That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says some guys are always next door telling a hard-luck story when opportunity knocks on their doors.

Jim (Boomer) Lindsey, who resigned as C of C manager here this week, claims Hereford "is the only town I ever hated to leave." No one blames him for moving to Santa Fe—at a substantial salary raise—and they wish him the best in the Land of Enchantment. He is to be commended for his work here, especially in helping bring about the construction of the new Chamber facilities—a long-standing dream of C of C workers.

We're optimistic, however, that the board will come up with another fine community leader for the position. Hereford seems to have a distinctive quality about it—call it an aura for success—that tends to attract top business and professional people. It's a valuable asset for a community.

Thanks to a news tip, we learned that Dr. Gerald Mann had an experience this week which brought memories of his school days back into sharp focus. The First Baptist pastor was speaking to a high school class and concluded his talk with a question-and-answer session.

"I believe I'll just sit at the teacher's desk," he commented, "I've always wondered how it would feel." He soon found out, rising from the chair much quicker than he had seated himself.

Removing a thumb tack from his posterior, Mann remarked, "Now I know how it feels!"

Depending on which side of the fence they are, some people think the penalties for drunk driving in some of our states is too severe, while some are of the opinion they are too lenient.

Here's what happens in some other countries if you're caught driving while intoxicated:

In Turkey, you are driven 20 miles out into the boondocks and compelled to walk back—under escort.

In South Africa, you are given a 10-year prison sentence, a fine of $2,800, or both.

In Malaya, you are jailed and, if married, so is your wife. In San Salvador, you are executed by a firing squad.

For years, the American public has been demanding that their government reduce its spending. Each year, the government spends more than it takes in, and this is called the leading cause of inflation. At last, President Nixon has embarked on a budget-trimming, belt-tightening program.

But this has not been greeted with shouts of glee. In fact, the budget-trimming program has drawn cries of dismay. We all want the government to cut its spending, but the problem arises in where the slashing is going to take place. Out here, we are willing to whack off urban renewal and mass transit funds, but we think the federal programs which aid agriculture and rural development are vital and needed.

But, we have good cause to think the President and an urban-oriented Congress are putting the squeeze on the wrong segment of society when farm programs are slashed. Arnold Paulson of NORM (National Organization of Raw Materials) has pointed out here in Hereford that the farmer has been underpaid for 20 years, in comparison to other segments of the economy.

We feel sure that most Americans really want economy in their federal spending, but it's going to be hard to "kick" the habit of receiving "free" grants and funds from Uncle Sam.

Free? That's another problem which has clouded the picture for many Americans. A survey shows that your tax dollar goes to Washington, where some 63 cents is used in handling costs, then 37 cents comes back to the local area for "free" use.

It appears we need to trim the handling costs!

Despite Weather

CableVision Tower Construction Starts

Construction on the 280-foot cable television tower began last week, despite snow covered ground.

Clint Formy, president of Hereford CableVision Co. said crewmen from the Ft. Worth Tower Co. began construction of the seven-section tower Friday mornng. Two crews from the CableVision Construction Co. of Houston have arrived in town and will begin installation of 60 miles of cable and wiring throughout the city early this week, weather permitting, according to Formy.

Total completion of the project, including wiring of the entire town for cable service, is expected after 65 to 70 working days.

Although no physical construction began until last week, engineers have been mapping the city for the stringing of cable for the last three or four weeks, according to Formy. Hereford CableVision will lease existing utility poles for individual hook-ups.

Formy said that the CableVision office, located on East Third at the site of the former Chamber of Commerce office, will probably open the first week in April to begin taking orders for cable television service. The CableVision office will house the weather scanner to be used to carry temperature readings, weather reports and other items along that line for the local station. Formy said eventually a complete studio will be included in the office.

Three Amarillo stations—KFDA, KVII and KGNC—along with the local weather station, will be in operation as soon as the wiring is completed, and the addition of other stations will be sometime later.

Stations to be received by microwave will not be available until the microwave company has completed and constructed all its equipment to the Hereford tower.

Channels to be received by cable television are KDTV, channel 39 in Dallas; KERA-TV, channel 13 in Dallas, an educational station; KTVT, channel 11 in Ft. Worth; all three Amarillo stations; KMXN-TV, channel 34 in Lubbock, a Mexican language station, and the local weather station.

IT PILED HIGH—Though the snow was deep throughout the area late last week, this picture tends to exaggerate the depth. Actually, snow covered the mounds of dirt piled high near the construction site of the First National Bank, seeming to "bury" the courthouse in the background.

Snow—about five inches of it—covered the area Thursday, starting to fall at approximately 4 a.m. and continuing through noon. Unlike its predecessors, it was a welcome source of moisture for the area, rather than a major threat to livestock and crops.

Bob Ginn, Holly Sugar's agricultural manager, said that for the first time during the season, the snow wouldn't mean a holdup in Shoup plant operations. He announced Friday that area beet harvests were completed Thursday, and slicing operations were wound up the same day. The plant will continue to operate for another ten days on thick juice, he said.

Elsewhere in the area, farmers were thankful for the moisture, a boon to wheat and maize crops. Mrs. J.E. McCabe, whose husband farms maize and wheat east of Dawn, said farmers in that area are "happy" to get the moisture.

Six inches of the white stuff were reported on the N.A. Brown ranch west of Hereford, where farmers said the snow is "doing some real good". The area's wheat crop was mentioned as deriving most of the good from the moisture.

Though largely received with whole-hearted approval by area farmers and ranchers, the snow was met with a few resigned sighs—perhaps originating, in part, from area feedlot interests.

Dean Stallings at Pitman Feedlot East, was one of those who disagreed on the good qualities of the frosty powder. Though the snow was deposited on the area in a single day, and temperatures remained relatively mild—a set of conditions which usually would not cause too much alarm—he said that cattle could be harmed, simple because they've had to endure too extended a period of such weather.

"We've had so much cold and damp weather, it's not too good on our livestock," he said. "They just haven't had time to recover."

Other adverse effects, always to be expected, but never welcomed, are the well-known dangers to motorists caused by snow-covered roadways.

Department of Public Safety officials reported at least one accident due to icy roads Thursday.

The accident occurred about four miles west of Hereford on U.S. highway 60 at about 8:30 a.m. Charles H. Ferran, 45 of Tulla, was attempting to make a right turn off the highway when his 69 model truck was stuck from the rear by another vehicle.

In Special Meeting

City Will Review Budget Monday

A hurry-up meeting of the city commission, to review the 1973-74 budget, will be held Monday in preparation for the March 5 public hearing and approval.

The meeting Monday is a special meeting as a result of city manager Dudley Bayne's being instructed by the commission to work into the new budget a proposal for increasing some salaries of city employees. The increase in salaries was a major topic in last week's regular city commission meeting.

Bayne said Friday that he has included in the budget additional funds for the increases in some areas. He said that the increases amount to about $3,000 or $4,000 more than anticipated at the beginning.

He added however, that no areas were cut back because of the increase because the city "had that much leeway in the budget."

The city commissioners will go over the budget Monday and make final recommendations before the public hearing in March. After Monday's meeting the budget will be printed up and, if accepted, be adopted at the March 5 meeting.

This year's budget, as proposed now, is a record

$1,489,000. This is up from last year's budget of $1,340,000.

Another item included in this year's budget is a retirement plan for city employees. Though no plan has been accepted or reviewed by the commission, the money already has been set aside to begin the program on May 1, the beginning of the next fiscal year for the city.

The city commission's efforts to increase the salary of some of its employees come as a result of losing some to other smaller cities for higher pay. The city lost one man several months ago to Fritch and faced the possibility last week of losing another to Abernathy.

Telephones Up Over Year Ago

The number of telephones in service—a barometer of community growth—climbed to more than 9,399 in Hereford as of Dec. 1, 1972.

The figure was released by Mike Patrick, Southwestern Bell manager, who said it represents an increase of 6.8 per cent in telephone growth for the city in 1972.

"Because of telephone growth in cities such as Hereford, Southwestern Bell in 1972 became the largest telephone company in the Bell System and the largest telephone company in the Bell System and the largest non-government owned phone company in the world," the manager said. Southwestern Bell serves more than 11,477,000 phones in a territory composed of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri and a small portion of Illinois.

Patrick said the telephone growth is expected to continue at a healthy pace. The company forecasts that there will be 12,000 telephones in Hereford by the end of 1976.

To meet anticipated growth in Hereford, Southwestern Bell has scheduled in 1973 the addition of more cable to serve the north area of the city.

Patrick said the 1973 construction budget for Southwestern Bell's San Antonio Area, of which Hereford is a part, will be $182 million, an increase of $30 million over 1972. The San Antonio Area covers approximately two-thirds of the western part of Texas.

Robert Wood Services Held

Funeral services for Robert Earl Wood, 69, of 309 E. Sixth, were conducted Saturday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home by the Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Wood, a retired electrical contractor who had lived in Hereford since he was two years old, died while traveling on a Scurry County highway near Snyder Thursday afternoon; he was enroute home from Temple.

He was born Feb. 13, 1904, in Coryell County, and came with his parents to Deaf Smith County in 1906. He attended public schools here and was well known as a school athlete. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II, and was discharged as a staff sergeant.

He married Bessie Lee West in Hereford June 19, 1948. She survives him, with a daughter, Linda Eckhardt of Llano, and three grandchildren.

Also surviving are three sisters, one Mr. Wood's twin, Pearl Cayton of Spearman. The others are Johnny Bradley and Zula Gilliam, both of Abilene.

TOWER GOING UP—Work on the CableVision tower, located northeast of the city near the city incinerator, began in earnest last week, despite efforts by Old Man Winter to delay the work. The huge tower is expected to be completed within 65 to 70 working days, according to officials.

Services Are Held For C.C. Acker

Clifford C. Acker, 77, of 102 Centre, a vice president of First National Bank, resident of Hereford since 1902 and associated with the city's banks from young manhood, died Thursday afternoon of a heart attack.

Mr. Acker had started to drive home from the bank and after he suffered the attack his car coasted to the curb at the corner of Third and Sampson Streets, and came to rest at a post. He was dead on arrival at a local clinic.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon in First United Methodist Church by Dr. W.A. Appling, pastor, and the Rev. Russell Wingert, Presbyterian minister. Burial in West Park Cemetery was directed by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Mr. Acker's career in banking began in the old Western National, where he began work for his uncle, the late G.A.F.

Parker. He was with First State Bank until its liquidation in 1945, then with First National.

Actively interested in the business life and growth of Hereford, he also gave time to civic activities and for many years served his church, First Methodist, as a board member and with treasurer's duties.

He was a Master Mason and a Shriner and had been presented a pin denoting 50-year membership. He saw military service during World War I.

Born Feb. 3, 1896, in Sedalia, Mo., he was orphaned as a child and came to Hereford with his grandmother; after her death he grew up in the Parker home. He married Mary Jane Fox Sept. 14, 1922. Her death occurred April 24, 1966.

Surviving Mr. Acker are three daughters, Helen Rose of Hereford, Mary Ann Carroll of Amarillo and Kathryn Ruga of Gilroy, Calif., and four grandchildren.

This year's edition of the Hereford Whiteface basketball team had the best shooters in HHS history, according to statistics announced this week by Coach Ron Mayberry.

As a team, the Herd hit 46 per cent of its field goal attempts, compared to a previous high of 41.5 per cent by the 1969 team. And, at the charity line, the Whitefaces hit 66.7 per cent, eclipsing the old mark of 66.3 per cent established by the 1961 team.

Hereford finished play Tuesday night, posting a 23-10 season record and a 6-4 mark in District 4-4A. It was the second best winning percentage for a HHS cage team, and the second most victories for one season.

Dan Vander Zee, one of the two juniors on the varsity, took individual scoring honors for the season and for district action. He tallied 398 points, with 123 coming in 4-4A play.

He averaged 12 points a game on the season and 12.3 in district. Keith Kitchens, whose HHS cage career was cut short by a broken foot, was runner-up scorer on the season with 329 points—a 14.9 game average. He was in 22 of the 33 games.

Terry Scott was the runner-up in district scoring with 92 points, even though he missed two games. He was also third for the season with 318 points, and a 10.6 average.

The Whitefaces set four individual and four team records for HHS players in 4-4A play. Gary Hicks, who came on strong in district play, set a rebound mark of 83 and tied with Vander Zee on field-goal accuracy as each hit 54.3 per cent of their shots.

Mike Mayberry set an "assist" record of 65 for the 10 games, while James Harris had 41 "steals" to set a record in that department.

As a team in district play, the Herd set records for an offensive average of 62.7 points a game, and a defensive mark of 48.5 points a game. The team also had shooting marks of 48.4 per cent from the field and 68.7 per cent from the free-throw line.

In other individual highs for the season, Scott was the top free-throw shooter (80 per cent); Harris was the most accurate from the field (53 per cent); Kitchens led in assists (134); Harris had the most steals (102); and Vander Zee led in rebounding (310).

David Duvall was runner-up in rebounding on the season with a total of 263, and he was also runner-up on percentage shooting from the field, as well as the free-throw line.

For the season, the Herd averaged 66 points a game and limited the opposition to a 53.3 average.

Tracksters At Bulldog Relays

The Hereford Whiteface track team entered its first meet of the season Saturday at Plainview, where eight teams were scheduled to participate in the annual Bulldog Relays.

Due to the new early press schedule of The Brand, results of the meet were not available for this issue.

Coach Don Cumpton planned to take 38 boys to the first meet, which also had a junior varsity division. All the District 4-A-AAAA schools were in the meet except Monterey. The schools entered: Hereford, Plainview, Pampa, Borger, Coronado, Lubbock High, Estacado and Dunbar.

The track team will travel to Pampa next Saturday for the Top of Texas Relays.

Family mistakenly eats marijuana as spinach

A Croxton, England, family often used to eat leaves from 10 plants grown in the back garden from seeds sent to them from Jamaica thinking they were "some kind of spinach."

They found out different when police arrested the father, Cecil Samuels, for unlawfully growing marijuana. He was acquitted, but said, "This has really shocked me. My wife cooked the leaves all the time."

"SNOW" . . . . .

Moderate damage resulted when Juanita Myers, a Texico N.M. schoolteacher, was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision, due to icy roads. She was driving a 1970 Oldsmobile. The truck tractor was owned by David Carlisle Trucking of Tullia. A citation was issued by DPS officials for driving at an unsafe speed. No serious injuries were sustained in the mishap.

Trap Shoot Set Today

There will be a practice trap shoot today at the Hereford Airport and area Shooters are encouraged to attend.

The shoot will start at 1 p.m. and shells will be available.

More Honors May Come To Athletes

Both football and basketball seasons are now history at Hereford High for 1972-73, with the district crown just escaping the grasp of Whiteface teams. Loyal Herd backers are hoping, however, that two of their standout athletes will have additional honors coming their way this summer.

Keith Kitchens and Winston

Short were recently nominated as candidates for all-star games to be played at the Texas High School Coaches Association clinic in August. A state selection committee will soon reveal the names of the players selected for the North and South football and basketball teams.

Kitchens, an all-around athlete, was nominated for the North basketball stars, and Short was nominated for the grid team. Short has signed a letter of intent to play football at West Texas State University, while Kitchens has been sought in both football and basketball by colleges all around the southwest and other areas of the country. Kitchens has made no decision, but is reported leaning toward basketball in college.

Both players have received numerous honors during their high school careers. Kitchens was "Player of the Year" in 4-4A last year, after being named "sophomore of the year" in basketball in 1971. He was also "player of the year" in football the past two seasons as an all-district performer. He was named on the All South Plains grid team two years and, the past season, was named quarterback on the Panhandle Plains Super Team. "Texas Football" also named him as third team all-state the past season. Kitchens was also a regional qualifier in track last year.

Short is a three-year letterman in football and all-district at All South Plains for two years. He was selected as a second team all-state linebacker his junior year. Ironically, both athletes sustained a broken foot this season—Short during the grid season and Kitchens during the basketball season.

Risk of being victim of crime up 74%

The risk of becoming a victim of a serious crime has increased 74 per cent since 1966. The rate of violent crimes in 1971 was 393 victims per 100,000 inhabitants, up 9 per cent, while property crimes had a rate of 2,514 offenses per 100,000 inhabitants, an increase of 5 per cent over 1970.

Tussock moth threatens Pacific northwest

A new infestation of Douglas-Fir tussock moth, which has mushroomed from 2,000 acres a year ago to some 200,000 acres in eastern Oregon and Washington today, is posing a grave threat to Pacific northwest forests.

In the larval stage the tussock moth feeds on the foliage of fir trees causing severe damage or death. DDT, which has been used effectively in the past is no longer available to fight the pest.

$25,000 Saxon ring unearthed in Dover

A large gold Saxon ring set with a red garnet, valued at more than $25,000, was unearthed recently by archaeologists working in Dover, England. It has been dated back to the 5th Century.

Pet lovers declare war on dog farms

Animal welfare associations and individual dog lovers are banding together to wipe out "puppy farms" that are springing up throughout the United States to meet the huge demand for pure-bred dogs.

The American Dog Owners Association reports scores of instances where puppies are confined in cramped, filthy quarters, shipped in filthy vegetable crates and sold with false pedigrees.

Club Speaker

Bill McKinney, professional football player with the Chicago Bears, was guest speaker for a monthly meeting of the Hereford adult chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Thursday at the Civic Club Center.

McKinney, former West Texas State gridder, gave his personal testimony at the breakfast meeting. He emphasized that "Christians can live their testimonies in any profession or walk of life."

Earl Stagner, chapter president, presided at the meeting. Coach Fred Upshaw reported on tentative plans for an FCA-sponsored golf tourney here this spring. He is hoping to secure a number of pro golfers for this year's tourney.

Winston Short, huddle leader, attended the meeting to give a report on the high school chapter's activities.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

IN SOME BRIEF ENCOUNTERS this week I've gleaned bits of news but didn't have time to inquire into the details of each case. You may know more about these things than I do:

Jo Ann Lane says La Madre Mia Club got tired of putting off meetings because weather was bad, only to run into worse weather, so members went on through the snow Thursday night. But she admits they spent a good deal of time envying Ruth Black, a member who was absent on a trip to sunny Hawaii.

Ruth Bartlett got back recently from a should-be sunny spot, in Texas yet, the Rio Grande Valley. The Bartletts spent quite a while down in that winter resort area, but according to report it had a good deal of winter this year, too.

ROBERTA CAVINESS was talking at the CowBelles' luncheon about experiences in San Francisco during the Chinese New Year celebration in that city. I suppose she meant this year, but I missed out on the first part of her interesting story.

Bunny Watts is happily telling whoever she meets that son David is at home after a period of military service in Germany, but has spent about half of his time in the states visiting friends in Mississippi. But his mother doesn't mind that; he's back home!

Helen and Buck Parsons were having dinner with the L.B. Lookingbills at a cafe Friday, and said their farm sale was over but there are details to complete before they move into Hereford from their place northeast of town.

'IT'S PLEDGE TIME on college campuses and Hereford students are among the pledges of course. Theresa Vines, a sophomore at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, is a Tri Phi Pledge, while Karen Scott, freshman in another Abilene school, McMurry College, is pledging Gamma Sigma.

Mike Gilbert, son of the William Gilberts, 127 Live Oak, has been accepted in Alpha Chi national honor society at West Texas State. Requirements are at least junior standing and a class rank in the top 10 per cent.

Mike, majoring in English and speech education, is already a member of Sigma Tau Delta, English honor society. He is a 1970 graduate of Hereford High and is married to the former Deana Townsend.

MRS. B.H. BALDWIN wants friends of her grandson, Bob Dean, a Baylor University student, to know that he has been elected state president of the Baptist Student Union of Texas for 1973.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Dean of Dallas, he has visited in the Baldwin home frequently, and as a child spent vacations here in the summer.

He is a ministerial student at Baylor and has done summer mission work.

BIG WINNERS—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sevier of 1023 South Main recently returned from Monty Hall's "Let's Make A Deal" show in Hollywood with a washer and dryer pair to show for their efforts. The couple appeared on the program Dec. 27. Their signs, made by HHS students, attracted the MC's attention, they said.

CCA Season Ending, Changes Approved

Just before the final program of Hereford Community Concert Association's 1972-73 season, directors in a meeting this week made some policy changes for next season, selected "hold" attractions and set the annual membership drive for the week beginning next Sept. 10.

Thompson, Feb. 23. Mrs. Mary L. Tarango, Roy Hargis, Donald Sigle, Carlos Calvert, Becky Hardin, Mrs. Austin C. Rose, Feb. 22.

Cecil Rockewell, Jake Moore, Merrifae Rusk, Mrs. Amerlia Chavez, Mrs. Albert Farris, Edna A. Mathes, Clarence Wood, Feb. 21.

Patricia Walker, Mrs. Dyal Garner, Feb. 20.

Appearance of the Lee Evans Trio the evening of March 5 in the high school auditorium will close the current year for Association members. Evans is a pianist who with the support of bass and percussion plays popular classic music and standard pop selections.

The Evans style is good pop music with recognizable melodies and compelling rhythmic beat, no flimsy tricks but a new treatment of familiar tunes. Evans has featured billing on a TV spectacular, The Gershwin Years, which starred Ethel Merman and Frank Sinatra, and he has also appeared other TV shows. Concert tours of the trip have also gained aim recognition over the nation.

Tentative selection of next season's "holds" are being confirmed with the artists' management, and the attractions will be announced as soon as this confirmation is received, Hazen Woods, Hereford CCA president, said Friday.

In a change of policy, the directors voted to offer student and family memberships next season at reduced prices.

Student memberships will be available to bonafied full-time students on elementary, secondary or college level, Woods said.

Family memberships will be sold for the price of two adult and two student memberships, and apply to any number of children through high school age, living in the home.

Foremost Protection Guarantee: Your Foremost tire protection guarantee covers all Foremost passenger tires (except special application tires with separate guarantees) against all road hazard or defect failures. You are protected for the entire stated months of guarantee. If your tire fails during the guarantee period, return it to us and we will, at our option, repair your tire, or make an allowance based on the original purchase price, excluding applicable Federal Excise Tax, toward the purchase of a new tire. We will allow 100% of the original purchase price (excluding applicable Federal Excise Tax, during the 100% allowance period. Thereafter, we will allow 50% or 25% of the original purchase price, excluding applicable Federal Excise Tax, toward the purchase of a new tire (see chart below) Federal Excise Tax adjustment allowance will be made on the basis of the percent of the original tread remaining.

Here's how your guarantee works:

Entire guarantee period . . . . .	40 months
100% allowance period . . . . .	1-15 months
50% allowance period . . . . .	17-27 months
25% allowance period . . . . .	28-40 months

TreadLife Protection: We build into every Foremost tire same traction indicators. They signal when your tire should be replaced. If your tire wears out (except for incorrect alignment) we will make an allowance based on the purchase of a new tire. We will allow 1/3 during the first half or 1/4 during the second half of the stated months of guarantee. Federal Excise Tax adjustment allowance will be made on the basis of the percent of the original tread remaining. This guarantee is not transferable. It is only for private passenger cars or passenger station wagons.

A BETTER WAY TO CLEAN CARPETS? OF COURSE THERE IS... Yes, for years "scrubwomen" used scrub brush and soap. Her replacement, so called "shampoo" machines, use motor driven scrub brush and shampoo, both only "surface cleaners", but didn't remove dirt from deep in carpet fibres. Brushes caused extra wear, matted carpet pile, changed texture, and left sub-surface dirt in the carpet. Carpet was only half clean. Call for a free estimate today! 364-3578

Farmcast A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News  Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture John C. White, Commissioner

For several years, the human population and the cattle and calf population in Texas were at about equal levels. But as of January 1, that has all changed. The inventory of all cattle and calves in Texas is now 15,350,000 head, while the human population is around 12,000,000. The 15,350,000 cattle and calves represents a 14 per cent increase over a year ago levels. And as numbers went up, so did the value. The inventory value of all cattle and calves on Texas Farms and ranches is $3.5 billion; this is 42 per cent higher than a year ago. Beef cow numbers at 5,320,000 head are up 16 per cent; milk cows at 360,000 are up one per cent; and beef replacement heifers at 1,043,000 are up 21 per cent. The calf crop in Texas totaled 5,444,000; this is a three per cent increase. Nationwide, the number of cattle and calves is up four per cent from the previous record. The nation has 121,990,000 cattle and calves. "Texas continues to be the leading state in the nation in totals of cattle and calves," Texas agriculture Commissioner John C. White said. Auction receipts for cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and goats in Texas are below year-ago levels, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. During this past year, 181 livestock auctions inspected by the Texas Animal Health Commission reports a six per cent drop in calf and cattle receipts. Sheep receipts were down 11 per cent; goat receipts were 26 per cent below the previous year. Hogs receipts were down 19 per cent. Drylot sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 90,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter as of February 1. This is the same as the number on feed a month earlier but three per cent below the number on feed a year ago. Current intentions to market are: 45,000 in February; 35,000 in March; and 10,000 in April. Only three commodities are above effective parity in Texas. They are oats, calves and sheep. All feed grains except grain sorghum showed advanced during the recent month. Wheat averaged $2.40 per bushel, up nine cents; corn averaged $1.05 per bushel, up four cents; and grain sorghum averaged $2.75 down four cents. Hogs averaged $30.40 per hundredweight, beef cattle averaged $37.20; calves averaged $52.10, sheep averaged $13.50, and lambs averaged $34.80. Eggs were up two cents from the previous month averaged 52 cents per dozen. Milk averaged $7.75 per hundred pounds, down a nickel from the previous month. Cotton declined during the past month. It now averaged 20 cents per pound, which is down 1.2 cents per pound.

Veteran's Affairs Thousands of veterans and widows of veterans were recently dealt a financial blow through the reduction of their Veterans Administration disability and death pension payments. Benny Womble, local Veterans Service Officer for Deaf Smith County, states that his office has received numerous inquiries concerning these reductions. Many people contacted his office after receiving a letter advising them of the reduction in benefits, while others became aware of the situation when they received their January 1973 checks, and found them to be for lesser amounts than for previous months. All such decreases were effective Jan. 1, 1973. The local service officer advises that the reductions were the result of a 20 per cent increase in Social Security benefits effective Sept. 1, 1972. Since the Congress adjourned in October without enacting any legislation which would change the annual VA income limitations, the reductions in 1973 payments were necessary. Social Security benefit payments are counted as income, less a 10 per cent deduction. The Congress is again in session, and consideration is being given to legislation which would help in restoring the lost pension benefits to many veterans and widows. The Veterans Service Office will have information concerning any such legislation which may be passed by the Congress during the present Session.

Green Arrives At Nellis AFB

U.S. Air Force Technical Sergeant John L. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Green, Hereford, has arrived for duty at Nellis AFB, Nev.

Sergeant Green, a weapons maintenance specialist, is assigned to a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides air support for U.S. ground forces. He previously served at Francis E. Warren AFB, Wyo.

The sergeant, who has served a tour of duty in Vietnam and 13 months in the Republic of Korea, is a 1958 graduate of Hereford High School.

He and his wife, the former Helen M. Reynolds, have two children, Linn and Kerry.

Boy Scout Pack 51 Has Banquet

One hundred sixty people attended Boy Scout Pack 51 Blue and Gold banquet Tuesday evening at St. Anthony's school auditorium.

The Cub Scouts of Pack 51, which includes Cubs and Webelos, are sponsored by St. Anthony's Church. Each den made its own table decorations.

Webelos are boys who are ten years old and take this step before entering the Boy Scout program.

There are eight adult leaders and the institutional representative from St. Anthony's is Kenneth Walter-scheid.

Cub Master Forrest Ricketts and assistant Cub Master Bobby Byers presented awards to 45 boys at the banquet.

TO MARRY SOON—Mr. and Mrs. Orien Baker of 138 Ranger announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Kay to Lauren Felte of Severance, Colo. Felte is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felte also of Severance. The wedding is planned for April 21 at Greeley, Colo. Both Miss Baker and Felte are graduates of Windsor High School of Windsor, Colo. Felte is presently farming in Severance, where the couple will reside after the marriage.

Jaycee-Ettes Go To Area Cities

Mrs. John Bunch and Mrs. Harvey Milton, members of the Hereford Jaycee-Ettes attended an area Sit-In-Hen Wednesday evening in Pampa.

Monday the club traveled to Friona to give the Friona Jaycee-Ettes an orientation. Those helping with this program were Mmes. Bill Johnson, chairman, Steve Carrol, Robert Brown, Harvey Milton, Dan Warrick, Bill Bankston, Bill McKinney, Tom Rambo and Jerry Tisdale.

Masonic Night Is Scheduled In OES

A dinner honoring men of the Masonic Lodge and their wives, an annual event in the Hereford Eastern Star Chapter, is scheduled at 7 P.M. Tuesday in the Masonic Hall. Mrs. Arthur Clark, OES worthy matron, announces that all Masons in the county and their wives are invited.

Mrs. Tom Draper is chairman of the program for that evening, with Mrs. Marvin Coffey assisting. On the food committee are Mmes. Bill Hutson, J.B. Noland and Mack Noland.

IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN HERE—Arlington, between Dallas and Fort Worth, has an inland "sea" containing more than 2.5 million gallons of salt water.

It's a necessity of life for Seven Seas, a 35-acre, $9 million amusement enterprise which is said to be the largest, most expensive land-locked oceanarium in the world.

Using powdered salt, water and other chemicals, the park manufactures the millions of gallons of briny water necessary to recreate likenesses of the Mediterranean, the Indian Ocean and the Sea of Cortez. These are the "stages" where its trained whales, dolphins and other sea denizens entertain visitors daily.

Summerfield 4-H'ers Get Castro Honors

Three Summerfield 4-H'ers received honors at the recent Castro County project show.

Kelly Foster received first place honors in the 12-year-old cooking and sewing division and Stephanie Foster placed first in the 11-year-old group. Barbara Foster, was presented third place award in the 9 to 10-year-old age group in baking.

Eight Summerfield 4-H'ers entered the show.

Castro County Agent Speaks

Charles Hottel, Castro County Extension Agent, presented the program at the recent Summerfield 4-H Club meeting.

Hottel spoke on the Castro County Livestock show held last week in Dimmitt and on the different aspects of 4-H.

Beverly Edwards, club secretary-treasurer, presented a demonstration on the correct ways to measure food-stuffs. A demonstration on the four basic food groups and the importance of a balanced diet was presented by Mike Harris, a club member.

Hosts, Randy Harris and Allen McRight, served refreshments to the 18 members and seven guests present.

Animals Shown In Stock Show

Some 10 members of the Hereford Future Farmers of America chapter participated in the recent San Antonio Stock Show, bringing home ribbons in several divisions.

Don Ferris exhibited the second place Duroc, Curtis Smith the third place Hampshire, Bill Caraway the fifth place Cross, Gerold Marnell the fifth place Hampshire and Ronald Johnson the 11th place Duroc.

Also, Jim McNey had the 11th place Cross and Jess Robinson had the 12th place Cross.

There were an average of 90 animals in each breed of barrows, according to information from the FFA chapter.

Local FFA Boys Observe Week

Members of the Hereford chapter of Future Farmers of America will close out their observance of National FFA Week today by attending church.

The group here is one of over 432,000 other FFA members in the United States who celebrated the national week from Feb. 17 through Saturday.

Throughout the week, the state's 1,100 chapters carried on activities in support of the theme, "FFA Unites Youth With Opportunities."

Rocky Andrews, president of the local chapter, said the chapter also has spent some time encouraging junior high boys to enroll in vocational agriculture.

National FFA Week always coincides with George Washington's birthday in observance of his leadership in promoting scientific farming practices. Washington is considered the patron saint of the FFA and has come to symbolize the FFA treasurer.

Organized in 1928, the FFA promotes leadership, cooperation and citizenship among high school vocational agriculture students. The FFA Foundation awards program provides chapter, state and national recognition for supervised programs of agricultural production, marketing, processing and service.

Officers of the local chapter are Andrews, president; Danny Paetzold, vice president; Steve Easley, secretary; David Hutchins, reporter; Jay Boren, Sentinel; Jim McNey, student advisor; and Benny Kreigshauser, treasurer. The chapter sweetheart is Cathy McCathern.

'Horse Sense' Confab Is Set

The second Panhandle "Horse Sense" Conference for persons of all ages will be held March 9-10 at the Bill Cody Arena of the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo.

The event is sponsored by the West Texas State University School of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Larry Kasten, head of the WTSU horsemanship program, said the conference will include demonstrations and lectures. "There will be demonstrations on training the young horse, reschooling the broke horse, basic western horsemanship as applied to performance events, training and showing of cutting, roping, reining, pleasure and barrel horses" he said.

lectures on nutrition, reproduction and rope and leather crafts," he added.

Registration will be from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. March 9 and 8-9 a.m. March 10 at the Bill Cody Arena.

Fees are $3 for adults and $1 for persons 9 to 19 years of age, Kasten said. Children under 9 will be admitted free, he said.

Carnival Fun... Plenty To Eat...
 ... Sale Bargains... Church Benefit

COME ONE, COME ALL! is the message of posters inviting the public to the annual carnival, country store and auction sale which members of St. Anthony's Catholic Church will stage from 12:30 to 6:30 p.m. Sunday, March 4, at the parish school. Mrs. Greg Banner and Greg Brockman show some of the posters they and other committee members made.

BOOTH DECORATIONS are inspected by members of the committee in charge of the varied carnival booths—dart throw, wheel of fortune, fish pond and many others. From left seated are Mrs.

FOOD PREPARATION is an important part of getting ready for the carnival; Mrs. Mike Betzen stirs a pot of chili in the church kitchen but turns to look at a menu poster shown her by Mrs. Joe Artho. Tacos, chili, hamburgers, French fries, soft drinks, coffee and ice cream bars will be on sale in the refreshment booths.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN for this year's carnival sale is Allan Brockman, right above, checking committee lists with Larry Walterscheid, co-chairman.

A HAUNTED HOUSE inhabited with characters like these, will supply part of the entertainment and will be operated by the Catholic Youth Organization. Fun for all ages, adults and children alike, is planned with such events as a pony ride, bingo games, movie show and country store.

The Sunday Brand

(Section Two)

Hereford, Texas, Sunday, February 25, 1973

COUNTRY STORE SHELVES will be stocked with homemade baked and canned foods, craft items and needlework done by women of the church. The

Rebekah Benefit Committee Named

A committee to plan a fund-raising project for the Hereford Rebekah Lodge, possibly a Western Jamboree, was named at the meeting this week in the IOOF Hall. Members are Mmes. R.E. Curtisinger, A.N. Hopson and P.B. Sowell.

A school of instruction was directed by Mrs. Sowell, lodge deputy, as the program. Ann Freeman, nobel grand, presided.

NEWLY CAPPED NURSES—Six students from Hereford were among the first group to receive caps in West Texas State University's school of nursing, which opened in the fall of 1971. From left they are, seated, Celia Hutcherson, Elaine Clarke and Patsy Paetzold; standing, Marilyn Justice, Patricia Herr and Constance Walker. There were 86 in the class, including 15 men and several registered nurses.

Junior Festival Of Music Slated

More than 125 music students from Hereford, Dawn, Friona and Bovina will be here Friday to take part in the annual Junior Music Festival sponsored by Federated Music Clubs of the area. Last year's registration passed the 130 mark.

Beginning at 8:45 a.m., the young piano and vocal pupils will perform before judges in various rooms at First Baptist Church. They do not compete for places, but each one is rated individually.

Mrs. Carl Wimberley of the Dawn Music Club is general chairman. Assisting her will be Mmes. Wesley Fisher, Paul Lyons and W.T. Carmichael of the Music Study Club here; Mrs. Tony Hoffman of Hereford, and Mmes. R.T. Stewart, Robert Strain, Carl Klueskens and Alfred Smith of Dawn Music Club.

Mrs. A. J. Schroeter is arranging for a luncheon at which judges will be entertained. Mrs. Allen Cansler is and is in charge of publicity for that production.

Mrs. Goodenow studied at North Texas State University, with Silvio Scionti, and in the master class of Dr. Edwin Hughes in New York City. She is an Amarillo piano teacher and has previously judged in the festival here.

Also a judge in past years, Mrs. Thurman has given private lessons in piano the past 25 years in Amarillo. She is a member and past president of MacDowell Music Club and the Amarillo Music Teachers Association.

A piano teacher in Canyon many years, Mrs. Harper did specialized piano study at the American Conservatory in Chicago and with Marian Keighley Snowden of London, and has degrees from the University of Arizona and the University of Chicago.

She traveled several years as accompanist for her father, Rollin Pease, a concert and oratorio singer. Mrs. Harper is known in the Panhandle as the founder of the musical drama, Texas, in Palo Duro State Park.

Cherri Packard Feted At Shower

A compliment to Cherri Packard, whose marriage to Gordon Kerr is to take place March 9, was a late afternoon tea and shower Friday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co.

The bride-elect received guests with her mother, Mrs. Ralph Packard, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. John Kerr. One of the hostess party, Mrs. Ira Scott, was at the door.

Mrs. Brian Baum and Mrs. Robert Baum served refreshments from a table covered with orchid net over satin. The floral decoration was of orchid daisies arranged with lighted tapers, also in that color which will be used in the wedding setting at First United Methodist Church.

Hostesses include Mmes. Pat Robinson, G.W. Duncan, Roger Brumley, J.W. White Jr., Bill Ott, Edwin Morrison Jr., Paul Corbett, Elmer Fryar, M.W. Sumner, Ed Bezner, Grady Parsons, Dan Gorman, Art Lewis, Bill Kendal, and Tom Draper.

By the Garden Gate

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

One evening while I was in Virginia we (The Five Manjeots) were driving to one of the family's favorite eating places for dinner. As we drove along there was interesting conversation related to various things.

During a period of silence we passed through an area, which had highway markers, SWAMP. I became interested and noted the various kinds of vegetation, trees, birds, and other things which I could see as the car passed swiftly by.

After a while, someone asked, what is a swamp? This opened a period of discussion. Each of us had our own ideas as to what constituted a swamp. In summing it all up we concluded that swamp is a tract or region of lowland saturated with water, which results in a wet boggy place where the water table is at ground level.

In some instances the same could be called a wilderness. Following the discussion we all agreed that such land should be reclaimed and put to some good use for mankind.

I explained that garden club, federated clubs and other organizations are all very interested in just such a program.

That the wilderness law recognizes that wildernesses are for the use of people.

There is a definition of conservation which recognizes the need to reserve resources for the purpose of future use in time of need.

There is also the definition of this word by well-meaning recreationists and commercial developers, who in the name of recreation would divide and break up such areas and claim them for recreation purposes or educational purposes.

Conservationists and those interested in ecology and pollution are all seeking to better such areas and use them to bless mankind.

The next morning when I picked up the morning papers, one of the first articles that caught my eye (after I had read the headlines) was one which had the following headline: Swampland gift to conservancy is lauded.

The gift is one of the largest wild areas in the east. It was given by Union Camp Corporation, to the Nature Conservancy. The acreage of the gift was 49,097 acres of the Great Dismal Swamp, one of the last natural wilderness areas in the east, 250,000 acres of the land is located in the southeastern part of the state of Virginia.

The reaction to this gift was varied, yet sincere and it is predicted that much good will be contributed through it. The Virginia house of representatives immediately introduced legislation to protect the swamp in Virginia, to authorize a Great Dismal Swamp monument and an order to preserve the area.

The reaction from the Washington press and individuals was that this was a great step and that it would benefit mankind for now and future generations. The national wildlife department and nature conservancy, were delighted and felt it was a very generous gift. (Is valued at $12.6 million dollars)

Women's clubs were greatly pleased, and they stated that they felt that such a gift was an answer to many of their hopes and desires, and that it would be far reaching in its contributions to people. All agreed that it should be restored and kept as natural as possible.

Sometime back, a large company's geologist (who had retired) gave land for a new national park in Texas. It is known as a wilderness treasure.

Contains 5,632 acres, and McKittrick Canyon, which is rated as a geological paradise.

It is considered by many people as one of the most beautiful spots in Texas. It is the Guadalupe Mountains National Park, and was given by Mr. Pratt (85 years old) of Tucson, Ariz.

We of this area live near a very beautiful wildlife refuge known as Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge. It is an important resting and wintering area for many of the central flyway's migratory waterfowl. It is located on the high plains of the Texas Panhandle and has as its main feature Buffalo Lake, a man-made lake of approximately 2,000 acres.

Habitat types found on the 7,677 acre refuge include the open lake, marginal marshes, grass, wooded shoreline, upland prairie, and canyon brakes—each attracting its particular species of birds and other animals.

The list of birds which use this area at various times of the year depending on the season, contains 230 species. Among these are some of the birds which are rare and are protected as much as is possible, nationally. Many of the other birds nest in the refuge.

The list of the various birds that use this refuge is far too long to list, but a visit to the lake and refuge will be one of interest, and should prove to be educational. Children should be exposed to this national wildlife refuge, and taught items relative to the great number of birds which make this their home from time to time.

Many of my garden friends go to the wildlife refuge several times a year and study the birds and learn their names and other pertinent things relative to them. If you haven't made a trip to the wildlife refuge, I challenge you to do so.

The reason I have written on this line of thought is that I am a member of the Wilderness Society, and Wildlife Society and am greatly interested in conservation, ecology, and pollution.

All of these are vitally connected to our existence. We all should become interested and support the work of each agency. No one can in any measure evaluate the contributions of nature to mankind. Think on this....

THIS AND THAT.... Bare root roses are now appearing on the markets. In selecting purchases, use care in the varieties chosen. Make purchases as soon as they appear and in this way you will be selecting fresh materials. This is very important.

If canes show dryness or damage, do not buy them. Exercise care and knowledge is planting the bare root roses, as well as bare root trees and shrubs.

Much depends on the manner in which they are planted. Select a place where plants will not have wet roots... should have good drainage. Proper preparation of soil and placement of the roots is vital to the growth and production of the plant.

Do not become an eager beaver relative to garden purchases and gardening. Grooming and soil preparations can be done, but see, plants and bulbs will respond much better when the soil is warm and the correct time for planting is observed.

Better to be a little slower and wait, because often harm comes to early pruned trees, roses, etc. Early growth can be killed by late frost and freezes. I too become eager to get outside and

Instead on pretty days I remove the tumbleweeds that have blown in on the garden and driveways, look for new crocus blossoms and do a bit of dreaming, trying to visualize what a change in colors will do to the landscape and how certain shrubs or trees should best be used in the landscape plan.

Do a bit of inside gardening, groom the potted plants, enjoy their beauty, create a terrarium or toss a green salad. My granddaughter Beverly taught me many kitchen aids in cooking while she and I were on K.P. when Rosemary was ill. I had never really taken the idea of tossed salad seriously, but she had.

First she takes a large plastic mixing bowl with cover, assembles the ingredients. Tears the lettuce apart and places this in the bowl, then grates, chips, slices and cubes the other vegetables she is to use. (This is done according to favorites of the family, carrots, onions, radishes, celery, tomatoes, etc.)

When vegetables are properly prepared she adds the salad dressing, places the top on the bowl, burps it, and then literally tosses the ingredients in the covered bowl.

If an oil and vinegar based dressing has been used she removes the top and adds crisp croutons and lightly folds them into the mixed vegetables, this is to take up the extra oil or vinegar, and to make it more attractive and palatable. Yum, Yum-Good!

Another idea we used was, when baking chocolate cookies or cake and the recipe calls for greasing and flouring the pan, add a little unsweetened cocoa to the flour. The finished cake or cookies won't have a floury look, and it also adds to the flavor.

In preparing Brazil nuts (often called negro-toes) which are difficult to get out of the shells whole, this can be resolved by placing the nuts in the deep freezer, and when needed for slivers or for other cookery, remove nuts from freezer and crack the shells. The nut morsel will come out whole, if you don't hit the nut too hard and crush it.

THANKS: To all who have called, sent notes or expressed to me via other means appreciation of Glad's Garden Gate, I am most grateful. Many times you give me inspiration and cause me to study harder and be a better observer of nature. Sincerest wishes for happy gardening and may it prove a blessing rather than a chore.

Bullish on central air conditioning? Consider investing just a little more in a long-term, blue chip Gas air conditioning system.

Only a Gas air conditioning system pays you regular dividends for many happy years. That's because the heart of a Gas cooling system is a simple gas burner, rather than an electric, mechanical compressor. A clean-burning gas flame doesn't wear out—so there's less to go wrong, fewer maintenance calls, a longer life with no loss of original cooling capacity. And because natural gas is the prime energy source, you'll also save money on operating cost.

Call one of our air conditioning specialists this week—before the summer market becomes really active. He'll make a free, no obligation, survey of your home and give you a quotation on the cool investment.

The Right To Die

An individual's right to choose death by rejecting medical therapy and a patient's right to obtain a full explanation in clear, concise terms of his medical condition were affirmed the other day by the American Hospital Association in a 12-point "Bill of Rights."

The hospital group approved this statement after a three-year study, drawing upon the opinions of a lot of people, including ministers, doctors, patients and families confronted with the problem of a member faced with death.

The "Bill of Rights" also affirms the patient's right to considerate and respectful care, the privacy of a patient's own medical care program, confidentiality of his medical records, a clear understanding of which doctor is in charge of his overall care, the options that exist for treatment of his condition and if experimentation is involved in such therapies.

There is a need for more effective communication between doctors and patients, particularly in this age when much medical treatment takes place in large hospitals staffed with busy doctors who can devote only a little precious time to each patient.

The courts have ruled that an adult patient with no prognosis for recovery has a right to die without medical therapy, but as a general rule, the hospital and its doctors do everything they can to prolong life.

Medical science, with its medicines and its machinery, can prolong life in a terminally ill patient, sometimes beyond what the patient would like and what the family would like. Yet it is hard to give the word to let death come.

—The Perryton Herald

Who Will Be Hurt?

Not long ago, residents of the Los Angeles area were shocked to hear that they faced drastic gasoline rationing to meet 1975 air pollution limits. Now it appears they aren't the only ones.

The federal Environmental Protection Agency has estimated that some kind of restriction on automobile usage will be necessary in 27 other major metropolitan areas as well. And rationing is among the restrictions being considered.

For example, an official of the Virginia Air Pollution Control Board was recently quoted as saying that gasoline rationing "appears to be the most equitable" means of reducing air pollution in the Washington, D.C., area, because "it would not disenfranchise the poor little guy."

Is that so? In most big-city suburbs, land decreases in value as it gets farther from the core of the city. The reason is quite simple: There is less residential land available nearer the city, and it is in greater demand by those who must commute.

As a result, homes near the city are often more costly than homes farther out. So, (with the exception of blighted inner-city areas) the "poor little guy" is more likely to live in the far suburbs than the near suburbs.

Therefore, it is precisely this "poor little guy" who is likely to be hurt badly by gasoline rationing... not only because it could make commuting to work more time-consuming and burdensome for him, but also because without the full use of his car, he would have more trouble taking advantage of the recreational and cultural attractions of the city.

Ultimately, if gasoline rationing continued for long, we could expect the value of homes in the far suburbs to decline relative to the value of homes in the near suburbs.

Is that all? By no means. What about the family with a camper? How could the gasoline ration be large enough to permit them to take weekend trips into the woods (where there is no air pollution problem), yet still small enough to prevent driving to work? What about the family with a boat? What about the family that regularly visits friends or relatives one or two hundred miles away? Gasoline is gasoline—it may be possible to control how much a person can have, but it is not practical to regulate the way he uses it once he's got it.

Is individual hardship the only consequence? No. Immediately after passage of such unwise regulations, sellers of motorcycles and small cars in the area would reap windfall profits—because everybody would want one. On the other hand, many dealers who sell big cars would probably go bankrupt. If the rationing affected enough motorists, the effects would reach all the way back to workers in the automobile industry, the steel industry, and so on. Many gasoline service stations would go broke, too—certainly they would have to lay off workers, many of whom would be forced onto public welfare.

Finally, the gasoline bootlegging business would eventually make Prohibition look like a small dry run (pardon the pun) by comparison. It's not hard to imagine people stashing their blackmarket gasoline hoard away in garages and basements, where some of it would inevitably cause fires and explosions—perhaps a greater threat to public health and safety than air pollution.

And all for what? The need for clean air standards as stringent as those established by EPA is still a subject of controversy among the experts. And the 1975 target date set by Congress in 1970 is arbitrary—it had more relation to the campaign plans of some 1972 presidential hopefuls than to anything else.

But more important is the fact that the air in our major metropolitan areas is already getting cleaner, not dirtier. Automotive air pollution has been decreasing since 1968. It will continue to decrease until 1990, even allowing for the greater number of cars on the road.

By 1990 we might begin to have a problem again. But, by 1990 we will undoubtedly have some better solutions, too.

It's time Congress realized that the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1970 have the potential to cause more hardship for many Americans than anything else Congress has ever done.

'Average' Freshman Seen Thru Profile

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—Norman, the average male college freshman this academic year, is a white Caucasian (88.4 per cent), 18 years old (71.1 per cent), born in a moderate-sized city (32.6 per cent), whose father and mother graduated from high school but did not attend college (31.4 per cent and 45.6 per cent).

Norma, the average freshman woman, is very similar to Norman, a white Caucasian (85.9 per cent), 18 (77.7 per cent), born in a moderate-sized city (34.8 per cent), of parents whose education ended with a high school diploma (fathers 28.9 per cent and mothers 41.8 per cent).

The norms for the current freshman class emerge from a study of "The American Freshman," made for the seventh consecutive year by the American Council on Education. The sample comprised 188,900 first-year students from 373 colleges and universities, both two-year and four-year institutions. Freshmen filled out a questionnaire during their first fortnight on campus.

Norman was reared a Protestant (43.3 per cent), Catholic (36.3 per cent), or Jew (4.4 per cent), but may have backslid. His religious preference now is Protestant (36.1 per cent), Catholic (30.4 per cent), or Jew (3.6 per cent). Whereas 3.7 per cent of male frosh answered "none" to the "religion reared" question, 16.1 per cent now say they have no religious preference.

Chances are that Norman's father is a businessman (30.2 per cent) presently employed full-time (90.6 per cent), and his mother works either full-time (34.6 per cent) or part-time (16.3 per cent). Their total annual income is in the $8,000-20,000 range (57.6 per cent), with the largest single grouping (17.4 per cent) in the $10,000-12,500 bracket.

Public School

Grads Predominate

Qdds are long that Norman graduated from a public high school (84.3 per cent) and nine out of ten that he got his diploma in 1972. His graduating class was sizable, numbering over 100 (83.0 per cent), between 250 and 500 (32.2 per cent), or over 500 (24.6 per cent). Only 37.1 per cent of Norman's high school classmates went on to college.

Norman was a good student in high school, ranking in the top half of this class (72.8 per cent) with an average of B-minus or better (69.8 per cent). (C and D average students became college freshmen only in 12.5 per cent of the cases, the study shows.) Chances are better than even (50.6 per cent) that Norman's college is within 50 miles of home, and only 10.0 per cent that he travelled over 500 miles to his campus.

Chances are nearly four to one that Norman applied to three or less colleges and in 46.5 per cent of the cases he applied only to the institution where he is enrolled. If he applied to three colleges, his acceptance rates were 30.7 per cent to only one, 26.3 per cent to two, and 18.4 per cent to three. In only 49.5 per cent of the cases does Norman plan to obtain a bachelor's degree at the institution he now attends, although 16.5 per cent of the cases does Norman plan to obtain a bachelor's degree at the institution he now attends, although 16.9 per cent of his fellow students aim for higher degrees on their present campus.

Norman's most important reason for selecting his college was its good academic reputation (44.9 per cent). He paid little attention to the advice of his relatives (8.2 per cent), his guidance counselor (7.2 per cent), or that most of his friends were going the same place (4.0 per cent). In high school, Norman was more likely to have been a varsity athlete (62.9 per cent) than an honor society member (20.9 per cent) or the editor of a school publication (9.9 per cent).

Only one-third are Liberals. Contrary to popular belief, most college freshmen do not regard themselves as liberals in politics (33.6 per cent). Most popular of five choices was middle-of-the-road (45.6 per cent) while about one in six male frosh (16.9 per cent) admitted to being a conservative. Among objectives "considered to be essential or very important," the top choice was to "develop a philosophy of life" (67.3 per cent) followed by "be an authority in my field" (64.8 per cent), and "raise a family" (62.2 per cent). However, marrying within five years is the goal of only 29.0 per cent of male frosh. Co-eds are a bit more anxious for the altar (39.3 per cent).

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

OPIATE OF THE MASSES?—Texas' only annual religious ceremony in which the law permits hard narcotics to be used by the worshippers took place last week in Webb County.

On February 19, Indians who are members of the Native American Church gathered at Mirando City to spend 12 hours drinking and smoking peyote—an illegal drug made from the button-like joints of the mescal cactus. The mescal buttons, called peyote, produce mescaline, a drug classified by the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics as an hallucinating agent. However, its use is legal for members of the New American Church.

Certain Indian tribes have used peyote in their religious worship for hundreds of years. When missionaries converted them to Christianity, the tribesmen accepted the new faith only with the provision that they could continue to use the powerful drug as a "sacrament." Finally, the Federal government gave in. By law, members of the Native American Church won't be prosecuted for using the drug if they limit their intake of peyote to religious rites and if they purchase it only from dealers supervised by Uncle Sam.

Mescal cactus grows in profusion in Webb and Jim Hogg Counties, making them the center of this unusual Christian cult. Members of the New American Church live in several states, however, so the government permits peyote to be "exported" under strict controls to communicants who can't attend the annual meeting in, Mirando City.

SIGHTS RARELY SEEN—One has to look hard to see it, but there is a 40-foot-high beer bottle (made of cement) atop the Adolphus Hotel in downtown Dallas.

Adolphus Busch, the St. Louis beer baron, built the hotel almost six decades ago and he wanted it to be a tribute to the brewing industry. In addition to the skyscraping beer bottle, he also put two huge cement kegs on the roof. They can't be seen from the street, however.

Busch's preoccupation with the beer motif extended to the hotel's interior. In the French Room, just off the lobby at street level, blossoms of hops (from which brew is made) are carved on the marble columns and sculptured on the walls.

THE PASSING PARADE—Fewer than 80 residents remain in Boardhouse, the Blanco County village that is one of the few all-Negro communities left in Texas.

Founded in 1866 as a colony for freed slaves, Boardhouse once sprawled over 5,000 acres of farm and ranch lands. It claimed a population of 400 at the turn of the century. Today the one-room school is closed and only Mt. Horeb Baptist Church (founded in 1874) remains as the community's social center.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Dear editor:

Although science keeps on trying to automate and computerize people, human nature has a way of going on without paying too much attention to it.

For example, in arranging for the return of the Viet Nam prisoners of war (thank goodness they're getting back) the experts decided the men, limited for years to a skimpy diet of rice and thin soup, should return to normal fare very gradually and scientifically.

They should be started out on a bland diet, somebody decided, having no doubt gotten the idea out of a book written by somebody else who got it of a book, none of whom probably had ever missed a single meal, not to mention gone really hungry for long periods of time.

They had the whole routine figured out down to the last calorie, vitamin, ounces of protein, etc. So much on Monday, so much on Tuesday, etc.

Then what happened? As soon as the returning men hit the ground they demanded steaks and eggs, topped off with strawberry shortcake. They ate that and at the next meal asked for the same. They had a lot of catching up to do.

I'll tell you, there may be some people who'll let a computer tell them what to eat, but most people have found out there's no substitute for their own taste buds. I don't know how many thousands of years ago this was discovered, but it's been a good while. Letting an expert let a computer tell him what to tell you to eat is like labeling the different grasses in a pasture and telling your cows how much of each variety they should select for a balanced diet. They'd just trample the labels down and graze where their taste buds directed and come out fat if the right grasses are there.

I don't care how hard some specialists try, it's almost impossible to abolish nature.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Girl's Essay Wins DAR Contest In Sixth Grades

Le Anne Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes of 430 Ave. I., was winner among sixth graders in the American history essay contest held by Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Her essay is as follows:
ROGER SHERMAN,
A PATRIOT OF 1773

I, Roger Sherman, entered this world on April 19, 1721 at Newton, Mass. I left it July 23, 1793. In between I lead an active and interesting life.

My ancestor John Sherman left Essex, England, to settle in Massachusetts in 1636. This was the beginning of our family in Massachusetts.

I received no formal education; however, the Rev. Samuel Dunbar, who was a very educated man, helped me with my studies. I read all types of books. Especially those on theology.

I worked on the farm with my father and learned to be a cordwainer as a trade. After my father died in 1741, I moved to New Milford with my older brother. There was no way to get there, so I walked and carried my clothing and cobbler tools. I did nothing but work with my brother until 1745 when I was appointed surveyor for New Milford.

I served in this position until 1758. In this time I acquired quite a lot of land and money. During this time in my life I also served as jurymen of my city, gauger, townclerk, clerk of the church, deacon of the church, and as a school committeeman. I also served as an agent to the assembly on town matters.

I married the first time on Nov. 17, 1749. We had seven children.

In Feb. 1754, I was admitted to the Litchfield bar. In May of 1755, I was elected to the General Assembly, and appointed justice of the peace. In 1759 I was elected justice of county court. Every year from 1755-1761 I was re-elected to the legislature.

In 1756 I bought my brother out of the store and was the only owner of New Milford's first store. In 1760 my first wife died.

My children and I moved to New Haven, Conn. I opened a store and imported things for students at Yale. In 1761 I contributed heavily to the fund for the chapel at Yale.

In 1763 I remarried and we had eight children.

From 1765 until 1776 I was Treasurer of Yale. During this time I received the honorary degree of M.A.

I belonged to the conservative wing of the Revolutionary Party and as such I served in the lower and upper houses of legislature for 19 years.

In the course of my 23 years as judge of superior court I issued the warrant for the arrest of Benedict Arnold.

I became a member of the first Continental Congress in 1774. I helped draw a series of amendments to strengthen the Confederation: mainly, Congress should regulate commerce, they should levy imports, and most importantly establish a supreme court.

I presented a dual system of representation to the legislature. I wanted the election of congressmen and senators to be done by the state legislature. I also wanted the people to consent to the constitution.

In my years of service I was the only man to sign the Articles of Association in 1774, Articles of the Confederation, Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

From 1789 until my death I served in the congress and senate of the United States.

After I reached manhood I became a devout Congregationalist and served as a bishop in our church. I did not believe in men with no religion serving in the government and fought for my beliefs. I believed in integrity, devotion to public service, moral character and my own ability to do my very best for my country with what was available.

I hope I succeeded.

Award Is Due For 22nd Year

By Argen Straper

Home Demonstration Agent

THE APPRECIATION luncheon will be Monday noon at the Bull Barn. A highlight is the H.D. Woman of the Year. This award has been presented 22 years by the Hereford Brand for outstanding leadership in home demonstration clubs. Another highlight is the talk by Dr. Mina Lamb, professor of foods and nutrition. She is the authority on nutrition and a very entertaining speaker.

HIGHLIGHTS OF 1973 changes in the Tax Law—Publication 553 (10-72) is just off the press. A few copies are in the office and more have been ordered. If you call 364-3573, we'll mail you a copy.

The introduction states the publication discusses changes in the tax law due to recent legislation, rulings and administrative decisions.

It is not intended to be a comprehensive discussion of all new tax law, nor is it a thorough discussion of the changes taxpayers should be aware of when filing their 1972 returns and in tax planning for 1973.

A more complete discussion of the items covered in this publication may be found in other publications, which are available free by sending a postcard to your Internal Revenue office.

THE AGENTS ARE preparing the plans of work for 1973-74. We appreciate everyone who helps with the county extension program.

BLENDEES GO TO WORK for babies when the homemaker finds she saves money by making baby food at home. For example, four jars (almost eight ounces each) were made from a No. 2 1/2 can of sliced, water pack, peaches costing 39 cents.

So cost for each ounce of homemade baby food was about 1.3 cents. A jar of commercially prepared "baby peaches cost 15 cents for almost five ounces. So each ounce cost 3.4 cents.

Homemakers also can prepare blender baby food from the family table, using foods that don't have much salt, spices, sugar, seasonings or strong flavors.

After preparing food in the blender, one homemaker fills clean plastic ice-cube trays with blended meat and vegetable leftovers. She wraps the filled trays in airtight freezer wrap, then freezes them. At mealtime, she thaws just enough cubes for the baby's meal.

Another money-saving idea is to buy canned or frozen vegetables especially for baby food. Cook in a small amount of water until just tender. Then use the cooking water in the blender with the vegetables—so vitamins that went from vegetables into the water will be saved. Use canned or frozen fruits packed without sugar, such as a water pack.

One more advantage of blender preparation is that just the right consistency can be achieved. As a young child grows and can handle food less smooth, decrease blending speed or time. This helps the homemaker make food that meets the child's needs.

SHOPPING FOR DRAPERY fabrics takes a careful consumer. Most fabrics perform satisfactorily, but about 10 per cent don't. About half of the complaints regarding fabrics are the result of cleaning methods used.

These problems start when the consumer doesn't read labels and care information—or keep the information for easy reference. Performance depends on fiber, yarn, fabric construction, color, finish, surface design and components.

Problems related to performance include brocade drapery fabrics. Some are heat sensitive and can't be satisfactorily cleaned. Another is stretch yarn used in construction of many draperies—it can be a cleaning problem when the stitching shrinks, stretches or wrinkles.

Problems with fabric construction also include flocking. Often during dry cleaning flocking is destroyed.

Other problems involve resin-bonded prints used in curtains, draperies, bedspreads and upholstery. For these dry cleaning is not recommended. They must be washed unless the label reads "to be cleaned with petroleum-solvent." Only then is dry cleaning satisfactory.

Drapery fabrics of 100 per cent screen print, labeled "100 per cent cotton washable," create more problems when the homemaker takes them to the cleaners. Satisfaction in this case depends on the type of solvent used.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Blankenship announce the engagement of their daughter, Donnell Benefield, to Guy Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn D. Hunter of Plainview. Wedding vows will be recited on April 21 at Central Church of Christ. Miss Benefield is a 1971 graduate of Hereford High School and is presently employed at Chez Marca Coiffures in Plainview. Hunter is employed at Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., in Plainview, and attended Texas Tech two years. He is a 1970 graduate of Plainview High School.

Old Glass, China Subject Of Talk

The Calliopean Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Emmett Milburn Thursday with Mrs. Aaron Hutto giving the program on Antiques. Mrs. Hutto buys antiques for dealers professionally.

Many of the members brought antique pieces from their homes and Mrs. Hutto brought some cut glass, china and porcelain from her stock. She showed and explained the points to consider in evaluating good wares.

Mrs. Hutto also displayed carnival glass, Heisey glass, Wedgwood, Russian cut glass, Westward Ho, and Royal Bayreuth tapestry.

The Royal Bayreuth tapestry is very rare and valuable china which had tapestry plastered on the wet pottery before firing. The tapestry was then stripped off leaving the print on the china. No one has ever been able to duplicate this process.

Mrs. Hutto brought out the fact that the years 1860 to 1890 are considered the royal age of glass. Because of the health hazard of breathing particles of glass, a U.S. law was passed against the making of cut glass in 1954. The Hawkes glass was the last cut glass manufactured in the U.S.

Mrs. Hutto said, "Cut glass should be washed in tepid water with a castille soap and a little bluing to maintain its luster and color."

During the business meeting, Mrs. C.J. Crump asked for volunteers to work collecting for the Cancer Society Fund. Members also signed up to work in the museum during the month of May. An announcement was made that an art display by Dr. Caballero of the WTSU art department will be in the museum the week of March 4.

It was also announced that the next meeting, March 8, will be guest night in the home of Mrs. D.W. Palmer, with Ernest Langley as guest speaker.

Members present were Mmes. E.W. Dettman, Alton Fraser, Dale Furr, J.T. Gilbreath, John Gilliland, Gerry Grubbs, Mary Gibson, Sue James, Tom Kendrick, Ansel McDowell, D.C. McWhorter, M.W. Nobles, D.W. Palmer, Gene Parsley, George Warner and Hazen Woods.

CIRCUS THEME AT DINNER—A big-top setting was arranged for the annual dinner for youth department of Temple Baptist Church recently, with colored streamers arching over the ceiling in tent effect, bright cutouts of circus animals and clowns on the walls and marking places at the tables. Some of the diners are glimpsed in top photos. Final touches on decorations are made, lower photo, by Mrs. Albert Ricketts and Mrs. Floyd Eubanks of the arrangements committee.

New Pastor And Family Serve Nazarene Church

A young minister, the Rev. Max Jetton, and his family now occupy the parsonage of First Church of the Nazarene at 233 Cherokee, and his work as pastor is well under way.

The Jettons came to Hereford from Austin after four years there. He succeeded the Rev. Bill Ray, who recently moved to Whitney to assume pastorate of a Nazarene Church.

Two children are included in the new pastor's family, a four-month-old daughter, Ashley, and a son, Todd, who has just celebrated his fifth birthday.

Both the minister and his wife, the former Becky McKenzie, attended the church's college at Bethany, Okla. She is a native of Georgia and he of Arkansas. While he was a student at Bethany, Jetton served the Nazarene Church at Tuttle, Okla., as pastor.

The enthusiastic couple are looking forward to their work here, and expect it to call for extra activity since the Hereford congregation already has plans for adding an educational annex to its relatively new building at 248—Sixteenth in the coming months.

Safeway Has New Manager

Safeway announces the arrival of its new manager, Ron Weibel, from Lubbock, who arrived in Hereford last Tuesday.

Weibel served as Safeway assistant manager in Lubbock, and completed a seven-month course in retail management training before coming to Hereford. He was also with Safeway stores in Norman Oklahoma, while completing his education at the University of Oklahoma.

He hopes to become a member of a local Lions club, and lists his aims as manager of the Hereford store as follows: "I want to get it cleaned up, and well stocked. I'll try to give the customers the best quality merchandise at the best prices."

Mrs. Ted Lockhart ...newcomer from Borger

After Several Moves

BY LORI HOPSON
 Staff Writer

Unusually sincere and outspoken about her ideas and opinions, Mrs. Ted Lockhart is a newcomer to Hereford of only about two months standing. "I haven't found a thing about Hereford that I dislike," she says, "Which is unusual, because when you move as much as we have, you learn to accept some major drawbacks. I've been told it takes you about a year to be accepted in Hereford, but I just don't find it this way."

The Lockharts; Ted, Janis and their two sons; Shayne, 15 and Garren, 12, moved to Hereford from Borger when Lockhart received a transfer. He is now wire chief for Southwestern Bell Telephone company, and before living in Borger, the family called Shamrock their home.

Both Amarillo residents before their marriage in 1955, the Lockharts met one Sunday at Pleasant Valley Baptist church, where they were both members. They are now members of the First Baptist church of Hereford.

Janis' parents are now retired and live in Bowie, where they recently celebrated their own 50th anniversary. Lockhart's parents are still Amarillo residents.

"So far we have been really impressed with Hereford," says Mrs. Lockhart. "I have told several people that in all our moving, we have never encountered so many friendly people, and I believe I'm more impressed with the school system here than any other we've encountered."

Since the family has spent much of its time moving around, Janis can vouch for the inconveniences of moving.

"About the worst part of a move is getting the children into a new school, and finding doctors. You have to leave your friends behind, but they're usually lasting friends, that you really don't lose."

She says the whole Lockhart family enjoys golf as a favorite pastime, and her other interests include sewing or decorating and handcrafts.

"I enjoy those little personal touches which make a house a home," she says. "We square dance, and Ted, of course, likes to go fishing. My first love is writing, and I hope someday to be able to get some experience, where I can learn more about the art of writing."

Janis has written a manuscript for a nonfiction work, dedicated to Dr. John Pickett in Amarillo, who has proved to be a great help to the family, according to Mrs. Lockhart.

Lockhart is a newly-installed member of the Hereford Kiwanis club, and is a member of the Masonic Lodge. Shayne, oldest of their two sons, is also a member of Demolays, the boys' organization connected with Masons, and Key Club, sponsored by Kiwanis.

Mrs. Lockhart says her sons like their new home "really well."

"Coming to a new town in the middle of the school term usually makes it hard," she says, "but they've been accepted just really well."

She adds that her husband is also favorably impressed with the city and likes it quite well.

"Of course he is quite satisfied with his job, the people that he works with are just outstanding, and we may be prejudiced, but we think the telephone company is just about the best there is."

She lists travel as another of the family's favorite activities.

"We have been to Chicago and places like that," she says, "but most usually we really prefer the several guest ranches that we have spent a couple of weeks at each summer. We spent some time in Houston last summer, and it was really nice to get back up here around our home area." Janis says she is most impressed with the courtesy and friendliness of Hereford residents.

"The merchants are just as kind and helpful as can be, we've just been thrilled to death," she says.

"About all we have in mind right now is getting our new house fixed up; moving into a new home means lawns, and all this kind of thing that has to be taken care of... but even the builder of our house has been just as kind as you'd expect a person to be. It's going to be a great place to live!"

Common Market cuts off Norway

The summit conference of the enlarged Common Market opened recently in the 19th Century gilt splendor of the hall that has hitherto served for the Vietnam peace talks. Two hundred delegates, headed by eight prime ministers, assembled around a beige table 192 feet long. It had hurriedly been shortened by seven feet when Norway voted not to join the Market.

Fire Department Receives Check

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of John D. Pitman, Box 1937, Hereford, Texas. The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires.

Extension Clubs' Woman Of Year To Be Revealed

NOMINEES FOR AWARD—Six extension clubs have selected candidates for the title of Outstanding Woman of the Year in Deaf Smith clubs. The award winner, chosen by out-of-county judges, will be honored at the annual appreciation luncheon Monday. From left are, top row, Mrs. Ralph Warren, Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld, Mrs. J.H. Holden; lower row, Mrs. Paul Hoff, Mrs. Jerry Stewart and Mrs. Don Daugherty.

From six nominees, each chosen as Woman of the Year in her own club, the Outstanding Woman of the Year in Deaf Smith County Extension Clubs will be presented at the annual appreciation luncheon Monday in the County Bull Barn.

Nominees this year are Mrs. Don Daugherty of Young Homemakers Club, Mrs. Paul Hoff of North Hereford, Mrs. J.H. Holden of Wyche, Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld of Bippus, Mrs. Jerry Stewart of Dawn and Mrs. Ralph Warren of Palo Duro Club.

Judges from outside the county select the outstanding woman each year, and an award is presented by The Hereford Brand when her identity is revealed at the luncheon. Each nominee submits a record of her club work, and the club a written recommendation.

Special guests at the annual luncheon are county officials and other supporters of Extension service work in the county. Luncheon hostesses are members of the County Home Demonstration Council.

Bippus Club's nominee this year is the wife of a farmer-rancher in northwest Deaf Smith County, serving her second term as club president although she has been an extension member only three years. She lives 50 miles from Hereford, but has missed only one County Council meeting.

She credits club programs with helping her "make the adjustment from city to country life". She has attended workshops and given the demonstrations to her club, has helped with Council as well as club events and been a delegate to district and state meetings.

Outside the club, she is a 4-H Club leader in her community, a School P-TO member, attends Bippus Community Church and helps in such community activities as last year's heart fund drive.

A young homemaker, married less than two years, Mrs. Stewart is a former 4-H Club member and says she is using her experience in Dawn Club to continue learning ways of making a better home. She is recreation chairman in her club and delegate to the County Council.

She attended the Christmas arts and crafts workshop last year, gave a demonstration to her club and made items for a club bazaar. She helped produce and took part in a skit the club gave on a Community Night at Dawn, and helps serve the Dawn Lions Club meals which support club projects.

In her community Mrs. Stewart is an active member of Dawn Music Club, a charter member of the local chapter of the National CowBelles organization and a member of its committee which arranged a fair display to promote use of beef, and is leader of Acteens, a girls' group in Dawn Baptist Church.

Mrs. Hoff, in contrast to these two, is a longtime club member with a record of more than 26 years of service. She has held all offices in North Hereford Club and a number in County Council, attended nearly all district and three state THDA meetings, taken part in innumerable programs and workshops.

"Though my household tasks are far lighter now than when my children were at home, I'm still interested in new ideas from club programs. Aid I've received in making homemaking more interesting has meant a great deal to me through the years," Mrs. Hoff says.

She is club treasurer this year and County THDA chairman for a second term. Her interest in children continues; she works with the mentally retarded in the local Satellite Center as well as acting often as a sitter for her grandchildren and others. She spends much time, too, in friendly visits and errands for the elderly.

In the newest extension club in Deaf Smith County and also the youngest in members' ages, Mrs. Warren has served Palo Duro Club as Council delegate since it was organized two years ago. She has assisted in Council preparations for the annual Christmas party, appreciation luncheon and a fund-raising barbecue supper.

Community service includes helping with craft workshops at Westgate unit of Kings Manor retirement home and acting as a captain in the heart fund drive. She has given several programs in her club and says she enjoys "the opportunity to help others and share my experience" from the workshops she attends.

Brought up in an atmosphere of interest in Home Demonstration clubs, she is the daughter of Mrs. J.G. Gandy, a club leader many years in this county.

Wyche Club's nominee, although a county resident only a few years, has a wide background in extension work. She has been an extension agent, a former 4-H Club girl and a Hale County H.D. member a number of years. President of her club this year, she is treasurer of the County Council for the second year, a position which makes her finance chairman. She assisted in the audit of Council and H.D. News Agency books the past two years.

She attended the THDA convention in Houston last fall as a delegate from the county, also has attended training meetings in family life, crafts, candy making and tailoring and presented programs to her club.

She was chairman of the March of Dimes committee from Wyche Club and with another member made the drive for funds in Wyche community. Also she took her turns in the club project of supplying hostesses at the county historical museum. In her church, Wesley United Methodist, she teaches a Sunday school class.

Mrs. Daugherty says of her two years in Young Homemakers Club, "As a homemaker I can learn new ways of doing things around the home and also share this with others." She is its president this year, and in that office goes to Council meetings also.

Her concern for her club and her leadership are cited in the recommendation given her by the other officers. She has reported on Rural Homemakers Day which she attended in Amarillo last year, and on workshops in foods and candy making, also the Sew Fair where she learned new methods of tailoring with knit fabrics.

She led her club in assisting with the local heart fund drive. She has been a Cub Scout leader and a Little League Mother. As a member of the CB Radio Club she had a part in its aid to the March of Dimes, and Cancer Society fund drive.

Shower Honors Kerri Hall

A shower in honor of Kerry Hall, bride-elect of Jim Monroe, was given Saturday in the home of Mrs. W.W. Gilbreath.

Receiving guests were Miss Hall, her mother, Mrs. Elmo Hall; her grandmother, Mrs. Tom Hall, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Buel Monroe. Inviting guests to register were Rhonda Hall, sister of the bride-elect, while Rene Self and Yvonne Duggan were serving refreshments. Table decorations were the bride's chosen colors, pink and burgandy.

The bride-elect was dressed in a pink dress, with the top of solid pink and a print skirt designed in an apron style.

Hostesses for the shower were Mmes. J.V. Perrin, Tommy Blasingame, C.F. Homfield, Kenneth Homfield, Willis Duggan, Jim West, Dan Guseman, Charlie Burke and Jack Weaver.

Also Mmes. Edwin Morrison Jr., Earnest Brown, Eldred Brown, Bruce Coleman, Jim Perrin, L.B. Russell, N.A. Brown, Ivan Block and W.W. Gilbreath.

School Head Is Speaker To Club

New programs in Hereford schools, with emphasis on those designed to let the pupil advance at his own pace, were discussed by Roy Hartman, superintendent of schools, guest speaker to La Madre Mia Study Club Thursday evening.

He told of innovations in education, many of them being tested in the local school system. The program was arranged by Mrs. Herschel Black and Mrs. Bobby Owen introduced the speaker. After his talk Hartman invited questions from members and answered them.

Mrs. Waldo Baxter and Mrs. Charles Frye were hostesses in the SWPS Co. Reddy Room. Mrs. Dave Honea conducted a brief business session in which suggestions were given for an out-of-town trip planned for March 22, and members decided to invite their husbands as guests for a program on Wills and Estate Planning April 12. Others present were Mmes. C.D. Adams, Lynton Allred, Jimmy Anderson, Dickie Geries, Don Lane, Dean Herring, W.E. Sparks, Charles Watson, and Richard Ward.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: EACH DAY AS THE PICTS INCREASE IN NUMBERS THEY BECOME BOLDER. THEY TRY A NIGHT ATTACK BUT THE VIKINGS ARE ALERT AND DRIVE THEM OFF.

THE CUTTING OF THE TIMBER SLOWS, FOR HALF THE WARRIORS HAVE TO STAND GUARD TO PROTECT THE WORKERS.

AGAIN PRINCE ARN APPEALS TO THE MERCHANT FOR HELP AGAINST THE PICTS, TO NO AVAIL. "I HOLD YOU TO YOUR BARGAIN, NO TIMBER NO FOOD," HE ANSWERS.

"FOR TWO YEARS HAVE I TRADED IN THESE PERILOUS NORTHERN LANDS, FOR GOLD, FURS, AMBER AND TIN, SHALL I LEAVE THESE TREASURES UNGUARDED TO HELP YOU?" HE SNARLS. "THEN YOU WILL BE TRAPPED BY YOUR OWN GREED," SAYS ARN.

HE LEADS ALSADA TO THE RAIL. "LOOK, YOUR PRECIOUS CARGO HAS BEEN UNLOADED TO LIGHTEN THE SHIP SO SHE CAN REACH THE SEA. WHO, THEN, WILL GUARD YOUR CARGO FROM THE PICTS WHEN YOUR CREW IS DIVIDED BETWEEN SHIP AND SHORE?"

"THERE WILL BE NO MORE BARGAINING. WE WILL UNITE AS ONE FORCE UNDER MY COMMAND." ALSADA LOOKS LONG INTO ARN'S FACE AND FOR THE FIRST TIME PUTS HIS TRUST IN ANOTHER.

NOW THE TASK OF FLOATING THE STRANDED SHIP BEGINS IN EARNEST. A LOG BARRICADE TO DEFLECT THE CURRENT TAKES FORM. TUNISIAN AND VIKING LABORING SIDE BY SIDE.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
An attractive and economical "mobile" shoe rack can be made from a few coat hangers.

Simply take ten or twelve wire coat hangers (more can be used for flat shoes) and tape the bases together.

Spread the hangers in a circle. Then, bend each hook closed and slightly upward so the shoes will hang easily and no sharp surfaces will be exposed.

Arrange the shoes around the rack with the toes of the shoes over the hook. Loop a piece of cord through the top and your shoe rack is ready to hang wherever convenient.

Hanging shoes this way prevents dust, (and mold in humid climates) from collecting, and a simple twirl of the rack brings the pair wanted right to you!

No more digging in boxes or bending over floor racks. If space allows, hang a second rack from the first and presto!—twice as many shoes in easy reach.

For a fancy rack use colored tape or spray the finished product with paint.

Mrs. Gene Billingsley

As I have shoes on top of shoes (everywhere in my closet!) this handy gadget works like a charm for me.

I made mine double (as you suggested), then spray-painted it to match the closet walls.

When hung with a velvet ribbon, no one could ever imagine that it was so easily done with just wire coat hangers.

Bless you! Heloise

A BLIND ITEM
DEAR HELOISE:
Here is an idea I thought of while washing Venetian blinds in the bathtub (which is upstairs).

So that water doesn't drip on my carpeted stairs when I am carrying them down to hang them on the line outside, I use a plastic bag (garbage-can size) to slip over the folded-up blinds.

SUPERMARKET TIP
DEAR HELOISE:
I used to have a problem with bags of groceries or cartons of pop falling over in the trunk of the car when I went shopping.

One day I happened to have a box in the trunk and put them into the box.

Now I always keep a box in the trunk. It has come in handy at other times when I've stopped unexpectedly to

GRANNY'S APRON
DEAR HELOISE:
Sometimes I get low on ideas for gifts and need new material for thought. How about you?

A very different gift for Grandmother on any occasion is a "hand apron."

Make a half apron and trace around one hand of each of your children. Then embroider around this with suitable floss using any color desired.

I also printed their name and age beside each hand.

If your children are old enough, they could embroider their own hand.

A gift from a labor of love always means more than a store-bought item.

Mrs. Janice Teesdale

If you can't embroider, there are a number of sew-on edgings found at the local dime store notions counter. The name and age of your children could be printed on a piece of iron-on tape and put in place with your iron.

There are so many ways to make this a real treasure.

You're an angel for sharing this one with us.
Heloise

A SLICK TRICK
DEAR HELOISE:
I like your column very much and would like to pass on this hint.

I read where one reader "ironed" her envelopes shut on three thousand invitations. The other day I got out an important paper and discovered the flap from the envelope had stuck to the writing on the paper.

It struck me that if you can iron an envelope shut, maybe you could iron the envelope off the paper.

I tried, and you can! And no smeared letters either!
Hazel

DON'T JAR IT!

DEAR HELOISE:
Here is a hint I would like to share. It comes in handy if you do home canning.

Wash all fruit jars in warm soapy water (so you can get down in them to clean them good).

Then place them in the dishwasher. Place rings and lids in the spoon rack of the dishwasher. Set dishwasher on "rinse and dry."

Time this so that the jars will be hot, dry and sterilized, at the time the fruit or whatever you are canning is ready to be put into the jars.

Also the lids are ready for sealing with no mess of boiling water for each individual jar.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE:
I consider this a "Letter of Laughter," but to my delight it really worked!

I have a 2½-year-old daughter who completely resented the whole idea of "potty" training.

I decided to invite her closest little friend and her grandmother to a "panty party."

We had a cake with candles, ice cream, and sang "Happy Panty Day to You."

All the gifts were panties. Grandma gave her a beautiful new pair with flowers on them. I took a bunch of her training pants, sewed lace around the legs and appliqued little flowers on the front of each leg.

She was delighted with the party and her attitude toward "potty" training changed overnight. After that it was a breeze.

Mrs. J. Mardoff

MAKE A MOBILE!
DEAR HELOISE:
My mother just bought me some new shirts. They had some plastic pieces under the collar where the tie goes that looked like clear butterflies.

I decorated them with rick-rack, sequins, glitter, beads and rhinestones.

By attaching them to a coat hanger with some very lightweight string I had a real cute mobile.

My mother put it in her sewing room hanging from the light.

LIFE IODINE

AH...AND HOW'S MY FAVORITE YOUNG LADY?

FINE, THANK YOU, MR. BIGDOME

HAVE YOU DECIDED WHAT YOU'LL BE WHEN YOU GROW UP, IODINE?

YES, SIR...

A NURSE!

ISN'T THAT WONDERFUL?! YOU CAN BE PROUD, HENRY...

I HAD NO IDEA

THIS IS THE FIRST I'VE HEARD OF IT...

THE FUTURE IS IN GOOD HANDS WITH SUCH LEVEL-HEADED YOUNGSTERS SHOULDERING THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES...

HAVE YOU GIVEN IT A LOT OF THOUGHT, DEAR?

YES, MA'AM. BEING A NURSE IS JUST A START...

I DON'T UNDERSTAND, DEAR...YOU MEAN YOU WANT TO BE A HEAD NURSE SOME DAY?

NO...

I FIGURE IT'S THE EASIEST WAY TO GET ON ONE OF THOSE HOSPITAL SOAP OPERAS ON DAYTIME TV...

THE HECK WITH IT!

I'M TIRED OF SHOVELING SNOW! I WANT TO GO TO CALIFORNIA OR FLORIDA.

AND WHAT ARE WE GOING TO USE FOR MONEY?

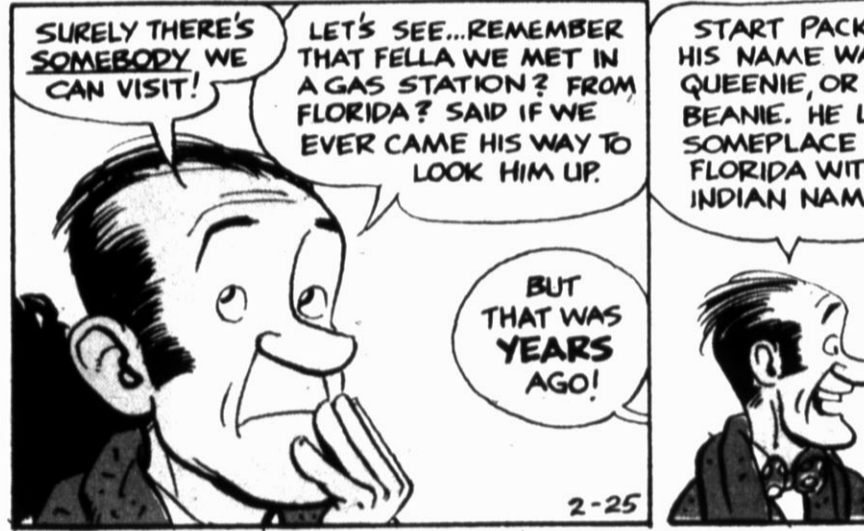

MAYBE WE CAN BORROW A TRAILER AND CAMP OUT.

AND SPEND MY TIME IN THE KITCHEN COOKING? NOT ON YOUR LIFE!

MAYBE WE CAN VISIT TED AND BETTY IN LA JOLLA.

NO. WE OVERSTAYED OUR WELCOME LAST TIME.

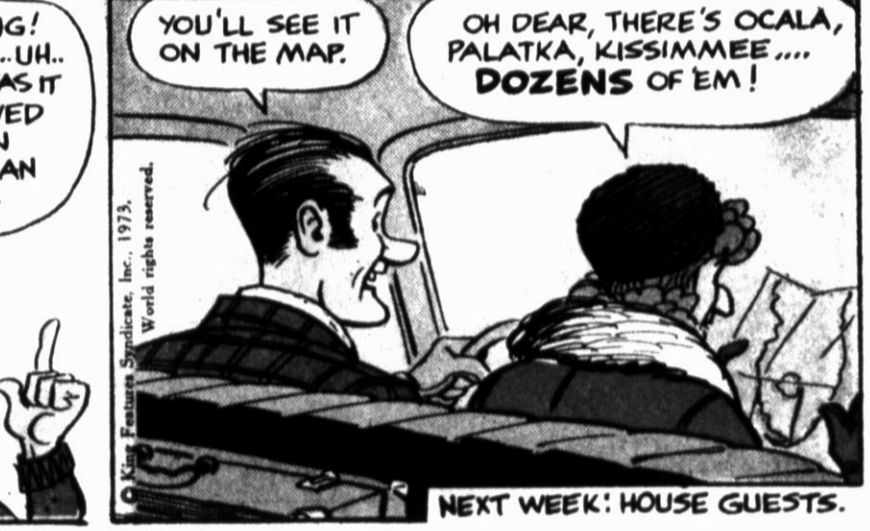

SURELY THERE'S SOMEBODY WE CAN VISIT!

LET'S SEE...REMEMBER THAT FELLA WE MET IN A GAS STATION? FROM FLORIDA? SAID IF WE EVER CAME HIS WAY TO LOOK HIM UP.

BUT THAT WAS YEARS AGO!

START PACKING! HIS NAME WAS...UH... QUEENIE, OR WAS IT BEANIE. HE LIVED SOMEPLACE IN FLORIDA WITH AN INDIAN NAME.

YOU'LL SEE IT ON THE MAP.

● COUNT-DOWN! How many apples were eaten by Adam and Eve? One report has it Eve 81 and Adam 812, that's 893. But Adam also 8142 please Eve, and Eve 81242 please Adam. That's 89,384 apples!

● Attention Pisces people: Which day in the third month calls for stirring action? Can you answer?

● Pronounce these words as rapidly as possible: Piglet, pigment, pygmy, pigtail, pigeon. Now try these: How, now, cow, sow, prow, crow. Did you get caught?

● There is a pretty simple reason why many country roads and village streets in the United States are 66 feet wide. Can you explain it?

HAT STUFF! Anyone can perform this baffling mind-reading stunt. The performer asks his audience to call out the names of 10 or 12 famous persons. As each name is called, the performer notes it on a sheet of paper; folds the paper, and drops it into a hat.

Presently, some one is asked to pick one name from the hat. The performer "concentrates" convincingly, and miraculously names the name.

How? Simple. Only one name—the first name given—has been written on each sheet placed in the hat! He can't miss.
