cattle shoved into the corrals just as the sun changed from an orange ball into a shimmering burst of heat low in the east.

Located 35 miles west of Hereford, the ranch lies snuggled up against the New Mexico border. Tall grama grass and side oats covering the small rolling hills are far different from the irrigated land nearer Hereford.

Destined for a Nebraska feeding operation, the cattle first came onto the ranch as small calves during bitterly cold weather in February. Now sleek, meaty yearlings, they averaged more than 700 pounds each. Before becoming steaks, roasts and hamburger, they will be transformed into animals weighing 900 to 1100 pounds.

For one of the last round-ups in this country, county residents who are more at home in a pick-up jumped at the chance to ride horseback over the prairie as did their fathers and grandfathers. They went to work at 4:30 a. m. Thursday and were back on the job again Friday and Saturday.

The pre-dawn chill gave way quickly to stifling heat and swirling dust as the cattle were corralled and moved through heavy wood and metal chutes onto a scale pen. Balking, frightened animals were shoved into place by sweating, shouting workers.

With a few minutes of ease, they pulled off their wide-brimmed hats fanned themselves or sought a cool drink from a canvas water bag. Vast swarms of small flies settled on men and cattle alike, sticking and biting. In one respect the cattle were more fortunate with flexible hides that wriggled like a sack filled with snakes and long tails that waved incessantly.

It was a scene reminiscent of a Frederic Remington painting. Only jarring notes were the shiny cars parked along the fence, the horse trailers obediently behind the pick-ups and the huge trucks waiting to carry the cattle to Nebraska.

With mechanization and changes in operation, such a round-up is rapidly becoming another vanishing bit of Americana.

Deputy Sheriff George Howell of Lea County, N.M., said Parks is legally married to Linda Parks, originally of Brownfield, now living in Hereford. He also is accused of having married Linda Sorrel, now of Denver City.

Parks was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Reese Greaves Friday afternoon in Lovington, and the case was bound over to district court.

Seek Donations For Downtown Yule Decoration

Assignments for collecting contributions for Hereford's Christmas decorations were made Friday morning. The city was divided into 18 zones, with one person in charge of each area.

Hereford merchants, during their regular meeting, also agreed that some type of parade should be arranged to welcome Santa Claus to the city. They also felt that some candy gifts should be given the children after the parade.

Santa's arrival here is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 3.

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Thompson said the group would meet again next Friday for reports on collections to pay for the new decorations which have been ordered. He now plans for the meeting to be held in the new C of C offices, 126 E. Third.

Our neighborhood has been in an uproar the last few days. A nine-week-old puppy was knocked unconscious and had to be rushed to the vet. One of the girls got burned over the eye by a cigarette, one of the Mark Twain-type barefoot boys got his toe cut, another girl dropped a brick on her toe and still another young lady, old enough to know better, managed to get her toe caught in a car door. Our first aiders are about ready for the seige of mishaps to end.

MILWAUKEE — Sheep raiser Will McKerrow received considerable attention at the Wisconsin State Fair with an Oxford ram lamb billed as an "Early American Sheep." The animal sported a Mohican haircut — sheared except for a six-inch strip running down its back — and a feather over one ear.

McKerrow, who last year entered a lamb painted to resemble a colorful tartan, says he likes to kid the "city suckers."

NEW YORK — Harry Belafonte is showing his talents to Broadway producers because of his production over the state of the star. Belafonte says a major Broadway problem today is "the prohibitive production costs" which have "stifled and suppressed creative forces."

Gary Gore In Junior Bowling Meet Wednesday

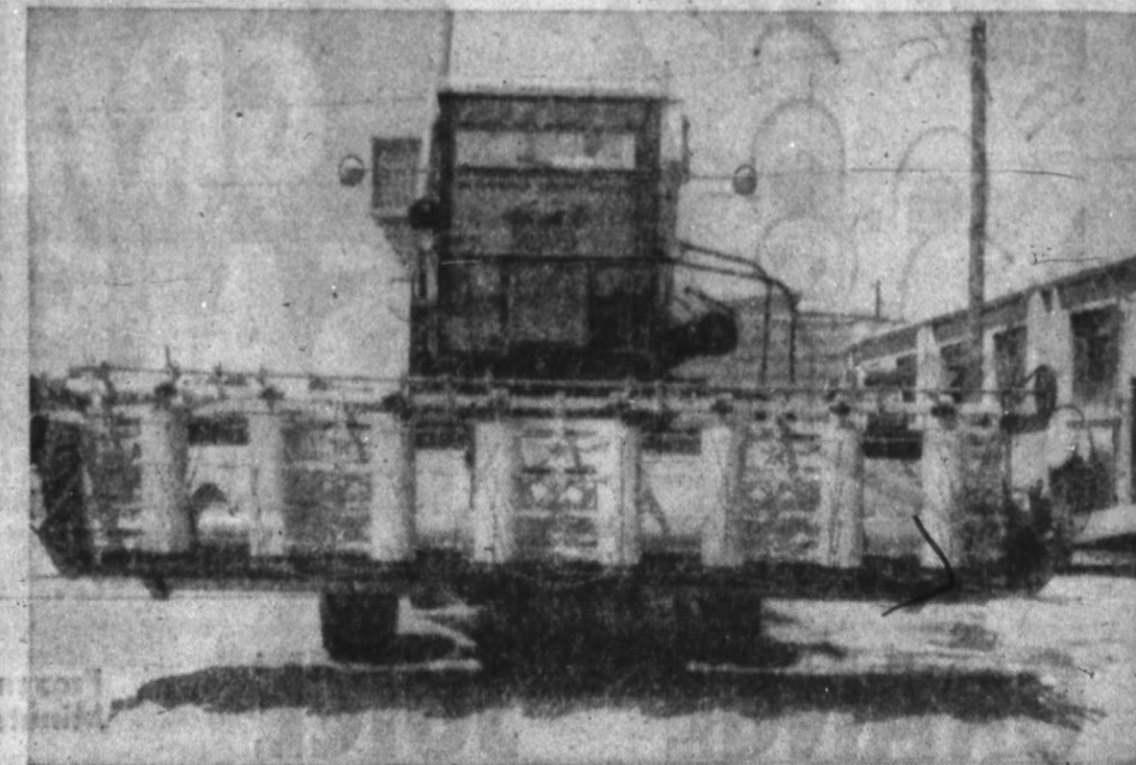

Gary Gore, 12, Hereford's contribution to the Regional Junior Bowlerama team, rolled a 456 series to lead his team past the Milwaukee, Wis. entry Wednesday in the National Telegraphic Tournament.

Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gore, rolled games of 166, 150, and 140 on the Western Bowl lanes. The Panhandle team competed against bowlers from Phoenix, Ariz., Portland, Ore., and the Wisconsin legions.

The Panhandle team had a pin total of 2382 for a second place. The Portland team led with high total pins to win a berth to the YAB's finals Sept. 1 - 2 at Los Angeles, Calif.

Other area boys on the Panhandle team in the Junior division were Danny Johnson, Amarillo; Tom Henley, Pampa; Jimmy Woody, Dumas; Jimmy Jamieson, Pampa; Michael Barra, Dumas; and Gory

The New Revolutionary Way to Harvest Row Crops

The McEachern "ROW HARVESTER" will put more grain in the bin than any device ever tried.

It will give years of service without any repairs to speak of. It is mounted entirely on self-aligning, pre-lubricated ball bearings, thus eliminating any need for lubrication and assuring long life.

The "ROW HARVESTER" will practically clean the field of all milo heads, including the leaning stalks, the low and high heads. It prevents the loss of heads from the combine by means of shields behind the cylinders. All this means more grain saved and less volunteer maize in the field next spring.

The "Row Harvester" can be installed on any combine and is available in 2, 3 or 4 rows.

By JIMMIE GILBERTINE
Firemen from all over the Panhandle will converge on Hereford Sept. 13, which is fine with Mayor Woodrow Wilson and Councilman Gid Brown, except that they have been high pressured into becoming part of the program.

"Honorable Mayor Wilson" received a challenge this week to meet Mayor James Thomas and Commissioner Jack Hickman of Dumas in a Water-Polo contest during the session. Woody tried to wiggle out of it by saying that the swimming pool would be closed, but Fire Chief Dub Reeves assured him that this is a special deal, played with a big ball on a wire, and moved by water squirted through a fire hose. Woody couldn't figure any way out, so he finally answered the Dumas

Challenge:
"Yes, we accept. But it is only fair to warn you that we will use good Hereford water in this contest."
"Commissioner Gid Brown and I shall look you and Commissioner Jack Hickman in the eye on Sept. 13 -- with crossed nozzles."

I also understand that they are arranging with Commissioner Doc Willis to stand by, just in case he is needed, which is probably the best part of the deal to yet develop. No matter how soft this Hereford water, it can still get pretty hard coming out of one of those nozzles. Besides, I am not too sure that our boys can hang onto one of those things for the duration, and I doubt if the Dumas officials will be much better.

When you want to know how much things have changed, just visit with a former resident who is back after a couple of years absence. During the past few days I have been talking with Dick Lucas and Raylan Evans. Dick, a former Hereford State employee, is now managing officer of the Kearney County Bank, Lakin, Kans., and Raylan, a former businessman and city official, is located on a ranch and hay farm near Alamosa, Colo. Both of these boys were amazed at the development here in recent years. Raylan passed a few nasty comments about the way my wife keeps our lawn, all of which I am glad the poor woman didn't hear, but I returned good for evil, and assured him that his departure from our fair city was not entirely responsible for its growth and progress.

From away off at Bear Lake, Mich., comes a nice little note from Mrs. LeRoy K. Williamson, Route 1, Hereford, along with a cellophane label clipped from a carrot bag, declaring that the carrots therein were packed by Trautman Bros. Co. of Hereford, Texas. I don't know how they managed for the carrots at this season, but Mrs. Williamson was quite thrilled over this indirect message from home. She further says that the Sawyers have a plant at Bear Lake, which packs frozen blueberries and, if they can do it at Bear Lake without a 12-month operation, why can't they do the same thing in Hereford?

Also comes a nice little note of warning from Jettalee Wolfington, another former resident, who is currently in Oklahoma, near Shawnee, to be specific. Mrs. Wolfington read where I was killing Johnson grass under advise and direction of Jack Renfro's moon sign interpretations, and she brands the whole thing as a big hoax, relating her experience along the same line.

"Jack told Fred the signs were right on a certain day," says the lady, "so Fred and I spent a very hot day in August, digging the stuff. Three days later, Mr. Renfro came by, got out of his car, and said:

"Fred, I was mistaken about those signs being right last Friday. Somehow, I misread them. The signs will be right tomorrow, instead."
"Besides," continues Mrs. Wolfington, "we have a better method in Oklahoma. We just bale the stuff and, when the snow begins to fly, we open the barn door and point our cattle in that direction."
She also took the trouble to nominate our Mr. Renfro for a one-way trip to the moon, just in case they send up any more of those capsules.

I am still waiting to see what happens on my Johnson grass project. Right now, opinions are divided in the neighborhood, but I will admit that we still have two or three little shots. However, if I have known that failure meant exile in Oklahoma, I wouldn't have started the project in the first place.

F. W. Dool is another old boy who is a little bit upset. He bought the Jim Wood place on Avenue A and, no sooner than it was announced, the neighbors picked up and moved away the house to the south. They also have out a "For Sale" sign on the one just to the north. Dool insists that this is mere coincidence, but I think Mrs. Dool is beginning to take the situation seriously.

A lot of changes are in the wind. Dale Litsch is leaving Rogers Drug, having purchased an interest in an Amarillo pharmacy. I further hear that Myron Morgan will be associated with H. Plains Loan after the first of September, replacing James Headstream as manager. Joe Hamilton will be associated with Plains Fertilizer, leaving Rutherford and Company, and replacing Glenn Watts, who is moving to Albuquerque.

I guess it doesn't make too much difference at this time, since they have only a caliche pit, but President Bill Decker reports that the Country Club directors passed a resolution restricting use of the pool to members only, along with out-of-town, overnight house guests. He further says the club will be open and running October 1, with a June, 1961, completion date on the pool.

I notice where they are having reception Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stevens at the High School Cafeteria. This is nice, and it should further give folks a chance to meet many of the other teachers, who no doubt will be on hand for the occasion. Our new superintendent has been plenty busy since he arrived, but he seems like a mighty fine old boy when you can slow him down long enough for a cup of coffee.

I kept telling John McLean he shouldn't move after all these years, and I think he is about ready to agree. Their car broke down, en route to Austin, and they had to leave it in Eden for repairs. John says moving is bad enough without car trouble. However, they made the trip on in with their son, Bill, and George says that they really do like their apartment and the neighborhood.

VISIT SON
Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Sanders, accompanied by their daughter, Verita, left Saturday night by car, for Norfolk, Va., where they will visit their son, La. Kit C. Sanders. He will accompany them on a trip to Washington, D. C.

A lot of fellows are enthusiastic about the new Quarterback Club, including Al Yeager and Jim Wiman. They say that they can use a few more members, but things are getting off to a good start with plenty of interest.

Most merchants plan to close for Labor Day, and the September Dollar Day will be held on Tuesday, as in the past. All of the people who have boats expect to head for a lake and the few who don't own one figure on playing golf, but will probably wind up doing yard work. Bill Patton tells me that is why he finally got a boat. He says it is a real good deal.

Community Building

Do women's clubs make their communities better places in which to live? The answer is "Yes."

Women's study clubs have an opportunity to share the things they do with the entire citizenship through their study, civic and social activities as they seek to keep abreast with a changing world.

Through their programs designed to elevate themselves educationally, socially and spiritually, club women promote better health, culture, fine arts, and beautification, as well as good government and safety, even politics in any community.

Pictured today are presidents of some of Hereford's Study clubs which will open the fall and winter season in September.

Miss Donna Guseman Weds William Johnson

In a double-ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church here Sunday, Aug. 21, at 4 p.m., Miss Donna Sue Guseman became the bride of William (Bill) Duane Johnson.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Guseman, 310 W. Sixth, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Johnson of the Walcott Community.

The Rev. Herschel Thurston, pastor of the church, read the ceremony before an altar flanked by seven-branched candelabra with votive lighting. Baskets of white gladioli and white Majestic daisies completed the setting. The church aisle was laid with a white cloth carpet. Family pews were marked by ribbons and the couple knelt on a white satin kneeling bench.

Miss Carol Ann Newell of Hereford provided nuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Patricia Sue McCasland of Tucumcari, N. M., who sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest." At the conclusion of the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Linda Roth of Cleveland, Ohio, former roommate of the bride at the University of Colorado, served as maid of honor. Other feminine attendants were Susie Loerwald and Margaret Boomer, bridesmaids, both of Hereford.

They wore identical dresses of champagne silk organza over matching taffeta. Matching satin bows served as hats, and short white gloves completed the ensemble. They carried cascade bouquets of Talisman roses.

Wayne Johnson served his brother as best man, and groomsmen were Tom Johnson, cousin of the bridegroom, and Gary Guseman, brother of the bride. Ushers were John Miller of El Reno, Okla., Karlson Mannschreck, Union, Okla., Lynn Boomer and Larry Edwards, both of Hereford.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional wedding gown of white silk peau de soie fashioned with a molded bodice. The low portrait neckline, adorned with Alencon lace, was embellished with seed pearls, and dipped to a "V" in the back. A bow and sash accented the back of the dress. The sash, terminating in a chapel train, was traced with Alencon lace and scattered seed pearls. White short gloves accented the brief sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion draped gracefully from a semi-queen's crown of richly embroidered lace. The crown was appliqued with iridescent sequins and crystal beads highlighted with seed pearls.

The bride carried a white satin Bible topped with a cascade bouquet of roses and Stephanotis.

Her jewelry consisted of pearl earrings given to her by her great-grandmother.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held for the family and close friends in the home of the bride. The table was laid with a white linen cloth which belonged to the bride's great-grandmother Guseman.

Appointments were in silver. The wedding cake was tiered and decorated with white roses clustered on top of the cake and cascaded down the side.

The table was centered with Talisman roses and white candles.

Those serving at the table were Mesdames Philip Shook, Richard Clark and Alan Neff, all of Hereford.

Seated at the guest book was Mrs. Tom Johnson. Others assisting in the house party were Mrs. L. B. Barnett, Mrs. G. W. Edwards, Mrs. Bert Boomer and Mrs. Ed Loerwald.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to points in Colorado, the bride was wearing a brown cotton two-piece suit with matching brown accessories. She also wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The couple will return to Hereford before going to Stillwater, Okla., where they will make their home at 602 S. Hester, after Sept. 6. Both will attend Oklahoma State University as junior students.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School. While in high school she was a member of Future Homemakers of America, Tri-Hi-Y and Library Club. She attended the University of Colorado prior to her marriage. While there she majored in home economics.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Hereford High. While there he was a member of Future Farmers of America, Hi-Y, and the annual staff. He attended Oklahoma State University and presently is engaged in ranching with his father west of town.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Tom Harmon, Hennepe, Okla.; Bob Seiber, Holdenville, Okla.; Doug Hall, Edmond, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Sroufe, Lee, Robin and Dee, Garden City, Kans.; Eunice Ernest, Estancia, N. M.; Mrs. Vida Sroufe, grandmother of the bride, Garden City; Jack Jackson, Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Stell, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Irwin and Leigh Ann, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Boyd and children, Pasadena, Tex.; Mrs. Maggie Hooper, Canyon, and Mrs. John Winkler and children, Baton Rouge, La.

WESTWAY NEWS

Bluebonnets Still Blooming In Area Resident's Garden

By MRS. MERLIN KAUL. Believe it or not: Mrs. Merlin Kaul has bluebonnets blooming in her flower garden! Down state these bloom in April so it was somewhat of a surprise to find them blooming here this late in the season. Maybe our Garden Club Members know more about them, and can tell us if this is unusual.

Mrs. Abraham Drager practically runs a bakery right in her own home. When called for news she's always "up to her elbows" in dough - the sticky kind. Like this week for instance: she's made 18 cakes, 12 loaves of bread, and 8 pies. Besides that, we know that she also does plenty of canning of vegetables and fruits. This "sticky dough" also pays off in the "hard kind" for the Draggers now have a beautiful, modern, brick home which has been completed this summer.

School enrollment was the major item of interest Friday - not only for the pupils in our community but also for the teachers. Because of this, this reporter who teaches at Aikman School, will turn this news reporting back to Mrs. Harold Rudd next week. Thanks to all of you for your fine cooperation this summer and a tip to help a fine reporter as Mrs. Rudd has proved to be: you'd be surprised how much it helps if you will call her your news instead of waiting for her to call you each time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thomas and Frank Hafner have returned home from Dalhart where they have been helping get the potato harvest started. Frank Hafner helped get the Harvester going. This machine not only digs the potatoes, but picks them up and sacks them as well. Jim and Marjorie Thomas were guests while there in the home of his brother, Ben L. Thomas. On Tuesday morning while Jim and Ben L. were filling a tractor with butane gas, an explosion occurred which resulted in severe face and arm burns for Ben L. and singed arms for Jim. Apparently, the flames settled around the tractor for when the tractor was started there was a spark and the explosion followed. Ben L. was holding the fill-up hose. He suffered first and second degree burns on his face and his left hand as well as the hand being torn. Jim was standing ten feet away from Ben L. and the flames burned his arms where they were not protected by his shirt sleeves. A flash fire resulting from the blast was quickly extinguished. Ben L. was rushed to Dalhart hospital and is doing satisfactorily.

Diedra Thomas was a guest of Betty Curtis at Plainview last week. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thomas and Deborah went to Plainview Sunday and brought her home.

Elvin Wilson of Sturgis, South Dakota, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Duncan of Wyeche were supper guests in the J. E. McCathern

Jr. home Thursday night. Dan Thomas attended a hamburger fry and swimming party at Barbara Langley's home in Hereford Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Glenn of Hereford were supper guests in the Charles Owen home Thursday evening.

Dan and Deborah Thomas helped with the cattle for the Cattle Tour at the Jack Renfro Ranch east of Hereford Monday.

Dan Thomas accompanied the Dr. L. B. Barnett family to their ranch near Center, Colo. Thursday. While there Dan will observe his 14th birthday. The group will return home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Whitesides of Dallas were visitors in the Joe Landers and Bess Werner homes on Saturday. Mrs. Whitesides was the former Lela Wester, niece of Wirt Phillips of Hereford. She and her husband formerly lived where John Kalka lives now. She taught school here at Westway and Dick drove the bus. At that time Mrs. Werner was a member of the Westway School Board.

Mrs. Bess Werner was hostess at a dinner at her home last Thursday honoring her nieces, Miss Evelyn Cannon of Foreman, Ark. and Mrs.

Word Brooks and children, Ann and Bobby of DeQueen, Ark. Both ladies are teachers in the Arkansas schools. Other guests for the dinner included Mrs. Pearl Harrison of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine, Jan, Carol and Patty.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Sowell have returned home after spending ten days at Truth or Consequences, N. M. They report the weather very hot and very dry there.

Mrs. Merlin Kaul returned home Monday from a visit with friends and relatives in north-east Kansas. She visited her sister Mrs. Lila Moll of St. Joseph, Miss. her mother, Mrs. Nannie Stoner at Hiawatha, Kans. and Mr. Kaul's mother Mrs. Essie Kaul at Sabetha, Kans. She reports rain and cool weather all the time she was there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Roberts returned to their ranch near Adrian Monday after spending several weeks at their home in Sa-

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I put hard tips on rawhide shoelaces, belt lacings, etc., for easier lacing?

A. You can accomplish this simply by holding the ends of the laces in the flame of a lighted match. Slowly rotate the end of the lace while doing this, and take care not to char the leather. Apply the heat just long enough to harden the tip sufficiently without burning the leather.

Q. How can I avoid any danger of raveling at the edges when unrolling some friction tape?

A. If an "X" is cut lightly with a razor blade on both sides of the roll, this will sever any string struck together along the edges and you'll have no raveling.

Q. How can I make a tough soap - bubble solution for my children?

A. Dissolve one ounce of fine-fabric soap flakes in eight ounces of water, add four ounces of glycerine, and mix thoroughly.

Q. How can I improvise some holders for hot corn - on - the - cob?

A. Save the winding keys from coffee cans and shoeing tins, and use as handles when eating hot corn on the cob. If desired, the end of the key can be cut off to make two prongs for inserting into the cob.

Q. How can I remove machine grease from clothing?

A. Add a little ammonia and soap to cold water and apply it to the fabric. Ammonia in which salt has been dissolved will also remove the spots.

Q. How can I prevent homemade jams from crystallizing?

A. Add a tablespoonful of glycerin to each pint of jam. This makes the jam more transparent, and reduces the amount of sugar required.

Q. How can I prevent candle wax from dripping onto my tablecloth?

A. Wrap the butt - end of the candle with a five - inch square of aluminum foil before inserting it into the holder. Shave the candle, if necessary, for a good fit. The foil also affords a decorative touch, while catching any possible drippings.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank those who helped during my illness. For flowers, visits and cards and to Dr. Barnett and the nurses.

Pavlicek-Diller Vows Solemnized Saturday

Miss Emily Ann Pavlicek became the bride of Kenneth A. Diller Saturday, Aug. 20, at 10 a. m. in St. Anthony's Catholic church.

Monsignor George Husmann, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Pavlicek of 133 Sunset Drive, and he the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Diller, Rt. 1.

The vows were read before an altar decorated with white gladioli and English Ivy. A white satin kneeling bench carried out the decorations.

Ed Dzik Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Morris Hacker, organist, sang "On This Day, O' Beautiful Mother" and Schubert's "Ave-Maria." Nuptial music was also provided by the men's choir, which sang "Mass of the Blessed Sacrament."

Susan Pastusek, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathleen Diller, sister of the bridegroom, and Dee Buck, Camille Pavlicek, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaids.

Gerald Diller served his brothers as best man. Groomsmen were Jim Pavlicek, brother of the bride, and Terry Peters. Ushers were John Husmann, Robert Diller, Larry Walterheid and Leroy Berend.

The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of pink silk organza over taffeta. The dresses featured rounded necklines and three-quarter-length sleeves. The back waistline was centered with two pink silk organza roses.

The ensembles were emphasized by nose veils of pink tulle. Each feminine member of the wedding party carried cascades of pink carnations and English Ivy. They also carried lace handkerchiefs, which were gifts of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of silk peau de soie featuring an appliqued Swiss re-embroidered fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long petal-point sleeves.

The widespread chapel train was accented in back by a cascade of taffeta-roses.

The bride carried a bouquet of white gladioli and English Ivy. She also carried her mother's wedding prayer book.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of delicate sprays of pearlized blossoms.

Following the wedding ceremony Father Henry Husmann, uncle of the bridegroom, read Nuptial Mass, after which the bride detached a portion of her bridal bouquet and placed it on the Blessed Mother's Altar.

A reception was held immediately following, in St. Anthony's Hall. Assisting in the house party were Karen Albracht, Betty Lou Walterscheid, Nell Green, Marie Green and Coletta Diller, at the bride's book.

When the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip the bride was wearing a navy blue cotton suit with white collar and cuffs and white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended Loretto Heights College in Denver, Colo., for one year.

The bridegroom graduated from Price College High School in Amarillo and is presently engaged in farming.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pavlicek, Moulton, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Boehm, Telva, Eugene, Bobby, Martin, Donna and Yvonne, of Shiner; Mr. and Mrs. John Pastusek, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McBride and Jim of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. L.E. REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

She was the world's most famous aviatrix, and she was flying around the world. Her name was Amelia Earhart Putman, and she had opened up new worlds of achievement for the "weaker sex," setting records that few men could match in the air.

She was somewhere over the Pacific Ocean when the last radio message came from her. It said, "Position doubtful." There was no more.

All America waited for another word. Warships and airplanes were sent out to search for her. They found nothing, not a trace. And no other word ever came from her.

But there was a final letter to her husband, one she had left behind . . . just in case. It expressed the courage of a great woman. When Mr. Putman opened it, he read: "Please know I am quite aware of the hazards . . . Women must try to do things as men have tried."

Remember the year? In that year a man who owned a car made sure he kept it in safe, tiptop condition. He looked around for reliable service . . . and he didn't take chances by "letting things go" for a few more miles.

The year was 1937. Service is our business . . . and we have the best factory trained mechanics . . . plus the most up-to-date equipment to give you reliable service, from a brake job to body and paint work. Bonnie Wagner And Bill Brandt Married Sunday

In an impressive candlelight ceremony at 7 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 21, Miss Bonnie Wagner became the bride of Bill H. Brandt. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wagner, Route 1, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brandt, Littlefield.

Performing the double-ring service was the Rev. Harold Aesther, minister of the Christian Church, Lubbock. Vows were repeated before an altar featuring two large vases of gladioli and greenery. Four candelabra with 28 white wedding tapers were dispersed by greenery, white gladioli and large white bows. The foreground of the altar featured two large arrangements of gladioli, daisies and greenery. Palm trees formed the background behind the candelabra. Large white bows and daisies decorated the front and sides of the altar. Gladioli centered between candles decorated the organ.

Nuptial music was provided by Miss Kay Herbert of Dumas, organist, and Miss Sue Wagner, Hereford, soloist. Miss Herbert played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Springer who sang "Oh Perfect Love," and "The Lordless You and Keep You."

Maid of honor was sister of the bride, Ruth Wagner. Bridesmaids were Joe Buckley of Fort Worth, Jane Brandt, Littlefield, sister of the bridegroom; Ann Wagner and Mrs. Don Jackson.

The attendants were dressed identically in pale yellow silk gowns. The fitted bodice was accentuated by high necklines in front and deep oval necklines in back. The bouffant skirt was pinned to the bodice by yellow satin belts with large yellow organza bows with circular illusion veils. Short white gloves and short kimono sleeves complemented the dresses. Yellow satin shoes completed the outfit.

The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of yucca and majestic daisies centered with a large white daisy and white streamers. Other feminine attendants' bouquets were colorful-arrangements similar to that of the maid of honor's. Their bouquets were centered with a large yellow daisy and long yellow streamers.

The flower girl, Pant Brandt of Littlefield, sister of the bridegroom, wore a pale yellow silk organza dress fashioned with fitted waist and full skirt.

Full puffed sleeves and a simple neckline edged in lace were feature attractions of the dress. A large organza bow accented the back, and she wore a circular hat of yellow flowers with a circular veil of illusion. Short white gloves and white shoes emphasized the costume.

Hubert Tienert of Wilson, Tex. served his brother-in-law as best man. Groomsmen were Don Stringer of Friona; Eldon Gonke, Littlefield; Glen Blankenship, Littlefield, and Gerald Zybur, a cousin of the bridegroom, of Littlefield.

Ushers were Normar Bookout, Hereford; Charles Durham, Littlefield, and Richard Mitchell, Clouderoft, N. M.

Robert Wagner, brother of the bride, and Nicholas Osborn were candlelighters. Alan Wagner, brother of the bride, served as ring-bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of white chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was accented by a Sabrina neckline trimmed with butterfly sequins and long tapered sleeves. The full lace skirt was fashioned with side panels of pleated tulle and a large bow midway down the back of the skirt cascaded down the full length of the chapel train.

She wore a pearl necklace and earring set, a gift of the bridegroom.

Her bouquet, a white orchid centered around Stephanotis, was atop a lace-covered Bible which Mrs. Selma Wagner, her grandmother, had given her.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church. The table was laid with a white satin cloth covered by yellow net. The centerpiece was of three tapered white candles surrounded by the attendants' bouquets.

The white three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow rosebuds.

Members of the house party were Misses Valeria Meier of Farwell, guest book; Judy Carol Boyd of Happy, who served cake; Carolyn Wells of Dallas, who served punch; Twyla Springer of Hereford registered the gifts.

Others assisting were Misses Betty Hobratsch of Dimmitt, Barbara Tiesel, Hereford, and Mesdames E. S. Drager, L. E. Habbinga, Martin Hobratsch and Albert Drager.

Approximately 100 guests called during the afternoon.

wedding trip to Carlsbad and Clouderoft, N. M., the bride was wearing a beige pure silk suit with beige and brown accessories. A white orchid from the bridal bouquet served as her corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended Texas Tech, Lubbock, the past year. In high school she was a member of Thespians, Future Nurses of America, and Future Homemakers of America, of which she was president her senior year.

The bridegroom graduated from Littlefield High School and is a senior civil engineering student at Texas Tech. He will graduate in January.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Jim Bookout, Odis Dickey, Jack Brown, Steve Williams, John Beasley, C. J. Crump, Ansel McDowell, B. Y. Crosthwait, Kent Sparr, Louise Ferguson, Jim Neill, Q. O. Brown, Glenn Williams, John Latham, M. R. Latham, Don Zimmerman, Danny Martin and Mrs. Benefield.

At the guest book were Mrs. John Latham, Mrs. John Beasley and Mrs. Bobby Veigel.

(Continued from page 1) of the snake's diet. "The rattlesnake hibernates from late fall until early spring. If they have plenty of food they will become very fat before hibernation. Rattlers can live for a long time without food, but must have water. They drink water much as the horse, by that I mean they stick the nose into the water and suck it up as they drink. "In the fall before hibernation they are very fat, and in the spring they are much more poisonous. While in hibernation they have no need to expel the poison from the sacs in the head so one snake will have an ounce or even more of poison. If the fang breaks off, there will grow a new one in a day or two. "These extra fangs lie in the fashion of a coil spring; one curved immediately behind the other and when the one being used is broken or pulled out the next one grows quickly into place, and is ready for another lethal job. "The rattlesnake is immune to its own poison as it has no veins, and for the venom to be fatal it must enter the blood stream. If one dies from a bite, death is caused by a fang rupturing the gall bladder, located about half way down the length of the snake. "Rattlesnakes are not cannibals as they will starve together, but never feed on its own kind. "When capturing snakes they will bite one another, but you could put fifty rattlers in a tow sack, throw the sack across your shoulder and carry them without the slightest danger. I catch them with a homemade clamp. "A clamp is on the end of a stout rod with a lever at the top end. The snake can be caught on any part of the body, but I usually catch them behind the head, catch them by the tail and put them in a box or a sack. "No! I have never been bitten but my doctor gives me the venom in small doses to immunize me against it. I wear gloves and heavy rubber knee boots, very loose, as a precaution against the fangs going through. The heavy tops would hold the fangs away from my leg, thus preventing the injection of the poison. The fangs are curved with a slit on the top part of the curve where the poison enters from the poison sac and another slit, just above the point of the fang. The fang goes deeper into the flesh than the venom is sprayed into the cavity. "We have rattlesnake rodeos, and last year at Sweetwater, Tex., the whole group caught more than one thousand pounds of rattlesnakes. I caught 170, but the largest one, something over six feet, was caught by a woman. It was almost as large as its captor as she would not have weighed more than a hundred pounds. A lot of women enter the rodeos. "I skin and tan the snake

Progress Of REA Topic For Kiwanis

Recalling the days when electric lights were still unknown, Leo Forrest, manager of the Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative highlighted the progress of rural electricity in the past 25 years for the Kiwanis Club, Thursday, Aug. 25.

The rural co-op was started in the United States in 1935, and Bartlett, Tex. was the first town to take advantage of the program.

In 1936 a bill was passed in Congress with the intent to bring electricity to areas where the people did not have central station power.

Forrest told a story about an old lady who had electricity for the first time. She exclaimed, "Why it's the first time I've seen Pa after dark for 30 years."

In another town, 130 people gathered at the church with 300 kerosene lamps. They strung twenty 500 watt globes in the church yard. First they lighted the lamps, then they turned on the electric lights for the first time, and buried the lamps in a dig trench in the grave yard of the church.

The Hereford co-op was started in 1937 by three men. Later they formed a seven man board, and H. V. Hennen became the first manager. In June 1945, Forrest took over as manager.

In 1938, there were 126 miles of line, and now there are 2200 miles of line serving 1200 people.

million dollars invested in the Hereford plant.

We think it is a good program and it is progressing all the time, Forrest said.

Barrett Tells Of Camp Experience

Beverly Barrett, 13, of Hereford talked to the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday about her trip to the Texas Lions Camp in Kerrville this summer.

The camp is held for the blind, deaf, dumb or crippled children who do not have a chance to attend a regular camp.

"We flew down. That was the first time I had ever flown, and it was lots of fun," she said.

She showed the club members her award scarf, crafts which she made, and post cards from the camp.

Beverly told about some of the activities which she enjoyed. She is looking forward to going back next summer and then sometime as a counselor.

Also attending the Lion Club meeting were two policemen from South Vietnam who are in Amarillo studying police tactics. Their names are Lt. Tu and Lt. Ngu. They came to the United States through the State Department.

They will study in Amarillo and Odessa and then go to Florida to study until October. They flew to Hereford from Amarillo with John Amend, Assistant Chief of Police in Amarillo, and Captain Jim Simmons, director of personnel and training for the Amarillo Police Department.

Electric co-ops mean

Nearly 400,000 Texas Families are partners in a noble undertaking that celebrates its silver anniversary this year.

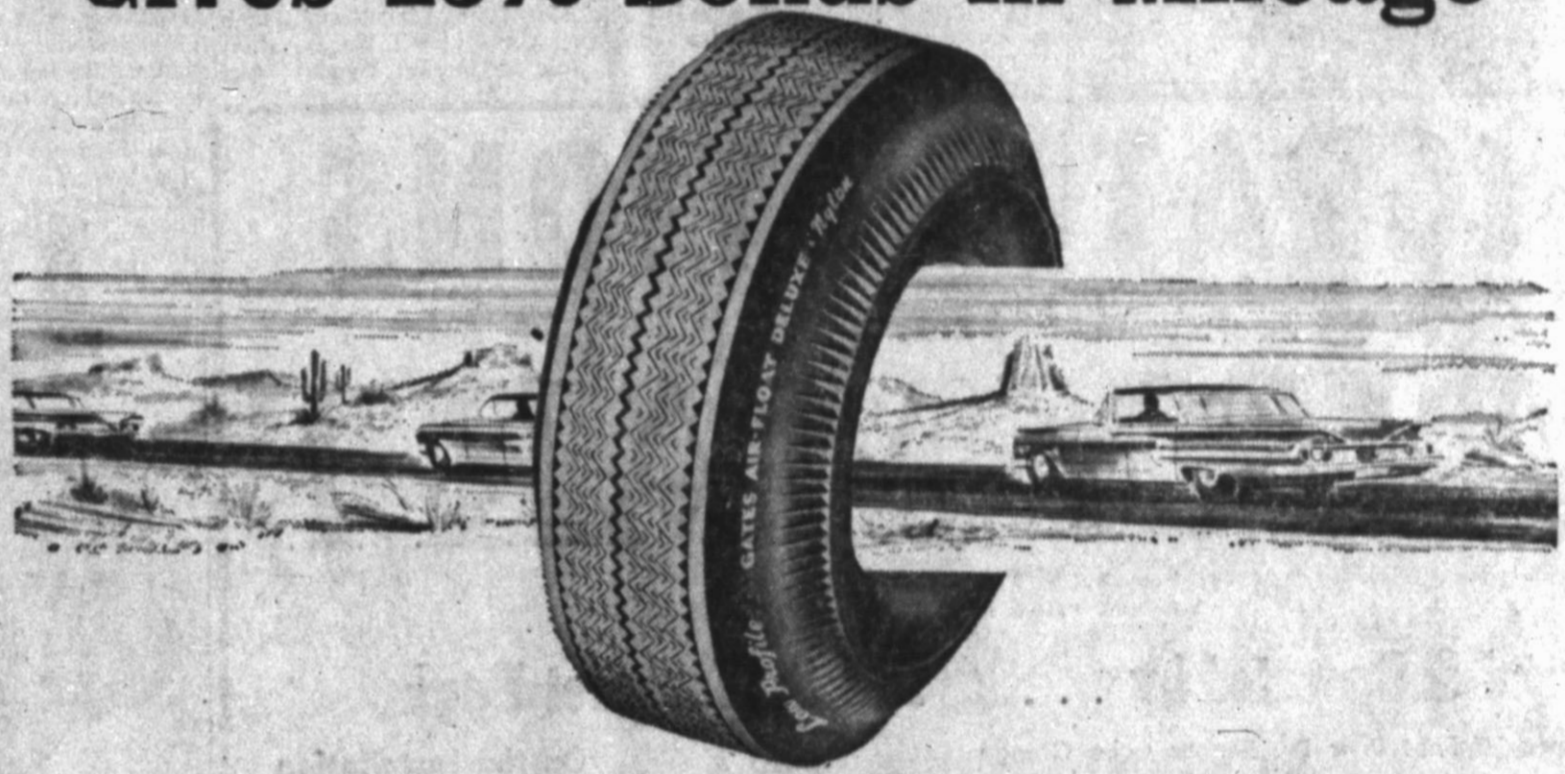

They are the member-owners of the electric cooperatives that serve the rural areas of the Lone Star State. They borrowed money at interest to build their own electric systems. They created a multi-billion dollar market for electric appliances with main street merchants. They brought the blessings of electricity to areas that might still be dark had it not been for the cooperative effort. They accomplished these wonderful things while repaying principal and interest on their loans...often ahead of schedule.

The electric cooperatives of Texas can point with pride to an efficient, dependable, electric service providing Partnership Power For Progress.

Floor Coverings

When shopping for new floor coverings, you can bear in mind that highest gloss, but shows scratches more prominently. Cork tile is good, but requires more upkeep. Asphalt tile is durable and inexpensive, but shows indentations where furniture legs rest, and does not easily take a gloss.

Gas Pipe Leaks

The solution that kids use for blowing bubbles will help locate a leak in a gas pipe. Just brush the liquid on the joints, and the slightest leak will produce a giveaway bubble.

Handy Kitchen Masher

For mashing berries and grapes, a one - quart glass milk bottle proves very useful. It can be gripped easily and it does not become stained with the juices as does the ordinary wooden masher.

Paint Odor

Formerly the odor of a freshly - painted room proved a big "headache." Now, however, we can all go modern and use a latex or vinyl paint for our interior walls. These have practically no odor, and what little there is, is not objectionable.

Morocco became a sovereign kingdom in 1956.

What do you pay for dry cleaning?

In the average home, at least one suit and one dress go to the cleaner every week... at $1.25 each. You'll probably be surprised to learn that your annual cleaning bill is more than you spend on doctors and medicines combined.
