

Witchcraft Exists Despite Technological Advancement

BY MARSHALL DAY
News Editor

In an age when man has traveled to the moon and back, transplanted hearts and other vital organs, and made once-believed fantasies a reality, there still exists a deep belief among many Mexican-Americans of the power of "mal pusto."

Mal Pusto, or witchcraft, is believed to have become a part of the Mexican-American life when these people came in contact with Indians who believed in the power of individuals over others.

There are even instances here in Hereford of people who have seen the alleged power of mal pusto. But, the beliefs do not stop there, they go on to include "mal ojo," the evil eye, and "susto," the magical fright.

The people do not pretend to know how the magic works, nor do they attempt to explain it. They just accept it as a part of their life.

Trini Gamez, a teacher's aide in the local school system, is one person who has seen the power of mal pusto. A person of the modern world, she has seen the power, but still doubts it.

According to her, mal pusto is "something psychological" that that belongs only to certain people. It is the power, or curse, of being able to look at an object or person and by that look, have some effect, usually bad.

"They say that anyone who has this power can look at a certain thing—an object or person—and if they think it is pretty to them and don't touch that object, something will happen," she explained. She said if the object were a vase, for example, and the person did not touch it after admiring it, the vase would break.

In the event the person "with the power" looked at a child and thought that child to be pretty or likeable and did not touch that child, a high fever would set upon the child.

Mrs. Gamez said her son, when he was about 2 years old, was gazed upon by a neighbor who liked the boy. The neighbor failed to touch the boy one day after looking at him and almost immediately after the man left the child became ill.

"About an hour later he (her son) was vomiting and had diarrhea and was going into convulsions," she said. "I went to the neighbor's house to get him to take my son to the doctor, but he said he knew what was wrong. He began grabbing my son's head and touching him all over with a handkerchief."

She said about 15 minutes later her son was well.

"It is hard to believe," she said.

She gave another example of a woman who looked at another girl's eyes and noticed how pretty they were, but failed to touch the girl. Just a short time later the girl began having severe headaches and they called the woman back to use her powers to rid the girl of the pains.

Susto is closely related to mal pusto in that a person's not touching another having admired that person, will result in sickness.

Mrs. Gamez said susto causes a person to become scared, lose his appetite and mope around.

The cure: lay the patient near a door, cover him with a sheet or other large cloth and take a broom and make sweeping motions the length of the body then give the "patient" a cup of hot tea. This ritual is said to work only on certain days of the week.

Prayers are uttered during the ritual and the person's name is called over and over. It is believed that the soul of the person is trying to leave and the name calling is to bring it back.

While the belief is linked mostly to the Mexican-Americans, there is one Anglo woman who was witness to similar incidents.

She, like Mrs. Gamez, hesitates to recognize the authenticity of the power, but she has seen it. One instance involved her 13-year-old son when he was just a small baby of about seven months.

"One time one of the kids had a high fever and this woman came over and told me if I had

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday, April 16, 1972

PUBLISHED EVERY SUNDAY

The worst thing about history is that every time it repeats itself, the price goes up.

A tornado sneaked into Hereford on a Sunday night a year ago, causing an estimated $2.5 million damages but mercifully injuring only 20 persons — none seriously. The tornado stayed within a one-block-wide strip across the city, destroying 25 homes and 22 mobile homes, damaging about 125 homes and 6 businesses.

Although Hereford showed the ability to bounce back quickly from the disaster, the surprise tornado brought up the question of the city's warning system and a new one is presently in the process of being installed.

The city's annual Clean-Up drive started this weekend and will continue through May 15, with citizens asked to cooperate with community organizations and the city government in making it a successful event. The Women's Division of the Deaf Smith C of C is spearheading the campaign.

A long list of clubs and organizations are joining in the campaign, but the real success of the drive depends on individuals seeing that their own homes and property are cleaned up. Mrs. Maurice Tannahill, general chairman, pointed this factor out and urged all citizens to help make Hereford a more beautiful place to live and visit.

Two gubernatorial candidates will vie for the attention of Hereford voters Wednesday. Gov. Preston Smith will be in Amarillo for a regional reception at 10 a.m., while Ben Barnes will land his helicopter in downtown Hereford at noon the same day.

Flip Wilson popped this philosophic gem on his show this week: "Don't let your mouth write checks that your body can't cash!"

We were happy to note this week the return of "the country editor", H. M. Baggary, in the Tulia Herald. Baggary was sidelined with an illness for several weeks but is now back at the typewriter. He is one of the most prolific column writers in the state and highly active in the political arena.

Baggary had this to say about his illness and return to work:

"Crisis in the life of an individual such as the one through which we have just passed are both blessings and curses.

"Blessings include the loyalty of friends, tried and proven friends who have remained just like they have remained during past crises — tried and true.

"They also include new and

Cancer Crusade Begins Monday

The annual Deaf Smith County Cancer Crusade will kick off Monday at two separate morning meetings as the local chapter sets its sights on a record goal of $9,282.

A 7 a.m. breakfast meeting at the Caison House will draw the members of the business drive together while workers for the rural drive will meet at 10 a.m. at the Community Center.

Helen McWhorter is the rural drive chairman and has urged all rural workers to attend the meeting to pick up their drive kits.

Bud Eades is this year's Cancer Crusade campaign chairman and Jim Arney is the business drive chairman.

In addition to the rural and business drives, the Hereford High School Key Club will participate in the drive by handling the door-to-door campaign of the city. Some 60 boys will be working the city for individual contributions.

The local chapter of the American Cancer Society also has asked that anyone wishing to make memorial donations to the crusade to do so at either of the local banks.

The memorial donations can be made in place of, or in addition to, flowers. A person can designate a memorial donation in the name of a person and the local chapter of the ACS will send a card to whoever is designated showing that a donation has been given to the drive in memory of that person.

The Dairy Queen and Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union will be displaying slogans on their marquee during the cancer drive.

The local board, in a meeting Friday, announced an open meeting for May 19 to elect officers and board members for the coming year. Anyone interested in serving should attend the noon meeting at the Country Club.

Potato Growers To Gather Here

A meeting to elect a member to represent Texas potato producers on the National Potato Research and Promotion Board will be held at 8:30, April 25, in Hereford.

The nomination meeting will be held in the hospitality room of the First National Bank Building.

All Texas growers of Irish potatoes are urged to attend the meeting, said Dave Fitz of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's McAllen marketing field office who will conduct the meeting. Growers of five or more acres of potatoes will be eligible to vote.

The West Texas Vegetable Growers Council and the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association are cooperating in holding the meeting.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service recently announced approval of the Potato Research and Promotion Plan in a nationwide referendum, and now requests that nomination meetings be held to select board members. Texas is entitled to one member on the Board.

Ben Barnes Slates Visit

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas, will make Hereford one of nine stops in the Panhandle when he makes a whirlwind tour of the area Wednesday.

The candidate will be in Levelland at 8 a.m., Morton at 9 a.m., Littlefield at 10 a.m., Muleshoe at 11 a.m. and Hereford at noon. He will arrive via helicopter and will land near the courthouse.

He will be accompanied by football greats Bob Lilly and Walt Garrison of the world champion Dallas Cowboys, and state Representative Bill Clayton of Springdale.

The two helicopters will land and deposit the visitors who will then answer any questions from the general gathering.

After the brief stop here, the group will helicopter to Dimmitt for a 2 p.m. stop followed by stops at Plainview at 3 p.m., Floydada at 4 p.m. and Tulia at 5 p.m.

TB Testing Set April 29

Deaf Smith County residents are reminded of the upcoming tuberculin skin-testing program on April 29 at three locations in Hereford.

Everyone in the county is asked to take the test, scheduled for the Hereford Public Health Clinic, Sugarland Mall and the Community Action Building at the Labor Camp.

The tests have been set for 2 to 8 p.m. Babies must be three-months-old or older, but other than that there is no age limit.

Clint Formby Is Escort For Dr. Billy Graham

Clint Formby, president of KPAN in Hereford, and owner of other Texas broadcast properties was one of nine broadcasters selected as "honorary escorts" for Dr. Billy Graham, recipient of the Distinguished Service Award of the NAB for 1972.

Dr. Graham received the award at the opening ceremonies of the convention held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago. The award was presented Monday morning before more than 5,000 broadcasters attending the convention.

Formby, a NAB board member and member of the convention committee was moderator for a two-hour panel at the convention Wednesday featuring key members of the Federal Communications Commission.

Featured speakers at the convention included: Treasury Secretary John Connally, Dr. Graham and Frank Stanton, vice chairman of the board of CBS.

YOUNG WEATHERMAN. — These Tierra Blanca Elementary School six-year-old students released helium-filled balloons Friday afternoon in an effort to trace local winds, as they relate to weather. Each balloon had a self-addressed information card attached, and anyone who finds the card should write his name, address and where he found the card. The school's older students will be working on a map, depicting where each card is found.

Sports Banquet Nears

Tickets are now available for the All-Sports Banquet planned for April 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Bull Barn. The tickets can be obtained from several Hereford businesses, from Booster Club members or mothers of high school athletes.

The tickets are on sale for $2 and can be purchased at the Hereford State Bank and the First National Bank, Harold Close Drug, the Chamber of Commerce office and Hereford Bakery. The Caison House will cater the banquet.

Claude "Chena" Gilstrap, athletic director at the University of Texas at Arlington will speak at the banquet, held yearly to honor HHS athletes. The highlight of the evening will be the News Service Awards to the best athlete in each sport. These awards are presented by radio station KPAN and The Hereford Brand.

Gilstrap joined UTA in 1953 as athletic director and head football coach, but stepped down from the coaching job in 1965. He came to UTA after coaching in Leverett's Chapel, Crockett, Wharton, and Cleburne High Schools, and Paris and Schreiner Junior Colleges.

Gilstrap compiled a record of 162 wins, 88 losses and nine ties in 26 seasons as head coach, for a winning percentage of .648. In 13 seasons on the senior college level his teams won, at a .680 clip, winning 85, losing 40 and tying three. His teams won three junior college titles, and won two of three bowl games. Gilstrap's 1957 team was the number one small college team in the nation with a 12-0 record.

The well known coach was born in Granger, and attended Schriener Institute, the University of Texas at Austin, and North Texas State, where he achieved his masters degree in 1957. He is currently a member of the board of directors of the U. S. Olympic Committee, and one of the most sought after speakers in the state.

Each year Gilstrap makes more than 60 "talks" all over Texas, and has long been a favorite of Texas sports personalities for his wit.

* At UTA-Gilstrap coached 12 players who gained All-American-mention, including pro football's Raymond Berry, formerly the Baltimore Colts, Doug Hart of Green Bay Packers, Steve Jackson of the Washington Redskins, and Melvin Witt of the New England Patriots.

Lions Auction Is Saturday

The Hereford Lions Club, through proceeds from its annual auction Saturday, will provide financial support to some deserving college hopeful by placing the proceeds in the Hereford Opportunity Plan.

The auction, which is planned Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Bull Barn, has been changed from past "radio" auctions. The auction this year will be broadcast over radio station KPAN, but there will be no phone-in bids as in the past.

All persons wishing to bid on any item will have to be present at the auction.

Items for sale will be on display Friday afternoon through the end of the sale Saturday.

The money from the sale will go into a Hereford-designated fund that provides money for college. The program was set up recently and applicants are considered, and if they qualify they are "loaned" the money for college. The loan carries the stipulation that the student can wait until after he is out of college to begin paying it back. The auction will consist of items donated by various merchants and individuals and will be sold to the highest bidder. Members of the Lions Club have been out canvassing the city, collecting merchandise from merchants.

'Faces Finish 2nd In Meet

The Hereford Whitefaces fell victim to the favorite Monterey Plainsmen Saturday in the District 4-AAAA track meet, but did come away with second place to qualify four individuals and one relay team for the upcoming regional meet.

Danny Harris took the only Whiteface first place finish when he leaped 21'2 1/2" in the long jump.

The sprint relay team of Larry McNutt, Keith Kitchens, Terry Champ and Bruce Barrett placed second along with Jim Marsh in the 'discus', Wesley High in the 120 high hurdles and Kitchens in the 330 (See "Faces" Pg. 2)

Lubbock Montgrey, after dropping the first game with the Hereford All-Stars on Friday, bounced back in the double-elimination tournament Saturday and defeated the local team, 53-31 to knock them out of the Little Dribblers' tournament in Lubbock.

Hereford bested Lubbock, 38-33 Friday night, then fell to surprising Lovington, N.M., 36-32 in Saturday's opening round. Saturday afternoon the locals fell to the Lubbock team.

Randy Marrs was high point man in both Saturday games, tossing in 14 in the game against Lovington and 18 against Lubbock. In the opening game, he added eight points to the high point production of Kent Ellis who had 13.

Guest Reviews Book On Program

A book review on Being and Other Things by Mrs. Gerald Mann was the program Thursday night in the Community Room of First National Bank as the La Madre Mia club met with Mrs. G. C. Merritt presiding.

"WITCHCRAFT" . . . . .

an egg, she wanted it," she said. "I gave the egg to her, she broke it under the bed and did something with her hands."

At that point, the woman said, the clear portion of the egg turned white as if it had been cooked on a fire—as if the fever of the child had been absorbed by the egg and cooked it.

The woman who performed the ritual said nothing to the mother to explain what she had done or why she had done it or how it worked.

There was another incident, the mother said, that involved a woman who lived across the alley from her who everyone claimed was a witch and the woman who had cured her son of his fever.

It was said that if the witch laughed at a person and did not touch that person, a spell would be cast that caused the person to become ill. If the witch laughed and touched a person, that person would remain in good health.

The woman who had cured her son became ill with severe headaches and body aches and it was supposed to have been because of the witch. The two women were together talking one afternoon and they began laughing.

As it happened that day when the two women were talking, the witch failed to touch the other woman and a short time later the woman became ill.

The witch was called over and she wrapped the woman in a sheet and went through the motions with the broom. In just a short time the woman was well.

"I don't believe in this stuff, no sir," the woman relating the tale said. "But, I have seen it happen. I don't believe a lot of things they do, but it is hard not to believe—I just don't know."

She told of another incident of a neighbor who always played with her children. She said that neighbor, even if he just looked at the child, made it a point to touch or hug the child before he left.

Where most religions shun such things as mal pusto, mal ojo and susto, many Mexican-Americans have become so used to the idea that these and other beliefs have become a part of their religion. But, there is no explanation as to how or why the powers work—just the belief that they are there and are part of a way of life.

Set aside as guest night, the party included visitors who were welcomed by hostesses, Mmes. Roger Williams, Ron Zimmerman, Charles Frye and John Smith.

During a business session it was announced that date of the election party for new officers has been changed to April 25.

Members and guests were served cake and coffee from a table decorated with a yellow cloth covered with lace.

Merry Mixers Square Dance Club met Friday night at the Odd Fellows Hall with special guests attending from Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Huber, the guests, are ticket chairmen for the annual Square Dance Festival to be held soon.

Dance nights were decided on, to be changed to the first, third and fifth Wednesday night of each month at Community Center.

A special event for the square dancers will be coming up May 27 at Sugarland Mall.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kuper, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mazurek and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Moore and Garry.

The mile relay team of Barrett, Luther Mays, Steve Nieman, and Champ finished third after going into the final lap in good shape. Tim Son of Plainview passed three anchor men enroute to a 47.6 quarter that took the Bulldogs to first place.

Nieman had a 49.8 lap and Kenton Orchestra in Hereford High School auditorium, matinee concert.

Champ had a 49.9 lap—both season bests for the two.

Champ also finished third in the high jump. Mays finished the same in the 800 run and James Harris was third in the 120 high hurdles.

Fourth went to John Page in the discus. Joe Coleman in the high jump (tie), David Varner in the shot, Champ in the 220, and Jim Henson in the mile.

Delegate Named For Convention

Named delegate from Hereford Garden Club to the convention of Texas Garden Clubs Inc., Mrs. R. L. Layman, president, will officially represent the local club in Waco April 25-27. She was elected at a meeting in Mrs. W. C. Hromas' home Friday.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., state treasurer, and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot will also go from Hereford Garden Club.

Other business Friday included plans for Arbor Day observance, April 28 with tree planting at the club's garden center, and plans for adding names to the plaque at Hereford High School, a gift of the club, commemorating former students whose lives were lost in military service.

On the program Mrs. Manjeot discussed control of insects in the vegetable garden, recommending sprays to kill bugs above or below ground, either chewing or sucking insects. She advised spraying ground with Dison before planting.

Mrs. R. L. Ethridge told how to deal with pests which attack flowers, stressing that care should be taken in use of any insecticide and directions followed strictly. Sprayers should be cleaned after use with ammonia in water, she added.

Review of state and national garden magazines included the announcement that Mrs. Howard Kittell of Fort Worth is to be the next national president.

HONORED ON RETIREMENT — Miss Nollie Herrington, retiring as chief operator for Bell Telephone Company, here, was honored Thursday afternoon at a tea in the lounge of the telephone building. Miss Herrington has worked as an operator for 35 years. She started at Colorado City in 1937, intending to work for only three months. She commented, "That surely was a long three months!" Miss Herrington is pictured above with Allen Russel, of Amarillo, district traffic superintendent, presenting a corsage. Approximately 50 guests visited throughout the afternoon.

Lately-Wed Couple Here On Honeymoon

After a honeymoon trip which brought them to Hereford for a brief visit with the bridegroom's parents on a circle through the Southwest, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Glen Goheen will be at home in Carnegie, Pennsylvania. They were married in St. Elizabeth Church at Techumseh, Michigan, with the Rev. Robert Handley officiating. Mrs. Goheen was Miss Karen Jean Steinman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Steinman of Dundee, Michigan. CW2 Goheen, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Goheen, 300 Centre, is a U.S. Army aviator stationed at Pittsburgh Air Defense Site and his bride was formerly manager of the post exchange at the Army base at Oakdale, Pennsylvania.

In military tradition, the bride and groom walked from the church after their wedding under an arch of sabres formed by the groomsmen, who like the bridegroom wore Army dress blues. His sabre was used to cut the wedding cake at the reception-dinner in St. Elizabeth hall.

Miss Steinman was married in her mother's wedding gown and veil. Of off-white satin, the dress had a marquise yoke in off-shoulder effect, long fitted sleeves and full skirt forming train. She wore a locket belonging to her grandmother. Her attendants were dressed in purple and lavender shades. Mrs. Thomas Wickenheiser, matron of honor, and CW2 Robert Farrington, best man, were the honor attendants.

Tailoring For Men To Be Demonstrated

Men's clothing sewed at home, newest development in the sewing-with-knits trend, will be the subject of a suit fair to be held in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn April 25, sponsored by county Home Demonstration Clubs.

Tailoring techniques used in constructing a man's suit will be demonstrated during the day, when a complete suit will be made and modeled.

Everyone interested in the program, not only in sewing for men but in tailoring methods which may be used also for women's clothing, is invited to the demonstration, which will continue from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Argen Draper and Joyce Shipp, Deaf Smith County H. D. Agents, will have a part in the demonstration directed by Fannie Brown Eaton and Roxanne Schnorr, clothing specialists with the state extension service from College Station.

Also assisting will be H. D. agents from neighboring counties, Irene Keating of Dimmitt and Jana Pronger of Farwell.

Local merchants will have exhibits of materials and sewing equipment, and local women who have made men's clothing will have garments on display.

The committee to arrange the fair includes Mmes. Paul Corbett, J. C. Gandy, Joe Peters, Bess Werner, Will Walker, Bob Ginn, Charles Weatherford, Leroy Johnson, Charles Packard, Joe Artho, Joe Gonzales and Maurice Tannahill.

Old, New Beauty In Home Viewed

Lending her home for the meeting of Calliopean Study Club, Mrs. Jack Renfro gave the program Thursday evening on the topic, A Touch of the Old and the New, as members looked at furnishings which exemplify that idea.

On arrival, guests were invited to go over the house and see antique and modern pieces which Mrs. Renfro has blended in furnishing the rooms. She had placed cards on some of the most interesting items, giving identification and bits of history.

After the group was seated in the den, the hostess showed some special articles and told their histories, then answered questions.

Her collection includes a Delft tile dating from the 1600's, also contemporary Delft ware; tooled leather chairs from Spain, a French chandelier originally made to hold candles, oriental rugs and some ancient Chinese pieces as well as modern Steuben glass and silver goblets, all used together in attractive proximity.

In a brief business period club members voted to plant a tree in the city-wide Arbor Day observance April 28, a beautification project.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Jay Boston and Mrs. Jack Wilcox' mother, Mrs. Golden, guests of the club, and members, Mmes. Keith Simmer, Hazen Woods, Bob Word, Wilcox, David Gibson, Emmett Milburn, Millard Nobles, Paul Conaway, C. J. Crump, E. W. Dettman, Roy Grubbs, Tom Kendrick, Ansel McDowell, D. C. McWhorter, Alton Fraser and J. T. Gilbreath.

Also Mmes. Hilrey Aven, Paul Corbett, J. C. Price, Harold Bier, M.W. Sumner and N. A. Greer.

The opening thought, given by Mrs. J. D. Love, was "Whatever Happened to Age?" and club business included a donation to Hereford Satellite School.

Cragwood Stable's Windjammer, a Restless Wind colt bred in Florida by Mrs. M.G. Tippitt, won four of his five races in 1971.

Braulio Baeza is the regular jockey for Numbered Account, the Ogden Phipps filly that won eight of her 10 races last year.

Hereford Has Three Wins In Boxing Matches Friday

The Hereford Boxing Club had three winners in Friday night's action at the Bull Barn, as Hector Guerrero, Mike Castro and Baltimore Guerrero posted victories in the five-team tourney.

Next Friday and Saturday the Hereford club will go to Lubbock for a tournament, then to Dimmitt the next weekend and then to Amarillo. Winners in the Amarillo tourney will advance to competition at Fort Worth in May.

Hector Guerrero won over Martin Martinez of Plainview in a 60-pound division, while Baltimore Guerrero defeated Ronnie McDonald of Dimmitt in a 110-pound bout.

Bobby Ramirez, Adolpho Garcia, Matthew Morgan, Felipe Luna, Ernest Castro,

Armando Castro, Frank Celeya, Arthur Gonzales, Eleazar Guzman, and Bobby Stewart all

Riders Club Wins Five

The Hereford Riders Club traveled to Canyon last weekend for the second playday of the season, at the Palo Duro Rangers' Arena.

Hector Guerrero, pee wee;

of Hereford lost their bouts. Stewart lost a 178-pound open division fight.

Jeanette Holman, junior girls; Vincente Guerrero Jr., junior boys; Mary Shipp, intermediate girls; and Jay Kerr, senior men won their divisions with high point performances.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes chapter in Hereford is planning a golf tournament for May 5 on the Hereford course. Proceeds will help send Hereford athletes to a couple of national meetings of the FCA this summer.

For those of you who don't know, the FCA is a non-denominational organization for athletes from all over the world. In Ball Hawk's opinion its one of the finest organizations among many fine organizations in the nation.

Many top name professional athletes are very active in the FCA, including "Roger the Doger" Staubach of the Dallas Cowboys.

Members of the Hereford FCA will serve as caddies at the tourney. An entry fee of $20 also includes two tickets to the FCA banquet that evening. The tournament is open to anyone and is an 18-hole affair.

Anyone wishing to enter the tourney can contact Bud Snyder, John David Bryant, Bob Renfro, Earl Stagner or B.F. Cain.

Congratulations to the Hereford Whiteface baseball team for gaining its first district 4-AAAA victory Tuesday, 5-2, over Lubbock High School.

From all indications the game was a trifle controversial both teams' coaches got in their two cents, and the officials apparently had a hard time deciding just exactly what was going on.

It all started when the Lubbock coach claimed that a Herd baserunner didn't touch third base, the officials agreed, then changed their minds again when HHS coach Mike Mitchell voiced his protest.

In my mind umpires should be umpires, and if they don't see something, such as a runner fail to touch base, then they should rule thusly. But if they do see something, they should call it and inform the coaches that their places are in and near the dougout and not out arguing on the field.

Baseball needs all the excitement it can get, but two coaches and two umpires out there arguing over this and that certainly is not called for. If half of those arguments were headed off before they ever got started, there would be a lot less extra-curricular fights going on.

Not that I blame either coach for pointing out the rules, it's just that it seems that more playing and less verbal battling would be better all around.

Suttle And Peters Have Best Batting Averages For Herd

As the District 4-AAAA baseball race moved into the final stretch, Eugene Suttle and Rick Peters sport the highest batting averages for the Hereford Whiteface baseball nine, and Rudy Gonzales has the most successful pitching record.

Suttle has scored 13 runs, chalked up 23 hits, and driven in 11 runs for a .411 average in 56 times at the plate. Peters is next with a .333, which includes 14 hits and four runs batted in.

Gonzales has the Herd's only district win and sports an overall win-loss record of 2-6. The sturdy hurler has pitched 59 innings, giving up 58 runs and 73 hits. Only 41 of those runs were earned, however, and he has fanned 49 opposing batters and walked only 24.

Terry Poindexter has a .286 average, which includes 12 hits and three runs batted in. Terry Scott is currently riding a .271 mark. Gonzales is batting at a .240 clip, but has the team's only homerun and has driven in eight runs.

Ricky Locke, .175, and Scott have the most doubles per man on the team, two, while Suttle holds the most triples, three. Suttle and Poindexter have

Monterey Takes 4-AAAA Golf Title

The Hereford High School golf team closed its season Friday on the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course in Hereford with a 420 for a season total of 1,968 and fifth place in District 4-AAAA.

Carrothers, 85; John Martin, 85; and John Jorde 93.

Monterey Rips Herd

Lubbock Monterey continued its domination of District 4-AAAA baseball Friday with a convincing 12-1 thumping of the Hereford Whitefaces on the local field.

The game only lasted five innings, stopped because of the 10-run rule. The Herd's record dropped to 1-7 in district play and 5-10-1 in overall action.

Twig Rose drove in the only Whiteface tally with a single in the fourth inning. Hereford managed only four hits, one each from Rose, Terry Poindexter, Terry Scott and Rick Peters. Monterey was good for eight safeties.

James Jorde of Hereford ended up as fifth place medalist, recording a 455. The Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen won the district title, shooting a final total of 1773. Plainview was second, followed by Lubbock High, Coronado and Hereford.

Charlie Waters of Monterey also had a hole-in-one on hole 17 of the Hereford course. Medalist was Bill DeTournillon of Monterey.

Jorde led the HHS squad Friday with a 77, followed by Brent Combs, 80; Bill struck out less than anyone else on the team, fanning only seven times. Peters has drawn more walks than anyone else, 11.

Locke has a 1-4 mound record. He has pitched 37 1/3 innings, giving up 24 runs and 39 hits; Only 12 of those runs were earned, and he has registered 26 strike-outs. Locke has walked 18 enemy batsmen.

Steve Loerwals has a 1-1 record and Poindexter has a 1-0 mark after one three inning pitching job. Other HHS batting averages are - Twig Rose, .333 (in six times at the plate); Johnny Burns, .308; David Loerwald, (four times at bat) .250; Steve Loerwald, .243; Frank Beizer, .224; Locke, .175; and Duane Davidson, .130.

The Hereford squad will be in Lubbock Tuesday to battle Coronado.

Sunset Lanes currently leads the league with a 23-9 record, followed by K-Bob's, 18-14; Watts Texaco, 17-15; Wilson

Beef and Lamb, 17-15; Dickie's Restaurant, 17-15; Ink Spot, 16-16; Sulley's Vending, 15-17; Worley Garage, 14-18; Orval Watson Ford, 12 1/2-19 1/2; and Arrowhead Mills, 7 1/2-24 1/2.

NEW YORK (AP) - A 31-pound, 12-ounce bluefish caught in Hatteras Inlet off North Carolina's outer banks last Jan. 30 exceeds the world's record for a blue by more than seven pounds, reports Aycock Brown of the Dade County Tourist Bureau.

The blue, boated by James M. Hussey of Tarboro, N.C., was weighed on two scales and full details have been sent to the International Game Fish Association.

CLOSE FINISH - This Aikman student, at far right, has just won the 50-yard dash for fifth grade boys at the Kiwanis Club Track Meet, held Friday afternoon on the Whiteface track. Several hundred young Hereford tracksters, both boys and girls competed.

GO! - These girls sprint off the starting line Friday afternoon during a race for sixth grade girls in the Hereford Kiwanis Club Track Meet, held for the seven local elementary schools. Nice but windy weather prevailed, as the young athletes competed in five running events and in two field events.

IF YOU'VE NOTICED all the excitement around Extension circles, it is because of Sue Shirley's winning last Saturday at the District Foods Show. Sue will represent District I at the State 4-H Roundup the first week in June.

Sue's dish is rotel fondue, in the milk group. The other food groups are meat, vegetables & fruit, and bread & cereal.

Sue quotes the Food for Fitness daily food guide: Everyone needs milk — children under 9-two or three cups; children 9 to 12 - three or more cups; teenagers - four or more cups; adults - two or more cups.

IN GIVING programs at guest clubs, Sue says, "Milk is our leading source of calcium, which is needed for bones and teeth. It also provides high quality protein, riboflavin, vitamin A, and many other nutrients."

Several clubs have asked for Sue's demonstration. Next week she'll give the program to Sugar Blues TOPS and Green Valley 4-H. Also, coach junior demonstrations Tuesday and Wednesday. These demonstrations are:

- Dairy — Geni Welty & Terri Adams
- Food & Nutrition — Christi Beene
- Vegetable Use & Preparation — Joycelyn Aven — Geni Inman

Sue's recipe:
ROTEL FONDUE
1 can Rotel tomatoes
1 pound processed cheddar cheese

Directions:
Blend one can tomatoes; remove from blender and put into 1 1/2 qt. sauce pan.

Heat tomatoes on a medium setting until thoroughly heated. Do not let them boil.

Add one pound cheddar cheese to tomatoes.

Lower heat to a low setting. Cook cheese and tomato mixture until cheese melts; watching carefully.

When cheese has melted, pour mixture into fondue pot.

To keep fondue warm, heat with a small candle or sterno. Do not let fondue get cold. Cheese will separate.

Serve with the following accompaniments: bread sticks, tostardoes, cauliflower, apple wedges, cherry tomatoes & meat balls.
Serves 4.

REMEMBER: Some milk for everyone!

THE WINNER at Round-Up will receive a $500 college scholarship. Sue plans to major in home economics and plans to attend Texas Tech, if present plans work out.

Sue goes to State Round-Up in foods but we're no less proud of other winners in the foods group. Chris Marnell, Beverly Beene and Stephanie Paetzold really made a good showing at the district show for Deaf Smith County.

Congratulations to the girls, their parents and leaders for making this program possible and help in making it successful. In our opinion, it is one of the best efforts we've ever made in foods and nutrition in 4-H.

It includes the four food groups, nutritive value of foods, consumer buying of the

Hereford Night In Amarillo

Hereford Night at the Amarillo Little Theatre production of The Girl in the Freudian Slip with Don Ameche as guest star, has been set for Saturday and local ticket sales are being sponsored by Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Tim Gearn is chairman of the local promotion which will benefit the sorority chapter. Tickets are priced at $4.50 for adults, $2 for students.

Ameche, longtime star of motion pictures and radio who later starred on television and in Broadway shows, arrived in Amarillo April 6 to rehearse with the cast of area actors, the first time a professional of his stature has appeared in an ALT play. He lately was in the same play with a non-professional cast at Miami.

A career which began with college plays while he was a law student in Wisconsin University took Ameche through a short period of stock and the New York stage, then he zoomed to stardom in early days of radio and went on to 30 years of top roles in films. Television appearances include participation as a panelist on To Tell the Truth, and he was a successful actor in Broadway shows of the 1950's.

RESPONSIBILITY LIVES RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — "The world come of age may not be religious, but it is still conscientious," writes the Rev. Dr. Eric Mount Jr., associate professor of religion at Centre College, Danville, Ky. In a new book, "Conscience and Responsibility," (John Knox Press), he adds: "We may be living in the midst of a value vacuum in a time of revolution that makes all authorities suspect, but there still seems to be an assumption about human responsibility which is very much alive."

REFORM: Both as House Speaker and as Lieutenant Governor, Ben Barnes has initiated legislative reforms to make the Texas Legislature more responsive to the will of the people. He has fought for joint rules for the Senate and House which would govern conference committees so that ten men would not have the power to write, behind closed doors, most of the major legislation, notably state appropriations.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION: To Ben Barnes, constitutional reform remains one of the unsolved needs of Texas. Barnes supports annual sessions of the Legislature, a strengthened Executive Branch and basic revision of our 19th Century Constitution to allow state government to effectively function in the space age.

ELECTION REFORM: Ben Barnes was instrumental in obtaining passage of Senate Bill 51, which authorized the most far reaching election law reforms in history, including permanent voter registration.

18 YEAR OLD VOTE: Ben Barnes has long supported lowering of the voting age and was the key mover behind swift Senate ratification of the 26th Amendment to the United States Constitution during the recent legislative session.

WELFARE: Calling the State's welfare program "the biggest mess in the world," Barnes advocates creation of a single administrator or secretary for the State's welfare department who is directly appointed by and accountable to the Governor.

EDUCATION: Ben Barnes believes that high schools and junior colleges should develop more vocational education programs. He believes vocational and technical training should be among the top priorities facing Texas in the field of education. He believes job training should be available for everyone who wants it.

TAX REFORM: Ben Barnes advocates revision of the Texas taxation system, although he does not favor a state income tax.

FACULTY SALARIES: RESEARCH: Ben Barnes has long supported salary increases for Texas school teachers and for University faculties. During the 62nd Session of the Legislature, Barnes fought for reinstatement of salary increases and research grants which were eliminated from the House version of the appropriations bill.

Star, Tower Undergo Major Renovations

Major improvements totaling close to $30,000 at the Star Theatre and Tower Drive-In have been completed, but more improvements are in the mill, according to manager Scott Brewer.

Improvements at the Star Theatre included an installation of sound-fold on the walls, remodeling of the concession area and front of the building, and the laying of new carpet.

At the Tower Drive-In, new counters were added to the concession stand along with better and more up-to-date equipment and the rest rooms were all remodeled. Brewer said when the new four-lane highway is completed west of town on U. S. 60, the Tower probably will also feature new lighting around the marquee and a new exit and entrance.

The cost of the work already done at the Tower is estimated at about $20,000 and at the Star at $10,000.

The new sound-fold installed at the Star is colorful burlap-looking material hung in pleats along the walls to serve as acoustics. The sound-fold creates an absorbing wall that prevents the sound from the shows from being too high.

A new ceiling has been added to the auditorium of the Star and the new front renovations provide better entry and exit to the theatre. The ticket box office was moved to one side instead of the center where it stood for so long.

In place of the wooden doors, glass has been added.

The next major improvement facing the Star is to replace all the seating, Brewer said.

"I think the Star is now in a class with any theatre around here. You can see the improvements we have done and we will continue to make improvements," he said.

"We want the Star to be a place where people can come without being afraid of what their children might get into or what they might see — someplace where Mom can send the kids without having to worry about them."

Brewer said he plans to show pictures "everybody, including the whole family" can come see. He said the emphasis will be toward family entertainment and the theatre firm is moving away from X-rated movies at the Tower.

"We feel the trend of the industry is going back to family movies and we are certainly glad," Brewer said.

Fordham's baseball team will play 29 games this spring.

Willie Shoemaker won five straight races last year with MacArthur Park, then a 2-year-old racing in California.

RENOVATIONS COMPLETE — Major improvements at the Star Theatre and Tower Drive-In have been completed, according to manager Scott Brewer. Shown here is the lobby and snack bar at the Star, which was one of the areas that underwent a facelift. The work here included remodeling the front of the building and installing new carpet.

What's Happening Where

MULESHOE - The Bailey County Hospital District Board met Monday, April 10, and called for a recount of the votes cast in the April 1 board member election. The recount was called due to the small difference in votes between the candidates. There were only 12 votes difference between Marvin Drake, who had the lowest number of votes of those elected, and Dr. Charles Lewis, who had the highest number of votes of those defeated.
 -The Muleshoe Journal

DIMMITT - The idea for a larger fire station started brewing in the minds of the Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Dept. Swisher county friends and supporters of the former Senator are invited to attend. This will be the only major Yarborough fund raising event in the immediate area prior to the primary.
 -The Tulsa Herald

LITTLEFIELD - Several Littlefield citizens have been moved by the spirit to get out and clean up their premises in an all-out "spring cleaning" campaign. The Community improvement Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is hard at work convincing others that they should do the same, so that visitors to the city might have a better impression of the town, and the citizens already here might be more positive in their attitude concerning Littlefield.
 One member of the committee, who is aware of Littlefield's efforts in attracting new industry to the area, has commented, "There is not much to be gained by putting Littlefield's best foot forward, if the shoe is not shined."
 This is where the average citizen of Littlefield becomes involved in getting the shoe shined.
 All citizens are asked to clean up their immediate residences, then help their neighbor or the elderly person who is unable to do so.

Veteran's Affairs

Q - I am a 65-year-old World War II veteran. Am I eligible for a VA pension?
 A - Yes, if you are single and your income from all sources is below $2,600. If you have dependents, the income limitation is $3,800. Your net worth is also a factor. Suggest you contact VA for an application form so your eligibility can be determined.

Q - Am I still eligible for educational benefits if I was separated from military service in January 1967?
 A - Yes. Veterans with more than 180 days of active duty who received an other than dishonorable discharge between Jan. 31, 1955 and June 1, 1966, have eligibility for eight years from date of discharge, or until May 31, 1974. Veterans separated for service-connected disabilities are eligible regardless of length of service.

Q - I receive military retired pay for a disability that would entitle me to VA compensation if I waived my retired pay. Am I eligible for educational benefits under the vocational rehabilitation program?
 A - You may be eligible for this benefit, so suggest you contact VA. However, it is not necessary to waive your retired pay to qualify for VA vocational rehabilitation education benefits.

Social security

Q. My mother had surgery, but is ready to leave the hospital. She insists on coming home. Will Medicare pay for a private nurse or for any nursing service? Her incision needs to be dressed daily.
 A. Medicare will not pay for full-time nursing care at home, but certain home health benefits may be available to her. Part-time nursing care, part-time services of home health aides, medical supplies and appliances, physical therapy, etc., may be available from an approved home health agency. However, her doctor must make the referral and file a plan of home treatment within 14 days after the patient leaves the hospital (after at least a 3-day stay) or a participating extended care facility.

Q. I am a domestic worker and am employed by a number of different people. Should this work count for social security benefits?
 A. If you are paid $50 or more by any one employer in a calendar quarter it does count for social security benefits. If you believe your wages are not being properly reported, ask your Social Security Office for help.

Q. Both my husband and I receive social security benefits based on his work. I understand a person may earn up to $1680 a year and receive all benefits. May each of us earn $1680 or is that the amount we may earn together?
 A. Each of you may earn up to $1680 in a year and receive all of your benefits. If you earn over $1680 in a year, your earnings will reduce only your benefits and not the benefits of your husband; however, his earnings can reduce both your benefits and his benefits because payments are based on his work credits.

Time To Clean Up And Beautify Hereford!

SPRING CLEANUP MONTH began officially Saturday in Hereford and will continue until May 15 with a number of organizations, both youth and adult, lined up to aid the beautification committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, sponsoring group.

UNSIGHTLY SPOTS in the city, trash-littered lots and alleys, tumbledown buildings and junk cars, weedgrown yards which supply sites for mosquitoes to breed, all are targets for the cleanup. Extra trash-hauling service will be offered by men and pickups from service organizations.

THIS IS THE WAY the cleanup committee would like yards of the city to look. Mrs. Edd Jesko stands on the green lawn where pansies are blooming around the base of a tree at the Jesko home, 105 Westhaven.

PREMATURE SIGN is exhibited by Campfire Girls Deanna and Debra Pool, who with others in the organization picked up trash Saturday along Highway 385 southward from Sugarland Mall, then set their sign up to stay.

NOT THIS WAY, committee members say as they survey an unsightly alley between streets where the homes have neat front yards. Mrs. Melvin Jayroe and Mrs. W. C. Davis of the Women's Division look over the scene. The abandoned, doorless and windowless building in the north part of the city sets on weed-grown ground with piles of junk in the background, and another abandoned house.

NEW HOUSE, OLD HOUSE, either can have its yard beautified. One of a row of recently constructed houses in the 400 block of Long Street is that of Mrs. E. A. Castillo, whose work has resulted in a handsome stretch of green grass patterned with shade from a quick-growing willow tree. With the children, Alan, Lila and Jesus, she stands on the front porch. One of Hereford's older homes, at 401 Jowell, has been occupied by Mrs. Angelina Garcia and her family the past two years. Its yard, neglected during illness of the previous owner, has been restored with shrubs trimmed, flowers reset and lawn watered. Mrs. Garcia is at work with her grandson, Gerald Lee, near flowering bridal wreath and lilac hedges in a corner of the backyard.

DEAD TREE REMOVAL is a cleanup gesture in his own front yard by Roy Botkin, 100 Elm, who supplied his tractor for power.

Mrs. Gregory M. Combs
... former Susan Katzen of Dallas

Couple Married In Dallas

Miss Susan Jane Katzen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Katzen of 2710 Starcrest Lane in Dallas, and Gregory Mitchell Combs, of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Combs, 150 Ranger Drive, were wed in Chapel Hills Presbyterian Church of Dallas Saturday evening. Judge W.E. Richburg of Dallas officiated.

Miss Katzen's sister, Miss Ellen Katzen of Denver served as maid of honor and Richard Combs, brother of the groom, also of Denver, as best man.

Miss Stephanie Finkelstein of St. Louis served as bridesmaid, while Brent Combs of Hereford, also a brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen. Ushers were Steve McWhorter of Hereford, Cliff Sims and Mac Crary, both of Dallas.

The bride's gown was of white peau de soie with an illusion neckline, the bodice and bishop sleeves of pearl-trimmed lace. The detachable train also was embellished with lace, and lace-and-pearl petals on a white bow held her bouffant elbow-length veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses and ivy.

The bride's attendants carried white and yellow spring bouquets of baby's breath, daisies and carnations, while their gowns were of yellow dotted swiss with scooped necklines and short sleeves.

Following the ceremony the couple received guests in the clubroom of Las Estancias Apartments, residence of the groom. Cake was served by Mrs. Richard Turner of Dallas and Mrs. Richard Combs of Denver. Mrs. Cliff Sims, also of Dallas, served punch. Music was provided by Mrs. Anna Marie Harkey.

A centerpiece of daisies and other flowers in white and yellow graced the table, along with the three tiered cake, which featured pale yellow rosebuds at the edge of each layer.

For her wedding trip to San Antonio and Acapulco, Mexico, the bride chose a beige knit traveling dress with long sleeves, trimmed in brown at the neckline and cuffs.

The couple will be at home at Apt. 161, 13404 Noel Rd. in Dallas following their return on April 21.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of University City High School, St.

Louis, and a 1971 graduate of the University of Missouri with a B.A. degree in home economics. The bridegroom, a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School, is a 1967 graduate of Texas Tech University, where he received his BBA in marketing. He is currently employed by Glendale Optical Co. a division of American Cynamid.

Hereford guests in addition to the Combs family included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Renfro, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whitaker, Mrs. and Mrs. Steve McWhorter.

Historic Spots Surveyed

An armchair tour of historical landmarks and public buildings in Hereford was taken by Pioneer Study Club members at their luncheon this week in the Caison House, with Mrs. Bess Werner as guide.

Rev. Robert Wilson, of Canyon conducted Sunday services at Frio Baptist Church. His wife, Carol, and their two daughters also came for the evening service. Rev. Wilson and his wife are students at WTSU. He also is employed at Sears, in Amarillo. Rev. Wilson was a guest preacher in the absence of Rev. Ogan as he is with Mrs. Ogan at Galveston in John Sealy hospital.

Mrs. Ogan was recovering from surgery for skin graft, performed Tuesday. This is the third skin graft operation, the other two being done at High Plains hospital in Amarillo. Her general health has improved considerably since entering John Sealy, but because of the seriousness of her burns and complications she is expected to be a long way yet from recovery.

Sammy, son of the Ogans, who has been in Italy as an exchange student, came home the last of the week and was with them at Galveston. Both daughters, Debbie Pitman and Anna-Ruth Andrews are still there also, having stayed since they went on March 22.

The girls do plan to come home soon, for awhile, if their mother continues to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber went to Dallas Sunday and were with their daughter-in-law and son, the Jimmy Barbers, as they stay close to Sharon's father, R.C. Howard. He is critically ill with leukemia in Wadley Hospital, a part of the Wadley Blood Research Center. The Howards live at Idalou. The Barbers came home Wednesday, and brought Jason, son of the Jim Barbers to stay

Langley Will Attend Meeting

Earnest Langley of Hereford will be one of 71 delegates from Texas to attend the General Conference of the United Methodist Church in Atlanta, Ga., today through April 29.

The conference marks the first regular legislative session of the United Methodist Church since union of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren Churches in 1968. Some 1,000 delegates from 80 countries will participate in the quadrennial meeting of United Methodism's supreme law making body in Atlanta's Civic Center.

Pointing toward rather extensive alterations in the denomination are several reports of four-year study commissions. These call for restructuring the church's general boards and agencies, re-starting its social principles, re-thinking its doctrinal standards, changing its attitudes toward the role of women, and reducing the number of its theological schools.

Where Best Interests Lie

No one expects the AFL-CIO to sound like the National Association of Manufacturers, but it would be nice if the federation more often could see where union members' best interests really lie.

In a recent "Memo From COPE," published by the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education, the first article tells of the troubles of workers who lose jobs when their employers move manufacturing operations overseas or find that they cannot compete with imports. There certainly has been much painful dislocation, but COPE doesn't seem to see either the cause of the cure.

Reading this "Memo," as well as most of the other pronouncements by labor organizations and their leaders, you might think that the troubles result solely from a diabolical plot by corporations and their lackeys in the federal government. American businessmen, says COPE, are "sailing off to foreign nations with their technology, sometimes their equipment, often their management personnel, and lots of American jobs" — with the help of favorable federal tax and tariff rules.

In a roundabout way the labor group does appear to recognize that many businessmen start producing goods overseas because they can no longer produce them here and remain competitive in either foreign or domestic markets. Labor's "solution" is the Burke-Hartke bill, which would wall off much of the U. S. market as the exclusive province of U. S. companies.

COPE has the chutzpah to call this a tax-trade-consumer bill, although its inevitable result would be higher prices for many of the goods consumers buy. But the measure would indeed make a lot of Yankee businessmen go home; many, in fact, would go right out of business.

Anyone who thinks other nations would sit still for Burke-Hartke protectionism is a congenial optimist. Retaliation would be swift and extensive, and many U. S. firms would lose whatever foreign markets they still have.

A lot of American firms have gone overseas partly because of present foreign trade restrictions; a factory in France, for instance, may be essential to making any sales in the Common Market. U. S. plants abroad are responsible for a sizable share of America's exports, since they often use U. S. made components — and help to promote some products that the companies make only in America.

Many of the American companies operating overseas could no longer do so if Burke-Hartke's tax-tariff penalties are ever inflicted. As such companies shut up shop, U. S. exports would drop along with the jobs they provide.

Real solutions to the trade problems will require recognition that U. S. businessmen aren't the prime movers in this situation; they have been pulled and hauled by forces largely beyond their control.

One of the primary causes is the fixed-exchange-rate system that kept the dollar overvalued and thus made U. S. exports expensive and U. S. imports relatively cheap. Last December's exchange-rate realignment was a help, but rates could get out of line again.

They could easily do so if the U. S. government doesn't do a better job of controlling its finances and instead permits inflation to revive. The inflation, of course, has helped to push up the union wage demands that have done so much to price American goods out of markets both at home and abroad.

The unions get away with the wage demands because the government has built their power to excessive size. The same government puts a heavy tax burden on business, a burden that has slowed capital investment and thus has helped foreign nations to begin to catch up with the U. S. in technology.

The AFL-CIO's tunnel vision becomes all the more obvious when a reader flips to the back page of this "Memo From COPE." Spelled out there is an argument not for encouraging business investment, and thus increasing jobs, but for socking the corporation with higher taxes.

"There is no simple explanation of trade policy and problems," COPE says, quite correctly. Neither is it easy to understand why the federation is so determined to destroy union members' jobs.

— Wall Street Journal

Myth About Importing Jobs

The charges of organized labor that American firms are "exporting jobs" at the expense of U. S. workers are not corroborated by the facts, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States asserts after an extensive six-month study of this matter.

On the contrary, those businesses with overseas operations have actually increased the number of employees in this country by more than twice the national growth average. And these same firms contributed more to the increase of U. S. exports than the national average, the National Chamber declares.

These facts come from responses of 158 multinational corporations, who reported on their activities during the 1960s. Firms responding to the survey reply employing more than 17 percent of all general manufacturing workers as of 1970; employment for the domestic operations of these firms increased more than 31 percent from 1960-70, while the national average was just over 12 percent, the Chamber survey reveals.

Retention of foreign markets and overcoming trade/tariff obstacles were the major reasons these firms gave for locating plants in foreign countries — two factors which would be adversely affected by a union-backed measure in Congress, the Burke-Hartke Bill. In the guise of protecting domestic employment and American trade, this measure, instead, could trigger forces which could lead to a world-wide depression, the National Chamber asserts.

More than short-sighted interests are needed to deal with problems facing U. S. industry in the foreign trade and investment practices, the Chamber contends. Facts, not fantasies must guide economic policies, and the facts show that present trade policies do not have the detrimental effects on the economy that organized labor charges.

Tender Trap

Two people not only cannot live as cheaply as one, they can't marry and live as cheaply as two, at least so far as federal income taxes are concerned.

That, at least, was the contention of Representative Edward I. Koch (D., N. Y.) before a recent House Ways and Means Committee hearing on proposed tax law changes. The income tax paid by a working married couple can be considerably larger than what they would pay if unmarried, the Congressman said.

The 1969 tax law's improvement of the wages of sin was but one of several anomalies to be uncovered by the committee in the way federal tax laws have a varying impact on single persons, married couples, working married couples and single heads of households. As with the penalties exacted against the working married, most of the variations don't make much sense.

When the next round of "tax reform" comes along it wouldn't be a bad idea to try to give the income tax a neutral effect on marriage decisions. In this era of permissiveness, the institution of marriage already has enough working against it without the government taking a hand, too.

The Middlemen

The Nixon administration thought it could control prices without doing anything about raw food but, as might have been expected, things haven't worked very well.

Food prices are rising, and some consumers are claiming the entire control program is a dismal failure. Every time an administration official suggests that something will have to be done about food prices, though, the farmers — another vocal bloc — are up in arms.

So the administration tack appears to pin the blame on the "middlemen," the traditional villains whenever prices appear to be out of line.

Consumer tastes play a large role, as housewives buy increasing amounts of so-called convenience foods.

Food merchants claim they could save money, and pass some of the savings along to the consumer, if meat was pre-cut and frozen at packing plants. For good reason or bad, though, consumers apparently resist the idea of buying frozen meat even if it costs less.

The government's own policies — farm subsidies, import quotas and the like — also help keep prices up.

The food price question thus is complex, and it won't be solved merely by the attack on the middlemen. In fact, if administration officials contend they can control food prices without controls, they will continue to be truly the men in the middle.

MAIN STREET, U. S. A.

Students March To Another Drummer

By Bert Mills
Washington, D. C. — Eight out of ten jobs to be filled during the 1970's will be open to people who have not graduated from a four-year college. At the same time, there will be more recipients of a bachelor's degree than there are positions for them to fill.

Each year about 2.5 million students end their formal education without being adequately prepared for a work career. Last year there were 850,000 elementary and secondary school dropouts, 750,000 graduated from high school with no work skills and unprepared for college, plus 850,000 who dropped out of college without a degree or a marketable skill.

Despite relative prosperity, the unemployment rate remains high. At the same time, many jobs so unfilled for lack of qualified applicants. The wanted sections of major newspapers are crammed with employment opportunities. While highly qualified engineers walk the streets looking for work, there are acute shortages of laboratory specialists, medical assistants, and computer technicians.

Obviously something is wrong with our educational system, despite a national investment of a staggering $65 billion this year — a ten-fold increase in the past quarter century. We are educating a lot of people, after a fashion, but in too many cases the training does not lead to an appropriate career.

More than two years ago, President Nixon challenged educational leaders to institute massive reform. The response has not been overwhelming but there has been a general realization that the major shortcoming of our schools has been their failure to educate for meaningful careers.

Career Education Seen the Solution Career education is not a new concept among educators but recently it has become the focal point of educational innovators. U. S. Commissioner of Education S. P. Marland, Jr. is perhaps the leading advocate of career education but state school leaders have endorsed the idea and the business community has applauded the concept.

The goal of career education is to insure that every student, no matter what his or her capacity or ability may be, leaves school with a salable skill. Under this concept, there would no longer dropouts, for everyone leaving school would be prepared to do useful work.

This would be accomplished by beginning "career exploration" in about the 7th grade, after each child received the same educational bill of fare in earlier grades. Children would be made aware of a wide range of occupational opportunities. By the end of the 10th grade, the student would make a tentative choice and be given training in elementary job skills.

For example, a student might learn typing, or train as a construction helper, social work aide, or service station attendant. All students would have the opportunity to gain on-the-job work experience while still in high school, through cooperative programs with business and government.

Every high school would have a placement service and would assist every student, especially those leaving before graduating. Those preparing for college would have less time for occupational training but would still acquire entry-level job skills and work experience.

Would Make School More Relevant

Many youngsters who quit school these days say they find school irrelevant to the modern world. One of the goals of the career education concept is to make school more relevant, and to gear the entire educational experience to what the Office of Education calls "preparation for economic independence and an appreciation for the dignity of work."

The concept recognizes that not all students today number economic success among their goals. Commissioner Marland has an answer to that attitude: "Those young people possess a deep commitment to the service of their fellowman. They too are the concern of career education, for the essential message of this program is a useful and fulfilling life.

"They will be better able to serve their fellowman if qualified as skilled artisans, health technicians, accountants, social work aides, teachers, environmental technicians, engineers — to mention a few fields of usefulness and fulfillment."

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — It was 124 years ago this spring that a French socialist theorist named Etienne Cabet decided to establish a Utopia in Texas.

In the 1840's, Cabet, a socialist who helped to dominate French political thought after the downfall of Napoleon Bonaparte, wrote a book, "Voyage in Icaria," in which he outlined his theories. The book, which became a best-seller in France, argued that all property should be owned in common and that its fruits should be divided according to the needs of the community.

To test this theory, Cabet brought 69 Frenchmen to Denton County in 1848 and established a settlement named Icarus near the present town of Justin. Among the leaders were Auguste Comte, who invented the term "sociology," and another idealist named Victor Prosper Considerant. (Later Considerant was to establish a second French socialist colony, "La Reunion," in what now is the city of Dallas).

Cabet's colony was successful at first: Within a year, however, erratic rains had ruined the Icarian wheat crop, fever and malaria struck the colonists and some died. After 12 months, Cabet decided to move his colony north to Navoo, Ill. Eventually his followers expelled him and he moved to St. Louis for awhile before returning to France to die in poverty in the 1880's — his dream of a utopia on earth unfulfilled.

IT'S THE REAL THING — When Clyde Bray, owner of the Heritage Gardens Village near Woodville, Tyler County, decided to add a moonshine whiskey still to his fabulous Texana collection, he demanded that it be authentic and operational.

It was no problem. He simply asked a fellow townsman, Jethro Holmes, to put the gadget together for him. Although he has long since retired, Mr. Holmes proudly boasts that he once turned out the finest moonshine ever made in East Texas.

RECONSTRUCTION — The Leon County courthouse at Centerville (built in 1887 at a cost of $20,000) actually was second-hand when it opened.

Its predecessor, built entirely of hand-made brick, was destroyed by fire on November 9, 1885. When the ashes were cleared away, however, it was found that most of the sturdy brick and two large safes had survived.

The new building was erected over the still useful safes, and much of the original brick went back into the "new" courthouse.

TRAVELING TEXAS — McCoy, a tiny hamlet in Floyd County, boasts the only general store in Texas that sells quail eggs either fresh or pickled!

Robert Smith, the owner, raises quail as a hobby. He sells not only frozen birds, but their eggs. The eggs of the small Pharaoh quail are a special delicacy among gourmets. Mrs. Smith pickles them and sells them for $1.50 per pint.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
Southern States Industrial Council

The mob of welfare extremists that rallied at the Washington Monument in the nation's capital in late March presented the ugliest face of contemporary America — the massed power of parasitic elements.

Sponsored by the National Welfare Rights Organization, the march had the goal of pressuring the federal government into providing vast new subsidies for the dependent. On hand were such congressional radicals as Bella Abzug (D-NY) and Ronald V. Dellums (D-Calif.), plus a gaggle of radicals from the entertainment world.

Responsible Washingtonians were shocked to learn that D. C. School Superintendent Hugh J. Scott was on hand and that the rally had been endorsed by the D. C. Board of Education. This development clearly illustrated the unwisdom of allowing "home rule" in the nation's capital. The result would be extremist rule.

The thousands of "welfare mothers" who marched were carrying placards demanding a $6,500 guaranteed minimum annual wage. These demands are a slap in the face of millions of decent, self-reliant citizens. After all, who is the typical welfare mother? The answer is that she is a woman who has had several children by different fathers and without benefit of marriage. The "welfare mother" is likely to be a woman who has illegitimate children year after year because she knows that she can get child support from the public. In other words, bastardy is a profitable racket in slums across the country. And one of the reasons the country has slums is because it has this immoral, parasitic element that regards welfare as a career. In fact, the United States now has families that are third generation reliefers.

Because the U. S. has the "welfare mother" phenomenon, it is important that every effort be made to reduce the swollen welfare establishment and to cut off the supply of money for welfare careerists. Unfortunately, the White House and liberals in Congress are making every effort to gain Senate approval of the welfare expansion program known as the Family Assistance Plan (FAP). The Senate Finance Committee has subjected the plan to critical scrutiny and may reject it. But the liberal forces are determined to rescue FAP if that happens.

Opponents of FAP, which embodies the guaranteed annual wage concept, also should be ready for a floor fight. They should focus attention on the shameful "welfare mothers" march and be prepared to build taxpayer resistance to a proposal that would double the number of people on welfare and add billions of dollars in expense.

The welfare system needs an overhaul all right, but FAP doesn't deserve the label. The criteria for welfare reform plan would focus on requiring welfare mothers to give the identity of their children's fathers and provide a system for tracking down the missing parent. At present, the "welfare mother" is protected in her silence by the confidentiality regulations of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. As a recent Southern States Industrial Council report made clear, "Congress can legislate an end to this counter-productive 'right' and should authorize federal investigative forces such as the FBI to join in the search for the elusive fathers."

A new law isn't the complete answer to the welfare problem. Equally important is a tougher public attitude. "Welfare mothers" who demand $6,500 a year out of the public treasury deserve nothing but contempt. The classified advertisements of U. S. newspapers prove that there are jobs available for women who want to work. But the marching "welfare mothers" aren't in that category. They prefer to be on welfare than to take the kind of jobs they can handle at the wages available for such jobs.

FAP is wrong from every angle. It would vastly enlarge the welfare population. It would federalize public assistance instead of providing stricter state control over relief. The guaranteed annual wage principle would be established. Within a few years, the $6,500 level sought by the welfare marchers would be the law of the land.

Congress and the working people of this nation shouldn't capitulate to militant welfare careerists. The country can't long endure if a sizable percentage of the population consists of subsidized drones, if parasites are allowed to intimidate the government.

Miss Evelyn Packard Bride Of Roy Reinart

Miss Evelyn Packard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Packard, and Roy J. Reinart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reinart, exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony in St. Anthony's Catholic Church Thursday evening.

The Rev. John Keisling officiated for the nuptial mass. White and lavender carnations in gold urns were placed on either side of the altar. White hurricane candles based in foliage with lavender bows marked pews in the church sanctuary.

Miss Anne Frye, maid of honor, and Jerry Mize, best man, were the couple's only attendants. Jerry and Timmy Artho of Vega, cousins of the bridegroom, served as acolytes. The bride's floor-length gown was of orchid taffeta with nylon overlay, and featured a stand-up collar, full sheer sleeves and an empire waistline circled with ribbon-run eyelet lace.

She wore a loveknot necklace, the bridegroom's gift, and her headpiece was a lavender peau de soie bow ornamented with teardrop pearls.

Miss Frye's dress, in a darker shade of lavender, was similar in design to the bride's, but in street length.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, carried a bouquet of lavender orchids and stephanotis. Her maid of honor had white and purple carnations tied with ribbon streamers in her bouquet, and wore some of the purple blossoms in her hair.

Mrs. Jim Cramer at the organ and Mrs. Jonny Cloud, vocalist, provided special music for the ceremony. Solos were More and Wedding Prayer in addition to the traditional wedding marches.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom received guests in the home of her sister, Mrs. Richard Ward, 201 Douglas. Guests were registered by Miss Julie Reinart, the bridegroom's sister.

Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Ward and another sister of the bride, Mrs. Joe Lambert of Vernon.

The table was covered in white linen with lace trim, and graced by a white wedding candle with lavender and white carnations at its base. The two-tiered cake was decorated with lavender sugar roses and topped by three satin wedding bells.

The couple is at home at 828 South Texas, Apartment 10. The bridegroom, employed by New Holland of Hereford, is a 1971 HHS graduate.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mrs. John Welch of Earth, the bride's grandmother; Joe Lambert of Vernon, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Artho of Wildorado, the bridegroom's godparents.

Talk Gives Club Ideas

Experience of Westway Home Demonstration Club members in planting and growing roses was pooled in round-table discussion which followed the talk by Mrs. Joe Artho on that subject at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. J.C. Morrison was hostess in her home. Mrs. Artho talked of selecting roses for local planting, the varieties which grow best in this climate, and methods of planting and cultivating the bushes.

Others present to contribute ideas in the open discussion were Mmes. T.B. Thomas, Fred Sherman, Bess Werner, Arnold Fangman and Albert Lamb.

Garden Club Sending 3 To Meeting

Three members of Hereford Garden Club will attend the 44th annual spring convention of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. April 25-27.

Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr., state treasurer of Texas Garden Clubs, Mrs. R.L. Layman, president of Hereford Garden Club and Mrs. A.L. Manjeot will attend the meeting.

Awards will be presented at a banquet for competition on a state level. To be eligible to compete, the clubs' entries must have scored 95 points or better at district level.

CHICAGO (AP) — Mr. Duck is more than a duck around the Bob Brophy home. He has turned the tables on the family watch dog, Duffer, and guards the house from intruders.

The eight-pound web-footed bundle of white feathers has had no formal training in the art of home defending and thinks he is a dog.

A duck house was built in the backyard for Mr. Duck. When Mr. Duck took possession, Duffer moved in, too.

"I'm sure he thinks he is a dog," said Mrs. Brophy. "He quacks when strangers come into the yard and his quack is more like a bark than the sound other ducks make."

Scholarship awards ranging from $300 to $500 will also be presented at the banquet.

Other awards to be presented will be to state winners of poster and essay contest with the theme, Action Against Pollution, which was conducted locally by Hereford Garden Club in the public schools.

Cleanup Plan

A part in the citywide cleanup and beautification month, April 15-May 15, was planned by Jaycee-Ettes in a Monday evening meeting with Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Harvey Milton as hostesses.

Members will plant a cactus garden at Windmill Park adjoining the Santa Fe depot, and a group will go to Tucumcari to get the native cactus.

Plans were also made to decorate for the Jaycee-JayceeEtte banquet scheduled at 7:30 p.m. April 28 in Civic Club Center, when a number of special guests will be entertained.

New members welcomed are Mmes. Bill Bankston, Larry Bean and John Bunch. Visitors were Mrs. Ronnie Wagner and Mrs. Don Schmer.

By the Garden Gate

with Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

According to theory, April gets its name from the Latin verb meaning to open. This is a very wonderful way to express the beauty and happiness that comes with the arrival of April. I was made very happy the other morning when I went out into the garden to welcome the new opened blossoms. While enjoying their beauty, I saw the flutter of wings, and then the bird perched on one of the swaying branches of the honey colost and burst into song. My friend the mockin-bird had returned.

He has spent the last years in our garden, and often serenades with lovely music, which is wonderful to work to. One of his favorite places is the tip-top of the TV antenna, and his music is great.

Really the past few days have been red-letter days in my calendar. Have visited with several excellent gardeners. We have exchanged plants and ideas. And I was thrilled at the beauty of flowers, shrubs, and trees. Also had the pleasure of meeting with several clubs, and talking with them relative to various phases of gardening.

Delighted to note the ready response to the plans for Arbor Day, April 28. There has been approximately 15 clubs and businesses which have agreed to share in the planting of a tree, shrub or other plants.

My hat is off to the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division and Mrs. Maruice Tannahill, for her leadership in this project. Also wonderful to note the response of individuals in their gardens, who are planting and making plans to plant a tree on Texas Arbor Day.

Plans are in the making to complete some of the areas of the landscape design, at the Hereford Garden Club Center. Soon we hope there will be color and beauty there.

WAYS TO BE KIND TO YOUR GARDEN
One of the unkindest things we do in our garden is to use tools which are not sharp and properly cared for. To cut with dull pruning shears, lawn mower, clippers, loppers, and saw is creating misery for our plants, trees and shrubs.

Remember they will respond to good treatment, and loving tender care. One of the first steps in making our garden tools perform as they should is to use extra care in their selection. Try them for left and grip and be sure they will not pinch and cause the hands to cramp. A pinched blood blister is bad for a busy gardener. Make sure blades meet along the cutting surface.

In the use of electric gardening tools, care should be used in selection of cord, and then be watchful of it while operating the gadget. Old tools should be carefully checked, sharpened, tightened and properly oiled.

Skillful pruning, clipping and mowing improves the health and general appearance of your garden; clean, smooth cuts always pays off in good dividends. The removal of dead or diseased branches, attractive trimmed hedges and grass, properly cut flower stems, all tend to produce better plants, more fruit, flowers, and bring sprightly new life to tried old shrubs and trees. I noted many examples of proper care in the gardens I visited last week.

There is nothing quite comparable to the sweet smell of a fresh mown lawn; nothing so satisfying as cutting it with a good mower which has been well cared for and is in the best of condition.

Again if a new machine is to be purchased, think carefully about it and do some study. Check for safety seals of the Outdoor Equipment Institute, and the warranty.

Before starting to mow, clear the grass of all debris; check fuel, oil, and if electric examine cord to make sure there are no nicked insulation through to the wire; always start engines in the open; start all motors on level ground; adjust to the height you want to cut. Most cool season grasses with the exception of bent, grow thicker turf when kept to a height of 2 inches. Do not cut too low, use care that the roots are not damaged.

Precautions... don't mow wet grass; always wear sturdy shoes; don't let anyone come within 150 feet of you while machine is in operation; push, don't pull, and don't get in too big a hurry; always turn off power mower if you leave it even a minute; never try to correct any part of it while the motor is going, cut off machine; (might save fingers or a hand).

On slopes mow across, never up and down; clean blades after every mowing; never use an electric mower only with a 3 prong grounded outlets. Check blades to see if they need sharpening — on reel mowers by holding a piece of paper between each blade and reel and slowly turn it by hand; if it's sharp and properly adjusted, each blade should cut the paper along the entire length.

With a rotary mower check to see if it chews rather than cuts the grass. When storing cover to keep machine clean. After mowing, to add the finishing touch trim with care. The edges of the lawn are important and should be sharply edged and spaced.

Remember the edging is the finishing touch to a well done job. I used to get Mr. Manjeot that a well mowed lawn, left untrimmed, was equal to a man going to the barber shop, getting a neat correct hair trim, and leaving off shaving.

Take good care of your lawn; it is a large investment and probably adds as much in value to your property as any thing you do in the way of gardening.

Congratulations to the winners of the Beauty Spots of the Month. The non-resident marker went to the post office, and am sure that all who have noted the beauty there throughout March, are well aware of the beauty created. The color harmony and specimen plantings along with the well kept lawn at the Robert Dull home were especially noted during the month of March.

Refresh in your mind the points which are used in evaluating the selections for Beauty Spots in Hereford. General appearance, this includes neatness, cleanliness, relationship of plantings to architecture; balance and unity of the overall landscaping. Color, harmony created by correct use of color and proper relationship to house and surroundings. Eye appeal, the effectiveness of the overall picture (from the alley through to the front curb)

Same Beauty Spot cannot be chosen more often than every third year, in the resident category. In the non-resident, every two years. This project is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, and throughout the years it has done much in making our home town more beautiful and attractive.

If you have failed to see the beauty created at the Gene Struan home, 223 Northwest Drive, you have missed some of the most gorgeous tulips and hyacinths I have seen since I was in Holland. Colors intense, plants sturdy and well grown, sheen of foliage and blossoms radiant, and every evidence of tender, loving, intelligent care throughout.

There are many attractive and lovely yards on Northwest Drive. (Perhaps we should have

A MESSAGE TO THE CHILDREN

Once there was a boy who got a nickel. Instead of spending it for gum, marbles he started saving his nickels. Soon he had a whole dollar. Now he could buy something much better than gum or marbles.

-Grown-up saving is like that, too, as your parents know. When you grow up, if you want to stay happy and not be worried you must learn to save small amounts of money every month until you have big amounts. All through your life you can live better and buy what you need and even take care of troubles if you save every month in the credit union.

Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
by HAL FOSTER

Our Story: PRINCE VALIANT LANDS AT DONDARIS AND IS PLEASED TO NOTE THE CITY HAS NOT BEEN RAVAGED BY WAR.

HE IS WARMLY WELCOMED BY KING GIAN, WHO INFORMS HIM THAT ARN HAS GONE TO HELP RESTORE THE VANQUISHED COUNTRIES.

VAL LISTENS FOR HOURS TO TALES OF ARN'S DEEDS DURING THE WAR. "WHAT A GREAT KING HE WILL BE WHEN HIS HOUR COMES!" ENTHUSES GIAN.

THERE IS IN DONDARIS AT THIS TIME A CLEVER BUSINESSMAN NAMED KLEPT. THE JEWELERS OF THE TOWN EMPLOY HIS SERVICES WHEN THEY HAVE AN ORDER FOR A CERTAIN JEWEL, AND HE USUALLY FINDS ONE, CHARGING SO MUCH ON DELIVERY AND SO MUCH IN BLACKMAIL LATER.

THIS TIME HE IS ON THE LOOKOUT FOR A CERTAIN RUBY..... AND HE FINDS IT.... IN THE HILT OF 'THE SINGING SWORD.' HE FOLLOWS THE JEWEL TO THE PALACE AND FINDS-OUT ALL HE CAN ABOUT ITS PRESENT OWNER.

OH, KLEPT IS CLEVER, THE ENVY OF ALL OTHER THIEVES. FIRST HE OILS HIS BODY, THEN DONS A FLIMSY DARK SHIRT THAT WILL TEAR OFF EASILY, AND OVER THIS A RESPECTABLE CLOAK.

THESE GARMENTS HE TUCKS UP UNDER HIS SASH AND COVERS THEM WITH A SERVANT'S SOILED TUNIC. HE IS READY FOR BUSINESS.

NO ONE NOTICES THE NEW WORKER HELPING UNLOAD PROVISIONS AT THE KITCHEN ENTRANCE OF THE PALACE. NEXT WEEK - The Theft of the 'Singing Sword.'

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:
We have a new, rather large mobile home complete with washer and dryer. Even though our bathroom is large enough for them, there isn't a place large enough for my regular clothes hamper.

After two months of searching all types of stores and measuring everything I saw, I almost gave up on finding one that would fit into the narrow space between the washer and wall.

A regular clothes basket I'd been using on top of the dryer was in the way and wasn't very pretty.

Just when I was ready to give up, the thought struck me to make one. That I did, but not just one, four. Yes, four. One for whites, one for colors, one for towels, and another one for hand wash. I made them from nylon net in various shapes, such as a shirt, pants, a sock, and a towel. I left the openings in the appropriate places and trimmed them with odds and ends of buttons, lace, braid, etc.

I used gold, orange, avocado and brown net to complement my avocado fixtures. Then I hung them above the washer and dryer on a clothesline (child's size) nailed to the wall.

I used two drapery hooks on each bag to hang them on the line. They are lightweight and decorative; airy so clothes won't smell or mildew; practical, and above all, inexpensive and easy to make. They also end the drudgery of sorting clothes at wash time.

Relieved
What more can I say except the idea is great!
Keep up the good work.
Heloise

SAVE YOUR SOLES!

DEAR HELOISE:
I was desperate! My old faithful washable soft-soled fuzzy house slippers had lost their soles. Here is how I repaired them with very little cost:

I drew an outline of the shoes on adhesive material and laid it on the bottom of the soles. Then I pressed it on with a heated iron, the same way as putting a patch on trousers.

Needless to say, I was delighted with the results. I now have my favorite house slippers in perfect condition and they are still washable!

Thelma Broilier

A LINE ON LINEN

DEAR HELOISE:
I never put my linen napkins or handkerchiefs in the dryer, but smooth each one, one on top of the other, and let them dry on top of the dryer.

As they dry, top and bottom, I fold each one, and put them away flat, one on top of the other, until I have time to iron them.

They only have to be lightly sprinkled because they are almost wrinkle-free. They also have a starched-like finish.

Edith Clark

BAREFOOT DOLLIES

DEAR HELOISE:
Little girls are always losing shoes that belong to their model dolls and they end up with pairs of mismatched shoes. Don't toss them out and waste your money.

Glue cotton or furry material to the shoes to cover the color, add some decoration on top of the toe and behold! You have a very happy daughter.

B.G.

IT'S IN THE BAG!

DEAR HELOISE:
For years I have had little packets of dry soups, soft drink mixtures, salad dressings and the like cluttering up my kitchen cabinets and drawers.

I finally got fed up with this jumble of packages and took a plastic bag and tacked it to the inside of my cabinet door. I then put all my many, many little packages in the big bag.

I can spot what I want in an instant and my kitchen cabinet looks 100 per cent better.

Gloria Pickett

ONE BROKEN CANDLE

DEAR HELOISE:
When putting new candles into my candle holders, one of them fell and broke.

With no time to go out and get replacements, I put a piece of transparent tape around the broken part, and, being transparent, the mend was not noticeable.

Evelyn Drachler

ALL TIED UP

DEAR HELOISE:
For those of you who use flat top sheets:

If most husbands are like mine, they pull on the sheets until the bottom is loose.

Tie the two bottom corners in knots and tuck the knots under the corner of the mattress. The sheet won't budge. The knots should be about six inches from the corner of the sheet.

Works just like the contour sheet.

Shortcut Ginny

Now, that's what I call using the old noggin.

Heloise

MATCHING APRONS

DEAR HELOISE:
For a house-warming gift, I bought two regular-sized aprons. One was for my hostess, and I made a matching pinafore out of the other one for her 3-year old.

I folded the apron in half, and starting an inch from the waistband and six inches from the fold, cut a slit about four inches in length. This makes the armholes of the pinafore.

Then I bound the armholes and attached part of the apron strings just below the armholes for a sash and used the balance for a tie at the neck.

My gift was a huge success. Mother and daughter love their "togetherness" aprons.

Jean Barlin

What a charming idea, and how clever of you to think of it.

Will mother be attached to daughter's apron strings, or vice versa?

Heloise

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE:
Every woman—no matter how full, fascinating, or happy her life may be—becomes depressed with her role as a housewife at some point in life.

I just remember that God must come first in life. If I wash dishes to his glory, or scrub floors, clean the stove, or whatever the dull job is, and say to Him, "Lord, I'm doing this for you because you have given it to me to do and I know that you will reward me," suddenly my depression is gone and I find my work is done in jig time.
