700 BANDSMEN HERE

Nine Hereford Musicians Get All-Regional Honors

More than 700 band students from throughout the Panhandle poured into Hereford Thursday to begin activities for the All-Regional Band Contest. Climaxed by the selection of ten musicians for the All-State Band and also by a concert Saturday evening, the event saw some 300 of the contestants...

had not been announced at press time. Only ten bandsmen from the region will earn All-State. Other Hereford students making the regional band were John Pesina, Kay Neil Reeves, Patricia Maxwell, Dick Plank and David Marcontell. Three nationally recognized band instructors were on hand to direct regional band rehearsals and the Saturday night concert. Conducting the clinic and AA-AAA All-Regional Band was James Mathews of the University of Houston. Directing AAA and AA Band, of which Hereford students were members, was Charles Emmons of the University of Missouri. Texas Tech Band director Dean Kilion conducted the Class A, B, and junior high All-Regional Band.

Some 100 members were selected for each band on the basis of individual tryouts held Thursday. Rehearsals were held Friday and Saturday in preparation for the concert. Besides the nine Hereford students who were selected for the regional band, others trying out included Judy Crume, Donita Allred, Kenneth Eastman, Carolyn Boynton, Patti Roach, Charlotte Williams, Babs Gholson, Nancy Boyer; Doris Parsons, Joyce Linderer, Jerry Ross, Jim Grubbs, Jerry McCatheran, Lonnie Coker, James Combs, Victor Garza, Steve Thornton, Ricky Roberts, Chuck Schneider, Mike Watts, Vickie Gordon, and James Frost.

Farmers To Vote On Price Support In Referendum

Upland cotton producers voting in the national referendum to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 11, will be voting for comparatively high price supports and marketing quota penalties or 50 per cent price support and no penalties, commented Faust Collier, local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager.

A Program of Consecration will highlight the official Open House of King's Manor retirement home here Sunday, Dec. 9.

The program will start at 2:30 p. m. at the home in the northwest part of Hereford, marking the official completion of the $200,000 structure. Mrs. Viola Davis, supervisor of the home, will give the welcome and the Rev. Don Davidson, executive director, will introduce the guests.

Wheat Program Deadline Nears

Deaf Smith County wheat growers are being urged to sign up this week for the 1962 Wheat Stabilization Program. Deadline for the sign-up is Friday, Dec. 14.

So far, only about 30 per cent of the producers have signed contracts joining the voluntary program, reported Faust Collier, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here.

"Growers are still coming in," he added. "But we hope those who have decided to join the program will come to the office before the deadline rush."

Among the changes noted in the 1962 wheat program is the fact that it is voluntary. A farmer planting within his allotment will still receive price support.

Under the program, producers joining the program will receive a diversion payment at half of the $1.82 loan rate. This payment will be computed by multiplying the rate by normal production per acre on measured diverted acreage.

The program calls for a mandatory diversion of 20 per cent of the allotment. However, an additional 30 per cent may be added voluntarily.

A second payment will also be made under the program. This "incentive" payment will be computed by multiplying harvested acreage times normal production by an 18 cents per bushel rate.

Farmers joining the program must comply and no changes in diverted acreage may be made after the Dec. 14 deadline.

If a producer withdraws from the program after the deadline he will lose price supports, diversion, and incentive payments even though he has planted within his allotment.

Under provisions of the 1963 program, cattle may be grazed on diverted acreage fall seeded in wheat and barley until May 1, 1963. All wheat on the acreage must then be plowed under and put to conservation practices.

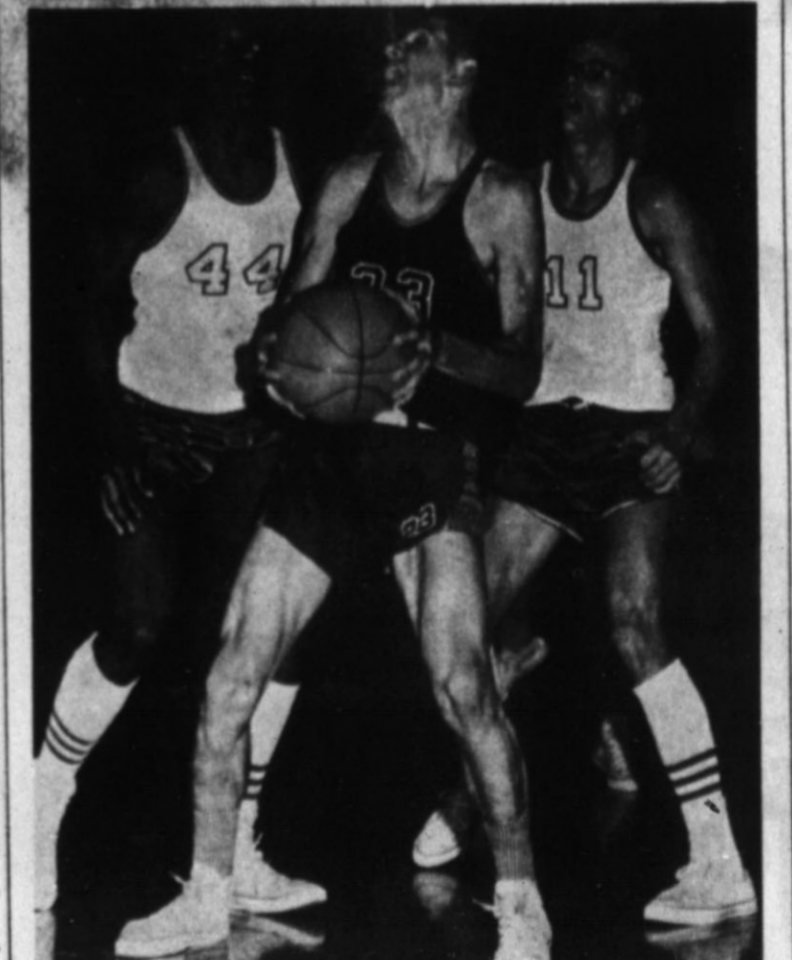

District Court Jury Commission Draws Jury List

Grand jurors and a trial jury list were selected for the January, 1963 term of 69th District Court, Judge Harry Schultz presiding, as a jury commission session was held here Wednesday.

No cases were heard during the court session. However, a session was scheduled for Dec. 21 in order that pleas of guilty may be heard.

Members of the Jury Commission were Frank Bezner, Jack Higgins, Mrs. Neil Young, and Mrs. B. E. Roberson.

Two adoption cases were also heard during the session of 69th District Court.

FOR OUR NEXT NUMBER - Although it appears that Pascol Pollard, Earl Jackson and Mike Never are tuning up for a barbershop number and in need of Jim Haney, at right rear, for the bass part, that was not what they had in mind. Clovis Hands Herd First Loss; Dimmitt Plays Here Hereford's Whiteface cagers were defeated for the first time this year by the Clovis Wildcats. The New Mexico team, starting all seniors, felled the smaller Whitefaces and won 59-45 in the huge Rock Staubus Gym in Clovis.

After four straight games on the road, Hereford will return home Tuesday night to play the always dangerous Dimmitt Bobcats. The B game will start at 8:15 p. m. and the varsity tilt at 8 p. m. in Whiteface Gym.

Friday night in Clovis, Hereford found that too many fouls too early were costly as they had trouble handling the larger and harder-charging Wildcats. It was the first loss after four wins for Hereford while Clovis now has a 3-1 record.

As the game opened, Hereford was charged with a foul and the tone of the game was set as Jim Martin sank the free throw. Jim Haney countered for Hereford with a basket and a free throw. But Martin sank another charity toss and Jim Shaw dumped in a basket.

Haney tied the game up with a free throw, but Shaw hit one of three possible free throws.

Then Earl Jackson hit a basket and Hereford led 6-5. That was the last time the Herd was in front. Martin and Shaw each hit a basket for the Wildcats, but Robert Strange hit one from outside.

Clovis sank just one foul shot as Hereford was charged with its fifth personal and the Wildcats started taking one-and-one shots with 2:46 left in the first period.

Dwight McGee got a basket ten seconds later and Hereford trailed by one with 2:30 left. That was as close as Hereford got the rest of the night. Pascol Pollard hit, Clovis netted three of five foul shots. Price stole the ball for a lay-up, Mike Never hit one of two free throws and Pollard and Jim

Around Town

Those 700 or so bandsmen who were here the past three days were a nice bunch of youngsters. They worked hard, behaved themselves (for the most part) and were a credit to their school and their band. The only incident that I know about was when they overrode an elevator in the Jim Hill Hotel and put it out of action. Anyway, they probably used up a lot of energy having to climb the stairs.

Annual Home Demonstration County-wide Christmas party will be held Monday, Dec. 10, at 2:30 p. m. in the Boy Scout room of the Hereford Community Center. All members are urged to be present.

There will only be two more rehearsals before the community choir presents excerpts from "The Messiah". The group will practice at 3:45 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 9, and again at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 15. They will present the Christmas Oratorio at 4 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 16, in the Hereford High School auditorium.

An event is planned that I hope will join the Community Choir in becoming annual events. The Hereford school bands and choirs will present a Christmas concert downtown (Continued on page 10)

16 Are Indicted By Grand Jury In Regular Session

Fourteen indictments involving 16 persons were returned and one suspect was notified as Deaf Smith County Grand Jury met here Wednesday for a day-long session.

No-billed on a felony charge alleging destruction of property was Alfred Reyna, 22, 525 Irving. The charge is to be reduced to a misdemeanor for trial in County Court.

Of the 16 indicted during the regular session, 13 persons are either in custody or under bond. Indictments were returned against Camillo Timeteo Chavez, 37, Hereford Labor Camp, driving while intoxicated, second offense;

Roberto Arevano DeLuna, 31, Beeville, theft over $50; Vivian Norie DeLuna, 23, Goldice, Tex., theft over $50; (Continued on page 10)

Hereford Cattle And Cattlemen On Show Circuit

"The Hereford Capital" continued to live up to its name last week.

Livestock and men brought more acclaim to the area. Two local cattlemen judged livestock shows, and a bull belonging to Howard Gault and Son claimed the grand championship at the Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Show and Sale held in Clarendon.

The grand champion Hereford, Anylety Peerage 273, brought $800 at the fourth annual sale, held Friday. He was the top-priced Hereford bull in the show.

Meanwhile Karrol Higgins of Hereford was judge for the annual XII Livestock Show and Sale in Dalhart.

Bill Dameron of Hereford judged the Howard County and South Plains Hereford Show held last week in Big Springs. Dameron has also been selected to judge the Sand Hills Livestock Show and Sale in Odessa, which is slated for January.

Hereford Cattle And Cattlemen On Show Circuit

Arizola, according to Hereford Police Department investigation report, apparently heard Fitzgerald drive up. He had kicked a screen loose and had his head and a knee through the window.

When Fitzgerald headed toward him, he ducked back inside the house. In the meantime, the owner ran in the front door in an attempt to catch the youth.

But, Arizola darted out the back door of the residence with Fitzgerald in pursuit.

Fitzgerald caught up with the teenager about three blocks away near Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Arizola was taken to Hereford Police Department where he was arrested. After his arrest, he was identified as a suspect in an indecent exposure case.

Charges were filed against Arizola alleging burglary.

Since the Grand Jury was in session Wednesday, jurors heard the charges and indicted him. Bond was set by grand jurors at $5000.

SECTIONAL REHEARSALS, individual rehearsals and All-Regional band rehearsals occupied more than 700 area musicians as they held their try-outs in Hereford during the weekend. The three-day event was climaxed by concerts by the All-Regional bands on Saturday night in the high school auditorium. (Staff Photo)

Goal Achieved As Vargas Comes To Casa De Amigos

Last week a young man unlocked a door and opened the way to the realization of a goal established by five local churches over two years ago.

When Ezekiel B. Vargas turned the key to the Casa de Amigos at Hereford Labor Camp, he was a young man beginning a new job in a new location.

Reopening a door which had been closed in September, Vargas began what will now become a year-round operation at Casa de Amigos, headquarters of the Hereford Migrant Ministry work for Latin Americans.

It marked the achievement of a goal, for when five local churches — First Methodist, Saint Pablo Methodist, First Presbyterian, Saint Thomas Episcopal, and First Christian — joined to form the Migrant Ministry in 1960, it was their hope to sponsor Casa de Amigos on a year-round basis.

Although operation of the Casa de Amigos has been carried on successfully during the summers since 1960, it was not until Vargas came to assume duties as coordinator of the Migrant Ministry that its projects could be carried on throughout the year.

Vargas, who was graduated last spring as a psychology major from Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky., came to the United States from Chihuahua, Mexico, in 1956. He attended high school and college here through a private scholarship.

After learning of the work of the Migrant Ministry, which is sponsored nationally by the National Council of Churches, Vargas applied for work during summers while he was in college.

He has worked in similar Migrant Ministry operations in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Arkansas.

While working in Arkansas, Vargas learned of the Hereford Migrant Ministry through a church official there. He contacted Virgil Dodson, director of the ministry here, and was recently accepted by the local council as full-time employee at Casa de Amigos.

After only a brief stay here, Vargas declared, "The Hereford Migrant Ministry is the most well organized ministry of any I have seen. It offers the opportunity for me and my wife Myrna to live near the Latin Americans (in Casa de Amigos) and to work closely with them."

"I entered Migrant Ministry work in order that I could work with my own people," Vargas commented, "and when I heard of the Hereford ministry, I knew this would be where I could do most."

And according to Virgil Dodson, chairman of the local Migrant Ministry council, the application of Vargas for work here was welcomed.

"For three years we have been trying to find someone capable of carrying on year-round work at the Casa de Amigos," Dodson pointed out. Vargas will coordinate work between the Latin Americans and the church sponsors.

"During the first summer of operation, a group of 12 college students came to work at Casa de Amigos," Dodson pointed out. "They had to return to school in the fall."

"During the summer of 1961, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Davis of Hereford headed the work at Casa de Amigos. During both summers, volunteers from local churches helped with the Migrant Ministry."

"We have had a large group participating in the activities at Casa de Amigos. During the summers, we have had an average of 150 children under the age of 12 years old at the day nursery."

"Last summer there were 175 youngsters there the first day, and over 200 Latin American children were on hand when we distributed health kits in the fall."

"We have not previously found anyone who could handle the Migrant Ministry program year-round. But now that Vargas is here, the work can continue full-time," Dodson explained.

Commenting on his goals at Casa de Amigos, Vargas stated, "I hope to continue a year-round program there which will be similar to what has been done in past summers."

"This will include activities of a spiritual, educational, social, and physical nature," he stated.

"My wife and I will be living at Casa de Amigos, and therefore I will be able to work closely with Labor Camp residents."

"I hope to aid Latin Americans there in every way possible," he declared.

"I also hope to improve the coordination between the Latin Americans and the churches which sponsor the Hereford Migrant Ministry. They have laid the ground-work, and Casa de Amigos is nationally recognized for the work it does."

"But with the year-round program, it will take even more work," Vargas stated. "It will take time, work, and co-operation from all concerned."

First activity for Vargas will be arranging the annual Christmas Party at Casa de Amigos, which is slated for Dec. 21. Last year almost 300 were on hand for the annual affair.

This will be the first of many projects at Casa de Amigos for Vargas, who stated he came to Hereford "in order to work with my people."

Eighth In Win Three At Canyon

Eighth grade Stanton Dogies downed Canyon Thursday night to keep an undefeated record of three wins thus far in the season. Last week the Dogies clobbered Littlefield by 61 - 19, and earlier in the season had clipped Dimmitt.

Stanton hosts Littlefield here Dec. 13 in the junior high gym. The Dogies will be trying for their fourth win, while the Wildcats will be hunting revenge for their 61 - 19 defeat by Stanton.

Three players tallied double figures against Littlefield last week. Gene Duvall ripped in 16 points to lead scoring, while Jim Allison racked up 12 and Larry Nolan netted ten.

Against Canyon on Thursday, Allison topped scoring with 12 points. Hereford jumped to an 11 - 4 lead during the first quarter, and added a point to the margin before halftime to have a 21 - 14 margin. The Dogies limited Canyon to only four points in the final quarter as they won 38 - 28.

Opening the action, Allison and Nolan dropped in two - counters, while Billy Frank and Duvall each hit for three in the first period.

Mike Davis joined the scoring with a field goal in the second quarter, as Duvall made good another field goal. Allison got a pair from the court, and Nolan added a free toss and a field goal.

During the third stanza Allison, Frank, Duvall, and Nolan joined forces to total nine for Stanton, and advance the Dogie lead to 30 - 24.

Frank ripped in four and Allison five to complete Dogie scoring in the final round.

Junior Leaders Hold Meeting

County 4 - H Junior Leaders met Monday in the Courthouse for a business meeting, with Janis Higgins presiding.

Maura McAndrews called the roll and reported that sale of table decorations at the annual County 4 - H Achievement Banquet netted $18.05. Mike McGee reported that sale of Christmas cards netted another $40.

Named to outline programs for the coming year were Catherine Smith, Vicki Koelzer, Kathryn James and Mike McGee.

The group decided to sell Bake Show products to help finance the group's trip to Austin next summer.

It also was agreed that Junior Leaders must attend five of the next eight meetings in order to be eligible for the trip.

Mrs. Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, talked on the Junior Leader program, how its members are selected and some of their duties.

Next meeting of the group will be on Jan. 17.

Attending the meeting were Vicki Koelzer, Maura McAndrews, Kathryn James, Jim Higgins, Kevin McAndrews, Mike McGee and Mrs. Draper.

HEREFORD MAN REPORTS

Proposed Spud Law Having Hard Time

Denzil Pulliam of Hereford, who is representing the Texas Farm Bureau at a public hearing in Denver, reports mounting opposition to the proposed nationwide potato marketing agreement and order.

He says that proponents of the plan to withhold certain potato grades and sizes from normal trade channels are having trouble selling the program. The main problem seems to lie in the difficulty of establishing any national program that would be of equal benefit to all areas of production.

Before the order could become effective, the proposed plan would have to pass a referendum vote of the nation's growers by a two-thirds majority of growers voting or by volume represented in the voting.

Those backing the program have modified the original proposal which would have restricted voting to growers with two acres to now include growers with one - quarter acre or more.

The original proposal would have permitted about 32,000 commercial growers to vote, while the modification would permit a possible vote of about 500,000 growers.

Proponents, Pulliam said, have testified under cross examination that three or four "garden patch" states could produce enough votes to pass the order.

He also said that proponents are having difficulty defining just who would be a "potato handler", who would be assessed one - half cent per hundred pounds to administer the program. Testimony also shows that withholding certain grades and sizes from the market could increase costs to the consumer.

Pulliam said that opponents of the proposal hoped to start testimony the latter part of the week, when they'll attempt to show the lack of a need for such a program, the inequities it would create and the adverse publicity to the potato industry from such a program.

MONA'S COFFEE BREAK

Papa Played Best Fiddle In County

By Mona Jette
"Benton, Angus Thomas; 79. Husband of Wessie; brother of Jim and Ollie; father of Roger, Marcelle, Calista and Angus Thomas, Jr. Also surviving are eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Services pending."

The small lines of type on the obituary page of the Houston paper appeared insignificant and would have gone unnoticed unless one was searching for them. For me, the short paragraph was the final account of a man...

Nothing was said of the real Papa, squatting in the fields as he sifted lovingly through his Texas soil that he tilled through the years.

Nothing was said of the madcap Papa, riding at breakneck speed down a dusty country road, foaming the flanks of the magnificent horse on which he sat. A good horse and a fine saddle... two things which Papa considered necessary.

No mention was made of the fact that he played the meanest fiddle in Liberty County. My mother loves to talk about her childhood, and from the many things she has told me, the evenings at their house were the favorite part of her days.

Loud, rousing barn dance tunes would fill the room... tunes that neither Mother or her sister and brothers could resist. Irresistibly drawn, first one and then the other, they would find themselves whirling madly around the living room with invisible partners as Mama and Papa played more exuberantly round and round, until finally exhausted, they would collapse dizzily into limp little heaps on the floor, shaking with uncontrollable giggles.

HARMAN'S WE GIVE VALUABLE S&H GREEN STAMPS

In his younger days, Papa had been an oil field worker, a farmer and rancher, and if some of the old tales are true, something of a scamp. I suppose that back then he would have been considered a "fine figger of a man" by the local belles. Wessie Goodrum, a tiny little brunette with enormous brown eyes and legs like a chorus girl, thought so. (At seventy-nine, Mama Benton is still famous for her legs.)

Why is it we never try to know a person until it's too late? I don't remember Papa except in his older years, when the decades of working and age had taken their toll. He was a tall man, a big man, but always walked bent at an angle. The years of constant bending over, weeding, planting, harvesting, had stunted his back, just like an old tree that grows leaning sideways from the force of the years of wind and rain. Papa had a shock of snow white hair, streaked with a ribbon of yellow from the sweatband of his old straw hat and he always viewed the world from blue eyes as steely as marbles framed by shaggy white eyebrows.

The only time we got to visit Mama and Papa was in the summertime and our arrival was always a big event. All the aunts and uncles and what seemed like hundreds of cousins descended on the house that Papa had built for Mama on the outskirts of town back in 1935. I can remember country rides as the various farms on which the Benton family had lived were pointed out, but the only place that spelled reality was the rock house where we stayed, flanked on the north and west by the acres planted in sugar cane, corn, tomatoes, cucumbers and fruit trees. These summer visits to my mother's childhood home were wonderful times, with wooden freezers of ice cream, big watermelons so ripe they were ready to split their sides and dozens of kids running wild like a tribe of whooping Indians. But the best times were at night, when the children had been tucked into pallets of home-made quilts on floors or any available bed. I always got to sleep in the bedroom next to the big living room where the "grown-ups" were congregated. I drifted off to sleep listening to the comforting chirp of crickets and adults laughing and talking about old times. Basically, Papa was a farmer. Most of the other farmers used tractors to do their plowing, but not Papa. Many an evening I've sat in the old squeaky swing on the front porch of their house and watched Papa and an old horse named "Paint" plow even furrows in the rich black dirt. Papa would plod along behind the horse, his shoulders bent with the weight of leather reins as he pushed the plow head deep and true. Every once in a while, I could hear him yell "whoa" to the horse as he bent over to remove an oversized rock or clod from his path. She worshipped the ground he walked on and as he grew older, cared for him as she would have a baby. Helping him off with his heavy rubber boots he wore when irrigating was always a chore and it usually ended up with mud smeared on everything, especially Mama. And it was always a great mystery to me that Papa could work out in the fields all day, bent over weeding and plowing; yet he couldn't manage to get in and out of the bathtub without Mama's help. I always had an insatiable curiosity to peep through the bathroom keyhole to see how they managed it. But above all things, Papa was a god man. He believed in the important things... the Lord God Almighty, the good soil, the rain, his wife, his children and his horses. And as we filed down the aisle of the church to bid Papa our final farewells, I could think of only one thing. If Papa could have a little plot of land to till and a good piece of horseflesh up there where he was going, life would be nearly as complete in Heaven as it had been on earth.

Price each hit baskets as the first period closed. Clovis led 22 - 9 as Hereford had ten personal fouls and the Wildcats five.

Pollard and Martin each hit baskets and before Danny Cates hit a long shot with 5:40 left in the second period. Haney added three points and Jackson one as Hereford rallied slightly, but trailed 39 - 15. Pollard hit a bucket before Jackson dumped in four points.

Then Martin and Jackson traded baskets, but Linden Fletcher hit two quick field goals before the half. Hereford trailed 38 - 21.

In the third period, Hereford abandoned its full-court press and momentarily rattled the Wildcats. Hodges hit a quick basket, but Jackson and Strange each missed free throws. Haney tipped in a rebound before Hodges, Jackson and Strange each hit free throws.

Clovis missed its first free throw with 4:25 left in the period and Strange hit one of two free throws as Hereford pulled within nine points, 38 - 23. But Pollard hit two quick baskets with less than four minutes left in the period. Jackson countered with a two-point shot and Shaw dumped one in and Hodges hit from the field as Hereford trailed 44 - 33 going into the final eight minutes.

Martin hit for Clovis just before teammate Pollard fouled out. Haney hit two free ones, matched by Clovis at the free-throw line. Then Haney fouled out. Clovis missed its two chances, but additional fouls gave them foul straight points. Hodges missed, then hit from the free throw line. Shaw sank two free throws before Hodges sank four charity tosses in a row and Mike Ferguson added two more free ones.

Clovis hit one free throw and Shaw got the only field goal for Clovis in the final period.

McGee hit from the field, but Shaw dumped in two more free throws as the game ended.

Again, Hereford's scoring was even as Jackson got 12 and Haney and Hodges hit 11 each. Jim Shaw led Clovis with 19, while Fletcher and Pollard got 14 each.

in Hereford on Saturday, Dec. 15, starting at 2:30 p. m. The concert is scheduled in front of the Post Office building, but will be moved to the south side of First National Bank building in the event of extreme cold.

The Hereford Company of Compassion has called a meeting of all its members for Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 7 p. m. in the Hereford Community Center. Members are encouraged to attend, since the meeting will last not more than 30 minutes.

Postmaster Nolan Grady says the Christmas mailing is coming along fine, but reminds residents again to get their packages in the mail in time to be delivered before Christmas. He also said the service windows would start staying open as long as there was a line. This is effective starting Monday.

Pioneer Study Club will meet at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 11, in the Community Center for its annual Christmas tea. Members are to bring a $2 gift and canned food for a Christmas basket that will be made up for a needy family.

All-vegetable growers and packers in this area are invited to attend a meeting Friday, Dec. 14, at 1:30 p. m. in the Friena State Bank, where Dr. Jack Kyle of the Lubbock Experiment Station will discuss potato production and fertilization. Dr. John Larsen will discuss tomato research and production. Plans also will be discussed for the First Annual Conference of West Texas Vegetable Growers, which will be held Tuesday, Jan. 8, at the Experiment Station in Lubbock.

The Rev. Joel Treadwell of Hereford is rather proud this week. His "little" brother, Johnny Treadwell, has been named All-Southwest and All-American guard as he winds up his career with the Texas University Longhorns.

Directors of the Deaf Smith County United Fund will make their final reports on campaign work at a meeting at 10 a. m. Monday, Dec. 10, at the Hereford State Bank.

Another reminder that the deadline to contribute to Project Christmas Cards is 5 p. m. Monday, Dec. 17, at either of the local banks.

Hereford took it on the chin at Clovis Friday night, but we think they will come back strong here Tuesday against the Dimmitt Wildcats, arch-rivals who always provide some exciting and interesting basketball contests. The Whitefaces would appreciate your support and don't let the construction at high school discourage you. Just put more people in fewer cars and be prepared to walk a little further. The game will be worth the effort.

This is the season when parties abound in this organized and busy town. To these I could go much fitter. If I didn't have to get a baby-sitter, Making my wallet flat as a fitter.

Your Red Cross In Action
 By Ramona Noel
 Audri Miller, president of the Jr. Red Cross, was accompanied to Pampa by Heather Gordon and two board members, Mrs. Lefty Thomas and Mrs. H. H. Miller, recently to speak to their high school assembly on their enrollment program.
 All schools in the county received their Jr. Red Cross enrollment material and began work on projects the third week in Nov. Several schools are filling gift boxes to go to Cuban refugee children in Florida. Others prepared 80 tray favors of candy for the local hospital. King's Manor, the two rest homes and some shut-ins. Later other favors will be made for Christmas, Easter and Valentine Day for our local area and also the Amarillo Air Force Base Hospital and Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo.
 In working with the rural area for United Fund, Bill Thompson, chairman and Corrine Neely, co-chairman, have had many Red Cross volunteers working and hope to reach $1000.00 mark before it is completed.
 Mrs. Lefty Thomas, Gray Lady chairman, has been promised nine new volunteers for additional Gray Lady service, in order to meet the requested needs at King's Manor.
 Gray Ladies, Motor Corps and staff aids of the Red Cross worked with the polio vaccine inoculation that was held on Dec. 2 at the high school cafeteria.
 Board of Directors of the Deaf Smith County Red Cross will have a business meeting on Dec. 11 at the First National Bank Community Room at 10 a. m.
 We will see you after Christmas, but for now, Merry Christmas to all.

has announced that plans are almost complete for a nursing care unit, to be located north of the present building. That unit will have space for 28 beds and will cost about $200,000. Financing already has been arranged, including a $75,000 Hill-Burton Fund grant.

By 1964, it is hoped that a second unit will be attached to the initial building, along with central service facilities.

King's Manor came into being as the Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club envisioned a golden age home here and called on other persons in the community to aid in its planning. This group, which later became the Hereford Area Foundation, was joined by a representative of the Methodist Church. The Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church ultimately approved Hereford as the site of the home as the Foundation raised $100,000 and a site for the home.

 fect on cotton gards, say area ginners. However, no reports have been received from classing offices since the recent bad weather.

It is estimated that 30-40 per cent of the crop in Deaf Smith County has been stripped. Much of the harvesting is being done in the southern part of the county.

Some producers in the northern and northwestern parts of the county are now beginning to bring in loads. However, yields are down in these areas due to early storm damage.

Ginners estimated that production in the county will be approximately 10,500 bales, a little below last year's production. However, quality of the crop, generally, is higher than a year ago.

Prices for the cotton are reported to be good and are averaging 29 1/2 cents per pound.

It is also reported that the bulk of the crop will be stripped within the next two weeks if the weather does not interfere with the harvest. Farmers should be finishing up within four weeks.

Guest speaker for the quarterly luncheon meeting of the Deaf Smith Federation of Women's Clubs recently was Miss Heather Gordon, American Field Service scholarship student from Johannesburg, South Africa.

In her first public speech of the year, Miss Gordon described her country as no longer the Black Continent, but with the question, "Will she turn red?" During her speech she pointed out that the communist Party was outlawed in her country's government, but there is a fear that it is active underground.

She went on to say, "Out of the 13 million people in the Republic of South Africa, only three million are white and they are the only voters under the present political set-up. She described Africa as a land of extremes: riches, poverty; beauty, barrenness; man's love of man and man's inhumanity to man."

She further stated that South Africa wants and needs the leadership and guidance of the United States more than the foreign aid money.

Miss Gordon is the daughter of a Johannesburg publisher and presently is a senior student at Hereford High School. She was introduced by Mrs. Charles Hood, chairman of the Department of International Relations of the local federation. Miss Gordon was accompanied to the luncheon by her American "mother," Mrs. Leroy Aven.

Mrs. W. C. Hromas, federation president, conducted the meeting, with the program under the direction of Mrs. Clint Forby, vice president and program chairman.

Clubs serving as hostesses for the luncheon were the Lone Star Study Club, LaPlata Study Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, West Hereford Home Demonstration Club and Garden Beautiful Club.

It was announced that the next board meeting of the Federation will be Jan. 26 at 3 p. m. in the Community Center.

Next scheduled luncheon will be on Jan. 31 at the Community Center with the following clubs serving as hostesses: Hereford Music Study Club, El Niño Study Club, Farm and Ranch Club, Bud to Blossom Garden Club and North Hereford Home Demonstration Club.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Meets

Kappa Iota Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi met in the club room at the Community Center on Dec. 4 with Mrs. Mary Jean Gore calling the meeting to order.

During the business meeting thank-you notes were read from some of the members of the club and a report was made from the State Convention at McAllen. City Council asked for members to present their guests by the first meeting in January. A vote was made to send a box of fruit to Girl's Town at Whiteface. After the business meeting the group decorated the Christmas tree for the Center.

Christmas gifts will be exchanged at the next meeting and all the new pledges will serve as hostesses for the party.

Sarah Miller presented the program on "Pleasure of Possession." She chose the music of latter-day artists to illustrate her topic.

Mrs. Ott Heads Gift Work

At Christmas time each year, American Legion Auxiliary members, as well as other individuals, turn thoughts to war veterans confined in Veterans Administration Hospitals all over the nation.

They may wonder how many of these veterans, perhaps patients only for weeks, some for months, get gifts to their families back home at Christmas time. Some of these veterans, patients for a long period of time, may not have funds or a source of funds with which to remember their families at this time of the year.

Amarillo Veterans Hospital patients especially occupy the thoughts of relatives and interested individuals in the Hereford and Panhandle areas because the majority of ill or crippled veterans of the various wars are admitted to the hospital at Amarillo.

Arrangements at the Amarillo Hospital have been under the direction of Mrs. Ira Ott of Hereford, Department Hospital Representative of the American Legion Auxiliary, for the past five years. Mrs. Ott gives much of her time and effort to American Legion Auxiliary in the District and Department. She is active also in her own unit and Zone. Since 1945 a program for the Christmas season was initiated for 18th District of American Legion Auxiliary, of which Hereford is a part. A Texas woman Miss Edna Henke, who holds the post of hospital representative in the Kerrville V. A. Hospital, began the Gift Shop program in 1943. Since then it has spread to all

V. A. Hospitals in the 50 states.

Gifts are contributed by American Legion Auxiliary Units and interested persons over the district, and the gift shop is set up in the theatre in the hospital. Patients are encouraged to select gifts for their families. They are gift wrapped and mailed, without charge to the patient. "Last year more than 400 packages were mailed and volunteers gave more than 500 hours of work in the shop," Mrs. Ott said.

Get-ready dates are Dec. 10-11. Open house will be held in the gift shop on Tuesday, Dec. 11, from 4:30-8 p. m., when members and guests of the Auxiliary and American Legion will be invited to view the shop and its operation.

This year Department President Mrs. Maurice Kubby and

B&PW Club Topic Is On Public Relations

Members of the Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club met Monday evening, Dec. 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank for the regularly scheduled meeting.

The public relations committee had charge of the program that was presented by H. A. Tuck, news editor of the Hereford Brand. He discussed several points in relation to the public image given by means of any type of publicity.

In speaking of the public relations covered locally by the news medias, he asked that all reporters of organizations report promptly, fairly and completely. The speaker told of humorous incidents in his business career concerning the topic of the program.

Bea Barrett, chairman of the finance committee, discussed changes to be made in the annual budget. Miss Della Stagner, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting for correction and approval. Mrs. Ursalee Jacobsen and Mrs. Mary Helen Askew were appointed as co-chairman of the bunting committee to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Kelly Coplin. The business meeting was presided over by Miss Lucille Park, president. Plans were completed for the Christmas party to be held in the Japanese Dining Room of the Western Wheel Inn on Monday evening, Dec. 17, at 7 p. m. Dinner will be served, gifts exchanged and a program of musical selections by Mrs. Carolyn Barrett, will be presented.

Hostesses, Mrs. Kelly Coplin and Mrs. Kathleen Baker, served fruit cake and coffee to the members present; including Mesdames Ursalee Jacobsen, Mary Helen Askew, Margaret Ann Durham, Iva Cocanougher, Bruce Rose, Sophie Snare, C. Ora Cokrell and Helen Nelson; and Misses Lucille Park, Della Stagner, Bea Barrett, Erma Walker and Gladys Setliff.

Music Of 20's Discussed For La Plata Club

"Music in the 1920's" was the topic of the program that was given to the La Plata Study Club when it met at the home of Mrs. Urlin Streu on Dec. 4 at 413 N. McKinley, with Mrs. Viola Chisholm presiding over the business meeting.

Mrs. Margaret said, "Some of the popular songs of the '20's were revivals of songs popular in 1900. Many of these are being revived again on TV programs. Records and sheet music were in wide use during that time." Recordings by well known artists were played to conclude the program.

Two sets of reference books are being purchased by the club for the special education classes.

Club Christmas party will feature white elephant gifts and each member will also contribute for a benevolent cause.

Members present were: Mesdames Joel Treadwell, Jay Boston, N. D. Bartlett, Elmer Patterson, Bill Michaels, E. D. Hopkins, T. E. Seigler Jr., Louis Woodford, Ansel McDowell, Jack Brown, Joe Smith, Elmer Kimball, Lloyd McGee, A. J. Schroeter, Viola Chisholm and the hostess, Mrs. Urlin Streu.

A former member, Mrs. Emil Dettman from Lordsburg, N. M., was also present for the meeting.

During her program she also expressed her desire to help others and has dedicated herself to do the corporal works of God. She said she gets tired of putting in 18 hours of work a day, but with her faith and the will of God, she hopes to see a dream come true in the Labor

Welty Sparks B Teamers To Victory Number Two

Ronnie Welty was the hot shot that sparked the Hereford B team to a 51-35 win over the Canyon Bees Tuesday as he racked up 23 points to lead scoring.

And apparently coach Joe Brooks had some sort of hot shot in the dressing room at halftime, because the Herd jumped from a 15-20 hole to a 30-22 lead during the third quarter.

For the Whitefaces it was the second victory in as many tries, while it marked the second time the Herd topped Canyon. The young Eagles took a 43-34 beating at the hands of Hereford during their first meeting two weeks ago.

Once again everyone on the B-squad saw lots of action during the game, which had the two teams running neck and neck during the first half.

By the end of the first quarter the cagers remained even at eight all. Gary Roberson and Kenny Justice netted two pointers, while Welty tallied twice.

Canyon pulled ahead during the second round by dumping in twelve points. Hereford scoring was limited to eight, with David Stevens and Charlie Moreno chalking up free throws and Frank Cain, Roberson, and Welty each hitting for two.

Hereford thundered out of the dressing room after halftime with a vengeance, and allowed the bewildered Eagles only a lonely tally by Burgess, their leading scorer who hit for 10 during the game.

Welty hit for eight points during the third stanza, while Cain, Moreno, Neal Lueb, and Jerry McCaslin each contributed two-pointers.

During the rocking fourth quarter, both Canyon and Hereford put on a scoring show while the Herd dropped in 21 points and the Eagles netted 13.

Lueb tossed for four, and Larry Minks, Gary Stagner, and Charlie Moreno added field goals. Stevens sank two from the free throw line, and Welty ripped in nine points including his only free throw of the evening.

Mrs. John Lakeman, hospital director will be guest. Mrs. Lakeman will conduct a school of instruction and orientation in the conference room of the hospital beginning at 8 p. m. This will be a regular meeting night for Zone One and American Legion Auxiliary. Zone Commander Warner Brunson of Claude will be present. Mrs. Grant Hanna, District President, will also attend this meeting.

On December 12 and 13, beginning at 10 P. M., the patients will make their selections of the many gifts to be sent to their families. This is an important "personal touch" for the patient. Patients do not receive a gift at this time, but they do receive gifts from all the organizations who work at the hospital on Christmas Eve.

"We all go there and present out Gifts at the same time, rather than have individual parties," Mrs. Ott said.

Thus at Christmas time, Amarillo Hospital patients, as well as those all over the nation, are assured that no matter what their circumstances, their wives and children will receive gifts at Christmas.

This program is another way that American Legion and Auxiliary members "cares for its own."

Meeting in the Community Room at the First National Bank on Dec. 6 the club was informed of several important points to help the patient when a bone is discovered to be broken. Gilliland explained, "The objective is to keep the broken bone ends and the adjacent joints quiet. A fracture is a break in a bone. Two basic types of fractures are: (1.) simple, where the bone is broken, but not piercing the skin (2.) compound, where there is a break in the skin caused by the bone". A Thanksgiving dinner was taken to a needy family by members of the club. It was also voted to take a Christmas dinner and presents to the same family instead of exchanging gifts among the members of the club.

Those present for the meeting were: Mesdames Richard Pick-

Residents Put Life Into King's Manor

What price happiness and contentment? So far as the residents of King's Manor retirement home reflect, any price is cheap. The most striking point that will be noticed by visitors when they attend the Open House and consecration service Sunday afternoon is the joyful contentment of the home's initial residents.

Some are long-time residents of Hereford, others came here from other area towns; without exception, all are lively, friendly people who act as enthusiastic as little children about their new home.

Some buildings are constructed for selfish purposes, some are monuments to money or egotism. Others are born of necessity. But King's Manor is almost vibrant with life and a glorious faith in God.

As had been hoped from the outset, the residents are from different religious faiths. But these petty differences are forgotten in the joy of fellowship, friendship and sharing.

King's Manor stands as a tribute to man's kindness to man, and a compassion that grows from the heart. Ancient peoples used to put their old ones outside the village to die. With civilization, people saw their duty and obligation to care for their own.

But modern civilization, with a shift from rural living and large homes, has again changed the need. This is being filled by such as King's Manor, which offers comfortable, companionable living for many.

In less than three years, a tiny dream in Hereford has grown to reality in the form of stone and brick, glass and tile.

There are so many who have worked to aid King's Manor that it would be impossible to recognize all of them. But the Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club deserves the credit for first initiating action and interesting others in the project. Simultaneously, from Lubbock, the Rev. Don Davidson saw a similar need and took steps to interest the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church in sponsoring a $1,000,000 project.

The Hereford Area Foundation members worked tirelessly to raise funds that would show this community's interest and desire. Together, the Foundation and the Conference developed their plans and watched the construction.

To those must be added the many supporters of King's Manor from other parts of this area. They have stimulated interest in their own towns and aided in many ways. The boards and committees have devoted countless hours to the project.

Even now, plans are nearing completion for a nursing care unit, which will be followed later by another addition to the present building. A staff has been carefully assembled, again representing many communities and many religious preferences.

These and many more have made King's Manor a reality. But it is the residents themselves who breathe life into the building and make it worth everyone's time and effort.

We hope they enjoy living in King's Manor as much as Hereford enjoys having them with us... happy, contented and warmhearted.

Follow Rules Of Gun Safety

This is the time of year when homebound office workers suddenly are transformed into latter-day Daniel Boones, intent upon putting meat on the table.

Fall offers excellent hunting opportunities, with different game and birds coming into season almost every week.

Also approaching is the time of year when many youngsters look forward to owning their own gun.

With these facts in mind, it seems appropriate to cover a few basic points about guns and hunting, in order that the Brand will not have to write about one of the hunting accidents, including what seems to be the inevitable phrase, "Mr. _____ said he thought he was shooting at a deer (substitute turkey, goose or any other hunting objective)".

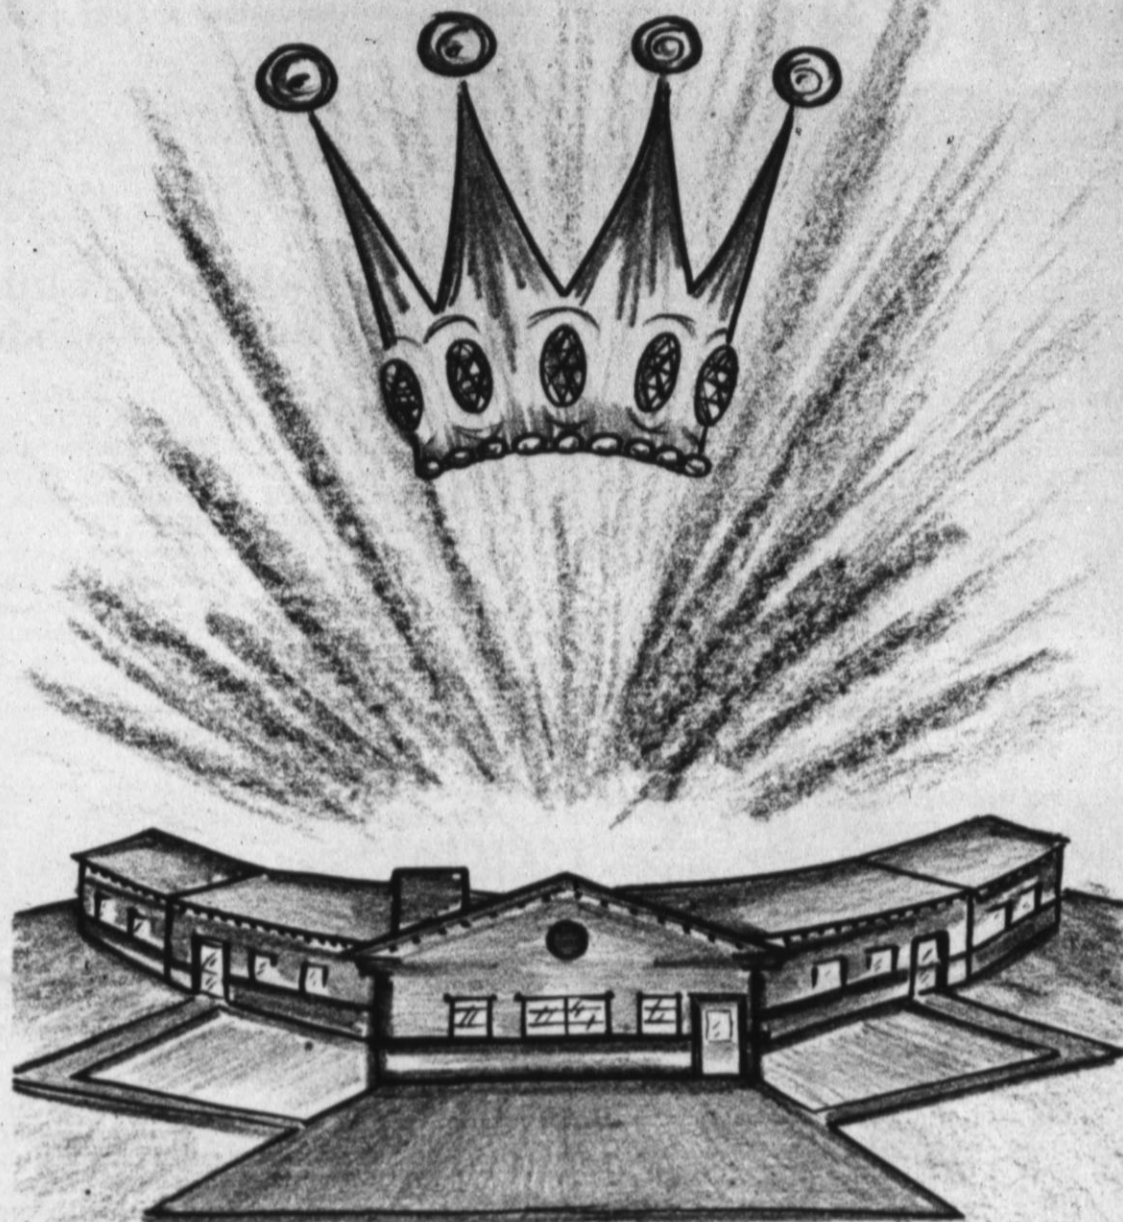

This year, Texas has had a series of hunting deaths, most of which may be attributed to a lack of caution.

As a reminder for the veteran hunters and as a guide for those who will be getting their first guns, we'd like to pass along these Ten Commandments of Safety:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.
2. Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.
3. Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.
7. Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.
8. Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.
9. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.
10. Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

Remember that a gun is made of metal and wood. It has no mind. Guns don't hurt people; but people sometimes do... with guns.

Catalog Prices May Be A Sales Gimmick

In recent months, the National Better Business Bureau has been concerned with deceptive pricing representations made by numerous catalog merchandisers, i.e., firms and individuals who sell in one manner or another through the use of catalogs. Catalog selling, of course, is an old and respected form of merchandising. Many firms sell by catalog and employ the same high advertising and selling standards used in other forms of merchandising. However, there are many others using the catalog method of merchandising who induce patronage through the use of phony savings claims based upon fictitious pricing. In case after case, the Federal Trade Commission has found after investigation that catalogue merchandisers have represented as the regular price of goods offered a price in excess of the usual and customary price of the goods in the area in which the advertising is disseminated. The difference between the purported "regular price" and the selling price, is set forth as a "saving." Since the "regular price" used is fictitious, the "savings" claimed is wholly illusory.

"Save Up To 70 Per Cent" A recent FTC proceeding, for example, involved a respondent who advertised "Save Up To 70 Per Cent." Typical statements in the respondent's catalog which the Commission alleged were false and deceptive included the following:

leather wallet at $4.00 (this price being lightly crossed out) $2.19 each."
"No. B 551 Calendar Bank reg. $3.50 our price $1.98."
"No. M 401 Self-illuminating 7 power magnifier special sale price only $2.24 reg. $9.95."
"No. 79 - T Featherweight deluxe travel iron reg. $5.95 special low price $3.59."
"No. 915 Travel immersion heater kit $2.19 reg. $5.95 value."

The Commission charged that the respondents never sold these items at these purported regular prices and consequently purchasers never realized the claimed savings.

"Selling To The Public At 'Wholesale'"

Some catalog houses sell to retailers at prices properly described as "wholesale." Some catalog houses sell to both the retail trade and directly to the public. The Federal Trade Commission has found that statements made in catalogs distributed to individual members of the public falsely represented that the firm sold all merchandise at wholesale prices. In one recent complaint the Commission charged that the wholesale prices used by a catalog house and the alleged retail prices with which they were compared exceeded the usual retail prices generally charged for merchandise in the trade area where the claims were made. The differences between the advertisers coded and retail prices did not represent savings from generally prevailing retail prices, the complaint charged.

A comparative price used as the basis for a savings claim for a particular product property should be either the current going price for the article in all the trading areas to which the catalog is circulated, or the regular and usual selling price of the catalog house immediately prior to reduction. The language used to describe the comparative price should indicate which type of price it is.

If a catalog is distributed in many trade areas it is quite possible that the current going price may vary from area to area. It is inaccurate in such cases to base a savings claim from a current going price which does not exist in each area to which the catalog is distributed.

Real Versus Mythical Savings Savings claims logically have

BUILDING PERMITS CONTINUE RISE

Building continued to soar in the city of Littlefield during the month of November, according to building permits issued by the city during the month. Through November, the total for the year reached $1,325,781 compared to $1,135,355 for the record year of 1960 and $439,840 for 1961. The total for the month of November was $65,839, down considerable from past months. Building in the city started off strong and has continued throughout the year at a record setting pace. New home construction has led the way with churches second and business construction third. Building activity has been especially heavy in Crescent Park and Cannon Terrace, leaving only a few vacant lots remaining in both areas.

ATTORNEY'S TRIAL POSTPONED

Shortage of prospective jurors and absence of a defense attorney caused a postponement Wednesday of the trial of Karl L. Lovelady, Bailey County attorney who was to have gone on trial in district court here for alleged theft and extortion. District Judge E. A. Bills rescheduled the trial for Monday, Dec. 17. Only 30 prospective jurors were on hand when the case was called for trial Wednesday. Since each side is allowed 10 challenges, this would not leave enough jurors for a 12-man jury if each side used all of its challenges. Judge Bills explained that a number of prospective jurors had been excused because of pressing farm work. He said a new panel will be called before the Dec. 17 trial. When the case was called, Bill Sheehan, Friona, one of Lovelady's attorneys, and District Attorney Jack Young approached the bench. Sheehan asked for a postponement claiming that Lovelady's other attorney, Clifford Brown, Lubbock, was unable to be present.

GARAGE FIRE KILLS WOMAN

"We will probably never know exactly how this accident happened," Hale County Sheriff Walter Sanders drew this conclusion Wednesday in his investigation of the death of Mrs. Lillian Inez Copeland. Mrs. Copeland, 46, died Tuesday in a Plainview hospital as a result of burns which she received Saturday night at her home near half-way. Her husband Earl Copeland, remained in good condition at Plainview Hospital. The accident occurred about midnight Saturday in the garage which adjoins the Copeland home. Copeland told officers he was awakened by his wife's screams and ran outside. Mrs. Copeland was between a pickup and an automobile parked in the garage. As he attempted to extinguish the flames, he received burns on his hands. After his wife's flaming clothing had been put out, he put her in the car and drove to a neighbor's home for help. Both were rushed to a Plainview hospital by ambulance.

BRUCellosis TESTING ENTER FINAL WEEK

Brucellosis testing in Sherman County is still going on, according to E. Goule, county agricultural agent. The testing, which began last week, was slowed down by the Thanksgiving holiday and work on testing cattle for the disease will be carried on through most of next week. Technicians working in Sherman County say that for the most part cattle in the area are "pretty clean."

SCHOOL CORNERSTONE LAID

Almost 100 persons Monday afternoon saw Masonic levelling rites for the cornerstone at the new Canyon Elementary School. Performing the ceremony was Robert L. Dillard, Dallas, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas. Even for non-Masons the rites were impressive. The cornerstone was dedicated with corn, wine, and oil, symbolically applied. The working tools of the mason, including the square, the level, the plumb and the trowel, were used in the rites after Grand Master Dillard applied the symbolic mortar.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm looks at the economic index, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: I don't know where they get the figures, I know they don't use any of mine, but some government experts come out once a month with a report on what the cost of living index was the previous month.

Under this system, if the cost of living goes up so many points as it has for the past several years, certain wage earners get an automatic increase in pay.

I was reading the figures for the past month and noticed that among the people getting an automatic increase were farm equipment workers. What I would like to know is why don't these experts figure out a way to give us farmers an automatic pay increase that's tied in with the economic index? It's the only way to meet the increased cost of farm equipment resulting from the increased pay for the farm equipment workers. It wouldn't be too hard to do. Since we don't get paid by the hour, it would have to be figured on a yearly basis, but I'd agree to wait till the end of the year for my check.

As I understand it, the value of a dollar fluctuates, it's not the same today as it was last month or last year, and this program is designed to see that workers get a living wage. When a dollar buys less, they get more dollars; when a dollar buys more, they get a little less, although this latter situation hasn't come up so far in the last 25 years. The experts say this program makes sense.

Well, I'll tell you, it's good enough as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough.

A living wage is not enough to get by on these days. It takes more than that. At least, there aren't very many people left willing to try it.

Excuse me, I've got to end this letter and get out and try to make some money farming. I need $40 bad. The picture tube on my television set has just busted.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
