PUPIL ENROLLMENT ECLIPSES '56 TOTAL

All-Time Peak May Be Equaled Early

There were 141 more students at desks in Hereford Public Schools Tuesday than on the opening day of school one year ago. The total enrollment, which had lagged behind 1956 totals during pre-school enrollment periods last week, climbed sharply to 2,389 Tuesday afternoon, compared to 2,248 on Sept. 2, 1956, and 2,202 on the same day in 1955.

By the end of this week, if new students continue to enroll at anything like the pace experienced in the local schools on Tuesday and Wednesday, the total enrollment may about equal the all-time record enrollment of 2,481 reported last Oct. 15.

A TOTAL initial enrollment of 2,446 pupils was forecast earlier on the basis of school census reports by Fred Cunningham, school superintendent.

While pre-school enrollments lagged behind expectations, with only 1,687 enrolling last Thursday and Friday compared to 1,972 during the same period a year earlier, grade schoolers by the score poured into Aikman, Shirley and Central schools Tuesday morning to enroll. The late comers sent the total number of pupils rocketing upward to match the expectations of school administrators.

The peak in enrollment ordinarily is not reached until late October, with a 10 per cent increase over the first week's enrollment considered normal.

"We now expect a peak enrollment of about 2,600 pupils," Cunningham said yesterday. He said many students were waiting enrollment Wednesday morning.

THE QUESTIONS asked by many citizens over the weekend, after they had noted lagging enrollment, apparently were answered by the sudden change in total number of students in Hereford's public schools.

"Are a lot of people moving away from here?" was one question. The increased number of students settled that puzzle, prompted by pre-school enrollment that lagged 283 pupils below the 1956 total.

"Well, do we really need that proposed high school expansion, or should we drop back and reconsider?" was the second question that loomed large in the mind of many a taxpayer.

BUT BY TUESDAY afternoon, the question of high school expansion — at least those questions prompted by lagging enrollment — fell into the predicted pattern with 626 students enrolled in the top four grades, compared to 568 on the same day a year earlier, and the 1956 peak of 580 students.

Here is how Tuesday's school enrollment totals compared, school by school, with the totals just a year earlier:

Aikman	— 376 in 1957, to 425 in 1956.
Shirley	— 433, 350.
Dawn	— 39, 34.
Central	— 511, 450.
Parkview	— 43, 37.
Stanton Junior High	— 361, 384.
High School	— 626, 568.

No Protests for Additional Paving Work in Hereford

No one turned out for a paving hearing scheduled Monday night by the City Commission. With only Mayor Ray Godwin, Commissioner Don Little and City Attorney Ernest Langley on hand, the meeting was adjourned shortly before 8 p. m.

Mayor Godwin, who earlier in the day had cancelled the city commission meeting, rescheduled the regular commissioners session for Wednesday evening. Any property owners who might have attended the Monday evening hearing would have been requested to meet at the later session with the commissioners, the mayor said.

The paving hearing was scheduled to allow property owners on the streets affected to discuss the proposal with the commissioners. Now slated to be included in the city's paving work now underway are Aves. A between Union and Grand Ave.; W. Second St. between Jackson and Ross Sts.; Ross from W. Third to W. Fourth, and Bradley St. from Knight St. to Texas Ave.

City Manager Dudley Bayne, who was unable to attend the Monday hearing due to illness, returned to his desk Wednesday. He reported yesterday that final approval of airport construction work has not yet been received from the Civil Aeronautics Authority, but was expected before the mid-week commission meeting.

4th Encephalitis Case Is Diagnosed

The fourth case of encephalitis in Deaf Smith County this year was diagnosed Saturday.

John Thompson, 20, who lives near Dawn, was admitted to the hospital on Aug. 26 and the case was diagnosed five days later.

Dr. R. R. Wills, county health officer, said Thompson's case was a "low-grade" encephalitis and he was to be released from Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Wills said the case apparently developed after Thompson had been admitted to the hospital, as Thompson had "no symptoms of the disease when he was admitted."

Contradicting some rumors that have been going around, Dr. Wills emphatically stated that humans cannot contract the disease directly from fowls, but it must come from a culex tarsalis mosquito which has bitten an infected bird and then bites a human.

The rumor apparently started when dove season opened Sunday, Dr. Wills said there is no danger in catching encephalitis from a dove, even though the bird may be a carrier of the encephalitis virus.

INFANT'S RITES HELD
Joe Moreno, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Moreno, died Saturday in Deaf Smith County Hospital. Services were held Monday afternoon at the San Jose Mission and burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery. The boy was born on Saturday. Survivors other than the parents included six brothers and five sisters. Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

UNDERPASS PROGRESS—Excavation work for the Highway 51 railroad underpass this week made a great slash in the southwest corner of Hereford, above. The main Santa Fe Railway tracks have been cut, with rail traffic continuing temporary on a "shoo-fly" track just south of the area where the underpass will be built. Contractor Ivan Dement is expected to have the work completed "about Christmas" according to a highway department spokesman, with delivery of steel for the job slated for October. TO SET U. F. DRIVE GOAL

A United Fund board meeting will be held at 2 p. m. today in the Directors Room of the Hereford State Bank to set the goal for the first U. F. drive in Deaf Smith County and consider requests from various organizations participating in the drive.

V. O. Hennen, budget and admissions chairman, said the goal probably will be "close to $20,000."

"Any organization which has not filed for approval for participation must do so today," Hennen said.

He said two groups have submitted requests by letter and 12 to 14 others are expected at the meeting.

Hennen's committee will report to the U. F. board during the meeting.

"The United Fund will be operated strictly by need advanced and approved by this committee," he added.

Hennen said requests must be on a health or welfare basis before they can be considered. The drive will be held sometime in October, but a definite starting date has not been set.

Bowlers Organize for League Play

The Hereford Bowling League was organized Tuesday night in a meeting at Sunset Lanes and action is scheduled to begin Monday night.

In the final play-offs for the championship of the summer league, Sunset Lanes of League No. 4 took the title with eight wins and one loss. Ed Skypala of League No. 1 was second with a 6-3 play-off mark. Kirksey's 66 of League No. 3 was third with 3-6 and The Ink Spot of League No. 2 was last with 1-8.

August postal receipts took nearly a $3,000 dip from receipts in July, but topped receipts of August, 1956.

August receipts totaled $5,996.89 with $8,909.77 for July, a difference of $2,912.88.

Receipts for August were over those for the same month last year. August receipts for 1956 totaled $5,496.58, trailing this year's figure by $500.31.

One Traffic Death Mars Area Holiday

One traffic fatality occurred during the Labor Day weekend in the Hereford area when L. A. Jones, 26, of Friona was killed when the car in which he was riding left the road and hit a tree west of Friona Sunday afternoon.

Otherwise, law enforcement officers had a fairly routine time with city police handling two "fender benders" Sunday and sheriff's officers reporting no wrecks.

Texas Highway Patrol Kenneth Maxwell of Hereford handled the fatality at Friona and two minor wrecks in the area.

JONES WAS riding with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Massey of Friona when Massey apparently lost control of his 1957 model car and smashed into a tree. Massey, 27, is in serious condition in Parmer County Hospital and his wife Dora Mae, 30, is in good condition.

The accident occurred at 2:30 p. m. 3.4 miles west of Friona on U. S. Highway 60. Jones died at the Parmer hospital at 6:04 p. m. from head injuries.

Sunday at 5:30 a. m. Dan M. Gallagher, 27, of Rt. 5 escaped injuries when he lost control of his pickup and overturned .3 miles south of Hereford on S. Main. Damages were estimated at $1,000.

THREE HOURS later, Charles E. Nimmo of Clinton, Okla., was slightly injured when he bailed out of his car at Bootleg Corners, 21.6 miles west of Hereford. Nimmo was driving south on State Highway 214 toward its intersection with FM 1028.

BAPTIST CHURCH ANNEX CONSTRUCTION BEGINS

Construction work is now underway on Sixth St. just east of Main on a new elementary church education building for the First Baptist Church of Hereford. When completed next spring, the two-story, brick and cinder block structure will provide an additional 14,000 square feet of floor space for the church educational program.

The building is expected to cost about $130,000, according to the Rev. Howard E. Scott, pastor.

Designed by architect John P. Work of Amarillo, it is being built on a cost-plus basis by Cliff Hicks, Hereford contractor.

10 nurseries on the ground floor, with each nursery to have complete facilities for caring for groups of youngsters. Six beginner and two junior department classrooms will be provided on the second floor.

The elementary education building will be slightly larger than the first education annex constructed on the church grounds in 1950.

The church auditorium and other facilities included in the main building at Main and Fifth were completed in 1929.

CHURCH ADDITION—Work is now underway on the foundation for a 14,000 square foot elementary education building for the First Baptist Church. Architect's drawing, above, shows the east side of the building, which will be located on Sixth St. northeast of other Baptist church buildings facing Main St. The building will be built of light brick to match the church auditorium, with a contrasting color brick at the entrance and white stone in the area separating windows.

A new birth record was set at Deaf Smith County Hospital during August when 44 babies were born. Previous high was 36 last year. Manager T. E. Seigler said 22 white babies were born, 20 Latin Americans and two Negroes.

The Hereford Merchants Assn. will hold its regular monthly meeting at 10 a. m. Friday in the ballroom of the Hotel Jim Hill.

Part of the hour will be devoted to a report from the by-laws committee headed by Paul Harvey.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Forrest attended the state meeting for electric co-ops in San Antonio last week. Also attending was Jo Ann Fowlkes who entered the state REA beauty contest. A Perryton girl won the contest. Forrest said the convention passed a resolution urging the repeal of the Saul-Hazlewood Act which the group contends gives more rights to commercial power firms than it does to co-ops.

IN ATLANTA, GA. Search for Truck Ends With Arrest

Elvis L. Banks, charged here with theft by bailer of a big diesel truck-trailer was picked up by officers in Atlanta, Ga., Monday. According to Sheriff Charles Skelton, Banks was driving the truck when he was arrested. Skelton said he plans to go after Banks sometime this week.

Charges against Banks were filed here last month by Jack Donnell, owner of the truck. Donnell said Banks left Hereford with the truck on July 9 and he hadn't seen him since.

Skelton said he had had reports of Banks being seen as far away as Jersey City, N. J.

Banks allegedly stole a 1951 GMC tractor pulling a Trallmo trailer.

Women Charged with Bootlegging

Mrs. Helen Brown and Mrs. Bessie Sims, sisters, were freed from $1,000 bond each Wednesday after being charged Sunday with illegal possession of liquor for sale.

The two Negro women were arrested Sunday by sheriff's officers in a raid at Mrs. Brown's home at the corner of Pearl and Irving.

Mrs. Brown is the wife of Leroy Brown, oft-convicted Hereford bootlegger.

Trucks, Bullets Hit Poles, Lines

Trucks and bullets have been giving officials and linemen of the electric and telephone co-ops a hard time this week.

Sometime Monday a pole belonging to the West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op was snapped in two, knocking out service on 40 phones in the Frio community circuit.

Tuesday at 12:10 p. m. a truck, apparently heavily loaded, bashed a 45-foot pole belonging to the Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op, cutting service to four homes, six telephones and nine irrigation wells.

Electric co-op manager Leo Forrest said a big truck broke the pole, went into a pasture on the Alton Frazier place six miles west and two miles south on the Harrison Highway. Forrest said the truck left tracks in the pasture and then turned around, knocked out part of a fence and got back on the road. When the electric wire went down it hit the phone line, shorting out the six phones. Service was restored Tuesday afternoon.

George Stambaugh of the phone service said the 10 phones of the Frio Exchange were back in use Tuesday.

Also on Tuesday, Stambaugh's crewmen found a lead-covered cable with bullet holes in it. The bullets shorted out one circuit on the Westway exchange. Stambaugh said dove hunters apparently shot the cable which is on Paul Rudd's farm, 10 miles northwest of Hereford.

Stambaugh said if rain had gotten into the bullet holes the entire Westway exchange would have been shorted out.

The church in 1954 built a cabin at the Plains Baptist Assembly grounds in the canyon below Floydada, and in 1955 acquired an eight bedroom cottage on the Southern Baptist Assembly convention grounds, Glorietta, N. M., as a gift from several members of the congregation.

All of the church property is clear of debt, Rev. Scott said. Donations and pledges are expected to offset most of the anticipated costs of the new building program, with the possibility that some part of the costs may be financed.

Yarborough Praises Land Appropriation

Sen. Ralph Yarborough today made a statement praising the Senate and House of Representatives for including in the supplemental bill an appropriation for twenty million dollars for rehabilitation of land damaged by wind erosion and floods.

Sen. Yarborough made the first request for an appropriation before the Senate Appropriations Committee on Aug. 12, his initial request being for thirty-two million dollars. Other states asked for thirteen million dollars. The Senate voted a twenty-five million dollar appropriation for all states, and the Conference Committee between the House and Senate cut this to twenty million dollars.

Sen. Yarborough pointed out that the Bill is now before President Eisenhower for signature, less than twenty days before Yarborough appeared before the Committee to ask for aid for land restoration in Texas.

Yarborough said, "While I am disappointed that the total amount was cut to twenty million dollars, this is only a stop-gap measure until Congress meets next year, and additional funds needed may be voted at that time. Over half of all the damage from wind and flood erosion of soil occurred in Texas, and Texas ought to be allocated over half of the funds appropriated."

Yarborough urged county agricultural agents to continue with their estimates of permanent land damage by drought or flood, so that proper applications can be made to the Secretary of Agriculture as soon as President Eisenhower signs the bill, expected in a few days.

Sen. Yarborough pointed out that in seven years of drought, followed by seventy days of rain, the United States Department of Agriculture classified 244 of the 254 Texas counties as disaster counties. "Over five million acres of land have been classed as permanently damaged, due to the wind blowing the top soil away or the floods washing the top soil away.

The Texas senator added, "I am grateful to the members of the Senate and House who gave me such wonderful cooperation in voting such a substantial portion of the funds asked, this portion to tide us over until the Congress meets again."

Sauce Boosts Staples' Appeal

A TANGY SAUCE poured over such pantry shelf standbys as canned salmon lends a special appeal.

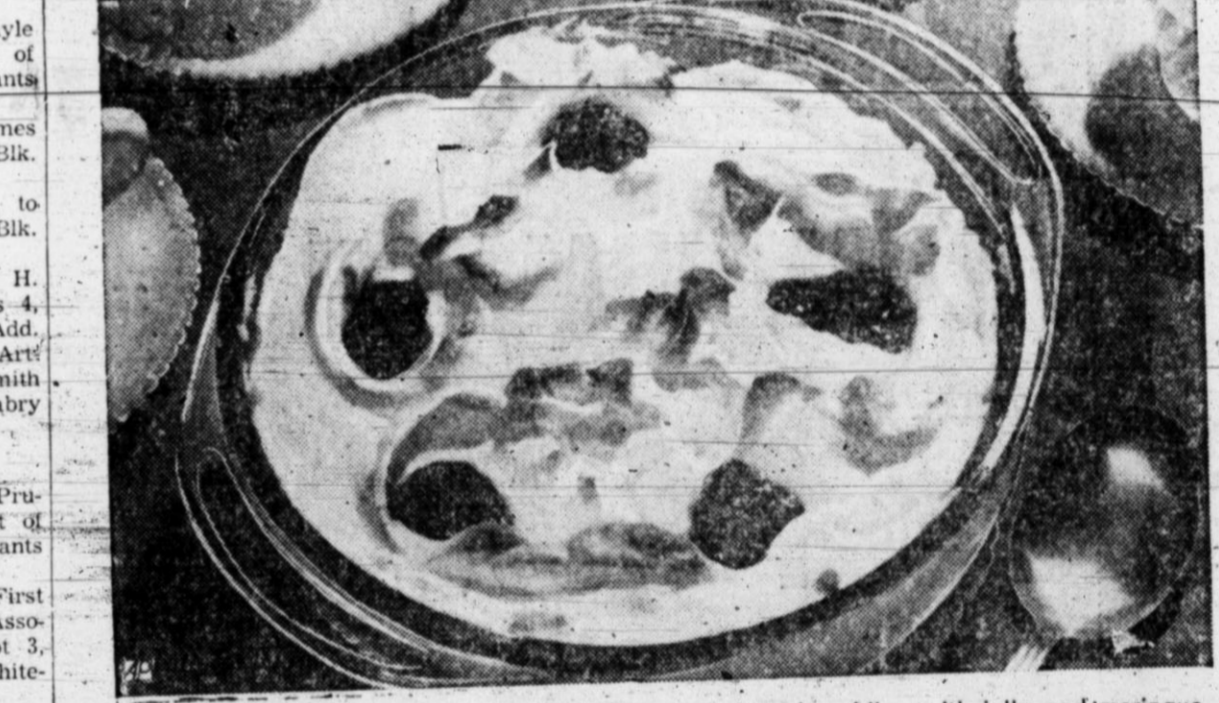

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor A DELICIOUS SAUCE gives special appeal to a pantry shelf standby such as canned salmon. Borrowed from the Scandinavian cuisine, this one combines sugar, mustard and vinegar to give piquant flavor. Serve this, main dish for lunch or supper with stuffed baked potatoes and cooked carrot strips doused with a mixture of melted butter or margarine, lemon juice and minced fresh dill. A salad for this menu will be particularly good if it is made of crisp greens and cucumber slices. SALMON PIQUANT Ingredients: 2 cans (1 1/2 pound each) salmon, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon plus 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 tablespoon plus 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon white pepper, 3 tablespoons cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon butter or margarine. Method: Drain salmon, reserving liquid in a measuring cup; add enough water to salmon liquid to make 1/2 cup. Place salmon, leaving each can in a whole piece, in a baking dish; an 8-inch heat-resistant glass pie plate is fine. Stir cornstarch, sugar, mustard, salt and pepper together thoroughly in a small saucepan. Gradually stir in the vinegar and combined water and salmon liquid so there are no lumps; add butter. Stir constantly over moderate heat until slightly thickened and boiling. Pour sauce over salmon in baking dish; bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until fish is heated through — 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

KITCHEN NOTES Do you sometimes serve creamed salmon as a luncheon dish? Add lemon juice and drained capers to the cream sauce for a fillip. Plain cold canned salmon is delectable when it is served with a sauce of whipped cream seasoned with salt, white pepper, lemon juice, sugar and drained bottled or finely-grated fresh horseradish. A salad of water cress and paper-thin slices of cucumber is a "must" with this.

Another Proof for Pudding

NEW APPROACH to old-fashioned dessert: top bread pudding with jelly and meringue.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor WHEN YOUNGSTERS ARE back at school again and the whole family is home for the evening meal, it's time to whip up a bread pudding. That good old-fashioned dessert may be flavored many ways; here are ideas for varying it: 1. Add flaked coconut just as it comes from the can — about a tablespoon to a cup of fresh bread cubes; then top with whipped cream, whipped evaporated milk or whipped non-fat dry milk solids. Garnish the topping with wisps of toasted coconut. 2. Coarsely chopped walnuts and slivered dates make ordinary bread pudding exceptionally delicious. 3. Bread pudding may be flavored with grated lemon rind instead of vanilla. 4. Cooked dried apricot halves may be layered with bread cubes before the custard mixture is poured over. 5. Raisin bread may be used in a pudding. 6. Brown sugar instead of white gives pleasant flavor, especially when pecans are also added. 7. Orange juice may be substituted for part of the milk and grated orange rind used instead of vanilla. 8. Bread pudding may be baked in custard cups instead of in one large casserole. Usually the amount of pudding baked in a 1 1/2 quart casserole is enough to fill eight cups.

BREAD PUDDING WITH JELLY AND MERINGUE Ingredients: 6 slices bread, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (soft), 2 eggs (separated), 3 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 cups milk, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, current jelly, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Method: Spread bread with butter and cut into 1/2-inch cubes. Place in a buttered 1 1/2-quart casserole. Beat egg yolks, 3 tablespoons sugar, salt and nutmeg together vigorously; gradually beat in milk, then vanilla. Pour over bread cubes. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 45 minutes; cool. Spread a thin layer of currant jelly over the pudding. Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in 1/4 cup sugar; spread thoroughly after each addition and continue beating until meringue stands up in stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Fold lemon juice into meringue mixture. Spread over top of pudding. Place 1/2 teaspoonful of jelly into swirls of meringue. Return to moderate (350 degrees) oven until meringue is lightly browned — about 15 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

HAPPY TAXPAYER RICHMOND, Va. — Allen V. Jay, called for jury duty, was asked if he had been a citizen of Virginia for 12 months. He replied that he wasn't even a citizen of the United States, but a Briton. Jay said he had received poll tax bills for several years and paid them rather than quibble.

BY GUM DAYTON, Ohio — A raid on a king-size cookie jar by a gang of 30 hungry boys didn't quite come off. Police said the boys broke into the Sunshine Biscuit Co. and hauled away three large boxes of what they thought were cookies. The boxes, however, contained gummed labels.

Families Return from Vacations

By MRS. GEORGE D. ZETSCHE

Several families of the community have recently been away on vacations. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cole, Jana, Bill, Cheryl and Beverly returned home Sunday evening after vacationing in the mid-western states. They visited in Ada, Okla., with Floyd's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harding. Harding is Mrs. Earl Cole's brother. The Floyd Coles visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson in Wheatland, Wyo., and with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cole in Duncan, Okla. Harold and Virgil are Earl's brothers.

It's a dear bargain if you can't get immediate insurance service in time of need, if you can't get quick help after an auto accident or other loss.

We have a hunch you'd rather BUY FROM AN AGENT who can have a man on the job quickly, prepared to give you personal assistance in settlement of any claim. After all, that's the true test of insurance.

That's how this Agency conducts its business.

Although not the funniest thing in the world to certain people, the jokester who resorted to childish tactics of "sign swapping" did get quite a few chuckles from motorists along Park Avenue Sunday when he copied the Lions Club "WRESTLING HERE" sign from the Bull Barn and carefully deposited it on the front porch of the Nurse's Home.

Which reminds me of the time those characters put all of those benches in my front yard. I notice that the big benches ultimately wound up south of Dub Reeves' place on Third Street. This suits me fine, chiefly because I always felt that he had a hand in the deal, along with Ray Cowsett.

Recently I ran into Virgil Moore, Brand News editor who resigned some 14 months ago to accept a post at Eastland. As soon as Virgil saw me he started grinning and asked about the benches; he also wanted to know if I still had to go to Dimmitt and Vega to get a haircut. It was actually an effort for me to recall the barber feud. It's funny how serious things can seem at the time, only slip into oblivion. Virgil is still down at Eastland talking about the horned frog they once buried in the cornerstone of the courthouse.

DR. M. C. ADAMS got a sort of left-handed backhand to the jaw Tuesday, while attending a planning session of Boy Scout leaders. It all came about when Doc started bragging about the big peaches he has on a tree in his backyard. He was measuring them off about the size of a lid of a gallon bucket, when Joel Hodges popped up and said:

"Careful now, Doc! Remember this is a Boy Scout meeting."

Mrs. T. J. Parsons can brag about her peaches anywhere, though at Sunday School or Scout meetings. She brought in a flawless specimen which measured 10 1/8 inches in diameter — and it tasted just as good as it looked. The big trouble is that Mrs. Parsons harvested only a few peaches where, last year, she gathered several bushels.

Things are looking up, in all directions. Clarence Morrison has always been generous with roasting ears — if I would go after them, Clarence always said anyone too lazy to pick his own roasting ears didn't need any in the first place. Saturday morning I agreed, with him all the way and mentioned that I liked the deal a lot better, guys turn into duck hunters — and that's another story.

I will recommend Pool and Cooper, though; they are adept, Johnny as an instructor, and Neil as a boat operator. However, I wish he had told me to take along some sun tan lotion. Fact is, I get mad at them every time I sit down.

NO FISHING reports this week. Guess maybe the opening of school will interfere with this department. Instead of fishing, most folks are talking about how "Little Johnnie" got the teacher he wanted — or the only one he didn't want! By the time school is over, though, the kids usually like their current teacher "best of because you could get several boxes full when you gathered them yourself. Guess what? By 2 p.m. Saturday, Clarence had gathered and delivered a nice mess of corn.

Same thing happened with Charley Holt and the grapes. He invited me out to pick cherries but when the grapes came along he sent in a nice modest basketful. You don't get quite so much volume when they bring it in for you, but when an old boy is tired, overworked and run-down, this delivery service has its merits.

Anyway, they are a mighty fine bunch of people who help make things more pleasant as we pass along through life. I can't say that I would like to live in the days when the preachers and editors got paid exclusively with fryers, eggs and butter — but the system probably had some good points, at that.

WATER SKIING is a sport you would never expect to find out here in a country which recorded less than eight inches of rain in 1956, but it is becoming quite popular. A few individuals go nuts over the fad. I went out Labor Day with Neil Cooper and Johnnie Pool, who combined their extensive talents to "get me up." They finally succeeded, but I am afraid I was lacking in enthusiasm. Honestly, the big difference between water skiing and golf seems to lie in the fact that you get sunburned in different places.

Instead of getting excited and rushing out to buy a boat, I reached the conclusion that the guy who owns the boat gets it in the neck. He pulls the trailer, buys the gas and operates the boat — while his "friends" do all the skiing. When he is not busy pulling his so-called guests around the lake, he spends his time turning up his nose and sneering at the other boats, especially if they happen to have those new-fangled fins. This goes on until some other boat owner runs off and leaves him standing still in such a manner that he can not possibly come up with an alibi. At this point, he starts snooping around in search of a "kit" or a new-type motor — or just trades the whole dad-gummed outfit in on a new-fangled rig (which will probably have fins of its own), whereupon he sneers at the people who still have old-fashioned type rigs.

The only redeeming feature about boating is the advent of cold weather, which makes it impractical. Even then, most of the same all." It is simply amazing how much a teacher can change in a brief nine months. I guess it is part of the business, but there are very few boys who don't get "a crush" on their teachers before the term ends. I guess girls are the same. I always thought this was one of the highest tributes ever paid to the teaching profession in general — and it happens to millions of boys and girls every school year.

FOOTBALL LORE
The football coach accompanied the fullback to the dean's office to try to help him pass a test. The dean gave him test after test, to no avail, and finally in desperation asked: "How much is 6 and 13?" "Thirteen," said the fullback. "Aw, let him pass, Dean," pleaded ed the coach. "He only missed it by two."

Dear Editor,

Fines have not solved moving traffic violations, better results might be obtained by impounding the car for a few days instead. This might prove to be a deterrent big enough to stop some of our careless driving.

SEEING EYE
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A man came into A. J. Bishop's dry cleaning shop, asked for his suit, then asked Bishop to confirm the color.

"I don't see well," the customer explained. "Will you take your money from this bill and give me the change?"

Bishop made change, put the suit on a hanger, and placed it in the man's hand.

The man turned, fumbled for the doorknob, and stepped outside to an automobile. He felt for the door handle, opened the door, and gropingly hung up his suit.

Then he got behind the wheel and drove away.

College Headmaster Aids in Texas Prison System

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN — The man who gets all the uncensored gripes and heart-break mail from more than 9,000 prison inmates believes there is at least a shred of chance to rehabilitate each of them.

He is Dr. George Beto, a Lutheran educator-minister who is a member and secretary of the Texas Prison Board. He is its one-man committee dealing with medical care, education, religion, education and discipline. That is the part-time job for Beto, six-foot-six son of a pioneer Lutheran circuit rider. When he is not listening to the woes of convicts, setting up religious and educational programs for them, or helping them with paroles, he is headmaster of Concordia Lutheran College here.

Recently the state prison system gave certificates of high school course completion to 62 inmates in a program Dr. Beto conceived and has pushed for just a year in a new effort to help them find a useful place outside the walls. It is just one of the things he does in putting into effect his philosophy about law breakers, which is:

"DON'T GIVE up hope as long as the man is alive. Let religion and education have a full chance."

Beto modestly refuses to claim credit for the unique "high school" behind the prison gates, in which the standard tests of the American Council on Education are used. Prisoners study on their own time or in night classes. If they pass the tests, they get credit for 16 units of high school work in English and reading, social studies, history, civics, economics, natural sciences and mathematics.

Some of them, when they get out, have already been accepted by Texas colleges. Others qualify to take entrance examinations. "But all of them can honestly tell a prospective employer that they have finished high school, and they almost have to have that now," Dr. Beto says.

"Only the poor go to prison — and there are mighty few exceptions to that. The circumstances of life have become too complex for them, they can't make a living. It is a big help when that economic complication can be solved, and this program promotes that."

CO-OPERATING on the "Texas Training Institute" which is the program's official label are H. H. Coffield, chairman of the Prison Board; Dr. H. E. Robinson, administrative assistant for instruction in the Texas Education Agency; Richard Jones and J. H. Johnson of the prison system's educational and rehabilitation staff, Sam Houston State College at Huntsville.

Coffield calls it "a major aspect in the human rehabilitation program" of the state's penal system where the new emphasis is on rebuilding lives. The Prison Board officially will become "The State Board of Corrections" after Aug. 22 and Beto would like to see it become more than a name.

He spends at least one day a month on personal interviews following the letters of complaint or plaintive calls for help that come to him from inmates, without censoring, or from their kin outside.

"The only thing they want to teach a guy is how to be a thief, wrote one 17-year-old inmate serving a term for auto theft and assault in the beating of an old man. "Some of these men are old enough to be my father and I don't want to be with them."

The 17-year-old was asking for a transfer to the Ferguson honor farm, where there are no guns, no guards, no dogs. Prisoners with real promise and spotless records only are eligible. Only one prisoner has walked away in the five years of its operation.

BETO, ON HIS next visit to the system, will interview the 17-year-old applicant and his recommendation will be considered by the prison administration. That's the type of thing he does on his monthly trips — taken on his own time and expenses except for gasoline money furnished by the state.

Beto showed a letter from a pastor asking him to look up another inmate to give him "moral support for his badly sagging spirit." That's part of his job, too, and his training as a minister and educator gives him peculiar qualifications for the job.

He was named to the board more than four years ago by former Gov. Allan Shivers. He walked into the job cold without any idea what his responsibilities were. The Texas Prison Board is the policy-making agency for the penal system, with its membership divided into one-man committees handling different aspects of prison problems.

Beto's mail is filled with pleas from prisoners for medical help, and there are many cases where they report their families in dire economic condition. These are generally referred to the State Department of Public Welfare and Beto says it takes fast and efficient action.

He also works unofficially with the State Board of Pardons and Paroles, calling hardship cases to its attention or seeking to find jobs they can fill for discharges.

THE GENERAL educational development plan of the system not only gives the opportunity for college entrance high school credits. It takes full account of the achievement levels of the prisoners and also gives on-the-job training in such trades and vocations as welding, mechanics and brick-laying. It even includes a janitorial service school, where a man who wants to can learn how to be an efficient janitor when he gets out.

More than 60 per cent of the prison population (9,745 on the most recent report) are men and women under 30, and most in the various schools are between 20 and 40. There are now 4,148 inmates taking part in some phase of the educational program. Among them are 331 illiterates learning to read and write, 566 taking correspondence school courses of various kinds, which the system pays for, and 336 taking Bible courses.

What about religion? Dr. Beto was asked.

"It's the one thing that really changes a man who has gone wrong," he said. "It does work here. I've seen it."

He told of a killer — two outside and two inside the prison — who got a Bible through a radio program.

"He actually 'converted' himself," Dr. Beto said. "He got to truth and reality by reading the Bible alone. I have the testimony of other inmates who knew him before and I believe he is a changed man. Little things, you learn, help establish such beliefs. This man had a chance to go on a soft seven-day job and refused to take it because he thought it would keep him from teaching his Bible class. We fixed that."

Beto, 42, was born in Montana where his father served as a circuit-riding pastor for German and Russian immigrants. He then

Per Cent of Salt Water in Plains Area 'Alarming'

Saltwater pollution of the fresh water in certain areas within the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has reached alarming proportions.

In the opinion of the High Plains Water District's hydrologist, W. L. Broadhurst, and others qualified to express an opinion on the subject, this pollution can be coming from surface pits into which oil-field brine is disposed.

According to the district's information, there is no effective regulation over surface saltwater disposal pits, either by the Railroad Commission which controls oil production in the state, or by the State Board of Water Engineers. The matter is left entirely to the discretion of the oil producer and the land owner to come to a common understanding as to the location and operation of the disposal pits.

THE THEORY that the water will evaporate from the pits and leave the salt deposited at the surface is not altogether true. The thing that happens in most cases is that an oil slick forms on the surface of the salt water thereby preventing evaporation and the water together with the salt solution percolates through the underlying sediments until it reaches the water-table. The salt does not filter out of the water as it moves through the underground formations, and once polluted, the underground water is not fit for domestic or agricultural uses.

Most of the oil producers are attempting to alleviate this saltwater pollution problem by changing their method of disposal. Many have begun injecting the salt water under pressure back into the same formation from which it came through wells which are cased with solid pipe through the fresh water-bearing section. But, there are others who are not making any effort to change their method of operation. These companies, by continuing such wasteful practice, show that they have no real interest in our area other than for the immediate dollar that can be taken from it.

Early in August, at the invitation of the High Plains Water District, Judge Otha Dent, member of the State Board of Water Engineers, and Robert Littleton, head of the ground-water division of the Board of Water Engineers visited numerous farmers in Cochran, Hockley and Lamb County areas, where most of the pollution is occurring. They talked with these farmers about their problems and explained the State Board's position in the matter. They urged the individual to begin immediately taking periodic water samples from their wells and have samples analyzed for pollution. This would offer an excellent check on the quality of

GEORGE HEARD WRITES:

Heat Complicates Living in Iraq

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Heard of Hereford is in Iraq working for the Government Oil Refinery. This is another of his letters on the ways and means of life in Iraq.)

Dear Folks,

Now that the weather is getting cooler (it is in the 100 to 115 degrees range) I am feeling better. I might have had some other ailment such as being lazy or a liver ailment. It is remarkable how poorly these coolers work when the temperature gets above 120. Margaret was sure something was wrong with it. It has been only the last few nights that it has been cool enough to turn the cooler off for a few hours.

As one might expect, these extreme temperatures present problems to a civilization that is trying to become near modern. These temperatures in the shade are considerably less than those in the sun and pavements really get hot. This should cause considerable discomfort to the many barefooted people. But they do not seem to walk any faster. I suppose if one has lived all his life without shoes, a tough, hide is grown on the feet. I understand that the newly recruited workers have tender hands and they have considerable pain from picking up wrenches that have been lying in the sun. The asphalt streets and roadways surely do get it up in the heat. Many of the streets have inadequate packing on the bases. At a stretch near the railway crossing, the road is almost as rough as land that has been listed. The heavy trucks are stopped at the crossing and sink so badly into the road that they sometimes have to be pulled out. It kept a roller busy on one stretch for several weeks to keep the road passable. Finally they dug it up and have filled it with broken bricks. It looks as though it will be good now. They have no weight limits on trucks here and I am sure some of these large trucks are carrying axle loads of 30,000 to 40,000 lbs. That may seem like an exaggeration but these trucks are really large. And to see a truck sunk through a pavement to the axle takes a real load.

I had an interesting discussion with some of the Iraqi fellows at work on the subject of mustaches. A big per cent of the men and boys have mustaches, probably 98 per cent. It is claimed that this is a sign of manhood. I tried to get them to trim the attributes of manhood and just how this proved anything. Then they asked me why the Americans did not have mustaches. I could give only the feeble reason that the Americans had other ways to tell the men from the women. If you can think of any other reason for not having one let me know. As I have hazy memories at times, I always felt that a dripping nose and a mustache was not a sanitary idea. It just occurred to me that there might have been some doubt in Streu's mind as to whether he was a man or a woman that caused him to grow his mustache. The idea of the mustache over here might have had a basis of being practical in the past before men started wearing pants. As a big group still wear dresses or robes (men call their dress a dishdasher). A mustache is a distinguishing feature. Another way to tell over here is that the women always wear black, and if there is only one load to carry, they are the ones carrying the load. The thing carrying the man is the donkey.

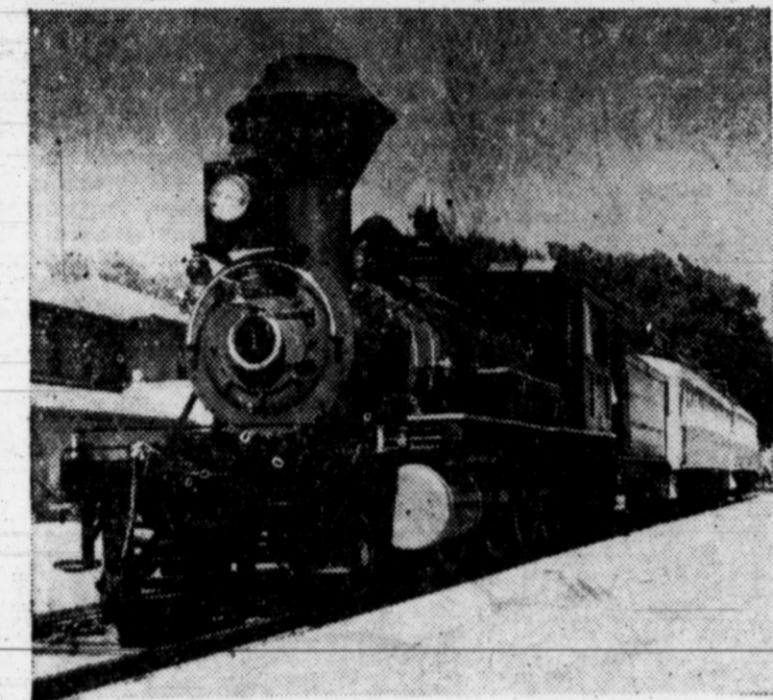

Since we have been over here we have met a number of couples in mixed marriages. That is, marriages between Iraqi and British or Americans. Although many of them seem happy and seem to be making the best of the situation I surely could not recommend it to you or any other girl. There is such a difference between here and the States that it has to be seen to be believed or understood. It is a difference in living conditions, opportunities, class, difference family traditions and religion. It is usually as hard or possibly harder on the Iraqi than on his new wife. Some of the most bitter people I have ever met are the Iraqi who have been educated in England or the States. While he is away he remembers the good and pleasant things about his former life. He somehow forgets and begins to feel that things are as they are in the States or England. It is a genuine shock when he comes home and finds his home is from 25 to 500 years behind where he has been living.

Then the girl who is accustomed to going as she pleases, having her friends who do things together, and living in a home of her own moves here with his family. Possibly his father and mother, the grandparents, and a married brother or sister are all living in the same house. They may be wealthy but it is still the way they live. He may also have parents who are mudhatters. This may be tragic but it may also be better as it provides an excuse to get away from family. The foreign educated fellow may have the best of intentions to live like young American couples do. But family, tradition, finance are against him. The girl may find herself living with the women as is the tradition. The fellow goes to the tea houses and sits with the men each evening. Nothing but men go there.

There is little of the social life that the young marrieds know in the States. Women seldom go anywhere with a woman. The women sit together at home, the men sit together at the tea-house. If they go visit, the women sit in one room, the men in the other. Only the exceptional sit together. In wealthy families outside of Baghdad, the women may even live in a separate house. It is for most, a boring social life.

You may wonder why the young couples do not move out on their own. It is usually money. The

Cyrus K. Holliday Recalls Pioneer Days of Railroading

ANTIQUE TRAIN TO BE SHOWN IN DALLAS AT TEXAS STATE FAIR

An antique train reminiscent of the pioneering days of railroading will be exhibited by the Santa Fe Railway at the 1957 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20.

The famous old Cyrus K. Holliday locomotive, a replica of the original engine which hauled the first freight and passengers over the Santa Fe line in Kansas in 1869, will be brought to Dallas along with its two ancient wooden coaches.

The diminutive locomotive has the famous "diamond stack" with a brass eagle figurehead gracing the engine head, a big oil-burning headlight, brass fittings and other paraphernalia of the early days of railroading.

Although the locomotive is but a replica of the original, the present Cyrus K. Holliday ranks as a museum piece in its own right. Built in 1880, the old engine was subsequently downgraded to a switch locomotive and finally withdrawn after 60 years of active service.

Restored to its original appearance, the train has been used many times in movies of the old West. The engine still operates under its own power.

With the Cyrus K. Holliday, the State Fair will have on exhibition trains spanning nearly 90 years of rail progress. The Texas & Pacific Railway Company will exhibit its old retired steam locomotive No. 909 and one of its crack modern Texas Eagle streamliners. In addition, the Fair's Monorail line, only such system operating in the U. S., offers a sample of yet another type of rail transportation said to hold great promise for the future.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Eliminate Politics on Bill To Admit Hawaii and Alaska

Many people have asked, "What happened to the Alaska-Hawaii statehood bills?" The answer is that the forces advocating the admission of Hawaii and Alaska as the 49th and 50th states in this Union have not relaxed their efforts. In fact, they have been vigorously prosecuted during this session of the Congress and will, no doubt, continue to be so prosecuted in the future.

These people are deeply sincere in their desire to have these two territories granted the status of full statehood. May I say that, although I have the most profound respect for them, I must continue to disagree with the result they seek. I have pointed this out on numerous occasions in previous newsletters and will not burden you further at this time with argument on the subject. However, I did want to point out to those interested in these measures that they both are very much alive.

The bill concerning Alaskan statehood was passed by the Committee and sent to the House of Representatives; however, no action was taken on the bill during this session because the proponents felt its chances of passage would be much better in 1958, an election year. The proponents of Hawaiian statehood felt their chances of success would be enhanced if they waited until 1958 and took their chances in an election year. They have not pressed for passage of their bill by the Committee, but will no doubt ask that it be one of the first matters of business when Congress convenes in January, 1958.

Those of us who have opposed the statehood status of these two territories feel that the action of the proponents in this particular case points up one of our best arguments. It shows very clearly that so many people consider this strictly on a political basis. We have discussed this at length many times and have pointed out that the history of this country will reflect that the admission of many states in the past has been a matter of political expediency, and the determining factor was political, such as control of the House or the Senate, or the admission of states as slave states or free states. We have not criticized the admission of these territories simply for the purpose of obstructing statehood. We have tried to approach the problem on a sound basis and have introduced legislation to effectuate the result sought by these territories, but on a different basis than that of politics alone. A number of us have recently introduced H. J. Res. 443 proposing an amendment to the Constitution with respect to the admission of new states as sovereign states of the United States.

This proposed amendment would provide that whenever two-thirds of both Houses or two-thirds of the several states should propose that a new state be admitted to the Union, the Congress should call a convention for proposing the admission of the new state to the Union; that in either case, the proposal by the convention, if ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states or by conventions in three-fourths thereof as the Congress might direct, would result in the said territory becoming a state.

Incidentally, the proposed amendment has a provision that would protect the right of Texas to divide itself into five states should it so desire. Certainly, none of us Texans believe this would ever happen, but we felt we should protect any rights which we had.

It has been our feeling that the question of whether or not new states are to be added to the Union should be a decision to be made by the states themselves rather than by the Congress.

THE AGRICULTURAL PICTURE It is not necessary to tell you that the agricultural picture is still very, very dark. Why the Department of Agriculture has not undertaken to relieve the situation, in view of the continuing rise in the cost of living index, is a mystery to all. To give you some idea of the beating the farmer has taken on the economic scale since 1952, we have only to examine the information released by the Department of Agriculture to find out that in 1952 it took 96 cwt of grain sorghum at $2.65 to buy a two-row tractor-cultivator at $253. In 1957, it takes 173 cwt at $1.70 in order to buy the same cultivator, which now sells for $294. In other words, it takes almost twice the amount of grain sorghum today to buy the cultivator than it did in 1952. In 1952, 66 cwt of cattle at $22.10 would buy a power-take-off combine at $1,460. In 1957, it requires 104 cwt at $16 for the same combine, which now lists for $1,660; or, 38 cwt more in 1957 than was required in 1952. Let us sincerely hope and pray the powers that be will awaken to the situation before all is lost.

What's your idea of Heaven? The other morning I took the children by a bakery that is local

By MARSHA COCKRELL

Silvana Felizia from Torino, Italy, this year's exchange student at Hereford High School, became acquainted with some Italian families from Hereford and Amarillo Monday afternoon at a get-together in the home of the Sam Venturales and Carl Scumbato. Guests from Amarillo were Mr. and Mrs. L. Rosano and family and Mr. and Mrs. Mario Novello and family. Mrs. George Paetzold and Betty, in whose home Silvana is staying, accompanied her on the visit.

Ensign Kit Sanders, who entered the Navy this summer, is now aboard the first guided missile cruiser in the world; USS Boston, CAG-1, and is on a cruise for NATO exercises which will include visits to The Clyde, Scotland and Portsmouth, England. He will be back Oct. 23 and will be detached Oct. 25 for flight school in Pensacola, Fla. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Sanders, 460 West Park Ave.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM AUSTIN

Biggest School Problem Is Cash

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN. — Students are trooping back to school for another year of readin', writin' and 'rithmetic.

But the hottest school problems are not in the math books. For parents the problem is the high cost of practically everything. Tuition at state colleges has doubled. Even the parents of first graders are wincing as they add up the "outfitting" bills. Cost of blue jeans, plus crayons, plus lunch money, takes an ever growing bit out of most family budgets. Many mothers will go back to work this fall to help balance the home-coming equation.

On a bigger scale, Texas school agencies and administrators have the problem of the "old woman" who lived in the shoe. They have so many children they don't know what to do. Their problem of trying to balance school facilities against school needs is complicated by the fact that one side of the equation — needs — keeps on growing.

Some 1,885,640 children are expected to enroll this month. That is 70,000 more than last fall. To keep the education mills grinding, Texas will spend an estimated $26,000,000 this year. It's twice as much as was spent eight years ago. Local districts are pouring some $40,000,000 into new buildings this year.

SHOWDOWN ON WATER — It's now or never for Texans to solve their water problems in an orderly manner.

This, in effect, is the attitude of Gov. Price Daniel as he sets the wheels in motion for a "big push" this fall.

First attack will be by a 100-person statewide water planning committee appointed by the governor. It is to meet in Austin beginning Sept. 9 to develop planning and leadership for a master plan for water conservation and flood control over the state. Committee members include civic leaders and persons interested in and acquainted with water problems from all parts

FUNK TO MEET NEW FOE HERE ON SATURDAY

A newcomer to the Hereford wrestling ring will be featured in one bout of a double main event Saturday night at the Bull

Ring. All Pasha, billed as rough and rugged, will collide with the familiar Dory Funk for the best two out of three falls in the final bout. It will be Pasha's first appearance here. A one hour time limit is on the bout.

Roberto Pico, Pico took the first fall in six minutes but Funk rallied with a spinning toe hold for the second fall and then won the third one for the match.

George Overhalls, replacing Iron Mike DiBlase who had been injured in a bout at Amarillo, was downed by Geigel last week. Geigel took the first and third falls.

Saturday's bouts will begin at 9 p.m. Admission is $1.50 for ring-side, $1 for general admission and 50 cents for kids.

Slim Wester, wrestling promoter for the sponsoring Hereford Lions Club, announced last week that the club had made $19,000 for the first eight months of this year. Wester said crowds had been averaging more than 500 per Saturday night.

Money collected by the Lions at the wrestling matches goes to various causes.

Although some of the daytime clothes seen in top Paris salons this season may startle the beholder, evening fashions are almost always feminine, flattering and distinguished by delicate and intricate hand work. It is the French belief that women should look romantic after dark, and they achieve the desired effect by use of fragile, cobwebby chiffons, gauzy lace, sheer point d'esprit and other fabrics noted more for beauty than for durability.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean marble?

A. Take 2 parts of common soda, 1 part of pumice stone, and 1 part of powdered chalk. Sift it through a fine sieve and mix with cold water to a paste. Rub the marble thoroughly with this mixture and all stains will quickly disappear. Rinse and wash with hot water and soap.

Q. How can I improve the complexion?

A. Eat plenty of fruit, drink milk, and also drink water freely between meals. Massage with almond oil, or a good face cream, and keep regular habits.

Q. How long should vegetables be cooked?

A. Sometimes vegetables will lose their appetizing color when they are cooked too long. Spinach, asparagus, cabbage, and cauliflower seldom need more than 10 minutes cooking; carrots, peas, turnips, and parsnips require between 20 and 30 minutes.

Q. How can I keep potatoes white when boiled?

A. When preparing potatoes, place them in a kettle to soak in cold water for an hour before cooking. After they have boiled and are ready for the table, they will be white and dry.

Q. How can I prevent drawers from sticking?

A. Try rubbing some floor wax on the slides and also on the drawers. Polish well, because unless rubbed in thoroughly, the wax forms a sticky coating.

Q. How can I clean gold-leaf signs?

A. If the letters of signs are laid with pure gold-leaf, and have become covered with soot or dirt, they can be cleaned by moistening a sponge with alcohol and rubbing lightly. Or, spirits of turpentine is effective.

Q. How can I remove rust spots from washables?

A. A remedy that does not often fail to remove rust spots is lemon juice and salt rubbed on the stains; then place the article in the sun.

Q. What is the best way to slice bread?

A. Bread sliced lengthwise of the loaf is considered much better than when it is sliced crosswise.

Q. How can I remove grease stains from silk?

A. By applying a mixture of one ounce of castile soap shredded, one teaspoon of saltpeter, two ounces of ammonia, and one quart of water.

HORNS OF DILEMMA
BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Cowpunching got unglamorous when you have to look in every cistern for possible strays.

One Idaho rancher, Arthur Van-Slyke of Homedale, was out checking irrigation ditches the other day. He noticed a sunken hole in an old cistern which had supposedly been filled by a bulldozer.

At the bottom of the 10-foot hole stood one forlorn whiteface steer. While they were pulling the animal out, it proved it was still alive by kicking VanSlyke in the arm.

young Iraqi who has taken a government scholarship is not a free agent. He must work for the government for two years for each year that he accepted schooling. I am acquainted with a young dentist who had seven years in England. He has the highest degree and the best grades ever earned by an Iraqi in England. He married an English girl. He has been back here three months and still no assignment. Iraq spent $15,000 on his education and still has given him nothing to do. He is putting in time at the Dental College here doing whatever he can to help out. They are able to give him about $150 per month. It looks as if they are going to put him in the army at $75 as a foot soldier. If he does get an assignment at a clinic or at the college, or even as an army dentist he will not make much above $150 for some time. A young engineer, medic, chemist makes about this amount, teachers as might be expected make less.

Expenses here to live as we live in the States are fantastic. To even get by in a home that is passable takes a salary of $300 per month. There is no choice unless the wife can work which is also difficult. There is another phase of living that irks the young Iraqi. If for example, he works at the refinery (which is the best pay in Iraq for beginners) he can possibly get refinery housing. This for the Iraqi is not good housing. But the young Iraqi engineer and his English or American wife can get by with these three poorly made rooms. But if an American engineer marries an Iraqi girl and comes here to the refinery, he gets several times the salary, a rather nice house rent free, a living allowance, free electricity, a ride to work in a station wagon.

There is no one who appreciates a passport issued by the United States as much as the Iraqi appreciates the one his American wife owns. He would not let her give it up for any price because he hopes he can some day pay his debt to his government and go to the country where he has an opportunity. For many it is just a dream because in 10 years the family ties and tradition will settle them and they will be looking forward to a government pension and a job in another industry.

Narrow Room Can Be Beautiful

AP Newsfeatures

How does one furnish a narrow room so that there is still room to walk and hold a conversation?

Decorator Pat Harvey, secretary of the National Society of Interior Designers says "a narrow room requires decorating ingenuously, but it can be made liveable and comfortable as any other room if you'll just make the effort."

Light flooring and light walls are necessary to the scheme, she says. If wood paneling is used it should be light pine paneling, not heavier woods. Ceilings must take to the light look too, and a little blue in a white painted ceiling will lend height to your room, she says.

Paintings across the long wall may help create depth. A large painting should be chosen if you'd achieve that effect. A mirror on one of the long walls can help give the illusion of a wider room too, "if it is the kind of room that can take a mirror."

"Avoid heavy drapery materials in a narrow room," she advises, "particularly if the windows are at the narrow end of a room. These will offer a heavy effect, and give the appearance of closing in the room even more."

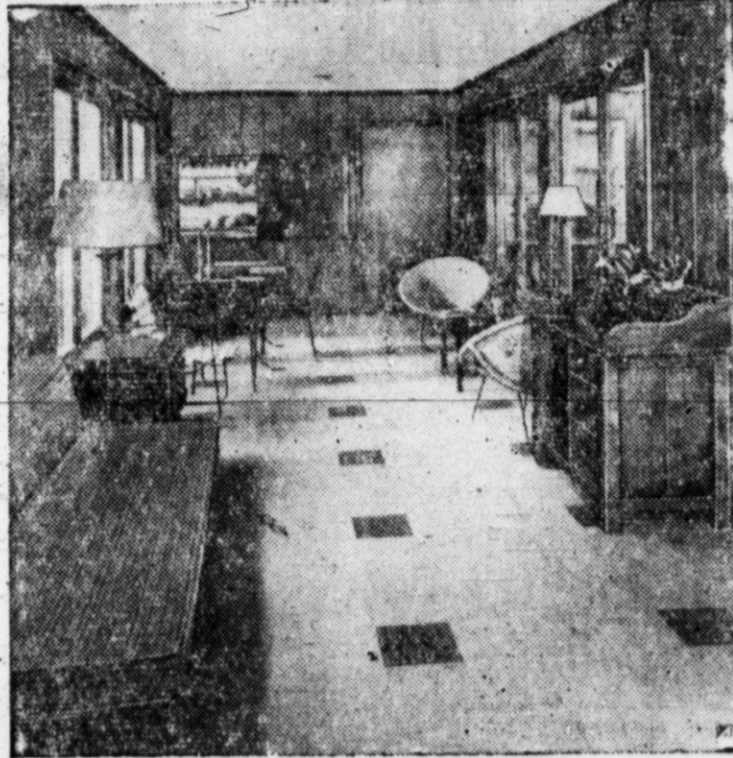

Deep colors such as red, green, blue should be avoided in decorating the very narrow room, in favor of pastels or off-white, she says. Delicate patterns in wallpaper or fabrics may be used, but it is a good idea not to use dramatic patterns in a small room, particularly in upholstery or draper materials.

Small scale furniture adds width to the room. Take advantage of light dining room or living room pieces such as those popular in American, Danish and Swedish designs. These may be integrated into a room with traditional furnishings for a handsome effect, particularly with Early American pieces. Pine dry sinks, small Welch cubboards, tuck-away tables may all add charm to a narrow room without overwhelming it.

It's a good idea not to put the sofa under the window as this will only give you additional wall space to fill up, whereas the window itself may serve to break up wall space.

"Picture windows" says Miss Harvey, "are wonderful to lend enchantment to the narrow room. The only trouble is that some people acquire a picture window that does not give them a pretty outlook. Make sure you have a lovely view before you have a new picture window put in your living room or move into a house with a large window that just overlooks another house."

It may be a good idea too, if the room is very tiny, to skip extraneous furnishings such as coffee table or end table unless these are absolutely necessary to the scheme of things.

OVERCOMING NARROWNESS—Light green rubber floor tiling and small-scale furniture with an airy look help make this long narrow room inviting. The dry sink adds a traditional note.

For the people of the Plains to enjoy a novel fish fry may be unusual, but Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Robertson of Summerfield gave one for their friends last week. There were some 50 people present and after the men "fished" in the large artificial lake on the Robertson farm, catching bass that weighed from 3 to 8 pounds, the women prepared the fish, cooking them in a large iron washpot. There were many other things to eat and homemade ice cream was served.

In keeping with the custom of the members of the Mission Society of the Methodist Church, the annual observance of Grandmothers' Day was held in the home of Mrs. E. B. Black Thursday, Aug. 29. Forty-five grandmothers signed the guest book presided over by Mrs. E. W. Harrison.

Grandmother Parker, 78, was the oldest, and Grandmother Love gave the longest list of grandchildren, 35. A program was given by the following: Mrs. Price, welcome; Mrs. Roloson, toastmistress; Mrs. Ezra Norton, song; Mrs. O. E. Thomas, reading; Miss Elzina Mounts, piano selection; Misses Lambert, song; Miss Edwards, violin solo; Miss Louise Irwin, reading; Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, piano selection; Miss Nel-

J. M. Posey, president of the Hereford Golf Club and highest ranking player here, struck and held a winning stride that shook off all opposition in the Wheat Belt League annual tournament held at Tulsa Sunday and Labor Day, and won the individual championship of the League. A magnificent silver trophy and a golf bag were the prizes, and in winning J. M. has placed himself among the very best in the Panhandle.

Other Hereford players who placed in the prize winning column were J. J. Clark, B. F. Marrs, A. A. Foster, J. H. Patton, J. A. Pitman and H. L. Rice, E. D. Fox, Frank Mosley and L. H. Foster failed to place.

Miss Ann Fitzhugh Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, returned home Thursday of last week after an absence of two years of European travel and study in Oxford University, England.

Miss Parker received a degree from Oxford in August. She will leave soon for Catonsville, Md., where she will be an instructor in St. Timothy's.

SCHOOL DAYS AGAIN

The time has again come for all Teachers and all true Americans to come to the aid of God and Country. School days are here! Young and open minds assemble on playgrounds and in class rooms... men and women are in the making. Dear Teacher, your responsibility is terrifying. You have God to honor and your country to save through your own class room. "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver." (Proverbs 25:11)

Eager and learning minds must be properly directed. In the Book of Books the "Great Teacher" gives direction toward the life of goodness and wisdom. The stories of Joseph, the birth of Jesus and the never-to-be-forgotten parables are rich in lessons of wisdom and morality. Let them reflect on the Proverbs of Solomon, and let them sing the songs of David. The lessons of Isaiah, Jeremiah and Paul, and the Sermon on the Mount offer a moral and spiritual constitution for living. Along with lessons in "reading and writing and arithmetic," they need lessons in how to live God's way... it's School Days Again.

sion to pass needed additional laws. Target date for the session still is October, the governor has indicated.

Two pieces of water legislation are proposed by Governor Daniel: (1) Creation of a state water planning division to draw up a master plan and (2) a law enabling the state to purchase water storage space in federal reservoirs (a measure which failed last session).

Planning division probably would cost from $500,000 to $1,000,000 says Daniel. This can be obtained, he says, from special funds appropriated, but not used, for other purposes.

If Texas doesn't face the responsibility for its water planning itself, declared the governor, the federal government will take over with a "take it or leave it" plan.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled invalid that part of the reorganization bill which ordered a new building.

Wilson says the bill was improperly drawn.

MOST ARE SOUND — Most Texas insurance companies are strong. So said Judge Penn Jackson in his first public speech since becoming chairman of the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

But, he added, "a smaller number are losing ground and may not be able to survive."

NEW COURTS — A new district court in Austin and one in Dallas now are open for business.

Judge Mace B. Thurman, formerly of Travis County's County Court-at-Law, was named to the new bench in Austin.

Judge Claude Williams, Dallas attorney, was appointed to the new court there.

GREENHILL APPOINTED — Joe R. Greenhill of Austin will become an associate justice of the State Supreme Court on Sept. 30.

Greenhill was appointed by the governor to replace Judge Few Brewster, who is resigning because of ill health. A former Houstonian, Greenhill, 43, will be the youngest judge on the high court.

He is a former, assistant attorney general to Daniel and was the governor's campaign manager in '56. Daniel termed him "one of Texas' ablest lawyers."

COTTON CROP SLOW — Ginning of Texas' cotton crop is lagging behind 1956, but a larger yield than last year is still expected.

By mid-August only 365,504 bales had been ginned, reports the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Last year at this time almost twice as much had been ginned.

But crops in many areas are late due to prolonged rains. USDA still predicts the '57 crop in Texas will be 3,775,000 bales compared to 3,615,000 last year.

MORE ERRORS FOUND — All the excitement over moving the State Insurance Department out of the International Life Insurance Co. building in Austin was for naught.

But, he added, "a smaller number are losing ground and may not be able to survive."

NEW COURTS — A new district court in Austin and one in Dallas now are open for business.

Judge Mace B. Thurman, formerly of Travis County's County Court-at-Law, was named to the new bench in Austin.

Judge Claude Williams, Dallas attorney, was appointed to the new court there.

GREENHILL APPOINTED — Joe R. Greenhill of Austin will become an associate justice of the State Supreme Court on Sept. 30.

Greenhill was appointed by the governor to replace Judge Few Brewster, who is resigning because of ill health. A former Houstonian, Greenhill, 43, will be the youngest judge on the high court.

He is a former, assistant attorney general to Daniel and was the governor's campaign manager in '56. Daniel termed him "one of Texas' ablest lawyers."

COTTON CROP SLOW — Ginning of Texas' cotton crop is lagging behind 1956, but a larger yield than last year is still expected.

By mid-August only 365,504 bales had been ginned, reports the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Last year at this time almost twice as much had been ginned.

But crops in many areas are late due to prolonged rains. USDA still predicts the '57 crop in Texas will be 3,775,000 bales compared to 3,615,000 last year.

MORE ERRORS FOUND — All the excitement over moving the State Insurance Department out of the International Life Insurance Co. building in Austin was for naught.

the water being used and serve to indicate changes that might be taking place in the chemical character of the water.

ARTICLE 7880.3c of Vernon's Civil Statutes of Texas, which outlines the functions of Underground Water Conservation Districts, defines waste. Subsection (d) under the definition states that waste shall mean:

"(d) the pollution or harmful alteration of the character of the underground water within the underground reservoir of the District by means of salt water or other deleterious matter admitted from some other stratum or strata or from the surface of the ground."

If, as is suspected, the disposal of salt water in open surface pits is causing pollution of the underground water, then this surface pit disposal method can be placed in the category of "waste."

The legal counsel for the High Plains Water District is at present studying the law to determine what course of action may be open to the Board of Directors in working with both the landowner and the oil producer to solve the pollution problem.

SELLING THE BARD

BENSON, Ariz. — Fred Bechetti, an English teacher at Benson High School, took his cue from the advertising world to induce his pupils to attend a Shakespearean play in Tucson.

He wrote on his blackboard:

"The ghost of your murdered father demands that you kill his murderer. Your girl friend becomes insane and drowns herself because you have killed her father by mistake. You have a chance to kill the murderer as he kneels in prayer. What decision would you make? See how Hamlet meets these problems on Friday."

Forty pupils succumbed to the soap opera pitch and journeyed some 50 miles to Tucson to see the Shakespearean classic.

Pears Add Elegance to Chops

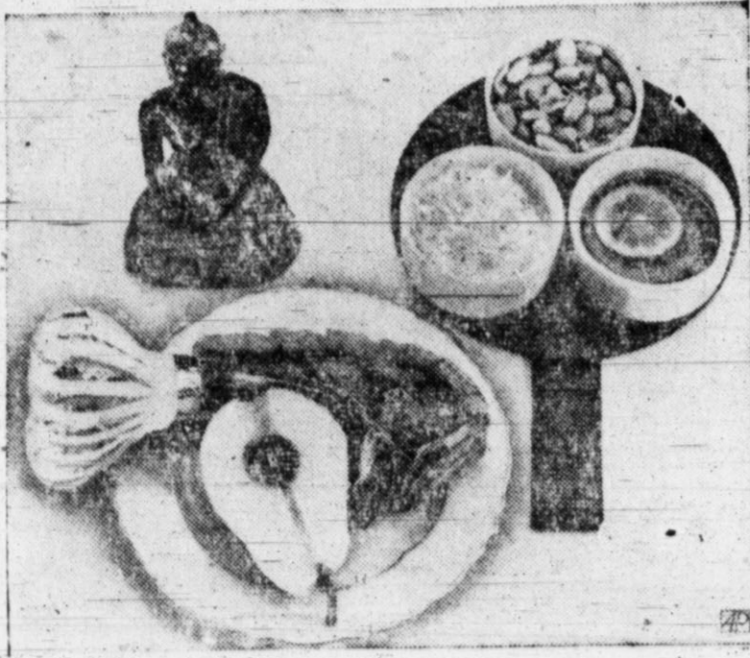

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

HOW ELEGANT CAN A LAMB CHOP BE? Very, when you serve it with a fresh Bartlett pear baked in a curry sauce, and accompany the meat and fruit with steamed rice, flaked coconut and salted peanuts.

To add a last touch, make frills of white paper and foil to slip on to the end bones of rib chops, and you'll be ready for a party. But the combination of food tastes delicious with or without the frills; you needn't bother with them if you don't enjoy this sort of fancy work.

Both males and females liked this main dish when we offered it, so don't hesitate to serve it to four couples. It's also a fine dish for a "ladies only" luncheon.

We preface the lamb with accompaniments with chilled cream-style clam chowder — but this soup could be served hot. After the meat course, came a salad of crisp greens — romaine and chicory — plus paper-thin red onion rings. The salad dressing was made of olive oil, white wine vinegar and Dijon mustard, salt, freshly-ground pepper and paprika; you can add a suspicion of crushed garlic if you like. For dessert our choice was coffee ice cream with chocolate sauce. All in all, this is a fairly easy dinner to prepare and serve.

A PEAR BAKED IN CURRY SAUCE enhances a luncheon lamb chop when served with steamed rice, flaked coconut and salted peanuts.

CURRIED BAKED PEARS

Ingredients: 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup unsweetened pineapple juice, juice of 1/2 lemon (1 tablespoon), salt, 2 teaspoons curry powder, 4 ripe Bartlett pears, 1 tablespoon butter of margarine, 1 or 2 thin slices lemon.

Method: Put sugar, pineapple juice, lemon juice, a few grains of salt and curry powder in a small saucepan. Bring to simmering, stirring several times so curry powder won't be lumpy. Halve pears; remove skin. Remove seeds by scooping them out with a half-teaspoon round-bowl measuring spoon; cut out stem structure with small sharp knife. Place pears in a shallow baking dish — a heat-resistant glass dish (6 by 10 by 2 1/2 inches) is fine. Pour curry mixture over pears. Put a dot of the butter in the cavity of each pear. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven, basting several times, about 15 minutes. Cover (with foil if you like) and bake another 5 minutes or until pears are tender but hold their shape. (These baking times are approximate because they will vary with the ripeness of the pears; watch fruit and adjust time.) Remove pears to serving platter or individual dinner plates; pour sauce into small bowl; float one or two thin lemon slices on top of sauce as a garnish. Makes 4 to 8 servings — one or two pear halves for each portion.

CHOP FRILLS

Fold a sheet of foil (4 inches wide and long enough to make as many small sections as you have chops) in half lengthwise; do the rest of identical size. Slip the folded same with a sheet of white paper foil over the folded white paper, and starting at the folded edge, make slashes with scissors (each 1 1/2 inches long and 1/4 inch apart) through the double folds along the entire length of paper. Carefully fold the white sheet inside out, holding so that the foil adheres to the inside. Cut your frilled sheets into sections wide enough to go around each chop bone; fold a frilled section around each bone and secure with cellophane tape. Fluff

Burned Leather

If someone has burned a hole in the leather-covered table top, you can camouflage it by melting some candle wax of a matching color, pouring this into the hole, and smoothing it out while still soft.

Re-Rooting Rose Bushes

If you wish to slip a rose bush, cut off your slip and then stick the stem into a white potato. You will find that the slip will take root. This is the surest way to make it root.

Paint on Tile

Paint spots on tile can be removed by dipping a cloth into nail polish remover and simply wiping the marks away.

Softening Hands

Working in the garden makes the hands grimy and hard. About half a teaspoon of ordinary moist sugar rubbed into the hands with a soapy lather will clean them and leave them beautiful and smooth.

Burning Grease

When fat or oil has caught fire, put it out by throwing flour, meal, gravel, or sand on it. Do not throw water on it, as this will increase the danger by spreading the flames.

Chamois Gloves

Try adding a teaspoonful of olive oil to the water when washing chamois gloves. It will keep them nice and soft.

Snap Fasteners

When adjusting snap fasteners to a garment, try sewing the ball sections on first and then cover the tops of them with chalk. The slightest pressure will mark the exact spot where the socket should be placed.

Faded Rugs

To freshen a faded rug or carpet, wipe it off with a wet cloth wrung out of strong salt water. Sprinkling dampened salt on a rug, then sweeping it off, will give the same result.

Lemons

Lemons can be kept for a couple of months if they are packed away in clean, dry salt and stored in a cool place.

up the frill end so that the silver shows through. Buy rib lamb chops for use with these frills and have meatman cut off about 1 1/2 inches from the end of each rib bone.

Washing Window Shades

Spread the shades upon a flat surface and rub briskly with a sponge dipped in warm water. Wipe off with a soft cloth and repeat with sponge if necessary. Rinse thoroughly with clear water applied on a soft cloth. Wipe with another soft cloth and turn over and wash the other sides. Let the shades lie flat upon the floor until dry.

RETRIEVER

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Agnes Saum has a mixed-up collie named Duchess who is an accomplished cat-naper. "Some time ago," she says, "we let her nurse one of our cat's kittens just as sort of a joke — we didn't know she would take it seriously."

But after this kitten was removed, Duchess went next door, snatched a kitten from its mother and brought it back to feed along with her seven pups. Mrs. Saum returned the kitten and tried to explain matters to Duchess.

It didn't take. Next day she went again to the neighbor's and abducted another kitten.

HEAT WAVE

CALVERT CITY, Ky. (AP) — Mayor H. V. Duckett was hot under the collar. Somebody stole the air conditioner from his office.

Among the first to offer sympathy was Robert Arnold, a real estate man. When Arnold got back to his office, he found someone had stolen his air conditioner.

BUSINESS RISE

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Officers brought a man before City Judge James Demopolos on a vagrancy charge.

"What's your business?" Demopolos asked.

"I'm unemployed," was the answer.

"How do you support yourself?" the judge pressed.

"I don't need any money to get along," the man said.

"Well, you'll need some now," Demopolos replied. "I fine you $20 for vagrancy."

CHARACTER REFERENCE

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. M. J. Peterson of Sterling tells this story of a retired railroad man planning a vacation:

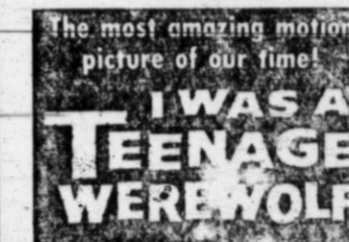

The railroader wrote to a Florida hotel about a reservation and asked if his dog would be permitted in the room.

The hotel owner replied: "I've been in this business for 30 years. Never have I called on police to eject a disorderly dog. Never has a dog set fire to a bed with a cigarette. I have never found a hotel towel or blanket in a dog's suitcase. Nor a whiskey ring on a dog's dresser. Sure, the dog is welcome."
