County sets vote on budget

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

An overall increase in Deaf Smith County taxes will not result in a higher tax bill for property owners in the next fiscal year, unless their property has been re-appraised or improved.

A 14 percent overall increase in property taxes is being proposed to finance county government for the next fiscal year.

County commissioners expect to levy the same rate of 46.97 cents per $100 of value as last year, but there is a difference in where the money will go.

Bonded indebtedness on the jail complex has been retired but County Commissioners elected not to reduce the tax rate. Instead, the taxes are earmarked for the general fund.

Elected officials and employees, excluding the four precinct commissioners, will receive pay raises of about four percent, if the new budget is approved as proposed.

A vote on the tax increase for the next fiscal year, beginning Oct. 1, is an item on the agenda for a regular commissioners' meeting, moved from Monday to Thursday at 9 a.m.

A rate of 46.97 cents is expected to generate revenue of approximately $2,232,920 for the general budget and road and bridge budget of Deaf Smith County.

Deaf Smith commissioners have conducted public hearings on the budget and tax rate. Action at the Thursday meeting will be on the overall increase.

The county's total expenditures for the next fiscal year are estimated at $3,817,197. Revenues from all sources are estimated at $3,855,920.

Taxable values were certified last week to taxing entities by the Deaf Smith County Appraisal District chief appraiser, Fred Fox. The county's values are pegged at $497,841,327, down some from the previous year.

Property owners who have made no improvements in the last year should not be assessed more on their property.

Ninja Turtles invade Jamaica

Two Ninja turtles rescued a damsel in distress after eating a pizza at Sunday's Jamaica at Dameron Park...well, not really. Youngsters dressed in various costumes and got their faces painted at one of many booths at the annual Fiesta Fun Jamaica at Dameron Park on Sunday. A huge crowd enjoyed food and game booths and live music provided by several bands at the Jamaica, which was cut short by the heavy rains Sunday evening. The Jamaica is one of the major fund raisers each year for San Jose Catholic Church.

Bush: Sununu's job safe

WASHINGTON (AP) - White House chief of staff John Sununu won't have to hunt for a new job because of the controversy surrounding his use of military planes, corporate jets and chauffeur-driven limousines, President Bush's spokesman says.

But even though Sununu's job may be secure, presidential press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said there's nothing to prevent him from traveling commercially from time to time.

"As far as the White House is concerned, he can go by any means he wants," Fitzwater said Monday.

Fitzwater said the former New Hampshire governor can keep his $125,100-a-year job "as long as he wants" after Bush voiced his support for Sununu for a second straight day.

"The president obviously wishes it hadn't happened, wishes we hadn't gone through this, but believes that corrective steps have been taken and (it's) time to get on with the government's business," Fitzwater said.

Sununu, displaying none of the contrition he had exhibited in a written statement Saturday, told reporters on Monday that he intends to stay on the job at least for another year and a half.

"I intend to get the president's agenda done and help him get re-elected and finish up after his second term begins," Sununu told reporters after a speech in nearby Arlington, Va.

Sununu gave little indication he was concerned that his travel habits had embarrassed Bush.

"Look, I've been in Washington for awhile now to realize that it's all part of the process, it's part of being chief of staff," he said.

Sununu had said Saturday that he regretted making mistakes in arranging travel and that they had created the appearance of impropriety. "I think I made my statement on Saturday. I think it speaks for itself," he said Monday.

Quakes rumble around volcano

MANILA, Philippines (AP) - A series of moderate earthquakes jolted areas near Mount Pinatubo today, sending thousands of people scurrying from their homes and raising fears of landslides from the volcano's slopes.

At least five tremors strong enough to rouse sleepers and topple household objects were recorded among more than 100 smaller temblors since early Monday. There were no immediate reports of damage.

Scientists fear avalanches from the tons of debris piled up on the slopes of the 4,765-foot volcano, which began erupting June 9 after more than 600 years of dormancy. In some ravines, the ash is up to 600 feet deep.

A cloud of ash and steam rose more than six miles high today and rained debris over the provinces of Tarlac and Pampanga.

The eruptions of scalding ash clouds and super-heated rocks have claimed at least 310 lives and forced U.S. Air Force personnel and their families to clear out of Clark Air Base, about 10 miles east of the volcano.

All U.S. military dependents and at least 1,500 servicemen have been ordered to return to the United States.

The U.S. Embassy said as of Monday night, 17,332 troops and dependents had been transported from Subic Bay naval base to Cebu and nearly all had been flown on to Guam.

Mount Pinatubo's ashfall - soaked by typhoon rains - has collapsed many buildings and clogged roads and airport runways in Manila, 60 miles south of Mount Pinatubo. At least 39 people are missing.

In Olongapo, a city of more than 300,000 people near Subic Bay, residents ran into the streets during the quakes.

"Children were crying. Dogs were howling and mothers covered their children to cover them from falling objects," said correspondent Louella Vizcocho.

"It was strong," Navy spokesman Lt. Cmdr. Kevin Mukri said by telephone from Subic Bay.

Electricity has been knocked out in Olongapo, 25 miles southwest of the volcano, since a major eruption June 15 dumped tons of ash throughout southwestern Luzon island.

Volcanologist Ed Barcelona said Mount Pinatubo may spew ash and be rocked by mild quakes periodically for the next three years.

In Angeles, adjacent Clark Air Base, spotters have been deployed on the roofs of tall buildings to watch for avalanches.

Philippine officials are still assessing the total damage from the eruptions.

Final plans made for July 4th

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Final plans were made Monday for the July 4th celebration set next week in Hereford.

The volunteer planning committee held its final pre-celebration meeting Monday at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office to go over details about the parade, a dedication to soldiers who served in Operation Desert Storm, and a night of festivities at Veterans Park that will climax in a huge fireworks show.

The 10 a.m. parade will begin the day's festivities and is designed to honor all veterans of all wars. Three local residents who served in World War I, several who served in World War II and Korea, and soldiers who served in Operation Desert Storm have been enlisted to ride one of the special floats in the parade. Organizers said they have been unable to procure any veterans of the Vietnam War to ride on one of the floats in the parade.

"We want to give all of our veterans their due, and we want to give our soldiers who served in Vietnam the welcome they deserve but never received," said a parade organizer. Any Vietnam veterans who would like to ride in the parade may call Charlotte Skaggs at 364-4670.

A private dinner and party for soldiers who served in Operation Desert Storm and their families will be held at 1 p.m. at the Camp Fire Lodge in the park at 15th and Ave. H. At 4 p.m., a public unveiling of a special tribute park in the northwest corner of the park will be held. A monument honoring the soldiers will be unveiled, and soldiers and families of soldiers will plant 72 trees, one for each local soldier that served in Operation Desert Storm.

At 6:30 p.m., a picnic will be held at Veterans Park, with free watermelon served by the volunteer committee. Entertainment will begin at 7:30 p.m., including the Hereford Chamber Singers and other local singers and other talent. Climaxing the entertainment will be Bob Pardo, who was decorated with the Silver Star for his heroic action in Vietnam.

Western Pyrotechnics will be staging a 30-minute fireworks spectacular at about 9:30 p.m. at Veterans Park. While the fireworks are free, donations are being accepted to defray the cost of the fireworks show. Persons who would like to make donations may take their donations by the chamber office at Seventh and Main. Checks should be stubbed "fireworks" so the money will be deposited to the proper account.

Organizers are also selling special "Honoring Hereford's Heroes" t-shirts and caps. The t-shirts and caps are available at the chamber office, from volunteers who will be selling the paraphernalia throughout the city, at the chamber office and at the parade and Veterans Park events on July 4th. Proceeds from the sale of caps and t-shirts will be used to pay the costs of fireworks and other expenses incurred for the festivities.

Volunteer organizers are also planning a block-decorating contest for July 4th, with a $100 prize going to the block in the city best decorated for the Fourth of July.

Each block (both sides) entered in the contest sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce must have a majority of homes in the block participating to be eligible for the cash prize. Entry forms are available at the chamber office and must be turned in by 5 p.m. Monday.

Volunteers are also hoping local businesses will decorate for the special day. One business, Cowan Jewelers, is soliciting pictures from all veterans for a special window display they are planning. Veterans may take their photos by the store, 217 N. Main, to be included in the display.

Welcome home, brother

AUSTIN (AP) - State officials are blaming a shortage of money for the cutback of a Capitol restoration project, but $1.83 million in proposed features have been added to an adjoining underground building that will include legislative offices.

Those features range from special motion-activated light switches to "coffee bars" in each lawmaker's office, records show.

Officials defend the spending, even though they had to eliminate $10.19 million worth of restoration items to save money.

"I don't think we're slighting the Capitol restoration for the sake of the building, at all," said Dealey Herndon, executive director of the State Preservation Board, which is overseeing the project. "We're not spending any more (on the new building) than we feel we have to."

Also, officials are prepared to seek at least $10 million more from the Legislature to restore the 103-year-old Capitol, according to the Austin American-Statesman.

"I have no problem restoring the Capitol, but for some people the purpose of all this never was the restoration - it was to build a big new building, get beautiful new offices," said Rep. Anna Mowery, R-Fort Worth, a critic of the $149.5 million restoration and expansion project.

Curtis Tunnell, executive director of the Texas Historical Commission, said, "My concern now is that we don't retreat too far from this being a first-class restoration project - whether we're sacrificing too many things to save money."

The project, which was approved by the Legislature in 1989, includes restoration of the Capitol, which has been plagued for years by cramped offices and fire hazards. To ease crowding, a four-story building - two floors of offices, two of parking - is being built just to the north, completely underground so as not to obstruct the view of the Capitol.

State-hired consultants originally estimated restoration would cost $69 million, and the new building $52 million. The remaining $28.5 million was for excavation, administration and related costs.

Completion of the entire project is scheduled for 1994.

Ms. Herndon said a revised figure for restoration, scheduled for review by the preservation board next month, will be "at least $10 million more" than the previous estimate.

Meanwhile, the cost of the expansion also increased, as a result of extra features.

For example, the board voted in April to spend an additional $202,000 to add coffee bars - a sink and cabinet - to each legislative office. Officials said they are needed for sanitation.

A dining room will have a folding wall, so lawmakers can eat privately next to public-seating areas.

The installation of light dimmers will add $254,000, motion-switching devices for lights $24,000 and a tunnel to the Supreme Court building $166,000.

But the list of deletions for Capitol restoration, by May, had grown to 28, including plans to replace modern hallway lights with original-style fixtures.

TWPB elects Zinser

Frank Zinser Jr. of Hereford has been elected to a six-year term on the Texas Wheat Producers Board.

Zinser edged out Mike Kuhlman of Canyon and Gary Vance of Panhandle for the seat representing District II on the board. Zinser will replace Leo Witkowski, who did not seek re-election after serving for many years on the board.

Wheat producers across Texas fund TWPB with a one-cent self-assessment on their deliveries of wheat at commercial handlers, principally at country elevators and feedyards. Proceeds from such participation supports programs of foreign and domestic market expansion, food and wheat technical service, insect control, research and demonstrations, and other activities designed to strengthen wheat producers' income.

New Rotary officers installed

New officers for 1991-92 were installed Monday by the Hereford Rotary Club. They include, from left, Gene King, secretary; Don Cumpton, president; Bear Denton, vice president; Alex Schroeter, treasurer; and Roland Saul, president-elect. The club also honored outgoing president Wes Gully.

Year-round school gaining

AUSTIN (AP) - Year-round elementary and middle school classes are likely to be tried in 25 to 50 Texas school districts this fall, an assistant education commissioner said.

There are financial advantages to using school buildings all year long, especially for fast-growing districts running short on space.

But most officials examining year-round school are attracted by the touted educational benefits of giving students several short breaks, rather than one long summer vacation, said Julian Shaddix, Texas Education Agency assistant commissioner for school administration.

For example, experts say that students retain more information when they don't have a long layoff, and that attendance is better.

"That's what most of the districts in Texas are looking at it for. They believe that there are some educational advantages," Shaddix said Monday.

School districts across the state have expressed an interest, he said. Of the state's 1,065 school districts, only Conroe now offers year-round classes.

director of the National Association for Year-Round Education, cited several advantages to such a schedule.

"We have less forgetting over the summer... We don't do students any favors by giving them a long period of time away from school," he said.

Students and teachers have better attendance rates, and vandalism is down because schools are occupied for more of the year, Ballinger said.

Dropout rates go down in high schools in other states with year-round classes, he said. Shaddix said he does not know of any Texas school districts planning year-round high school classes.

"Tension between pupil and school is lessened because of those frequent breaks," Ballinger said. He and Shaddix participated in a conference on year-round education.

Ballinger said year-round classes also can help school districts better use their buildings, when groups of students are put on staggered schedules and take their vacations at different times.

"We're talking millions and millions of dollars of savings to the taxpayer," he said.

Parents at the conference who support year-round school said opponents often are loathe to give up the summer vacation tradition. They also may express concern about having a child in a traditional program in high school, and a younger child on a year-round schedule.

Shaddix urged school districts considering year-round classes to work closely with parents.

Kathie Wolford, who lives in the Conroe school district and has two sons in year-round classes, praised the program.

She quoted her nephew as to its benefits: "Just about the time your brain gets tired, you get a break."

Two Hereford girls attend Girls State

Citizens Lindsay Radford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Radford, and Melissa Cloud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cloud, of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State, held in Seguin at Texas Lutheran College, were elected to offices.

Radford was elected as county judge, Tejas County and Cloud was named justice of the peace, place one, Giant County.

Hereford representatives to Girls State are sponsored by the Hereford American Legion Auxiliary #192.

Girls State was organized as a National Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Non-partisan and non-political, the purposes of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults.

The 1991 session of the American Legion auxiliary Texas Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of 94 girls, held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the largest single extracurricular educational program for high school girls in Texas. This year 586 girls were in attendance, making a total of more than 21,000 girls in Texas who have participated in this citizenship program.

Chief Justice Thomas R. Phillips of the Texas Supreme Court administered the oath of office to the elected state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State Monday, June 17, in the Rotunda of the State Capitol.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Chris Robinson, lead singer of The Black Crowes, collapsed at a weekend bash in London, forcing the rock band to cancel its European tour.

Robinson, 24, collapsed during a party thrown in honor of the band's arrival in England, publicist Mitchell Schneider said Monday.

Doctors said the 6-foot-2 singer is exhausted, Schneider said. He has dropped to 130 pounds.

The Atlanta band, whose album "Shake Your Money Maker" went double-platinum, had just completed 285 shows in 16 months.

Robinson and the rest of the band flew home and the European tour was canceled.

Doctors recommended that Robinson rest for several weeks, Schneider said. On Aug. 3, the group begins a three-month tour of Europe, Japan and Australia.

Beef complements summer grilling

Summer in the city means grilling about which are suitable for outdoor grilling.

"Some consumers may choose their beef cuts for tenderness," Pam Wortham, programs coordinator for the Texas Beef Industry Council, says. "Of beef's 10 most tender beef cuts, eight are steaks ideal for outdoor grilling. These selections are tenderloin, top blade, porterhouse, T-bone, top loin or strip, round tip and top sirloin. If you can't remember those names, ask your meat market manager for cuts from the rib and the loin. All the most tender selections, except to blade, come from those parts of the beef carcass. They are tender whether they are quality graded Choice or Select."

Another important factor that consumers consider is price. Although tenderloin is always a good choice because it is the essence of tender beef, consumers will find that other cuts offer a high degree of tenderness at a lower cost. For instance, top blade, which comes from the chuck, often sells for $6 to $7 per pound less than a comparably tenderloin. Many other cuts are also good buys during July when supermarkets traditionally feature beef for grilling.

Some consumers may enjoy complementing beef's flavor by marinating it in spices, herbs, vinegars, oils or the ingredients. Consumers who enjoy marinades can literally shop the entire beef case at the supermarket for the best buy. The season is that all marinades that include acid from vinegar, lemon or lime juice, wine or salsa also tenderize the cuts.

"When you add tenderizing marinade to many cuts from the chuck and the round, they can be upgraded into an easily grilled steak," Wortham said. "When cooked to medium or rare, you have a tender, juicy and delicious steak that was a great buy."

150 participate in YMCA meet

Cleared for landing

A triple jumper reaches the highest point of his leap and prepares to land at Saturday's track meet put on by the Hereford YMCA.

Wimbledon's 1st day washed out

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - Instead of Andre Agassi and Jennifer Capriati, they got hours of rain and a bomb scare. But what the 26,000 Wimbledon fans did not get was a refund.

"I think we should get half our money back at least," said Sybil Stanton. "We spent hours and hours sitting in a marquee and it was just like being in an airport waiting lounge, with people even lying on the floor."

The fans, some of whom camped out overnight and then paid up to $26 a ticket, huddled under umbrellas all afternoon Monday as rain washed out the 66 scheduled matches on Wimbledon's opening day.

As dusk fell, they were ushered off Centre Court while authorities examined a suspicious package that proved to be harmless.

And they were told there would be no refunds, though ticket-holders on Centre Court and Court 1 will be given priority to buy similar tickets for next year's opening day.

It was the 26th day washed out completely since Wimbledon began in 1877. Four other opening days have been wiped out—in 1888, 1903, 1969 and 1987.

About 150 people participated in the Hereford YMCA's TAC Junior Olympic preliminary track meet Saturday, meet director Weldon Knabe said, with some coming from as far away as Odessa and Roswell, N.M.

Athletes competed in 11 divisions, with ribbons going to the top six finishers in each event. Preliminary meets can only give out ribbons as awards, Knabe said.

Three Hereford entries won events. In the Young Men's division, Richard Martinez won the 5,000-meter run with a time of 18:09.00. In the same division, the 1,600-meter relay was won by the team of Henry Ruiz, Mark Gatica, Mike Lopez and Jesus Gonzalez. Their time was 3:59.45.

In the Bantam division, Tyler Nielsen won the 200-meter dash in 39.69 seconds.

This meet was a preliminary to the Texas Classic, a regional qualifying meet, to be held this weekend at South Plains College in Levelland. The next step is the Regional Championships in Arlington July 12-13, followed by the national meet July 26-27 in Chapel Hill, N.C.

Knabe said that 30 volunteers helped put on the meet.

"We couldn't have done it without them," he said.

Twins' Erickson 2-hits Yankees for 12th win

By The Associated Press

Scott Erickson is a manager's dream, a fielder's delight and a hitter's nightmare.

Erickson completed his first full year as a major leaguer with a flourish, pitching a two-hitter for his 12th straight victory as the Minnesota Twins beat the New York Yankees 5-0 on Monday night.

"You couldn't pitch too much better than that," Twins manager Tom Kelly said after Erickson (12-2) held the Yankees without a hit following Matt Nokes' leadoff double in the second.

Erickson's teammates were impressed, too. He threw only 102 pitches and the game took just 2 hours, 3 minutes - a nice touch on getaway day.

"Right now, I'd say he's untouchable," catcher Junior Ortiz said.

The Yankees were in no position to argue after losing for the sixth time in seven meetings to baseball's hottest team. The Twins are 23-3 in their last 26 games after winning three of four games in New York and extended their AL West lead over Oakland to 3 1/2 games.

"This is the best game by a pitcher against us this season," Yankees outfielder Jesse Barfield said. "He kept the ball in and down and was moving it around. He's got good offspeed stuff. He's not a fastball pitcher. What he does, he does real well."

Yankees rookie Jeff Johnson (1-3) outshone Erickson for the first five innings, retiring the first 15 batters he faced. But Ortiz led off the sixth with a walk and scored on Minnesota's first hit, Dan Gladden's two-out triple.

Kirby Puckett hit a solo homer in the seventh and Shane Mack added an RBI single. Mack hit a two-run homer off Greg Cadaret in the ninth.

Erickson struck out six and walked one in his third shutout of the season and fourth complete game. He lowered his ERA to a major league-leading 1.39 and his winning streak is the longest since Bobby Witt of Texas won 12 straight last year from June 28 to Sept. 6.

"I have to work on every pitch," Erickson said. "Every pitch can be hit out of the park, so I work as hard as I can."

Erickson joined the Twins one year ago today. He's 20-6 in the big leagues.

Angels 9, Royals 4

Dave Winfield, a major leaguer since 1973, hit for the cycle for the first time in his career and wound up 5-for-5.

Winfield had two singles, a double and a two-run homer before completing his cycle with an eighth-inning triple off infielder Bill Pecota, who worked the last two innings after Tom Gordon's hemorrhoid problem acted up.

Chuck Finley (11-3) allowed four hits in eight innings for California. Hector Wagner (1-1) was the loser.

White Sox 6, Mariners 2

Frank Thomas hit his first career grand slam and added a run-scoring double for his second five-RBI game of the season.

Thomas' RBI double in the fourth and Dan Pasqua's seventh-inning homer off Rich DeLucia (6-4) gave Chicago a 2-0 lead. Jeff Schaefer's first career homer made it 2-1, but Thomas put the game away when he connected with the bases loaded against Mike Jackson.

Greg Hibbard (5-6) allowed eight hits in 7 1-3 innings. Scott Radinsky finished for his third save.

Blue Jays 4, Indians 3

Toronto completed a four-game sweep at the SkyDome when Pat Tabler's sacrifice fly broke a seventh-inning tie.

Devon White led off the seventh with a double and went to third on Joe Carter's one-out single. Tabler, batting for designated hitter Rance Mulliniks, then hit his game-winning fly ball to left off Charles Nagy (3-8).

Duane Ward (1-3) relieved Jimmy Key in the seventh for the win and Tom Henke picked up his 12th save in 12 opportunities.

Padres shut down Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) - The St. Louis Cardinals got their first look at Adam Peterson and didn't like what they saw.

Pedro Guerrero, in particular, was frustrated after Peterson gave up only three hits in seven shutout innings of the San Diego Padres' 4-1 victory Monday night. Guerrero, mired in a 2-for-17 slump after going 0-for-4, gave four terse answers to four questions about Peterson's performance.

"He won the game," Guerrero said. "We couldn't hit him. He got us to make outs. He kept us off the bases."

Peterson (3-1), acquired from the Chicago White Sox on March 31, has been frustrating a lot of people lately. He's won two of his last three starts while allowing just two earned runs on 10 hits in 18 innings.

But he said this was his best outing, at least partly because he was an unknown to the Cardinals.

"By far," said Peterson, who struck out four and walked two. "Any time you face a team for the first time, it's a definite advantage for the pitcher."

"I got away with some pitches and had some nice plays behind me."

Peterson said his biggest mistake was a hanging slider that Ray Lankford drove off the wall in right-center for a triple with two out in the first. But he struck out Guerrero to end that threat and also stranded two runners in the fourth.

John Costello struck out two of the three batters he faced in the eighth and Craig Lefferts got the last three outs, losing the shutout on Felix Jose's two-out RBI single.

Jerald Clark, who entered the game 3-for-23 against St. Louis pitching, homered off Bob Tewksbury (6-3) and drove in two runs to pace the Padres' attack. Fred McGriff added a run-scoring single, his fifth RBI in three games, and Bip Roberts doubled twice and drove in a run.

It was the third straight victory for the Padres and their major league-leading 22nd on the road. They're 22-14 on the road and 15-20 at home.

Palmer gets chance

OAKLAND (AP) - Dean Palmer, one of the brightest stars in the Texas Rangers' farm system, will be in uniform for the Rangers tonight in their game against the Oakland A's.

Palmer, who was leading professional baseball in home runs heading into Monday with 22, was called up by the Rangers late Monday after the American League club put outfielder Jack Daugherty and pitcher Goose Gossage on the 15-day disabled list.

The Rangers also announced the purchase of the contract of pitcher Wayne Rosenthal, a teammate of Palmer this season at the Class AAA Oklahoma City 89ers.

Both Palmer and Rosenthal will be in uniform for the Rangers tonight, a club spokesman said.

Palmer was on pace to hit 50 homers and drive in 130-plus at Oklahoma City, where he was hitting homers at a pace of one every 10.6 at-bats. He was averaging .299 with 59 RBIs in 61 games for the 89ers, the third-highest RBI total in pro baseball.

Oklahoma City manager Tommy Thompson said Palmer's homers are becoming the stuff of legends.

"He's hit several between 450 and 550 feet this year," Thompson said.

Daugherty underwent an emergency appendectomy Monday in a Chicago hospital where he went over the weekend, complaining of stomach pains. He will be out of action four to six weeks.

Gossage has a strained chest muscle.

Diller named All-American Scholar

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Michael Diller has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the Academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars selected by a West Texas State University instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Diller, who attends WTSU, was nominated for this nation Award by Mary Hill. Diller will appear in the All-America Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Scholar Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Diller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Diller. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pavlicek and Mrs. Marvin Diller, all of Hereford. His wife is the former Valerie Andrews.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have noticed that over the years you have discussed the topic of homosexuality with an open mind. I also know that many of your readers are sick and tired of hearing about discrimination against gays.

I, too, am fed up listening to them whine about the prejudice they face because of their sexual preference. Before you call me a homophobe, let me tell you that I am gay. I am writing to offer a little advice to the young person who is contemplating coming out of the closet.

The biggest mistake I ever made was to tell parents I am a homosexual. They accepted it at first, or pretended to, but as time went on my confession caused so much trouble that I wish I had left well enough alone.

I am absolutely convinced that parents have a sixth sense about their child. They know the truth without deeply disturbing information they don't want to deal with, it is sure to lead to trouble. They are then forced to accept that child and what he or she really is, which means they must condone homosexual behavior. That is when the trouble begins.

So why did I tell my parents? I don't know. The sexual preferences of my five siblings was never mentioned so why should mine be? Sex should be a private matter, not discussed with relatives, whether you are gay or straight. I have never been discriminated against at work or anywhere else. Maybe it's because I don't march in parades, make speeches, or dress in a bizarre fashion that would draw attention to myself.

OK, I said it and now the gay rights groups can slap me around. They will call me a coward, say I am totally crazy, and insist that I do not speak for the majority. So be it. I am speaking for myself.

My advice to all gays is this: Keep your mouth shut. Live your life and don't try to justify what you are. Intelligent people accept it and to hell with the rest. Frankly, I am -- Sick and Tired of Hearing About It (Montana)

DEAR MONTANA: Not all gays will agree with what you have written. Moreover some parents of gays are extremely supportive of their children. For those who aren't and would like to be, I recommend that you send $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Parents, F.L.A.G. (Parents and Friends of Lesbians And Gays), P.O. Box 27605, Washington, D.C. 20038-7605. They will send you a packet of information.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter had a lovely church wedding, for which I paid. I walked her down the aisle. After three children, "Suzy" divorced her first husband and married a second time at City Hall.

She used to live close enough for us to visit each other often. My wife and I have met her new husband several times. They now live 1,300 miles away and she is planning a second church wedding in that city. Suzy and her husband are paying for it.

My wife is still working and we are trying to manage a limited budget. I would rather not attend my daughter's wedding. Do I have an obligation to walk Suzy down the aisle a second time? -- Somewhere, U.S.A.

DEAR SOMEWHERE: Obligation? No. But a lot depends on how you feel about maintaining a good relationship with your daughter and your grandchildren. If it is of no consequence, don't go. She'll get the picture.

Is life passing you by? Want to improve your social skills? Write for Ann Landers' new booklet, "How to Make Friends and Stop Being Lonely." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.15 (this includes postage and handling) to: Friends, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $5.05.)

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: My daughter is 19 years old. She started her menstrual cycle in the 9th grade and had no problems until the last two years. Each month, at the onset of her period, she has cramps so bad it hurts to walk across the room. She usually has to go to bed for the first day. She takes Advil or Excedrin, without much relief. Her periods are normal, and she has never missed more than three periods since the 9th grade.

I have considered taking her to the doctor, but am concerned about what I keep hearing. She has never had to have a pelvic exam and this will be very hard on her if he insists. I also hear about doctors putting girls on birth-control pills for cramps. I don't want her on the pill, and she doesn't want to take it either.

I read a book by a doctor, who conducted a study on women with this problem. She talks about a medicine called Ponstel for cramps that would be taken for a few days or only when needed. Wouldn't that be better than birth-control pills?

DEAR READER: Your daughter is faced with the fact that she will need to find out what is causing her menstrual cramps before the right form of therapy can be provided. The two most likely possibilities are primary dysmenorrhea and endometriosis.

Primary dysmenorrhea is caused by the release of too much of a hormone called prostaglandins from the lining of the uterus, usually occurring in young girls who have not been pregnant. It is treated with such medicines as Ponstel, Motrin, Indocin and Naprosyn. All of these medicines neutralize the action of prostaglandins. Advil and Motrin are the same medicine (ibuprofen), but it is possible that the amount your daughter gets is not sufficient to be effective.

The other possibility is that she does not have primary dysmenorrhea, and in that case, neutralizing prostaglandins with any of these medicines may not be the right treatment. The failure of Advil to help, and the fact that she had normal menstrual periods for years before this occurred, suggests that this is not primary dysmenorrhea.

What else could it be? Endometriosis. In this disease some of the lining of the uterus, the endometrium, is displaced and may be in the ovaries, tubes or elsewhere. It is a common cause for painful menstrual periods.

I have explained both conditions and the usual options for treatment in my new Special Report 111, Painful Periods Including Endometriosis. Those who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/111, P.O. Box 787, Gibbstown, NJ 08027-9908.

Schools hands tied on budgets

AUSTIN (AP) - The fate of Texas' school districts is in the hands of lawmakers, who have approved but not yet funded a new public education financing system, the Texas Association of School Boards' president said.

"No way to plan. No way to budget. No way to pay your bills with any certainty that you'll have enough money (or any money) to cover your expenses," Patti Clapp, who is on the Richardson school board, said in an article released Monday.

"Welcome to the not-so-wonderful world of Texas school finance."

Lawmakers in April approved a new school finance law that is designed to shift hundreds of millions of dollars in property tax revenue from wealthier to poorer school districts within new education taxing regions drawn largely along county lines.

The law, passed in response to a Texas Supreme Court order to even out funding available to school districts, also is estimated to cost $1.67 billion in new state aid over the next two years.

But in the regular legislative session that ended in May, lawmakers did not pass a state budget, which will include education funding. Faced with a deficit of $4.7 billion, state leaders put off the task until a special session that begins July 8.

And the House Appropriations Committee, meeting in preparation for the special session, voted to slash almost all of the new state aid promised schools under the law. The budget-writers' recommendation would increase school funding by less than one-tenth of the promised amount.

Kevin O'Hanlon, Texas Education Agency general counsel, has said such a reduction would make it more difficult to defend the new law in court.

Ms. Clapp said that unless lawmakers live up to their financial commitment, local property tax payers will have to make up the difference. She said school boards must wait for the state budget to be adopted to know what local tax rates to set and how many teachers they can afford.

"With our hands thus tied, all school board members can do is hope and pray state leaders provide the funds they've promised to us," she said. "Our bill collectors and our children are depending on it."
