Sarpalius changes vote, bill passes 218-216

WASHINGTON (AP) - During his fourth telephone conversation of the day with President Clinton, Congressman Bill Sarpalius finally tipped his hand which way he'd vote on the deficit-reduction package Democrats were scrambling to pass.

Moments before the Texas Democrat strode to the House floor Thursday night to cast his ballot, Sarpalius told the president "he could put me in his corner."

"And he told me I was the call he was waiting on," Sarpalius recalled a few hours later.

"I felt very strongly that I cannot let this thing go down by one vote, that he at least deserves an opportunity to try to implement his plan," the Amarillo lawmaker said.

While Sarpalius wasn't among the last four Democrats who cast their ballots - and decided the outcome - his vote surely was crucial. The $496 billion deficit-reduction measure squeaked by 218-216 without a single Republican vote.

And it marked a change of direction for Sarpalius, who had voted against the original budget package when it first came up for consideration in May.

Sarpalius, who was visited in his office Thursday by Treasury

Secretary Lloyd Bentsen and Energy Secretary Hazel O'Leary, said a major factor in his switch was the expanded benefits for the working poor.

The expanded Earned Income Tax Credit will mean an additional $109 million for the 62,219 families in his Panhandle district that make less than $25,300 a year. A full 42 percent of all households in the 13th District will be eligible for the benefits, he said.

The EITC benefits also helped sway Corpus Christi Democrat Solomon Ortiz and San Antonio Democrat Frank Tejeda - whose districts could see $80 million and $85 million respectively.

"I would like to see people begin to buy cars, homes, (and) appliances and this is why I voted for this bill," said Ortiz. "We need to get our economy going again. We need to put people to work."

Sarpalius, Tejeda and Ortiz were among the 15 Texas Democrats who helped ram the economic program through the House. Six Texas Democrats were among the 41 nationwide who voted against the measure.

The House's 175 Republicans, including the nine from Texas, unanimously spurned a plan that would mean higher gasoline prices and more income taxes for the wealthy but also help for the working poor and incentives for small business.

"This plan is not a recipe for new jobs, more opportunities for our young people or more secure retirement for our parents," charged Lewisville Republican Dick Army. "It's a recipe for disaster."

While the GOP members marched in lock-step, there was much soul-searching for some Democrats.

Ortiz' indecision prompted conversations with Clinton, Bentsen, Defense Secretary Les Aspin, Navy Secretary John Dalton, and other administration officials.

Ortiz, whose district has a large military presence, said he requested no concessions but noted: "This is a very crucial vote, and all I know is Mr. Clinton will be naming the next base closure commission."

The dissenting Democrats said they couldn't endorse a package they considered too short on spending cuts and too long on tax increases.

"Before we ask Americans to pay higher taxes, Congress must prove it is willing to make major cuts in (See-HOUSE, Page 2)

Water main breach

Workers from the city Water Department scramble to repair a water main break that occurred late Thursday morning on Plains Avenue between Northwest Drive and Texas Avenue. Drilling in the area caused the breach, department officials said. It was repaired later in the day. The water hydrant was turned on to relieve pressure on the punctured line.

Hereford Bull

By Speedy Nieman

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says some people look as though they're very busy when, in fact, they're only confused.

The trouble with some people today is that they're educated beyond their intelligence.

President Clinton, making an appeal to pass his budget plan, says "it's our plan or no plan." Jay Leno, on The Tonight Show, says, "I don't know about the rest of you, but I'd like to try the 'no plan.'"

Rep. Larry Combest, who is our congressman from the 19th District, held a conference call with six newspaper editors yesterday to discuss President Clinton's economic package. We were on the line along with James Roberts of Andrews, Dave Fisher of Seminole, Lynn Brisendine of Brownfield, Bill Ellis of Friona, and Mary Dudley of Perryton.

Combest, who was against the proposal, knew it was going to be a close vote in the House and he thought it might squeak by. He said his office received more than 2,000 calls and letters on the issue, with opinion running about 20-1 against the plan. Most of those wanted Congress to cut spending first, then talk about taxes.

As Combest has noted before, a cut in spending for your family is much different than what a cut in spending means to a state or federal agency. To us, a cut in spending means you spend less this year than you did last year.

For bureaucrats, a spending cut means a cut in the increase proposed for next year. That's the way it works in the Clinton budget - just minor slashes in what agencies wanted for next year.

As Combest has pointed out before, the federal deficit could be solved in about four years if spending was kept at the present level. But, as one newspaper editor commented in the conference call, that's too simple for Congress to adopt.

Asked about some of the things congressmen are being promised to vote for the packages, Combest said it was "the ultimate in pork barrel politics." He said it also sends the message that you hold out on an issue until you see what you can get. "I think the administration is walking on thin ice when they do that."

The new school finance plan in which rich school districts share their wealth with poor districts is "a myth," according to Dr. Ed Flathouse, a recognized expert on school finance who headquarters out the Education Service Center in Lubbock.

We read, with interest, a report in The Slaton Slatonite of what Dr. Flathouse told Slaton school trustees in a recent meeting. What happens under the shared wealth plan, says Dr. Flathouse, "is that the sharing will go from the rich districts to the state and never be seen by the poor districts."

Under the new education reform law, virtually every school district in the state - property rich and property poor - will have to raise taxes to survive, he said. The result of the plan is that the legislature is avoiding raising state taxes to pay for education by dumping the tax-raising burden on local school boards.

On top of that, Flathouse said, the reform plan virtually demands that school districts like Slaton raise taxes this year and next year or run the risk of losing huge amounts of state funding following the 1994-95 school year.

It appears the new system is going to be in effect for two years before the courts finally rule on its constitutionality, he said

Man shoots courthouse guard, blows himself up

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) - A small-time drug dealer got off a courthouse elevator firing guns and tossing pipe bombs, then blew up himself up with explosives strapped to his body. A guard was killed and five others were wounded.

Jack Gary McKnight, 37, had been scheduled for sentencing later in the day and may have been bent on "suicide-by-cop" when he stormed the Frank Carlson federal building Thursday, FBI agent Brian Carroll said. McKnight was facing up to 40 years in prison and a $2 million fine.

Carrying two handguns, McKnight traveled up to the fourth floor by elevator. When the doors opened, he began firing and lobbing bombs that caused at least three explosions, the FBI said. Some employees escaped down stairs.

Jackie Williams, U.S. attorney for Kansas, said McKnight told an employee in the U.S. District Court clerk's office: "You're not the one I'm looking for."

McKnight killed 61-year-old guard Gene L. Goldsberry, shooting him at point-blank range, the FBI said. An employee of the U.S. marshal's office, Goldsberry had been a bodyguard for former Gov. George Dockett three decades ago.

The gunman also shot and wounded two others. Terry Morrow, 37, of Junction City was listed in fair condition today, while Dana Fanole's condition was not disclosed.

Workers evacuated from the building said they heard at least two dozen shots and possibly as many as 30.

About an hour after the rampage began, explosives strapped to McKnight's body went off, perhaps accidentally, in the clerk's office, Carroll said. Three women employees of the office were wounded by the blast.

The president vowed to keep the pressure on.

"I will continue to fight for this economic package with everything I have," Clinton said at the White House following the House vote. "And I urge the members of the Senate to act on it in a positive way."

Even with Kerrey's support, Vice President Al Gore's tie-breaking vote probably would be needed to squeak the measure through the Senate - just as it was with the first version of the legislation in June.

The bill, far and away Clinton's top legislative priority for the year, would raise taxes on the wealthy, business, motorists and some Social Security beneficiaries. It would slow the growth of Medicare and trim the Pentagon's budget.

Over five years, Democrats say it would shrink federal deficits by $496 billion. That would not eliminate the red ink, but it is designed to push the shortfall down to $213 billion by 1998.

The bill would:

-Raise income taxes on people earning more than about $140,000 for individuals, $180,000 for couples.

-Hit most members of the middle class with just one tax, the 4.3 cent boost in the 14.1 cent gasoline tax, costing the average driver less than $30 a year.

-Raise taxes on Social Security recipients making more than $34,000 a year for individuals, $44,000 for couples, affecting 13 percent of the program's beneficiaries.

-Boost taxes on the most profitable corporations, while extending tax breaks for research and some equipment purchases.

-Slow the growth of Medicare by $56 billion over five years by trimming reimbursements to hospitals and doctors.

-Increase tax breaks for the working poor, and provide extra money for food stamps, children's immunizations and family services.

-Promise reductions in defense and some domestic programs.

United Way to kick off campaign on Sept. 16

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

The United Way of Deaf Smith County will kick off its 1993 fundraising campaign on Sept. 16, the group's board told representatives of its fund-receiving agencies on Thursday.

Mike Hatley, president of the board, said the United Way will hold its kickoff at the regular Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast.

Hatley said no goal has been set for this year's campaign.

"We've always set $150,000 and we haven't made it yet," he said, adding that last year's collections amounted to $126,000.

Chairman of this year's campaign is Wes Klett, who was introduced to the agencies at the meeting.

Both Klett and Hatley said the main concern of this year's campaign is the need for volunteers to go out and collect pledges.

"We need people to get out there and hit the bricks and work the cards," Hatley said, adding that, in previous years, the few volunteers who have helped have been sometimes reduced to dropping off pledge cards at businesses, then maybe or maybe not returning to pick them up.

This year, Hatley said, he would like to have one volunteer work no more than five cards, enabling each of them to have more contact with the potential donors.

The board members and agency representatives discussed the upcoming drive, with the board asking for help in making United Way presentations.

"When we go out to an organization," Hatley told the agencies, "if you go in there and you talk about how good a bunch of board of directors we have ... people are not going to look at us."

However, he said, the response is greater when people can see actual results from their United Way giving.

Hatley also strongly encouraged the agencies to have a United Way representative attend a board meeting in the near future to speak to the agency about United Way and United Way giving.

Hard at work

Members of the Hereford High School drill team work on a new dance routine using hoops of brightly colored streamers. The girls have been meeting at the Hereford Community Center all week in preparation for the start of the school year and its related activities this month. Leslie Scroggins, a teacher and drill team director at Clovis, N.M., High School, is in town choreographing the dance routines and leading the girls on the pre-season workout. They will perform at Hereford High School football games during the season. Their sponsor is Ginger Wallace and the team manager for the second year is Audrey Tijerina.

World/Nation

WASHINGTON - The Senate prepares to decide the fate of President Clinton's economic plan after an all-out lobbying blitz by the administration and top Democrats ekes out a two-vote victory in the House. Senators are so evenly divided that the bill will rise or fall on the vote of Sen. Robert Kerrey, Clinton's one-time presidential rival.

WASHINGTON - Health care experts say businesses and people with private insurance would get stuck with the bill for most of the $56 billion in Medicare cuts in President Clinton's deficit reduction plan.

State

HOUSTON - At a Harris County Commissioners Court meeting this week, a minister offered a simple invocation - don't judge others unless you are free of sin yourself. The poignant prayer came in the midst of a burgeoning controversy surrounding Harris County Jon Lindsay, who has been accused of accepting more than $100,000 in bribes to reroute a county road.

WASHINGTON - During his fourth telephone conversation of the day with President Clinton, Congressman Bill Sarpalius finally tipped his hand which way he'd vote on the deficit-reduction package Democrats were scrambling to pass. Moments before the Texas Democrat strode to the House floor Thursday night to cast his ballot, Sarpalius told the president "he could put me in his corner."

AUSTIN - The chairman of the Board of Criminal Justice says voters could help to keep violent offenders imprisoned by favoring a $1 billion bond issue for a new state jail system.

spending," said Waco Democrat Chet Edwards.

He didn't oppose the plan lightly.

"I'm a big boy and this is a major vote and I would expect the president and the leadership will reward those who stayed with them on the vote," said Edwards, also courted by Clinton, Bentsen and Aspin.

Edwards was one of seven Texas Democrats who voted against the original budget package last May. Of the seven, two - Sarpalius and Charlie Wilson of Lufkin - endorsed the measure Thursday.

Wilson, whose East Texas district is home to a bevy of petrochemical manufacturers, was soothed when the unpopular BTU tax was replaced with a more modest 4.3 cent gasoline tax increase.

The gas tax, projected to cost the typical household $30 to $50 more a year, was one reason Sulphur Springs Democrat Jim Chapman voted against the plan. "I still have a problem with the regressivity of the gas tax and its unfair impact on specific places like my district," he said.

Joining Edwards and Chapman in opposition were Democrats Charles Stenholm of Stamford; Ralph Hall of Rockwall; Pete Geren of Fort Worth; and Greg Laughlin of West Columbia.

Stenholm, a leader of conservative Democrats, reluctantly voted for the package last time, but voiced his opposition when additional spending restraints weren't imposed.

Transportation snarled in Midwest

Moving products by any means disrupted in flood area

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) - Huge corporations, small-time fruit growers and just about every business in between are doing whatever they can to get their products around, across or through the Midwestern floodwaters.

The flood has snarled rail lines, stranded barges and cost millions of dollars because of transportation tie-ups.

"I'm a can-do fellow, and I try to overcome. But some things just can't be overcome," said Ronnie Weigel, a Calhoun County peach farmer.

The Association of American Railroads said it could cost $205 million to repair flood-damaged track, cars, engines and other equipment in the Midwest.

The Santa Fe Railroad is reporting delays of up to 48 hours on some tracks. A trip between Kansas City, Mo., and Chicago that normally would take about 10 hours now takes 20 because trains must travel slowly over soaked railbeds between Kansas City and Fort Madison, Iowa, spokeswoman Cathy Westphal said Thursday.

The Union Pacific Railroad, which had 1,700 miles of railroad either damaged or out of service, reported similar problems.

Dwayne Andreas, chairman and chief executive of Archer Daniels Midland Co., the nation's largest grain processor, said flood delays are costing him $1.5 million a day.

Most of his 2,000 barges on the Mississippi and Illinois rivers cannot move, and Andreas has been forced to ship by rail, which he said costs about 50 percent more. He doesn't expect the river to reopen to barges until about Sept. 1.

At the height of the flooding, he said, "to get from Decatur, Ill., to the West Coast, we had to go through the Dakotas." In some cases, he said, the company is using trucks, which are even more expensive than rail.

Trucking companies also are having a hard time. An Allied Van Lines driver who made a recent trip from Kansas City to Burlington, Iowa - normally a 279-mile journey - had to make an 180-mile detour.

Bridges up and down the Mississippi are closed. The only working bridge along a 200-mile stretch is only partially open, with a 5 mph speed limit.

Air transportation also is in trouble. Eighteen small airports in Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri and North Dakota are closed.

Creativity is crucial for peach farmers in Calhoun County, a long peninsula about 25 miles northwest of St. Louis, bordered by the Mississippi on the west and the Illinois River on the east. They're looking at a bumper crop of 100,000 bushels this season, and their only bridge across the Illinois was knocked out earlier this month.

Weigel and others have been trucking peaches about 120 miles over a rutted, gravel road to get to Jerseyville across the river, usually a 20-mile trip.

Roy Jacobs Jr. and his father are using a small, flat-bottom boat to ferry 50 bushels at a time across the water, several times a day.

It's a slow process that can add $2 to the cost of a bushel, the younger Jacobs said. They hired a commercial pilot, laid off from his regular job, to help them ferry their goods.

The Illinois Transportation Department said ferry service across the Illinois River may resume this weekend in Calhoun County for the first time in about a month.

Perhaps the most serious blow is that for the first time in many growers' memories, they're having to sell their crops wholesale because their customers won't come to them. Most of their business comes from roadside markets.

Teachers go to meeting

Hereford Independent School District teachers Linda Gonzalez, Suzan Schriber, Maria Garcia and Nan Conaway recently attended the Texas Classroom Teachers Association 1993 Leadership Conference.

The annual meeting was held July 30 and 31 in Austin.

Bob Horton, District 16 Coordinator, and Garcia, president of the local Hereford Classroom Teachers Association, are local association leaders.

While at the meeting, participants attended training sessions designed to help TCTA leaders refine the skills they need to represent their group.

Sessions included effective member representation, local public relations, a legislative update, teacher legal rights and responsibilities and a six-hour teacher training seminar on site-based decision making.

Top drill team

Officers of the Hereford High School drill team recently attended a state drill team officer's dance camp, where they took home a number of awards. They won all-star performers, superior ribbons for performances and evaluation, honor roll all-star performance, and a Grand Champion trophy. In addition, all four were named to the All-American Dance Team, which will perform on Jan. 1 during the Citrus Bowl in Florida. Cost for the girls and their sponsor to attend will be about $5,000. Shown with their award are, back, from left, Lori Coronado, first lieutenant; Ginger Wallace, sponsor; and Lexi Sciumbato, captain; and front, from left, Allison Farr, third lieutenant; and Brianna Reinauer, second lieutenant.

Pantex deemed 'vital' to Amarillo economy

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - The Pantex nuclear weapons plant provides almost 12,000 jobs and $1 billion expenditures to the Amarillo-area economy, a study shows.

Economist Ray Perryman released his findings Tuesday.

"The numbers show that the plant is an absolutely vital component of the Amarillo region," Perryman said. "If the government were to shut down Pantex today, the news would be bleak."

Pantex, located 17 miles northeast of Amarillo, is the nation's primary site for dismantling nuclear weapons. Post-cold war shuffling by the Department of Energy could mean expansion or closure for the facility.

If Pantex were to be closed, Perryman said, Amarillo would lose 11,688 jobs, 27,000 residents, $1 billion in annual spending and $9 million in local taxes.

But Pantex expansion could mean 5,312 new jobs with $106.1 million in additional wages, he said.

Hot peppers may produce new business

DIMITT--Hot peppers may be spicing up the economic picture for Dimmitt soon, according to an article in The Castro County News Thursday.

Dr. Leon K. Shephard of Roswell, N.M., spoke with the Dimmitt City Council recently about establishing a hot pepper industry in Dimmitt. Shephard's company, Dr. Pastor's, Inc., will process hot peppers to extract the chemical agent capsaicin (pronounced kap-SAY-ch-sin). It is used by pharmaceutical firms to manufacture creams used for the relief of arthritis and/or painful skin conditions, such as shingles.

Shephard said the process involves grinding the peppers to extract the juice from which the capsaicin is distilled. He said the pulp of the pepper could then be sold to producers of salsa, resulting in a no-waste process.

Shephard told the council that the current main source for capsaicin is Hong Kong, and the ingredient is costly. He says he has developed an inexpensive process to extract the chemical.

Council members voted to proceed with working out a business agreement with Shephard. A preliminary plan shows the city would need to supply $105,000 of financing and property, which would be matched by Shephard and his partners.

Sunday, Aug. 8, is the Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time. The parish will welcome the Frerich family reunion to the 9 a.m. liturgy.

Flowers for the altar this weekend are the gift of Gerald Banner in memory of his wife, Mony, and in thanksgiving to all members of the Banner family.

The youth will be leaving at 7 a.m. Wednesday from the San Jose Church parking lot.

Helpers are needed to prepare goodie bags all day Monday, Aug. 9, to serve at a supper Aug. 12 and at a breakfast at 6:30 a.m. Aug. 13 in Amarillo to the 2,400 young pilgrims on their way to Denver to see the Pope. Call 364-6150 if you can assist.

The Eucharistic Minister's schedules for August and September are available at the back of the church.

DAWN BAPTIST CHURCH

The church extends a warm welcome to all visitors at attend church services.

The Bible study begins at 9:50 a.m. each Sunday and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

The Sunday morning message by Pastor Lonny D. Poe is titled "The Depth of God's Love" taken from Romans 9:1-5.

The Wednesday evening Bible study and prayer meeting will be held in the fellowship hall at 8.

The church invites you to a concert at 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 15, in the sanctuary. Teri and Bobby Price, singer songwriter's from Nashville, Tn., will be the featured artists. They have written songs for Christian artists including Michael James Murphy, Paul Smith and Stephanie Boosada. There is no cost for the concert. A free-will love offering will be taken.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

Our Sunday school and worship service is open to anyone looking for a church home.

Sunday school and Bible study is held from 9:30-10:15 a.m. Sunday school is taught by Tammy Hyer and Carolyn Baxter teaches the junior and senior high school students. The Bible study is led by Doug Manning.

The worship service, also led by Manning, is held from 10:30-11:15 a.m.

We have nursery facilities available under the direction of Vida Cash.

The free taxi service is available upon request by calling 364-0359.

SUMMERFIELD BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to attend all services at the church located eight miles southwest of Hereford on Hwy. 60.

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. The Wednesday evening worship service starts at 7.

Ellis Parson serves as pastor. For additional information call 357-2535.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Pastor H. Wyatt Bartlett and the church congregation at Temple Baptist Church, 700 Ave. K., invite everyone to come worship with them this Sunday.

Sunday school and Bible study begin at 9:45 a.m. followed by the morning worship at 11. The evening worship is at 7. The pastor will be preaching at both services.

Baptist Women will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 10, at the church. All ladies are invited to attend this Bible study.

The mid-week prayer meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Also, Wednesday, a business meeting will be held and choir practice will begin at 7:45 p.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Matthew 14:22-23 is the scripture lesson on which Dr. James W. Cory has based his sermon for the Sunday morning worship service. The title of his sermon is "That Sinking Feeling."

Fellowship time precedes the 10:30 a.m. worship service at 10:10 a.m. Come and meet with friends and enjoy a few refreshments.

The weeks of flooding in the Midwest will mean months of heartache for its victims. Homes must be rebuilt or repaired, and insurance will often be inadequate. Farmers face lost crops, many for the second year. Loss of pasture land and hay makes feeding their animals almost impossible. Many churches will be deeply affected by ravaged local economies.

We are asked to pray for the thousands of families and individuals left in need, their neighbors who are helping and the churches and their continued ministry in these flooded communities.

Those who wish to give money can do so through their local congregation or directly through Presbyterian World Service to Midwest U.S. River Floods, Account #9-200106, 100 Witherspoon St., Louisville, Ky. 40202-1496.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"The Grandeur of God" is the title of the sermon by the Rev. Charles A. Wilson on the Tenth Sunday after Pentecost. The Holy Eucharist is at 11 a.m. and there will be a coffee hour in the parish hall following the service.

Christian Education for children and youth is at 11 a.m. each Sunday using the "Living the Good News Curriculum" which is based on the appointed Bible readings for each Sunday in the church year.

The regular Wednesday public Service of Healing is at 7 p.m. with the Litany of Healing, the Laying-on-of-Hands with Holy Unction and Holy Communion. The lesser feast of St. Clare, Abbess at Assisi, will be observed. The Vestry of St. Thomas will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m.

SAN JOSE CATHOLIC CHURCH

It is time to start preparation for religious education. Registration for K through sixth grade religious education will be held on the third and fourth weekends, Aug. 14-15 and Aug. 21-22. The registration fee per child will be $5. The first class starts on Saturday, Sept. 11, from 10 a.m. until noon in the mission.

We have hired a teacher and an aide for our pre-school at San Jose. The teacher is Francis Martinez and the aide is Alejandra Diaz. Francis completed her degree in elementary education at West Texas A&M University last May. Her husband is Joel Martinez and they have a daughter, Candelaria. Alejandra Diaz works part time at the Deaf Smith County Library. She and her husband Manuel have a daughter, Michelle. We are very excited and thankful for the enthusiasm and commitment of these two gifted women. Also, a reminder to all parents of children registered in the pre-school program: there is a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 12, in the church.

The parish picnic will be held from 3-8 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 8, at Buffalo Lake. Everyone is invited to attend and is asked to bring a covered dish.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday will be pastor Ron Cook's last day. A farewell fellowship will be held in the church gym at approximately 7:30 p.m., following the evening worship service.

Members are urged to come and bring any friends who would like to bid farewell to the Rev. Cook and Sara, Graham, Claire and Marshall. Cake and punch will be served, and there will be a brief time for anyone who would like to share thoughts or memories.

The Golden Tones and the Adult Choir will join forces in the choir loft this Sunday morning. We are entering the final month of the Summer Recreation Program at Family Life Center. August schedules are available in the office.

The church has elected Marie Stringer, David Williams and Dan Hall on a committee to find and present to the church a candidate for interim pastor.

The Senior Adults who plan to attend the retreat at High Plains Assembly Aug. 26 should make reservations in the office. Cost is $6, including the meal and program. After the program, we will go to our cabin for fellowship and games.

PAUL AND T.J. OWEN

CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

The public is invited by the congregation to welcome new minister, Paul Owen, and his wife, T.J. The couple recently moved from Tulsa, Ok. with their two sons, Chris and Steven.

Bible study for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday and the morning worship service starts at 10:15. The Wednesday evening service begins at 7:30 with classes for all ages. For additional information, call 364-1606.

NFL pre-season goes all-out this weekend

By The Associated Press
NFL teams just want to stay healthy through the pre-season. Some haven't even managed to do so heading into their first exhibition games.

Houston, Kansas City, Denver, Tampa Bay and Cincinnati already are hobbled. Other teams that already have played a pre-season game, most notably Philadelphia and the Los Angeles Raiders, also have injury woes.

Exhibition action begins tonight with Miami at Atlanta. On Saturday, Buffalo faces Minnesota at Berlin; the New York Jets are at Pittsburgh; Denver is at Tampa Bay; the New York Giants go to Cincinnati; Houston plays New Orleans at San Antonio; Kansas City meets Green Bay at Milwaukee; Indianapolis visits Seattle; New England is at San Diego; and the Los Angeles Rams are at Phoenix.

On Sunday, Dallas plays Detroit at London; the Raiders take on San Francisco at Stanford, Calif.; and Chicago is at Philadelphia. The weekend's action ends Monday night, with Cleveland at Washington.

Chiefs
Fullback Christian Okoye, who required arthroscopic surgery during the winter on his right knee, was sent back to Kansas City on Thursday for closer examination of his sore left knee.

Okoye was held out of practice for about a week after complaining of soreness in the knee. He felt strong enough to return to practice Tuesday, but was sore again after that workout. He was sidelined for Wednesday's two workouts, then the Chiefs decided to have him return to Kansas City to meet with team physician Dr. Jon Browne.

Chargers
Quarterback Stan Humphries, who helped lead the Chargers to their first playoff appearance in a decade after an 0-4 start, on Thursday signed a new four-year contract worth $12.35 million. The remaining year on Humphries' current contract, which would have paid him $725,000 plus incentives, was torn up.

Jets
Linebacker Marvin Jones, selected fourth overall in this year's draft, agreed to a five-year contract worth about $5.9 million. Jones, from Florida State, got a $3 million signing bonus, the highest ever for a No. 4 draft choice, according to his agent, Drew Rosenhaus. He also got incentives that could push the total value up to $6.5 million.

Buccaneers
Running back Reggie Cobb, nursing a hamstring injury, will be held out of the game with Denver as a precaution. An assortment of minor injuries also may keep offensive linemen Tim Ryan and Rick Trumbull, receivers Lamar Thomas and Walter Wilson and tight end Todd Harrison on the bench.

Broncos
Denver expects to be without receiver Vance Johnson, cornerback LeLo Lang and linebacker Karl Mecklenburg. Johnson has an ankle injury, Lang has bruised ribs and Mecklenburg has an inner-ear problem that will sideline him for the rest of the pre-season.

Raiders
Coach Art Shell is uncertain whether defensive end Greg Townsend, linebacker Winston Moss or guard Steve Wisniewski will be available for the game against the 49ers.

Townsend is bothered by a sore knee sustained when the Raiders practiced against the Dallas Cowboys last week. He played in the Hall of Fame Game, however.

Moss had offseason knee surgery, and the Raiders are giving him time off in practice. Wisniewski was held out Thursday with a sore back.

Eagles
Safety Andre Waters will miss at least three weeks of practice after undergoing surgery to remove a toenail from his left foot.

Bengals
Running back Derrick Fenner is expected to be ready for the Giants after missing practice Wednesday because of a sore toe. But right cornerback Sheldon White has a hamstring pull and could be replaced by Ron Jones.

Steelers
Barry Foster, who led the AFC with 1,690 rushing yards in 1992, returned to the Steelers on Thursday after missing 20 days of practice in a pay dispute, which could cost him $80,000.

Redskins

Ricky Ervins, the only holdout for Washington, reported Thursday after agreeing to a one-year contract.

Ervins sought a salary of $2.5 million after making $215,000 plus incentives in 1992. The running back reduced his demand to $600,000 last week, but the Redskins would not budge above $450,000.

The contract is loaded with performance incentives.

English fans remember Lett's fumble

By STEPHEN WILSON
AP Sports Writer

LONDON (AP) - Even in England, people will not allow Leon Lett to forget his Super Bowl blunder. Lett is in London with the Dallas Cowboys to play the Detroit Lions in an "American Bowl" pre-season game at Wembley Stadium on Sunday.

British fans who watched the Super Bowl on TV saw Lett scoop up a fumble in the fourth quarter of the Cowboys' rout of the Buffalo Bills. The 6-foot-6, 292-pound defensive lineman was running for an apparent touchdown when he held out the ball in a hot-dog move, allowing Buffalo's Don Beebe to knock it away at the goal line.

"I didn't think they knew much about football over here," Lett said Thursday before a practice session at Crystal Palace sports center. "But one guy came up to me and said, 'try not to drop any balls.'"

Lett has heard about the play over and over in the United States, but he wasn't expecting another reminder from the Brits.

"It's kind of amazing, isn't it?" Lett said. "I just had to laugh."

Laughing is one way Lett can put the play behind him.

"It's over with," he said. "I can kind of forget about it. But on the field, if I see a fumble I'm not going to think about picking it up or scoring."

Lett's main concern Thursday was trying to get over jet-lag after the long trans-Atlantic flight.

"I'm still trying to get my legs back," he said. "I need to catch up on my rest."

But he was happy to be in London, away from the drudge of training camp.

"I like the weather," Lett said. "It's nice and cool. I don't really miss Austin, yet. I want to see Big Ben and London Bridge."

Sightseeing was also on the mind of Detroit linebacker Pat Swilling, acquired in the off-season from the New Orleans Saints.

"It's exciting being here," he said. "A lot of history. It gets a little tiresome during training camp. My wife and I are going to see some sites, the palace, see the city and what is has to offer."

Detroit running back Barry Sanders is treating the London trip as more of a vacation. "At home we have two-a-days, so it's nice to be here and practice just once," he said. "We started early this year and it's good to get a little break. Most training camps are longer than needed. It doesn't hurt to take a week off and take a trip to London."

Oilers put Bowden into Marshall's spot

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Joe Bowden may be taking over for injured outside linebacker Wilber Marshall, but he isn't ready to ask for his number back.

Bowden gave jersey number 58 to Marshall when he was acquired from the Washington Redskins.

"I just hope Wilber gets back quick so I can learn from him," Bowden said after it was announced

Marshall would undergo arthroscopic surgery today to repair torn cartilage in his left knee.

Marshall, who will earn $2.75 million this season, was injured July 30.

"I thought I would sit back with my notebook and learn from him," Bowden said. "I told him I should be mad at him because now I guess I'll have to carry my notebook out on the field."

Defensive coordinator Buddy

Ryan said there would be no alignment changes because of the personnel adjustments.

"It doesn't matter," Ryan said. "It doesn't change anything at all. Joe Bowden is a good football player. He was kind of questionable at the first mini-camp but at the second he pushed himself to a higher level."

Coach Jack Pardee said Marshall's absence would allow other linebackers to get more work in Saturday's pre-season game against the New Orleans Saints, especially second-round draft pick Micheal Barrow.

"This is going to help him come along quicker," Pardee said. "We still have some good athletes at the position."

Dudley's Blazer deal may be bad

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - The NBA's rules notwithstanding, Chris Dudley seems confident he will play for the Portland Trail Blazers.

League commissioner David Stern voided the 6-foot-11 center's contract with the Blazers on Thursday, calling it "a blatant and transparent attempt to circumvent the fundamental principles" of the NBA's salary cap.

The Trail Blazers didn't respond to the harsh words that came out of the NBA's headquarters, but promised a statement later.

Dudley said the action did not surprise him and expressed confidence that another deal could be worked out if the contract isn't restored.

"There's some options, but I don't know if I'm really supposed to say what's going to happen then," he said.

Stern said the NBA will take the matter to Special Master Merrell Clark in New York. If Clark rules against the Trail Blazers, the team could be fined up to $1 million and forfeit draft choices.

"If contracts such as Dudley's are permitted, the salary cap will ultimately be rendered meaningless," Stern said.

The hearing before Clark already

JOIN DEAF SMITH GENERAL HOSPITAL IN WELCOMING Dr. Kent R. Walker

- * Bachelor of Science degree in Zoology, Idaho State University in Pocatello, Idaho
- * Doctor of Osteopathy degree, University of Osteopathic Medicine and Health Sciences, Des Moines, Iowa
- * Internship, Michigan Medical Center
- * Orthopedics residency program, William Beaumont Army Medical Center at Ft. Bliss, TX.

Dr. Walker began seeing patients in Hereford August 2. His training and background include extensive experience in family practice (including OB), emergency medicine, sports medicine, and industrial/occupational health.

A native of Idaho where he garnered honors as an "all-state" football player, Dr. Walker began his training in the United States Army where he first trained as a basic medical specialist. He continued taking specialized medical training, including a three-year stint on the European campus of the University of Maryland in Frankfurt, West Germany, where he completed an associates degree in pre-med studies, before going on for his advanced degrees.

As a physician in the Army, Dr. Walker was able to practice sports medicine, industrial medicine, and family practice. He dealt with the types of injuries soldiers in training might receive and healed injuries from accidents on the job, such as might occur in civilian life. His practice also included caring for the soldiers' dependents, so he delivered babies, cared for newborns and young children, and doctored the whole range of illnesses a family might encounter.

He and his wife Janet have eight children, five of whom live with them.

A day after Nolan Ryan beat up Robin Ventura, the Texas Rangers again beat the Chicago White Sox. Ivan Rodriguez hit a tiebreaking two-run double and drove in four runs, leading the Rangers past Chicago 7-1 Thursday night. Texas took three of four in the series at Arlington Stadium and closed within 4 1/2 games of the AL West-leaders.

On Wednesday night, Ryan revved up the Rangers by punching out Ventura after being charged on the mound. On Thursday night, Texas used its bats to ruin Tim Belcher's AL debut.

"Nolan was uplifting," Rangers manager Kevin Kennedy said. "After the incident, no one was going to stop him. He picked up the whole team."

"We had to beat the team ahead of us," Kennedy said. "We could have been an ugly 10 1/2 games back. Instead we're only 4 1/2 out. This is a big series, but there's a long way to go."

Belcher (0-1) gave up four runs on seven hits in seven innings. He was 9-6 for the Cincinnati Reds before they traded him on July 31 for two minor league pitchers.

The White Sox got Belcher to fill in the shaky fifth spot in their rotation. With his loss, Chicago's No. 5 starters are 4-18.

Kevin Brown (9-7) struck out eight in 7 2-3 innings. Cris Carpenter, acquired last month in a trade with Florida, got his first AL save.

Rodriguez, 15-for-26 in his last nine games, put Texas ahead 3-1 with a two-run double in the sixth. Donald Harris hit a solo homer in the seventh, and he and Rodriguez had RBI singles in the eighth.

Orioles 3, Brewers 1

Ben McDonald won his fifth straight start at Camden Yards and Baltimore finished off a four-game sweep.

Mike Devereaux drove in two runs for the Orioles.

McDonald (9-9) gave up eight hits, walked none and struck out four.

Rookie Rafael Novoa (0-1) gave up seven hits in his first complete game in the majors. Devereaux hit an RBI double in the first inning and singled home the go-ahead run in the fifth.

Yankees 5, Blue Jays 4

Paul O'Neill homered in the sixth inning to tie the score, then had an RBI grounder in the seventh.

A crowd of 52,493, the largest since opening day at Yankee Stadium, saw New York beat the Blue Jays for the second straight day.

Jimmy Key (13-4) defeated his former team, giving up six hits and walking one. He struck out seven.

A bases-loaded triple by Tony Fernandez put Toronto ahead 4-3 in the sixth. O'Neill hit his 15th home run in the bottom half, and beat out a potential double-play relay in the seventh against Al Leiter (6-6).

Red Sox 2, Twins 1

Frank Viola won at the Metrodome for the first time as a visitor.

Viola (7-8) is 2-1 against Minnesota since the Twins traded him to the New York Mets in 1989. He gave up four singles in seven innings, and Jeff Russell worked the ninth for his 30th save.

Angels 5, Royals 4

Chili Davis homered and drove in four runs, leading California over visiting Kansas City.

Davis hit a three-run shot, his 16th, in the second inning and singled home a run in the seventh.

Rookie Hilly Hathaway (3-1) defeated the Royals for the second time this year. Mike Butcher gave up a three-run homer to Greg Gagne, and Steve Frey got five outs for his 11th save. Tom Gordon (6-3) was the loser.

Mariners 3, Athletics 2

Dave Fleming won his seventh straight decision and Norm Charlton earned a save in his first appearance since coming off the disabled list as Seattle won at Oakland.

Fleming (7-1) allowed two runs on six hits in seven innings. He set career highs with eight strikeouts and six walks.

Charlton, who went on the disabled list July 21 because of an elbow problem, pitched the ninth for his 18th save.

An error by first baseman Terry

Steinbach set up Bret Boone's tiebreaking double in the seventh inning off Bobby Witt (8-10).

Indians 8, Tigers 4

Wayne Kirby, hitting leadoff because of an injury to Kenny Lofton, had a bases-loaded triple that sent Cleveland past Detroit.

The Tigers have lost four of five overall and two of three at Cleveland. Lofton strained cartilage in his rib cage Wednesday, and is listed as day-to-day. Kirby's triple keyed a six-run second inning and Paul Sorrento later hit a two-run homer.

Rookie Tom Kramer (5-2) won. John Doherty (9-7) left after Kirby's triple.

Braves lose more ground to Giants

By CHRIS SHERIDAN
AP Sports Writer

Only 17 days (maybe) until the NL West divisional race heats up.

There hasn't been much pennant race excitement in the Senior Circuit this summer, especially in the West. The San Francisco Giants have been in first place since May 11, and their lead hasn't dipped below six games since June 11.

In the East, the Philadelphia Phillies have been in first since Opening Day and their lead hasn't been less than three games since April 27.

The Giants and the second-place Atlanta Braves still have six games remaining against each other - three at Candlestick Park on Aug. 23-25, three at Fulton County Stadium from Aug. 31 to Sept. 2.

Until then, the Braves will have to keep trying to whittle away the Giants' lead. They didn't have any luck Thursday night, losing 10-4 to the Philadelphia Phillies a few hours after the Giants beat the San Diego Padres 5-3.

San Francisco's lead now stands at 8 1/2 games.

"It's very frustrating. They're playing at a good clip and we're playing at a good clip," Atlanta's Sid Bream said. "When you play well and can't gain, it is a difficult feeling."

Giants manager Dusty Baker attributes the Giants' big lead to their resiliency. Their win Thursday followed a disappointing 11-10 loss in 12 innings on Wednesday night.

"I don't think we've lost after a tough loss. We just keep bouncing back."

"I think it's the makeup of the ballclub," first baseman Will Clark said. "We've got a lot of guys in here who want to win, a lot of guys who aren't content with losing, who are basically (mad) about games like (Wednesday) night."

Atlanta took a 4-0 lead in the first inning against the Phillies, but three errors in two innings led to four unearned runs and a 4-4 tie. The Phillies went ahead for good in the fifth when Dave Hollins singled home Len Dykstra.

Todd Pratt added a two-run double in the seventh inning and Hollins had a three-run double in the eighth. The Phillies finished with 10 hits off five Atlanta pitchers.

Ben Rivera (10-6) ended a three-game losing streak. He gave up eight hits, walked five and struck out two in 7 2-3 innings. Greg Maddux (12-9) took the loss.

In other games, St. Louis beat Florida 16-6, New York topped Montreal 12-9 in 13 innings, Los Angeles downed Houston 5-2, Cincinnati beat Colorado 11-4 and Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 5-2.

Giants 5, Padres 3

At San Diego, Clark homered twice and Bill Swift (16-5) tied teammate John Burkett for the NL lead in wins. Dave Martinez and Matt Williams also homered for San Francisco.

Tony Gwynn hit a two-run homer to right in the fourth.

Andy Ashby (0-6), one of three players acquired from Colorado for pitchers Bruce Hurst and Greg Harris, allowed five runs in seven innings.

Cardinals 16, Marlins 6

At St. Louis, Rene Arocha pitched the first complete game of his career and was supported by a season-high 19-hit barrage.

Brian Jordan had four hits and Tom Pagnozzi, Todd Zeile and Bernard Gilkey each had three.

Mets 12, Expos 9

At Montreal, the Expos rallied from a 9-1 deficit and tied the game 9-all, but the Mets rallied in the 13th against John Wetteland (7-2).

Dodgers 5, Astros 2

At Houston, Los Angeles got its second straight victory at the Astrodome after 11 consecutive defeats.

Pedro Astacio (8-6) got the win, and Doug Drabek (7-13) lost his fifth straight decision.

Reds 11, Rockies 4

The longest losing streak of the season belongs to Colorado. The Rockies made it 11 defeats in a row as they got hammered at Cincinnati.

Pirates 5, Cubs 2

Orlando Merced drove in a pair of runs and Randy Tomlin allowed five hits in eight innings as Pittsburgh won its third straight at Chicago.

with Mel Phillips

Regular readers of this column will recall the frustration and aggravation I had last year concerning my first pair of glasses--bifocals. After several difficult months of getting used to glasses, I can comfortably read all the small print and tie on even the smallest trout fly. Fishing, hunting or just reading the newspaper, my bifocals go where I go.

At the 1993 S.H.O.T. Show, a national hunting trade show, Bob Walker explained that most avid hunters suffer significant hearing damage. Upon learning that I was also a former Navy pilot, a group notorious for delayed hearing loss, he insisted that I try out his Walker's Game Ear.

Rattling up whitetailed deer is one of my favorite ways to hunt the "muy grande" bucks that stalk our South Texas deer lease. In recent years I have noticed that I see them before I hear them.

Wearing the Game Ear, I can now hear the meadowlarks singing over in the next county. Fair warning is given to all big bucks: with my new Walker's Game Ear and my new glasses, "Bionic Mel" is ready for opening day of deer season.

For information about the remarkable Walker's Game Ear, call (214) 565-8952, or write to P.O. Box 1069; Media, Penn. 19063.

Texas Big Buck Challenge--A new and exciting guaranteed $50,000 big buck contest comes to Texas. This series of eight weekly contests is divided into three hunting categories by area: Region I is South Texas; Region II is the rest of Texas; and Region III is high fence areas statewide. There will be three classifications of hunters: male, female and juvenile.

The entry fee is only $10, and each entrant receives a Sportsman Coupon Book valued at more than $1,000, and while supply lasts, a free multipurpose knife or a pair of shooting glasses. This could be the year that you finally shoot that trophy buck, and the additional prize money could pay for next year's lease, or buy something special for your favorite hunting/fishing widow.

The Texas Big Buck Challenge will be just one of the outdoor attractions at the Hunt '93 Sportsman Show at the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo Aug. 28-29.

Friday night before Hunt '93, the Friends of the NRA will have a fundraising dinner at the newly remodeled Radisson Hotel. Tickets are only $30 per individual or $50 per couple. To support the NRA and your right to keep and bear arms, call me at 353-3654 for tickets and more information. Bonus: A ticket stub from this dinner will get you into the two-day Hunt '93 show at no cost.

Mel Phillips, winner of numerous awards for journalism and broadcasting, is an active member of the Texas Outdoor Writers Association. He is an avid hunter, tournament fisherman and host of a Wednesday evening outdoors show on KGNC TalkRadio 71.

Hall of Fame outfielder Reggie Jackson hit 563 home runs in 21 major league seasons. Seattle, Cincinnati, California, Oakland, and the New York Mets all wore new style uniforms in 1993.

DUDLEY

had been set to hear arguments on two other deals with 1-year escape clauses, signed by Toni Kukoc with Chicago and Craig Ehlo with Atlanta.

In those cases, the league held up the contracts pending the outcome of the hearing. In the Dudley case, the NBA rejected the deal outright.

"We think they all involve circumvention and also are technical violations of the collective bargaining agreement," NBA deputy commissioner Russ Granik said. "But this one was just so transparent that we didn't see any point doing anything other than disapproving it immediately."

The NBA Players Association will argue that the contract is valid.

The hearing is set for Aug. 16, but Granik said that session probably would be only for procedural matters. The decision won't come until later, he said.

The contract gave Dudley $800,000 for the first year of a seven-year deal, with the salary totaling $11 million over the life of the pact. But it gave him the option of becoming a free agent after one season.

If he backed out of the deal, the Blazers could offer him much more money next year because NBA rules allow a team to exceed the salary restrictions to retain a free agent. The Blazers reportedly are $7 million over the cap.

Dudley turned down an offer from his old team, the New Jersey Nets, that totaled $21 million over seven years with a first-year salary of about $2.8 million.

"This is an attempt to put at $2 1/2 million player into an $800,000 slot," Granik said.

When the contract was signed, Geoff Petrie, the Blazers' senior vice president for operations, said he felt it should be upheld because there is no real difference between a 1-year and 2-year clause.

Survey shows men's level of concern about good nutrition is on the rise

Men's level of concern about nutrition continues to increase, according to results of The American Dietetic Association's (ADA) third annual men's nutrition survey.

The majority of men surveyed (83 percent) say they are concerned about nutrition. Of those, 32 percent say they are "extremely" concerned, an increase of five percent from 1992 and seven percent from 1991.

Health maintenance/disease prevention was cited as the top reason for eating right by 40 percent of respondents in the nationally projectable study, conducted among men age 18 and older. This is a change from 1992 when men's interest in the health implications of eating right dropped with only 35 percent saying they eat right to stay healthy. In 1991, 44 percent said health maintenance/disease prevention was most important.

Among men age 65 and older, the majority (57 percent) say health maintenance/disease prevention is the most important reason to eat right as do the majority of men age 35-49 (54 percent).

Surprisingly, 94 percent of men age 18-24 say they are concerned about disease prevention. But, when asked why they eat right, they rank physical fitness (46 percent) above health maintenance/disease prevention (19 percent).

Among all age groups, interest in physical fitness has remained consistent with data from the two prior surveys. This year, 24 percent of men surveyed say physical fitness is the most important reason to eat right. In 1992, 28 percent cited physical fitness and in 1991 that number was 20 percent. The other main reason for eating right - weight control - was cited by 14 percent of all respondents, not a significant change from 13 percent last year and 12 percent in 1991. However, 26 percent of men age 50-64, more than any other age group in the survey, say it is the primary reason for healthier eating habits.

"The focus on health maintenance/disease prevention among men of all ages is good news," said ADA President Susan Calvert Finn, PhD, RD (registered dietitian). "Diet has always influenced health. Now, we are actually seeing men take steps toward improving their nutritional well-being."

Not only are men concerned about good health and healthy eating, they are taking a more active role in the supermarket and kitchen.

Two-thirds of all men (65 percent) say they make at least half or more of the food buying decisions in their households, a 12 percent jump from last year. Thirty percent say they are responsible for most or all of their household cooking, no change from 1992.

What types of food are men eating? More than one-third (39 percent) of all men questioned say they are eating more vegetables, especially salads, greens and broccoli. Among men "concerned about nutrition," that number jumps to 44 percent.

Almost half (45 percent) of all men surveyed report they ate less meat, especially red meat and pork, during the past year. And 18 percent say they've cut back on snacking, fast food and restaurant dining.

Over all, when asked if they decreased consumption of a particular food, men identified specific foods or categories of food (i.e. meat, dairy products) twice as often as they reported increasing consumption of foods (i.e. vegetables, fruit, whole grains).

"Once again, we see more men cutting back on foods they believe are not part of a healthy diet," Finn said. "All foods can fit into a healthy diet and men should not eliminate entire categories of food. Balance, variety and moderation is the key."

Men's interest in food labels remained about the same since 1992, with four out of 10 (39 percent) saying they read labels most or all of the time. Half the respondents (49 percent) say they read food labels some of the time or occasionally.

More than half (53 percent) of those who read labels cite "amount and type of fat" as the most important items on food labels. "Calories" is mentioned least often (by only 22 percent of the respondents) as the most important item, even among the weight watching 50-64 age group.

"Even though the majority of men understand that nutrition is important to health, many people, both men and women, still aren't doing everything they could to improve their eating habits," Finn said.

TO help men learn about eating right, a special pre-recorded message is featured throughout June on the Consumer Nutrition Hot Line of ADA's National Center for Nutrition and Dietetics (NCND). The brochure "Food Strategies for Men" is available free to hot line callers.

The hot line (1-800-366-1655) operates year-round and features other recorded messages.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a new American car. The windows are from Mexico. The automatic transmission is Japanese. The coolant overflow tank and apparatus are made in France.

I recently bought a beautiful glass-fronted stereo cabinet-made in Yugoslavia. The hardware to assemble it is from West Germany. Since American manufacturers can't make it here, they just farm it out and import it -- that's the battle cry of today's business. If you can't beat 'em, join 'em.

The entire focus is on cost these days. The whole idea is to get the costs down. Import it if it's cheaper. Lower costs mean greater profits. Greater profits mean bigger bonuses for top management. Meanwhile, the rich get richer.--Just Another Working Stiff in Fresno

DEAR FRESNO: I was unprepared for the avalanche of mail generated by the column urging my readers to "Buy American." I learned a lot about the discontentment of many workers in this country as well as the negative feelings of management. Read on for a letter on a related subject:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from "Learning Spanish in

NEW YORK (AP) - The critics have shown no mercy toward Joe McGinniss' new book on Sen. Ted Kennedy. And readers are showing little interest.

Gigi Weinrich, head buyer for Oxford Books, the largest independent bookseller in the South, said sales of "The Last Brother" are "real bad."

Kim Becker of Barnes & Noble Inc., which has 1,200 stores, called the book's showing "lackluster." And Susie Russenberger of Ingram Book Co., a distributor in Nashville, Tenn., said sales are "not what we expected."

President Franklin D. Roosevelt was buried in 1945 at the Roosevelt family home in Hyde Park, N.Y.

Dayton" is right on the money. The work ethic in this country has gone south.

America is only as strong as its work force, and at this moment, the work force needs a shot in the arm.

Shame on people who work half-time for full pay--who have a "take this job and shove it" attitude. And shame on those who hire these people and allow them to stay on the payroll.--Indiana Woman

DEAR INDIANA: Your last two sentences say it all. And I say, amen, sister.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is in response to "Partied Out in Buffalo," the mother who complained that her young child was invited to too many birthday parties given by his classmates.

I am a kindergarten teacher, and I often see children bringing a handful of birthday-party invitations to school. Rarely do they have enough for every child in the class. Inevitably, several youngsters feel hurt.

Recently I send a notice home to the parents asking them NOT to send invitations to school unless they have enough for every child in my class. The parents don't see the sad faces of those children who don't receive invitations. Please print this.--A Teacher in Springfield, Mass.

DEAR TEACHER: Thanks for a letter that I'm sure opened a great many eyes today.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I are long-haul truck drivers. We have driven through 48 states and Canada for over 30 years. Most truck drivers are very safety-conscious because we know what 80,000 pounds of truck can do to a car. Here are some rules for automobile drivers:

Trucks cannot stop quickly after you've cut in front of us to get off at the exit you missed. Be aware of this.

Don't drive 10 feet behind a truck. If his tire blows, you'll eat the rubber.

Never pass us on the right side. It's dangerous for us both.

Don't speed on ice or snow. You have no control, and neither do we.

Yield when it says "yield" and look before you zoom out on the highway. Good manners can be a matter of life and death.--Fort Worth

DEAR FORT WORTH: You may have saved some lives today. Thank you. I love my readers

Notice is hereby given that original Letters of Administration for the Estate of ROSE LEE SALINAS were issued on August 4, 1993, in Cause No. 4046, pending in the County Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, to LORENA CONDARCO. The address of the Resident Agent is Deaf Smith County, Texas. The Post Office address is:
Larry L. Canada
REX W. EASTERWOOD, P.C.
P.O. Box 273
Hereford, Texas 79045
All persons having claims against this Estate which is currently being administered are required to present them within the time and in the manner prescribed by law.
DATED the 4th day of August, 1993.
By LARRY L. CANADA
Attorney For the Estate

In accordance with Section 152.905 of the Texas Local Government Code, a hearing will be held at 10:00 A.M. on August 19, 1993, in the 222nd District Courtroom in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse in Hereford, Texas to allow parties in interest and citizens an opportunity to be heard concerning the 1993-94 annual compensation to be paid to the Deaf Smith County Auditor, Assistant Auditor and the 222nd Judicial District Court Reporter.

The American flag is said to have been named Old Glory by William Driver, a sea captain of Salem, Mass. His daughter said he named it at his 21st birthday celebration in 1824, when his mother presented the homemade flag to him.

The female lion does over 90 percent of the hunting for the pride.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE FINDING OF THE BOOK OF LAWS!

IN THE EVENTFUL LIFE OF JOSIAH, KING OF JUDAH, ONE IMPORTANT EVENT HAD TO BE THE FINDING OF THE BOOK OF LAWS. EARLY IN HIS REIGN, JOSIAH BEGAN TO SUPPRESS THE IDOLATRY THAT WAS RAMPANT THROUGHOUT THE LAND. HAVING DONE SO, THE KING NEXT TOOK ENERGETIC STEPS TO REPAIR AND ADORN THE TEMPLE. SO ENTHUSIASTIC WAS HE THAT EVEN THE WORKMEN WERE MOVED TO GREATER AND MORE FERVENT EFFORT IN THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THIS HOLY EDIFICE (II CHRON. 34:12). WHILE THE REPAIRS OF THE TEMPLE WERE BEING EXECUTED, HILKIAH, THE HIGH PRIEST, FOUND THE BOOK OF THE LAW IN THE HOUSE OF THE LORD. THIS WAS SAID TO BE THE AUTOGRAPHED COPY OF THE LAW, WRITTEN BY THE HAND OF MOSES, WHICH HAD BEEN DEPOSITED BESIDE THE ARK OF THE COVENANT IN THE SANCTUARY. IT WAS HANDED OVER TO SHAPHAN, THE SCRIBE, WHO THEN READ IT TO THE KING. JOSIAH WAS DEEPLY IMPRESSED BY THE PROPHECIES THAT IF THE PEOPLE DEPARTED FROM GOD, DREADFUL CONSEQUENCES WOULD ENSUE. HE RENT HIS CLOTHES AND HUMBLED HIMSELF BEFORE GOD (II CHRON. 34:19). GOD WAS PLEASED TO GIVE HIM THE GRACIOUS ASSURANCE THAT THE THREATENED CALAMITY SHOULD NOT COME IN HIS TIME (II KINGS 22:8-20, II CHRON. 34:15-28).
