Wondering why the Farm Bureau hasn't announced the annual queen contest? A spokesman reported that the farmers were just so busy this year that they didn't have time to make arrangements for the annual affair. However, they do hope to have the Farm Bureau queen contest next summer.

Never say The Brand isn't conservative: On Thursday we quoted the F. H. Vahlsing investment here as "$50,000", Bill Lenderman said. Friday, he read the paper, came by to point out that "50,000 is just for the building. There's at least $100,000 worth of equipment inside." Glad to hear it.

As independent as only a six-year-old girl can be, Betsy Barrett penciled a vacation message from high in the Rockies to Uncle Frank and Aunt Betty Barrett, in Hereford. She wrote "all she knew to write" after a year of kindergarten, "ABCDEFGHIJKLMNO PQRS TUVWXYZ12345678910-11," then finally related to let someone—perhaps Daddy Dick, add "Betsy".

Note to cattlemen: Perry Lunsford again made his erratic deadline for printing the "Bullmanac" for the Jack Frost Ranches. A frequent visitor to Hereford and the Eskimo Ranch here; Lunsford breaks out in print this time with a cut at dwarfism, a boost for performance testing, and a tribute to genetics. J. R. Williams' cartoons and Perry's selected homelies (sample: Wild oats make a lousy breakfast) give the pamphlet its usual zip. We have a few extra free copies.

If your bluegrass lawn has developed tinges of yellow, you'll be interested in this advice by Jack McCracken, assistant county agent. "The trouble probably stems from a mineral deficiency. Try applying a mixture of copper sulphate and malathion—that way you'll get your grubs, too." And if the lawn has circular spots of brown, bluegrass blight, Jack recommends applying the copper sulphate.

Ira Scott recently received a clipping from a Coastal Bend newspaper which reported that a plot of hybrid grain sorghum planted with seed he produced turned out 900 pounds more grain per acre at harvest than did an adjoining plot of "old reliable" Martin milo.

State Inspection Program Here To Aid Seed Growers

To aid the 14 Deaf Smith County certified seed growers in obtaining state certification for their hybrid and regular varieties of sorghums and milos, an inspector has been assigned to work here by the Texas Department of Agriculture. He is Martin Bailey, a 1956 graduate of Texas Tech's agricultural school. Bailey is a native of DeLeon.

His duties will include inspection of the acreage devoted to certified seed production in the county. County Agent Hugh Clearman reports there are 1,133 acres devoted to hybrid sorghum seed crops, 1,134 acres to standard varieties of sorghums, and 135 acres to millet.

Growers pay an inspection fee, $1.50 per acre for the hybrid sorghum seed, 30 cents for other sorghums, and 25 cents for millet. The fees defray inspection and certification expenses.

"We'll still be producing the best seed that can be grown, and have the state inspector to back up our claim," commented Clearman. Growers believe the inspection labels will strengthen the market for certified seed varieties.

FRIDAY NOON

Hospital Fund Drive Deadline Is Extended

Postmen's Routes Soon Will Extend To 190 New Homes

City mail delivery service will be extended to 190 homes in the northeast portion of Hereford, effective Saturday, Aug. 25, according to an announcement made Saturday by Postmaster Jim Lipscomb.

The extension, contingent upon the meeting of federal requirements by the new patrons, will provide house-to-house delivery to serve an estimated 760 people. It will, at the same time, increase the number of houses served in Hereford by approximately 10 per cent, Lipscomb said.

Included in the new delivery program will be the following areas: 300 to 700 blocks on West Park Avenue, Beach and Center St.; 200 and 300 blocks on Ave. A; 300 block on Ave. B; 500 block on Ave. J; 500 block on Star St.; 500 block on Ave. K; 800 and 900 blocks on Bleivins.

"A few patrons in some of these areas are now receiving mail from rural route service," Lipscomb said. "This rural route service will not be available after Friday, Aug. 24. All patrons living in the above described territory are requested to have city delivery mail boxes installed on their front porches, or door slots in their front doors. All-weather walks must be provided from the porch to the street."

"It is requested that the above requirements be met by Wednesday, Aug. 22," he pointed out, "as the extensions have to be checked to see that the requirements have been met before delivery can be initiated."

Candidates For Degrees Friday At West Texas

A total of nine persons from Hereford and vicinity are among the 200 who are candidates for degrees Aug. 24, at summer commencement at West Texas State College.

The summer exercises will be held at 8 p. m. in Buffalo Stadium, according to Dean Walter H. Juniper. Dr. Blake Smith, pastor of the University Baptist Church in Austin, will be the speaker.

Candidates from Hereford for the bachelor of science degree are Margaret Baum Aven and Ernestine Guetersloh.

Seeking master of education degrees will be Ebert Alton Ashby, William Ross Phillips, John Edgar Poindexter, Joel Clinton Reese and Lottie Kurtz Wertenberger, all of Hereford. Dorothy Alhart Rossi, a student from Dawn, will also receive the degree.

First Goal Is Missed

The latest hospital fund drive failed. But through an agreement between the Deaf Smith County Hospital Board, the Jim Hill Estate and the low-bidding contractor, the deadline was extended one week for raising $7,500 more in funds needed to meet a bid price of $111,000 for the new children's wing.

Board President Wayne Thomas counted up donations ranging from $25 to $500 obtained during the three-day drive that ended Friday noon and reported the total came to $2,970.

"I'm confident now that the goal will be reached by Friday," Thomas said.

No Bond Issue

Originally scheduled for a cost of $100,000, the proposed hospital addition was to be built through a $50,000 grant from the Jim Hill Estate, to be matched by donations, with the provision that no bond issue or warrants for the project could be made by the county without the Jim Hill grant being withdrawn.

The enlargement of the public service facility was seen by many as an opportunity for individuals to prove they can "still do things on their own without turning to governmental agencies for assistance."

Estimates Low

And then at the bid-opening ceremonies the lowest bid proved to be slightly more than $123,000. To meet the costs down to $111,000 most "extras" for the wing were shaved from the plans. Two patient rooms of 15 planned, plus terrazzo floor borders, piped-in oxygen, acoustical ceilings, window louvers and other practical deletions were made.

The Jim Hill Estate on Wednesday agreed to up its donation to a maximum of $57,500—as long as it could be matched by private gifts.

Present Plans

With just $103,500 in the building fund at bid-opening time, the hospital board has undertaken a drive to raise $7,500 more in order to get the $111,000 addition.

Hereford's Lions Play Host Today

The Hereford Lions Club will be host Sunday to the District 2-T-1 cabinet meeting of Lions International. Don Stark, district governor, will preside at the meeting.

The group will meet in the Jim Hill Hotel from 9 to 10:30 a. m. Sunday morning. A luncheon will be held from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m. and a business session will follow.

During the business meeting a tea for the wives of the cabinet members will be held in the home of Mrs. Wayne Thomas.

New Crime Record System Installed By Deputy Sheriff

"Mug shots" are now being taken and filed on persons held in the county jail, according to Charles Skelton, deputy county sheriff.

The plan was put into operation last week by Skelton, with Kenneth Coker assisting him in the lighting setups of the camera. Since then, about 15 persons have been "mugged" and filed, according to Skelton.

The darkroom facilities in the county clerk's office will be used to develop film and make prints. Skelton plans to do the work himself. He hopes to maintain a modern and up-to-date system for the county, keeping files on everyone arrested and held in the jail. This will also enable the county officers to check back through files for identification purposes, and to send out "wanted" notices if necessary.

American Legion Has New Officers

Hereford's American Legion post this week installed new officers.

They are: Jimmie Roberts, commander; Reece Dawson, first vice commander; Bill Hardwick, second vice commander; Arch Dobbins, sergeant-at-arms; C. O. Wilkins, adjutant; Harold Hawkins, chaplain; C. C. Acker, finance; Ralph Smith, historian; Wayne Thomas, judge advocate; C. W. Parker, service officer.

Few Cast Ballots In Advance; Party Run-Off Election

County Clerk Ralph Smith reported only three ballots cast in the absentee balloting for the Democratic party run-off election since ballots became available Tuesday. The absentee ballots are being distributed by the county clerk's office.

Deadline for absentee voting is August 21. Mailed ballots must be in the county clerk's office by noon, August 25.

Two county run-offs were necessary, both for precinct commissioners. For Precinct 1, incumbent Commissioner M. T. Rutter will oppose Charles R. Sowell. J. T. Guinn, incumbent, and Charles R. Hoover will be seeking the commissioner's position in Precinct 3.

In state races, Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough will be in the run-off for governor. In the attorney-general's race, Will Wilson and Tom Moore will be listed on the ballot.

Ben Ramsey will be the only candidate on the ballot for the Lieutenant-Governor's spot.

Officers Still Seek Attackers Of Women

City police and the sheriff's department on Saturday were continuing the search for a colored man who allegedly attacked an 18-year-old Latin-American girl here Tuesday night.

Police officials said 11 Negro men have been brought before the Spanish girl, the two other Spanish girls who witnessed the most recent attack, and two other women who reported to officers that they were attacked in their bedrooms by a colored man.

All the men resembled the description given by the women, but none could be identified as the assailant, officers said.

The sheriff's department reported the sheriff's department reported no new developments in the case.

Investigation of two other attacks against white women—one of alleged rape, the other reported as an attack to commit rape—are said to be continuing. These attacks occurred several weeks ago on West Second Street. The assailant in both cases was said to have threatened the women with a knife after entering their bedrooms.

Police said the Latin-American girl reported she was awakened as a man attempted to smother her with a pillow. After a brief struggle she managed to scream for help. The attacker fled when two other girls came to her aid.

The latest attack occurred shortly before 11 p. m. in the Gault Apartments on New York St. The two previous alleged attacks were reported after midnight.

Services Monday For V. L. Skypala

Services for Vincent Leopold Skypala, 210 Fuller Street, will be conducted at 9 a. m. Monday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church, with Rev. Bartholomew Paytas officiating.

Services Monday For V. L. Skypala

Mr. Skypala died at 11:30 a. m. Friday. He was 64. He was born September 18, 1891 in Freyburg, Tex., and married Mary Michalek in 1914 at High Hill, Tex. He was a farmer and a member of the Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Edgar O., Norvert A., Edwin R., and Elwood V., all of Hereford; one daughter, Mrs. Wilma Connolly of Hereford; three sisters, Mrs. Clen Fienel, Mrs. Anton Grotgret, Mrs. Ted Irlbeck, all of UMBERGER; two brothers, Henry and August, both of UMBERGER, and 15 grand-children.

A salesman for many decades, he retired in his later years. Burial services were held at Inglewood Park, Calif.

Christmas Lights Problem Already Concern JayCees

It's 134 days until Christmas, but that's no consolation to the Hereford JayCees.

"The big JayCee headache right now is Christmas lighting," according to President Bill Howard and Don Fudge, lighting chairman, who say that they are starting early in hopes of doing a good job in 1956.

Plagued with difficulty in raising sufficient money for bulb replacements and repairs in recent years, the JayCees this year also face the necessity of replacing all wiring, sockets and other equipment which was stored in the Bull Barn and lost last March in the fire which

Named To Direct Whiteface Band

Charles Bell, 29, has been named to fill the post left open by the resignation of Bill Miller, band director of the Hereford High School Whiteface band for the past three years, Fred J. Cunningham, superintendent of schools, announced Friday.

Miller resigned his position here to accept the band director's job at Hobbs, N. M.

Bell was born and reared in Hale Center. He has had seven years experience in the music field. He acquired his bachelor of arts degree at West Texas State and his master's degree in music at the University of Texas. He was band director at Cisco before accepting the post here.

He is married and has three children. Kathleen Ann, eight months; Sara Jo, 4, and Rebecca, 5.

Homer G. Harris Rites Saturday

Funeral rites were held Saturday for a pioneer Hereford area farmer, Homer G. Harris, 68, of Los Angeles.

Mr. Harris farmed here in 1907 with his brother Will G. Harris on a place east of the Frio school. After leaving Hereford he made frequent return visits to see relatives and friends.

A salesman for many decades, he retired in his later years. Burial services were held at Inglewood Park, Calif.

Survivors, besides his wife, two daughters, a son and four grand-children, included the brother, Will G. Harris, Hereford, and two nieces, Mrs. C. E. Sheppard and Mrs. P. L. Carmichael, both of Hereford.

Good Prospects For Marketing Other Produce

With the potato and onion harvest nearing completion it appears that the two vegetable crops have enriched the Hereford area by over nine million dollars.

Add that to a two million dollar wheat harvest from irrigated land—almost entirely—and field crops this year have already brought in 11 million dollars, which is almost as much as last year's final total of about 15 millions.

With grain sorghum, carrots, lettuce and cotton yet to go, 1956 looks like a banner harvest year for Hereford.

Not All Bright

But the continuing drought—which has proven a boon to crops growing under irrigation—has again this year given cattlemen dependent on pasture and dryland farmers who are tied to natural rainfall for their success a real battering. The fact that the drought has also plagued dryland areas in much of the nation has been cited as responsible for the demand for our area's irrigated produce.

"Man! What a year!" exclaim vegetable farmers, processors, brokers, truckers and day laborers. Also bankers.

A Comparison

They're chanting a tune much different than at this time in 1955. And the outlook for the next two major vegetable crops appears bright. Drought has made inroads on vegetable acreage in many other areas, observers report.

Carrots from between 3,500 and 4,000 acres in this section are now moving marketward. The harvest season will extend into October. First loads have brought farmers $30 a ton, with yields running from eight to 10 tons per acre. Processed carrots were moving this week at $60 per ton.

Lettuce Acreage Up

Drought and other complicating factors apparently have given lettuce planters encouragement in recent weeks. A month ago best estimates of the potential acreage to be planted here was 1,500. Since then, spurred by the success of the potato and onion harvest, farmers have been seeding lettuce at an unexpectedly high rate. The acreage may reach a total of over 2,000.

Many "first-time" growers have reportedly purchased lettuce seed from local supply houses.

Golden Onions

Onion acreage turned to gold for some farmers here this year. With the harvest now about 80 per cent complete, this is how yields and returns stacked up:

Average yields were around 600 50-pound-bags per acre. Prices on medium and jumbo grade onions ranged as high as $6 a bag with the low at $3.65. Current prices are being quoted at around $4.25. Most of the remaining acreage is in late "seeder" onions—plants that were grown from seed rather than bulbs.

Estimated Crops

A little conservative mathematics reveals that the onion harvest so far has brought a gross return of nearly five million dollars.

The potato scene has also been little short of sensational. Yields have reportedly ranged as high as 400 bags per acre. And as low as 30 bags.

Figuring an average is a complicated problem, but a 230 bag (100 pounds) per acre estimate might not be far wrong. The harvest is now about 95 per cent complete. Some 300 acres of late white potatoes, however, won't be ready until late September.

The market has been like nothing ever known here before, having started at $7 per hundred, soared to $8.75 and held amazingly stable.

Coloradoans Blame Us

A recent visitor to Colorado noted that veteran potato growers in that state were lamenting that "a bumper harvest in the Hereford, Tex., area has depressed markets here."

The low realized "here" has been $4.25 for processed spuds, and that's the current price.

Last year at this time Hereford potatoes were moving at prices running from $1.25 to $1.50 per 100 which represented a partial loss. There were around 6,000 acres planted to potatoes here in 1955, and the 3,500 to 4,000 here this year reflects that disappointment.

superior quality "best anywhere" according to many brokers—of Hereford carrots will enable the growers to realize a multi-million dollar harvest on this third crop.

Pay Off Finally Came

But the bank accounts of the potato growers who "stuck it out" their backers and helpers has probably been fattened by around $4,500,000 to date.

One veteran grower said last week, "I never thought I'd see the year when one crop could pay all of those debts I'd stacked up."

Good prices last year on 800 acres of carrots resulted in wholesale plantings of the crop this season.

Bank deposits in the two Hereford banks have increased over $2,500,000 since their fiscal-year-end reports released June 30.

The two institutions are among many that provide credit to the area's farmers—and much of the net returns from the high-priced crops have gone to pay off previously incurred debts on land, equipment and for operating expenses which can soar into hundreds of dollars per acre on the high-cost, high-return, sometimes vegetable crops.

Note on Cabbage

Not to be overlooked in reports on the vegetable situation here is the current cabbage crop. First loads from around 200 acres in the immediate area moved at $60 per ton, with yields running at about 15 tons per acre.

Since then, the price has descended to $35 which is still about $10 per ton better than local growers had hoped for. And the yield has been maintained at a level representing a better-than-average return.

Some additional cabbage acreage was brought in early this month with the transplanting of infant plants.

No Vacation For Carmichael

BY MRS. IRA RICKETTS

Bill Carmichael came home Friday to spend the rest of the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Carmichael. Bill spent the first two months of his vacation in varied activities.

In June he accompanied five other students (including two foreign exchange students) on an educational tour to San Antonio, Houston, Galveston, Dallas, and New Orleans.

Then he taught one week in the Chi-Rho Camp at Ceta Glen, after which he has just finished six weeks training in ROTC camp at Fort Hood.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coker of Summerfield, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Burges and Melvin were in Amarillo Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Reed. Mr. Coker and Mrs. Burges are brother and sister of Mrs. Reed, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Galley of Moline, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Galley of Dawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hershey of Dimmitt were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hershey Tuesday.

Judy Patterson spent Wednesday night and Thursday with Linda Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moreman.

Up From Dallas
Miss Annie Finlaw of Dallas and friend, Mrs. Perry of Waco, visited Thursday with Mrs. Leon Coffin and Mrs. Mattie Gorgan.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Carmichael, Bill, and Shari enjoyed a Mexican dinner as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Billingslea, Tuesday evening.

Eugene Burks of Gainesville is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. P. Gregory, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Roberson were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Caldwell and boys Monday evening.

At Roaring Springs
Mrs. Sam Lesly has returned after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Mason and family, at Roaring Springs, and in Plainview with Mrs. Adelia Brown.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Townsend returned to her home in Kansas, Monday, after several days with her parents.

Caroline Brunley spent Monday night and Tuesday with Shari Carmichael.

Saw Junior Rodeo
Mr. and Mrs. Lewis West returned Thursday morning from Post where they had gone Tuesday to attend the Post Junior rodeo. They were accompanied by a granddaughter, Jan West.

Orin Russell of Panhandle spent Wednesday night with his brother, Clyde Russell, and family.

Mrs. W. P. Gregory and Millard Gregory visited Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hershey Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts visited Mrs. Ray Hershey and the Arch Conkling Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Carmichael and Shari attended the Kum Dull class picnic in Dameron Park Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lucy Coffin of Dallas, Mrs. Leon Coffin and Mrs. Mattie Gorgan drove to Albuquerque Saturday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Grogan and Mr. and Mrs. Les Ake. The ladies came home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Essie Cardwell and mother, Mrs. J. D. Brown visited Mrs. W. P. Gregory and Augustine Wednesday afternoon.

From Wisconsin
Mr. and Mrs. Orin Russell of Panhandle and Mrs. Loyd Russell, a daughter-in-law, visited Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Russell and family. Loyd is working in Wisconsin and his wife will visit for a while with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Charles of Hale Center were supper guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Caldwell.

Mrs. Leon Coffin returned from Dallas last Thursday, where she attended a reunion of Sunday School teachers where she taught for many years in primary departments.

Visiting, Traveling Keeps Westway Busy as Spud Harvest Comes to Halt

BY MRS. T. B. THOMAS

Albert Thomas of Lubbock visited Tuesday night in the home of his nephew, T. B. Thomas and family. Two of Mrs. Ralph Mitchell's grandsons from Amarillo are staying with their grandparents for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Rickman and Lyla were in Earth on Tuesday.

Mrs. Manuel Roho entered the Deaf Smith County hospital Monday evening and underwent surgery on Tuesday. Mrs. Jack Renfro stayed with her on Tuesday. Mrs. Roho has had visitors from the community.

Snake Bite Victim Improved
The little Mexican girl who was bitten by a snake on Thursday afternoon while she was picking up potatoes on the Merlin Kaul farm is still in the hospital. She is much improved but not able to go home.

A number of rattlesnakes and other varieties have been killed in the potatoes by the pickers. The workers are very cautious while working.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Combs and Lou Ann of Monday were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs and Cliff Combs.

Raymond Morrison visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Townsend and girls in the Ward Community. Also visiting in the Townsend home were Mr. and Mrs. John Burns and Johnny of Lakin, Kansas.

Attend Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs and boys attended the wedding of her brother, Bert O'Connor Jr., of Plainview on Sunday. Bert O'Connor and Billy Butler were married in the Temple Heights Baptist Church in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Merritt, Sr., spent the weekend in Midland visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Pence. They returned home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Gene Roach and children of Tatum have been visiting with Mrs. Bess Werner and Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine and girls for a week. Gene Roach came on Sunday to get his family but was delayed due to the illness of Mrs. Roach.

She was able to travel Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paezold were Wednesday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Colville and children of Altus, Okla., were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Renfro.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Griggs of Allamore were Thursday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Morrison and girls.

Visit Grandmother
Mrs. T. B. Thomas took Diedra, Danny and Deborah to Canyon on Thursday afternoon for them to catch the bus to visit their grandmother, Mrs. Tol Thomas in Post. Mrs. Edwin Morrison of Hereford accompanied them to Canyon.

Mary Lynn and Judith Morrison were Thursday afternoon visitors at Summerfield with Carolyn Lee.

Raymond Morrison, Jack Parker and Travis Castleberry of Hereford left Thursday night for San Angelo to go fishing for several days.

Mrs. Joe Wagoner, Ann, Gayle, and Joe Bob visited on Tuesday afternoon in the John David Owens home in the Frio community.

George and Francis Turrentine of Hereford visited in the home of Mrs. Bess Werner recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Renfro and Jack Colville were in Texline Friday to attend to business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Auten and children visited in Hereford with Mrs. J. E. Morrison and Marvin on Sunday afternoon.

Potato Harvest Halts
Potato harvest came to a halt on Thursday evening on the Jack Renfro farm. One of the potato crews is moving into the lettuce field until harvest time at Texline. Carrots are being planted and watered and it's still the same old routine for the maize farmers, looks like there will be no relief until some rain.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Thomas left Friday afternoon for a weekend at Post visiting with relatives.

Mary Lynn Morrison was hostess at a hamburger fry and swimming party Friday night. Ten girls came and joined the festivities. They attended the movies later in the evening.

Picnic Scheduled For Little League

One of the most successful programs ever conducted in the city of Hereford will reach its climax this week. In conclusion of the Little League baseball season, a gigantic picnic will be held for all the Little League players in Dameron Park at 7 p. m. on Friday.

According to Mrs. Paul Hoff, president of the Little League Mothers Association, the outdoor festivity will be open to everyone who has been connected with the Little League in any capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loyd and family are moving to Knox City where Robert will be working on highway construction. The Loyds are former residents of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lesly and sons, Sam, John and Tom have just returned home after a vacation trip through Missouri and Arkansas.

WARRANT FOR ARREST
EL PASO, Tex. —Traffic officers were surprised recently by a woman driver who came to the station after being notified a warrant had been issued for her.

Told the warrant was issued because she failed to appear in court after being given a ticket for a through - street violation, she asked if it was customary to issue a warrant for one ticket.

Pollieeman said it was, but that the woman's case was extreme because there were four other moving violation tickets outstanding against her.

"Oh, those," she said when shown the tickets. "Surely those don't count. I just got those for being in accidents."

Hospital...

13 patient rooms, a solarium and a chapel.

Board President Thomas, who now is working with a number of other sponsors to gain the fund goal, said this week. "It is just up to the people. They have a chance to get a $111,000 hospital addition for another $7,500—and not a cent in future taxes. Naturally we cannot contact everyone. If you would like to donate please contact any member of the hospital board or call T. E. Seigler, hospital manager."

Seen As Bargain
Expressing regret that the addition's sponsors must again solicit donations, Thomas said, "It does look like a wonderful bargain for everyone concerned."

County Commissioners, meanwhile, with their hands tied by the no-bond or tax warrant provision of the grant, also have their fingers crossed. They have noted that hospital expansion is inevitable.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank the good Drs. Wills, Mimms, and Lawrence and all the nice nurses for being so good and nice to me during my late sickness at the hospital. Also, the good kitchen staff for the good food. I'll always be grateful to them. May God bless them.
Mrs. Anna Holman.

SEE BROADWAY PLAYS
Mrs. Harry Bennett, Mrs. Clyde Cave and Mrs. Leroy Aven joined a group of speech students at West Texas State College on Saturday for a trip by chartered bus to Central City, Colo., to see Julie Harris in "The Lark". Broadway hit play, Sunday afternoon the group will see "The Philadelphia Story", in Denver. They will return to Hereford Monday night.

IN "SPECTACULAR"

Little League Mothers To Play Tuesday

Hereford will jump the gun on television's big schedule of Spectaculars planned for this fall. Little League Mothers will unveil their own "spectacular" with a feminine softball classic on Tuesday at the Little League Baseball Park, beginning at 8 p. m.

Big Hour
With the "big hour" drawing near, the lady softballers hustled through brisk workouts on Thursday and Friday in preparation for the "big game". The baseball diamonds on Avenue were a scene of bustling activity with approximately 30 feminine stars setting a torrid pace in pitching, batting and fielding.

Their batting eyes sharpened from earlier sessions, the mothers have really begun slashing the ball. Some of the booming hits even going for home runs. One final workout is slated by the two teams to-morrow afternoon.

Dazzling Play
Fast and dazzling play afield was displayed by the ladies in the late workouts after the kinks and soreness from earlier sessions had been worked out. Each team has several pitchers, any of whom might go the distance in Tuesday night's game.

Red and white shirts will distinguish the two teams when they take the field on Tuesday night. Members of both teams will adorn "sponsorship placards" for the game. Various Hereford merchants have purchased individual players on the teams for undisclosed prices.

Red Team

White Team

Coaches
Duane Baize, C. J. Mays, Buck Hagle and Bartley Dowell have been coaching the lady teams in practice sessions. Little League umpires have volunteered their officiating services for the game.

Admission will be charged, 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. All proceeds from the contest will go into a fund for the operation of the Little League program in Hereford next summer.

No TV Coverage
There won't be any television coverage of the "spectacular" on Tuesday night but there will be plenty of glamorous, fast action. It should be quite a show.

Seed, Minton Will Battle For Junior Golf Championship

Charles Seed and Jeff Minton clash today in the 36 hole finals of the City Junior Golf Tournament.

Seed defeated Danny Elliston, 4-3, to reach the finals. He is the defending champion and also holds the city and club championships. Seed recorded an even par score in the 18-hole match, while Elliston was three over par.

Minton eliminated Dale Taylor, 5-4, to card himself against Seed. Minton was runnerup to Seed in the city tournament.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By GIL CARLYLE

Weather permitting, the Yankees and Cardinals will battle in a showdown contest tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. The Yankees can wrap up the season championship by downing the Cards.

On the other hand, the Redbirds will have a chance to take the second half championship if they beat the Bombers. If the Cards subdue the Yankees, then they will have to go ahead and win from the Dodgers in a make-up game on Thursday night.

If the Cardinals beat the Yankees then lose to the Dodgers, the Redbirds and Yanks will be tied for the title of the second half of Little League play. In this case, the two teams will play a single, sudden-death game to determine the second half winner.

Thus the Yankees could beat the Cards in the playoff game and win the season laurels. If the Cards down the Yankees, then another sudden-death game will be played. The winner of this game would be declared the 956 Little League champion in Hereford.

The Yankees won the first half of season play with an 8-0 record. The Giants have played their last game of the season and the Dodgers are out of contention for the title.

What next? The International Olympic Committee has come up with a ridiculous ruling for athletes in the forthcoming 1956 Olympics to be held in Melbourne, Australia. Every competitor in the Olympic games will have to sign a pledge that "I am and intend to remain an amateur."

This code hardly seems realistic. It doesn't seem right that the Olympic Committee should be able to inquire into a person's future. Of course, the committee does have a right to make sure that all participants are in an amateur status at the time of the Olympics. But to tell an athlete he must remain an amateur the rest of his life is entirely different.

The new rule should have placed a restriction period on the athletes. That is, that they couldn't turn professional until a certain lapse of time after the Melbourne games. Just because an athlete wishes to turn professional to make a living later on, he shouldn't be denied the right to participate in the Olympics.

If invoked on the Olympic athletes, this ruling could have a tremendous effect on the U. S. chances of winning the 1956 Olympics. An outstanding athlete who has a great professional future ahead certainly isn't going to sign any pledge that he will remain an amateur.

If there is any sense in the ruling, then colleges could refuse athletic scholarships to football players who planned to turn professional after graduation. Does this make sense?

The College All-Stars didn't show too much in their 26-0 drubbing at the hands of the professional Cleveland Browns in the All-Star game on Friday night. Cleveland had the best defensive record in pro ranks last year. Wonder why the All-Stars didn't take to the air more often in the game. The Cleveland line was impenetrable.

It's difficult to understand the way fans in Boston treat Ted Williams. One day they boo him out of the park, then the next game they give him a standing ovation. The Boston fans were probably to blame for the Thumper's recent outburst which cost him $5000. The next day after the fine was levied, Ted's followers banded together to raise funds to pay off his financial penalty.

Little League Softball Playoffs Rescheduled To Be Played Next Sun.

Playoffs originally scheduled for this afternoon in the Hereford Softball League have been postponed until next Sunday.

In Thursday night's double-header, the Knights of Columbus spilled Summerfield 7-4 to take the championship of regular season play. Rocky's downed Piggly Wiggly 15-11 to cop third place honors in the season's standings.

Two sudden-death playoff games will be held on Sunday at the Veteran's Memorial Park field. In the first game, the Knights of Columbus will encounter Rocky's for the first place trophy. Piggly Wiggly and Summerfield will collide in the second contest for the second place trophy.

Yankee Roll Past Dodgers With High-Scoring 17-3 Win

Bombers Set Record With Seventeen Tallies in Tilt

Rolling like an ocean surf, the Yankees washed under the gallant Dodgers with a cascade of runs to sweep to a 17-3 win over the Bums on Friday night. The 17 tallies was the largest number scored by one team in Little League play this season.

Scoring two runs in the top of the first inning, the Yankees took the lead and were never behind the rest of the game. Butch Hoff led off for the Bombers in the initial frame with a one-base slash to center field. Then S. D. Baize followed with a one-bagger, pushing Hoff home with the first Bomber tally. With two away, Baize scored on a passed ball. Jay Boynton grounded out shortstop to first, ending the Yankee half of the first.

Dodgers Score
The Dodgers came on in the bottom of the first to score one marker, narrowing the Bomber margin 2-1. After Barry Gabbert walked, Yankee hurler Bill Overall struck out the next two Bum batsmen. Dennis Rickman received a free pass to first to put Dodger runners on first and third. Unloading a resounding double to left field, David Gray sent Gabbert home. Rickman made the third out when he was tagged off base at third.

Three runs crossed the Yankee home plate in the top of the second. Wayne Hastings, Hoff and Baize each chalked up a run after reaching base safely on Dodger fielding mishaps. With one away and two on base, Dodger starting pitcher Jimmy Haney struck out Van Smith and John Buck to retire the Bomber side in the second frame.

Bums Falter
The Bums failed to score in the gers marked up a pair of runs to close in on the Yankees 5-3. Calloway and Curtisinger tallied the two Dodger runs.

Yankees Add Two
In the top of the fourth, the Yankees increased their lead 7-3 by adding two more markers. Overall set the Dodger batters down in order in the bottom of the fourth canto; Lee grounded out to first.

Registration For Last Swim Class

Registration for final swimming classes of the summer is scheduled for 9 a. m. on Friday at the Hereford Swimming Pool, according to manager Jiggs Hudson.

The beginner's class will swim for 12 consecutive days. The number of classes in the beginner's division will be determined by the number of registrants. Fee for the beginning session will be $2, paid in advance.

One class to qualify junior life-savers will be conducted in the final session. The junior life-saving course will be open to the age group of 12 to 16. Fee for this class will be $5 for the complete course.

In order to be eligible for the beginner's class, children must have completed their first year of school. All classes will begin on Friday morning after registration. This late-summer session will be conducted because of numerous requests by persons who failed to register for the two earlier sessions held this summer.

RESITLED REFUGEES

TAIPEI, Formosa — The Free China Relief Assn. reports it has helped resettle 52,888 refugees on Formosa from the Communists since 1951.

The association said it plans to set up new aid stations this year along the rim of Red China at Hong Kong, the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu and other points.

Yankee...

Then Krumbein and Haney whiffed leaving the Bombs scoreless.

A chain-reaction was turned loose by the Yankees in the top of the fifth as 10 runs swept across the Bomber platter. David Gray, who relieved Haney at the Dodger pitching post in the third, gave up only two hits in the Yankee scoring episode. A Dodger fielding lapse resulted in seven of the tallies. When the top of the fifth was over, the Bombers held a commanding 17-3 lead.

Kershner Huris
Drew Kershner relieved Overall of the Yankee hurling duties with one away in the bottom of the fifth. Calloway walked but was forced out at second on a ground ball by Curtsinger. With two away, Curtsinger was out at second on an attempted pick-off. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning.

Sam, The Crow, Turns Traitor

By TOM STONE
FRANKFURT, Germany — Sam is a scoundrel. There is no doubt about that. He used to get hopped on dope he stole from the U. S. Air Force. Being a hop head was bad enough. But when Sam got caught he turned traitor. Now, in exchange for a soft life, he lures his own flesh and blood to mass slaughter.

Sam is a crow, a loud-mouthed, heartless black crow. He used to settle on the U. S. Air Force base here each afternoon around dusk with hundreds of other crows with the same thought — to knock themselves silly with dope.

The birds found out that the "dope" used on the fabric of tail assemblies on Uncle Sam's planes would give them a jolt. They clamored all over the planes, pecking away at the stuff like crazy. Sometimes they punched holes in the fabric with their beaks.

That made the Air Force sore. —Crows pecking off the dope and punching holes all over the plane. Airmen tried to shoot them off. But the crows just came back. That didn't work either.

The Air Force was stumped—until Sam stepped, or tripped, into the picture.

The crows used to roost in the Zeppelinheilm woods near the main runway. Members of the base's rod and gun club went there to shoot them once in a while. They knocked off a few, but not enough to discourage the birds from the dope habit.

Then Sam became a casualty. Airmen say he ground-looped and broke a wing. He was captured.

Brought back to the base, the 7167th Air Transport Squadron made a deal with Sam. Sam agreed to put the finger on fellow crows—for a price. The Air Force came through with free quarters and rations.

Now when the gun and rod boys go to Zeppelin woods for a shoot Sam goes along.

He wears a strong cord tied to one of his legs. The other end is fastened to a bush. While the hunters get into position Sam starts screeching. Sam is a big loud-mouth.

The crows getting hopped up over on the base hear Sam raising Cain. They fly over to the woods to find out what's up with Sam. The gunmen open up and drop 30 to 40 and scare the rest away. The procedure is repeated as often as necessary.

Only U.S. Violin Factory Revamped Before Art Los

By DEAN WAKEFIELD
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A chain store musical instrument buyer who couldn't stomach the disappearance of an entire craft is now president and general manager of the only violin factory in the United States.

Until two years ago, F. L. Daniel had to confess complete ignorance of the ancient and honorable art of violin making.

Today, Jackson-Guldin, Inc., a crumbling business before Daniel threw all his assets into it in 1954, has prospects of a sales volume of $300,000 worth of violins and guitars between now and June 1957.

In July 1954, the company was ready to close its doors. Its five remaining experienced employees had been informed that they would be retained only two more days.

"We just couldn't allow this to happen," Daniel said. "There are virtually no U. S. violin makers left and no place in which to train new ones."

What has happened between now and then is a tribute to Daniel. All equipment has been rebuilt, production modernized, the raw material supply increased, quality improved, new inventory and employee training programs established.

Now fully ready to go — and with demand for everything that can be produced — the company's 38 employees can turn out about 800 violins and guitars every week.

Wolfgang Ritter, youthful violin maker who was graduated from the Mittenwald Violin Makers School in Germany, is on the payroll as head of violin technology and quality controls.

"We have the responsibility of fostering a craft which has been lost for the past generation," Daniel says.

DIET TROUBLES
PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Six youngsters were wheeled into St. Francis Hospital with stomach complaints. A 2 1/2-year-old boy ate eight aspirin tablets and washed them down with a half bottle of liquid laxative. A 9-year-old boy swallowed a small rock. Four girls from 1 to 2 1/2 years old ate several boxes of aspirin and the heads from a book of safety matches.

All recovered.

Milk Bottle Fun for Parties

AP Newsfeatures
TINY TOTS ADORE a birthday party from parlor games to birthday cake.
There are more parties in the summer, so how can little Mary's be different from those of the other youngsters?
One new idea involves the trusty old milk bottle, or several of them. A clown of crepe paper is made to go on top of each bottle to delight youngsters who drink chocolate milk or a milk made with crushed strawberries, strawberry syrup or other fruit. Each child may then choose the milk of his choice. Here's how to make the clown bottle topper:

Stretch a piece of white crepe paper over a small rubber ball, tie excess crepe paper at the bottom of the ball for the neck. Stick on gummed stars for eyes, a little disc for the nose and half a circle for the mouth. A red cone of paper is the hat. Gather a strip, 3 by 18 inches, of bright yellow crepe paper with a needle and thread, lengthwise, through the center and tie under the clown's chin. Make a slip-on jacket for the bottle top from circus red crepe paper 4 in. by 10 in. Paste the seam at back, gather together around top and sew or paste clown's head and ruff to it. Cut several pieces of bright yellow crepe paper 1½ by 9 inches, gathering it tightly through the center into pom-poms. These will trim the hat, feet and mitts of the clown. Cut large mitts and big flat feet from heavy white paper and tape it to the bottle. Add big, blue lawyer's seals for buttons.

Another idea that may be made quickly with a balloon is a cat top for the milk bottle. All you do to create "Felix" is take an ordinary round balloon and add ears and features after it is blown to desired size. Join 2 long pipe cleaners for a tail, wrap them with a 2-inch length of bright blue crepe paper

"The JayCees are still willing to donate their time in handling and erecting Christmas lights. How many we will have will be determined by the donations of merchants and individuals to the annual Christmas lighting fund."

PARTY TABLE GLAMOR—Clown and cat toppers crown bottles of chocolate or fruit-flavored milk for party fare.

that has been cut into coarse fringe and tape the tail to the back of the bottle. Fringe two more 3-inch strips of blue crepe paper. Gather it along the uncut edge with a needle and thread and draw it into pom-poms. Tape it to front of the bottle for paws. The cat's fluffy neck ruff may be made of two strips of blue and yellow crepe paper gathered into tiny ruffles and placed around the bottle.

Hereford Youth In Music Camp; Canyon Campus

Among the 320 Panhandle and South Plains high school musicians enrolled for the fourth annual West Texas Music Camp, which began Aug. 6 at West Texas State College, are 18 from Hereford.

Enrolled from Hereford are Martha Bookout, Jonna Lee Blocker, Norma Battles, Joan Brown, Sandra Childers, Barbara Damron, Glenna Gault, David Larsen, Rita Latham, Betty Paetzold, Randall Vaughn, Gary Wertenberger, Ella Marie Williams, Jeanette Rayburn, Colleen Reeves, Jimmie Fowlkes, Zell Crump and Pam Clay.

The two weeks camp, featuring band, choral and twirling instrution under some of the nation's top musicians, will close Aug. 17. Students' schedules are filled daily, from 7:30 a. m. until 5 p. m., with band rehearsals, sectional practice, twirling classes, music for fun and private lessons. Evening concerts, picnics, dances and parties are slated.

Three camp bands and a choir have been formed for instructional and concert purposes. Directing the top band, or symphonic group, is Frank Piersol, Iowa State College.

A concert band is directed by Hiram Henry, Oklahoma A. & M.; and a cadet band is conducted by Joe Barry Mullins, Northeastern

Hardwick Attends Training Class

William F. Hardwick Jr. left this weekend for Houston to attend a two week school for career life insurance underwriters.

The course will consist of an intensive study of the programming of life insurance, accident and sickness protection.

Hardwick, 506 Union St., has been associated with the Great Southern Life Insurance Company since March. Before that time, he was assistant manager of the Hereford theatres for two and one half years.

FRANK DODSON REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dodson last Sunday entertained two of his cousins that he had not seen since 1911. They were Marilyn Bilefry of Bledsoe, N. M., and Mrs. Nancy Epperson of Tatum, N. M.

Mrs. Bilefry and Mr. Epperson were also here.
Mrs. Dodson reports a wonderful time was had during a picnic "and then we robbed a hive of bees".
The Dodsons have entertained other visitors recently.

Other recent visitors at the Dodson farm, one mile north on Highway 51, included Mrs. R. M. Thompson of Spur and Gary Stewart of Crosbyton.

FALSE INSTRUCTIONS

PERTH AMBOY, N. J. (AP)—Two young boys, explaining to firemen why they had turned in a false alarm, said they arrived only two weeks before from Italy. Another boy told them to open that red box and pull the handle and went away "rapidamente," they said.

Louisiana State College. Dr. Houston Bright, WT choral director, has charge of the camp choir.

Parents of Music Camp students are invited to the camp's "Grand Finale" concert on Friday, Aug. 17, at 7:30 p. m., when all bands, the choir, and twirlers will be presented in a camp-closing concert.

Are Menus Monotonous? Try Peanuts in Stew

PORTALES, N. M. (AP)—Want to pep up your meals? Try peanuts, advises Editor Gordon Greaves of the Portales Daily News, probably the world's most enthusiastic peanut booster.

Greaves, known locally as "Goober Gordon," advocates the use of peanuts in practically every dish, commenting:

"At our house we use peanuts in biscuits, hamburgers and the morning bowl of oatmeal. The delicate flavor of the peanuts imparts a new interest to these foods. Our idea is that peanuts will improve the flavor of almost anything that is fit to eat in the first place."

The Daily News frequently carries full pages of peanut recipes, suggesting such viands as peanut and cottage cheese loaf, peanut salad, fried bananas with peanuts, peanut butter pancakes, peanut pie, peanut stuffing, peanut stew and peanut soup. Here are a few recipes from a recent issue:

PEANUT PIE

(Mrs. A. F. Dunsworth, Portales)
4 whole eggs
¾ cup sugar
1 cup corn syrup
1 cup chopped raw Valencia peanuts
1 cup shredded coconut

Beat eggs, mix with other ingredients, and pour in unbaked pie shell, and bake at 400 degrees until firm. This makes large, or two small pies.

Pie Crust—

1 tsp. salt, 2/3 cup shortening
2 cups flour, 1/3 cup cold water
PEANUT BUTTER PANCAKES
(Mrs. M. A. Padgett, Crawfordville, Ind.)

Use any good pancake flour and add a large spoonful of either crunchy or smooth peanut butter to the batter. She also suggests peanut butter in celery, the same as you fill celery with cheese, and "toast is wonderful, spread with honey and peanut butter."

PEANUT STUFFING

(Mrs. Mamie Cook, Floyd)
1 large loaf day old bread
3 cups crumbled cold cornbread
½ cup chopped onion
2 cups finely sliced celery
1 cup coarsely chopped peanuts
1½ teaspoons salt

½ cup butter, margarine or strained bacon fat, melted
1½ teaspoons rubbed sage
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon Monosodium Glutamate

½ cup giblet stock or water
Toss all together lightly. Pack lightly into turkey. This recipe makes enough to stuff a 10-12 pound turkey.

DOG STOPS FIRE

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A small Pekinese dog played the hero's role at a house fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Morrison returned home to find a large hole burned in the linoleum. The dog, named Sandy, had burns on his front paws after stamping out the blaze. The Morrisons said Sandy demonstrated his fire-fighting bent once before by stamping out a cigarette which had fallen to the floor from an ash tray.

The Hallmark

of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Jim Looks Around 'Back Home'

We were privileged last week to make a visit with our folks in Nolan County. Having grown up in the western part of the county near Roscoe, in the "Heart of the blackland divide", it's always a pleasure to return. However the heat down there made it easy to come back to Hereford when the time came.

It's interesting to see the changes that have come about in that part of the country so far as altitudes toward soil and water conservation is concerned. Since the land there generally is considered to be flat, it was felt for a long time that no terracing or contouring would ever be needed. Just plow it and plant it with a reasonable amount of rain, a decent harvest could be expected. Change came. A few of the wiser operators discovered however, that water needed for crops was moving off the fields into lakes and streams.

BOOSTER NABBED—That perennial booster of Hereford and its products, Burl Elliston, was "caught" by the camera as he gathered a few samples of the kind of white potatoes "we grow." Right after A. N. Hopson went by "digging" on his farm just south of the city, "Old Cow Thief" swooped down on a choice hill. The Kennebec-variety spuds were making 400 sacks to the acre. (Staff Photo)

WOULDN'T TURN OVER DES MOINES — A city traffic division repairman who went to repair a parking meter reported the trouble apparently was caused by a confused motorist. The repairman said he found an automobile ignition key jammed into the coin slot.

THEATER RODEO
DETROIT — Four traffic police men were hastily called on for rodeo duty when Sadie, a normally placid mare, stampeded at the Norwest Theater.
Sadie was being led down the theater aisle to publicize a film. But the slippery floor and the yelling youngsters proved too much. Both Sadie and the children were on the verge of panic before the police arrived for the roundup.

Many Couples Are Celebrating August Wedding Anniversaries

MR. AND MRS. URLIN STREU

BRAND
STAFF

August vies with June in favor with brides and grooms, and marriages go on in this country at the rate of almost two million a year.

But whether in June or December, the marriage ceremony is as firmly and deeply rooted in tradition as the pomp and ceremony of the law, the church, and the great professions. The marriage ceremony is based upon a multitude of traditions. From the hills of Kentucky to St. Pauls in London the bride, for example, religiously wears "something old, something new" and from the Panhandle of Texas to Paris in France there is a bit of "blue" in the costume.

ANCIENTS ADVISE

In ancient Roman times, engaged girls who found their hearts skipping an extra beat dashed out to the oracle before setting the happy date. Presumably the sages decided June a good month to please the goddess Juno. The ring is symbolic of an even older custom. Primitive tribes bound and fettered prospective brides around wrists and ankles, and fellow tribesmen then turned the "captured" woman over to her husband, thus signifying she was his property. A "honeymoon" originally lasted one "lunar month" but nowadays it may depend on how much money you have.

A recent graph shows that the number of marriages remains on a much more even keel than general business conditions. Thus it seems that "man's last excuse, 'Let's wait until times are better'" goes by the board when a woman makes up her mind and sets her heart on marriage.

Here's how it all began for six Hereford couples:

MR. AND MRS. URLIN STREU

413 N. McKinley
Miss Yetta (Jean) Hackworth became the bride of Urlin Streu at sunrise on the morning of Aug. 14, 1930, at the home of her parents. They spent their honeymoon at Grand Lake, Colo., and then came to Hereford where he was associated with his father, the late A. H. Streu, in Streu Hardware.

The romance began when both were attending West Texas State College, Canyon.

She has been active in Presbyterian church circles and club affairs and both take part in civic interests. Almost from the very beginning, Jean has worked in the gift department of the store. She worked with Camp Fire groups in almost every capacity of leadership for 17 years, while he worked with the Boy Scouts in both local and district activities for over 15 years. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

They have one son, Oliver Streu, who was released recently after serving four years in the U. S. Navy, and two grandsons, William Raymond, 2, and Ronald Hardwick, three months old.

MR. AND MRS. CLYDE CAVE

599 N. Schley
They were married Aug. 11, 1942, in Happy by her father, Rev. R. R. Gilbreath, who was then serving as pastor of the Happy Methodist Church.

He went back to his post in the service at Fort Robinson, Ark., and she returned to Plainview where she was teaching school. After his release in February 1943 they came to Hereford and have been operating Cave's Variety Store ever since. She is the bookkeeper.

They belong to the First Methodist Church and take part in civic affairs. She is a member of the Calliopean Club, having served that club as president.

MR. AND MRS. A. J. SCHROETER

603 Union Ave.
The Schroeters are planning to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary on Aug. 27. Daughter of the late A. O. Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, Margaret and it was there she met Major Schroeter. In 1931 they went to Roswell, N. M., where they were married by a Baptist minister.

She was band director in the Wellington public schools that fall, so they decided not to announce their marriage until Christmas. Shortly after the first of the year they moved to Lubbock where he completed his schooling at Texas Technological College.

The following year they moved to Hereford where he worked in the A. O. Thompson Abstract Office, where the couple has recently assumed management. She has worked in the office, at intervals, all through the years.

Schroeter worked a while for the National Farm Lion Assn., and served as Deaf Smith County Judge for four years. He and his father built the Elm Courts in 1941 and operated the courts for 15 years.

She is a member of the Baptist Church and he belongs to the Presbyterian. Both are active in church work. He has served on the local Red Cross board and on the board of the Hereford Credit Union for years. She is a past president of the Music Study Club and is a member of La Plata Study Club.

Their three sons are Alex J. of Fort Carson, Colo., Paul Bryan, who works with his parents in the abstract office, and Edwin, a senior in Hereford High School.

MR. AND MRS. TROY MOORE

293 N. Gough St.
They were married in the Baptist Church parsonage in Clovis, N. M., on Aug. 31, 1931.

They returned to Hereford where he owned and operated a grocery store and filling station for a number of years. For a time he was engaged in the gas and oil wholesale and retail business and in 1941 he built The Farmer's Drive-In at 403 E. First St.

Mrs. Moore is the former Miss Lois Sowell, daughter of the late Mrs. Julia Sowell. The Moores are members of the First Christian Church and are active in its affairs. He has served as county commissioner for eight years and is a member of the city commission at the present time. He is a Mason and was a charter member of the Rotary Club.

They have three children: Sharon Dee, a senior student at the University of Denver; Martin Reid, graduated from Hereford High School in May and will enter college this fall as a freshman; and Troy Don, who will be in the seventh grade here this year.

MR. AND MRS. ALTON FRASER

301 Union Ave.
In a quiet ceremony in the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Valentine, Mary Valentine and Alton Fraser were married on Aug. 3, 1930. Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony and Mrs. J. C. McCracken gave the wedding music.

A wedding breakfast was held after the service, but the honeymoon trip did not materialize until three years later when they took a trip to the Chicago World's Fair. At the time of their marriage he was operating a line of refrigerated trucks to the West coast and later added a fleet of gasoline trucks into New Mexico. They purchased the Cone Elevator in 1937 and formed the Fraser Milling Company Inc. She has served as bookkeeper of the firm since that time. Mr. Fraser also has large ranch holdings in this area as well as branches of the milling company in Albuquerque, N. M., and Dove Creek, Colo. Both are members of the Episcopalian Church and she finds time for work in the women's department of the church and in the Calliopean Study Club. She was the first sponsor of Kappa Iota Chapter, Zeta Sigma Phi, social and educational sponsor.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Raylan Evans, and a son, Jon Fraser, who is serving as manager of the Dove Creek branch this summer. He graduated from Hereford High School in May and will enroll at the University of Denver as a pre-law student in September.

They also have three grandchildren, Charles Wayne, Judy and Johnny Evans.

MR. AND MRS. E. W. HOBSON

111 Park Ave.
The E. W. Hobsons took time out Wednesday, Aug. 8, on their 30th wedding anniversary for the camera man as they look over some of West Texas State College text books. They were married at Buhl, Idaho, Aug. 8, 1926. She was teach-

To Avoid Accidents, Better Walk Home

A statistical study of accidents investigated within the city limits by the Hereford City Police since Jan. 1 has been released by Chief Leo Box. This covers 86 accidents which have been reported. There were no fatalities in the accidents.

The age group from 16-20 accounted for the highest number of accidents, with 23 per cent; with second place the misfortune of drivers over 50 years of age, with 18 per cent. Next in the age group are people from the ages of 46-50, who were in 12 per cent of the accidents.

Age groups from 31-35 were involved in 11 per cent of the accidents; and the groups from 21-25 and 26-30 each had 9 per cent on their report. Age groups 36-40 and 41-43 also tied with 7 per cent. The lowest per cent of accidents was by the 11-15 year group with only 4 per cent, undoubtedly due to the limited number of such young people driving.

Male drivers led the accident race 3 to 1, with a total of 128 men to 43 women in collisions since Jan. 1.

The largest percentage of accidents were recorded between 6:01 p. m. to 9 p. m., with 20 per cent of the mishaps occurring during that time. Twenty per cent of the reported collisions happened between 3:01 and 6 p. m.; 19 per cent from 9:01 p. m. to 6 a. m.; 15 per cent from 12:01 p. m. to 3 p. m.; 15 per cent from 9:01 a. m. to 12 noon; and 5 per cent from 6:01 a.

m. to 9 a. m. Evidently, few people rush to work in Hereford. After working hours, the danger is much greater. Failure to grant right-of-way tickets have been issued to 34 people since Jan. 1, when they were involved in automobile accidents. Twenty-seven negligent collision charges have been filed, two tickets for improper backing, and nine for no drivers license while in possession of a vehicle.

Tickets Issued Eight people have been booked for speeding and causing accidents; six for following too closely, and three for leaving the scene of an accident.

Two tickets were given for reckless driving, two for DWI, two for improper backing, and two for making a left turn not in safety.

Each of these occurrences was the cause of an accident. There have been three three-car collisions.

Of the habitual traffic violators, attitude is a contributing factor in 60 per cent of the accidents, and physical and mental inability make

PATT EGGER

Fall Wedding Set For Patt Egger, Floyd McGee Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Egger of Lubbock have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patt Egger, to Floyd McGee Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McGee of 127 Star Street. The wedding will take place in early fall.

Miss Egger serves as secretary at the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock. She was graduated from Brownwood High School and Abilene Christian College, Abilene. She also attended North Texas

State College. Mr. McGee is a pre-law student at Texas Technological College at the present, and is planning to enter law school in September. He was graduated from Hereford High School and attended Amarillo Junior College and Abilene Christian College. He has also served three years in the Coast Guard.

Club Members Set Schedule For Fall

Activities for the fall and winter season were considered at the Jaycee-Elte meeting held at the Jaycee Clubhouse Wednesday evening.

The monthly family night sponsored by the group was planned for late September and a bake sale among members was scheduled. In alphabetical order, members will take some baked product to the next in line who will place a dollar in the treasury and pass on a baked-product to the next member. This will continue until all members have contributed.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Stanley Slagle and Paul Schroeter.

Others attending were Mesdames Buddy Pickens, Dennis Lomas, Bill Howard, Jimmy Bownds, Wayne Pittman and Ed Davis.

Women's Activity In Governmental Tasks Described

"Women in Government was the theme of the program given at the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting Monday. It was held in the home of Bruce Carter, with Hilda Havens and C. Ora Cockrell as hostesses.

EvaLee Potter illustrated early history of women in the government by referring back to the Bible and citing such influential figures as Esther, Jezebel, Mary Magdalene, and Mary, Mother of Jesus.

She also cited names of queens in history such as Victoria and Elizabeth. More recent leaders—Eleanor Roosevelt, Madame Chiang Kai Chek, and Clare Booth Luce—were also mentioned by Mrs. Potter.

Opportunities Seen Opportunities for women in the government were stressed by Sophie Snare, who gave examples of countless fields of work in which women participate: state government, congress, FBI, and atomic energy research were most noteworthy.

Ellen Carter, chairman of the committee, told of the duties that women have in government and life in general.

"They can help distinguish right from wrong, make freedom secure, help balance thoughts, and aid in making laws," stated Mrs. Carter.

Gladys Carroll and Claudie Ola Brown were voted into the club by the 19 members present.

After the meeting, the B&PW held a social hour in the Carter's back yard.

NEW PLANE DATA

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An aircraft plant report says planes today are vastly different from those in World War II. A World War II fighter required about 7,000 parts. A modern jet needs 25,000. A tolerance of 1/32 of an inch could pass for some parts in a second world war craft, where the modern fighter has to have 1/500 of an inch. And just a scuff on a wing is enough to cause a reduction of 20 miles an hour in speed—a loss that can be fatal to a pilot when he's dog fighting for his life.

ANTIQUE SUIT

ATKINSON, Neb. (AP)—In 1884 when Wayne Warner was 14 his grandfather gave him a silver dollar. Wayne bought a turkey hen. The hen laid 13 eggs and Wayne sold the 13 turkeys for $13.

His mother told him to save the money for a new suit, but times got hard and Wayne loaned the money to his mother. She paid it back when Wayne was 18 and Wayne bought his suit.

Recently he was 86 and out came the 68-year-old suit for a promenade.

Sylvia Cox Engagement Is Announced

SYLVIA COX

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cox have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia, to O. J. Wilson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Wilson of Friona, formerly of Hereford. The wedding is scheduled to take place early in September.

The bride-to-be graduated from Hereford High School with the 1956 class. Wilson was in the service two years and is presently serving as manager of a grocery store in Amarillo. The couple plan to make their home in Amarillo.

ing in the public schools there and he was engaged in the automobile business.

In 1927 they moved to Boise, Idaho, where he owned and operated a business until moving to Hereford in 1948. Here they improved and operated a farm near Summerfield, but recently leased the farm. He is now distributor for Cornwell Tools for the entire Panhandle.

For the past three years Mrs. Hobson has served as substitute teacher in the Hereford schools and is now completing a refresher course at West Texas. She will be a member of the Elia Aikman elementary school faculty this fall.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hobson are members of the First Methodist Church. She takes active part in the Woman's Society of Christian Service and is also a member of the Lone Star Study Club.

Details Told For Berend, Albracht Nuptial Rites

Miss Annette Berend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Berend, and Thomas L. Albracht were married at 8 a. m. Tuesday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church with Rev. Nathaniel Madden reading the nuptial high mass.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Albracht.

The church decorations included greenery and baskets of white Mastic daisies. Pyramiding cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabrum gave illumination for the double-ring ceremony. Acolytes were Roger Albracht, brother of the bridegroom, and John Buck.

St. Anthony's choir sang the wedding marches and Ed Dzuik and Mrs. Elbert Vance were vocalists. Mrs. Vance's offering was "O Perfect Love" and "Mother At Thy Feet We're Kneeling" in conclusion and Mr. Dzuik sang "Pans Angelicus" accompanied by Mrs. Dean Krieghouser, organist, sister of the bridegroom.

Attendants In Blue

Miss Dolores Loerwald was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mary Jo Peters and Clea Betzen.

They wore identical dresses of heavenly blue lace over taffeta made with torso bodices meeting the full ballerina length skirt in petal points. They wore matching picture hats and carried arm bouquets of pink rosebuds. Doris Berend as junior bridesmaid wore a small replica of the bridesmaids' dresses and carried a miniature bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Duane Albracht, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and groomsmen were Sammy Albracht, Harry Wilhelm and Ray Berend.

Ushers were John Jesko, Eddie Greering, Gainesville, and Dennis Noggler of Sunray.

Father Gives Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white imported lace and nylon marquisette over satin. Designed with high neckline and Peter Pan collar outlined with elaborate embroidery of pearls and sequins, the fitted bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands. From this stemmed a magnificent skirt made of fully shirred tulle and lace panels which swept into a short chapel train.

The fingertip veil of illusion was joined to a lace crown encrusted with simulated pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and pink rosebuds with a mother of pearl rosary, given to her by the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a navy lace suit-dress trimmed with rhinestones with navy and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress accented with navy and pink accessories. Both had corsages of pink carnations.

Reception Held

The bride's parents were hosts at a reception given at 6 p. m. in St. Anthony's Parish Hall. Approximately 335 guests attended. A dance followed the reception.

The double-ring wedding cake was encircled with figurine bridesmaids dressed to match the bridesmaids' costumes, carrying miniature pink rosebuds.

When the couple left on a honeymoon trip to points in Colorado, the bride was wearing a navy cotton frock trimmed in white and a white straw sailor. Upon their return they will make their home in a new farm house two and one-half miles southwest of Hereford.

Honor Mrs. McGee; Farewell Courtesy

Mrs. Lawrence McGee, who with her family is moving to Amarillo to make her home, was honored at a farewell courtesy party given by Mrs. Ralph McCullough in her home at 139 Texas Ave., Tuesday morning.

The coffee table was laid with a pink linen and lace cloth. The focal point in decoration was a silver-footed crystal bowl filled with frosted fruit interspersed with pink rosebuds. Mrs. Ernest McGee presided to serve Brazilian coffee.

Guests were neighbors and close friends of the honoree and Mrs. Henry Sears who has purchased the McGee home and will soon be moving into the neighborhood, was a special guest. A hostess gift was presented to Mrs. McGee.

Those attending were Mesdames J. R. Allison, George Brumley, S. L. Walser, M. W. Nobles, Les Combs, W. C. Hromas, R. G. Peeler, Townsend Douglas, Carl Luke, Ray McCullough, H. M. Cogswell, O. M. Dickey, Jim Higgins, W. J. Krumbain, Ernest McGee, Taft McGee, Floyd McGee, Dennis Lomas, L. J. Livesay, and Alvin McGee of Sentinel, Okla.

Donna Cayler Is Shower Honoree; Wedding Aug. 18

Donna Cayler, bride-elect of James Donald Burks, was honored Thursday afternoon at a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. J. B. Snead. Assisting hostesses were Mesdames S. B. McLallen, Danny McLallen, Clinton Jackson, J. J. Durham, Jim Wiman, Gerald Wilson and Jimmie Allred.

Misses Sylvia and Joy Wiman were in charge of the guest register and Patsy Jackson and Carolyn Kester presided at the refreshment table.

Miss Mary Durham who will serve as maid of honor in the wedding which will be held in the First Baptist Church on Aug. 18, stood with Mrs. Harry Cayler, the bride-elect's mother, and the honoree to receive the guests.

A pink and white color theme was noted in decorations throughout the house. The refreshment table was laid with an ivory lace cloth over blue. A garden scene marked the center, arranged with pink carnations and pink candles, with a miniature bride in traditional wedding costume standing among the flowers.

Informal piano music was provided throughout the afternoon by Mrs. Bob Lawrence, Sammy McLallen and Mary Anne Young.

Refreshments were served to the honoree, Janice Jacobs, Barbara Jacobs, Maxine Ware, Patsy Ford and Judy Hoff.

Budget Fashions Star Jersey

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
YOU DON'T HAVE to break the bank to step out in the newest styles for fall. Smart girls can find high fashion at thrifty prices if they set their sights right.

The girl on a budget should make simplicity her goal, look for fine fabrics and flattering lines, and plan a color-coordinated wardrobe, so that one set of accessories can go with several outfits.

A bright star of the fall fashion lineup will be wool jersey, used in all price brackets, but especially notable in budget lines. It lends itself admirably to the softly molded lines of the new silhouette, and will be a standby of the working girl's wardrobe.

Abe Schrader, who concentrates on fashions that are easy on the pocketbook, uses jersey in various textures and weights for many dresses and costumes. Particularly effective is a youthful two-piece outfit in beige angora jersey with bloused top and slim skirt.

Another is a high-style costume consisting of dark gray jersey sheath dress and cut-away box jacket in matching flannel, with necktie silk scarf and lining. This designer also uses knit trimming on a number of daytime dresses, and often uses a contrasting tweed jacket with a monotone jersey sheath dress.

Most skirts are slim, with design interest above the belt.

PRESIDENTS HAD A HAND IN IT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—It took Clifford A. Munroe, 74, over 50 years to collect them but he now owns autographs of all 34 presidents of the United States.

He personally acquired all the autographs from President Theodore Roosevelt to President Dwight Eisenhower and purchased the rest.

His autograph of George Washington is on an envelope addressed by the first president two months before he died.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The race between William Freeman and Paul Mesa for Monroe county supervisor of registration was not decided until the last vote was counted.

The machine count showed Freeman had 3,184 votes and Mesa 3,182.

Mesa received 147 absentee votes and Freeman 146, giving Freeman the office, 3,330 to 3,329.

REWARD IN HEAVEN

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Honesty pays but not much, 17-year-old Sharon Miller found out.

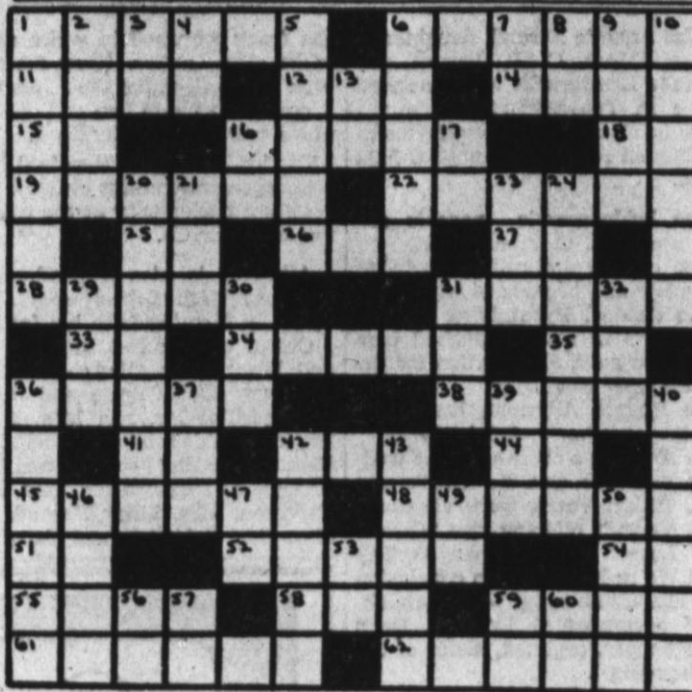

She found an envelope in the street containing $4,600 in cash and checks belonging to a machine tool firm. Sharon returned it. Her reward: a company pencil and $1.75.

WEIGHT REDUCTION?

OMAHA (AP)—A clerk in the Omaha Post Office weighed a letter for a woman patron, handed it back with the comment it was too heavy and would need another stamp.

"Well," shrugged the woman, "how will putting another stamp on it make it lighter?"

MARTIN AND LEWIS TANGLE WITH MODELS, G-MEN, SPIES

ARTISTS AND MODELS
Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis come back to the screen with another one of their laugh-filled hits, and helping them out are Shirley MacLaine, Dorothy Malone, Anita Gabor, and George "Foghorn" Winslow.

Jerry and Dean find themselves smack in the middle of acres of gorgeous models and promptly don beret and smock to take up residence in Greenwich Village.

They get mixed up with the FBI when Jerry's subconscious reveals half of a secret rocket formula. The spies want the other half, and the FBI wants the spies. The result is a wild and terrific chase to keep Jerry from going to sleep and giving away the formula to the spies who have kidnapped him.

"Artists and Models" shows Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday at the Star Theatre.

THE TENDER TRAP
Frank Sinatra and Debbie Reynolds are the cuddlesome couple of "The Tender Trap," showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Star Theatre. David Wayne and Celeste Holm also head the cast of the comedy-romance.

This picture is based on the Broadway stage success, a play built around the adventures of a gay New York bachelor. He believes the Utopian life means safety in numbers until he finds he is hard put to win the one girl in the world he wants.

STAR IN THE DUST
A gripping tale of violence unfolds on the Tower Drive in screen Sunday and Monday at the showing of "Star In The Dust". John Agar portrays Sheriff Bill Jordan, who finds himself virtually alone in upholding the course of justice in saving for the law's gallows the neck of professional gunman Sam Hall, portrayed by Richard Boone.

One element of the town refuses to wait for the law, clamoring at the jail gates for an immediate hanging, while still another group, indebted to the killer, hopes to effect his rescue. Mamie Van Doren, Leif Erikson, Coleen Gray and James Gleason are also in "Star In The Dust".

DOUBLE FEATURE
Hailed as one of Walt Disney's greatest films, "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea", shows Tuesday and Wednesday at the Tower Drive In. Kirk Douglas, James Mason, Paul Lukas, and Peter Lorre are starred in this picture.

The public will see the wonders of the sea through the lens of the Technicolor camera, which show how a group of men lived in self-contained luxury on the submarine Nautilus while it traveled over the ocean's floor.

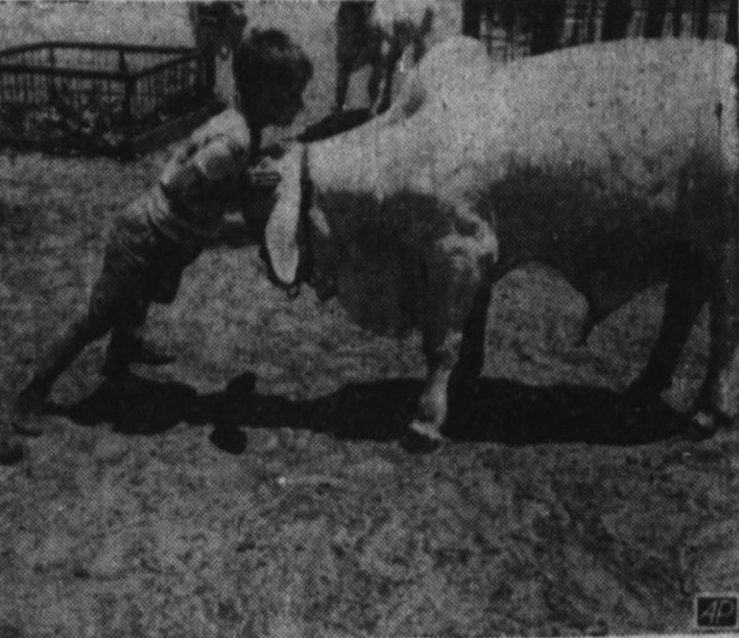

Dope control experts say narcotic addiction is increasing in the United States, but declining in the United Kingdom, France and Italy.

NEW TAX DEDUCTION
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Willie King, 48-year-old shipyard worker, readily admitted to U.S. District Judge Bryan Simpson that he listed two dogs as dependents on his 1953 income tax return.

"I thought it was legal," King said. "I thought you could put cats, dogs, chickens, or anything like that."

King offered to plead guilty to tax evasion but Simpson refused the plea, saying, "He's not guilty if he had no willful intent to defraud."

SUMMERFIELD NEWS

Friends By The Score Have Visits In Summerfield Community Homes

BY BETTY JEAN NOLAND

Mrs. J. A. Noland returned home Saturday evening after visiting friends and relatives in and around Waco and Dallas for the past few weeks. Mrs. Noland's niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Weatherington and Carolyn of Dallas returned home with her for a short visit. From here the Weatheringtons went to Colorado for an extended vacation.

Dale Christie, who is spending the summer in this community with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christie, Jimmie and Valerie, spent last weekend visiting his mother and family, Mrs. B. B. Christie and Kathy, in their home in New Deal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Noland were hosts for a barbecue supper given at the Fullwood apartments in Hereford Sunday evening. Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wright and Ann Lookingbill from this community, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen, Kay and Sheryl Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Dusty Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simms, and Kathleen Simms of Roswell, N. M.

Mrs. B. B. Christie and Kathy, of New Deal spent Wednesday visiting in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christie.

Janet Lookingbill of Hereford is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. of this community.

Mrs. Howard Allen, Kity and Sheryl Jo of Hereford visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Noland and family Friday evening.

Mrs. Archie Scott of Hereford visited in the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. A. Noland, Wednesday evening.

Jan Glass, a student at Wayland College at Plainview, spent Sunday visiting Ann Lookingbill.

Saturday evening visitors in the home of Mrs. J. A. Noland were: Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Weatherington and Carolyn of Dallas, Mr. Wes Cox, Mrs. Archie Scott and Linda of Hereford, Richard Noland of Alamogordo, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Mack Noland, Bill, Joe Don, Janie and Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Story, Jan and Joe Gary of Lufkin, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Noland, Linda, Jerre, and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill, Ann and Fred, and Valerie Christie, Nancy Haynes of Ragland, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Noland and Bette Jean.

Mrs. Howard Allen, Kay and Sheryl Jo spent Saturday afternoon visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Noland.

Nancy Haynes of Ragland, N. M., spent last week visiting in the home of Linda Kay Noland.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Noland and family of Hereford and Mrs. J. A. Noland visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill and family Wednesday evening.

Sunday afternoon visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clearman and family were: Mr. Clearman's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Freeman; his mother, Mrs. W. C. Clearman, all of Seminols; and Mrs. J. C. Clearman's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Neal and Miss Kathryn Duree, all of Dimmitt; Mrs. Gaines Neal's mother, Mrs. Balenger of Tulla.

Mr. Clearman's mother, Mrs. W. C. Clearman, remained here for a visit. She has been spending part of this week visiting in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clearman and family of Hereford, but returned to this community the latter part of the week to stay with the J. C. Clearmans.

The whole Bible has been translated into 207 languages under the sponsorship of the American Bible Society.

SAFETY FIRST—Recognized this week for having completed five years without a lost-time accident, these employees of the Hereford district of the Southwestern Public Service Co. were commended by Clee Mcharg, district manager. A regular safety program keeps the group safety conscious. Meharg declares, "Accidents don't just happen, they're caused, and all of us in the Hereford district are determined not to cause an accident that will break our own record." (Angel Photo)

Tell Wedding of Miss Raline Rule, Merle Southern

Announcements have been made here of the marriage of Miss Raline Rule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rule, Rt. 3, Friona, to Merle Southern, son of Mr. and Mrs. O.

MR. AND MRS. MERLE SOUTHERN

B. Southern, Rt. 4, Hereford. Vows were exchanged in Portales in the Fourth Avenue Church of Christ on July 28, with Minister E. V. Ellison performing the double-ring ceremony.

Attendants were Mrs. Kyle Speed of Amarillo, sister of the bridegroom, and his brother, Gary Southern. Mrs. Speed wore a blue and white cotton print made redingote fashion with a white straw pill box and white accessories.

The bride chose a rose Bates cotton frock fashioned with fitted waist with boat neckline and full pleated skirt. Her accessories were in navy and white and she wore a white satin picture hat. Her corsage was a cluster of white rosebuds tied with loops of white satin ribbon.

The couple is now residing at 711 East Third St. She plans to continue her schooling at Hereford High School this fall where she is a member of the Future Homemakers of America and other school organizations.

Mr. Southern was a member of the 1956 graduating class of Hereford High School and is engaged in farming with his father near Hereford.

War Plane Builders Now Making Germany's Autos

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—With all the midget cars appearing in Germany nowadays, driving a big American automobile makes you feel like a motorized Gulliver.

Steep automobile taxes, high insurance fees and expensive gas (60 cents a gallon) are largely responsible for the thriving new market in three- and four-wheeled babies on the road.

One advertising slogan claims the new cars "cost less taxes than a dachshund."

The number of small cars—below 700 cc cylindrical contents—registered last year showed an increase of 76 percent over 1954.

Some of the midgets are only three feet high. But they make up in economy what they lack in size. One reportedly will travel 100 miles on less than a gallon of gasoline.

The midgets cost between $426 and $714. Some of these glass-domed cars make you think of cockpits. In fact, three of the midget cars are produced by former Luftwaffe aircraft designers. Willy Messerschmitt, whose plane and Claude Dornier, designer of light bombers and reconnaissance planes, has come out with a trapezoid prototype of his earlier four-wheeled Delta.

Other tiny cars popular in Germany are the BMW-Isetta, built under an Italian license, the Gogomobile and the Kleinschnittger, which looks like an expensive toy and the 200-pound Zwerg (dwarf), which is less than three feet tall.

The Paris, France, metropolitan area has 4,800,000 people.

ALL-ELECTRIC KITCHEN

Southwestern Public Service Co.

August 14th thru 17th

Whether you contemplate remodeling your present kitchen, or buying a home, you will enjoy seeing plans and photographs of the remodeled all-electric kitchen featured in the July issue of Parents' Magazine, now on display at the Southwestern Public Service Company office from August 14, 1956 to August 17, 1956.

Key to the efficiency of this all-electric remodeled kitchen is the well organized arrangement which utilizes every available inch of space, and provides for the newest in automatic electrical equipment to help families with growing children "live better... electrically." Since remodeling, there is twice as much work surface area, an abundance of storage cabinets, plus a family dining area with table-height counter and plastic upholstered chairs.

The new electric range with a large capacity oven makes cooking and baking easier; control panel on range turns on and off automatically, also controls outlet for small electric appliances such as electric pressure cooker. Large storage cabinet above range conceals vent for twin blow fan which prevents smoke and odors from permeating kitchen.

There is a large, self-defrosting electric refrigerator which furnishes ample storage for fresh and frozen foods. Installed above the dining area counter are plug-in-strips with outlets spaced six inches apart, making it convenient to use the automatic coffeemaker, toaster, waffle-maker and other appliances right at the table. After meal clean-up is made easier by an extra-large capacity automatic dishwasher, which is economical and easy to install, and has pre-rinse which heats dishes and cabinet before washing.

To see the many new concepts in kitchen design as shown in Parents' Magazine's remodeled all-electric kitchen for families with children, visit the photo-display at the Southwestern Public Service Company office, located at 144 W. 3rd Street. Admission is free.

No Shortage Of Energetic Folk As Vacationing Time Nears End

BY CAROL INMAN

Folks in and around Hereford are showing signs of energetic activity in the last few weeks of summer-time. They're realizing that in just a few short weeks—24 days to be exact—the children that seem to be underfoot all the time will be back in school.

Most of the relatives and friends won't be around to talk over old times and "do you remember when's" until next summer, and all the trips will be occasional short jaunts on crowded weekends.

So, Herefordites are hustling around visiting, sightseeing, and slipping in last-minute family get-togethers.

Ellistons Entertain

One particular get-together held last week was in the Nolie G. Elliston home, with about 20 people present. They viewed Byrl Elliston's films of Hereford, and talked over old times.

Robert Owen Elliston, their oldest son, was here with his wife, Cathy. They are now living in Silver Spring, Mo.

Robert Owen is with Johns Hopkins University in the applied physics lab, doing research work in radar for the government. The nature of his job can't be revealed, as it is classified Top Secret. He is also attending Maryland University night classes and working on his Master's degree.

Cathy, Robert's pretty wife, is an ex-Army nurse, and was stationed at Walter Reed hospital during the war.

Visitors Call

Saturday the Hardy Bensons, of Alamogordo, N. M., spent the evening with them, and he and Robert talked over the old times when they were roommates at Texas Tech.

An informal reception was held in the Nolie Elliston home Monday in honor of Cathy, Mesdames Ira Scott, Ray Wilhelm, Ed Jesko, and Marion Rudder assisted.

Monday was also Robert Owen's and Cathy's first wedding anniversary.

Little League Resume

Informal coffees after the Little League ball games seem to be just the thing these days. A cup of coffee and a large slice of cake OR a large slice of watermelon on the front lawn are just right for talking and discussing events of the current games, or indulging in the present-day politics.

Attending these coffees which are held at different homes are the R. W. Sparks, the Buck Hales, the T. W. Willoughbys, and the M. Achors.

Wain Miller has been visiting his aunt in Wayside this week. He stayed from Monday to Thursday with her, and was accompanied there and back by his mother, Mrs. G. V. Miller.

Nolands Jubilant

It's a new addition in the Bill Riggs home in Oklahoma City! William Kevin was born July 26, and his maternal grandparents, the Charles Nolands, are fairly bursting with happiness. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Riggs of Wheeling, W. Va.

The Buck Hales and sons Terry and Joe Mack are in Turkey, Tex. over the weekend, visiting friends and relatives. They lived there several years ago, before moving to Hereford.

Off To Cuba

The F. H. Kings say it will be a long, long time before they are able to see King's brother, Richard, again. He is moving to Cuba where he will be working with an oil company. Earlier in the week, Richard was visiting in the F. H. King home, saying farewell for several months.

Little Denise King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. King, had her eight-year-old birthday party this week. She and a friend, Sharon Carter, were treated to the movies, and later in the day met several other playmates at the city park for a party. Attending were Cathy and Cynthia Kromer, Bruce and Ronnie Babione, Sharon Carter, Jacob King and the honoree.

Mrs. F. H. Kromer and Mrs. Ronald Babione assisted Mrs. F. H. King with the party.

Fish Story

Fishing season is still in evidence around Hereford! Robert Sparks and son Warren decided to try their luck Tuesday night, and loaded lunches, rods and reels, and a bottle of mosquito repellent into the car and went to Buffalo Lake for the night. The next day they came back with about 12 fish, and "a jillion" mosquito bites. But it was fun!

The former Gayle Gault, Mrs. Phillip E. Kendall, has been named to the University of Oklahoma honor roll for the spring semester by Dr. George L. Cross, OU president. Selection for the honor roll is based on a minimum grade average of "B" in at least 12 semester hours of classwork during the period. She was a student in the College of Education.

Travels Afar

However, it seems fate had a hand in this, and Mrs. Kendall won't be able to return to college this fall, unless she can correspond with them from several thousand miles away! Gayle and husband Philip are now living in the northeast corner of Africa, near the Strait of Gibraltar. He is an ensign in the navy on reserve duty there, and they are to be stationed in Africa for the next two years.

The Arthur Tiefels are having lots of fun about this time! They left Thursday for a tour through the states from Texas to Minnesota. Mark and Marcia, their children, also went with them. While they are in Minnesota, they will visit with relatives of Mrs. Tiefel. The Tiefels plan to return to Hereford the latter part of the week.

Judy Pinnell, Adrian correspondent, has gone for a few days' vacation, but will return and write her column next week.

Mrs. Flora Homfeldt of Adrian attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Lydia Hunke, at Woollam, Wash. Mrs. Hunke passed away on July 31.

Hall Countians

All you former Hall county residents who want a good time next Sunday should attend the annual Hall County Picnic at Mackenzie Park in Lubbock!

This is a reunion of all former Hall County residents of the South Plains, and of present residents of Hall county and neighboring communities. The Hall County Picnic sign will be erected at the picnic site in the park.

If you think you may have trouble finding the park, you can locate the sign more readily if you will enter the park at the Hub Homes entrance.

Each family will bring baskets of food and drinks. Dinner will be served picnic style at 1 p. m.

Nothing Serious

This will be a wonderful chance to get re-acquainted with old friends and relatives you haven't seen for several years, as the principal entertainment will be visiting and talking.

CARRIED A LOT OF MAIL IN 50 YEARS—W. H. 'Bill' Massey, of Itasca, is going on his 50th year as a local rural mail carrier. He started on Route 1, Itasca on July 1, 1907 and has continued on the same route since. (AP Photo)

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Johnson and twelve-year-old daughter, Joyce Ann, were seen at Red River recently taking in all the scenery and grandeur of nature available at Red River.

They also had the opportunity to see their picture in the El Crepusculo newspaper. While they were visiting in Red River, an article was written about the owners of the Matheny Trading Post, the Dexter Walthalls, and the photographer included the Johnsons in the picture along with the Walthalls.

Nancy Boardman returned Tuesday morning from a ten-day visit with the Don Bruhl family at Llano, Texas.

Rameys Visited

Mrs. John W. White of St. Martinsville, La., has been visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sank Ramey, for several days.

It's family reunion time for the Willoughbys! Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Willoughby and family are in Amarillo today attending the Madden family reunion. Relatives are attending from points in Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma. This is the first reunion they have attended in about five years, and they expect to visit with relatives they haven't seen for over 20 years!

Joint Supper

Celona Hicks and Elizabeth LeGrande's two Business Women's Circles of the First Baptist Church met in the back yard of Mrs. J. O. Clark for a joint supper Thursday evening.

The program topic, "Ye Christian Heralds! Go Proclaim" was given by Mrs. Tandy Legg, and assisted by Della Stagner. It dealt with Southern Baptist Seminaries.

Members present were Mesdames Fritz Christmas, Otis Lee, Lama Beavers, Lowell Sharp, Tandy Legg, Freeman Curtis, Bill Hutson, Seale Stevens, E. W. Young, Sam McLallen, Owen Stagner, Alwyn Savage.

Misses Madeline Bell, May Boren, Della Stagner, and the hostess, Mrs. J. O. Clark.

Back From Azle

Saundra Inman returned home Tuesday by train after a several weeks' visit in Azle, Texas. She was a houseguest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, former Hereford residents, and was visiting their daughter, Linda.

She and Linda had a wonderful time while there, and she gained about 15 pounds while in the Central Texas area. They swam and went to the movies for the major part of their entertainment.

She arrived in Amarillo Monday evening and stayed overnight with relatives there.

Corbetts Visit

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. (Buddy) Corbett were in Hereford visiting old friends Friday afternoon. They were returning from a trip to Los Alamos, N. M., where they visited his parents, the Roger Corbetts, former residents of Hereford.

Buddy—as all his friends call him—is the junior high coach at Longview. He and his wife stopped in Lubbock Friday evening to see the All-Star Football game before going on to Longview.

Recent guests in the home of Mrs. W. F. Gillis were her aunt, Mrs. Lillie Wilson of Prosper, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Curry of Olton.

From Pelican Land

Specialist third class Leslie Walls and Mrs. Walls and son Mickey of Louisiana are expected to arrive Monday for a month's vacation here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Kester. Walls is with the First Combat Aviation Company stationed at Fort Polk, La.

Miss Ramona Melton of Redding, Calif., who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Roy Calvert, has gone to Pampa for a short visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Ada Necase, before returning home.

Daleine Timin has returned from a trip to Tucson, Ariz., where she visited an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tusha, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Brown. Mrs. Brown is the former Miss Kay Barnard of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred and children are in South Fork, Colo., for a week's vacation. They were accompanied by Carole Snead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Snead.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Taylor and family were in Houston this past week where he attended a groceryman's convention. After the convention they went to Galveston where he did some deep sea fishing. Accompanying them on the trip were Betty and Gene Snead.

YOUR Wife, YOUR Daughter, YOUR Sister . . . Who Will Be Next?

Present Wave Of Criminal Assault Attacks Call For Unified Effort

For the third consecutive time within the past two months, women of this area have reported attacks at the hands of a colored man. In all three instances the reports have coincided in that the man approached the woman while she was asleep in her home, then attempted rape.

This last attack, in addition to the victim, included two other girls who witnessed the intruder and helped frighten him away. intruder and helped frighten him away.

There have been diversified theories concerning the attacks. Certainly, more and more people are locking their doors at night and many women are afraid to remain at home without protection. Quite a few of them consider the situation a serious one—and they are right.

We realize that the city police and the sheriff's department are doing their individual best to locate the mystery man. In addition, we are willing to concede that the job is a difficult one.

On the other hand, it is high time that we get some results. When the wives and daughters in the community are not safe within the confines of their own home, we have a poor situation indeed. As taxpayers, the citizens definitely merit and deserve protection from this type of outrage. Criminal assault and murder are the two most fiendish crimes which can be perpetrated. When it happens three times in a town this size, it has unquestionably become a crime wave. Furthermore, we can expect it to be repeated again and again.

Even YOUR wife, YOUR daughter or YOUR sister may be the next victim.

As Hereford and Deaf Smith County grow in population we can expect all sorts of people. Most of them will be good. A few will be bad. Such is the history of mankind.

In view of these things, the time has come when the Sheriff's Department and the City Police Department should cease bickering and backbiting. Instead of hogging over minor details, disputing authority and passing the buck, they should cooperate in an intensive drive to locate an arch-criminal who threatens our homes night after night. We need the police. We need the sheriff. We pay for both. In return, we deserve their best UNIFIED efforts toward our protection.

Until some tangible report is made concerning the three assault cases, we cannot feel secure within the walls of our homes. Furthermore, we do not feel that the County Commissioners or the City Commissioners are delivering the type protection for which they assess taxes from the people under the name of law enforcement.

Canyon Protests Potter Annexation

In view of E-Way troubles, internal strife, and over-spending on right-of-way, Canyon and Randall County have literally been through the mill during the past 12 months. Now, according to the Canyon News, comes another wave from Amarillo, hub of the Golden Spread and sister city to the north. The Canyon newspaper presents its side of the story as follows:

"Unsuccessful in his campaign to close beer joints along North East Eighth on Sundays, Thomas Hazard Thompson, styled Turnstile, has now turned his attention on the north Randall County line with a view toward changing or erasing it.

"May you have your usual good fortune, Turnstile. We'll be watching with interest. However, before you get in too deep, it might be well for you to check with those businesses and citizens who are moving and have moved to Randall County and find their reasons.

Maybe you'll find it is because the businesses and citizens prefer to be in Randall County.

"Potter County has gone into debt to provide certain facilities demanded by the citizens of Potter County—namely the Tri-State Fair grounds and Northwest Texas Hospital.

"Tri-State Fair, held annually during the early fall, is, at bottom, only a stunt to bring trade into Amarillo, pure and simple.

"Northwest Texas Hospital, operating daily at more than capacity, is unable to pay its own way. Something is wrong with the hospital. The rates charged are too low, the management is not competent enough or the hospital itself is too inefficient. It could be those reasons, other reasons or a combination.

"At any rate, Northwest Texas Hospital and the Tri-State Fair facilities are costing the taxpayers of Potter County, and some think that because the taxpayers of Randall County aren't putting in some money, too, they are getting a 'free ride.'

"That's an odd situation.

"Apply it here at home. Say, for instance, that Tom Black decided to conduct an extensive remodeling of his store. After he finished making his store over, he put in a line of fancy clothes and other goods in order to attract more customers.

"And say that the new store did attract more customers. Among those attracted was Riley Troth from the drug store next door. And say that Riley did right by Tom and his store.

"However, Tom's remodeling and his new line of clothes put him down in the red, and he was unable to meet operating expenses. The only way he could think of to get more money was to get it from Riley's drug store.

"Disregarding the fact that Riley was a good customer, Tom proceeded to find a way to get part of Riley's profit to take care of his loss. No longer was Tom in the hole in his store, but also no longer was Riley able to buy from Tom."

A 'New Deal' On Airport Proposal

A new deal on the proposed airport seems to be under consideration. Such, at least, was the indication following a general meeting of business and professional men, farmers, city and county officials this week.

Actually, this could be the most encouraging news we have yet heard regarding the controversial airport question. As things now stand, a committee will carefully investigate the needs of the area, immediate and future, and will present their findings before another mass meeting.

For the first time, it seems that the airport group is getting to the very heart of their woes and opposition. Most people recognize the need for an airport. They want facilities which will meet current day requirements, and still allow for future growth. Until they get these things—or become thoroughly sold on the need for a larger unit—it is doubtful if any proposition will be successful.

The committee, in our opinion, faces a difficult task. Deciding and recommending the proper size and type of airport is the key to its failure or success. While building too large appears foolish, building without facilities for expansion would be downright stupid. Meanwhile, if they can hit the nail on the head as to these actual needs, present and future, the airport proposal will pass without a whimper.

A lot depends upon their recommendations. In fact, we would say, the entire future of Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Give some men three high balls and they will strike out for themselves.

It is pretty hard for a man to think straight when all he has on his mind are curves.

Conservation Farmer Has Refreshingly Plain View

LUTHER LESLY . . . three advantages

Luther Lesly, chairman of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District board of supervisors since 1953, is one conservationist that doesn't beat everyone in shouting distance over the head with theories.

The way Lesly sees conservation in its relation to Deaf Smith County is refreshingly simple—when he phrases it for one who has met too many of the beat-over-the-head school. "Our land here is good enough. The thing to do is to keep it in place," he declared.

And on the often-hot-topic of irrigation water, you'll also find him reasonable. "Let's try not to waste it."

A native of Motley County—and if he needs to refresh his memory on the need for "keeping land in place" he can always go back for a visit—Lesly moved to Hereford from Lockney in 1944.

On his farm 11 miles north of Hereford, the SCD supervisor usually has something growing that makes a better than fair case for his conservation-farming theories.

Using winter cover crops and rotations on his irrigated fields, he consistently beats the "average" for production of field crops.

Grass, vetch and peas have a definite place in his farming system. "The grazing they provide is usually of some value," Lesly notes, "but the best thing about them is the crop that follows.

While the majority of his land is devoted to cash crops, wheat, sorghums and potatoes, Lesly has 20 acres of irrigated pasture planted to weeping love grass. This year he plans to seed some of the increasingly popular Blackwell switch grass.

But the SCD-man is not one to jump aboard every new bandwagon that tours the agricultural centers. Take his views on improved varieties of grain sorghum as an example:

"I believe I'll just stick to good old Martin as long as it will keep turning out 5,000 pounds of grain per acre. So far, the 'high yielders' haven't been able to come up with that kind of harvest year after year."

And wheat? He's pretty well sold on the variety that yielded well in 1947 for him. It hasn't shown the tendency to rust and lodging that some newer varieties have shown.

Tierra Blanca district farmer-cooperators who appear to think Lesly is a good conservation supervisor, received a firm second to that thought when Lesly was elected in January to serve as one of the state directors of the Texas Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors.

In the Tierra Blanca district, Lesly serves with four other supervisors—all men elected to the position by their fellows who are members of the district. Ira Scott, Charlie Hoover Jr., Hardy Benson and Carl Wimberly.

Scott serves from the southwestern section of the district—his farm is located nearly 20 miles west of Hereford on the Harrison highway; Hoover comes from the northwestern part of Deaf Smith, the Walcott community; Benson resides 16 miles north of Hereford, and Wimberly at Dawn.

The supervisors are one group of farmers who apparently prefer living "on the farm." Lesly has an advantage there—to help him with the farm work—three sons, Sam, 17, John, 8, and Tom, 5. His wife is the former Evelyn Brown of Plainview.

$30,000 BOND ELECTION IN FARWELL

Details of a much-discussed bond election for the City of Farwell finally got ironed out enough this week for the city fathers to call the election. It will be Saturday, August 18, in the amount of $30,000. Three propositions will be placed before the qualified city voters. They will be asked to approve or disapprove (1) the issuance of $20,000 in bonds for the construction of a fire station; (2) the issuance of a sewer system, tax bonds in the amount of $5,500 for extensions of the system; and (3) the issuance of waterworks system, tax bonds—$4,500 worth—to expand the water system and improve fire protection issues. The $20,000 issue, if approved, would be not only for building a station, but for purchase of equipment as well.—THE STATE LINE TRIBUNE.

LITTLEFIELD'S POPULATION NOW OFFICIAL

Population of Littlefield? One engineer says it is 9,274 at present. Another says it is 8,800. The Ministerial Association's survey said it was 8,100 in February. City officials did some adding, subtracting, and multiplying Thursday night and they say it was 8,276 at the end of 1955. And since they are "officials" they presume their figure is "official." At any rate, the figure of 8,276 is the one that will be put on new city limit signs here in the near future. Commissioners say they base their figure on the actual number of water connections in Littlefield in 1955.—COUNTY WIDE NEWS.

ELECTION WILL CREATE COUNTY WATER CONTROL

County commissioners of Littlefield agreed to accept a petition calling for an $800,000 bond election to create a Lamb County Water Control and in a meeting that took five full hours to complete. Worn and weary after the day-long session, the commissioners put the next move up to five temporary directors who were appointed at the hearing. The next steps in the plan for the directors to be sworn in, bonded, and to call for an $800,000 bond election for purchase of water rights on 24,000 acres in the sandhills. The purpose is to retain and control water in Lamb County's sandhills. The proposition will be put to the voters living within the district's boundaries. People will be asked to decide whether to create the district, vote the bonds, and elect permanent directors of the organization.—LAMB COUNTY LEADER.

CONSTRUCTION BEGUN ON TELEPHONE OFFICE

J. L. Kemper, divisional manager of General Telephone Company, said this morning that excavation had begun on the construction of the company's new office building south of the hospital. Estimated cost is about $74,000 with completion date about Dec. 1.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm will get nowhere with his idea this week, but it's doubtful if he wants to get anywhere.

Dear editor:

I was sitting out here on my farm yesterday afternoon watching the skies and wondering if it was going to rain when a puff of dry wind landed a newspaper right at my feet and since I'd noticed a red ant crawling on my shoe and needed to bend over to knock it off anyway I went ahead and bent over and while I was I picked up the paper and leaned back against the tree trunk and the first thing my eyes encountered was an article on rain-making.

I know a lot has been written about rain-making, some cities have hired rain-makers and while it's hard to say whether they stirred up any rain, there's no doubt about it they stirred up a lot of letters to the papers.

But this article was by a man who wasn't proposing we hire a rain-maker for a few isolated spots, but for huge sections of the country. As he viewed it, an attempt should be made to make more rain fall over wide areas of the United States where it's dry.

Now this sounds like a good proposal to me and won't cost nearly as much as foreign aid with very little difference in the results. In fact all it lacks really is one thing: a man who has discovered the trick of making it rain for sure. I know in every dry spot in the country candidates invariably include in their platform a mention of the need to do something about the drought situation, but it's sort of like being opposed to higher taxes, all candidates are but taxes haven't gone in any direction but up during my lifetime.

But what I started out to say was if they can't find this man, I'll substitute. I'll admit I can't make it rain, any more than Dulles can make Egypt behave, but I'm perfectly willing to take credit for any rain that falls, if there's pay in it for me. And if I go into this type of work, I'd want to go in on a big scale. No small, isolated spots for me. I'd like to undertake to make it rain somewhere in the United States at least once a week, every week in the year. Any week it didn't rain somewhere, my services wouldn't cost the government a cent. I'm all set up for this type of work and will appreciate your help in landing this job for me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Her Point Of View

BY FARDY LINER

I'm having a difficult time concentrating today, what with my sniffing and wheezing plus the discomfort of swollen red eyes that are itching so much, I could easily scratch myself blind. If my will power holds out, I hope to keep my eyesight long enough to write this column.

Anyway, I can surely sympathize with the 4,999,999 other Americans who are enduring the hay fever plague. I have been told that it's all in my mind. I'll agree to a certain point, because it's certainly all in my head; but I don't accept the theory that the 5,000,000 of us unfortunate hay fever sufferers are merely neurotic.

Most of us have spent a small fortune on antihistamines, eyedrops and Kleenex in our efforts to relieve our allergy symptoms. The idea of consulting a psychiatrist instead of a druggist or an M. D. may seem reasonable to somebody, but not to me with my puffy eyes and wheezing nose.

Working in the yard is a sure bet to bring on a hay fever attack, but I always watching other people doing it.

It seems that more than ever before, the female spouse is taking on the responsibilities involved with yards—not only flower gardens but also the care of the lawn itself. Hardly a day passes that we don't see Marie Cogsdell outside raking or digging or putting around in some way.

Marie not only has talents for landscaping but she supervised the job when the exterior of her house was redecorated recently. Cogsdell's corner of their block is certainly attractive, and Marie is just the gal to keep it looking that way.

Olga Tannahill is another energetic femme when it comes to yard work, and you won't find anyone with a greener thumb. The gladiolus she's raised this summer would surely take a contest prize. Her neighbors and friends will readily verify this, along with her generosity in giving away her beautiful flowers.

Among others we've notice taking active interests in their yards are Mary Louise Stringer, Margaret Simon and Mary Hale—all living in the same block on Star Street. Mary Hale attributes her healthy tan to the hours she has spent pulling weeds. All three gals agree that a coffee-break is twice as pleasant after their outdoor activity.

When you call on Marilyn Hardwick, it's not unusual to find her at some task in the yard. Marilyn's progress may be delayed somewhat by her two "helpers", Marsha and Ross, who devote much of their time to chasing their pet bunnies through their mother's working area.

There's a lot of hard work involved with planting a new lawn, but Barbara Cooper and Margaret Harvey will tell you that the care of older lawns takes a great deal of time and effort too. Barbara is vice president in charge of watering the grass and shrubs at her house; placing and changing the hose is practically a ritual for her now.

And Margaret will tell you that keeping a yard neat and attractive can be a full-time job, but she must be very proud of the way her endeavor has paid off.

In the late afternoon Bessie Patterson and Margaret London can often be seen in their respective yards. Bessie usually has the water hose in tow, but Margaret L. has been concentrating on those pesky dandelions—she was real upset one day when her ten-month-old daughter decided that the pretty yellow blossoms looked delicious and proceeded to eat one. The result was severe complications of the tummy, and Margaret decided that those dandelions had to go!

While I'm still on the subject, I'll bet that Mrs. W. W. Hill regretted leaving her lovely yard when she and Mr. Hill sold their home in Amarillo. Especially the gorgeous flowering shrubs and bushes that she had raised with patient devotion. She's very happy to be back in Hereford, permanently, and it probably won't be long before she's planting and landscaping the grounds of their country home here.

HATS-OFF DEPARTMENT
Congratulations are in order for her Spring-O-Lators so much that Exemplar members of Beta Sigma Phi in Hereford upon the establishment of their new Exemplar Chapter. Women eligible for the new chapter are those that have held active membership in Beta Sigma Phi International for four years and have completed the four study courses prescribed for Ritual of Jewels members. Upon her fulfillment of these requirements, a Ritual of Jewels member becomes an Exemplar and thereby eligible for Exemplar Chapter.

All Beta Sigma Phi Chapters have the same three-fold purpose: culture, service and friendship. And we are proud that Hereford now boasts two of these chapters.

Hats off, too, to the Little League Mothers for th spunk they're showing by their cooperation with plans for their ladies' ball game at the close of the Little League season this month. Peg Hoff has hinted that we fans can expect the ultimate in unusual entertainment from this game, but that she and her colleagues will need more than a little moral support.

FASHION NOTES: To make a pun we'll call our observations in this department "footnotes" this week, as the main interest is with shoes. This year we've welcomed the introduction of the open or bare-backed shoe, and there hasn't been so much comment or enthusiasm over a new style in women's shoes in many years.

Spring-O-Lators were presented on the market last winter but have had a fast rise in popularity this summer. Any number of Hereford women are wearing them in a variety of colors and fabrics.

Helen Kent has an eye-catching pair in yellow linen with rhinestone trim, and Ann Line clads her size 4½ feet in a pretty pair made of beige straw with floppy, sheared-straw flowers across the toes.

We noted a stunning pair in black patent leather worn by Margaret Formby and another pair in pink straw with a glossy plastic finish on Ann Seeds. Ann commented that she finds hers extremely comfortable to wear, as did Helen Nelson. Helen's are of white calfskin. She said she had to learn to walk in them, but now wears them with the greatest of ease.

Virginia Cowan enjoys wearing

BRAND BABIES—"I'm sitting in my red wagon I got for my birthday in July," says cute Holly Gay Young. She is the blonde-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Young, and her favorite pastimes are wrestling with her father and riding in the wagon. The brown-eyed lass is two years old. (Staff Photo)

she wonders if people think she has only one pair of shoes. Virginia's are fashioned of white pearlized leather and have narrow straps over the toe.

Virginia's young-looking mom, Ann, also sports a handsome pair of open-backed shoes. They are leather, yellow in color, with a medium wedge-heel. Ann's are not Spring-O-Lators but are in the praise them for comfort.

same category, and she really does. And Glenna Gau; must have a dozen pairs of Spring-O-Lators! Every time we see her, she's wearing a different pair.

It's the time of year when we gals are interested in what the well-shod lady will wear in the fall. So that I might have some first-hand tips to pass on to you, I've consulted the shoe merchants in town. Here are their plans and predictions for milady's fall footwear.

Glenn Williams, Popular Store, expects open shoes to be more popular than closed pumps for dress wear. He believes the Spring-O-Lators are gaining in popularity and has ordered an abundant supply of them. The tailored pump will have a new feature in the way of an-elasticized back for a more snug fitting heel. Glenn says we'll see a variety of fabrics used in fall shoes; two he mentioned are silk and sharkskin. He waxed enthusiastic over a new material called Sunburst silk which is silk with gold thread in it.

And he predicts that Vinolite, a clear plastic, will be good, especially when used with contrasting leather trim. He plans to show a number of fabric and leather combinations.

Monk Johnson at Rutherford's says that his best "sellers" will be black, smooth leathers followed by red suedes, brown calfskin, and toast suedes. The newest feature on the classic pump will be "a clinging wrap of file lastex caressing the foot from heel to vamp" to insure a snugger, more comfortable fit.

According to Hub Homer at the Hereford Shoe Store, closed pumps will sell very well—particularly those with a Louis heel ("French" heel to most of us) but that Spring-O-Lator is the device of the shoe's inner sole that fits the metatarsal arch of the foot and makes the shoe cling to the sole of the foot. It is a patented feature (invented by a shoe repairman whose wife kept losing her backless mules) and should not be confused with brand names or other types of open-backed shoes.

Hub forecasts black in suedes and smooth leathers to be the number one color in dress shoes with shades of brown to be popular also. He will offer three new "browns"—one he calls "Briar-wood" which has a gold underlay; "French-bread", a shade that will go well with black or brown; and "town brown", which is a very dark brown.

Shoes in different color combinations will receive only a moderate amount of attention, but the proverbial sling pump will still hold its own. As for flats, Hub expects his most popular items will be black velvet with sequin trim; also red velvet with sequin trim.

He also foresees a big demand for his "special Italo Softies" which will be available in black and brown suedes with bright binding and trim. These "softies" have a flexible insole, and although they afford sturdy foot support, you can actually fold them for pocket or purse.

J. C. Penny—Lloyd Widdfield, "I sell more flats than any other type shoe. Our "Petite Shell" is our best item and will probably continue to be through the fall season. With the approach of the school season, we're stocking "loater" styles in several colors of suede. Expect black suede and white suede to be the most popular. I think that saddle oxfords will be in demand again by the teen-age girls; also the moccasin in soft, glove leathers will be good again. The main colors I'll feature are black, cream, "white bark" and taupe—also coffee tan, and beige.

Dean Merrifield in the shoe department at Anthony's offers this prophecy: the popularity of a new dress sandal which is shown in black suede, has open heel and toe, a narrow strap that buckles around the instep and features a line of rhinestones at the toe. Anthony's has ordered Spring-O-Lators in smooth leathers in blacks and greys along with French heel pumps in different colors of suede.

He expects that what he calls "Sweater Mocs" will be good again for the school crowd as will dress flats. The flats will have more ornamentation in the way of tassels, metal and fabric trim. Dean comments that the new fall shoes are made to make a lady's foot look slimmer.

All of these experts agree that for fall, black will be by far the most popular color in shoes; that heels are getting slimmer (some so narrow that they're made with a vertical steel rod for support within the heel); that the average girl customer wears size 6-B and the average woman customer wears a 7 or 7½; and finally, that Spring-O-Lators are here to stay!

Most people generally get real upset when you start reaching into their pockets and pulling out dollar bills. This sort of reasoning has led most of the big-gun political experts to put Texas back into the Democratic ranks when the votes are tallied up in 1956.

This week, however, a lot of them were scratching their heads and beginning to wonder. Adlai Stevenson, leading contender for the Democratic nomination in Chicago, tossed out a bombshell this week when he announced that he is 100 percent in favor of integration. So far as the "Deep South" is concerned, Adlai made a "boo-boo"—and he didn't help himself in Texas. This is evidenced by the recent state-wide vote in the July primary. There is a chance, of course, that Harriman may get the nomination—and the situation definitely improved the dark horse opportunities for boys like Texas' own Lyndon Johnson.

I appreciate Mr. Stevenson's frankness. The people are entitled to know his honest stand on this question. I also appreciate his fortitude in making public his feelings, even in the face of criticism. The only trouble is that many, many Texans do not agree with him. For one, I sincerely hope he does not get the nomination. If he does, it is entirely possible that Texas might swing back to the GOP. Mr. Stevenson put us there once. He might do it again. I would say the chances are about 50-50.

MORE ABOUT the Bull Barn. I spent two days tracking down the date the pavilion was built. I put it 1923, and would have sworn that this was right, especially after Ralph Smith dug through a lot of mortgage records. However, it was wrong, and the pitiful part is that I still don't know when it was built. The correct date appears to be 1919—or 1920. Doyle Rose brought in an old sale catalog, taken from the personal belongings of Mrs. L. R. Bradley, his late mother-in-law. This catalog was dated "April 4, 1921" and carefully written on the margin in Mrs. Bradley's neat hand were the following words: "First Association Sale in the new Bull Barn".

Officers of the Hereford Breeders Association were shown in the yellowed pages of the book as follows: W. T. Womble, president; C. O. Norton, vice president; W. E. Dameron, sec-treas; C. C. Bowman, J. C. Sanders and Wes Bradley, directors. Listed in the sale were 44 bulls and 17 cows.

Meanwhile, does anyone know when the barn was really built? Ray Barber was here the other day and was one of the donors, but did not remember exactly when it happened. Corinne Neely says she was going to school about this time—and had other things on her mind. Even Scotty Buckner couldn't recall the date, and this is the first time I have ever found Scotty when he would ADMIT he didn't know about something. Surely, someone, somewhere, can furnish the authentic information.

Postal receipts are still climbing, according to Jim Lipscomb—and that's good. It is also most startling when you compare it with the years past.

1955—$73,694.86
1946—$33,854.61
1936—$14,651.51

None of the gains have been startling, according to Jim, but have gradually built up from month-to-month and year-to-year. Postal receipts probably more accurately reflect the growth or decline of a town or community than any other single record. If the growth is steady, so is the post-office revenue. If the town booms, the post office revenue soars. People will write letters, it seems, regardless of how things come and go.

The Bull Column last Sunday with the letter concerning juvenile delinquents was honest and sincere. It was also a puzzler when it came to figuring possible reactions. What happened was that some 50 or 60 men either called up or personally dropped in to endorse the sentiments expressed. Not one single woman or one single teenager expressed feelings in either direction. I still don't know how to figure the deal. Was the approach so strictly masculine that it was ignored by the women and the teenagers? Anyway, it apparently got just about as much attention from this direction as Dad usually gets around the house.

All of which brings up the revolting idea that maybe there are no teenage or female readers. This, of course, would be the very worst thing that could happen, chiefly because these are the two groups which any newspaper values most among its readers. In fact, I don't even like to think about it. However, women and teenagers are two groups which are seldom silent, I must admit.

Charley Holt never fails to surprise me. Now he turns out to be a music lover of the first water. He looked and looked and finally he located one of these old fashioned organs with "foot power." He bought the instrument and his nieces are getting pretty good at the keys. Charley says it is in perfect order and that he wouldn't part with it for $500. He figures there is nothing to compare with a big gathering and the playing of old-time religious songs on the organ, especially when the group chimes in and starts singing. "That," avows Charley, "is real livin'."

Have you heard about the Texas tycoon who rushed into the airport and said, "Gimme a ticket."
"Where to, sir?" asked the attendant.

"Anywhere, son," boomed the Texan. "I got business all over."

Revival Services During This Week At Local Church

Rev. G. N. Allison, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, will be the evangelist during revival services planned for Aug. 13-19. Evening services will be conducted in the open on the south side of the education wing of the church building at 8 p. m., Monday through Saturday.

Morning services will be held in the Intermediate Department assembly room at 10 a. m. Tuesday through Friday.

Singing will be under the direction of Rev. Herbert Barker of Fort Worth. Brother Barker is a native of Mountain Grove, Mo. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, and holds the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. At the present time, he is working toward the Master of Theology degree in that school.

The various choruses of the church will be featured in the musical program of the revival services through the week.

IT DOESN'T PAY TO ADVERTISE

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Railroad special agent L. R. Troxell had no trouble tracking down four men who broke into a box car and stole a number of straw hats.

The floor of the box car was covered with white lime. Troxell just followed the white footprints in a nearby hobo jungle and arrested four men wearing new straw hats.

BRANCH OFFICE?

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Walter Rivers figured it was only a matter of time until a large, diseased magnolia tree outside his home would fall on the house.

So he hired a firm with a crane to take it out. The crane slipped and the multi-ton tree crashed through the roof of Rivers' house.

Flapper Look Here Again

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

THAT FLAPPER is loose again—this time romping through the fall fashion collections.

Designer Larry Aldrich gives her top billing in his new lineup of ladylike clothes, which will arrive in the nation's stores after Labor Day. But the 1925 flapper somehow looks better than her 1925 counterpart. She has a new sophistication, new refinement—and she doesn't roll her stockings.

Although some of the dresses in the Aldrich collection are completely without a waistline and belted at the hips, the figure beneath still is evident. There is no flat-chested look here, and the sheer fabrics used tend to cling in the right places.

Aldrich calls it the "gentled" look for fall—no exaggeration, no nipped waists, no skin-tight skirts—rather a free-falling silhouette allowing the body to move within the clothes.

The look is strictly feminine, done in luxurious fabrics, with fine detail in trimmings and much concentration on lace, embroidery and jeweled touches.

Olympic Nurse Frowns On Muscles for Women

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the United States Olympic team nurses is all for women taking a greater part in sports, but with a firm, ladylike reservation.

"I draw the line," says Mary Margaret Korfonta, "and I think most other American girls would, too, at sports that put too many muscles in the wrong places."

Needless to say, Miss Korfonta's line would appeal to most American men, too.

Once an athlete herself, Mary is head nurse at Georgetown University Hospital's outpatient department. She's one of two American girls chosen as official nurses to accompany the U. S. squad to Melbourne, Australia, for the Olympic Games in November.

Mary, 30, will be directly assigned to the women's teams but also will assist Olympic physicians in attending to the entire U.S. contingent.

Of Czechoslovakian descent, Mary speaks several European languages. And, from her girlhood days in Commodore, Pa., she's been able to talk sports with any man around.

"I grew up surrounded by athletic brothers," she says, "and I suppose I got to be sort of a tomboy."

Mary was girls' quarter-mile champion at Green Township High School, where she also played softball and basketball. She's now an avid horseback rider and skier.

While NOT pessimistic about the chances of American women in international competition, Mary believes the notion that girl athletes must be built along Amazonian lines has frightened away good prospects.

"Now" she says, "more girls are finding that sports are fun and NOT necessarily unfeminine. Girls in tennis, swimming, golf, skiing and other sports are proving that championships and glamour can be mixed. I think this idea will spill over into other sports."

About those misplaced muscles: "Our girls will do all right, but maybe we won't ever have too many weight lifters."

Follow-Me-Laddie Hair-Dos Are Latest Fashion Interest

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
HAIR INTEREST goes to the back of the head.

Every conceivable type of chignon from the tiny Swiss roll variety to the large Danish pastry type is being worn. Short-haired girls merely add hair pieces to accomplish this end. Long-haired girls sweep back the hair and twist it into a little bun to suit their hair length.

Newest twist to the idea is the tinted chignon to match summer clothes and accessories. Mix and match chignons in two-toned tinted hair are the trend. The chignon is worn in a double bun looped and braided in complementary and contrasting colors. Fashion-wise types may choose from 14 hair tints ranging from canary diamond and carrot-top hues to a gleaming bronze and jet black.

Such combinations as pastel blue and black are chic for summer. Ditto yellow and white. Two shades of green suggest the cool look of a limeade.

The interesting point about the return to chignon hair fashions is that it is a spontaneous choice of the girls themselves. There has been no promotion by hair-dressers, even though the idea is catching on like wildfire. The new tinted chignon should create even more excitement.

Hair accessories are taking on important airs now that the chignon is with us again. From the islands come delightful native hair gimmicks. Long Japanese hairpins with jeweled tops that are worn criss-crossed are very popular. Hawaiian tourists bring back hair accessories that resemble oversized chop sticks. These are made of wood as well as other materials.

Polio Victim and Family Live In House Built by Neighbors

By PAUL R. JORDAN

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William L. Howell, who depends on man-made devices to breathe around the clock, lives in a "house that love built."

Friends and relatives, in their spare time, put together the little, white-framed house for the 28-year-old polio patient, his wife, Dorothy, and young son, Steven. The volunteer builders, most of them amateurs, worked during the summer and fall months of 1955. The Howells had bought the materials with savings and Mrs. Howell's father gave them the land. Church groups supplied the furniture.

The four-room house, located 12 miles outside Louisville, is all but completed. There's some painting to be done yet, and the yard must be filled and landscaped.

Bill, almost totally paralyzed, moved into his new home just before last Christmas after three years of hospital treatment in Buffalo, N. Y., and Louisville. Doctors say they have done all they can for him.

It was nearly four years ago that Bill, a native of Rosedale, N.Y., was struck by polio. He was attending the University of Kentucky and needed only 18 hours for a bachelor of science degree in political science.

A Baptist minister, the Rev. William P. Martin, tabbed the Howell house the one that "love built."

The Howells laid the plans out themselves: "We knew how it would be most convenient for us and the machine (an electrically-powered chest respirator)," Bill said. An emergency respirator is kept in the cellar. His "rocking bed" also helps him breathe.

Bill can breathe on his own for about an hour, but this is "quite tiring."

A great sports fan and avid follower of political doings, Bill said he spends a lot of time reading newspapers and magazines. He watches television, too, and church friends come in and sing and read the Bible.

An aspiring writer, he derives much pleasure from his wire re-

CHECKING ON THEIR PATIENT—The wife and son of polio-stricken William L. Howell check on his needs in their house built by neighbors and friends.

order. It records his words, which his wife transcribes to paper. Bill, an Air Force veteran of the Korean war, gets $135 a month from the federal government for a non-service-connected disability. That amount is supplemented by money from the William L. Howell Fund, which is kept going by monthly contributors. Five-year-old Stevie is Dad's little helper around the house. He rolls up the head of Bill's bed, changes TV stations and does other chores. "Stevie's adjusted pretty good," Bill commented, "he keeps my mind busy quite a bit."

Cooking Is Fun

- FRIDAY FARE
Tuna and Green Beans Plus Salad Fruit
- SUNDAY TEA
Cucumber and Watercress Sandwiches Cream Cheese and Clam Dip Crisp Crackers Chocolate Cake Ginger Tea

TUNA AND GREEN BEANS PLUS
Ingredients: 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup, 1 can (15 1/2 ounces) French-sliced green beans, 1 can (7 ounces) tuna, 1 small green pepper (cut into thin strips), 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1/2 cup coarsely crushed cracker crumbs, paprika.

Method: Turn cream of mushroom soup (just as it comes from can) into shallow baking dish; a heat-resistant glass pie plate 8 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches is a good size. Drain beans and add with 1/4 cup of the bean liquid. Add tuna, including oil in can; flake tuna into bite-size pieces with a fork. Add green pepper and mix well. Melt butter and stir in cracker crumbs. Sprinkle crumbs over mixture; dust with paprika. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven until bubbly hot and topping is lightly browned, about 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

SATURDAY SUPPER
Cold Sliced Smoked Tongue Mashed Potatoes Green Peas Pear Chutney Bread Tray Raspberry Shortcake Beverage

PEAR CHUTNEY
Ingredients: 1 large onion (chopped), 1 medium-sized apple (peeled and chopped), 1 1/4 cups dark brown sugar (firmly packed), 1/2 cup cider vinegar, 1/4 cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon mustard seed, 1/4 teaspoon allspice, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) pear halves, 2 cloves garlic (minced).

Method: Put chopped onion and apple, 1/4 cup of the brown sugar, vinegar, raisins, salt, mustard seed, allspice, cloves, ginger and garlic in a 3-quart kettle. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil; boil gently about 15 minutes. Add remaining 1 cup brown sugar and pears, including juice from can; boil gently until there is only a little liquid left—35 to 45 minutes. Stir often, especially toward end of cooking period. Makes 1 1/2 pints. Store in tightly covered jars in refrigerator.

Method: Bring 1 cup water to a boil in a small saucepan. Add sugar, cinnamon, cloves and ginger. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil; boil without stirring for 7 minutes. Cool. Remove cinnamon stick and cloves but leave ginger. (Makes a little over 1 cup.) To prepare each beverage serving: put 1 teaspoon instant tea in a 10-ounce tumbler. Put a silver teaspoon in the glass and add just enough boiling water to dissolve tea. Fill glass with ice cubes. Add 2 tablespoons of the syrup; stir and serve with a lemon wedge. (Cut 6 to 8 wedges from each lemon.) For a tart beverage, use 1 tablespoon of the syrup.

SAFETY BELT SAFETY
WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — A safety belt is credited with saving the life of Arthur Doty.

The 22-year-old driver, said Sheriff Stanley M. Christian, was strapped in the seat of his car. "That's the only reason he's not dead right now."

Doty's car roared along the shoulder of the road, then spun out of control going forward, then sideways and then forward again, then sideways for 230 feet. The auto rocketed into a utility pole and snapped it in half. The car went 150 feet more and crashed into a two-foot thick tree.

The sheriff said the motorist, though seriously hurt, was strapped in the seat and alive, despite a fractured pelvis, broken left elbow and head injuries.
