Funeral Services Here Today for R. L. Criswell

Final rites for R. L. Criswell, 64, of Hereford will be held at 3 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Howard Scott, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Criswell died Friday afternoon in a hospital at Wichita Falls. He had been ill since 1951. He was injured then when a horse fell on him.

He lived in Hereford from August, 1953, to June of this year. He was a retired rancher and came here from Throckmorton County. Mr. Criswell was born Dec. 8, 1892, in Flatonia.

His son Dalton was head football coach at Hereford for two years, 1949-51. He is now teaching at Andrews.

Other survivors include his wife of Hereford; another son, Dr. W. A. Criswell of Bay City; two daughters, Mrs. Allen Whitaker and Mrs. Charles Soehngen, both of Borger and six grandchildren.

Burial will be in West Park Cemetery. Gilliland Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

COUNTY DADS CONTINUE INSECT CONTROL PLANS

The county-wide mosquito control project was scheduled for further discussion and probably definite action during a special court as The Brand went to press yesterday.

Commissioner Otto Masile, who with Commissioner Charlie Sowell serves on a special mosquito control committee of the court, said that mosquito control specialist was scheduled to meet with the county board. The specialist, Walter Breedlove of Lubbock, has been recommended by other entomologists as the best qualified mosquito control man in the region.

A delegation of the Hereford Oasis Shrine will leave for Minneapolis, Minn., Sunday, July 14, to propose to the Imperial Council of the national Shrine that a crippled children's hospital be built here.

Making the trip will be Dub Reeves, Jr., L. B. Barnett, H. C. (Mike) Ward, J. B. Noland and Charles Island.

The group has an appointment with the Shrine's Imperial Potentate, Gerald O. Craty, July 16.

REEVES and Dr. Barnett said the local group's proposal will be based on some healing capacity of Hereford water, the advantages of a small town, centrally located, the Khiva Temple Shrine area, the distributions of land and money in the area.

They have been working since 1948 on the scientific data and their proposal will be based primarily on that," Dr. Barnett said.

Dr. Barnett said a group from the U. S. Public Health Department Research Council, will be in Hereford later this summer to look for a site for a research unit devoted to bone healing.

Reeves said the national Shrine has been planning a crippled children's hospital for the Khiva Temple area, which includes the Panhandle, for some time.

He said other towns in the Panhandle are also bidding for the hospital.

"WE THINK we have a real good chance to get it, but we'll just present our case like the other towns," Reeves said.

"This will be the first time we've made a real bid, though," he added.

Reeves said the hospital would have about a 300-bed capacity.

In addition to presenting the case for building the hospital here, the group also will represent the 140-member Oasis Shrine at the national convention of the Shrine.

Reeves said they would return about July 22.

"REGULAR" ROTARIANS

Five Hereford Rotarians received perfect attendance pins during their club's regular meeting last week.

They were John Patton, with a perfect attendance record for the past 12 years; Earl Phillips, 11; Emmett Milburn, 6; Dave Alexander, 5; and Gerald McCaskill, 1.

Deaf Smith Shows High Growth Rate

Park Row News Service

NEW YORK, July 6 — Deaf Smith County is experiencing a boom in people. Since the last census, its population has been soaring rapidly, faster than in most parts of the United States.

This is revealed in figures released by the Department of Agriculture, the Commerce Department and other agencies in connection with studies of shifts and changes in population throughout the country.

DEAF SMITH County, they show, has grown an estimated 27.4 percent in the seven years since the 1950 Census, when the official count showed a local population of 9,111. The increase brings the population to 11,607.

This expansion was greater than was recorded for the United States as a whole, 11.7 percent. It was greater, also, than that for the West-South Central States, 10.8 percent.

What its effect will be is not hard to foresee. Population growth is a basic prosperity force. It causes a steadily increasing demand for all kinds of goods and services. It causes industry to

DRIVER IS RELEASED ON BOND

Roy J. Norman, 44, Clovis, N. M., charged with negligent homicide, was freed on $500 bond Wednesday afternoon after being arraigned in Farmer County Court at Farwell.

Norman has been charged in the death of Johnnie Noyes, 37, of Tulsa, Okla., which resulted from a collision between a loaded feed truck driven by Norman and Noyes' car on June 18 near Summerfield.

Six of Noyes' family were injured in the crash as was Norman. Duane Noyes, 6, is still in critical condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital, but the others are improving hospital attendants said.

Norman was released from the hospital Wednesday and taken to Farwell by highway patrolman Joe O'Rear for arraignment. Charges were filed June 20.

O'Rear said Norman was released on bond pending further investigation of the accident.

SMOKE ON THE HORIZON—Burning wheat stubble, above, has signaled that the harvest is at its end during recent days

$2.5 Million Wheat Crop

Vegetable Prices a Disappointment

Cabbage Proves Bright Spot in Market Picture

Smoke from fields where wheat stubble was being burned last week signaled that the grain harvest is ending. Dust, kicked up on county roads by hurrying trucks carrying migratory workers, indicated that the vegetable harvest season is at hand.

The wheat harvest, probably the best since 1949, proved a bit disappointing. Yields were cut somewhat by too much rain which brought rust—and high, hot winds that shriveled grain and toppled stalks. Judging by reports from grain handlers, however, the overall yield will be 25 to 50 per cent above the million bushels harvested last year. Value of the crop will probably be over $2,500,000.

THE OUTLOOK for onions was gloomy Saturday morning, after a week in which prices got weaker by the hour. Prices dropped from $1 to $1.25 per bag, with late quotations showing a range in price from $2.50 for crystal wax onions down to $1.35-$1.45 for medium yellows.

Yields, at least for the first 10 per cent of the crop that has moved so far, have proven disappointing. Farmers who last year were getting 700 bags per acre this season are reporting from 400 to 500 bags.

Potatoes, occupying the same doghouse, price-wise, as onions, will start moving to market in some volume this week. The pulse in the potato market is reported to be "a bit stronger" than in late June. Latest quotations available indicated the red spuds from this area might move at around $2.85 per bag.

While the outlook was gloomy at best, vegetable men were operating with a wary eye to the future. In a market ultra sensitive to supply and demand, they reasoned "Things can always get better. Or worse."

CABBAGE growers were the most cheerful farmers in the area. Their harvest, underway for the past two weeks, has been bringing good prices. Leon Coffin expected to move his first loads yesterday at $50 per ton. Trautmann Bros. and Charlie Huston got on the market earlier. Coffin said that he expected to get five to six tons per acre on the first cutting, an unusually good yield for that part of the crop, with three tons the usual first cutting turnout.

The cabbage acreage is now estimated at 1,000 acres, compared to just 300 in 1956. Other vegetable plantings have been estimated as follows: potatoes, 4,500 to 5,000 acres in Deaf Smith County alone; carrots, 3,500 to 4,000 acres; onions, 1,500 to 2,000; and lettuce, with plantings

TRAIN HITS BUTANE TRUCK

Blaze Destroys Dimmitt Elevator

Fire, started when a freight train hit a loaded butane truck, destroyed a Castro County Grain Co. elevator at Dimmitt Saturday morning.

Also destroyed in the big blaze were an office building owned by Keens Grain Co., the butane truck and four box cars loaded with grain and a passenger car. A Dimmitt fireman was injured while fighting the fire.

The truck, driven by Homer Shelby Womack of Lubbock, was going east on Highway 86 to the Baker-Fleming butane plant outside of Dimmitt.

The engine of the Fort Worth & Denver train hit the truck about 11 a.m., flipping it over and starting it ablaze. The fire spread to the grain elevator and it burned quickly, being loaded with wheat.

According to Castro County Sheriff Jack Cartwright, Womack broke the windows in the truck and escaped the fire. Cartwright said Harlon Dodd, Dimmitt fireman, suffered a broken leg during the blaze.

Fire departments from Hereford, Tulia and Plainview were called in.

The elevator was completely destroyed and damage was estimated at $200,000, Cartwright said. Loss of the truck was set at $15,000 and the box cars and their wheat at $16,000.

A passenger car belonging to one of the elevator employes was badly damaged, Cartwright said. He said several telephone lines also were burned out.

The blaze was still burning, but under control at 1:30 p.m. Cartwright said the fire threatened other elevators owned by the Castro County Grain Co. but was stopped from spreading.

Survivors other than the son, are his wife, Pearl; a daughter, Mrs. Hattie Blagg; a daughter, Mrs. Sam of Denton; two sisters, Mrs. Aurora Kirby of Salina, Calif., and Mrs. Calide Kirby of Texhoma, Okla.; 12 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

generally just getting started, is expected to cover 4,000 to 5,000 acres.

SOME FARMERS burned their wheat stubble in order to speed the process of readying their land for lettuce or other crops. Wheat straw this season has been unusually tall and dense, and will be a problem in getting land ready for future crops where it is turned under — the favored practise.

While the wheat harvest was a disappointment for many, many had been anticipating yields in the 70 to 100 bushel bracket. What they settled for was generally in the 40 bushel per acre range. Some dryland wheat yielded 20 bushels per acre, and a few exceptionally good irrigated fields are reported to have made 60 bushels and more. The quality of the crop has been excellent, and a larger percentage of the grain was sold on the market than in recent years. The market price was above the loan rate during the peak harvest

Is The Catholic Church A MENACE TO DEMOCRACY?

Every now and then a false rumor about the Catholic Church gets into circulation and—for a time—fools a lot of people. Usually such rumors die out when fair-minded people learn the truth. But some of them pop up again like "ghosts" out of the distant past, to deceive people who have not heard them before.

The one most prevalent today is that American freedom is in danger from "the anti-democratic program of the Roman hierarchy." This, to some people, will sound new and alarming. Actually, there is nothing new about it. Catholics of a century ago heard the same "alarm" . . . that the Church was hostile to our form of government — that she was anti-republican in spirit and influence — that she would disregard our free institutions and deprive us of self-government. Even those who do not understand the teaching and practices of the Catholic Church will have to admit the falsity of this rumor . . . for the evidence of a hundred years contradicts it in every particular. The Catholic people always have stood shoulder-to-shoulder with their non-Catholic fellow-citizens in building and defending our liberty and free institutions.

The rumor of today . . . like the rumor of a hundred years ago . . . does not claim that the Catholic Church is harmful to men's souls. It does not claim that the Church endangers the salvation of mankind. Its entire objection is that the Church is hostile to our political and social institutions.

In this there is a remarkable resemblance to the "alarm" sounded against Jesus Christ Himself.

"If we let this man go," said the Savior's critics, "the Romans will come and take away our name and our nation."

Some think that Catholics should get their blood pressure up and reply angrily to these rumors. This is not necessary. We know that the American people of all faiths . . . with their traditional sense of justice . . . will boot this ugly ghost back into its closet without our help.

But if you would like to know the Catholic attitude toward democratic freedom, our form of self-government, and the rights of the State and the individual, write today for free pamphlet on the subject. It will come to you in a plain wrapper—and nobody will call on you. Just ask for Pamphlet KC-21.

Yankees Keep Winning Pace

The relentless Little League Yankees continued their win streak Friday night by topping the Cardinals, 15-3. The Yanks now have five wins against no losses in the second half of play. In losing, the Cards matched five hits against a like number by the winners, but the Cardinals erred five times and the Yankees none. Danny McDowell got the only extra-base hit for the Yankees, a double in the second. Gary Smith doubled for the Cards in the third. Bill Overall was the winning pitcher.

The Yankee minor leaguers clobbered the Cardinals, 19-2, prior to the major game. The Dodgers and Giants played Saturday night but the results weren't available when The Brand went to press.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF PARKING ENTERTAINMENT

Since one of our duties is to return photographs to their owners after use, we are in the middle of reorganizing the picture file so that we can find certain pictures faster. The other day we were surprised to find all the wedding pictures filed under the letter "V."

Upon asking the news editors why these pictures were filed here, we got two different answers. One suggested that they were under "V" for "Victory"; while the other felt that the "V" stood for "Victims." It's all in the way you look at it.

J. M. Cockrell came Friday to spend the weekend with his son and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Alby J. Cockrell, Marsha, Nancy and Connie. Other visitors Friday were the Rev. A. B. Cockrell and daughter Becky from Levelland. The two ministers are brothers.

J. M. Cockrell will return to his home near Seymour today. His daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Landeth, also of Seymour, are coming to visit the Cockrell family and to take him back.

Kay Callet and Amado Must, workers in the Day Center at the Labor Camp, took a group of teenagers from the Camp to Palo Duro Saturday for a picnic. The youth held a rummage sale last week to raise money for the picnic meal.

Three young people from the First Methodist Church will attend the Northwest Texas Conference Youth Assembly in Abilene Monday through Saturday of this week. They are Nancy Cockrell, Judy Patterson and Sandra Story.

The Rev. Alby Cockrell will drive the girls down, and will also attend the Assembly as counselor and teacher of a class on the Christian faith. The meeting will

HOW PURINA STEER FATENA WIDENS THE PROFIT

The USDA recently reported that cattle-feeding efficiency during 1950-54 averaged 9.5 pounds of feed for each pound of beef produced in the United States.

In four steer-feeding demonstrations described below, Purina Steer Fatena and grain averaged 1 lb. of beef from 7.46 lbs. of grain.

Purina-fed steers return $20.33 more per head

Steer Fatena-fed steers gained 36% faster than steers fed single-source protein in split-lot tests. 2.98-lb. average daily gain for steers getting Steer Fatena . . . 2.19 lbs. for single-source protein group. Steer Fatena steers converted an average of 7.46 lbs. of feed into a pound of beef.

In recent months, four public feeding demonstrations were conducted at sales yards in Indianapolis, Ind., Norfolk, Nebr., Louisville, Ky., and Evansville, Ind. In each test, twenty head of steers were sorted evenly into two lots. All cattle were fed the same basic ration with just one difference: one lot at each location was fed a single-source protein supplement, while the other lot in the split test received Steer Fatena with stillborn Length of feeding varied between 100 and 140 days . . . for average of 125½ days.

The between market price and cost was $20.33 wider per head the Steer Fatena group (average), than for the cattle single-source protein. Escape Injury in Car-Truck Crash

Two Hereford men escaped injury about 11 p.m. Friday night in a car-truck collision one-half mile east of the Westway store on Harrison Highway.

James Otis Harrison of 505 Star had his truck parked on the north shoulder of the road and was repairing a flat, according to investigating highway patrolmen. Harrison told officers he had a car parked behind the truck to furnish light so he could see to fix the flat.

Guy Horton of Hereford was going west of the highway. He said he saw the car lights to his right and thought it was coming toward him. He swerved off the highway and hit the truck.

Officers estimated $60 damage to Horton's auto and $150 to Harrison's truck.

B&PW Club Has Installation

New officers were installed by the Business and Professional Women's Club Monday night in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank.

The officers are Bruce Carter, president, Bea Barrett, first vice president; Evaloe Potter, second vice president; Sophie Snare, recording secretary; Mary Bourn, corresponding secretary and Jackie Lisenbe, treasurer.

Bruce Rose installed the officers with a rose service. Hilda Havens, outgoing president, received a gold club pin.

None Injured in 2-Car Collision

No one was injured in a two-car collision Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of 13th and Ave. H, but the cars involved were damaged.

The collision occurred between autos driven by Charles Bell, 30, 420 Ave. I, and Floyd Bryant, 26, 1414 25 Mile Ave. Police estimated damage to each vehicle at $100.

Bell is Hereford High School band director and is managing the city swimming pool this summer.

The date of their meeting to hear requests for changes from property owners will be announced later.

FINAL ROUNDS TODAY

Defending Champs Lead in Tourney

Defending champions Charles Seed and Meredith Ireland are again leading the field as the Municipal Golf Championship Tournament goes into the final round today at the local course.

Both Seed and Mrs. Ireland held a two stroke lead over their competitors at the end of the first 18 holes Thursday.

Seed, defending men's division champ, fired a three over par 75 Thursday in the championship flight. Bunched two strokes behind him at 77 were Dale Taylor, tourney medalist, Bob Lindsey, John Renner and Don Martin.

Mrs. Ireland, women's champion, recorded a 44-46-90 card to lead Helen Ann McWhorter, 1955 champion, by two strokes. Hootie Gilbreath was in third place with a 93.

WIND and dust Thursday made play harder for the contestants in all flights.

Joe Kerr and Don Vaughn tied for the second flight lead with 83 each. Jim Garner and Doc Cowan tied for second with 86. Leading the third flight was Glen Reader of Dimmitt who had an 82. E. S. Vaughn had an 84, Taylor Sims, 85, and Donald Bridges, 85.

Fourth flight lead was held by Dave Carson at 92 while G. L. Mings Sr., had a 94 and Troy Moore a 95.

Tax Board Named

The flag of the 11 Confederate States of America was known as the "Stars and Bars."

Household Scrapbook

Renewed Rubber
If the rubber-covered dish drainer or sink tray gets old and sticky, try applying some shellac, varnish, or ordinary paint. Let this dry thoroughly before doing the job, and after, and it will eliminate the stickiness and prolong the life of the tray.

Farehamt Shades
To clean a parchment shade, try rubbing it with a fresh piece of white bread or an art-gum eraser, or with a cloth dipped in milk. Be careful not to poke your hand through the shade!

Soap Bubbles
When the children are blowing soap bubbles, place a drop or two of glycerin in the soapy water. The bubbles will not break so easily and will have more color.

Plastic Belts
You can safely clean clear plastic belts with lukewarm water and mild soap. Do not wash or by soaking. This will remove only surface stains, though. Discolorations that go all the way through the plastic are usually helpless.

Oysters
Oysters that are bought in the shells are fresh only if the shells are tightly closed. The oysters are dead and not fit for use if the shells are partly open.

Sewing Machine Belt
The sewing machine belt will be tightened if a few drops of castor oil are placed on it.

Clock Cleaner
If your mantle or grandfather clock stops running for no apparent reason, try setting a little cup or jigger of kerosene inside the case for a day or so. The fumes of the kerosene have a way of cleaning and lubricating the works, and if there's nothing else wrong with it, the clock should resume its running.

Leather Chairs
Clean the leather chairs by rubbing them with a soft cloth dipped in ordinary milk - or better still, in beaten egg white. When they're dry, go over them again with a clean soft cloth.

Dog Biscuit Substitute
To make use of stale bread, place it in the oven and let it dry out until hard. Then use it with the dog's meat and gravy instead of dog biscuits.

Minister, Wife Are Injured in Car-Tractor Crash

The Rev. Don Larkin and his wife are in Hendricks Memorial Hospital, Abilene, recovering from injuries suffered Wednesday morning in a highway accident near Aspermont.

Rev. Larkin, pastor of Summerfield Baptist Church, was reported to have been en route home from a 10-day vacation in the Houston area when the accident occurred.

His injuries include three breaks in his left leg above the knee, a punctured eye, slight brain concussion and a badly bruised foot. His sight is not thought to have been damaged despite the eye injury. Mrs. Larkin received numerous bruises and has suffered from shock.

The two Larkin children, Steve, 6, and Gary, 3, were with their parents but escaped injury. They are now at the home of Mrs. Larkin's brother.

The accident was reported to have involved two cars and a tractor. The Larkin vehicle hit the tractor after the farm machine had been struck from behind by the second car and knocked into its path, according to word received by Carl Lee at the Summerfield elevator from W. N. Larkin, Pampa, Larkin's father.

Condition reports of other persons involved in the accident were not available.

Merchants Debate Value of Drawing

The Hereford Merchants Assn. held a short meeting Friday morning in the ballroom of the Hotel Jim Hill.

After passing some hot checks around for study, the merchants present held a brisk but indecisive discussion of the value of the Pioneer Day drawing held June 22.

Some of the merchants were for dropping the promotion entirely, saying neither they nor the Hereford Riders Club benefitted from it this year. The Riders Club sponsors a rodeo in conjunction with Pioneer Day.

Other merchants were for continuing the drawing, saying even if sales did not benefit, it was good public relations.

Harry Linderer reported on the drawing. He said it "about paid for itself."

Another report on by-laws setting up the group as a definite organization was postponed because of the absence of committee chairman Paul Harvey. The proposed by-laws would call for monthly dues by members of the organization.

Next meeting of the merchants group will be held Aug. 2.

Double Wedding Ceremony Unites Couples in Grace Gospel Church

IN A DOUBLE ceremony read by the Rev. H. V. Fields in the Grace Gospel Church Saturday at 8 p.m., Miss Rose Stephan became the bride of A/2c Dale Wright, and Miss Gwen Wright became the bride of A/3c David E. Self as both couples and their attendants stood before the altar for the exchange of double ring vows.

Parents of Miss Stephan are Mr. and Mrs. Moody Stephan and her bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Wright. Miss Wright's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Wright and Mr. Self is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Self. The altar was backed by trellises entwined with greenery and white flowers with fan shaped baskets of white chrysanthemums flanked by seven branched candelabra holding pyramiding wedding tapers. Candles were lighted by Linda Stephens wearing a dress identical to those worn by the bride's attendants, and Richard Culp.

WEDDING music was provided by Mrs. Johnny Fields, pianist, who played a medley of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Sharon Owen, vocalist, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest." Traditional wedding marches were used.

The two main aisles of the church were marked by lighted tapers forming a lane for each bridal procession. Ushers were Weldon Stephan, Leon Self and Beverly Mardis of Muleshoe. First to enter were the brides' attendants dressed identically in lavender crystalline over taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice and full waltz length skirts accented at the waistline by cummerbund sashes tied in the back. They wore white lace headbands covered with flowers featuring brooch veils, and carried nosegays of white carnations.

Mrs. Weldon Stephan served as matron of honor for Miss Stephan and was escorted by Niles Culp who served as best man. Debbie Clark, wearing a dress similar to that of the honor matron, served

"Anti-Weed" Ordinance

Tribute to Progress!

Hereford is growing. About this, few people will argue. Some do complain, however, as this growth brings about changes in the way of everyday life in this community.

In 1956, passage of an ordinance banning outdoor toilets created considerable furor within city circles, resulting in several "hardship protests" on the part of a few citizens. Highly similar in basic aspects, although touching many more people, is the new ordinance aimed toward eliminating unnecessary weeds, especially on vacant lots. Both of these ordinances were introduced and passed as health measures in the interest of general public welfare. Both of them, despite the occasional hardship cases, appear to be necessary and just. As Hereford grows in population and size, its needs are bound to change from time to time.

Methods and practices which were practical a generation ago can often no longer suffice the best interests of a larger and more densely populated community. Certainly, we have found this true concerning our schools, our businesses, our homes and our methods of farming.

In addition, people should also remember that we are living in a completely new and different world from that of a generation ago. Today, the automobile has replaced the horse and buggy; telephones, radio and television have come to be accepted as everyday portions of our lives. Medicine, science and research have at the same time, contributed generously to the factors of public health and, we are glad to say, have added several years to the average span of life.

People, instead of fighting progress along these lines, should join the crusade to improve them. If such developments are not used and adopted in the public welfare, then why have them? If no changes were ever made in the manner in which we live, Hereford would be a backward, non-progressive town. Certainly, it would not be keeping pace with the rest of our nation and, we doubt, if it would be growing at all.

WHAT NEXT? — Eyebrows went up — some in appreciation, some in protest — last week when a few businessmen bucked-up in protest against a little unseasonable weather and donned knickers and long socks before going to work in downtown Hereford. Their attire, once reserved for little boys and Britfishers serving "in the colonies," gained several supporters as the hot weather continued. (Staff Photo)

YOUNG MODERNS

Danger Lurks in Fad Diets

Doctor Warns

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

The yen to be slimmer is causing anguish and agony in youthful circles, exemplified by the unfortunate starvation diets many youngsters employ.

This, says Dr. Glen King, executive director of the Nutrition Foundation, is just another good illustration of the absurdity of people going to extremes without proper counseling.

Dr. King blames much of our misinformed conception of diet on stories appearing in magazines and elsewhere giving illadvised information on diets. There are the diets, too, that people pass from one to another, falsely attributing them to important organizations.

There is only one way to diet safely says Dr. King, and that is on advice of your family physician. If not, the counseling of dietitians and other informed sources may be sought.

"The goal should be to gain the ideal body weight for the person dieting," says Dr. King. "The family history — the tendency to overweight, familial trends such as cultural ones and imitative food habits. Genetics apparently are involved in overweight problems also. So this counseling is the only way to diet without risk to health."

Any young modern interested in maintaining good looks, a strong body, a clear alert mind, a good complexion should be especially alert to the necessity of following a good eating pattern, even when not trying to reduce. A strict diet deprives the body of nourishment so that a girl on a rigorous diet is likely to sacrifice good looks for fewer pounds. Whereas you can reduce and look well eating the right foods.

Fad diets are recognized easily for what they are, because they do not contain the wide variety of foods necessary to good nourishment. Sometimes the dieter merely dehydrates herself, gaining back the weight lost over night when normal diet is resumed. If normal intake of foods is not resumed after the diet period health may be affected.

TO STUDY RACE RELATIONS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Fund for the Republic has made a $10,000 grant to the United Lutheran Church in America to conduct a study of race relations. The grant will be used largely among congregations in the south to study problems and seek means to solve it, the church said.

CHAPLAINS MAKE CONVERTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military chaplains have brought 5,597 new members into the Methodist church in the last two years, a report of the church's commission on chaplains shows.

The 600 Methodist chaplains, assigned to military bases around the world, performed 8,970 baptisms in the period, including children of servicemen. In the Methodist church, baptized children are not counted as members until they join of their own accord.

The spraying occurred following action by the city commission. OLTON FIRM BURGLARIZED

Robbers took more than $200 in a break-in at Bodkin and Nixon Implement Company of Olton June 24. Firm officials did not reveal the exact amount of the haul. The burglars apparently ignored the firm's cash register and some $40 in change which was in a sack on the counter, taking currency which was hidden under some papers in a filing cabinet. City Police Chief Vernie Head said the entry was made through a rear door which apparently was kicked open. Authorities said Bud Andrew, a mechanic, discovered the break-in about 2 a. m. when he went to the office for some parts. — THE OLTON ENTERPRISE

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm seems a little worried this week, but we guess he'll get over it.

Dear editor:

I don't mind admitting I'm pretty worried this morning.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night—

I was so upset over what I read I don't even remember now where I found the paper—President Eisenhower made a speech before a meeting of all 48 State Governors the other day and urged that the Federal government cut out some of its work and turn it over to the states.

For example, he said, disaster relief ought to be paid by the states instead of Washington.

Now I believe in state's rights all right, and I go further, I believe also in county rights, precinct rights, community rights, and farm rights, and on this farm I believe in husband's rights, but Ike's proposal has sure thrown a bombshell in my thinking.

That is, if a man gets in financial trouble and calls on Washington, and Washington refers him back to his state, what's to keep the state from referring him back to his county, his county to his precinct, his precinct to his community, and his community telling him to help his ownself?

You can see what this would lead to. We'd be right back where we started, with everybody expected to look after himself, and a whole generation of progress toward telephoning Washington would go out the window. This country just wouldn't be the same again.

Not only that, but some smart aleck would then come up with the proposal that if Washington is going to turn disaster aid back to the states, why couldn't it turn foreign aid back to the foreign countries, and anybody who knows anything at all about the world today knows it would collapse next Tuesday if Washington shut off all foreign aid.

I tell you, we're treading on dangerous ground when we start talking about everybody relying on his own resources. I intend to buy a whole bunch of postcards and write the entire United States Congress about this, just as soon as my next check from Washington gets here.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Who Should Pay Our Post Office Costs?

Recent increases on several post office services will probably touch more people than any other portion of the inflation spiral since World War II. In addition, other postal increases are scheduled to follow.

When we pause for a second thought on the subject, we can only wonder why the postal rates have not been increased before. The cost of a first class stamp went from two cents to three cents in 1938 and, although not included in the present rate jump, is far below actual handling costs of the department. The same is true concerning many other post office services.

Meanwhile, salaries and operating costs of the department have been soaring to new heights.

Naturally, this resulted in post office department requiring huge subsidies, which brings up another subject — and one which definitely has two controversial sides. Ultimately, "We the people" must decide whether we want to pay our postal bill through taxes, or through direct postal charges to the user. To us, it appears that paying the bill through the user is the fair and equitable manner in which to settle the question. On the other hand, experience has taught us that federal taxes are not going to be lowered and that any surplus money, instead, will be channeled into other federal agencies.

To the average American this would mean, in effect, that taxes are being once again increased through higher postal rates and consequently, must come out of the same pockets.

Public Opinion Is Powerful Weapon

Very few people realize the power of public opinion and even those who recognize its existence are more generally prone to connect it with politics. Yet, public opinion is today the strongest force in the American way of life.

On a national scale, we have only to review the fate of David Beck, teamster union boss, to fully recognize the importance of public opinion. Mr. Beck was ousted, not by law, but by his own union. He was not fired as punishment for his misdeeds, but as the result of recommendations by a public relations firm (hired by Beck himself) which frankly told union leaders they must get rid of Beck before they could regain favorable public opinion with the American people.

Public opinion does rule in politics. It also rules in the operation of retail stores, large and small. It rules our individual lives far more than we realize or admit.

Public opinion keeps many people from getting drunk; it helps control our morals, choose our clothing; select our automobiles and even affects the things we eat.

Because public opinion represents the thinking of a majority of the people, it can accomplish or destroy almost anything in our town, state or nation. With public opinion on his side, a leader can accomplish almost anything under the sun; without it, he is lost. Public opinion has broken strong political parties, it has defeated and elected presidents. Some instances take longer than others, but public opinion invariably rules. This is true even in countries with dictatorships, as well as in democracies.

If people who are inclined to blame "they" would, instead, place the blame where it truly belongs—squarely upon themselves—public opinion in many instances would be far different in its trend. Unquestionably, it would have eliminated Mr. Beck and straightened out the teamsters union several years ago.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Several Say Bermuda Shorts Are a 'Fad'

A few bold businessmen in Hereford have revolted against trousers and are now wearing Bermuda shorts and socks at work. "No point in being uncomfortable when it is not necessary," they contend. What do you think? Could they be establishing a trend in men's attire, or is this merely a "fad" that will go the way of the goldfish gulpers, racoon coats and high-wing collars?

MRS. PAULINE LOVAN — There are so many men who won't follow the trend — it's just a passing fad.

HARRY LINDERER — I'd say that it's a pretty good deal for fellows that have the legs to look good in them. For my own part, I'm afraid I'd be a little too ugly to wear them.

MRS. J. R. DANIEL — I imagine it will die out pretty quick.

MRS. ALETHA CAPLE — It's been a little more than just a fad. It's been a long time getting here, but I think it will stay.

CARROL WILLOUGHBY — I think it will just be a fad and will soon wear off—however, I like to wear them. They've been in style a long time but this is the first year they've been worn to work in Hereford. Men in Amarillo wore them to work about two years ago, but now they're only worn for informal occasions and for sports. I think that's the way it will go here.

LLOYD PARSONS—I hope it's just a fad and will go away.

KIT SANDERS—I don't believe it's a trend, and it's not wide-spread enough to be a fad. I think a few will wear them for their own comfort, and I don't blame them a bit.

Bible Words for Today

REVELATION 3:8—"Behold, I have set before you an open door, which no one is able to shut." (RSV)

It is said that doors are being closed to the Christian church in many lands. Where communism gains control, Christian missions are closed and missionaries are imprisoned or expelled. China is a classic example of this fact. But a missionary recently returned from China observed that while the door to China may be closed to us it is not closed to Chinese Christians. By the grace of God some Chinese Christians are still bearing witness to their faith under difficulties that are hard to imagine. We need to remember that God's ways are not our ways. Man's extremities are sometimes God's greatest opportunities. This is the Biblical faith, and the Christian church is a living witness to its truth. "In spite of dungeon, fire and sword" is more than a line in a great hymn. It is an expression of deep faith. We can take courage in the promise that the God we serve is able to keep open doors that no earthly powers can effectively shut.

Champ Dieter Tells How It's Done

By EDWARD S. KITCH MARKHAM, III. — "Diet or death, she lost 191 1/2 pounds. Today Miss Gernenz is hailed as a champion dieter of dieters. She was named the nation's 1937 Queen of Dieters by TOPS. The organization of "Take Off Pounds Seriously" held its annual convention in Cincinnati May 25. HELEN estimates that some 2,000 members of the dieting group completed for the title. Entrants came from throughout the United States and Canada.

There wasn't much else Miss Helen Gernenz could do but diet after her physician gave her that ultimatum a little more than a year ago. She weighed 385 pounds. Her medical advisor said she would die in 10 years if she didn't stop eating so much food. Instead of eating herself to BEFORE—Helen Gernenz weighed 385 pounds when this snapshot was taken, a little over a year ago.

AFTER—Here is Miss Gernenz as she is today, after losing 191 1/2 pounds - and she's still dieting.

Although the title was based on the amount of poundage lost in a year, the TOPS group of dieters discovered Miss Gernenz was dead serious about losing pounds. Her effort was doubly difficult because she worked in a very tempting atmosphere — as a cook's helper in a restaurant. But she followed her doctor's orders, taking the medicine he prescribed. She was permitted 800 to 1,000 calories daily. Each morning she took a capsule aimed at curbing her appetite. Three times daily she took a thyroid tablet prescribed by her physician. At breakfast, Miss Gernenz, who is 32, ate a bowl of cereal with six ounces of milk — her daily allotment. Sometimes she had only toast with her milk. For lunch, she had her main meal of the day — meat, vegetables, bread and fruit, both canned and fresh. For dinner, she had a steak sandwich. Her diet excluded ice cream, starchy foods and soda pop. "That's what I missed most," she says. "But once in a while, when I get a craving for sweets, I take a little bit of it and that satisfies me. It's what the doctor advised."

When Miss Gernenz joined TOPS a year ago last March, she wore a size 60 dress. She would add a four-inch piece of fabric on each side seam to make the dress fit her bulk. "And that made it a size 68," she said. She now wears a size 20 1/2.

"I feel wonderful, especially when you can go into a store and buy your own clothes," she said. Miss Gernenz now weighs 193 1/2

HOT TIME SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — His mother picked up George Wilkins, 3, to warm his seat for playing with matches and found it already was warm. Matches in his hip pocket had set his pants on fire. A doctor treated his burns.

She intends to reduce until she gets down to 150. She's determined and happy at the prospect that she'll make it. She exercises daily by riding a bicycle. Then, too, the ice box no longer holds the enchantment it once had for her appetite. Besides, she's looking forward to a longer life and, someday, marriage. "But I don't know when," she said.

ADOPTED SHIP DENVER, Colo. — Fifth-graders at Anna Laura Force School have "adopted" a ship — The S. S. Jean Lykes, a cargo vessel traveling to Central and South America ports.

The pupils correspond with Capt. O. L. Brown and crew members. They keep tabs on the ship's whereabouts with pins and colored yarn on a map.

UNWANTED AID GREENVILLE, S. C. — State Highway Patrol Sgt. Billy Fallaw and a passerby raced for a driverless car they saw rolling slowly down the street.

The passerby won the race, jumped in the car, got it stopped with a quick grab at the emergency brake, when up puffed the disheveled and disgusted owner, gasping: "For gosh sakes, why don't you mind your own business! I'm trying to push it to a filling station!" CENTENNIAL PARTY LANSING, Mich. — The House of the Michigan Legislature has a tradition of putting on a celebration when the first 100 bills have been introduced. But it's not a mild one. The legislature offering the 100th bill has to foot the bill for a round of ice cream in paper cups for all the law makers.

A BUILT-IN GAS RANGE

Put down that bottle of "iron" pills, lady! If that dragged out feeling attacks you only when it's time to cook—then you need a different kind of iron... the kind that's been converted into the gleaming, streamlined surfaces of a modern Built-In GAS Range! If a change of scenery has been recommended, you'll be in the midst of fresh new beauty, dash, and glamour when you remodel your kitchen around the fabulously modern Built-In Gas Range. - MOST FLEXIBLE HEAT... Instead of just 3 to 7 factory-set heats, you have a choice of hundreds of heats when you cook with gas.
- UNBEATABLE ECONOMY... a Gas Range costs 5 to 8 times less to operate, and Lifetime Burners abolish replacement costs.

Rome Designer Ocean Commuter

There's no reason why American women can't have their pick of the best in-fashion from every country in the world, says Eleanor Garnett, Rome designer and international commuter.

The tall, blonde, Estonian-born Mme. Garnett spends most of her time these days hopping between her Rome establishment and her New York salon, where women order clothes which are then made to order in Rome and delivered two weeks later in New York by air express. Before World War II she ran an internationally known fashion salon in Hong Kong.

between the fashion philosophy of American and Italian women," says Eleanora. "The smart woman in the United States is afraid of extremes. She prefers always to underdress rather than overdress. The Italian woman, on the other hand, loves extremes and wants to look sensational, even if her gown is so tight that she can't lift her arms. When she goes to a ball she may wear a dress so complicated that it would cost $100 to press it in New York. And when she's dressed for a gala occasion, the Italian woman has to hire a carriage, because she probably couldn't get her gown into a car—especially our little Italian models."

Mme. Garnett believes firmly that Italian women today are the most elegant in the world—high-born Italians, that is. Says she:

"The Italian way of life is so different. The pace is more leisurely, and women's function is to look beautiful and exciting. Italian women spend their lives entertaining and being entertained, and there are still plenty of servants to make all this possible. But this elegance, of course, is only for the few who still maintain great estates and staffs. The average woman in America lives and dresses better than the average Italian

IKE'S SPEECHES INDEXED BY NEWSPAPER LIBRARIAN

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It costs Ralph Shoemaker more to keep up with President Eisenhower. But Shoemaker enjoys it and the President is grateful.

Shoemaker, a 50-year-old librarian, has been publishing indexed volumes of every major statement Eisenhower has made since he first announced his candidacy in 1952.

The first of the three volumes of "The President's Words" put Shoemaker $1,000 in the red; the next $500 and the third slightly less. He hopes to break even the next time.

Why bother at all?

As head librarian of the Louisville Courier-Journal, Shoemaker gets all kinds of questions—particularly during campaign years. "Several persons kept coming in and asking what Eisenhower said at various speeches when he started his campaign.

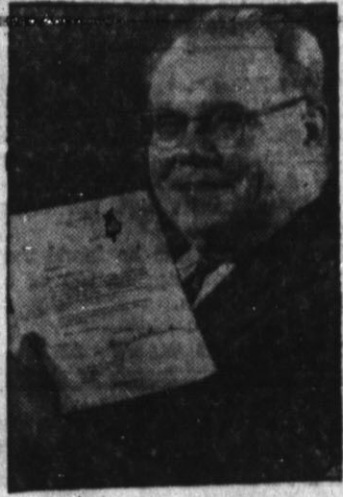

"I thought it would be a lot easier for me to index them. I only intended to do it during the campaign, but, after he was elected, I decided to continue.

"It was habit-forming then. And, besides, I enjoy it."

To date, Eisenhower has written three personal letters thanking Shoemaker for his efforts.

In his last letter, the President said "I have a rather unhappy feeling when I visualize the work that confronts you in making the index of the subjects I talk about during the course of any one year. . . . But, at any rate, you have my continued thanks for making available to me a record that is highly useful."

Shoemaker and his wife, Elsie, spend about 16 hours a week cleaning presidential statements from big daily newspapers. They've set up a spare bedroom as a workshop.

As for the financial end of it, Shoemaker says he doesn't mind losing money.

"I don't smoke and I don't drink. I figure that what that would cost takes care of the cost of publishing."

Shoemaker says he will continue publishing the books "indefinitely."

DON'T BUY ANY CAR BEFORE YOU DRIVE A CHEVY... ITS BEST SHOWROOM IS THE ROAD.

Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. You can't read about that . . . but you can feel it in one minute on the road!

Good drivers know roadability is the single thing that means more driving satisfaction for more thousands of miles than anything else. More safety, too, for it grants greater stability on curves, greater traction on wet roads, better "bite" under hard braking, more accurate steering. There are reasons for all this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!

View of the Countryside; And an Early Sun Rise

(Editor's Note: This is another letter from Jane Newsom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Newsom, who is travelling in Europe. She is now in the home of Helga Thome, former exchange student to Hereford, in Forthaus Dunsberg, Germany.) Dear Folks, July 1, 1957. This is a beautiful sunny day, but it had such an early beginning!

This morning Helga and I rose at 3 a.m. and started our journey to the top of the Dunsberg, the highest hill around here which is approximately 160 feet high. For a while we were quite energetic and our steps were quick, but as time progressed and the way became steeper, we began to doubt our motives for wanting to see the sun rise. After walking and resting many times, we reached our destination.

known to scare people to death. It is said that she began this after her boy friend was killed in the war. As you probably know, most of the churches of Germany are either Catholic or Protestant. The Protestant Church is one church and there are not many different denominations as there are in America, but there are a few small groups of different faiths. Most of these groups are not of a denomination such as Presbyterian, Baptist, etc., that we know.

However, there are a few churches of these denominations. Sunday we drove to Dillenburg to the Methodist Church (Methodistenkirche). The church was modest and rather small but attractive. As we entered I met the Rev. and Mrs. Klein, the pastor and his wife, who were very cordial and nice. He handed me a Bible which was written in English and showed me that the sermon was based on John 17. I was sorry that I could not understand it but I could at least see their way of worshiping. Although it was not just like our services; it was similar in many ways. When the service was over we talked to the minister and asked many questions until at last it was time to "Auf Wiedersehen." SEATTLE (AP) — When a 12-pound 5-ounce son was born to Mrs. Sylvan Coleman, Ft. Lawton Army Hospital attendants were surprised — but not Mrs. Coleman. Sgt. and Mrs. Coleman have eight other children, and only one of them was under 9 pounds at birth. The last one, now 19 months, weighed 11 pounds 14 1/2 ounces. The father is a 200-pounder. Even Application of Irrigations Is Shown by Plants

By BOB CROZIER
The availability of moisture is generally the limiting factor in the production of most crops, particularly the high yielding kind. Fertility is related to an abundance of plant food elements and their balance in the soil. Equally important is a balanced, evenly applied supply of water to the land throughout the growing season.

It is easy at this time of the year to see whether or not a field has been properly irrigated, that is, whether irrigation water has been evenly applied to the growing crop. If crop growth is good and a uniform stand of even height has been secured, an efficient job of irrigation has probably been carried out. However if skips occur in the stand and a good growth was secured near the irrigation ditch or in areas that are fairly level but a poor growth is found where the slope increases, an inefficient job of irrigation has occurred.

POOR irrigation is usually found in a field with excessive slope where it is necessary to slowly trickle water down long rows for several hours in order to get moisture penetration.

Deep percolation of water is usually secured near the irrigation ditch and on the flat areas but shallow penetration occurs on the slopes. An excessive amount of water is required and quite often a good part of it is wasted out of the lower end of the rows into rows or drainage ditches. The uneven stand of crops secured due to poor irrigation results in fair to poor overall yields.

THE SOIL Conservation Service technicians at Hereford are working with some of the cooperators with the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District in designing an efficient irrigation system on their farms.

One such cooperator is Jim Williams who farms 700 acres of land northwest of Hereford. Williams figures that in order to irrigate properly with the least expense the rows must be laid off on a fairly level uniform grade and they should be between 1,200 and 1,500 feet in length. In this way he hopes to get the most efficient use of his irrigation water and to utilize all rainfall. Williams became a cooperator with the SCD in April of this year and is working the SCS in planning a long range program of conservation on his entire farm.

STOWAWAY
MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — Charles Chism put a bale of straw in the trunk of his car and couldn't close the lid. A Plymouth Rock hen stowed away when he had his back turned. When he got home he found the hen had laid an egg on top of a nest of tire chains.

READING TOOLS
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An expert on the subjects says newspapers should be available in classrooms, offices, libraries and lounges of schools to encourage reading. Dr. Roma Gans, Columbia University reading specialist, suggested newspapers as "reading tools" at a conference of Michigan school teachers and principals. "Too often," Dr. Gans said, "teachers are ordered to teach without proper tools."

DELICATE SUBJECT
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The only thing Sol Sherman could tell police about burglars who raided his store was that they probably drove away very slowly. Their loot included 1,440 eggs.

YOUR RED CROSS ON THE JOB

By CORINNE J. NEELY

ANNUAL MEETING: will be held in the County Courtroom, July 10 at p.m. All Red Cross members are invited to attend. There will be an election for three new members to board of directors, reports, and some commendations and awards made.

Field Representative Robert Blackburn of Amarillo plans to meet with us. He visited in the chapter for the second time, the last week in June. Mr. Blackburn is fairly new in the chapter and has not yet met any of you.

WATER SAFETY: the chapter's main project for the summer is well under way in the capable hands of instructors newly trained—Barbara Damron, J. B. Wills and their most able aides, Pat Hill and Cuby Kitchens with others standing by to be called when needed. The chapter has placed a First Aid Kit at the Pool as recommended earlier. The first classes signed in beginners and intermediates are past the half way mark. Jr Life Guards are underway and the Sr Life Guards are signing up and getting ready. Also underway is the women's class at evenings on Monday. You will find the classes interesting to watch and be amazed at what they learn and how well they do.

DISASTERS: continue and the worst yet is Hurricane Audrey's destruction of life and property. Although the chapter is not making a drive we are accepting funds as we always do in any disaster. You may mail or bring your contribution to the chapter office, Mail Red Cross, Box 137. This year has been the worst year in Red Cross history for disasters and her funds were depleted early and she used other funds to aid, and now a new fiscal year as of July 1st is being hit hard. President Eisenhower has made a special plea for funds to carry on disaster work.

RED CROSS WORK FOR THE NEW YEAR: In this paper you will find a special form to be filed in and mailed to the chapter showing your interest in classes, services and work you may be interested in taking part in for the new year. Check blanks and mail today: Red Cross, Box 137.

Stage a Summer Pantry Raid

QUICK AND CONVENIENT casseroles take the fuss and bother out of summer meal preparation.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Even though fresh foods are abundant in summer, there come those mealtimes in every cook's life when it's easy and convenient to concoct a main dish from the pantry shelf. At one of those times you might like to run up these individual casseroles, using canned tuna and tomato sauce plus ever-present eggs. Here's the recipe:

TUNA-STUFFED EGG CASSEROLES
Ingredients: 6 hard-cooked eggs, 1 can (6 1/2 ounces) chunk-style tuna (drained), 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce, 1 teaspoon onion salt.

Method: Cut eggs in half lengthwise; remove egg yolks. Mix tuna, green pepper, mayonnaise and Worcestershire sauce. Fill egg whites with tuna mixture. Stir together the tomato sauce and onion salt; spoon into 4 greased individual casseroles, or stirred egg dishes. Arrange stuffed egg whites in tomato sauce. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 20 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Remove from oven; sieve egg yolks; sprinkle over eggs and tomato sauce, serve at once. Makes 4 servings.
Note: If you have parsley on hand, you may mince some of it

Cars Go Gadget Crazy

CHICAGO (AP) — When you climb into the family automobile and set out for vacationland, are you confronted by the same dull and uninteresting interior you've been looking at a million times before? Well, do not despair. Accessories — some of them exotic in tone and some severely functional. Sternberg says if your taste runs to the macabre, you can purchase for a nominal sum a pair of realistic shrunken heads to dangle from the rear view mirror. Or you may prefer a pair of three-inch, fur-trimmed dice. You can invest in a bucket seat, a crash helmet and a safety belt. Shoulder straps also are available. Seat covers, too, offer a fascinating variety, from zebra stripes to ermine.

If you smoke while driving, Sternberg says you should consider buying a portable fire extinguisher. If you carry valuables, he recommends a burglar alarm especially designed for cars which is guaranteed to scare the wits out of any thief. The association represents a $300 million dollar industry devoted to preserving and beautifying car interiors.
