Chileans Plan For Future With Visit To This Area

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

The Chilean representatives of the electric cooperatives who have toured the Hereford area since late Wednesday afternoon, will leave today at noon with a record of "memorable sights, much knowledge and warm feelings" toward the people of the Plains — where they also learned that the climate could get warm too!

Guests of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, each voiced their appreciation in both English and Spanish for the "fine cooperation of the Hereford people."

The group included six men who are presidents of their electric coops board of directors in Chile, with their wives and an interpreter, Rogelio Micieza. The others were Mr. and Mrs. Elio Casanova, Mr. and Mrs. Jorge Lopez, Mr. and Mrs. Juan Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Heinrich and daughter Sonia, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Soler, Manuel Bustos, Mr. and Mrs. Reinoldo Munoz, and Carlos Icaza.

Micieza said, "We arrived in Hereford Wednesday afternoon, after Mr. and Mrs. Leo Forrest and Sam Morgan met us at the airport in Amarillo. That evening we had a picnic (steak fry) at the Community Center. Beautiful evening."

On Thursday, they toured Hereford feed lots where they saw the lighting and water tank warmers, then crops and irrigation. They were taken to electric sub-stations and saw a return water system demonstrated.

They were also taken to Friona, with a tour of Sloan Osborn's farm and the Hi-Plains Feed Lot.

Friday, they received a briefing on the area served by the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, with a tour of sub-stations, lines and equipment. They also observed a crew on a construction job.

They also toured the First National Bank in Hereford.

Afterward, there was a study of long-range financial plans through finance and engineering.

Also worked into the schedule was a visit to the Easley Feed Yards and a look at sturdy wheat.

Forrest, who hosted them, reported that they are here in the interests of both electrical co-operation and agriculture.

On Saturday, they were set to visit the Conkright ranch. "At the end of the day, Mr. Forrest and his wife invite the gentlemen to dinner (Thursday). On Friday, we had lunch at the Country Club," Micieza said.

"On Thursday and Friday, we saw the handling of animals around here, being given vitamin shots and being branded. All very interesting. And we drove around Hereford, saw the nicest parts of the city, all the lovely buildings. It is really nice here."

Others had comments — in rapid succession:

"It is a very, very great experience," Carlos Icaza responded, "to see all the things done in this area. But the electric cooperative is the greatest thing that has been done in this area."

But Juan Kemp said, "I am not going to refer simply to the electric cooperative. I want to point out the amazing impression given us of the community — the cattle, the roads, the houses — and especially the people of this community."

Jorge Lopez said, "We don't want to pass by the opportunity to express the cordiality and warmth of the people here, their See CHILEANS, Page 2

World Coming To An End? Pastors React To Question

By VICKIE INMAN
Staff Writer

Billy Graham reportedly predicted the end of the world last Sunday night during his four-day HemiFair Crusade in San Antonio.

Hereford ministers were contacted during the past week for their reactions either to his sermon or to newspaper reports of his sermon.

Out of several attempts to contact every Hereford minister, 15 were reached and only two would not comment. All agreed that Billy Graham was not setting a definite time or date for the end of the world. The majority think the world is in sadder shape than in times past and that the end of the world is imminent.

Respect for Billy Graham is unanimous. Father Bryan Ryan, St. Anthony's Catholic Church, had only two words for the Baptist evangelist, "Pretty tremendous."

The Rev. Fred Howard, St. Thomas Episcopal Church, said he disagreed with Billy Graham on many things, "but I admire him very much."

The Rev. Robert Williams, Wesley Methodist Church, termed Billy Graham one of the most dedicated and devoted evangelists the world has ever known.

The Rev. Al Baum, Greenwood Baptist Church, said, "I think Billy Graham preaches the gospel, but his associates are questionable."

"I think he is one of the greatest preachers and the greatest religious leader in the world, barring none," Herman Martinez, Thompson Memorial Mexican Baptist Mission, said.

The Rev. Eugene Brink, First Christian Church, thinks he is a great preacher who has reached many people, "but he hasn't found a way to relate individuals he reaches to churches in the communities where they live. He has worked hard at this, but he hasn't been able to do it."

Not one thought Graham was predicting the end of the world in five years.

"Billy Graham is too much of a Bible scholar to stick his neck out and set a date for the end of the world," the Rev. Howard said. "He is pointing up the fact that everybody is going to have his own end of the world eventually. I don't think anybody could disagree with that."

"I don't care about my death," the Rev. Howard said. "It doesn't bother me. I believe in a God great enough to take care of me after death, as long as I accept and respond to the love of God while I am alive, whether I have five minutes or five years."

"Quite certainly he didn't mean the end of the physical world or physical mankind," Father Ryan said. "Perhaps he meant the end of the world as we know it, the end of an era, such as a social revolution."

"I think perhaps the newspaper accounts are trying to put words in this man's mouth," Martinez said. "I grew up in San Antonio, and violence is an everyday thing there. Chicago has nothing on San Antonio."

"The life expectancy of the people in the alleys of San Antonio is about five years. From the age of 10 to 20 years, you walk real softly down the streets. These were the people Graham was talking to. He was saying we should be prepared right now."

Ronald Harpster, Avenue Baptist Church, thought Billy Graham was making two points.

"First, the world will come to an end according to God, and second, none of us know when death is coming."

Other men throughout history have predicted the end of the world. One in the 19th Century set the date as Oct. 22, 1844. "I don't think Billy Graham should be associated with these," Gene Fooks, Church of Christ, said.

"He is not saying he had a private revelation," Father John Broderick, St. Joseph's Mission, said. "I think he meant the end of the world will very well happen if we don't get smart and change our ways."

"I think he was saying we should live each day as if it was going to be the last one. Then you would have a pretty good live," Father Broderick See WORLD, Page 2

Problems, Progress Predicted For City

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

No question that the coming of Wilson and Company to Hereford will bring not only increased prosperity but will also bring an increase in area population — and possibilities of additional problems to the city, as it is now situated.

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager William T. Thompson reported that the Burt C. Blanton Company listed the population of Hereford as 13,393, as of December 31, 1967.

Through a projection of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Thompson estimated that Hereford would have "pretty close" to 1,000 additional people here when the Wilson plant is opened.

City Manager Dudley Bayne said he felt that the Wilson company installation would present "nothing serious in the way of problems. It will be normal growth, which Hereford has already become accustomed to. There will certainly be nothing that we can't take care of."

Both the city government and chamber officials, along with others, have worked long and hard to obtain the Wilson plant here.

But Thompson explained, "What is a problem to one person may be a blessing to others. Of course, there will be additional needs in streets, water, sewers, schools, etc. But the town doesn't stand still. Otherwise, the schools are empty and the property values are down."

The question is (to those who might be opposed to additional progress), would you rather live in a town that's dying on the vine?"

He said, "The big thing with Wilson coming — over the years, Hereford has had seasonal prosperity, feast or famine. Wilson will be the first industry here that will be consistent the year around."

However, he carefully pointed out that he had no intention of playing down any other industry located here. He indicated that the local feedlots as a whole would have a larger payroll, but as a single company Wilson would have the largest. He also excluded Holly Sugar, through their agricultural a-s. Theo ten Have

Dutch Boy To Be Exchange Student

Hendrickus Theodorus ten Have, 17, from Gelderland, Holland, will be the male half of the 1968-69 American Field Service exchange students, it was announced.

The Holland youth, who will be known as Theo ten Have, is scheduled to arrive in New York on August 12th via boat, and is to be here within a few days. He will stay with the Gerald McCathern family.

With his father owning a printing office and also giving lessons in type-writing and shorthand, he himself is an amateur photographer who does all of his own developing and printing. Among his other likes are hiking, traveling, fencing, and experimenting with tape-recordings.

Ten Have's mother is an everyday housewife who is also a member of a gymnastic club. He has a brother Henk, 21, who also works in his father's printing office. In addition to the immediate family, the Ten Have's are in charge of a seriously disabled girl.

On one occasion, he hitch-hiked with one of his best friends to Belgium and France and spent one of his summer vacations in London and Wales. He is also highly interested in his tory and geography, while his favorite sports are basketball and volleyball. He also enjoys working in scouts where he is a leader.

In regard to his reason for coming to the United States and plans for the future, he stated, "After my return from the United States, I hope to go to a Tropical Agriculture school; after this school I want to offer my services to an organization for help to an underdeveloped country. In coming to the United States I want to make acquaintance with all kinds of people and to learn to know them better, so that I can be open to all people and learn to respect them."

Keeping The Highways Safer For Public Is Main Objective Of Texas Highway Patrol

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

If you don't think that a highway patrolman does anything other than sitting around at the local cafe drinking coffee, maybe you had better stop and take a little closer look.

Statistics show that in one recent month, the local highway patrol division made 497 arrests, issued 647 warnings, checked 2,000 drivers licenses, investigated 50 accidents, stopped 240 speeders, covered 19 driving while intoxicated incidents, issued 75 citations for no drivers licenses, suspended six persons on safety responsibility, and then turned around and did countless hours of paper work. Maybe you had better take that other look and then form another opinion.

With the state of Texas divided into six field-command regions, there is a captain that has command over all field personnel within his region. In some cases, where the central office is located in a distant part of the region, another office is located elsewhere and the region is thus divided into sub-regions. Each district is then divided into sergeant areas which are comprised of several counties and is over-seen by a highway patrol sergeant.

Striving to make the highways a safer place for the public, the highway patrolman's main objective is to make sure that persons who leave an origin make it to their place of destination without incident or accident. This is done through the enforcement of state and national laws that were created to help citizens.

With the responsibility of one-twelfth of the states traffic problems resting on the local highway patrolman's shoulders, and one-fifth of this regions traffic problems also, they must make sure that the number of accidents and other violations do not increase and maybe to even help in the decrease of them.

Four state highway patrolmen are stationed in Hereford, along with 10 others who work in this area. The four that are in Hereford must cover Deaf Smith, Briscoe, and Castro counties. In doing so, during an average month, they register around 2,500 miles on each of the nine marked patrol cars.

The one primary responsibility of this region's highway patrol department is traffic investigation. Through this, they see what can be done to minimize the traffic fatality number that is ever increasing. Stressing that most people "take the death rate as an every-day thing like their morning coffee", one local officer feels that it is definitely time for the people to awaken to the fact that it is past time for something to be done about the situation. The officer used an example such as a number of persons dying of a disease and everyone getting into an uproar over it when they read it in the morning paper, then the smaller print stating the fact that the number of persons dying on the highways is increasing alarmingly, and the people think very little of it. "There are just as many, if not more, persons dying on Texas highways as there are those dying of different diseases and other causes", he explained.

What do highway patrolmen do, you ask? Simple, yet not so simple. They deal in traffic supervision primarily, and in doing so they must arrest the people they are working for every day. In this sense, it proves to be a very demanding job.

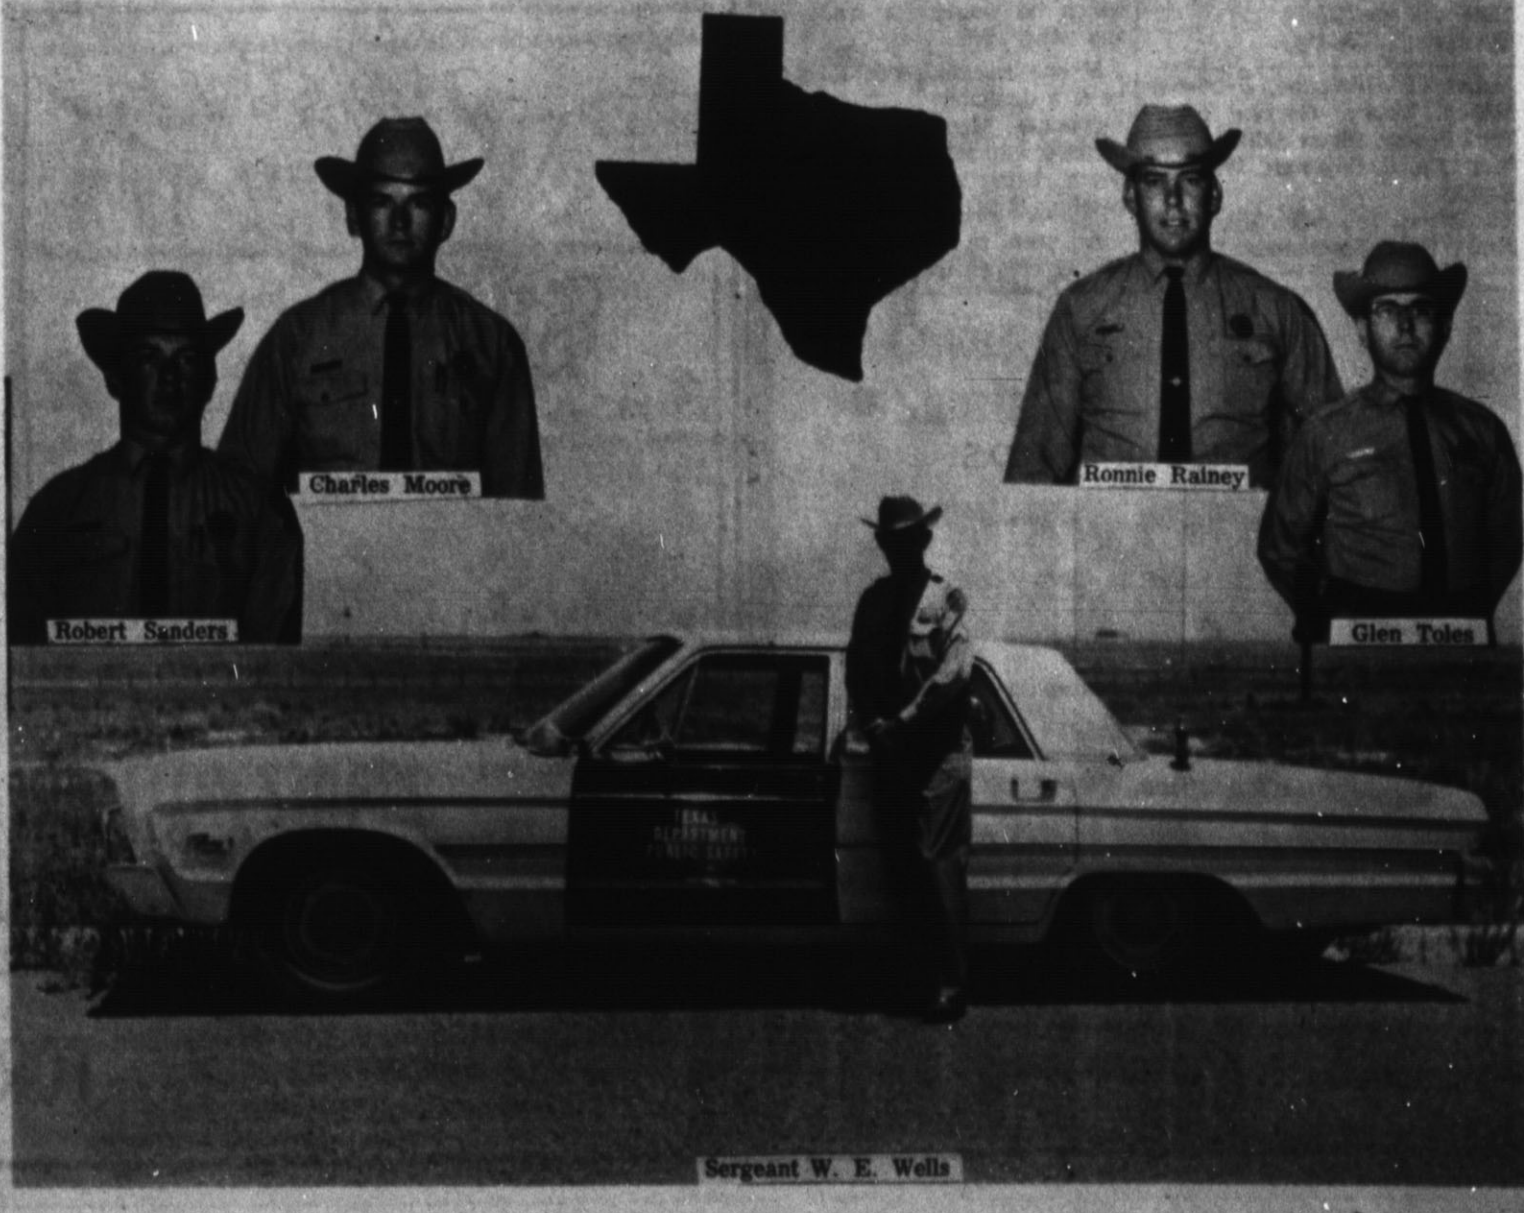

First of all, a patrolman must know human behavior and, in short, be an amateur psychologist. The human element is the first problem that must be dealt with. While most people have not as yet accepted the fact that the traffic is dangerous and driving an automobile takes knowledge, skill, and understanding, this is proving to be the one lone factor which leads to the great number of violations incurred on the highways.

"We don't have to kill 3,000 persons a year in this state" one patrolman stated. There are three factors in our present transportation system and these are the facts that the department must move the people economically, must move them safely, and must move them rapidly, he went on to explain. A patrolman's work schedule consists of a five-day week with a minimum amount of work hours being 55 but usually running closer to 60-65. They must remain on call 24 hours a day, and while they are on duty, they find themselves assigned to the areas of the highways that are most frequented by heavy traffic during the most active hours of the day.

The only weapon that the department feels is contributing toward the improvement of the traffic fatality rate and number of arrests and tickets is the drivers educational program which is being given in numerous schools throughout the county. Surprisingly enough, the main problem is drivers license violations in Texas today, and See PATROL, Page 2

Giants Take Possession Of 1st Place In Little League

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Two crucial games will be on tap for the two top teams in the Major's play in Little League action as the Giants hold a one game advantage over the Cubs after defeating them 3-1 in play last week. In the do-or-die contest, Massey hurled the Giants to their victory as he gave up just six hits while walking five and having his team mates commit only one error. Crim took the loss as he allowed only four hits, all singles, and walked four. The Cubs committed only one error also.

In other action for the week of June 17-21, a make-up game, which had been called previously due to time, were completed as the Colts defeated the Angels 13-12 and the Dodgers ripped the Cardinals 14-13. Also played during that week was the contests featuring the Cardinals defeating the Yankees 13-12, the Giants clipping the Colts 6-5 while the Cubs took the Braves 8-3 and the Dodgers edged past the Angels 15-14. Also, the Colts beat the Yankees 15-4 and the Angels clubbed the Cardinals 18-12.

Standings to date show that with two games left for each team, the Giants lead with 10 wins and 2 losses, the Cubs are in second with 9 wins and 3 losses and the Colts occupy third with an 8 and 4 record. Holding down fourth is the Angels with 7 wins and 5 losses with the Dodgers settling on fifth with a 6-6 mark. The Yankees are in sixth with a 5-7 record, the Cardinals are in seventh with 2 wins and 10 losses, and the Braves hold the cellar position with 1 win and 11 losses.

Judge Williams Is "Real Fine"

Judge H. C. Williams is getting along "real fine." The Brand contacted the Methodist Hospital in Rochester, Minnesota, prior to press time Saturday and gained reports from the staff of Judge Williams' condition following an operation on his throat Wednesday morning. Their reports are very favorable.

The judge expects to be released from the hospital sometime today. If so, he will return to Hereford on Tuesday.

Mrs. Williams, receptionist at the Brand, is with him in Rochester.

Hereford attorney J. Edward Line was appointed temporary County Judge last week, to handle the office until Judge Williams is fully recovered.

Methodists Have Set Bible School

Vacation Bible School at the Wesley Methodist Church, 410 Irving, will be held Monday through Friday.

The school, which is for children ages 4 through 12, will be held each day from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. There will be three classes — kindergarten, elementary 1, 2 and 3, and elementary 4, 5 and 6.

Vance Receives WT Scholarship

Tyler Vance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Vance of 135 Beach Hereford, has been selected by the West Texas State University at Canyon as the recipient of the $200 Cabot Corporation Journalism Scholarship for beginning freshman.

The announcement was made by Bill R. Lee, head of the Department of Journalism and Publications at WTSU. The award is allotted on the basis of $100 each semester and is given the recipient as he registers to assist in payment of tuition and fees.

Tyler recently graduated from Hereford High School. He has been on the staff of the Hereford Brand for about three years, and also worked recently for the Friona Star.

Sorghum, Beets Now Have Bugs

Norris Daniels and John Jacobsen, both of the Bushland Station, reported today that the false chinch bugs are beginning to come out of the grasses and the wheat into the grain sorghums and the sugar beets.

Both Daniels and Jacobsen urged the farmers to daily check upon these bugs, as they can do a great deal of damage to the crops.

They can be eliminated by spraying one-half pound parathion or three-fourths pound of malathion per acre on the crops which may be infested.

Tax Equalization Hearings Set

All three local boards of tax equalization will meet Monday morning at 10 a. m. in the Deaf Smith County Court House.

These include the boards of the Hereford Independent School District, the City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

Anyone owning taxable property is invited to meet with the respective boards, to present any claim for adjustment of the appraised value of their property to which they believe they are entitled.

They will meet in the Commissioners Courtroom the second floor.

FN DAVID C. MAY — Shown at a Caribbean port before being shipped to Vietnam.

David May Is Now In Vietnam

FN David C. May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trowbridge of 841 Irving, Hereford, has arrived in Vietnam with the Navy. In a letter to his parents, May said that he has been assigned to a tugboat in the harbor of Da Nang. May was married on March 30. He and his wife were in Hereford a few weeks ago, prior to leaving for San Bernardino, Calif., where he was shipped to Vietnam for a year. His wife, Cheri, is now in Norfolk, Virginia.

Mrs. Trowbridge reported that her son's letter said "they go up the river (from Da Nang harbor) and tow back patrol boats that have been shot up or wrecked." He also wrote that the harbor is "real crowded." May is 20 years old. In the Navy since October 1965, he has spent most of his time on the East Coast until now, with trips to various ports in the Caribbean Sea. His address is, FN David C. May 997762, N.S. A. Box 35, Y. T. M. 771, FPO San Francisco, California 96695. His mother said that he liked to receive mail. Some 6,000 athletes from about 70 nations are expected to compete in the 1968 Summer Olympic Games in Mexico City.

Solos, Duets On Program For Recital

Duets as well as solos will be heard in a joint recital this evening, when Mrs. Dolson Palmer presents two of her voice students, Miss Cynthia McMinn and Gene Streun, in a program at her home. Two songs by popular American composers, Jerome Kern's "Why Do I Love You?" and, from the musical show Carousel, "If I Loved You," will be duet numbers closing the program. Thelma McMinn will be accompanist.

Streun will open the recital with two solos, Caro Mio Ben (Giordani) and O Del Mio Amato Ben (Donaudy). Later he will present a group of German songs including Schubert's famous Serenade and pieces by Wagner, Franz, Brahms and Grieg.

A modern group in English ranges in mood from Bartlett's religious work, "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes," to Bassett's "Take Joy Home."

In Miss McMinn's first appearance she will sing works of Pergolesi and Carissimi, Schubert's "Wohin und wo," Massenet's "Ouvre Tes Yeux Bleus" and the well-known "Elegie." Her modern numbers are "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," "A Spirit Flower" and "Such Lovely Things."

Both the students are members of families in the Summerfield community. Daughter of the W. P. McMinn, Cynthia was a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School. She made superior rating the past two years in Interscholastic League voice contests. She was a member of the HHS a cappella choir and is organist for Summerfield Baptist Church. She plans to attend West Texas State University this fall. Study at WTSU, where he was a voice pupil of Royal Brantley, and two years' service with the U. S. Army in Germany, are in Streun's background. Son of Jack S. Streun and the late Mrs. Streun, he was graduated from HS where he won MENC awards, and at WTSU he was a member of the a cappella choir.

A high school junior next year, Miss Gilbert is a member of the senior girls' choir and her church choir. She has studied piano seven years. As out-of-town guests at her recital she expects Mrs. Clark Couch and Miss Leticia Couch of Anton and Miss Sharon Small of Colorado City. Mrs. W. T. Thompson will pour tea after the program.

Songs in the first recital group are "Prayer Perfect" by Stevens, "Caro Mio Ben (Giordani)," "All In The April Evening (Diack)," "O Cessate Di Piagarmi by Scarlatti" and "Widmung, Franz." Miss Gilbert will also sing selections by Handel and Hayden, "Little Shepherd's Song (Watt)," "In My Garden (Firestone)" and "My Johann (Grieg)." Solos from Italian, German and French composers will be heard in Miss Dameron's recital, including "Del Viento," "Bacio," "Wie Melodien und Gut Nabin Mine Schatz by Brahms;" "Bonjour Suzor by Delibes," "Villanelle by Dell'Acqua" and "Beau Soir by Debussy." The English pieces are "Take Joy Home (Bassett)," "I Will Walk With My Love," "Little Shepherd Song," and "Such Lovely Things (North)."

BON VOYAGE LUNCHEON—Friends made by Katie Laine, Finnish AFS student, during her year in Hereford High School have entertained her at several parties before she leaves for her home. One was a summer luncheon Friday in Mrs. J. H. McCrary's home. Miss Laine is seated, left, with Cindy Cavness, who has been her "sister" while she spent the school year in the H. A. Cavness home here. Mrs. McCrary is standing behind the daisy-bedecked table.

Luncheon Is Farewell Courtesy For Student

Before she leaves Hereford for a year in high school here, for the first stretch of her trip home to Finland, Miss Katie Laine was complimented with several parties, one a pretty luncheon Friday in the home of Mrs. J. H. McCrary in South Main.

Vehicles she will board at various stages of her trip, bus, plane and ship, appeared in miniature in table decorations. Made of daisy yellow plastic, they held cool-looking bouquets of Shasta daisies and fresh foliage.

A pair of planes taxied flowers across the round table in the dining room, where luncheon was served buffet style, and smaller boats and buses marked places on quartet tables in the sunroom.

Mrs. H. A. Cavness, in whose home the blonde Finnish girl has lived during her term as an American Field Service student here, served punch as the guests gathered in the living room before lunchtime. Classmates who were guests with the honoree were Cindy Cavness, Susan White, Joette Hanna, Jan Turrentine, Shelia Rhodes, Lanny Buck and Lynda Jacobsen.

Miss Laine is leaving this weekend for Oklahoma City, to board a bus with other AFS students from over the Southwest for a trip which will take them to other parts of the nation to broaden their knowledge of America before they return to their homes.

A visit in Washington, D.C., is scheduled to climax the tour. The Finnish miss will fly to the Netherlands about July 20 and go to her home about Aug. 1.

One tenth of Finland, because of 55,000 lakes, lies under water.

Enrollment Open Again Tuesday For Arts-Crafts

Enrollment remains open at the Tuesday morning session of the arts and crafts class, one division of Hereford Public Schools' summer program. Adults as well as school-age students may take the course, which is taught by Mrs. Bob Wert.

Tuition is $15 for the summer term. Students buy material for the articles they make, which become their own property. Classes meet at 9 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays in Room 22 of LaPlata Junior High.

Those who wish to enroll this week are asked to come to the classroom at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Several new members were added to the class Thursday, Mrs. Wert says, and those entering this week will not be too late to keep up with projects now under way.

Baptists Ready For Bible School

The Vacation Bible School at the Greenwood Baptist Church will be climaxed with a picnic and a horn-toad race on the last day, according to pastor Al Baum. The Bible school will begin Monday in the church at 9 a.m. and will continue for a week and a half. The church is located at Moreman and Greenwood. Set to run through Friday of the first week and Monday through Wednesday of the second, the last day will be July 3. It is for ages 3 through 14. Classes will end each morning at 11:30.

STANDARD CLIPPINGS BAG. TORO pioneered grass and leaf bagging attachments for rotary mowers in the first place, and this year they're even better. This standard equipment bag clamps on with one hand, and it has a heavy-duty bottom. No zippers to clog, either.

SAFETY SPIN START. You wind up the "impulse" starter, step behind the mower handle, for safety, and push the lever to "start" position. Chokes automatically.

THREE OR 3 1/2 HP. FOUR-CYCLE ENGINE. Starts easily, runs smoother than cheap 2-cycle engines. No mixing of gas and oil.

MAGNESIUM HOUSING. The lighter-than-aluminum stuff they use in airplanes.

AUTO-QUIET. A visual oil filler! Push the button and you're sure the crankcase is full. No plug, no funnels, no oily fingers.

CLEAN-OUT PORT. When you're through mowing, let the engine idle and run a little water into the clean-out port. The blade splashes it all around under the housing and washes it out like new.

TRIMMIT! You know that grass along the sidewalk that won't stand up? This little device props it up so the blade can clip it off crispy.

WIND-TUNNEL HOUSING. TORO's "S" shaped cutting blade actually creates a powerful suction under the housing. It pulls grass up for a more even cut. "vacuums" leaves, too.

Local Olympics To Be Discussed

An organizational meeting for the planning of the city-wide olympics is scheduled for Tuesday, June 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center.

To be discussed and organized by local church groups, the plans to be considered are the games and events which will be conducted and for what age groups they will involve. The older participants will indulge in more strenuous games while the younger boys will have their games and events planned and organized by the older ones.

Interested persons are urged to be present at the meeting.

Miss Lemons Is Cited At H-SU

Linda Lemons, of Hereford, received an honorable mention to the 'Dean's List' at Hardin-Simmons University for the spring term. Mrs. Dorothy Maupin, acting registrar, has announced.

To be on the honorable mention list, a student must maintain a grade point average of 3.58 for six to 11 hours of work for this rating.

It seems now as if people of the Interscholastic League could care less about the actual importance of a high school athlete receiving a letter jacket with their face-slapping rule that was put into effect a few weeks back. They seem to have forgotten the real meaning of receiving more than one jacket, for if a boy competes in football, basketball, track and baseball, just to name a few, all he will get is one jacket. One measly jacket to show for nine months of hard, dedicated work. Then, if he decides to give it another try for the next few years he is in high school, what will he have to show for it? Not a thing except maybe a little letter, which can be bought at almost any sporting goods dealer's place. So I ask you, what would be the purpose of his continuing. The real meaning in participating is the receiving of that jacket every year if he is capable. That was the entire meaning some years back, and that is the entire meaning still.

Now, the student will be allowed only one $20 award for the first time he letters, and then it will be only a letter or medal, considered to be a token award. But, there is still more side-lining to this new rule. The small token's value is not to exceed the whopping total of $3. All heart aren't they?

Oh, it won't be so bad, with some less talented seniors walking around with their first and last jacket and then seeing someone that was a sophomore last year wearing one also and expecting another this year as he will still be eligible. Think you might like it after you get used to it. If anyone can get used to it. You might have to swallow a little pride, but what the heck difference does that make to the Interscholastic board, they won't get choked on it. They don't have to wear the jacket.

If a boy, or girl, goes out for constant work and participation, he or she has the right to expect something for it every time. Not just one jacket and then one little letter or medal for it. If they have worked hard for it, they deserve it every time they do so, don't you think?

Sure, traditions are now being broken day after day, but what are usually the over-all results? Mass madness except for the ones who have changed it. So, why don't the ones who voted for the change just keep that little change in their own territory? They don't have to spread it around like the plague or something. There were 51 that voted for this change in tradition while some of the good old die-hards, 396 to be exact, saw fit to vote otherwise regardless of how the others felt. For those in the minority, you have to give them credit for doing what they thought was right and what, in the minds of many, many others is right.

You just can't do something like that and live with yourself. Deprive kids who have worked like dogs for several junior high years to begin that important step then have the step yanked out from under them. They didn't do it just for kicks, they did it for one reason. To get those meaningful letter jackets. You just can't do it.

If you will recall, a few weeks ago, an article concerning the Big Brothers of Hereford was published as they set out on the path toward organizing the program. Well, they have taken their first few steps and are now looking for assistance for the next.

A few men took the burden on their back of finding "big brothers" for some 99 local boys who are fatherless and have been deprived the friendship of a male parent. They feel that they are using their time wisely and they have that right for they are. But, they can't do it alone. They need all the little things that come with the forming of a new and different organization, but most of all they need help from others.

Right now, they have those 99 boys to find a "friend" for and not one application has been given to them. Nobody seems to care at all. Nobody wants to help. Without help, there is no hope for this program, and without hope there can be no such program. Something has to be done, not just for the program, but mostly for the fatherless boys.

Though the "big brother" is the most important thing for the program, now help is needed with the filling of the social worker position that is needed. Besides needing the part-time social worker, office supplies and all other contributions are needed for the program in its effort to get started. One man in the organization has contributed $100 to the effort, but this small amount and this lone contribution seems meaningless. But, then again, you have to start somewhere.

If you don't feel as if you owe some small boy something, just stop and think about that little fry of yours or your neighbors, what would you do for him if something happened in his life to deprive him of a father? Stop and think it over. Then do something.

CANDY SELLERS—Teams from the local Pony League baseball organization gathered at the home of the Ted Higgins Saturday morning as they prepared to undertake the selling of candy for the benefit of the league's treasury.

Rebels Suffocate Umbarger; To Meet Amarillo, Friona

The Hereford Rebels, sponsored by the Paisano Lions, won their third league baseball game in a row Thursday when they downed the Umbarger team by a 9-1 score.

While no scoring was registered in the first inning for the Rebels, they did threaten when Terry Hill advanced as far as third before he was tagged out. Behind Hill was Alex Diaz who made it to second before the sides were retired.

Starter Diaz held the Umbarger team scoreless until the final frame of the game where they tallied one run on a pair of doubles. But, before they were allowed their one lone run, the Rebels mounted up an impassable lead.

The Rebel's first scoring came in the second inning when Charlie Moreno, who had reached base on an Umbarger error, scored on double by Robby Lemons. Their next score came in the third when Gary Tucker also reached base on an error then was brought home on a double by Ray Martinez.

Taking a 2-0 lead into the fourth, the Rebs added two more runs to their lead as Mike Ranspot singled and was pushed across the plate on another single by Moreno. Moreno then scored on a single by Lemons, to make the score 4-0.

After Diaz had held the Umbarger team scoreless again in the bottom of the fourth, the Rebels came back in the top of the seventh before they were able to score again. Their scores came when Hill scored on a sacrifice after collecting a single himself. Tucker then followed him around the circuit when Steve Hodges slapped a double out. This made the score 6-0 for the Rebels.

At their last at-bat, the Rebels then poured on the coal and added their final runs on a single by Diaz, another single by Tucker, a sacrifice by Hodges and two Umbarger errors.

The next scheduled games for the Rebels will be today when they entertain the Friona team at 1:30 and then turn around and meet the Amarillo team immediately after that contest. These two teams are the only ones to defeat the Rebels this year. Ranspot is to be the starting hurler for the Friona game while Nacho Gonzales is to start the second game against Amarillo.

Gun Club Plans Night Shooting

Interested persons are reminded that the Hereford Gun Club will begin night shooting this Thursday, June 27th at the airport range.

The shooting will be conducted in a manner that members will be able to shoot every other week under the new lighting system. Cost of the league shooting will be $3.50 for each individual with 50 targets to be launched for each shooter. Shooting will begin at 8 p.m.

Any interested person is urged to be at the range so that teams can be set up and fees paid. The 50 targets will consist of 25 from the 16-yard line, and 25 from the individuals handicap. It was also stressed that each team will have a handicap.

Sonics Win Via Forfeit To Take Lead In Colt League

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Through a forfeit by Nazareth and a defeat for the Astros at the hands of the Dimmitt White Sox, the Hereford Sonics grabbed the lead in the Tri-City Colt League baseball standings last Thursday.

The Sonics, who were to meet the Nazareth Braves on the home field, took the game via forfeit due to the visiting team having only eight players, but went ahead and played the game after lending the Nazareth team one of their own players. They then proceeded to slaughter the Braves by the resounding score of 23-8.

Though the game did not count in the way of an actual game, Gary Lemons took on hurling duties and held the Braves to eight hits for eight runs and just one of these being earned. The other seven were obtained through errors on the part of the Sonics' defense.

The Sonics, on the other hand, connected for 15 hits and drew nine walks in garnering the win. Collecting hits were John Sparks with a homer and a triple, Keith Duncan, with a double along with Gary Lemons, Dennis Sargent, and Andy Scott also with doubles to their credit.

The Astros, who held a share of the league lead in their hands for the past few weeks, found themselves empty handed as the Dimmitt White Sox nudged them 7-6 in a game played in Dimmitt Thursday night.

Jumping off to a quick 2-0 lead in the top of the first frame on a series of three back-to-back singles, the Astros could not hold the White Sox in the bottom of that frame as they came back to tie the game up on a single, a walk and a double. Dimmitt then went ahead in the bottom of the second by a score of 4-2 as a result of two doubles and a single.

Trailing 4-2, the Astros tied the game up in the top of the third on a two-run homer by Alan Wagner which followed a single, putting a runner on.

The Astros then went ahead by two runs themselves as they collected a walk then two singles and a number of White Sox errors. But, this lead faltered somewhat in the bottom of that inning as the Dimmitt team got one run on a walk and a double to cut the home boy's lead to 6-5.

The Astros failed to score in the final three innings and the Dimmitt team then took advantage of this as they tied the game up in the bottom of the fifth on two singles and then went ahead in the bottom of the sixth on an accidental squeeze play that proved to be the winning run. The Astros did threaten to send the game into extra innings as they had two men in scoring position when the final out was made.

This loss for the Astros and the win for the Sonics game the Sonics the lead in league play while the Astros maintain second place.

The next game for the two teams will be Monday, June 24 when the Sonics play the Dimmitt White Sox on the local field beginning at 6 p. m. and the Astros meet the Nazareth Braves in Nazareth with the contest to begin at 8 p. m.

Female Linksters Plan Tournament

The Hereford Ladies Golf Association has announced its first mixed foursome tournament to be held Friday, June 28 starting after 6 p. m.

The partnership will consist of one man and one woman. The men will drive from the odd numbered tees while the ladies will tee off from the even numbered ones. From tee to green, partners will play every other shot.

Trying to encourage the participation and members in the club presently, the ladies point out that they are almost all beginners and would like for others to consider playing along with them.

Presently, the ladies have contacted about 60 couples and state that if anyone has been overlooked, to please contact one of the following members to get their name on the list: Betty Carrothers, president, EM4-11474; Lois Dodson, vice president, EM4-1872; Suzanne Lesley, secretary, 289-5503; Carol Terrell, treasurer, 276-5655; Corrine Easley, tournament, 364-2849; Mary Jane Pitman, social, 364-1425; or Mary Gibson, coordinator, 364-2493.

If you do not know one of the above ladies, you are urged to contact Bob Baker at the golf shop where he will pass the messages on to one of the ladies.

2 Bills On Beets May Prove Lethal

There are today two bills in committees of the United States Senate and House of Representatives proposing that the Congress change the 30-year status quo of agriculture's exemption from the National Labor Relations Act, said Jay Boston, president of the Texas-New Mexico

Sugar Beet Growers Association Inc.

"The bills are almost identical. They call for amending the National Labor Relations Act to extend collective bargaining rights to agricultural employees. Stated plainly, this law if enacted would bring the labor union into farming and would put the labor union in a disaster-potential seat astride the agricultural employer's back. The strike at harvest time is lethal," Boston stressed.

Representative O'Hara's bill in the House is number H. R. 10014, and has been passed to the House Rules Committee by the Education and Labor Committee. The other bill is No. S. 8 in the Senate.

The House bill offers from the Senate bill in that it exempts small farmers who do not employ more than 12 employees and have less passed instead of the Senate bill, with these so-called protections for the small grower, nevertheless if labor of any large grower in the area is organized, and if such a farmer's employees are taken out from under the Agricultural Department and placed under the National Labor Relations Act, labor will be increased materially and all the small farmers will be affected because the workers will demand equal treatment and equal pay from the small farmer the same as they do from the large farmer.

A farmer could expect that any strike would be at harvest time. This would be at a time when he could not do anything to protect himself, and he could lose his crop in the field.

It is important that all farmers contact their Congressman at once, and also contact Congressman John Young from Texas on the Rules Committee, and Congressman Carl Albert from Oklahoma on the Education and Labor Committee, as well as both Congressman Bob Price and Senators Ralph Yarborough and John Tower, and advise them that the agricultural employer today is confronted with the most frustrating and costly labor conditions imaginable, and the farmer is not capable of adding this proposed labor union legislation to his burden. Either of these bills is capable of destroying the farmer.

LOOK AT STURDY WHEAT — Some 30 local and area residents were on hand Thursday afternoon on the Darrel Dirks-Truman Ragan farm northwest of Hereford as a new variety of wheat called "sturdy" was described.

Letter To The Editor

The Editor
I am answering the editorial in last Sunday's BRAND "Wake Up, 'Sick Americans' You're Losing Your Heritage."

It is true that America is founded on Christian principles guaranteeing life, liberty and happiness to all of our citizens, and respect for all peoples and all nations. The extent that we have varied from these principles is the extent that this society is sick.

Violence is only one of the signs of decay. There is bound to be a high incidence of murder and other crimes of violence in a culture whose heroes are men of violence and where violence is a constant feature of life. The extent of our sickness is reflected in the fact that large numbers of people feel that violence is the only way they see of getting enough attention and power to change things. After all, our society did produce the ghetto rioters. We also spawned the assassins that killed three of the best leaders our country produced. Sirhan may have developed his hatred from another society, but he grew up in this country, and learned from this country that the best way to solve his problems was murder. How many nations decide issues with guns, as we do?

But this is only part of the sickness. Another kind of sickness is reflected in this editorial. You talk about the "fringe area" in this society that Kennedy attracted. Because they are in what you call a "fringe" — meaning they are not carbon-copy middle class whites — does that mean they are to be denied their rights and denied their humanity? Is the length of one's hair a qualification for citizenship? The Texas Tower killer had a crew cut, while Christ had long hair and a beard. More serious, white skin and white culture seem to be prerequisites for equal rights.

You talk of foreign nations and foreign ideologies. But you don't have to go far to see signs of decay. You say, "In most cities there have always been areas where law abiding citizens avoid or enter at their own risk." Undoubtedly, one of these areas is the migrant labor camp outside Hereford. I lived in this camp for five months. (I was asked to leave by "Christian" citizens who could not tolerate differing opinions in this democracy of ours.) Though most of you would not believe it, the residents of this camp are people like you find anywhere else. They want a good life for themselves and their children, they want to be respected and liked by their neighbors.

Instead they are given unspeakably poor housing, with filthy outhouses and outdoor faucets, families of fifteen crowded in to 3 small rooms, play areas that are breeding grounds of disease and rats, almost non-existent medical care, constant insults, and worst of all, no hope for a better life. What is the reason for these conditions? These people are members of the Latin American "fringe" culture, and they can't transfer sufficiently to the Anglo culture to succeed, and they can't change the color of their skin to be respected. Being members of this culture, they are given jobs with incomes too low to feed and clothe their family anywhere near an adequate level. Why is a man to be denied his rights to a happy life for himself and his family simply because he works on a farm? We are a nation rich enough to provide sufficient living standards for all those who work — especially for such difficult work as farm labor.

Many people in Hereford, especially Mr. Virgil Dodson, the Dziuk family, St. Joseph's Mission, and the school system are trying to improve these conditions. But the prevailing opinion in Hereford is certainly sick when even the fear of providing adequate wage brings forth cries of communism and threats of violence. (Your county sheriff said he could have a hundred men out with shotguns in half an hour if there was any trouble from the camp.)

Your editorial sees virtue in selfishness (working hard, going to church, and sending your kids to college — while condemning any government aid for the poor). Then you talk about the Golden Rule. The Golden Rule doesn't mean shutting yourself up in a box — it means seeking out suffering and trying to alleviate it. Not by "Christian Witness" to obtain brownie points from God, but changing society to give the maximum happiness to all — even those who are different. Love thy neighbor isn't limited by Segregated housing. Your neighbor is also the poorest child in the labor camp.

You talk about "great opportunities we enjoy today." What opportunities are there for someone with inadequate nutrition, continual failure in school because he cannot understand his teacher, no alternative open to him except a culture and a thought pattern that leads to nowhere in a closed society dominated by Anglo culture. Who would provide him a good paying job advertised in the classified section?

The welfare department in Hereford is a reflection of the prevailing opinion here. Ridiculously little money is given at all. None at all is given to those who simply cannot find a job through no fault of their own. Most of those who enter are subjected to pitiless humiliation. Many have said they would rather go to a funeral home than the welfare office. Similar "Christian love" is given to the needy seeking help in the County Hospital, where health is sold as a commodity and human decency is called socialism.

Why are the streets paved in the Anglo neighborhoods and unpaved in the Mexican areas? Why were water and sewage facilities brought to an empty field where a school MAY be built, while 2000 people in the labor camp were ignored? Why are the affairs and social problems of Latin Americans almost excluded from the BRAND? Why should people be allowed to starve while surplus food is available but ignored — yet farm subsidies to provide this surplus are accepted? Why did five babies die in the five months I was here? Why should one of the richest counties in the nation in per capita income, fail in their responsibilities to alleviate this poverty while blocking any assistance from outside? No wonder Deaf Smith County has a reputation among migrants as one of the most prejudiced and heartless areas along the migrant stream.

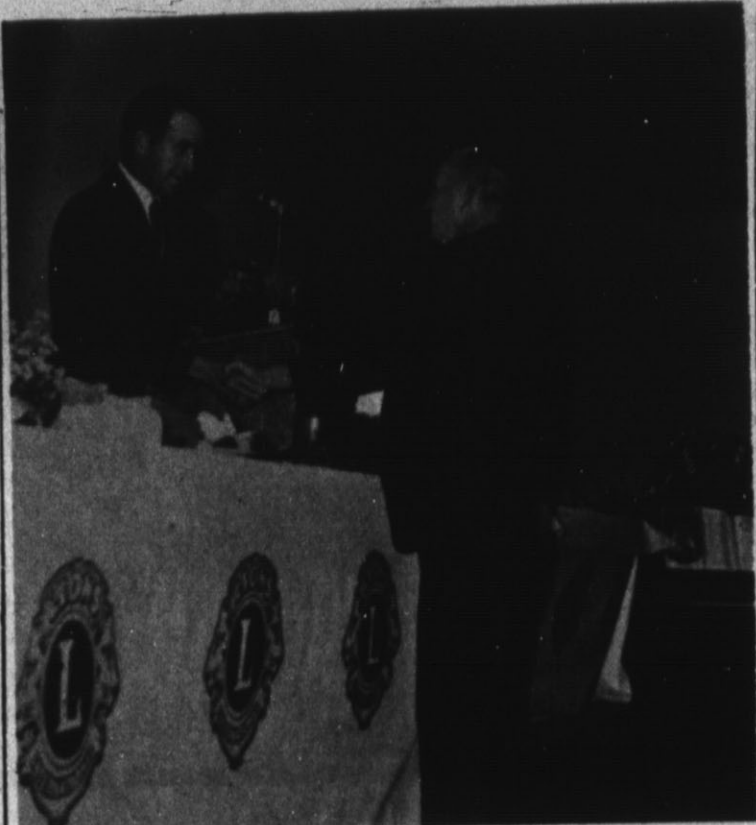

The Migrant Ministry is a fine organization, but it is grossly inadequate to tackle the problem. It may make the lives of the migrants a little more comfortable, and it may ease the conscience of Hereford residents, but it has almost no effect on real solutions, and any attempts to solve the social problems are blocked.

Apathy, intolerance and inaction may slow progress but will not stop change. Desires for life, liberty and happiness are not limited to those who already have them. Television brings in new ideas, including the desire for dignity and a good life; perhaps also the idea that if there is no hope for improvement, violence may be the answer.

Miss Lemons Is Shower Honoree

A June shower for a July bride-to-be, Miss Linda Lemons, was given Thursday afternoon in Mrs. W. H. Gentry's home. Miss Lemons' marriage to Hoyt D. Lovelace of Amarillo is planned for the evening of July 12 in First Baptist Church here. The honoree greeted shower guests with her mother, Mrs. Walter Lemons; her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Weaver Lovelace of Lubbock; her grandmother, Mrs. Zelma Waller, and her sister, Mrs. John Sooter, who is to be her matron of honor. Her sister, Miss Sandra Lemons, was at the guest book. A college friend, Mrs. Sheldon Marsh of Stamford, poured punch and Mrs. Eddie Gandy assisted at the refreshment table. Tangerine shades in summer blossoms of daylilies, tritoma and roses, with their own foliage brought the chosen wedding colors to table decoration. A handmade lace cloth covered the table. Hostesses were Mmes. R. L. Wilson, Gerald Wilson, Ray Polan, Alfred Smith, Edgar Sowell, H. S. Fuller, Carl Wimberley, Luther Lesly, J. B. Halle, Lester English, Gandy and Gentry.

4-H'ers Make Superb Hosts

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Happy Workers 4-H Club had a fine meeting last Wednesday night when club families came to their dinner. The girls planned the meal; each member brought two dishes and the food was good.

MISS MARY BRADLY, vice president of West Hereford Home Demonstration Club and retired teacher, was complimentary of the program.

The girls gave a report of the County 4-H Camp at Hidden Falls Ranch. Another feature was modeling of aprons made in the sewing workshop.

As West Hereford club helped in organizing the Happy Workers, each 4-H member has a "sponsoring mother." This support is a healthful situation for both 4-H member and the sponsoring mother.

ENCOURAGEMENT from persons other than parents and agents mean so much to all youth. Thanks to all of you for helping make our area youth so outstanding.

So many people in our area have a constant interest in youth, and good youth organizations. This is one of the things that makes Deaf Smith County great. I was quite impressed this week by Justin McBride's comment on the radio: "Our greatest resource is our youth."

LESTER RAPE of the Texas Employment Commission says YES program is humming along. It may interest you: Approximately a third of the youth who have applied for work are girls; however, only about one tenth of the job openings are for girls.

A COMMITTEE is in session now (Friday morning) planning the 4-H Dress Revue and Self Improvement workshop. The decorations and script will be nice.

This morning we have news that the District 4-H Revue will provide another division. This year at the District Dress Revue each county can have three girls, one senior, one girl 9-11 years, and one girl 12-13 years of age.

THIS WEEK WE have enjoyed visiting Jim Combs and son Wendell. They are former residents and are here tending to some business affairs. Mrs. Combs is in summer sessions at East Texas University at Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Combs both are teaching in the Gallup, N. M. public schools. James, the older son, is a college sophomore at New Mexico Tech and majoring in physics.

He is making a good record and last year when he was given a job in the physics department he was the first freshman who has held this job. Until James started to Tech, only upperclassmen worked in the department. Joy Combs is making her school clothes. The family is doing quite well.

WITH FALL semester around the corner, I wish more and more West Texas State University offered home economics. It seems a university with the scope and potential of West Texas could offer home economics.

Do you folks agree? We have good teachers and home demonstration agents who were WT graduates. The home economics graduates have done well in the profession.

WESTWAY HOME Demonstration Club, will be very busy Thursday completing the club project. Quilt scraps will be packaged and shipped to the state hospital to be used in therapy for the patients.

TOMBSTONE MYSTERY — Friday afternoon, a marble double tombstone, about 3 feet in height, was discovered just off Highway 60 east of the airport. One side read: Meadie Dau. of A. S. & M. E. Bassett. Born Sept. 5, 1886. Died May 25, 1894. None knew her but to love her. On the other side was: M. E. wife of A. S. Bassett. Born Sept. 12, 1861. Died Dec. 14, 1891. As a wife devoted, as a mother affectionate, as a friend ever kind and true. Discovered by Norine Stallings, Teresa McPaul and Ed Stallings—who were in the area searching for antique bottles—they contacted Sheriff Ed Roberson. The sheriff requests that anyone having any information regarding this tombstone to please contact his office. Roberson noted that these deaths occurred before Hereford was founded.

TO WED A DOCTOR

By Elizabeth Selfert

The two Goheen sisters, Meg and Lucy, had been in love with young Dr. Mike Tryon since their childhood. Now, at last, he was coming home to be chief of medical service at the university's new teaching hospital. But on the night of his return, disaster struck. Meg was assaulted, viciously and shamefully, by an unknown maniac. Frozen with horror, she told only Lucy, first swearing her to secrecy.

As the days and weeks passed, Meg retreated into an emotional isolation. The half-serious rivalry with Lucy was ended. No one—not even Mike—could cross the invisible barrier she had built around herself. Only Meg herself could decide whether she would come back to a world where there was a hope of happiness.

THE WRECKING OF OFFSHORE FIVE

By Ronald Johnston

This is a stunning drama of action and suspense at sea when a bold effort to wrest wealth from the bottom climaxes in tragedy, rescue and salvage.

Out in the North Sea, the crew of an old oil rig, Offshore Five, is drilling for signs of oil, and racing against foul weather and a relentless deadline to prove a new and startling theory. The stakes are high, for either ruin or riches. Before its owner, Inoco, an American oil combine, takes up options due to expire in three days, it wants proof that the theory is sound.

Suddenly disaster strikes. An old World War II mine floats loose from its resting place and destroys Offshore Five and most of its crew. Roger Bright, Inoco's young managing director of the project, who has staked his career, and possibly his marriage, on one of the biggest gambles the oil business has ever taken, flies to the scene of the wreck to see if he and Navy divers can rescue the men who are trapped in the rig underwater. They may have the secret information he needs desperately in order to make his decision.

Ronald Johnston's expert technical knowledge lends authenticity to a story of men against nature.

Saqqara, site of Egypt's first pyramid, attracted the afflicted from as far away as Greece and Rome. The sick visited a shrine in the ancient city seeking miraculous cures much as they do today at Lourdes, France. National Geographic says.

CLUB PROJECT — Explaining how fabric scraps are used in therapy programs at state hospitals in Vernon and Wichita Falls is Mrs. C. R. McGhee, middle, a former therapist at

Club Is Helping Therapy Programs In State Hospitals

Housewives can play a major part in therapy programs at the state hospitals in Vernon and Wichita Falls by donating fabric scraps Thursday at the Bull Barn to Westway Home Demonstration Club.

The club will send the scraps to Vernon and Wichita Falls State Hospitals where they are used in occupational therapy programs. Club members will be at the Bull Barn from 2 p.m. on to collect the scraps.

Mrs. C. R. McGhee, 500 W.

For more information, contact Mrs. C. R. McGhee at 500 W. Park Avenue, Hereford, Texas. GENE'S THE STORE, 149 Park Avenue.

Park, an occupational and recreational therapist at both hospitals during 1950-58, explained that the scraps are used to make quilts, shag rugs, pin cushions and dolls. The smaller pieces are used for stuffing.

"This sort of thing is treatment and can be the first step in making some patients useful once again," Mrs. McGhee said.

The scraps pass through many patient's hands, from the person who does the sorting to the one who actually makes something from the scrap.

Two patients pick the scraps up at the distribution point and then put them in a big container. Another patient sorts the scraps according to type, while another does the same according to size. Others press the scraps and cut them according to certain patterns. If the scraps are used for rugs, they are cut into strips and sewn together. When the roll gets about 8-10 inches in diameter, they go to a loom where the rugs are made.

Scraps used to make dolls are first cut, then go to the sewing machine. After this, other patients are responsible for stuffing the doll, painting on features and sewing on hair.

Anything that can be used in a home can be used at the hospitals, such as thimbles, needles, thread, buttons, scissors, lace, patterns or oil and ceramic paints.

"The more donations they get, the more money they can save on their allowance that can be used in other ways," Mrs. Ghee said.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vogler, Mary Ann and Harry James visited Mrs. Vogler's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Drager at Choctaw, Okla. last weekend. The Dragers were celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday. Another brother, F. S. Drager and his wife, of the Jumbo community accompanied the Voglers on the trip.

The Voglers are among relatives of Richard Drager who have been staying near an Amarillo hospital since he underwent head surgery Wednesday. He had been ill several days and in the Hereford hospital a few days prior to going into the Amarillo hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, Pampa, spent the weekend with the D. C. Millers and other relatives here.

Mrs. Laura Littrell, Mrs. Alie Burris of Texico and Miss Alma Andrews took Miss Illene Spruill of Duncan, Okla., home last weekend and at Marlowe visited an elderly relative, Mrs. Kate Lamb, who is critically ill. Miss Spruill has visited the relatives here for several days.

Mrs. Laura Littrell's granddaughter, Mrs. Jim Exum, and family visited her Wednesday night. They live in California and had been to Kansas to visit Exum's relatives. Mrs. Littrell went home with them to visit her children and grandchildren for several weeks.

Ralph Cole and his sons of New Orleans and Thurman Cole of Yuma have been here visiting their parents, the Earl Coles and others of the family.

Mrs. Robert Simpson is recovering from surgery done about ten days ago. She is still in the Hereford hospital. Her daughter, Mrs. Bill Cotton and Visiting the John Simpsons last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Simpson, Midland, and Mrs. Homer Pullen of Bryan.

Mrs. B. H. Baldwin who had been visiting a few weeks with her children downstate, returned home Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Baldwin and Randy of Austin. They were coming for a visit with relatives here. Also accompanying the Baldwins was Mrs. Robert Baldwin and Kristi of Houston, coming to visit her parents, the George De Loziers, and other relatives for awhile.

The Godfrey Baldwins left Randy here with Mrs. Baldwin's parents, the W. H. Andrews, while they went for a short mountain vacation in the Colorado Springs area, leaving here on Thursday. They expect to move August 1 to Washington D. C., where he will begin a new job.

The Unit II photography group of Frio Jolly Workers 4-H Club met Tuesday with their leader, Mrs. David Hutchins, at Easter Community Center for their final meeting. They made portraits and brought record books up to date. Members participating were David Hutchins, Earl Behrends, Diana and Kenneth Adams, Raymond and Eugene Warrick.

The first-year clothing group of 4-H girls met Wednesday in the home of their leader, Mrs. Milton Jones. Diana Adams, junior leader, discussed lines and colors for each girl. Present were Patricia Yerby, Diane and Linda Jones.

J. F. Carter And Bride Are At Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. Floyd Carter are at home in Lubbock after their marriage in Port Arthur early this month, and a New Orleans honeymoon. Mrs. Carter is the former Miss Mariellen Showalter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Showalter of Port Arthur.

Son of Mrs. Guyrene H. Carter of Hereford, the bridegroom will be a July graduate from Texas Tech. He was lately commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army and expects to be stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. after graduation.

His sister, Miss Kyle Carter of Hereford, was one of Miss Showalter's bridesmaids, serving with Misses Annis McRee, Mary Tucker, Claire Horton and the matron of honor, Mrs. Sam W. Showalter of Houston.

Sam W. Showalter was best man; groomsmen were Joe Frank Self and Ronny Rush Duncan of Hereford, Bobby Guy Park of Lubbock and Thomas Parker. The Rev. Franklin T. Jones officiated for the wedding in First Presbyterian Church.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight Chantilly lace in skim-

Tucci-Bybee Marriage Conducted In Florida

Marriage vows were spoken by Miss Maria Ann Tucci of Homestead, Fla., and Gerald Gist Bybee of Hereford in a double ring service Saturday morning at Sacred Heart Church, Homestead, with the Rev. Xavier Morrass as officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aniello V. Tucci of the Florida city and Mr. Bybee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Bybee, 134 Star Street.

Paired brass urns held white spider mums and baby-breath on the back altar of the church, and the same flowers were arranged in vases on the front altar and in two tall basket standing on either side. Potted palms were set in the background and light was from spiral tapers in crystal votive cups of 15-branched candelabra.

Wedding music was by Leo Dorset, church organist. Her father escorted the bride and mer design with scalloped neckline, and a lace-edged veil in mantilla style. She carried a cascade of gardenias and roses.

Her attendants were dressed in mint lace redingotes over silk lines, and wore veiled petal caps in the same color. Their bouquets were tangerine glame-lilas.

A reception was held in the church parlor after the ceremony.

gave her in marriage.

Attending her were Miss Marita Sullivan as maid of honor, Misses Rebecca Scisco and Carole Jordan of Akron, Ohio, bridesmaids. Karen Tucci was flower girl, Jeffery Soinski ring bearer, Josef Koelbi III and Eugene Soinski pages. Children in the wedding party are cousins of the bride.

Bruce Bybee of Wichita Falls acted as his brother's best man. Another brother, Lynn Bybee of Dallas; the bride's brother, Neil Tucci, and Marcus Jacobsen of Hereford were ushers.

Miss Tucci's gown, a designers original in pale candlelight silk peau de soie, had appliques of Alencon lace dewed with pearls on the empire bodice and short sleeves, and scattered down the graceful length of the A-line skirt.

The neckline was scalloped high at the throat and cut low to a Chanel bow at center back. Just below the bow, folds of the chapel train swept to a full curve.

A double crown of seed pearls held tiers of French illusion, the lower tier drifting over the train to cathedral length completing a misty silhouette. As an heirloom piece she wore diamond earrings belonging to her paternal grandmother.

The maid of honor was dressed in a sheath of pale pink chiffon styled with Dior back and and satin insert. Her matching headpiece was ornamented with seed pearls and she carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses, rainbow asters and baby-breath with satin ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids' dresses were identical in style but of a rose shade, as were their headdresses. The flower girl's princess frock was pale pink, and she carried a gold basket of asters and orse petal.

A reception at the New Everglades Hotel in Miami preceded a dinner at which more than a hundred guests were seated. At the bride's table, covered in white, a pair of five-branched silver candelabra was placed with an arrangement of roses, spider mums and pink carnations extending from the center.

Leaving on the wedding trip which will bring them to a home in Hereford, Mrs. Bybee wore a pale pink dress of Moygashel linen with long sleeves and belted waist. Accessories were in white. The couple is making the leisurly trip through Southern states by automobile.

After spending the summer here, they expect to reside in Austin, where Mr. Bybee is a student in the University of Texas School of Law. He is a graduate of Hereford High School and received the BBA degree from the U of T.

Mrs. Bybee attended Marymount College at Boca Raton and Miami-Dade Junior College at Miami after graduation from Immaculata Academy, Miami.

In addition to the bridegroom's parents and brothers, out-of-town wedding guests included Mrs. Bruce Bybee and Mrs. Lynn Bybee; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Soinski of Parma, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sullivan of Ft. Pierce, Fla., and Lt. Col. Eugene A. Soinski, who at present is serving in Formosa and Viet Nam.

Miss Rusher Is Honored With Shower

Miss Kathy Rusher, whose marriage to Bill Johnson is to be an event of July 12, was honored at a lingerie shower Friday evening. Misses Margaret Ray, Nancy Smith, Gwen Cargo and Levenle Benefield were hostesses in Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Thirty school friends of the bride-elect, who was a 1967 graduate of Hereford High, were invited for the party. After a period of informal conversation and a series of games, gifts Miss Rusher and opened.

Cake and punch were served from a table decorated in shades of tangerine and yellow, which will appear as the color note in decorations for Miss Rusher's wedding.

Mrs. G. K. Wichmann
... nee Jane Evelyn Heard

Jane Heard, Formerly Of Hereford Is Bride

A wedding trip through New Mexico and Colorado is ending today for Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kurt Wichmann, who will be at home in Chicago. Mrs. Wichmann was Miss Jane Evelyn Heard of Amarillo before their marriage June 15.

Home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon Heard of Amarillo, was the scene of the wedding ceremony read by the Rev. Thomas W. Ogilvie of Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Former Hereford residents, the Heard family is well known here, and the bride attended school in this city to the sixth grade. She is a granddaughter of the late Dr. G. W. Heard.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Christel Wichmann Tepner and the late Kurt Wichmann of Indianapolis, Ind. He is a graduate of Indiana University and the bride holds the M.S. degree from that school. She was previously graduated from the University of Texas, where she was named to Phi Beta Kappa and Iota Sigma Pi.

Her sister, Miss Martha Elizabeth Heard of St. Louis, was her maid of honor and Glenn Miller of Indianapolis the best man. Roger and Armin Tepner served as ushers. Palms and gladiolas formed a background for the wedding party.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Heard wore an A-line gown of ivory organza over tafeta trimmed with lace, fashioned with chapel train. Her illusion veil was secured with rosebuds and her bouquet was of Sweetheart and Talisman roses and stephanotis.

A luncheon for wedding guests at the Federated Women's Clubhouse, followed the ceremony.

Miss Wilson, Mr. Cone Wed In Church Service

Fresh daisies and white snapdragon sprays in large bouquets atop Grecian columns separated pairs of 15-branched candelabra on either side of emerald sunbursts to form the setting for Miss Cynthia Ann Wilson's marriage to Gary Lyn Cone in First Baptist Church Saturday.

Bordered with greenery, the candelabra were connected with gold roping as a background for the late afternoon ceremony conducted by the Rev. Leroy Burris, pastor of First Baptist Church at Norton, Texas. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Ed Wilson Jr.

Her parents reside at 304 Sunset Drive. Mr. Cone is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cone of Pettit.

Mrs. Lowell Sharp, organist, played traditional wedding music as a prelude to the Wagner Bridal Chorus, to which the bridesmaids entered. Miss Patsy Stoy was maid of honor, Miss Linda London bridesmaid and Miss Karen Cone, sister of the bridegroom, junior bridesmaid. With Mike McDermott of Morton as best man, Mr. Cone was also attended by his brother, Tommy L. Cone of Big Spring, and John McDermott of Morton.

Dainty tucks and vertical rows of lace ruffles marked the fitted bodice and long sleeves of the bride's gown. There was a fringe of lace around the high neckline and a row of tiny buttons down the front.

A narrow ribbon belt circled her waist, with a bow at center front. The skirt, falling floor-length in soft folds of silk organza bombazine, rounded into a sanctuary train. Her veil was a pouf of French illusion, attached to a circlet of orange blossoms and pearls.

With her bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, she carried a handkerchief brought from the Philippines 65 years ago by an uncle, and carried by her mother in her wedding.

Of yellow crystal pea, the attendants' frocks were sleeveless, made with empire waistline and fastened with small buttons covered with the fabric. Centered bands of lace extended from a lace mandarin collar.

Their headpieces were pill-boxes of the dress fabric trimmed with lace and worn with shoulder-length nylon net veils. Their bouquets were white daisies and baby-breath.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were hosts at a reception in the church parlor. Guests who offered the bride and groom their best wishes, were served refreshments by Miss Cynthia Madsen of Amarillo and Miss Sue Faulkenberry of Big Spring.

In the houseparty were Misses Doris Parsons, Julia London, Sharon Worthan and Mary Arthur Stoy, Mrs. Walter London and Mrs. Arthur Stoy.

Yellow daisies decorated the colonnaded wedding cake which was served with punch from a silver bowl. A silver candelabrum twined with smilax held wedding tapers and white blossoms similar to those used at the altar.

The Texas Gulf coast was the honeymoon destination of the couple.

Mrs. Cone attended Texas Tech after graduation from Hereford High School in 1965, and Mr. Cone was a Tech student also. Now serving in the U. S. Army, he is a graduate of South Plains Junior College and completed high school studies at Whiteface.

Guests who came to the wedding from other cities included the Grady Wilson family of Bartlesville, Okla.; Mrs. Ferris Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weeks of Oklahoma City's the Tommy Beach family of Elmer, Oklahoma; Sandy Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermott of Morton and Mrs. Marvin Bishop of Levelland.

They will make their home at 2704 Canyon Drive, Amarillo. Mr. Ott is employed in that city and is a student in Amarillo College Vocational School. The bride was a graduate of Hereford High School with this year's class, and he with the 1967 class.

Final event in pre-nuptial entertainment for the couple was the rehearsal dinner Thursday evening in the Caison House, with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ott as hosts.

Susan Ballard Bride Of Ronald Gene Ott

Miss Susan Jean Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Labry E. Ballard, 120 Beach, and Ronald Gene Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ott, 505 Star, spoke marriage vows before the foliage-banked altar of First Methodist Church in an evening ceremony Friday.

The double ring service was read by the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor. Preceding entry of the bridal party, Miss Susan White presented two songs, Because and More, accompanied by Don Baugous who also played an organ medley of traditional wedding music and the marches.

Mrs. Ronnie Welty of Baytown, Miss Ballard's sister, was her matron of honor. Miss Amy Ballard, Miss Diana Springer and a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Melody Ott, were the bridesmaids and Miss Laura Ballard, younger sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Best man was J. W. White and the ushers, Ronnie Welty, Layton Sawyer, Lou Preston Spinks III of Canyon and Don Mullenix of Fletcher, Okla. Her father gave the bride in marriage.

Tall candles burned on either side of the cross centering the communion table; fresh greenery across the front of the table and at the altar completed the setting. The couple knelt on a white satin pillow for the benediction.

An overdress of Chantilly lace was worn by the bride, its skirt divided redingote fashion to reveal the A-line rayon organza gown beneath.

Scallops of the lace, touched with pearl trim, outlined the oval neckline, defined a yoke, and bordered the center front slash in the skirt, extending around the hemline as the skirt widened into a circular chapel train. Wide, soft pleats from the shoulder-line added fullness to the dress back and the train.

Pearl-embroidered, a spray of organza petals over the bride's forehead secured three tiers of illusion veiling which floated over her shoulders. Her flowers were white roses in a cascade bouquet.

Floor length dresses cut on slender lines of yellow crystal peau attired the attendants. Lace inserts were set down the front of the dresses and matching lace mitts were worn. Lace frills backed daisy nosegays,

Many Changes Are Expected As City Continues Growth

Announcement of location of the new packing plant in Hereford, among other things, has set the entire Panhandle talking. In a nutshell, the consensus is that "Hereford has done it again."

Home folks, already well informed on the subject, have shown far less interest than have our neighbors; some are jealous, others seem amazed at the accomplishment.

Fundamentally, the announcement indicates growth, not only for Hereford, but for the entire territory, including Amarillo. Coupled with the giant packing installation at Friona, Hereford's new plant definitely establishes the Golden Triangle as a feeding capitol of prime importance throughout the nation. Many people have been saving these things. Now they are becoming a reality.

Best of all, continued expansion along this line is to be anticipated, along with growth of those projects already established. The area finds itself in this enviable position, primarily because we can produce and market beef at a lower cost figure than most other areas in the nation, due to location, abundant grain sorghum production and ideal climatic conditions.

Meanwhile, Hereford continues to draw envy from its neighbors, chiefly because it consists of a population of energetic, intelligent people who have learned that things can be accomplished through teamwork, long-range planning, and unified effort. In other words, we have learned to place community welfare above selfish interests. This is probably the key to our success in attracting industry, and so long as it exists we will probably continue to be in the vanguard of Panhandle development.

Locally, the new plant will likely mean much in the way of jobs, sideline economy benefits, and general income. As always, it will bring forth developments some of us will not particularly like; it may even change, once again, our outlook in many things. Such is always the result of progress.

Already, Hereford is changing from a town into a small city, and with this development comes many advantages for people of the area. Thirty years ago, The Brand said: "A town either goes forward or backward — it never stands still." Since that time Hereford has jumped from 2,800 population to an estimated 12,000. What's more, the philosophy is just as true today as it was in 1938.

REA, Chile Are Saluted For Efforts

The Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative is currently acting as host to a delegation of visitors from Chile as part of an international program to improve conditions in South American countries, and to help the Chilean government get the most from a $7 million program in expansion of electric service.

Deaf Smith County, needless to say, is highly honored by virtue of being selected to act in the capacity as host in behalf of the national REA. The choice of our local cooperative indicates that we are considered highly efficient and practical on all levels; it also indicates that Deaf Smith's administrative staff is progressive and understanding, and that Hereford is considered to be an outstanding community in the nation.

The present visit of the Chilean delegation, in fact, climaxes an exchange of visits over a period of several years in which local manager, Leo Forrest, has sent several months in Chile to help set up the rural electric project there. Among other things, he reports the inhabitants as "warm hearted and friendly," a similarity which also exists in this area, and which may well have had its part in the selection of Deaf Smith County as a model for the Chilean project.

The visit, in addition, emphasizes the importance of our own development along this line. In the everyday hustle and bustle, it is easy to take for granted those things which are basic in providing ease and comfort for us as individuals. Seldom, unless we lose them, do we fully appreciate them — until they are pointed out by others.

Enforcement Is Best For Sportsman

Reports from fishermen and boat enthusiasts indicate that area lakes, both in Texas and New Mexico, are beginning to enforce regulations which have long been overlooked and neglected.

Littering, for instance, has drawn fines in recent weeks in cases of extreme violations. Educational programs centering on safety measures are being instituted and, most important of all, visitors are being informed as to what is expected of them during the time they are guests in our public recreation areas.

Why this type of program was not carried out previously, we do not know. With growing interest in recreation, it is definitely none to soon, however, and the one who is bound to gain in the long run is the sportsman. Lakes and recreation spots for the most part are property of the federal government. They have been established for the use and pleasure of all people of the United States. The present policy, it seems to us, would insure their operation along this premise.

Change The Emphasis

Rural schools still overemphasize vocational training for agriculture, Max F. Jordan, U. S. Department of Agriculture specialist, told the recent Outlook Conference in Washington.

Dwindling job opportunities on farms make it imperative that "major changes be made in many schools where the vocational programs still revolve solely around agriculture," he said.

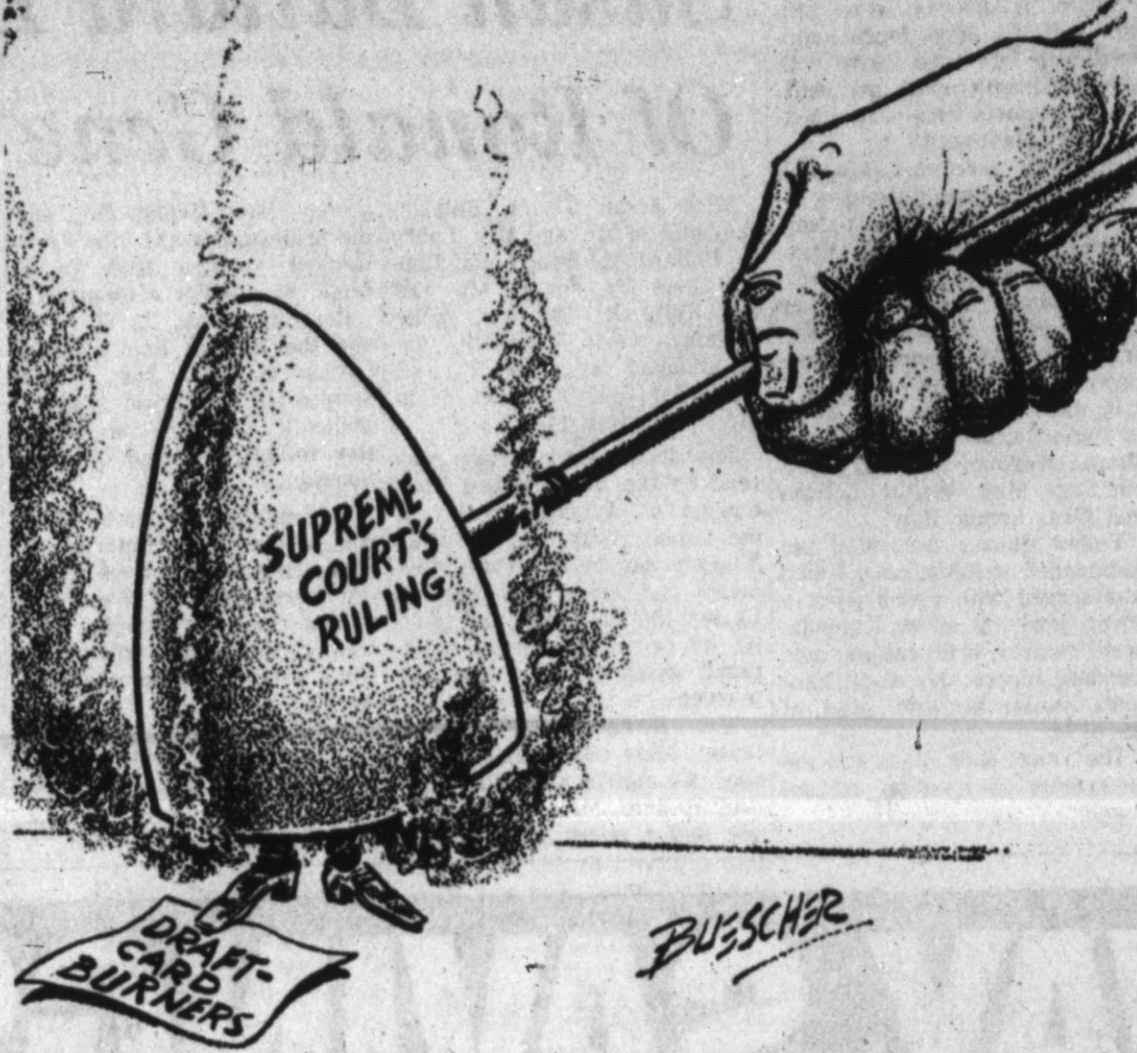

He called for education that is "realistic and geared to the kinds of employment opportunities that are likely to be available in the future."

Vocational agriculture leaders are extremely sensitive about this subject. They are trying to change, but it's difficult to alter past programs as swiftly as change is taking place in this urbanizing country.

City readers are dead wrong if they imagine that this is a rural problem. Untrained, unskilled youths moving to cities are a major cause of joblessness, crime and slums in most of our cities. Municipalities bear the brunt of the cost in taxes, as well as in human suffering.

Senator Mansfield Requests Electoral System Shakeup

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—Presidential primaries have ended on the sourest note in our history, and as usual they have proved very little except that there must be some better way for Americans to choose their leaders than through nominating conventions.

None of the leading candidates entered all the primaries and the probable choice of the Democratic party entered none of them. Most states do not hold primaries and even if a candidate wins every delegate up for grabs, the candidate is still far short of having a majority of convention votes.

Only two candidates gained anything from the 1968 primaries. Richard Nixon showed he could win against those rivals who chose to contest against him. Eugene McCarthy proved he was a serious contender. But Nixon has by no means sewed up the Republican nomination and McCarthy is still a distinct underdog in the Democratic race.

Robert Kennedy might have been assassinated even if he had not been in Los Angeles for the California primary. But the fact is that he was murdered while celebrating a primary victory.

In addition to a life that could ill be spared, millions of dollars were spent in the primary chase. Almost all of these dollars were wasted, and much more is yet to come. No other country throws political dollars down the drain so recklessly as the U.S.

Mansfield Asks End

Senator Mike Mansfield, the Majority Leader of the Senate and a former college professor of history, called attention in a recent speech to the "inequities and inadequacies of our electoral system."

Since the Constitution established the Electoral College, it will not be easy to change our system. It will take a Constitutional amendment, which is a laborious process requiring action both by the Congress and by the states. Nothing can be done about 1968, but reform could be achieved by 1972 if a start is made promptly.

Sen. Mansfield believes present methods are no longer appropriate and that it would be "far more equitable, far more just, and far more democratic, and above all, far more rational to adopt an electoral system based on the following procedures:

"Abolish both the convention system and the Electoral College.

"Extend the right to vote in primaries as well as in general elections to the 18-year-olds.

"Establish a nationwide primary to be held in all the states on the same day to be followed by the direct election of the President; and in that fashion eliminating both nominating conventions and the Electoral College.

"Limit the Presidency to one term of six years."

These are not new ideas, nor are they original with Senator Mansfield. But they are timely and make particular sense at this period.

People Lack Voice Now

Under our present system, the average citizen has little or nothing to say about who is chosen to operate their government. On Election Day, voters are confronted with two or three choices, all picked by the politicians. To some voters, all of the candidates are unattractive.

Nominees are chosen by delegates, few of whom are elected by a democratic process. Most delegates are either professional politicians themselves or the pawns of politicians. This system makes a mockery of our supposedly democratic process.

If each state held a primary on the same day, nominees would be picked by the public and not by the politicians. The practice of buying delegates, with cash or favors, would end. The spending of vast sums in certain states would end, although money would still be important.

The six-year term need not necessarily be a part of the reform package but it has the advantage of eliminating the reelection of any President. Presumably, the citizenry would benefit if the man in the White House knew he had six years to perform his tasks and no more.

Changing Times Require Changing Attitudes

No set of values, good or bad, is absolute, as time is revealing in this country. A guaranteed annual income is being investigated today with a few of the moral arguments taken away, arguments that didn't allow one to even consider the matter heretofore.

In Texas, the idea of a guaranteed income will certainly be frowned upon; this, however, will not change advances being made in welfare across the nation. While we wring our hands, others are investigating and documenting facts which exhibit glaring weaknesses in the present welfare system, a "system" which evidently insists that the poor continue being poor, penalizing people for improving their economic conditions. (For every dollar earned, a dollar of welfare is subtracted.)

One of the myths coming to an end is the idea that people living in "ghettos," or the local labor camp, are poor because they don't want to work. In some cases, this may be the obvious, tangible reason, although it might be pointed out that labor in the fields from early to late does constitute work. Hard work doesn't necessarily mean a family will have enough to enjoy any decent standard of living.

In more industrialized areas of the nation, the need for unskilled labor is nil. Technology has advanced, and jobs are not available for the uneducated and the unskilled. As a matter of fact, not one new blue collar job has been created in the manufacturing sector of the economy in the last ten years.

We are approaching the day when some inconceivably small portion of the eligible working population will be manufacturing the demands of the entire nation. This phenomenon even exists today. Think of the people who would be out of work if we quit buying things we didn't need — things we wouldn't think of owning until some Madison Avenue advertiser crammed them down our throat.

The concept of individual responsibility being the answer to anybody's ill fate is on its way out, not because values are decaying but because the economic structure is changing. The change is in technology; we are a mature nation, economically speaking. Moral values (if we ever had any) are not an eroding factor.

Poor people exist today not necessarily by their own actions or inactions. The current situation would not be greatly relieved if everybody was "responsible." Yet we continue to degrade the ones who weren't born to the proper parents. Being poor should not be considered a degrading station in life, and neither should the quest for equality be considered an immoral cause. There is nothing immoral about welfare.

Cases can be cited where pure laziness may be the impetus for welfare. However, this is not the overall situation. A guaranteed income, negative income tax, or whatever, could remove administrative red tape and degrading procedures that welfare recipients currently must submit themselves to.

The evolving issue is whether a citizen is entitled to welfare as a right or as a favor (a "handout," in popular terminology). As more and more members of the middle class enjoy luxuries due only to their birth status, it is easy to conceive of welfare becoming a right of every citizen whose personal circumstances keep him outside the realm of economic affluence.

50 YEARS AGO — 1918

Harry Randall Albertus, one of the young men who was drafted and sent to camp last Monday, was employed in farming work. In addition, he joined the Limit Club, has already purchased $920 worth of War Saving Stamps, and has pledged himself to save the remaining $80 from his salary as a soldier and complete the purchase. How's that for patriotism? If there are other stories like this, the Brand would certainly like to hear them.

35 YEARS AGO — 1933

The first load of wheat this year was received in Hereford last Friday afternoon at the McLean & Pitman elevator. This wheat was from Castro County and was grown on the farm of Jeff Gilbreath. It was well ripened, with well-formed grain. It tested 61 pounds to the bushel, and Gilbreath was paid a premium of five cents per bushel, making the price paid 63 cents.

25 YEARS AGO — 1943

Lt. Wendell Kermit Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson, has been reported missing in action, according to a telegram received by his father this morning. Lt. Wilson, who was stationed with a bomber group in England, has been missing since June 13, and though no details were available here this morning, it was thought that he was a member of the bomber squadron which took particularly heavy losses in a raid over Germany on June 13. A son was born to Lt. and Mrs. Wilson yesterday and has been named for his father.

15 YEARS AGO — 1953

A bit of freak wind lifted a shed on the Malone Dairy, about two miles southeast of Hereford, Tuesday afternoon and dropped the whole thing into a nearby pigpen, killing one porker and injuring three others. The accident occurred about 4:15 p. m. shortly after Hereford had received a sprinkle of rain. It was not known whether the damage was done simply by high wind or from a small twister. There was no other wind damage reported in the county.

10 YEARS AGO — 1958

For the second time this month a Deaf Smith County child was bitten by a rattlesnake. Saturday afternoon on a farm twelve-and-a-half miles northwest of town, five-year-old Evelyn Kay McMellian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McMellian, was bitten by a sand rattler while playing in the front yard of her home. Because of the quickness of getting Evelyn Kay to the hospital, the little girl was able to return home yesterday morning after treatment and observation.

5 YEARS AGO — 1963

Seven persons were injured on Hereford streets Thursday as traffic mishaps plagued Hereford Police Department officers. Even though all the accidents were serious and property loss was heavy, no traffic deaths resulted from the accidents.

1 YEAR AGO — 1967

Many residents along three streets in West Hereford had a rude awakening late Thursday and early Friday as a massive rainstorm flooded that area. The 100 block of Aspen, Beach and Centre streets was a scene of chaos as muddy waters swirled through the houses and yards. The downpour, which was accompanied by a highly charged electrical storm, filled drainage systems soon after it started before midnight and began backing up. Rainfall totals in the city were generally about 2-and-a-half inches, but there were heavier amounts.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

TEXAS BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT—There's an oil field south-east of Palestine so rich in the stuff that the blue-black liquid gold literally melts and runs out when a sample of the sand is laid in the hot summer sun.

In 33 years, however, the field hasn't made anybody rich.

Discovered in 1935, the Camp Hill field appeared to be a wildcat's dream. Only 450 feet below the surface is an estimated 50 million barrels of some of the best grade oil ever found anywhere in the world.

The oil is so thick and heavy that it doesn't gush out of the ground. It oozes, and that's the problem. Thus far, nobody has been able to devise a pump or any other system that can successfully get the oil to the surface in large enough quantities to make marketing it very profitable.

HOOKED — Santa Anna, the great Mexican general, would have been jailed today as a dope addict.

Apparently he was equally addicted to liquor, women and narcotics. Along with the silk tent, silk sheets, monogrammed china and other of his memorabilia captured by Sam Houston at the Battle of San Jacinto, there also was a chest of opium. Santa Anna brought the drug along to help him make the Texas campaign more bearable.

PAGING IZAAK WALTON — Fishermen have landed 272 separate species of marine life from the waters off Padre Island.

SILLY SUPERSTITIONS — In the days when witches were supposed to be abroad in Texas, they sometimes hexed the guns of hunters.

There was a remedy, however, if the hunter knew — or could guess — who was responsible. Then all he had to do was nail a piece of paper to a tree, draw on it the face of the person who had bewitched the gun and then shoot the picture with a silver bullet.

The picture then had to be burned and the silver slug dug out of the tree. After this hocus-pocus, the gun was certain to shoot straight again.

PRIVATE BANK — The late James M. (Silver Dollar) West, Houston lawyer and oil man, liked to have plenty of cash around when he needed it.

Silver dollars were his favorites and he had special vaults built into the cellar of his River Oaks home so that he could store plenty of the "cartwheels". When he died in 1957, there were more than 200,000 silver dollars — almost eight tons of them — in his cellar.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Arp, in Smith County, used to be named Strawberry because it was the center of an area that produced the fruit.

Shippers of strawberries resented the name, however, because they had to label the address on the crates by hand. They lobbied for a shorter name.

They got it when Bill Arp, a Tennessee newspaperman, arrived in town and spent three weeks gathering material about the area. The folks liked him so much that they voted to change the name of Strawberry to Arp.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1322 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 205-3700

The Public Works fund bill passed by the House Wednesday included $892,000 for continuation of water import studies for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, according to Panhandle Congressman Bob Price.

The fiscal 1969 appropriations allowed the Corps of Engineers $425,000 for their investigation and $467,000 to the Bureau of Reclamation, Price said.

The Reclamation Bureau recently issued a preliminary report on their study of the feasibility of importing huge amounts of water from the Mississippi River.

Commissioner of Reclamation Floyd E. Dominy emphasized that any import plans that may result from the investigations must carefully respect the rights of the many states whose interests would be involved.

"The preliminary studies reveal that the High Plains region will need to import 16.5 million acre-feet of water a year in or-

Church Group Holds Meeting

The Joy Sunday School Class of the Avenue Baptist Church held its monthly meeting at the First National Bank Community Room with Joyce Duggan as the hostess.

Those present were, mesdames, John Hix, Ross Saiz, Jim Culpepper, Elwood Jones, Bob Reed, and Gene Combs.

Mrs. Ross Saiz, president, called the meeting to order at which time the group sang their adopted song and recited their motto. Several items of business were discussed and voted on. Minutes for the previous meeting were read by the secretary Sandra Combs. The treasurer gave the report.

Mrs. Gene Combs led the group in a devotional, and Mrs. John Hix led the closing prayer.

The next meeting of the group will be at the home of Mrs. Jim Culpepper, in July.

der to meet its agricultural and municipal and industrial requirements by the year 2020," Commissioner Dominy said.

"This is no small matter, and before any plans are developed for diverting any such quantities from the lower Mississippi River system, we intend to be sure that only water in excess of the foreseeable needs of any states involved can be considered surplus and available for possible importation into High Plains."

The Progress Report found that there is no question but what water will be available in the Mississippi River for export during some periods of most years, but determination of the amounts and times when water can be exported will require exhaustive studies to establish future needs in the valley states.

There was also $380,000 budgeted for Arkansas-Red River salt control which includes forks of the Red River in Childress, Hall, Collingsworth and Donley counties, Price added.

Agrigento, on the south coast of Sicily, was founded by Greek colonists about 582 B.C. and called Akragas. It thrived on trade with Carthage.

Lately Married Couple At Home

After their marriage June 13 and a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas L. Rudsell are at home in Hereford. Mrs. Rudsell is the former Juanita Lois Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bosley, 300 Avenue J.

An evening ceremony at Temple Baptist Church, conducted by the Rev. E. E. Suttle, was attended by family members and a few close friends. Urns holding Boston fern were set on either side of a background of palm branches at the altar. The couple was unattended.

The bride, escorted by her father, was dressed in a sheath gown of candlelight crepe and lace, fashioned with a modified Bertha collar, long sleeves and slim-lined skirt. A Dior bow in her hair held a short flare of veiling.

Her flowers were Cymbidium orchids and her only jewelry a pendant worn by her grandmother, mother and two aunts at their weddings. Another heirloom piece was a handkerchief made from the wedding gown of the late Mrs. Q. V. Connor of Canyon; and also carried by an aunt of the bride at her wedding.

Robert H. Bell played organ selections including Because (D'Hardelot) and the wedding marches.

A reception in the Bosley home followed the ceremony. Mrs. Ken Bosley served the wedding cake and Mrs. James Braly ladled punch.

Pink net over a white cloth covered the table graced by the two-tiered cake which had pink roses for decoration. Tapers tied with a pink bow were arranged with a miniature bridal couple as a centerpiece.

For travel Mrs. Rudsell wore a pink linen suit accented with pearl jewelry. She is a graduate of Hereford High School, where she was active in Future Nurses and Future Homemakers organizations and was a water safety aide in the Red Cross swimming program.

Mr. Rudsell has completed a period of service in the U. S. Air Force and is employed here.

Out-of-city wedding guests were his grandmother, Mrs. Clara Nicholson of Amarillo; the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bosley of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Bosley of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Lightcap of Tulsa and Mrs. Juanita Beasley of California.

Air Force Cites Terry Williams

SPANGDHELM, Germany — Sergeant Terry D. Williams, whose mother is Mrs. Leonard O. Erwin of Vega, is a member of a unit that has earned the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Sergeant Williams, a weapons mechanic in the 49th Tactical Fighter Wing at Spangdahlem AB, Germany, will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

His unit was cited for outstanding achievement in maintaining its combat readiness while converting from the use of the F-105 Thunderchief to the newer F-4 Phantom. The three fighter squadrons of the wing flew 10,954 missions without an accident or incident during the complex transition.

The sergeant, a graduate of Adrian High School, attended

Nothing is calculated to stop traffic in a supermarket aisle like a cute baby riding a shopping cart, but how about two cute blue-eyed babies, two-month-old twin girls?

ALL DRESSED up in petal pink, they had admirers by the dozen in a store here last week while they shopped with their mother, Sandra Thomas, and grandmother, Florence Vaught.

I learned that Sandra and the girls, Cynthia and Jeannine, have been here since late April when her husband, Sgt. Lloyd Thomas of the U. S. Marines, was sent to the Viet Nam combat area. They had been living in Lucadia, Calif.

Since he has been overseas Sandra has been notified of his nomination for the title of Regimental Marine of the Month. His work as his battery's transportation chief was cited by his commanding officer, with the note that he has transformed the outfit into "one of the best."

The Sergeant was praised for his ability to "instill a sense of pride in the drivers", his thoroughness in details such as inspection and record keeping, his "leadership ability to organize, issue orders, and do plain hard work himself".

ONE OF THE crowd around the twins in the grocery store was Lois Gilliland, who happily answered inquiries about her own new granddaughter. Her daughter Maribeth, Mrs. Dennis James Johnson, and the baby,

Initiation Is Planned For Secretaries Group

Initiation of new members is scheduled in the Hereford Chapter, National Secretaries Association, at 8 p.m. Monday. The meeting will be in Deaf Smith REC Building on East Highway 60, and visitors from Tierra Blanca Chapter in Amarillo are expected.

Alice Rudd, president, has notified members that a chapter secretary will be elected at this meeting to replace Jane Majors, who recently moved to Lubbock. Committees for the coming year have been announced by Mrs. Rudd, who took office last month as president. Janie Victor, Thelma Lamm and Cynthia Vines comprise the program

Jamie Jessica, are at home from the hospital now and Lois insists there never was a prettier baby.

THE MERLIN WEBERS, 109 Kingwood, are enjoying grandchildren Dale, Lori Sue and Scotty, and a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Jack Bohannon, all here for a couple of weeks from Lansing, Mich. Bohannon is studying in Michigan State University there, working toward his doctorate, and the family has been living there about a year.

Before that, they were in Iran. Mr. and Mrs. Bohannon are missionaries stationed in that Middle Eastern country, and will return after a two-year leave.

The whole family made a grand tour of Europe last year on their way back to the United States, traveling in a camper and getting a closer look at the country than most travelers do, at much less cost.

ON THEIR WAY home last Sunday afternoon from a family reunion at Anson, Mrs. Cora Johnson and the Clifford Johnsons met the rainstorm, deluge, or whatever you care to call it, at Lubbock.

Anyway, water was plentiful, they report, and at places on the highway it got into their car. Maybe a drout is just as well.

Social Security Representative To Visit Here

Although the district office for this area is located at Amarillo, social security service is available on a regular basis in most counties the Amarillo office serves, Travis C. Briggs, district manager said today.

"Ordinarily, folks do not have to wait very long to be interviewed if they call at our office in Amarillo," according to Briggs, "but we realize that it is not convenient for some to come to Amarillo."

"That's the reason our field representatives set up schedules so the people in a community will know when they will be available for assistance in filing claims for benefits or to answer questions about social security or Medicare."

Those of you living in Deaf Smith county, may wish to contact Mr. Millard in Hereford at the Courthouse on July 2, 9, 16, 23, 30.

Official Discusses New Labor Laws

Clyde Cloninger, an official of the Wage and Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor from Amarillo, told the meeting of the Retailers Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce the various changes in the labor laws which are now in effect and those which are changing in February.

Cloninger spoke during a luncheon Friday at the Hickory Log in Sugarland Mall. He pointed out to them that there is an orderly way of handling these laws. "If you don't like the way they are written," he said that he would be available to answer any questions, either at the meeting or by contacting him at his office in Amarillo.

The purpose of the 40-hour week, he pointed out, was an effort to make the work-week uniform throughout the country. He said that it was necessary under the law to pay time-and-one-half for any work time in excess, but listed some exceptions in the retail businesses.

He also explained the purpose of the minimum wage, and cautioned everyone to "keep your records accurately each day and each week." The child labor laws were given in detail, and the penalties for all age groups. He also explained the worker's rights toward recovering back pay. Chamber manager Bill Thompson and others queried Cloninger on various points, including, "Should a person, when he is paid an hourly rate and then is given an incentive bonus, have his hourly rate based on both later?" Cloninger said this was true.

Christmas bonus? "When it is a gift not based on hour's work, it does not go into the regular rate. But if it is promised on a percentage of sales, it would." Profit-sharing plans? "A bonified profit-sharing plan will not be included. But there are exceptions."

He explained that cafes, hotels and motels were exempt from overtime, but reminded them that there is a state law which specifies a 9-hour day, 54-year week for women employees. Gasoline service stations are also not under overtime rates, unless sales exceed $250,000 per year. But where gas stations sell accessories, most of the sales would have to be recorded from gasoline sales or it would come under the overtime rule.

In the vegetable business, on a seasonal basis, there are two 10-week periods of work exemptions, with a limit of 10 hours per day or 50 hours per week otherwise. But he explained that the over-10-hours-in-a-day overtime would also depend on the minimum of 40 hours per work-week, when it is paid. Cloninger mentioned that student learners in school programs and handicapped people could be paid less, "providing you get a certificate. Without the certificate, however, they must be paid as any other employee."

Phillip Cain On Honor List

FORT WORTH — Phillip T. Cain of Hereford has been named to the Deans' Honor List for the 1968 Spring semester from the AddRan College of Arts and Sciences at Texas Christian University.

To be eligible for the scholastic honor, a student must be carrying at least 12 semester hours in courses that count toward a degree and must be in the upper five per cent of the majors in that particular school or college.

A total of 210 TCU students were named to the five lists. One hundred and one of those were from AddRan College of Arts and Sciences, 38 from the M. J. Neeley School of Business, 38 from the School of Education, 11 from Harris College of Nursing and 22 from the School of Fine Arts.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cain of 104 Elm, Phillip is a freshman pre-medical major. He was graduated from Hereford High School.

Income Tax Facts

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I planted some flowering shrubs around my house this spring. Can I treat this landscaping cost as a capital investment for tax purposes?

A — Yes, expenditures for landscaping can be added to the cost of your property. However, this would not include normal maintenance and care of the shrubs and lawn.

Q — My daughter opened her first bank account and was asked for her social security number. How can she get one; she's only 13?

A — A person can obtain a social security number regardless of age by filling out Form SS-5 available at local Social Security or IRS offices. Banks and other savings institutions are required by law to identify annual interest payments of $10 or more by the social security number of the recipient.

Q — I filed my return in April. What could be holding up my refund?

A — Many refunds are delayed beyond the usual 5 to 6 week processing period because the returns were incomplete or contained errors. Missing or inaccurate Social Security numbers, missing signatures, missing W-2 statements and other required supporting documents were common causes for delays.

If the refund doesn't come within ten weeks from the time you filed, write the regional service center. Give your name, social security number and the date you filed to help them trace it.

Q — I'm making a gift of stock to my grandchildren. Will I have to pay a gift tax or will they?

A — Federal gift tax is imposed on the giver not the receiver. This section of the law does not apply unless a gift of more than $3,000 ($9,000 if your wife joins in making the gift) is made to any one person during a calendar year. Even then each giver has a $30,000 lifetime

By JACK MAGUIRE

THE BARE FACTS — Modesty may have prevented some of the early settlers in what is now Texas from accepting land grants from the King of Spain. This was because the ceremony in which the land was transferred usually was conducted au naturel.

When Jose Maria de Balli received his league of what is now Hidalgo County in April, 1768, he was required to appear at the site naked. So did the captain in his Majesty's Royal Army, who was to effect the transfer of the land. The lack of clothing was supposed to symbolize their humility toward God and King.

Standing together nude, the officer read the deed aloud, then took Balli's right hand and walked onto the grant where he formally transferred it in the name of the King. The recipient then picked up some sticks, broke them and flung them into the wind. That was his pledge that he would clear the land in time.

Next he crumbled some of the earth and tossed it into the wind as a symbol that he could plow the soil and live off the land. Only then was he considered to have given legal possession of the property.

TRAVELING TEXAS — Domino players, long a part of the living folklore of county courthouse squares, can play their game in style in Lufkin.

Thanks to a $1,000 gift from a Lufkin couple, the Angelina County courthouse will have a round, covered pavilion reserved exclusively for local domino players.

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — Until North Korea seized the Pueblo last January, the last U. S. Navy ship to be captured was taken by the Confederates in Galveston Bay.

U. S. Navy historians say that it happened on February 4, 1862, when the heavily armed gunboat, the Harriet Lane, was captured in the Port of Galveston. However, Texas historian Frank X. Tolbert, who has carefully researched Civil War naval battles in the Gulf of Mexico, says that the Navy records are wrong.

Tolbert contends that the Harriet Lane actually was captured January 1, 1863, not February 4, 1862. And he says that other U. S. vessels were captured even later by Confederates operating in the Gulf.

LIVELY GHOST — Terlingua, the Brewster County mining center that became a ghost town when the mines closed in the 1940's, may be coming to life again.

The Waldron Mine is being worked again, but for tourists instead of cinabar, the mercury ore that gave Terlingua life in the first place. Now tourists pay $1 each to tour the mine and see how quicksilver was dug out of the rough Texas earth.

For another $15, they can even spend the night in one of mine headquarters buildings. They have been turned into tourist accommodations, complete with kitchenettes.

TEXAS FIRST — In 1836, the Republic of Texas decided that it needed a fort and built one at the east end of Galveston Island. It was named Fort San Jacinto, in honor of that renowned battle.

time exemptions to use up before the gift tax applies.

Q — Somehow I mislaid my supply of tax deposit forms. How do I go about getting more?

A — Write to your regional service center and give your business name, address and employer identification number. In your letter indicate the type of tax, the tax period and the number of Federal Tax Deposit Forms you need.

Q — I received a refund for a 1967 state income tax I had deducted on my federal tax return. Do I need to file an amended return?

A — No, the refund should be reported on your 1968 return under miscellaneous income.

Q — I just got a letter asking me to send in my records on medical and contributions expenses. What records should I send?

A — Send copies of cancelled checks, paid bills and similar records that indicate the nature of the expense and the date paid to substantiate your expenses. To avoid loss of your original records send copies of these documents.

Community Calendar

The Community Calendar, which includes major events which will be of interest to Hereford and residents of the immediate area, will run in each issue of the Brand. The calendar will include events for the coming six months, and all individuals and organizations are urged to write or mail their event for inclusion.

JUNE
28 — Opening of "Texas" pageant in Palo Duro Canyon.

JULY
21 — Annual homecoming reunion for former residents of Progressive Community, in Hereford Community Center, all-day meeting and lunch.

16 — Hereford residents will vote on a $500,000 revenue bond issue.

Robert Caraway Is Hurt In Fall

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Caraway of Dawn, have received word that their son, Sp-4 Robert E. Caraway, has been slightly injured in an accident while on duty in Quin Nhon, Vietnam.

Sp-4 Caraway reportedly fell and injured his leg as he was descending a utility pole. He is working with the Signal Corps. His parents reported that, according to his letters, he is doing very well and will cover a desk job there for two or three weeks while his leg is still in a cast.

His reports home are mostly that things are rather quiet where he is at the present, and we all hope that it stays that way.

His parents said that he has sent home numerous slides and snapshots of the countryside where he is stationed. "It is a beautiful country that we never seem to hear about on the newscasts. Of course, we only see the one place where he is stationed. It is in the Chang Rang Valley and looks very much like the mountains of New Mexico and Colorado—except, of course, the trees are definitely not evergreens but palm and banana and other tropical trees.

His address is: Sp-4 Robert E. Caraway RA 5449290, HHC 563 S & S Battalion, APO San Francisco, California 96338.

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

by Lyman Young and Tom Massey

UP UNTIL NOW, THE ITEMS STOLEN WERE NOT IMPORTANT—

BUT THE BOX MISSING FROM HERE CONTAINED MY FILMS, THE RESULTS OF WEEKS OF HARD, PATIENT WORK!

DOC, SINCE THE OTHER ITEMS WERE UNIMPORTANT, I'D GUESS THE THIEF DOESN'T KNOW THE VALUE OF YOUR FILMS—

OH, I'M SURE HE DOESN'T!

THEN WE CAN ASSUME HE'LL BE BACK AGAIN... FOR SOMETHING ELSE—

AFTER DARK, SPUD, YOU START OUR OUTBOARD AND TAKE OFF.— HE'LL BELIEVE WE'VE BOTH LEFT!

DOC HIGBY, AT DAWN YOU TAKE YOUR CAMERA, AND GO INTO THE HILLS— I'LL REMAIN HIDDEN—

THE NEXT MORNING....

I'D RATHER ROLL OUT A WELCOME MAT FOR ANY VISITOR, BUT THIS TIME I MAY NEED THIS!

TO BE CONTINUED!

TIGER

by BUD BLAKE

THAT STUFFED DEER USED TO BE ALIVE

PEOPLE TAKE ANIMALS AND STUFF 'EM...

AND PUT 'EM UP FOR US TO SEE WHAT THEY LOOK LIKE!

THEY STUFF OWLS

THEY STUFF MOOSES

AND LIONS AND GIRAFFES AND WHALES

PEOPLE STUFF ALL KINDS OF ANIMALS

THEY SURE DO, TIGER, LOOK...
