

Glass Slipper Fits Herd in 15-14 Win Over LHS

By MAURI MONTGOMERY

Brand Sports Editor
LUBBOCK — The miracle patented Hereford Whitefaces cast little doubt they were the rightful owners of Cinderella's glass slipper after they managed to squeeze a size 10 foot into a No. nine narrow and barely past the 4-5A league's winless Lubbock High Westerners 15-14 here Thursday night.

The snug fitting shoe finally slipped into its rightful place with a final tug, as HHS tailback Wayne High (Hereford's leading rusher with 76 second half yards — 44 coming in the Whitefaces final 66-yard crunch to paydirt) plunged over from one-yard out on an option pitch, and a two-point conversion pass from junior signal-caller Alan Wartes to Felix Soliz hit its mark with 5:28 remaining in the conflict.

The late staged victory (the second such miraculous one point decision in as many showings in Lubbock's Lowrey field, following an identical 15-14 win over Lubbock Monterey) pushed Hereford's sprawling season ledger to 8-2 and nudged its district mark to 3-1.

But more importantly, the triumph kept the squad's clinking league playoff hopes alive — resting in the hands of Lubbock Coronado who must win over unbeaten Plainview tonight in order to maintain the Herd's prospects for post season competition. Providing the Mustangs win over Plainview, then upend city rival Monterey next week, a three-way tie would seem inevitable.

Lubbock High's loss (the third of its kind for the winless district crew) dipped the squad to a 1-8 record on the year. In this instance however, the loss didn't make the Lubbock squad look all that bad. It wasn't until late in the narrow conflict, that Whiteface fans could breathe a sigh of relief.

"This one really hurts bad, it really does hurt," said the Westerner's disappointed head mentor Army Salinas — a coach that was on the smiling side of the fence a year ago after his team upset Hereford 7-6. "We really needed to win this game — we needed to win in order to prove to people in this town we can win ball games. It was a hard way to lose a game after the way our kids played tonight. They played for all they were worth."

The Westerners came out gunning in the opening round of play, and took the first advantage of the close-quarters contest midway into the first period after James Jackson took a wide pitch — side-stepped at least four HHS defenders in a back tracking effort — and drove the ball in for the score from 13-yards out. The 180 pound quarterback ( carrying only five times for a net of 22 yards) turned around and added the PAT shot for a 7-0 LHS lead with 4:30 left in first quarter play.

That scoring drive, a thrust composed of a 61 yard offensive display on seven plays plus a Hereford facemask penalty, looked easy enough for the Westerners as Thomas Romero (Lubbock's leading rusher in the heated battle with 134 yards on 14 carries) knocked off 25 yards from the LHS 39 in the setup flurry.

But the Whitefaces met the early LHS lunge with one of their own on the ensuing kickoff.

Led by a host of fleet footed runners, (Wartes who carried for 51 yards on the night, Harold Terry who garnered top HHS rushing honors with 63 yards on 16 carries and Brent Self's 58-yard spree on 13 attempts) the Whitefaces bludgeoned off an awesome 80-yard scoring drive that ate up 7:33 in remaining first period play.

On fourth and goal-to-go, Self slipped in for the score from one-yard out before Scott Daniels drilled the PAT boot for the tying 7-7 tally with :59 showing.

That HHS pursuit of playoff happiness was attempted again in the second quarter of the clash as the Whiteface offense mounted another long drive to Lubbock's one-yard line before the Westerner defense yielded no more.

Hereford coach Don Cumpston opted to go for a touchdown rather than a field goal on a fourth and goal, and Hereford came up dry on the advance.

"That decision was a hard one to come by," said Cumpston of the try for seven points. "I really don't know what else there is to really say about it. We thought it over and figured we could punch it in — it just didn't turn out the way we had hoped."

And the missed scoring opportunity looked as if it would take on disastrous proportions for the Herd fresh out of intermission. LHS's Romero broke out of the blocks on a frequently successful trap play and galloped his way to the Hereford seven before being pulled down.

The stiffening HHS defense rose to the occasion at first, allowing Lubbock a total of minus 13 yards from that point, but eventually had a let-down. Lubbock quarterback Bobby Balch found an awaiting Jackson on a screen pass and Jackson went in for the go-ahead score. Jackson again added the extra point conversion for a frolicking 14-7 lead in the duel.

Yet, much like their effort throughout the season, the Whitefaces managed to overcome the setback facing them.

Following stagnated drives by both squads, Hereford took control of the pigskin midway into the final period and began the job of putting on the glass slipper.

Wholesale Prices Jump .8 Percent in October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices jumped 0.8 percent in October, equal to a 10.6 percent compound annual rate, and the nation's unemployment figure edged up one notch to 7.6 percent, the government reported today.

October's jump in the Producer Price Index contrasted markedly with September's 0.2 percent dip. The increase was fueled by rising automobile prices and significant boosts in the cost of sugar, meat and other foods, the Labor Department said.

For the first 10 months of 1980, wholesale, or producer, prices have accelerated at a 12.4 percent annual pace, a rate very similar to the double digit mark of 1979 and further evidence of inflation's persistent nature despite the recent recession.

Wholesale prices had risen 1.5 percent in both July and August.

Unemployment, meanwhile, inched up 0.1 of a percentage point from 7.5 percent in September, the department said. But behind the nearly stable figure, there was significant movement. The unemployment rate for adult men declined over the month to 6.4 percent, while the rate for women rose sharply to 6.8 percent.

Unemployment among teen-agers rose to 18.4 percent last month following a decline in September.

The number of unemployed workers, at about 8 million, returned to its August level following a September dip. Joblessness was up 1.7 million from October 1979, with adult men accounting for about 1 million of the over-the-year increase, the department said.

The factory work week rose, reflecting the nation's apparent emergence from the sharp but short recession that began late last winter.

On the inflation front, the Labor Department reported that wholesale prices at the finished goods level rose 0.8 percent, with half the jump caused by higher prices for cars and trucks.

Sharply rising food prices accounted for most of the rest of the advance.

The introduction of 1981 model vehicles in October followed large price decreases in September, when Detroit closed out its 1980 model year with across-the-board discounts to dealers.

That dip in September became an instant campaign issue in the presidential cam-

Reagan Issues Warning to Iran

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President-elect Ronald Reagan says he will not "intrude" in President Carter's foreign policy but will make a change in the way the United States deals with the Soviet Union once he takes office.

And, he said, Iran should not expect to benefit by continuing to hold its American hostages until Reagan becomes president on Jan. 20.

"I hope the Iranians will not have any idea there will be any profit to them in waiting," Reagan said.

At a news conference Thursday, his first such meeting with reporters following his landslide election victory on Tuesday, Reagan also said the people who engineered his successful election campaign will be in charge of planning his take-over of power.

The Republican president-elect went directly from the news conference to a private meeting in downtown Los Angeles with the leaders of his transition team and some of the men who served in his "kitchen cabinet" while he was governor of California.

Much of the news conference was devoted to foreign policy questions, and Reagan made clear that while he hopes to maintain the traditional bipartisan nature of American foreign policy, he expects to make some immediate changes.

For instance, he rejected Carter's contention that strategic arms limitation talks between the United States and the Soviet Union are too important to await resolution of such international crises as the Soviet's occupation of Afghanistan.

"I don't think you simply sit down at the table with the Soviet Union to discuss military arms, for example," Reagan said. "You discuss the whole attitude, world attitude, as to whether we're going to have a world at peace or whether we're simply going to talk about weaponry and not bring up these other subjects."

"In other words," he said, "I believe in linkage." Carter, recently asked whether he would ask for Senate approval of the SALT

Exercise in Egypt Set for U.S. Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first maneuvers of the United States' new Rapid Deployment Force are to begin next week, but Egypt, site of the exercise, has insisted on a news blackout of the operation.

American officials say they're puzzled.

The first of about 1,400 soldiers plus airmen and eight A-7 ground attack planes are to arrive in Egypt Monday. The overall movement from the United States will continue until Wednesday.

The Army troops will then move from the Cairo West

Airport into the Egyptian desert for 10 days of maneuvers, beginning Nov. 15.

The Pentagon was expected today to announce the operation, which will be the first test of the unit, designed to be dispatched rapidly in case of a crisis.

But American officials who asked not to be identified said Egyptian authorities have barred any on-the-spot news coverage of the arrival or the maneuvers.

Pentagon officials say they are puzzled about Egyptian reasons for requiring the

Abadan Fighting Heats Up Again

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Heavy fighting raged in the eastern districts of Abadan after Iraqi troops crossed the Bahmanshir River into Iran's besieged refinery city on the northern fringes of the Persian Gulf, Tehran Radio reported as the war entered its 47th day today.

But the broadcast said Iranian forces were holding out and that they retaliated Thursday in a fierce battle along the Abadan-Mahshahr highway about two miles east of Abadan. It said Iranian Phantoms attacked Iraqi positions along the Bahmanshir River, leaving the ground "littered with Iraqi dead."

Iranian Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai visited the war front and declared, "We will fight to our last breath. We will show (Iraqi President) Saddam Hussein that he can never become the region's gendarme," Iran's official Pars news agency said.

It said Iranian warplanes also bombed Iraqi positions near Ahwaz, the capital of Iran's oil-rich Khuzistan Province 70 miles north of Abadan, and outside Dezful, the garrison city 80 miles further north and midpoint of Iraq's 300-mile invasion front.

The agency claimed 160 Iraqis were killed in fighting in Susangerd, 25 miles north of Abadan, Iran's last stronghold on the Shatt al-Arab whose capture would give Iraq complete control of the estuary that constitutes its only outlet to the Persian Gulf.

The Tehran command said Iran's snipers and gunners near Khorramshahr, the oil port 10 miles north of Abadan that the Iraqis seized two weeks ago, were still keeping the invaders from seizing the bridge over the Karun River that leads to the highway south to Abadan.

But Associated Press correspondent Alex Efty and other journalists brought to Khorramshahr by the Iraqis said only one incoming Iranian shell exploded during the five hours they spent on the north side of the river by the bridge, and that it caused no damage.

"We can cross the river onto Abadan island immediately if we are ordered to do so and capture Abadan city and its refinery without any difficulty," Ahmed Hashim, a paratrooper colonel and Iraq's commander in the region, told Efty and the others.

Rending Rollover

Gerald Foster, 35, of Dawn remained in stable condition in Deaf Smith General Hospital after suffering lacerations when this 1979 Chevrolet pickup he was driving overturned two miles north of Dawn on FM 809 Thursday afternoon. According to an investigating DPS officer, Foster was southbound on FM 809 when he apparently ran off the road, overcorrected and lost control of the vehicle. The pickup caromed over the edge of a culvert and overturned, coming to rest on the west side of the highway. Hereford volunteer firemen used their "jaws of life" tool to free Foster from the wrecked pickup. A tanker truck from the Dawn Volunteer Fire Department joined Hereford VFD units in responding to the call. In the aftermath of the accident volunteer firemen and passers-by gathered up debris scattered in the rollover. (Brand photo by Jim Steiert)

Hectic Afternoon of Alarms Keeps Hereford Firemen on Run

Hereford volunteer firemen had a wild and windblown afternoon and evening Thursday as they responded to a total of four alarms that began shortly after 1 p.m. and extended well into the evening.

At 1:23 p.m. Thursday firemen were called to Southwest Feed Yard where cottonseed hulls piled against the mill had caught fire. Firemen were at the scene of that smoldering fire for over an hour.

While a portion of the local firefighting force was still in the process of picking up from that alarm a second fire call was received concerning another cottonseed hull fire and emergency units were sent racing 10 miles west and three miles north of Hereford to the Myers feedyard.

Firefighters were involved with that call until after 4 p.m.

At 3:35 p.m. the Hereford VFD rescue unit was summoned to the scene of a one vehicle rollover two miles north of Dawn, with a tank truck from the Dawn VFD also sent to the scene to assist.

Firemen used their "jaws of life" tool to extricate the injured driver, Gerald Foster, 35, of Dawn, from the wrecked vehicle.

Units returned to station from that call at 4:30 p.m.

The VFD answered a fourth alarm at 10:40 last night as they traveled six miles west on Harrison Highway, three miles north and a mile west to find a trailer load of cotton on fire. The cotton, owned by L.A. Bennett of Westway, was destroyed, but firemen saved the trailer by soaking the smoldering cotton for nearly two hours.

Clayton Claims He's Clinched Fourth Term As House Speaker

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Bill Clayton, acquitted Oct. 22 of corruption charges arising from the FBI's Brillab "sting" investigation, says he has clinched a fourth term as House speaker.

Clayton issued a list of 98 House members and representatives-elect pledged to his candidacy for the 1981 speaker's race. He needs 76 votes to win.

"Today you are seeing a miracle become a reality. I know there were some who questioned statements I made in February that I would prove my innocence of false charges by fall and maintain my posture as a speaker candidate," he said.

House members will elect the speaker — regarded as one of the three most powerful officials in state government — when the new Legislature convenes Jan. 13. Only Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, opposes Clayton, and Clayton said at a news conference Thursday that his list of 98 supporters "should effectively end any speculation about a speaker's race."

Clayton's list included 28 of the 36 Republicans elected to the House on Tuesday.

Republicans are vitally interested in legislative and congressional redistricting — the major task of the 1981 session — but Clayton said they would receive no special consideration.

"Redistricting will be a thing I don't feel will be given any weight because of any particular group," Clayton said.

Among the well-wishers attending Clayton's news conference were his Brillab lawyer, Roy Minton, and acquitted co-defendant, Randall "Buck" Wood of Austin.

at this time. We are looking only toward the next legislative session," he said.

The speaker said he waited until after the election to announce his plans because he did not want Brillab to be an issue in anybody's campaign for state representative.

Clayton "saluted" Bryant

for bringing "an opposing view to the race."

Bryant says the speaker has too much power and Clayton has used it on behalf of special business interests and against the consuming public.

Farmers Pledge

Patience with Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Activist farmers are pledging patience with Ronald Reagan's upcoming administration and at the same time reminding the president-elect of their support on the campaign trail.

The American Agriculture Movement, which led farmers' demonstrations in Washington during the past three years, sent telegrams to Reagan and Vice President-elect George Bush congratulating them on their victory.

David Senter, the national director, said the organization planned to give Reagan time to make the transition and take care of pressing international problems.

Marvin Meek, the group's president, said he abandoned the Democratic Party and campaigned for Reagan in 34 states.

"I risked my credibility by abandoning the Democratic Party after it abandoned me," Meek, of Plainview, Texas, said in a statement.

He was a delegate last summer to the Democratic National Convention in New York where he cooperated with "dump Carter" delegates.

Bell to Impose

Rate Increase

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Southwestern Bell will impose a interim telephone rate increase next week because the Public Utility Commission has not yet acted on its rate hike request, a company spokesman said Thursday.

Because prolonged hearings on Bell's request delayed the decision beyond the statutory deadline, the company can seek interim rate relief if it assures it will make refunds should the temporary charges exceed those finally approved.

The company did not release a tariff showing the impact of the increase on individual customers, but a company official told the Dallas Morning News the new rates would amount to less than half the $326.3 million increase sought by Bell.

"Any rates implemented under bond will roughly parallel the Public Utility Commission's staff recommendation of $152.3 million," said Paul Roth, vice president for revenues and public affairs.

Man Sentenced

For Cruelty

DALLAS (AP) — State District Judge Harold Entz has sentenced the owner of an Irving dude ranch to 180 days in jail for his conviction on an animal cruelty charge in connection with the death of a horse.

The charge, a misdemeanor, accused Charles Cross of animal cruelty in the death of Domino, a dapple gray mare that died last February. Another horse, Cheyenne, also died and officials testified that several other animals at the ranch were found to be suffering from malnutrition.

The sentence also included a maximum fine of $2,000 and is believed to be the harshest punishment ever handed down by a Texas court for animal cruelty. A three-man, three-woman jury took only 35 minutes last month to find Cross guilty.

Bill Bloomquist, former manager of the dude ranch, faces trial later on a similar animal cruelty charge.

Joyce Robison of the Texas Humane Information Network praised the sentence. "It's absolutely fantastic; it's better than we had anticipated.

"We needed this kind of thing, not only to act as a deterrent, but to point out the problems involved," she said.

Defense lawyer Ed Mason said he plans to appeal the case.

Fire Damages

Scout Headquarters

IRVING, Texas (AP) — A two-alarm fire damaged the national headquarters building of Boy Scouts of America late Thursday, a spokesman for the organization said.

Clayton said Thursday are pledged to vote for him for an unprecedented fourth term:

Buchanan, D-Dumas; Richard Burnett, D-San Angelo; Robert Bush, D-Sherman; Reby Cary, D-Fort Worth; Bill Ceverha,

Fire damage was confined to the second floor of the building, but there was apparent smoke damage throughout the four-story building, Whittaker said. The offices were to be closed today, he said.

The second floor houses the entrance to the building and has the main offices for Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorer Scouts, the three divisions of BSA, he said.

Baby Named

'Reagan Bush'

DALLAS (AP) — He may never be president. He may not even get elected to the student council.

But four-day old Reagan Bush will have one of those names that's hard to forget.

"We felt it was a unique opportunity to name him after two great Americans," Scott Bush said.

Born 15 minutes before election day at a Dallas hospital, little Reagan kept his mother from voting, but not his dad.

The proud father made it to the polls and said he voted, of course, for Reagan and Bush.

Former FBI Officials Convicted on Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights conviction of two former FBI officials who ordered warrantless break-ins in the search for left-wing terrorists in the early 1970s may have little effect on today's FBI.

Edward S. Miller, convicted Thursday along with W. Mark Felt, said the decision will not harm the FBI, which he called still a "great and grand organization."

An FBI spokesman said agents now have specific guidelines in such cases.

Felt and Miller, who rose through the ranks under the late J. Edgar Hoover, were the highest-ranking FBI officials ever to be convicted of a crime. The U.S. District Court jury found them guilty of conspiracy to violate the civil rights of friends and relatives of members of the radical Weather Underground by approving illegal searches at their homes in 1972 and 1973.

Felt was once the bureau's No. 2 man and Miller the chief of its intelligence division. They could face up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 in fines if the convictions are upheld upon appeal.

Miller told reporters that FBI officials today should not have to go through his ordeal because "we didn't have the same kind of guidance that today's FBI has."

FBI spokesman John Morrison confirmed that the bureau has specific written guidelines from the attorney general on the legality of investigative techniques. There also is a presidential directive permitting warrantless break-ins in certain foreign intelligence cases, he said.

In addition, a document introduced at the trial shows the FBI has proposed that a special court established to approve government wiretaps also rule on warrantless break-in requests. The court has not decided whether it has authority to do so, and legislation to give it that power has yet to pass Congress.

Felt and Miller admitted approving the break-ins but said they were authorized by Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III, who succeeded Hoover.

Gray, who was indicted with Felt and Miller but faces a separate trial, refused to comment on the verdict.

Felt told reporters he and Miller acted "in the best interests of the country," but the Justice Department said the warrantless break-ins violated the Fourth Amendment protection against unreasonable searches.

"I spent my entire adult life working for the government and I always tried to do what I thought was right and what was in the best interest of the country," Felt said. "The jury didn't agree with me." Miller added, "We tried to do our job for people, and I think we did a good job. We did the job the only way the job could be done."

Stronger reaction came from Norman Philcox, national president of the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI.

Speaking from Amherst, N.H., Philcox said FBI agents are "scared to death to conduct investigations because they are afraid that five or 10 years later they may be charged with some technical violations of a crime in connection with their investigation."

Disputes, Thefts Reported To Police

Domestic disputes and thefts were investigated by Hereford police officers last night with investigations continuing on all reports.

Dianne Kendrick, resident at Big Daddy's Hotel, reported to police she and a friend got into an argument. According to the report, the woman's friend put his fist through the front door, bathroom door, adjacent apartment door and the bedroom wall.

He also reportedly hit the woman in the face and chest as well as throwing her personal belongings across the room.

The report will be turned over to the district attorney's office for possible prosecution. The case is still under investigation.

A second argument was reported by a woman residing on the 700 block of Thunderbird. When the officer arrived at the scene he noticed the door facing was damaged. When he asked what had happened, the woman pointed to the suspect and said he had inflicted the damage.

According to the report, the woman told the officer her boyfriend had struck her and threatened her nine-year-old son. The woman allegedly pulled a gun on her boyfriend and he in turn took the gun away.

The report is under investigation for possible assault charges.

Allsup's Convenience located at 15th and Ave. H, reported someone had taken money that as on a scale where employees had been counting it. An undetermined amount of money was taken. Officers are still investigating.

Taylor Petroleum, 301 N. 25 Mile Ave., reported to officers yesterday a man put $20 worth of gasoline in his car and left without paying for it. Police are trying to locate the suspect.

A woman on Centre Street reported to police last night she was harassed while driving her car through town. She told officers that a black male and a white male in another vehicle began harassing her. At the 100 block of Ave. D the black male allegedly threw a bottle out the window of their vehicle and struck her vehicle causing some damage.

Police have one suspect in the case. William Huff, 206 Lawton, reported to police last night the back window of his 1979 Datsun was shattered while it was parked at the HSD bus barn. Huff had left his car there while transporting students to the football game in Lubbock last night.

A woman living on the 200 block of Elm told police officers someone had written vulgar words on the driveway of their house the past several nights. Police are investigating the report.

Officers issued 15 traffic citations and investigated a minor accident on Front and North Street.

Clayton

Statesman quoted Clayton as saying in an interview that although he wants four terms as speaker, he would support a bill limiting future speakers to two terms.

He also is having a bill drafted to create a Public Servants Standards of Conduct Advisory Committee to clarify the law for public officials on such things as accepting money and favors and the use of state property.

Federal prosecutors charged Clayton with bribery, racketeering, conspiracy and fraud after he accepted $5,000 from a Houston-area labor leader, allegedly in return for his influence in reopening a lucrative state employee's health insurance contract. But Clayton said he thought the money was a campaign contribution and he intended to return it at a later date. A state election code expert testified that politicians do not have to report contributions they do not intend to use.

Prices

paid, with Republican nominee Ronald Reagan accusing the Carter administration of "jimmying" the figures. The claim was strongly denied by government officials.

The Producer Price Index includes three categories: finished goods, which are ready for sale to consumers; intermediate items, which are semi-processed; and raw or crude materials, such as iron ore or grain.

In October, intermediate goods rose 0.9 percent, compared with 0.6 percent the month before. Raw material costs climbed a steep 1.9 percent after rising 1.3 percent in September and about 6 percent in both months before that, the department said.

All of the figures are adjusted for seasonal variations.

When the effect of car prices is subtracted from other finished goods, wholesale prices rose only about 0.4 percent last month, about a 5 percent annual rate.

"That's sort of encouraging," said Craig Howell, a Labor Department economist. However, he had a more pessimistic message for the months ahead because of the sharp advance in sugar and other food prices as well as costs for such intermediate goods as steel, scrap metal, textiles and papers.

"This will put pressure on consumer goods in coming months," Howell said. "On the food front, rising sugar prices (which climbed 23 percent) will have a big impact. Sugar pops up in 100 other places."

Price changes at the producer level often are reflected at the consumer level within a few weeks or months.

The department said prices for all consumer foods moved up 0.5 percent over the month. After declining in September, wholesale prices for beef, veal and pork rose moderately. Prices also jumped for dairy products, bakery goods, processed poultry, eggs, flour and mill- ed rice.

However, fresh fruit and vegetable prices were sharply lower, as were the cost of fish and roasted coffee.

Energy goods at the finished level declined 0.4 percent, the same as in September. From April through October, these prices have edged down at an annual 2 percent clip, in dramatic contrast to the 72 percent increase during the preceding six months. Gasoline prices in October moved down a modest 0.2 percent, marking the fifth consecutive monthly decline.

Before seasonal adjustment, the Producer Price Index stood at 252.2 in October. That means that a market-basket of items that cost $100 in the 1967 base period cost $252.20 last month.

Reagan

II treaty while the Soviets kept troops in Afghanistan, said the treaty was so important it should be ratified "under any circumstances."

Reagan has vowed to throw out the current arms treaty with the Soviets and begin anew to gain a tougher treaty. He was asked if he would communicate with the Soviets during his transition to power to begin such negotiations. He said that he and Vice President-elect George Bush do not "want to do anything that indicates that we are not a unified country and that we are in any way trying to speak with a different voice than the administration."

"The president is still the president," he said. "We are not going to intrude and we are going to recognize the fact that this administration is still in office and that foreign leaders must be aware that the president is still the president."

Reagan also announced that William Casey, Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., and former Ambassador Anne Armstrong, the three people who headed his election campaign, would now be in charge of the transition.

Edwin Meese, Reagan's chief of staff, will be transition director and will work with the president-elect's other top campaign aides, Reagan said.

He also said many of the same people who advised him on policy matters during the campaign will continue to serve in a similar capacity in the coming 2½ months before he takes office.

They include former Treasury Secretary William Simon; retired Gen. Alexander M. Haig; Caspar Weinberger, former budget director and secretary of health, education and welfare; and George Shultz, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

On other issues, Reagan said:

—It would be "just fine" with him if Congress went ahead and considered a tax-

cut proposal during its lame-duck session before he takes office.

He would give special consideration to finding qualified blacks and members of other minority groups to fill Cabinet posts and that he hopes to name his Cabinet by late November or early December.

—His staff had examined allegations against Richard V. Allen "and we find absolutely no evidence of wrongdoing whatsoever." Published reports said Allen, Reagan's chief adviser on foreign policy during much of the campaign, had profited personally from his position in the administration of President Richard M. Nixon. Allen has denied the allegations.

—He will listen to the advice of such campaign supporters as members of the Moral Majority, a religious group backing conservative causes. "I am going to be open to these people...I'm not going to separate myself from the people who elected us," he said.

—Bush would have an important role in the administration, but he did not spell out what it might be. "No, he's not going to be going to a lot of funerals," Reagan said.

Egypt

blackout because Defense Minister Ahmed Badawy gave details of the impending exercise last month in an official Middle East News Agency dispatch.

However, the officials acknowledged the Egyptian action could reflect some concern about highlighting the presence of U.S. troops at a time when Arab countries are split over the Iran-Iraq war.

Although the deployment of elements of the 101st Airborne Division from Fort Campbell, Ky., to Egypt is the first U.S. action of its kind in the Middle East in more than 20 years, senior military officers are cautioning against regarding this as a demonstration of any U.S. ability to project major forces and their equipment over thousands of miles from the United States to the Middle East.

Gen. Volney Warner, who oversees the Rapid Deployment Force, said in a recent interview that "it would be erroneous" to portray the exercise, called "Bright Star," as such a demonstration.

Warner said that, because of a shortage of strategic airlift and sealift, the United States will not be able to project until about 1985 a force big enough to confront a serious Soviet threat to the Middle East-Persian Gulf area.

"We need to be able to project at least 2½ divisions," Warner said. "As things stand, we can't do this now in a timely fashion."

Welsh Broadcaster Guest at Amarillo

I.D.E. Thomas, Welsh broadcaster for British Broadcasting Communications, will be the guest speaker at the Amarillo Knife and Fork Club meeting Nov. 15.

"BBC Reports." Thomas has been a "traveling newsmen" since 1962 and has journeyed extensively in Canada and the United States. He now makes his home in California but continues to travel abroad and may be heard over the British Broadcasting network.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

Rene Batard, who was an AFS student from France in Hereford High several years ago and has visited here quite often since that time, was a recent guest of the Gid Browns, in whose home he lived during his term in HHS.

He and his wife live in Paris now and Rene is international director of advertising from Benton & Bowles Agency. In the United States on business for that firm, he visited the Browns' oldest son Richard, in Los Angeles, then came by Hereford.

After he graduated from HHS, Rene went back to France to serve his required time in military service, then returned to attend West Texas State and earn a degree there.

He attended the International School of Business Management at Phoenix, took a job with Benton & Bowles, worked two years in New York and was transferred to their Paris office.

While he was here the Browns took him on a fishing excursion to Ute Lake. They caught a lot of fish, Juanita said, and brought them back for a supper at home. She said Rene, who always liked to take a hand in the kitchen, taught her to make a super white sauce for fish.

In the produce aisle of a grocery store the other day Virginia Garner and Lou Davis were talking about the luck of an acquaintance who got about five pounds of candy for the price of two (and with sugar at its present cost!) when a weary bazaar booth attendant guessed at an unmarked package.

That led to more talk of bizarre bazaar bargains, but I've an idea the two women had started their conversation about the coming bazaar at First United Methodist Church, as they've both been working on it. It will be at the church hall next Friday.

One of the special handmade items to be sold there is a really elegant white quilted bedspread. Lou helped make it, along with Della Hutchins, Pat Fisher and Berta Ottesen.

Besides selling things that would make good Christmas gifts, the First UMC women will serve lunch at noon and coffee with homemade rolls, cookies and doughnuts in a coffee break that will last from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Very handy to downtown, too.

Frank Powell was able to come home Tuesday after heart surgery last week at Amarillo. He's doing well, Dorthea reports, and felt extra good because he could leave the hospital and get back to his own house.

James Corbett left Tuesday for Dallas, his home, after spending a couple of weeks or so here with his mother, Annis Corbett. His wife was here a week, too.

Annis drove her son to the airport at Amarillo and then visited a sister-in-law there the rest of the day.

Because I'm an admitted nut about trees, and because the trees in Hereford are quite a sight this fall, I keep talking about them and hope you're not too bored.

This week the red oak, which have become popular ornaments the past few years, are stealing the show, glowing scarlet, orange and yellow.

When there are whole rows of them as on the First National parking lot, they certainly brighten up a good big piece of the city.

Simms Study Club Attends Luncheon

Simms Study Club met Wednesday afternoon at Simms Community House for their annual Thanksgiving luncheon.

Tables were decorated with fall flower arrangements and oak leaves. Each table was covered with a gold tablecloth. A large fall arrangement was centered on the serving table.

The meeting was called to order by President Willie Roberts and roll call by Secretary Doris Wilson. Members answered roll call with things they were thankful for.

Three guests were introduced and welcomed. They were Eunnie West, Jessie Mae Hammock, and Jewel Blankenship.

After the luncheon a presentation was given by Mrs. Steve Meives on monogramming and embroidering on a sewing machine. Several members brought sewing machines to work on and each club member did some of the actual work.

Hostesses for this meeting were Juanita Perrin, Charlene Hughes, and Willie Roberts.

Rosalie Gilbreath, a member of the Hereford Division of the American Heart Association, is distributing t-shirts to be given to anyone winning $15 in pledges during the AHA annual "Turkey Walk," slated for tomorrow at Northwest School. The walk will begin at 9 a.m. and will be conducted around the school. Mrs. Gilbreath is shown above sizing 5 year old Robert Broman for an American Heart Association Turkey Walk t-shirt.

Ann Landers

Advise for the Wise

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This morning on my way to work (I am a registered nurse) I saw something that sent shivers up my spine. There were two darling children riding in the back of a pick-up truck. Why is that so bad? Well, for a few minutes I relived the most terrible experience of my life.

A while back, when I was working in the emergency room, the police department called ahead to say there had been a "serious accident" and "be prepared." Within a few minutes we saw seven little ones—from three to eight years of age—necks and backs broken, bodies mangled, bloodied from head to foot. It was the most horrible sight I have ever witnessed.

These youngsters were riding in the back of a pick-up truck on their way to a birthday party. They were hit from behind by a drunken driver.

Two families lost all their children. The drunk driver, as usual, walked away with minor bruises. He was charged with manslaughter.

Please, Ann, tell your readers never to allow children to ride in the back of a pick-up truck. If they get hit they don't have a chance.—I Was There In Omaha

DEAR FRIEND: You told them—and in a way that should make an impact. I hope.

In my opinion, drunken drivers who kill people are murderers, and until the law recognizes them as such as are going to have more accidents like the one you described.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I simply had to write and tell you that your advice to the three secretaries was excellent. You advised them, "Don't hunt in packs."

For eight years in a row two women and myself took our vacations together. We did cruises, Yellowstone, the West Coast, Aspen, even one trans-Atlantic voyage. Just name it. As you predicted, not one of us met an interesting man—which of course, was the main idea of the trips.

Last year one of the women had to go to Utah and take care of her mother for several months, so Miss C and I decided to go to Mexico—just the two of us. At the last moment Miss X became ill. I went to the travel agency with the intention of canceling my trip. The woman there talked me out of it. She said the best way for a single woman to travel (if she wants to meet a man) is alone. I was sure I'd be ill at ease or scared to death, but it turned out to be the best trip of all. I met my husband!

If you run this letter, please don't print my name or initials, or even the city. I would surely be recognized.—Luckier On My Own

DEAR LUCKY: Thanks for the testimonial! (Are you listening, students?)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My parents have a pair of season's tickets to the hockey games. Dad travels for his business and Mom doesn't care all that much for hockey. So I get the tickets a lot.

I like a guy I'll call him Norman. I invited him to three games last season. He is nuts about hockey. He never has asked me out on a real date. I have seen him with other girls at parties, so I know he does go out.

Last week Norman dropped by to say he was looking forward to hockey season.

Would I be a chump if I invited him again?—Lake Forest Doubts

DEAR DOUBTS: You would. Invite somebody else. Once. And if that character doesn't ask you out, invite somebody else the second time. Etc., etc.

Temple Baptist Church Sets Family Life Film Seminar

Temple Baptist Church will present a family life film seminar with a film scheduled to show each night Sunday through Wednesday at the church.

According to J.L. Bozeman, pastor of the church, "We would like as many people as possible to attend the seminar. There will be no charge nor any collection taken. I believe the films have a great deal to offer."

The first film, which will show Sunday at 7 p.m., is entitled, "Why you act the way you do." Dr. Tim LaHayne explains ways to identify and explore the strengths and weaknesses of an individual's temperament and what to do about them.

The second film, which begins at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the church, is entitled, "Coping with hostility."

Dr. LaHayne also narrates this film and uses experiences from his own life as well as from the lives of others he has counseled.

"Overcoming fear, anxiety and worry," is the subject of the third film scheduled to show Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Beverly LaHayne will narrate the third film. According to the film review, "Having spent many years with the burden of fear in her own life, Beverly shares the trauma of anxiety and the joy of overcoming."

The concluding message of the seminar is narrated in the film, "Six Keys to Marital Happiness," by Dr. LaHayne.

Dr. LaHayne explains how to have the happy and fulfilled marriage God intended people to have.

Mrs. Montgomery Gives Afflatus Club Program

Aileen Montgomery, president of the La Afflatus Estudio Club, presented a program, "Our Alien Problems," following a routine business meeting of the club held recently.

"Our alien problem is not a new one, but has been around for 200 years in one form or another," Mrs. Montgomery stated. She also said in 1620 they were called immigrants and most of them were seeking religious freedom.

During the business meeting Lucille Hughes, secretary, reminded members that an offering for the mental hospital in Wichita Falls would be accepted instead of gift exchange. This is an annual project of the club.

Letters from Deaf Smith County Museum and Mary Williamson were read to the group concerning the memorial gift presented to the museum in remembrance of Mrs. Williamson's mother, Mrs. Marla Ruffe. The club sent a memorial to the American Cancer fund in memory of Frank Markham, son of Irene Markham.

Pet Ott extended an invitation to the club members to attend a golden wedding anniversary reception at the Hereford State Bank Friendship Room Nov. 20 from 2:30-5 p.m.

The social committee announced the club would have a Christmas luncheon at the home of Lydia Hopson Dec. 2 at 12 noon.

Members present included Mrs. Montgomery, Alberta Higgins, Mrs. Ott, Ora Morgan, Opal Elliston, Eva Gilliland, Teresa Hale, Allyne Johnson, Mrs. Markham, Mrs. Hopson, Lucille Hughes, Della Stagner and a guest, Bess Arkisson of Kerrville.

The club will meet again Nov. 18 in the home of Allyn Johnson with Jennie Terrell as co-hostess.

American veterans and their dependents, as well as widows and orphans of deceased veterans," Commander Goheen continued.

New Borger Plant Will Conserve Gas

Officials of the J.M. Huber Corporation in Borger and Southwestern Public Service Company in Amarillo have announced that an agreement has been reached between the two companies for the construction of a co-generation project in the Borger area that will save the equivalent of five million cubic feet of natural gas daily.

Jerry C. Waggoner, Huber vice president said, "The new plant will be owned by Huber and will be located adjacent to our Borger carbon black plant. It will use waste gases to manufacture high-pressure steam to run the generating facilities and is another of the many steps we have taken to improve the efficiency of our plants and conserve our nation's energy wherever possible."

Approximately 13,000 kilowatts of electric power will be generated at the facility, with 40 percent used to operate Huber's carbon black plant and the remainder sold to Southwestern Public Service Company. The plant is expected to require 15 to 16 months to construct and is expected to cost between $7 and $8 million. The power sold to Southwestern Public Service Company will be sufficient to supply power to over 5,000 homes.

Cliff Mlinar, vice president of consumer services and administration for SPS said, "We are looking forward to our continued association with Huber in this new venture. This will be the fourth co-generation project in which SPS has participated, the others being the Celanese Corporation and Phillips Petroleum Company."

Southwestern Public Service Company has become one of the nation's leaders in co-generation projects. Mlinar presented testimony before a U.S. House of Representatives committee on Science and Technology last July and made suggestions and recommendations to the committee regarding co-generation projects and agreements.

It is anticipated that construction will require an average of 100 people for approximately one year. Local contractors will be used wherever possible.

Majors Takes Chance on Sequel

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Lee Majors knew that when he accepted the marshal's role in the sequel to "High Noon" he was making himself a target for criticism. "High Noon" has taken on the mantle of a sacrosanct classic to some, and the immediate reaction was, "How dare they?"

Majors plays Will Kane in the sequel set one year later. It's called "High Noon, Part II: The Return of Will Kane," and will be broadcast Saturday night on CBS.

"We filmed in Tucson with no relief from the 110-degree heat," said Majors. "I picked up the Tucson paper one night and here was this columnist saying, in effect, how dare they desecrate one of the best movies ever made. And it says you'll never guess who they picked to play Gary Cooper's role - the 'Six Million Dollar Man.' Like it was something terrible. This guy's never seen what we're doing and he's tearing it down."

"That's the sort of thing I knew would be coming. I knew I was taking a gamble. But I took it. I wanted to do it because I've always admired Gary Cooper. And I wanted to do a Western again."

The 1952 Western, written by Carl Foreman and directed by Fred Zinnemann, is the classic story of a lawman standing alone against evil. The role of Marshal Will Kane won Cooper his second Oscar. His new bride, who urges him to lay down his badge, was Grace Kelly.

The tension builds as Marshal Kane awaits the arrival of Frank Miller - who has sworn to kill him - on the noon train. Throughout are the haunting lyrics sung by Tex Ritter ("Do not forsake me, Oh my darling, On this our wedding day") and shots of the clock as the hands draw inexorably toward noon.

In CBS' sequel, Kane resigned as marshal and was replaced by Pernel Roberts, who plays the role with an agreeable malevolence. David Carradine is a wanted outlaw who is more scoundrel than scoundrel.

Kane's attempt to bring Carradine in to pay a debt puts him into armed conflict with the new marshal, who wants the outlaw dead.

Majors, formerly TV's "Six Million Dollar Man," prepared for the role by reading biographies of Cooper and viewing "High Noon."

"When we were filming there were scenes when I'd go - where I felt the presence of Gary Cooper. It's hard to explain the emotions an actor goes through to create a role. I wasn't trying to imitate him, but I felt his presence was with me. This is something I've never experienced before."

The sale of Buddy Poppies preceding Veterans Day is the traditional way to bring attention to the sacrifices made by the nation's war dead in their struggle to keep America free. Buy a BUDDY Poppy and wear it on Veterans Day.

HOW TO HAVE A HAPPY HEART

But now at last I am through with my work here, and I am ready to come after all these long years of waiting.

For I am planning to take a trip to Spain, and when I do, I will stop off there in Rome; and after we have had a good time together for a little while, you can send me on my way again.

But before I come, I must go down to Jerusalem to take a gift to the Jewish Christians there.

For you see, the Christians in Macedonia and Achaia have taken up an offering for those in Jerusalem who are going through such hard times.

They were very glad to do this, for they feel that they owe a real debt to the Jerusalem Christians. Why? Because the news about Christ came to them from the church in Jerusalem. And since they received this wonderful spiritual gift of the Gospel from them, they feel that the least they can do in return is to give them some material aid.

As soon as I have delivered this money and completed this good deed of theirs, I will come to see you on my way to Spain.

And I am sure that when I come the Lord will give me a great blessing for you.

Will you be my prayer partners? For the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and because of your love for me - given to you by the Holy Spirit - pray much with me for my work.

Pray that I will be protected in Jerusalem from those who are not Christians. Pray also that the Christians there will be willing to accept the money I am bringing them.

Then I will be able to come to you with a happy heart by the will of God, and we can refresh each other.

And now may our God, who gives peace, be with you all. Amen.

'Resurrection' Not What Public Expects

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - The tag-line for Universal Pictures' new release starring Ellen Burstyn, "Resurrection": "It's not supposed to happen. Be there when it does."

What does that mean? It's hard to say. But then, "Resurrection" is not an easy film to describe, as Universal has discovered.

Says Miss Burstyn: "The original plan was to open up the film in mid-country and then spread it to the coasts, as proved successful in 'The Other Side of the Mountain.' The strategy didn't work for 'Resurrection,' and business was poor. The reason seems to be that the public didn't get what it expected."

Television ads stressed sequences that depict Miss Burstyn's vision as she lay unconscious after an auto accident: figures moving in the laser-lighted limbo of the afterworld.

"People were apparently expecting to see a horror film," says Miss Burstyn. "Universal backed off from that approach and decided to sell it as a dignified film. One of the fears of opening in New York and Los Angeles was that the critics would be cynical about it. That proved to be not true. The magazine reviews especially were excellent; I couldn't ask for better ones."

The theme of "Resurrection" is healing. Miss Burstyn plays a woman who loses her husband and almost her life in a car crash. She returns to her farmland home and discovers she can not only cure her own paralysis but other people's ills as well. She declines to exploit her gift or to claim that it is divinely inspired, and her life becomes in danger once more.

Giants Hope for Better Results than Last Clash with Dallas

Cowboys to Meet New York

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP)—The funeral bell tolls on Sunday.

That's when the New York Giants—those who aren't already on crutches, meet the Dallas Cowboys for their second National Football League battle of the season.

The first one ended with Giants quarterback Phil Simms tearfully slamming his equipment into his locker. The Cowboys have gotten stronger since they whipped the Giants 24-3 on Oct. 10, while the Giants have grown feeble.

The Cowboys will enter Sunday's contest at Giants Stadium with the same 22 starters they had a month ago. The Giants, with 18 rookies on the roster, will be down six starters and 12 players overall.

Giants Coach Ray Perkins didn't even mention beating the Cowboys this time. Instead, he was hoping for "a big play here and there" to prevent another embarrassing blow-out.

"They're playing overall better football than the last time we met them. Most everybody that plays them gets a big play here and there, but overall their defense is better now," Perkins said.

Among the Giants wounded are wide receiver Danny Pittman, torn knee cartilage; running back Bo Matthews, groin and hip injuries; offensive guard J.T. Turner, fractured foot, and cornerback Mike Dennis, bruised ribs.

All four were hurt during the Giants' 30-13 loss at Tampa Bay last week. They join linebackers Jerry Carson, Brian Kelley, Jeff Weston et al. on the disabled list.

The 7-2 Cowboys will be coming off three straight victories, the last a 27-24 triumph over St. Louis.

However, the Cardinals gave the Cowboys a rough time and Dallas pulled through in the final two minutes when quarterback Danny White completed a touchdown pass to Tony Hill.

"I think our players realize how close they came to losing against the Cardinals," said Cowboys Coach Tom Landry. "Maybe that will help them get ready for the Giants."

Safety Beasley Reece is one of the few Giants who won't have to look far for inspiration Sunday.

"It's always easy to get up for a game with the Cowboys," said Reece, who started his NFL career in Dallas five years ago as a ninth-round draft choice. He was signed with the Giants in 1977 after being waived by the Cowboys.

"I'm going to be playing against a lot of ex-teammates. We had 'em on the rope last year and they slipped away," Reece said, referring to the Cowboys' narrow victory over New York at Giants Stadium last season.

As for rest of the 1-8 Giants, some players who believe this season is hopeless may try for a win to boost their stats and keep a job in the NFL.

"This is an important time for some people who the coach will be looking at for next year," said punter Dave Jennings.

"At this point, you're just going on personal pride," he added.

Child Custody Concern for Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP)—A woman who dumped her baby in the Texas Ranger's office, frustrated by her paternity suit against a Ranger player, says team officials made the player change his mind about accepting custody of the boy.

The woman, who has asked not to be identified, said Thursday that she and shortstop Nelson Norman agreed he would take custody of the child after its birth, but that club attorneys dissuaded him.

Ranger officials have denied her charges as "absolutely erroneous" saying that involving themselves in a paternity suit would be a conflict of interest.

However, Ranger attorneys said they did offer to recommend an attorney to Nelson.

The 8-month-old boy was abandoned in the baseball's Texas offices by the woman

Baylor, Hogs Battle

By DENNEH FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

Just call Saturday's regionally televised Southwest Conference meeting between the Baylor Bears and Arkansas Razorbacks "The Trauma Bowl."

Can the No. 16 ranked Bears, their psyche deeply damaged by speller San Jose State, overcome the disappointment of losing the dream of an unbeaten season at the hands of the Spartans on homecoming?

Can the crippled Razorbacks, their team decimated by injuries and still in deep shock from a fourth quarter blitz last weekend by Rice, somehow maintain a jinx that has seen them win every other year since 1963 in Waco?

It's daytime. It's on television. It has paths. Move over soap operas.

Baylor was rated a six-point favorite over the Razorbacks for the 11:30 a.m. regionally televised meeting. The Baptists scheduled their annual homecoming parade for 8 a.m. after the game was moved to the morning hours from the regular 2 p.m. kickoff.

Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz is worried whether his Hogs can bounce back from the loss to Rice where they were bombed silly in the fourth period by Randy Hertel.

"It'll be a while before we get over the loss to Rice," said Holtz. "The loss has to take a lot out of us."

He added "When Baylor sees the films of our fourth quarter against Rice, they'll probably have the quarterback's arm in hot water to get him ready for us."

Nelson resides in the Dominican Republic and plays winter baseball there during the major leagues' off-season.

Gerald Pruitt, an attorney for the player, confirmed a paternity suit had been filed but said the player has denied the woman's claim.

"The gist of it is that the child is not (the player's)," said Pruitt.

"We will reevaluate everything," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff. "But you can't pin our loss on just one area. In fact, I thought I did a poor job of coaching. It's the most disappointing loss I've had since I've been at Baylor."

Baylor can move within one game of clinching an SWC co-championship and a Cotton Bowl berth with a victory.

A Baylor win coupled with a Texas victory over Houston in their game at Austin would give the Bears a two-game lead over the SWC field with two games to play. Baylor plays Rice and Texas to closeout the season.

In other games this weekend, Texas was a two-point pick over Houston, Southern Methodist was a seven-point nod over Rice in Houston, and Texas Tech was an eight-point favorite over Texas Christian in Fort Worth.

The bowls will be out in full force scouting SWC teams. The Holiday Bowl in San Diego will scout SMU for the second consecutive week.

Texas will be trying to snap a two-game conference losing streak, something that has never happened before to Coach Fred Akers.

"Their (the Cougars) defensive unit is the most solid I've seen in four years here," said Akers.

Houston has lost its only conference game to Baylor.

Gang Tackling

A horde of Lubbock High defenders swamp HHS running back Brent Self for no gain in Thursday night's district encounter between the two teams. The Westerner defensive unit stopped several key Hereford scoring drives, but in the end granted the Whitefaces 256 yards en route to its third consecutive defeat (15-14) under the undaunted Herd. ## Herd Overcomes Westerners

Wayne High because of the shoehorn of the effort as he capped the Herd's come-from-behind efforts with a one-yard jaunt and Alan Wartes (going 7-7 for 65) completed the HHS tale with a winning two-point conversion to lone receiver Felix Soliz.

"This game is the same way every year—we always fight for our lives against the Westerners," said a happy Cumpton. "I think you could say this wasn't our best effort of the year because we just gave up too many big plays to Lubbock. But we're sure not going to throw it back to them. We're tickled to death to win it even if it's just by one point."

"We came out pretty flat tonight and we expected that, but it almost cost us. However, we did what it took to win and that's the most important thing—we won the thing period! It wasn't the sweetest win one will ever get, but it was enough of one to keep us in the thick of the race. Now we're hoping Coronado will beat Plainview, and really believe they can if they line up and play like they're capable of."

"Our kids have accomplished a lot this year, and the mere fact that they overcame that first defeat we had in district testifies to their character. They never once gave up, and now with a little luck and a win by the Mustangs, it won't have been in vain."

Mosley Miffed with Wilson

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP)—A football star voted to Texas A&M's all-decade team for the 1970s refused his coach's orders during a sidelines confrontation earlier this year and put an end to his college football career, a newspaper report said today.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram said the face-off came between Aggie Coach Tom Wilson and speedy senior quarterback Mike Mosley during the Aggie win over Texas Tech, after had anything this disappointing in my life."

"You're on a subject I really don't want to talk about," Wilson said of the sidelines confrontation and its impact on Mosley's A&M football career. "I don't care to get into a discussion about individuals."

"Mike is a very gifted athlete. As soon as he learns what he's doing in the secondary he'll play more and more." Mosley doubts whether that is true.

Miami Tries System Again

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

Bob Griese has been playing football long enough to have learned a few things.

There is, for example, the tradition of blaming the quarterback for anything and everything that goes wrong with a team.

Griese is sidelined with a sprained shoulder right now and his replacements have been veteran Don Strock or rookie David Woodley, or sometimes a combination of the two.

When he was healthy, Griese occasionally found himself in a relief role, too, as Miami strove to put together an attack. His view of the Dolphins' offense is simple.

"If I go in and the offense doesn't work, if Strock goes in and the offense doesn't work, and if Woodley goes in and the offense doesn't work, then maybe it's not the quarterback," he said.

Sounds reasonable. Miami tries its revolving door system against Los Angeles Sunday as the National Football League season moves into its 10th weekend. In the other inter-conference game, Pittsburgh plays at Tampa Bay.

In American Conference matchups, Buffalo plays the Jets at New York, Cincinnati is at Oakland, Baltimore hosts Cleveland, Denver goes to San Diego, and Kansas City plays at Seattle.

In the National Conference, Atlanta visits St. Louis, Dallas plays at the New York Giants, Detroit is at Minnesota, New Orleans hosts Philadelphia, San Francisco plays Green Bay at Milwaukee and Washington goes to Chicago.

On Monday night, New England plays at Houston.

The Dolphins are 11th in the AFC in passing and have dropped two straight games. They are the first of four AFC East teams who'll face the Rams over the next five weeks and try to control a Los Angeles offense which leads the National Conference in scoring.

The Rams churned out 486 yards in beating New Orleans last week when Vince Ferragamo threw a club record-tying five touchdown passes. For the season, Los Angeles has scored 263 points. The only NFL team with more is San Diego with 272.

Los Angeles may be without linebacker Bob Brudzinski, who left the club this week in a contract dispute. Ferragamo, ranked No. 1 among NFL passers this season, has also had contract problems, but he's still working.

The only other inter-conference game is Pittsburgh's visit to Tampa Bay. Both the Steelers, laboring under an avalanche of injuries, and the Bucs have been struggling this season. Defending champion Pittsburgh, 5-4, is one game behind both Houston and Cleveland in the AFC Central. Tampa Bay, 4-4-1, is 1 1/2 games behind Detroit in the NFC Central.

This could be a memorable game for a couple Steelers. Franco Harris needs nine yards to become the third player in NFL history to rush for more than 9,000 yards. Only alltime leader Jim Brown (12,312) and O.J. Simpson (11,236) have more yards. Lynn Swann tied Buddy Dial's club touchdown record with the 46th of his career last week and his next TD catch will give him a line in the Steelers' record book.

Sending the Pitch

Hereford's Alan Wartes (18) chunks the ball toward tailback Harold Terry on an option play in one of Hereford's most awesome offensive thrusts against the Lubbock High Westerners in Lubbock Thursday night. The Whitefaces ground out 80-yards for a touchdown in the first quarter to tie the game, and eventually capped another

TD in the final period to unravel LHS's tough stand for a victory. The win boosts the Hereford squad's season ledger to 8-2 and maintains its clinging struggle in the league's playoff campaign with a 3-1 mark in the district lineup. (Brand photo by Mauri Montgomery)

Washington Devastates Dallas Mavericks

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — The Washington Bullets set an all-time record Thursday night, sinking 64 percent of their shots en route to a 116-95 romp over the Dallas Mavericks.

And star forward Elvin Hayes says he knows why the Bullets are suddenly clicking. "When we take the ball inside, it opens up everything else," said Hayes after the victory — the Bullets' second in a row. "Once their guards started sagging in on us, our guards were getting the wide-open shots."

"We're starting to run our offense right," added Hayes, who sank 10 of 17 from the floor and finished with a game-high 26 points. He also pulled down 12 rebounds.

Other Bullets had hot hands. Rookie Wes Matthews sank 10 of 12 shots and Kevin Grevey, nine of 15, to finish with 24 and 19 points respectively. And Wes Unseld made eight of nine shots, hauled down 10 rebounds and scored a season-high of 17 points.

Grevey got 13 of his points in a third-period surge in which the Bullets broke open what had been a close game. The Bullets outscored the Mavericks 38-23 to take an 88-67 lead into the final period.

The loss was not a very hearty welcome for Dallas Coach Dick Motta, who left his post with the Bullets at the end of last season after leading the team to the World Championship in 1978.

Though Motta was disappointed in the game — the seventh straight loss for the Mavericks — Bullets Coach Gene Shue had the opposite reaction.

"We've had two very good games in a row," Shue said, referring to the game — the seventh straight loss for the Mavericks — over Atlanta Tuesday night. "Elvin Hayes is really playing well and so is Wes Unseld."

The Bullets made a deal with the Mavericks before the game, giving up a future draft choice in exchange for guard Austin Carr. John Williamson was placed on the injured list to make room for Carr, who finished with seven points.

"I want to help you save money on homeowners insurance."

Who's Next College Football Loser?

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

A betting man would have to say there won't be much of an encore when the nation's college football teams go at it again Saturday, but then many a betting man didn't collect last week on what were supposed to be some sure things.

But, in the wake of Mississippi State's shocking upset of Alabama, Arizona's stunning victory over UCLA and San Jose State's surprising defeat of Baylor, one can't help but ask who's next?

Perhaps with that thought in mind Southern California Coach John Robinson said he didn't intend to see his fourth-ranked Trojans join the latest trend, which this week includes the smoldering ruins of four Top Ten teams. In some cases their national championship aspirations went up in flames.

"We've never lost a payback game, and this is in that category," said Robinson of the Trojans' meeting with Stanford.

Southern Cal narrowly lost the national title last season despite finishing with an 11-0-1 record. That blemish was a 21-21 tie with Stanford, something USC would like to avenge in its regionally televised meeting with the Cardinals at Stanford Stadium.

Elsewhere in games involving Top Ten teams, second-ranked Georgia meets 20th-ranked Florida in their annual scrap at the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., third-ranked Florida State hosts Virginia Tech, No. 5 Nebraska entertains Kansas State, sixth-ranked Alabama hosts LSU, No. 7 Ohio State entertains Illinois, eighth-ranked UCLA hosts Oregon, No. 9 Pitt entertains Louisville and 10th-ranked Penn State hosts North Carolina State.

The revenge factor and national hopes are all the incentive USC has this year because the Trojans are one of five Pac-10 teams eliminated from the conference race and the Rose Bowl picture for various rules violations. A victory by the Trojans, 6-0-1, would eliminate the Cardinals, 6-3 and 3-2 in the Pac-10, from the Rose Bowl picture.

USC's incentive may be good press for the game, but Stanford Coach Paul Wiggin isn't even considering it in his preparations for the game. All he can see is what he calls "the best defense USC has ever had."

Stanford quarterback John Elway is hot, having thrown 11 touchdown passes the last two weeks in Cardinal routs of Washington State and Oregon State. But Wiggin is quick to point out that those teams don't match up to USC. "The real test will be this week," he said.

The Trojan defense, not likely to permit a damaging aerial circus by Elway, has surrendered just 238 yards per game.

And then there is the USC offense, led by tailback Marcus Allen, the nation's third-leading rusher with 1,080 yards. He will be going against a Stanford defense that ranks ninth in the Pac-10, giving up 414 yards per game.

Clearly, those trends must be reversed if Stanford is to win.

Florida's assignment sounds simple enough on the surface. Stop Herschel Walker and probably wind up beating Georgia to move into contention in the Southeastern Conference race.

But that's easier said than done, and the sensational Bulldog freshman running back has racked up 1,096 yards to prove it. Florida Coach Charley Pell says a scout this week told him he considered Walker "the best running back to come into college football in the last 25 years."

Pell said Georgia, 8-0, is in excellent position to win the national title because Notre Dame still must play Alabama and Southern Cal. He figures that, plus the tradition of the matchup, will put the 6-1 Gators in a precarious spot.

THE MISMATCH OF THE CENTURY? It appears that former welterweight champ Sugar Ray Leonard is preparing for his title rematch by sparring with famed junkman Fred Sanford. ## Business Mirror

Stock Market Will Decide

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — Over the next few years, said the broker, the stock market must make up its mind. It will have to decide whether the country is going to solve its problems or stagnate instead.

He continued: It probably means that you, as one of millions whose fortunes are involved with the stock market, either as direct investors or through pension funds, have some hard decisions to make.

Soon to come, if it hasn't begun, he said, is a milestone of investing history, an economic turning point, perhaps equal in magnitude if not in direction to that which followed World War Two.

At that time, some will recall, there was clear division of opinion, with some people convinced the country would return to the depression of the 1930s, and others who forecast the dawning of a new age.

Said the broker: Something similar is now occurring on Wall Street, where analysts say the Dow Jones average is undervalued and headed higher or, contrarily, that it is now too high and is headed lower.

Two years ago you wouldn't have found such a neat split, but now they seem to be taking positions, said the broker, whose name is unimportant to the story because he is but one of thousands.

These thousands of brokers and market analysts, he said, seem to be splitting into two schools that assume either of two attitudes: —Stocks are undervalued. Investors don't realize that stock prices haven't adjusted for inflation. When they do, the Dow, no higher than it was 15 years ago, will double in the next two or three years.

—Stocks reflect the troubled times. There is very little future for industrial growth, and stock market growth, so long as government debt, taxes, regulations and inflation grow, while productivity falls.

The amateur investor Ghana The African nation of Ghana is named after an earlier state that flourished along the Niger river between 800 and 1076 A.D. The modern nation covers 92,100 square miles, slightly smaller than the state of Oregon, with a population of some 10 million, principally members of the Adansi, Akwamu and Ga tribes. Ruled by Great Britain as the Gold Coast for 113 years, it was the first British African colony to be granted full independence, in 1951.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Symptoms resemble senility

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm writing to you for information regarding senility. The doctors here say that there's no cure for it. My wife has been suffering from senility for the past two years. She's 66. The only help the doctors here prescribe is Hydergine and Cyclospasmol. This hasn't helped my wife's condition so I decided to see if you could make any suggestions or send me information that will be valuable to my wife.

DEAR READER — The first thing is to be sure senility is the basic problem. Many people have mental symptoms which resemble senility but are really caused by a disease. Some of these diseases can be corrected. A classic example is the older person who has an imbalance in his body chemistry related to his salt and water. He can develop mental confusion, loss of memory and even coma. In these instances, correcting the chemical balance of the body will correct the problem.

In the wintertime, symptoms of senility are sometimes seen in older people because their body temperature is falling. This is increasingly important for people to know in view of the emphasis on keeping homes and offices at cooler levels. Older people should be kept warmer to help prevent this problem. The only way to find out if a person has an underlying disease causing the symptoms is through a searching medical examination. This often includes an evaluation by a psychiatrist for an underlying depression. Depressions occur more frequently in older people and may present symptoms similar to ordinary senility. They can usually be helped with anti-depressant medications and other measures.

Often there are a limited number of things that can be done for the person who has generalized changes in the arteries in the brain. I had planned to send you The Health Letter number 14-

2. The Aging Mind. It discusses most of the things that you are asking about. However, your letter did not include your address. I'd like to emphasize again to all readers to be sure their return address is on their letter, not just the envelope. If you'll send me your address, I'll send you this issue. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

It's important to maintain nutrition in older people as some nutritional defects can cause symptoms resembling senility. There are some reports that suggest that increasing choline in the diet will help a little bit in some people. I'm not an enthusiastic fan for some of the unfounded claims for lecithin but it is a good source of choline.

In the process of digesting lecithin, the choline will be liberated and will be available for whatever benefits may be derived. I don't believe that it would be harmful to I have no objection to your wife using choline or lecithin as a source of choline on a trial basis. That, however, should not be a substitute for a thorough medical examination to understand her problem.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer
—Those sticky curtains—

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — My sheer curtains stick to the drapery rod. I tried a non-stick spray and cleaning the rods with soap and water but that did not help. When I remove the sheers from the rod the threads pull and look ugly. I do hope you or one of the readers can help.

—PEGGY
DEAR POLLY — There must be some roughness somewhere in the metal of the rods. I would run my hands over them to see if there are any rough places and then sand them with fine sandpaper. Also the casings for the rod to run through may be too narrow. I am sure if any of our readers have had the same problem they will share their cure with you — they are always so generous with help. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When preparing fresh string beans for dinner I use my kitchen scissors to snip off the ends. I find this works faster than using a knife. — M.E.
DEAR POLLY — After buying some bed linens I left them in their plastic wrapping when I put them away in the closet. After several months when I opened them these linens had a terrible chemical odor so I put them in the washer with a cup of vinegar. But after the washing cycle had finished they still smelled so I added one-fourth cup of baking soda to the rinse water and the odor was gone. The combination of vinegar and soda was great. — EVELYN
DEAR POLLY — I use little tool box utility drawers to hold my embroidery floss. Each drawer has a different color and I can easily see and pick the colors I want and they do not get tangled up. — RUTH
DEAR POLLY — Lemons are so expensive so when I use only part of one I grate the rind and then squeeze out all the remaining juice. This is put in two small containers and frozen. This provides fresh grated rind and juice for flavoring at any time they are needed. — MRS. J.H.M.
DEAR POLLY — I remove hard water stains from glass by rubbing with a soft cloth and vinegar and salt. The same can be used on such stains on faucets except use old toothbrush instead of a cloth. — HELEN
DEAR POLLY — My barbecue is used more frequently during the warm weather, so I figured out a way to use up those broken and unused pieces of charcoal that seem too small to bother with but that I hate to throw away. Save the cardboard rolls of toilet tissue or paper towels, tape up one end and then drop in these charcoal pieces until it is full. Place one or more of these rolls on the grill and saturate with lighter fluid when you want a fire and the cardboard acts as a disposable container. — RICK
DEAR POLLY — My son had his designer jeans shortened before they were washed and then when I tried to lengthen them a line showed. I used a dark blue magic marker to cover this and it blended in just fine. A ballpoint pen works the same. The trick is to allow for an inch or two of shrinkage when hemming jeans. — R.M.

DEAR POLLY — My sheer curtains stick to the drapery rod. I tried a non-stick spray and cleaning the rods with soap and water but that did not help. When I remove the sheers from the rod the threads pull and look ugly. I do hope you or one of the readers can help.

FAITH BIDS US HONOR THE DEFENDERS OF OUR FREEDOM

More than one nation has undergone the painful necessity of committing its brave men to battle for the purpose of maintaining its freedom whenever it was threatened by enemy forces from without. Whether we honor them in October or November, or call the occasion Armistice Day, Veterans Day or Remembrance Day, the purpose of it remains the same: to give our humble thanks to those who survived the terrible wars and those who did not. And since the list of our freedoms includes the right to worship God in any way we see fit, let us show our gratitude by attending the Church of our choice regularly, and thereby availing ourselves of one of the most vital freedoms for which our courageous heroes risked everything they had.

"Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us."
— Romans 8:37

Without a sign, his sword the brave man draws.
And asks no omen but his country's cause.
— Alexander Pope
