Why are Deaf Smith County people so progressive?
This question is asked many times by the majority of newcomers here. And rightfully so. The average newcomer is unaccustomed to such progressive activities as he has found here, in other places where he has lived.

It becomes all the more mystifying when the statistics reveal that Deaf Smith County is currently number four of all Texas counties in population growth.

To further compound the mystery, Deaf Smith County is in the West Texas-cattle-country category, as are many others who have not done as well. It is dry (prohibitionally, as well as rainfall quotas). Its tallest building (the Hotel Jim Hill) is four stories — certainly not considered a skyscraper. There are no military installations, no university —

Nothing but highly profitable feedlots, dryland agriculture — and people who are as busy as beavers working toward the coordination of the cattle and the farm products already here.

So it would become reasonable to believe that the people here have more to do with the progress than any other single thing.

But some of the most progressive county leaders have debated this belief to an extent. They have pointed to the two local banking institutions as the greatest assets for all county development — on the basis that they cooperate so willingly with all seekers of progress, both inside and out of Hereford's "metropolitan area."

However, the people are not to be discounted.

So, the natural procedure was to ask a local banker his opinion of the progressive people.

The choice was Cliff C. Acker, senior vice president of the First National Bank, who has been in the local banking business longer than anyone else in Hereford — since January 10, 1919. Moreover, he was raised from the age of seven by his uncle, G. A. F. Parker, who was president of the Western National Bank here for some 30 years and is credited as a pioneer who contributed much to both the financial and farming interests of the new community.

And Acker himself is equally as active as his late uncle. Many people feel that he has created a Hereford "tradition" of his own toward its progressiveness.

So he was asked, Why are the people here so different in their progressiveness than in other places?

Acker replied, "They are not different, I don't think. But they are not lazy. There are just enough progressive people here to make it go — and we think we have a good country to offer them. If we didn't have a good place to offer them, the outside people wouldn't come."

Having been a resident of Hereford since 1902 (with time out for Army service during World War I, when he was one of the first local men to enlist — as a private — and was commissioned a year later as Second Lieutenant), he did say, however, that the county hadn't always been progressive. "But new people came in and it changed. There just wasn't much here in the early days — cattle country then and dry land. The people didn't care much about progress — although it must be understood there was some progress. But in those days, it wasn't uncommon for people to load up their wagon and come in for an all-day visit. But you won't see much all-day visiting here any more." The people are just too busy, he said.

Acker pointed out that before the feedlots became a large operation in this county, there were three or four men here who did it on a small scale.

He said he felt that Wilson and Company and Missouri Beef Packers in Friona are safe in their markets and would prosper. "A packing plant opened in Clovis earlier," he said, "and when it had been there about a year it doubled its capacity."

On agriculture, he said the farmer here will continue to raise milo "and will try to keep it at home."

Acker, one of the few charter members of the American Legion who is celebrating its 50th anniversary this month and on the ground floor of several of the local civic organizations, was asked the question about his primary interest — banking: Do you think bank deposits will continue to grow this year?

"Whether it will be more this year or not, I do not know," he replied.

But he handed over a statement of condition for the First National Bank during the 1960s which showed that deposits have increased approximately $2-million each year — as has its resources.

Deposits in 1960 were $9,063,756.20 with 1968 showing $23,259,306.01. Resources rose from $10,039,387.62 to $26,447,569.47.

Combined resources of the two Hereford banks as of the past Dec. 31 was listed as $38,172,573.21. Total combined deposits registered $33,998,900.12.

And progress continues.

Morning and afternoon classes are conducted at First Christian Church five days each week. Ten volunteers will be needed for one morning or afternoon each week. Volunteers help with the tardate students.

Those available for this service are asked to contact Mrs. Higginbotham at 364-1545.

District Contest Names 9 Winners

Nine local winners were named recently in the 24th annual Fort Worth Press sponsored essay contest on soil and water conservation.

Sponsored locally by the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District, this year's essay theme was "How Conservation Helps Texas."

Elementary winners were Jesse Cordero, Aikman School; David Artho, St. Anthony's and Barbara Kelley, also from Aikman.

The winners in the Junior high division include Angela Grubbs, La Plata; Randy G. Cook, Stanton and Brent Combs, La Plata.

High school winners are Steve Shan, Connie Hoover and Dianne London.

Brown stated that more entries were received this year than ever before and that it was a very difficult task to pick the top entries.

Recognition and awards will be presented to these winners by the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District Board at a later date, Brown added.

In addition to the nine winners, there were 51 other local essays chosen to be sent to Marvin Garrett, Conservation Director, The Fort Worth Press.

$200 will be awarded to the author of the best essay while trophies and medals will be awarded to 5 regional winners.

Schools Will Not Get $4 Million

Hereford schools will not receive nearly $4-million for its migrant program, according to superintendent Johnny Clark Jr.

The word Clark used was "unfortunately."

Hereford news media received a telegram Thursday from the Amarillo office of U. S. Rep. Bob Price which reported that "an $11 1/2-million grant to the Texas Education Agency will benefit 11 children of migrant farm workers in Hale, Deaf Smith and Lamb counties. The grant from the U. S. Office of Education will provide assistance to schools in Hereford, Plainview and Hale Center. The program includes nine months pre-school project in English language development and English concepts development. Also, hot lunches and snacks, physical and dental examinations. Shoes and clothing will be provided for both regular and pre-school pupils."

Clark was contacted immediately about the grant. Although he felt there had been some kind of a mistake in the message, he contacted the Texas Education Agency offices in Austin for verification.

TEA reported that the grant total is correct but that it is already in use — not only in Hereford but every county in Texas who have migrant programs in operation. The grant included expenses for 1968-69 — instead of 1969-70, which is not to be funded until July 1.

Clark pointed out that feature stories had already been published in the Hereford Brand concerning the various facets of the program under the grant. "And the local school's share is far below $4-million!"

Rep. Price's Amarillo office was contacted which, in turn, contacted its Washington office. It came to pass that the grant WAS for last year.

However, Rep. Price's secretary reported that they had received this bulletin dated March 12. Apparently, it was a quarterly report, "as the money is allocated" but did not state it as such.

And it was also regretted that the name Olton had been omitted in connection with Lamb County, the secretary confessed.

Divided four ways now, the total would still have been nearly $3-million each — if only the report had been correct.

Father Of Two Residents Dies

Funeral services for Hubert J. Oglesby, 78, of Amarillo, father of J. R. Oglesby and Cecil Oglesby of Hereford, were conducted in First Baptist Church at Amarillo Saturday afternoon by the pastor, Dr. Winfred Moore.

Burial was in Palo Duro Cemetery at Wildorado, the community where Mr. Oglesby had farmed for many years before he retired to live at 1901 Lockney, Amarillo. His death occurred at 2 a. m. Friday in High Plains Baptist Hospital of that city.

He is survived by his wife, seven children, 19 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Former Resident Involved In Raid

John Nathan Stark, 20, former Hereford resident, was one of eight college students arrested by state and local authorities in Levelland recently for possession of marijuana.

Following about two months of investigation into the case, Levelland officers, along with state officials, launched raids on three separate locations in the city, netting about a pound of marijuana. Most of the drug was recovered at Lamar Hall on the South Plains campus and at a home rented by students. A smaller amount was picked up at another apartment.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Earl Ford on charges of illegal possession of narcotic drugs were Stark;

Ronnie Lewis Hughes, 19, of Lubbock; Robert Lynn Gamble and Thomas L. Cooke, also of Lubbock; Richard J. Zakka and his brother Ramon, both of Olton; Bradley K. Bodeman, 21, of Central City, Neb.; and Jerry Green Luper, 19, of Morlon. All eight were placed under $5,000 bond each and all but Bodeman had been released from jail by the middle of last week.

Stark had been a resident of Hereford for a number of years before graduating here and moving to Canyon last year.

This was the first time South Plains College students had been caught with any narcotics and the first time a series of raids were conducted in Levelland.

Local Teacher Receives Grant

David Borenstein, science teacher and coach at Hereford High School, has recently been named recipient of a National Science Foundation grant, it was announced Thursday.

Recipients of the 40 awards were selected from applications from throughout the United States, through advertisements in government publications.

The program will begin June 2 and terminate on July 11 at the West Texas State University campus.

Murphy Again On Task Force

Tom Murphy, director of the sugar policy staff for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Washington D. C., has been reappointed in the Task Force along with Jay Boston of Hereford for the coming year, it was announced by the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association.

Deadline Near On Crop Loans

Producers who want loans on 1968 crops of wheat, barley, oats and rye, should request the loans at the ASCS county office by the end of March, according to Frank J. Bezner, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

Final dates for requesting the loans are one month before the loan maturity date for the particular commodity. If the crop is not placed under loan, it may be sold to the Commodity Credit Corporation by notifying the ASCS County office before the loan maturity date.

Growers who are considering the resale of 1968 crops under loan — either on farms (if eligible for resale) or in commercial warehouses — also should file a request for extension of the loans. The 1968 crops eligible for extension where stored in approved warehouses are wheat, corn, grain sorghum, oats, barley and soybeans.

New procedures for loan grains being transferred from farm storage to commercial warehouses, call for the grain to be transferred and the loan disbursed by the maturity date for the crop involved.

Maturity dates for crops grown locally are April 30 for wheat, barley, oats and rye; June 30 for grain sorghum; and July 31 for corn and soybeans.

Bezner pointed out that price support loans enable producers to market crops when prices are most favorable. Crops may be redeemed from loans any time before loan maturity, by paying off the loan plus interest.

Auto Inspection Number Slow

"With the April 15 deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 44 per cent of the registered vehicles in Deaf Smith County have been inspected," stated Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Unless there is a rapid increase of inspections, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches. The authorized inspection stations are ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles if owners will not wait until a few days before the deadline," Johnson said.

Captain Johnson called attention to the fact that since the beginning of the inspection program in 1951, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13 per cent to 3 percent.

Johnson said, "The purpose of the Motor Vehicle In-

Colt League Sets Meeting

Woddie McDermitt, secretary of the Hereford Colt League, has announced that there will be a special meeting of the organization Friday at 8 p.m. in the Community Center Scout Room.

Due to difficulties concerning the lighting of the baseball field, immediate action by officers of the Dimmitt and Hereford teams is necessary, McDermitt pointed out. Re-organization due to Nazareth's dropping out of the league, will also be discussed.

McDermitt urged that all persons interested in assisting with either the Dimmitt or Hereford teams attend the meeting.

The program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident and, by removing the link, prevent the accident.

Each County Champion receives an engraved plaque and gold pin. Each County Junior Champion is given a trophy and a silver pin during the intermission at the Regional Bee.

There is no regional contest between the juniors, they are merely guests of the Globe-News for the annual Spelling Bee luncheon to be held at the Amarillo Country Club.

Guest Day Tea Is Club Event

Eleven flower arrangements, illustrating traditional and various modern styles, were made by Mrs. Benidean Hammock of Lubbock, a national flower show judge who spoke at a guest day tea of Hereford Garden Club in Community Center ballroom.

BBB Warns Of Ad Gimmick

Some Panhandle area business firms are apparently being solicited by telephone from Houston to buy advertising in a publication sponsored by the Auxiliary Police & Reserve Officers Association of Texas, according to reports to the Amarillo Better Business Bureau with which the Deaf Smith County Chamber is affiliated through membership.

The telephone pitch is that the association is composed of laymen who assist police in patrolling the streets and that funds raised through the ad will be used to fight gun control laws so civilian policemen can be armed.

The Houston Better Business Bureau is releasing the following report on the organization:

"The Auxiliary Police and Reserve Officers Association of Texas is the tradestyle being used by a group of telephone sales people in an attempt to sell advertising to businessmen. You should understand that this organization is not affiliated with any recognized law enforcement agency. The publication will most likely be distributed principally to advertisers. There is no charity involved, other than helping a group of promoters make a living."

Japanese school dating back two centuries before Christ, to the Flemish Dutch, Rococo and English periods of Europe and the modern styles.

Arrangements were made to show different abstract styles — interpretive, free style and non-objective. Modern arrangements may be daring and they often use permanent and unusual materials, she said, adding that they communicate a message and in flower shows a card may be attached to explain that message.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson presided, welcomed guests and introduced the speaker. After the demonstration in Community Center ballroom tea was served in the club-room.

On the hostess committee were Mrs. A. O. Thompson, Mrs. Jeff Gilbreath, Mrs. Jeff Roberson, Mrs. Ralph McCullough and members of the hospitality committee.

Mrs. W. C. Hromas, hospitality chairman, and Mrs. Johnson poured tea and coffee at opposite ends of a table covered in moss green and centered with yellow mums. St. Patrick's Day motifs were used in table decoration.

Mrs. McCullough was at the guest book. Those who registered from out-of-town included Mrs. Jo Steele Liveley of Lubbock, who accompanied the speaker to Hereford, Mrs. Bill Norris of Floydada, Mrs. Buck Norvell of Vega and Mrs. Norman Bookout of Wichita Falls.

MRS. LIVELY, whose name was Steele when she lived here a few years ago, was looking mighty pretty in a springtime yellow dress that brightened up the snowy afternoon as she enjoyed renewing acquaintance with a lot of the women in Community Center ballroom.

She says she keeps in touch with Hereford friends in various ways, including reading The Brand much more carefully than she did while she was living here. "Even read every one of the want ads in every issue," she admitted, "and you'd be surprised at the interesting things I find in them!"

MRS. FRED BARETT'S opinions and mine run right along the same lines when it comes to tree-cutting in this sort-of-trees country. Both of us believe that when a tree does manage to grow up here, it should be left right where it stands, even if the road has to go around it.

We don't like the idea of lopping tree branches off indiscriminately, either, and don't accept the explanation that the chopped-off trees will have even better shapes in a few years. Especially in winter, we agree, the branches never look just right again after a bobbing. Of course neither of us is a tree surgeon and we reluctantly bow to the opinion of the experts that drastic cutting is sometimes necessary to save the tree's life. But we don't have to like it, and we don't, so there!

Baseballers Are Downed By Amarillo Sandies, 5-1

Hereford's struggling baseballers fought two battles Thursday afternoon in Amarillo — one with the weather and one with a determined bunch of Sandies — before losing to both.

With gusting winds chilling the players, the Whiteface nine could not halt the Sandies as they fell victims to their bats, 5-1 in a non-conference tilt.

The Sandies put the locals down in order in the opening frame then took control of the game as they tallied three runs in the bottom of the first. An error by the Whiteface third sacker on the lead-off Sandie, got things rolling for the host team as the next batter singled, both were advanced on a two-strike sacrifice bunt, and then brought home on the first of two doubles by the Sandie shortstop. The shortstop then scored on another double by the Amarillo rightfielder, giving them a 3-0 lead.

Neither team managed a score in the third, but Hereford sent one runner around the circuit in the third when first sacker Jeff Loerwald singled and scored on a single by Randy Ragan. Ragan was tagged out at the plate in an attempt to stretch his hit following a Sandie error. Amarillo sewed the game up in the last half of the third when the first three batters connected for hits. The third hit scored the two runners ahead of him.

The game settled down to a pitching duel for the remainder as the Sandies kept the locals from scoring while they themselves were unable to make the circuit.

Hereford left men on bases every frame except for the seventh, but were never able to capitalize.

The Whitefaces collected five hits off the opposing pitcher, while the host Amarillians swatted out nine, of which four were for extra bases. The locals hits were all singles.

The loss brought the Whiteface's record to 1-3 and they will next see action Monday when they play Palo Duro in a make-up game at the local field.

Netters Defeat Littlefield, 4-3

Whiteface netters, in their first year of competition, downed the Littlefield squad 4-3 in overall matches last week in Littlefield.

The boys doubles team of Jeff Massie and Danny Boyer fell victim to the team of Randy Brestrup and Mark Jordan, 6-1 and 6-2, while the girls doubles team of Judy Roberson and Kay Golden compensated for the boy's loss, by clipping the Littlefield team of Kim Bridwell and Carolyn Lumsden, 6-1 and 6-2.

Miss Golden and Miss Roberson also won their doubles match over Elaine Graves and Miss Lumsden, 6-3 and 6-1.

In the girls singles division, Sandi Lemons was defeated by Junnie Gray, 6-4 and 6-0 and Loretta Gibson won her match with Mary Hobratchke, 6-0 and 6-1.

John Stagner defeated L.D. Holt, 6-2 after having fallen to Steve Webb in his opener, 6-1 and 6-2.

The tennis team will next see competition against the same Littlefield team next Thursday on the home courts beginning at 3 p. m.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — As a Vietnam veteran, may I obtain a G. I. loan to purchase a business?

A — Under the current Post-Korean G. I. Bill, which covers Vietnam era veterans such as you, the Veterans Administration may guaranty only home and farm loans. Business loans were not included in the present G. I. Bill.

However, the Small Business Administration does make loans to veterans. You should contact the nearest VA office for information concerning such loans.

Q — I was retired on disability from the Armed Forces. Are my wife and children eligible for medical care at VA facilities as my dependents?

A — No. Only you are entitled to Veterans Administration hospital or medical care.

However, your dependents as well as you are eligible for Medical care at U. S. military installations, or under the provisions of Military Medicare Program.

Check with the military service from which you are receiving disability retirement for further information concerning the medical care entitlement of your dependents.

Q — I am receiving a non-service-connected disability pension from the Veterans Administration and was under the impression that I would get an increase starting in January 1969. However I am receiving the same amount. Please explain.

A — The new pension system does not provide for automatic, across-the-board increases. Pensions are now keyed to $100 variations in income. This will cause an increase in pensions for some, but no change for others such as yourself.

VA representatives will be happy to explain the new pension system and answer any additional questions you may have.

Banning Huck Finn

Fourteen English teachers, bless 'em, in a Miami high school have rightfully protested the banning of Mark Twain's 'Huckleberry Finn' from required reading at Miami-Dade Junior College.

The banishment of the book that so many kids, and grown-ups, too, have chuckled about down through the years, came after a group of Negroes criticized it.

Banning such an historic volume is, one would say, a whim of certain politicians or school officials bowing down to the pressures of a minority group.

Before it is too late we should not forget the days when one Adolf Hitler burned books in Germany, and we thought this was one of the horrors of the century.

When a nation starts banning literature like anything at all that Mark Twain wrote then it is verging on the dangerous side and it is time to stop and take inventory of our thinking. Likewise when a race, whether it is Negro, Italian, Jew, Irishman, or English, cannot enjoy a good laugh at its own expense then that race is becoming very crusty and narrow-minded.

Maybe the 14 teachers in Miami protesting the banishment of Mark's tale of the adventures of a lad out of Hannibal, Mo., will awaken our public officials, as well as school officials, who bow down to pressure groups.

We have a hunch those who asked that the book be banned are running around Miami calling themselves liberals. — TOPS News Service

Freedom of Choice?

WHILE PRESIDENT Nixon was chatting with heads of state in Europe, heads of the states back home were congregating in Washington. The administration seems to have fared better with the foreign chiefs than the domestic chieftains.

Texas Gov. Preston Smith and many of his colleagues jumped on intentions of the Nixon administration to all but outlaw 'freedom-of-choice' school enrollment plans. Even a staunch Nixon campaigner, Sen. John Tower, joined the criticism. 'A freedom-of-choice plan sincerely applied is the best manner in which to provide equal education of high quality for all of our children,' the Republican senator declared.

Meanwhile, the President's lieutenants in Health, Education and Welfare, including Secretary Robert Finch, threaten to withhold federal aid from school districts whose freedom-of-choice plans don't produce the desired racial balance, whatever that is.

There are verified cases of coercion and intimidation under so-called freedom-of-choice plans. Threatening to kick a tenant farmer off the land if his children choose to enroll in a certain school is hardly compatible with real freedom to choose.

But there are many more cases in which students, with true freedom of choice, have adopted to stay with classmates and teachers they have come to know. And when the choice is between a school down the block and one clear across town, convenience and shoe leather come into play as well.

HEW'S vendetta against freedom-of-choice plans, begun under the New Frontier, continued in the Great Society and still with us in 'Forward Together' appears to be based on one fact and a host of illogical conclusions.

The fact is that many school districts, and not just in the South, have maintained racially separate but unequal schools. But it does not follow that integrating a school racially will make it better. A school with bad teachers, facilities, counseling program and student-instructor ratios is a bad school regardless of racial make-up.

Another mistaken assumption is that, given true freedom, students and their parents will always choose the way social planners believe they should. It would be interesting to learn what the planners would do with those of us who choose chrome trim and horsepower over gasoline mileage — remove the choice that they believe is not good for us?

The way we got it, forced racial segregation was outlawed to make way for freedom — freedom to attend one's own notion of the best schools, or even to attend a sub-standard school, for that matter.

If freedom of opportunity is really what HEW and the people desire, let all concerned stand ready to accept one possible consequence: The choice may not go according to plan.

In the event that freedom and government plans are at odds, which should yield — the exercises of freedom or those who disagree with the choices made?

Gov. Smith and Sen. Tower have stated their choice. The strong suspicion here is that many millions of Americans believe likewise. — Dallas Morning News

Where Men Are Men

Who says they don't make men like they used to?

Take George Crocker, a 36 year old Goodwin, S. D., farmer who braved 50 below zero weather and an ice covered road to make sure his cattle got fed.

When his horse slipped and fell on him, Crocker knew he was in trouble. He had a broken leg. And what was even worse, the snow was starting to fall. With not much else to do, Crocker started crawling home, almost a mile away.

He reached his destination in about an hour and a half with both knees and his face frozen. That was bad enough but Crocker's troubles weren't over. The telephone lines were down and the roads were drifted shut by this time. There wasn't much to do but wait until morning and then his daughter, Sandra, 13, rode a pony to the home of the nearest neighbor and summoned help.

Twenty four hours later an ambulance arrived behind a snow plow and Crocker was evacuated.

LET'S TAKE A GOOD LOOK!

MAIN STREET, U. S. A.

Congress Slow To Act

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Congress has decreed that smoking may be dangerous to health but the Federal Communications Commission proposes to go beyond that finding and ban advertising of cigarettes on television and radio.

Unless Congress passes a law to nullify FCC's order, a new national policy will be established by administrative fiat. Cigarettes are a legal product but their promotion will be curbed because a majority of appointed officials have decided it is in the public interest to attempt to protect smokers from the possible consequences of their vice.

The issue in the cigarette controversy goes much deeper than whether smoking is harmful. The real issue is whether an agency which is supposed to exercise only powers delegated by Congress can assume the authority to ban the advertising of a legal product. If FCC gets away with its assertion of power, what other products will be added later to the verboten list? Will it be coffee, or tea, or aspirin?

Cigarettes are not contraband. It is not only legal to make and sell them but their production is heavily subsidized with tax dollars. Tobacco growers receive Federal payments and large sums are spent overseas to promote the sale of U. S. tobacco products. At the same time, the U. S. Public Health Service spends a large amount in an effort to persuade smokers to quit.

It is a ridiculous situation which cries for solution. Why should it be illegal to promote smoking through broadcasting but legal to advertise in newspapers or magazines or on billboards?

Congress Should Act

It is time for Congress to take a firm decision on smoking and not leave policy decisions to the downtown bureaucrats. The legislators have a number of alternatives, starting with the extreme step of a flat ban on the production and sale of cigarettes. It is highly unlikely Congress will go that far.

Congress could stop short of outlawing cigarettes but establish a national policy of discouraging their use. It could terminate all tobacco subsidies and all promotion in foreign markets. It could ban all advertising of cigarettes, although such legislation would surely be challenged on constitutional grounds.

Congress could strengthen the health warning now required on cigarette packages. There are numerous bills pending to accomplish that change. Time has proved the present warning language to be ineffective. A warning that smoking may cause death from cancer or heart disease could be required.

Or Congress could go along with FCC and give legal backing to a ban on broadcast advertising of cigarettes, while still allowing their promotion in other media. Such a law would at least have the virtue of having been passed by the duly constituted body supposed to write the laws.

Courts Will Decide

Worst of all the alternatives would be for Congress to simply do nothing, allowing FCC and other regulatory bodies to make their own rules. This would be an abdication of responsibility, which would earn Congress widespread and deserved censure.

Whatever happens or fails to happen on Capitol Hill, the ultimate decision on cigarettes will probably be made by the U. S. Supreme Court. Any law or regulation that is adopted is certain to be tested in court. The tobacco industry has already served notice that FCC's order will be appealed unless it is nullified by Congress.

The public interest in the smoking controversy is that a solution be found without infringement of personal freedom. Millions of people want to smoke despite the dangers and the government has probably fulfilled its proper role when it points out the results of health research. Prohibition of drinking proved unworkable and a smoking ban would probably be just as unsuccessful.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

GIGANTIC GOOF — Texas boasts what might be the world's biggest bathtub, but it won't hold water.

Alongside Interstate 20, in the southeast edge of Monahans in far West Texas, there is a concrete bowl that is 522 feet long and 425 feet wide. It was put there in 1928 by the Shell Oil Co. and was designed as a unit where a million barrels of oil could be stored while awaiting shipment by tank cars or pipelines.

The only problem was that the oil wouldn't stay put. The hot sun evaporated it. The pressure on the concrete walls and floor was such that thousands of gallons seeped out. Despite these problems, however, the company continued to use the bowl for several years until pipelines could be built.

Later Shell sold the tank to a Monahans man who hoped to turn it into a recreation lake. But the water seeped out, too.

THE CHANGING TIMES — The Dallas Union Station, where up to 40 passenger trains used to arrive and depart each 24 hours, probably will be sold this year.

Today only one train a day pulls into and out of the imposing old station that was built to handle 50,000 passengers around the clock.

THE SIGNS OF TEXAS — A music store in Denison has a rear entrance that is labeled: "The Bach Door."

BY ANY OTHER NAME — Walker, in deep East Texas, is the only county in the state that was named for one man but now honors another of the same name.

When the county was organized in 1846 with Huntsville as the county seat, it was named for R. J. Walker, a Congressman from Mississippi who introduced the resolution to annex Texas. But along came the Civil War and Congressman Walker joined the Union side.

This was too much for Texas secessionists. In 1863, the Legislature renamed the county for Samuel H. Walker, an early Texas Ranger who helped Samuel Colt perfect the revolver. Sam Walker died a hero in 1847 during the war with Mexico.

BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT — Texas' only fully endowed public library is located in Italy, an Ellis County community of only 1,450 people.

Housed in a $60,000 building especially designed for the purpose, the 10,000-volume library was left to the town by S. M. Dunlap, local banker and a large landowner. Bank stock and real estate holdings assure perpetual operation of the library.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Nogalus, southwest of Lufkin in Trinity County, got its name because the community punished its criminals by hanging them to a tree instead of the conventional gallows.

Since the area had no gallows, it came to be known as 'Nogalus Prairie' and the name stuck.

On Sunday morning last Elder H. M. Bandy preached his last sermon to his congregation at Hereford, having resigned to accept the work at Albuquerque, New Mexico. When approached by a Brand representative Elder Bandy stated he had a two-fold motive in making the change. First, the church at this place did not feel able to employ the full time pastor and secondly, the field at Albuquerque is new and undeveloped and hence a most inviting one. He will have charge not only of the church at that place, but will also stand at the head of the missionary work of the entire Territory.

Served Jury Duty Lately, Ladies?

By BARBARA SWIMMER
Staff Writer

If you have been called to serve on a jury and haven't done so, you are doing yourself and Deaf Smith County a great injustice.

Serving on a jury, whether in district court or county court, can be a worthwhile experience that every person should have.

According to County Judge H. C. Williams, a woman makes a better juror than a man. They are not easily swayed and they seem to have a sixth sense about them that a man does not possess. In a trial where there is a female defendant Judge Williams says, "a few tears shed by the defendant can change a man's way of thinking. A man can be 'outfoxed' when it comes to a weeping woman."

Deaf Smith County's problem in trying to get a jury of half men and half women can sometimes be a big one because so many of the women prospective jurors give petty excuses for one reason or the other so they may be excused from jury duty.

In the method used to pick a qualified jury, a jury commission is named by the judge, of no less than three and no more than five people, usually at least half men and half women, to choose 40 names for each month from a list of qualified voters furnished by the tax office. They are chosen twice a year, six months in advance. A different commission each six months picks the prospective jurors for that period. The names are typed on a jury list with the month designated, put into sealed envelopes and filed in the county clerk's office.

Two weeks before the beginning of a new month, an order from county court, signed by the judge, requesting a jury is given to the county clerk and he in turn, opens the sealed envelope for that month. He and his deputies prepare a list for that month and deliver it to the sheriff's office. Letters are sent to the prospective jurors by the sheriff's office.

"This is when the excuses start," says Judge Williams. "We used to just have to call 24 people to pick a jury list from, and now we have 40 to pick from and it's hard to find six people who will serve."

"The seat of the matter of women trying to be excused is 'just plain fear,' says Judge Williams. "It seems they are afraid of repercussions and getting involved." "As long as the people are afraid," said Judge Williams, "this country will deteriorate. Someone down the line must step forward and do their share of jury duty and stop this ridiculous deal of pampering."

One woman calling to be excused said she "was afraid" to serve because of the decision she would have to make, and still another had her doctor call to say she was not mentally or physically able.

Other examples given by the judge's office includes calls from women who act like they expected the office personnel to know that they have minor children and are disgusted at the idea of even being considered. One woman called to ask to be excused because she had a minor child. When checking, it was found out that the minor child was 14 years old.

One woman called to say she needed to be excused because she was unable to sit on a hard chair, because of a disease.

With all of the lame petty excuses given by some people wanting to 'get out' of jury duty, there are still a lot of people who think it is an honor to serve on a jury. People who have legitimate excuses still would like to serve.

Legitimate excuses can be given to women who have minor children under 18 years of age, people who have professions such as doctors, lawyers, nurses, firemen, undertakers, ministers, laboratory technicians, civil officers of the State or United States, overseers of roads, pharmacists, forestry agents, patrolmen, teachers and people over the age of 65.

According to the judge, "some one has to serve and most people who do so, are richer for the experience."

The recommendation that the local Chamber participate in a legislative fish fry with other chambers was approved at a Wednesday meeting of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Presiding at the board meeting was Chamber president Earnest Langley.

The fish fry, tentatively scheduled for April 1 in Austin, has had participation from the Amarillo Chamber and several others in the area for several years.

Chamber manager Bill Thompson urges anyone who will be in Austin on that date, to make a point to attend the event for the Texas Legislators.

Other business on the agenda was a report by Jeff Carille on the planning meeting of the Industrial Development Committee.

Volleyballers Defeat Tulia

The Hereford High School volleyball team kept their district slate unblemished last week as they sent the Tulia Hornettes reeling following a two-game sweep on home grounds.

In the first game, the varsity stunned the Tulia six, 15-0 as they connected on 90 per cent of their serves. The "B" teamers were sent in to finish off the visitors in the second game and came up with a 15-12 win, hitting on 50 per cent of their serves.

Littlefield, who has previously defeated the locals, will play the visiting role next Thursday in a 6:30 p.m. non-conference game.

Harris Lauds FFA Boys In Swine Show

Richard Robinson, teacher at Vocational Agriculture at Hereford High School, has received high praise for the Hereford FFA boys' recent participation in the San Antonio, swine show by Hulan H. Harris, area supervisor of Vocational Agriculture Area II.

Harris said, "Please accept my sincere congratulations for the excellent showing the Hereford FFA boys made at the San Antonio Livestock Exposition, Swine Show. Not only did they make an excellent showing with their barrows in the show ring but they exemplified the type of FFA members we are striving toward: Cooperative, hardworking, attentive boys who not once did I notice doing anything that would not be a credit to the Hereford school and the FFA organization. This comes from the type of leadership training they are receiving from you, the school, and their home."

Harris continued, "In my capacity as serving as Superintendent of the Junior Swine Show, I definitely feel the Hereford boys received much valuable training while in San Antonio, not only in swine production but also in individual responsibility and leadership training — training that could only be received through individual initiative originating from the home, school, and instructor."

He stated, "To receive the numerous awards they received plus the highest respect of the show officials and other exhibitors is indeed a tribute. I know the community and school are extremely proud of this fact and rightly so!"

Harris is at Big Spring.

Breathalyzer Proving Itself Useful In Northwest Texas

The Breathalyzer, a portable instrument used for determining the alcohol content of the blood by a simple "breath test," which was put into operation November, 1968, over the state of Texas is proving to be quite useful in the Northwest Texas area, announced Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this Region. During the months of November and December of 1968, there were 1164 suspected drinking drivers who took various types of tests to determine the amount of alcohol in their blood. Of this number 957 or 82 percent took the Breathalyzer test as compared to 207 or 8 percent who took other types of tests.

Major Bell stated that the Breathalyzer not only will help in convicting a drunken driver, but assists in absolving a person who appears intoxicated, but may actually be suffering from epilepsy, a heart attack, an overdose of insulin, or many other pathological conditions.

The magnitude of the problem is reflected in studies conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety. Based on a ten-year traffic death toll of 27,000 in Texas, the use of alcohol may have accounted for about 50 per cent of these fatalities.

Bell stated, "It is hoped that the use of the Breathalyzer will hit hard at the problem and help reduce the traffic deaths in Texas."

Recipes from Good Cooks

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Two good cooks have given me some recipes. Rita Huckert has worked out this roll recipe for 4-H members and Home Demonstration Club members. Rita gave this demonstration to all clubs in February and March.

She explains that there are three methods for making yeast bread — conventional, rapid mix and cool rise. Rita says this is very convenient as the rolls can be refrigerated from two to 24 hours. Those who saw the demonstration and sampled the rolls were complimentary.

COOLRISE CINNAMON ROLLS

2 3/4 to 3 1/4 cups unsifted flour
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg (at room temperature)
1/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup very hot tap water
1 pkg. active dry yeast

FILLING

One-third cup sugar
1/2 stick butter
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
In a large bowl, thoroughly mix 1 cup flour with sugar, salt and undissolved yeast. Add softened margarine. Gradually add very hot tap water to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add egg and 1/4 cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter.

Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel; let rest for 20 minutes.

Combine sugar and cinnamon for filling. Melt additional 1/2 stick butter. Punch down dough. On lightly floured board, roll the dough into 18 x 9 inch rectangle. Brush with melted margarine. Sprinkle sugar-cinnamon mixture over dough. Roll up from long side to form 18-inch roll. Pinch seam to seal. Cut roll into pieces 1 to 1 1/2 inches wide. Place cut side up in greased pan. Brush top with vegetable oil and cover loosely with plastic wrap. Refrigerate from 2 to 24 hours.

When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover dough carefully. Let stand, uncovered, 10 minutes at room temperature.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Remove immediately from pan and cool on wire racks.

ANOTHER GOOD COOK. Mrs. Bonnie Martin brought me this recipe of Pinto Fiesta Cake. A few local farmers have commented that pinto beans are so good, why put them in a cake. Anyway, here's something different.

PINTO FIESTA CAKE

1 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon cloves
2 cups chopped nuts
2 cups diced cooking apples
1/4 cup butter
2 cups of pintos, cooked and mashed
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1 cup raisins.

Cream sugar and butter, add beaten egg. Add mashed beans. Sift dry ingredients together and add to sugar mixture. Add apples, raisins, chopped nuts and vanilla. Mix well. Pour into well-greased floured tube pan. Bake in 375 degree oven for 45 minutes.

Glaze when removed from pan with 2 cups confectioners sugar, three tablespoons lemon juice or extract and 1 tablespoon water, blend & decorate with walnut halves and marashino cherries.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Bill Grabarkewitz, shortstop for the Albuquerque Dodgers of the Texas League, suffered a multiple fracture of his lower leg in a home plate collision Aug. 3. Grabarkewitz was among the top prospects in the Los Angeles Dodger farm system.

NEW LIONS PREXY — Major A. J. Schroeter was elected president of the Hereford Lions Club for 1969-70 in the annual election party last Thursday night.

Eight Vehicle Accidents Is Month's Total

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of February, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in three persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $8,395.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first two months of 1969 shows a total of 12 accidents resulting in no persons killed, four persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $14,610.

"Windy" March is here. Pedestrians and drivers can be temporarily blinded by blowing dust or sand — long enough for a hazardous situation to develop and lead to an accident. The reduction of visibility can cause a head-on collision, a rear-end collision, or a run-off roadway type of accident.

The wind itself can exert a powerful force on your vehicle and force it across or off the roadway. Sudden changes in wind velocity can cause you to lose control of your vehicle. Be sure to have both hands on the steering wheel to help maintain control of your vehicle.

The sergeant said, "Be alert and prepared for these dangers of gusty winds and reduced visibility."

Trophy Shoot Is Set Today

The second "traveling trophy shoot," sponsored by the Hereford Gun Club, will be held today at the shooting range near the airport. It was announced by club officials.

Entrants will be required to pay $3 entry fee for 50 shots. The shots will consist of 15 shots from the 16-yard line; 15 from the shooters handicap; five pair of doubles and 10 crazy quail.

Practice shooting will begin at noon and the regulation match will start at 1 p. m. All interested persons are urged to attend the shoot.

Jessup Given Prison Term

According to the Amarillo Better Business Bureau, Mississippi preacher J. Charles Jessup, who has carried his moneymaking message all over the country, including the Panhandle, was recently sentenced to a one-year prison term plus five years probation for fraudulently claiming that funds solicited over the air and through the mails would be used for specific religious and charitable purposes.

Before sentencing him the federal judge hearing his case said, "Instead of praying for the people, you preyed on them. I have no sympathy for you; you have larceny in your heart."

It is estimated that Jessup received more than $10-million from his appeals during in the home of Mrs. George McCleskey. Special guests were Mrs. Walter Caffey, Jr. and Mrs. E. A. Hankins of Post, mother and grandmother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Alton Taylor, mother of the prospective bridegroom. The couple plan a Mah 31 wedding in the First Baptist Church of Post.

She Likes Home Best

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
Homemaking is Mrs. J. C. Brown's main interest, and you could describe her career so far as a "mobile home maker." Not that she has lived in trailers, but between Army service and job transfers for her husband, the Browns' life has been "one move after another," the young housewife says.

THE FAMILY moved here nearly two months ago when Brown became manager of the local Soil Conservation Service office, and one more move faces them before they are settled residents of Hereford. They are living in a rented house at 127 Sunset until work is finished on a place they are buying.

Her experience in frequent changes of residence has enabled Mrs. Brown to give a very homelike look to the temporary place, but she says "there are stacks of boxes in the closet that we just won't unpack here."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown were born near Florence, grew up on farms and attended schools at that small town, so they like their life and work in Hereford better than in larger cities where they have lived.

SHE WORKED in the auditing department of Southwestern Bell Co. at Austin while he was in school there before their marriage, then they lived in Virginia and for two years at New Orleans during his Army service.

He was assigned in four different offices of the SCS before the transfer to Hereford from Plainview. Mrs. Brown was an office employee several months at New Orleans, but since the birth of her children has spent all her time with home duties, and she likes it that way.

The children are Dan, almost four years old, and Jennifer, two. While they are small, the Browns enjoy home entertainment and have substituted television shows for the kind they go out for.

They also plan family vacations and are looking forward to their first camping trip this summer. Mrs. Brown and the children will have their introduction to the outdoor living which is one of Brown's enthusiasms.

THEY ATTEND the United Methodist Church and Mrs. Brown expects to be a member of its women's organizations, although she has taken a vacation from organizations while she was getting settled here. She was a member of Young Homemakers of Texas chapter at Plainview, and was serving as president for this year.

Her hobbies are associated with homemaking; she likes to cook and test new and unusual recipes, can and freeze food, collect recipes, and sew. Her husband and children cooperate, she laughs, by trying out new dishes on the menu with gusto.

Making clothes for her fast-growing daughter and for herself, she "sews constantly," says the fresh-faced young mother with the deep smile in her chin. "Jennifer is ready for a whole new wardrobe about every six months," she adds.

LAST SUMMER Mrs. Brown decided to experiment at making pickles and jellies, and when she had harvested the grapes from a vine on the patio had dozens of jelly glasses filled. Uncertain about her skill at making pickles, she limited the production of those, but was surprised that they were so good and was sorry she hadn't made more.

She expects to remedy the lack next summer, but will curtail her work of freezing vegetables to something short of the 450 packages she put

Mrs. J. C. Brown moving is customary

Spring Activities Planned At Parish Council Meeting

Local activities of this spring and representation at a meeting in UMBARGER March 26 were planned in the March meeting of St. Anthony's Parish Council at the church Thursday evening. A parish social and bingo party was planned for Apr. 20 and the annual dinner for high school seniors for Apr. 26.

Voting delegates to the deanery meeting, Council of Catholic Women, at Umbarger will be Mmes. Freddy Cooper, Leo Witkowski, Matt Jesko and Ed Paetzold; alternates are Mmes. George Turrentine, Wern Koelzer, Paul Zinser and Andrew Kershen.

Heading committees for the social Apr. 20, to which the public is invited, are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Albracht, bingo; Mrs. Kenneth Walterscheid, publicity; Mrs. Cooper, baby sitting; Mrs. Turrentine, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Albracht, bake sale; Mike Betzen, games; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schilling, grocery game.

Members of St. Anthony's Guild and the Antonion Circle will be in charge of the dinner honoring parish members graduating from high school this year.

Mrs. Zinser, presiding for the meeting, reported on the recent deanery board meeting here. Reports were given on Guild activities by Mrs. Elmer Reinart, Circle activities by Mrs. Walterscheid, the Christian Mothers by Mrs. Gene Loerwald, commission on community affairs by Mrs. Ed. Paetzold.

Mrs. Koelzer told of the state assembly of Church Women United being held in Amarillo Thursday and announced that the local SWU will meet for a lunch at the Presbyterian Church here May 2.

Hostesses were Mmes. Loerwald, Kershen and Walterscheid. Fifteen members and the Rev. Simeon Heine, moderator, were present.

BSP Gift Goes To Girlstown

A cash contribution of $125 was voted to Girlstown USA, the state project of Beta Sigma Phi, by Hereford City BSP Council at a meeting Thursday evening. Mrs. Howard Gore and Mrs. Margaret Johnson were hostesses.

A change of date for annual spring rituals to be held at Community Center with the Council as hostess, was announced. This event, to include all three of the sorority chapters here, will be on April 15. On the hostess committee are Mmes. Harold Beauchamp, John Claypool, J. R. Cramer, Jim Cramer, J. D. Hamblen and Gary Braden.

Another spring meeting for all chapters will be the Founders Day dinner, set for April 30. Mrs. Gore will be in charge of program arrangements. Presentation of each chapter's Girl of the Year will be a feature.

Final reports were made on the Valentine dance of last month. All Council members worked on preparations for the dance, but thanks for especially effective work were voted to Mrs. Harold Kids, general chairman.

The Ta-Wa-Con-Ya campfire girls practiced songs to be presented at King's Matrix at a recent meeting.

AN ELECTRIC WATER HEATER, OF COURSE!

Electric water heaters can be concealed anywhere... in the garage, in a closet, under cabinet tops. And, that's because they do not need flues or chimneys... just the water connection and electricity. If your present water heater is getting along in years... not putting out like a youngster, then it's time to replace with a sparkling new electric. And, if service should ever be needed, just call Reddy Kilowatt... he'll fix whatever's wrong... quick as a magician pulling a rabbit out of a hat!

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

AMARILLO — This is such a nice place to work. I have pulled the table and typewriter by the large picture window on the fourth floor of St. Anthony's Hospital. Pretty flowers and potted plants, and "Upsie" and "Downsie" are near by.

Looking out the window in the early morning the snow is softly and swiftly falling to the good earth. At first glance it was a beautiful sight, to look out over the large trees, and with everything in their pretty white snow-dress.

Soon, however, the traffic started, and then it is mushy, muddy and all distorted. Reminding of what man in a degree has done to the good earth.

America is a beautiful country but we have done much to mar its beauty. Salvage, trash and litter, here and there. Streams, lakes, and rivers being cluttered with sewage and cast-off materials. Pollution of air which is bringing bad results, one of which is an increase in emphysema, and other lung and bronchial conditions.

I had never thought of air pollution at Hereford, until a few weeks ago I was making a hurried trip from Amarillo. As always I slowed down as I approached Hereford to enjoy the pretty sunset. As I looked I noticed that the colors of eventide were discolored by air pollution. There was a heavy covering for several miles and the city was completely shrouded with it.

Yes, this is one of our approaching problems. What will be its solution?

Speaking of problems, I would like to give a bit of advice to new home owners and those who contemplate building and improving the grounds. Do use care in the selection of trees or shrubs which you plan to put out near the sewage line.

Just a few weeks ago I was faced with this problem, all coming at a time when I really didn't need any added responsibilities. Tree roots were ruining the sewer line. In fact, for several years there has been a contest, namely Trees Versus Sewers. Trees seem to win this continuing battle.

Often we have had to have the plumber dig roots and clean them out of the line. This last time, all roots were cut and the soil treated which was put back—that is, the soil nearest to the new sewer line. This was used for a preventive. When the roots each the chemical (salt is often used), they will be checked.

This is not just a homeowner's problem, because frequently street trees are offenders, and cause sewer trouble. Therefore, all should be cautious in selection of the varieties of trees that will be bothersome to sewer lines. Fact is, roots of almost any tree or shrub may cause trouble. Aggressive sorts such as poplars, willows, Chinese elms, and locust are those which we should be aware of.

On the other hand, shallow-rooted trees, or shrubs and trees which have a tap root, would be a better selection.

Our trouble was caused by Chinese Elms. Near by, there was spirea and jasmine and these did not cause any trouble.

As in many things, preventive measures should be used. The above-mentioned type may be used or inexpensive chemicals will effectively prevent recurrence, if consistently used. Copper sulfate will kill roots and fungi and keep service lines clear if applied semi-annually. About two pounds of the crystals flushed down a water closet, a handful at a time over a half-hour period is usually sufficient. Caution: do not put copper sulfate in sinks, bathtubs, or other household drains.

M. W. Staples, in Flower and Garden, suggests an alternate method which is supposed to last two years or more. He recommends an injection of Stauffer Chemical Company's "Vampamo," by adding two quarts to the charge in a standard chemical foam fire extinguisher.

An added length of hose is inserted into the service line and the sewer is filled with chemically-laden foam. Thus a good tip to keep down trouble is given. It is not only trouble to have sewer lines fixed, but it is very expensive. Such an occurrence will surely make the budget shaky!

Plant trees, shrubs, and other growing plants, but do plant them wisely as to location and variety.

THIS AND THAT: Contacted Vera Deason, and she told me the bird that sings so sweetly in the morning near my room is probably the White Crown sparrow. They make their appearance in our locale about this time of year, and are one of our sweetest song birds. They are small but pretty, and do not multiply as fast as the other sparrows. Wish we had some of these in our backyard at home.

NATIONAL LAWN AND GARDEN WEEK, MARCH 20-26, 1969: The first week of spring is formally declared National Lawn and Garden Week this year, and the chief objective is to call public attention toward improving the appearance of lawns, homes, neighborhoods and communities throughout the country. "Growing With America" is the slogan for the week, as seen in the insignia adopted.

Let us all do something in observance of this week.

TEMPER YOUR SPRING ENTHUSIASM WITH JUDGMENT: If you do not, then your pocket book will probably feel the bite. It is alright to begin to lightly uncover little by little those things which have been mulched down for the winter, and to clean some of the debris out of the perennial beds.

Leaves which have blown into the shrubs and other litter can be removed. The early asmine is blooming (has been for several weeks) and the crocus and daffodils are making nectar and pollen for the early bees, and beauty for the gardener.

The other day while at home for a few hours, Lloyd and I both enjoyed the pretty crocus which were in bloom. Many pretty deep yellow blossoms greeted us as we looked out the windows, into the backyard. If you wish to have a breath of spring ecstasy, then cut some branches from the forsythia, cherry or peach trees, and force some blooms, then add a few daffodils, and lo! a pretty arrangement for the desk or the breakfast table. Or the bed-side table of a loved one.

NEW PLANTS: Do you wish to have some more forsythia, jasmine, smoke-tree, or other flowering shrubs? If so, do some layering.

This is done by taking some of the lower branches and forcing them down to the ground. Then cover them well with soil where they are touching the ground. Fasten securely and water a bit to keep the soil moist. By planting time there should be some new plants, which can be cut away from the parent bush and planted where you want a bit more color and variety.

FEED: March is a very good time to give a side dressing of your best fertilizer to the iris. First before the fertilizer is added, clean out the old leaves and any other litter that may have collected. Loosen the soil a bit and add the plant food, then cover and water in.

DO: Look about Hereford and count the places where

I have looked at this several times, and wished and even suggested that something be done. A lieutenant colonel noticed it at once and called it to my attention. Must say he was not too proud of his hometown's display of the national colors. This is in a very prominent place in Hereford.

Love of country and pride in our home town should prompt a change in this. Not only those of the military have called my attention to this but other friends and visitors in our city.

Social Security Facts

The general enrollment period for the supplemental medical insurance under Medicare will close in a few more days," according to Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager. Briggs cautioned that this will be the last chance for some people over 65 to ever be entitled to the doctor bill part of Medicare.

Medicare covers a wide range of health services provided at hospitals, skilled nursing homes, doctor's offices, or at home. The hospital insurance is financed through the participants paying $4 a month and the Federal Government contributing $4 a month from general revenues. Briggs stated that although over 95 percent of those entitled to the hospital insurance have also taken the optional supplemental insurance, a few have turned it down in the past or have not said whether or not they want it.

Each year from January through March there is a general enrollment period giving those already over 65 but not enrolled for the supplemental insurance a second chance to do so. One exception is that an individual who is not enrolled must do so within 3 years of his first opportunity. Those born October 1, 1901, or earlier fit this category; and if they have never been enrolled, they must do so by March 31, 1969. Briggs noted this group would not be able to apply next year in the general enrollment period since it will have been over 3 years since they could have first enrolled.

According to Briggs, the general enrollment period does not apply to those just becoming age 65, as they should apply in the 3-month period before reaching 65.

MANDRAKE THE MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK

THE GREAT BOMB HUNT - RACING AROUND THE EARTH - NORTH POLE TO SOUTH POLE -

- CLIMBING MOUNTAINS - DIVING TO THE SEA BOTTOM - SEARCHING -

THE BOMB IS UNDER MY BED!

THE GAMBLERS FROM OUTER SPACE...

The PHANTOM

By Lee Falk

"KIT AND CARIBO SET OUT FOR THIS MESA—THINKING IT A CITY—"
IT DOESN'T LOOK GOLDEN IN THE MORNING LIGHT, KIT.
IT'S GOLDEN, CARIBO. IT'S JUST SO FAR.

"IT WAS SLOW GOING IN THE SAND—THEY SAW MANY STRANGE NEW CREATURES—" THAT ONE SOUNDS BAD. STAY AWAY.

"—HUNGRY, HOSTILE ANIMALS EVERYWHERE!"

THEY DON'T LOOK FRIENDLY. MAYBE THEY WILL BOW TO US—LIKE THE OTHERS DID.

"NOT ALL OF THE NATIVES HAD HEARD THE GOLDEN-HAIRED-GOD LEGEND!"

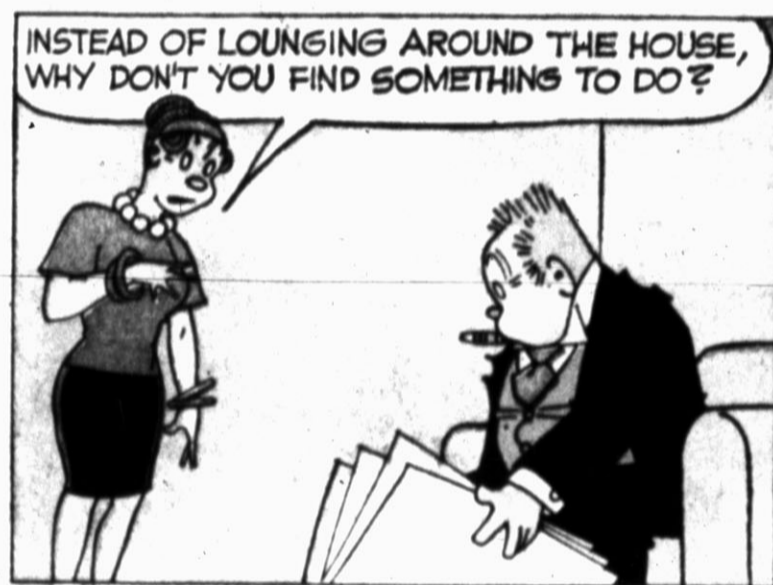

IT'S NOT GOLD AT ALL! IT'S PLAIN ROCK!
NO TIME TO WORRY ABOUT THAT NOW, KIT. THEY'RE COMING!

DIANA, IT WAS THE FIRST SHOT EVER HEARD IN THIS COUNTRY!
RIGHT DOWN THERE?!

BRINGING UP FATHER

by BILL KAVANAGH & FRANK FLETCHER

INSTEAD OF LOUNGING AROUND THE HOUSE, WHY DON'T YOU FIND SOMETHING TO DO?

WE'VE JUST HAD THE PLACE REDECORATED! WHAT IS THERE TO DO?
LOOK AROUND! MAYBE YOU'LL FIND SOMETHING—

WELL, HERE'S SOMETHING—I'LL STRAIGHTEN OUT THIS THROW RUG—

EEEEEEEEK!

I'M SORRY, DARLIN'— I WAS ONLY STRAIGHTENING THE RUG—IDIOT! ARE YOU TRYING TO KILL ME?!

JAMES CALLED THE DOCTOR! HE'LL BE HERE IN A MINUTE! MEANWHILE I'LL FINISH STRAIGHTENING THAT RUG—

I'M SURE THE DOCTOR WILL THINK WE'VE BEEN FIGHTING—

HE'LL NEVER BELIEVE IT HAPPENED THE WAY IT DID!

Hi and Lois

by MORT WALKER and DIK BROWNE

IT'S TIME TO GET READY TO GO TO WARREN'S PARTY, DITTO.
I'M NOT GOING—I HATE PARTIES.

SURE YOU WANT TO GO. THEY'RE HAVING CAKE AND...
WE HAD CAKE LAST NIGHT!

THEY'RE GOING TO HAVE GAMES AND PRIZES!
I NEVER WIN.

BUT TIM AND JOSEPH WILL BE THERE.
I'M MAD AT TIM AND JOSEPH!

WARREN'S MOTHER SAID EACH BOY WAS GOING TO GET A TOY FOR A FAVOR!
FAVOR?

SOMETIMES PARENTS JUST HAVE TO KEEP TALKING TILL THEY STUMBLE ACROSS THE MAGIC WORD.

WELL, TODAY'S THE DAY I WIN THE PING-PONG TOURNAMENT, BEETLE

FRANKLY, SARGE, I DON'T THINK YOU HAVE A CHANCE

LISTEN! I'M GOING TO WIN!

AREN'T I?

FRANKLY, AS A PING-PONG PLAYER, YOU STINK, SARGE

YOUR SERVE DOESN'T HAVE ANY SPIN ON IT

YOUR BACKHAND IS STRICTLY DEFENSIVE

AND YOU MOVE AROUND LIKE EACH FOOT IS IN A BUCKET OF CEMENT

YOU ONLY GOT TO THE FINALS BY PURE, DUMB LUCK

LUCK?!

IT'S ALMOST TIME FOR THE TOURNAMENT TO START, BEETLE. WILL YOU WARM UP SARGE?

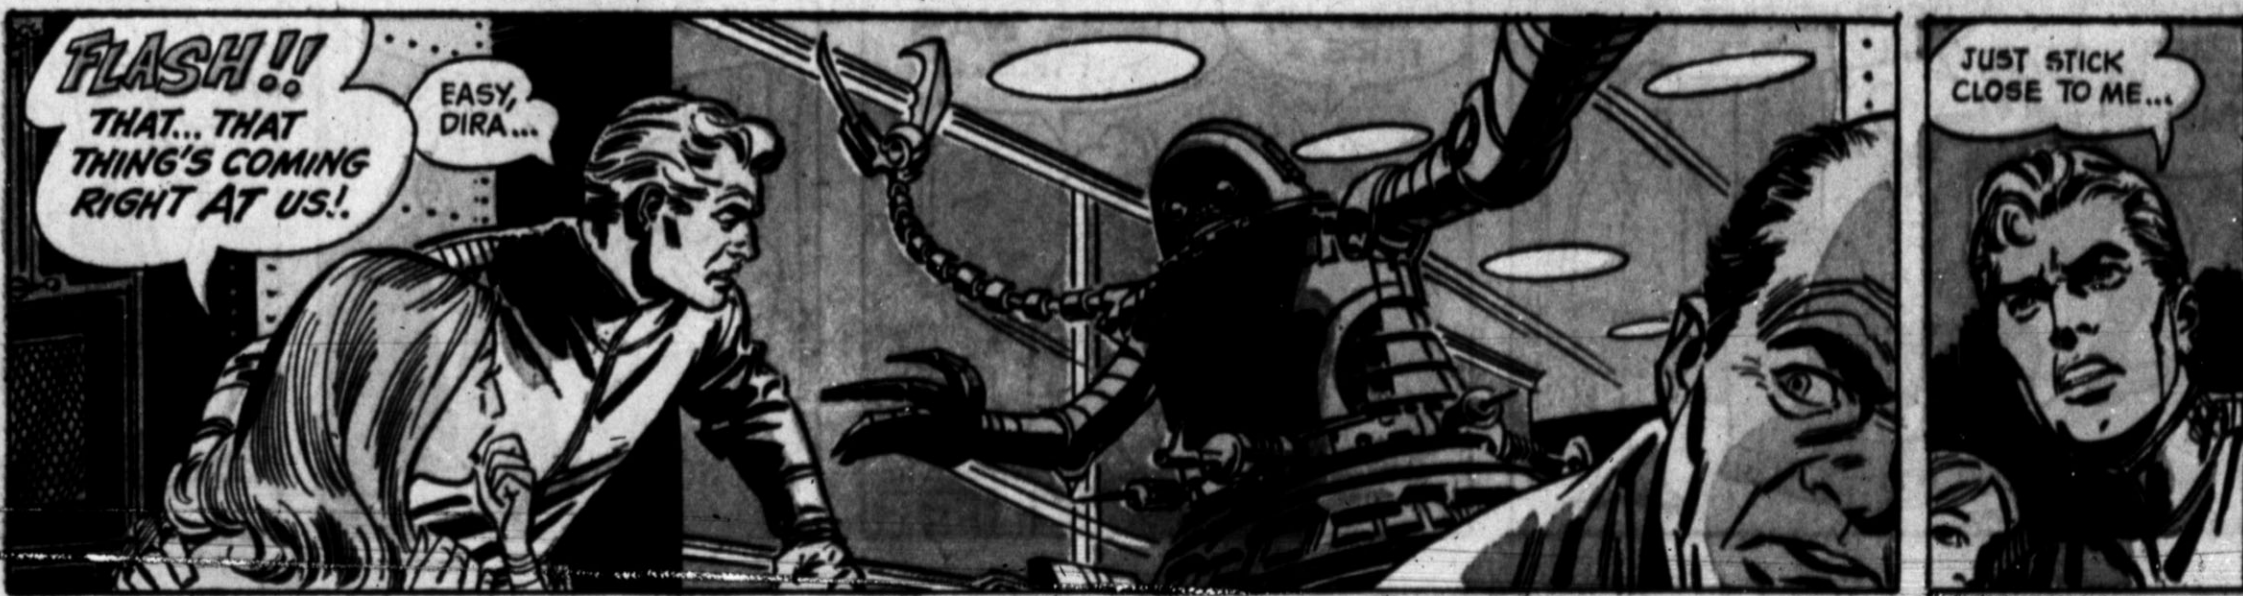

I JUST DID

FLASH GORDON

FLASH!! THAT... THAT THING'S COMING RIGHT AT US!

EASY, DIRA...

JUST STICK CLOSE TO ME...

...YOU SEE, DIRA? IT MISSED US BY A YARD!

SNAP!

OUR GUIDE-ROBOT MANAGED TO KNOCK OUT ITS SENSORS!

IT CAN'T FIND US!

OKAY, PROF. BERTRUG! YOU AND SYKES CAN COME OUT - IT'S SAFE ENOUGH!

SAFE? WE WERE BETTER OFF IN OUR CELLS! HOW DO WE GET OUT OF THIS BLIND ALLEY?

NOT BY WHINING, PROFESSOR!

PARDON ME, DIRA...

NOW, BE PERFECTLY QUIET! SIGHTLESS PEOPLE CAN LOCATE OBJECTS WITH ECHOES!

I'LL TRY TO FIND WHICH WALLS ARE JUST ILLUSIONS!

THIS WAY... FOLLOW ME!

AND MUCH LATER... A STAIRWAY!

YOU CAN TAKE OFF THE BLINDFOLD, FLASH! THERE'S SUNLIGHT UP AHEAD!

WE'VE FOUND THE SURFACE!
