

Clayton sends county salary bill to House

By BETTY HANNA
Brand Correspondent

AUSTIN — A bill which would allow county commissioners courts to determine county employees' salary without regard to a specified maximum is receiving favorable action in committee, Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake said Wednesday.

Clayton introduced the bill into the Texas House and it is now before the Counties Committee, of which Clayton is chairman.

This act would repeal all laws setting compensation of county employees and allow commissioners courts to set salaries at any reasonable sum with the exception of the auditor.

The bill has two advantages, Clayton said. It would allow persons with the most direct knowledge of county conditions to fix the salaries, and it would alleviate the burden on the Legislature caused by the numerous bills setting such salaries that must be considered at each session.

If the bill is approved, the effective date of the act would be Jan. 1, 1972.

Clayton also said that the appropriations bill which came out of the House Tuesday was a good bill and did away with the deficit spending part of the previous bill which caused him to vote against it.

"This bill will take care of the emergency situation which exists in the welfare program without putting the state into deficit spending, which is against our constitution and against my governmental beliefs," Clayton added.

Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo said Wednesday he has requested a hearing on the Senate which will have a direct effect on Deaf Smith County. These include the bill to create a juvenile board, to create a criminal district attorney and to establish a hospital district.

Hereford is named milo delivery point

Hereford was designated this week as one of three delivery points in the country for the milo futures contracts to be traded on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, it was disclosed by Ed Schroeter, Commodity Futures broker for Rufenacht Brosmagen and Hertz, Inc.

SCHROETER, WHO will handle orders on the formulation stages of the contracts, said this is a new contract that has just been written, although it has been negotiated for the past year.

"Because Hereford has been made one of the delivery points, along with Amarillo and Plainview, this designation will establish Hereford as being in the center of the concentrated production of grain sorghum and sort of put us on the map a little," Schroeter said.

THE CONTRACT is tentatively scheduled to begin March 2.

Hereford, Amarillo and Plainview will be the only place in the U. S. where milo will be delivered to satisfy the conditions of the futures contract. Through Hereford being one of the delivery points, the farmers, feedyards and elevator operators will be able to utilize the futures contracts for a method of forward pricing.

"In this way a farmer can sell his crop at any time the price of milo reaches a desired level in the futures market," Schroeter explained.

"A feedlot can utilize these milo futures to assure itself of an adequate supply of milo for its feed needs and it will also be able to tell what price it is going to be paying and be assured of a certain maximum cost of grain for the animals."

TO INSURE itself from being caught by unfavorable marketing conditions, an elevator can purchase a quantity of grain and play the market both ways by hedging. This is the taking of an equal and opposite position in the futures market to the position held in the actual commodity.

"This new contract will afford all our producers, consumers, and processors of milo in this area to obtain for the first time a method of forward pricing other than making individual contracts between producer and consumer," he said.

The trading month when elevator operators will begin on the Mercantile Exchange will be September and December of this year and the March, May and July contracts for 1972. The trading unit will be 200,000 pounds of No. 2 yellow grain sorghum.

PRPC statements draw city protest

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

The Hereford City Commission is filing a complaint with the office of Gov. Preston Smith that the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission is trying to coerce area cities and counties to join the group.

Mayor Jim Sears wrote the governor Tuesday, protesting statements of the PRPC executive director that non-member counties or cities certainly would not receive a favorable recommendation, should a state or federal agency inquire to the regional commission.

Clark's statements at last week's meeting make it obvious, Sears said, "that this Commission intends to coerce the city of Hereford into joining this organization. These obvious threats, if condoned by members of this Commission, would, it seems to us, seriously damage that rapport which we have all tried so hard to maintain."

Sears said the City Commission "does not feel it is the function of the PRPC to deliberately withhold from those entities which are not members such things as farm-to-market roads and aid for airports. Since the whole thing was sort of Preston Smith's baby," he added, "I felt that he should know how the thing was being handled."

SEARS SAID that as the PRPC is presently handled, the City of Hereford would not be interested in joining it.

"It would cost the people of Hereford $1,300 to join," Sears commented, "and for that amount of money we could hire some reasonably competent city planners ourselves. The PRPC does not do any planning; it only coordinates. Hereford doesn't feel we need to spend $1,300 just to be coordinated."

THE CITY executive said the cost of membership has risen from 4 cents per capita to 6 cents per capita and added, "I feel we will be talking 25-30 cents per capita before long."

THE MAYOR said that when the PRPC was first formed, the intention was to operate the organization without significant administrative costs or salaried employees.

"Then they decided that they needed an executive director and a regional planner and secretaries and a lot of other people. Most of the money we would pay (to PRPC) would go for salaries and things like this."

Sears summed up his objections to the regional planning

Clinic sets free tests for diabetes

The Public Health Clinic will provide free tests Tuesday to check for diabetes.

The diabetic screening is open to all persons, and there is no fee even if the person is able to pay. The State Department of Health goes across the state offering the free checks.

Those who are a blood relative of a diabetic, a parent of a large baby, 45 years or older or overweight are urged to go to the Public Health Clinic Tuesday between 9 a. m. to noon and between 1 p. m. and 7 p. m.

The state is furnishing the supplies needed in the screening. After the big diabetic screening Tuesday, the service will also be available at the clinic in the future.

Pat Barber, registered nurse and director of the clinic, said the rubella vaccine also is available now for children who missed getting vaccinated during the Dec. 8 rubella clinic. Immunizations are from 9 to 12 and 3 to 5 every Tuesday and Thursday.

Family planning services are available at the clinic from noon to 3 p. m. each Tuesday and Thursday.

Information on any of the services can be obtained by calling the clinic (364-2691).

From the opening of the clinic Aug. 10 through the end of 1970, a total of 4,736 immunizations were given. Doctors saw 2,083 patients, not counting those who nurses handled.

Economics meet slated Saturday

Arnold Paulson, agriculture economist, will conduct a day-long seminar Saturday at the Bull Barn to help area farmers find an answer to revive the dying rural America.

The seminar, set from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., also will include a lunch. Cost of the seminar is $10 per person and tickets can be obtained at Oglesby Implement, Davis Implement, Summerfield Fertilizer and the Hereford State Bank.

PAULSON, A native of Minnesota, is the National Chairman for the Citizens Congress for Private Enterprise and is editor of the Arnold Paulson Newsletter. He was named Minnesota's Outstanding Young Man in 1950 and he served as state president of the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce. He also was National Americanism chairman of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1953-54.

He has served as chairman of many civic organizations in his home town of Granite Falls, Minn. He was chairman of the Governor's State-wide Citizenship Conference and one of four official hosts or President Eisenhower when he visited Minnesota in 1953.

The Agriculture Watch Dog Committee, which is sponsoring the seminar, has issued an open invitation to the meeting.

"WE EXTEND a special invitation to businessmen, civic leaders, educators, clergy, labor and farmers. You owe it to yourself, your family, your community and your future to hear this message," Gerald McCather, spokesman for the committee, said.

"It is very seldom that a town the size of Hereford is fortunate enough to obtain a speaker of the caliber of Mr. Paulson," McCather said.

"You may never have such an opportunity again. Learn why rural America is slowly dying and what can be done to put new life back into the backbone of our economy."

Cagers Whitefaces open second-half play Friday; host Clovis Saturday

The Hereford Whitefaces open the second half of the District 4-AAAA basketball race Friday night at Lubbock Coronado before returning Saturday for a game here with Clovis.

Sophomore Keith Kitchens and senior Mike Wartes lead the Herd, which will be trying to break a three-game losing streak and crack the 20-win barrier. Coach Ron Mayberry's squad is 19-9 after consecutive losses to Lubbock, Monterey and Plainview.

The Saturday night game against Clovis starts, like the Coronado game, at 8 p. m., preceded by 4:30 p. m. and 6:15 p. m. games by the sophomores and junior varsities.

Wartes scored 15 points and Kitchens 11 in the Whitefaces' 66-45 drubbing of Coronado two weeks ago in their debut into AAAA league basketball.

John McNeely and David Myers were the heroes of Hereford's Jan. 9 battle with Clovis in New Mexico. McNeely, a co-captain with Wartes, scored 20 points and almost singlehandedly kept the Whitefaces in the battle and then Myers sank two free throws with two seconds to play to provide Hereford a 58-56 victory.

The game with Clovis is the first of a two-game stand. Hereford will play the Lubbock Westeners at La Plata Gym on Tuesday night.

Baseball meet set tonight on Little League

The possibility of dropping the Little League baseball program and replacing it with the Bronco Baseball League will be discussed at a meeting at 8 p. m. today at the Pioneer Natural Gas Warehouse.

The warehouse is located just west of Big Daddy's Restaurant on East U. S. Highway 60.

Don Davidson, vice president of the Little League, said all coaches, managers and officials are invited to the meeting.

A new president will also be elected, Davidson said, to replace the one who was elected last year but now is unable to serve. He said several other offices will also be filled at the meeting.

The local Little League Baseball program officials have had the change to the Bronco League under consideration for several years, Davidson said, but many have just now decided to "get away from those little, petty rules" that Little League baseball forces on the players, coaches and officials.

"This will be good old regular baseball instead of the type governed by the rules of Little League," Davidson said.

Police arrest two on drug violation

Two New Mexico men were released from county jail Tuesday after posting bond of $2,500 on charges of possession of marijuana.

The pair, Robert Reid and Irvin Morse of Jal, N. M., were arrested Saturday by Hereford police and arraigned before City Judge J. D. Nell. Bond first was set at $5,000 but was later reduced to $2,500.

Officer Paul Ramirez, on routine patrol Saturday, said he observed a car being driven on the wrong side of the road on Main Street. When he stopped the vehicle, the driver, Reid, staggered out of the car, he said. After questioning Reid, Ramirez said he opened the car door and smelled something like burning rope.

The officer then questioned the man and issued him two citations. Ramirez called for assistance from two other units of the police department and a search of the car revealed a small plastic bag containing what was believed to be marijuana.

Further investigation by the officers revealed the man was staying at a local motel. It was there they found Morse and several small containers of what was believed to be marijuana.

Mitchell home after moon trip

Edgar D. Mitchell, the Hereford-born Apollo 14 astronaut, splashed down in the South Pacific with his two traveling companions at 3:05 p. m. CST Tuesday, ending what space officials called one of the most successful moon landings to date.

The trip, sprinkled with moments of minor problems, caused some doubt by the space center officials and the three men in the space craft.

Mitchell, after the trio's recovery Tuesday, said the mission "was worth all those little moments of worry."

Mitchell was born the son of Ollidan and Joseph Mitchell, on Sept. 17, 1930 in Hereford. His uncle, Fred Arnold, still lives here.

He, along with Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Stuart A. Roosa, took the nine-day, 1.15 million-mile journey to the moon.

Along with Shepard, Mitchell landed on the moon's surface and spent 3 3/4 hours collecting rock samples, carrying out exploratory operations, and setting up an atomic-powered science station which is already working smoothly and providing valuable information.

The three astronauts were picked up just five miles from the recovery ship, the USS New Orleans, and taken to the ship where they were placed in isolation chambers to undergo tests.

Mitchell and Shepard, in their travels of the moon's surface, failed to reach the rim of a wide, deep crater as planned. The surface of the crater, and the time allowed, would not permit the scaling of the crater.

The moonwalkers collected almost 100 pounds of rocks that scientists believe will give them some clue to the age of the moon. The rocks will be distributed to some 100 scientists who will examine them for age, magnetic properties and material content.

KWAHADI DANCERS — The Amarillo Kwahadi Indian Dancers will perform here at 8 p. m. Friday at the Bull Barn. The nationally-known dancers perform ancient Indian dances at all types of public shows.

Scouts bring dancers in

The Amarillo Kwahadi Indian Dancers, sponsored by the Boy and Cub Scout units of the Tierra Blanca District, will be in Hereford Friday to make one of their annual appearances.

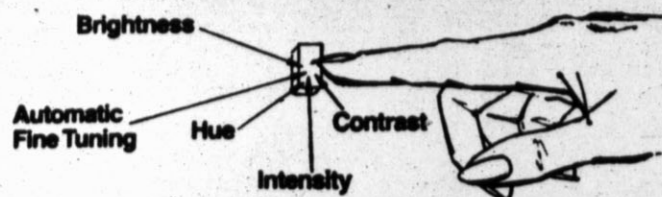

The dancers will perform at 8 p. m. Friday at the Bull Barn. Tickets for the performance are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children six years of age and under.

The Kwahadis are known for their professional caliber performances and fine costumes. They have presented hundreds of shows during the past 25 years and have entertained audiences from Laredo to Valley Forge, Penn.

Many of the dances are performed in the Kwahadis own elaborate handmade finery while other require special wardrobe. Several unique collectors pieces are used to make the show as authentic and culturally worthwhile as possible. Carefully rehearsed songs, colorful costumes and ancient pagentry make the Kwahadi performance a fascinating thing to see.

They have a repertoire of over 75 dances, 15 of which will be presented in Hereford. Their road show in Hereford will include dances of the Plains Indians, Pueblo Indians and the Aztecs of Mexico.

Small talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

TALKING lately about coming entertainment events, I missed two that widen the choice for Hereford audiences — the high school Thespians play tonight and the magic show the Kiwanis Club will sponsor Friday of next week. Add those to the Community Concert folk song program Saturday evening, the next Hereford Community Players production Feb. 26 and 27 and the musical comedy review which L'Allegra Club will sponsor March 18, and there is something for almost everybody's taste. Except maybe the rabid football fans and they'll just have to wait for next year, with the Cowboys.

OUR TOWN, which has been staged by hundreds of amateur actors since it was a Broadway success and a movie hit several years back, offers quite a challenge to the Thespians and I'm eager to see their performance. Failure to mention that play when I was listing local shows last week was not due to any lack of interest, just lack of knowledge. Nobody told me about it and I'm not psychic, but wish I were when school programs are concerned. In my opinion they are often worth more publicity than they get, because nobody tells us about them and we aren't psychic.

IT'S NOT easy, you'd think, to lose something as big as the Pioneer Study Club (20-some-odd members and a few guests) but I managed to do that Tuesday noon.

Sorry, ladies, I had the right club and the right place just the wrong time and it isn't necessarily true that I would know the changed time because the announcement was in the paper. Sometimes our left hands don't know what our right hands do, down here.

THAT TRAVEL talk by Mrs.

ell, Bess Werner and William Wimberley.

V. O. Hennen to Bay View Club last week must have been excellent from the comments I've heard about her pictures and remarks on her tour of the Orient.

"Best slides I've ever seen from a trip," was one member's verdict. And the club reporter mentioned several unusual experiences Mrs. Hennen related; one was being served green tea ice cream in Japan. That sounds pretty horrible to me and the reporter relayed the traveler's reaction, Pretty horrible!

IT WAS nice to see Ruby Smith back at work on the school cafeteria supervisor's job after a rather long illness... also I-felt better on a busy morning Tuesday for Margaret Young's bright smile as she hiked around toward the telephone company office bundled against the chill, and Dorothy Renfro's equally happy nod while her car waited at a red light.

CCA members slated to hear folk song duo

Second concert of this season for Hereford's Community Concert Association, a program by folk singers Steve Addis and Bill Crofut will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday in the high school auditorium.

From world tours and study in counties of Africa and Asia, the young singers have built up a repertory of folk songs in 32 languages and have collected instruments to provide native accompaniment.

Their program comes not only from faraway lands, but includes such native pieces as sea chanteys, contemporary blues and the ballads of immigrant Americans. Songs as varied as a Shaker hymn, a Yeats poem or a twelfth century French Crusader's ditty may be among those presented.

The singers' comments during their concerts give the audience glimpses of backgrounds of the widely varied songs which come under the general heading of folk songs.

Two of the biggest news stories of the year — the Astronauts returning from the moon and the earthquakes in California — and our TV set goes on the blink. That's typical.

—HB—
We always breath a sigh of relief when the astronauts return home however. We're not anxious to view a real life drama of "Lost in Space."

We realize of course that every precaution is taken for the safety of the men in space and so far we have been real fortunate. The only fatalities experienced in the space program have been through accidents here on earth. A couple were killed in a plane crash and of course, three died during training operations on the launching pad at Cape Kennedy.

As a matter of fact, we consider each mission a complete success whenever it returns home safely.

—HB—
And out in California, the Tuesday morning earthquake death toll is still mounting and it may be months before the financial losses are tabulated. Southern California (the Los Angeles area) has been declared a disaster area by both the Superchargers won two from the Hot Rods. Standings have Stars, 11-4; Wildcats, 10-5; Superchargers, 9-4; Unbeatables, 7-8; Panthers, 7-8; The Gang, 5-10; and the Roadrunners, 4-11.

Governor Ronald Reagan and President Nixon and we're sure federal funds will be funneled into the district to help with the recovery efforts.

The soothsayers had been predicting earthquakes in California for 1970 but apparently their E. S. P. was a little off key. The quake waited until 1971.

There are a few folks too, who are now saying that the cause is directly related to the moon explorations. Some people have vivid imaginations.

—HB—
Now, back on earth...

Marcus Hoelscher, and the other folks who now occupy the Agri-Science Center, located at 1500 West Park Avenue, extend to everyone in Hereford an invitation to attend their open house this weekend. The new Agri-Service Center building now houses six local agri-businesses and have office space for a few more.

Those already occupying space are Hereford Feed Ingredients, Bill Lyman; Cliff A. Skiles, Jr., D. V. M., Consulting Veterinarian; Dr. Marcus A. Hoelscher, Consulting Nutritionist; Stribling Spraying Service, Inc.; Cin-Tex Corporation, Art Baker and Hi-Plains Lab, Inc. The open house will be from 1 to 4 p. m. Sunday, February 14.

Mayor Jim Sears has written Governor Preston Smith protesting statements made recently by the executive director of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

The PRPC director, in a meeting held last week in Dimmitt, made it clear that counties and cities not holding membership would have difficulty getting any state appropriations — for anything. The Mayor thinks differently, and frankly, we're on his team.

The PRPC — that name is a misnomer — was originally organized as a planning group with the purpose of helping area counties and cities to coordinate their regional planning efforts and the idea itself is probably sound. However, as in the case of most such organizations, it now appears to be a haven for petty politicians who would like to wield a great deal of power. In other words, you either play ball with PRPC or you're going to be left out in the cold.

We have been watching the PRPC closely since its inception and to date we have seen no positive actions taken by the group. It has produced nothing that we are aware of, other than perpetuating its own growth, and wheeling its way into the public coffers for funds to operate.

Frankly, we would like to commend our own City and County officials for turning thumbs down on the organization.

—HB—
We're still wondering, how far do you suppose Alan Shepard could have driven that golf ball if he had not been encumbered by so much space gear?

Philadelphia has been headquarters for the American Philological Society since the Society was founded in 1743, except from 1776 to 1779 because of the Revolutionary War.

Entire club attends party

All Lone Star Study Club members turned out Tuesday afternoon for a Valentine party and supper in the home of Miss Mildred Elliott, 147 Ranger.

Games of dominoes were played throughout the afternoon followed by a salad supper. Co-hostesses were Mmes. Ed Warren, C. O. Phillips and J. J. Durham.

Individual tables for four were laid with red cloths with small heart shaped boxes of candy as favors.

Others present were Mmes. Hardy Benson, R. G. Blue, Jim Bookout, V. E. Dodson, H. E. Henslee, Jim Higgins, John Jacobsen Jr., C. D. Kelton, S. A. McCathern, G. W. Newsum, Ray Suit, S. S. Williams, W. S. Fluit, Carl Williams and Robert Thompson.

Valentine party fetes husbands

Husbands of Veleda Study Club members were guests for a buffet supper and Valentine party Wednesday evening in the Billy Wayne Sisson home at 114 Liveoak.

Tables were covered with white cloths and centered with baskets of red poppies surrounding burning tapers and red hearts.

Valentines were cut in half and distributed to be matched for partners in games of crazy bridge.

During a brief business session the group voted to give a cash donation to the Public Health Center in appreciation to Dr. D. E. McBrayer for help with a recent club program.

Hostesses with Mrs. Sisson were Mmes. Joe Frank Clark, George Ritter and Red Durham.

Couples in attendance were Messrs. & Mmes. Billy Bradley, Gid Brown, Armon Lauderback, George Olson, Richard Ottesen, Gwynne Owen, James Trail, Glenn Watts, Clark, Durham, Ritter and Sisson.

Late surge helps hospital $$ book

Deaf Smith County Hospital, faced with what appeared to be overwhelming financial problems throughout most of 1970, saw a late upswing in patients pull the institution out of trouble and into "good financial shape" by the end of the year.

The board of managers, in making its annual financial statement to the county commissioners, said the hospital finished the year with a "net profit" of $26,891.20 with other accounts still unaccounted for.

"It is our honest opinion," the directors said in their report, "that we broke even or just a little better for the year. Of course a break-even point is our goal."

During 1970 the hospital treated 8,066 patients of which 5,102 were treated in the emergency room. During the year there were 16,291 total patient day care for inpatients.

The board, in giving the totals for 1970, also gave a comparison for 1960 which indicated a tremendous increase in all phases of the hospital operation.

In 1960 the gross total income from all sources was slightly more than $265,000 and for 1970 it had more than tripled to more than $863,000. During the same period, for 1960, the total expenses were over $232,000 and in 1970 they were more than $836,000.

In accordance with the increases in the other departments, the cost per patient day was only $27.93 in 1960 and jumped to $56.81 by the end of last year.

"In 1960 we grossed more than one-half million dollars for the first time. In 1970 we lacked less than $17,000 to cross the one million dollar mark," the report said. "So we have grown."

"While certainly not the largest 'business' in the community we do rank among the top. We now have about 100 regular times, completed 73 for 1,359 yards and 11 touchdowns. He had nine interceptions, and also rushed for 207 yards for a total offense of 1,566 yards.

The Buffs climaxed a 9-1 season in 1960 by defeating Cincinnati, 14-13 in the Sun Bowl in El Paso. It was West Texas State's first post season bowl appearance and Mayfield threw a 66-yard pass to Bill Cross for the winning touchdown.

Although the records are incomplete, Mayfield is listed as the fourth best passer in West Texas State's history with 2,114 yards on 132 completions.

and part time employees." LAST YEAR, the hospital had a total payroll of $334,841.21. In addition to this, the hospitals part of the employees social security tax was $23,298.26 and employees paid a total of $67,779.08 in income and social security taxes.

"The providing of health care to a community is a rapidly changing process and more change has taken place in the past decade than ever before in our history. Changes are still occurring. We fully expect that the next two years will see some sort of Universal Health Insurance law passed by our congress.

"Whether this is good or bad remains to be seen depending on the type of legislation finally passed. We must remain flexible enough to adjust to the changes and solvent enough to afford them," the board report said.

Mayfield succeeds Kerbel as WTSU football coach

CANYON — Gene Mayfield, who went from outstanding quarterback at West Texas State University to greater distinction as a West Texas high school coach, was named athletic director and head football coach at his alma mater Wednesday.

His overall high school record was 166 victories, 35 losses in 17 years. His teams have averaged playing 12 games per season, which means regional play each year, on the average.

Dr. James P. Cornette, University president, made the announcement at a news conference.

"His period of initial employment extends through December, 1975 at an annual salary of $25,000," Dr. Cornette said.

Mayfield, 43, succeeds Joe Kerbel, 49, who, along with his six assistant coaches, resigned Monday when the university's board of regents decided their contracts would not be renewed after the present contractual period.

The president said the new coach would appoint his own assistants.

Mayfield, coach at Odessa Permian the past six years, "accepted our invitation extended yesterday (Tuesday)," to become the director of athletics and head football coach as soon as convenient with him and the Odessa school system, Dr. Cornette said.

"Both personally and officially I am very happy Gene and his family are coming home to West Texas State with a bachelor of science degree in 1951 and received his masters of education degree from the university seven years later.

His wife, the former Mary Jean Hoover, also is a graduate of West Texas State.

Mayfield became the 18th head coach since the university hired its first head mentor in 1910 shortly after opening its doors as West Texas State Normal College.

His 17-year head coaching career at three high schools began in 1954 at Littlefield. In four seasons his teams won 34 and lost 12 with five defeats coming in 1955, his second year in coaching.

He moved to Class AAAA Borger High School in 1958 and in seven years his teams posted a 62-13 record and never lost more than two games a season.

The Bulldogs had a 13-1 mark in 1962 with the lone setback coming in the state finals against San Antonio Brackenridge.

The 1958, 60 and 61 teams lost in bi-district play and finished with 9-2 records.

After an 8-2 mark in his final season at Borger, he took his first Odessa Permian team to the state finals in 1965. Permian won 13 of 14 games that year.

In 1968 and again this past year Permian advanced to the state championship game only to lose to Austin Reagan on both occasions. Last year Permian was 14-1 and was 11-4 in 1968.

Odessa won 72 of 82 games in six years under Mayfield and in his 17 years of coaching, his teams have 166 victories and 35 defeats.

Mayfield enrolled at West Texas State in 1945 and was an end on coach W. A. "Gus" Miller's wartime team that won two and lost six. He went into military service the next September and served in Korea and Japan until March 15, 1948.

He returned to West Texas State University that fall and was a forward passing understudy to Cloyce Box who later became a great pass receiver for the Detroit Lions of the National Football League and now is chairman of the university's board of regents.

During his sophomore year under coach Frank Kimbrough, who died of a heart attack only last week, the Buffaloes were 6-5.

In 1949, when the Buffaloes were 5-4, Mayfield passed for 755 yards and 10 touchdowns. His 54 per cent completion average coming on 54 receptions on 100 attempts, is one of the highest records at West Texas State. That year he threw only three interceptions and that is the lowest total of any Buffalo passer attempting 100 or more passes a season.

Mayfield was also the fourth leading rusher in 1949, gaining 174 yards on 70 carries.

His senior year found him setting passing records that stood until the late Hank Washington started breaking them in 1965.

In 1950 Mayfield passed 158

Dawn club votes student award

A $50 cash scholarship to a music student, to be awarded in the spring, was voted by Dawn Music Club members at a meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Edgar Sowell, Mrs. J. B. Caraway was co-hostess. The club customarily makes a similar gift to a student each year.

Plans for a Valentine dinner Friday, with members' husbands as guests, were made in the business session with Mrs. Alfred Smith presiding. Dinner and a program of music are scheduled in Dawn Community Center.

Tuesday's program was on the music of Stephen Foster, observing the Parade of American Music sponsored this month by the National Federation of Music Clubs. Most of the members wore costumes of the old South, setting of Foster's music.

Mrs. H. V. McCabe told of the life of Foster, whose songs of the south form an important facet of American music, and Mrs. Jerry Haley discussed the songs themselves, their musical values and their importance in calling attention to the Negro's contribution to the nation's music.

Mrs. Canaway sang Foster's most famous work, Old Folks at Home, and the entire group sang a medley of favorites including Old Black Joe, Camp-town Races and Old Don Tray, with Mrs. Carl Wimberley as pianist. Mrs. Carl Klueskens' vocal solo was an arrangement of South.

Mrs. T. J. Parsons was a guest, and other members present were Mmes. Gerald Parker, Edgar Lemons, and R. T. Stewart.

The Parade of American Music has become a tradition in the NFMC, which Dawn Music Club is affiliated, and this is its 17th year. Its purpose is to recognize, encourage and support composers of this country and to present the works of native musicians.

Ex-resident to show art work at open house

An exhibit of sculpture and paintings by Juan Dell Wade, whose favorite subjects are Plains scenes, will be on view in the new Agri-Science Center building during the hours of its formal opening, 1 to 4 p. m. Sunday.

The public is invited to see this display of western art and to inspect the recently completed building at 1500 West Park Ave.

Mrs. Wade and her husband, Joe Wade, live in Lubbock now after a move from Hereford last year. She was an active member of Hereford Art Guild during their residence here and her work has been displayed in the Guild's shows.

A number of pieces of sculpture on western subjects are to be shown Sunday, as well as paintings.

Ferguson-Davis vows exchanged

The marriage of Miss Renae Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Ferguson of 133 Avenue K, and Alvin Eugene Davis, stationed at Lawton, Okla., in U. S. Army service, was solemnized in a twilight ceremony Saturday at the Christian Assembly Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. A. Davis, 115 Avenue A, and the late Mr. Davis.

The Rev. Don Farmer, pastor, conducted the service in which her father gave Miss Ferguson in marriage. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Debbie Boen of Plainview, and the best man was the bridegroom's nephew, Sid Shaw.

Before the wedding Mrs. Don Farmer accompanied her husband at the piano and he sang the solo, Twelfth of Never.

The bride's gown was of mauve dotted chiffon over taffeta, styled with a satin cummerbund. Her tulle veil was held by a large rose above her forehead and she carried a cluster of long-stemmed pink roses on a bridal Bible.

The matron of honor was dressed in a silk linen frock of deep rose shade, and carried a single rose.

A reception was held in the Ferguson home after the ceremony. Misses Doris Walter-scheid and Mary Cantu served the wedding cake while Mrs. Vicki Ortiz and Miss Becky Jesko poured punch.

The triple-tiered cake was the principal decoration on the refreshment table, which was covered with a cutwork linen cloth made by the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Terrell Ferguson.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip, Mrs. Davis was wearing a white orchid crepe dress with a white carnation corsage. The couple will be at home at Lynette Apartments.

The bride, one of the owners of Shagg Beauty Shop here, was graduated from a school of hair design after attending Plain-view High School. Recently returned from Army duty in Vietnam, the bridegroom is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and attended South Plains College.

An out-of-city guest at the wedding was the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Denzel Cox of Merkel.

Mrs. Draper is West Hereford Club speaker

Importance of making and keeping a complete list of home furnishings and the clothing and personal possessions of each family member, was stressed by Argen Draper, County Home Demonstration Agent, as she spoke to West Hereford H. D. Club Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Roy Boyd. Mrs. Draper said the home inventory is helpful not only in case of fire or theft, but for such contingencies as settling estates.

Mrs. E. M. Cox received the hostess gift. The program was opened by reading of a poem, For This One Hour, by Miss Mary Brady, club president.

PTO committee is appointed

A nominating committee was appointed at a Tuesday night meeting of the Executive Committee of Aikman Parent-Teacher Organization, to select a slate of officers to be presented to the PTO board at a March 4 meeting.

Mrs. Travis McPherson is chairman of the nominating committee assisted by Mrs. Jaudon McCathern and D. C. Martin, principal.

Martin announced the recent membership drive resulted in 200 members.

King Antiochus left inscriptions explaining that he chose his grave site as the "utmost ridge" of his kingdom and "in closest proximity to the heavenly throne of Zeus." This is believed to be Nemrud Dagh in southeast Turkey.

Agri-business 'supermarket' slates Sunday open house

A new supermarket approach to agri-business is the newest step forward in the growing agricultural economy of the High Plains.

It's the Agri-Science Center at 1500 W. Park in Hereford, which will celebrate its new $65,000 building and six offices with an Open House Sunday afternoon, from 1 to 4 o'clock. The offices themselves have been open since mid-January, and the search is on for three more agriculture-oriented firms to move into the complex.

"We conceived the idea sometime last summer," Marcus Hoelscher, a consulting nutritionist, said Wednesday. "Basically what we were trying to do was getting a group of people who are related in the feedyard business or agri-business in general, put them together in one place and let people do all their business here in one place."

Hoelscher and Bill Lyman, who deals with the various ingredients going into cattle feed, moved ahead with the theory and construction began in early November.

The 100-foot-wide and 40-foot-deep building was completed in early January. It features Spanish architecture and the strongest feature is a series of archways across the front.

The building has three offices on the east side, five offices in the center and a laboratory running down the west side. All the offices are entered through doors on the inside of the building.

Hoelscher and Lyman have two of the offices. The other four are for Cliff A. Skiles Jr., a consulting veterinarian who deals only with cattle; John Stribling and Virgil Sientz, who are in the crop spraying business; Art Baker, who operates Cin-Tex Corp., a cattle management group; and Foster Yeager, who runs High Plains Laboratory, Inc., which is the Panhandle's only commercial laboratory for feed analysis type work.

Coffee and cookies will be served at the Open House, and the building's offices will be open for public inspection. Wandell Wade, formerly of Hereford and now of Lubbock, will display some of her paintings and sculpture work during the afternoon.

Science Fair draws crowd of entries

Some 473 entries in the annual Hereford Science Fair will vie for championship honors Feb. 23-24-25 at the Bull Barn, fair coordinator Rodney Laubhan said Wednesday.

Laubhan said this is not a record number of entries for the annual fair, although it is very high within the school Monday year.

Elementary students, in contrast to entering past contests, will decide a school winner that will go to the fair. This is being done, Laubhan said, because of the space problems.

Each of the elementary schools and St. Anthony's Catholic School will have eliminations within the school Monday through Friday with awards going to first through fourth in each of the seven categories. Judging will be Tuesday, and the exhibits will be open to the public Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The seven first place winners at each of the elementary schools will advance to the Bull Barn for further competition.

The fair will begin Feb. 23 when the exhibits must be taken to the Bull Barn. On Feb. 24 the entries will be judged and the exhibits will be open to the public Feb. 25.

The judges for the fair will be Charles Wright of West Texas State University, Eugenie Schoenhals of Panhandle High School and Pauline Green of Dumas.

Judges in the elementary division eliminations will be the M.; four sisters, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Bill would tighten pornography law

A $50,000 fine, five years in prison, or both would be the punishment for using the mails to transmit pornographic advertising under terms of a bill just introduced by Cong. Bob Price.

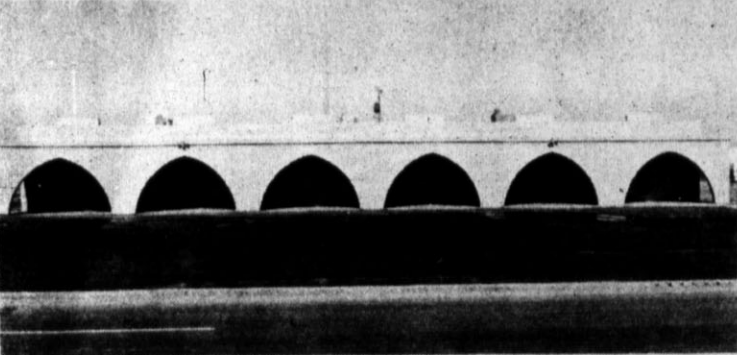

"In an effort to provide a focus for congressional action I have introduced this bill, which if enacted, would step up the tempo of Federal regulation, and would hasten the demise of the smut trade," Price said.

The Panhandle Congressman pointed out that legislation he co-sponsored last year became effective on Feb. 1 which will allow individuals who do not want to receive offensive materials in the mail to complete a postal form which will prevent them from receiving "sexually oriented" mail.

"While this new postal regulation certainly should prove significant in terms of stemming the rising tide of pornography inundating the Nation, it does not go far enough. The Federal government must take stronger steps to halt the flow of obscene material into the homes of America," Price said.

Until 1900 tropical America produced more than 80 per cent of the world's cacao.

NEW CENTER — This $65,000 new structure is on West Park Avenue, housing several agriculture-oriented businesses in a "supermarket-type" approach. Open House is Sunday afternoon.

Look who's new

Mr. and Mrs. Monico Hernandez are the parents of a daughter, Vanessa Yvette, born February 6. She weighed 6 lbs. 11½ ozs.

Funeral service held at Raton

Funeral services and burial for Mrs. Callie Viola Orthman, 57, were arranged by a Raton, N.M., funeral home. Her death occurred Saturday afternoon in a local hospital, and arrangements here were made by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mrs. Orthman's death followed a long illness. She had been a resident of Deaf Smith County since last year, when she moved from Oklahoma.

Born April 25, 1913 in that state, she was the former Callie Viola Redfern. She married Lewis Orthman in 1930 and he died in June, 1959.

Survivors are a son, Lewis E. Orthman of Route 5, Hereford; two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Payton of Roy, N.M. and Mrs. Pauline Payton of Springer, N.

APRIL BRIDE-ELECT—Engagement of Miss Catherine Westhoff to Leo Freeby of San Marcos and plans for their marriage April 17 in St. Mary's Catholic Church at Umbarger are announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Westhoff of Umbarger. Miss Westhoff, employed at the County Health Clinic here, is a graduate of St. Anthony's School of Nursing at Amarillo and of St. Mary's Academy at Little Rock, Ark. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Freely of Weinert, attended Ranger Junior College and Stephen F. Austin College at Nacogdoches after graduation from Weinert High School, and is an employe of a San Marcos hospital.

Our colonial beginnings

(Editor's Note: The following article on "Our Colonial Beginnings," was submitted by Violet Reinauer, chaplain of the Los Chiberos Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Hereford.) Our Colonial beginnings are the source of all that makes this nation the greatest today. Our forefathers established the very foundation of our great nation on faith in God as stated in our Declaration of Independence in 1776. The pride of our nation lies not only in its natural resources but in its people, especially the young people of today, working independently, individually and collectively to achieve a definite goal in life and preserve freedom and liberty in the just pursuit of happiness and peace. Our youth will be the leaders of tomorrow so we must continue to instill these inherent qualities of our true American patriots in them that they will carry on and keep our nation great. Recently, the astronauts, in their exploration of space and the moon, have exhibited the true pioneer spirit, for, with great faith, indomitable courage, intestinal fortitude, physical stamina, knowledge and ability, they accomplished their mission of the Apollo 14 flight. This fantastic voyage has given new hope to the world. This is only a beginning. We have just touched the surface of a new era of wonderful things to come — the dawning of a new age of time, the Millennium, as the Bible says in Revelation XX. Thus, with God as our co-pilot, we can surmount all obstacles and sail smoothly through dark clouds and troubled waters to find the silver lining and reach the promised shore. He is the Captain of our fate, the Director of our course, the great fountain of wisdom from whence for His guidance and direction we must turn, just as a lighthouse beacon is to a seaman in a fog or storm. Like the morning star, let us keep our nation the light of the world. As Abraham Lincoln said, "With malice towards none; with charity for all." — "We must do right, as we see the right, for right is might," and in his Gettysburg Address, "Let us strive to finish up the work we are now in, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom and that the government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth." I am proud to belong to the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution and proud of my ancestors who struggled and fought to make this country what it is today. In a notebook of writings of my grandmother, I ran across these lines which apply to us today just as they did in yesterday.

MY FLAG — Born in the days of the Revolution, Baptized in the days of civil strife, Rededicated to the cause of Human Freedom in the great world conflict; In peace and war, it has ever floated as the symbol of liberty and justice. May its stars never grow dim, and its stripes never fade, And may the children be taught to love justice, hate evil and to do good, That they may ever protect the flag, and the ideals for which it stands.

On February 12, the birthday of one of the greatest men in the history of our nation, Abraham Lincoln, let us rededicate ourselves to respect our flag, love and defend our country and its Constitution, and with increased devotion, nurture human dignity in our young people by faith in God, like our forefathers in our Colonial beginnings, and teach our children and their children to live by the American's Creed. Campfire Council names directors

Eight new members were elected to serve on the Campfire Council Board of Directors at the annual meeting Monday evening.
Named to three-year terms were Mrs. Miguel Gavina, Mrs. Bob Emery, Fred Fox, Mrs. Ismael Gamez, Mrs. Werner Koelzer, Mrs. Earnest Langley, Jim McDowell and Buddy Peeler. Mrs. C. F. Newsom will serve as representative of the Leaders' Council.

Students place in area contest on DE skills

Miss Susie Henderson placed first in advertising last weekend in competition against other high school Distributive Education students at the area leadership conference in Odessa.
Other students representing Hereford were Kay Lynn Alexander, first runner-up in business speaking; Randy Cook, second runner-up in both business speaking and sales demonstration; Simon Camarillo and Rita Ranspot, job interview entrants; Beverly White, window display; and Betty Trevino and Mary Helen Reyna, cashier and sales-clerk entrants.
Miss Henderson will represent Hereford at the state conference March 5-6 in Ft. Worth. All students are accompanied to area, state, and national contests by their coordinators.
G. C. Graves is coordinator of Hereford's DE department.

Thespians stage drama tonight

A cast of 28 Hereford High School Thespians will appear tonight in a modern American play of small town life which has become something of a classic, Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer winning drama, Our Town.
Curtain time is 8 p. m. in HHS auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door, priced at a dollar for adults and 75 cents for students.

Directed by Wayne Hodgson, HHS drama instructor, assisted by Mrs. Hodgson, an English teacher in Stanton Junior High, the play has Randy Clements cast as the stage manager who is the narrator.
Action centers around two families of the small New England town, with a number of their neighbors taking part. Charles Allison appears as Dr. Gibbs, Sharon Pulliam, Nancy Brink and Sammy Ogan as members of his household.
Portraying the Webb family will be James Davis, Marian bels clipped Bushland, 27-20 with Garcia getting 16 for high point honors.
The tournament winner was determined by the total number of points scored throughout the entire tournament. St. Anthony's took the trophy with 89 points, followed by Bushland with 86 and Alamo with 80.

Lillian Clark is bowler of week

Lillian Clark went 11 pins over her average in the Strike Outs League to nab Bowler of the Week honors.
Hereford Flying Service had a 720 for the high team game and a 2070 for the high team series.

Sammy Sanchez went 91 pins over his average to win Star of the Week honors in the Junior Bowling League.
Craig Baron rolled a 729 for the high three game handicap series and a 279 for the high single game handicap.
The Twilight Bombers had the high team series of 2238 and the high team game of 792.
In play last week, the Twilight Bombers won four from the Underground Hawks and Team No. 4 won four from the Bowling Bums.
Standings have Twilight Bombers, 13-7; Underground Hawks, 12-8; Bowling Bums, 10-10; and Team No. 4, 5-15.

Hereford Kiwanis to sponsor magic show

A magic show, sponsored by the Hereford Kiwanis Club as its first fund raising project of the year, will be staged from 7-9 Feb. 19 in the high school auditorium.
Fred Story, Master Magician and Company, from Tullia, will present 20th Century Fantasies, a two-hour, full-stage illusion show.
Tickets are now on sale by all Kiwanis Club members for $1 each.
The show, performed for thousands of persons, both young and old, through Jaycee, Lions and Kiwanis projects for more than 15 years, will feature two tons of stage equipment including brilliant costumes, comedy, and mystery galore.
Chairman of show arrangements is John Gilliland.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

For the past weeks we have been very moon conscious. The Apollo 14 astronauts have been the center of interest to most of us, as they have gone to the moon.

Then too the moon has been so very beautiful this week. Art and I have enjoyed the lovely luminous moonlight, and noticed that the moon had a different shape this week. This was particularly noticeable when it was just about ready to go down.

February has been known throughout the gardening world, as the month of the Hungry Moon. Which really means that it is a lean month for gardening. It's in truth another of our months in which there are very few chores for the gardener, particularly outside. However it is an exceptionally wonderful month to plan and dream about the beauty of the garden which we are planning to have next summer. In this planning we will of course want to include some of the new rose introductions. They are being spotlighted this month in many of our garden magazines, and I have certainly been impressed with the description of them.

The following are the All-America Rose selections for 1971: COMMAN PERFORMANCE— It is a hybrid tea in a brilliant fluorescent orange-red. Flowers are very fragrant. It has a very vigorous growth habit, and grows tall, with full foliage of good color. The blossoms are produced on long stems, and from all the descriptions the color and form is the chief attraction to this new introduction.

The "Home Garden Magazine" gave it a full page, in color and to me the form is most beautiful. Its starlike and the center is well formed. The fragrance is an exciting one. Am sure this rose will give any garden a majestic touch.

TOUCH OF VENUS— a hybrid tea, which produces large, highly fragrant white flowers, with a delicate pink center. The buds are described as being long-pointed and bluish-pink tips. The blossoms are produced on stems that are relatively thornless. Parentage of this winner is "Garden Party" X "Sweet Afton". Was grown in the testing gardens with a number one. While the above described Command Performance was grown under the number of 24 in the test gardens. Until the selection is made all competitive roses and or other plants grown in test gardens are known by number only, then later named.

A floribunda, was another one of the 1971 selections.

TOMANGO— A luminous velvety red in color with large double flowers that appear continuously (this is a characteristic of the floribundas). Another characteristic of the floribundas is that their blossoms usually come in a cluster. Sometimes there will appear single blooms, but this is not the usual things.

AQUARIUS— It is the only grandiflora which was given a high listing. It is a blend of pink tones with deep markings in picotee effect. Profusion of blooms having an average of four blooms to the cluster, in an urn shape, which is real drawing characteristic for an arranger. Since the grandiflora is a cross between the hybrid-tea and the floribunda, it sometimes reverts back to the hybrid-tea, in that there will be a single blossom, of high quality. Queen Elizabeth, which is one of our best grandifloras, is noted for its long stemmed single blossoms.

RED GOLD, is a floribunda, a frey bicolor of chrome yellow and brick red, with flowers singly or in small clusters. The blossoms are smaller than some floribundas, but the cluster is full. Plants are recommended for low landscape use, growing approximately two-feet in height, very shapely and vigorous. The originator was an Irishman, and the rose was perfected by Dickons of Halmark, Northern Ireland.

CONTEMPO, another floribunda, is a rare copper color both in bud and when in full flower. Blossoms are medium sized for the class, and it is an exceedingly good bloomer, having flowers from early summer until frost. Grows to a height of five feet.

Other roses in the limelight this year are Firelight, which was introduced by Jackson and Perkins, and can be compared to Tropicana (wonderful for our climate. Has rich coral color, blossoms large, growing to six inches. Light green leathery foliage. This rose was originated in Germany. Another is Margaret Chase Smith. Growth habit is symmetrical and grows to a height of 5 foot. Recommended for planting with shrub background, or can be used for hedge, if so desired. Full-petaled, and a beautiful bright red color. Hybridized by Brownell. Introduced by Stern's Nursery.

All of these named roses are to be on sale at the nurseries this year. Any of them will add attraction to any garden.

FEBRUARY GARDEN CHORES: On a warm day, or if you can find a protected area, make an inventory of tools and implements which are to be used in gardening. Check for needed repairs, and make a list of other tools which you would like to purchase.

Check garden furniture, for cleanliness, and if new paint is needed. Also new cushions may be needed for further beauty and comfort, if so make some of the enchanting materials appearing on the spring list.

Pruning of gooseberries, currants, other berries, and most fruit trees may be done before the buds begin to swell. Shrubs which bloomed in late fall, may be pruned also. Any dead wood seen in any of the trees or shrubs should be pruned out. Check shrubs and trees for wind burn, in doing this, check for plants which have suffered freezing. Do not water while ground is frozen. Do water when ground has thawed, and when needed.

We are enjoying our flowering houseplants. Real thrilled that we have an azalea having its second blooming. Received as a gift when in the hospital in October, and have cared for it, and now am rewarded with some pretty dainty pink blossoms. The foliage is not up to par, but am feeding it, and hope to have it soon retaining its glossy deep green color. Have moved the potted Amaranthus out to light and warmth. It is starting to grow. Something to look forward to these shut-in-days. The violet has some beautiful blossoms and many buds. The poinsetta is still very pretty, and we are enjoying another gift. It is a very pretty rose-colored Cineraria. Also cut roses are adding their fragrance and beauty to our rooms.

In making choices of trees for spring planting, would like to call attention to an especially interesting willow tree, it is known as the cork-screw willow, and is a very beautifully shaped tree, as well as a novelty. The leaves are twisted like a screw. There are some in town that are very nice.

THINK ON THIS: Try to make at least one person happy each day, and then in ten years you have made 3650 persons happy, or brightened a small town by your contribution to the fund of general enjoyment. This is the philosophy of Sydney Smith, and would be well for all of us to ponder it a bit, and do!

Mrs. T. B. Thomas looks over recipe collection

Let's cook something

Cooking is job, hobby

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

HER GOAL as a college freshman was to become a top-notch homemaking teacher, Mrs. T. B. Thomas says, but fortune decreed that she practice rather than teach that subject.

As a farmer's wife and the mother of two daughters and a son, she has majored in homemaking ever since, although she has worked in a few other interests too.

For one thing, she went back to college in 1962 and completed two years' work, commuting from Westway where the family lived then and at the same time managing her household while her children were all in school.

THEN SHE taught for a time in Central School here to meet a need during a teacher shortage.

She began about five years ago helping Mrs. Merlin Kaul write a column of Westway news for The Brand, taking over the entire task when Mrs. Kaul gave it up, and continuing to write the weekly Town and Country report after she moved in to Hereford.

A Home Demonstration Club member for more than 20 years, Mrs. Morrison has served Westway H. D. Club in almost every office and committee chairmanship, and is its current president. Her mother is also a member of that club.

Just a year ago this week she started a job which has given her special pleasure — preparing meals for residents of Kings Manor retirement home which is located just across the street from her home.

"COOKING, that's one thing I can certainly do!" she says. "When the children were at home I never knew how many would be there for a meal so I was prepared to feed a multitude.

"On the farm we often had a corral full of horses and a household of people," she continued, talking of the years when her son, Dan, and younger daughter, Deborah, competed in junior rodeos and often had friends drop in as they traveled the rodeo circuit.

They still drop in, acquaintances from the past as well as an occasional rider now who comes by and announces that "Dan told me to stop with his folks when I was in Hereford."

Mrs. Thomas carries on an extensive correspondence with rodeo-circuit friends.

Dan is teaching in Eagle Pass now and Deborah is Mrs. Larry Noland of Summerfield. They and their parents treasure the friends they made while the Thomas family traveled for Junior Rodeo Association competition six summers, "all over Texas and New Mexico."

The older daughter, Diedra, who is Mrs. John Drake and the mother of the two Thomas grandchildren, Whitney and Michael, never cared for riding.

"She was the homebody," Mrs. Thomas says, "and like me she is eager to cook unusual dishes and try new recipes. We often swap recipes." For herself, Mrs. Thomas admits, "I'm scared to death of horses; no riding for me!"

Born at Post, Mrs. Thomas

Music club tea honors its special members

Honorary members and charter members of Music Study Club were honored at a guest day tea Monday afternoon in Mrs. W. T. Carmichael's new home, 211 N. Texas.

Miss Sherry White, recently chosen as honorary student member for this year, was present, as were Meses. Glenn Snyder, Jesse Stanford and Alex Thompson, charter members still active in the club.

Honorary student members designated in past years, who include boys as well as girls outstanding in music, are Joy McCathern, Jerry McCathern, Patsi McCutchen Hasley, Kerry Thompson and Lowell Wiggins.

Other honorary members in the club are Meses. R. P. Cone-way, H. K. Fox, S. O. Wilson, Stanford, Snyder and J. E. Bey-er of Little Rock, Meses. Wilson and Fox are also charter members, as is Mrs. W. E. Dameron.

The program for the tea featured patriotic music, observing the Parade of American Music sponsored each February in the National Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. J. R. Allison was a leader.

She introduced the program by commenting that patriotic music is usually produced during a time of crisis, not deliberately thought out but sprung up in response to some urgent need.

"Many of our own patriotic songs have not the profoundest music nor the finest poetry, yet their sentiment fits a nation such as America is, when at her best," she said.

Mrs. Buddy Peeler sang This Is My Country with Mrs. Clifford Trotter as accompanist, and Mrs. Allison was the pianist when her daughter, Mrs. Mack Cansler, sang No Man Is an Island.

Mrs. Bill Penn and Mrs. Joe Hacker played a piano duet arrangement of the stirring Sousa march, Stars and Stripes Forever. The club chorus directed by Mrs. D. W. Palmer sang two of Irving Berlin's songs, Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor and God Bless America. Mrs. Tom Burdett played the accompaniment.

Mrs. Thompson discussed the hymn of the month, Still, Still With Thee.

At the tea hour Mrs. Dale Young, club president, served punch at a table set before green-curtained windows and centered with a tall bouquet.

Hospitality committee members, Meses. S. F. Clements, Dameron, Allison and Paul Lyons, assisted Mrs. Carmichael as hostesses.

Welcomed as tea guests were Meses. Warren Jorde, Keith Jorde, Joe F. Clark, Dwayne Wyly, Roger Hagood, Lloyd McGee, Zearl Cansler, H. T. Fields, C. D. Nobles, E. W. Young, Carroll McDonald, M. C. Adams, W. J. Smith, Suzanne Wright, Floyd Coleman and Miss Thornton Shirley.

Also present were Meses. Bill Brady, Allan Cansler, A. J. Schroeter, T. W. Roberson, John Messenger, J. C. McCracken, Wesley Fisher, Ellis Coombes, and J. T. Gilbreath, members.

was Marjorie Morrison, oldest of the J. C. Morrisons' five children. She came to Deaf Smith County in 1927 and she attended Hereford schools, graduating at the age of 16.

After college and marriage, she came back to the county in 1930. Her husband still farms, growing vegetables principally.

ALTHOUGH her children are not at home now, she still uses some of the meal-planning techniques she found useful when they were bringing friends in unexpectedly. Oven meals from the freezer can be a big help now that she works eight hours a day and comes in to prepare dinner in a hurry.

She tries to keep a variety of dishes in the freezer, ready to put in the oven before she goes to work so they will be ready to eat when she gets home. And if there is company, the frozen meals are doubly handy.

It's simpler to put meat in large quantities and get it ready for the oven, then freeze it until it is needed, she has found. Her family likes variety in main dishes, even to gourmet foods that she likes to cook. Here is a favorite company dish.

BEEF STROGANOFF

1 1/4 lb. round steak cut in half-inch strips

Flour the meat by shaking in a paper sack, then brown in a frying pan. Remove to a casserole or baking pan and cover with sauce made by mixing together:

1 can onion soup
1 can tomato paste
1 lb. Worcester sauce
1 lb. mushrooms with juice (3 or 4-oz. can)

This much may be done a day ahead of time. (Or Mrs. Thomas has found that it may be prepared even farther ahead of time, and frozen)

Bake in covered casserole at 300 degrees 1-3/4 hours. Serve over about half a pound buttered noodles, with sour cream. Use 1 cup sour cream for this quantity.

TOPS club plans party for guests

Inactive members and prospective members of Sugar Blues TOPS Club are being invited to a Valentine salad supper scheduled Monday evening in the club room of Community Center.

Plans for the supper were completed at this week's meeting, when Mrs. Woodie McDermitt, president, appointed committees on arrangement.

The weekly weigh-in revealed a total weight loss of 16 1/2 pounds among members, whose objective in TOPS is to Take Off Pounds Sensibly.

Ten tales of danger

If novels displaying courage, danger and hordes of excitement, are your favorite reading material, check into these two new books now available at the Deaf Smith County Library.

GOLD FROM CRETE

By C. S. Forester
(Ten Stories)

Gold from Crete: From the "First Admiral of all the seven seas of fiction."

Gold from Crete: A daring midnight raid on an airfield in Belgium. It subject: to kidnap a new-model Messerschmitt — right from under the Germans' noses.

Gold from Crete: A thin squadron of light tanks and 500 British soldiers. With boldness and a bit of luck, they effect an extraordinary victory — the surrender of an entire army.

Gold from Crete: Ten tales of courage and danger by C. S. Forester, author of the renowned adventures of Horatio Hornblower.

Written during World War II, never before collected in book form, these are stories of furious action in and around England and the North Atlantic, the English Channel and the Mediterranean, stories that display the impressive knowledge of seamanship and advanced naval and ground warfare that have long characterized Forester's works.

AN OWL ON EVERY POST

By Sanora Babb

Not very long ago there were still pioneers in this country, families who pulled up roots and left comfort behind to become sodbusters on the western plains. The lucky ones had water and some money. Others like Sanora Babb's family, had a one-room dugout and dry land.

This book is Sanora Babb's lyrically evocative account of the years from 1913 that she and her family — five of them in all — spent homesteading in Colorado.

Drawn to this virgin soil by her visionary grandfather, the author's parents and their two small daughters lived eye-level with the land that supported and tormented and beguiled them — and fought for their lives against drought, crop failure, starvation, and fathomless loneliness.

But if the troubles were many, so were the pleasures, joys derived from the rare excitement of a trip to town or a visit

Alice Lueb grabs top bowling spot

Alice Lueb, with six pins over her average, was named Bowler of the Week in Kings and Queens Bowling League.

She also had the Queens high game of 204 while Ben Lueb won the Kings high game with a 232. Pauline McDonald grabbed the Queens high series with a 548 and Dale Moore took the men's honor with a 605.

L. J. Clark had the 604 series with a 225 and Frank Lopez had the 600 series with games of 201 and 203.

Vance Hall Sporting Goods won the high team series with a 2445 and Hereford Janitor Supply won the high team game with a 858.

Converting splits were Stanley Varner, 3-10; Omero Valdez, 4-5-7; Luella Dool, 2-7, 3-10 and 4-5; Joan Milton, 6-7; Harv Milton, 3-10; Eleanor Hudspeth, 3-10; Wilma Clark, 5-8-10; L. J. Clark, 3-10; Frank Lopez, 3-10; Margaret Janssen, 3-10; and Dale Moore, 3-10 and 4-7-9.

In play last week, Vance Hall Sporting Goods won four from Team No. 7, Bob's Hickory Pit won four from Reeves Chevrolet, Hereford Janitor Supply won three from Big Daddy's Restaurant, and Strickland Shell dropped three to Circle Three Feedyards.

Standings show Hereford Janitor Supply, 8½-3½; Vance Hall Sporting Goods, 8-4; Big Daddy's Restaurant, 7-5; Strickland Shell, 7-5; Circle Three Feedyards, 7-5; Bob's Hickory Pit, 6½-5½; Reeves Chevrolet, 6-4.

to a neighbor, from the swift burgeoning of spring, from a good harvest, from the very immensity of the plains and the sky.

Out of the loneliness and intimacy with the landscape and its creatures, Sanora Babb has wrought a book full of mystery and vitality. When a portion of this book appeared in Redbook magazine, it drew the most enthusiastic reader response in recent memory.

Install gas air conditioning now?

Installing GAS air conditioning now means you'll beat the rush that always comes with the first hot or dusty spring day. While everyone else is waiting for the overworked installers you'll be cool, calm, and collected.

GAS air conditioning cools your whole house quietly and efficiently. You'll save on repairs, too, because there is no compressor to break down or wear out. And, GAS air conditioning cools your whole house for what you might have been paying to cool just two or three rooms before.

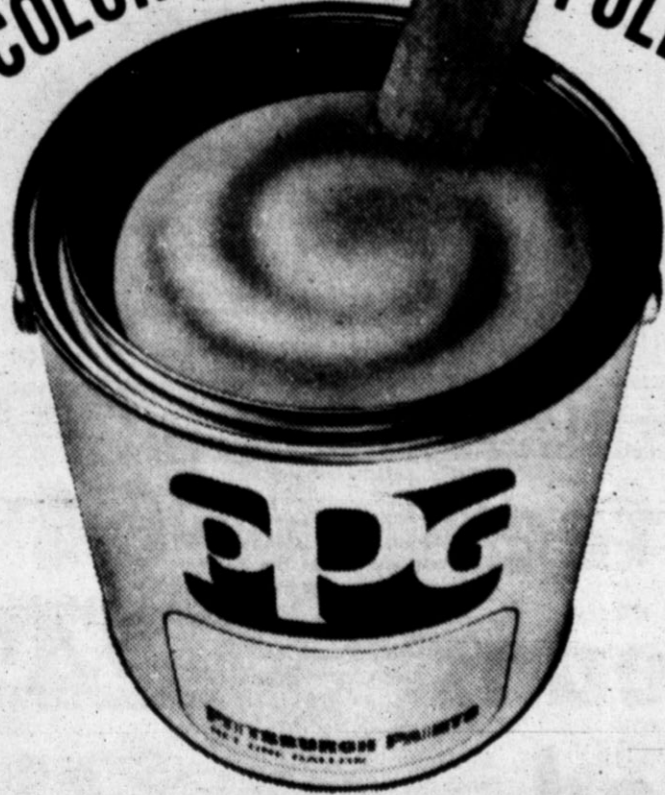

So, be foxy. Call Pioneer and tell them you'd like to find out more about installing GAS air conditioning in the winter. A representative will tell you what it will take to include it in your present forced air heating system. You may be able to use the same ductwork for heating and cooling. It costs nothing to get a complete survey of your home or business.

Hereford, Texas

PORTALES — About 60 football hopefuls began spring drills Monday at Eastern New Mexico University under the tutelage of second-year head coach Jack Scott.

The Greyhounds, as an independent member of the NAIA, suffered a 2-8 record last year including a 23-18 loss to New Mexico Highlands in the season finale. In his second year of building at Eastern, Scott expresses optimism as spring to drills began with the return of 48 squad members and several junior college and transfer students.

During the 20 daily practices Scott and his aides will be intent on physical conditioning, individual effort and spirit, while looking for players to fill some vital vacancies created by graduation last spring.

Running back Harry Mathis of Abernathy, Tex. who is expected to sign a professional football contract in the near future, gained over 1,000 yards and was described by Scott as one of the "most complete players" he's ever coached.

Other key players lost include George Fetters who was named to the NAIA first team as an offensive guard; defensive tackle Jim Fleming, NAIA honorable mention, and Shiprock player Jeff Lott, a backfield defensive player.

Among transfers participating in the spring program are Don Shackleford, a New Mexico State transfer from Roswell; Ron Rutherford, running back from New Mexico Military Institute; and linebacker Carl Galloway of Ranger Junior College.

Eastern opens its 1971 season at Panhandle State Sept. 11, followed by Sul Ross State at Alpine, Texas Sept. 18; Texas Lutheran at home Oct. 2; Abilene Christian at home Oct. 9; Southwestern State at Weatherford, Okla. Tax credit is offered for school

Cong. Bob Price has been joined by 87 members of the House of Representatives from 30 states in introducing legislation to provide tax credits to help individuals meet the cost of higher education.

The bill provides for a tax credit of 100 per cent on the first $200 spent on higher education in one year; 25 per cent on expenses from $200 to $500; and 5 per cent of expenses from $500 to $1,500.

Price said the measure was designed specifically to aid lower and middle income taxpayers meet the escalating costs of higher education for their children.

"In addition to aiding parents in educating their children, this bill recognizes the desirability of promoting education through private institutions rather than pushing students to tax-supported colleges and pouring ever-increasing amounts of government money into them as a result," Price said.

"I think that most Americans are fed up with penalizing the working man and his family. There can be no doubt whatsoever that something must be done to help parents provide their children with a higher education. Soaring tuition rates on top of inflation are making it unbearable and, in some cases impossible, for parents to send their children to college," Price added.

He notes that the measure would provide assistance to those who require it instead of expanding state institutions which subsidize all students regardless of need.

DAR sponsors essay contest on Constitution

Observance of February as American History Month is being sponsored by Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, with an essay contest for pupils of fifth through eighth grades as a feature.

Essays with the title, The United States Constitution and Its Signers, have been written and are to be submitted for judging by Friday of this week. Bronze American History medals are to be given for the best essay in each grade level, and certificates of merit to others judged worthy.

The essay deal with the signing of the constitution and the men who signed it. Teachers in these grades are cooperating in the contest, discussing with their pupils material supplied by the DAR Chapter.

Hereford DAR members are stressing the special month, which emphasizes the theme, Patriotism Is Traditional, with a variety of activities.

Trolley cars following route 3-T, in Helsinki, Finland, have special charm for American tourists, according to National Geographic. Three-T makes a figure eight through the city, passing many points of interest such as the cathedral, the parliament house and several colorful markets. At each stop, a well modulated taped voice coming over the street-car's sound system tells the traveler exactly what he is seeing — in English.

Let's make St. Valentine's Day unanimous. Let's say "I love you" to at least one other person. It is a bright and good day in the Christian calendar. Every one of us is the better man because he dares to love. The heart and the cross belong together. You cannot truly love without honoring the principle of sacrifice. Saint Valentine was a Christian martyr, beheaded by Claudius, emperor of Rome about the year 50 A.D. He loved enough to surrender his life in the service of God. The heart and the cross tell us that God is love, that he loved enough to give all for us. Will St. Valentine succeed in winning you and me to a genuine love for God that will not count the cost? The best text for St. Valentine's Day is John 3:16.

Local veterans get bonus of $24,000

Deaf Smith County's World War veterans will have their bank rolls embellished this year to the tune of $24,000. That is the sum they will receive, approximately, of a total of $275 million that will be paid to veterans of World War I and World War II who have maintained their GI insurance policies. The money has become available for distribution because the interest earned by the trust funds governing the policies has been unusually large and because the death rate among policy holders has been lower than was foreseen when the premium rate was set. As a result, reserve funds have been built up, enabling the Veterans Administration to make the refunds. Sharing in the distribution will be nearly four million veterans of World War I holding National Service Life Insurance policies and 163,400 World War I veterans covered by U. S. Government Life Insurance. Of the 1,430 veterans of the two World Wars residing in Deaf Smith County, only about 360 will be on the receiving end, the figures show. They are the ones who held on to their policies.

DE STUDENT OF THE WEEK — Distributive Education student of the week is Miss Mary Helen Reyna, cashier at the Star Theatre. Miss Reyna, shown with her employer, R. J. Foy, is a senior at Hereford High School who plans to attend Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio following her graduation this May. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Reyna, 206 Fuller Street.

As for those in the local area who were involved in other wars, no distribution will be made to them since they were not covered by this type of policy. Of the veterans who do qualify, the ones who were in World War I will receive an average of $122 each and those who saw service in the second World War, $64.

The VA said the amount a veteran receives depends upon such factors as his age, the age of the policy and its face value. For those ex-servicemen who are eligible to receive dividends, their checks will arrive on the anniversary dates of their policies. No application for them is necessary. The distribution will take place automatically.

Le-wa-ni group tours museum

A tour of Deaf Smith County Museum was taken Monday by Le-Wa-Ni Campfire Girls group. Members taking the tour were Vanessa Bishop, M'Lee Coleman, Virginia Clark, Diana Ferguson, Deborah Fielder, Ester Flores, Cynthia Fraco, Olivia Gonzales, Carol Huckabee, Laura Leal, Denise Smith, June Stewart, Kathi Weems, Mona Wells, Iris Frausts and Mmes. Jack Coleman and J. L. Stewart, leaders.

Kendrick makes UTA honor roll

Jerry Wayne Kendrick of Hereford was among the 831 students who were named to the fall semester honor roll at the University of Texas at Arlington. He was one of 80 students from this state, 10 from other states and the Virgin Islands. To be eligible for the honor roll, a student must complete 12 or more semester hours with a 2.0 or better grade point ratio.
