To reduce corn surplus Lyng offers payment for idle cropland

WASHINGTON (AP) - Agriculture Secretary Richard E. Lyng offered special payments Friday to corn farmers who idle up to 15 percent more of their crop acreage next year, a reflection of heavy surpluses that have depressed prices and strained storage capacity throughout the farm belt.

The move, coupled with advances on 1987 income subsidies also announced by the Agriculture Department, was an effort to offer some relief to financially pressed farmers just 10 days before national elections in which the plight of agriculture has become a leading issue.

The advance payments will provide producers additional cash flow for spring plantings and to meet other financial obligations," Lyng said in a statement.

The payments were ordered by Congress in a budget-deficit-cutting bill passed just before the lawmakers adjourned last weekend.

The USDA's announcement said farmers who sign up to participate in the 1987 program for corn and other feed grains will be required to idle 20 percent of their cropland. At their option, they may idle an additional 15 percent in return for federal payments of $2 a bushel for the grain that normally would have been grown on that acreage.

Half of the land-idling payment will be in cash, and the other half in certificates redeemable for surplus government owned commodities, which can then be sold for cash.

The certificates have become a particularly hot item in the farm belt. A secondary market has developed using the paper as a form of currency that now is trading at as much as 115 percent of face value.

Market prices for corn have dipped below $1 a bushel in recent days in some parts of the Midwest, breaking a psychological barrier that Republicans fear could further fuel an already anti-GOP feeling in some farm areas.

"The 15 percent paid diversion announced today will fall short of holding the line on surplus stocks. But, it's close," said John Schnittker, a Washington agricultural consultant and former No. 2 USDA official in the 1960s.

Signup for the 1987 wheat program began on Oct. 1 and runs through next March 30. The department said it will begin signing up farmers for the feed grains, cotton and rice programs on Nov. 17, and that signup will also end on March 30.

When producers sign up for the programs, they may receive a portion of their estimated deficiency payments—the primary income subsidy under the programs—which is normally not paid until after harvest. Wheat and feed grain production can receive 40 percent of the payments in advance, cotton and rice producers 30 percent, the announcement said.

The department's estimated deficiency payments at $2.10 per bushel for wheat, $1.21 a bushel for corn, 27.15 cents a pound for upland cotton and 4.82 cents a pound for rice.

Feed grain producers may also receive half of their estimated land-idling payments at signup, Lyng said.

Advance income subsidies, like diversion payments, will be paid half in cash and half in commodity certificates.

Target prices for feed grains, the levels used to compute farm income subsidies, will remain at 1986 levels as called for in the 1985 farm law, or $3.03 per bushel for corn.

Good Game, Son

Larry Wartes, right, consoles his son Mike following Hereford's 14-10 victory over the Canyon Eagles. Mike Wartes is the head coach of Canyon and his father is an assistant superintendent for Hereford schools. Canyon moved to 3-2 in district and 5-2 overall. The win gave Hereford a 6-0 record in district 1-4A play and 8-0 overall. For game story and more photos, see page 9A of today's Brand. (Brand Photo by Shawn Cockrum)

Drug program on HISD agenda

A special meeting to discuss drug education programs and to interview a drug dog owner has been called for the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees on Tuesday night.

Also on the 6:30 p.m. agenda is selection of a health insurance carrier.

Two injured in accident

An early Friday afternoon accident left two Hereford residents in stable condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Frank Watson, 72, and his wife Belmont, 70, of 501 Ave. J were traveling west on 15th St. when they were hit by a north bound grain truck as they crossed the intersection of 15th and U.S. 385.

The Watson pick up was thrown 68 feet onto the parking lot of Smith's Food and Drug.

The driver of the grain truck, Bernard Huseman, was uninjured. It took firefighters Gary Riddle and Mike Watts almost 10 minutes to free Mr. Watson, who was driving the pick-up. The firefighters used the Jaws of Life to free Mr. Watson.

Police report

The Hereford Police Department heard a report Friday of burglary of a motor vehicle at LaPlata Jr. High. A radar detector was taken from the car and a window was broken out.

Police also heard reports of assault with a deadly weapon and discharging a firearm in the city limits in the 100 block of Northwest Drive, a family problem in the 700 block of Ave. G, assault in the 200 block of Ave. H, criminal mischief in the 500 block of Mable, theft from a car at Z Tire Company, theft of car keys from Warren Brothers Motor Co., and burglary of a habitation at the Blue Water Garden Apartments.

Absentee ballots recorded

With one week left before the deadline to get absentee ballots in, 97 people have either voted in the Deaf Smith County Clerk's office or have had ballots mailed to them as of Friday afternoon.

The deadline for absentee voting is 5 p.m. Oct. 31. The Brand will be printing in next Tuesday's edition a sample ballot of the upcoming general election to be held Nov. 4.

Commissioners to meet Monday

The Deaf Smith County Commission will hold a regular meeting Monday morning at 10 a.m. on the second floor of the county courthouse.

Commissioners are to discuss the possibilities of an increase in sales tax to offset the recent raise in property taxes.

Commissioner Troy Don Moore said that the Texas legislation recently passed a bill that would allow counties to collect a ½-cent sales tax on purchases made in the county. Moore said that money generated from the sales tax would reduce property taxes by the same amount generated.

If commissioners decide to call for a public vote, the election to implement a sales tax could not happen until April of 1987.

In other business the commission will be hearing from Sheriff Joe Brown. Brown will be requesting permission to hire another jailer to replace on who recently resigned.

- The commission also is to consider:
 - Radios for the sheriff's office.
 - The appointment of a county health authority.
 - Purchasing a fingerprint kit for the jail.
 - Placing a soft drink machine in the courthouse.
 - Adoption of a Deaf Smith County Social Services manual of services.
- A request to place a telephone cable along a county road.
- Purchase of filing cabinets for the county clerk's office.

Lawmakers approve withdrawal of U.S. ambassador to Syria

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan's decision to withdraw the U.S. ambassador to Syria is receiving a thumbs-up from Capitol Hill, where several lawmakers say the United States should go even further and impose economic sanctions on the Mideast nation.

Shortly after the White House announced the impending withdrawal of Ambassador William Egleton, Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., called on Reagan to take further diplomatic, political and economic steps against Syria.

And Sen. Frank Lautenberg, D-N.J., released a letter he and 18 other senators had sent to Reagan a week ago, urging the president to ban certain U.S. economic activities with Syria.

The withdrawal of the American ambassador, which should occur in the next few days, was meant as a show of support for Great Britain, which Friday announced that it was breaking diplomatic relations with Syria.

The British charged Syria with sponsoring the plot to smuggle a bomb onto an Israeli airliner at London's Heathrow airport. Earlier Friday, a British jury convicted a Jordanian, Nezar Hindawi, 32, of trying to smuggle a bomb onto an El Al plane at Heathrow in the luggage of his pregnant Irish girlfriend. Judge William Mars-Jones sentenced Hindawi to 4½ years in prison.

"A state that encourages and takes part in terrorism isolates itself from the civilized world," White House spokesman Larry Speakes said. "The United States will consult and cooperate with others to bring practical meaning to the isolation — diplomatically, politically, economically."

The White House statement said: "We applaud the reaction of Her Majesty's government. We support the British decision. Our ambassador is being withdrawn from Syria. In the coming days we will be in close consultation with Her Majesty's government."

A senior administration official, declining to be named publicly, said that U.S. Ambassador-at-Large L. Paul Bremer, chief State Department expert on terrorism, was consulting with Great Britain on any further moves.

A State Department official, speaking on condition he not be identified, said U.S. policy toward Syria is being reviewed and that further steps were a possibility.

Asked if a complete break in diplomatic relations would be considered, the official said, "I'm not ruling anything in, or anything out."

Dole, who was not a signer of the letter released by Lautenberg, called on Reagan to take further diplomatic, political and economic steps to pressure Syria to give up its support for terrorism.

Bell says Hasenfus innocent of conspiracy

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) - Defense attorney Griffin Bell said Friday that captured American Eugene Hasenfus was not part of a conspiracy because he only helped deliver supplies to the Contra rebels and did not plan the operation.

Bell, who was U.S. attorney general during the Carter administration, conceded on his arrival Thursday night that it was "an absolute fact" that Hasenfus was on board a plane carrying weapons destined for the U.S.-backed insurgents.

Hasenfus, 45, of Marinette, Wis., was captured Oct. 6, a day after the C-123 cargo plane on which he was a crew member was shot down in southern Nicaragua. Two other Americans and a third crewman, still unidentified, died in the crash.

The leftist Sandinista government has charged Hasenfus with terrorism, violating public security and criminal association. A three-man People's Tribunal is hearing the case.

Hasenfus' Nicaraguan lawyer, Enrique Sotelo Borgen, denied the charges in documents filed with the revolutionary court Thursday.

Pusher sells to undercover agent

BEDFORD, Texas (AP) — It was a classic case of being in the wrong place at the wrong time.

Two men were at a convenience store filling their automobile with gasoline in this Fort Worth suburb Friday when a man offered to sell them a plastic bag of a substance he claimed was cocaine.

The two men in the car said, "No, thanks. We just came here for gas."

But when he wouldn't take "no" for an answer, they paid him $140 for the bag of white powder that turned out to be Alka-Seltzer.

But the bogus drug peddler then got a big surprise.

The men he had talked into buying the bogus drug turned out to be undercover Bedford Police officers. They arrested the man on a charge of delivery of a simulated controlled substance, a third-degree felony in Texas.

Bedford Police spokesman Mike Murphy said the man first asked the undercover officers if they used drugs.

"One of the officers said, 'Yeah, a little,'" Murphy said. "Then the guy jumped into the back seat and started trying to sell them Alka-Seltzer."

There have been several incidents in the last month where convenience store patrons have been approached in parking lots and offered bogus drugs, he said.

"We're seeing a real rash of people trying to sell Alka-Seltzer as cocaine," Murphy said. It was the second time in two weeks that Bedford police have made such an arrest.

The 26-year-old Fort Worth man was in the Tarrant County Jail at Fort Worth Saturday.

"It was just a bad day for pseudo-drug pushers in Bedford," Murphy said.

Gays galvanized by AIDS threat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AIDS has politically galvanized California's homosexual community even as it has decimated its ranks, say activists battling the twin threats of discrimination and political isolation.

"The ultimate irony is that AIDS has breathed new life into the gay political movement," said Benjamin Schatz, an attorney with the National Gay Rights Advocates.

Perhaps the biggest challenge lies ahead. On Nov. 4, Californians vote on Proposition 64, a measure put forward by supporters of extremist Lyndon LaRouche.

Schatz and other activists say members of the gay community are leading the fight against the proposition just as they have worked to help AIDS victims and to fight those using AIDS to justify hatred of homosexuals.

"We stopped to bury the dead and nurse the wounded, but now we've taken up our weapons once again and we're back on the battlefield of human rights," said activist Greg Day.

The proposition could result in the quarantine of people carrying the virus that causes acquired immune deficiency syndrome. It also would prevent people who have the virus from working in schools and certain other jobs.

"Today AIDS is out of control. ... AIDS is the gravest public health threat our nation has ever faced," says the ballot argument in favor of Proposition 64, written by LaRouche backers Khushro Ghandi and pathologist Dr. John Grauerholz.

The initiative is opposed by many doctors, leaders of both major political parties and civil liberties groups, but homosexual activists say fear of AIDS makes it impossible to consider Proposition 64 an automatic failure.

Tennessee texbook ruling appealed

GREENEVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A federal judge's ruling that a school system must accommodate parents' objections to textbooks on religious grounds has far-reaching implications that could disrupt education, a school attorney says.

U.S. District Judge Thomas G. Hull ruled Friday that the Hawkins County school district must provide the seven fundamentalist Christian families who sued with a free, public education that does not violate their First Amendment rights to religious freedom.

"I can say I'm very grateful and I'm very thankful," said Vicki Frost of Church Hill, one of the plaintiffs and a leading witness in the July trial.

Timothy Dyk, a Washington attorney representing the school district, said the ruling, if it stands, could create chaos for school boards.

"If it's affirmed on appeal, it gives any parent a right to ask to have a child excused from any course they find to be religiously objectionable," Dyk said.

"Just imagine a first-grade teacher trying to teach. It's really impractical. The result is we will get school boards trying to get a curriculum which doesn't offend anybody," he said.

After the ruling, the school board filed notice with the federal court here that the decision would be appealed to the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

Attorneys for both sides had said they were prepared to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Youths explode governor's car

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain (AP) — Two youths today blew up the car of the local military governor on a crowded street in this northern Basque city, killing him, his wife and son and their driver, police said. They said 15 others were wounded.

No group immediately claimed responsibility, but police said they suspected ETA, a group seeking independence for the Basque region.

Police told Spanish National Radio that two youths on a motorcycle placed a sports bag containing plastic explosives on the hood of Gen. Rafael Garrido Gil's car as it waited at a traffic light. Garrido, 59, was governor of Guipuzcoa province.

The names of Garrido's wife and their 14-year-old son were not immediately available.

The blast shattered windows on both sides of the street. Witnesses said the sidewalks were stained with blood.

The national news agency EFE said passers-by rushed to aid the injured, grabbing material from shops along the street to make bandages and tourniquets.

Pedestrian and motor traffic was heavy at the time because many residents were doing morning shopping.

Hospital officials said the injured included a young child struck by flying metal.

The deaths bring to at least 42 the number of deaths due to political violence in Spain this year. On Friday, the socialist government of Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez announced a shakeup in the Interior Ministry to provide better coordination to fight terrorism.

ETA began its terrorist campaign in 1968 for independence for the three-province Basque region, and since has claimed responsibility for the deaths of nearly 600 police, civil guards and military officers. Among them was a previous Guipuzcoa province military governor shot to death in 1979.

Realtors Get Promo Film

The Hereford Board of Realtors this week received a copy of a video film extolling the benefits of Hereford. Mike Carr, left, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce executive, presented the video to Marn Tyler, Realtor board president. The video, produced by the chamber and sponsored by businesses, promotes the county as a place for new industry. Other organizations will get copies of the video which can be borrowed from the chamber. Copies can also be purchased at the C of C office. "It's terrific," said Mrs. Tyler. "If I didn't live in Hereford, I would move here!"

'Barnstorming' set for McCathern

A "barnstorming" campaign caravan for Gerald McCathern, Democratic candidate for the 19th congressional district representative, has been scheduled this week, and all McCathern supporters are invited to participate in any or all of the visits, it was announced at McCathern's headquarters here Friday.

The four-day swing into many of the towns in the district will start at 8 a.m. Monday at the courthouse square in Hereford. The caravan will stop at courthouses in many of the towns or at prominent downtown locations.

Campaign supporters arranged the caravan the final week before the Nov. 4 general election in an effort to promote McCathern's bid to unseat Republican Larry Combest of Lubbock.

Monday's stops will include Dimmitt at 9:30 a.m., Friona (10:30), Bovina (11:20), Farwell (Noon), Muleshoe (1 p.m.), Earth (2:20), Olton (3:15), Hart (4:10) and Plainview (5:15). Tuesday's visits will include Hale Center, Abernathy, Petersburg, Idalou, Slaton and Lamesa.

Wednesday's schedule starts in Odessa on the mall parking lot on E. 42nd St. at 10 a.m., then continues to Andrews, Seminole, Seagraves, Denver City and Plainview. The final day starts at Brownfield at 9 a.m. and continues to Levelland, Morton, Amherst, Littlefield, and winds up at McCathern's Lubbock headquarters at 4:15 p.m. at 3841 50th St.

Select proper wood

With Texans investing a lot of money in wood products to improve landscape design and increase outdoor living, particular attention needs to be given to selecting the proper wood.

Common landscape of these outdoor improvements will remain sound and attractive if proper attention is given to wood selection and maintenance, points out Chuck Stayton of Overton, wood products specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Planning is a must for selecting pressure treated wood or naturally resistant woods like redwood and cedar heartwood," says Stayton. "The type of wood selected will determine how it can be used and what maintenance is required to keep it attractive and sound."

Wood improperly used does not stay attractive or last long in Central and East Texas climates due to weathering, mildew, decay (rot) and termites, notes the specialist.

"The best solution when wood is used in ground contact or constantly wetted is pressure treatment," emphasizes Stayton. "Copper-chrome-arsenate (CCA) treated southern yellow pine is an excellent choice for posts, landscape timbers, patio blocks and edging boards."

CCA treated pine is light green in color, can be painted or stained, and generally is less expensive and lasts longer. In ground contact than naturally resistant woods such as redwood and cedar heartwood. CCA treated wood should weather six months to a year prior to painting or staining, explains the specialist.

When purchasing CCA treated pine, Stayton recommends looking for a quality mark stamped on each piece. "This mark assures the buyer that proper treatment was done and states whether the wood can be used in ground contact or above ground. It will also state, with the word 'dry', whether or not the wood has been redried after treatment.

"It's best to use redried, treated lumber for fence boards and rails, decking, gazebos and trellises to reduce warping after construction," Stayton points out.

Wood choice for above ground use depends on what you want to achieve with your landscape design, says the specialist. "If you want a natural weathered wood appearance with plants growing on or contacting the wood, CCA treated pine is the best choice. If you desire to maintain a new wood appearance, periodic wood preservative treatments will be necessary and clinging or touching plants will become a nuisance," cautions Stayton.

For a new wood appearance, use either CCA treated pine or naturally resistant woods like redwood or cedar, he advises. "The CCA treated pine will be more durable, but many people prefer the cedar and redwood appearance," Stayton points out. "Cedar and redwood should be all heartwood, but due to cost, usually contain sapwood. Such wood should not be in ground contact, and soil treatment with an EPA approved termiticide is recommended under or around structures containing sapwood."

CCA treated pine, redwood and cedar can be kept looking new and natural by periodically applying a total wood preservative, says the specialist. Such surface applied preservatives should contain a biocide, mildewicide, pigment, resin, ultraviolet light reflector and water repellent to eliminate premature pigment breakdown and mildew growth.

Periodically applying this type of preservative will not prevent wood decay in ground contact or where wood is constantly wetted, but it will reduce decay hazards under normal above ground use situations, Stayton points out.

Anyone interested in total wood preservatives or how to clean and restore fences, decks, trellises and gazebos can contact Stayton at P.O. Box 220, Overton, Tx. 75684; telephone: (214)834-6191.

Endorsements

The Nov. 4 general election is just around the corner and we hope registered voters will take the time to study the candidates and issues, then go make their views known at the polls next Saturday.

A number of important statewide races are on the ballot and local voters will be selecting their choice for U.S. Representative of the 19th District. There is only one contested race on the county level and it concerns just the voters of county precinct 4.

Personally, we will be voting for both Democrats and Republicans on the ballot. We'll begin by marking our vote for Gerald McCathern at the top of the ballot. The Hereford Democrat has a difficult task in unseating Republican Larry Combest, whose campaign contributions more than double those of McCathern. But Gerald has the background, the character, and the independent, conservative philosophy to be a fine representative for this district.

We really would rather be voting for Kent Hance in the governor's race, but our second choice is Bill Clements. As far as we're concerned, Mark White flunked his test as governor and voters should give him a no-pass, no-play rating.

Bill Hobby has held the No. 2 spot too long. I'm voting for David Davidson as lieutenant governor.

Our favorite in the attorney general's race is Roy Barrera Jr., a Republican who is known in political circles as a hardworking Mr. Clean. That alone should be enough to get him elected over Jim Mattox. The Texas Monthly reports: If Barrera loses, it will be large because Anglo Texans put blood ahead of political preference and Hispanic Texans put political party ahead of blood."

Barrera is a San Antonio district judge has a great judicial philosophy: work harder, be tougher. A lack of funds and an experienced campaign staff has hurt Barrera in getting his message to voters, but we think he is clearly the best choice in this race.

We think Garry Mauro is a professional politician looking to climb up the liberal side of the party ladder. We favor M.D. Anderson Jr. for Commissioner of the General Land Office. How a liberal, wise-cracking guy like Jim Hightower ever got elected as Ag Commissioner is a mystery to me. I'll vote for Bill Powers, the Republican candidate.

There are three important contested races for places on the Texas Supreme Court. We favor two Democrats and one Republican in those races. There is a crisis in our Supreme Court. Plaintiffs' lawyers, through heavy financial contributions, have helped give us a court that increasingly favors plaintiffs over defendants and writes law in the guise of interpreting it.

We have a problem for Place 1. Oscar Mauzy, a state senator from Dallas, is heavily financed by plaintiffs' lawyers, lacks judicial experience, and is termed by many as one of the most obnoxious office holders in the state. His Republican opponent, Charles Ben Howell, is a Dallas Appeals Court judge who has been given a poor rating by attorneys who practice in his court. With reservations, we'll vote for Howell.

For Place 2, incumbent Robert Campbell, Democrat, is the choice. He was originally termed a plaintiffs' lawyer but his decisions in latter years have been independent.

For Place 3, Raul Gonzalez, another Democrat, may be one of the court's most valuable members. Appointed to the court only two years ago, Gonzalez is solidly conservative and outspoken in his concern for the court's integrity. He had experience as an appellate court judge and district judge in South Texas.

There are four constitutional amendments on the ballot. Because there has been no hue and cry over any of them, we'll probably vote for the proposed amendments.

All of the above endorsements, of course, are one man's opinion. The important thing is that each qualified voter make up his own mind and follow through by voting Saturday.

State tax hikes

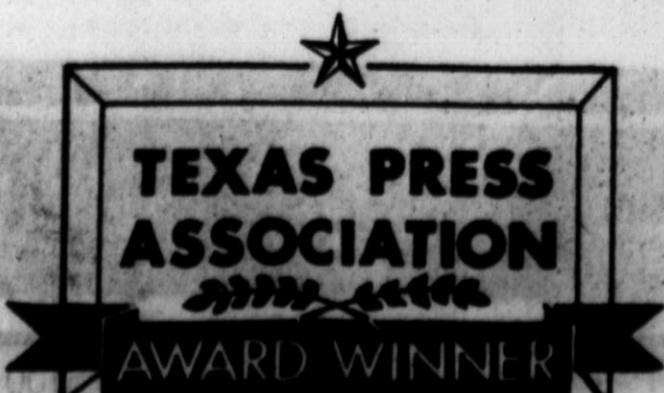

We're hoping Texas legislators don't break any arms or self-strangulate while trying to pat themselves on the back over the recent tax hikes.

Answering Gov. Mark White's clarion call to do fiscal battle, our senators and representatives met in Austin not long ago for a special session.

What was special about it is that they managed to do everything Texans didn't want done: They hiked the state sales tax from 4.125 percent to 5.25 percent and tacked 5 cents onto a 10-cent per gallon state gasoline tax.

In brief, rather than cut into the state's outlay to offset a projected budget shortfall, they altered the acquisition base to accommodate the size of the $2.8 billion shortfall. The same kind of behavior would have you and I robbing a failed bank to pay our monthly bills or to buy a cabin in Cloudcroft, N.M.

Bootleg Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnsongrass farm on Tierra Blanca Creek takes a sidelong glance at the recent summit meeting.

Dear editor:

I got to speculating on how much a summit meeting like the one in Iceland costs and how the cost could be lowered. In deficit-busting times like these we need to reduce the cost per page of non-agreements.

Like it is, the cost is tremendous. It probably cost more to hold the one in Iceland than a Senator spends getting re-elected. The President flies over in Air Force I with escort planes fore and aft and alongside too. There probably are ships strung out along the way. Other planes carry bullet-proof limousines, staff members, communications gear, Secret Service people, etc. No telling what it costs to fly 2,000 reporters there to report there's nothing to report.

Figure up what it costs Russia to do the same, and the cost gets monumental.

I have pointed out there's a way to reduce summit costs to a few thousand dollars, at a cost per page of non-agreements to about $35.

If you watch talk shows on TV you've seen David Brinkley for example in Washington talking to some big-shot in Moscow. They talk back and forth as though they were in the same room.

Why couldn't Mr. Reagan sit in the Oval Office in Washington and Mr. Gorbachev sit in his office in the Kremlin and have technicians hook them up on closed TV? They could argue back and forth for a couple of days, have supper at home, and at the end report the other side is to blame.

The main achievement of the Iceland summit was forcing every TV and radio reporter in the country to learn how to pronounce Reykjavik, an achievement they have no more use for now than the ability to recite the names of all the capitals of the U.S.

I mentioned the shape of the President's office. It's oval, of course. I don't know the shape of Mr. Gorbachev's office, although I suppose it has double walls to harmonize with the Soviet motif of double dealing.

Yours faithfully,

TAKING CARE OF NUMBER ONE

The U.S. Senate took action a few days ago to allow airplanes to fly nonstop from Dallas and Houston to Washington National Airport. U.S. Representative from Texas, Jim Wright, and Senator Lloyd Benson hooked the legislation on a spending bill and got it through.

When Dulles Airport was built a bill was passed in an effort to get traffic to use the new airport. National was far too crowded and it is not as safe an airport as Dulles. Since National is far more convenient it became necessary to use legislation to get usage for Dulles. The legislation determined that no flight could land at National if it originated more than 1000 miles away. This meant that flights from Texas had to land on the way to Washington, or had to land at Dulles and then fly to National. This was a headache for our Senator and Representative so they passed a law allowing flights from 1250 miles away to land at National. This will allow flights from Texas to go nonstop. It is still dangerous but, after all, our guys need to get there as easily as possible.

Soviets sought too much at summit

SDI... A fancy acronym for a star shield Weapons which we now know can intercept and destroy inbound enemy missiles.

SDI. When President Reagan went to Iceland he had to know that the Soviets would do anything, concede almost anything, to destroy our star shield.

Why? It's elementary. If the Soviets could talk us out of our star shield and negotiate us out of nuclear weapons...

Any further war would be fought with armies of marching men. In those, we are hopelessly outnumbered.

Without weapons of mass destruction, we were unable to win even such bush-league wars as Korea and Vietnam.

President Reagan could have bought an agreement in Iceland, an agreement which would have started both nations—theirs and ours—reducing nuclear arsenals.

Our President could have bought such an agreement and brought it home to much applause.

Except that the price Gorbachev demanded was—that we sacrifice our star shield—that we stop trying to defend ourselves against inbound enemy missiles.

And this President would not pay that price.

Gorbachev was gambling that the media of the world would make Mr. Reagan appear the villain; that the American media would pressure our President.

And sure enough, the day following the abortive Iceland meetings, The New York Times was saying that "our President owes us an explanation of how he intends to get the talks back on track..."

Matthew Quinn of UPI was writing, "President Reagan let a brehtaking agreement slip through his fingers..."

And there were some other expressions of indignation that our President had not resolved all the world's problems neatly and completely in his few hours with Gorbachev.

One of the most realistic appraisals of their meeting was Gorbachev's morning-after statement that, "This meeting brought us to a very important stage where we understand where we are."

We should not have expected a more constructive result than that.

The American people have kept the non-event in proper focus. Hundreds telephoned NBC and CBS protesting when their football telecasts were interrupted by the no-news-news from Reykjavik.

Chicago's Bears were demonstrating SDI—intercepting passes.

And winning. (c) 1986, Los Angeles Times, Syndicate

Men inclined to lie after hunt, during war, before elections

By Richard L. Leshner
President

WASHINGTON — "People are most inclined to lie," the German statesman Otto von Bismarck said, "after a hunt, during a war, and before an election."

We are before an election, and the airwaves are filled with congressional candidates vowing to cut spending and hold the line on taxes. The trouble is — when many of these people get back to Washington, it is always business as usual. That is why we have $200 billion deficits year after year, voted by many of those same candidates who vowed to cut spending and hold the line on taxes.

Some citizens are turned off by this betrayal, accusing our politicians of dishonesty. But in the final analysis, we voters are responsible for what goes on in Washington. If we don't get the results we demand, it is because we are not performing our civic duty.

Our problem is that while we demand cuts in overall spending, many of us still demand generous spending on programs that benefit us directly. That is illogical and childish. We can't have it both ways. The hypocrisy in Washington begins at home.

There are 535 members of Congress, all ambitious people eager to make a mark on the world. The main opportunity they have for doing so is by spending money. They will continue spending money like water until we hold their feet to the fire and make them stop.

Some members of Congress insist they have cut spending as much as they can; that the budget deficits stem from President Reagan's tax cuts. This is pure political hokum. Tax revenues have risen steadily under the Reagan administration. The problem is federal spending that has risen even faster.

Many members of Congress are already talking about raising taxes next year to alleviate the deficit. But they will not apply new taxes to the deficit. They never do. They will just spend even more.

There is only one solution to this debacle. We voters must take charge and demand spending restraint. To accomplish this, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has joined with other groups to secure written promises from candidates that they will not raise taxes. We are asking them to sign a "Taxpayer Protection Pledge" assuring us they will not vote for any tax increases of any kind.

Those who take the pledge will be on record. If they vote for higher taxes, we can identify them clearly and let their constituents know they have broken faith.

As for those who refuse to take the pledge, well, you should keep that in mind on November 4.

Bridal Shower Held

Annette See honored with bridal shower

Annette Vaughn See, bride of Carl See, was honored recently with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Doug Bartlett.

Guests were welcomed by the honoree; Lillie Smith, her mother; Vera Jones, her grandmother; and Linda See, mother of the groom.

After registering, guests were invited to be served refreshments from the serving table draped with a linen tablecloth trimmed in lace and centered by an arrangement of blue and mauve silk flowers. Coffee and spiced tea were served from a silver service. Other appointments for mints and nuts were also silver. The white cake was decorated with blue and mauve rose buds.

Serving as hostesses were Mmes. John Thames, Raymond David, John Fuston, Vernon Hope, Quentin Curtis, Kevin Bunch, Warren Gee, Guy Ford, Harve Williams, Jim Haile, Brett West, Doug Bartlett and Kelly Williams.

Harvest dinner set in Slaton

St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Slaton is sponsoring its annual harvest dinner from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 2 in the church hall.

Roast turkey, homemade German sausage, dressing and all the trimmings will be served to adults for $5 and for children, $3. German sausage may also be purchased at $2.75 per pound. Take-out plates will be available.

The Catholic Daughters will have their annual bazaar in the St. Joseph's School in conjunction with the dinner. The bazaar will feature games, booths and a country store. Homemade quilts will be for sale.

Lemon juice will produce writing which is invisible when dry, but which stands out in brown when the paper is warmed.

Machine meals usually safe

Food from a vending machine may not be a gourmet treat, but it is usually safe.

Food safety expert Marilyn Haggard says stews, soups, lasagna and other canned foods are safe to eat even at room temperature, unless the cans are rusted, dented or bulging.

"If the can is damaged, don't even taste the food," cautions the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

When canned entrees come out of the vending machine hot, the machine is working properly, she says.

"Cold foods, such as ham salad, egg or tuna sandwiches, should be cold to be safe," Haggard remarks. "This means the temperature inside the machine must be 40 degrees Fahrenheit or below."

The specialist suggests checking the "use-by" date for freshness too. If a sandwich has an off-odor or mold, throw it away.

Some vending machines contain sealed in retort packages, she notes. These packages act like light-weight, flexible cans and need no refrigeration.

Like cans, retort packages have a self life of 2 to 5 years as long as the pouch is intact. But if the pouch is bulging or leaking, don't taste the food, Haggard warns.

When a vending machine isn't working properly, post a note for fellow employees and call the vending company, the specialist advises. If the company doesn't respond, call the health department and report the problem.

GIVE A SHARE BEAR CHRISTMAS!

Today, your Save'n'Gain wants to tell you about something that is very important to us. Beginning this week at Save'n'Gain, you will find a small, fuzzy character in our store called the Share Bear. This adorable creature is more than just a stuffed toy. He represents a gift that never ends for thousands of underprivileged children in West Texas and New Mexico.

The Share Bear Christmas Fund is a program created by the Furr's Foundation to help needy kids here and in other cities in Texas and New Mexico. Save'n'Gain is supporting the Furr's Foundation effort by offering Share Bears for sale in our store.

Each Share Bear costs $12.99. For each Share Bear sold, $5 of the $12.99 goes directly to the Furr's Foundation fund for underprivileged children. This fund will be donated and distributed to other agencies and organizations such as day care centers, YMCA programs, shelters for abused and neglected kids and medical clinics. And it will be a meaningful donation. The Furr's Foundation goal for 1986 is $500,000!

The Share Bear Christmas Fund is a way you can help. A Share Bear is a promise of better times and happier days for a child who hasn't had much of either one. Pick up a Share Bear

Herd wins crucial battle over Canyon

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

A combination of a Herd defense making big plays when it had to, and a Whiteface offense getting important first downs and running time off the clock, powered Hereford High School to a crucial 14-10 victory over the Canyon Eagles Friday night at Whiteface Stadium.

The win keeps Hereford undefeated at 6-0 in District 1-4A and sets up a showdown against Lubbock Estacado Thursday night in Lubbock, Estacado, which was open last week, is 4-0-1 in the district.

What made the victory even sweeter for Herd head coach Don Cumpston was that it came on the night of his birthday.

Canyon's loss to Hereford was the second straight for the Eagles, who fell to Lubbock Estacado 17-3 on Friday, Oct. 17. Canyon is now 3-2 in district games and 5-2 overall.

Coach Cumpston, calling Friday's game "a real classic," in high school football, said, "It was probably the best defensive effort we've had this season. We were bent but we never broke. We made the plays when we had to make them."

The Whiteface defense intercepted three Canyon passes and recovered two Canyon fumbles.

It all began Friday night with Hereford receiving the game-opening kickoff. The Whitefaces began at their own 24-yard line after Marcus Brown returned the kickoff 15 yards.

Mark Artho carried the ball three straight plays for 26 yards in gains. Vincent Brown then carried two times for eight yards, leading to a third-and-two play.

For the first time this season, Hereford called a play in which a running back attempted a pass. Quarterback Todd Shire handed off the ball to Marcus Brown.

Brown immediately went to a passing stance, throwing the ball to an open Bobby Baker. Baker raced to the end zone, giving Hereford the lead with just two and one half minutes gone by in the game.

Tim Long kicked the extra point, and Hereford held a 7-0 lead.

The Canyon offense began rolling, gaining 35 yards in four plays from its own 26 to the Hereford 40. In a second-and-nine play, Eagle quarterback King Hodson overthrew his receiver.

Whiteface cornerback Robby Collier intercepted the pass—his sixth interception of the season. Collier intercepted the pass at the Hereford eight-yard line with 7:43 left in the first quarter.

Hereford drove into Canyon territory, but the Whitefaces stopped their own drive with an illegal procedure penalty. The penalty occurred in a first down play at the Canyon 44.

Later, when faced with a third-and-eight, a pass fell incomplete and the Whitefaces were forced to punt.

Canyon put together an 18-play, nine-minute touchdown drive which may have ended had the Whitefaces been able to recover two Eagle fumbles in that possession.

The first fumble happened at the Eagle 24-yard line, and the second one happened at the Hereford 29-yard line. But each time the Eagles managed to fall on their fumble, and kept alive what resulted in a scoring march.

A 14-yard pass completion in a third-and-seven play gave Canyon a first down at the Hereford 12. Later, in a fourth-and-five play from the seven-yard line, Hodson went back to pass but no receivers were open.

The field was open on the right side, however, and Hodson took off for the end zone, just crossing the goal line for a touchdown with 4:17 left in the first half.

Hereford was unable to get a first down, and punted from its own 42-yard line. Canyon was called for roughing Hereford punter Bobby Baker, and the penalty gave the Whitefaces a first down.

Hereford attempted another "flea flicker" second down play, in which Baker caught a three-yard pass and pitched out to Vincent Brown. Brown gained five more yards in the play for a first down at the Canyon 41.

But two plays later, Eagle linebacker Dusty Tittle intercepted a pass to thwart Hereford's effort of getting ahead by a touchdown before halftime.

The interception, with 1:31 left in the half, put Canyon at the Hereford 34-yard line. An 11-yard pass play on third down gave Canyon a first down at the 20-yard line, and then an 18-yard pass gave Canyon first-and-goal at the two-yard line.

Whiteface linebacker Michael Phibbs knocked the ball loose from a Canyon ball carrier, and defensive teammate Rodney McCracken recovered the fumble very close to the goal line with less than 20 seconds left in the half.

The Whitefaces had dodged a bullet, and went to the fieldhouse tied with the Eagles at halftime, 7-7.

"That was a big momentum swing as far as the game was concerned, when Canyon fumbled at the one," Cumpston said. "What you tell your players is that every play is a big one, and we made a big play then."

The teams were nearly even in the first half, according to offensive statistics. Canyon had 161 yards total offense compared to 158 for Hereford, and first down totals showed Canyon with 10 and Hereford with nine.

Canyon received the second half kickoff, and put together a sustained drive that lasted just under seven minutes. The Eagles, who had moved from their own 31 to the Hereford 13, had a touchdown opportunity ruined by an illegal motion penalty.

Instead of second-and-nine at the 13, they were faced with a second-and-14 at the 18. An incomplete pass (See WHITEFACES, page 10A)

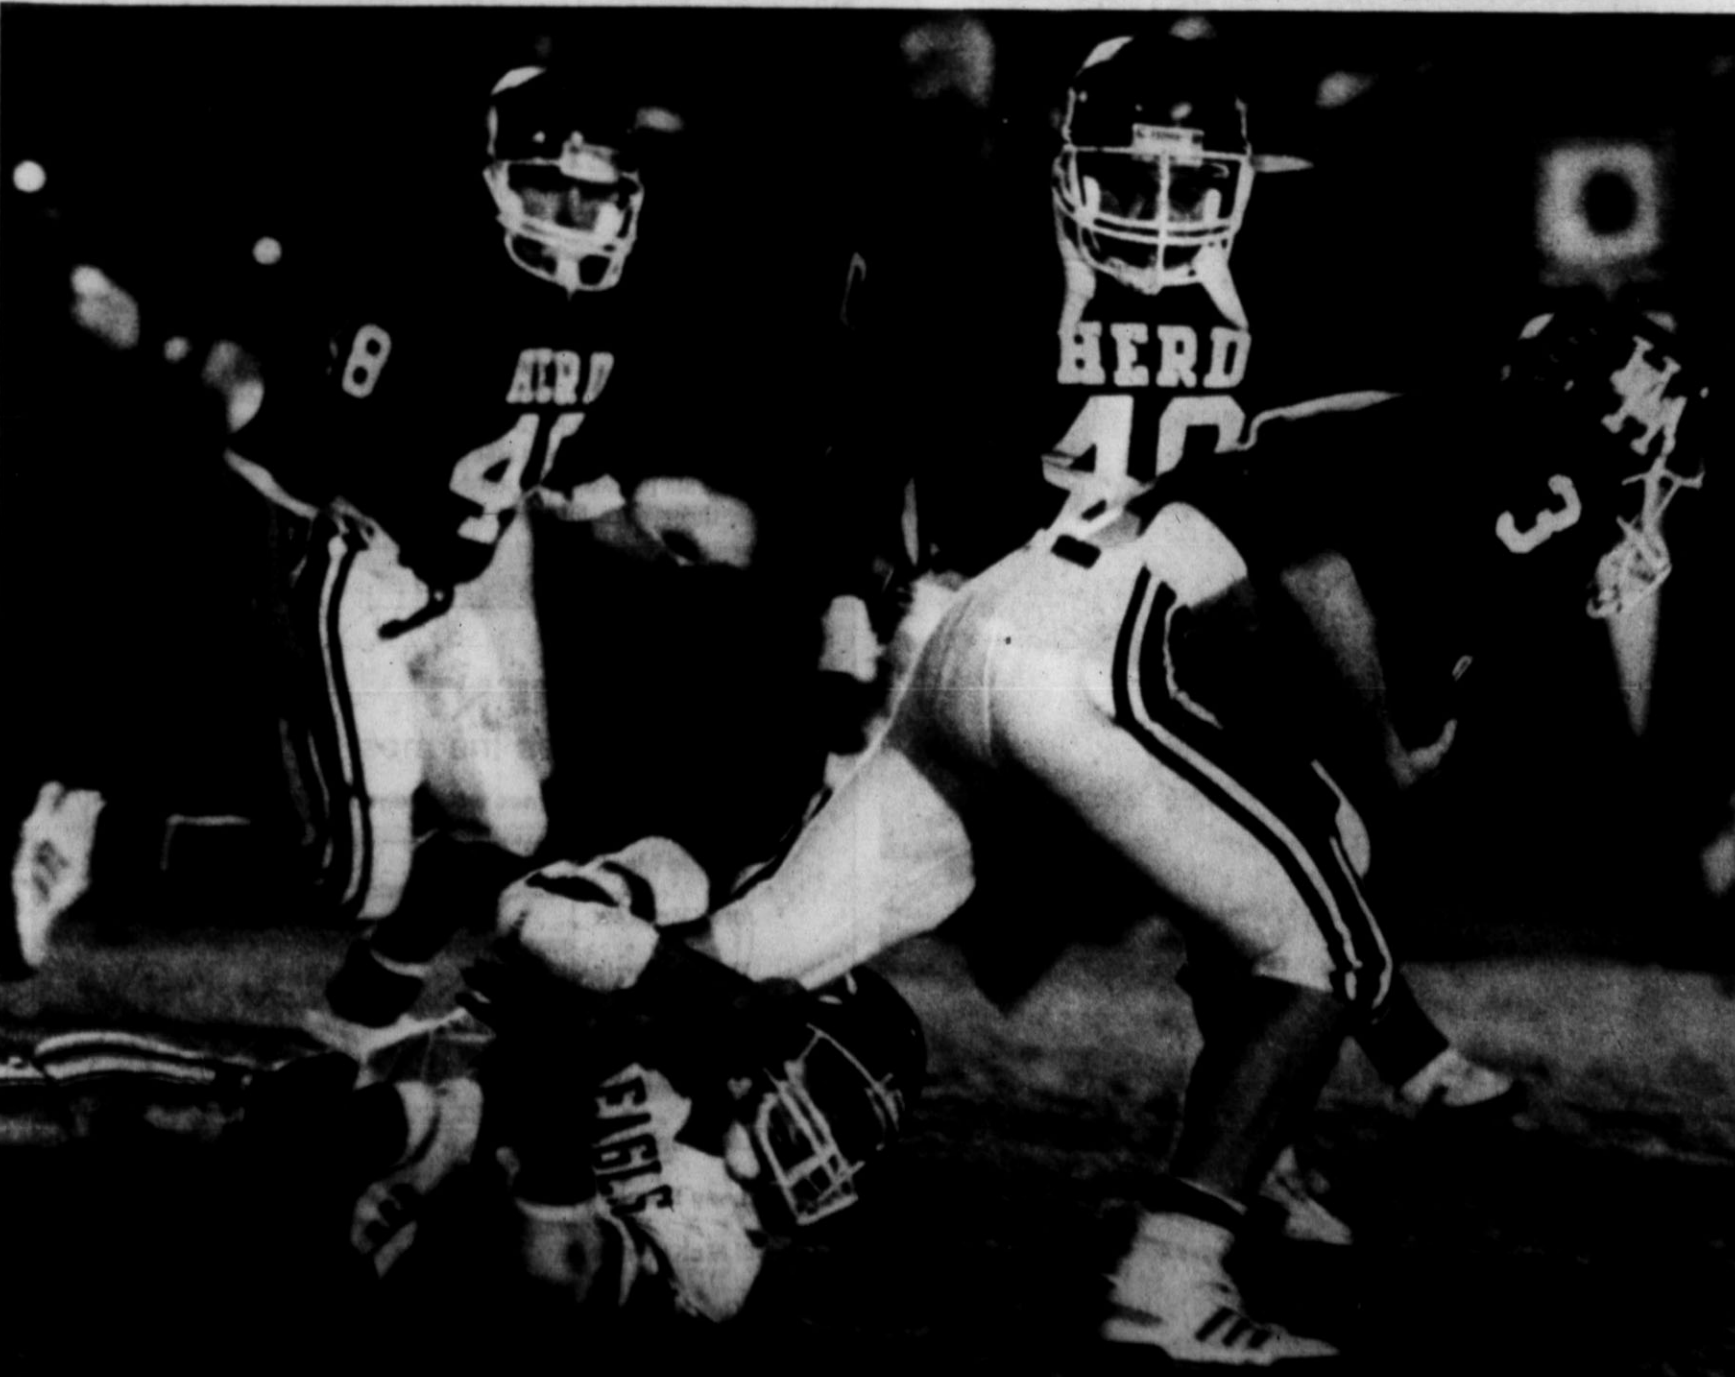

Hooray! Hooray!

Chris Johnson (8) leaps high in celebration of the Hereford Whitefaces' 14-10 District 1-4A victory over Canyon Friday night at Whiteface Stadium. Johnson scored what proved to be the game-winning touchdown when he caught a 21-yard pass from quarterback Todd

Shire with 14 seconds left in the third quarter. Other Herd players pictured celebrating are: Johnny Beltran (89); Chris Bullard (10), who recovered a Canyon fumble that led to Johnson's touchdown reception; Jessie Castillo (81), Russell Brownlow (85), and Bill Ruckman (48). One Of Collier's Two Interceptions

Hereford Whiteface cornerback Robby Collier (3) gets caught by the lower leg by a Canyon Eagle offensive player after he intercepted a pass with just over a minute left in the game Friday night. Collier also intercepted a pass with 7:43 left in the first quarter. The HHS cornerback now has seven interceptions for the season. (Brand photo by Mauri Montgomery)

Waterfowlers dinner, auction are scheduled

The fourth annual dinner-auction of Texas Waterfowlers Association, Inc. of Hereford is set for Thursday, November 13 at the VFW Hall in Veteran's Park.

TWA is a non-profit wildlife conservation organization chartered here several years ago to work toward preservation and provision of waterfowl wintering habitat in this region. Mike Smith and Jim Steiert of Hereford formulated the concept for the organization and worked to obtain the original charter.

Over the past four years, TWA has been active in a wide area of conservation activities including the leading of wintering habitat for waterfowl, testifying before the Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission in Austin on matters pertaining to waterfowl in the Texas High Plains, working as a cooperator with the Interagency Playa Lakes Disease Council, and testifying before the Texas Water Rights Commission to maintain Stewart Dike for waterfowl at the Buffalo Lake Refuge. TWA has been active in heightening the awareness of state officials concerning the important waterfowl resources that depend on habitat in the Texas Panhandle.

This year's TWA banquet and auction is set to get underway with a social hour at 7 p.m. at the VFW hall, followed by a catered dinner at 8 p.m.

TWA President James Higgins says a rapid-moving fundraising auction will follow the dinner.

Among auction items are womens' jewelry, a guided aoudad sheep hunt, guided turkey hunt, and an Ithaca May 10 shotgun.

Special door prizes for men and women will also be offered.

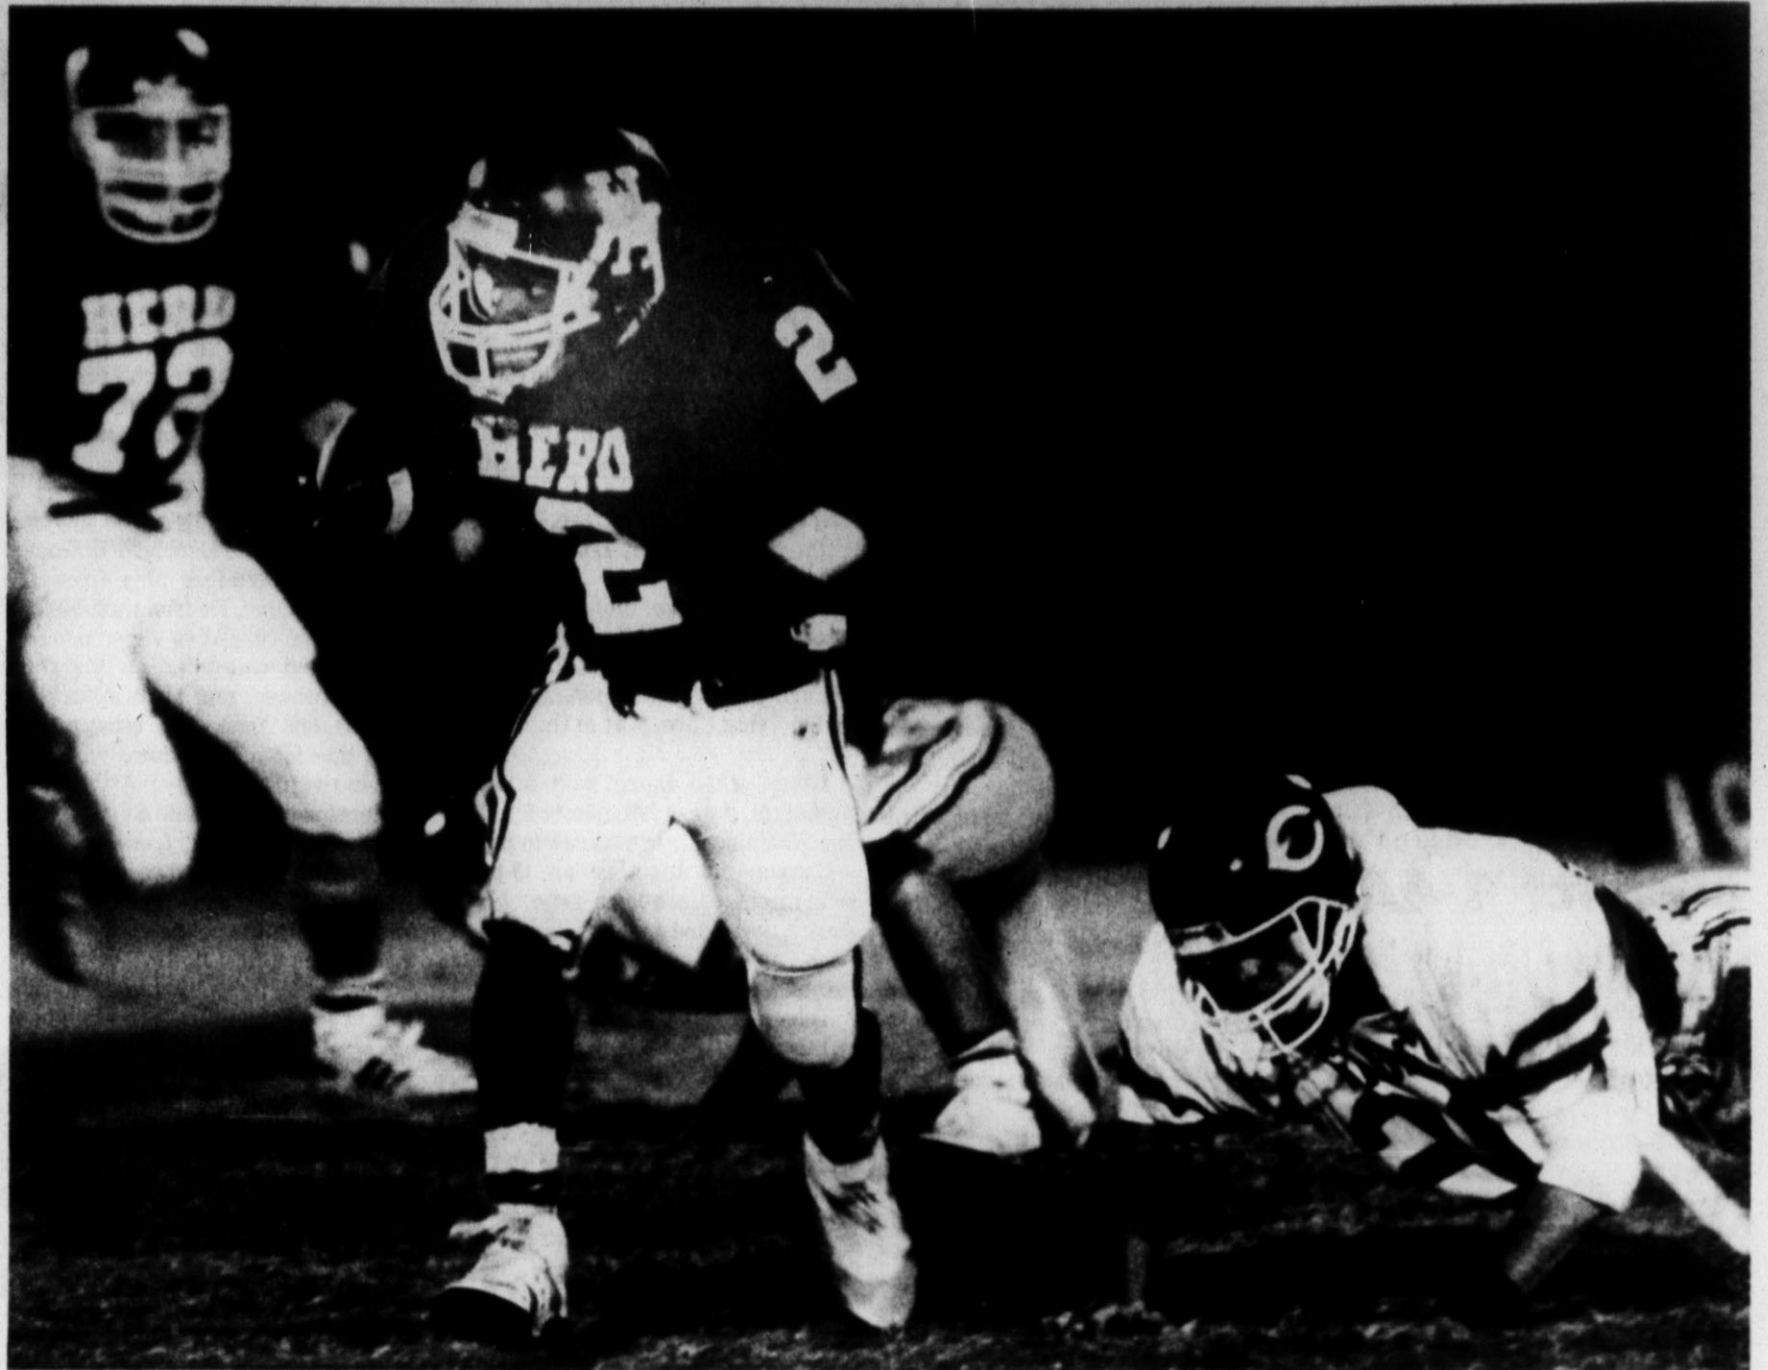

During the banquet, two special membership boost periods will be held. During these periods individuals may add to their membership fees for TWA and thus become eligible to win either a Ruger Red label 12 or 20 gauge shotgun.

Tickets for the banquet are priced at $20 which includes $10 for the catered meal and $10 for tax-deductible TWA membership dues. Meal tickets alone may be purchased at $10.

Tickets are available from TWA members, or may be purchased at K-Bob's of Hereford. Dinner tickets include a stub making the purchaser eligible to win a door prize, and ticket buyers need not be present to win this special prize.

TWA officers, in addition to Higgins, include A.T. Griffin, vice president, and Mike Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Banquet committee members include Mike Watts, Ronnie Bell, J.D. Gould, Wayne Reinart, James Clarke, Johnnie Haney, Jerry Smith, and Jim Steiert.

A Passer Of A Running Back

Marcus Brown returns a kickoff Friday night against Canyon. Brown had kickoff returns of 15 and 37 yards and rushed just one time for five yards, but the big play he was involved in was when he received a handoff from quarterback Todd Shire, pulled up and passed to Bobby Baker for a 42-yard touchdown pass in Hereford's first possession of the game. Hereford went on to defeat Canyon 14-10. No. 72 of Hereford is Walter Brockman. (Brand photo by Mauri Montgomery)

Gene Stallings to return home Sunday

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Gene Stallings returns home Sunday in a bid to spring an upset with his battered and bruised St. Louis Cardinals against his former NFL employers, the Dallas Cowboys.

Stallings, who coached the Cowboys' secondary for 14 years, lost a 31-7 encounter with Dallas Coach Tom Landry on Sept. 29 in St. Louis. Landry is 10-3-1 against his former pupils.

There are six current NFL head coaches who either played or coached under Landry.

Dallas has won 13 of its last 16 games with the Cardinals, who are 2-12 in Texas Stadium. The Cowboys will be seeking their 100th victory in the stadium with the hole in the roof.

The 11-point favorite Cowboys are 5-2 in the NFC East, one game behind Washington, while the Cardinals are 1-6 with their only victory coming against Tampa Bay.

The Cowboys struggled to a 17-14 victory over Philadelphia last Sunday, while the Cardinals fell behind 21-0 but rallied to only lose 28-21 to Washington.

"There's no question Dallas is a much better team than the one we played last month," Stallings said. "They look better on both sides of the ball. The Cowboys are capable of scoring a lot of points and we'll need to keep pace with them offensively if we expect to have a chance to win."

The Cardinals have been riddled with injuries. St. Louis played last week with four starters on the injured reserve list and four more starters hurt.

"Our biggest problem has been getting our good players on the field," Stallings said. "And we've been getting a lot of silly penalties."

Landry said he thought the Cardinals were rapidly improving with Stump Mitchell as the top running back. Otis Anderson was traded to the New York Giants.

"Stump Mitchell is a better runner," Landry said. "Mitchell is a dangerous runner."

Landry said he hoped the Cowboys take the Cardinals more seriously than they did the Eagles.

"You can't stay at an emotionally high level for 16 games," Landry said. "But I hope we're more psyched up against St. Louis."

Landry still converses on a regular basis with Stallings.

"Sure, we talk," Landry said. "I called him up after the Tampa Bay game. Gene will do a good job there. He just needs time and some luck on the injuries."

A sellout of 63,855 was assured for the 3 p.m. CST kickoff.

Whitefaces

and a seven-yard run were all the Eagles could accomplish, and they had to settle for a field goal attempt.

Dustin Davis was successful with a 28-yard field goal attempt, and Canyon gained a 10-7 lead over Hereford with 5:02 left in the third quarter.

Marcus Brown returned the kickoff 37 yards to the Hereford 45-yard line. Hereford achieved one first down, and then after quarterback Todd Shire was sacked for a seven-yard loss in the third down play, Hereford was forced to punt.

A Canyon player back to receive the punt failed to catch the ball, and it bounced off his chest and five yards away from him. Chris Bullard of the Whitefaces recovered the fumble at the Canyon 20-yard line.

Artho rushed for gains of five yards and two yards in Hereford's next two offensive plays. But in the third down play, Shire was sacked for an eight-yard loss back to the 21-yard line.

Hereford, going for a first down or touchdown, achieved a touchdown.

Shire found Chris Johnson open down the sidelines to the left. Johnson caught the pass and motored to the corner of the end zone for a 21-yard touchdown reception.

That was with 14 seconds left in the third quarter. Long kicked the extra point to make Hereford's lead 14-10.

Canyon had the ball just six plays before another turnover shot down the Eagles. Rodney McCracken intercepted a pass and returned it 15 yards to the Hereford 37-yard line, with 9:50 left in the final period.

"I thought McCracken played a great game defensively. It was his first starting assignment," Coach Cumpston said.

Hereford chewed up more than six minutes off the clock, getting first downs on third-and-six and third-and-five plays. Having driven to the Canyon 14, Hereford was faced with another third-and-five play.

A third-yard run by Artho left Hereford two yards short of the first down. Hereford attempted a pass in the fourth down play, but it fell incomplete, and Canyon gained back possession of the ball with 3:37 left in the game.

The Whiteface defense nearly had a safety and then nearly an interception in the same play by Canyon, which was a second-and-four play at the Eagle 17.

A 12-yard run by Tim Anuszkiewicz gave the Eagles a first down at their own 29. After the Eagles had a pass fall incomplete in a first down play, the Herd's Michael Phibbs tackled Anuszkiewicz for no gain in yardage.

Then a six-yard pass completion from Hodson to Pat Cannon left the Eagles with a fourth-and-four at their 35-yard line. Hodson completed a nine-yard pass to Trey Dewey for a first down, and Dewey caught another nine-yard pass to put Canyon at the Hereford 47.

Canyon used its last time out with 1:10 left in the game. Hodson tossed a long pass into a crowd of Herd defenders, and Robby Collier caught it for his second interception of the game and seventh of the season.

Then Hereford just had to snap the ball a couple of times and run out the clock for a very important district victory.

Canyon finished the game as the statistical leader, but not the scoring leader. The Eagles had 206 yards rushing and 90 yard passing for 296 yards total offense.

Hereford had 229 yards total offense—119 yards rushing and 110 yards passing.

Mark Artho led Hereford with 77 yards rushing in 16 attempts, and Vincent Brown had 32 yards in 10 carries. Todd Shire completed seven of 14 passes for 68 yards, and Bobby Baker caught six passes for 75 yards.

With the three pass interceptions and two fumble recoveries, the Hereford defense has 12 interceptions and 16 fumble recoveries for the season. Those 28 takeaways compare to 14 by Hereford opponents.

Canyon's rushing leaders were Tim Anuszkiewicz with 70 yards in 12 carries, Dustin Davis with 47 yards in seven carries, Pat Cannon with 41 yards in nine carries, and King Hodson with 39 yards in eight carries.

Hodson completed 11 of 17 passes, with seven different Eagles catching passes. Trey Dewey caught the most passes—three for 29 yards.

In other District 1-4A action Friday, Borger defeated Dumas 44-21; Levelland beat Pampa 28-6, and Lubbock Dunbar won over Frenship 18-13.

Borger's victory kept the Bulldog half a game behind Hereford with a 5-0 district record. Hereford hosts Borger in a district finale on Friday, Nov. 14.

Oilers will try to break six-game losing streak

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The starter has a sore ankle and his backup regularly misses team meetings, but Los Angeles Raider Coach Tom Flores is pleased with running backs Marcus Allen and rookie Napoleon McCallum.

Allen, the 1985 Associated Press Player of the Year, missed two games with a sprained ankle but returned last week with a three-touchdown performance in a 30-28 victory over Miami.

McCallum juggles his duties as a naval officer and a demanding practice schedule to be ready when called on Sundays.

They'll both be in uniform Sunday when the Raiders try to lengthen their four-game winning streak against the Houston Oilers, who have lost six straight games.

Kickoff is at noon CDT. "Marcus isn't fully recovered from the ankle injury," Flores said. "But we try to keep him in the game as much as possible. A lot of teams take the running back out on third down but we want Marcus in the game."

"He may be as good as a pass receiver." The Raiders made McCallum their fourth-round draft choice in the last draft although he faced a tour of active duty in the Navy.

McCallum works his full-time naval assignment and then rushes to the Raiders' practice to catch up. "You have to be a unique person to hold up to a schedule like he has," Flores said. "He gets to practice after the team meetings and our walk-throughs."

"He misses the class work and has to catch up after practice. It takes a bright individual to do what he's doing."

Allen leads Raider runners with 353 yards in five games and Mc-

Callum is next with 270 yards.

Allen would be glad to assist his rookie running mate but there is a problem.

"He's never around, I don't see him until game day," Allen said. "I don't see how the guy can accomplish what he's doing."

Allen is trying to recover from the ankle injury and get back on track to the kind of season he had in 1985 when he led the NFL in rushing with a Raider-record 1,759 yards.

"I'd be a liar if I said I didn't enjoy last year but we set our goals to go to the Super Bowl and we didn't make it," Allen said. "It was just one of those lucky seasons for me personally."

The Raiders started the season with three straight losses by a total of 11 points before starting their four-game winning streak.

"We settled down and realized what our strengths and weaknesses are and go from there," Allen said.

The Raiders won't be fooled by Houston's lowly record, Flores said.

"When you start out the season with three losses, you don't look past anyone," Flores said. "Any time you play a team with a record like that, you've worry even more because you want to make sure the team doesn't take it lightly."

The Raiders face division foe Denver in their next game.

The great Jim Thorpe and other Indians formed an NFL team called the Orang Indians in Marion, Ohio, in 1922. The team folded after a record of one victory and 10 defeats.

Wrestling Practice Starts Monday

Boys interesting in the sport of wrestling may participate in it this season at the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA, starting with the first practice session on Monday.

The practices will be from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays until football season is over.

YMCA wrestling begins Monday

Wrestling practice will start at the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA on Monday.

The YMCA wrestling club will hold practice sessions on Mondays,

Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. until football season ends, and then the practices will be held from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Saturday practices, mainly for conditioning, will be optional for wrestling club members.

The T.A.W.A. registration fee is $10 per athlete. Entry fees at meets or tournaments are $7.

The YMCA member participant fee is $8 per month. For non-members of the YMCA, the fee is $10 per month. A $25 deposit is required on each uniform.

Donnie Fangman will coach the YMCA wrestling club members this year. He will work close with his brother-in-law, Hank Harmoney of the Amarillo Boys' Maverick Club.

Giving The Quarterback Fits

The Hereford Whiteface defense gave Canyon quarterback King Hodson (11) lots of fits Friday night, particularly by intercepting three of his passes. The Whitefaces literally shot down the Eagles by intercepting two passes in the fourth quarter.

Hereford ran more than six minutes off the clock after Rodney McCracken intercepted a pass with 9:50 left in the game, with Hereford holding a 14-10 lead. (Brand photo by Mauri Montgomery)

Falcons to lean on defense against Rams

By BOB GREENE
 AP Sports Writer

The Atlanta Falcons will lean on their defense as usual when they take on the Rams at Los Angeles on Sunday in a battle for first place in the NFC Western Division.

Seven weeks into the NFL season, the Falcons are 5-1-1 and hold a half-game lead over the Rams, 5-2.

Rams Coach John Robinson has selected Steve Dils as his starting quarterback to replace Steve Bartkowski, who has been hampered by a knee injury in recent weeks. It will be Dils' second start of the season. In the first, he completed 11 of 22 passes for 118 yards as the Rams edged Tampa Bay 26-20 three weeks ago.

Dils will be going against a Falcons defense that forced the Rams into three turnovers two weeks ago and held Los Angeles to just 106 yards rushing. Atlanta won 26-14.

The Falcons, who yielded more than 28 points per game last year, have held opponents to 16.9 points per game in 1986.

The rest of Sunday's NFL schedule has Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, the Los Angeles Raiders at Houston, Miami at Indianapolis, New England at Buffalo, Seattle at Denver, Detroit at Chicago, St. Louis at Dallas, San Francisco against Green Bay at Milwaukee, Cleveland at Minnesota, New Orleans at the New York Jets, San Diego at Philadelphia and Tampa Bay at Kansas City.

On Monday night, Washington travels to New Jersey to battle the New York Giants for the NFC East Division lead.

Like the Rams, the Falcons haven't been able to get their passing game going in recent weeks. But the defense has kept Atlanta in the NFC West lead. Last week, Atlanta and San Francisco tied 10-10 in overtime, giving the Falcons a 5-0-1 record for their last six division games.

Miami, off to an uncharacteristic 2-5 start, goes for its 200th NFL victory against Indianapolis, the only winless team in the league.

New England, 4-3, seeks its eighth consecutive win over Buffalo, 2-5, while Tampa Bay, 1-6, tries to snap a four-game losing streak against Kansas City, 4-3.

Cincinnati, the AFC Central leader at 5-2, is off to its best start since 1982 when the Bengals reached the playoffs. Pittsburgh's 1-6 mark is its worst since Chuck Noll's first season with the Steelers in 1969. Two weeks ago, punter Jeff Hayes ran a fake punt 61 yards for a go-ahead touchdown to help Cincinnati defeat the Steelers 17-15.

The Raiders, 4-3, have won four straight games, while Houston, 1-6, has dropped six in a row. Cleveland, 4-3, is out to snap a six-game losing streak against Minnesota, 5-2 after a 23-7 defeat of Super Bowl champion Chicago last weekend.

San Diego, 1-6, which also has lost six straight, and Philadelphia, 2-5, both may go without their starting quarterbacks. Mark Herrman is scheduled to start for San Diego in place of Dan Fouts, while Randall Cunningham could begin the game for the Eagles over Ron Jaworski.

Pete Rozelle, a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, was a compromise choice when elected commissioner of the National Football League in 1960.

Until 1933, players throwing a forward pass in the National Football League had to be at least five yards behind the line of scrimmage.

Rains hamper harvests

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas farmers with crops to harvest are finding the going tough because of continued rainy weather.

Cotton farmers in central and northern counties have had a hard time wrapping up harvesting operations while cotton and grain farmers in western areas and the plains are struggling to start harvesting their crops.

The rainy weather, combined with the frost and freeze that hit much of the plains more than a week ago, has hurt crops severely, particularly cotton and sorghum that were planted late, said Dr. Zerd Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M System.

Wet fields are continuing to delay harvesting of some mature crops in the Panhandle and South Plains, such as corn, sorghum, soybeans, peanuts and sugar beets. But pumpkin harvesting is active to meet the seasonal market demand.

Peanut harvesting also has been hampered in west central, central and coastal areas due to the rainy weather, Carpenter noted. And the same holds true for peanut and soybean harvesting in coastal regions.

While the rains have boosted early planting of small grains (wheat and oats) so that they are starting to provide good grazing for livestock, farmers who didn't plant early are now having to wait for fields to dry. A lot of small grain acreage remains to be planted across the Rolling Plains and in a few other locations.

Agricultural activity in the Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden also has been slowed some by scattered rains, Carpenter said. But farmers are continuing to plant winter vegetables as conditions permit, including onions and spinach in the Winter Garden.

Early oranges are being harvested in the Valley, and farmers are gearing up to start sugarcane harvesting. Harvesting of pickling cucumbers continues in both regions. Fall onion planting is about complete in Far West Texas.

Most livestock over the state is in good shape due to excellent fall grazing conditions brought on by late summer and early fall rains, noted Carpenter. A lot of heavy calves are moving to market and are bringing good prices. Also, deer are in excellent shape as hunting season approaches.

PANHANDLE: The freeze of more than a week ago dealt a severe blow to late cotton. Some sorghum and peanut harvesting is under way as weather conditions permit, but wet fields are delaying sugar beet harvesting in Deaf Smith County. Wheat is making excellent growth with a lot of calves moving through local auctions to graze on wheat.

SOUTH PLAINS: Rainy weather is continuing to hamper harvesting operations and to further hurt cotton maturity. A lot of cotton and sorghum was hurt by frost and freezing temperatures more than a week ago. Farmers need open weather to finish harvesting corn and to harvest sorghum, soybeans, sugar beets and peanuts. Pumpkin harvesting is active to meet the seasonal market demand.

Some growers have to stop the hoppers before they stop them. In areas where there are still hot spots in grasslands adjacent to winter wheat fields, growers should consider using a systemic planting time treatment to combat grasshoppers, according to Dr. Ben Kantack, Extension entomologist at South Dakota University. Grasshoppers will eat small wheat seedlings below the growing point, often pulling the seedlings out of the ground. For preventions, insecticides should be applied bordering the field approximately 30-35 feet to give grasshopper control until the first fall freeze. Apply in granular form through grass seeder attachments, dropping insecticide right in the seed furrow. Granular treatment is the easiest treatment because it is effective with a once-over application while other methods will require repeated spray.

Cuts key in farm legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm subsidy cuts and a $400 million fund to help bolster farmers who suffered through this year's natural disasters were key provisions in agriculture legislation passed by the 99th Congress.

The measures were in the omnibus budget control and appropriation bills adopted during the final hours of the congressional session last week, said Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-McAllen, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee.

"The payment ceiling provision has been designed to eliminate the relatively small number of very large individual payments that have attracted the kind of criticism which I fear could damage our entire farm stabilization program," de la Garza said Wednesday.

In all, the cost of the first year of the new farm program is likely to hit $30 billion. In contrast, the payment limit will save the government about $25 million over the next four years, the Agriculture Department estimates.

The bill would maintain the current $50,000 limit on an individual direct farm subsidy, but would permit an individual farmer to receive no more than $200,000 in other federal payments.

The new limitation of $250,000 on subsidies and payments to individual farmers was developed by Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., in reaction to reports of enormous federal payments through loopholes in the 1985 farm-support law.

Increasing reports of large farms subdividing into smaller units so that each could qualify for a $50,000 subsidy payment was one such loophole that spurred the Conte provision.

The measure calls on the USDA to determine if rule changes are needed regarding subsidies and to make recommendations to Congress by March 1.

De la Garza noted that the payment ceiling was adopted as part of the Continuing Resolution, which funds most federal programs for the 1987 fiscal year.

Also contained in the spending bill was authorization of $400 million in disaster payments to farmers who suffered from drought and other natural disasters this year.

The measure is aimed at helping to pay for damages suffered from drought in the Southeast, floods and excessive rain in Michigan and Oklahoma, and in other natural disaster areas that may be designated by the president.

Payments would cover disaster losses up to 50 percent of the farmer's normal production.

Other farm provisions contained in the spending bill include:

— a $2.017 billion floor under the amount of Rural Electrification Administration guaranteed loans that rural cooperatives could pay off and refinance privately at lower interest rates.

— a requirement that the Agriculture Department make $5 billion in short term export credit guarantees available in fiscal 1987 in intermediate-term export credit guarantees for promoting agricultural exports.

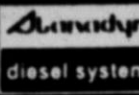

— advance delivery of partial subsidy payments to producers of 1987 wheat, feed grains, rice and upland cotton.

WHO'LL STAND UP FOR US?

Whose interest is our Congressman Larry Combest looking after? Did you know that 86% of the farmers voting in his district voted for mandatory production controls on wheat? Our congressman said the vote was not important. Did you know that our congressman has made very little effort to keep nuclear waste out of his district? It is no surprise that the D.O.E. keeps pushing a repository in Deaf Smith County. Did you know that the unemployment rate is 12% for Deaf Smith County? A prosperous agriculture generates business and jobs, and yet our congressman voted 8 times last year to lower grain and cotton prices!

Gerald McCathern will look out for our interest in Washington. Gerald McCathern knows and understands the needs of the people concerning agriculture, business and jobs. Just as importantly, Gerald's not afraid to speak out. As readers of his three books and his "Agriculture Watchdog" newsletter will attest, Gerald McCathern understands what's happening to our area and the rest of rural America and few people are more persuasive!

The 19th District needs a tough, informed representative in Congress while there are still people left in the 19th District to represent!

TAke responsibility when preparing for Halloween

Strange and fantastic creatures will soon invade quiet neighborhood streets. Recreation centers will welcome groups of oddly costumed youngsters. Once again, Halloween arrives with all of its enjoyable frights and scares, and Texas Safety Association offers some tips to keep it happy, safe, and "deliciously scary."

"Although our children will spend the night 'pretending,' we, as responsible adults, need to take extra, realistic care to keep them safe on Halloween," advises George Gustafson, president of the association. "The young Franksteins and vampires will be thinking of treats and fun. We must prepare them, our neighborhoods, and ourselves to eliminate as many real dangers as possible."

Dangers that can ruin your child's Halloween trills:

-MASKS: If a mask inhibits vision, it could contribute to a bad fall or a pedestrian accident. Sharp points or edges can scratch the skin or catch on other materials. Make certain masks fit securely, with large enough eye, nose, and mouth openings for unrestricted breathing and sight. Consider using non-toxic face paints or makeup instead of masks.

-COSTUMES: If the costume material is easily flammable, too long or flowing, or too dark, a child's safety could be at stake. Look for fire-resistant costumes that fit comfortably, and use reflective tape as part of the costume design.

-NEIGHBORHOOD ROUTE: If a child is unfamiliar with a new neighborhood or visits another area, he or she could become easily disoriented in the dark and then lose the way home. Pre-plan your child's route a day or two ahead. Arrange for an older brother, sister, or family friend to accompany the young "monsters" if a parent or other adult is unavailable. Be sure each ghost, goblin, or princess carries a flashlight or light stick.

--YARD AND DRIVEWAYS: Garden tools, hoses, trash cans, etc. can trip up even the most careful visitor in the dark. Clear the outside of your home so that your treats come without any threats to safety, and keep the area well lighted.

"We must actively accept the responsibility for our children's safety. This includes preparing their costumes, watching for them as we drive, using child safety seats and fastening their safety belts when they ride with us, and inspecting their filled bags of treats when the night's revelry ends," emphasizes Gustafson.

"Our children depend on us, expect us to keep them safe from harm, and learn from our continued caution."

Lisa Layman honored

A bridal shower was given recently for Lisa Layman, bride-elect of Shawn Sampley, in Ward Parlor of First United Methodist Church.

The honoree greeted guests with Holly Drinnon, her sister; Dorothy Daniels, her grandmother; Martha Layman, her mother; and Dottie Sampley, the prospective bridegroom's mother. Refreshments were served from a table centered by a large ivy and appointed with silver and crystal.

Serving as hostesses were Zula Arney, Joan Bookout, Dean Bradley, Juanita Brown, DeDe Drake, Margaret Ann Durham, Carolyn Hacker, Mary Hamby, Nita Lea, Margaret Lomenick, Nell Norvell, Dorothea Prowell, Betty Quillen, June Rudd and Sue Sims.

Officers Installed

Sugar Works Cake Decorating Club met recently at K-Bob's Steak House for an installation dinner. Sharon Pennington, at left, installed Sherry Davis as president; Sue Rogers, vice president; Carol Odom, secretary-treasurer; and Paula Gamez, reporter-historian.

Extinguishers important for all households

A fire extinguisher may not add much to the decor, but could keep your kitchen—or the whole house—from going up in flames.

The combination of heat and flammables, such as grease, make the kitchen a prime location for fire hazards, says Dr. Peggy Owens, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

She says that small fires in pots on the stove can be extinguished simply by replacing the lid to cut off the oxygen supply. Baking soda poured from the box will also put out small fires.

But a home fire extinguisher is still the best insurance against the spread of a small fire into something that could threaten the entire house, remarks Owens.

According to the specialist, a small carbon dioxide extinguisher is ideal for small kitchen fires because it sprays a fog which smothers the fire and evaporates without making a mess.

Next best is one containing a dry chemical, which also will deny grease fires the oxygen needed to burn, but will require cleanup of the spray powder afterward.

Both types of extinguishers are superior to using water or an extinguisher with a water-base agent as the fire-fighting material.

"Spraying or throwing water on grease or electrical appliances is very dangerous," says Owens, "since water causes the grease to spatter and spread."

Putting water on electrical equipment not only creates the risk of shock, but can also short out the appliance and ruin its future usefulness, she adds.

Once you have a kitchen fire extinguisher, study the directions so you know how to use it. Periodically check the expiration date to make sure the contents are still good.

Also check to see if the fire extinguisher must be discarded after use or can be refilled. Then place the extinguisher in a kitchen location away from the stove area so you can get to it in an emergency, advises the specialist.

Guest day planned

Well-known Western artist, Roger Ayres of Canyon, will present the program when members of the Hereford Art Guild meet at 2 p.m.

Tuesday at the Hereford Community Center.

Anyone interested in attending is welcome during the club's guest day.

Annual Fall Festival Friday at First Christian Church

(See story, Page 2B)

Susan Perrin is co-chairman of meal arrangements for the fajita lunch and supper to be served during First Christian Church's Fall Festival, Oct. 31, but she's also taken time out to work up crafts for the Country Store featured during the event. Here, she decorates a folk art Christmas decoration.

Jaime Steiert looks on as her Mom, Kerrie puts some finishing strokes on drybrushed ceramics of American Indians that will be at the Country Store. Mrs. Steiert used the painstaking dry brush technique to render authentic detail into the headdress of the chief, based on research in historical books.

Shayla Lindsey models a Concho decorated sweater and shows off folk art flowers that will be for sale at the Country Store. The store will open at 10 a.m. Friday with apple cider, spiced tea, coffee, rolls and cookies being served to customers throughout the day.

Christy Wright, general chairman of the annual Fall Festival, gets some assistance from Laura Perrin, center, and Shayla Lindsey as she checks out some of the items for the Country Store. Store merchandise will include handmade crafts, Christmas decorations and home-baked foods.

MRS. CHRIS ALLEN LEONARD
...nee Kimberly Kay Booker

Booker, Leonard vows repeated Saturday

Kimberly Kay Booker became the bride of Chris Allen Leonard Saturday afternoon in St. Vincent's Catholic Church of Pampa. Officiating for the couple was Deacon Jerry Grossman of Canyon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Malone of 905 E. 15th St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Leonard of Pampa.

The bride's cousin, Tracey Brewer, served as maid of honor and Cliff Holland was best man.

Serving as bridesmaids were Juanita Velasquez, Lori Walterscheid and Cheri Taylor. Groomsmen were Danny Mendoza, Greg Wilkins and a cousin, Ken Marak.

Guests were escorted by Greg Logan and Masud Alam.

Michael Eakin vocalized "Flesh Of My Flesh", "That's The Way" and "Our Father" and was accompanied by Rosemary Eakin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a romantic white bridal-length gown designed with a Victorian neckline and fitted bodice enhanced by lace and sequins. The long fitted lace sleeves came to points at her wrists and the cathedral-length train was attached to the middle of the gown's back.

The waist-length veil of bridal illusion was attached to a headpiece adorned with sprays of seed pearls and lace.

She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations and daphnie rose and charcoal gray lace and ribbon streamers. Her jewelry consisted of pearls.

Bridal attendants wore tea-length off-the-shoulder daphnie rose dresses fashioned with deep flounces at the shoulders and sashes at the waistlines. They carried carnation bouquets designed similar to the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Pyper Wilkins invited guests to register at the reception held at the Pampa Country Club.

The groom's cousin, Tiffany Avara, served cake and Valisa McHugh poured punch and coffee.

The bride's tiered cake was decorated by daphnie rose and gray flowers and was fashioned with stairways coming off either side of the cake and a fountain underneath.

Leaving for a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride wore a fall colored mid-calf-length drss. The couple will make their home at 714 Ave. G.

The bride received her associates secretarial degree from West Texas State University and is currently employed as a secretary for the superintendent at Walcott Independent School District.

The bridegroom received a bachelor's degree in accounting from WTSU and served as treasurer for the Accounting Club. He is presently an accountant at William E. Allen and Co. in Hereford.

Club votes to send monetary love gift to state hospital

President Jennie B. Terrell conducted a brief business meeting when members of La Afllatus Estudio Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Eva Gilliland. Della Stagner served as co-hostess.

The group voted to send a monetary love gift, instead of having a gift exchange, to the Volunteer Services Council for the Wichita Falls State Hospital for Christmas.

In keeping with the club's course of study, "Our Town U.S.A.," Pet Ott gave the program on early agricultural related businesses in Hereford. She talked of the businesses created by the sale of produce and farm animals from the 1930s to the 1940s. She named the three chicken hatcheries, cream stations, ice cream factory and others. She recalled many humorous accounts of early happenings in the delivery of products.

The club will meet next on Nov. 4 in the home of Mary Williamson with Ott acting as co-hostess. Alberta Higgins will give the program on "Mains Street, Hereford."

Members attending were Opal Elliston, Teresa Hale, Bea Hutson, Lola Jewell, Louise Kinsey, Ott, Emily Suggs, Terrell, Williamson and hostesses.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart was born in Salzburg, Austria on Jan. 27, 1756.

In 1738, construction began on London's Westminster Bridge.

Fun, food, fellowship planned at festival

"Homemade and handmade" could well be the theme of this year's edition of the annual Fall Festival of First Christian Church, as there will be plenty of both to highlight the event all day Friday, Oct. 31.

Festival events will include a Country Store, lunch and supper, and carnival games and booths Halloween evening.

Kicking-off Friday's activities is the Country Store, which will open at 10 a.m. in the fellowship court area of the church.

Handmade arts and crafts highlight the Country Store, and home-baked goodies will also be featured.

Among items available for sale at the Country Store will be a ceramic Nativity set by Nell Culpepper, dry-brushed ceramics of American Indians by Kerrie Steiert, a wide selection of decorative folk art made by various members of FCC, Concho decorated sweatshirts, silver jewelry by Jan Wilks, Christmas gifts and decorations, and a variety of items from the mens' corner.

Refreshments of cider, coffee, rolls and cookies will be served throughout the day, concurrent with the operation of the Country Store.

Susan Barrett is in charge of merchandise and arrangements for the Country Store.

Two big Mexican food meals are planned to highlight midday and late afternoon functions at the Festival.

Pam and Susan Perrin have pooled their culinary talents to head up a kitchen committee that will be turning out fajitas with all the trimmings.

Meals will include beef or chicken fajitas, beans, salad and sopapillas.

Cost is $3 for a single fajita meal and $6 for a two fajita meal with lunch hours 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and supper hours 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Carry-out orders will be available by calling 364-0377 by 11:30 a.m. for lunch and by 5:30 p.m. for supper.

A big Halloween evening carnival is also set to get underway at 5 p.m. and will continue through 8 p.m. Steve and Connie Gilbert have chaired the carnival, which has been set up to provide a safe form of fun for Halloween evening.

Among highlights planned for the carnival are balloon sculpting by a pair of clowns, fishing pond, rubber band gun gallery, wheel of fortune, walk the maze, sucker pull, prize toss, pillow fights, cupcake walk for small children, and a full-fledged cakewalk. Other games and booths will also be available.

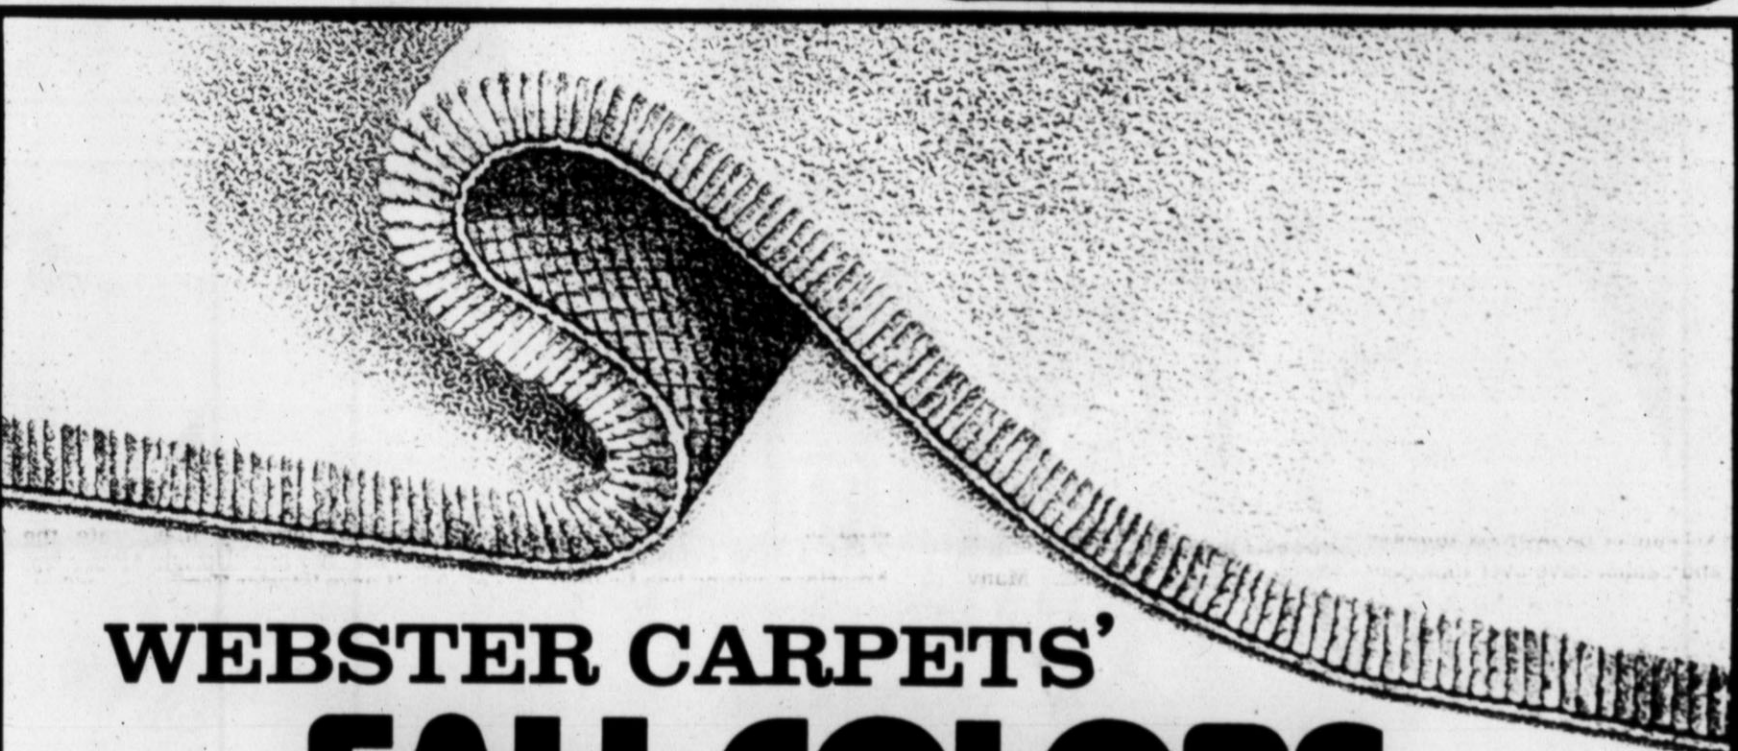

Proceeds from the Fall Festival will be used for improvements to the fellowship hall kitchen of First Christian Church.

General Chairman of the 1986 Fall Festival is Christy Wright.

FISH IN THE WATER

WATERLOO, Ontario (AP) — Most tropical fish thrive in soft water, but fish fanciers should take care when moving their pets from hard to soft water, says the Canadian Water Quality Association.

"As with changes in temperature, water acidity, and food, a switch to softer water must be done gradually to prevent a shock to the delicate systems of tropical fish," says the association.

Thank You

Thirty-five years ago Wayne and I wanted to live in the perfect place. What we wanted was one where he could grow professionally, where we could live happily, and where our children could develop a strong foundation for life. We chose Hereford. Throughout these many years, we have never doubted the wisdom of this decision. The out-pouring of community kindness following Wayne's illness and death has reaffirmed this more clearly than ever.

The tributes to Wayne and the comfort to the family he leaves behind has been evidenced in so many ways. We are grateful for the tangible expressions of love shown by the flowers, food, cards, calls, and memorials. Beyond this however, we were touched deeply as you shared with us your warm memories of our husband and father.

We extend special appreciation to Clint Formby for remembering Wayne on his "Day by Day Philosopher" program, and to Speedy Nieman for his tribute in the "Hereford Bull." Thank you again for sharing in our grief.

Chamber Singers begin fall season

The Hereford Chamber Singers have begun their 1986 fall season with the election of new board members, Ann Meyer and Bobby Boyd, and the appointment of Chuck Moore and Janie Hill.

Officers elected by the board are Amy Gillland, president; Bill Devers, vice president; Ann Meyer, secretary; and Janie Hill, treasurer.

New members joining the group are Sandy Blevins, soprano, and Janie Hill, alto.

The Chamber Singers have spent a busy year helping Deaf Smith County and the surrounding area celebrate Texas' Sesquicentennial. They represented Hereford at "Hereford Night" at the "Texas" production in Palo Duro Canyon, singing prior to the production. They entertained county residents at the Wagon Train festivities and the burying of the Sesquicentennial time capsule. They also sang for an area meeting of the VFW in Amarillo, at Amarillo's Memorial Day Funfest, and for the multi-state gathering of sugar beet growers in Hereford.

Organized in 1974 by founding director, Bill Devers, and a charter member board of directors composed of Bobby Boyd, Jan Walsler, Jane Gulley, Duffy McBrayer, and Douglas Morris, the group has represented Hereford at various gatherings throughout the state and in England and Romania. Having as its motto "Human Relations Through Music," the choir, composed of residents from all walks of life, has continually provided choral musical entertainment for small and large groups in the community. At least two major concerts are given annually, and the musical themes performed have covered a broad range—sacred, country-western, Broadway musical hits, Eugene Butler and Houston Bright compositions, Walt Disney musicals, and contemporary.

The new season finds the singers preparing the musical "Scrooge," the familiar Charles Dickens story set to music. Performances are planned for Thursday and Friday nights and Saturday afternoon, Dec. 18, 19 and 20. This is the first published musical to be performed by the group, although their "Walt Disney Showcase", a tribute to the music from Walt Disney musicals, was a smash hit.

Directing the show "Scrooge" is Jane Gulley, assisted by Jan Walsler and Amy Gillland. Elva Devers is the accompanist. The infamous Ebenezer Scrooge will be played by John Gillland, and his underpaid clerk, Bob Cratchitt, will be played by Bobby Boyd. Little crippled Tiny Tim will feature Justin McWethy, son of Murlee and Zack McWethy. Other children of Chamber Singers members will join their parents on stage.

This play is the lively musical story of the hard-hearted miser Ebenezer Scrooge who hates Christmas but has a change of heart after he is visited by the ghosts of Christmas past, present, and future.

The Hereford Chamber Singers are planning this production to give their friends in the community another opportunity to catch the spirit of the Christmas season through music and story. The public is encouraged to mark their calendars for these performance dates.

New Board Members

The Hereford Chamber Singers, founded in 1974, have always strived to provide quality musical entertainment to local residents and others throughout the state and abroad. Recently the group met to kick-off the new fall season. Board

Florida trip being planned

Trailway Tours, Inc., is offering senior citizens a trip to Florida from Dec. 28 through Jan. 8, 1987.

Margie Daniels, director of Hereford Senior Citizens Center, reports that a deposit of $50 is required at the time of registration and payment in full must be made by Nov. 23. For further information, contact Daniels at 364-5681.

The tour will not include meals (unless specified); telephone calls, or Orange Bowl parade or football game tickets (these arrangements will be made by Daniels).

The tour will include transportation aboard Trailways Eagle Motor Coach, lodging each night of the tour, admissions to Epcot Center for two days, Silver Springs, Cypress Gardens, farewell banquet, baggage handling for one suitcase per person in and out of each hotel, and all planning and operational charges.

SCULPTURE RESERVE

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (AP) — The first permanent outdoor sculpture reserve in the United States for the works of the late Henry Moore has opened on the Harriman, N.Y., campus of Columbia University.

Three bronze works, presented by the Henry Moore Foundation, have been installed to formally inaugurate the reserve. They are "Upright Motive No. 5," "Large Interior Form," and "Two-Piece Reclining Figure-Cut."

David Finn, photographer, author and Moore's long-time friend, conceived the idea of the reserve and recommended the site.

"Share The Fun"

This year I was in a Share the Fun skit. It was a melodrama. The name of it was "4-H Triumphs Again". We had several people in it which included a darling Nell, clowns, announcer, hero, villain, and I was the 4-H mom. We had a lot of fun. We went to County and then went to District and won first out of seven Share the Fun skits.

A skit cannot be over six minutes long and cannot have over nine people in it. Our skit was six minutes, exactly. You are judged on material chosen, talent, audience appeal, creativity, showmanship, and costumes and props. We chose a skit that was fairly easy and didn't require too many props. We practiced every week for about four weeks. It seemed like it was more fun than work.

LEE HARDER
"Bicycle Project"

Last year the Pioneers 4-H Club completed a 4-H bicycle project as a part of its years activities. We began our project by studying the 4-H Bicycle Project book. We learned the parts of the bicycle, the kinds of bicycles, safety rules to use when riding a bicycle, and general information about bicycles. At our second project meeting Kenny Sifford from the Hereford Police Department gave us a program on bicycle safety.

Our project meetings also included time to ride our bicycles. We had skill races to see who could ride the slowest, keep their balance and not touch the ground. Our final project meeting tested our knowledge of bicycle facts and our skill in riding. We took a written test on bicycles and completed a riding skills test on traffic safety.

THAD HILL
Pioneer Club

Hello, my name is Thad Hill, I am a member of the Pioneer 4-H club. The Pioneer 4-H club was organized in September of 1984 as a community club. I was one of the original members. Our club is now beginning its third year. We have had a lot of interesting programs. My favorite programs were on leather tooling and bicycle. Also members took part in livestock, bicycle, foods, clothing, shooting sports and method demonstration projects. Many of these projects were held at other times than our regular club meetings.

This coming year is going to be an interesting one too. We are going to have programs on latch-key children, food preparation and safety. Officer Ugg, bicycle, and finger printing.

The Pioneer Club meets on the third Tuesday of every month at 4 p.m. at the Community Center. Come and join us for a year you will never forget. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

AMERICAN CUISINE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — American cuisine developed from many regions and cultures and has many ethnic origins.

But a food industry expert says American cuisine has finally come of age. Donna Higgins, director of Del Monte Kitchens, says the advantage of American cuisine is that "it doesn't have a lot of rules—allowing people to experiment with ingredients to create new dishes."

Over time, Higgins says, "American cuisine has borrowed from the French, the Italians, the Spanish, Chinese and others, combining flavors and ingredients in traditional and sometimes nontraditional ways."

MRS. JERRY WAYNE BETZEN
...nee Gwendolene Yvonne Wilhelm

Wilhelm, Betzen exchange nuptials

Wedding vows were exchanged by Gwendolene Yvonne Wilhelm and Jerry Wayne Betzen Saturday afternoon in St. Anthony's Catholic Church officiated by Father Pat Walsh.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilhelm of Route 3 and the bridegroom is the son of Agnes Betzen and Robert Betzen of Hereford.

Two large arrangements of peach and white gladioli and carnations, entwined by greenery, adorned the church altar. A unity candle rested on a bed of greenery. Family pews were marked by peach colored bows.

Cruz Salinas served as matron of honor and Francis Betzen served his brother as best man.

Bridesmaids included Lisette Merchant of San Juan, Puerto Rico and Holly Hines of Omaha, Neb., the bride's cousin.

Groomsmen were the groom's brother, Ray Betzen, and Preston Worley.

Escorting guests were the bride's brothers, Nathan and Albert Wilhelm; the bride's cousin, Kevin Nishimuta; and Oscar Pesqueda Jr.

Junior bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Diane Wilhelm.

Natalie George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron George, was flower girl, and Michael Sivik, son of Bill and Mary Hester, was ring bearer. Acolytes were Martin Carnahan and Ryan Caperton.

The groom's sister, Robin Gonzales, sang "The Wedding Song", "Wherever You Go", "On Eagles Wings" and "One Bread, One Body" accompanied by Mrs. F.A. Marnell.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white chiffon dress with a bridal-length train covered with schiffli lace. The long, sheer sleeves were decorated with matching lace and the bodice formed a Victorian style neckline of sheer lace. Further enhancing the bodice were schiffli embroidery, miniature seed pearls and sequins.

The cathedral-length veil was entirely edged with appliqued flowers and was attached to a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of peach and white silk roses accented with small smoky blue flowers and peach and white ribbon streamers.

The bride wore her mother's pearl earrings and the traditional blue garter. As a good luck piece, she carried a penny minted the date of her birth.

Bridal attendants wore crushed peach satin tea-length gowns designed with Victorian necklines fashioned of schiffli lace. The gowns were also fashioned with pouf sleeves and attendants wore matching peach satin shoes.

In their hair, they wore wreaths of miniature peach roses and peach streamers accented by baby's breath. The matron of honor was adorned with a wreath of peach and white roses and streamers. Each carried smaller versions of the bride's bouquet.

The bride presented her mother with a long stem rose before the ceremony and presented the groom's mother a long stem rose after wedding vows were recited.

Linda Briones invited guests to the registry table, which was covered with a lace cloth, at the reception held in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Cake was served by the groom's sister-in-law, Deanne Betzen; Mrs. Randle Davis and Jody Blackwell. Punch and coffee were poured by Marian McKnight, the groom's sister, and Joyce Wilhelm. Champagne was served by Wanda Wilhelm.

The bride's table was covered by a peach cloth and decorated by the bridal bouquet and peach tapers. The three-tiered white cake was enhanced by peach sweet peas cascading down each tier and topped with wedding bells.

The groom's cake was the traditional German chocolate cake.

Following a wedding trip to points of interest in South and East Texas, the couple will make their home at 331 W. Fourth St.

The bride, a 1983 graduate of Hereford High School, is presently a senior at West Texas State University majoring in agri-business and economics. She is employed by Pat Walker's Figure Salon.

The bridegroom graduated from Hereford High School in 1978 and is employed by the Texas State Department of Highways and Transportation as a maintenance technician.

Out-of-town wedding guests represented Omaha, Neb.; Aiken, N.C.; Lexington, Ky.; Hobbs, N.M.; Carlsbad, N.M.; Golden City, Mo.; Lindsey, Gainesville and Arlington.

Hereford CowBelle members recently tour DSC Museum

The Hereford CowBelles and guests met recently for their regular monthly meeting.

They toured the Deaf Smith County Museum and then traveled on to the Caison House Restaurant for lunch and a business meeting.

The business meeting was called to order by President Dee Ann Trotter. Jolene Bledsoe gave the invocation and Zula Arney submitted the treasurer's report.

Debbie Simpson, guest, was introduced by Dee Ann Trotter.

Becky Horton and Dee Ann Trotter were selected as delegates to attend the CowBelle Convention in November.

Darlene Fields was recognized for her participation in the Health Fair.

The Honorary CowBelle of the Year was selected and the presentation will be made at the next meeting, Nov. 11 at the Hereford Country Club.

"Pepon"—"Cooked By The Sun"
The word "pumpkin", which dates back to the 17th century, is actually derived from the Greek word "pepon" which means "cooked by the sun."

Pumpkins—which are rich in vitamin A—are abundant now, but some varieties are better suited for making jack-o-lanterns and others for cooking. The very large, pale orange variety is more widely used for carving up on Halloween.

The very deep orange and often smaller variety is known for its sweetness and is more desirable for cooking. The best pumpkins for cooking are firm, heavy for their size, bright-colored and high quality.

Pumpkin may be an "old-fashion" food, but it's ideal for microwaving. Cut a medium sized pumpkin (about 18 inches around) in half vertically. Scoop out seeds and membranes. Place half, cut side down, in glass baking dish.

Microwave on high, uncovered, 10 to 15 minutes or until tender, rotating dish once or twice. Repeat cooking for other half. Cool pumpkin halves until they're easy to handle and scoop out of the pulp.

Process the pulp in a blender or food processor until smooth and it's then ready to use or spoon into freezer containers and freeze until ready to use. (It is recommended that pumpkin not be canned due to the dense consistency and inability of heat to penetrate the mixture and adequately process the mixture)

Halloween time is excellent for preparing nutritional and flavorful pumpkin treats for all of the goblins that shadow your doorway. One cup of pumpkin contains 80 calories and provides 600 percent of the recommended daily allowance of vitamin A and provides other nutrients such as vitamin C, iron, riboflavin, calcium, protein and thiamin.

To delight the small spookies, prepare the recipe for the 14 inch pumpkin pan cookie. The cookie dough (or the baked, cooled cookies) can be frozen ahead-of-time-saver for busy party planners. The party guest can then decorate, bake and eat the cookie right at the party.

THE GREAT PUMPKIN PAN COOKIE

- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup quick or old fashion oats, uncooked
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup of butter or margarine, softened
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup solid pack pumpkin
- 1 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels
- Assorted icing or peanut butter

Assorted candies, raisins or nuts

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Combine flour, oats, baking soda, cinnamon and salt. Cream butter; gradually add sugars, beating until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla, mix well. Alternate additions of dry ingredients and pumpkin, mixing well after each addition. Stir in morsels. Spread dough into greased and floured 14 inch deep dish pizza pan. Bake 35 to 40 minutes, until wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean. Cool on rack 15 minutes. Remove cookie from pan. Cool completely. Decorate using icing or peanut butter to affix assorted candies, raisins or nuts. Cut into squares or wedges to serve. Yields about 24 servings.

Remember to include a note with your name and address inside the sack of home made goodies for giveaway Halloween treats. This tells the parents and children where this snack came from when they are determining how safe it is to eat. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Scorpions

Scorpions have a crab-like body, with a stinger in the tail. They come in various sizes and many varieties throughout tropical and subtropical climates. A scorpion bite causes severe pain, numbness, severe emotional agitation and cramps. Other reactions are vomiting, diarrhea and respiratory failure. There is a moderate to high mortality rate.

Speaker discusses center

Sally Bivins from the Sylvan Learning Center in Amarillo was the guest speaker during La Madre Mia Study Club meeting held Thursday in the home of Beverly Lambert with Jerri Bezner serving as co-hostess.

Bivins explained the reading and math programs for children and adults offered at the center. The Sylvan reading programs help students increase vocabulary, comprehension, analytical capabilities and build study and reference skills. The mathematics programs assist in developing problem-solving abilities and practical math applications.

Mary Beth White conducted the business session in the president's absence. Roll call was answered with "special teachers."

The club's annual Holiday Tour of Homes was discussed. The event will be held from 2-5 p.m. Dec. 7. Tickets may be purchased at the door, of any tour home or from club members. Featured on this year's tour are the residences of Jimmy Witherspoon, Mickey Wilson and Johnny Trotter. Refreshments will be served in The Barn House.

The next meeting was planned in the home of Georgia Sparks Nov. 6.

The date was changed from Nov. 13.

Lap Robe Donation

Fifteen lap robes have been donated to the Residents of Golden Plains Nursing Home by the Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 4818. Marie Goheen of the Auxiliary, home administrator Faye Lockhart, Leone Buckley of the auxiliary and Bernice Reed, Golden Plains activity director, look at the lap robes before distribution to residents.

Lap robes donated by auxiliary

It was decided to donate 15 lap robes to the Golden Plains Nursing Home when members of the Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 4818 met in regular session Monday evening with Marie Goheen presiding.

During the informal business session, further plans were made for the auction sale which will be held Dec. 6. All members are urged to make donations of articles to be auctioned.

It was announced that a donation was made to the national home for its stamp program. Also, the next meeting was planned at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 3 with a Thanksgiving supper preceding the meeting at 6:30 p.m. for all auxiliary and VFW members.

Members present included Martha Bridges, Leone Buckley, Ruth Morris, Erma Murphey and Marie Goheen.

The first buildings that could be called skyscrapers were structures of more than six stories in which the elevator was the principal means of transport.

Thank You

The family of LeRoy Oswalt would like to express their appreciation to all the friends who visited, sent cards, and brought food during LeRoy's illness and passing.

Also, a special thank you to all the nurses, ambulance crew, and doctors who gave such loving care and comfort to all of us. A special thank you to Dr. David Baddour and Dr. Gerald Payne who went beyond the call of duty as doctors and friends.

And a very special thank you to Reverend Mack McCarter, for being with us in both presence and prayer day and night.

Sincerely,

Lou Oswalt,

FHA LOANS
Since the FHA program began in 1934, nearly 20 million families have utilized it for home purchases. In 1986 alone, it is estimated that FHA will insure about three quarters of a million mortgages. That's nearly one fifth of all homes expected to be purchased this year. And it is important to remember that the FHA loan insurance program is not a drain on the U.S. treasury nor a burden to the taxpayer. If you are thinking of buying a home, now is the time with interest rates the lowest in 8 Years.

Abundant Life

MUTUAL ASSISTANCE

By Bob Wear

THE WAY we relate ourselves to each other can be either hurtful or helpful. Of course, all of us, or most of us will probably agree that 'mutual assistance' is the desirable concept, and, perhaps a felt need. We may be reluctant to admit this, and we, if we do admit it, may not know the best way to give it to the place that it should have in our activities. We can, however, continue to do our best; and not let ourselves become discouraged.

WE HEAR almost daily of some very special way assistance has been given to people who have reached some extremity in the living experience. Then, there are the catastrophes and major crises for which the forthcoming assistance is usually generous. We are thankful for the human spirit that makes this possible. In these instances, it is easy to see the need, and we combine our efforts to try to meet the need. In most instances, these big needs are filled, so far as human limitations permit; and all of us are grateful. This is certainly one of the redeeming traits of modern mankind.

THERE IS a smaller scale on which 'mutual assistance' is needed, and it is in our day-to-day living experience. No one is so self-sufficient that he/she has no need for some kind of assistance now and then; and no one so inadequate as not to be helpful in some way to somebody. In general, there are a number of way sin which we can 'bear one another's burdens'. There is probably no greater need. Of course, some folk will be doing this better than others; but all of us can participate.

WHEN WE talk about 'mutual assistance', we are talking about the very finest human qualities such as, unselfishness, kindness, compassion, sharing, generosity, etc. These are elements of personal strength, and the elements essential to a strong, working social order. The more they are exercised, the better it is for all of us.

THERE IS a very real sense in which all of us are in need, and all of us can help meet the need.

Ann Landers Ample bosom

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please allow me to get this off my ample chest. Yesterday the umpteenth clod stuck a column of yours on breast reduction under my nose and suggested that this procedure could do "a lot" for me. It was difficult to remain a lady while I told this casual acquaintance to mind her own business.

True, I am overendowed and need to present custom-made bras, but I am proud of my hourglass figure and feel that I look just right. I pity women who are so insecure that they are compelled to conform to the cookie-cutter concept of perfection popularized by the media. The notion that "thin as a broom-handle" is chic and desirable is nonsense. The truth was hit upon when a man wrote to you recently and said going to bed with a skinny woman was like falling on a pile of coat hangers.

My 13-year-old daughter already needs a DD cup and I have taught her to present herself with confidence and to accept both compliments and snide remarks in a ladylike manner. I hope you will print this letter. The Flat Florences of the world have had lots of space in your column while the Voluptuous Valeries have been virtually ignored.—EDMONTON READER (CANADA)

DEAR VALERIE: Here's the requested space in support of your ample bosom. If you feel good about yourself, and obviously you do, it should be of no concern to others that your cups runneth over.

DEAR READERS: I came across a wonderful definition of mental health by a man who probably knows more about the subject than anyone alive.—Dr. Karl Menninger. I'd like to share his wisdom with you.

"Mental health is the adjustment of human beings to the world and to each other with a maximum of effectiveness and happiness. Not just efficiency, or contentment—or the grace of obeying the rules of the game cheerfully. It is all of these together. It is the ability to maintain an even temper, an alert intelligence, socially considerate behavior and a happy disposition. This, I think, is a healthy mind."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I respond to the Wisconsin woman who went to Paris and was offered a seat on the bus by an English-speaking person? She was surprised to learn he was from New York. She had never known a New York man to offer his seat to anyone.

Let me tell you about New York men who use the mass transit system. I was born there and have ridden busses and subways most of my life. In 1980, I was eight months pregnant, riding a train, hanging on a strap from Manhattan to Brooklyn. The men who were seated ranged from blue-collar workers to businessmen "dressed for success" and carrying briefcases.

After a while, a woman looked up from her book, rose quickly and said, "Sit down, honey. I've been there." The man next to her piped up defensively, "It's not my fault she's pregnant." I replied, "It's not my fault either. It was my choice."

This story has a happy ending. I now live in Connecticut and drive my own car. Thanks for a chance to sound off.—BRIDGEPORT READER

DEAR BRIDGE: Glad you sounded off in my direction. There must be SOME men in New York who offer their seats to the elderly and to pregnant women, but my mail turned up precious few. I received, however, hundreds of letters similar to yours.

What are the do's and don'ts of teaching your child about the birds and the bees? Let Ann Landers' new booklet, "How, What, and When to Tell your Child About Sex," give you the ground rules. For your copy send 50 cents along with, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Film Review

Darla Stengel, Anna Ruth Andrews and Wanda Nall preview a film called "Fractured Families" which will be shown at 8 p.m. today at the Hereford Community Center. The film deals with family communications problems and pressures which pull families apart. The film is free to the public.

Paul Harvey—Spectacular transformation

Let me be discrete when I introduce you to the lady I'm going to call Ethel.

She lives in a very small, very Southern town—wife of one of the town's rather successful retailers.

With patience you will eventually understand my vagueness. What I'm about to relate could be most upsetting to Ethel's very small, very Southern town.

The placid life of Ethel and her family is interrupted once each year when her husband's industry holds its annual convention.

A retailer even in a very small town—especially in a small town—must keep abreast of what's new—so for him the annual convention and trade show is a necessary appearance.

And all the others bring their wives, so Ethel is expected.

Ethel, unathletic, with a limited budget for personal shopping, and unaccustomed to socializing goes through the motions of these annual outings quietly—almost unnoticed.

Until this year. This year she was noticed.

This year's convention was at a most elegant resort hotel. I was there. I did not meet Ethel. She is so utterly "unobtrusive," rather quickly "forgettable."

Perhaps you've seen her somewhere; perhaps with another name.

She sits slumped forward, her hands clasped in her lap.

Her shoulders droop when she stands making her rather plain dress plainer.

On the second morning of the convention Ethel dutifully attended a special function for the wives.

It was called a "Make-Over."

A grooming consultant from Chanel selects a lady from the audience and in an hour there on stage "makes her over."

This morning her indicated choice was Ethel.

Ethel demurred shyly but the beautician insisted.

Perhaps her expert eye saw possibilities in the straight, black hair and ivory skin.

Anyway, urged by those seated near, Ethel reluctantly trudged onto the stage.

She was seated in a chair faced away from the spectators and the "make-over" began.

With a running commentary the beauty expert referred to eye make-up, accents, highlighting cheekbones, coiffing hair and so on.

Well, at the climax of the hour Ethel was turned to face the assembled. There was a unanimous gasp of amazement—then spontaneous applause which would not stop.

Ethel—oh-so-plain Ethel—was beautiful!

The superficial cosmetics had released from somewhere behind Ethel's eyes an exciting lady!

The transformation was spectacular!

Then Ethel was shown herself in a full-length mirror.

She smiled an all-out, eyes-sparkling, full-lips smile.

Those present were still applauding; some on their feet applauding.

And Ethel was standing straight—her shoulders back—she had never appeared so tall. And she was radiant! Those lovely eyes. That beaming full-face confident smile!

The ladies of the convention talked of little else the rest of the day.

They could hardly wait for the social event that was planned for the evening. The transformed Ethel was certain to be the belle of the ball.

Her husband ordered her to take the make-up off!

Her husband, after a single glance, ordered her to get rid of those colored lips—wash off the make-up, comb her hair straight—as he said, "lady-like" again.

Ethel was present for the rest of the convention. You might not have noticed her, but she was there, dutifully attending the meetings, seated toward the back.

Sitting with her shoulders slumped forward, her eyes downcast, her hands folded in her lap.

Decorating program given during meeting

Decorating was the program topic when members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday evening in the home of Janis White. Mary Brinkman served as co-hostess.

Charla Edwards introduced speakers, Carol Kelley and Beckie Fry. Kelley decorated a chocolate Halloween spook house. The two work together taking orders for making candles, tea breads, cookies and cakes.

Several committee reports were heard during the brief business session. It was announced that the social committee is planning a members' Thanksgiving Dinner at 7 p.m. Nov. 4. Rose Marie Robinson will be presenting a program on marriage.

The charter members also discussed a Halloween party which was held Saturday in the home of Debe Graves.

Jody Blackwell expressed appreciation to her secret sister.

Those present included Blackwell, Brinkman, Edwards, Peggy Hyer, Connie Matthews, Jimmie Middleton, Susan Shaw, White, Melinda White, Kay Williams and special guest, Amy Lee.

Dinner planned today

A roast beef dinner with all the trimmings will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. today in St. Anthony's School cafeteria. The annual event is being sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization.

Ticket are priced at $4 for adults and $2 for children and may be purchased from any CYO member or at the door.

Proceeds will benefit the CYO and community and church activities.

The first city to be illuminated by gas lights was Baltimore, in 1817.

A Flair for Design

The last of the basic design elements is "Texture", and this is the one that really gives life and interest to any interior. Every material has a texture, be it rough or smooth, soft or hard, shiny or dull, and the interplay and variety is what keeps a space from becoming boring.

The importance of texture in Interior Design is very much emphasized today. The idea of harmony or contrast between walls and objects which are to be used together is paramount. Contrasted textures give greater eye appeal than a combination of like textures for as yet there is no set of rules for accomplishing a definite result.

For help with any and all your decorating or framing needs, come by and see us at FINISHING TOUCHES at 501 E. Park Ave. or give us a call at 364-8870.

 Classified advertising rates are based on a minimum of 20 words. One day is 13 cents per word or $2.60 minimum. Rates below are for consecutive issues, no copy change, and apply to solid ad lines only.

TIMES	RATES	MIN.
1 day per word:	.13	2.60
2 days per word:	.22	4.40
3 days per word:	.31	6.20
4 days per word:	.40	8.00
5th day FREE

Add 9 cents per word for additional days: 10 days (2 free) is 15.20 minimum; 15 days (3 free) is 22.40; month 77.80.

Classified display rates apply for special captions, paragraphing, bold type or larger type, and ads not set with full lines. $2.00 per column inch, $2 a column inch for additional insertions, or $1.75 a column inch per month.

LEGALS
 Advertising rates for legal notices are $3.50 per column inch for the first insertion and $3 per column inch for consecutive issues.

Deadlines for classified ads are 3 p.m. daily for the next day's edition; 3 p.m. Friday for Sunday's edition.

Cash is required on advertisements under $10.
ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in Classified Ads and legal notices. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. In case of errors not the fault of the advertiser, an additional insertion will be given.

Be careful when washing vehicles

DETROIT (AP) — What could be simpler than washing a car?

Yet, many people waste quarters down at the neighborhood wash bays because they don't know how or where to aim the powerful water wand.

Start by placing the selector on the wash setting, which will mix detergent with the water.

Point the wand at the seam of hardware that holds the windshield in place and let the pressurized water push out dirt and road salt that can lead to rust. Repeat this with all door, window and hatch openings.

After this hidden grime is removed, you're ready to wash the roof and glass.

Now go after the door handles, moldings, trim, ornaments — even the locks. Get around the headlights and grille, too, then move on to the dirtiest spots — the wheel wells and undercarriage.

Wheel wells today are often lined with plastic, but they still harbor the ingredients of rust. As you should have done with the other areas of the car, shoot at the grime at close range. Hold the wand an inch or two from the seams and fire away.

Now go to the rinse setting and repeat the procedure, only this time add a step: Crouch beside the car, place the wand beneath it and point it upward so you can wash the bottom of your car.

The undercarriage can become caked with road salt and dirt — and later, rust. Even if your car is undercoated it's a good idea to take some extra time and make sure the car is clean all around.

Occasionally, you may want to wash your engine. This not only makes the engine look better but it also makes maintenance less messy and makes the engine run cooler.

For solvents are on the market for cutting engine grease. Just spray one on, let it work, and hose it off.

All this may not thrill the person waiting in line behind you at the car wash, but you'll have a better-looking car and a higher resale value at trading time.

And if you don't like spending all those quarters, you may want to do the job at home.

Your garden hose may lack the pumping pressure of a do-it-yourself car wash but you may come out ahead in another way: the water you use will be clean enough to drink, while most commercial car washes recycle a good percentage of their water.
