

Population Rises But Few Houses Available

Critical Housing Shortage Faces Hereford

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

A newcomer looking for a house in Hereford has a hard job ahead of him. More often than not, he will find himself without.

If he is looking for a house to rent, he will have trouble no matter what his annual income is.

If he wants to buy, he can feel comfortably assured he will find what he wants only if he has the cash in hand to pay a big down payment and income large enough to meet the large monthly payments he will be faced with.

Rent houses are scarce. At a recent meeting of the Hereford Board of Realtors, the State of Texas wanted to know — in a questionnaire — how many rent houses were available.

"I don't know of any," answered all the Hereford realtors except for one member, who said she knew of one.

To be on the safe side, the realtors gave as the answer to the question: "Two or three."

There just are no rent houses available. Whenever one does open up that is fit for living it almost always is rented before the owner has a chance to advertise it.

"Renting a house here has been almost impossible for a period of five years," Melvin Jayroe, president of the Hereford Board of Realtors, said.

"You can get an FHA rental loan but no one seems to want to because of the cost of construction. This is one reason that people won't rent their houses. The standard rents would be so exorbitant you couldn't afford to rent the house."

The rent problem is one that is shared nationwide, Hereford officials say. There are not enough low-priced rent houses or apartments suitable to live in. Many newlyweds have a $400-a-month income and have to pay $200 a month rent.

"There has been some talk on a 110-unit apartment to be built in Hereford before long," said Virgil Merriott, local realtor-builder and secretary-treasurer of the Hereford Board of Realtors. "But I don't know how long that will be."

Officials Plan Driving Course For Mexicans

The Department of Public Safety soon will conduct a driver's education class at the county Community Action Agency in the Labor Camp for Spanish-speaking persons, according to CAA coordinator Lorenzo Granado.

"This is to help all of those who cannot pass a written test in English," Granado said. "People interested in this type of class should call or visit the Community Action Agency at the former Migrant Ministry in the Labor Camp."

The class will run for two hours each of three nights, for a total of six hours. The precise times and dates of the class have not been determined, but those who register for the free course will be told when they register, Granado said.

Granado said two other programs also are being planned. An arts and crafts class for children who have for any reason been unable to attend special summer classes at the Hereford public schools will be conducted at the CAA offices from 2 to 4 p. m. each day, Monday through Friday.

Also, 10 boys are signed up already for Little League team, sponsored by St. Anthony's Catholic Church and Hereford State Bank for boys who have been unable to take part in the regular Little League program. Granado said he hopes the size of the team will increase to 20 players, 11 to 13 years of age.

The team hopes to compete next year against other Little League teams in the city, he said, as well as against neighborhood centers in Amarillo.

Money seems to be the largest problem.

"If money were plentiful, there would be apartment houses everywhere," said Merriott, "but it's not. Even the larger cities are cutting down on the loans. Take Lubbock for instance. This year than it has ever been because of all the money being pumped into it. However, before Lubbock's storm, there was only one apartment building going up because of the loan situation."

Teams from the Oklahoma City and Tulsa areas and the winner of the Panhandle area will compete also in the sectional tournament here.

The representative of the Panhandle will be determined in area and district playoffs. The winners of the Tulsa and Oklahoma City areas will meet in the first game of the sectional tournament and the winner of the Panhandle area will meet Hereford in the second game of the seven-game double-elimination affair.

The teams to play in Hereford tournament will consist of all-star selections from teams in each of the leagues. The all-stars will be selected following the completion of the regular season.

The winner of the sectional tournament here will be just two tournaments away from the Pony League World Series. The winner of the sectional tournament will advance to the regional tournament in Florida, and the winner there to the World Series in Pennsylvania.

This marks the second time in the past four years that Hereford has been picked as a site for the sectional tournaments.

The retarded children will swim from 11 a. m. until noon. Those in the Sports, Health and Recreation Program (SHARP) have been swimming in the pool for the past two weeks. Beginning Monday, both groups will be in the pool during the same hour.

Hereford To Host Tourney

Hereford's Pony League Baseball association will host the annual Sectional Pony League tournament, July 29 through August 1, league officials said this week.

Hereford drew a double bye, eliminating its participation in both the area and district tournaments. The byes allow the Redbirds to advance to the sectional tournament without going through the playoffs.

Teams from the Oklahoma City and Tulsa areas and the winner of the Panhandle area will compete also in the sectional tournament here.

THIS BEATS WALKING — Postmaster Nolan Grady tries out one of the new post office delivery trucks which will replace the city foot routes.

Schumacher Is Father Of Year

Buddy Peeler of Radio Station KPAN appeared at the W. J. (Joe) Schumacher home at breakfast time Saturday morning to present Schumacher with the Father of the Year award.

Peeler's reason for being on the scene at that hour was that Schumacher is in the midst of wheat harvest and wouldn't be available for the presentation later in the day.

Besides a plaque denoting the honor, Schumacher received a $150 wardrobe of clothes. The selection by a committee of judges came from a number of nominees sent to the radio station.

The winning letter, written by Schumacher's oldest daughter, Rita, 18, was signed by the other seven children, Kathy, 17, John 16, Wayne 14, Gary 12, David 10, Chris 8, and Amy 6.

New Trucks End Postal Foot Work

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

The Hereford post office received six new red, white and blue city delivery trucks last week that will eliminate all foot routes, Postmaster Nolan Grady said.

All mail, letters and parcel post, will be delivered to the city homes and businesses at one time, rather than in the usual separate deliveries, Grady said.

City route men will no longer lug mail bags on their shoulders, trudging from house to house in a zig-zag fashion. They will drive the trucks to various central locations and carry each area's mail by hand.

Grady said the trucks probably will be in use by the first of July. The present foot routes will first be re-evaluated to determine the most efficient pattern each driver will incorporate.

Present delivery boxes, at the door or curb, will remain the same. The hour of the day that mail is delivered to each location may vary with the new set-up, Grady said.

The provision of the new trucks, made by Jeep, is in line with a nationwide project to mechanize mail delivery foot routes. Estimates given for the time saved by parcel post delivery and service to relay storage boxes show that the trucks should soon pay for their initial expense.

The green relay boxes that have been used to store area mail for the foot delivery men will be removed soon after the trucks are put into service.

A close look will be taken at the remaining combination relay-collection (red, white and blue) boxes as to whether they will be left in service.

All post offices in this area are scheduled to receive the same type delivery trucks. Amarillo has had this service for some time. The three-wheeled delivery wagons are being "phased out," Grady says, because they are not as safe. The driver of the three-wheeler is helpless in an accident, he said.

Apparent Tornado Destroys Building

High winds, described by police as "an apparent small twister," touched down early Saturday morning and destroyed a vegetable processing storage shed on Dairy Road on the southeast edge of Hereford.

The shed belonged to Polar-Vac Industries, Inc. Gilbert Alanez, employe of Hereford Ice Company, reported the incident to the police about 5 a. m. Saturday. He said he heard a loud buzzing sound around 4:45 a. m. and later saw the shed lying in ruins.

City officer Bill Hodges said this was the second time in the past two weeks that a portion of the shed has been ripped away by wind.

"It must have been a small twister or something," Hodges said, "because the wood is ripped away in such a manner a strong wind could not have done it."

The shed, approximately 250 feet long, was hit by a strong wind about two weeks ago. About 50 feet of the building was torn down then and the remaining portion was torn by the apparent twister Saturday morning.

A front-end loader was called to move the structure out of the road.

A strong wind hit the Hereford area earlier Saturday morning, blowing dust and debris over the city.

Saturday's early winds were a follow-up of high gusting winds that have plagued the Panhandle area for the past several days. Thursday, a blanket of dust, moving from the south, swept across the eastern part of the city. That same afternoon an unconfirmed tornado was reported about 6 p. m. 13 miles south of Hereford.

July 4 Plans Include Parade, 21-Gun Salute

Twenty-six units will march in Hereford's July 4 parade down Main Street.

A color guard and local band will lead the procession. Mayor Jim Sears will ride in a convertible, in front of groups from the Elks, Noon Lions, Evening Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary, Study Group, Women's Pioneer Club, American Legion, Army, Navy, VFW, Masons, Knights of Columbus, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, Hereford Truck Terminal, Deaf Smith County Museum, Hereford Riding Club and Summerfield Riders Club.

Any youngsters with decorated bicycles are welcome to join the parade, said Rick Reich, parade marshal.

Police escorts will lead and follow the parade, which will form at the First Baptist Church parking lot, 5th and Main, at 9:30 a. m.

Starting at 10 a. m. the groups will march down Main, turning left at 2nd Street, and left again at Sampson, terminating between 3rd and 4th streets.

The community program will begin at 11:30 on the Courthouse steps, to be concluded at noon with a 21-gun salute.

Reich says KVII-TV (Channel 7) newscaster Jim Pratt will be in Hereford to televise the day's events.

Representatives of the various organizations marching in the parade will meet Friday at 8 p. m. in the board room of the Chamber of Commerce office to finalize plans.

Community Action Agency Seeks Low-Income Housing

The Deaf Smith County Community Action Agency is pushing an attempt to obtain applications from low-income families in the area for federal subsidized housing.

Lorenzo Granado, coordinator of the agency, said if at least 20 applications are submitted, building could begin on three-bedroom brick veneer houses within six weeks.

The program is administered through the Farmers Home Administration, which can provide loans for houses only in rural areas. Since Hereford's population is too large to qualify for the aid, the subsidized houses are being proposed in an area at Summerfield, eight miles southwest of Hereford.

The houses would range in price from $9,500 to $18,000, sitting on lots 75 feet wide and about 150 feet deep. The lots each would cost $1,235.

Interest on the 33-year loans would range from 1 to 6 1/2 percent, depending on the family income and number of dependents. Payments would be made only 10 months out of each year.

As an example of what monthly payments would be involved, Granado said a man at Friona recently bought a house under the program. With an annual income of $4,500 and a wife and three children, his monthly payments are $42 a month for his three-bedroom, brick veneer house. Another man, with more dependents, is paying $36 a month.

A family must earn less than $7,000 a year to qualify for the program.

The building site is three miles west of Wilson's Packing Plant.

"We already have some applicants, but they are holding their applications until we have at least 20," Granado said. The owner of the land wants at least this many to justify the cost of going into the site with water lines and putting in a central drainage and sewage system.

Families interested in applying for the long-term, low-interest loans for houses should contact Granado at the Community Action Agency building in the Labor Camp at Hereford. The office formerly housed the Migrant Ministry.

ONE HOSPITALIZED — Sergio Ramirez, 20, was hospitalized following an accident on E. New York St. Thursday afternoon. Ramirez received minor lacerations and was hospitalized then dismissed Friday, and two other occupants of the car were treated and released.

Lubbock Says Thanks For Relief Money

The "People of Hereford, Texas" gave and now have received.

For their $935 contribution to the Lubbock Disaster drive last month, the city of Lubbock has returned a "heart-felt thanks" for remembering them.

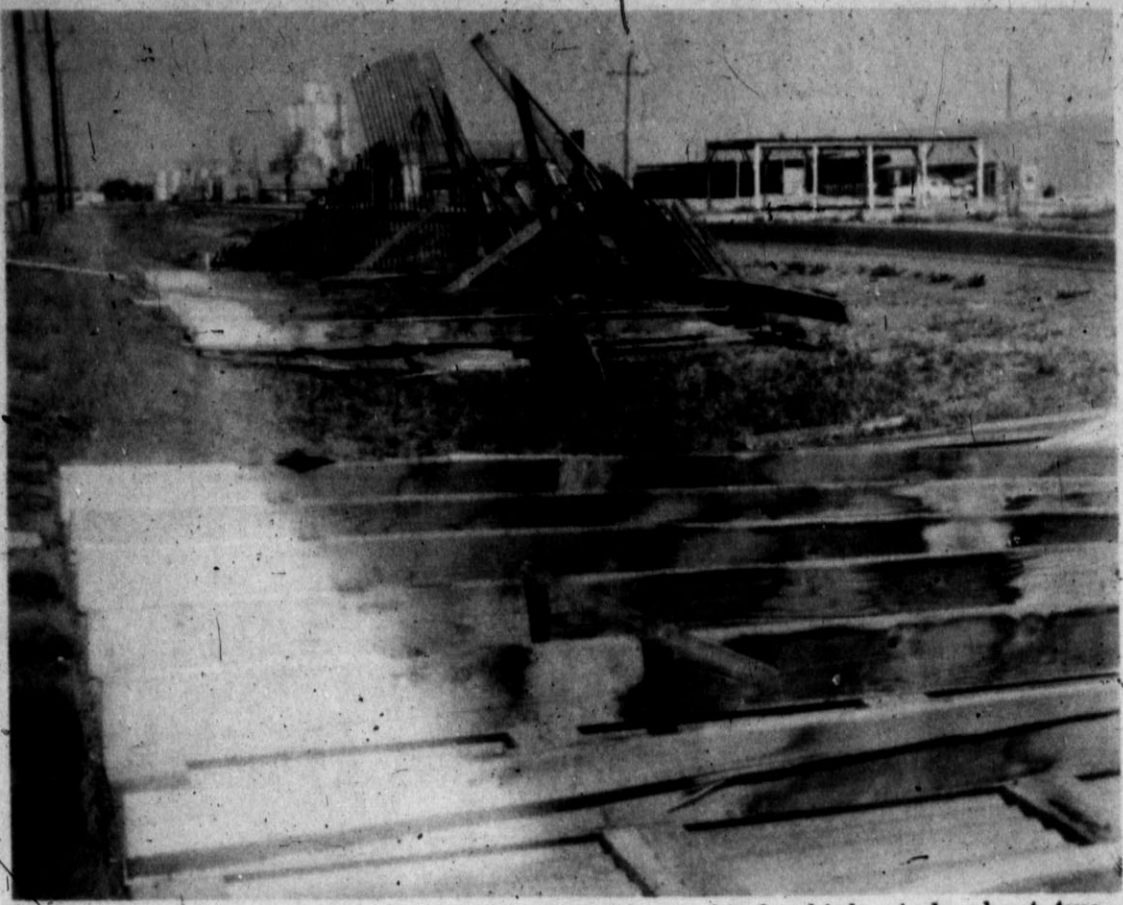

Wayne Finnell, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, in a letter addressed to the "People of Hereford, Texas," said: "A special thanks is extended to you for your gift, and we can assure you that the funds will be judiciously used in a charitable manner for those unfortunate victims of the vicious tornado."

"How thoughtful of you to remember the people of Lubbock with your generous contribution," Finnell added. "A heart-felt thanks to you for remembering us. We are well on the way with the cleanup detail. With the thoughtful consideration of friends such as you, we look forward to rebuilding an even greater city."

The drive, initiated by interested individuals, was in the form of a porch-light door-to-door collection. About 20 men, divided the city into section and went from door to door to ask for donations of money for the tornado damaged city. People were asked in advance to leave their porch lights on if they wished to donate money to the drive. Only at houses where porch lights were on were donations asked.

Fund "buckets" were also open at both local banks where contributions could be made if people were missed in the door-to-door canvass.

Finnell said the spirit of the people of Lubbock "has been great and we are proud of the cooperative attitude exhibited throughout our city. The many charities extended by the entire populace to those who were injured or lost their properties has been heart warming. "Again we say thank you."

TWISTER DAMAGE — This Polar-Vac storage shed was destroyed early Saturday morning by what police called a "small twister." The structure was hit by high winds about two weeks ago, knocking a portion of it down, and the rest came down from the twister Saturday.

$165,000 Grant Is Approved For Area Programs

A $165,000 grant to the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation to aid low-income families in Deaf Smith and other Panhandle counties, has been announced by Congressman Bob Price.

The grant, effective Oct. 1 will provide emergency food and medical services to an estimated 11,428 low-income families throughout the area.

Lorenzo Granado, local CAC coordinator, said he was unaware of the grant although he "knew it was in the talking stages and the head office in Amarillo was to apply for the grant."

"I am sure I will be informed of the matter," he said, "but I am not sure whether Deaf Smith County will receive any of the grant money."

"We might not get a whole lot because of the recent approval of the public health clinic and the commodity program," Granado said, "which will provide both emergency food and medical services to the local people."

Under the grant, the neighborhood centers will be designated in each county where low income individuals can receive medical examinations and coughers with which to purchase food.

The Deaf Smith County Commodity Food Program is expected to be distributing food to low income families within the next week and the Deaf Smith County Public Health Clinic, Inc. has set August 1 as a target date for seeing the first patient in their office.

Both of these programs will be in full operation by the time the grant becomes effective.

Concerning the grant, Price said, "I believe we all agree that no American should go to bed hungry or be without medical services when needed. The purpose of this grant is to make good and medicine available to those who would otherwise have to do without." Price said.

WTSU Announces Cage Schedule

West Texas State University has announced a 26-game basketball schedule for the 1970-71 season that includes some of the nation's top teams from a year ago.

All 13 home games will be played in Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum, which seats over 6,000 for basketball.

New Mexico State's Aggies, who the Buffaloes meet Jan. 14 at home and Feb. 25 at Las Cruces, N. M., finished fourth in the NCAA national tourney last season.

Three other opponents—Weber State University, Utah State University and Houston University—reached the NCAA playoffs last season. Cincinnati University played in the National Invitational Tournament and Colorado State University placed second in the Western Athletic Conference.

The Buffaloes open their home schedule Dec. 10 against Eastern New Mexico University which placed third last season in the NIAA national tournament.

Coach Dennis Walling's club will open the season with two games on the road, playing Weber State at Ogden, Utah, Dec. 1, and Utah State the following night.

The schedule is as follows: Dec. 1—Weber State at Ogden, Utah; Dec. 2—Utah State at Logan, Utah; Dec. 10—Eastern New Mexico University at Amarillo; Dec. 12—Colorado State University at Fort Collins, Colo.; Dec. 19—Los Angeles State University at Amarillo; Dec. 30—Colorado State University at Amarillo; Jan. 4—University of Texas at Arlington at Amarillo; Jan. 7—Houston Baptist at Houston; Jan. 9—Houston University at Houston.

Jan. 11—Pan American University at Edinburg, Tex.; Jan. 14—New Mexico State University at Amarillo; Jan. 19—Los Angeles State University at Los Angeles; Jan. 20—Loyola University of Los Angeles at Los Angeles; Jan. 23—Southern Mississippi University at Amarillo; Jan. 25—Southwestern Louisiana University at Amarillo; Jan. 28—Morehead State at Morehead, Ky.; Jan. 30—Cincinnati University at Cincinnati.

Feb. 1—Weber State at Amarillo; Feb. 6—Hardin-Simmons University at Amarillo; Feb. 8—Seattle University at Amarillo; Feb. 13—Houston Baptist at Amarillo; Feb. 17—Pan American University at Edinburg, Tex.; Feb. 20—Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, Tex.; Feb. 22—University of Texas at Arlington at Arlington; Feb. 25—New Mexico State University at Las Cruces, M.; March 1—Houston University at Amarillo.

Houston Sprinter To Attend WT

Lee Lewis, a standout sprinter for Houston Kashmere, has signed an athletic scholarship agreement with West Texas State University.

Lewis, who had agreed to attend WTSU during a weekend visit, returned the signed scholarship agreement to coach Bob Kitchens.

"Signing Lee is the biggest thing to happen to our program," said Kitchens. "We consider him one of the outstanding sprint prospects in the nation."

Lewis, who didn't compete in track until his junior year at Kashmere, turned in a 9.4 100-yard dash clocking this past spring. He had a best of 21.5 in the 220 and ran a 47.5 leg on Kashmere's mile relay.

Lewis is the third standout sprinter signed this spring by Kitchens. He earlier inked Maryland state sprint champion Bill Mason and Tracy Dickson of Lockney.

Housing Shortage

can't find a satisfactory house in their price level so they go up a few steps. Some people are pretty determined," Merriott said.

"They go to a realtor to get a loan for this house. Some real estate companies will qualify them for this loan, but they shouldn't. The companies know that if the people can't pay the loan, then they will lose the house and will be in need of another one. This way they have them over the barrel and the people have to buy a house."

In acquiring loans, FHA has an insurance company attached to it that guarantees any loan company that if the buyer doesn't pay the loan, the insurance company will buy it. This is why they make a thorough check on persons buying houses.

Interest rates are high on buying, but Jayroe said the rates probably will continue to rise.

Banks are getting a lot more strict on credit as the shortage of money increases, and as mortgage money becomes tight, they won't lend anymore, Jayroe predicted.

Another problem is the decrease in suitable land and the rising cost of living.

"Land is precious," commented Jayroe. "Problems are multiplying. The cost of materials and labor has gone up so much that it's hard for a builder to build a good house and get any profit on it."

"I don't complain about profit on $15,000 homes," Merriott said. "It's the $20,000 ones that hurt because most of the people in this range are overbuying and don't want to pay."

Hereford's housing problem has been hit in other ways, also. For instance, the loss of cattle, maize and sugar beets was heavy this year, keeping people from selling or buying homes.

Further, Merriott said, the Federal Housing Administration has been complaining that the Hereford, Friona and Dimmitt area don't have enough housing. However, they won't let a builder construct more than five houses at one time below $25,000.

"In order for a builder to produce cheap houses, he has to build production type but this requirement from the FHA puts a limit to mass production," Merriott said. "When a builder builds, he has to pay interest on a house as long as it sits. That's another reason he is so anxious to sell soon."

FHA holds the town of Hereford to 50 commitments a year, Jayroe added.

"You simply can't overbuild the town," Merriott said. "If you did this, the price of houses would go down and you would wipe out the individual sellers."

Hereford is also short on builders.

"When I came to Hereford," Merriott said, "there were eight or nine local builders. Now there are around five at the most. I also came to Hereford because I could make a profit. I couldn't make one in Lubbock."

About five years ago, private enterprise and the individual banded together to keep out Federal housing. They got together and built the Bueno Vista section.

"That was a failure," said Merriott. "Those houses are in shambles now. Everything is torn to bits."

With such a demand for houses, it would seem it would be easy for a homeowner to unload his house on a moment's notice. But that's not the case.

Selling a house is also a problem.

"Take an owner with a $17,000 house," said Jayroe. "It will cost her six and a half per cent or $1105 just to sell the house. In other words, she wants to sell and still owes $11,400. That means she has $5,600 equity and if someone gets a new FHA loan on that she'll end up with $1100 less. This makes it hard for owners to sell."

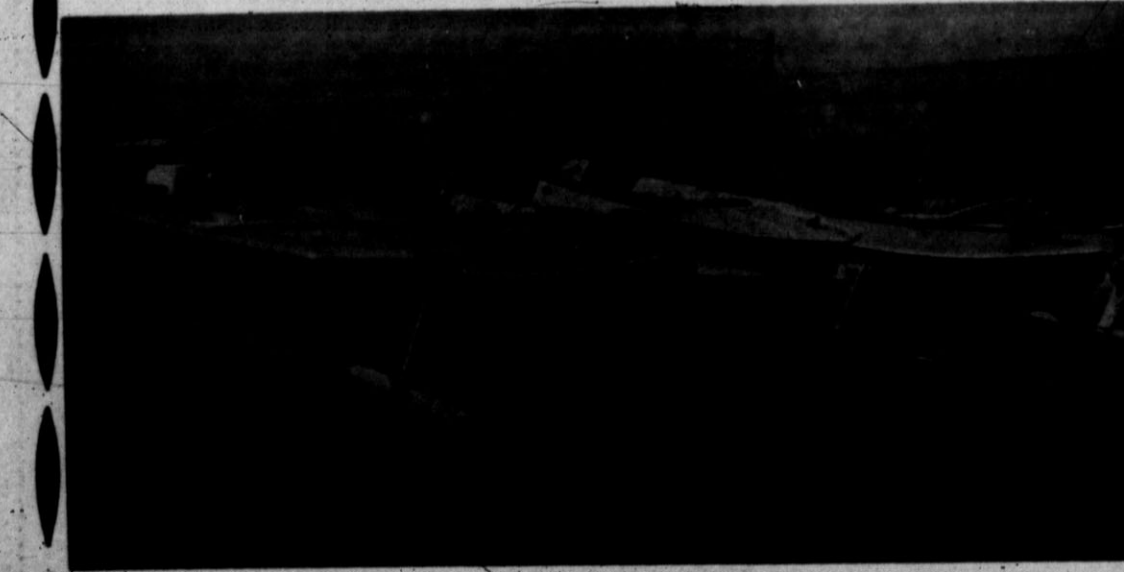

Merriott said, "When a builder

Elkettes Provide Boy Campership

Mrs. Nick Hobbs, Elkettes president, presented a check for $72 to Gene Brock, director of Camp Wigwam, at the club's Monday evening meeting at the Lodge. The campership will enable Lupe Badillo, 12, to attend Camp Wigwam, a camp for retarded children, for one week. He will attend the second session, offered this year for the first time, June 28 — July 5.

The son of Mrs. Francis Badillo, 203 N. Lawton, Lupe is a special education student at Shirley School.

In addition to the campership provided by the Elkettes, several civic clubs have provided camperships for youngsters who otherwise could not afford to attend. Eleven Hereford children will attend the camp.

In other business, the group made plans for a bake sale which was held Saturday and a game night for Elks' families Saturday night.

Members were asked to bring men's socks to the next meeting, when they will begin making puppets for children at the Satellite School for a party next Christmas.

Gene Brock showed a film to the group explaining Camp Wigwam. It is for mentally retarded teen-agers throughout the Panhandle Plains, sponsored by region 5 of the Texas Association for the Retarded. The first session begins today and continues for a week. The campers live at the camp, located at the Episcopal Conference Center north of Amarillo.

DAR Receives Approval To Alter Chapter Name

Local Daughters of American Revolution recently received approval for change of the chapter name from Ciboleros to Los Ciboleros. Regent Mrs. Jess Robinson read a letter from Mrs. Wilson King Barnes, Organizing Secretary General, National Society of Daughters of American Revolution, Washington, D.C., approving the change, at a Thursday afternoon meeting in the Hereford Community Center.

Opening ritual was led by Mrs. Sue James, Mrs. H. M. Booser, Mrs. V. O. Hennen, and Mrs. L. W. Norvell.

Mrs. Norvell, Defense Chairman reported on "Guaranteed Wage" and "Committee For Economic Development" (CED). The two articles appeared in recent issues of the National DAR magazine.

Chapter by-laws and amendments were accepted by members and minutes of the previous meeting were read by secretary Corene Smith and approved by the chapter.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Booser, Hennen, Norvell, James, Smith, Robinson, Jeff Smart, Bradley Smith, Bruce Carter, Leroy Williamson, and Miss Mildred Elliott.

The next meeting will be Sept. 17.

Argen Draper Is Speaker

"Gloves are the mark of a well dressed and well groomed woman," said Argen Draper, H. D. Agent, when she presented a program entitled "Gloves for all Occasions" to members of North Hereford Home Demonstration Club at a luncheon meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. A. E. Hodges.

She discussed the care and handling of gloves and said they give a finished look to any ensemble.

Mrs. W. J. Lueb presided at a brief business meeting in the absence of the president.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Hewton Manjeot

THE LOVELY DAYS OF JUNE

What is so rare as a delightful sunny day in June? Then too, we all remember James Russell Lowell for his lovely lines about June: "Then, if ever, come perfect days." They are indeed rare and perfect for those who take time to notice.

Each morning at day-break as I drive to the hospital, I lower the car windows so I can drink in the fresh cool breezes and enjoy the awakening day.

Many of the gardens are beautiful with colorful flowers, glossy shrubs, and verdant grass.

Cut some flowers, and share them with others, especially the shut-ins and Golden Age Group. It gives one a lift when they know others care and share.

GLOXINIAS NEVER DIE

Recently several people have talked with me about Gloxinias. I did some research and found an article by James Underwood Crockett which gives information relative to Gloxinias. One of the statements he makes, is that Gloxinias never die, they just fade away after flowering, only to return more beautiful than ever. It is in this way that Gloxinias differ from their lovely cousins, African Violets, whose culture is otherwise much the same.

Many indoor gardeners have Gloxinias that are twenty or more years old, still in good health and retaining their beauty. (Several years ago The South Amarillo Garden Club studied Gloxinias. They learned many facts relative to them, and were successful in growing and propagating them).

Let us start with a handsome plant already in blossom. (Art has received a very lovely one and this information will be used by Glad to try to keep his plant in good shape). On the plant are numerous buds, some partially open, some beginning to burst into bloom, and some ting and promising. It is important to have proper care at this stage for development of the buds and good health of the plant.

Gloxinias do best in partial shade at temperatures of 70 to 75 degrees with high humidity (in our area the gardener will have to provide some of the humidity by light spraying or open containers of water near by the plant, and by keeping the soil moist—not wet). Choose a spot for the plant where there is abundant bright light, but no direct sun. Give the plant approximately 1/4 cup of water from the tap each day, using care that the water is not poured on the buds, or into recessed areas of new foliage.

With care the Gloxinia should become more beautiful daily as the buds open and more of the colorful blossoms added. They are truly a beautiful flower. Widely flaring bells of royal purple, raspberry red, peach, mahogany or snowy white. The bi-colored ones are beautiful. The textural quality, one of its most glamorous attributes, seems that they might have been cut from velvet and in many cases, dusted lightly with nutmeg. They rank high among the members of the Gesneriad family.

After their flowers have passed, Gloxinias begin their annual withdrawal into their tubers. Leaves become leathery and eventually shrivel and fall. During this interval water should be given sparingly, then withheld entirely while the tubers are dormant.

After a two or three month period of rest, they begin active growth again. New leaves appear like tiny mouse ears on the crowns of the tubers. This is your signal to repot them in fresh African Violet soil from a reputable firm. Maintain a barely moist soil and high humidity and see how quickly the leaves expand and new flower buds form. Feed your Gloxinias any mild house plant fertilizer every two or three weeks during this phase of their growth cycle so as to encourage large colorful blossoms.

Yes, they are among the nicest of gifts in the plant world to send anyone at any time.

NEW GARDEN INTRODUCTIONS

Cordless electric grass shear. This is a new garden aid that is being received with great response. It is a whole generation ahead of the hand shear and it deserves to have a good trail by gardeners. It could reasonably be called a "garden scythe."

Miss Bell Is Bride Of James Russell Eubanks

Mr. and Mrs. James Russell Eubanks are now at home in Montgomery, Ala. following a wedding trip to Florida. The bride is the former Miss Carole Austin Bell, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles Austin Bell of Montgomery. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Allan G. Bell of Hereford. Eubanks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelton Eubanks, also of Montgomery.

The couple were married at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Church of the Holy Comforter, Montgomery, with the Rev. William Jay Treat conducting the ceremony. Mrs. L. A. Conners, organist, and James W. Worthington, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music. Mrs. C. Thomas Bell was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Melinda Eubanks, Mrs. Ronald C. Weisenfeld, Mrs. Reginald Piel, Miss Sarah Pamela Allen and Miss Lura Akin.

J. Kelton Eubanks served his son as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Lt. C. Thomas Bell, F. Randall Eubanks, Samuel Howard Pharr and David Stephen Acuff.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal A-line peau de soie gown and cathedral train exquisitely fashioned with designs in seed pearls. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a pearl-encrusted headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of marguerite daisies, ivory stock and gypsophylla with white satin streamers.

The feminine attendants wore gowns of lime-green dotted swiss and carried colonial bouquets of yellow marguerite daisies and gypsophylla with yellow satin streamers.

A reception honoring the bride and groom was hosted by the bride's parents at Gunter Officers Club.

The newlyweds will make their home at Montgomery until September when they will reside at Auburn, Ala.

areas in the garden. Especially recommended for use where island planting is growing. Excellent for use between shrubs, and corner areas. All one has to do is to press the button and move the arm in easy, steady movements through the grass. Also good for trimming seed heads, faded roses, sedums. Other plants respond readily to the new shearer.

TO SEE Pretty Elderberry, shrub at the James Arney home on Douglas.

Many colorful annuals and perennials are in full bloom. So many attractive Sweet Williams (of the Dianthus family) have been in bloom. Petunias are becoming noticeable over town. Beautiful ones at the Roy Botkins home, on Elm Street. Summer camps, those places where little boys go for mother's vacation. Glad.

Products[™]

Let Prospects Know:

MAGNETICO Products are produced on processed plastic sheeting and miracle rubberized magnetico tape molded into the product. MAGNETICO Products adhere to any steel surface on contact, hold fast, and will not blow off at road speed. All you do is place the sign against the vehicle door in the position desired... invisible magnetico fingers grasp the door and hold the sign firmly in position. Fits perfectly. It looks like it was painted on the car. To remove, simply grasp one edge and pull off! Comes off easily. Light and convenient... can be stored in the trunk when not in use.

DUAL PURPOSE Any vehicle can double for business or pleasure. Seconds to put on and take off. In the morning, put your magnetico sign on and it becomes a business advertising car. In the evening, take the sign off and your car becomes once again, a pleasure car. No depreciation lost due to expensive painted on signs. Magnetico signs are immediately transferable to all vehicles.

Your company Logo or Trademark can be exactly reproduced in a MAGNETICO product. MAGNETICO Products are limited only by your imagination!

Adrian News

By ANN BEAVERS
 Roxann Brownlee Travis recently had a poem published in the book titled "The Clover Collection Of Verse" By Evelyn Petry, Vol. no. III.
 The poem "Alas My Love" was entered in the 1969 International Clover Poetry Contest sponsored by the Clover Publishing Co. in Washington, D. C. The poem received Honorable Mention.

ALAS MY LOVE
 Alas, my love
 With your return,
 After twice having left me cold
 and lonely,
 I find that my heart no longer
 Gives forth the fruit of love
 Which you so freely took
 And then hastily threw away to taste another's love.
 Now you're back to partake again,
 But hear me now—
 When last you left, my sun went too.
 And the tree that bore the fruit
 of love
 Has died for lack of your warmth.
 There is no more.
 There will be no more.
 Alas, my love,
 Goodbye.

City Enjoys Enviably Debt Status

By MARSHALL DAY
 Staff Writer

The debt ratio for the city of Hereford is currently down to almost one-half of most other cities, city manager Dudley Bayne said this week.

Presently the debt ratio based on the money obligated in the way of tax bonds compared to the city's total valuation, is $886,000. The city's valuation has been set at $35,129,000, making the debt ration stand at 2.5 per cent or about one-half that of other cities across the state.

"This is quite low," Bayne said, "because we have paid off several bonds within the past few years."

He said other cities average about 5 to 5.5 per cent their ratio.

Hereford got up as high as 3.5 per cent in 1965 but retired a number of bonds that had been issued as far back as 1946, the city manager said.

The majority of indebtedness of the city now is from water and sewer bond voted on in 1966. The remainder of the debt stems from street improvement bonds in both 1961 and 1964.

Bayne said the water and sewer bonds voted on in 1966 were picked over revenue bonds "because of the high rate of interest at that time." He said by going the tax bond route, the city was saved from spending many thousands of dollars.

"So, as far as bond indebtedness is concerned, we are in real good shape," he said.

By remodeling the fire station the city avoided a certain bond issue, Bayne said. By spending a few thousand dollars for remodeling, the need for a bond issue was avoided and the city will wind up with just as nice a fire station, he felt.

"Right now we don't anticipate any bond issues, but we may get one if the state decides improvements or changes need to be made in, say the water stead; Mrs. Lorene Proctor of Adrian; and Mrs. Jim Willis of Melrose. Also five sons: Earnest and Fred Kelly of Nara Visa; Jack Kelly of Farmington; Bill Kelly of Dalhart; and Tom Kelly of Nucla, Colo. other relatives were, one brother, Thurman Sears of Las Cruces; one sister, Mrs. Elsie Shollenbarger of Springer; 26 grandchildren; and 48 great-grandchildren.

At The Library Black Community Shares Kindness

Read and learn what can happen when a twelve-year-old Negro girl, born in Harlem, sets out with courage and loving kindness and spreads health, strength, and beauty throughout. Such a novel is now available at the Deaf Smith County Library.

DADDY WAS A NUMBER RUNNER
 By Louise Meriwether.

"Meet Francie. Harlem-born, black, tough-tender, growing up and living it like it is from day to day (in the most exciting 'authentic' novel I've read in a long time."

This is Ossie Davis introducing the twelve-year-old heroine of Louise Meriwether's Daddy was a Number Runner, the first novel to come out of Los Angeles' Watts Writer's Workshop. Francie is growing up in the Harlem of the 1930's, a world uncomfortably like the Harlem of today. Unable to find legitimate work and too proud to accept the relief checks offered by a social worker he nicknames "Madame Queen," Francie's father runs numbers. When even the numbers run out, he drifts away, leaving his wife, who can work as a maid, to head an already disintegrating family. One of Francie's brothers, believing that only through violence can he make his voice heard, is jailed on a murder charge. Her other brother, despite his success in school, drops out when he feels he can no longer compete with the white boys "downtown."

Others in Francie's world are her best friend Sukie, whose elder sister, already a prostitute, kills her pimp when he seduces Sukie; Albert, a street-corner political activist, and a host of Harlem blacks and the white storekeepers, who for the most part, prey on their poverty.

Tempering the violence and despair throughout the book are the solidarity and loving kindness shared by the members of the black community. In the words of John Henrik Clarke, Associate Editor of Freedomways Magazine and Adjunct Professor of Black and Puerto Rican Studies at Hunter College, "Daddy was a Number Runner," unlike most novels written about Harlem, has health, strength, and beauty. Its characters celebrate life inspite of hardships and show that they have the courage to make new worlds with their own hands. It is an exceptionally good novel about urban ghetto. Only an exceptionally good writing talent could have produced this novel."

A EUROPEAN VIEW
 WASHINGTON — A Swedish-born theologian, the Rev. Dr. Bengt Hoffman, teaching at Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg, Pa., told a meeting here:

"I think there is a lot of hell in front of the American people and the American churches. But I have faith... in the American dream. No other country has the same potentiality for conversion and change."

Help Fight Drug Problem. Teen-Ager Asks Kiwanians

By JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

The governor of Key Club for Oklahoma and Texas told the Kiwanis Club at its noon luncheon Thursday that Kiwanians can do much in the way of helping today's youth with the drug problem.

Paul Jackson, 17, of Paris, Tex., asked the members to cooperate with the Key Clubs of America in attacking the problem. He was introduced by Dean Herring, district Kiwanis Club chairman.

In quoting Stalin he said "Give me 3 per cent of America's youth; give me that country." That fact alone "scared him when he looks at today's college campuses and sees the riots, buildings being burned, and persons being killed."

In other business it was announced that Mr. and Mrs.

Dean Herring will attend the Kiwanis International Convention in Detroit, Michigan June 21-25.

The Board of Directors voted in a recent meeting, to sponsor a special education student wishing to attend Camp Wigwam June 28-July 5, Camp Wigwam, sponsored by Region 5 of the Texas Association for the Mentally Retarded, will be held at the Episcopal Conference Center in Amarillo.

Kiwanians also were encouraged to submit suggestions for a club entry in the upcoming Fourth of July parade.

Jackson, in urging the Kiwanis members to join in helping the youth solve problems, said the generation gap is not something that's between adults and teen-agers. All teen-agers don't agree among themselves on the problems of today, he pointed out.

"There is an 'intra' rather than an 'inter' generation gap," Jackson said. "There's 'them,' and there's 'us.' Just now, today, we're realizing if we want to keep this country of ours the silent majority must speak up. There are the teenage groups and the freedom groups that do this by going to the President and commending him on his fight for liberty. There are those who back him and the administration. Let's fight for the liberty that is ours and not denounce it."

He continued, "Look at our music today and you will see what is in the minds of those in our country." An example is the song Everything Is Beautiful. "A few years ago you could only hear the acid, hard rock music." "The results are seen in a 'reversal trend' for the better," he said.

Recently the Key Club District Board voted on program R.E.D., (Research, Education, Decision) which they will fully support. R.E.D. is an educational program, informing teen-agers on drug use and abuse. It allows the teen-ager to make his own decision whether to try drugs, after having been informed through films and talks given by former drug users.

"In my hometown, for instance, two boys were picked up on an LSD trip. They were in the seventh and eighth grade. Another thirty minutes and they may not have been saved."

Jackson feels "There must be an informal atmosphere for teenagers to discuss freely their problems with drugs. There are two ways to find out about drugs: a right way and a wrong way, or a safe way and a deadly way. Key Club will provide the safe way."

Only with total involvement "on the part of each and every Key Clubber and Kiwanis Clubber" will the program be a success, Jackson said.

Courses Offered At The Museum

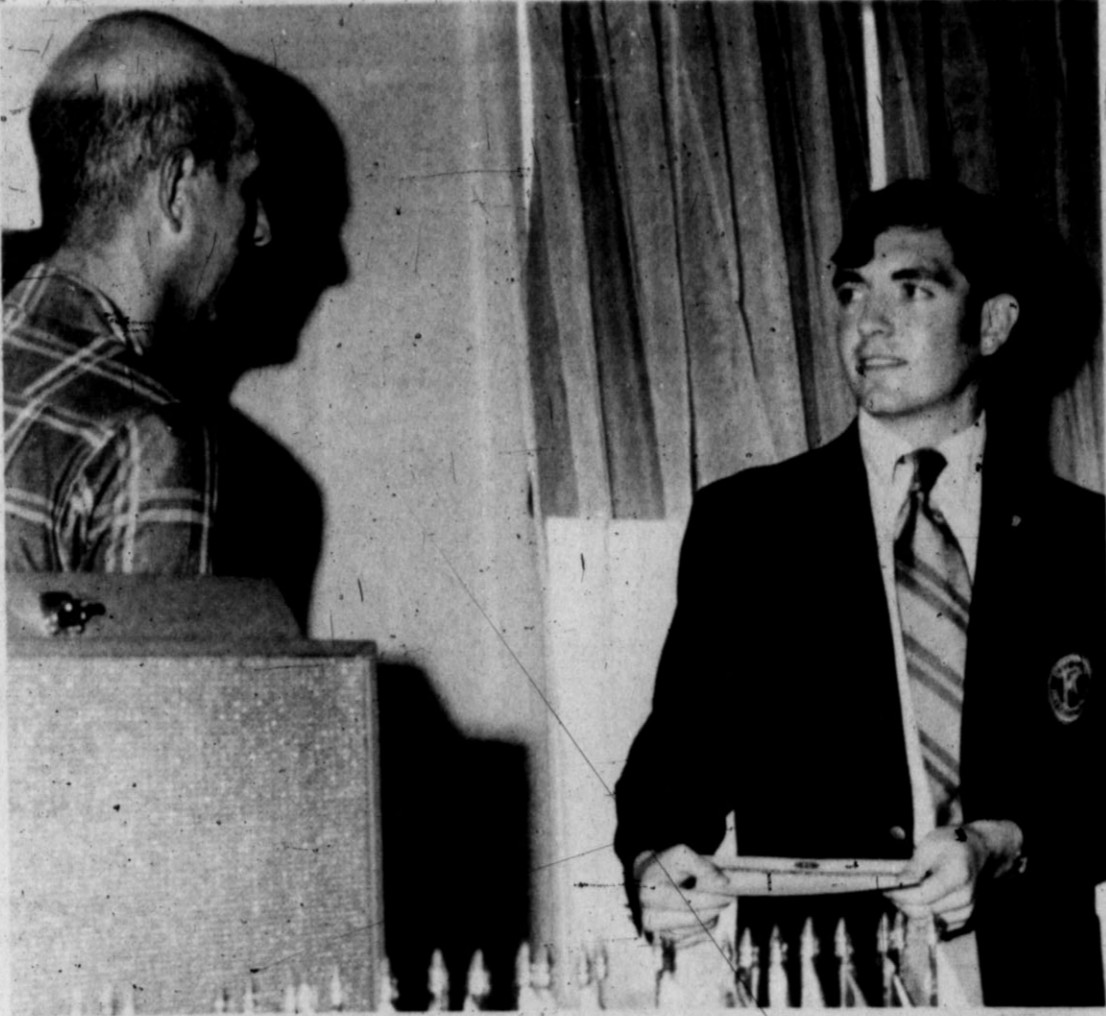

Ten courses will be offered boys and girls who enroll in The Museum's Summer Youth Classes at the new Museum on the corner of Fourth St. and Indiana, Lubbock.

The classes, scheduled for July 13-24, will include astronomy, aerospace, archaeology, birds of the southwest, junior rockhounds, creative art, dramatics, dance, photography and Texas wildlife.

Tuition for each class is $5, with the exception of creative writing photography and creative dramatics, which cost $10. This additional $5 for these three courses will be used for materials and supplies necessary for the courses.

Long winded members of the South African senate are to be more closely watched in the future. A stop clock is to be installed in the senate chamber to record how long each member speaks.

KIWANIS SPEAKER — Paul Jackson, a 17-year-old senior from Paris, Tex., told Kiwanians Thursday they can help the youth with drug problems. Jackson is the Governor of Key Club for the Texas-Oklahoma District. Kiwanis Club president, Armon Lauderback is shown above presenting him with a certificate of appreciation.

Miss Stewart Is Shower Honoree

Miss Rosemary Stewart, whose marriage to Gary Dale Dyches took place Friday evening, was honored with a pre-nuptial shower Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Virgil Owens.

Co-hosting the shower with Mrs. Owens were Mmes. Eldon Owens, Leroy Johnson, Carl Wimberley, Steve Powell, Vernon Darden, Don Waters, A. T. Frye and William Wimberley.

Guests were received by the honoree with her mother, Mrs. H. R. Stewart and her maid of honor, Miss Alice Caraway. Refreshments of coffee and punch with cake were served by Misses Sharon and Julie Owens from a lace covered table which carried out the bride's chosen colors of lavender and yellow.

A yellow and white arrangement of roses, illuminated by yellow tapers, centered the table. The cake was decorated with miniature replicas of the bride and groom with their attendants.

Guests were registered by Mrs. William Wimberley and Mrs. Eldon Owens. Mrs. Frye and Mrs. Johnson assisted at the gift table.

H.D. CHATTER
Ice Cream
A Natural

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Ice cream is an amazing food! It's both good and good for you.

Ice cream costs no more than other popular desserts and goes well with most of them. It's surprisingly low in calories when compared with other favorite sweets.

Ice cream makes a notable contribution in food nutrients. It contains proteins, calcium and riboflavin (a B vitamin). If you are a person who believes that it is wise to make every food count, then ice cream is a natural for dessert.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that ice cream and other dairy products are plentiful. Try some of these marvelous ideas for serving ice cream this summer.

For a gourmet touch, serve ice cream splits, in edible "boats". Whip up a vanilla flavored meringue, colored with vegetable coloring, if desired, and place in canoe-shaped molds, on a baking sheet lined with brown paper. Bake one hour in a 275 degree F oven until slightly brown and crispy.

Cool the meringue boats and fill cream, plus sliced bananas, pineapple spears, peach slices, whole berries and sweet pitted cherries. Drizzle with chocolate and pineapple sauces, add a sprinkling of chopped nuts and a whipped cream puff.

Beat the heat with dairy drinks that team ice cream with whole milk and chocolate flavored milk.

Orange Milk Shake — for 2 — Whip just to blend 1/4 cup frozen orange juice concentrate, 2 scoops orange sherbet, 4 scoops vanilla ice cream and 1 1/2 cups milk. Add a scoop of orange sherbet and an orange slice to each glass.

Maple Chocolate Cream — for 2 — Spark 1 pint chocolate flavored milk with 5 tablespoons maple syrup. Top each serving with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Peach Cream Soda — In to each tall glass put 1/4 cup crushed, sweetened, fresh, frozen or canned peaches, and 1/2 cup milk. Stir well. Fill glass 2-3 full with carbonated water. Top with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Chocolate-Peppermint Shake — for 2 — Beat together 1 pint peppermint ice cream and 1 pint chocolate — flavored milk until frothy. Add a scoop of vanilla ice cream to each serving.

Strawberry Smoother — for 2 — Combine 1 cup milk, 1/2 pint vanilla ice cream, 1 cup canned sliced and mashed strawberries and 1/4 cup honey. Whip until smooth.

For a strictly elegant dessert, serve Flaming Ice Cream Mold. 1 pint strawberry ice cream 1 pint vanilla ice cream 1 pint green mint ice cream 5 sugar candle holders 5 sugar cubes 1 1-ounce bottle fresh lemon extract.

Fill mold to top with scoops of slightly soft ice cream, alternating flavors. Pack firmly, cover and freeze. To serve, run knife around sides of mold to loosen ice cream. Dip bottom of mold quickly in warm water. Invert on serving plate; shake to remove ice cream. Insert sugar candle-holders in ice cream, return to freezer to firm. Soak sugar cubes in lemon extract. Place in candle holders. Touch lighted match to sugar cubes — serve immediately.

Strawberry Float — Put two scoops of strawberry meringue in a tall glass. Fill glass with cream soda. Of course, any flavor of meringue can be used.

Are you a fried chicken fancier? Succulent offerings of this kind of chicken show a wide spread variation. Even the term "southern fried" includes several different methods.

Some of the variations are achieved during the preparation stage, while others relate to the manner in which the chicken is cooked. Along the Gulf Coast, for example, the southern fried version has an interesting fresh lemon accent which highlights the crispy-skinned tender meat portions, and is generally accompanied by a serving of red rice. Fresh lemon is rubbed over the skin before cooking in a minimum amount of hot fat to impart the lemony flavor, and the red-rice is the area's own combination of red kidney beans and white rice.

Kentucky dwellers like to serve fried chicken with piping hot griddle cakes covered with chicken gravy, fashioned from the browned drippings. In Virginia, waffles topped with cream gravy serve as traditional menu-mates for the chicken.

Georgia diners, with their yen for grits at every meal, naturally like their fried chicken with generous mounds of the grits covered with tasty chicken gravy. For menu diversions the grits sometimes yield to fluffy beds of steamed rice or shipped sweet-potatoes.

Plentiful supplies of broilers reported now by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service lend a happy note to the modern-day menu planner's creative abilities. She can choose from either fresh or frozen birds, pre-cut into desired serving portions. Or she may want to buy the whole bird for frying.

Coatings given to the chicken before frying may be simply flour-salt-pepper. But for the "experimenters", subtle accents of such spices and herbs as paprika, powdered anise, nutmeg, allspice, poultry seasoning or marjoram may be added to the flour.

To get an even coating, try adding the flour and seasonings to a clean brown paper sack. Then add the chicken pieces two at a time. Hold the sack opening tightly in one hand and use your other hand to support the bottom of the sack. This way, the bag can be shaken vigorously until the pieces are uniformly coated.

For the "batter-type" coatings, the chicken pieces may be dipped into waffle or pancake batter. Here again, spices and condiments are frequently added for flavor intrigue. Egg-crumbs coatings also offer tempting variations. Dip the chicken pieces first into well-beaten eggs and then roll in fine pretzel, bread, cracker or cereal crumbs. Or, as in Alabama, use golden-hued, corn meal. Evaporated milk, cream or whole milk are sometimes used in place of, or combined with the well-beaten eggs as the "dipping" liquid.

Here's a basic recipe for Fried Chicken. 1, ready-to-cook broiler, 1 1/2 to 3 lbs. salt, pepper, flour fat or oil

Cut chicken in serving pieces. Season with salt and pepper a roll in flour. Heat fat (about 1 1/2 inches deep) in heavy fry pan. Put the thickest pieces of chicken in the fat first. Do not crowd — leave enough space for the fat to come up around each piece. Cook slowly, turning often. Do not cover pan. The thickest pieces will take from 20 to 35 minutes to cook.

Mrs. Eva Odom Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Evaline Odom, 90, mother of Mrs. W. H. Thompson and Mrs. E. L. Fisher of Hereford, who died at 4 a.m. Thursday in Dimmitt Nursing Home where she was a resident, were conducted at 3 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church of Dimmitt.

The Rev. Earl Landtrop, Baptist minister from Clovis and the Rev. Bill Wadley, pastor of the Lee Street Baptist Church, officiated.

Burial was in West Memorial Gardens. Mrs. Odom was born Sept. 14, 1897 in Erath County and came to this area in the early 1940s from Oklahoma. She married M. B. Odom in 1895 in Oklahoma Territory.

In addition to her daughters, she is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Mildred Billings and Mrs. Gladys Richardson, of Bakersville, Calif.; four sons, Raymond, M. B. and Hiram, all of Dimmitt; and Herbert of Ada, Okla.; 37 grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren and 24 great-great-grandchildren.

Hereford Gets $62,322 For Jobless Training

The federal government has approved $62,322 for the Hereford school system this summer to provide auto mechanic training to 20 jobless or unemployed persons.

The funds come under the Manpower Development and Training Act and went to eight other cities in Texas.

The classroom-type training will be administered by the U. S. Department of Labor's Manpower Administration and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Office of Education.

The Texas Employment Commission and state vocational education agencies will initiate the project, which requires 39 weeks for completion.

The agencies will refer, test and counsel applicants for training; administer payment of training allowances, transportation and subsistence allowances; and provide job placement assistance to trainees when they have completed the course.

WTSU Honors 7 From Hereford

CANYON, Tex. — Seven students from Hereford, including one who made a perfect 3.0 grade point average, were among 209 named to the second semester Honor Roll at West Texas State University.

Attainment on the Honor Roll requires at least a 2.5 average for a minimum of 15 semester hours carried.

Making the 3.0 average was Martha A. Morgan, freshman accounting major, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Morgan, 420 Sunset Drive.

Other Hereford students making the Honor Roll included: James K. Fanning, senior history major of 211 Elm; Darrell A. Knabe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Knabe of Star Route, is a sophomore business administration major; John R. Corbett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Corbett of Route 4, is a junior medical technology major; Ronald R. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lee of Grand E Trailer Park, is a freshman mathematics major; Robbie K. Sheffy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sheffy of 103 Aspen, is a senior mathematics major; and Diana J. Stindt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stindt, 122 Greenwood St., is a sophomore psychology major.

Chemist Reports Phosphorus Can Be Profitable

Phosphorus fertilization is more flexible and more profitable through a large single application than year-to-year applications, reports Dr. Lloyd B. Fenn, soil chemist at the Texas A & M University Agricultural Research Center at McGregor.

The results of a study initiated in 1966 show that phosphorus can be applied in large amounts with results equal to yearly applications on Grand Prairie soils. Per unit phosphorus application costs are cut, thus, making the use of recommended rates of nitrogen fertilizer more likely. The source of nitrogen would be that selling at the lowest per unit cost, points out Fenn.

In the study, applications of up to 11 years normal supply were included with zinc applied to study zinc deficiencies. Grain sorghum yield was used as the test for proper phosphorus nutrition, Dr. Fenn said.

Yields in 1967, 1968 and 1969 were equal to those of yearly fertilized grain sorghum.

The inclusion of zinc resulted in an additional 300-400 pounds of grain each year. Native zinc was concluded to be low to deficient, since yield increases were obtained even without phosphorus treatments, the chemist reports.

Treatments where the phosphorus applied would cover a 2-3 year requirement were tested on the third year and gave a response to additional fertilizer. Dr. Fenn said that all other treatments which received enough phosphorus to cover needs until this date did not respond to additional phosphorus.

Farm Loans Boosted; Meat Packers Get Aid

The House Agriculture Committee approved two bills of interest to Panhandle residents Thursday. One, sponsored by Congressman Bob Price, will allow Farmers Home Administration to make maximum farm and ranch purchase loans of $100,000. The present limit is $60,000.

In testimony on his bill, Price pointed out that few economical farm or ranch units can be purchased for less than $60,000.

"The Agriculture Department has stated that the average investment for 200 to 400 acres of land alone might run from $40,000 to $160,000. This means that the present relatively high acquisition and development costs of land render the $60,000 FHA loan limit obsolete. This increase is really quite modest when viewed in the light of farm sector credit needs," Price said.

A portion of the bill to raise the operating loan limit from $35,000 to $50,000 was deleted by the committee on a 15 to 9 vote.

The second bill will permit custom meat processors to sell inspected meat products without losing their custom processing exemption.

"At present the law prohibits a custom processor from selling so much as a can of soup made from meat even though the meat and product has been fully inspected. In many areas, particularly sparsely populated rural areas, the same establishments slaughter animals for their owners and sell groceries and meats. The Federal Meat Inspection Act requires these establishments to give up their retail business or the custom processing." Price added.

He pointed out that the bill approved Thursday, which has already been adopted by the Senate, would permit the sale of inspected meat by custom processor, although he could not sell meat from animals he has slaughtered for individuals.

"I hope the House will act quickly on this bill before many small custom processors in our area are forced out of business," Price said.

Keep Statements ASC Committee Tells Producers

Producers who earn payments in the voluntary feed grain, wheat and cotton programs will receive payment computation statements along with their payment drafts.

Frank J. Bezner, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, said.

He said it is most important for producers to retain these computation statements along with their other farm records.

The computation statements provide these important details: — Program for which payment is made (feed grain, wheat or cotton) — Both gross and net payment, for entire farm and for individual producer. — Planted acreage and diverted acreage (if any). — Projected yield, used for payment computations.

The ASC committee chairman suggested that producers verify their computation statements with their farm records before filing them in a safe place. If they have any questions, they should get in touch with their County ASCS office as soon as possible.

If farm program computation statements are lost or destroyed, producers may obtain the information from records in the County ASCS office.

Barton Heads New Liquid Feed Division

Roland Barton, president of Shur-Gro Liquid Feed Company of Hereford, a subsidiary of Shur-Gro Industries, has been elected temporary chairman of the new Liquid Feed Division of the National Feed Ingredients Association. The organization covers the entire United States. Barton will supervise the organization of the new Division.

The results of a study initiated in 1966 show that phosphorus can be applied in large amounts with results equal to yearly applications on Grand Prairie soils. Per unit phosphorus application costs are cut, thus, making the use of recommended rates of nitrogen fertilizer more likely. The source of nitrogen would be that selling at the lowest per unit cost, points out Fenn.

Randolph AFB Names Murrell Airman Of Year

Air Force Senior Master Sgt. Henry H. Murrell Jr., son of Mrs. Naomi Murrell, 404 Avenue H, Hereford, has been named Airman of the Year at Randolph AFB, Tex.

Sergeant Murrell, a metal-working superintendent with the 3514th Field Maintenance Squadron, was selected for his exemplary conduct and duty performance. The 3514th is a unit of the Air Training Com and which provides flying, technical and basic military training for U. S. Air Force personnel.

Water President Urges Committee To Fulfill Plan

Implementation of the Texas Water Plan at the earliest possible date was urged Thursday by Water, Inc. K. B. "Tex" Watson of Amarillo, President of the non-profit organization, told members of the Texas Water Resources Study Committee that the water plan is flexible enough to provide future water for all of Texas.

Watson testified at the committee's hearings in Abilene Thursday. The committee, created by the last special session of the state legislature, is looking into all phases of the state's water problems, and specifically into methods of interim financing for implementation of the Texas Water Plan.

In a detailed position testimony for the more than 2,000-member organization, Watson urged support for water resource research centers at Texas University, Texas Tech, Texas A & M and the University of Houston; called for a study of the effects of agricultural chemicals on the quality of water; and recommended the removal of interest rate limitations from water development bonds.

Watson emphasized that beneficiaries of the Texas Water Plan are not looking for a "handout" and assured the committee that West Texans in particular will pay their share of the cost of implementing the plan.

The Water, Inc., testimony supported the banning of agricultural chemicals which studies show to be a significant hazard to health, but opposed a wholesale banning of chemicals without factual showing of significant detriment to the quality of water and health.

The water study committee will make a report of its findings and recommendations to the legislature early next year.

Church Boasts Increase In VBS Attendance

The recent Vacation Bible School at the Central Church of Christ, showed a 28 per cent increase in daily attendance over last year's attendance.

The total daily attendance averaged 518, with 400 at the morning classes for the younger children, and 118 attending the evening classes for teenagers and adults. This created one of the most successful Vacation Bible Schools conducted at the local church.

Jerry Marlin and his puppet friend, Filmore J. Frog, entertained the students of all ages. Jerry, son of the minister of the Hereford Church, is minister of the church in Enid, Oklahoma.

Forty-seven members of the church participated with teaching the week-long Bible School.

The sergeant's wife, Phyllis, is the daughter of Ullman Hunter of Hereford and Virgie S. Hunter, 845 W. Lubbock St., Slaton, Tex. Sergeant and Mrs. Murrell have one child, Frances.

Deputy Survives Trouble

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

Dean Butcher, who was hired by Sheriff Travis McPherson recently as the newest deputy on the sheriff's department staff, comes surrounded by controversy.

The 22-year-old deputy and his wife Betty Joyce may be here from Canyon, where he and another officer on the Canyon Police Force were in the middle of a heated battle with the police chief that ended with both of them being fired.

City Commissioners upheld Police Chief Calvin Costley in an appeal that Butcher, a police sergeant, and Gary Harvey, a police lieutenant, filed.

Both men charged that Costley was two-faced — that he praised them to their face but ridiculed them when they were not present. Costley charged they were fired because of incompetence.

McPherson said he was "a little bit leery at first" about hiring Butcher, but talked to the Randall County sheriff, who defended the fired officer.

"He spoke up in Butcher's behalf and said Butcher had got the raw end of the deal in Canyon," McPherson said.

Eight of the nine officers on the Canyon force had left Costley by the time other officers began to quit in protest of the firing.

Butcher said the Canyon City Commission's decision upholding the police chief "doesn't bother me at all."

"I know that I did the right thing, and I know that I was right. A police chief that loses that many men has to have something wrong. He would praise me, just for example, to my face, then turn around and tell Harvey what a lousy officer I was. Did that to everyone."

Butcher grew up in Yuba, Okla., with the dream of being a law officer. He entered West Texas State in 1959 but quit after one semester and got on at the Texas Security Control. He received his training at the Dallas Police Academy.

At Dallas, Butcher learned a lot, he said. He patrolled a precinct for burglaries and ran across a few murders.

"Haven't ever been in any gun battles," he said, "but I've seen a lot of killings."

He and his wife were married in Dallas in 1962, then moved to Silverton. They now have one child, Michael Wade, 5.

In Silverton, Butcher went to work as a deputy sheriff serving civil and criminal papers, investigating robberies or whatever else occurred.

"I enjoyed the work," he commented, "and I found that my Dallas experience really helped. At Silverton, I was the only one that had studied law enforcement."

Butcher and family later went to Tulsa where he was again deputy sheriff.

"I did a little more work here," he said, "Silverton was small and didn't require as much attention."

Butcher has many degrees in law enforcement, receiving his basic degree in Dallas. In June of 1969, he attended West Texas, taking a 15-hour course in Civil Rights and learning of the different adverse groups in the country such as the Black Panthers, State of Liberties, and Ku Klux Klan.

Later, he took a 40-hour FBI course which primarily teaches the officer standard forms of discharging pistols under combat conditions. This also was taken at West Texas.

Also in June of 1969, Butcher took a 50-hour course in criminal law. In 1968, he had taken a 15-hour bomb disarmament course sponsored by the United States Army Demolition squad at Fort Sill, Okla.

Twenty hours in traffic enforcement helped him deal with speeders and drivers who abuse our highway laws.

Butcher took two courses in narcotics at West Texas, receiving credit for 30 hours. This, he said, is expected to provide of valuable help in recognizing drug addicts.

"It's true that we make a lot of mistakes when we pick up people for drugs but it is hard to recognize these people as a drug addict or as a diabetic."

Butcher has also had 55 hours in sheriff and department school taken in Austin and sponsored by the Texas Department of Public Safety. He received this degree in November of 1964.

"I like to take all the courses I can," commented Butcher. "It helps a lot to be educated in your field and I do plan on taking as many more that I can."

One reason Butcher took the course in combat disarmament was that statistics have proven that 90 per cent of the law officers shot were killed within 18 feet of the criminal.

"My last shooting averaged 91 out of a 100 so I feel that I am prepared."

One method that will help a law officer in his draw is to unload his gun and stand in front of a mirror trying to get the exact stance necessary for shooting.

"We have to have bent elbows, with the bottom part of our arms straight and steady. Knees slightly bent with one foot in front of the other, and back bent sort of in a leap-frog position. This helps the officer in case of a wound in his gun hand he can easily switch the gun to his free hand."

Being a law officer is tough business, Butcher explained; however, the only serious call he has been on since he has been in Hereford was the killing of two Spanish women.

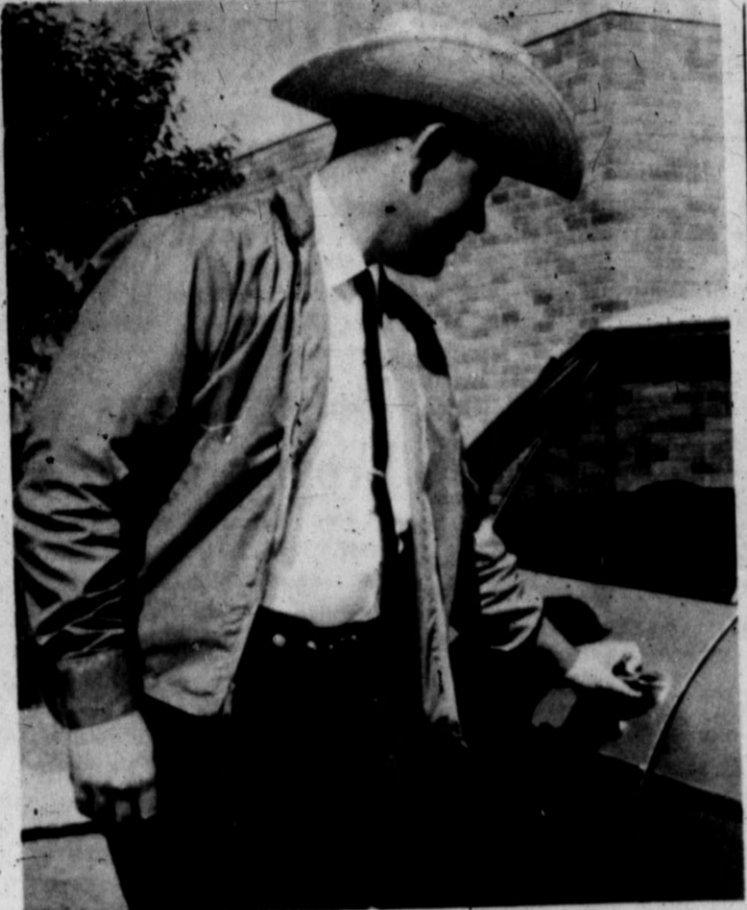

"There's always fear in this business. You don't know what is coming up next. When you get a call to come to a home especially, and you know there is a man there with a gun. When you drive up you don't know whether that criminal is expecting you or not. You have no idea where he might be. He could be hiding out somewhere just waiting for you to come."

In the narcotics course Butcher took, the class was taught by a man who had served as an undercover agent in narcotics and taught Butcher of the different reactions of people under cocaine, speed, marijuana and other drugs. Officers also were taught where to look for the drugs, the different instruments used to mainline, and different ways it can be given to a person.

"You know I was talking about how mistakes are sometimes made. Well, the safest thing to do when we run into a person who looks like he's under the influence of a drug but we don't really know, is to take him directly to the hospital. If a doctor proclaims that there is nothing wrong with him except that, then we have a case."

Butcher learned different ways to restrain a criminal in his FBI course, but claims that none of them could be considered brutal. They are just safe procedures, he said.

West Texas State Wins Entry Into Prestigious Missouri Valley Conference

West Texas State University won admittance Saturday into the Missouri Valley Conference. The announcement came at a Dallas news conference, after members of the conference voted in the 60-year-old Canyon school.

"This is the finest moment in the history of West Texas State intercollegiate athletics and is an outstanding climax to the university's 60th year," WTSU president Dr. James P. Cornette said Saturday.

Athletic Director Joe Kerbel called the acceptance of West Texas State into the MVC "a great step forward" for both the university and its intercollegiate athletic program.

He called the conference one of the more outstanding in the nation. Its past record has been illustrious, Kerbel said, "but the expansion plan and the enthusiasm for continued progress by the entire membership makes the future of the Missouri Valley Conference one of the more exciting ventures of the 70s."

KGNC-TV, the Amarillo affiliate of NBC, announced Saturday it will begin televising Missouri Valley Conference basketball games this season instead of Southwest Conference games as in the past.

The Buffaloes football schedules are already drawn through 1973 but school officials said they "would like to be in a position" to compete for the conference football championship before then.

WTSU will be unable to compete for the MVC basketball title this year, also because this winter's cage slate is already complete, but Cornette said "it is hoped that our growing basketball program will be contending for conference championship as early as the 1971-72 season."

West Texas State plays its home football games in Buffalo Bowl, constructed in 1958. It seats 20,500, and the university is looking into the feasibility of expanding the seating capacity to 40,000 and putting a dome on it.

Beginning with the 1970-71 season, all the Buffaloes' home basketball games will be played in the new Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum, which has a basketball seating capacity of more than 6,000. It has 4,938 theater-type seats. In the past, games were in the 3,076 capacity Buffalo Field House.

The members of the conference voted in a recent meeting to expand but put off the actual vote on West Texas State until representatives of the MVC could conduct an on-site inspection of WTSU facilities and campus: DeWitt T. Weaver, former Texas Tech head football coach and now commissioner of the Missouri Valley Conference, said after the inspection that he was extremely impressed and would give a good recommendation.

West Texas State University has been a member of a conference during most of its athletic history. The Buffaloes were members of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association from 1923 to 1932.

They won five basketball conference titles during that time and never dropped lower than third place in a conference that had from eight to 12 members. Although the Buffs didn't compete on a regular basis for the crown in football, they won several individual championships in both track and tennis.

West Texas played in the Alamo Conference from 1939 to 1941. In football West Texas was co-champion in 1940. The Buffs took basketball championships in both 1940 and 1941.

From 1941 through 1960 West Texas was a member of the Border Conference. That conference disbanded and since then West Texas State has been an NCAA major school independent. In Border Conference football play the Buffaloes won 39 games, lost 44 and tied 1. They won 135, lost 74 in basketball.

They won the football championship in 1950. In basketball they tied for the title in 1943, 1952 and 1955. After Texas Tech and West Texas tied for the championship in 1955 the Buffs won the coin toss and played eventual national champion San Francisco in the NCAA playoffs at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

White Sox

Lead Pony Loop

The Pony League White Sox, undefeated and untied through 10 games this season, hold a comfortable two game lead over the Red Sox, with only two and one-half weeks remaining in the season.

Trailing the Red Sox are the Orioles at 5-5, the Indians at 3-7, the Twins at 2-8 and the Tigers at 2-8.

In games played last week, Charles High of the Red Sox, connected for the first grand slam homer of the season, Gerald Shipley and Mike Crim, both of the White Sox, also homered in Pony League action last week.

AFS Student Finds All People Same

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

Elin Andersen of Norway says one of the most important things she has learned in Hereford this year as an exchange student is the realization that people everywhere think the same. Young people, and their problems, are no different in Norway than the one she has encountered in Hereford.

"I have found friends all over, and this makes people closer to each other and the world smaller," says the tall Norwegian blond.

"I find people in Hereford less involved in world affairs than I expected. It seems that it doesn't matter what happens outside Texas," Elin expressed as the one disappointment she has found during her year as an American Field Service student.

"The average people in Norway are more involved, and especially the youth. They have their own opinions and the youth become involved at an earlier age."

The lowering of the voting age two years ago from 21 to 20 has had considerable influence on this increased interest, and Elin says that is work going on to lower the age still more to 18.

The seven political parties within the Norwegian country each have youth groups within the party. The young people discuss politics among themselves more than those in the United States, Elin has found.

The Communist party is the smallest of the seven parties and the labor party is the largest, it being socialistic. There are three socialistic parties and four non-socialistic.

The party as a whole is elected by the people, and the party itself elects the prime minister. The king chooses the cabinet members, pending approval of the party in power.

Although the country has one of the best democratic systems in action, Elin says there is not enough student power allowed within the school systems. The students are striving to change the ways of the old established set-up.

In respect to this problem in her homeland, Elin enjoyed her affiliation with the student council in the Hereford school, where she found valuable information and practical experience she hopes to apply to her own school when she returns in August.

Elin has two years of study before completing high school in Norway. A finished high school education resembles that of junior college in the United States. After graduation from the ninth grade, which is required of all youngsters, students may choose to attend trade school or high school, which presents training for technical careers. About 25 per cent of the ninth grade graduates go on to high school.

Although Elin says she "has not found her thing," she may choose a career in the medical field as a doctor, or possibly join the Peace Corps, where she can use her diversified education.

School work in Norway is much harder than in the United States, she feels. The school year begins in mid-August and runs for 10 months. Six days a week, classes are held from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. Elin says that at least three hours per day are required to handle the amount of homework given to the high school students. This leaves the youths with less time for outside activities such as of American students.

The European girl thinks young people in the United States are involved in too many activities, spreading themselves so thin they fail to do justice to any one of these projects. In addition, when the American youth do have free time on their hands, they become restless.

"It's easier to get into nature in Norway, with the forests, ocean and mountains," Elin said. About 96 per cent of the country is open to the general public, in its natural state, providing plenty of spots for relaxation.

Norway would fit into the United States 28 times, as it is smaller than the state of Texas, with a population of 3.8 million.

Elin's hometown, Kristiansand, near the southern tip of Norway, has a population of 56,000. Since it is on the ocean and rivers, it is an important shipping port, with many factories.

Elin's father is an electrical engineer in the defense program, working under the army. Her mother teaches grade school, and her only brother, who is older, is studying for a political career. Elin's grandmother lives with the family.

According to Elin, the family standard of living is high in Norway, comparable to that of the United States. With sufficient old age pensions and hospital care, paid by taxes, the citizens are well cared for. Unemployment in Norway stands at nine-tenths of one per cent, while the United States average is 4.8 per cent. Elin says there is no class of poor people in her country.

Television and radio are government owned, and Elin says this is both bad and good. Without commercials to pay for the programs, there is not the wide choice of programs that are available in the United States; then again, more educational TV programs are presented there.

Only 3.2 per cent of the land of Norway is usable for farming, due to the vast amount of

Hockey Returns To Amarillo With CHL Team

Amarillo will return to the professional hockey wars in the Central Hockey League this coming season, according to a joint announcement made today in Montreal by Red Kelly and Jack Button.

Kelly, who is coach and general manager of the Pittsburgh Penguins, and Button, his administrative assistant, are in Montreal attending the National Hockey League's Annual Meeting.

"We are pleased to be coming back to Amarillo, and, based on the enthusiasm shown by the citizens of the area, we are looking forward to a highly successful season. It is anticipated that Rudy Migay will return to Amarillo as coach. He is considered one of the outstanding developers of young hockey players, and the Pittsburgh organization is fortunate to have a man of Rudy's caliber to take care of our Central Hockey League Club," Button said.

"An innovation of our operation this year will be that we will have a local board of directors or board of governors to assist with the promotion of the team throughout the Panhandle area," Button continued.

"We feel that this will make the people of the Amarillo area have a closer tie to the team."

Cheering Squads Are Announced For Grid Game

Cheerleader squads from Plainview, Borger, Guymon and Samuel Clemens high schools have been chosen to serve as on-the-field cheerleaders for the Coaches' All America football game to be played in Jones Stadium at Texas Tech University June 27.

Announcement of the teams chosen was made Tuesday (June 16) by Edsel Buchanan, co-director with W. M. Holsberry, of the seventh annual Cheerleaders School to be held at Texas Tech June 27-July 2.

Buchanan said teams were chosen on the basis of their previous attendance at the cheerleaders schools at Tech, honors received at previous schools, demonstrated cheerleading ability, number of returning members of this year's squad from previous squads, and willingness of the groups to come early for the social training.

"The teams from Plainview and Borger will be combined to form an eleven-member squad for the West team and squads from Guymon and Samuel Clemens (San Antonio) will form the cheerleader team for the East," Buchanan said.

Dodgers, Colts Still Unbeaten In Little League

The Major Little League Dodgers, vying for a playoff berth with the Yankees, maintained the second half lead this week as they ran their record to 6-0 with only one game remaining.

The once-beaten Yankees hold down second place with an impressive 4-1 record and two games remaining. The Yanks assured themselves of a playoff berth by winning the first half of the season.

Regardless of the outcome of the Dodger's final game, they have assured themselves a playoff with the Yankees.

In minor league action, the Colts remained undefeated in the second half with a 6-0 record and are 1 1/2 games ahead of second place Braves who stand 4-1-1.

In Pee Wee action, the Braves hold the best season record, that being 5-1. Second place is held down by the Colts who sport a 3-2 record.

Playoff dates have not been announced, but league officials said they would determine the date and time and get that information to the coaches and managers of the teams.

Redbirds Try Canyon In Legion Baseball

The Canyon Falcons, undefeated in Legion play before their Saturday night game with the Tascosa Sheriffs, will clash head-on today at 2:30 p.m. here with the once-defeated Hereford Redbirds.

Canyon defeated the Amarillo Dusters 8-2 in their season opener and edged Dimmitt 8-7 for their second win.

Hereford blasted the Dimmitt team 7-8 and clipped the Palo Duro Chiefs 5-2 for two wins, then dropped a contest Wednesday to the Caprock team 7-6.

In Wednesday's game, the Redbirds held a 5-2 lead going into the final frame, but a five run outburst by the host Caprock team sealed the game.

Both teams failed to score in the inning, but Hereford sent one run across the plate in the second when catcher Donnie McDermitt reached first on an error on the Caprock shortstop and scored on a double by Paul Loerwald.

Caprock tied the game up in the second and were threatening with the bases loaded when Hereford hurler Alan Wagner retired the side.

The Redbird's biggest inning came in the top of the third when Keith Duncan reached first on an error, advanced to second when McDermitt was hit by a pitched ball and went on to third when John Sparks singled, Jeff Loerwald then connected for a grand slam-homer to push the locals into a 5-1 lead.

Caprock retaliated with one run in the bottom of the third, and it appeared the Redbirds had the game wrapped up going into the fifth frame.

It was then the host team exploded for three runs to tie the game up at 5-5. A walk, followed by two singles and an error, produced the Caprock runs.

Hereford was unable to score in the fifth and sixth frames, and the Caprock team came back in to bottom of the sixth to score the tie breaker to win the game, 7-4. Caprock's first sacker, who reached first on an error, scored the winning run when he crossed the plate after their rightfielder connected for a single.

What is the A.B.C.?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure."

"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"

Perhaps what we told him will also interest you.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers.

Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulations of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insignia is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."

At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report published by ABC — the report literally tells us what our circulation is.

Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinions.

Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in the quality and quantity of our circulation audience — the audience for your advertising messages.

What is an ABC figure?

It is our way of assuring you that you get full measure for your advertising dollar in this newspaper.

Inscriptions Inspire Bessie Patterson

By SUE COLEMAN
Inscriptions on tombstones of West Park Cemetery, read when she was a child, first turned Mrs. Elmer Patterson's attention to pioneers of Deaf Smith County, she says with a smile in her warm brown eyes, finally led to her writing about them and the times in which they lived.

"We lived on a farm just north of the cemetery, a mile and a half from town at that time, and we children liked to walk about the graves and read the words carved over the old-timers."

Later she recalled those inscriptions when she talked with contemporaries and descendants of the subjects, gathering material for writing newspaper features and then a book of county history. Almost a year question about events and people of early days here are referred to that book by area residents.

Bessie Patterson is as well known as a former teacher in Hereford High School, and for her church activities, as she is as an historian. Her next book, which she completed in April and which is soon to be published by the Journal Publishing Company of Fort Worth, is a volume of Bible studies. It is based on a series of lessons she compiled for a women's class in Central Church of Christ. Mrs. Patterson presently has plans for more writing of this type. She has taught classes for women and children in her church for a number of years.

A wider work in the church was carried out in recent years by Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, who traveled in the Northwest, to Hawaii and Jamaica on a mission of assisting in localities where the Church of Christ was just getting established.

This volunteer work was undertaken after retirement from business by Patterson, who is an elder in the church. It was a most rewarding activity, Mrs. Patterson says, and they considered accepting an invitation to remain in Jamaica for a longer term, "but our church here wanted us back for some duties at home, and of course we came."

A resident of Hereford about 40 years, Mrs. Patterson is far from being an actual pioneer although she came to the county with her family "in an uncovered wagon". She was ten years old then, moving from Tulla.

Born at McLean, she was the daughter of the W. H. Chambers. Her father was a farmer and dairyman. After a few years on the farm here, located where city residences are now numerous, the family moved to Canyon for better educational opportunities for the children.

Bessie took advantage of them, entering West Texas State College after graduation from Canyon High School.

"It wasn't easy to manage the cost of college, even as a home-town student," she relates. "Tuition was only $12.50 a quarter then, and I borrowed the money from my brother who had earned it shining shoes. I learned typing at once, and was soon able to get a job so I paid my further expenses, and when I left college my bank account had $40 in it!"

"We've enjoyed a house big enough to give us opportunities for hospitality", Mrs. Patterson comments.

Last week three young girls from Amarillo who were here for Vacation Bible School in Central Church of Christ, and a minister and his wife who helped conduct the school, were house guests.

"It seems very familiar" to have three girls here", Mrs. Patterson said as the trio moved about the large living-dining room, two at work on dresses as a 4-H Club project and the third practicing piano scales. The Pattersons' family consists of three daughters.

They live now in scattered homes so the parents enjoy travel as they make visits. Geraldine, Mrs. Virgil Bennett, is moving to California from Michigan this summer. Nancy is Mrs. Roy B. Ward of Oxford, Ohio, and will live for a time at Houston while her husband has an assignment at Rice University. Youngest is Sheryl, Mrs. Joe Coldwell of Polomoke City, Md.

It was when the daughters were in college that Mrs. Patterson taught in high school here for four years. Her subject was speech, and since that had been only a minor in her college work she felt the need of brushing up.

Encouraged by her husband, she returned to college and in 1953 completed work for an MA degree at WTSU with a speech major.

Her career as a professional writer began when a friend resigned as correspondent for an Amarillo paper and convinced her that she could fill that job. Feature writing as part of her job included stories on old-timers of this area, and roused her interest in county history.

When The Hereford Brand prepared to issue its Golden Anniversary edition in 1951 she was asked to write stories based on articles in its early issues, and on interviews with pioneer residents. From that anniversary edition grew the idea of a book to be published by Southwest Offset.

She compiled the book, writing new material and editing that previously appearing in The Brand. The aim was for a book of 150 pages but "it turned out with 180 pages and some material that we wanted to use, left out."

"It was not only my first book, but the first one published by the Hereford company which has since printed a number of similar histories. We learned a lot together!"

Mrs. Patterson insists that "I am not a historian's historian — just a reporter putting the emphasis on people and what they did, rather than the big events."

Nevertheless she is emphatic about the value of recording history from the view point of people who helped make it, and is active in Deaf Smith County Historical Society and the local museum backers. She is also a member of the Panhandle Penwomen, an organization of women who write for newspapers and magazines, or their own books.

A two-year-old African boy died from pneumonia after cuts on his face to form traditional tribal scars turned septic. An inquest returned a finding of accidental death.

If your 8 year old's not home by 9, who'd you call by 9:15?

A policeman returning a lost child doesn't make big news. But if you're a parent, you know how important it really is. So does a policeman. It's his choice to protect you, your family, and your home. He'll help return a lost child, stop a burglar, deliver a baby, or direct traffic. So whenever you need help, call a friend. Call a cop.

Miss Carole Clearman Is Bride Of Stewart Lawrence Neblett

The First United Methodist Church was the setting for the impressive wedding of Miss Sammie Carole Clearman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clearman of Hereford to Stewart Lawrence Neblett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling A. Neblett of Houston.

Vows were solemnized at 4 p.m. Saturday before a large assemblage of friends and relatives with the Rev. Clifford Trotter, minister, conducting the double ring service.

Tall tapers burning in spiral candelabra illuminated an alter arrangement of spring flowers. Two 7-branched candelabra behind the altar formed a background for the nuptial setting.

BRIDE'S SISTERS
ARE ATTENDANTS
Miss Caye Clearman was her sister's maid of honor and another sister, Miss Lynette Clear-man, was bridesmaid with Miss Jan Lindley of Waco and Miss Ann Hunter of San Angelo. Doug Burnham of Houston served as best man and groomsmen were brothers of the bridegroom, Sterling Neblett Jr. and Charles Neblett with David Booth, all of Houston. Ushers and candle lighters were Mark Carter of Houston and Courtney Hogan of Dallas.

Rings were carried to the altar on a satin pillow by the bride's cousin, Scott Cooper.

Mrs. Bill Stanford of Plainview, presented a program of wedding music and accompanied Miss Caye Clearman as she sang "O Perfect Love."

Escorted down the white bridal aisle by her father, the bride was a beautiful picture in her formal white gown of bridal satin and organza enhanced by bands of daisy lace encircling the highrise neckline and forming a cuff on the short puffed sleeves. Bands of daisies extended from a bow at the front empire waistline to the formal hemline of the gown and edged the circular cathedral train.

Her cathedral length veil of illusion with shoulder length overlay was held by a headpiece of pearl traced lace daisies. She wore short white gloves and carried a nosegay of white daisies and baby's breath. Her only jewelry was an heirloom diamond ring which belonged to her grandmother.

Aqua peau de soie made the empire styled gowns of the feminine attendants, accented by daisy lace trim on the bodice and short puffed sleeves. They wore brief white gloves and carried white baskets of pastel daisies.

The bridegroom and other men in the wedding party wore worsted trousers. Gray patterned ascot ties and gray gloves completed their ensembles.

For her daughter's wedding, sies, Daisies also made their headpieces.

Mrs. Clearman wore a formal length gown of pale yellow silk enhanced by a jeweled neckline.

Mrs. Neblett, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a floor-length pastel green gown with cap sleeves and featured a softly gathered drop waistline in the back. They both wore shoulder bouquets of cattleya orchids.

Mrs. Kerry Jones of Lubbock registered wedding guests at the reception honoring the bride and groom held in the church fellowship hall.

The 4-tiered white wedding cake on the satin and organza draped serving table was trimmed with aqua doves and wedding bells and topped by a golden cross. The attendants' baskets of daisies graced the table. Miss Sharon Garrison served cake and punch was ladled by Mrs. Sterling Neblett Jr. of Houston.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will be home July 1 at 1904 San Gabriel in Austin where they are senior students at the University of Texas.

For traveling, the bride wore a pale pink linen dress accented by gold button trim connected at the waistline by a gold chain. She wore white accessories and a daisy corsage.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Houston DeFord of Amarillo, aunt and uncle of the bride; Mrs. Lyda James, the bridegroom's aunt; Hugh Todd and Miss Bette Pruden, all of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilson and

Lester Landrum Funeral Held At San Antonio

Funeral services for a former Hereford resident, Lester R. Landrum, 64, of San Antonio, were held Tuesday in the Porter Loring Mortuary Chapel in San Antonio with Chaplain Merritt O. Slawson, officiating. Graveside Masonic rites were conducted at Mission Burial Park North.

Mr. Landrum was born in Hereford and had been a San Antonio resident for 38 years. He was a retired Civil Service employe at Kelly Field and a member of Travis Park Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Barbara; a son, Lester R. of Seabrook; a brother, Joseph H. of Wilmington, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. Oma Nobles and Mrs. B. W. Crawford, both of San Antonio; three grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. John Vanmeter, all of Vega; Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Clearman of Lamesa, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Freeman of Seminole; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Derstadt of Raymondville, the Ed Stephens and J. V. Burnham of Houston and Mrs. Harold Horan of Washington D. C.

The bride was graduated from Hereford High School in 1947 and attended Southwestern University her sophomore and junior years. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority at the University.

The bridegroom attended Robert E. Lee High School in Houston and Southwestern University. He transferred to the University of Texas last year where he is a member of Delta Sigma Pi.

OES To Honor Local Members

Committees of Mrs. Sally Metron, worthy grand matron will be honored at a tea from 3-5 p. m. today at the Community Center by members of Order of Eastern Star.

They include Mrs. H. L. Hershey, bulletin committee; Mrs. Charles Noland, fraternal visitation; Mrs. Marie Cline, time and talent; and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Roberson, V.A.V.S. committee.

Guests from 15 area chapters are expected to attend. They are registered by Mrs. O. H. Culpepper. Mrs. Bill Hutson will preside at the tea table and music will be furnished by Mrs. Maggie Hamilton.

Mrs. Parsons Is Cultural Club Hostess

Members of Cultural Home Demonstration Club were hosted recently in the home of Mrs. Grady Parsons.

Opening exercises was "I Am Your Flag" which was presented by several of the members. Mrs. Ira Scott presented a program on Texas wildflowers and Mrs. Parsons told how to cut a roast to make several different cuts.

The club will meet Friday in the home of Mrs. D. C. Allmon for the last meeting of the summer. Mrs. Argen Draper, H. D. Agent, will present a program on gloves.

Others attending were Mmes. J. C. Gandy, P. M. Houser, G. S. Parker, J. D. Love and Paul Corbett.

POLITICS TO CHURCH POST PHILADELPHIA — The late Robert F. Kennedy's California campaign manager at the time Kennedy was assassinated in the spring of 1968, Josiah H. Beeman, was named secretary for International Affairs of the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Hoffs Adopt Infant Son

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoff Jr., of Matador, announce the arrival of an infant son, Danny Paul, by adoption.

The 7 lb. 13 oz. baby boy was born Sunday and joins a sister, Deanna.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoff, Sr., Mrs. Eleanor Winkler of Hereford, and great grandmother, Mrs. Mattie M. Hoff of Paris, Ill. The Hoff's are graduates of Hereford High School.

MEMORIAL TO MLK INDIANAPOLIS — The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) has designated April 4, the first anniversary of the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., as "a day of national repentance and reconciliation."

Kansas Ceremony Weds Former Hereford Girl

Trinity Lutheran Church in Great Bend, Kan., was the setting Sunday afternoon for a wedding of wide interest in Hereford when Miss Alana Jeanette Cromer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seyfert of Sawyer, Kan., former Hereford resident, became the bride of Jim G. Chilcote of Great Bend. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wilson of Wichita, Kan.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Hereford High School and moved from Hereford with her parents about two years ago. She is a recent graduate of Dominican School of Nursing at Great Bend.

The Rev. Robert Studtmann officiated for the 3 p. m. double ring ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Large baskets of white pompon chrysanthemums and palms flanked by candelabra at the altar formed a background for the exchange of vows. Hurricane lamps tied with white satin bows lighted the bridal aisle. Pale blue satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Carolyn Evers of Hereford, organist presented an impressive program of wedding music. As the processional she played "The Bridal March" (Lohengrin) and the recessional was "Grand March From Aida." She accompanied Miss Beverly Buchanan of Hoisington, Kan. as she sang "The Lords Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

Acolytes were Ted and Steven Seyfert of Sawyer, Kan. Mrs. Greg Cromer of Wichita Falls served her sister-in-law as matron of honor and bridesmaids were nurse classmates of the bride, Misses Cindy Lang, Barbara Maeder, Mary Erickson, Patty Chilcote, and her sister, Miss Rhonda Cromer.

Best man was Kent Stalker and groomsmen were Rich Stillwagoner, Gregg Cromer, Randy Cromer, Fred Debes and Fred Seyfert. Neices of the bride and groom, Monica Cromer and Debby Asay, were flower girls and Doug Asay, the bridegroom's nephew, carried the rings to the altar on a white satin pillow made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Miller.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown fashioned with a dirndl skirt of tucked and embroidered organza. The bodice featured a Victorian neckline and French pouf sleeves. A ribbon bow with streamers accented the high rise dirndl skirt and bodice sohouette. Her cathedral length mantilla was edged in matching ruffled Vol lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and fern with beaded lace ribbon streamers. Her only jewelry was an heirloom diamond necklace.

Pale blue dacon dotted swiss made the empire styled gowns of the feminine attendants, accented with blue bows and streamers. They wore headpieces of matching tulle on Dior bows and each carried a single white chrysanthemum decorated with blue ribbon rosettes and streamers. A reception followed in the church parlor where guests were registered by Mrs. Kenneth Emerson, Assisting at the gift table were Mrs. Elsie Thom and Miss Monica Scheer.

The two 3-tiered wedding cakes were on a large rectangular cake topped with a church with the bride and groom crossing a tiny bridge to a winding staircase down the side of the cake. Preceding them were exact replicas of the attendants.

They will be at home in Great Bend after a honeymoon trip. He is employed by O'Neill Tank Company.

Test For Open Meeting

A law that requires county commissioners, city councils, school boards, hospital boards and other governmental bodies to hold their meetings only after they have given three days' prior written notice is being tested in Dallas.

The law was passed in 1967 by the Texas Legislature. It requires the boards, from the precinct to state level, to post in a public place, three days in advance, where and when the meeting will be and what will be discussed.

A newsman in Dallas has filed a citizen's complaint in justice of the peace court, accusing the county judge and the four county commissioners in Dallas County of holding an illegal closed meeting two weeks ago. It is believed that complaints against the county welfare department were under discussion.

The law, labeled the Texas Open

Meetings Act, was passed to keep boards from meeting privately to discuss matters that the public is entitled to know about.

The law does not, of course, apply in any fashion to Grand Jury sessions.

Members of at least one board in Deaf Smith County met outside the courtroom in an official capacity—reportedly more than once—within the last month. There was no advance notice filed about the "meeting"—as is required by state law even in the case of emergency sessions. Decisions were made, and the circumstances indicate the board wanted its action to remain unpublicized, if not a secret.

The outcome of the Dallas case—in which the Dallas County judge refused to appear in Justice of the Peace court and enter a plea—may ultimately decide how strict newsmen in other parts of the state are in demanding adherence to the law.

Conscience And The Law

THE SUPREME COURT ruled Monday that anybody who dislikes war on personal, rather than religious, grounds can now qualify as a conscientious objector and decline military service.

Moral and ethical objections to service—so long as they are fervently held—are now officially on par with religious scruples. Claims of conscience get a bigger run than the imperatives of defense.

If enough people assert this new kind of conscience—which amounts to nothing more than selective obedience to the law—Congress may as well abolish selective service and adopt a volunteer system.

There is no way to enforce a draft that puts conscience above the defense of the United States—no way to test the "depth" of moral scruples other than by the fervor of the objector, which is bound to be expressed as soul-searing in every instance.

If a man doesn't want to serve, there's no way to hold him to a test of motive. Cowardness, reverence for life or simple selfishness can wrap themselves in the same claims of conscience.

IF HISTORY is any guide, however, the willing (and reluctant) defenders always will outnumber those who skirk their manhood or put their souls up for public inspection. It at least can be hoped that the 5-3 decision will prove more of a judicial curiosity than a blow at patriotism and national security.

It is the unspoken logic of the ruling that is open to criticism. Religious objectors to service always have had the Biblical injunction, "Thou shalt not kill," as an arguable proposition. A supreme power is recognized generally and its spiritual commandments are respected as a ruler of some consciences.

But a lay conscience refers back to nothing higher than itself—not to a higher power. And the lay conscience is subject to society's laws.

Individual feelings of right and wrong are, of course, recognized, and every man has a right to his conscience—up to a point. But not to the point that it contravenes law. The individual conscience is not the equal of society's collective judgment in matters bearing on its defense, safety and good order.

IT IS THIS same claim of the infallibility of conscience that preaches the permissibility of breaking laws with which one does not agree. It is the same claim that preaches violence as a prescription for social change.

It makes the individual king—which is to say that it prescribes anarchy as the ultimate social god.

What is the difference between a man feeling keenly against war but also feeling keenly in favor of arson or street rioting if, in each case, conscience is his guide and the law is secondary?

In each case, the individual sets up as moral judge of a legal duty prescribed by society—and flouts the society whose protection he claims without himself assuming any corresponding duty to it.

The high court abets this kind of moral anarchy when it gives conscience a seat on the court. So far the price of conscience in such matters has been punishment by society. That is no longer the case in declining to fight for one's country.

Heretical Talk

The U. S. needs to modernize its navy, says Admiral Richard H. Jackson. "We used to think the Russians were a pretty powerful land power," he said, "but now they're using their new navy in a great show of force. We want a fleet that can be in the right place at the right time and with the right weapons. We can't afford to have too many ships scattered about that can't do the job."

One might think Admiral Jackson should not talk like that if he wants to remain in good standing with the navy. The navy has never liked to talk about modernization, as progressives like Adm. Hyman Rickover, atomic submarine expert, and others have found out.

But all the claptrap about holding on to aircraft carriers and other traditional but obsolescent naval weaponry has no effect on Admiral Jackson who has just celebrated his 104th birthday. The oldest living graduate of the Naval Academy, Admiral Jackson hasn't seen a day of active duty since he retired as commander of the U. S. battle fleet in 1930. But he keeps up with the times, and he seems to be the only admiral around who can afford to talk about modernizing the navy. — — — Nashville Tennessean

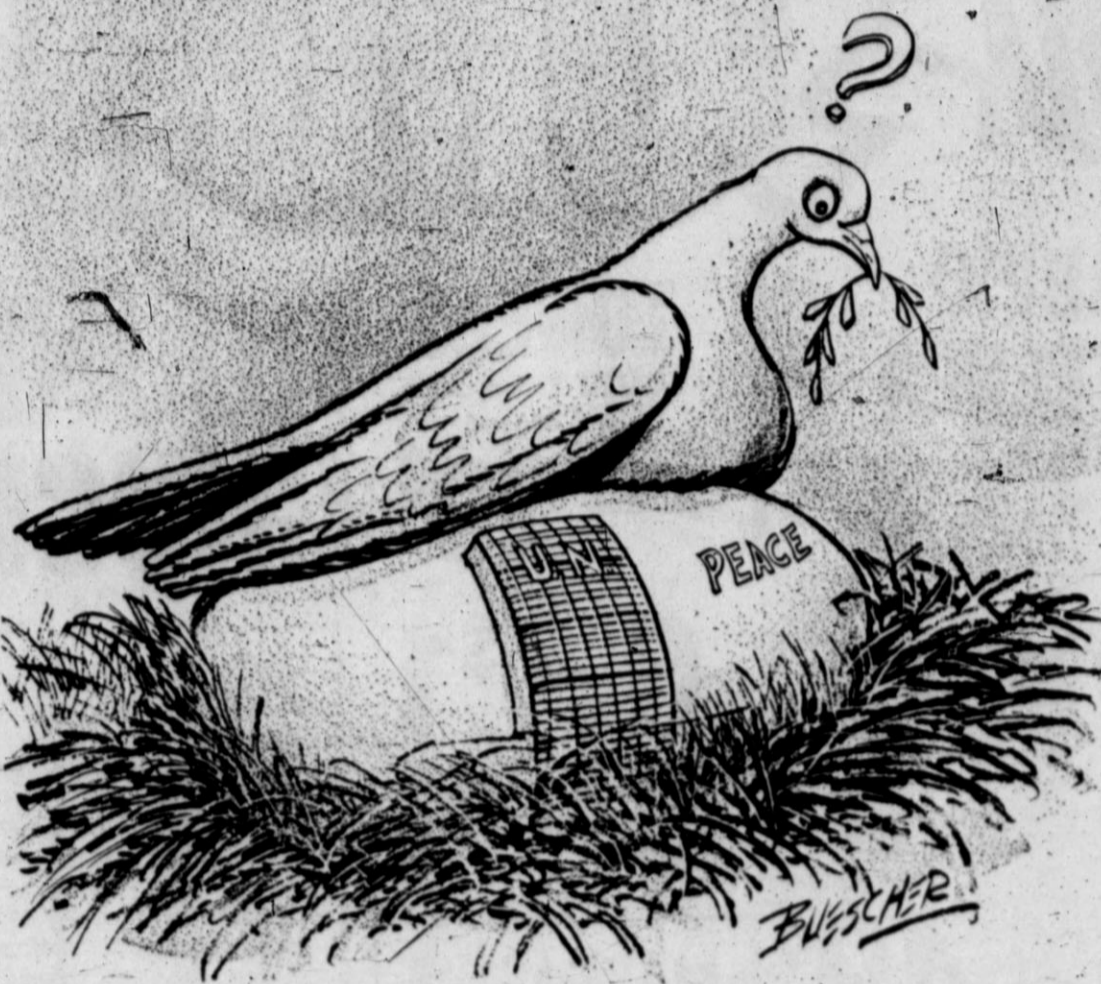

Beautification

Community beautification is one of those projects which often do not get done because it is so easy to put them off. It's too costly; it takes too much time. There are other things that must be done first. — — — Newman (Ill.) Independent

Cut Prices?

Tobacco companies trying to figure out how to spend the money now going into television cigarette ads might try cutting the price of their products. News of an event like that has a way of getting around even without television. — — — Charlotte Observer

Federal Programs Provide Jobs For Lagging Towns

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Rural communities standing still or on the downgrade can get back on the upward path through participation in an unusual federal program which concentrates on occupational problems and utilizes the combined resources of as many as seven departments and agencies.

Pilot projects initiated in five states during the past five years have demonstrated that jobs can be created in small towns, if the urgent need for education and training is met. Another significant achievement has been on the governmental level, in getting people from different agencies to work together on common problems.

The program is not well known and bears an unwieldy hint at its rural orientation but CSTE grew out of a recommendation from a Cabinet-level Rural Development Committee. That group established an inter-agency task force which studied the needs of rural dwellers for more education and vocational training.

The task force began with these facts: 3 million rural residents had less than five years of schooling; 19 million had not finished high school; only half as many eligible youths from rural communities went on to college, compared with those from urban areas.

Also, it was clear that those from the small towns and farms were not taking advantage of existing education and manpower programs.

Minnesota Test Succeeds
Pilot projects of CSTE were initiated in Minnesota, Arkansas, and New Mexico in 1965.

Oklahoma and West Virginia were added in 1968, and as many as 100 areas in various states may join the ranks if funds become available. One, two, or three county areas have been selected in the test to date.

Staples, Minnesota, is the big success story thus far. This one-industry town 136 miles northwest of Minneapolis, was on the downgrade a decade ago. The Northern Pacific Railway was cutting back on local jobs, and dairy farmers were victims of low milk prices. The 1960 Census showed that Todd County, in which most of Staples is located, was the poorest in Minnesota.

However, Staples had some assets. Its citizens had formed a development corporation in 1960. Also, its school superintendent, Duana Lund, had four years experience in Washington working for former Senator Ed Thyne (R, Minn). He had know-how and Washington contacts. In the education area alone, Staples had taken advantage of so many Federal and state programs that a mere listing takes three and one-half pages.

Another advantage Staples had was a Vocational-Technical School, founded in 1960, and expanded six times since to accommodate a student body of over 500. It turns out machine operators, and they do their practicing on practical projects, such as grading airport runways, dredging a lake, and creating a beach.

In the past decade, deposits of the local bank have more than doubled. A $250,000 medical clinic is staffed by four young doctors and a dentist, all under 35. A model elementary school features teaching machines, team teaching, and other innovations that have attracted 4,000 visitors a year—matching the town population. Termed "Good Bet"

An evaluation team from North Carolina State University studied the Concerted Services program and concluded that "CSTE looks like a good bet to coordinate services and offset bureaucratic inertia in rural areas that are lagging." The report said: "This project is long on ideas and dedication to personnel, low on cost, with benefits that appear to be highly promising."

C. B. Gilliland, of the Rural Community Development Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is Executive Secretary of the CSTE Task Force. Co-Chairmen are John S. McCauley of the Department of Labor and Sherrill McMillen of HEW.

Other rural communities jealous of what has happened in Staples, Minn., may wish to seek some Concerted Services from these gentlemen.

Talk of Texas

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY—Butch Cassidy, The Sundance Kid, and the rest of the gang known as "The Wild Bunch" might have settled down to respectability in Texas if they hadn't decided to have their picture made!

On September 19, 1900, George Leroy Parker, who called himself "Butch Cassidy," and his gang robbed the Winnemucka, Nev., bank of $32,640 in gold. With Harry Longabaugh, known as "The Sundance Kid," and the three other members of the gang, Cassidy loaded the gold onto pack horses and headed for Texas.

Traveling alone, the gang members made their way to Fort Worth for a rendezvous on December 1, 1900. They put up at a hotel, split the loot and went out and bought themselves fancy new clothes. A couple of the gang members even discussed settling down in Fort Worth.

Before splitting up, however, they decided to go to Schwartz's Photo Gallery and have their pictures made. This proved to be their undoing. A few days later, a detective saw the picture in the studio window and recognized one of the gang.

Butch Cassidy went on to a career of crime in South America, as did Longabaugh, The Sundance Kid. None of the gang stayed in Texas.

NO TRANSLATOR NEEDED—The Giddings Star in Lee County claims to be the only U. S. newspaper with fonts of newspaper type to print editions in the Wendish language.

UNITED WE STAND—If Texas ever exercises its right to split into five states it will find the United Nations opposing the move.

Speaking at a conference of University of Texas ex-students in Austin, Secretary General U. Thant pointed out that this divided world already has two Koreas, two Vietnams, two Chinas and two Germanys. If the United Nations suddenly had to contend with five states of Texas, "it might well be the last straw."

His statement drew a hearty laugh from his audience, but the fact is that Texas frequently has threatened to divide itself. It has that right under its annexation agreement with the U. S. The last attempt came in 1965 when the Legislature considered a bill to divide the state into North Texas and South Texas. It was defeated.

WHERE THE PAST IS PROLOGUE—Dallas, which hasn't always treasured its antique buildings, is proving that an old landmark can be restored to usefulness in the space age.

The 81-year-old Cumberland School building on the northern edge of downtown Dallas is being turned into one of the city's most charming and elegant buildings. Built in 1889 for $30,000, the Cumberland School building was purchased by an off-shore oil drilling company last year for $1,362,000.

Instead of demolishing the old landmark and putting up a new building, the owners decided to spend another $1 million and recreate a functional headquarters within a Victorian setting in the heart of town.

65 YEARS AGO—1905

G. R. Jowell happened to an accident last Saturday morning which came near proving fatal to him. He was hauling the new hydraulic ram to his ranch east of town. All went well until he attempted to cross the C. E. Wheeler creek and the machine came tumbling off the wagon. Some of the timbers struck Mr. Jowell on the head and cut off one of his ears, and he also received a heavy blow on the left side, breaking one rib and fracturing two or three others. At present, his ear, after being sewed back on, is healing nicely; and his other injuries are doing as well as can be expected. Thursday evening, Hereford ladies from the Woodmen Circle visited the I.O.O.F. Lodge and surprised the members there with a dainty lunch at Robert's Restaurant. The lunch was delicious, and the I.O.O.F. invited the ladies to call again.

Taylor Bros. of Sweetwater, Tex., announces it will open a saddle shop in Hereford about July 15, occupying the building between the Western National Bank and the Fox Mercantile Co. M. Taylor, one of the brothers, was in Hereford last week to make the arrangements. He and his brother have been in the business for years and will equip an up-to-date shop in every particular. Both are men of family and will move here at once.

35 YEARS AGO—1935

Over $2,000 for 70 acres of wheat! That was the estimate made by J. R. McDonald as he looked up from work on a tractor. And it was made possible by the expenditure of $25 for electric power with which to give the wheat three irrigations. Otherwise, instead of being rippling acres of grain, almost ready for the binder, it would have been a barren field, endangered by the threat of blowing, he calculated.

20 YEARS AGO—1950

Hereford, Texas, gave Kenneth Brooks of Hereford, England, the impression that it was bubbling over and busting at the seams. Mr. Brooks also said he was astonished at the building and recent construction here. He particularly pointed at local churches in making this statement. The first spade of dirt turned Thursday afternoon on the new $100,000, Deaf Smith County Electric Co-operative headquarters office building which will stand barely outside the city limits on Highway 60 when completed some five months from now.

5 YEARS AGO—1965

A record-breaking rain deluged Deaf Smith County, flooding more than twenty homes southwest of Hereford and swelling the normally dry Tierra Blanca Creek over its banks. Hereford received seven and three quarters inches of rain in a 36-hour off-and-on downpour. Water stood neck-deep in at least four of the homes Friday, resulting in the need for aid from the Red Cross. It reached the ceilings in some of the houses in the hardest hit sector of the area. The Florence Lee and C. L. Killgore Foundation of Amarillo has given the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway $30,000 to implement the irrigation and recharge research program at the Foundation.

Martha Kate Aikin Weds David Dennis Downey

In one of mid-June's loveliest weddings, Miss Martha Kate Aikin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Aikin, 216 N. Texas, became the bride of David Dennis Downey, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Downey, Route 5.

The double-ring vows were read at 8 p. m. Friday in First Christian Church by the Rev. Eugene Brink, pastor, and the Rev. Simeon Heine, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Tall white tapers burning in candelabrum illuminated pedestal arrangements of white gladiolus, Tropicana roses, yellow daisies and baby's breath which formed a background for the nuptial ceremony. Votive lights marked the pews on the bridal aisle.

Miss Aikin was given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Carma Edge of Lubbock as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jim Myers, and Miss Kathy Fooks of Artesia, N. M. and Misses Daun Hopson and Jane Witkowski.

Kim Williamson was best man and groomsmen were Joel Downey, brother of the bridegroom; David Ruland, Jimmy Haile and Jack Aikin, brother of the bride. Ushers were Paul Parker of Rowlette, Tex. and Chris Gerald of Canyon.

Miss Cindy Downey and Jim Aikin, brother and sister to the bride and groom, were candle lighters.

Chris Hutcherson presented a clarinet solo preceding the ceremony and Mrs. Joe Hacker, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Kerri Dameron as she sang Twelfth of Never and Ben Gollehon as he sang The Lord's Prayer.

Bridal satin and silk organza accented by delicate lace appliques made the formal gown and chapel train of the bride. A plastron of re-embroidered lace covered the fitted empire bodice which featured a bateau neckline and long lace sleeves gathered at the wrist by cuffs. Pearl traced lace appliques adorned the A-line skirt and were repeated on the Watteau train. An organza bow scattered with seed pearls held her veil of silk illusion edged with lace and pearls and she carried a bridal bouquet of yellow roses and Tropicana roses. For something old she carried a lace-edged handkerchief which belonged to her great-grandmother.

The attendants' sleeveless gowns were fashioned in princess lines from yellow bridal satin. They were complimented by yellow picot-edged velvet ribbons that marked the raised waistlines and terminated in bows and streamers which flowed to the formal hemline of the gowns. Crushed bows held their yellow illusion veils and they carried a single yellow rose.

A reception honoring the bride and groom was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall where guests were registered by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Virginia Downey.

The bride's table was laid with a white net cloth trimmed with yellow ribbons and held an arrangement of yellow roses. The tiered cake, decorated with yellow roses, was topped with white wedding bells and Lilly of the Valley. The bridegroom's table, decorated in yellow and white, held a double ring cake. Refreshments were served from silver appointments by Miss Glenda Champ, Miss Karen Downey, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Kerri Dameron of Salida, Colo. and Miss Glenda Sue Dillard.

Others assisting were Misses Camille Langley, Debra Walden, Jan Turrentine and Teresa McAndrews.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico the newlyweds will be at home at 2317 Baylor in Lubbock.

For traveling the bride wore a beige and brown plaid dress and coat with bone colored accessories. Her corsage of yellow roses was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mrs. W. S. Ramsey of Detroit, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Aikin, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dickey, and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cunningham of Paris, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Holloway, Miss Amy Holloway and John Holloway of Big Spings; Mr. and Mrs. Harman Edge, Eddie Edge, Mr. and Mrs. George Downey, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Garland Long, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Baker, Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Dameron of Salida, Colo.

The bride and groom are 1960 graduates of Hereford High School and will continue their education at Texas Tech in the fall. Mrs. Downey attended Texas as Christian University.

TO WED HEREFORD MAN—The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Sharon Inez McDaniel to Donnie Lynn King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis King of Hereford, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McDaniel of Dimmitt. Vows will be exchanged at 8 p.m. July 18 in First Assembly of God Church at Dimmitt. Miss McDaniel is a student at Dimmitt High School. King attended Hereford High School and is employed by Connor-Mathis Motor Machine Shop at Plainview. They will make their home in Plainview.

50th Anniversary Is Observed Today

The Summerfield Baptist Church will be the setting from 3-5 p. m. today for an open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance Sr. on their golden anniversary.

The reception will be hosted by their children and grandchildren.

Their children are Mrs. Reese Dawson, Earl Lance Jr. and C. J. Lance, all of Hereford; Jerry Don Lance and Mrs. Billie Herrington, Summerfield, and Mrs. David Hays of Dimmitt. They have 10 grandchildren.

Miss Rosa May Carl and Earl Lance were married June 20, 1920 in Hereford. They have been residents of this area for the past 50 years.

They reside at Route 3, Friona and are members of the Summerfield Baptist Church.

Program Provides For Crop Losses

If weather prevented planting of cotton, wheat or feed grains by producers signed up in these 1970 farm programs, they need not lose program benefits.

Frank Besner, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said that if the County ASC Committee determines an acreage of cotton, wheat or feed grain could not be planted during the normal planting season because of flood, drought, or other natural disaster, the producer still can earn program payments. The same is true for farm program participants whose crops are destroyed by natural forces.

In such cases, producers must file requests for acreage credit certifying they have been prevented from carrying out normal operations.

The first thing a farmer should do, Besner said, is get in touch with his County ASCS office and report the situation. He will receive a full explanation on 'prevented acreage' provisions in the 1970 farm program.

Approval of program benefits in these cases rests with the County ASC Committee. Producers filing requests for acreage credit must have made genuine efforts to plant and grow the crop in a workmanlike manner.

Besner reminded farmers that the provisions apply only to farmers who signed up in the 1970 feed grain, wheat and cotton programs and then were unable to plant or grow the program crops because of natural disaster.

FHA Students Receive Degrees Of Achievement

Twenty-three La Plata and Stanton Junior High School students have recently completed the requirements for the Junior Homemakers Degree of Achievement in the La Plata and Stanton Junior High FHA Chapters.

Those completing the requirements from La Plata were Connie Bartels, Patricia Brownlow, Catherine Emerson, LaNita Herr, Suzanne Hewitt, Melissa Johnson, Brenda Jolly, Debbie Hoover, Cathy Loerwald, Sharlene Powell, and Shalyn Sisson.

Students from Stanton earning degrees were Debbie Banner, Paulette Reinart, Jane Lyons, Barbara Kee, Carla Crist, Shella Lea, Pam Lindsey, Beverli Auten, Karen Smith, Sherrie Cobb, and Judy Marchman.

The Future Homemakers of America organization recognizes those girls through the Degrees of Achievement program for their effective work toward the purposes of the organization, contributions to the improvement of their chapters, homes, schools, and community, planning their growth as individuals, chapter members, home, school, and community members, and for having checked their progress as they carried out their plans.

Others assisting in the houseparty were Mrs. Leroy Johnson, Mrs. William Wimberley and Mrs. Eldon Owens.

For a honeymoon trip to points in Colorado, the bride's traveling ensemble was a lavender nylon knit dress with chiffon duster and white accessories. Her corsage of yellow roses was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

They will be at home July 1 at San Angelo where they will continue their education at San Angelo University.

The bride attended Hereford High School, Howard Payne College at Brownwood and plans to study nursing at San Angelo.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Roswell High School and is a sophomore business major at San Angelo.

Miss Stewart Marries In Ceremony At Church

Marriage vows of Miss Rosemary Margaret Stewart of Dawn and Gary Dale Dyches of Brownwood were spoken in a double ring ceremony at the Dawn Baptist Church at 8 p.m. Friday, with the Rev. F. E. Suttle, a retired Baptist minister, conducting the service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stewart of Dawn. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Pauline Dyches of Brownwood and D. D. Dyches of Fort Worth.

A pair of 7-branched candelabra entwined with greenery and white chrysanthemums formed a background for basket arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums at the altar.

Miss Alice Ann Caraway attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bobby Nele of Abilene, Miss Bette Stewart, both cousins of the bride and Miss Janene Suttle.

The best man was Greg Dyches of Brownwood, brother of the bridegroom and groomsmen were Asa Ralph Atchley of Texline, brother of the bride, and Bobby Nele, a cousin of the bride. Ushers were Bill Caraway and Eugene Suttle.

Candles were lighted by Miss Stefanie Haley and Steven Zink of Brownwood, cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Carl Wimberley, organist, and Mrs. Jerry Haley, pianist, presented a program of wedding music and accompanied the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ray Stewart, as she sang "A Time For Us," "Because" and "Wedding Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza and peau de soie exquisitely fashioned with appliques of Venice lace on the empire bodice and long sleeves. The delicate Venice lace appliques were repeated on the A-line skirt and Watteau train.

Her shoulder length bouffant veil of illusion was caught to a double tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls and she carried a cascade of yellow roses.

As the bride was escorted to the altar by her father, she presented her mother a yellow rose from her bouquet. As she was escorted out by the bridegroom, she presented his mother with the same token.

Lavender lace over taffeta made the princess styled gowns of the feminine attendants, trimmed with yellow ribbon. Their headpieces were yellow daisies with lavender ribbon and they carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies.

The bride and groom were honored at a reception immediately following the ceremony at the Fellowship Hall. Wedding guests were registered by Miss Vickie Oglesby of Old Ocean, Tex.

The bride's table was laid with white lace over yellow and held the 3-tiered wedding cake

For Women Men's Mind No Match For Women's Powers

The next time you hear of a friend's husband philandering and you worry over whether or not to clue her in, don't give it a second thought. "Chances are 99 to 1 that she already knows of her husband's activities. The only wife who is fooled by a husband's carryings-on is one that wants to be. Her psychic powers always tell her when something is wrong."

So says Jess Stearn, author of "Adventures Into the Psychic." He adds that "It's a rare woman whose subconscious isn't attuned to every little nuance of her man." Stearn, who first entered the world of the psychic in 1952 and whose latest book is just one of several he's written on the topic, believes that one reason "men are more jealous lovers than women is because, lacking this intuition, this psychic power, they have to be wary. They just don't get as many hunches."

Reeling off a list of America's leading clairvoyants — Jeane Dixon, who predicted President Kennedy's assassination; Helen Stalls, who in 1965 at a dinner party for Stearn and some friends prophesied Adlai Stevenson would die at a public place abroad shortly and that within two years Jacqueline Kennedy would marry a foreigner; and Anne Gehman, who is often consulted by Florida police who are seeking clues to unsolved crimes—Stearn pointed out that "women outnumber men psychics 10 to 1. Edgar Cayce and a few others are clearly exceptions."

"I have no doubt that women are far more psychic than men," says the former New York City newspaper reporter. "It's been a woman's nature, at least until this generation, to rely primarily on feeling, intuition and second-sense. Men are the conscious thinkers; women function largely by using their unconscious and that's where the psychic lies."

A woman's entire life is affected by the planets (the word menses is derived from moon) and women are clearly conscious of this, he explains. "Because the woman is the child bearer, she must understand the needs and wants of her child even before it is born." To back up his arguments, he cites incident after incident of women, who although occupied by a bridge game or other pastime, received premonitions that their children were endangered, only to rush home and find their premonitions borne out. "And of course, we've all heard of women who instinctively knew that their sons were wounded or killed in war."

"Although more and more women recently have entered the business world and consequently have trained their conscious minds to function logically, it will take several generations before women lose their psychic advantage over men," Stearn believes. "And who knows, women might revolt and go back to the home before then," chuckles the graying 6-footer.

Stearn admits that prior to 1952, he scoffed at any references to the psychic world. "If a girl I was dating suggested going to a fortune teller, I'd stop seeing her," says the man who now consults fortune tellers and other clairvoyants "all the time."

One day, while covering a story for the New York Daily News, Stearn found himself in mid-Manhattan and in need of a restroom. He walked upstairs to use a restaurant's facilities. Outside the door he encountered a woman who asked him, "Do you want a reading? I'm a sensitive." "I didn't know if she meant she'd read Dickens or what," he recalls. "But after she dropped a few eye openers—the fact that he was in the midst of getting a divorce, the fact that he wouldn't again see the girl with whom he was romantically involved at the time—his interest was peaked."

"Maya Perez was great. She predicted that I'd leave the newspaper business, that I'd write dozens of books and that the third book would become a best-seller."

(His third book, "The Sixth Man," dealing with homosexuals, did indeed make the best-seller charts.)

"Then in my interviews as a reporter I became aware of how many people, particularly women and especially actresses, were attuned to astrology, palmistry. This really deepened my interest in the field."

"I remember discussing fortune tellers with Grace Kelly," he recalled. "She told me about one reader who predicted she'd become a famous actress at a time when she couldn't even land a modeling job. And I remember Grace saying, 'But the fortune teller did tell me the silliest thing. She said I'd become a princess.' A year later Grace Kelly married the Prince of Monaco."

Stearn contends that everyone is more psychic than he realizes. Through training, such as yoga and other forms of medi-

Dawn Lions Club Install Officers Monday Night

Deputy District Governor of Region No. 5, Raymond White, was installing officers for the 1970-71 Dawn Lions Club officers in ceremonies held Monday evening in the Dawn Community Building, when members' wives were honored in Ladies' Night Activities.

Installed were Bob Strain, president; Wallace Shelton, Jr., secretary; Leroy Johnson, treasurer; Bill Cornett, tall twister; Ed Sowell, Lion tamer; and Ray Stewart and Roy Gwyn, directors. The new Lions Club Sweetheart, Carla Crist, replaces the

BLONDIE

DON'T FORGET, DEAR, THE DITHERS ARE COMING FOR DINNER THIS EVENING

WHAT ARE WE HAVING?

I DON'T KNOW... MR. DITHERS IS BRINGING THE FOOD

HE'S INVENTED ANOTHER ONE OF HIS FAMOUS MYSTERY DISHES AND WANTS US TO BE THE FIRST TO TASTE IT

THE LAST TIME I ATE ONE OF HIS MYSTERY DISHES I WAS IN BED FOR TWO DAYS

COME GET READY

NOW, DON'T MAKE ANY REMARKS... YOU KNOW HOW SENSITIVE HE IS

-YUK

RING

I HOPE IT'S BETTER THAN THAT POSSUM-NOODLE SOUP HE BROUGHT OVER LAST TIME

HERE IT IS... I HOPE YOU'RE ALL HUNGRY

A DELICATELY-SPICED MARRIAGE OF PICKLED OKRA CHOPPED SPINACH AND JELLED RHUBARB

THAT'S THE WORST MESS I'VE EVER SEEN! A BILLY GOAT WOULDN'T EAT IT!

OH, YEAH?

AND NOT ONLY THAT, YOU'RE FIRED!

MAYBE I WAS TOO HASTY... ACTUALLY, IT'S NOT BAD

MANDRAKE the MAGICIAN

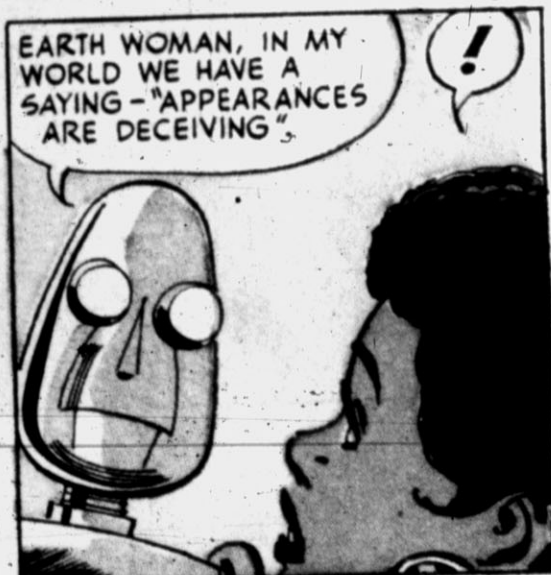

by LEE FALK

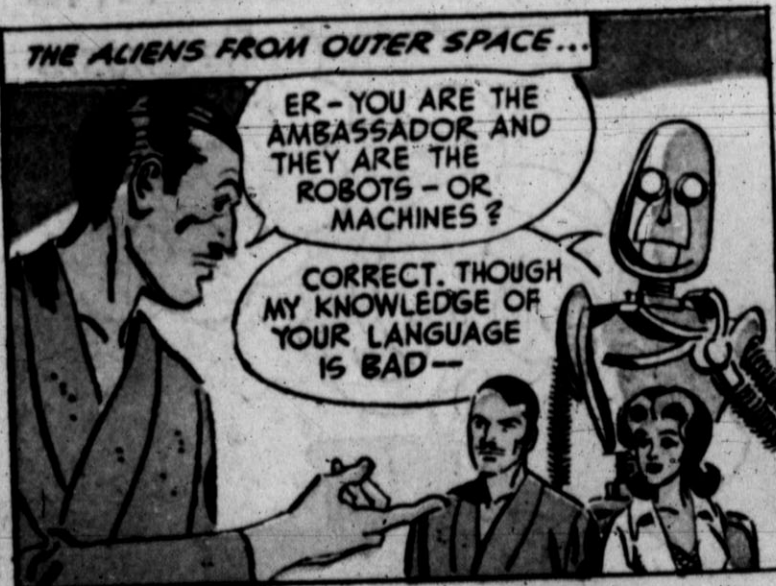

WHAT DID HE SAY?

HE SAID THEY ARE THE MACHINES.

THAT'S SILLY, HE LOOKS LIKE A MACHINE.

EARTH WOMAN, IN MY WORLD WE HAVE A SAYING - "APPEARANCES ARE DECEIVING"

THE ALIENS FROM OUTER SPACE...

ER - YOU ARE THE AMBASSADOR AND THEY ARE THE ROBOTS - OR MACHINES?

CORRECT, THOUGH MY KNOWLEDGE OF YOUR LANGUAGE IS BAD -

"PHOTOGRAPH" WOULD BE A BETTER WORD.

THEY ARE - PHOTOS?

AS YOU SAY - PHOTOS. LET ME REPRODUCE THIS EARTH WOMAN. HOLD STILL, PLEASE.

MY NAME IS KARMA.

BUT THAT'S MY NAME!

FANTASTIC! JUST LIKE YOU, KARMA.

EXACTLY. ASK A QUESTION.

WHEN WAS I BORN?

1950.

IT KNOWS!

IT KNOWS ALL YOU KNOW. YOUR BRAIN PATTERNS, SPEECH. ALL REPRODUCED, BUT SMALLER -

I DIDN'T BRING AN ENLARGER. I COULD MAKE THEM THE SAME SIZE AS YOU, OR LARGER.

CONT'D.

The PHANTOM

By Lee Falk

A SPECIAL DAY ON THE PHANTOM'S GOLDEN BEACH OF KEELA-WEE.

A RARE BEACH - THE SAND ACTUALLY ASSAYS 50% PURE GOLD. THE HUT IS CARVED JADE!

EACH SPRING - YOUNG COUPLES OF THE WAMBESI AND LLONGO TRIBES ARRIVE WITH THEIR PRIESTS FOR GREAT MASS WEDDINGS.

AN EVEN MORE UNUSUAL SIGHT - THE PHANTOM, REX, TOMM AND DEVIL ON A RAFT, PULLED BY DOLPHINS - SOLOMON (THE WISE) AND NEFERTITI (THE BEAUTIFUL)!

THE GOLDEN BEACH! SEE ALL THOSE PEOPLE?!

WHAT ARE THEY DOING? THEY'RE GETTING MARRIED!

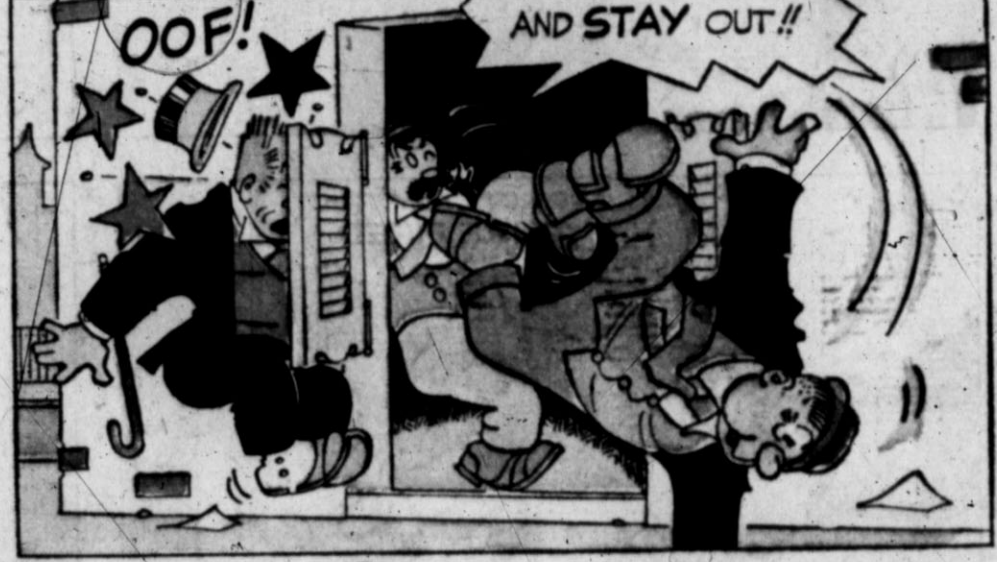

AND THE WEDDING IS INTERRUPTED.

TWO BABY ELEPHANTS FOR YOU FROM TRADER TIGARD —

WHAT IF THE AGENT NOTICES SEVERAL OF THE POACHED SKINS ARE MISSING FROM THE FALSE BOTTOM ?

HOW WOULD HE KNOW THE EXACT NUMBER OF ITEMS TIGARD SENT ?

ANYWAY, HE WON'T DARE UNLOAD THE SECRET HOLD UNTIL AFTER DARK — BY THEN WE'LL BE ON THE MAIL BOAT AGAIN —

DIDN'T I JUST TAKE YOU TWO UPRIVER A COUPLE OF DAYS AGO ?

THERE'S TIGARD, TIM. HE'S GOT NERVE!

DON'T GIVE THE SLIGHTEST HINT THAT WE DISCOVERED HIS TRICK —

THE ELEPHANTS WERE DELIVERED TO YOUR AGENT, TIGARD. NO TROUBLE AT ALL —

GOOD... GOOD... I SUPPOSE YOU ARE GOING ON OUT TO SITE SIX —

YES, WE STILL HOPE TO GET A JOB DIGGING FOR DOCTOR DARNELL —

IF HE DOESN'T FIX YOU UP, COME BACK — I HAVE A REAL MONEY-MAKING JOB FOR SOMEONE WHO CAN HANDLE ANIMALS!

WHAT ABOUT?

MEETING YOUR FATHER!

OH, HE'S NOT SO BAD.

I'VE HEARD STORIES!

I GUESS THERE HAVE BEEN SOME WILD SCENES!

I'LL NEVER FORGET WALLY WATSON!

WHAT HAPPENED TO HIM?

WELL, HE AND DADDY JUST DIDN'T HIT IT OFF.

YEAH?

DADDY THREATENED TO THROW WALLY OUT OF THE HOUSE AND WALLY DARED HIM TO TRY IT!

WE WANT TO BE FREE

WE WANT TO BE FREE

WE WANT TO BE FREE (MARKED DOWN FROM 98¢)

But isn't it true that the basic test of freedom lies not in what we are free to do, but rather in what we are free not to do? For in free countries, every man is entitled to express his opinions, and every other man is entitled not to listen. And who was it who said: "If any nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom, and the more of it it has, the more it will lose." It is not the love of money that is the cause of our troubles, but the love that too many of us have for the money.

All that is required for the triumph of evil is that good men remain silent and do nothing. As Jefferson said: "The time to guard against corruption and tyranny is before they have gotten hold of us. It is better to keep the wolf out of the fold than to have to draw his tail after he has entered." Simply recognizing evil is difficult enough; let alone knowing how to deal with it. For a person may be good to others not only by his actions but by his inaction.

Freedom means pursuing our own good in our own way, so long as we do not attempt to deprive others of theirs, or impede their efforts to obtain it. Making is the winner by allowing each one to live as seems good to themselves, thus by compelling each to live as seems good to the rest. Equality of opportunity to provide for one's self is an equal opportunity to provide for one's neighbor.

How then shall freedom be secured? By arms when it is attacked by arms; by truth when it is attacked by lies; by democratic faith when it is attacked by authoritarian dogma. Always, and in the final act, by dedication and faith. But what of the doctrine of turning the other cheek? Praying out would soothe all men so acted. Prayers good would do it, but it is not to be done. It would not do it. Prayers out would soothe all men so acted. Prayers good would do it, but it is not to be done. It would not do it. Prayers out would soothe all men so acted. Prayers good would do it, but it is not to be done. It would not do it.

For we know that to be happy is not the purpose of our being, but to deserve happiness. Yet we often seem to be more interested in making others believe we are happy than in trying to be happy ourselves. Happiness to me is living in a place where the things I love are most respected. A place where I can be myself, and become what I am capable of becoming. A place where gross intolerance will not be shown in support of tolerance. To live a life of neither wealth nor splendor, but one of tranquility and occupation. A life where I can be free to aim at excellence in my own way.

For it is better by far to do a mighty thing, win glorious triumphs, even though electioned by failure, than to take rank with those poor spirits who rather enjoy mud than suffer mud, because they live in the gray twilight that knows not victory nor defeat. And will we believe tomorrow what we believe today? I am reminded of the saying: "A woman's final decision is not necessary of the same as the one she makes later." Life is a splendid thing which we, as brightly as possible, are handing it on to future generations.
