrimping vessels two years ago still exist--Bentsen has reintroduced legislation to pay some $19,000 to five Texas shrimp boat owners who incurred losses in that incident.

May Draft Call Parallels April

The state draft quota for May calls for induction of 2,823 men, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, announced.

General Wakefield said that quotas to local draft boards for the May call would be mailed April 7. The May call is 53 less than the April call of 2,876 men.

State Selective Service headquarters was scheduled today to mail to local boards calls for May pre-induction physical examination involving 4,858 men.

Local boards will be authorized to examine men down to the age of 19 on the May pre-induction examination call and induct men down to the age of 19 years and 4 months on the May induction call.

"We have been instructed to fill the May call as far as possible with men 20 years old or older," General Wakefield said, "but, for both April and May, the manpower situation being what it is, the majority of those inducted without a doubt will be under 20".

To show how the number of 19-year-olds going into the Army is increasing, General Wakefield pointed to the percentage of youths under 20 in the examined and acceptable draft group in Texas -- usually kept at a level of 10,000 men.

On December 1, 1952, the percentage of this group of men who were under 20 was one-half of 1 per cent. By the first of the year men under 20 had grown to 5 per cent of the total. On February 1, youths under 20 amounted to 20 per cent of the total, and on March 1, the 19-year-old group was 49 per cent of the total.

It is from the examined and acceptable group that men are drafted into service.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher may know a little something about what he's talking about this week, as it involves words, and he seems to have plenty of that commodity.

Dear editor:

I was out here the other afternoon watchin my cattle graze, there's nuthin more satisfyin than watchin your own cattle graze on your own land, although I'll admit it was a little more satisfyin this time last year, about 40 per cent more satisfyin, to be exact, as that's how much the price of the things has dropped, and I stumbled onto a copy of a newspaper which was several days old but readin an out-of-date newspaper is a lot more interestin than dozens of things I can think of to do around this place and I took it to the shade and read where a Congressman in Washington was demandin that a resolution denouncin Russia for enslavin people be worded a lot stronger.

As I understand it, the Congressman wanted to re-write the resolution and put in some words at least four times as strong as the ones under consideration, but I'm afraid he's up against an impossible situation. What would he do with the words after he put em together?

If I tried right hard I could think up some words a lot stronger to call Russia, but you wouldn't print em and I wouldn't blame you. Nobody on the radio could use em, either.

Moreover, I don't believe there are any words, printable or un-printable, which we could get hold of which would have any effect on Russia. Anybody who's figurin on settin-up a bunch of scientists on a research project to invent stronger words to call Russia, is sure barkin up the wrong rain spout. In an atomic age a word bombardment is about as effective as a barrage of arrows against the 12-foot-thick walls of the Kremlin. The pen may be mightier than the sword, but it ain't mightier than a jet bomber loaded with an atom bomb. The man who could fell a thousand with a phrase, ought to see what they're doin now with jellied gasoline. Congress may be able to solve domestic problems with words and there's no recognizable shortage of ammunition in that department, but oratory is a mighty poor weapon to throw against a tank.

I've heard of people who could annihilate an enemy with a word, but there's just not many of them people left, or else they're just not makin words as strong these days.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Citizens Think Hereford Could Avoid 'Boom' If Oil Wells Hit

Hereford now has two wildcat wells within striking distance: Rose No. 1, 27 miles northwest, and the other just across the New Mexico line in Curry County. If they should strike oil (and we do mean IF) what would be the effect on Hereford as a place to make your home?

JACK KIRKSEY
It might create some activity in the town. Personally I think it would create a different type of city than we have here today. One reason would be there would be more different classes of people. It could develop into a town not nearly so clean as the one we have here now. It would create quite a growth, naturally. The people would flock here.

RAY DOWNEY
As the population increased our problems would increase likewise. The effort on the part of our administrative officials would increase percentage-wise.

I personally think the situation could be met and handled by the people we have here now.

CLINT FORMBY
Increased activity would necessitate a lot of planning and co-operation by everyone in Hereford. Immediate and long range planning would help a lot to avoid the effects of a "boom" town conjection, i.e. . . . housing and rent, school space, zoning and law enforcement. From my past experience in Snyder, we could "enjoy" the boom only by the full support and co-operation of all city and county agencies. However, since Hereford is well established in comparison with many "oil" towns, I feel we could absorb the growth without much difficulty.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

We had thought that "Seldom Rest" would be an appropriate name for our little farm but now we think maybe we should just put a high fence around it and turn it into a "Zoo" as we already have a pretty good start.

Besides our fifty head of sheep Buster's pets, as of today, include one horse -- and we can't say pony because though he's very gentle, he stands about 16 hands high, one cat, one little lamb on a bottle, three dogs and seven puppies, and six colored Easter chickens just sproutin white Leghorn feathers through the orange, yellow, blue, green, and red down.

Now all he wants is a monkey, a talkin parrot, and a baby elephant.

Everybody around us is busy puttin in potatoes the last few days but personally we'll be a lot more interested in "tater diggin" time than seein 'em go into the ground.

We see by the want ads that we have a new business in Hereford. Rhodes Recording Company, 121 West Third. They suggest church weddings, Baby's voice, etc.

Might not be a bad idea to play the marriage vows every now and then to remind couples of their promises.

WANTED EXPANDED APPROPRIATION BILL -- Rep. Maury Maverick Jr. of San Antonio is shown here holding a copy of the appropriation bill for general state services. It called for an outlay of $161 millions for two years but Maverick sought to add numerous amendments, indicated by paper tabs stuck between the pages. House conservatives beat down most of the changes and sent the bill to the senate as a $162 million dollar appropriation bill. (AP Wirephoto).

CHIP SHOTS

BY BUD POSEY

There seems to be a real golf match coming up between two fellows in the finals for the trophy in the Grand Championship of the Men's Match Play Handicaps tournament. Last Sunday Stan Barrett outlasted M. E. Clavenger 2-and-1 in the finals of the championship flight—and won the right to meet J. M. Posey, winner of the first flight, for the handsome trophy of the event. "Ole Posey" has to spot Stan one stroke on 18 holes and he is burned up about it. Stan says, "I'll need that stroke. I remember the last time I played the old devil."

Personally, I predict an extra hole affair on this match going to the 20th hole before it is won.

At the directors meeting on Wednesday, March 25, the date of April 1 was set on which foursomes only would be activated, especially on

Class Views Scenes In Japan-Korea

Lt. Lloyd H. Manjeot, recently returned from the Korean War, was guest speaker for the Fidelis Matrons Class of the First Baptist Church Tuesday evening. The meeting was held at the church where the social hall carried out an Oriental theme in decorations and appointments with Japanese lanterns used for lighting.

Lt. Manjeot told of his experiences in Korea during his 14 months of overseas service, giving a word picture of how the American soldiers in Korea live and

Sundays and holidays. This will be adhered to by all golfers unless they have the club professional's permission. He can generally tell how much traffic there will be for the day. Here's my plan:

On April 1, I will put a sign in the club house stating the number of players who can play together for that day. It will vary from day to day, but it is my sound belief that only foursomes will be allowed 12 o'clock noon. We are going to try to eliminate twosomes also, by putting two twosomes together if possible. You golfers can help us on Sundays and holidays after out if you'll follow the rules and adhere to the card that will be posted.

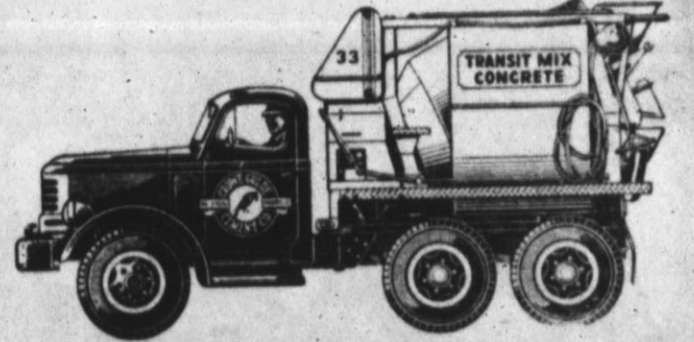

In May, it is planned to get George Aulbach, professional at the Amarillo Country club, to come down some afternoon and give an exhibition, demonstrating various golf shots, trick shots, and showing some moving pictures on golf. George is very adept at this and loves to show his stuff, so all you men watch for the date and be sure and come to see it. There will be a free lunch given by the club at the event.

telling of the Korean people and of Japan and conditions there. He also showed slides and color pictures of Japan and Korea. Following his talk a question and answer period was featured. Mesdames J. B. Sneed, Hazel Rayburn and Clinton Jackson son served as hostess for the class social. Forty members were present.

FRUIT STAINS

A good general rule for all fruit stains on fabrics is to stretch the spot over a bowl or vessel and pour boiling water through it (the water must be actually boiling at the time). If the goods has been previously washed, or the stain is an old one, this method will likely fail.

Streu's Diary

DEAR DIARY:

There are days when it is a bit of a chore to indite this weekly epistle—besides being hard work. This is one of those days—the sun is shining, breezes blow, robins and cardinals and white-crowned sparrows are making with their music—and all over town the girls are digging and spading and raking and watering like mad. All of which makes me have a burning desire to—play golf!!

Jean continues to receive daily shipments of gift items—some of them are even pretty and attractive—even I would buy some of them if I had the money—which I ain't. Some new hand-made glassware in greens and brown—and the Squeeze-it dispensers for catsup, mustard, chocolate sauce—salt and peppers, etc. New shipment of neatly lap trays for TV eating (you don't eat the trays—merely place food on them). Gobs of other new and excitingly different items for your selection.

TV goes on apace—what with several customers (RCA-Victor, of course) reporting interims of snow-free reception. I'd like to see snow-free pictures on my set some time, but can't get the boys free long enough to adjust mine! Guess I'll have to buy some other brand to get service! Would, but believe I can get better reception with an un-adjusted RCA than I would get with an adjusted set of any other make.

Now that I'm through bragging about RCA Victor TV, perhaps it would be well to mention those, sprinklers, hoes, rakes, forks, shovels, spades, wheel-barrow, hand-carts, fertilizers, lawn edgers, and so on and on. We have standard brands and the very best quality tools and garden hose.

For the fishing enthusiast who just can't wait any longer, would suggest a visit with Doc Walter London, who has just the prescription to ease your pain—tackle and baits of all kinds.

Verily, the deadline is upon me—and so I depart—for the nonce with the reminder that we just received shipments of Fostoria crystal and Fiesta pottery. Brilliant, what?

It's A Long Grind For Any Bill To Pass Into A Law

Associated Press Staff
AUSTIN (AP)—If a bill you are particularly interested in has been introduced in the legislature, you may be wondering why it takes so long for it to become law. Maybe you've read stories that said the bill was "introduced", that a committee has "approved" it, that the House had "passed the bill on second reading but failed to vote on final passage". Sounds like a lot of gobbledegook, doesn't it? But there's a reason for it. Basically, the reason for making a bill go through so many steps is to give some assurance that proposed legislation won't be "railroaded through" before the lawmakers—your representatives and senators—have time to study its merits. How does a bill become law? 1. A bill may be filed in the Senate or the House (except that all tax bills must originate in the House). It is filed with the chief clerk. Assume that the bill you are interested in is filed in the House. 2. The bill is introduced "on first reading" and the speaker of the House immediately sends it to a committee. 3. The committee chairman "sets" (schedules) the bill for public hearing, usually on the date requested by the author. Generally, at least 8 hours public notice is given by posting announcements outside the House and Senate chambers. The average citizen has to rely on newspapers, radio and television to pass along the word that a hearing has been scheduled. Trade associations and lobbyists are here to watch the bulletin boards. 4. The committee hears proponents and opponents of the bill, then votes on whether to delay it or to recommend passage or non-passage by the House. 5. Assuming the bill wins committee approval, it goes to the House floor. There it must await its turn on the "calendar"—business docket. Ordinarily, bills are considered in the House in the numerical order in which they were originally filed. However, there are numerous parliamentary and political tricks by which a bill can be delayed. 6. The bill finally comes up for House consideration. If a simple majority votes for the bill, it is "passed on second reading". But the rules require it also to be approved on a "third reading", which means final passage. To secure a vote on final passage on the same day a bill is passed on second reading, the author first must get the House to authorize the final vote by a four-fifth majority. If he fails to secure the four-fifth majority, consideration of the bill is delayed until a later date. 7. The bill is finally passed by the House on "third reading", by a simple majority and is sent to the Senate. It follows the same process as in the House to win final Senate passage. If the Senate amends the bill in any way, the measure must go back to the House for approval of the change. House and Senate must agree on the entire bill in its final form. 8. The bill goes to the governor.

JAMES G. NOYES is now taking his basic training at Ft. Bliss. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Noyes of Hereford, and attended Hereford Schools.

He may sign it into law, veto it, or let it become law without signature by letting it lie on the desk 10 days. If the governor vetoes a bill, the House and Senate can over-ride his veto by giving the bill a two-thirds majority vote of each chamber.

WINDOW WASHING

One of the easiest ways of washing windows efficiently is as follows: Use an ordinary cloth and wash the windows from a basin of warm water to which has been added some household ammonia. Then use another basin of clear warm water; dip a chamois into this, wring as dry as possible, and go over the windows again. This last process will remove the lint and water and leave the glass clear and shining.

Both the words Czar and Kaiser come from the Latin word Caesar.
