MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Association of Customs Agencies closed 153 member houses here at Tampico and Veracruz yesterday in protest against the leaders' strike which has shut all agencies in Nuevo Laredo since Sept. 2, paralyzing trans-border traffic with the United States.

The 48-hour protest lockout began today at noon. Officials said the action would cost the government 10,000,000 pesos ($2,000,000) daily in uncollected duties.

Leaders struck 55 customs agencies in Nuevo Laredo demanding 100 per cent wage increases. The agencies offered eight per cent.

Grade crossing accidents resulted in five percent more deaths of U. S. motorists in 1945 than in the previous year.

Ship That Wouldn't Sink Sails On As Oldest Vessel Under US Registry

AP Newsfeatures

SEATTLE — The "Grand Old Lady of the Pacific" outlived the late Capt. John A. (Dynamite Johnny) O'Brien, and still carries on.

Sixty-five years a seafarer and master of his own vessels 53 of those years, the grizzled veteran was ill as his Alaska-bound ship sailed some years ago. Passengers radioed him a message of sympathy.

From his hospital bed, he answered: "Men of the North, I wish you bon voyage. My command, the Victoria, will see you safely back to the land of eternal friendships."
Launched 75 Years Ago

That has been the story of the famed old ship built three-quarters of a century ago by sturdy Scotchmen, at Dumbarton on the Clyde and launched Dec. 10, 1870—seeing passengers and cargo safely through.

The oldest vessel still operating under American registry, she may hold a world's record. The seven seas have been her home. Retired eight years ago, she is now back again in the Alaska trade as a freighter, after so many trips to the territory the past 41 years that no complete record has been kept.

Christened the Parthia, she first tasted the bitter Arctic seas in 1879 when she carried out from Bering Sea survivors of the ill-fated DeLong-Jeanette polar expedition.

Crack Atlantic Liner. Then came Atlantic service. By the Union Jack and the Cup and red house flag as a crack liner between Liverpool and New York. One trip took her to Egypt with the army of Gen. "Chinese" Gordon when Khartoum was shelled, and then more voyages to the Mediterranean, Australia and China as the years passed. She pioneered early trade between Vancouver, B. C., and the Orient when the Canadian Pacific completed its cross-Canada rail line.

The Spanish-American war came and the vessel, now renamed the Victoria, made three trips to the Philippines as a troop ship.

Then began years of Alaska and Arctic service, which may finally write her epitaph. Her hull is hand-wrought Swedish iron plate an inch and a quarter thick, made her an ideal ship on the Nome route. She began such trips in 1904 and was bought by the Alaska Steamship Company in 1908.

She became the Pacific "gold ship," bringing millions of dollars worth of the yellow metal out of Alaska, no one knows how much. On some trips she would handle as much as two million dollars worth from the Seward peninsula gold fields. Bricks were shipped in canvas bags valued at $20,000 each.

A Charmed Life

Although she was frequently the first ship into the Bering Sea and Nome each year, she lived a charmed life. In 1907, she struck an iceberg and her lower hold filled with water within a few inches of the main deck, but the forward and aft bulkheads held.

Of one blinding snowstorm in the Johnstone Straits in January, 1936, a passenger wrote:

"For 30 hours Captain H. Odsen held the Victoria in the narrow strait, beating back and forth between the rocks, in a 60-mile gale and with snow and fog so thick you couldn't see four feet ahead. He kept her on with only a slight bump and when he finished the trick he couldn't read, because of staring into the storm."
War Broke Retirement

Finally, in 1938, the owners felt the famous old ship had made her last voyage. She was laid up.

But then came the need for more cargo space, and a freighter for Alaska. Staterooms were torn out, the superstructure changed, the portholes closed up. She was commissioned a freighter in June, 1941, just in time for the war.

In 46 voyages to port as far west as Dutch Harbor, she carried 110,000 tons of cargo for the Army.

Now, again overhauled and inspected the Victoria is back in service and sailing for the north, well past the allotted life span for humans of three score years and 10.

Slot Machine Gas Next On Gadget List

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—At last they've devised a gasoline pump that requires no attendant, yet delivers the gas and even makes change, is necessary.

The gadget, designed by Philip M. Schneckenburger, is intended to serve all-night drivers or motorists who are in too much of a hurry to wait for the attendant at a busy service station.

The pump has undergone tests and has been ready for market since 1942, but was put in wraps because of the war shortage of materials.

The pump is completely automatic. When the money is deposited in the coin box, the machine sets the pump to deliver the proper amount of gas.

Presbyterian Pastor Talks To Brotherhood

All persons who profess the name of Christ are co-workers for the glory of God, the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, told the Brotherhood meeting of the First Baptist church Monday evening.

Regardless of denomination, they are workers with one another, with God and for God, he said. No person should undertake the Kingdom's work without first seeking the "indwelling of the Holy Spirit," said Lloyd.

Filing Discharges Swamps County Clerk

Filing of discharges for recording in connection with terminal leave payments for GIs is continuing to swamp the county clerk's office.

In addition to this influx of work, regular volume for the office continues at an abnormal peak, according to County Clerk Lee Porter.

Auxiliary filing with discharge papers also is keeping the force at full stride, for frequently discharges are accompanied by marriage certificates, birth certificates, etc.

No Restrictions On Beneficiary For GI Policy

All restrictions on the choice of beneficiaries which were originally imposed on GI insurance have been removed by recent amendments, VA's insurance service reports.

Formerly the insured was permitted only to designate beneficiaries who were near relatives. He now may designate any person or persons, a corporation or his estate as beneficiary in his insurance policy.

Payment of the insurance to beneficiaries also has been liberalized by recent amendments. Insurance maturing on or subsequent to Aug. 1, 1946 can be made payable in accordance with the following optional modes of settlement:

Option one—In one lump sum.
Option two—In equal monthly installments of from 36 to 240 in number in multiples of 12.

Option three—In equal monthly installments for 120 months certain with such payments continuing during the remaining lifetime of the first beneficiary.

Option four—As a refund life income in monthly installments with face value certain, provided such settlement would not result in payments of installments over a shorter period than 120 months.

The new GI insurance amendments do not permit beneficiaries who were receiving payments before Aug. 1 to change to lump-sum or short-term forms of payments.

SET YOUR SIGHTS
It takes a lot of planning to hit a target . . . even more to achieve a goal

There are two kinds of young men. One knows what he wants to do and goes after it. The other is still looking for his niche. The new Regular Army can help both of them.

Suppose, for example, that you're the first kind. You want to go to college but don't have the money. If you enlist in the new Regular Army, you'll have a chance to earn while you learn. Honorably discharged at the end of a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The U. S. Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, and you'll get $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

Or maybe you're the man who hasn't found his spot. An enlistment in the Army will put you in touch with the widest selection of jobs. Army schools offer special training in over 200 trades and skills. When you leave the service you can continue your training at the school best equipped to help you.

Set your sights! Enlist in the new Regular Army. You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful—just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Miss Christie stated that at the present time the clubs, both women's and girls', were completing a series of programs on baking and scoring of baked goods, in preparation for the forthcoming contest which will be held in October. At that time various prizes ranging from $25 to matched baking dishes and new twists in kitchen equipment will be awarded to many entering the contests, the agent declared.

In addition plans are about to be set up for the annual 4H girls gardening contest. From Sept. 18 through Sept. 20 Miss Christie and four club women will attend a recreational training school in Sweetwater at which they will learn to handle community groups, directing both quiet and active games.

The local units have been invited to prepare exhibits for the Lubbock fair, to be held on October 1, and in the same week the county agent will accompany a group of about 15 girls to Dallas to attend the state fair. They will be there on October 5, "4H Club Day."

Beginning Thursday of this week Miss Christie and Durward Lexter, with agents from Concho, Coke, and Mitchell counties will meet with district agent, Mrs. Martie V. Nezy and W. I. Marschall, and Miss Helen Swift to plan activities for the coming year. The meeting will be held in the Settles Hotel.

Two Cities Hold Munny Bond Voting
SAN ANGELO, Sept. 10 (AP)—Ballinger and Sweetwater residents today were voting on municipal bond issues.

At Sweetwater, a $25,000 bond issue calls for reconstruction of a public library, a police administration building, a jail, and other improvements.

Water, sewage and street improvements costing $750,000 will be decided at Ballinger.

Direct, Indirect Deals With Russia: It's For Americans To Decide

By WALTER LIPPMAN
Early last winter the United States government made the momentous decision to take the leading part in repelling the expansion of the Soviet empire. As a result we are now engaged in a worldwide diplomatic struggle of the utmost gravity. We must realize that it cannot be won and that it may lead to a catastrophic war unless the diplomatic campaign is planned on a correct appraisal of what is essential to accomplish and of the power and influence we can muster in order to accomplish it.

Our resources, our man power, our political and moral influence are considerable. But they are not unlimited. The basic question is one of high strategy: Whether the United States shall deal with the Soviet Union directly or indirectly.

The direct American policy would be to build up American power at a selected point where, if war comes, the Soviet Union would from the outset be on the defensive. That point is manifestly in the Eastern Mediterranean in the direction of the Black Sea. For at that point American sea and air power can be brought within reach of the vital center of Russia, and can, therefore, most surely counteract the striking power of the Red Army.

Any policy designed to check the expansion of a mighty world power entails grave risks, and the direct policy certainly entails grave risks. Great questions of power which now divide us are whether Germany is to be neutralized and pacified or is to be sought as an ally; whether the British Empire is to be transformed peaceably or dissolved violently; whether the civil war in China is to become an international war.

Diplomatic discussion of these questions must be brought about or these questions will in the end lead to war.

To bring it about we must wait the discussion so much that we are willing to take the risk of acting to convince the Russians that their power and our power are in balance at a point, which is so vitally important, that it is no longer possible to evade negotiation. The alternative to a direct American-Soviet policy is the indirect policy which, thus far at least, we have been following. It is to wage defensive diplomatic war by supporting wherever the "appear governments, parties, factions and persons who are threatened, or can make out a claim to be recognized as opponents of Communism and the Soviet Union. To confront Russia directly with a concentration of American power under American command is one thing. It is quite another thing to confront Russia with dispersed American power in the service of a heterogeneous collection of unstable governments and of a contending parties and factions which happened to be opposed to the Soviet Union. Direct action involves the risk of having the Russians will react by indirect action, entails the additional risk that we cannot determine what our allies, partners and proteges will do, as we lend them our support, with the power which we have put at their disposal.

This policy, which entrusts to others the keys to peace and war, is bound to arouse the maximum resistance of the Soviet Union. It will see it as the organization of a coalition war. And yet for us it offers no prospect of a reasonably prompt decision.

The coalition policy puts the cart before the horse. It is an attempt to check the Soviet expansion. The real need, however, is to check the Soviet expansion in order that their problems, which invite the expansion, may be settled peaceably.

It is most important, that in conducting this great campaign we do not make the fatal strategic mistake, of mistaking our power and exhausting our strength in minor theaters where no decision of the main issues can be had. Since this is a problem of power, we cannot delegate it to our friends, partners and allies. We alone are strong enough to deal with the problem: let us pray that we shall be wise enough. The undertaking is so serious that we do not dare to disperse our effort. We must not lose sight of the main object. We must not become entangled in remote or indirect disputes. Or we shall be sucked from one bad situation into another, until at last there is no way out except a war of annihilation.

Surplus May Be Sold On Credit

Wherever credit serves as a practical means to increase the sale of government owned surplus property, War Assets Administration is prepared to handle such a transaction on a normal commercial basis, according to Hamilton Morton, regional director of the Fort Worth WAA office. If it has been customary for a purchaser to use any form of credit in buying at his normal level of trade, WAA will make similar facilities available, Morton said. The credit will be extended directly by WAA. All credit must be established before purchases can be made on this basis and to facilitate the establishment of credit, B. E. Winder has been installed as Chief of the Credit Division in the WAA Fort Worth office. Prospective WAA purchasers may select any type of credit preferred, including open credit account or sight draft of letter of credit issued through a bank.

Surplus Trucks On Mail Order

Decontaminating trucks, oil servicing trucks, fuel servicing semi-trailers, heavy dump trucks and flat bed trucks and a wide variety of other truck and trailer automotive equipment is being offered to veterans of World War II by the War Assets Administration by means of mail order sale. The equipment listed, which is at 18 military locations through north and West Texas, including Big Spring, is available for inspection by veterans daily through Sept. 13. Orders submitted following inspection will be filled in accordance with the earliest dates of certification, the WAA has announced.

Vehicles offered in the sale are at Fort Worth Army Air Field, Abilene Army Air Field, Amarillo Army Air Field, Big Spring Army Air Field, Camp Bowie, Camp Barkeley, Childress Army Air Field, Dalhart Army Air Field, Camp Hood, Fort Worth Quartermaster depot, San Angelo Army Air Field, Sheppard Field, Goodfellow Field, Camp Wolters and Pantex Ordnance Plant. The Prince Albert coat was not named for the consort of Queen Victoria but for her oldest son, later King Edward VII.

County Tax Rate Set At 63 Cents

County commissioners court, in regular session Monday, officially set the Howard county tax rate at 63 cents for 1946 tax polls. This was in keeping with the 63 cents proposed in the county budget which was approved previously. Judge James T. Brooks said that the county had been successful in obtaining 700 spools of barbed wire, but that approximately 600 spools were needed to complete a right-of-way fencing job for the Big Spring-Vincent road.

AVERAGE COST OF ELECTRIC SERVICE IN HOME
ELECTRIC COSTS DOWN 23% 1937 — 10 YEARS — 1946

Housewives say "thanks" for the recent reduction in the cost of their electric service and in the same breath ask "how can you do it in the face of higher costs?"

That is a logical question. Facts are that housewives like to use electric service — and have been using it in increasing quantities. The increased volume of business, together with savings resulting from technical progress and lower costs of capital have enabled us to make the reduction.

In return we say "thanks for your increased use" — electric service is one of the few items in the household budget which costs less than before the war.

Please Protect Our Youngsters

The Texas Safety association has issued some somber figures on the fatality expectancy among school children if automobile traffic mishaps continue their trend. The association estimated that if the trend is not retarded, 189 school children will meet deaths by automobiles during the coming school year.

Most of the school-age traffic victims will be first graders, representing a generation that does not remember pre-war traffic and many who have not been taught to obey traffic signals. The next greatest number will be third grade youngsters. Among those who ride bicycles, the fourth grade offers the greatest potential field for fatalities and injuries.

Last year 883 school children were killed by accidents of all kinds and many more were injured, some of them permanently. For the most part, most were struck down going to and from school. These, plus those killed on school grounds and in school buildings account for 450 deaths; an additional 433 were killed in accidents at home or away from school.

The tragical thing about this is that virtually all of the deaths were preventable.

Thus, every driver of an automobile has the heavy responsibility of being doubly careful this year, especially around schools and at any point in the city when students are going to and from school. It makes no difference how urgent the cause, speed is not worth the life or limb of one of our children. Regardless of how vexing conditions may be around school, every driver ought to make himself personally responsible for the safety of these youngsters.

It is certainly true that school children are in need of safety instruction, both at home and at school. Parents ought to make it a point to repeatedly and regularly remind youngsters of safety rules. They ought not let children drive unless they know they are capable and unless they know they are safe and sane drivers. School authorities should impress upon students the fact that any and all portions of streets do not belong exclusively to them and that it pays to look both ways before crossing whether the student is a first grader or a senior in high school.

Practice safety, talk safety, insist on safety here this year. Let's not contribute one injury, much less a death, to the state total this year. Won't you please do your part?

Why Starkles Twink

NEW YORK — Three Broadway stars signed to M-G-M contracts are dying to get to Hollywood to start film careers but can't because they're too successful. Betty Garrett and Jules Munshin of "Call Me Mister," and Charles Fredericks of "Show Boat." . . . June Allyson wrote one of her friends of chorus girl days here on Broadway that she's in our pictures at once. . . . "One day I'm a neurotic seventeen and the next a very level-headed twenty," June wrote. . . . She's playing opposite Van Johnson in the former and Walter Pidgeon in the latter, so eat your hearts out, gals.

One of our wealthiest citizens has his glamorous wife's portrait painted every month. . . . honest? The artists can't work for anyone else but is paid so handsomely that he can afford to give up his other clients.

Wilfred Pelletier, the symphony conductor, and his wife, opera star Jose Bampton, went along on a party to hear John Kirby's hot jazz band. . . . After his appearance on the stand, Kirby joined the Pelletier party at a table and was informed that Pelletier, too, led an orchestra. . . . "Is that so?" asked Kirby. . . . "How many in your combination?"

Radio Announcer Nelson Case may become a movie star. . . . he's the two-fisted, tough-and-handsome type. . . . One of the most unusual parties to be held in the last few years was tossed by Jane Deering and Bibb Osterwald of the "Three to Make Ready" cast. . . . A house warming party, and at least half the guests were an envy-green, wishing they could land a similar flat, located fashionably, too, on East 54th Street.

Lenny Lewis, a new swing band which employs eleven negroes and nine white musicians, has been signed for a year's engagement in Paris. . . . The Great Scott, a radio funny man whose beard doesn't project over the other, is trying to become a poet laureate, although he may have meant to lose it, which seems nearer the point as I read his latest effort: "Starkle, Starkle, little twink, What the heck you are I think, Way up in the blue so sky, like a flashlight—huh?"

Frank Sinatra heard the new tune, "There's an Awful Lotta Coffee in Brazil" when he was at the Copacabana, where it is the big production finale of the floor show, which means that it probably will be a hit. . . . A record by a Frankie, a Bing, a Dinah, Perry or some such platter favorite can do the trick of itself.

Richard Carlson off to London on the Queen Mary in the same cabin occupied by Frederick Lonsdale, the British playwright, on the trip here. . . . Lucille Ball says any talk about a split with her hubby-hubby, Desi Arnaz, is a lot of vicious Broadway gossip, a statement which seems to end that rumor, and certainly she and Desi were lovey-dovey enough to scotch any such story, the way they were holding hands at the party Monte Proser tossed to mark the end of Desi's Copacabana engagement.

Yesterday a fire of undetermined origin destroyed the one-story frame building used by the church. Pastor H. N. Balfree said the loss totaled $5,000, part of which was covered by $3,500 insurance.

Water Conservation Imperative

Water demands of all kinds are increasing in Texas, according to an exhaustive survey of the state board of water engineers. The board pointed out that Fort Worth, for example, normally required 12 million gallons a day, now the average demand is 21 million. Irrigated lands have jumped to 1,200,000 acres and industrial demands are soaring—10 million gallons a day for the Southland Paper Mill at Lufkin and 30 million a day for the DuPont nylon and plastic plant at Orange, just to give you an idea what it can amount to.

Study of the board was prompted by the 1946 drought, and it noted that the "drought has emphasized again the practical need for water conservation and multiple-use storage reservoirs in this rapidly developing state." Amen to that—and even if it weren't for the drought, the need would be almost as great.

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Board Investigates Higher Education

WASHINGTON, (P)—The National Commission on Higher Education, appointed by President Truman, will take probably two years to complete its work.

It will issue reports and make recommendations on how higher education—education above high school—may be used better for the benefit of our people.

Congress may act on some of its suggestions. Or maybe educators will take a hint from its recommendations and do something on their own.

Time will show whether anything comes of its work. Mr. Truman appointed the commission—30 outstanding educators and citizens—last July. In his letter of appointment to each of the commissioners he said in part:

"It seems particularly important that we should now re-examine our system of higher education in terms of its objectives, methods and facilities.

"Among the more specific questions with which I hope the commission will concern itself are:

ways and means of expanding educational opportunities for all able young people."

The commission met late in July and drew up a program of what it intended to do, giving Mr. Truman an outline.

A couple of weeks ago Charles G. Bolte, very articulate veteran of World War II and chairman of the American Veterans Committee, Inc., wrote to Mr. Truman about the commission:

"We feel assured, Mr. President, that you share our conviction that the role of American education must include the champions of freedom and of the right of every American to participate fully in all of the benefits of our democracy.

"But if it is to play that role successfully, it must re-examine its own behavior."

Then Bolte, without singling out any school by name, continued "many colleges and universities maintain a selective quota system of admission under which the chance to learn, and thereby become a more useful citizen, is denied certain minorities."

Bolte did not specify the minorities he had in mind. What he referred to was this kind of situation:

Where colleges admit only a certain percentage of people from a certain racial or religious minority, such as Jews.

Talk of the quota system in American schools of higher education has been current for years but, so far as this writer knows, has never been examined or investigated publicly.

But the problem apparently was of such deep interest to the President that, while still on his vacation cruise, he wrote to Bolte:

"I am keenly aware of the fundamental problem of discrimination in education to which you have called specific attention, and of the broader problem of intolerance which this discrimination symbolizes.

"I am pleased that the commission, in its first meeting recently concluded, has decided to deal specifically with this problem."

Bald Heads Pull Hair

By JACK RUTLEDGE

Associated Press Staff
— Things are rocking along smoothly between the United States and Mexico despite the fact the United Baldheads of America selected the American bald eagle in preference to the hairless Mexican Chihuahua dog as their mascot.

"The choice," said Joseph P. Landry, Port Arthur, president of UBA, "must not be construed as a gesture which would violate the good neighbor policy. The eagle barely won. I personally know many solid members who love the Chihuahua like a brother."

The selection was made some time ago, and the UBA has kept a wary eye on diplomatic relations since.

The UBA was organized last year. Members are bald. They scorn hair restorers, tonics, and refrain from such contrivances as wigs and toupees.

Exalted high dome Landry refers to such things as "shameful creations of shaven-pated fifth columnists."

Referring again to the mascot, Landry said members of the non-dues-paying, non-political, non-hairute organization had quite a hair-pulling fight in choosing between the eagle and the canine nudist from below the Rio Grande.

Tall Texans who need longer heads and higher awnings are going to do something about it.

They've organized a group in Dallas known as the Tip Toppers club. Women members must be at least six feet tall, men six feet three inches.

Organizer Mildred Mladnick of Dallas says there are about 25 such clubs over the country.

The Texas group will lobby against short heads and low awnings and other irritants to tall persons.

Beer Voted Out

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 10. (P)—Unofficial tabulations show that McCulloch County voters polled 2,038 to 859 Saturday against the sale of beer in the first local option election held there in several years.

Wilson To Retire

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (P)—Frank J. Wilson, who was in charge of the investigation that brought the conviction of Al Capone, said today he will retire soon as chief of the Secret Service and acting chief coordinator of the Treasury's law enforcement agencies.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Truman Cools To Old Press Friends

WASHINGTON — Newsmen probably won't write about it, but President Truman's Bermuda trip climaxed a significant change in his relations with the press. The old days of intimate, chummy talks have now vanished. Truman was cool, aloof, even chilly.

And for good reason. Some of his supposedly most trusted news friends let him down. Off-the-record talks which the president thought were going only to half a dozen people leaked out and became the property of millions.

Most disillusioning of these was a reunion of the "Hard Rock Club," a group of a dozen newsmen who covered Truman's vice-presidential campaign when he was ignored by the rest of the country.

Several weeks ago the president invited the boys to an evening on the yacht Williamsburg. They played poker, drank bourbon and generally let their hair down — especially the president. He was indiscreet enough to tell all about the Russian situation and what he thought of Chester Bowles — then OPA administrator.

His remarks were not complimentary. Truman minced no words about either Bowles or the Russians and it was hardly to say which he liked least. Though he favored OPA, he thought the fight to win its approval from Congress would not have been so hard if Bowles had not issued so much propaganda and talked so much.

Shortly afterward, Time magazine published a brief account of this very confidential evening. Blame for the leak fell upon Edward Lockett, Time staffer who is a member of the Hard Rock Club.

Truman was so indignant that for a long time he would not speak to Lockett. Other club members virtually ostracized him.

Laker, in Chicago Sun's Tom Reynolds, no member of the club, wrote another account of the president's off-the-record remarks on that memorable evening. Naturally, Truman's views got back to the Russians. This made him even more vexed — and worried.

So from now on the chief executive has decided not to be the naive and trusting gentleman he once was with his supposed close friends of the press. During the Bermuda trip, for instance, he gave Press Secretary Charles Ross instructions that newsmen were to ask no questions which did not pertain directly to the trip. And when one violated this rule to ask why Rhode Island's Senator Theodore Green was not invited aboard the Williamsburg, the president nearly snapped his head off.

Note — From a foreign relations viewpoint, Truman's tightening up on the press is a good thing. From one end of a veranda at Reel's Foot Lake, Tenn., last year he gave wide-eyed newsmen a sensational statement on the atomic bomb which never should have been released except after the most careful consideration. At his early press conferences no question was too direct or too ticklish for the president to answer. Now Mr. Truman has realized that his words echo round the world; that no President of the United States can give snap answers.

Chief Justice Fred Vinson had an important talk with Justice Bob Jackson during the latter's trip here from Nuremberg. Jackson seemed to have regained his perspective and was more rational than at the time he unloaded his blast at Justice Hugo Black. He gave every indication that he would cooperate at the coming Supreme Court session.

Jackson Back To Normalcy
Jackson's friends attribute his erratic statement to the depressing atmosphere of the Nuremberg trials. Looking day after day at the Nazi prisoners who were responsible for killing 6,000,000 people, they explain, would get any man down.

Mrs. Truman's Onions
Mrs. Truman isn't advertising it, but as her contribution to the good-neighbor policy she has been studying Spanish.

Her class consists of various cabinet wives and ladies of the Supreme Court, including Mrs. Stanley Reed. The ladies study under live-wire tutor Ramon Ramos of Cuba.

Senor Ramos is one who believes in making his classroom work interesting. No dusty blackboards and dull books for him. He has his lady-students do something interesting and talk about it in Spanish as they do it.

One of the things he concocted for them to do was cook a meal in the White House and use Spanish in discussing food, pots and pans, dishes and tabasco sauce. When the would-be Spanish speakers arrived at the White House, Mrs. Truman shooed the servants out of the Presidential Kitchen and the ladies took over.

They concocted quite a luncheon, featuring — as is only natural when one is studying Spanish — Spanish onions. To those who whiffed the odor in the rest of the White House it seemed that onions was about all the ladies cooked.

At the next lesson teacher Ramos was curious to know the after-effects of his linguistic luncheon. He had never been in the White House before.

"And what did the President think of our luncheon?" he asked Mrs. Truman.

"He didn't think anything about it at all," the First Lady replied, quite truthfully.

"But Margaret did," she added. "Margaret came into the White House and said the whole place stank."

Capital Chaff
President Truman was seriously seasick twice during his Bermuda vacation. He had the miseries two days coming and two going. . . . Donald McGregory, of Houston, Texas, will step up to replace able Jim McGreery as assistant to the attorney general when the latter becomes a federal judge in Philadelphia. . . . Capable career-man Gus Vanech of the Justice Department will win reward by being made an assistant attorney general soon.

State department's Lou Henderson fumed when Bartley Gurn suggested that he should resign over the Palestine mess. Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson twitted Henderson at a subsequent staff conference: "are you sure, Lou, that you're not really mad because he referred to you as a middle-level official?" . . . 128 GI's will be ousted from the Hollywood Canteen if the Los Angeles zoning commission has its way. They say the Canteen is a rooming-house. So what? . . . Chief Justice Vinson has spent the summer reading last term's Supreme Court opinions. Some of them are tough reading. . . . On its round-the-world trip.

Cats, Missions Favorites In Texas Loop; Blue Sox Are Crippled For Playoff Series

WT-NM Leagues To Use Best Hurlers Tonight

By The Associated Press
Four West Texas-New Mexico League teams tonight will use their best hurlers in the opening round of the Shaughnessy plan to decide the league championship.

At Abilene, the crippled Abilene Blue Sox will meet the Lubbock Hubbers, while at Pampa, the Pampa-Gassers will clash with the Amarillo Gold Sox.

The Blue Sox, who finished the regular season in first place, are expected to send Johnny Hall to the mound to face Paul Finney of the Hubbers. Both are right-handers.

Hall won 20 games over the full season and Finney 11 after joining the Hubbers in late June.

At Pampa, it will be Southpaw Bill Garland, who has 23 games to his credit this season, on the hill for Pampa and Right-hander Bill Evans, winners in 27 games, for Amarillo.

After two games in Abilene and Pampa, the teams will shift to Lubbock and Amarillo for three games, sixth and seventh clashes, if necessary, will be played at Abilene and Pampa.

Abilene will be playing without Jim Matthews, heavy hitting catcher-outfielder who clouted 31 home runs during the full season. Matthews suffered a compound dislocation of a finger when hit by a foul tip in the first game of a double-header at Albuquerque last Sunday.

Forsan Has Three Open Game Dates

Forsan's six-man football team is seeking to book games on three or more open dates.

G. D. Kennedy, superintendent, announced Tuesday that the Buffaloes have three open dates during the regular season's plans and will be open for one or more games after Nov. 15.

At the present time, open dates exist on Sept. 20, Oct. 11, and Nov. 8.

The Buffs are beginning to shape up in workouts at the playing field and promise to be in good condition for the opening district No. 9 conference game on Sept. 27. Teams wishing to match games should contact Kennedy at Forsan.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

An indication of local interest to be expected in the 1947 Golden Gloves boxing tournament can be gleaned from the elimination bouts held last night at the Salvation Army Citadel. Big Spring itself definitely will provide a greater number of entries, and the current outlook is that they will be more experienced and better conditioned than the lads who stepped into the squared circle last February. The interest being created at this season of the year by the YMCA, Salvation Army and other organizations assures fight fans here that the 1947 matches will be better than the first post-war

Cool Weather Retards Dove Hunting Here

Cool weather at the opening of the season has thinned the dove crop in this area. F. H. Stovall, Lamesa, district game warden, reported Tuesday.

However, he predicted that the displacement of the dove population was only temporary since migrations from points further north will replace those who have moved to the South.

J. H. Maggard, supervisor of game warden for the state game, fish and oyster commission, pointed out that the migration is a natural process.

"A lot of people have the idea that dove hatching in a given territory remains there. This is not true, for they migrate to warmer climates as cool weather comes on," he said.

On the whole, hunters have been proceeding with due regard to regulations, said Stovall. There have been a few infractions, mostly shooting from cars and from roads. Occasionally, a few "get confused about the difference between blue quail and dove" and pay to the courts for jumping seasons.

Larry Morofka, Albuquerque, N. M., federal game management supervisor, has been working in this area to make sure that no federal game laws are violated.

The veteran TCU mentor, who has only 115 candidates out for his varsity eleven, started early to "iron out" the kinks by sending his charges through a scrimmage session on their first afternoon out, which was the second day of practice. All but three eleven have been designated as the "iron" squad, which will play a regular schedule beginning on the night of Sept. 14 against Decatur Baptist college.

A few more performances like the first game of Sunday's double-header in Detroit might cause Ted Lyons, the Chicago White Sox manager, to change his opinion of Hal Newhouse, the Tigers' southpaw. Lyons was quoted in sports journals last week as favoring Newhouse over Cleveland's Bob Feller as a mound performer, because of the Tiger ace's control and better handling of his "stuff." Starting the first game Sunday, Newhouse gave up eight hits and nine bases on balls in eight innings against Lyons' own Sox, and at the same time failed to register a single strikeout.

Big Spring may be within easy driving distance of one of the best college football teams in the country this fall, according to forecasts in some of the better known gridiron publications. Most of the boys who make a business of picking 'em are choosing Texas Tech to win the Border Conference crown, and some point their finger at the Red Raiders and declare that the most powerful team in this section may be outside the Southwest Conference this time.

Fort Worth May Have Its Largest Crowd In 20 Years

By The Associated Press
Fort Worth, the full-season leader, and San Antonio, who held down first spot during the early stages of the campaign and then slipped to third place, are favorites in the Texas League playoff, which gets underway tonight at Fort Worth and Dallas.

Fort Worth will meet the Tulsa Oilers, fourth position full-season winner, while the San Antonio club will take on the Dallas Rebels, runners-up to Fort Worth.

But the Rebels and Oilers are not conceding any ground and should provide the two expected record-breaking crowds and the favored squads plenty of baseball.

At Fort Worth, more than 6,000 tickets had been sold last night and club officials were expecting the city's largest baseball crowd in 20 years. At Dallas, Rebel officials said that practically all tickets for tonight's game had been sold.

The Cats, who defeated the Oilers 17 times in 22 games during the regular season, will send John Van Cuyk, left-hand strikeout ace, to the mound against the Oilers' smooth right-hander, Mack Stewart.

Van Cuyk has defeated Tulsa five times in five starts this year, while Stewart has won over the Cats twice as compared with three defeats.

Dallas will start Hawaiian Hank Oana, who rang up 24 victories to lead the league and who has broken even, 2-2, in four starts against the Missions.

The Alamogordo city crew will have Sigmund Jakucki on the mound. Jakucki also has broken even in Dallas-San Antonio clashes, winning one game and losing one.

The Dallas record against the Missions, however, is not good. The San Antonio club has won over the North Texas 15 times in 22 games, and the Rebels have defeated the Missions only once in Dallas.

J. Alvin Gardner, league president, announced last night that Chester Fowler, Perry Hunter, Milton Steengrafe and Pat Orr will umpire the Fort Worth-Tulsa series, while Bill Watson, Mike Williamson, Buster Capps and L. C. Carter will officiate the Dallas-San Antonio series.

The teams will play in Dallas and Fort Worth again tomorrow night, and then switch to San Antonio and Tulsa for three games. If sixth and seventh games are necessary, they will be played at Dallas and Fort Worth.

During the regular season, the four teams finishing in the first division, Henderson, Texarkana, Tyler and Greenville, kicked each other around so that no one club can be tabbed as a probable winner.

Fourth place Greenville, for instance, took nine games from the first place Henderson Oilers during the regular campaign while the Oilers were taking only ten games from the Hunt County Majors. And Greenville is the club that fought an up-hill battle all season to gain a spot in the playoff. The Majors spent much of the early season in or near the cellar position.

Third place Tyler holds an edge over second place Texarkana, the Trojans having defeated the Bears 12 times in 20 engagements.

At Henderson tonight, the Oilers are slated to start Elton Davis against Gerry Grishman, Greenville hurler.

At Texarkana, the probable pitchers are Vallie Eaves for the Bears and Jim Winfield for Tyler. Henderson and Greenville will play again tomorrow night at Henderson, while Texarkana and Tyler will transfer their battle to Tyler.

Five boxing matches were staged by the Salvation Army last night as continuation of elimination bouts held each Monday night in connection with the instruction given in boxing.

Officials hope to develop three teams to enter in the Golden Gloves to be held in the winter. Jimmy Boyer is the instructor. Johnny Cox the referee.

Harvey Wright took the decision over Eddie Long in the first lightweight match; Charles Franklin over Dewey Byers in the flyweight division; John Masters over Vernon Chapman, bantams; and Belton Brunson over J. T. Albright, bantams. Morris Rogers won over Gene Gross in a technical knockout.

Next Monday night the winners of this week's fights will be matched against each other in exhibition boxing, and more elimination fights will be scheduled. Approximately 45 boys were on hand to watch the matches.

East Texas Loop Has No Favorites

Cards, Dodgers Hit Do Or Die Stretch Today

By RALPH KODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The do or die stage for the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League pennant race gets underway today with the Red Birds beginning a 13-game road trip at Philadelphia while the Dodgers entertain the Cincinnati Reds.

The American League's eastern clubs take their last journey through the West with the pace-setting Boston Red Sox needing only to defeat the Detroit Tigers today to clinch their first pennant since 1918.

Leading the Dodgers by two games, the Cards will play the Phils twice and then invade Flatbush for a three-game series.

Brooklyn hurling, paced by Rookie Joe Haynes, and veteran Kirby Higbe, and the return to form of Pete Reiser, have increased the Brook's confidence in their chances of overhauling the Red Birds.

The Cardinals pitching staff has fallen off somewhat, with Howie Pollet and Murry Dickson hit exceptionally hard in their last outings. The Red Bird hitters are enjoying some of their biggest days of the season at the plate. Enos (Country) Slaughter has taken a commanding lead in the run-batted-in department, and Stan Musial continued to pace the league in batting.

In the only game in either league yesterday the Philadelphia Phillies nosed out the New York Giants, 5-4, under the lights at Philadelphia.

South Plains Game Club Organization Slated For Sept. 19

Organization of a South Plains Sportsmen's club will be effected at an open meeting in the district courtroom at Lamesa at 8 p.m. on Sept. 19.

Among state game commission officials who will be present to assist in the organization are H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary; H. E. Faubion, assistant executive secretary; J. H. Maggard, Amarillo, supervisor of game warden; F. M. Stovall, Lamesa, district game warden, and wardens from adjoining districts.

Also due to be present are Grady Hill and Glenn Taylor, San Angelo, president and secretary of the West Texas Game association.

At the present time there is no organization in the South Plains territory to serve the needs of sportsmen in that area. Big Spring sportsmen have been urged to attend the meeting.

The word laconic is derived from the name of the ancient Greek country Laconia, of which Sparta was the capital.

Hardware Nine To Play Vincent

Big Spring Hardware's mushball nine is scheduled to take the field against the Vincent All-Stars Wednesday night at 8 o'clock on the Mundy Park diamond.

Jimmy Daylong will work in the box for the Hardware crew, with Hinson behind the plate.

Broadsheets of Southwest Conference Football Games this fall will be brought to radio listeners once again by Humble Oil and Refining Company. This will be the twelfth consecutive year that Humble has sponsored these broadcasts.

Humble will bring football fans all the Conference games and the important intercollegiate and inter-sectional games in which Conference teams play. With scores of scrapping GI stars back in college uniforms, the 1946 season promises to be the most exciting football they've had an opportunity to enjoy in years.

Kara Tips, Yes Box, Charlie Jordan and Bill Michaels, all veterans of many Humble broadcasts, will be back at the mike's again this fall. These top Texas sports announcers will give accurate and colorful play-by-play descriptions, as well as the interesting highlights that add so much to the enjoyment of every game.

Southwest Conference Managers Moaning Over Their Small Stands

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Big Ed Dusek of Temple, who played with Texas A. and M. in 1942 then went away for a hitch in the Air Force, will wear contact lenses this fall as he resumes fullbacking for the Aggies.

Use of these plastic lenses that fit over the eyeballs is comparatively new in football and Dusek is one of the first to employ them in the Southwest Conference.

Dusek is near-sighted and needs glasses to distinguish the figures even on a football field. So Coach Homer Norton fitted him out with the lenses.

Speaking of Dusek's myopia did you ever hear how he got into the Army?

Knowing he couldn't read the placards they throw at you in the eye test without help, he asked the fellow ahead of him in line at the induction station to please call out the letters in a loud voice. "I will memorize them and they'll never know I couldn't read them," Dusek said.

The other fellow did as Ed had asked so when it came Dusek's time to read the letters he stepped forward and rattled them off with ease. But there was a grin on the doctor's face as he said:

"Son, I am sorry to say, we just changed the card—just before you 'read' it."

But Ed got into the Air Force all right; he was put in limited service. You just have to give a guy who tries that hard a break.

The fact that all the stadiums in the Southwest Conference combined take care of fewer than 200,000 fans has caused considerable agitation for enlargement.

This year every school anticipated sell-outs for most games. The Texas-Texas A&M game Thanksgiving Day, for instance, would draw 100,000 except that there are only 48,000 seats available in Memorial Stadium at Austin. Southern Methodist's Ownby Stadium takes care of 21,500, and they had to transfer the Aggie-SMU game to the Cotton Bowl because about twice that many wanted in. Coach Jess Neely of Rice says all the 29,500 seats at Rice Field will be sold out within a week after the Texas-Rice tickets are put on the block. Baylor is having to add some 8,000 bleacher seats for the Texas-Baylor game and they are not enough.

But there are obstacles in the way of enlarging the stadia. Business managers of athletics don't think materials will be available for several years and if so they would have to double-deck instead of increasing the circumference of the stadia so the fans wouldn't be too far away from the field. Double decking is very expensive.

Bill Henderson, the all-around athlete at A&M before the war who earned national acclaim with his ability to play well any game they had—has turned down $7,000 a year to perform with the professional Miami Seahawks.

"I think," said Bill, "that the Lord is getting tired of taking care of me."

Henderson, who has been in sports since he was five years old, never was injured in football, baseball, track, basketball or boxing—or any other sport he ever tried—except for a cut lip and a sore toe. He figures his luck isn't going to hold out forever.

So the ex-A&M athletic star will enter the insurance business at Houston, his home town.

Speaking of Dusek's myopia did you ever hear how he got into the Army?

Knowing he couldn't read the placards they throw at you in the eye test without help, he asked the fellow ahead of him in line at the induction station to please call out the letters in a loud voice. "I will memorize them and they'll never know I couldn't read them," Dusek said.

The other fellow did as Ed had asked so when it came Dusek's time to read the letters he stepped forward and rattled them off with ease. But there was a grin on the doctor's face as he said:

"Son, I am sorry to say, we just changed the card—just before you 'read' it."

But Ed got into the Air Force all right; he was put in limited service. You just have to give a guy who tries that hard a break.

The fact that all the stadiums in the Southwest Conference combined take care of fewer than 200,000 fans has caused considerable agitation for enlargement.

This year every school anticipated sell-outs for most games. The Texas-Texas A&M game Thanksgiving Day, for instance, would draw 100,000 except that there are only 48,000 seats available in Memorial Stadium at Austin. Southern Methodist's Ownby Stadium takes care of 21,500, and they had to transfer the Aggie-SMU game to the Cotton Bowl because about twice that many wanted in. Coach Jess Neely of Rice says all the 29,500 seats at Rice Field will be sold out within a week after the Texas-Rice tickets are put on the block. Baylor is having to add some 8,000 bleacher seats for the Texas-Baylor game and they are not enough.

But there are obstacles in the way of enlarging the stadia. Business managers of athletics don't think materials will be available for several years and if so they would have to double-deck instead of increasing the circumference of the stadia so the fans wouldn't be too far away from the field. Double decking is very expensive.

Bill Henderson, the all-around athlete at A&M before the war who earned national acclaim with his ability to play well any game they had—has turned down $7,000 a year to perform with the professional Miami Seahawks.

"I think," said Bill, "that the Lord is getting tired of taking care of me."

Henderson, who has been in sports since he was five years old, never was injured in football, baseball, track, basketball or boxing—or any other sport he ever tried—except for a cut lip and a sore toe. He figures his luck isn't going to hold out forever.

So the ex-A&M athletic star will enter the insurance business at Houston, his home town.

South Plains Game Club Organization Slated For Sept. 19

Organization of a South Plains Sportsmen's club will be effected at an open meeting in the district courtroom at Lamesa at 8 p.m. on Sept. 19.

Among state game commission officials who will be present to assist in the organization are H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary; H. E. Faubion, assistant executive secretary; J. H. Maggard, Amarillo, supervisor of game warden; F. M. Stovall, Lamesa, district game warden, and wardens from adjoining districts.

Also due to be present are Grady Hill and Glenn Taylor, San Angelo, president and secretary of the West Texas Game association.

At the present time there is no organization in the South Plains territory to serve the needs of sportsmen in that area. Big Spring sportsmen have been urged to attend the meeting.

The word laconic is derived from the name of the ancient Greek country Laconia, of which Sparta was the capital.

Do You Tip Till It Hurts His Income Tax?

By ARLENE WOLF
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK — What mental gymnastics do you go through while deciding whether to leave the barber a 16- or 20-cent tip? Do you suit the tip to the service? To your pocketbook? To the barber's personality?

You're wrong. The considerate customer would worry about the barber's income tax.

That's not quite as silly as it sounds. A series of hearings by the N. Y. State Placement and Unemployment Insurance division attempted to fix standard tips-per-week rates for a variety of service employes, including taxi drivers, barbers and hotel workers.

The purpose was to determine employer contributions to unemployment insurance funds, but actually the hearings turned into an employes' griping session over the postwar tip. From the workers' point of view, a high standard tip rate added to their regular weekly wages for a bigger tax payoff come March and income tax time.

If the state proposals are carried through, anyone who tips a barber less than 15 percent of his cash wages (you'd have to see his paycheck and daily customer tally to do this scientifically) is just costing the barber money. Manicurists should get 25 percent. Boot-and other barbershop-hangers rate a flat five cents per customer.

At the same time, if you give the bootblack 18 cents, you're probably putting him in a higher income tax bracket.

Tipping habits vary with the customer, his business and even with the city he's in, the hearings showed. The barbers in New York, for example, insist that garment workers are more generous than brokers. The usual 10 percent is the rate in the financial district, the barbers' union says, but garment center tips run as

Lady's Stomach Was Like A Gas Factory; Meals Turned To Gas

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory." That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking INNER-AID. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloating after eating. high as 100 percent, "maybe because they're union men."

Upstate hair-clippers, who think the state's estimate of their tip earnings is too high, agreed to the rate because they'll get fatter unemployment insurance checks when they're out of work. You see how complicated all this can get.

Take the taxi driver. Anyone who has the courage not to tip him is a "skunk." A quarter or 30 cents crossing his palm makes you a "livewire."

The state thinks there are lots of livewires—and estimates the hickies' tips at 12-12 percent of their clockings. New York drivers, on the other hand, argue that since the war tips have dropped from 17 percent to about 10. Upstate cabbies think seven and a half is nearer right.

Hotel chambermaids get the short end of the tipping bargain, their union spokesmen say. Patrons who stay for an overnight or weekend visit aren't likely to think of the gal who makes up the bed and leaves a piece of soap to replace the one you swiped.

What you, the customer, are supposed to do about all this isn't quite clear. If you're a traveling man you may find it necessary to keep a table on tax tip rates of each state. You might ask the waitress or the chambermaid what she's supposed to get and leave it all to her.

Or you might go right on using 10 percent as the tipping tipoff, in which case you'll probably make a lot of enemies, and find out that the customer's always wrong.

Vets Petition For Beer Vote

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Wichita county residents will vote Oct. 5 on legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages. The election was ordered yesterday in answer to a petition signed by 1,685 persons.

The county has been dry since 1942.

The Wichita county dry organization has expressed that belief that the county will once again "speak out against this enemy." A greening of World War II veterans, seeking the election to legalize sale of beer and liquor, named Melvin B. Evans, member of the city council of Wichita Falls, as chairman of a steering committee to assist in organizing county veterans in aiding the wet drive.

About 200 persons attended the veterans' meeting.

Crowns and coronets originally had no legal significance. They were made of leaves or flowers and conferred on winners in athletic contests.

Ceilings Lifted On Several Items

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—OPA price ceilings were lifted today from most heavy trucks, all motorcycles, and assorted paper and casein plastic products.

OPA said the items were freed from control because they have "little effect on either business or living costs."

The trucks affected are those of 30,000 pounds gross weight and above, which OPA said include 10-ton trucks.

Paper products freed from ceilings include decorative novelties, garment hangers, gift tying tape, flower pots and boxes made of paperboard, milk bottle caps and papers, luggage and items for industrial use.

Casein plastic materials suspended from control are those used chiefly in making buttons.

College Problems Denter Around Getting Supplies

Problems of the Howard County Junior college have narrowed to difficulties in obtaining classroom supplies and other materials essential to actual operation, E. C. Dodd, president, reported today.

"Our troubles have not been eliminated by any means," Dodd said, "but the favorable indications concerning buildings at the Army Air Field during the past few days have increased our hopes of beginning successful operation of the college on schedule."

Several items of equipment probably will not be available of the college's opening, but enough essentials are expected for efficient operation. Tables will be used for instructors' desks, if shipments are not received soon enough, and the Big Spring high school laboratory will accommodate natural science classes until the college's equipment arrives.

The new college laboratory will be one of the most up to date in the country, Dodd said, and the college plans to furnish any extra equipment needed at the high school during the time college students receive their training there.

Supplies for the homemaking department are scarce, but as in other departments, the college expects enough available to open on schedule.

Faculty furniture is being purchased locally, with the expenditure to be amortized by rent revenue over a three to four year period.

Under tentative consideration are plans for student bus service from Lamesa and Colorado City, Jodd said.

DO Enrollments Progress Steadily

Diversified occupations enrollments at high school are progressing steadily, Stanley Cameron, coordinator, said Tuesday.

Already 29 students are participating in the school and on-the-job vocational training program, awaiting assignments.

This, Cameron thought, would about complete the high school set up. However, he has several good openings for Howard County Junior college students and apparently there is going to be a good demand in this field. Cameron also is serving as on-the-job training supervisor for the junior college.

The plan apparently is going to be a "natural" for several college students, and one prospect is a 39-year-old veteran who is interested in practical technical training. Coincidentally, he has a son in school. There are several instances of veterans and others who are desirous of entering new vocations and the college program offers a good opportunity for the step.

Scout Fund Drives To Begin Soon

Finance campaigns to raise the $42,000 budget for the Buffalo Trail Council boy scouts will begin this month in several communities and districts, J. M. Waddell of Kermit, council finance chairman, announced today.

In commenting on the budget, Waddell expressed belief that scouting is needed now more than before. The cost of making the program available to the council's 3,600 cubs and scouts, he said, is considered small in comparison with the cost of juvenile delinquency and other detrimental factors easily accessible to youth.

The council services 15 counties, including Reeves, Ward, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Loving, Andrews, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Fisher, Kent and Stonewall.

Members of Waddell's committee are W. H. Shelley, Colorado City; M. D. Ivey, Rotam; W. O. Shafer, Odessa; J. E. Blakey, Snyder; Roy Carter, Kermit; C. R. Simmons, Sweetwater; Frank Myers, Pecos; Glen Ratliff, Monahans; Elmo Wasson, Big Spring; and C. H. Sheppard, Midland.

Court Order Ends Strike

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10 (AP)—A court order, stressing the public interest and welfare, brought a quick end today—at least temporarily—to a strike of electric power employees which had threatened paralysis of an 817-square mile area embracing 1,500,000 people.

The order forbade any activities which will imperil the lives, property, health and well being of the citizens.

Just as workers were beginning to leave their posts to take up picket stations, Judge Walter P. Smart handed down the order directing the independent association of employees of the Duquesne Light Co. to "rescind and recall any order declaring a strike."

The order, directed against the company as well as the union, ordered officers and directors of the utility "to enter into bona fide negotiations with the independent association and to work out a sound and permanent labor policy which will prevent the recurrence of disputes between them and their workers."

The city of Pittsburgh and its health director, Dr. I. Hope Alexander, petitioned a county common pleas court, for the injunction as business and industry was beginning to curtail operations in preparation for an emergency.

Texas Cotton Crop Smallest Since '89

AUSTIN, Sept. 10 (AP)—The smallest cotton harvest in Texas since 1889 was forecast today by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Making its Sept. 1 monthly cotton report, the USDA cotton reporting board cut its Aug. 1 forecast by 125,000 bales.

This would mean a cotton crop of 1,775,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. The crop last year was 1,794,000 bales.

Reasons for the reduction in prospective production of Texas cotton were the continued drought and excessive temperatures which prevailed throughout the state during most of August, said the report.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Cotton futures broke more than $5.00 a bale on a late wave of Commission House liquidation today influenced by the weakness in securities. The decline was accentuated by the touching off of stop-loss orders with considerable confusion in the final trading.

Futures closed $3.30 to $5.40 a bale lower.

Markets

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—The stock market today dived to a new low for the past 18 months as a late heavy selling wave hit all departments and toppled leaders 1 to 12 points.

The ticker tape was late three time during the session, once in the first hour when an attempt at recovery was made, again around noon as a burst of offerings flooded the exchange floor, and in the final half hour when accounts were dumped over a broad area.

Suicide Returned In Car Trunk

UTICA, N.Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Oneida county coroner Preston R. Clark last night recorded as suicide the death of Mrs. Dorothy McManus Downey, 28, of Schenectady. He said death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Mrs. Downey's body was found in the trunk compartment of her automobile near Otter Lake after police had searched nearly a week for her.

She was the wife of Joseph L. Downey, General Electric Company sales engineer, and the mother of a 10-month-old son.

Formal Hearing Set For Budget

Formal hearing on a budget for the 1946-1947 fiscal year prepared by City Manager B. J. McDaniel, will be held at the regular city commission meeting at 5:30 p.m. today.

Estimates on revenues and expenditures for the fiscal year have been based chiefly on past records, with occasional allowances made for variances apparent during the coming year, McDaniel said.

The estimated receipts show a total of $674,789.28 available for appropriation from the general fund with the new budget scheduled to require $655,302.

Interest and sinking fund total is estimated at $171,856.76, with $104,884 required to meet obligation to April 1.

Defeated Candidate Calls For Recount

HOUSTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—J. R. Davidson, defeated for sheriff of Harris county by 207-votes in the run-off primary, has filed civil suit asking that he be declared the successful candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Sheriff Neal Polk was declared Democratic nominee after a hotly contested race against the police captain whose name was placed on the ballot as the result of another civil action following the July primary in which the votes for sheriff in box 48, predominantly negro, were declared invalid.

This morning Juanita Plummer was granted a divorce and awarded custody of minor child in her suit against T. W. Plummer, and Robert Hines was granted a divorce in his suit against Marie Hines.

CALL FOR FLAX

DALLAS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Texas farmers are being asked to plant 120,000 acres of flaxseed in 1947 to help relieve a critical shortage of linseed oil, the production and marketing administration of the department of agriculture has announced. The tentative national goal is 4,000,000 acres.
