

Golf Begins At 40

By BARBARA SWIMMER
Staff Writer

"Golf Begins At 40," a self explanatory tournament, is just one of the many new events which golf pro Cal Garrett has planned for the John A. Pitman Golf Course in the near future.

Garrett, who came to Hereford recently from Meadowbrook Municipal Golf Course at Lubbock, where he was the assistant pro, has made vast improvements at the Golf Shop and also the fairways and greens of the nine hole golf course.

Improvements made by Garrett include a brick inset patio at the front of the Golf Shop and the same treatment at the base of a water fountain on the eighth tee. He has been responsible for the new green carpet added to the men's locker rooms and new wooden lockers.

Garrett says he has several more ideas on dressing the place up but it depends on the availability of funds for the projects.

He says they eventually want to carpet the floor in the Golf Shop and plans to improve the playability of the golf course by caring for the fairways and greens. Display fixtures in the shop will also be added.

The "Golf Begins At 40" tournament is slated for May 24 and 25 and is open to all men 40 years of age and older.

Other events scheduled include the Partnership Tourney set for June 14-15 and the Hereford Invitational Tournament of which the date will be announced later.

Along with the Hereford Ladies Golf Association, Garrett will give free group golf lessons to any women who wish to learn the game, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, beginning at 9 a. m. The lessons will last one hour each day.

Garrett hopes to stimulate additional interest in the game as well as covering the golf basics.

He also plans to hold junior classes. No date has been set as yet, Garrett said, but if they begin before school is out for the summer, they will be held on Saturday.

Following his discharge from the Navy, Garrett entered Texas Technological College in 1954 and graduated from there in 1958. While he was still attending Tech, he began working at Meadowbrook course, then in June of 1963, he operated the 18-hole lighted course in Lubbock known as Treasure Island.

He worked for Vern Farquhar at the Amarillo Municipal Golf Course for a period of 10 months then returned to Meadowbrook in June of 1966, where he stayed until coming to Hereford in March.

Garrett and his wife Janice, have one child, Lynn, six and are expecting another in the near future.

TEC Exec To Speak

J. R. Cobb, general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., will be the guest speaker at the 31st annual meeting of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative to be held Thursday, at the Bull Barn.

Cobb, a native of Louisiana, is a pioneer in rural electrification in Texas and the South. He received his degrees in agricultural and electrical engineering from Louisiana State University and became associated with rural electrification in 1936 when he was with the Louisiana State Agricultural Extension Service. He helped develop the first electric co-ops in Louisiana, including the system in Lafayette, which is the largest in the world.

His success in co-op organizational work came to the attention of officials of the Rural Electrification Administration, and they secured him to work in the agency's utilization division. In this position he worked with co-ops throughout the Southeastern United States before coming to Texas in 1938, developing new co-ops and serving as utilization representative of REA.

REA transferred him to Washington, D. C. in 1941 to head the agency's installation loans division and in 1946 he was promoted to assistant chief of the applications and loans division.

Cobb left REA in 1948 to head the rural sales division of General Motors' Frigidaire Division and 1952 he was promoted to head of laundry equipment sales. From 1954 to 1956 he headed the utility and rural sales division of Frigidaire. In 1957, he was promoted to assistant to the general manager of Frigidaire's Southern States Branch and Distributor Sales.

He became general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., in March, 1958.

The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. Thursday with registration. Capital Credit checks amounting to nearly $158,000 will be returned to those members attending the meeting.

A free barbeque lunch will be served, starting at 11:45 with the business meeting to begin at 1 p. m. In addition to the meeting, local appliance dealers will display their merchandise during the meeting for the member's pleasure. Over $150 worth of prizes will be given to those holding winning tickets.

Headlining the meeting will be the election of two directors and reports about the activities of their cooperative's business.

For children whose parents attend the meeting, free cartoon movies will be shown.

Clean-Up - Fix-Up - Paint-Up Week Set April 28-May 3

The Beautification Committee of the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce has designated April 28 through May 3 as "Clean-up - Fix-up - Paint-up Week in Hereford," according to committee chairman Mrs. Pete Caviness.

Heading a sub-committee on the anti-litter campaign is Mrs. Argen Draper.

Aiding the committee in the campaign will be several school organizations, to work on clean-up day.

In addition, the various art departments in the schools have furnished 48 posters which are placed throughout the city.

The Beautification committee urges the Hereford citizens to start preparing for the week of rejuvenation for our fair city.

Hereford is known as one of the four most prosperous and progressive towns in the state of Texas — With just a little help from each and every citizen it can be one of the top four cleanest towns in Texas.

Mental Retardation

Darkness Is Passing

By BARBARA SWIMMER
Staff Writer

"Darkness is passing from mental retardation," are the gently spoken words of Gene Brock, English and Special Education teacher at La Plata Junior High School, who has worked with these mentally handicapped children for the past three years.

Aside from teaching and working with the retarded, the Rev. Gene Brock is an ordained minister and is the pastor of the Bippus Community Church, which is located approximately 40 miles from Hereford in the northwest part of Deaf Smith County. In his "spare time," he works as night dispatcher for the Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.

In recent weeks Brock has visited numerous church and civic organizations making appeals for his most important project, Camp Wigwam. This is one of two such camps in Texas for retarded children. The camp, which consists of only one session this summer — June 22-29 — is located 7 miles north of Amarillo with the campsite provided by the Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas.

Camp Wigwam is a place where mentally retarded boys and girls can spend a full week being happy and carefree, helping each other and learning new skills. The camp is designed not only to provide recreation, but also to demonstrate that the retarded can learn to use their time constructively. The campers, some of whom have never been away from their parents, have an opportunity to live away from home and to share in a camping program designed and administered especially for them.

Gene Brock spends his vacation each summer working with these children and says it is one of the most rewarding experiences a person can have. Children aged 12-21 of a any race may attend the camp and the majority of these children will fall within the trainable or educable categories as devised by the Texas Educational Agency.

Hereford has some 59 children falling in this category. Brock says, and the parents or guardians of the children are requested to provide the camp fee of $70 for each child. However, it is hoped that no child is refused admission because of inability to pay a fee. For this reason, Gene Brock uses every opportunity to make appeals to civic groups, auxiliary organizations, individuals, foundations and businesses—all possibilities in those situations where there is need for financial assistance. The support will be an investment in the child's happiness and development.

A film entitled "It Can Be Done" has been shown by Brock to numerous groups — illustrating how the program is designed to offer each camper an opportunity to develop natural talents and skills. One camper Brock spoke about was a young lady who could speak only a few words, yet during her one week at camp, she learned two new words.

The children taught by Brock in the Special Education classes are divided into two groups. The first group is the trainable children, who have an I. Q. of 30 to 50 and the educable category includes the children with an I. Q. of 50 to 70. Some are retarded educationally — some of the students in junior high cannot read.

To these retarded youngsters there is no such thing as a race difference, they are all the same.

Gene Brock lives with his wife, Cathy, and children, Brenda and Jerry, Kent at 217 Greenwood. Brenda is a sophomore in high school and shares her father's interest in working with the retarded children. She is working with a "trainable group" along with a counselor at Shirley annex.

Brock was reared at Chillicothe, Tex. and graduated from high school there.

His undergraduate work which was interrupted by four years spent in the Air Force during the Korean conflict, was done at Hardin Simmons where he received a B. S. degree. He has earned a master's degree in Special Education at WTSU during the summer for the last three years while working with the retarded children.

Placed on the committee were Bill Thompson, Marcus Latham, Paul Abalos, and Father John Broderick. However, their meeting plans remain indefinite at this time but it is understood they are to set a date within the next two weeks.

Meade Michael, area coordinator for the program at Amarillo, reported that his position is expanding to cover 26 counties at this time. He said that the federal government will pay 80 per cent of the program expense while the localities are expected to bear the remaining 20 per cent. However, he pointed out that the local participation is not expected to be cash but rather in donations of suitable building space and like contributions, although cash would be accepted.

He reported that there are already two Community Action Programs here, primarily serving the Labor Camp. They were founded in Hereford two

At Lubbock Firemen Attend Conference

Nine members of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department were among some 300 volunteer firemen from throughout the Panhandle who attended the 31st annual Area Firemen's Conference held in Lubbock recently.

Those attending included J. W. "Jap" Dickerson, Earl Phillips, Terry Hodges, Kenny Stephens, Hap Hagar, Ray Smith, Jay Ward, Gerald Wilson and Harold Finch.

Sponsored by the Texas A&M University Extension Service Fire Branch, with the help of the Lubbock Fire Department, the conference consisted of classroom work during the day and actual fire participation at night and on one afternoon. Classroom work consisted of studying the various types of fires, safety, reports, public relations and similar subjects regarding fire fighting and prevention.

Each man at the conference was given a chance to go through two of the four projects assigned him during a night. The projects ranged from household fires to self-contained breathing apparatuses.

Plans Meeting, Art Exhibition

Mrs. Henry Sears, president of the Deaf Smith County Historical Society, announced that there will be a meeting of that organization today at 2 p. m. along with a special art attraction exhibit.

The art exhibit, which will feature 24 of the winning paintings from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce contest for West Texas artists, will be open to the public each day this week from 2.5 p. m.

Dickerson, along with several other area fire chiefs, served as instructors during the actual fire participation projects where men fought oil spills, butane fires and house fires at a fire field in Lubbock.

W. H. Sharp, Fire Chief of the Lubbock Fire Department, was the featured speaker at the conference where he discussed the "Fire Problem — Complacency Or A Lack Of Understanding."

In his speech, he pointed out the fact that during the time period beginning January 1961 through March 1969, over 30,000 Americans lost their lives in the Viet Nam conflict, and during the same period, approximately 80,000 American citizens were burned to death in fire.

He pointed out that "there is hope the Viet Nam conflict will end, but we see little at present for a reduction in fire deaths."

GSPA Prexy Back Outlines Problems

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association is continuing its search for ways to retain its markets for grain farmers in the European common market. The threshold price that was instituted three years ago in the common market has virtually placed an embargo on U. S. grain sorghums into Europe, they report.

GSPA president A. W. Anthony Jr. of Friona attended meetings in Washington last week, it was reported. Purpose of these meetings were to explore ways of getting the Europeans to remove this prohibitive threshold price on U. S. grain sorghum.

Anthony said, "We feel that not only are we losing this market for U. S. grain sorghums but also that the Europeans are being hurt because of the higher cost of their feed grain."

It costs them at least half again, if not double the amount that they normally would have to pay otherwise. Thus, making the cost of their feed going into meat, milk, butter, and eggs cost considerably more and making it prohibitive for many of the Europeans to buy as much of these products as they would like."

Anthony went on to say that the Grain Sorghum Producers Association will continue its work to get the European common market officials to develop a more realistic threshold price relationship between U. S. corn and grain sorghum so that our grain sorghum can continue to move into Europe.

The Friona farmer and grain sorghum official stated that the American farmer has probably lost about ten to fifteen cents per hundred on his market price the past two years because the unrealistic European common market threshold price has virtually stopped all American exports of grain sorghum to Europe.

"We do not believe this is fair to either the U. S. grain sorghum farmer or to the European consumers. GSPA will continue to work on this problem until it is corrected," Anthony added.

Search Begins For Poverty Fighters

Action toward expanding the Community Action Program in Deaf Smith County with Office of Economic Opportunity backing began at a meeting Thursday night in the Hereford Community Center, where 25 local representatives of various groups and organizations selected a steering committee of four who will begin a search here for people to serve on its board of directors.

Placed on the committee were Bill Thompson, Marcus Latham, Paul Abalos, and Father John Broderick. However, their meeting plans remain indefinite at this time but it is understood they are to set a date within the next two weeks.

Meade Michael, area coordinator for the program at Amarillo, reported that his position is expanding to cover 26 counties at this time. He said that the federal government will pay 80 per cent of the program expense while the localities are expected to bear the remaining 20 per cent. However, he pointed out that the local participation is not expected to be cash but rather in donations of suitable building space and like contributions, although cash would be accepted.

years ago but never got off the ground." Michael stipulated that the Labor Camp was a local problem. "To solve this problem we will have to include the total community. The problem cannot be solved without it. Our organization is the only agency who can coordinate all programs in the community. But we need influential people for involvement."

Reference was made to day care centers, birth control information, medical treatment, etc., for the less fortunate to better their opportunities toward gaining and retaining employment — under this service. Also referred to was the possibilities of On-The-Job Program financing here with such companies as Wilson, eventually.

"But we don't give anything for nothing," Michael emphasized. "This is entirely a self-help program. If the people who need it don't want it, there is nothing we can do. But we should make it available to them. It has to come through the educational process."

have to be located in their areas. We must hire and train people from their surroundings to conduct the programs in order to get their problems into the open."

Michael stated that it is a communications barrier between the peoples. "We don't have enough of the community involved."

Michael issued information that the Community Action Program is central to the War on Poverty. In Community Action Programs, the network of ill that form the basis of the poverty program, illiteracy, unemployment, poor health, dilapidated housing, are countered by a varied network of individual programs such as tutoring, job training, and development. Health services and housing services also come under their program.

But Michael pointed out that "the Federal Government's assistance to local communities to develop and support anti-poverty programs through Community Action depends on the community's determination to mobilize its own public and private resources for this attack. Develop programs of sufficient scope and size which will give promise toward eliminating causes of poverty, involve the poor themselves in developing and operating the programs, and administer and coordinate their resources.

Further, Community Action Programs must make every effort to coordinate existing local, state and federal programs in a concentrated drive against poverty," Michael reported. "Assistance available to states and local communities under the Manpower Development and Training Act, the 1962 Public Welfare Amendments, the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and the various programs under the Departments of Housing and Urban Development and Agriculture, as examples, should be joined with any total community anti-poverty effort."

Such programs may include multi-purpose neighborhood centers, manpower and job development projects, Headstart programs and Headstart Follow-Through programs into the first grades, legal services programs, comprehensive health centers and other health services, family planning programs, housing services, adult education (even to teaching adults basic reading and writing), tutorial services, Upward Bound programs, Foster Grandparents programs, local planning and coordinating efforts enabling local agencies to better allocate their resources.

Speakers Set For Cattle, Feed Meet

Deaf Smith County Livestock Committee is presenting a program of interest to livestock producers, feedlot operators, and farmers producing ensilage at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn, which will be concluded with a panel discussion.

County Agricultural Agent Justin McBride stressed that "as the feedlot industry increases in our area, efficient management practices takes on a more important role in determining profits for local producers." He said that all interested farmers, feedlot operators, and feeders are invited to attend the program.

Dr. Lowell Schake, Extension Livestock Specialist, Lubbock, is set to discuss the latest research concerning the cross-breeding program of beef cattle. Another factor he will discuss is carcass evaluation and the importance of yield grades in the beef cattle producers.

"Grain sorghum, our major crop, has a very definite influence on the cattle feeding industry in our area," McBride stated. "However, there seems to be room for improvement in better production and preparation of ensilage in the feeding program."

Therefore, this subject is to be discussed by Dr. Ray Hinders, Nutritionist, Funk Brothers Seed Company of Lubbock.

"Ensilage production is expected to double within the next few years and it is very important that we learn to produce and store quality ensilage," McBride said.

Bob Anthony of Dimmitt will discuss a new method of utilizing stalk fields, a better utilization of the milo stubble.

Panel for the concluding discussion is to be composed of Dr. Schake, Dr. Hinders, Anthony, D. H. Shottenkirk, manager of the Sunnyside Feed Yard; and Ross Cooley, consultant nutritionist of Hereford.

District Buys New Carry-All Here

A new eight cubic yard carry-all has been purchased by the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District, according to SCS manager J. C. Brown.

At its last regular board meeting, Tierra Blanca District supervisors Eldred Brown, Clarence Hetzen, Gerald McCathern, F. L. Eiche, and Virgil Marsh approved the purchase of the carry-all.

The chain-loading, pull-type machine was purchased from Plains Machinery Co. of Lubbock.

They announce that it is available to any landowner or operator in the Tierra Blanca District on a daily rental basis. Rental fee has been set at $40 per day. Minimum rental time will be for no less than one day.

Farm tractors should have 70 horsepower or more to handle this machine, Brown said. Also, four fast-connect hose and couplings are needed to operate cylinders on the carry-all. A 540 rpm power take-off shaft and gear box is presently equipped on the machine. A 1,000 rpm PTO shaft and gear box will also be available, it was reported.

The carry-all can be used for land leveling, digging tailwater pits, constructing terraces, and for waterway shaping.

Brown said that anyone wanting to rent the equipment should contact Gene Combs or Ronald Mathews, or call 364-0112. The carry-all is being kept at the County Maintenance Barn, east of the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Pickup of the carry-all should be made with the tractor which is to be used to operate the machine, Brown instructed.

District employees Combs and Mathews will assist with the hookup of the carry-all. However, rental arrangements should be made a few days prior to picking up the machine, he said.

Scholarships Are Discussed By Dawn Club

Attention was given to scholarships by Dawn Home Demonstration Club members Friday afternoon, when they decided to continue aid to a girl who received the club scholarship last year, and heard an explanation of the Opportunity Plan at West Texas State University.

Speaker on the latter subject was Wandy Elliott, secretary to the Opportunity Plan director. She said the non-profit organization operates like a bank in making loans to students, with financial need and good character as the only requirements for its participants. Similar groups modeled on the WTSU plan have been formed, she added.

Mrs. J. B. Caraway was hostess in Dawn Community Building. All members of the club were present. The next meeting, May 2, will be in Mrs. T. J. Carter's home.

Nixon's Budgetary Aims

WHAT Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield testily calls the "long-awaited" Nixon budget is due for unveiling. Over the weekend, the President twitched some of the drapery away to expose the main feature of the document — a loss of weight. Liberals don't like the new look.

The hurry-up calls that the Democratic legislative leadership has been hurling at the White House have changed tenor. The opposition to nearly $3 billion in domestic cuts has quickly formed and conditions are being formulated for extension of the 10 per cent surtax on incomes — the vital legislation upon which the big surplus the President is building toward depends.

The willingness of Congress to cooperate is, therefore, a question mark. But the President has prepared for the reaction he knew would come — he offers a $5.8-billion surplus 14 months hence and he is prepared to combine some elements of tax reform along with a promise of more, with the extension of the surtax.

WISELY, he has chopped defense spending. His compromises are calculated to woo the opposition, which, above all, will harangue against the death knell if left standing.

The President isn't offering comprehensive tax reform. There isn't time for that and everybody, including Sen. Edward Kennedy, who calls for it loudest, knows it. But Nixon is offering to broaden exemptions on lower income levels and to turn certain tax loopholes into nooses for the wealthy who pay nothing. That helps sweeten the surtax pill for the public — and it's the least the liberals will settle for.

Already some are grumbling about the heartless Republican budget ignoring social needs. But Nixon's determination to reduce the final Johnson budget (which takes effect July 1) isn't routine Republicanism. He isn't out primarily to sink the Great Society, though that will be the result if he wins Congress over. His appeal is bipartisan and nonpolitical. He wants to kill inflation.

In his first press conference, back in February, the new President made an official turnabout on the inflation, he said then, is not a problem for presidential jawboning to business and labor. It is a problem for government to surmount.

Government, he was saying then, creates inflation by its money-supply practices and, above all, by its spending. This change in attitude was momentous. It wasn't until the White House acknowledged the identity of the culprit that any hope of bringing inflation to book could exist.

Line-by-line review of the last Johnson budget had already begun when Nixon spoke in February. Nobody knew how much the budget could be cut because nobody knew then whether the surtax would rein in the economy. It hasn't done so. Inflation gallops on.

A democratic president, perhaps even a classic Republican president, would let the surtax die now in a popular political gesture. With the national economy still heading for the heights, a surplus could still be hoped for, employment would stay at its historic high.

BUT INFLATION would still be with us — and Nixon isn't having any.

He has not only cut the Johnson budget deeply, but asked that the surtax be continued as well. With spending down and tax receipts up, the surplus 14 months from now could be the highest in 18 years. And inflation will have taken a center hit.

"A surplus of this magnitude," says the President, "will speak louder than any words... that the U. S. is determined to bring a halt to the inflationary spiral which has seriously affected our economy these past four years."

That's the meaning of the new budget. — The Dallas Morning News

So Who's Important?

In a business institution there is no such thing as the most important job. There may be the highest paid job, the easiest job or the most responsible job, but the moment you try to put your finger on the most important job, you are in trouble.

Whatever any of us happen to be doing may at any time become the most important job in its final bearing on the finished product. At some time every day, the good name of the company is in the hands of even the lowest paid member of the organization.

None of us can afford to slight a single detail of our work, for just the moment we do, that detail becomes the most important job. — Frederic (Wisc.) Inter County Leader

Impatience With Patients

Just as Americans have learned to indulge the comforts and habits of affluence without puritanical guilt feelings, along comes the American Medical Association in the role of spoiler to say that all these irresistible excesses may be driving the populace to an early grave.

"Our affluence," said the AMA's board of trustees in a special report before its clinical convention, "has reduced physical exertion and increased overeating, excess drinking, smoking, late hours, and drug consumption."

It is not that this identity of 20th-century vices comes as shocking medical information, for in reality there is nothing said here that is not well known to virtually all who must plead guilty on one or more counts.

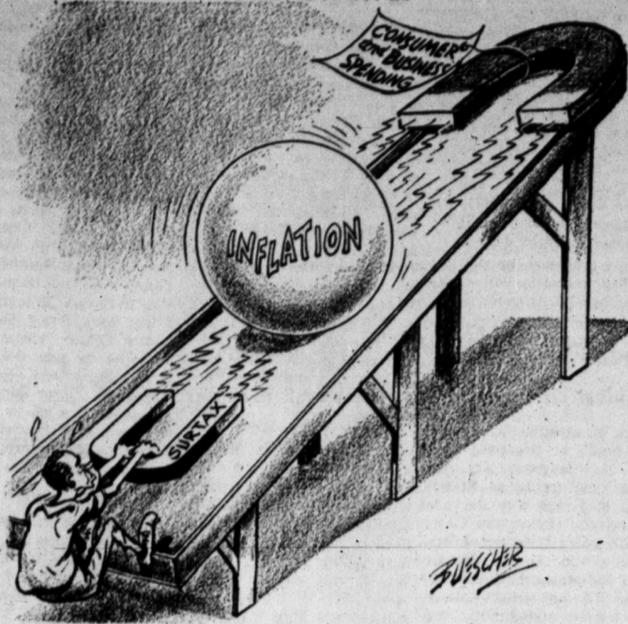

If the automobile has not already signaled nature's start on a withering away of limbs and faltering hearts, the exhaust pipe-to-radiator caravan will take its toll in lungs. The tensions of today's successes invite rounds of rich eating, hasty drinking, chain smoking, fitful sleep — and a pill for every eventuality.

The doctors have known this, even as they have tried to keep their hard-working, hard-playing, hard-running patients fit enough to keep going without a halt. But now they are calling a halt. With all the progress medicine has placed in their hands, they have become captives of their own clientele expected by their patients to keep illness from the door and preserve well-being no matter what the bodily abuse or neglect.

This, says the voice of the medical profession, must stop. And the only way to change course is for the doctors to "educate the American people to the growing role of the individual in the delivery of health care."

More bluntly, doctors are urged to tell patients to take care of themselves as if their lives depended upon it. Which might prove to be the most efficacious prescription to have been handed down since Hippocrates postulated the profession's principles of practice. — Toledo Blade

91st Congress Will Probably Earn Do-Nothing Reputation

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Congress is back in town after its second vacation of the year and should start soon to do something about the do-nothing reputation it has acquired so far.

A new Congress seldom accomplishes much of anything until well into the spring but the 91st Congress has been even more sluggish than usual. In their first three months on the job, the legislators passed exactly six laws. The only ones the public is likely to remember are those that raised the pay of bureaucrats and members of Congress.

During the period from January 3 through March 31, the Senate was in session only 38 days, for an average of 3 1/2 hours. The House met on 46 days, but for an average of less than 2 hours daily. At $42,500 per person per year, that is not much of a work record.

Of course, a Senator or a Representative works in his office and in committee as well as on the floor but his basic job is to pass laws and very little of that has been done yet. The public can be excused for thinking it is high time Congress got down to business.

Criticism of Congress has been loud enough to cause House Speaker John McCormack (D., Mass.) to seek to shift blame for Congressional action to the White House. He cited the fact that President Nixon has addressed only six messages to Congress, in contrast to the flurry of messages sent during similar periods by Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Nixon Has Been Cautious President Nixon has been cautious in his approach to Congress, and for a very good reason. For the first time in 120 years, the nation has elected a President of one party while both branches of Congress are controlled by the other party. In the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations, the White House was dealing with a friendly majority.

Nixon's situation is different. The Democrats on Capitol Hill are lying in wait to torpedo Republican proposals. Nixon has to be very careful and stick his neck out only when the risk is well calculated and deemed necessary. An example is the Nixon decision on the anti-ballistic missile, which is encountering the expected heavy opposition in Congress.

Nixon will probably win the ABM tussle but he will be bloodied a bit in the process. The President can be excused for postponing other blood-lettings at least until he is sure both that the fray is necessary and that he has at least a chance to win.

Nixon's plan from the beginning has been to assign problems to task forces and to impose deadlines for decision. Some of those deadlines are on the horizon now, and Congress will be hearing the results before long. As many as three dozen legislative proposals are said to be in the works now.

For example, Congress will soon receive the Budget news from the White House. The 1970 Budget was drawn by Lyndon Johnson & Co. on the eve of the shift in power. Nixon men have had that document under a microscope for three months, and some substantial cuts are sure to be asked of Congress.

Stalling Is Habitual While Congressional leaders blame the White House for the slow pace on Capitol Hill, it would have made little or no difference if the President had laid down a barrage of messages and demanded immediate passage. The legislative process begins in committee and most committees particularly in the House were not even organized until recently.

With the exception of the House Ways and Means Committee which got an early start on tax reform, few committees have done more than tool up for the future. With more than 10,000 bills and resolutions already awaiting action, there would seem to be no lack of work.

Talk is a necessary prelude to action by a legislative body but taxpayers will be forgiven if they feel it is about time they see some results from their tax dollars.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — The American Legion, which will have its 50th birthday this spring, can trace some of its beginnings to Texas.

On April 21, 1919, World War I veterans from throughout the state met at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio to discuss participation in a proposed new national organization of ex-service men. Colonel Alvin Ousley was elected temporary chairman, then handed over the gavel to General Claude V. Birkhead who was named to head the Texas delegation to a national caucus called in St. Louis.

When the state delegations assembled in the Missouri city on May 8, 9 and 10, they voted to organize the American Legion. A Texan, Colonel Henry O. Lindsey, was elected the first national chairman (now called national commander).

TRAVELING TEXAS — Almost as many tourists as alumni visit the headquarters of the Ex-Students' Association at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

They stop by the 73-year-old former boarding house because a student named Lyndon Baines Johnson lived there while attending Southwest Texas State in the mid-1920's.

THE SIGNS OF TEXAS — In an Austin garage: "We stand in FRONT of our brake jobs."

IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN HERE — Gregg County boasts the only barn in Texas furnished by a world famous interior decorator.

It's the property of J. W. (Billy) Griffith, a Longview oil man who decided to make a showplace of his 1,500-acre Black Angus farm. To make his barn a place of beauty and a joy to the large groups he wanted to entertain there, he employed Bill Pahlmann as the decorator.

Pahlmann had done New York's Four Seasons Restaurant, a Hong Kong luxury hotel and the homes of some of the country's richest people — but never a barn. He has now.

He furnished the harness room with antiques and 18th century paintings and added a living room and kitchen. Even the stalls were redesigned so that they can be used either for cattle or as a dining area for guests.

THE CHANGING TIMES — Remember when Morse telegraphy was the most popular subject taught by business colleges?

Before the days of teleprinters, radio and satellites, the telegraph office was the communications center for any community lucky enough to have one. Telegraphers learned their craft either through an apprenticeship or by enrolling in the nearest business college. Students were "graduated" when they could tap out 30 words a minute with only a couple of errors.

HISTORY REPEATS — If there are any saddle mules left in Texas, they may get a chance once again to prove which one is the fastest.

Arp, the Smith County town that used to stage an annual race to determine the best saddle mule around, is considering resuming its famed Mule Derby.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson-grass farm has run into some news he can't handle but it's not the first time.

Dear editor:

Sometimes, do you get the feeling, when you hear of something the world seems to take as normal but you back off and take a close startled look at, that civilization was a mistake?

For example, I read a couple of items in a newspaper last night.

One reported that the United States, at the same place, is training fighter pilots from Israel and fighter pilots from Jordan.

That's right, they go to school at a military base in this country, attend the same classes, learn to fly and shoot from the same fighter planes, and then go home and fight each other.

The other item reported that space for mobile homes is getting scarce in some areas and a bright thinker has come up with the idea of a multi-storied trailer camp for them.

That's right. One mobile home on top of another, as far up as the situation demands.

I'll tell you, our training pilots from two warring countries to go back to their homes better equipped to fight each other, and stacking trailer houses, made to be towed around the country, one on top of another, boggles a man's sense of reality.

On the other hand, there's something to be said for civilization. For instance, I read in another newspaper that there is quite a stir in Congress about radiation being emitted from color television sets, and some Congressmen are demanding that something be done about it.

Understand, I'm not in favor of anybody's being hit by x-ray radiation, and the people I know who have color sets seem about as healthy as though they were bored by radio, but it's good to have this danger pointed out in a house where there's far too much clamor for a color T. V. set.

I knew a man who, a generation ago, when canvas top cars were first replaced by glassed-in models, wouldn't buy one because he said there was danger of the wind blowing it over. He got by with this for years.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Teal To Vie For 2nd Circuit Win

AMARILLO — Points leader Bryan Teal of Lubbock attempts to collect his second consecutive pro fuel dragster circuit championship here Sunday when the circuit returns to Amarillo dragway.

Since Teal won the opener here in John Odom's car three weeks ago, weather has forced postponement of every other scheduled circuit stop.

As a result, the 40 points earned by the Teal-Odom combine in the opener continued to set the circuit pace, 10 points better than Paul Pritchett of Dallas and the "Addict" of North Hollywood, Calif.

Teal's competition this week promises to be somewhat more formidable than it was for the first race, however.

Because the opener was rescheduled due to bad weather and because of the fact that the forecast promised more of the same some of those cars expected to compete in the first race were chased to southern climates.

Most should be ready this week, however.

National hot rod association division director Dale Ham reports that because of the large number of rainouts already this year, everyone is looking for someplace to run.

Tech pit gates will open at 7 a.m. Sunday with time trials continuing until 1 p.m. at which time all fuelers in the pits will be paired and run for qualifying in the eight car quarterfinals.

They tied with Hereford and Dumas for the district football championship, won the track title outright, and also claimed victories in volleyball, basketball and golf. The only sport which they did not participate in was baseball, but their lead was sufficient enough to give them the trophy.

Dumas finished six points behind Perryton's 28½ and Hereford was a distant third with

Thompson To Lead Amateur Operators

W. T. Thompson, WJSM, 520 Ave. J, has been selected to lead an organization of Hereford amateur radio operators prepared to furnish organized emergency communication in time of disaster, it was announced today by Communications Manager George Hart of the American Radio Relay League, national association of radio amateurs.

Thompson's assignment, which carries the title of Section Emergency Coordinator, is to band together members of the amateur radio service in this area to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by hams in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies. In addition to use of normal station equipment working from commercial power, amateur stations using self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment are needed.

In his work, he will be assisted in each community by local coordinators who will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the hams' personal stations may be mobilized under simulated emergency conditions. His duties also include close coordination with state Civil Defense authorities to maintain an efficient system of auxiliary radio communications. He will assist local Civil Defense officials in determining their communications needs and in making application for stations in the government-sponsored Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service.

In announcing the appointment, Hart pointed out that radio amateurs have traditionally had the responsibility of being in constant readiness to offer assistance in time of need with ham-acquired skill, emergency-powered transmitters and a wealth of community spirit. "When sleep storms disrupt telegraph and telephone service, or floods isolate whole communities," the League's Communications Manager said, "it is amateur radio that comes to the rescue with operators and self-powered equipment, often as the sole agency able to transmit message calling on the outside world for aid for the stricken community."

"To be prepared for this function requires not only a highly-organized program of preparation locally," Hart continued, "but hams outside the disaster area must be prepared to act as outlets and relay points for emergency traffic. Planning and organization are necessary, and this is the job Thompson is doing for this area."

Art Fair Set By Guild Here

An art fair sponsored by Hereford Art Guild is scheduled for next Sunday, Apr. 27, in Community Center here, open to area artists and craftsmen who will be given an opportunity to show and sell their work. Mrs. Mark Schaffner, Guild president, announces that the public is invited to visit the fair from 1 to 6 p. m. next Sunday, to view the work on display, watch the exhibitors at work and buy their products.

A feature of the show will be a demonstration of painting in oils, to be presented at 2 p. m. by Ben Konis, artist who is now making his home in Amarillo and is at present conducting classes here and at Friona. He will have paintings on display also.

Booths will be available at a fee of $5, or $1 each for individuals who share a booth. One or more persons may occupy a booth. Tables will be provided but wall space may not be used, so exhibitors are asked to bring easels to display pictures. Painters are urged to bring their paints and brushes and work during the afternoon to create interest. One aim of the fair, Mrs. Schaffner says, is to let the public see the artists at work.

Also the event is intended to create more interest in art in this area, and to permit artists to become acquainted and work together.

Hereford residents are asked to bring their entries between 9 and 11 a. m. Saturday. Those from out-of-town may take entries from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. on the day of the show, at Community Center, Park Avenue at Avenue C.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Schaffner, 246 16th Street. Prospective entrants should also notify her.

Booths are already reserved for art classes from Hereford High School, pupils of John Birdsong at Stanton Junior High and Mrs. Lottie Wertenberg at LaPlata Junior High, and Kappa Phi fraternity of West Texas State University, as well as for a number of individuals.

The English language has changed considerably in the past three centuries. When King James II described St. Paul's Cathedral as "amusing," "awful" and "artificial" in the 17th century, the architect, Sir Christopher Wren, was not offended. The king simply meant that the cathedral was pleasing, awe-inspiring and skillfully constructed.

McCaslin Again On LAT Board

FORT WORTH — Carl McCaslin, Hereford lumberman, was re-elected to the Board of Directors of The Lumbermen's Association of Texas, when that group opened its 83rd annual convention at Fort Worth Friday.

A Dallas lumberman, Samson Wiener, was the choice for president during the coming year. He succeeds Cosmo Guido of San Antonio.

The Lumbermen's Association of Texas, an Austin based service organization of retail lumber dealers, has survived for 83 years, growing each year until today it is the largest single state lumber organization in the United States.

No Forms To Buy Ammunition

DALLAS, Tex. — Hunters and sportsmen need only identify themselves to be able to purchase ammunition under the 1968 Federal gun control law, B. Frank White, Southwest Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue, said today.

There are no forms to fill out, but a person must show some identification such as a driver's license to indicate he meets the age requirements set forth in the gun law. The 1968 Gun Control Act limits the sale of ammunition for pistols, revolvers and other handguns to persons 21 years of age and over. Ammunition for rifles and shotguns may be purchased by persons 18 years of age and over.

White said that unlike the restrictions on the sale of firearms, a person can buy ammunition outside his home state. Thus, a hunter on a trip or a sportsman attending a shooting match will have no problem obtaining ammunition. Dealers are required to keep records of ammunition sales including the name and address of the purchaser.

White said the Federal gun legislation enacted in 1968 was designed to help law enforcement officials at all levels of government fight crime. The legislation was not intended to place unnecessary restrictions on hunters, sportsmen or citizens using firearms for any lawful purposes.

Administration of Federal gun laws is the responsibility of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of IRS.

By MELVIN YOUNG
"I made a trip to Amarillo a few years ago, and there's just one thing I want to know. How did you folks get rid of all the trees?"

That's the question that was asked of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin while on a recent vacation trip through the south. Mrs. Martin reported that the man was about 65 years of age, and was apparently one of the local park attendants in the Mississippi park where they had stopped. The man apparently had not spent too much time out of his native Southland and didn't realize there were places on earth where crops grow better than trees.

Which reminds us of another conversation overheard by a local man as the plane on which he was traveling, approached the airport in Amarillo. Two men, obviously from the north, were discussing the countryside. "Isn't it a shame," said one of the men, "to have pulled out all those trees just to plant cotton."

This man not only knew nothing about our trees, he wasn't too well versed on what crops were being grown around Amarillo.

By the way, the Martins reported that it rained almost every day they were traveling. Too bad they couldn't have brought some of it back to the Plains.

Overheard recently: "If you've quit smoking, quit drinking, and going on a diet to lose weight — why man, one of these days you're going to be a dead example."

The folks over at Brown, Graham and Glover accounting office always close on the 16th of April — the day following deadline for filing of income taxes. Former Mayor Ray Cowser has suggested an appropriate sign for the door on this day. It should read "Closed For Repairs."

Middle age, according to the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press, is when "whoop-dee-do" turns to "whoop-dee-don't."

Jack Higgins Is Newly Elected President For Dawn Lions Club

Jack Higgins was named recently to head the newly elected slate of officers for the Dawn Lions Club, according to public relations chairman Jerry Haley. Higgins succeeds Clarence Betzen as president of the club.

Other officers named in the elections include T. J. Carter who will serve as first vice-president, Jim McCabe, second vice-president; and Shorty Fowler as third vice-president. Jerry Haley was elected as secretary for the group and treasurer is Ray Stewart.

The new taitwister for the coming year is Ed Sowell and Lion tamer will be Leroy Johnson.

Named as directors are Wayne Higgins, Roy Gulnn, Wade Crist and Jerry Parker.

Representatives from the club who attended the district convention held Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Amarillo were Clarence Betzen, Robert Strain and Jack Higgins.

Club Elects Mrs. Meiwes THDA Nominee

A new member, Mrs. Billy Bramblett, was welcomed in Ford Home Demonstration Club at a business meeting in Ford Community House Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Tex McKnight presided for the session.

Mrs. Steve Meiwes was selected as the club's nominee for county delegate to the Texas H. D. Association convention which will be held soon.

Mrs. Raymond Flores and Mrs. D. B. Roberson, hostesses, served refreshments in an informal social period. Other members present were Mmes. Frank Brorman, Joe Gonzalez, J. C. Gossett, A. B. Kent, John A. Smith and Raymond Smith.

Calvin Hill led Yale's football team in scoring last season for the second straight year. He scored 84 points, twice the number he marked up in 1967.

Excitement In New Book

New excitement takes place as you follow the adventure of a young girl in a secluded estate and laugh with the humor found in a book about the problems of a Rabbi. Both of these subjects can now be found at the Deaf Smith County Library.

A new book by Elisabeth Ogilvie... BELLWOOD, will delight her readers. Twenty-three-year-old Caroline Brewster comes to a secluded estate on the Maine coast as companion to a five year old boy who is supposed to be retarded as well as crippled. Caro takes the job to help her forget a bitter experience, and the longer she stays in the beautiful other-worldly surroundings of Bellwood the more deeply she falls in love with her employer, a man like no other she has known.

Rees Morgan's self-imposed isolation after a great personal tragedy is understandable to Caro. He has reasonable explanations for his child's brightness and alertness, and can also account logically for the voices that Caro hears in an empty house. Dazzled and adoring, she questions nothing.

Caro also meets Eric, an engaging summer sailor, whom she is inclined to ignore. But when by sheer accident she discovers Rees' 'other face' and learns a horrifying tale of revenge, she turns to Eric to save her from the fatal consequences of her new knowledge.

In this great suspense novel Elizabeth Ogilvie has stunningly evoked the atmosphere of the Maine coast as a backdrop for a spellbinding Gothic romance.

Harry Kemelman's eagerly awaited new Rabbi novel — SUNDAY THE RABBI STAYED HOME — takes place six years after the founding of the temple in Barnard's Crossing, six years that have seen a change not only in the congregation but in its controversial rabbi, David Small (who can see the third side of any question). Mellover, no longer young and defensive, he is still very much his own man — operating on a special brand of internal radar which is as unpredictable to others as it is, often, to him. The congregation has grown, too: it is bulging at the seams — thus setting the stage for the present crisis; a threatened split in the membership.

SUNDAY THE RABBI STAYED HOME takes place during the Passover holiday. When the kids return home from college, the rabbi finds himself deeply involved in the hangups of the younger generation — the new freedom, race relations, drugs and, unexpectedly, murder.

Filled with the characters known and beloved by millions of Kemelman fans, among them: Police Chief Hugh Lanigan; aging Jacob Wasserman, first president of the temple; Miriam, David's eternally patient wife — plus a host of delightful new characters, from a Sunday school principal who wants to conduct a "swinging" Passover service to a local carpenter who has heard God's voice (has Rabbi Small?)

Local Cookies Eaten In Viet By Hereford GI

Marine Lance Cpl. Gene Brashear of Hereford, who is now stationed three miles west of DaNang, South Vietnam, sent word through his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brashear of 311 N. 25 Mile Ave., that he and other servicemen had eaten cookies on Easter which were sent overseas by a Home Demonstration Club in Deaf Smith County.

Brashear and his parents have been unable to locate the name of the club here or the persons involved in the cookie project. However, his message was that he wanted to thank the persons and club responsible and offer his deep appreciation for their thoughtfulness.

He was recently a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning in Vietnam but is now back in the field, he reported.

His mother said that Gene, who attended both West Texas State University and Texas Tech prior to entering the service, has already preregistered himself as a student at Tech beginning in the fall semester of 1970.

"Right now," his mother said, "he said that he would like to have crossword puzzles and comic books!"

His address is L-Cpl. E. G. Brashear, 2448636, Second Battalion, 26th Marines, Hotel Company, San Francisco, California 96602.

Business Interesting

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Most hectic moments in Mrs. James Hull's experience as manager of a West Texas cable television firm came when there was an operation failure while the popular daytime show, The World Turns, was on the air. "IT'S HARD TO believe," she laughs, "that it's possible to answer 363 telephone calls in little over an hour, but my husband helped me and we counted that many!"

Mrs. Hull managed the cable TV service at Colorado City several years before the family moved here this spring, and found it a very interesting job but quite demanding.

Although technicians did the actual work to keep the system in operation, and there was help in the office, it was my responsibility and I was the one who listened to complaints. It was really a seven-day-a-week job," she says.

NOW SHE IS enjoying a time of being outside the business world, and looks forward to leisure to work in the yard of her new home at 620 Westhaven, to keep the cookie jar filled for her son, 11-year-old Michael Scott, to go with him to places like the library and museum, to accompany her husband on business trips.

The Hulls came to Hereford recently when he became manager of Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative. He had been assistant manager and then manager of a similar cooperative at Colorado City, where the couple went after completing college work at Sam Houston State in Huntsville.

They were married in Altus, Okla., where Mrs. Hull was born and lived until after graduation from high school, and where her father was a farmer and cotton buyer.

"WE WENT THROUGH college on G. I. Bill benefits and odd jobs," Mrs. Hull explains,

"living in converted barracks with other young couples much in the same position. None of us had more than enough money to get by, and when I could go out with one of the other wives and split a Coke, it was a big event."

"But we made some of the dearest friends, and since we were all in the same boat we enjoyed each other at no cost even if we didn't have the price of a show." She considers the penny-pinching of that period as "good experience with a good purpose, but I wouldn't want it to continue!"

Majoring in psychology and sociology, Mrs. Hull had plans for a career in social work, only to find that business had more appeal for her. One of her chief interests is in a field which not many women enter, the stock market.

SHE IS AN avid follower of market ups and downs, she says, likes to study and watch the market and pit her own predictions against those of the professionals.

That interest has led to another, in oceanography, as she noticed a trend to activity in stocks associated with that science. Now she reads and picks up all the information she can about exploration and possible exploitation of wealth in the seas.

One of the various odd jobs of the Hulls' college days was photographer during his military service, and learned a good deal about darkroom work, retouching and tinting photographs.

THE HULLS ARE members of the Baptist Church and in the past both have taught youth groups in Sunday School. Mrs. Hull is a member of the Order of Eastern Star and Daughters of the Nile, Masonic-affiliated orders, but has not had time for active participation lately.

Coin collecting is a family hobby, and they also enjoy trips as a family when Hull travels on business. Mrs. Hull plays the piano and chord organ "just for fun" and Michael has studied piano the past four years.

Getting settled in her new home is still keeping her busy; the yard, with a fence just completed to break the wind, is getting a good deal of her attention. Trees and shrubs are being selected, and Mrs. Hull has planted petunias with hope of early bloom in a flower bed.

She likes the way Hereford people accept newcomers, and is becoming acquainted quickly.

National Library Week April 20-26

National Library Week in Texas will be observed beginning today and lasting through April 26, according to Deaf Smith County Librarian, Mrs. Lorene Newman.

Do you know how your library really stacks up?

Texans support their public libraries to the tune of $1.24 per capita per year; in California the figure is $3.89; in Massachusetts it's $4.61.

You might be interested to know that the Deaf Smith County Library budget amounts to $.91 per capita. This is considerably below the shamefully low state average.

According to Mrs. Newman, the Deaf Smith County Library was begun in 1926 and has never had a slump. However, said Mrs. Newman, it cannot continue to grow without more space. Additional space is needed desperately.

According to a report prepared two years ago by the State Library Association for determining minimum space requirements, the staff work area should be 1000 sq. feet while the county library has 200 square feet which includes the processing and checking in and out areas.

The required space should have 2500 linear feet for every eight books over 20,000 and Hereford has 2,974.

The study area should be 1200 square feet for 40 seats and we have 186 square feet for 16 seats.

National Library Week in Texas has set its purpose this year to call attention to the value of libraries in a free society, to note the essential need for books, magazines and other readily available information in a world where the sum total of all human knowledge now doubles every seven years.

Your public library cannot begin to meet the demands of this technological revolution unless it gets adequate support from the community it serves.

Your citizens, your children and your student researchers are losing out when your public library is not up to standard. Your concern with society's lasting values is vividly reflected in the nature and condition of your own public library. How does it stack up?

Mrs. Newman is busily preparing for the summer reading program which begins as soon as school recesses for the summer.

Measles Vaccine

Announcement of the membership in the Hereford committee to bring about immunization of all unprotected persons against one or more communicable diseases has been made.

Committee chairman Ruth Dobbs said that a community-wide effort is now organized to immunize all children here against measles.

The vaccine for the campaign in Hereford is being supplied by the federal government, and there will be no charge for it. However, Mrs. Dobbs pointed out that "this project is definitely not charity. Donations will be accepted."

She said that the measles vaccine is for children of all origins. But the child must be a resident of Deaf Smith County in order to participate.

The clinic is set for Thursday, May 1, in the high school cafeteria on Union Street in Hereford. Children are to be received for vaccination from 2:30 to 5 p. m.

Cooperating to make the Deaf Smith County immunization program a success are the Young Homemakers and Young Mothers Clubs. Members of the committee are Ann Wygant, Linda Minchew, Carol Gerik, and Nell Hunter of the study clubs.

Registration form has been published in this issue of the Sunday Brand. Mrs. Dobbs has requested that the form be clipped, filled out by parents, and returned to either Mrs. Don Br-

Summer Bride-Elect

The engagement of Miss Lou Ann Witkowski to Peter Whitney Rounds is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kitkowski, 215 North Texas. A mid-August wedding is planned, to be solemnized in St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Presently teaching vocational homemaking at La Plata Junior High School, the bride-to-be is a graduate of Hereford High School and a 1968 graduate of the school of home economics, Texas Tech, where she was a member of the Association of Women Students and the American Home Economics Association.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Whitney Rounds of Hereford, is a senior student in Texas Tech's school of agriculture and a member of Alpha Zeta fraternity. His high school studies were completed at Caldwell. (Angel photo)

Recently Married

Dr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Barnett of Center, Colorado, former Hereford residents, announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Jennifer, to Gregory Lynn Marshall, son of Mrs. Bill Taylor of Monte Vista, Colorado, and the late Charles Marshall.

The couple is at home in Mesa, Arizona, and both plan to attend Arizona State College at nearby Tempe. They are graduates of Center High School; the bride has been a student at Adams State College in Alamosa, Colorado, and the bridegroom at Arizona University.

Mrs. Marshall attended Hereford schools before her family moved to Colorado in 1964.

Couple At Home After Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kreycik are at home at 406 Avenue B after a short trip which followed their recent marriage in a home ceremony at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stansbury, 607 Blevins.

The bride is the former Miss Mary Sue Hassell, Kreycik, an employe of Hereford Feed Yards, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kreycik of Valentine, Neb.

White lilies and greenery were arranged before a window as the background for the wedding. Ernest Wade, justice of the peace, officiated and the bride was escorted by her brother, Ricky Hassell.

Her matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Wayne Sharkey of Amarillo, and W. W. Stansbury attended the bridegroom as best man.

Miss Hassell wore a white brocade coat over a slim-lined dress of the same material, floor length. Her illusion veil fell over her shoulders and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her attendant's dress was of crepe in blue and pink.

Family members and friends who attended the wedding were guests later at a reception in the home. Miss Ellen Bridges served the wedding cake, Misses Pat Collier and Sallann Scott the punch.

Pink carnations and lilies made the table centerpiece, set on a lace cloth over pink. The cake was decorated with pink sugar roses and the punch was the same color.

Mrs. Kreycik is a senior in Hereford High School and plans to be graduated next month. Kreycik attended school in Valentine.

come confused but sometimes it's hard to recover from the confusion. So I'm glad to find out about the two Gerald Payne families that are living here now.

GLAD TO KNOW that there are two, that is, because the name of Mrs. Gerald Payne has been appearing in reports of women's activities in a manner that confused me in trying to fit it all to one woman. For two separate Mrs. Paynes, it's quite clear.

As far as the men are concerned, there's no problem because one of them is Dr. Gerald Payne and the title identifies him. But both wives are entitled to use their husbands' names and I'm not going to embarrass them by calling them Mrs. Karen and Mrs. Wilma in print.

Maybe what we need is the old German style of giving a wife her husband's professional title, so we could refer to Karen as Mrs. Dr. Gerald Payne.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD Kevin Riggs of Oxnard, Calif., has made his grandparents, the Charles Newells, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. J. O. Newell, mighty proud of him by winning an area spelling bee for his school, Fremont of Oxnard.

He outspelled contestants from 18 schools in the area and won by spelling "surly" and then "technique." He will compete in finals at Ventura May 2, his hometown paper said.

Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Riggs. His mother, the former Jacqueline Newell, is a graduate of Hereford High School.

MRS. LEONA PACKARD returned Friday from Vancouver, Wash., where she visited her son, Leroy Packard, and his children. She was gone 11 days on the trip to the Northwest.

MRS. BILL GENTRY, president of Bud To Blossom Garden Club, and Mrs. Jess Robinson, a member, plan to attend a school for flower show judges at the Amarillo Garden Center Tuesday and Wednesday, then take the examination Thursday.

Mrs. Gentry has already completed the schools required to become a student judge, but Mrs. Robinson is beginning the training which will lead her to that title, and then through practice and more study to the rating of national judge, perhaps, some day.

Museum Tour Taken By Club

A tour of Deaf Smith County Museum made one of the year's most interesting programs for Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club Tuesday morning. Members and a guest, Mrs. Bill Carathers, made the tour after meeting in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Bryant.

Mrs. Henry Sears was their guide as they went through the museum, seeing the various facets of county history preserved in replicas of pioneer-day homes and business, in equipment used in early ranching and farming in pictures and in clothing.

A letter was read to the club from the girl they sponsor at Girlstown, U. S. A., thanking members for the Easter costume they sent her early this month.

Iron Chlorosis Of Grain Cuts Yield

Iron chlorosis of grain and forage types of sorghum can reduce yield if the condition is characterized by a yellowing between leaf veins and often occurs on caliche spots or high lime soils containing free calcium carbonate," says Jim Valentine, Extension Soil Chemist at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

after sorghum emerges and spots and irregular patterned areas are most common. The crop tends to grow out of this condition as soon as soil temperature rises, but often chlorosis is seen on a second growth of forage sorghum.

Iron deficiency usually is observed early in the season soon order, Valentine advises foliar application of a 2½ percent iron sulfate solution, commonly called copperas. The principle involved is to get iron into the plant through the leaves.

Prepare the solution by dissolving 10 pounds of iron sulfate in 50 gallons of water. The blue-green color of fresh iron sulfate changes to yellow on prolonged exposure to air and then it is very difficult to dissolve.

A wetting agent or detergent must be added to get good even coverage of the leaf surface. Use the amount recommended by the manufacturer for insecticidal sprays. Concentrations of wetting agents recommended for herbicide sprays can cause severe burning of foliage.

Valentine explains that approximately 20 gallons of the solution per acre should be sufficient to completely wet the leaves. The first application should be made within 10 days after emergence if plants show severe deficiency. Another application should follow in about two weeks. Should yellowing continue or occur later in the season, a third application may be necessary.

Soil applications of iron materials have not been effective in controlling chlorosis in sorghum. Timely foliar applications offer the most satisfactory control measures, Valentine concludes.

H.D. CHATTER Cleanup Week Is Important

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

An important week: April 28-May 3. It is hoped each resident of Hereford has this date in mind and is making plans to paint up and fix up.

CLEANING YARDS and alleys should be the number one plan to your spring cleaning. The few spring days we have had makes me want to get started on cleaning up. Please join your neighbors in cleaning up and painting up.

I DID APPRECIATE Robert Strain showing us the sale certificate to the late Troy Womble from the State of Texas for the section of land west of the original "town section" of Hereford.

The East line of this section is 25 Mile Avenue, south line, the Tule Creek, which we now call Tierra Blanca, and what is now Park Avenue was the North Line.

This certificate was signed in 1901 and it is the section homesteaded by the Womble family. It was very interesting. I feel we owe much to the early-day settlers who built a good foundation for Hereford.

THIS WEEK I have read Mission Information, which is a compilation of research on the use of drugs, marijuana and hallucinogens. There is much interest in this information as this question has arisen in all areas of society — moral, legal, intellectual, and many others.

The last page is a chart giving much information at a glance. It gives the name of the drug, slang name, description, medical use and the risks of abuse. If you haven't seen this publication, you should study it.

GOURMET AND specialized cookery is fast becoming everyday cooking. There were twice as many specialty and international cookbooks published in 1968 as were published in 1967. Each year the total of new cookbooks zooms. Latest figures available show 167 cookbooks published in 1967.

I keep thinking I'll finally get enough cookbooks and then I learn this many were published in one year! Sometime ago I had a rule to limit myself to one cookbook a year. However, I broke over so many times I simply quit fighting the urge and now buy the books I want.

THE HOME DECORATION action today is in the kitchen. Gourmet cookery, informal entertaining and style and product excitement focus attention on today's kitchen.

This trend is reflected in decor from sleek, color-happy appliances, counters and cabinets, to award-winning housewares. Matching elegance is functional — self-cleaning ovens, no-frost refrigerators, counter-top and microwave cooking, and improved appliances with more delights on the way to please the eye and bring joy to the cook.

Carpeted kitchens are an essential element in this trend that combines elegance and function. The olefin fiber in kitchen carpets have a low, dense, non-absorbent surface pie with a new embossed foam secondary backing — both are moisture and mildew resistant. Kitchen carpets of olefin fiber are available in solids, embossed solids, tweeds, new color prints, geometrics, florals, and over 50 color combinations. The new plastics in the picture are design-right yet sturdy and practical in use.

See-through shelves display housewares and also give additional storage space. You can sit pretty on the lightweight plastic free-form cube. What's in the crystal ball for kitchens for the future? To name a few: programmed appliances, adjustable kitchen counters, ultrasonic sink attachments for easy cleanup — and more.

WHY KITCHEN CARPET?
It's warm and inviting.
Less breakage if dishes and glassware hit the floor.
Spots and stains come clean with ease.
No more mopping, waxing and polishing.
Carpet keeps the heat in and the drafts out.
Carpet mutes kitchen clatter and clang.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN KITCHEN CARPET:
Man-made fiber with no hold moisture.
Mildew resistant fiber.

Stain resistant fiber.
Level-loop rather than a sculpted carpet.
Medium tweed — will not show dirt.

HOW TO CLEAN KITCHEN CARPET: Blot away excess moisture from stains as soon as possible. Most stains will come clean with just the suds of a light detergent and warm water. Vacuum regularly and shampoo as needed.

SITTING PRETTY: "Don't sit there" is a fading admonition of the past. The first new fiber in the upholstery industry in over a decade has made this possible.

You can have your upholstery in easy-care soft and lacy neutrals, bright stripes, blended tweeds, brisk reds, geometrics, Corals, damask-type designs in solid and color combinations, prints, plaids, solids. With these fabrics made of 100 percent olefin fiber, practically and durability is built right in. Most common household stains can be removed from the fabric by first blotting and then sponging up with the suds of a light detergent and water. Fabrics are colorfast, mildew-proof and non-allergenic, too. No fuzzing or pulling either.

"THIS IS GOING TOO FAR!" — John Gilliland strikes an indignant pose as a college youth who sees his pal, disguised as an old lady, getting too much attention from his sweetheart and her friend in a scene from the comedy, Charley's Aunt, which is in rehearsal by Hereford Community Players. John Murdock is the "aunt", who assumes the disguise as a favor to two fellow college men, so he can chaperone a tea for the young ladies in the boys' apartment. The comedy is set in an English university about the turn of the century. Deborah Baker, left, and Carole Byers play the girls who come to tea and are involved in numerous complications as Charley's real aunt shows up while the bogus aunt is dodging two elderly men who want to marry her for her money. The play, last of this season for the Players, will be staged May 2 and 3 in La Plata School auditorium.

Tech To Check On Water Pollution

LUBBOCK — A federal grant of $32,936, announced Wednesday in Washington, will be used by Texas Tech researchers to investigate the possible pollution of the Ogallala formation through the recharge of playa lake water.

The Ogallala supplies water for the people, livestock, crops and industries of the High Plains.

The $44,500 research project is supported cooperatively by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration of the Department of the Interior, the Texas Water Quality Board and the university. If findings in the first year of the investigation indicate the underground water supply could be polluted by lake water, funds will be sought to continue the study.

Project Director Dan M. Wells, who also is director of Texas Tech's Water Resources Center, said that the quality of water and sediments in the playa lakes will be checked this year to see if they contain significant concentrations of pesticides, herbicides, nitrates and phosphates.

"If we find substantial concentrations of these things," Dr. Wells said, "We propose to select three or four lakes which are equipped for recharge and evaluate the recharge effect on the underground water supply in subsequent years."

Okla., and Mrs. Myrtle McCord of Dallas, a brother, Herman of Garland; 31 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

In rural Malaya, time is traditionally expressed in picturesque phrases: "Many cocks crow" — 3:30 a. m.; "The flies get busy" — 8:30 a. m.; "Buffaloes wallow" — 11:30 a. m.; "Buffaloes return to the shed" — 6 p. m.; "The children are sleepy" — 7:30 p. m.

"There is a great deal of interest in the artificial recharge of the Ogallala using playa lake water," Wells explained. "Before any large scale recharge operations take place," he said, "we want to know how this would affect the quality of the underground water supply."

Three other faculty members will work with Prof. Wells on the project. They are Entomology Prof. Ellis W. Huddleston, Chemistry Prof. Robert C. Rekers and Agronomy Prof. Raymond E. Meyer.

"It is imperative to conserve the one to three million acre-feet of water which collects annually in the more than 200,000 playa lakes of the High Plains," Wells said, "but it is no less imperative that the Ogallala as a source of water for municipal, industrial, domestic and agricultural uses be protected."

"The quantities of pesticides and herbicides and fertilizers

Substances in common use around homes and farms which offer the danger of poisoning were named by the speaker, who suggested ways of labeling and storing them to protect children and adults in the family.

EDUCATION SYSTEM SCORED
 NEW DELHI — An Indian educator, Dr. S. S. Kothari, has invited an international gathering of scientists to visit Indian universities in order to see "how British universities worked a hundred years ago."
 Dr. Kothari criticized India's outmoded education system as well as those among the Indian intelligentsia who sought inspiration from abroad.

Miss Lane Of Dimmitt Weds Jerry Don Lance

Marriage vows of Miss Sammie Kay Lane of Dimmitt and Jerry Don Lance of the Summerfield community were spoken in a double ring ceremony at the Assembly of God Church in Dimmitt at twilight Friday, with the Rev. Henry Russell conducting the service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lane of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lance Sr., Route 3, Friona.

A pair of candelabra entwined with green foliage flanked a tall basket of gladiolas and pom-pom chrysanthemums at the church altar. The bridal aisle, down which Mr. Lane escorted his daughter, was covered with a white cloth and marked with white bows.

Miss Rita Anderson, a student in West Texas State University at Canyon, attended Miss Lane as maid of honor and Miss Jenene Herrington of Summerfield, niece of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid.

The best man was David Hays of Dimmitt, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Billy Baker of Summerfield acted as groomsmen, and ushers were the bride's brother, Charles Lane of Dimmitt, and the bridegroom's nephews, Ronnie Lance, Reese Dawson, Mike Dawson and Larry Lane, all of Hereford.

Another nephew, Danny Lance, lighted candles before the ceremony. Wedding solos, "Whither Thou Goest, Always and The Lord's Prayer, were sung by Gene Streun of Hereford. Mrs. James Horton of Dimmitt played the organ accompaniment, marches and other musical selections.

Designed by her mother, the bride's gown was of lace over snowflake satin, the empire waistline accented with a satin bow. Lace sleeves were pointed at the wrist and the slender skirt was floor length.

Seal pearls embroidered the scalloped lace edging a square chapel train, and appliques of the lace scattered over the train. A pearl-and-sequin circlet held the illusion veil which fell to the high waistline. Her bouquet was a cascade of feathered carnations carried on a bridal Bible.

She wore a locket, the bridegroom's gift, and for "something old" in her costume carried a handkerchief belonging to his grandmother. The blue garter she wore for luck was made by his mother.

Her attendants were dressed alike in empire gowns of rose color, styled like the bride's. Their flowers were nosegays of feathered carnations.

Safety Skit Is On Program In Wyche Club

A skit titled "Hang Your Clothes On a Hickory Limb, stressing water safety, was presented for Wyche Home Demonstration Club at a meeting Thursday afternoon in Mrs. Cecil Masten's home. Mrs. E. C. Hewitt Jr. introduced the program.

Actors in the skit were Mmes. Ira Ott, Wayne Jones, Elwood Skypala and Carroll Newsom. It was preceded by the reading of a poem by Mrs. Masten.

Mrs. G. W. Duncan, vice president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Masten was elected as the club nominee for a county delegate to the Texas H. D. Association convention.

Refreshments were served to those on program and Mmes. Wilbur Axe and Charles Packard.

Manager Clyde King of the San Francisco Giants will have Wes Westrum, Larry Jansen and Ozzie Virgil as his coaches for 1969.

Dr. McBrayer Is AAGP Member

KANSAS CITY, MO. — Dr. Duffy McBrayer, Jr., 807 W. Park Ave., Hereford, has been elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, a national association of more than 31,000 family doctors.

As a member of the AAGP, Dr. McBrayer will be required to complete 150 hours of post-graduate medical study every three years. The program, unique among national medical associations, is designed to help member physicians keep abreast of the latest scientific developments in medicine.

Founded in 1947, the AAGP is the country's second largest national medical association. It has been instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice. The Academy's postgraduate program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

Guests were received by the couple and their parents in the church fellowship hall immediately after the wedding. Mrs. David Hays was at the registry.

The table was decorated for the reception with a central pink net heart backing pink roses around bride-and-groom figurines. Bouquets of the bride and bridesmaids were laid beside the centerpiece on the net cloth trimmed with silver bells and white satin streamers, which was laid over satin. Mrs. Roy Young of Bethany, Okla., sister of the bride, laid the punch while Mrs. Marvin Anderson of Dimmitt served the wedding cake.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip, Mrs. Lance wore an ensemble of white knit dress with rose knit coat. Accessories were white and her corsage was taken from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home on Route 3, Friona, where Lance is a farmer. The bride is a graduate of Dimmitt schools and the bridegroom of Hereford High School.

Officers Are Chosen For CWF

Officers for next year, with Mrs. Clyde Russell as president, were elected in the Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church at the April general meeting Wednesday in the church.

Luncheon at noon was followed by the business session with Mrs. Albert Cherry presiding. Mrs. B. F. Cain was elected vice president, Mrs. Herman Ford secretary and Mrs. Nathan Hopson treasurer. Chosen as leaders were Mrs. Jack Allen, membership; Mrs. Bert Brown, service; Mrs. Richard Parker, worship; Mrs. Ronald Zimmerman, study. The new officers will be installed in June. Mrs. Walter London Jr. was program director for the day. She discussed the topic, "Today's Prophets — True or False?" Mrs. Allen conducted the devotional period.

The longest history of any military organization in the United States is that of the National Guard. It dates back to the 17th century when colonists formed a militia to protect their property and their families.

GROW THEIR OWN
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. —
For several months City Co mmissioner Louis Saavedra offered a joking protest each time the city of Albuquerque purchased groceries for jail inmates.
"I can't understand," Saavedra would say, "why the city buys pinto beans for the prisoners and never buys any chili."
Lt. John Moore, manager of the city's Prison Honor Farm, learned about Saavedra's remarks, and brought him a 46-pound string of red chili grown at the farm. Moore said it would last about a week for prison cookery. The Honor Farm produces a year's supply of chi-li on about 1 1/2 acres.

BLONDIE, GOOD NEWS... YOU DON'T HAVE TO COOK DINNER TONIGHT

MR. DITHERS AND HIS WIFE INVITED US TO DINE WITH THEM AND I ACCEPTED

BUT HERB AND TOOTSIE WOODLEY ASKED US TO HAVE DINNER WITH THEM AND I ACCEPTED

OH, MY GOODNESS!

IF I TELL THE WOODLEYS WE CAN'T GO NOW, WE COULD LOSE OUR DEAREST FRIENDS

OH, NO, NO, NO

AND IF I TELL MY BOSS WE CAN'T DINE WITH HIM, I COULD LOSE MY JOB

OH, BOO-HOO... WHY DOES EVERYBODY WANT TO INVITE US OUT TO DINNER?

OH, WHY... OH, WHY DO WE HAVE TO BE SO POPULAR?

HERE COME THE DITHERS! OUR ENTIRE FUTURE IS HANGING IN THE BALANCE!

WHATEVER HAPPENS, DEAR, I'LL STAND BY YOU

DAGWOOD, I'M SORRY TO TELL YOU AN IMPORTANT CUSTOMER ARRIVED UNEXPECTEDLY AND WE'LL HAVE TO TAKE HIM TO DINNER INSTEAD OF YOU

I REALIZE YOU'LL BE TERRIBLY DISAPPOINTED BUT I AM SURE YOU'LL UNDERSTAND

HOORAY, HOORAY... HOW BEAUTIFULLY IT ALL WORKED OUT... NOW WE CAN ACCEPT THE WOODLEYS' DINNER INVITATION!

WHO WAS ON THE PHONE?

TOOTSIE WOODLEY... SHE SAID HERB ISN'T FEELING WELL AND THEY CAN'T TAKE US TO DINNER.

FOR A WHILE THERE, WE WERE AT THE PEAK OF OUR POPULARITY

MANDRAKE THE MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK

A TRI-DEM PROJECTION OF VISITORS FROM OUTER SPACE!

IS THIS MANDRAKE OF EARTH? AND ARE WE ALONE, PHILON?

THIS IS MANDRAKE OF EARTH AND WE ARE ALONE, EXCELLENCY.

MAKE CERTAIN WE REMAIN ALONE. WE MAY PROCEED.

MYSTERY AT XANADU. MANDRAKE STOPPED— WALKED OFF— RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF A SENTENCE— A HEADACHE?

MANDRAKE'S ALONE IN THERE.

OTHER VOICES THERE.

MAYBE HE'S PRACTICING VENTRILLOQUISM.

A TRI-DEM PROJECTION FROM OUTER SPACE— RODON, HIGH MARSHAL OF THE CENTRAL GALAXY!

MANDRAKE OF EARTH, I BRING YOU WARM AND PERSONAL GREETINGS FROM OUR EMPEROR, AND YOUR FRIEND, MAGNON.

ER—MAGNON— YES. WHY AM I HONORED BY THIS VISIT?

HERE ON EARTH YOU HAVE GROUPS INDULGING IN ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES— YOU CALL THEM— GANGS— RACKETEERS—

YES, GANGS. IN THE GALAXY— DESPITE OUR VAST SECURITY FORCES— WE ALSO HAVE GANGS— THE SIZE WOULD AMAZE YOU. THEY AMAZE US!

— IN PARTICULAR, TWO RIVAL GANGS— EACH WITH ARMIES OF MILLIONS— HEAVILY ARMED— VICIOUS KILLERS!

MILLIONS?? WHY—?

The PHANTOM

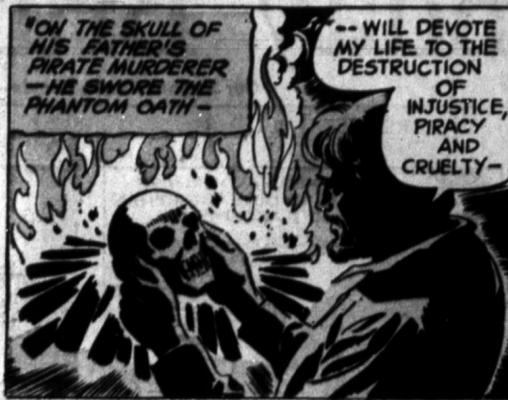

By Lee Falk

KIT, WHO WAS COLUMBUS'S CABIN BOY, WAS KILLED BY PIRATES - HIS SON BECAME THE FIRST PHANTOM? THEN -

LET ME FINISH, DIANA, BEFORE YOU EXPLODE WITH IMPATIENCE.

© King Features Syndicate, Inc., 1969. World rights reserved.

"ON THE SKULL OF HIS FATHER'S PIRATE MURDERER - HE SWORE THE PHANTOM OATH -

-- WILL DEVOTE MY LIFE TO THE DESTRUCTION OF INJUSTICE, PIRACY AND CRUELTY -

"THIS WAS THE FIRST PHANTOM - HE BUILT THE SKULL THRONE AND SKULL CAVE. IN THOSE ANCIENT DAYS (OUR CHRONICLES TELL US) HE DREAMED OF SEEING THE NEW WORLD HIS FATHER TOLD HIM ABOUT - ESPECIALLY 'WALKER'S TABLE'!"

Sy Barry 4/20

"HE NEVER MADE IT - HE TOLD HIS SON - WHO IN TIME WOULD BE THE SECOND PHANTOM."

WHERE IS IT, FATHER?

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE WORLD, SON.

"SOMEHOW THAT SON MADE IT - AND SAW IT -"

JUST LIKE MY FATHER TOLD ME!

THROUGH THE YEARS - WE COME TO THIS PLACE WHEN WE CAN.

THIS AND THE SKULL CAVE IN THE JUNGLE HAVE ALWAYS BEEN OUR HOMES.

AND THAT, DIANA, IS THE END OF THE STORY ABOUT WALKER'S TABLE!

I ALMOST WANT YOU TO TELL IT ALL OVER AGAIN!
