

Holt Gets Democratic Nod Again In Local Race

Building Pace Here Continues

The city's residential building boom, which for the past few months slipped considerably, picked up during May as some 11 new homes were built. The May building permits totaled $374,255 for 34 issuances. The largest of the permits was two for $35,000 for the construction of new homes. The other new home starts ranged from a low of $24,000 to the high of $35,000.

May's total was the second highest monthly total for the year, surpassing last month's total by more than $44,000. The single highest month to date is February which saw $512,950 in permits issued.

In addition to the new home starts during the past month, residents continued to build or a substantial margin over Frances Farenthold in early returns for Governor.

Holt received 456 votes to win over E.H. "Gene" Loerwald who received 370. Holt got 391 votes in Box 1, 37 from Box 7 and 38 absentee in the race for Commissioner, Precinct 1.

Loerwald received 322 votes from Box 1, 18 from Box 7 and 30 absentee votes.

Early returns across the state showed Briscoe with an almost 2-to-1 margin over Mrs. Farenthold in the race for the governor's seat. On the Republican ticket, Hank Grover held a comfortable lead over Al Fay.

In this county, Briscoe drew 1,704 votes while Mrs. Farenthold drew only 500. Returns in many sections of the state showed Mrs. Farenthold losing in areas where she was expected to carry.

In the race for the U.S. Senate seat, Barefoot Sanders held an early lead over Ralph Yarborough and Sanders also carried this county by an almost 2-to-1 margin. Sanders received 1,437 votes to 739 for Yarborough.

The Lieutenant Governor's race, though close throughout the state in the early part of the election, was a run-away locally as the voters in this county gave overwhelming support to Wayne Connally. Connally received 1,556 while Bill Hobby got 641.

Robert S. Calvert carried this county, 1,199 to 945 for his opponent, James Wilson. The two were seeking the office of Comptroller of Public Accounts.

A smaller number of voters turned out Saturday for the Democratic Second Primary than did in the First Primary on May 6.

In Tuesday Election

Voters To Decide On School Bonds

BY MARSHALL DAY News Editor

The construction of a new elementary school and the massive renovation of many existing facilities will be put before the voters Tuesday in the form of a $1.3 million bond issue called by the school district.

Absentee voting in the bond issue ended Friday with well over 100 persons casting their ballots.

Voting in the Tuesday election will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Community Center.

The major item that will come out of the bond issue should it pass, would be the construction of a new elementary school to replace the old and out-dated Central Elementary School architect Herb Brasher said about $7,000,000 of the total bond issue would be needed for the construction of another elementary school while the remaining $650,000 would be required to completely renovate and add to several of the other school buildings in the system.

The bond issue would raise taxes only slightly, according to officials of the system. For a $20,000 home, the taxes would go up by only about $3 and for a prime section of irrigated land, the taxes would be up only about $25.

The calling of the bond issue came during a special meeting in May after several weeks of study by the school board and a special 25-member citizen's advisory group. The group selected at random by the school system, made a study of the various buildings where improvements were suggested, and returned with eight priority recommendations—the first of which was the abandonment of Central Elementary School and the construction of a new building.

The school board had decided on a bond issue late last year during a December meeting, but later that month a court decision in San Antonio cast a shadow of doubt on whether the district would proceed with the bond issue.

The court decision made in a suit against San Antonio's Edgewood system, ruled distribution of school taxes was unconstitutional. Tension over the issue eased later and since that time the local school system has pursued the bond issue.

Officials had hoped to call the bond issue in February and without an increase in taxes. That was the original plan and the original bond issue was not to have exceeded $500,000.

However, after the recommendations of the 25-member committee were reviewed, the board decided to proceed with the larger bond issue.

Four Persons Arrested For Burglary

Two juveniles and two adults, suspected of major felony crimes in the state of Kentucky, were arrested by local law enforcement authorities Friday morning and are being held in the county jail until Kentucky authorities can get here to pick them up.

The two adults and a juvenile boy are suspected of burglary of a school, grand larceny and arson in Winchester, Ky., according to local authorities.

The 15-year-old boy and 12-year-old girl were arrested along with Oscar Canter, 18, and Owen Douglas Crowe, 18, about 11:30 a.m. Friday about half a mile west of Hereford. The four were arrested after sheriff's officers saw them and thought their actions were suspicious.

The four were brought back to the sheriff's office where they were questioned. It was during the questioning that officers found that the two adults were wanted in Kentucky for the three charges and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Sheriff Travis McPherson said the four will remain in jail until authorities from Winchester arrive to take them back.

He said several hundred dollars worth of merchandise was found in the car when the youths were arrested. He said the merchandise is believed to be part of that taken from a burning building the youths are suspected of setting fire to.

Stan Kenton Concert Scheduled Today

Stan Kenton and his orchestra will give their delayed concert here at 3 p.m. today, for members of Hereford Community Concert Association. The nationally noted band will play in the high school auditorium.

Scheduled for an April appearance, the Kenton band canceled its concert, when transportation difficulties stopped their touring bus at Oklahoma City. Conflicting dates with various events in Hereford since that time prevented an earlier date for the postponed program.

Kenton has promised the Hereford CCA board that his musicians will repay members here for the delay, by presenting a special program. Admission is by CCA membership card only.

NEW CHAMBER BUILDING—The new Chamber of Commerce building is near completion. It is located on North Main Street and the chamber plans to have it open to the public within one month.

Chamber Facilities Almost Completed

The hustlin' Hereford Chamber of Commerce is hustling to move into its new office on Main Street, due to be officially opened to the public on July 3.

All that we really lack are the bathroom fixtures and carpet, Doris Hardin, chamber secretary said Friday. The rooms of the new building are paneled in ash, and the builder, Jay Swayze, is building desks for the offices to match the paneling. A large directors' room is located in the back part of the building. This room will also be used to accommodate meetings of other groups.

The Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of putting up the drapes in the new structure. The Hereford Garden Club will do the landscape work.

Another added feature of the new office will be the parking area surrounding it.

TRAVELERS—Ellis and Doris Craig of Clearwater, Fla., spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Hereford at the Riders Club Arena for the rodeo and Western Days activities. Hereford was their last stop on a two month tour of Texas. The couple planned to leave for Colorado this morning.

An Editorial

Voters in the Hereford School District have an important decision to make Tuesday... whether to approve a proposed $1.35 million capital improvements program.

On the basis of the needs as presented by the Hereford School Board, and backed by recommendations of a 25-member citizens advisory group, THE BRAND endorses the bond election and urges your consideration for passage of the issue.

Apparently there is no organized movement against the bond issue—in fact, there seems to be little discussion on the program. The complete reports of the study groups, and the outline of the proposed improvements have been presented in THE BRAND and we hope patrons of the school district have studied these findings.

Naturally, not all members of the advisory group were unanimous in every detail of school needs. However, the majority of the study group came up with eight priority recommendations, and school trustees followed these findings closely in presenting the proposed bond issue.

More than half of the bond total—$700,000—is earmarked for a new elementary school to replace the 61-year-old Central facility. This portion of the issue, alone, has apparently drawn support of the bond election from many voters. No one likes tax increases but, unlike some hikes on the state and federal levels, we can see and know where our money is being spent in the local school district.

With the tremendous growth of Hereford in the past decade, it is only natural that continuing improvements are necessary in our schools. We believe school trustees have made sound proposals, seeking to provide quality education without unnecessary "frills".

With these thoughts in mind, we urge your consideration in voting for the passage of the school bond proposals Tuesday.

Stay For Rodeo

Floridians Find Hereford Via Texas Travel Guide

BY GRANT MABRY Staff Writer

Life begins after retirement or such is the case for Ellis and Doris Craig of Clearwater, Fla. who spent three days in Hereford to see the rodeo.

Hereford was just one stop in a Texas tour for the couple. Since April 3, the Craigs have been traveling in Texas. During April and May they traveled on all of the 10 Texas Trails, set up by the Texas Highway Dept. In all, the Craigs have traveled 3,500 miles, just in Texas.

Hereford was the last stop on their Texas travel, now they plan to go to Colorado, Washington and possibly Alaska. How did they wind up in Hereford? They read about the rodeo in a folder put out by the highway department called the "Calendar of Texas Events."

The main source which drew the Craig's attention to the state was another highway department publication called "Texas-Land of Contrast," in which different points interest in Texas are discussed, and all 10 travel trails are illustrated.

"Ellis spent six hours reading that book, and we decided to try to travel at least part of each trail," Mrs. Craig said.

Along with the book one can get folders for each trail, which are more detailed. The Craigs did this and literally covered the state, sometimes changing from one trail to another, then catching the same trail and finishing it where it connected with another.

"I think each part was so different that I couldn't pick any one as the most interesting," he said.

"Texas is, like the book says, a land of contrast. It has everything—mountains, lakes, desert, forests, cities, farm land and ocean. In Texas you can see everything, where in other states you might only see two or three different parts," Craig said.

"Florida is getting too crowded," he said, "the main problem is that the highways have not been improved to meet

Hereford State Bank Celebrates Silver Anniversary

BY GRANT MABRY
Staff Writer

Money may not grow on trees, but it has done a lot of growing during the past 25 years at the Hereford State Bank.

This month marks the 25th anniversary of the Hereford State Bank. The bank got its charter on June 16, 1947. At the end of its first year, total deposits amounted to $1,406,441.79 compared to a total of $14,971,221.22 recorded deposits as of April 18, 1972.

Records show that the first day's deposits for the 1947 opening of the Hereford State Bank added up to be $54,261.48. The initial capital structure of the bank was $110,000 divided into units of $50,000 capital stock, $40,000 surplus and $20,000 undivided profits and reserves. The last official statement shows the current capital stock as $150,000, surplus as $850,000 and undivided profits and reserves as $463,120.38. Comparing these figures an impressive growth has indeed taken place in the past 25 years.

The men who served on the first board of directors were J.R. Allison, G.W. Brumley, Roger Brumley, J.G. Evans, A.V. Hendrick, O.G. Hill Jr. and Dudley Green. William R. Phillips was the first cashier.

The current directors are J.R. Allison, O.L. Bybee, Jeff Carlile, Howard Gault, W.N. Hodges, R.T. O'Daniel and Harlan D. Vander Zee.

The Bank has had six presidents in its history, those men are A.V. Hendricks, George Brumley, Jim Bob Allison, Townsend Douglas, Russell Carver and Harlan Vander Zee, the present president.

Vander Zee shares his position with Jeff Carlile. He and Carlile gained controlling interest and came into the bank in April of 1967.

Wayne Williams, senior vice-president and cashier, is the employe with the longest tenure in the organization. Williams was employed by the bank in June of 1948 about a year after the bank had opened. He has worked at the bank for the past 24 years except for a short leave while he was in the armed service. Other officers include Waldo Baxter, Craig Smith and Steve Hodges loan officers; and Nadine Wade, Marie Maxwell, Norma Coffey and Steve Gilbert who are assistant cashiers.

During Allison's tenure as president of the bank, the first drive-in windows were opened in Hereford. That was in June of 1950 and may well have been one of the first banks in the Panhandle to provide this banking service.

The present drive-in facilities were completed in the summer of 1970. They are positioned away from the bank and deposits are brought to the bank from the teller boxes via pneumatic tubes that run underground. Underneath these teller boxes is a tunnel which will connect them with the new bank building being planned for the future.

Plans for a new building program are still under consideration, but no date has been set concerning such a program, Vander Zee said.

Along with the growth of accounts came the need for a quicker and more effective bookkeeping system. Today the bank has fully computerized bookkeeping to provide the most up-to-date banking service to its customers.

According to Vander Zee the demand for loans have grown proportionately with the growth of the farm, ranch, commercial and consumer needs of the area. This growth has been continuous and has almost doubled within the last five years.

"Growth of any bank is due to the confidence and support of the bank's customers, and every effort is made to provide the most convenient and sound banking accommodations to the people of this area," Vander Zee said.

crowded that when they pulled over to stop they were ordered to move on for fear that a tourist might tear something up, mess it up or cause a traffic jam.

"Texas has a great potential to increase its tourism," Craig said, "through publications such as the ones I have read people will want to see it. I would like to see the Valley area get more publicity, because a lot of people from out of state don't realize that you can spend a nice warm winter in the Texas Valley."

In conclusion the Craigs both agreed that Texas is indeed "a land of contrasts."

Summer School Tops Enrollment Record

BY LORI HOPSON
Staff Writer

Classes will begin Monday in the area's summer migrant program at Tierra Blanca Elementary School for over 900 students a record number for the three years the program has been in operation.

The program began with in-service instruction sessions for teachers and enrollment Thursday and Friday. Enrollments had already reached the 900 mark as of May 25 and an additional 35 students had enrolled by Friday. This large number of students indicates growing concern on the part of parents for their children's education and recognition of the value of keeping their children in school, according to Mrs. E.D. Hopson, supervisor of the summer program and director of elementary instruction for the local district.

"Other reasons for the high enrollment number are the strict enforcement of the state's child labor laws; and the efforts of Paul Abalos, our parental involvement man, who has worked all winter to encourage parents to see that their children are enrolled in the school," she added.

Mrs. Hopson also commented that the program may have to request additional facilities if all of the enrolled students attend classes.

The program, which is for pupils formerly enrolled in the four-year-old program, children of kindergarten age and children who have attended classes through the eighth grade level, includes a curriculum of arts and crafts, physical education, recreation, math, an experimental science project, and conservation studies which will encourage a concern for the environment.

Each of these classes will include references to the theme of the school: "I an HERE — HERE is my environment," and will employ visual aids, recordings, and field trips to teach language development while encouraging concern for the environment.

"This is in keeping with the growing national concern for ecology," said Mrs. Hopson.

J.C. Brown, representative of the Texas Soil Conservation Service will help organize the conservation program, which will include hikes and camping trips where the students will learn safety procedures, and the ecological and environmental aspects of camping.

when he reaches school Monday morning.

Buses will run on Highway 60 to Dawn, return on the Loop by the dump-ground, up 15th Street to Avenue K, along Brevard, Irving, Blevins, Park between K and 385, to Deaf Smith Feed Yard (Gentry Farm), to Milo Center, on 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th, streets in town. Also along Star, Greenwood, Moreman, Texas, Buena Vista, Knight, Higgins and west on Harrison Highway to Westway. Other streets include Second from K, Third to Lee, Miles, Dairy Road, South Progressive Road, Austin Road and the Funk's Grocery area. Another bus will go out Highway 60, through the Labor Camp, down Easter Road and the Dimmitt Highway. Adjustment will be made for children after school.

The school features health services, two meals and a snack, and all materials and supplies at no cost to the students or their parents. Financed by the Texas Education Agency migrant division, the school uses no local funds to operate. Each year the local school district applies to the Tex. Ed Agency, and requests funds according to the number of migrant children present in the area, the curriculum to be included, the size of the staff, and salaries to be paid.

The school system will employ approximately 55 professional persons and some 40 bi-lingual teachers aides to administer the program. The teaching staff is balanced with about nine teachers from each of the local elementary schools participating.

Differing from the traditional method of teaching, the summer program will encourage learning language skills while participating in recreation activities, arts and crafts, and conservation programs. "It means more to the children this way," said Mrs. Hopson.

Eleanor Hudspeth Retires After 30 Years Teaching

BY LINDA HALLOWS
Staff Writer

After 30 years of excellent service to several communities, Mrs. Eleanor Hudspeth, 405 West Third, a person who considers an education an important facet of life, is one of four teachers retiring from the Hereford Public School System this year.

Out of those thirty years, 26 have been spent teaching in Hereford. She has taught at Stanton the past 21 years, Hereford High School for five years, two years at Texline, one at Wildorado and one in Dimmitt.

Her teaching has been anything from fourth grade to high school which also includes being a librarian. Since moving to Hereford in 1934, she has taught only math.

Concerning the career of teaching for herself, Mrs. Hudspeth says, "Well, I went to a little country school and was in the sixth grade. The teacher was so pretty and so smart. She let some of us grade papers sometimes and that was it. I decided that's what I could do—be a teacher just like her."

"After I became a teacher and had all those papers to grade, that was the thing that I disliked the most," she adds. After she finished high school, she was looking forward to college with great anticipation. Her brother had a serious disease and her father explained to her that he could not possibly put her through college.

For four years, after high school graduation, she worked here and there doing different things trying to decide if there was anything else that she might be interested in to make a career of.

One job she was holding down was being an employee at the post office. She tried hard to see a future in that but all of a sudden could see herself getting "absolutely nowhere fast and that was it!"

"I quit and decided that if I could work that I could work and go to college. That way I could get that education that I wanted so much," Mrs. Hudspeth recalls.

She attended West Texas State University and majored in math and social studies. She received both her master and bachelor degrees from WT.

"Math has been an easy thing for me," says Mrs. Hudspeth. "When I was living at home, I was the oldest and as each of my two brothers and one sister came through school, they needed help with their math. They would go to Dad, and he'd call me in to help them."

She started her teaching service during the days of the depression and as she says, "That was no time to start teaching. We got paid so little at that time."
"But I know that was the fated vocation for me. When I was alone, I had one daughter and it was time for her to begin school. This way we could both leave and come home at the same time and could be together most of the time."

Eleanor Hudspeth is one teacher that has been through the "old math" and the "new math" and doesn't see the difficulty and complete change that so many parents think there is.

"All the changes that there have ever been, have been gradual ones. The mathematics that are now being taught are only being taught at a higher level.

"Like the math that I learned in high school is what I've been teaching in junior high. When this "new math" was first introduced, all math teachers took a course on it. We all had our textbooks and learned right along with our kids."

How does it feel to be a retired teacher? Mrs. Hudspeth says she won't know until this fall when it's time to go back to school. "All I can think of now are the things that I don't intend to do, like setting the alarm and substitute teaching."

One thing she intends on doing is staying very busy. She enjoys her yardwork, housework, plans to read alot, sews for herself and knits. She also likes to bowl.

"I'm not real good at bowling but I do like to play. Each time I play a game, I tell myself that wasn't good enough but next time I can do this and that, then I'll be satisfied," she says.

"I don't intend to leave Hereford either," speaking of her favorite town. "I have so many friends here and this is just my home."

She and a sister from Amarillo have plans to go to their high school reunion this summer and wonder "how in the world all those people got to be so old?"

Mrs. Hudspeth has two daughters which also will go on her list to visit this summer. They are Jo Merritt of Santa Ana, Calif. and Sara Matthews, who resides near Dallas.

She is also very proud of her six grandchildren and one new great-granddaughter.

Mrs. Hudspeth was born in Summerfield and has lived in several places in the north end of the Panhandle throughout her life. She spent one summer in Florida and one fall in Little Rock, Ark. but has decided that the Panhandle is the place for her.

Mrs. Hudspeth has enjoyed her work and though not everyone thinks it would be the most exciting thing, it's "what I have enjoyed doing."

"I just think that the only way you can get through life is to do your job, do it well, try to be happy and find something to do. I can't just sit. That's why I've got plenty of other things that I want to continue and work on from now on," Mrs. Eleanor Hudspeth concluded.

Mrs. Eleanor Hudspeth retires after 30 years

FARMERS BEWARE

The following two articles were printed on May 31, 1972 in the Amarillo Globe-Times:

Specialist at A&M Sees Big Cut In $55,000 Farm Support Ceiling

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Farmers receiving the maximum government support payment of $55,000 for each crop program should expect to see each payment cut 60 to 80 per cent in 1974, a Texas A&M specialist predicted.

"It is inevitable that the ceiling will be lowered with the next farm bill, which is being drafted now," Dr. Clive R. Harston of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at A&M said. "The question will only be by how much."

Harston is a specialist in agricultural policy in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

He said that there is some talk of doing away with support payments altogether, but none is in effect since 1971. But realistic expectations are that the ceiling will be lowered to $20,000 or $10,000 per person per acre. A major farm organization already has endorsed the $20,000 limitation, and is getting the support of many congressmen considered sympathetic to agriculture, Harston said.

Harston said congressmen are friendly to agriculture, because they are such a small minority. "They must make concessions and adjustments with non-farm minorities to get approval of support programs."

"Some of those who advocate lowering payment ceilings believe such action will save the government a great amount of money," Harston said. "But it is unlikely this will happen."

The $55,000 limitation was established in 1971. But the big operator produces more — and obviously receives higher support payments.

Farm Population Is Down 300,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The farm population dropped nearly 300,000 last year while total population rose, the government reported Tuesday.

The latest figures, released by the Census Bureau, showed 9,425,000 persons lived on farms, compared with 9,712,000 in 1970.

Meanwhile the total U.S. population rose to 205,669,000 in 1971 from 203,233,000 in 1970.

The changes left farm people at 4.6 per cent of the U.S. population, compared with 4.8 in 1970, the bureau said.

Ten years earlier, farmers and their families totaled 14.8 million and represented 8.1 per cent of the U.S. population.

Colt Tryouts Set For 2 P.M. Today

The fate of Colt League baseball in Hereford may be determined this afternoon when a sign-up and tryout session is scheduled for 2 p.m. in Pony League Park.

Two previous sign-up meetings have failed to turn up enough 15 and 16-year-old boys to have the summer program. John Bunch, president of Boys' Baseball Program, urged all interested boys to report at 2 p.m. this afternoon and to "contact other boys who want to play."

He emphasized that the league plans to have night games in order that boys who have summer jobs can still participate. League officials decided that this might be one of the factors which was keeping boys from signing up for the program.

Bunch said league games need to be started next week if "there is to be a Colt League this summer." He added that there is only five weeks of playing time remaining before a tournament team would have to be selected.

Boys' baseball officials had started a new Colt League Park, near the Pony field, but the fate of the new park may also hinge on response to the program this summer.

Officials said Pony League Park would be used for the Colt games, if the league gets underway. An additional pitcher's mound would be added to the Pony field. The Colt League would play late games two nights a week—on nights when just one Pony game is on the schedule.

"We can't understand why more boys have not signed up for this league," Bunch stated. "It seems there would be enough boys in the 15-16 group to have four teams here, but we may be lucky to get three," he added.

Women Scheduled For Sign-Up

A more than determined group of women have set up plans for this year's Hereford Women's Softball League.

"This year it's going to work," was the report from one of the representatives.

"Our main interest this summer is to establish a strong program in hopes that maybe by next summer we can have an additional program for the younger girls of the community," said Linda Hagar.

Two different registration dates and times have been set up for those interested. The first registration will be held Saturday during the afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m. at 122 Cherokee. The next registration will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Tuesday, June 13 at 606 Avenue G.

Women aged 13 through 73 are eligible to participate in the Hereford Women's League. All players, old and new, must register on the dates set, and are urged to pay their player dues at that time.

Mother and daughter applicants are encouraged by the league. Additional information may be obtained by calling 364-3551 or 364-0706.

Pimlico racetrack, home of the Preakness, is in its 102nd season.

Kiwanis Finish Golf Tournament

During the past week the local Kiwanis participated in a tournament between the noon and breakfast clubs.

A total of 33 Kiwanis participated, 25 from the Noon Kiwanis and 8 from the Breakfast Kiwanis. Scoring for the event was "done under" the Callaway Handicap system.

In a close race, the noon club won over the breakfast club 74.08 to 74.375. "Bub" Sparks of the noon club and Bill Penn of the breakfast club had the low gross scores of 76 each. Charles Duvall had the low net score with a 71.

ELECTRONIC RESULTS MOUNTAIN TOP, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-five thousand semiconductors, each about the size of a pea, will help activate the electronic scoreboards at the Olympic Games in Munich this summer.

The transistor devices, called triacs, were produced at RCA's solid state division facility here and will trigger 75,000 bulbs, each of 25 watts, to flash results and other messages on 30 by 60-foot scoreboards.

Local winners will advance to district contests on June 17 to be held at Potter County Stadium in Amarillo. Winners from there will go to division competition at the Astrodome on June 24.

Plaques and jacket patches will be awarded to winners and runners-up at each level of competition.

Eight boys will go to the finals to be held at the All-Star Game in Atlanta on July 25. There four championships will be decided.

ALL-STARS ON TV CHICAGO (AP)—The 39th annual College All-Star football game to be played at Soldier Field on Friday, July 28 will be televised by ABC. The game will pit the Dallas Cowboys, National Football League champions, against seniors who played during the 1971 college season.

Baseballers Sell Tickets To Banquet

A sports banquet will be held June 30 to honor all boys who participate in the local baseball programs.

Cliff Harris, a free safety for the world champion Dallas Cowboys, will be the guest speaker for the affair. Along with the speech and awards will be a chicken dinner. Tickets are being sold by team members of the local baseball program for $1.75.

This will be the first sports banquet of its kind for younger boys in Hereford. The Hereford State Bank will sponsor the event.

Local PHT Date Nears

Registration for the local Pitch Hit and Throw competition (PHT) will end Monday.

Boys aged 9 through 12 are eligible for the competition to be held on June 10 at the Bronco League Ball Park.

Any eligible boy interested in PHT may register at any of the three registration places. Locations are West Park Phillips 66, East Side Phillips 66 and West 60 Truck Stop.

Now in its third year, PHT is sponsored by Major League Baseball in conjunction with Phillips Petroleum Company. Each boy competes with boys of his own age in three events, pitching for accuracy, hitting for distance and throwing for accuracy. Winners are determined on the basis of total scores.

Local winners will advance to district contests on June 17 to be held at Potter County Stadium in Amarillo. Winners from there will go to division competition at the Astrodome on June 24.

Plaques and jacket patches will be awarded to winners and runners-up at each level of competition.

What's Happening Where

DIMITT — Sunshine returned to Castro County Tuesday after five days of rain and overcast skies. Small hail covered the ground during some thunderstorms, and high winds ripped branches from many trees around town.

In Dimmitt, Howard Cook, U.S. Weather Observer, recorded a total of 1.11 inches of moisture for the five-day period. Hart received the most rain with 1.25 inches, mixed with pea to marble-size hail.

CANYON—The rain that covered the county last weekend was very significant for Randall County farmers, according to John Brazzil, county agent.

"It looks like we received about an inch all over the county," Brazzil said. "This will keep our grazing grass green and keep it growing, since we are in the cattle business this will really help us. The rains we got a couple of weeks ago helped, but it did not cover the county then."

MULESHOE—An area east of Muleshoe, from the new Ramage Feedyard to just east of Muleshoe Water Works, was hit by damaging hail Saturday afternoon about 5 p.m.

Several cars were off the road as a result of the severe hail. County maintainers were called to blade off the hailstones and prevent possible auto accidents.

Alton Burton, Muleshoe Fire Department, reported the hail varied in size from marble to golf ball dimensions. Bar ditches in the area were covered with more than six inches of hail.

TULIA—Construction of Mackenzie Dam and a partial water filtration system received the go-ahead Wednesday night when members of the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority agreed to receive bids on the project until June 27, when bids would be opened in Tulia.

The project was approved by voters from Tulia, Floydada, Lockney and Silvertown in 1969. Costing approximately $8 million, the dam will be located west of Tule Creek bridge on FM-284, about seven miles northwest of Silvertown and 21 miles east of Tulia.

PERRYTON—Citizens of Perryton and Ochiltree County are being asked by the Chamber of Commerce to register a protest against the Federal Occupation Safety and Health Act as far as it pertains to small businesses and farmers.

The act became law in June, 1971, but only in the past few months have inspectors from the U.S. Department of Labor been in the field.

A meeting was held Thursday night where local accountant Jerry Wilson attempted to outline the provisions of the act. This was obviously impossible to do since the language is contained in 248 pages of fine print, dealing in great detail with what employers can and cannot do.

LITTLEFIELD—Tornadoes, high winds, hail and driving rain lashed Lamb County Saturday afternoon. A tornado was reported on the ground near Sudan.

The immediate Littlefield area and east of Sudan bore the brunt of the storm. Condition of area crops depend on how much and how hard the rain fell. Some farmers are talking in terms of June cotton again.

Water Sports Catching On Throughout Country

Ask the first 100 people you meet what their favorite sport is and chances are good that at least 70 will say swimming. Even golf and fishing have taken back seats as sport choices, a recent nationwide survey shows.

Thousands of new pools will be constructed this year throughout the nation. In Texas at this moment well over 50,000 pools are attracting swimmers like bees to a flower.

This is all to the good, because an agreement with the Brownfield Development Corp., contingent upon obtaining a sufficient labor force; it was announced Friday by John Thomas, president of the Terry County Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture.

—The Brownfield News

swimming lends itself to social adjustment. It teaches coordination and builds stamina and character. A child who overcomes fear of water has learned courage.

But there are also elements of risk. This accelerated interest in swimming creates hazards to life and limb, and dangers of disease transmission. That's why the State Health Department conducts courses to teach pool operators the various skills of their jobs.

"Short schools" for pool operators are concentrated during the months of spring and early summer, the intention being to enroll as many operators as possible before hot weather and overflow crowds make it hard for them to get away from their work.

—The Brownfield News

Beach and Pool Association, courses consist of six hours of intensive technical and practical instruction. It covers such things as how to disinfect the water, and how to control water acidity. Water acidity, incidentally, is the factor which causes swimmers' eyes to burn, rather than chlorine as is popularly supposed.

The course also covers pool safety, bathroom sanitation, and the various filtering systems used by modern pools. How important are swimming pools as links in the chain of disease transmission? Eye, ear, nose and throat, skin and intestinal infections are among the most common conditions spread in swimming pools. Typhoid fever and diarrheal diseases have been traced to neighborhood pools.

Most prevalent, however, is ringworm of the feet, commonly called "athlete's foot." It is not contracted in pool water, but by walking on wet walks and floors, on which the spores of the infection flourish.

In well operated pools there is little chance of contracting any of these conditions. That's the reason for the Department's emphasis on swimming pool sanitation.

Swimmers, too, have a responsibility toward pool cleanliness. Like most public places, a pool quickly assumes the character of its least desirable patron.

But when state and local health authorities, pool operators, and pool patrons join hands to make swimming what it should be—wholesome, safe, and fun—the results can be highly beneficial. That kind of cooperation is now going on throughout Texas.

Before this year is over, State Health Department instructors will have provided personalized instruction to some 1,300 operators of public and semi-public pools. Moreover, the Department will welcome owners of private pools to the instruction if they want to take part, but most of the emphasis will understandably be on pools which serve the public.

Towns and cities in which programs have been conducted so far this year include Odessa, El Paso, Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Bay City, Longview, La Marque, Houston, Commerce, Fort Worth, Beaumont, Richardson, Irving, Dallas, Edinburg, and Corpus Christi.

Programs will be held in the next few weeks in Arlington and Dallas.

All instruction is augmented with an illustrated manual, with selected films on good pool operation and management, and with color slides illustrating good and poor conditions.

Western Days End With A Bang

Western Days wound up with a bang Saturday. With a little fiddle playing to start the day, a parade, some tobacco spitting, gun fighting, cow chip throwing and watermelon seed spitting.

The Old Fiddlers' contest started with the preliminary competition at 9 a.m., lasting most of the morning. There were 21 contestants for the event, with 19 showing up. The first of its kind in Hereford, it drew fiddlers from three states, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. There were young and old, amateurs and professionals, and even a world champion on hand for the opening of the Old Fiddlers' contest sponsored by the Lions Club.

Each fiddler was required to play two songs during the morning and two more if he made the finals. Ten contestants were chosen to go to the finals where they split $500.

Raymond Brown of McAdoo won the champion title of the contest. With it he received $150 and became an honorary Hereford Bull. Henry Lester of Dalou won second and there was a tie for third between Jim Lewis of Sudan and Norman Solomon of Boyd. Bill King of Shamrock was fifth, Ace Sowell of Chickasha, Okla. was sixth, Mrs. Donnie Anderson of Lovington, N.M. was seventh, Barto Riley of Olton was eighth, Bobby Scruggs of Amarillo took ninth and Carl Laufflin of Wheeler was tenth.

There were 15 entries in the downtown parade which took place at 3 p.m. Winners of the float division were the Hereford Jaycees, first; Miss Teenage Hereford, second; and the Merry Mixers, third.

Following the parade, E.J. Milton won the tobacco spitting contest with a mighty spit of 29 feet 6 inches. Alfonso Martinez won the watermelon seed spitting contest with a flight of 24 feet.

Leon Gorrell won the beard growing contest and the Rev. Bill Lang placed second.

No winners were determined in the cow chip throwing contest, but the skies of Hereford made some folks wonder if the ag extension service might have developed a flying herd of cattle.

From the crowd and participation in the Western Days events, Hereford's first Western Day was a success.

4-H Clubs Send 22 To State

Winners in district 4-H Club contests, 22 members of Deaf Smith County clubs will compete next week in the state 4-H Roundup at A&M University. State winners will be eligible for national competition.

A chartered bus will take the 4-H members and adult sponsors to College Station, leaving the county parking lot north of the courthouse at 9 a.m. Monday. It will return Thursday night after a stop at Six Flags near Arlington.

As individual contestants, Chris Marnell will be an entrant in the clothing division, Sue Shirley in foods, Twig Rose in farm and ranch management, Kathy Vogel in food and nutrition.

Randy Coleman and Eddie Murchison enter team competition in farm and ranch management, DeeAnn Douglas and Mickey Ginn in an electric demonstration, Glenda Dodson and Carmela Burges in safety, Jimmy Foster and Rodney Coleman in vegetable production and marketing.

The four-man livestock judging team includes Britt Hicks, Ricky Coleman, Sandra Stallings and Roger Sanders. A singing group, the Liberty Belles, will compete in share-the-fun contests. In the group are Caye and Lynette Clearman, Beverly Cole, Cynthia Smart, Gayle Tucker and Monica Herring.

Adults making the trip are

Joyce Shipp and Robert Devin, assistant county agents in charge of the 4-H program; Justin McBride, county farm agent; Mmes. Floyd Cole, Norene Stallings, Bob Ginn and Hugh Clearman.

A committee comprising Dick Montgomery, Mrs. Austin Rose Jr., Jay Boston, Homer Garrison and Virgil Marsh, with sponsoring firms, made the trip possible.

The business firms are Hereford State Bank, First National Bank, Pitman Grain, Southwest Feed Yard, Deaf Smith Electric Co-op, West Texas Telephone Co-op, Federal Land Bank, Hereford Grain Corp., Garrison Seed & Co., Champion Feed Yards, Pioneer Natural Gas.

'Conserving' The Insect Problem

Words like "conservation" and "utilization" are common in discussions about soil or water in the High Plains, but researchers and producers are beginning to use these words to describe solutions to the insect problem.

Dr. George Teetes, a grain sorghum insect researcher for Texas A&M University, emphasizes that beneficial insects must be conserved and utilized as a major part of an integrated approach to pest management. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station employee is working on a long-range greenbug control program at A&M's Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

"Management does not mean total elimination of insect pests," Teetes explains. There must be enough pests left in the field to allow the beneficial insect population to be maintained. Research at Lubbock and other places has shown that insecticide rates can be manipulated to keep the greenbug population below an economically-damaging level, yet retain enough beneficial insects to keep the remaining greenbugs under control.

Teetes further explains that pest management is based on the principle of depending on insecticides only when insect populations approach damaging levels. Then chemicals are used only at rates to keep the population from exceeding an economic threshold.

"This threshold level, however, must be based on sound research," he emphasizes, "this is one of our main areas of study."

Although the greenbug is the key pest of grain sorghum in the High Plains, much of the chemical application is for control of the corn leaf aphid. Research has shown that this aphid is important in the initial buildup of beneficial insects which later attack the greenbug.

Teetes and his co-workers presently have research underway to determine the efficiency of predation and the influence of these predators on the rates of greenbug increase.

"Conservation of naturally-occurring beneficial arthropods, would logically be very helpful in reducing the chance of outbreaks of secondary pests which so often follow heavy insecticide use," Teetes adds. He explains that the Banks grass mite may represent an example of this type of situation, and is currently being studied by the A&M researchers at Lubbock.

Pest management schemes should not be limited to single crops," Teetes says. In the South Plains, which is basically a bi-culture of cotton and grain sorghum, researchers are interested in the movement of beneficial insects from grain sorghum to cotton. Grain sorghum is apparently the incubation site for large numbers of beneficial insects which become very important in the management of cotton pests.

"Past experience and present-day pressures make it obvious that total dependence on insecticides for pest control is not a wise approach," the scientist concludes. Alternate methods, such as pest management schemes, are built on years of research; and Teetes says the studies should result in better tactics in the fight against insect pests.

NEW YORK (AP) — Four American Ballet Theater artists will appear at a memorial benefit performance June 8 at the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires in memory of eight of Argentina's leading dancers, recently killed in a plane crash.

Eleanor D'Antuono and Ted Kivitt will dance the "Don Quixote" pas de deux. Cynthia Gregory and Ivan Nagy will appear in the "Black Swan" pas de deux.

Funeral Planned Monday For W.A. Johnson

Officiating for the service will be J.T. Marlin, minister of Central Church of Christ of which Mr. Johnson was a member. His grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

He married Hattie Jane Wagon in Elida, N.M., and she survives him.

Also surviving are two daughters, Mmes. Harvey Lindsey and Earl Waits of Hereford; seven sons, Leonard and Emmitt of Hereford, Carl and Clyde of Amarillo, Perry and Cliff of Phoenix, Ariz., and Tom of Atwater, Calif.; a sister, Mary Bingham of California, and a brother, Claud, of Hobart, Okla., 19 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

FLYING GOLFER

BY TOM EASTERN

Scuba diving, snorkeling, skin diving, glittering new hotels, elegant cafes, spectacular entertainment, unlimited sightseeing, an international shopping bazaar, white sandy beaches, a fabulous casino... The Bahamas Islands have it all.

All this, and more too, but best of all is the challenging, exciting golf you find on magnificently manicured courses where some of the world's best architects exercised their creative ingenuity to the fullest.

Once you've played golf in the Bahamas with its vistas of spectacular beauty, you're spoiled for life.

It is here you'll find some of the most interesting courses ever devised by man, and where you are able to play all 365 days a year in ideal weather.

Only 60 miles east of Palm Beach, the 700 Bahama Islands extend all the way to Haiti and it is only 30 minutes from Miami via Eastern Airlines.

Vacationers have their choice of a galaxy of championship courses and superb resort hotels.

Grand Bahama Island features five great courses the most popular of which is the King's Inn Golf Club with its magnificent Emerald and Ruby courses and the internationally-famed ocean-side layout of the Grand Bahama Golf Club.

You can also delight to the pine-bordered fairways set in rolling landscape at the Lucayan Country Club, the 6,859-yard links which initiated the Freeport golf boom, and the wide fairways and gentle rough which distinguishes the Bahama Reef G.C.

Nassau offers 23 acres of tropical garden, paradise at the Emerald Beach Plantation, the 6,560 yard, par 71 Coral Harbor Hotel course; the Lyford Cay Club along seaside in New Providence; the Cotton Bay Club in Eleuthera, a fine test perched atop a bluff, and the exquisite seaside Nassau Beach Golf Club, where the Duke of Windsor is a member.

All of these golf resorts are included among the 25 famous golf holiday packages created by Jack Nicklaus for Eastern Airlines.

The most talked about hole in the entire Caribbean South Atlantic area is the ninth at the King's Inn Emerald Course. It is a 543 yard, par five, with a dog leg and a lagoon to the left and traps to the right. It's lined with towering pines and requires precise control of every shot.

Universally acclaimed as a dream course, the 6,836 yard par 72 Grand Bahama Golf Club layout is located on the West end of Grand Bahama Island. The ocean-side links is heavily trapped from start to finish. Probably the most beautiful hole is the par-four, 397 yard second with a slight dog leg and lake snuggling up from the left. Traps protect the scenic green overlooking the Gulf Stream on the left, right and to the rear.

Cattle Squeeze

New, All Metal Construction

TECO's new Cattle Squeeze is constructed entirely of steel for a life-time of efficient operation. This new squeeze is automatic, safe, portable, extremely efficient and fast operating. Patented triple-action headgate adjusts in height for any size animal—closes quickly, locks automatically and swings open to permit animal to leave through the front. Neck lever has handy foot pedal release. Special safety feature requires down pressure on the neck lever foot pedal release before it can be tripped—operator must always have his hand on the lever as it goes up. A new, longer model of the famous TECO Cattle Squeeze is also available to handle the larger beef breeds.

Handles the widest cow with safety to man and animal. Heavy duty rope operated squeeze catches down both sides together simultaneously, keeping animal on its feet, locks automatically and releases instantly by a trip rope.

A special trailer is made by TECO for easy loading of the Cattle Squeeze to cutting range corals. Head work quickly raises or lowers wheels for travel or setting squeeze into working position. The squeeze is permanently bolted to the trailer frame and never needs to be disconnected.

Metal side straps down to expose the feet and lower parts of the animal along its entire length opposite the head side. This special feature of the TECO Cattle Squeeze makes it possible to milk out the widest cow with safety to the operator and without injury to the animal.

With the side let down levers can be removed with ease. This wide area of accessibility to the animal when held in the TECO Cattle Squeeze. This is ideal for head trimming and minor surgery on the range.

HOW TO SOLVE GOLF PROBLEMS

JIMMY DEMARET... NARRATOR "SWWG"***

HITTING DOWN THE LINE OF FLIGHT
 The old concept of swinging a golf club from inside to outside the target line, (dotted arrow) is changing. Instead, many new-generation players hit the ball with the clubhead moving down the intended line of flight (solid arrow).
 The inside-out technique involves returning the club into the ball with the clubhead moving out to the right of the target. The hands must be turned counterclockwise in the hitting area, to avoid pushing the ball to the right.
 Some professionals now prefer a big turn of the shoulders on the backswing and then a reverse shoulder turn that directs the club straight through the ball instead of inside-out. There is no need to turn the hands over to straighten the clubface at impact.

Social Security

Q. I have several receipts from my doctor, but I have never completed a claim for Medicare reimbursement. Will the social security office help me do this?
 A. Yes, we will be glad to help you. If you prefer that we help you in person, you should come to the social security office and bring your itemized bills and Medicare card along. Since many questions concerning Medicare can be answered by telephone, it may be that the help you need can be furnished if you simply call your social security office.

Q. I have completed my claim for Medicare reimbursement and I am ready to mail it in for payment. Does the social security office have to review it before I send it in?
 A. No, the claim does not have to be reviewed by the social security office. However, if you are not sure whether it is correct and complete, you may take it to the social security office, where it will be reviewed and, if correct, it will be forwarded to the Medicare office.

TEMPORARY CARE DORTMUND, Germany

The kindergarten, first of its kind in West Germany, is separated from the interview room by a glass wall so that mothers can keep an eye on their offspring.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Choosing a New Name

Embarrassed by his "foreign" name, a young man went to court to have it Americanized. But at the hearing, his own parents showed up to protest. In their eyes, he was disgracing his family and denying his past. Nevertheless, the court approved the change. "The law," said the court, "does not require a man to perpetuate the surname of his ancestors."

Starkowski Stamm

Unlike fingerprints, names may be changed, with comparative ease. One way is to "get yourself known" by a new name. But a speedier, safer way, allowed almost everywhere, is to have the change formally approved in a court proceeding. Generally speaking, you may choose any name you please. However, courts do retain a certain amount of discretion to say no.

The most common reason for a refusal is to prevent fraud. In one case, a man seeking a name change admitted that he had seven unsatisfied judgments hanging over his head. The court turned him down, figuring that he was mainly interested in throwing creditors off his trail.

Commercial considerations also blocked another man's attempt to drop his first, middle, and last names in exchange for a single name. The court said:

"Approval of the use of a single name would cause disruption of official records and complications in our economy, largely dependent on credit of easily identifiable persons."

Occasionally a change will be turned down because it is just too freakish.

Two actresses, paired as a night club team, once applied at the same time for exactly the same name. Under this arrangement, they pointed out to the court, neither one could get any more publicity than the other. They said they wanted to make certain that problems of professional jealousy would never arise between them.

But the judge foresaw so many mixups and complications that he denied their request. He said the two actresses would soon find themselves enacting "real-life" "Comedy of Errors."

Miss Shannon Is Bride Of Jimmy C. Christie

Miss Kathy Sue Shannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.F. Shannon, Route 2, became the bride of Jimmy C. Christie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christie, Summerfield, in a Saturday evening ceremony at First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt.

The Rev. Jim T. Pickens of that church read the ceremony. An arrangement of gladiolas at the communion table with a wedding candle was the center of interest with two spiral candelabra flanked with flowers on each side of the table.

Music for the wedding was by Raymond Wiley, accompanied by Mrs. Dale Winders of Dimmitt. Main selections were "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss LeAnn Merritt served as maid of honor with Wayne Schilling as best man. Mrs. Valerie Baum, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Vicki Winders of Dimmitt and Miss Kathleen Robinson assisted as bridesmaids.

Mike McCathern, Denny

Hicks and Steve Olson were groomsmen with ushers Ray Shannon, brother of the bride, Bill Hardin, cousin of the bridegroom, Rex Lost, of Dimmitt and Tommy Brown. Kyla Boozer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monty Boozer of Dimmitt was flower girl; Troy Gardner, cousin of the bridegroom and son of Mr. and Mrs. Butch Gardner of Causey, N.M. was ring bearer, Peggy Sue Shannon, cousin of the bride, and Vicki Christie, cousin of the bridegroom, lighted altar candles.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza with venise lace accenting the bottom of the train and skirt, and marked the empire waistline. The lace also trimmed the highrise collar and Camelot sleeves. The A-line effect of the skirt graduated into fullness at the back, forming the train.

Her veil of tiered illusion was attached to a band of pearls and braided. She carried a bouquet of white and yellow flowers on a Bible borrowed from Miss Robinson.

MARRIED THIS WEEK — Mrs. Donald Franklin Maxwell is the former Miss Jamie Sue Edmonson, married in a May 30 ceremony. # Young-Blackburn Vows Exchanged In Ceremony

Miss Jo Ann Young became the bride of Jerry Blackburn in a ceremony in Avenue Baptist Church Saturday evening. The Rev. Clarence Powell, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, officiated.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Young of 227 Aspen, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blackburn, Route 2.

Miss Young wore a floor-length gown of Alencon lace over bridal taffeta designed with high neckline, empire waist, Camelot sleeves, and semi A-line silhouette. Tiny sequins and seed pearls complimented the neckline and waist of the gown.

Her veil of imported illusion, with a border of matching Alencon lace, fell from a lace comb.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with white streamers.

Vows were exchanged before an archway surrounded by pink and white carnations, greenery and chrysanthemums, lighted by candles.

Miss Karen Koozer, the bride's maid of honor, and her bridesmaid, Miss Becky Frye, wore gowns of pink and white lace over taffeta with puffed sleeves, low neckline, and empire waistline. They carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Gary McPherson served as best man, and the groomsmen were Robert Baum, James Brent Sweeney and J.W. White were ushers.

Dana Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Young, served as flower girl, and candle lighters were Randy Young and Steve Kitchens. Misses Lilli and Jane Lyons provided vocal selections for the ceremony.

In a reception in fellowship hall of Avenue Baptist Church, the bride and groom welcomed guests. Miss Carla George served cake while Miss Anita Warren served punch and coffee from a table decorated with white candles surrounding pink and white carnations. Mrs. Kelvin Betzen registered guests.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a pink knit pantsuit with matching pink striped blouse. The couple will be at home after June 5 at the Lynette Apartments.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High school, and the bridegroom also attended Hereford High.

Wesley UMC To Dedicate Hall Project

Interpretive reading of excerpts from the book, Greatest Story Ever Told, with background music from a stage production, Jesus Christ Superstar, will be the unusual worship service at Wesley United Methodist Church at 7 p.m. today.

The Rev. Don McWhorter, pastor, invites the public for this program by a West Texas State University speech class, to be followed by refreshments and dedication of the newly decorated church fellowship hall.

Redecoration of the hall was a project of the United Methodist Youth Organization of the church, which is located at 410 Irving.

Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham, Wesley choir director and a member of the interpretive class which will give the readings, is assisting William A. Moore of the WTSU speech faculty in directing the program.

The reading with musical background is one of the new forms of ministry being used at Wesley Church.

Tea Honors Mothers

A mother-daughter tea given by Acteens of First Baptist Church to mark the halfway point in a study and action program, was a recent event which featured songs and a talk by Linda Adams of Amarillo, current Miss WTSU.

Girls in the organization are of high school and junior high age. Rosi Rogers, Acteen director, was assisted by Louise Dean and Janie Whitaker, high school leaders, as program leader for the tea.

Miss Adams spoke of the meaning of the church in her life; her songs included some she has performed with a youth chorus on an eastern trip.

High school members presented the prayer calendar for missionaries, using a map to show where each missionary serves. Eighth grade girls decorated the table and seventh graders served tea.

Corsages were presented the speaker, special guests Mrs. R.W. Eads, Baptist Women director, and Mrs. Eugene Sparks, Missionary Union president; and the mothers present.

They were Mmes. Joe Rogers, Ray Frye, Dub Hair, Chuck Cosper, Jack Wilcox, Jack White, Joe Bradley, Harley Davis, Paul Abalos, W.C. Beene, Gerald Martin, Roy Parten and Dean Herring.

The Profit Purpose

What is "excess profit?" Common sense — and the dictionary — suggest that "excessive" profits must be those that are too big. But, too big for what? Just what is it that profit is supposed to do, and how much of it is "enough" to do it?

Well, the first and most fundamental purpose of profit is to enable us to survive. Profit is what remains after the costs of production have been met. If we were not able to produce more than we consume, and store it, we would be wiped out by the first interruption of our productive effort.

This need for profit is by no means limited to the capitalist. In the fall, squirrels must "earn" more nuts than their immediate needs require, so they will have something banked for the winter. Mothers must obtain and eat more than they need in order to nourish their babies. Even plants must pile up surplus water and nutrients in the good times, to carry them through the bad.

Businesses use profit in much the same way. A business that only earned enough to cover its costs would be unable to survive the slightest setback. It would also be unable to expand, because it's the "extra" money that pays for new plant and equipment.

Societies, too, must have profits to survive. Only profit can be taxed. If there is no profit, then the only thing left to tax is the money (or the resources) necessary to meet the costs of operation — such costs as plant, tools, labor, and raw material. (For an individual, food, clothing, shelter and rest are the "costs of operation.")

Socialist societies have the same need for profit as a capitalist society. As the economics commentator for the Russian newspaper "Izvestia" puts it: "This basic difference between the primary economic principles of capitalism and socialism does not mean that under socialism profit is no longer an economic category."

What is the difference, then? Basically, it's an additional function that we assign to profit, which socialist societies do not — at least, not to the same degree. That function is the allocation to resources.

In America, we have so much wealth we tend to forget that our resources are still not sufficient to do everything everyone would like to do.

But this problem — of insufficient resources for competing needs — is one we have in common with all other societies.

Wherever scarcity is a problem, decisions about priorities must be made. The question is how best to allocate the limited resources — that is, the accumulated profit, or capita — to provide for the needs and wants of the people.

Socialist societies leave the decision to members of the government. Bureaucrats decide whether to use capital to produce more washing machines or more matches. The complexity of such a decision-making process is staggering, because everything must be weighed in relation to everything else.

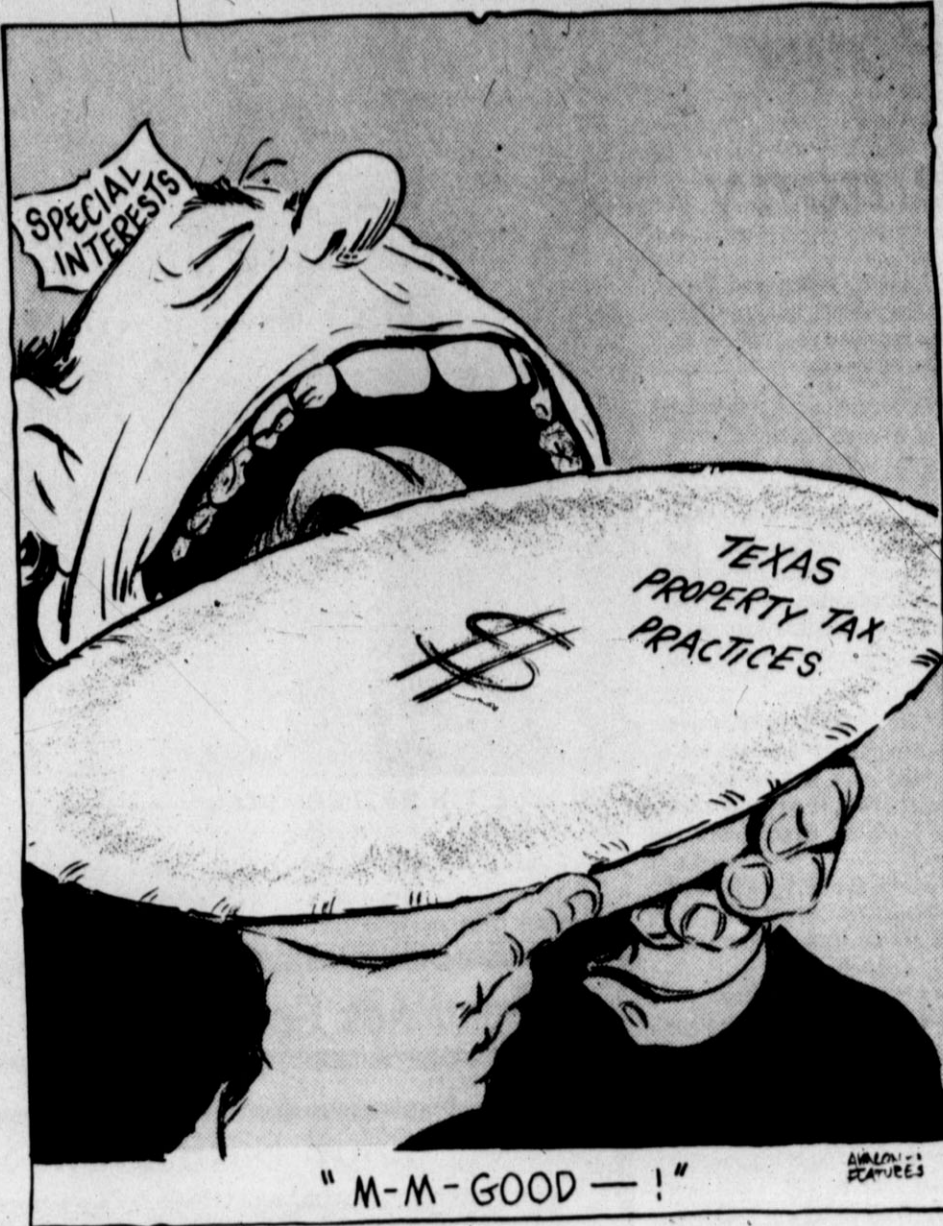

In a capitalist, free-enterprise society the resource allocation decision is left to a more-or-less automatic mechanism in which people "vote" for what they want with their money, in proportion to how much they want it.

If people want something badly, and it is in short supply, they will bid up the price they are willing to pay for it. That means the producers will initially make a lot of money (accumulate profits rapidly). Others with capital to invest, noticing the opportunity for high profit, will enter the business too. Soon, the initial high profit will have attracted enough new producers (or new production facilities) to the field to satisfy the demand for the product. Then, the price will fall, and so will the profit rate. New capital will no longer be attracted, so it will go in search of a higher rate of profit where it's needed more.

This, then, is the key function of a high rate of profit in a free-enterprise, capitalist society: To attract capital to the production of what the consumer wants.

Thus, there is no such thing as an "excessive" profit, so long as free competition is possible. There are occasionally high profits, but they serve a useful social purpose and tend to limit themselves in time.

Is the system perfect? No, of course not. Monopolies and other perversions of the mechanism can upset its operation, and even justify a certain amount of government regulation. But governments aren't perfect either, as any comparison between a government-directed and a demand-directed economy will quickly demonstrate.

America Expected To 'Head For Hills'

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C. — Camping time is here again for millions of Americans. Federal authorities estimate that at least one out of every five people in the U.S. over age nine will camp out at least one night this year, most of them this summer.

Outdoor recreation of all types has been on the rise for some time and the economic upturn of the recent past has enabled more families to plan vacations. Also, the high cost of many other kinds of trips has made camping more attractive.

Another factor is the increasing availability of a variety of recreation vehicles.

Not all those who go camping need a vehicle. Hikers and cyclists get by on what they carry on their back. On the other hand, some families own deluxe recreational vehicles which boast all the comforts of home, including sleeping space for a good-sized family. Camping no longer necessarily means sleeping on the ground or in a tent.

Campers, as the new generation of recreational vehicles are called, come in a variety of forms. Some are hauled by a car or truck and some are a cross between a bus and a mobile home, known in bygone days as a trailer. Detroit major car manufacturers are all in the camper business these days.

General Motors is now displaying a new "motor home prototype" which will go into production next September. It looks like a small six-wheeled bus, is 26 feet long, eight feet high and eight feet wide, is air-conditioned, boasts a stove, refrigerator and toilet, and sleeps five people comfortably. It can operate on batteries when necessary.

"No Vacancies" a problem. Camping has become so popular that finding a campsite has become a problem, despite the best efforts of Uncle Sam, the states, and private enterprisers who have entered the camping business. The more popular National Parks and state parks are forced to flash the "no vacancy" sign frequently during the height of the vacation season.

While the National Park Service operates on a first-come-first-served basis except in three areas, many state park systems have adopted a reservation plan. In some states, including Virginia, California and Oregon, travelers may not enter a camping area without a reservation.

Computers are now being used for campsite reservation. A family in Washington, D.C., for example, can plan a coast-to-coast camping trip and have reservations all the way. Ticketron, a national organization, is used by most state park systems. At least three national chains, Campgrounds of America, Holiday Inns, and Ramada Inns, are in the camping business and make reservations just as for motel or hotel rooms.

Overcrowding of camping areas in National Parks became such a problem three years ago that a policy was adopted to close a camping area when it was full. This put a stop to sleeping in parking lots and even pitching a tent on the lawn of the park superintendent's home. Experienced campers now know better than to reach a popular National Park at dusk during the vacation season. The wise come in the morning.

U.S. Offers 28,000 Campsites. National Park Service offers 28,000 campsites at 524 campgrounds in 86 areas. The vast majority are west of the Mississippi River but you can camp with Uncle in Maine or Florida or even the Virgin Islands. But don't plan to spend the summer at one place. Most sites have a 14-day limit.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Dear editor:

I was out walking along a country road yesterday and just to be doing started counting the empty cans and bottles people had thrown out of their cars. In fifty yards on one side of the road only I found 36.

No use figuring up how many that'd come to, multiplied by the thousands and thousands of miles of roads in the country, but everybody knows it's up in the billions.

And I got to thinking, regardless of the efforts being made to put a stop to this, by everybody from the environmentalists to the newspapers to the pulpit, apparently people just aren't going to stop doing it. Empty a can or bottle and fling it out the window. Just one won't matter.

Therefore, a way has got to be figured out to stop it. First, I thought I had a good idea: require cans or bottles to have a ring attached and chain them to the wrist of any customer leaving with one in his hand. Leaving with more than one? Make a sort of daisy chain and let him go rattling out. But I soon saw that that won't work. Clerks would spend half their time unlocking cans as customers returned to be freed.

Then it hit me. Make it a $200 fine from one end of the country to the other to throw a can or bottle out of a car. You say, lots of states already have such a fine and the throwing continues? Keep following me. Next, fingerprint everybody in the U.S., from one-year-olds on up, and put the prints on file in a giant computer. Then when highway workers pickup the cans and bottles, all they'd have to do is lift the fingerprints, send them to the computer, and in a few seconds have the name and address of the can-or-bottle-thrower.

At $200 a can, with say five billion cans being thrown a year, that'd come to $1,000,000,000,000, which I think is a trillion.

In one fell swoop we'd do one of two things: either clean up the can-throwing habit, or clean up the national debt and have some left over to go into debt with again next year.

Any man shows up in a place wearing gloves, follow him. Yours faithfully, J.A.

Talk Of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

IT'S A FACT—Visitors to the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation in East Texas are entertained with native dancing, but the fact is that no one shall ever see again the true dances of this friendly tribe.

In 1881, a Presbyterian missionary arrived at the Alabama-Coushatta village. Calvin's brand of Christianity could not tolerate continuation of the "pagan" religious practices of the Indians. Once the Indians were converted and saw the light, the tribes became convinced that their dances were instruments of the devil.

Since customs like dancing are handed down from generation to generation, the newly Christian Indians refused to let their offspring learn the meaningful songs and precise dance steps that had been tribal customs for so long. The dances seen by tourists today were taught the Alabama-Coushattas by tribe of "heathen" Oklahoma Indians imported to Texas as instructors when the East Texas reservation decided to open its doors to visitors.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Robert Benchley, author, humorist and film star of the 1930's and 1940's, liked to brag that a Texas town was named for him.

It wasn't, although it was named for his grandfather. Benchley, a Robertson County village, was named for Henry Benchley. He happened to be the conductor aboard the first train that arrived in the town.

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — Gonzales, where the first shots of the Texas War for Independence were fired on October 2, 1835, also is the site of the only new fort to be constructed by the Confederacy west of the Mississippi River during the Civil War.

It was called Fort Waul and the ruins of its breastworks can still be seen today at the north edge of Gonzales near the intersection of U.S. Highway 90-A and State Highway 304. For several years, a movement has been on to reconstruct the fort. However, necessary financing has not been found as yet.

PRISON WITHOUT BARS — Habitual drunks are not jailed in Fort Worth, but are sent to the city's Rehabilitation Farm where they work off their fine in the wholesome atmosphere of the great outdoors.

The farm, located 12 miles from the city on the shores of Lake Worth, provides the miscreants with good food, recreation facilities and a chance to work in the fresh air and sunshine.

From The Brand Files . . . .

50 YEARS AGO

Aquatic sports are likely to supplant baseball and become all the rage in Hereford if the present moist brand of weather continues to prevail. A medium sized crowd, somewhat curtailed by threatening weather, heard a clear, convincing, unanswerable argument by Judge John P. Slaton Sunday afternoon on the absolute necessity of the voters of Deaf Smith county placing their O K upon the proposed $16,000 hospital bond issue at next Saturday's election.

35 YEARS AGO

Following heavy rains in this section during the past week, 2.27 inches fell here Friday night to send Tierra Blanca Creek on a mad rampage. As flooded lands over this entire section emptied into the stream, the swirling waters wrought havoc to bridges in the Hereford area. The first bridge to go out here was the concrete structure which spanned Tierra Blanca at the old highway crossing southwest of town. Early Sunday morning the Main Street bridge, which spans the Tierra Blanca just south of town, also went out.

20 YEARS AGO

A raging fire — out of control by the time it was discovered around 10:45 p.m. Monday night — completely gutted a feed mill, flour mill and a Quonset-type warehouse at the Fraser Milling company. A call for 30 men to report for physicals on June 17 has been issued by the local draft board. Prize money totaling $2,950 was awarded to 21 contestants in the Pioneer Day rodeo. Hereford voters will be given the opportunity soon to express their desires at the polls in regard to the Home Rule form of government.

10 YEARS AGO

Light rains falling in the Deaf Smith County area brought much-needed moisture to dry croplands and pastures in the area. "You have accomplished so much. . . we are almost ashamed," Dr. Guy Caldwell of New Orleans, chairman of Shrine Hospitals, admitted in a brief talk here Friday night. Dr. Caldwell was speaking at a medical meeting in the Hereford Country Club, attended by more than 150 doctors, Shriners, their wives and guests in the first official function of the annual Oasis Shrine Club Children's Clinic.

Accent The Positive

Sometimes a person feels like there is nothing but bad news.

The newspapers and television programs and radio programs seem to be filled with news of crime and war and depressed conditions around the globe.

But the truth of the matter is that there is more good news than bad news every day.

This year, for example, more than 196,000,000 Americans will not be arrested.

More than 89,000,000 married persons will not file for divorce.

More than 115,000,000 individuals will maintain membership in the church of their choice. Most of these will be active members.

More than 75,000,000 individuals and corporations will pay more than $160 billion in income taxes without trying to evade them.

More than 7,000,000 students will not riot or petition or seek to destroy the educational system of this country.

More than 9,000,000 of our young men will not burn their draft cards.

More than 4,000,000 teachers, preachers and professors will not strike or participate in riotous demonstrations.

Never before in history has a people accomplished so much, given so much and asked so little.

Not all publications dwell upon bad news.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A graduate with the HHS class of '72, Rebecca Larsen went back to her home in California this week after living the past year in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Larsen, 125 Ave. E. Her mother, Mrs. Frank Larsen of Redlands, spent a few days visiting the Daniel Larsens and other family members here, and Rebecca accompanied her home.

Here to attend a wedding, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mastervich of Dallas and their two-month-old son, Brian, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Lonidene Edmondson.

Mrs. Mastervich was matron of honor in the Tuesday ceremony in which her sister, Jamie Edmondson, and Donald Maxwell were married.

Another wedding, this one in Pampa Friday, took Judy Cargo to that city to present some of the music in an evening ceremony.

The bride was Kathy Trussell of Pampa, a classmate of Judy's while both were enrolled in the Northwest Texas Hospital nurses training program at Amarillo College the past term.

Come June, and the wedding business picks up everywhere; that's been true for years and still is. So we had best repeat the announcement that we make every so often to prospective brides and their families, about The Brand's policies in handling this type of news.

Of course a wedding is news,

3 Members Give Club Discussion

Poisonous Snakes in Texas was the subject of a program by Mrs. Kenneth Haggard, Roger Williams and A.E. Hodges when North Hereford Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at the Flame Room.

Hostesses were Miss Roberta Campbell and Mrs. Iva Saltzman. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Gaylon Bryan and Mrs. J.A. Crofford.

The final meeting of the club for this season was planned in a business session. A luncheon June 15 in the home of Mrs. Hodges was decided. Members also discussed a trip to Girlstown to visit the girl they are sponsoring.

Three guests were present, Kiska Hodges, Kathy Waldrip and Regina Bryan. Other members at the meeting were Mrs. T.E. Brisendine and Paul Hoff.

not advertising, so there is no charge for pictures and stories of engagement announcements, weddings and anniversaries—and since this is the month of brides it is also the month of wedding anniversaries.

Pictures must be supplied for these stories; our photographers do not take these except for such unusual cases as a 60th (or more) anniversary. There are so many golden wedding anniversaries nowadays that we've had to stop going out to take those pictures.

But no particular type or size of photo is required; we only ask that it be a good clear picture suitable to the occasion. Our main requirement for all these stories is timeliness; we want to report news, not record history, so we want to use the story of the wedding or anniversary party immediately after it happens.

That usually means that we must have all or at least part of the information before the event. Late reports are always cut shorter, with smaller headlines and pictures.

To avoid any misunderstandings and disappointments, we urge the prospective bride or her mother or other interested person to telephone us well ahead of time so we can explain our system of handling these stories; every paper has its own policies, so it doesn't help if you know how they do it in another city.

We want to see that every wedding is fully covered, with pictures of the pretty bride (and all brides are beautiful, you know). The only way we can do this is with cooperation of the interested parties; we do ask for this cooperation.

And 99 percent of it is summed up in a few words: Tell us about it as soon as possible, then if there is reason for any delay we can help you plan to use the story to your best advantage.

Bluebird Day Camp Ends With Ceremony

A campfire ceremonial Friday evening closed the annual week of day-camping for 210 Bluebirds, the younger girls in the Campfire Girl groups as the climax of the ceremonial.

Leaders presented the certificates, and members of the Horizon Club, high school girls in the group led by Mrs. Earnest Langley, conducted the ceremony.

Mrs. Doug Nix was director of the day camp, with Mrs. Floyd Eubanks assistant director.

Mrs. Ray Smith refreshment chairman for the daily camp periods during the week; Mrs. Eddie O'Rand and Mrs. Tommy Crawford directed crafts and Mrs. John Gilliland recreation.

Fred Fox, chairman of the camping committee of the Campfire Council board here, was assisted by others of the committee in setting up the camp on the old Russell Ranch.

Three Hereford registered nurses, Joyce Siegler, Carolyn Kubačak and Rose Marie

Dupnik, took turns on duty in the nursing tent.

Other assistants were older girls in the Campfire program here, including a group of outdoor trainees with Lois Turpen as leader, girls who have just completed the sixth grade. Joining the Horizon Club group to help in the camp was Kima Marsh, a former member who was at home on vacation from college.

Camp workers expressed approval of a new camp trailer.

used for the first time, which the camping committee and other donors have provided for use in the girls' organization. It is equipped to transport food and other supplies, even tents, for camping trips, and from it meals can be served chuck-wagon style.

All camp sessions were held in daytime hours except for the Friday night program, which parents and friends of the girls attended.

Thursday evening the outdoor trainees prepared and served an outdoor meal to the adults who worked to set up and conduct the camp, and those who contributed to buy the trailer.

Couple Engaged

Plans for the August 18 wedding of Kathleen Robinson to Dan Gorman are announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Robinson of 436 Ave. B. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorman of Grand E Trailer Park.

June Wedding Set

Miss Linda Kay Ritter and William Bryan Blasingame are to be married June 15, while he is here on leave from U.S. Army service at a Hawaiian base, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ritter of Route 5, announce. The couple will go to a home in Hawaii on the island of Oahu.

Miss Ritter is one of the 1972 girl graduates from Hereford High School. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Blasingame, 403 Ave. H, also attended HHS but was graduated after he began military service.

The wedding will take place in First United Methodist Church here.

Mrs. Daniel Is Hostess To Class

Bethany Sunday School class of First Baptist Church met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R.A. Daniel.

After a business meeting, the group sang sacred songs. The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. E.B. Moseley, Joe Evans and J.J. Buckner.

Those attending were Mrs. J.V. Pickens, H.J. Roberson, G. K. Horton, Otto Massey, C.J. Mountz, G.W. Brumley, A.T. Fry, Ky Higgins, J.V. Israel and T.W. Roberson.

Also Mrs. W.E. Upton, H.E. Danforth, W.W. Hill, Walter Easter and R.E. Cadell. Mrs. Goldy Baker of Dallas, daughter of Mrs. Brumley, was a guest.

Associates Pastor Assigned To Methodist Church

Assignment of a new associate minister to First United Methodist Church here was one of the actions of the recent Northwest Texas Conference of the church. The Rev. J.O. Norred will succeed the Rev. Norman Cobb in the post.

Recently completing studies in Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University, Rev. Norred will move with his family to Hereford to be associated with Dr. W.A. Appling, First United Methodist pastor who was returned for another year of service.

The Rev. Don McWhorter, pastor of Wesley UMC, was also returned in conference appointments for the year. Rev. Cobb goes to a Lubbock church as his next assignment.

A MARXIST 'CHRISTIAN' NEW YORK (AP) — Chile's Marxist president, Salvador Allende Gossens, has a large wooden crucifix in the living room of his home. United Methodist Bishop Raimundo A. Valenzuela of Chile reported on a visit here.

By the Garden Gate

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

This locale is certainly blessed with plentiful rainfall. I feel today that I could agree with the poem which I learned when a child. "Rain, rain go away, come again another day." Or better still go out towards Hereford town (in Texas and rain on Glad's glad garden.

However the sun is shining this afternoon, and I have had a very enjoyable walk in the woods. As I entered the paths, I was reminded again of the lovely poem I Went Into The Woods.

There are so many things of interest to a gardener. The tall stately pine trees etched against the blue, blue sky, with the white billowy clouds silently sailing by.

The oak willows which grow in such a striking symmetrical pattern (to me this is one of the loveliest trees I have found in the woods; it is also grown profusely in the landscape designs of the quarters and other grounds on the Post).

Many maples with their intricate leaf patterns, the gum trees which drop fascinating balls in the fall, the heart shaped leaves of the linden trees, and the crooked lovely dogwood trees and of course the many varieties of oaks. All are most interesting and a rare treat to a plains gardener.

In the depth of the woods, along the broken paths and where the small streams flow there are many kinds of foliage plants, the ferns being my favorite. How I would like to have a selection of them planted in a pretty pot for my patio or den.

The fragrance from the flowering honeysuckle which grows in profusion, the Virginia creeper with the dainty white star-like blossoms, and a beautiful flowering vine which grows close to the ground and has a tiny yellow flower.

The trumpet vine is another which climbs the trees, making the nature picture more complete and interesting. Found a very attractive plant growing near the water's edge.

The foliage is similar to the iris and the dainty, intense blue flower (very much like the gentian of Switzerland) attracted me and I had fun gathering some of the stems to take to the house to use with some of the roses. A garden club member told me that the wildflowers would be more beautiful and in greater number later.

Was I lonely and afraid? No. There were so many birds singing as they flew from tree to tree or perched on the top-most branches to serenade me. Then too the cottontail rabbits scampered here and there, and the busy squirrels were rapidly climbing trees or hurrying down the paths, with their busy, pretty tails flauntingly curled. Then too I knew I would not lose my direction because I had taken notice of the moss, noting that it was heaviest on the north side of the trees. This had been taught me by my father when a child, and he always told me to remember it.

Because of the bounteous rainfall the moss is extra heavy and verdant. The velvety texture and lush green is lovely. I also noted that there are several varieties.

Really keeps me busy listening and looking. Just this morning I learned that they have a monthly contest on the post, and make awards for beauty spots. They have more classes than we do. They are the officers' quarters, both residential and duplex; the resident and duplex awards for the enlisted men whose families live on the post.

Other times during the year the living quarters of the men in training receive awards. The winning home is marked by a plaque similar to ours. It is an attractive shaped board of brown wood, with yellow lettering.

Was pleased to see that nearby duplex in this area received an award. Do not know who sponsors the beautification program, but hope to find out this afternoon when I attend a garden club meeting. An officer of the Virginia State Garden Club is the main speaker.

This is a delightful time of the year to see and note the beauty of the various quarters. Roses are in full bloom, annuals are starting to bloom, especially the petunias and marigolds.

Hanging baskets are used profusely and they are lovely. Flowering shrubs, and some spring flowering bulbs as well as iris are still in full bloom. With these factors, plus neatness, beauty appeal, cleanliness etc., am sure the judges had a difficult job appraising the various entries.

Some of the projects which are participated in through the post, are: Sharing in beautification; observation of Arbor Day (a number of the youth organizations planted trees, assisted by the men of the post); strict practices relative to littering and ecology; good horticulture practices, (they can secure organic materials from the wooded areas, as well as delicious mushrooms and watercress); neatness and cleanliness (lawns mowed regularly, shrubs fed and kept

Class Of '42 Plans Reunion

Plans for the Saturday reunion of the class of 1942, Hereford High School, are being finalized with Bill Davis heading the planning committee.

Other members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Close, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, Dennis Lomas, Benny Womble and Don Henslee.

An informal get-together between 3 and 5 p.m. at Community Center will begin the reunion and dinner at the Cason House is scheduled at 7:30 that evening. Following the dinner will be a dance at Hotel Jim Hill.

Davis and his planning committee invite all class members to attend.

trimmed, systematic pick up of clippings and garbage. These all apply throughout the post).

ARMED FORCES DAY. Really thrilled me to be here to attend features of the observation of Armed Forces Day (which was started during the administration of President Truman).

Was especially a high-light to me because my escorts were my son Col. Lloyd Howcon Manjeot and his son Lloyd Jr. Was a real education to me.

Practically all of the events were pertaining to field service. Just wish every mother and father of a son or daughter in service could see and learn of what our men do, and what provisions are made for and by them.

We went from washing of clothes and bathing in the field, to electronic devices, care and provisions of textiles and foods. Really everything used by the soldier. Was amazed to see and learn the wonderful co-ordination of every phase.

Thrilling to have information on the airborne share, relative to supplies. By demonstrations given by service men, real examples, and via picture and lecture. I assure you I looked and listened and long will remember all.

Bits of Interest: The robins had four little robins. Lloyd Jr. and I kept close tabs on their feeding program, their learning to fly and the devotion of mother and father birds to their young.

The birds have flown their nest and are now on their own. In a nearby tree a pair of mocking birds are nesting, and the male sings day and night.

The magnolias are blooming. We walked and played near a beautiful tree last evening and the fragrance was delightful.

Planted seed, transplanted plants, cut beautiful Peace roses for the table, and have

Golden Wedding Reception Today

Married 50 years ago this weekend, Mr. and Mrs. T.B. Newman will be honored with a golden wedding reception from 2 to 5 p.m. today in the home of her brother, P.A. White, and Mrs. White, 201 Fir.

Children of the couple are to be hosts, and their friends are invited to call. They request no gifts.

Miss Mary Alice White and T.B. Newman were married June 4, 1922, in the home of her parents at Kirkland. They moved to Washburn the next year, and in 1939 moved to Deaf Smith County.

After living 20 miles north of Hereford several years, they came to the city and now reside at 414 Ave. J.

Their children are Joel Don Newman of Hereford; a daughter, Claudine, Mrs. G.G. Snowden; and another son, Milton Newman of Fayetteville, Ark. Their oldest son, Bill, was a fatality of U.S. Navy service in World War II.

Hereford Students On Honor Roll

Levenie Benefield and Glenda Sue Tiner, 1968 graduates of Hereford High School, have been named to the dean's honor roll for the spring semester at Abilene Christian College.

They were each enrolled in 12 or more semester hours and earned at least a 3.5 grade point average out of a possible 4.0.

Miss Benefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Blankenship, 230 Beach, is a junior communications major. She has been named to the dean's honor roll two semesters.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Dillard, 217 N. Texas, Mrs. Tiner is a senior special education major.

Lord Brougham, a vacationing Englishman, put the Riviera on the map when a cholera epidemic forced him into a detour in 1834. His fancy was taken by a fishing village named Cannes.

Jaycee-Ettes To Meet Tuesday

made some most interesting tours.

To my friend who sent me seed, I thank you so much. As soon as I return home (which won't be long now) they will be planted.

The lunch bell is ringing, so bye for now.....

Library Reading Program Opening

The 1972 summer reading program sponsored by Deaf Smith County Library will soon be underway with registration to begin tomorrow.

Registration can be made any time during the summer; the program will conclude around August 15, Mrs. H.L. Newman, librarian, reports.

This year's theme for summer readers will be Trail Drive. Ages for those wishing to register in the Trail Drive range from pre-school to seventh graders.

Upon registration, the entrant receives a silver saddle pin which signifies participation in the program. He also receives a card with the route of the drive outlined. When a book is read, a sticker is placed on the card.

After the drive is completed by the individual, and all stickers are on his card, the participant will receive a certificate of completion.

If the entrant reads more than ten books, he will receive a ribbon.

"In 1965, the program with the theme Trail Drive was used and was liked so well that we just decided to use it again," Mrs. Newman says.

Library hours for the summer are 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday. Mrs. Newman is assisted by Mrs. Baxter London and two aides.

YOUNG LIBRARY PATRONS — The summer reading program, Trail Drive, sponsored by Deaf Smith County Library will bring in Hereford children who regularly use the library throughout the year along with some that don't quite make it as regulars. Pictured above are some reading enthusiasts that are getting an early start. The little girl on the left, waiting to get her books checked out, looks over with anticipation the card that announces the beginning of Trail Drive tomorrow. On the right, a mother, Mrs. Doyle Fletcher, and her family, who have recently moved to Hereford, fill out forms for the issuance of new library cards so they may use the library.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

There are presently over 300 million cards in use in this country. This provides a bonanza for the swindler and thief. Losses each year from unauthorized use of such cards total an estimated 200 million dollars.

The ready acceptability of credit cards by merchants and dealers without demanding any identification from the user and the sending of unsolicited credit cards by mail have been the greatest causes for such losses.

Recently enacted federal legislation has effectively limited liability of the card holder, and should help to alleviate some of the more serious problems.

Under the new law the credit card owner is liable for unauthorized use of his card only if it is an accepted card. An accepted card is one which the owner requested and actually received, or one he has signed and used.

Even where an accepted card is stolen or lost and unlawfully used, the owner's liability is now limited to a $50 maximum, and then only on certain conditions.

For any liability to attach at all the card issuer must notify the holder as to his potential liability. The issuer is also required to provide the card holder with a stamped self-addressed notification to be mailed to the issuer in case of loss or theft.

The card issuer must also furnish the owner with a method of identifying himself as the person authorized to use it.

No liability for any card issued on or subsequent to January 25, 1971, exists unless all the above conditions are met.

Furthermore, any unauthorized use must occur before the card holder notifies the issuer of loss or theft.

As a further restriction, no credit card can now be issued unless it is in renewal of, or in substitution for, a previously accepted card, or unless a specific request or application is made for it.

The burden of proof is on the issuer to show that the use was authorized or, if it was unlawfully used, to prove that the above mentioned conditions for liability have been met.

The passage of this law by Congress should help to stem the tide that has allowed credit card fraud to become a relatively easy form of larceny in the United States.

William Walker

Brothers Finish Basic Training

Army Privates William Walker, 18, and Thomas L. Walker, 17, sons of Lillie Mae Walker, 307 Ave. F, left Hereford recently after short leaves, enroute to separate training locations.

William and Thomas, both graduates of Hereford High School, each underwent basic training at Ft. Polk, La. and were home on leave last month for a short period before reporting to their secondary locations.

William left Hereford May 26 for Germany where he is expected to be stationed for more than two years.

Thomas, who left Hereford earlier in the month, went to Ft. Sam Houston where he will undergo medic training.

Both young men were home for Mother's Day, but the younger of the two had to return shortly afterwards to finish out his primary training.

THIS IS THE ONE! — Dennis Fletcher must reach high to get the book that he needs. With summer here, many Hereford children will have spare time to read and Deaf Smith County Library will be open 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday. Trail Drive, summer reading program, will get underway with registration beginning in the morning.

Thomas Appointed SCS State Officer

Youth, dedication, experience, professionalism—these are some of the traits of Edward E. Thomas, newly appointed state conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Texas.

Thomas returns to his native state from Nashville, Tennessee where he was deputy state conservationist for SCS. He succeeds Clyde W. Graham who has been named director of the South regional technical service center in Fort Worth.

A career conservationist since 1954, Thomas was an assistant to Graham at the Temple state office until he went to Nashville in January 1971.

"Having the chance to return to Texas as state conservationist exceeds my fondest dreams," Thomas admits matter-of-factly. "My family and I learned to love Tennessee, but it was always second-to-Texas."

After starting his conservation career at Lubbock in 1954, Thomas worked at Wellington, Wheeler, Jayton, and Morton. Then he became area conservationist at Pecos in 1963. After holding a similar position at Harlingen, he moved to Temple as assistant state conservationist in 1968.

Thomas is a 1954 graduate of Texas A&M University where he was a member of the track team. He is also a graduate of Vernon High School and served as an Army officer in Korea from 1954 to 1956. He is a member of the T Association of Texas A&M, the Soil Conservation Society of America, and the American Society of Range Management.

He and his wife Mary have three children: Eddie, 15; Bill, 13; and Susan, 11.

Our Story: WHEN THE GATES OF ATHELDAG ARE CLOSED FOR THE NIGHT, TRAVELERS MAY ENTER AT A PRICE: A STORY TO HELP THE KING ENDURE THE LONELY HOURS. "I HAVE A TALE TO TELL," SAYS AN ANCIENT WARRIOR, "OF OUR BATTLE AGAINST TIME."

"IN HIS GREAT HALL YOUNG KING ALLAINE HELD A VICTORY FEAST. HIS WARRIORS WERE EAGER FOR YET MORE VICTORIES, FOR IN THE FULL SPLENDOR OF THEIR YOUTH, THEY WERE UNCONQUERABLE."

"THEN THE SOOTHSAYER AROSE AND SAID: 'TIME IS EVER VICTORIOUS. NO ONE CONQUERS TIME!' 'AT WHICH THE YOUNG WARRIORS AROSE SHOUTING: 'LEAD US AGAINST TIME, O KING, THEN WE WILL LIVE FOREVER!'"

"GALLANTLY THEY MARCHED OUT TO FIND TIME'S STRONGHOLD. THEIR PASSING WAS OPPOSED IN MANY LANDS, BUT THEY FOUGHT THEIR WAY ONWARD THOUGH THEIR NUMBER GREW EVER FEWER."

"THEY CROSSED MANY FAR STRANGE LANDS, BUT THEIR ENEMY HAD PASSED THERE FIRST AND LEFT MANY A PROUD CITY CRUMBLING IN RUINS. "AND TIME REDUCED THEIR NUMBERS, WHITENED THEIR HAIR AND TOOK THE STRENGTH FROM THEIR ARMS."

"ONLY TWO WERE LEFT WHEN THEY REACHED THE DESERT'S EDGE. HERE A POET SAT BENEATH A TREE AND HE TOLD US: 'IN THE DESERT TIME STANDS STILL.' "THEN AT LAST WE CAN FIND HIM!" CRIED KING ALLAINE. 6-4 1843

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
For the past three years I have been decorating my gallon vacuum jug for my son's various parties. It is the kind with a spout at the bottom, and I have made a jack-o'-lantern, even an Easter rabbit, by using crepe paper, and construction paper. Then I fill the vacuum with punch and watch the children line up for more.

Here's how:
Place the jug on a large piece of crepe paper which you pull up to the neck of the jug and fasten with a rubber band. Cut features from construction paper (the spout is the mouth), cover the lid for a hat and make ears or cap from construction paper. For a nose, fill a plastic bag with wadded paper and tape to the jug before covering.

Be prepared, however, with plenty of punch, because the kiddies love drawing from the jug.

Sherrill Morris

Sounds like you've got "the quickest draw in the West" at your place come party time, eh, pardner?
'Tis certainly a different idea and one many of you could improvise on to carry out your own party theme.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:
Now that you have printed the recipe for finding a weekend hideaway (by painting your signs all one bright color), could you please give equal time to some of us and print the recipe for losing it?
Our hideaway is a drab little rustic thing but it, like the Smiths', is also a beehive of activity every weekend, and now that school is out... seven days a week.

Goodness only knows what would happen if we painted our old cracked, wooden dock a bright turquoise or a striking caterpillar yellow. As it stands now in its unappealing natural state, neither my husband nor I have been able to crowd onto it since Easter.

This situation will continue to about November first unless we become a little more violent and push a few people into the water!
The Drudges

PICNIC PICK-UP

DEAR HELOISE:
My picnic table was in dire need of refinishing and very unsightly. I decided to cover the table with oilcloth in a bright print.
So I secured the cloth with thumbtacks underneath the table. It looked so nice that I also added foam padding to the seats and covered them in the same manner.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

I now have a deluxe table that just needs a wipe with a cloth to be ready for use. It has stood all kinds of weather over the past year and shows no wear whatsoever. It really brightens up the patio and only took minutes to complete much easier than refinishing too.
Mrs. Isla Wiersma

BON VOYAGE!

DEAR HELOISE:
This is a list of suggestions for all those who live in mobile homes and will be leaving them to take long trips this summer:
A mobile home is just exactly like an oven when closed up in hot weather and special precautions should be taken. I know! I learned the hard way.
Farm out your house plants to a neighbor with instructions for their care (mine died as the result of the heat).
Store all candles and wax objects such as fruit in your refrigerator.

Make sure that all camera film is moved to a cool place. Heat can cause extensive damage here.
Check for any other products such as creams, sprays and other items which specifically say to store in a cool place and do just that.
Most important, arrange ahead for a neighbor to open up or turn on the air conditioner in your mobile home at least six to twelve hours before your arrival.

MARK THIS WELL!
When you need a marker for seeds, why not use those plastic flowers that you have become tired of and have no place to store.
Not only adds color to your garden, but they are easy to push into the soil.
Ruth Reinhart

silver bells, cockle shells, and plastic flowers all in a row
Heloise

MARK THIS WELL!

POST THIS NOTICE
DEAR HELOISE:
I always use a clear plastic rain bonnet container to store my postage stamps.
I can see at a glance whether they are first class, airmail, special delivery, etc., and they are handy and protected from any moisture.
Ida Strong

POST THIS NOTICE

BUT NO SEEDS!
DEAR HELOISE:
Here is a little tip for summer salads that are served in the scooped-out half of a watermelon.

I scoop out all the pink fruit and freeze the shell for three or four hours. This keeps the salad nice and cold even when served outside in the warm weather.
Mary

GRAPE APPEAL

DEAR HELOISE:
Don't throw away those plastic bags that potatoes, oranges and grapefruit come in.
I save these little plastic mesh bags all year-round and use them to cover the big bunches of grapes that grow in my back yard. They protect them from birds and children and allow them to vine-ripen.
Mrs. I. W.

COLD FACTS

DEAR HELOISE:
When freezing kernel corn, peas, cauliflower, etc., on trays before packing in plastic bags, I line my pans or trays with aluminum foil.
No sticking as you have with cloth or paper toweling, and the foil can be used as a spout in filling the bags.
Mrs. A. E. W.
