Nancy Richie Is Named To State Post

Election of Nancy Richie, music teacher at Northwest Elementary School, as director from District 16 for the Texas Classroom Teachers Association, marks the first time a Hereford member has been given a place on the state board of the organization.

Mrs. Richie was chosen at the state-convention in Houston last week. She was in the delegation from Deaf Smith County CTA, with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben McGibury, Shirley Richardson, Ann Prichard, Sid Sheffield, Patsy Giles and Bessie Whittington.

A teacher from the Pothandle, Edna Stephenson of Burger, is the new state president. A former president of the county CTA, Mrs. Richie has been membership chairman for District 16 and has served in various chairmanships and as delegate to the state meeting every year since 1968.

She is a life member of both the Texas State Teachers Association and the National Education Association, a member of the Texas Music Educators Association and Texas Teacher Certification project, and music chairman of the local unit of Delta Kappa Gamma, women educators' society.

With 16 years teaching experience in elementary schools, she holds BS and ME degrees from West Texas State University. Community activities include participation and offices in American Association of University Women, La Plata Study Club, Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae, Community Concert Association and Campfire Girls Leaders. She is active in First United Methodist Church, serving on the administrative board, as local president and conference officer in the Wesleyan Service Guild, as a Sunday school teacher and choir member.

Sears Says He Will Run

Jim Sears, 34-year-old president of First National Bank, announced Monday he will seek re-election to the post of mayor in the upcoming April 3 city election. Sears will be seeking his third 2-year term as mayor. His announcement Monday came just four days before the March 2 filing deadline and filled, with at least one person, those positions up for election this year.

H.A. "Hap" Cavness, incumbent for Place 2, is presently opposed for the post and Paul Abalos and James Hull have announced for the post of city commissioner, Place 1.

Place 1 was held by Lynton Allred who decided not to seek re-election.

Sears was first elected to the post of mayor in 1968.

A 1956 graduate of Hereford High School, Sears came to Hereford from Monahans, where he was born the year before.

After graduation, he attended West Texas State University for two years, spent two years in the Army stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla., returned to school and received a degree from the University of Texas in 1963.

Sears is currently president of the First National Bank, holding that position since January 1970. He previously served as vice-president for three years.

Congratulations to Mrs. Paul Hoff for being selected as the Deaf Smith County Extension Clubs "Woman of the Year." With more than 20 years service in Home Demonstration clubs, she is still actively engaged in making homemaking more interesting.

The Hereford Lions Club is looking for another big crowd at the annual Pancake Supper this evening at the Bull Barn. The turnout was so large last year that more griddles and more serving lines have been planned. Proceeds go to help the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

The 4-4444 Al-District basketball team has been selected by the coaches and will be announced Sunday. Look for the results in The Sunday Brand.

Our jokes and stories have a way of being revised and re-revised. We re-act on them in another paper this week, a story that made the rounds a number of years ago. It's still good for a second chance or a first if you haven't seen it.

ONE THING about publishing a weekly newspaper is that when you require a good, it sometimes takes a while to straighten it out. About the best example I ever heard was a weekly newspaper in Oklahoma that had a series of classified ads which went like this:

"First week: For sale: E.S. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 666. Call after 2 p.m. and ask Mrs. Kelly who lives with her. Cheap."

"Second week: We regret having served E.S. Smith's ad last week. I should have read: For Sale: E.S. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 666 after 2 p.m. and ask Mrs. Kelly who lives with her after 2 p.m."

"Third week: E.S. Smith has returned as that he has received several annoying phone calls because of an error we made in his classified ad last week. He is at stands corrected. I should have read: E.S. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 666 after 2 p.m. and ask Mrs. Kelly who lives with her."

"Fourth week: Notice: E.S. Smith, have one sewing machine for sale. I smoothed it. Don't call 666. The phone has been taken out. I have not been carrying on with Mrs. Kelly. Until last week, she was my housekeeper."

School Gives Jubilee OK

Hereford's Diamond Jubilee "spectacular" of segments of the city's history, one of the main attractions of the August-September celebration, will be held at the high school football field, it was announced this week.

Jack Young, general chairman of the 50th anniversary celebration for the city, met with the school board Tuesday, seeking its approval for the use of the facility for four nights of the "spectacular." The board approved the use of the facility, but delayed a decision on the charge that will be made for its use.

In other action, the board set up a revised policy regarding in-school-district residence for all school employees.

Revised the electrical re-wiring plan for Stanton Junior High and set the date for the setting of both.

Directly discussed that took in action on the $2,000 tax exemption that can or cannot be used by persons 65 years of age or older.

Young, in making his request to the board, said there is no other facility in the city that would accommodate the number of persons expected at the Jubilee's spectacular. He outlined the spectacular to the board, pointing out that there would be no damage to the field.

He added that if there is damage to the field, it will be repaired by the Diamond Jubilee Celebration non-profit organization.

The spectacular or play will be staged at the field on Sunday, Aug. 26; then again on Aug. 28-30. There will be about 250 to 300 persons involved in the presentation of the spectacular which will depict the past of Hereford.

Young presented the board with three letters from other cities that have used the same type of spectacular on football fields and each of the letters said there had been no permanent damage to the field.

In its revision of the in-school-district residence for employees policy, the board approved a revision of the existing policy to where the decision be made by the superintendent with the individual having the right to appeal to the board of trustees.

The new policy states that a school system employee must reside within the boundaries of the school district. This was in the old policy, but the revision made it possible for the final decision to be made by the superintendent with the appeal possible.

Herb Brasher, of Brasher Goyette, Rapper architects of Lubbock, gave a brief up-to-date run-down on the electrical re-wiring of Stanton Junior High and the board upon Brasher's recommendation, set March 27 as the date for bid letting.

The school board, following the same decision of the county commissioners, tabled the matter concerning the 3,000 tax exemption for persons 65 years of age and older.

According to school officials, the granting of the exemption would cut about "$2,000,000 to $3,000,000" from the valuation in the school district and the taxes from that "would have to be raised elsewhere."

The governing bodies of the county have the right to grant the exemption, but if they do not, persons who reside within the boundaries of the governing bodies have the right to call an election.

To call an election, there must be a petition with at least 30 per cent of the people who voted in the preceding election in the city, county, school, hospital district and water district.

Methodist Home Changes Made

Kings Manor of the Northwest Texas Methodist Homes for Older Adults, Inc., announced Monday the re-organization of the administrative structure with the appointment of Richard Snow as the new executive director and Otis Johnson as new director of nursing services for Kings Manor and Westgate. The announcements were made by Jim Conkright, president of the board of directors of the home.

The two Clavis men will assume duties here on March 15.

Snow replaces Dr. John English as the executive director and he also assumed the duties of administrator through the combination of the two posts by the board of directors.

Johnson takes over the post formerly held by Dorothy Yarnell, who resigned Monday.

Conkright, in making the announcements, said the action taken to combine the posts of administrator and executive director was for "management purposes."

One other re-organizational change was the creation of the post of chaplain which will be filled by a Methodist pastor assigned by the Northwest Texas-New Mexico Conference in May.

Johnson, 27, comes to Hereford from Retirement Ranch of Clavis. Prior to assuming the duties of the Clavis post, he was the 11-7 supervisor at St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell.

Johnson was born in Austin and attended Roswell High School. After graduation from high school there, he enrolled at Amarillo College and graduated in 1970 from the Northwest Texas School of Nursing in Amarillo.

He spent three years in the Army serving as a medical corpsman and clerk typist.

He and his wife, Carol Sue, who also is a Registered Nurse, have one child, a son, Jesse David who is 14 months old.

Snow, 46, is a native of Kansas who received his masters in school administration from Colorado College in Colorado Springs, Colo.

He is a member of the Church of the Nazarene and is presently administrator of Retirement Ranch of Clavis, a 102-bed facility where he has been since 1961. He is chairman of the New Mexico Board of Examiners for

Commission Eyes Budget

The city commissioners, in a special meeting Monday night to review the proposed 1973-74 budget, made one adjustment in the proposal and gave their seal of approval for substantial salary increases for two employees.

The lone adjustment in preparation for the upcoming public hearing of the budget, and following adoption, was the elimination of $8,500 for a washer for the city incinerator.

The commissioners decided if a washer is needed, it would be purchased with federal revenue-sharing funds.

The commissioners decided in their last meeting Feb. 13 that salary increases were needed in the areas of sewer plant operator and water plant operators. This was due to the loss of men from both of these positions to smaller cities offering more money.

The commissioners instructed city manager Dudley

Bayne at the Feb. 13 meeting to see what could be done with the budget to allow for substantial salary increases in these two areas.

In the matter of the washer for the incinerator, the state air control board sets standards and requirements for the use of incinerators and the city felt a washer might be needed in the future to meet these requirements. The city has allocated $8,500 in each budget for the past several years in anticipation of the requirement, but has not been forced to purchase.

However, if the state air control board does make a washer a requirement, the city will go to its revenue-sharing funds for the money.

The washer sits atop the incinerator and sprays water into it to keep smoke down. The water is caught in a settling pond and re-used time after time.

County Agenda Is Wide Spread

Deaf Smith County Commissioners, in regular session Monday, approved support of a volunteer fire department at Dawn, formally approved two resolutions, discussed tax matters with Hereford school officials, and took care of other routine business.

Five representatives from the Dawn community appeared at the meeting to discuss the formation of a fire department. The group reported they had coordinated their planning with Jay Spain, Hereford Fire Marshal, who offered advisory support and training from the Hereford department.

The group also reported that trucks and a building had been secured, with the only major problem being in securing a truck and radio equipment. Commissioners agreed to help the group with these items. Some $6 men have signed up for the Dawn Volunteer Fire Department, and an old school building will be used for the headquarters.

The commissioners formally approved two resolutions—one calling for creation of a new judicial district composed of Deaf Smith and Oldham counties, and the other expressing opposition to the U.S.

sending any aid to North Vietnam.

Commissioners had previously agreed to adopt the resolution on the judicial district if the Hereford Bar Association approved the proposal. Criminal D.A. Andy Shoval reported the proposal has been submitted to the Legislature. Deaf Smith and Oldham are presently in the 9th Judicial District with Moore, Dullam, Hartley and Sherman counties.

The resolution opposing aid to North Vietnam called for using "these resources to help our own people." Copies of the resolution will be sent to President Nixon, Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower, and Congressman George Mahon.

School and county tax collectors—Orpha Click and Vance Crume—appeared at the meeting to discuss a new Texas constitutional amendment which permits tax exemptions on residence homesteads of persons 65 or older. School Supt. Roy Hartman was also present.

It was outlined that the legislation is "permissive," and that each political subdivision can decide whether or not to adopt the provision. Each sub-division can also be petitioned by at least 30 per cent of the voters to call an election on the proposal. The legislation calls for exemptions of at least $3,000 of the value of residence homesteads of persons 65 years of age or older. No action was taken on the matter.

Another group of five men appeared at the meeting to request improvements on "Four-Mile Road," located just north of Hereford off Hwy. 385.

The men were primarily concerned about the first half-mile or mile of the road, offering to haul caliche in helping the county to improve the road.

Marcus Latham, commissioner in the precinct, pointed out that there was not enough right-of-way for the portion of road in question. The group was asked to determine if more right-of-way could be obtained, and commissioners took the request under consideration.

In other business, the court approved the designation of the county library as a part of the Texas Panhandle Library System, approved fire department expenses of $15,382 for the year 1972, and approved the annual bonding of the delinquent tax collector.

Commissioners held a brief discussion with Chuck Eppler, new county road superintendent, concerning his duties and responsibilities. The court gave Eppler "a vote of confidence" in assuming full management of road supervision. They also decided to publish Eppler's phone number in The Brand, in order that rural residents could contact him about road problems.

The county judge and court were special guests at the annual Deaf Smith County Extension Club luncheon at the Bull Barn.

WOMAN OF YEAR HONORED—Mrs. Paul Hoff, chosen as Deaf Smith County Extension Club Woman of the Year, was presented an engraved silver bowl Monday as the 22nd recipient of the annual award given by The Hereford Brand. Publisher O.G. Nieman made the presentation at the annual appreciation luncheon hosted by the County Home Demonstration Council at the Bull Barn. Mrs. Hoff was selected from six Women of the Year nominated by their respective clubs.

Officers, Directors Tabbed

Patrick To Head United Way Effort

Mike Patrick

Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone and president of the Hereford Rotary Club, was named Tuesday to head the slate of officers for the 1973 United Way Campaign.

Patrick replaces Bud Eades as president.

Charles Skinner was named the first vice president, Eades the second vice president, R.C. Hoelcher treasurer and Mrs. E.A. Miller the secretary.

Patrick will take over the reins of an organization that hit only about 75 per cent of its goal during the past year. Of a goal set at $61,450, only $30,900 in pledges and contributions were gathered as of the meeting this week.

The United Way campaign drive began in October of last year and officers pledged a continued drive in order to meet the goal.

Directors also were elected at the Tuesday meeting as were four members to an advisory committee to meet with and advise the board during the coming year.

Named to the advisory committee were Cleo Corlis, Betty Koelzer, Helen Higgins and Ed Lemons. Selected to the board of directors were Eades, Teina Games, Homer Hanna, Helen Langley, Mary Hoelcher, Bud Durham, Barnell Landera, and Daniel Aguirre to three-year terms.

Selected to serve the unexpired terms of Carroll McDonald and Troy Rowland were James Hull and Wayne Lady.

Retiring directors are Corlis, Mrs. Koelzer, Mrs. Higgins, Lemons, Helen Smith, Homer Garrison and Eades. Eades served last year in the unexpired term of Clifford Trotter.

Clayton Attacks Abortion Bills

Governmental control of abortion practices made news in Austin as the Human Resources Committee considered four bills in connection with the controversial subject last week.

State Representative Bill Clayton noted with regret that the U.S. Supreme Court had blacked out all laws in Texas concerning abortion, making it essential to reinstate some type of control.

"Abortion on demand is detestable and inconceivable to me," Clayton said. "And although I disagree with the Supreme Court ruling, at this point the best we can do is pass some laws which will prohibit abortion on demand, or total legalization of the process."

However, Rep. Clayton said he was not in favor of the four bills now under consideration unless they were amended and strengthened. The first of the four bills gives a 16-year old female the right to ask for a termination of her pregnancy without the consent of her parents. If she is under 16, her parents must give their consent. It also makes the physician who does the abortion liable only for negligence, and rules that no doctor be forced against his conscience to perform the abortion. Clayton said he could not vote for such a bill.

The second bill specifically sets out that the consent of the spouse is not required for sterilization. Rep. Clayton said he could favor this bill only if the couple had been separated for a long period of time, and the husband or wife was clearly not concerned with continuing the marriage.

The third bill gives minors permission to consent to birth control and pregnancy treatment in addition to consent to examination and treatment for venereal disease. Clayton stated again, that he believe minors living in the home with their parents should have the consent of those parents to seek birth control practices and pregnancy treatment.

The fourth bill simply asks for repeal of the articles of the penal code of Texas which the U.S. Supreme Court made unconstitutional.

Rep. Clayton also met with members of the Texas Water Conservation Association meeting in Austin last week. Clayton is a member of the board of directors of that group, and joined them when his heavy legislative schedule permitted.

DAKOTA VISITORS—Members of two North Dakota Farmers Union organizations, Richard Herman, left standing, and Ingvald Foss, sitting, were in this area as part of a "fly-in" to solicit new members. Shown with the two is Leo Witkowski of Hereford.

North Dakota Men Here For FU Drive

Two members of North Dakota Farmers Union organizations spent several days in the Hereford area early this week as part of a state-wide "Fly-In" membership drive they termed "very successful."

Richard Herman of Kulm, N.D., and Ingvald Foss of Leeds, N.D., spent Sunday through Tuesday in Hereford, staying with Clinton Jackson and Leo Witkowski. The two were part of a 44-member "fly-in" group from North and South Dakota that made the trip here.

The group arrived in Lubbock last Saturday then split up into pairs for the different areas of the state. A group of Texans were picked up in Lubbock Saturday and flown to Washington where they spent their time working with Congressmen and Senators on the farm program.

The entire effort was parts of the Farmers Union effort to see what can be done to keep some of the farm programs the present administration is seeking to do away with. Several programs have been wiped out and the visitors here said they, like almost every other farmer, were against the moves.

"Our primary reason for the trip here is to get more members for Farmers Union. We are real interested in the communications between here and North Dakota and are real interested in an exchange of ideas," Herman said.

The two men spent many hours visiting the surrounding areas renewing old memberships and soliciting new ones for the farm organization. They said their efforts "have been real optimistic."

Herman has participated in numerous "fly-ins" for the organization including trips to Kansas, Iowa, New Mexico, Nebraska and Wisconsin.

Foss, who is county director for Benson County Farmers Union, has made trips to Nebraska and Pennsylvania for membership drives.

Jackson, in emphasizing the need for more members so farmers' voices can be heard in Washington, said "the handwriting is on the wall and this administration is going to try and phase out all agricultural programs in the next three years."

Former Resident Is Buried

Funeral services for Rebecca Carolyn Power, 65, of Sundown, a former Hereford resident, were conducted Tuesday afternoon in First Christian Church here with the Rev. Eugene Brink, minister, officiating.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery, directed by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home. Mrs. Power died Sunday in M.D. Anderson Hospital at Houston after a long illness.

Born Oct. 23, 1907, at Hickory Flat, Ga., she came as a child from that state to Texas, and with her parents to Hereford in 1927 from Oklaunion. She married Marion Harvey Power

Sept. 22, 1931, at Clovis N.M.; his death occurred in 1969.

Her mother, Mrs. O.E. Sherman, a sister, Mrs. Tom Robinson, and a brother, Emmett Sherman, still reside in Hereford.

She is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Francis Livingston of Corona, Calif.; two sons, Oscar of Lubbock and Harvey Pat of Albuquerque, and another brother, Everett Sherman of Dallas.

Netters Clip Levelland

The Hereford High School tennis team cleanly got by a Levelland squad Tuesday in Levelland and will host the same team Tuesday.

The 15-3 sweep of the Levelland team this week came after a disappointing defeat last Saturday at the hands of the Plainview squad.

The Plainview girls won all eight game against the local girls while the Hereford boys managed a 6-6 split with the host Bulldogs.

Overall, Plainview won the match, 14-6.

Coach Steve Thomas said the boys team has good depth and experience and is playing well. He added that while the girls team has less experience, with two seniors and four sophomores, it has played well.

Following Tuesday's matches with Levelland here next week, the team will meet Pampa on March 10. The members of the team will travel to Amarillo this Saturday to see the professional exhibition at the Civic Center.

Industry to research new uranium uses

Seven companies will undertake a research and development program for the enrichment of uranium under a five-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission.

General Electric, Good-year, United Aircraft Corp., Westinghouse, Jersey Nuclear Co., Reynolds Metals Co. and Electro-Nucleonics, Inc. have been given access to classified data in order to study at their own expense the feasibility of manufacturing equipment to establish an enrichment program.

HOUSING SUBSIDIES

It is estimated that about 500,000 new housing units were built last year under the federal subsidy programs, a figure representing more than 20 per cent of the total number of housing starts in the United States.

A doubleheader is scheduled for the home folks Saturday, with the first game starting at 1 p.m. The Friday game in Amarillo is set for a 4 p.m. start.

Coach Aaron Bourland, in his first season as the Whiteface baseball mentor, reported 22 candidates for the team. "We still need lots of work—the weather has slowed our progress," he said this week.

Dinner For 135 Is OES Event

Dinner was served to approximately 135 persons when the Hereford Eastern Star Chapter was hostess for the annual Masonic Night program Tuesday in the Masonic Hall. Masons and their wives were the special guests. Members of youth organizations in the Masonic order were featured on the program, as Rainbow Girls of the Hereford Assembly presented their opening and closing drills and a group from the Amarillo DeMolay Chapter appeared for one of their ceremonials.

Melissa Johnson, worthy advisor of Rainbow Girls here, led their part of the program. Mrs. J.A. McWhorter, mother advisor, was introduced.

Joe Babcock gave the DeMolay Flower Talk, and other Amarillo boys present were Joe Baker, Eddie Duncan, Jim Hays, Tommy Duncan, Noel and Joel Price. Sponsors with them were John Southern, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Babcock. Mrs. Arthur Clark, worthy matron of the OES, welcomed guests to begin the after-dinner program. Bernard Roberson gave the invocation and J.B. Noland led group singing of America and Battle Hymn of the Republic. The prayer of unity was by Gene Brock. Jerry Don George, worshipful master of the local Masonic Lodge, introduced his officers. Mrs. Clark presented grand lodge members, Noland and Marvin Coffey, and OES grand chapter officers, Mrs. Noland, deputy grand matron, Mr. and Mrs. Roberson and Mrs. Charlie Noland. Dinner music was by Jerry B. Schultz.

ROTARY SPEAKER—Dudley Bayne, Hereford City Manager, was guest speaker at Hereford Rotary Club's Monday noon luncheon meeting. Bayne gave a brief history of the revenue sharing bill and outlined its effects on local governments.

Prayer Service Is Widely Used

Though there is no way to count the number of calls received, it has been estimated that Hereford's prayer phone number has been dialed at least 10,000 times during the past year since its inception.

Maintained and operated by members of First Christian Church, the service includes no identification or denominational information in the recorded message, according to Eugene Brink, pastor, who usually records the prayers each morning. When he is unable to record them, other members of the church give the messages. The prayer phone number is 364-6000.

The format of the prayer messages has remained the same since the program's beginning. There is first a brief prayer, which is followed by the suggestion of a Bible passage. In recent months, the suggestion has been included on Saturdays that the caller attend services and Sunday school at the church of his choice.

There is no way of knowing who calls the prayer phone, according to Brink, except for the occasions when people have called the church or identified themselves to members of the congregation.

"For some it is undoubtedly just a curiosity," said Brink.

"For others it supplies a felt need. Some tell us that they dial the number daily. Some call only in times of stress."

He added that more calls are received early in the morning, late at night and during the weekends.

Bob Emery, chairman of the church's outreach department, said that the investment of $750 in service and equipment has been very worthwhile.

"We are always open to suggestions for improvement," he said.

Club Entertained By Mrs. Jacobsen

Mrs. John Jacobsen Sr. was hostess to West Hereford Extension Club at her home Tuesday afternoon. Routine business and informal visiting filled the meeting hour. Mrs. E.M. Cox presided and read a verse titled TV And The 23rd Psalm.

The hostess gift went to Miss Evelyn Bell. Other members present were Mmes. W.A. Waters, Robert Boyd, Roy Boyd and U.V. Pierce.

Concert By WTSU Teachers Scheduled

Friends of Fine Arts at West Texas State University, an organization with several members in Hereford including two on the board of directors, is the group under whose auspices two faculty members will present a concert here Sunday afternoon.

Sponsored by the two federated music clubs in Deaf Smith County, Music Study Club and Dawn Music Club, cellist Michael Matesky and tenor John Marshall Carpenter will appear in a program at 3 p.m. in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church.

The public is invited to hear the concert, without charge, and to attend a reception afterward in the church fellowship hall, to meet the artists.

Both are members of the music faculty at WTSU and both have appeared in a number of programs in area cities since the university's term began last fall.

Taking such programs from the WTSU fine arts department over the Panhandle—Plains area is one aim of the Friends of Fine Arts, a part of its purpose to keep the school of fine arts abreast of the area's cultural needs and at the same time keep area residents informed about the WTSU fine arts program.

Support to a scholarship and endowment program is another purpose of the organization, and members also support plans for a proposed fine arts complex on the campus as a future goal.

Mrs. Allen Cansler and Mrs. James Witherspoon are Hereford members of the board of directors. Other local members listed for the current season by the organization are Mrs. H. L. Benefield, Mrs. Dolson W. Palmer, Mrs. Henry Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGe.

Mrs. Hoff, county THDA chairman, reported on a training meeting on the year's program then, Home—A Beacon Of Light.

She attended this session with Mrs. Jimmie Bradley, County Council chairman, and Argen Draper, county extension agent.

Committee reports were given in the Monday meeting after Mrs. Ted Coleman of Palo Duro Club had read a poem, An Outstretched Hand.

Also present were Mmes. E.M. Cox and Lucille Berryman of West Hereford Club, Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld of Bippus, Mmes. H.D. Fowler, Leroy Johnson and Jerry Stewart of Dawn, Mmes. Roger Williams, T.E. Brisendine and Gaylon Bryan of North Hereford.

Visitors were Mmes. Carl Parnell, Charles Mockouse, and H.E. Houck.

Veteran's Affairs

Q—How do veterans stack up as credit risks under the G.I. Bill home loan program?

A—Yes. All of the 168 hospitals are now affiliated with colleges and universities for training purposes. About 62,000 medical and allied health trainees will receive clinical experience in VA hospitals this year.

A—America's veterans have been, and are continuing to be, good credit risks. Almost one-half (3.9 million) of the eight million VA guaranteed home loans have been repaid in full, and the number of defaults and claims in 1972 continued at the same (3.2 per cent) levels as 1971 and 1970 which were the lowest experienced by VA since the late-1960's.

Dimmitt Nursing Is Scheduled

The grand opening of South Hills Manor, a new nursing home in Dimmitt, has been announced by Virgil Justice of Hereford and the McDonnell Construction Co. of Abilene.

The open house is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday and all area residents are invited to attend, Justice announced. The new facility for senior citizens has 118 beds. More details will be announced in The Sunday Brand.

Q—I read where the Veterans Administration operates 168 hospitals. Just how many veterans do they treat?

A—A record high of about one million veterans will receive VA hospital care in Fiscal Year 1973, the greatest number in history, and 150,000 more than the record number treated in Fiscal 1972. Out-patient medical care will go up from 9 1/2 million visits to nearly 11 million, compared to about 7 million visits in 1969.

Q—Seems to me even the small-town VA hospitals have young medical trainees around, these days, and they sure brighten up the place. Are all the VA hospitals helping train health workers?

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.—They didn't separate "church" and "state" in the Capitol city last week. You might even say they got "engaged."

The Texas Conference of Churches met in Austin for its fourth annual Assembly of Representatives and enjoyed discussing a good round of political issues along with the ecumenical resolutions.

A "state" breakfast was held for officials of Texas' governmental bodies, and humorist Cactus Pryor allowed that "mixing ministers with legislators and getting a little religion might help the office holders and benefit the state."

Some of the issues of "politics" and "religion" were controversial, and the leaders of most of Texas church bodies seemed to enjoy their encounter with governmental leaders.

But, tax exemptions for property owned by churches have become an issue in most states, and church officials seemed to be wary of pressing political issues too far into the "never-never" land of lobbying.

The Conference leaders did discuss resolutions on the forthcoming state constitutional convention, welfare education and reform, public school financing and public education. One of the most controversial resolutions concerned the Farah strike and collective bargaining.

OPEN MEETINGS BILL AMENDMENTS PROPOSED—The open meetings bill encountered a swarm of suggested amendments during a four-hour hearing before the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

School board and university regents representatives proposed changes which Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena accepted, in the main, as "good faith" attempts to make the bill workable.

Some amendments also were proposed by media representatives.

The measure went to subcommittee. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who attended part of the hearing, said he is hopeful of Senate passage.

NEWSMEN'S PRIVILEGE BILL—Hearings on the "free flow of information" bill, commonly called the newsmen's privilege bill, has been set for March 13 at 2 p.m. in the Lieutenant Governor's committee room.

FEDERAL INVESTIGATION?—Treasury Department agents' questions about state government, bank charters and water districts provided Texas legislators their major topic of conversation last week.

At least four House members and three Senators reported being interviewed by the Treasury sleuths on a variety of topics. Some took the inquiries seriously, while others treated them as a joke or a "fishing expedition."

Regular state investigatory agencies were not taken into the federal investigators' confidence.

"I feel safe in saying we haven't been contacted," said Atty. Gen. John Hill.

Sens. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas and Robert Gammage of Houston were among senators who talked freely of their questioning by a "T-man" in a trench coat. Rep. Lane Denton of Waco said he had also been queried about a number of subjects late in January but declined to provide details.

Mauzy said he had been informed the Treasury Department has a special task force on corruption of public officials. He said an agent identified as R.R. Caldwell told him he was a member of a task force that conducted an investigation of Louisiana state government which resulted in convictions of some officials.

According to Mauzy, the agent spent more time asking him about creation of special water districts in Harris County than anything else. He said he was also questioned as to whether he knew anything about how bank charters were awarded, if he had knowledge of legislators taking bribes, how state colleges acquired land and let contracts and if state purchasing is done on competitive bids.

"Some legislators joked that one of the T-men wore a Nixon tie clasp and didn't ask any questions about Republicans."

There may have been more kidding if legislators didn't remember another federal agency—the Securities and Exchange Commission—that bared 1969 stock dealings by high state officials which led to conviction of former House Speaker Gus Mutscher for bribery.

Legislators questioned recently were assured they weren't under investigation.

COURTS SPEAK—The State Supreme Court agreed the family of a pilot killed in a crash at Dallas six years ago should collect damages due to an admittedly-faulty propeller.

A Harris County doctor won reversal of a life sentence for killing his hospital partner in the Court of Criminal Appeals. A controversy over immunity granted a key prosecution witness was cited in the reversal.

The Court of Criminal Appeals refused the appeal of two truckers who sought exemption from a law against carrying explosives. The Harris County men were sentenced to 25 years for possession of a bomb.

TRAFFIC OFFENDER BILL OFFERED—Governor Briscoe in a special message gave his endorsement to legislation to remove habitual traffic offenders from Texas streets and highways.

The bill, backed by the Texas Association of Insurance Agents, provides for revoking drivers' licenses of persons convicted of four specified major driving violations or 12 moving traffic violations in a five-year period. It also provides for felony fine and probation for habitual offenders who drive without licenses.

$7 MILLION MORE ASKED FOR WELFARE—The State Board of Public Welfare wants $7 million more in state funds than recommended by the Legislative Budget Board's new-tax budget.

Board members said Nixon Administration programs are demanding more state money. They cited amendments transferring to the federal government aged, blind and disabled programs which had been administered by the states.

"The increased cost to Texas to make up for withheld federal funds may be so prohibitive that some programs will be lost entirely and others may be cut back severely," said Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell. He cited medical aid, child care and personnel services.

The Board approved a $66 million state spending program for 1974 which would mean an overall budget of about $1 billion. The LBB budget proposal, said Board staff members, would reduce welfare spending overall by $150 million, considering lost U.S. aid.

NEGLIGENCE BILL ADVANCES—A bill to permit accident victims to collect damages though they were partly at fault moved through the House of Representatives in spite of warnings it might raise insurance rates.

The legislation, backed by Texas Trial Lawyers Association, would set up a so-called comparative negligence system. Juries would find percentages of fault and award damages in proportion to negligence of the parties to accidents.

Among other measures approved by the House was Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s proposal to require speakership candidates to disclose their campaign financing.

APPOINTMENTS—Governor Briscoe named former Sen. Joe Christi of El Paso to fill a vacancy on the State Board of Insurance created by Senate rejection of Ray Kilpatrick who had been appointed by former Gov. Preston Smith.

Briscoe also announced these appointments:

Judge Tom Coleman of Houston as chief justice of the First Court of Civil Appeals at Houston; Mrs. Camen Hicks of Bandera to Bandera County River Authority; William Garland Button and Cam F. Dowell Jr. of Dallas (reappointments) and G.C. Morris of Austin to the East Texas State University board of regents; R.B. McGowan Jr. of Pecos (reappointment) to the Pecos River Compact Commission.

Ms. Cathy Ward of Austin was designated state Republican speaker's bureau director.

NINE HUNDRED WANT TO HELP REWRITE CONSTITUTION—A selection committee to pick a 37 member commission to rewrite the state constitution soon found too many people want to help.

The six top officials on the committee went to work late last week trying to reduce the list of 900 nominees or volunteers for commission membership to 37.

Members of the commission must make their recommendations for constitutional reform by November. The legislature will convene as a constitutional convention next January.

SHORT SNORTS

The Senate confirmed Joe D. Carter's reappointment to the Texas Water Rights Commission, but postponed action on Maj. Gen. Thomas Bishop as adjutant general.

Recommendations of the National Water Commission as they relate to agriculture would depopulate rural areas, destroy productive capacity and drive down farm prices, claims Agriculture Commissioner John White.

The Legislature paid special tribute to new World heavyweight boxing champion George Foreman of Houston. Attorney General Hill has been called on by the Senate to drop appeal of the Texas legislative redistricting case.

Exemption from ad valorem taxes applies to residence of all those over 65 in spite of age of others interested in the homestead, Hill ruled in an opinion. Hill also ruled Grayson County commissioners may amend their 1973 budget to increase salaries of non-elected employees—but not retroactively.

Yoga, according to my paperback book on the subject, is a Hindu discipline aimed at training the consciousness for a state of perfect spiritual insight and tranquility. If there is one thing I need on Monday morning when the washing machine is making funny noises and the steam iron is spitting rusty water at me, it's a state of perfect spiritual insight and tranquility. So I signed up for a course in basic yoga. My classmates were attired in leotards and sitting in the lotus position when I rushed in out of breath and 15 minutes late — very un-yoga of me. But the teacher was prepared for such western slip-ups and motioned me to a mat where I sat Indian fashion and closed one eye, keeping the other one open in case I might miss something. By the end of the lesson, however, I had closed it — having learned three relaxing exercises and a deep-breathing method which made me think I'd missed my calling. Clearly, I was cut out to be a Guru. Here were exercises I could do standing still. And the teacher's instruction to go directly home and meditate was the kind of homework assignment I'd been waiting years to hear. "Get away from me, kids," I said to my children when they came home from school. "Mommy is meditating." "Can we watch?" they asked. "No," I said. "This is strictly between me and my consciousness." And the kids giggled from the hallway where they were making elaborate plans to crawl in on their stomachs to spy on me. Now I know why yoga students head for the Himalayas. Nobody can get to them there.

"No man in the world has more courage than the man who can stop after eating one peanut." (Channing Pollock)

Prospecting

... has been part of the American Romance — always frontiers that beckon — the pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow. Forever the call of the wild; the mountain to climb; the vision for change, for movement, for progress... a stake in copper, silver, gold, oil and uranium. We owe those prospectors much.

They blazed the paths, those harbingers of wealth, civilization and culture. We are their successors but our vision differs. We must prospect for even greater good... for a new mountain pass from one country, one people, to another. We seek the gold of mutual understanding. We look for land where the new order of the ages may grow. Our Kingdom of the future must be the Kingdom of God, where love, joy and peace, will be the precious values. The Book of Books and your church offer information and inspiration for this new challenge.

Economic Stabilization

Questions and Answers

This column of questions and answers on the President's Economic Stabilization Program is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about wages and prices.

For more information, see IRS Publication S-3012, "Construction Industry Pay and Price Increases." It's available free by dropping a postcard to your Internal Revenue district office.

charges and a portion of capital improvement costs. For more details, see IRS Publication S-3019, "Rent Guidelines," available free by writing your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. Are federal employee pay increases subject to Economic Stabilization regulations?

A. No. Federal employee pay increases are not subject to Stabilization regulations, if they are based upon federal law and determined by Presidential directives.

Q. How does the profit margin rule limit price increases?

A. A firm may not increase prices, even if it has allowable cost increases, if this would increase its current profit margin above the base period profit margin. Essentially, the base period profit margin is the average profit margin for the best two of the three company fiscal years prior to Aug. 15, 1971. Most companies with more than 60 employees are covered by the profit margin limitations.

Q. My construction company employs only 50 construction workers. I want to enter into a collective bargaining contract with the union that represents them for wage increases of less than 5.5 per cent. Do I still have to prenotify the increases?

A. Yes. Prenotification is required for all construction industry wage increases. This prenotification should be made to the appropriate craft board operating under the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee or the Committee itself if there is no appropriate board.

Q. The rent I pay under my lease varies with such factors as the cost of living and the passage of time. How are such formula-determined rentals controlled?

A. If the monthly rent for your apartment is determined by a formula in the lease, your landlord may continue to use this formula. However, the total amount of rent he charges under that formula cannot be more than the rent otherwise allowable under Economic Stabilization regulations.

In general, landlords are permitted to increase rent by 2.5 per cent annually and pass on increases in state or local real property taxes, municipal

Q. If a person buys six additional apartments from another landlord to rent himself, is he subject to the rent charged by the former owner or can he set a new rent level?

A. He is subject to the rent charged by the former owner, and cannot set a new rent level. The base rent of a residence is not subject to change, but remains the same despite allowable rent adjustments or changes in ownership or management.

Do Plants Sense Harm From Man?

By REV. W. LEE TRUMAN
Copley News Service

Archie Matson, a Methodist minister, changed a basic viewpoint of my whole life. He had two vats of plants in his office. Behind his closed office doors, he prayed for one and cursed the other.

He measured the amount of water for each and he set them side by side in the sun. The one that he cursed grew faster than the one he was praying for! That so upset him he started out on a path which caused him to do a great deal of research and writing. It has caused me to gather material on this phenomenon since.

I have often been in the home of the little, old grandma who swears that by whispering words of encouragement to her African violets and geraniums, she helped them grow. I have never had the nerve to suggest the cursing part, but have thought about it a great deal.

Dr. Homer Bucher, who is not a minister or a little old grandma, but who is a human relations expert, does not admit to talking to plants himself. He has earned his doctorate by studying plant response to environment, and his observations have convinced him that while plants do not hear granny's sweet talk, or a minister's prayers or curses, they do get the message, and he thinks they may do so by reading our minds.

It is Dr. Bucher's opinion that within the system of plant life there is something which can only be understood as being akin to our feelings and emotions. Dr. Bucher says they appreciate being watered, and they worry when some threatening force comes near them. He goes so far as to say that they faint when violence threatens their well-being. He is gathering data to prove they have sympathy emotions when harm comes to other plants or animals which are close to them.

His interest was turned from psychology when he tried to test how long it took water poured upon a droopy-leaved philodendron to travel from the roots to the leaves. He used a galvanometer, thinking that the increased moisture in the leaf would change the electrical resistance enough to register on his instrument.

He was shocked to find an immediate reaction which was very close to that of a person under emotional stimulation. The reaction was so great that he had to switch to a much less sensitive instrument, and he used a voltmeter. He continued the experiment by putting a bunsen burner under a leaf.

"At the moment I had the conviction in my mind that I was going to do this, the needle hit the peg," he recalls. "This really shook me up." He says that he has since done this same experiment with countless thousands of plants, and gotten a response from his intended harm to the plant.

To prove his point, he had 10 persons, four of whom I know well, choose lots to see who would attack one of four plants in his office. This was done, and the person mangled the plant. The following day there was no change in the instrument readings on the three surviving plants when the nine persons reentered the room one by one. The needles went off the scale on all three plants when the woman who mangled the fourth plant came into the room.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

NOBODY SAID THIS IS fine arts week in Hereford, but there are indications that it may be. And the expression, "fine arts", which scares a lot of people although it shouldn't, is being used to include several branches of entertainment.

For music, there will be a concert by members of WTSU music faculty Sunday afternoon—not at Canyon, but here in Hereford. With no admission charge and open to the public, it will begin at 3 p.m. in First Baptist Church sanctuary.

Also, the public (that means you, you know) is invited to a reception afterward to meet the artists, Michael Matesky, cellist, and John Marshall Carpenter, tenor.

Both are young men—yep, under 30—and it's wonderful to have musicians of their calibre to give a program here. Thanks to the music clubs and the WTSU Friends of Fine Arts.

THEN FOR MORE MUSIC. THE Lee Evans Jazz Piano Trio will play for Community Concert Association members Monday night at the high school auditorium, the last program of this season for that group.

And for a different art, painting, there will be a reception at the Music Stand from 3 to 5 Sunday afternoon opening a month-long display of Peggy Lang's work. It's open to the public too, and you can easily drop by after the concert.

It's a safe bet that men will enjoy Mrs. Lang's paintings of western subjects, birds perched on barbed-wire fence, windmills, Colorado mountains, ranch roads, lighted lanterns.

All of these things are for the weekend, and only last weekend the Community Players rocked audiences with laughter at two performances of Come Blow Your Horn, to illustrate another fine art.

So you see there is plenty of interest in such things around here. So you see it isn't impractical thinking that has brought on the demand for community planners to include suitable space for practicing and displaying the various arts, when the next community building is constructed.

VISITORS ON THE WEEKEND in the home of Elizabeth and Ansel McDowell were their son, Dr. Ansel McDowell, and his family from Perryton. They spent Saturday night and Sunday here, and on Sunday dinner the Jim McDowell family joined the group.

AN OLD NAME IN Hereford and in Texas, George Ratliff Jowell, will be carried on with the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. George R. Jowell of San Antonio on Feb. 24.

The baby is the fifth to bear the name; the father is better known in Hereford as Bud Jowell, son of Betty and George Jowell of 800 E. Third.

First of the name in Hereford was G.R. Jowell, who brought his family to this county by covered wagon in 1887. His son, called by his middle name, usually shortened to Rat, was one of the ranchers who brought the first registered Herefords to this area and the town became their namesake.

The new baby will have the middle name spelled as the first George Jowell spelled it, Radcliffe, his parents have notified relatives here.

The mother is the former Carol Austin and the maternal grandmother is Emma Austin of Amarillo, who is a sister of Gwen Baxter.

Club Guest Gives Travel Program

People and places of Southeast Asia, pictured on slides collected by Willie Weaver while he was a teacher in Okinawa, shared interest with his comments as he showed the pictures to Lone Star Study Club members Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. S.A. McCathern was hostess in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co.

Weaver, a teacher in Hereford schools, traveled widely in Asiatic countries during the time he spent teaching in a school for children of U.S. military personnel at the Okinawa base.

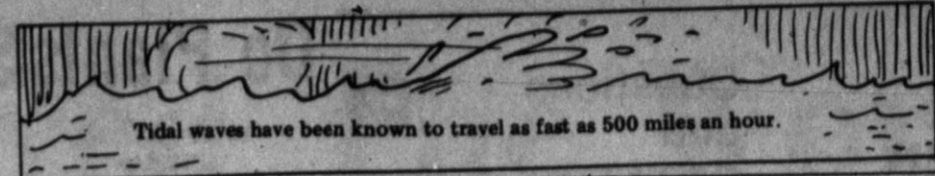

His pictures reveal segments of the lives of ordinary people in the various lands, as well as scenic spots and the buildings usually seen by tourists.

Mrs. V.E. Dodson arranged the program and introduced the guests.

The hostess served refreshments including cherry pie, with decorations reminiscent of Washington's Birthday.

Members present were Mrs. Gaston Baer, R.G. Blue, Baker Womble, Dale Tinnin, Jim Bookout, M.H. Wiseman, J.J. Durham, Robert Thompson, W.S. Fluitt, J.E. Shirkey, Henry Vaughn, H.E. Henslee, S.S. Williams, Jim Higgins, Ed Warren, John Moore, C.O. Phillips, and W.O. McCutcheon, and Miss Mildred Elliott.

Fast-Paced Comedy Entertains Full Houses At Players Offering

Audiences that filled the house saw two performances of the comedy, Come Blow Your Horn, in a Hereford Community Players production last weekend, laughing and applauding their approval.

Meredith Wilcox's direction set a fast pace for the Neil Simon show, and the cast read its lines for maximum comedy effect. Staging in-the-round helped the audience get the nuances of humor in word and action.

As two brothers in a New York family around whom the action revolved, David Moxon and Gordon Gearn carried the major share of the laugh-provoking plot. Both were playing their first roles for the local acting group.

Moxon breezed through the lines of the worldly-wise older brother, while Gearn portrayed the unsure, just-come-of-age Buddy who developed aplomb as the play progressed.

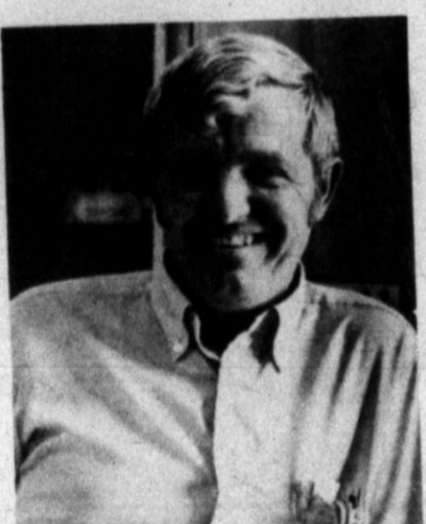

Every appearance drew laughs for Polly Bullard as their mother, whose well-intentioned nagging complicated their lives, and for mustachioed Andy Shuval as their self-dramatizing father.

Contrasting roles were played by Denise McCullar as a feather-brained showgirl and Paul Haug as a sincere admirer of the older brother. Appearing in a bit role, Joyce Haug as Aunt Gussie popped onstage at the play's close to assure a hilarious ending.

Location of the production, in the building formerly occupied by the Yardstick in Sugarland Mall, was a happy one for the Players, who during their five-year history have been forced to use first one and then another auditorium, suitable or not.

Stage furnishings were from Taylor Furniture and Appliance in a setting of a swank bachelor apartment.

Cindermen Take Crown In Plainview Saturday

BY O.G. NIEMAN
Publisher

The Hereford Whitefaces captured the team championship in their first track meet of the season at Plainview Saturday, winning the mile relay to nip Lubbock Coronado by one point for the Bulldog Relays crown.

Herd tracksters garnered an even 100 points, sparked by first and second-place finishes in the two relays and individual firsts by Steve Nieman in the 440, Danny Harris in the long jump, and David Varner in the shot put. Joe Coleman also tied for first in the high jump.

Ten teams were entered in the meet, but Pampa withdrew because of track condition and Snyder participated only in field events. The meet had been moved to Wayland College's cinder track—due to repairs on the Plainview High track—and a big snow Thursday left the cinder paths soft and muddy in spots.

Coach Don Cumpton will take the team to the Top of Texas Relays in Pampa Saturday. Other teams entered will be Pampa, Borger, Dumas, Perryton, Tascosa, and Plainview. A junior varsity division is scheduled.

At the Plainview meet, Hereford trailed Coronado by 91-90 going into the mile relay, the final event. Hereford needed a first place with Coronado winding up no better than fourth to win the meet. The relay was run in two heats, with Dunbar winning the first heat in 3:33 and Coronado finishing third.

The Whiteface team had to run against the clock in the second heat, and they won it in 3:29.6 to take first place. That pushed Coronado to fourth place and gave the Herd the meet title by one point, 100-99. The mile relay team was made up of James Harris, Luther Mays, Nieman and Terry Champ.

Behind Coronado in team totals came Estacado with 69, Borger 50, Plainview 44, Dunbar 42, Lubbock 26, Canyon 26, and Snyder 20.

Hereford narrowly missed winning both relays when Estacado nipped Hereford in a close finish in the 440 relay. Estacado was clocked in 44.4 seconds and Hereford was given a 44.5 time. Johnny Adams, Nieman, Wesley High and Champ were on this relay team.

Hereford had only one second-place finish in the individual events when miler Jim Henson was runner-up with a 4:52.1 clocking. Randy Alexander was a third-place finisher in the long jump, and Charles High was fourth in the 300 intermediate hurdles. Fifth places were recorded by James Higgins in the 800, Wesley High in the 200 hurdles, Jim Marsh in the discus, and Johnny Adams in the long jump. Taking sixth place were Charles High in the high hurdles and Alexander in the 300 hurdles.

Nieman was high-point producer for the Whitefaces, winning the quarter and running a leg on both relays for 19 points. Danny Harris and Varner had 10 points each with their firsts, and Terry Champ recorded 8 on the two relay teams.

Hereford also won the junior varsity division of the track meet, tabbing 128 points. Dunbar was next with 109, followed by Coronado with 65, Lubbock 47, Snyder 27, Borger 8, Plainview 4, Canyon 4 and Pampa 2.

The JV was first in the mile relay and second in the sprint relay, and individual firsts went to David Crume in the shot put, Clifford Fangman in the discus, and Julio Gonzales in the mile run. Marvin Harris was second in the discus and shot, and Jay Williams was second in the 440.

Third places went to James Waits in the 100, and Bobby Fields in the mile. Placing fourth were Ronny Ohlig in the high hurdles and long jump, and Darrell Hutton in the 100 and 200. Placing fifth were Kevin Malone in the 800, Terry Yerby in the 440, James Waits in the 200, and Mike Munnerlyn in the long jump.

The mile relay team was composed of Munnerlyn, Doug Charest, Williams and Kent Hollingsworth. The 440 relay team had Barry Allen, Williams, Hollingsworth and Hutton.

Newporters divided

Residents of Newport, R.I., have mixed feelings about the news that Paramount Pictures has rented Rosecliff, one of the resort town's stately mansions, for filming F. Scott Fitzgerald's "The Great Gatsby" this summer.

Rosecliff, owned by the Newport Preservation Society, will be closed to tourists for six months during production of the film.

Vets To Receive Extra Cash Here

World War veterans in Deaf Smith County who have maintained their GI insurance in force will be on the receiving end of some extra cash this year.

Some 265 of them will receive approximately $30,000 as their share of a record payout of dividends totaling $297 million.

The bulk of the money, $276 million of it, will go to 3,800,000 World War II veterans who hold National Service Life Insurance policies, reports the Veterans Administration. The remainder will go to 147,000 veterans of the first World War, who have

United States Government Life Insurance.

The $297 million payment is the largest regular dividend ever declared by the VA. It is $11 million above the previous high. It has become available because the interest earned by the trust funds governing the insurance policies has been unusually large.

Of the 1,430 veterans of the two World Wars who reside in Deaf Smith County, according to the latest count, only about 28 per cent will be getting checks, the figures show. They are the ones who held on to their policies.

The payments to them will average $143 if they are World War I veterans and $73 if they were in the second World War.

The actual amounts, in individual instances, may run several times as large as this and, in other cases, much smaller. It all depends upon the size of the policy held and on its duration.

Some ex-servicemen, it is noted, will be using their dividends to purchase additional insurance, rather than taking the cash.

As for those in the local area who were involved in other wars, no distribution will be made to them because they were not covered by policies of this type.

Throughout the State of Texas, a total of nearly $14,827,000 will be paid to some 190,822 veterans, according to the VA.

The $30,000 earmarked for Deaf Smith County vets will be payable on the anniversary dates of their policies and will be sent to them automatically, without application.

Most of the money, it is expected, will find its way without much delay into the cash registers of local retail stores.

Mrs. Hoff Given H.D. Club Award

Mrs. Paul Hoff of North Hereford Extension Club was presented an engraved silver bowl designating her as Outstanding Extension Club Woman of the Year in Deaf Smith County, at the annual appreciation luncheon of the County Home Demonstration Council Monday.

A longtime member with a record of valuable services to her club, also to county and district units of Texas Home Demonstration Association, Mrs. Hoff is county THDA chairman for the 1972-73 term and treasurer of North Hereford Club, in which she has filled all offices in past years.

She received the award from O.G. Nieman, publisher of The Hereford Brand, which has given this award annually for 21 years.

Mrs. Hoff was chosen by out-of-county judges from six nominees from as many clubs. The others, each Woman of the Year in her own club, are Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld of Bippus, Mrs. Don Daugherty of Young Homemakers, Mrs. J.H. Holden of Wyche, Mrs. Ralph Warren of Palo Duro and Mrs. Jerry Stewart of Dawn.

County officials and other special guests were introduced by Mrs. Jimmie Bradley, County Council president, after the invocation by the Rev. Gene Meacham of Dawn Baptist Church. About 150 persons attended the luncheon in the County Bull Barn.

Speaker on the program was Dr. Mina Lamb, professor of foods and nutrition at Texas Tech University, whose subject was The Ecology of Nutrition. She was introduced by Mrs. Leroy Johnson, education chairman in the Council.

Dr. Lamb said society's chief needs have progressed from muscle power through horsepower to brain power, and the present generation, although "we are what we have become" and cannot change, has the opportunity to influence change for future generations to produce healthier, smarter children.

Not necessarily bigger, she added, because bigger does not always mean better; but science is beginning to find ways to change both genetic inheritance and physical environment, the factors which make men what they are.

These possible changes have brought controversy about such things as abortion laws, the institution of marriage, a shift of family roles with "househusbands and women breadwinners," she continued.

"We consider that production of crops is important, so much preparation is required, but our human crops are more important and so often no preparation is made," the speaker said. "Youth today needs the basic facts of life about producing and bringing up children, for better families in the future."

Luncheon To Begin UMW Study Series

March meetings of United Methodist Women in First Church here will be devoted to a series of studies on the New Testament book of Romans, with the first program scheduled at a luncheon Wednesday.

Mrs. D.N. Garner, president, announces that all women of the church are invited for the covered dish lunch at 12:15 p.m. in the fellowship hall. Mrs. Don Davidson will be leader of study based on the first three chapters of the book.

Remaining programs in the series will be held in Ward Parlor of the church at 9:30 a.m. on succeeding Wednesdays. Mrs. Colby Conkright will direct the study March 14, Mrs. W. A. Appling March 21 and Mrs. Robert Strain March 28.

Farewell Is Theme, And Welcome Too

A farewell party for Gwen Lloyd, Safeway store manager who has been transferred to Amarillo, was combined with a welcome to his successor, Ron Wiewel of Lubbock, when employees of the store were hosts in SWPS Reddy Room Sunday evening.

Lloyd has been manager of the local store the past three years. Mrs. Lloyd was a special guest at the party.

Mrs. Don Dumas, wife of the assistant manager, with Mrs. Bill Crow and Mrs. Pat Kirby, served refreshments. Mrs. Fred Gamboa and Mrs. Aaron Etheridge assisted.

Cakes, one decorated appropriately for the farewell and the other for a welcome, were served with coffee and punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clete Corlis, close friends of the Lloyds, were guests with 26 store employees and their wives or husbands.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton L. Whatley are the parents of a daughter, Stacey Renee, born Feb. 26. She weighed 8 lbs. 6 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Petro Galon are the parents of a daughter, Michelle Janie, born Feb. 25. She weighed 7 lbs. 6 oz.

Reception Will Open Show Of Paintings

A one-man show of paintings by Peggy Lang will open with a Sunday afternoon reception in the Music Stand Restaurant, with the artist and her husband, the Rev. William Lang, as hosts from 3 to 5 p.m. The public is invited.

This is one of a series of such showings of work by Hereford painters. After the reception, the paintings will hang at the Music Stand for display through the coming month.

Mrs. Lang, who has been a Hereford resident about a year, has had some of her work accepted this winter for display in Taos One, a gallery in the New Mexico art center. She has also shown paintings in local art shows as a member of Hereford Art Guild.

She paints scenes she knows, ranches in this area, the mountains of Colorado where the Langs like to spend vacations and the coastal plains of Texas where she lived when she began painting as a hobby about four years ago.

A member of the well-known River Arts Group at San Antonio, she has since moving to the Panhandle joined the Amarillo Fine Arts Association, which is affiliated with the Texas Fine Arts Association.

CWU Invites Women

The first of the three annual services held by Hereford Church Women United will be observed with the regularly scheduled meeting at 10 a.m. Friday in Wesley United Methodist Church, Mrs. Paul Zinser, president, announces. The program is in observance of the World Day of Prayer. The national theme, Alert In Our Times, will be the subject with emphasis on local and national issues that face Christians today.

Any women interested in the services are invited to attend.

Let's Cook Something Seafood Casserole Has Variety With Economy

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copley News Service

Casseroles are one answer to high meat prices. But there comes a time when the homemaker reaches the end of her repertoire of ground meat casseroles. Then is the time to turn to seafood casseroles for interesting variety, as well as economy.

Seafood, just as ground meat, can be "stretched" to make a little go a long way.

The two "puff" casseroles which follow are easy to prepare and offer good nutrition, as well as good eating. One, Lemony Fish Puff, combines flaked cooked fish with rice, milk and eggs. Shrimp-Cheese Puff stretches a can of shrimp with protein-rich eggs, milk, cheese and bread. Mustard, thyme and onion bolster taste appeal.

LEMONY FISH PUFF
(6 servings)
2 cups flaked cooked cod or haddock (white fish)
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup milk
1/4 cup fresh squeezed lemon juice

3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon fresh grated lemon peel
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Combine fish, rice, milk, lemon juice, butter, lemon peel, salt and pepper. Beat egg yolks. Stir into fish mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into fish mixture along with the chopped pimiento. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole dish. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 30 minutes.

SHRIMP-CHEESE PUFF
6 to 8 slices firm-textured bread
5 eggs
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon thyme
One-sixteenth teaspoon white pepper
1 1/2 cups homogenized milk
1 1/2 cups shredded sharp cheddar cheese
One-third cup chopped green onion
1 (4 1/2 oz.) can de-veined shrimp, drained
Paprika

Cut bread in 3/4-inch cubes to measure 6 cups. Beat eggs with seasonings. Add milk and pour over bread. Let stand five minutes. Add cheese, onion and shrimp; mix lightly. Turn into a buttered 7 x 11 x 1 1/2 inch baking pan; sprinkle with paprika. Bake below oven center, in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) 35 minutes until set in center. Let stand five minutes then cut into squares (or spoon out) to serve. Makes six to eight servings.

Variation: Omit shrimp from "cheese puff" and serve the squares with Shrimp Sauce. To make sauce, melt 2 tablespoons butter and blend in 2 tablespoons flour. Stir in 1 1/2 cups homogenized milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon each dry mustard and dill

"Training is everything. The peach was once a bitter almond; cauliflower is but a cabbage with a college education." (Mark Twain)

FULL OF NUTRITION—Lemony Fish Puff is easy to prepare, economical and chock-full of good nutrition.

Boston Patriot Is Girl's Topic For Winning DAR Essay Contest

Christie Beene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Beene of Rt. 1, was the fifth grade winner in a history essay contest sponsored by the Los Chiboleros Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. This contest was held in honor of American History Month, which is February.

Her essay is as follows:
SAMUEL ADAMS, A PATRIOT OF 1773
 The Patriot of the Year award for the year 1773 should go to Samuel Adams. The big event of this year was the Boston Tea Party. It is believed that Sam Adams, as many people called him, organized and even signaled the beginning of the Tea Party.

To punish the people of Boston, the British closed Boston harbor. Since the people of Boston made their living by shipping, it made life very hard for them.

People in all the colonies were horrified. It could even happen to them! In a way Samuel Adams had caused the people in all the colonies to join together. It was what the people of Boston did that led to the Revolution.

Just how important to the future of our country was a man like Samuel Adams? Without someone like him, there probably wouldn't have been a revolution. Most people in the colonies didn't want war. They thought everything was all right. But Adams was convinced that complete freedom was the only answer.

He was known all over Massachusetts as a fiery speaker and good writer. He wrote bitterly about the wickedness of the British leaders in both America and England. He warned the colonists time after time that the chief danger was in thinking there was no danger.

He warned them that they were being made slaves without knowing it. Adams was a leading influence in turning hatred against the conservatives. He was such a good leader that he and his followers succeeded in getting some of them out of office.

It was about the time of the Stamp Act in 1765 that Adams first began to influence the people of Boston. Adams wrote about the Stamp Act, "If taxes are laid upon us in any shape without us having a legal representation where they are laid, are we not reduced from the character of free subjects to the miserable state of tributary slaves?"

At his urging, the colonists refused to buy the stamps. The tax was soon repealed.

In 1770 a riot broke out between some colonists and British soldiers. Five colonists were killed. This is known as the Boston Massacre. Samuel Adams led a committee to demand that the British soldiers leave Boston.

At first the governor refused, but Adams faced the governor and said, "The voice of 10,000 freemen demands that both regiments be forthwith removed." The governor gave in and ordered the troops withdrawn.

Soon after the Boston Massacre, all of the taxes except the tax on tea were removed. The British left this tax to show that they had the right to tax the colonist. Most people were satisfied, but Adams felt that liberty was still in danger.

He organized Committees of Correspondence in every town to let everyone know about any trouble with the British.

Who was Samuel Adams? He was born in 1722 to a family which had lived for four generations in America. He had the love of liberty, spirit of independence, and political wisdom that young America was giving her sons.

He went to Harvard, but wasn't successful in business. He was a devout, compassionate man. After 1764 he devoted all of his time to his great dream of independence. Samuel Adams was truly a patriot—a person who deeply loves his country and vigorously supports it! He deserves the title, "Father of the Revolution."

At The Library

Plains Pioneer Is Book Subject

The Deaf Smith County Library is featuring two new books, No Enemy But Winter and The Flamboyant Judge: James D. Hamlin.

No Enemy But Winter is a novel about the conflict between Indians and whites; a struggle to make friends with the rebellious and violent Indians.

The Flamboyant Judge of Judge Hamlin, a striking and unforgettable personality in a vibrant age and passing scene. "The library is open to the public on weekdays until 5 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon. NO ENEMY BUT WINTER

Public Invited To Annual Church Carnival - Auction

An afternoon of entertainment will begin at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Anthony's Parish School, when the annual carnival and auction sale will be conducted, open to the public. In addition to carnival attractions such as dart throw, cake walk and pony ride, there will be a haunted house operated by the Catholic Youth Organization of St. Anthony's Church, a country store with handmade items for sale, the auction featuring farm tools and machines, food concessions and a cash give-away. Allan Brockman and Larry Walterscheid are co-chairmen for the carnival, Joe Schumacher and Edward Schilling of the auction. Children of the parish school are assisting committees of adults in constructing and decorating booths in the school building. The pony rides, auction and other events if the weather is favorable, will be held on the grounds outdoors.

This is a bold and compelling novel of the explosive clash between two societies. No Enemy But Winter dramatizes the conflict that erupts when Indians in Montana are forced to defend their ancient way of life against the encroachment of the white man's alien culture. Richard Allen convincingly portrays today's Indians—their problems and weaknesses and strengths.

To the forbidding landscape of an Indian reservation comes Everett Sorenson, a Presbyterian minister who truly wants to help his new charges. Seeing the needs of the Indians, he determines to build a modern community center for their social and educational needs, a place of enlightenment where Indian children would learn to adjust to the white world surrounding them.

Using every bit of influence he can muster and all his persuasive power, he at last receives an appropriation from the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Working for the project with Everett is Jeannie Low Dog, a beautiful young Sioux whose revulsion at the ugliness and sordidness of the reservation leads her into a passionate commitment to the white minister. Helping him also is his wife Sue, whose ambivalence toward the Indians, especially their two adopted Indian sons, adds to Everett's confusion and uncertainty about the future of the relationship between Indian and white.

Stacked against Everett and his plan are many of the most influential member of the community, as well as Sammy Knife, a crazed self-appointed chief riddled with hatred for the white man. As the tensions mount between the two opposing factions, Everett's assurance lessens and he begins to fear the growing menace to his grand scheme to revitalize the community.

The violence begins slowly. After an ancient burial ground is unearthed, a mysterious explosion occurs at the construction site, killing an innocent worker. This tragedy fills the reservation with foreboding and turns public sentiment even further against the white man's meddling.

Then a blazing fire breaks out suddenly and without warning, further deepening the uneasy relationships among the Indians themselves and between Indians and whites. And suddenly terror is in everyone's eyes, for no one knows who will be the next victim of the mad outbreak of violence and hysteria or where the destruction will end.

THE FLAMBOYANT JUDGE: JAMES D. HAMLIN

By J. Evetts Haley & Wm. Curry Holden
No human eye ever glimpsed him but turned to look again. For in that handsome, towering figure was symbolized in one man the reaction of the sometimes rough and unvarnished West upon a vigorous mind steeped in classical learning, and a character shaped by the best in breeding and traditions of the old South—without loss or serious diminution of the most distinctive features of either. He combined the polished manners of a Southern gentleman with the lusty nature of a frontier Texan. He was of tall, athletic and well-proportioned stature, proud and imposing in dress and bearing, vigorous in movement, cultivated in taste, fluent in ordinary conversation and unexcelled in extemporaneous public speech.

With his broad human and cultural interests, his love of convivial living, his often unconventional conduct on zealous occasions inhibited only by his breeding and good manners, Judge Hamlin was a striking and unforgettable personality in that vibrant age and passing scene.

For 40 years he served as the influential and distinguished representative of the Farwell family and their Capitol Reservation Lands, for decades except for the railways, the largest physical and financial concern on the Plains of Texas. He was as much at ease before Congressional committees as at the tail end of a chuck wagon; as convincing in the halls of state as when encouraging dust and drought-stricken farmers he had helped settle on his company's land to hang on—persuasive of the golden future—while extending their notes on easy terms.

Lions Pancake Supper Nears

The annual Hereford Lions Club Pancake Supper is scheduled from 5 to 8 p.m. this evening in the Bull Barn, it was announced this week by general chairmen Buddy Evans and Ed Wilson.

Due to the success of the supper last year, the club is planning more serving lines and more griddles this year to handle the anticipated crowd. Tickets for the pancake-and-sausage supper are $1 each, with pre-school children admitted free.

Entertainment will be provided during the evening, according to Nolan Grady, president of the club. Tickets may be purchased from any Lion, Boy Scout, Camp Fire Girl, or at the door. Entry will be at the east door of the Bull Barn.

Proceeds from the supper will go to help the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, it was announced by Grady.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Forced Handwriting

During a holdup at a gas station, the robber handed the manager a threatening note. Some months later, when a suspect was brought to trial for the crime, he was asked to make a sample of his penmanship for purposes of comparison. But he flatly refused to do so. He invoked his constitutional protection under the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination. Nevertheless, the court ruled that he would have to make the sample or face punishment for contempt. The court said handwriting is not a form of testimony but a neutral, objective fact.

"The constitutional privilege," said the court, "does not protect a man from being compelled to stand up, sit down, walk, speak, or submit to photographing or fingerprinting." Almost always, courts have ruled this way when an accused person is reluctant to demonstrate his handwriting. In fact, he may even be called upon to write in an unnatural style if that will help clear up the case. Thus: The defendant in a forgery trial was requested to write something with a backward slant, since the document in question had been written that way. Again, the court said he would have to comply. The court reminded him that the odd style of writing would be especially helpful in exonerating him if he was truly innocent. Still, a defendant might properly object to the content, rather than the form, of the writing. In another case, involving fake claims against the government, the defendant was asked to write down the specific names that had been used in the falsified papers. This time, when he refused, the court decided he was justified. The court said that by complying with the request, he might be tying himself directly into the crime. Compelling him to do so, added the judge, would be "an infringement upon the spirit" of the constitutional privilege. A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the Texas State Bar Association. Written by Will Bernard.

Coming Events In Art Announced

Four days of art lessons by Martin Schafner of Tass, to be conducted here early in April. The 31 members present were also reminded of the annual Community Fine Arts Festival scheduled for April 6 and 7 under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, which invites all area artists to display their work. It was announced that Jeanne McGee has painting classes now in progress, and that she has started teaching at Kings Manor retirement home, where Mrs. O. Wertenberger conducted lessons for several years. For the program, Mrs. Joel Newman, Guild president, introduced Lucille Bennett, a Clovis artist whose subject was glazing of oil paintings. She showed several pictures treated in this way to achieve luminosity, then demonstrated the technique. She showed how underpainting with a lighter color, then using a darker transparent coat gives the effect which is notable in many works of the old masters of art.

FURR'S PROTEN BEEF

By Katharine Berry,
Furr's Home Economist

YOU'VE HEARD ABOUT IT . . . NOW IT'S HERE . . . AT FURR'S SUPER MARKETS . . . FURR'S PROTEN BEEF!

It's the most significant meat "Break Through" in taste and tenderness. Now through a USDA-Approved process your meat is guaranteed extra tenderness everytime. With this comes definite economy for there is less cooking time required. 78 percent of all Furr's Proten beef is a great dry heat cooked, compare to only 22 percent of other beef. Even round steak can be broiled or oven roasted.

The average family spends one-third of its food dollar on meats. When buying beef look for the Furr's Proten label. You always get taste and tenderness when you buy Furr's Proten beef.

As a homemaker this means you will have a larger variety of beef cuts to plan meals around. Proten beef at Furr's is trimmed of excessive fat. It is hearty, aged beef . . . just right for your cooking . . . and it has this extraordinary guarantee . . .

FURR'S DOUBLE-YOUR-MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!

Furr's asks you to take the GAMBLE out of meat buying . . . hence, its: DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK GUARANTEE! Should you not be satisfied with any purchase of beef in Furr's Meat Department, the amount of your purchase will be refunded doubly and your questions asked. At Furr's we're SURE you'll like the flavor and tenderness of Furr's Proten Beef!

TIPS ON COOKING FURR'S PROTEN BEEF

For an oven roast place the fat side up using a rack in a shallow pan. Salt and pepper if desired. Do not cover or wrap in foil. Slow cook the roast at 325°F. Be sure to use a roast thermometer inserted into the thickest muscle. Doneness will be indicated on the thermometer as follows: Rare 140°, Medium 160°, and Well Done 170°. Remove roast and let stand 15 minutes for easier carving.

The easy way to know how much meat to buy is, first figure the number of servings needed and allow 1/2 lb. of boneless beef per serving or allow 3/4 lb. for bone-in per serving. If you have hearty eaters add in 2 or 3 extra servings.

Always keep fresh meat refrigerated at a temperature of 36°F or lower. You may wish to use the original self-service wrapper, foil, plastic bags, or transparent wraps for storage in refrigerator or freezer.

Frozen meat is kept best at 0°F or lower. It is not wise to refreeze meat after it has once thawed.

BY KATHRINE BERRY, FURR'S HOME ECONOMIST

Dear Martha,
March is that in-between month — not winter, not spring. People feel low. Problems seem to pile up. Even psychological surveys show that depression often increases during this month.
I made my own survey on this 'downer' month and found the experts are right! Everybody needs a 'lift'.
So I dreamed up a MARCH HARE PARTY, right out of Alice in Wonderland. Remember the 'Mad Tea Party'? So give one, I thought.

I cut out rabbit invitations: "Come dressed as any character in Alice. Rule 1: At the party, whatever anybody says to you, you must respond with something entirely different. Like: "How are you?" Answer: "The potatoes are boiling." This got everybody really working at off-beat answers! If anybody was caught making a straight answer, he had to sit in the "Dormouse Chair" and pretend to sleep for 2 minutes. No refreshments. No talk!

I got some question games, like Jeopardy, but turned them around: The one who gave the worst answer got a prize. I made up other games, like: "Think up the most things beginning with a specific letter." (It's M in the book). Time limit: 30 seconds. At the party's end (in keeping with Alice's escape), we turned out the lights and the man who could first find and identify his wife in the dark got a prize.

We had a ball! Now everybody looks forward to my MARCH HARE PARTY. When you re-read the 'Mad Tea-Party' chapter in Alice, I know you'll get a lot of ideas I haven't even thought of! Friends have told me that the chuckles from the party have brightened a lot of days. That makes me feel good!
Marcella Dougherty

Wonderful! And $5 to you. Also to Ellen who sent this.

Dear Martha,
When bathroom soap gets down to splinters, save them. When you've collected enough, simmer in water until the soap melts! Put the liquid in a bottle. Presto! Liquid bathsoap!

DOTTIE AND GEORGE
Making What's Old Look New

Hello, again! And this time I'm going to get in a woman's word before George speaks up! Do you have some blouses or skirts too good to throw away—but they give you that 'blah' feeling? Here's what I do: Stitch color-ful rick-rack or braid to a blouse collar and cuffs, or around a skirt's hemline. Or rows of contrasting braid vertically on a skirt—spaced all the way around or in one splash of color up-front and off-center... Or apply a gay flower or free-form design (squares, triangles, circles) on a skirt or the back of a blouse (be sure materials used will wash or clean in line with the original material). Once you get started you think of all kinds of things to make old clothes look new! Real creative fun, I think!

Question: How can you carpet stairs, look chic, and save half your money?
ANSWER: Buy and use leftovers from carpet cuttings.

Most carpet stores have them. Pick together colors: lavender, gray, blues, greens. Cover each step (tread and riser both) in a different color, mix-matching as you go. Fantastic!

This was George's idea, so I give him credit! (Makes him appreciate me more!) George points out another thrifty note: When the carpet on one step wears out, simply replace it with another piece. Time and money saved.

While we're on thrift, George has a light-bulb note: Long-life bulbs give off less light. In general, if you want the 60 watt brightness a standard bulb gives, you must buy a 75 watt long-lifer, which boosts electricity costs about 25%. (Read package info: manufacturers now have the list lumens brightness—as well as watts). You won't get rich on these savings, but "a penny saved is a penny earned." A good idea is to use long-life bulbs in places where it's hard to replace bulbs, standards in others. Also remember that fluorescents are long-lived: often good in bathrooms, kitchens, cellars.

And to end on a "spicy" note: Put a tablespoonful of ground cloves in a throw-away vacuum cleaner dust bag before inserting it. It leaves a clean, fresh smell after vacuuming. Really nice!

See you next time around, and thanks for being with us.

Seven wonderful budget saving recipes

Marguerite Didl (See Bottom Right) Send It To:
GREAT LIVING MAGAZINE

New York, N.Y. 10017

Lenten dishes don't have to be monotonous. They can be wonderful budget savers. And they rate high on the nutrition charts. Here are some ideas Great Living has collected for you.

Devilled Egg Bake

Prepare your devilled eggs your favorite way, but slice a tiny bit from bottom of each white half (makes them stand better!). Arrange in shallow baking pan. Pour on undiluted cream of mushroom or asparagus soup. Bake at 350 degrees until eggs are heated through and soup bubbly hot.

Chicken and Shrimp

A marvelous combination with company manners! Arrange in casserole: serving pieces of chicken (seasoned with salt, lemon pepper, and paprika). For greater elegance the chicken can be boned. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons white wine. Bake at 325 degrees for about 45 minutes (time will depend on size of pieces and age of chicken).

When chicken is nearly done saute thawed and dried frozen shrimp (at least 5 or 6 per serving) in garlic butter. Don't overcook.

Combine shrimp and chicken, including pan drippings, by forking lightly together. Let remain in oven about 2 minutes more. (NOTE: Don't add shrimp until chicken is cooked). Serve with rice and a green salad. A fruit ice cream is good for dessert.

Lima Bean Bake

Use your favorite recipe, omitting bacon or salt pork. Instead before baking add synthetic bacon bits, (or the bits which are combined with onion) and grated cheddar cheese, sprinkling some of the cheese on top for eye appeal.

Beanburger

Cook dried beans (Kidney, Soy, Navy, Pinto) in the usual fashion, omitting ham or salt pork. Do include a large onion studied with 2 or 3 cloves, a stalk or 2 of celery, 1 or 2 carrots. When cooked, remove vegetables. Drain off liquid well. (NOTE: Save this and the vegetables—cloves removed, vegetables now chopped, and add to canned bean soup).

Mashed drained beans, add a finely minced onion, seasoning to taste, an egg for binding. Form into patties. Oven cook on a cookie sheet. Serve with catsup, pickle relish, mustard or whatever. You can also put a slice of cheese on top of each patty before putting in the oven if you like.

Add Two More Quick Tricks

1. Combine canned clam chowder and minced clams in a casserole. Top with biscuits, and bake....
2. Serve Chicken a la King on crispy hot waffles! Both good!

THE DAIRY BARN

CLAM DISHES

MARGUERITE'S CLAM CASSEROLE

- 4 tablespoons butter
- 2 cans of minced clams
- 1 tb. dillweed
- 2 cups of crushed saltines
- 2 eggs
- 2 cups milk
- pepper
- paprika

As delicious as it is easy, it's almost a soufflé. Melt 4 tablespoons of butter in a casserole and swirl it around to coat well. In a mixing bowl combine 2 cans of minced clams with juice, 1 tb. dillweed, 2 cups of crushed saltines, 2 eggs which have been beaten and combined with 2 cups milk, pepper to taste. Mix together and place in casserole. Sprinkle well with paprika. Let stand 2 hours or over night. Bake about 1/2 hour at 350 degrees or until well set. Serves 4.

WHAT'S OUR FOOD CLUB? HOW DO YOU JOIN?

Our Food Club is yours! More than 25 years ago a group of top-quality independent food chains all over this country joined hands in a co-operative venture.

Why? Each independent chain was already a good-neighbor store... well known... well appreciated by loyal customers, like you.

But... we recognized that by pooling our efforts we could give even better values... an even wider range of products for you to choose from, without sacrificing quality.

How... Because by joining together we combined our buying opportunities! When we buy in BIG lots, we pay lower prices. These savings we pass on to you!

BUT THERE'S MORE!

We're your neighborhood stores. WE don't pay the high costs of magazine and television advertising which, of course, nationally advertised brands must pay - and each such ad the nationally-advertised brands pays for, ups the price to you! WE save you this cost.

WHAT NAME could we pick to express this unique idea? WE PICKED FOOD CLUB. Your CLUB and ours!

HOW DO YOU JOIN? No fees! No membership meetings! No forms to fill out!

You are a member just by shopping with us. Come on in! Take advantage of our FOOD CLUB label.

Everytime you see that FOOD CLUB label you know it means top quality at top savings!

WELCOME to the CLUB, and happy shopping!
