Volunteers of the Year

Kyla Flores, left, and Elizabeth Fowler were named "Volunteers of the Year" by Deaf Smith County United Way at the annual meeting Tuesday night at Hereford Country Club. Wes Klett, campaign chairman, made the presentations. Each division chairman nominated a candidate for the award, and the board declared a tie this first year.

Kyla Flores and Elizabeth Fowler were named co-recipients of the "Volunteer of the Year" award presented Tuesday night at the annual meeting of United Way of Deaf Smith County.

Wes Klett, campaign chairman, cited Flores and Fowler for dedicated service in each of their divisions. Candidates for the award were nominated by each division chairman. Flores is employed at Hereford Cablevision and Fowler at Hereford Regional Medical Center.

Susan Gilmore, executive director of the Amarillo United Way, was guest speaker for the event. Mrs. Gilmore said "volunteers represent the very best people working to bring out the best in the rest of us."

The Amarillo speaker related some of her experiences as a United Way director and gave several examples of how the charitable organization makes a real difference in people's lives.

Mike Hatley, UW president, presided at the annual meeting. He will serve another term as president. Other officers include Ron Rives and Klett returning as vice president and campaign chairman, respectively, and Rodney Ruthart will be the treasurer.

Klett said he was "looking forward" to serving as campaign chairman again and that the continuity of returning officers should provide a boost to this year's drive. He expressed special appreciation to Sally Nolen, executive director, and Karen Sherrod for their work this past year.

In his report, Hatley said goals of the United Way chapter this year will be to emphasize training of volunteers, use of new technology for more efficient organization, innovation and education, and focusing on expressing appreciation to those who help make the campaign a success.

Ruthart thanked the United Way's new "Leadership Giving Circle," a new level of community participation for those who desire to make a deeper involvement. With a contribution of $1,000 or more, contributors strengthen the UW and increase its ability to provide needed local human services.

Contributors recognized in the three levels: Platinum Circle($3,000 and up)--First National Bank, Merrick Pet Foods, Nutri-Feeds, Hereford Bi-Products, and Ag Analysis.

Gold Circle($2,000--2,900)--Arrowhead Mills and Hereford State Bank.

Silver Circle($1,000--1,900)--Holly Sugar, Moorman Manufacturing, Lone Star Agency, Engergas, Southwestern Public Service, AZTX Cattle Co., Caviness Packing, Frito Lay, White Implement, Southwestern Bell, Don Graham, Nutrition Service Associates and Anipro, Hereford Lions Club, BJM Sales & Service and A-1 Chemical.

Education chief Meno to visit Hereford Friday

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

Texas Education Commissioner Skip Meno will be in Hereford on Friday to tour Shirley Intermediate School, Principal David Fanning said today.

Meno's visit is part of a tour he does each year of schools in the Partnership Schools Initiative, in which 83 schools across Texas have been selected to try innovative ways to teach children.

Fanning said Meno announced he was coming here earlier in the school year.

Shirley is one of only five schools in this area that are Partnership Schools. Meno has already visited Swinburn Elementary in Tulia.

Meno will arrive by plane Friday morning and will arrive at the school at 8:30 a.m.

He will tour classrooms from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., meeting with students, teachers and observing classes at work.

Fanning said Meno will stop in some classes just to watch the teachers as they teach. In others, he will talk with individual students about what they are learning, while in others he will address the entire class.

Following the tour, at 9:30 a.m., Meno will hold a news conference with local and area media representatives and anyone else in attendance to talk about the tour.

"We're ready for him to come," Fanning said.

The principal said the Partnership Schools program allows schools to develop a variety of programs that better teach students.

Here, Fanning said, the school is working on a variety of programs that address how students learn and how teachers teach.

Being a PSI school, he said, is a five- to seven-year program. Shirley is in its second year in PSI.

Within the program, he said, schools can receive waivers from the state from state requirements as needed, as long as there is progress shown by students.

One thing being done this year at Shirley, said Fanning, are academic portfolios instead of traditional report cards.

The portfolios assess quality work and progress toward meeting the Texas Essential Elements.

Fanning said the public is welcome to join the commissioner on his visit here and can stay around for the news conference.

Election called by HISD trustees at regular meet

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

On a night that saw an emotional defense of Shirley Intermediate School and its teachers and curriculum, the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees took formal action on a number of other items Tuesday.

The board met in regular session and formally called a trustee election for May 7, agreed to allow administrators to approve bids for remodeling of the district's new administration building and began the budget process with three budget reports.

But the real fireworks occurred during the public comments section after the main business had been transacted, when Shirley supporters lashed district critic Davis Ford for statements he made recently about the school.

In regular business, trustees voted unanimously to call the election for May 7.

Board president Ron Weishaar, representing District 1, and board secretary Raymond Schlabs, representing District 3, are the trustees whose terms expire this year.

Superintendent Charles W. Greenawalt said the filing period for the election will run from Feb. 21 through March 23.

The district's realignment plan, which was approved by trustees last month, has been submitted to the U.S. Justice Department for its approval. If that approval is given in time, Greenawalt said, those boundaries will be used in the election. Otherwise, existing boundaries will be used.

Assistant superintendent for support services Don Cumpton walked trustees through a 22-point list of items the district needs done to the new administration building, located at 15th Street and U.S. 385, before it can be occupied.

Most of the work, he said, entails closing doorways, opening new entrances -- usually between offices -- and the moving of a wall on the north side of the building to create the district's warehouse.

Cumpton also pointed out that a receptionist's booth will be constructed in the foyer of the building, with that person charged with answering and directing phone calls and meeting people entering the building.

Trustee Jim Marsh asked about the placement of a staff lounge in the far northwest corner of the building near the load dock and behind the warehouse.

Both Cumpton and Greenawalt explained that putting it there was the most cost-effective, as the area -- which also houses the fire sprinkler system pump -- is the only non-restroom in the building that has a source of water, with a sink located there.

Cumpton said a wall will be constructed to separate the room from the loading dock area.

Overall, Cumpton said, the renovations should cost between $20,000 and $25,000.

Greenawalt said the entire move-in cost, including renovations, new carpet in the foyer and down the main hall, moving telephones and other work, will be between $45,000 and $50,000.

Carpeting will be removed from the warehouse area and will be used in places where walls are removed or to replace worn areas. However, Greenawalt said, district officials felt the worn carpeting in the public areas of the building should be new.

Weishaar asked for a motion to allow Greenawalt and his staff to put out bids on the process, open them and approve one without board approval -- provided the bid accepted be for under $25,000 -- in order to speed the work and get the building ready to move in after spring break.

Marsh questioned giving that approval, saying he wanted to see the bids before approving one.

Greenawalt explained that the bids would be based on Cumpton's report.

The motion -- made by Weishaar -- passed 5-1, with Marsh abstaining and trustee Mike Veazey absent for a portion of the meeting.

In other action, trustees approved the concept of a Parks and Recreation District and appointed trustee Joe Flood -- who has been serving with Greenawalt on a joint committee studying the city-county-district plan -- to serve on the parks and recreation board.

In budget reports, Athletic Director Danny Haney, Girls Athletic Director Brenda Reeh and Band Director Don Summersgill explained where their budget monies are used and how they determine their budgets.

No action was taken on the reports. During the public comments portion of the meeting, Shirley teacher Shelia Straughan assailed Ford for a letter to the editor which appeared in (See ELECTION, Page 2)

Lamb sale gives Russian student lesson in free enterprise system

BY RICK LANNING
Staff Writer

Russian exchange student Tatyana Vakhraneva, 17, got an unexpected lesson in free enterprise when a lamb she had been raising for a FFA project brought her $35 per pound -- or $4,550.

"I couldn't believe it," said the vivacious teen. "This would have never happened in Russia." Tatyana, whose host family is Tom and Valerie Fellhauer, had entered two pigs and two lambs in the FFA competition.

Speaking in excellent English with a Russian accent, she said, "None of my other animals made the sale. The only one left was my 130-pound lamb."

Dr. Cliff Skiles Jr., a Hereford veterinarian, decided to purchase the animal for $35 per pound.

"It was a bid situation and there were other people who felt the same way as I did about Tatyana -- she's a very special person," said Skiles.

"I was involved in FFA when I was young and both of my children are in it. They think a lot of Tatyana.

"I'm elated by the fall of Russian communism, but by the same token, many Americans don't realize what a terrific hardship the collapse has had on the people who there."

Tatyana said she would have been happy to receive $5 per pound for her

Saul names Strowd as new assistant DA

A new assistant has joined the staff of Deaf Smith County Criminal District Attorney Roland Saul.

Chris Strowd came to Hereford from Del Rio where he was on the Val Verde County attorney's staff. He began work in Hereford Monday.

A graduate of Hardin Simmons University and South Texas College of Law, Strowd grew up at Graham and was graduated from high school there.

On graduation from law school in 1991, he returned to his hometown to enter civil practice of law. He went to Del Rio because of a desire to enter the criminal prosecution field.

He said his assignment in Saul's office will be primarily in misdemeanor prosecution.

Strowd is a member of the State Bar of Texas and the Texas District and County Attorneys Association.

He fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Greg Buckley, who left last week. Jim English continues as an assistant district attorney in Saul's office.

Questions remain about Richards phone records, GOP head alleges

By MICHAEL HOLMES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) - The chairman of the Texas Republican Party says Gov. Ann Richards' staff still has questions to answer about the destruction of long-distance telephone records.

"They're doing a lot to try to cover up on this thing," GOP chairman Fred Meyer said. "Not only are they missing records, it still doesn't look like they've got their explanation right."

On Tuesday, Richards' chief of staff John Fainter apologized for "any confusion or misstatements" the governor's office made in recent days about the destruction of the phone records.

Fainter said the decision to destroy the records in August 1993 was his. He said state laws were followed and that Richards places great importance on open government and public accountability.

He voiced regret about the confusion created when Richards' aides gave three different accounts.

"There has never been a desire to mislead anyone. The problems arose when we tried to recall - off the tops of our heads - events of the past three years," Fainter said.

"It was a legal decision, not a political decision (to destroy the records). Hindsight is a wonderful thing, and had I considered the impression this would leave with the press, I don't think I would have made that decision," he said.

A spokeswoman for Richards' likely Republican opponent, George

W. Bush, criticized the governor's office for not fully explaining what happened from the start.

The Travis County district attorney's office, which investigates alleged wrongdoing by state officials, said it has asked Richards' office for an explanation.

Manufacturers overcharge for drugs

Government auditors claim costs higher in U.S.

By CHRISTOPHER CONNELL, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Drug manufacturers charge 60 percent more for several dozen best-selling, brand-name drugs in the United States than for the same medicines in the United Kingdom, government auditors said today.

One contraceptive pill, Nordette, cost 17 times more at the wholesale level here than in Britain, said a report by the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress. The tranquilizer Valium cost 10 times as much and the cardiac drug Inderal cost nearly nine times as much.

The report, requested by Rep. Henry A. Waxman, D-Calif., provides ammunition for lawmakers who contend drug makers are ripping off the American public in the absence of government controls on prices and profits.

The British market is heavily regulated, with the government buying most drugs through the National Health Service.

"If we are serious about controlling health care costs, we must address the issue of prescription drug prices ...," Waxman said in a statement. "We must find a way to balance profits and price in a way that is fairer to the American consumer."

"These numbers translate into real costs to real people, particularly the elderly who purchase 34 percent of the drugs," said Waxman, chairman of the House Energy and Commerce subcommittee on health and the environment.

The Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association challenged the GAO study, saying "it compares prices in the best health care system in the world with prices in one of the worst systems among major industrialized countries."

Robert F. Allnut, the association's executive vice president, said the GAO also exaggerated the price differences by looking only at brand-name drugs and ignoring generics and U.S. rebates and discounts.

Robert M. Goldberg, a Brandeis University research fellow, said that in Britain and other European countries with price controls, "there's less innovation and less access to new and better drugs. That's the tradeoff for low prices."

An earlier GAO study found a similar disparity between prices for the same drugs in the United States and Canada. The drug industry argued then that Canadian firms conduct relatively little research.

But the GAO report said the private pharmaceutical industry in the United Kingdom remains "one of the world's leaders" in research and development, ranking third behind the United States and Japan in major drugs brought to market from 1970 to 1992.

The GAO, working from a list of the 200 drugs most frequently dispensed in the United States in 1991, compared the prices of 77 sold in the same form and dosage in the United Kingdom.

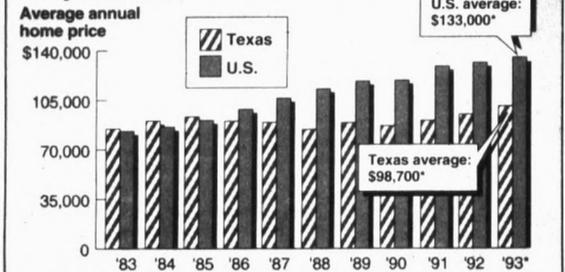

It checked the prices that manufacturers sold the drugs to retailers, not the prices consumers paid at pharmacies. The wholesale price is typically two-thirds of the retail price.

The 77 drugs "cost wholesalers 60 percent more in the United States than in the United Kingdom," the GAO said. Six out of seven drugs were priced higher in the United States; most were priced more than twice as high.

Keeping an eye on Texas

Home prices lag behind U.S.

Average home sales prices from 1983-85 in Texas were above the national average, then fell to a low of $84,152 in 1988. The U.S. average remains well above the average for the state.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I shouldn't have let Davis Ford's letter to the editor in Sunday's paper upset me, but it did. I should have contained my anger and just reminded myself that Mr. Ford is writing about something he knows absolutely nothing about, but I can't. Mr. Ford has insulted me as a Christian and as a teacher at Shirley Intermediate School.

There are numerous statements in Mr. Ford's letter that upset me. One very disturbing comment was that when we teach students to "Relate Health Concepts and Skills Affecting the Individual and Community," we teach students where to "...find abortion services." This is absolutely false. As a Catholic, I am strongly against abortion. Because of my beliefs, I am not going to teach students where to find abortion services. The HISD administration and school board do not want me to teach where students can find abortion services. We teach what is mandated by the state of Texas, and teaching where to find abortion services is not mandated. I would like to know where Mr. Ford got his information that we teach students where to find abortion services. Who or what is his source? I believe Mr. Ford's source is his active imagination.

In Mr. Ford's letter, he made it seem as Shirley Intermediate School just wants to pass students on, regardless if they have learned anything. That, again, is absolutely false. Shirley's number one concern is for the students. We are going to do all that we can to help all students succeed. We do not want to see any student fall through the cracks. We are working on programs that will aid in our students' success, and we are very proud of our students' accomplishments.

Students learn to ask questions when there is something they do not understand. Mr. Ford does not understand what Shirley Intermediate School is all about. I suggest that Mr. Ford start asking some questions. I also strongly suggest that when Mr. Ford's questions are answered, he listen to what is said, not to what his imagination wants to be said. There is no logical explanation for Mr. Ford's letter other than he just wants to stir people up and he just wants to draw attention to himself.

Kimberly Potts
Shirley Intermediate School

Dear Editor:

Davis Ford has struck again. He has again used the Hereford Brand as a forum to spout his wild accusations against the Hereford school system. Once again he has failed to concern himself with the TRUTH or any factual data collected in our schools.

I would hope that I am not the only reader of the Brand that realized that Mr. Ford's quixotic criticisms are "tilting at windmills." As a special education teacher at Shirley Intermediate School, I am amazed that Mr. Ford can take the term Outcome Based Education and immediately assume that it is "radical," "deceptive" and "socialist" without so much as visiting our school.

I am using Mr. Ford's letter in my home to teach my two daughters the following skills:

1. What you read in the newspaper is not necessarily true.
 2. Always check the facts before making accusations.
- Immediately following the lesson, I would like to put Mr. Ford's letter to another good use, if I can just find someone somewhere who has a birdcage.

Sincerely,
Marge Bell

Killer of store clerk executed by injection 14 years after murder

By MICHAEL GRACZYK, Associated Press Writer

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) - An ex-carpenter from San Antonio was executed early today for killing a teen-age convenience store clerk in Galveston nearly 14 years ago.

Harold Barnard, 51, was given lethal injection for killing Tuan Nguyen, 16, who was fatally shot as his father watched nearby during a 1980 robbery at the family store.

In a final statement, Barnard made a brief prayer, seeking forgiveness and protection for his family.

"God, please forgive me of my sins," he said. "Please look after my family... Bless and protect all good people. I am sorry for my sins. Lord, take me home with you."

He was pronounced dead at 12:27 a.m. CST, 11 minutes after the lethal drugs began flowing into his arms.

Attorneys had sought to halt the punishment by claiming Barnard was mentally incompetent. The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court each rejected the claims Tuesday, clearing the way for the first execution in Texas this year.

Last year, Texas led the nation with 17 executions. Barnard also became the 72nd convicted killer in the state to be executed since the Supreme Court in 1976 allowed the death penalty to resume. The total also is the highest among states with capital punishment.

Barnard and three others entered a 7-Eleven store in Galveston the night of June 6, 1980 and asked for a pack of cigarettes. When store manager Tuan Nguyen turned around to get the item, Barnard pulled a gun on the manager's son, also named Tuan.

Testimony at his trial showed Barnard shot the youth once in the heart with a sawed-off .22-caliber rifle. Nguyen, a 10th-grade honor student at Galveston Ball High School, and his father had filled a bag with money but Barnard and his three companions fled the store empty-handed.

They were arrested driving a stolen car about 30 minutes later on Interstate 45 north of Galveston. The murder weapon was found inside the car along with a large hunting knife and a loaded 12-gauge shotgun.

A year ago, Barnard came within eight hours of execution before an appeals court granted him a reprieve.

Jack Brock, the prosecutor who sent Barnard to death row in 1980, said the long time between conviction and punishment was frustrating.

"It was a fairly quick verdict as I recall and there was little question about the guilt or the penalty," he said. "For there to be this long a period before the jury's decision is carried out, it is frustrating for the public and the interest of justice as well."

Brock also questioned the defense contention that Barnard was mentally incompetent, saying there never was any evidence to support it.

Barnard had a long criminal record going back to 1960 with arrests for larceny, assault with intent to rape, burglary and possession of a deadly weapon. He had served at least two previous prison terms.

The three others arrested with Barnard were convicted of lesser charges, imprisoned and paroled.

ELECTION

Sunday's Hereford Brand in which Ford cited academic changes at Shirley as a trend toward Outcome Based Education.

"Over at Shirley we are only teaching the Texas Essential Elements that have been mandated," Mrs. Straughan said. "We're doing things that will benefit our kids."

In addition, she continued, the school is teaching six life skills -- responsibility, effort, integrity, organization, perseverance and problem solving -- "I don't see how anybody could have a problem with those life skills."

Weishaar took a shot at Ford as well, noting that "You didn't take the time to go to Shirley School... you assumed it was Outcome Based Education."

Ford defended his letter, saying it was not directed at personalities at the school, but at the portfolio grading system implemented there and at Outcome Based Education in general. Shirley principal David Fanning said that by inferring the school is teaching atheism, condoms and other principles of OBE discussed by literature Ford has read, Ford was accusing school staff of being non-Christian.

"That's the way you destroy people, by innuendo," he said.

The strongest attacks on Ford came from Rita Reinhart, president of the school's PTO, who said he was unwarranted in making his claims in the media, where teachers' children could read the allegations.

"I feel that our kids deserve an apology from you," Mrs. Reinhart said, as do the teachers at the school. "I don't believe you're big enough to do it."

Trustee Raul Valdez defended the letter, saying he did not read any personal attacks into it, just that it was a warning about OBE.

"Maybe it's not here, but it could be a foothold of what's happening in other states," Valdez said.

Hereford Travel Center joins Admiral program

Within seconds, Hereford Travel Center can now provide their clients with detailed cruise information, including special discounts often not available to individual travelers, as the travel agency recently joined the Admiral computer database network.

The Admiral is a state-of-the-art computer database program for cruise information often compared to those used by the airlines. The Admiral provides Hereford Travel Center with continuously updated rates and itineraries, including special promotional and group rates.

"It's virtually impossible for travel agents to keep up with all of the faxes, fliers, brochures, and trade journal articles that cross their desks," explains Jack Moss, president of Cruise Associates, which developed the Admiral. "The Admiral makes it easy for agents to access all of the cruise information they need at one time, instead of searching all over the place," Moss added.

Joan Coupe, CTC, president and general manager of Hereford Travel Center said, "We are pleased to be able to utilize this new technology. We have over 4,000 cruises on sale every day and can now quickly find the ones that best suits our clients' request." Coupe added, "This program is a real plus for our agency and our clients."

The advantages to using a travel agency that subscribes to the Admiral are that it:

- Organizes data from 50 cruise lines and over 115 ships!
- Enables our agents to search information by selecting departure date or date range, cruise line, ship, area of the world, ports of call and the port of embarkation;
- Contains sailing dates and special rates;
- Features ship profiles and cruise line profiles;
- Contains special "group" rates for single cabins; and,
- Is customized for Hereford Travel Center.

Here's some news that will warm your heart. About a year ago, a team of doctors and nuggers from the Chicago unit of Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children donated the cost of their airline tickets and countless hours of preparation to help more than 200 children who could not afford orthopaedic care in Colombia, South America.

NEW YORK (AP) - Andrew Giuliani's mother was stunned when her boy caught flak for his antics during Mayor Rudolph Giuliani's inaugural address.

"I was startled when people were so astonished," Donna Hanover Giuliani said in an interview with The New Yorker magazine. Andrew, who turned 8 on Sunday, stood beside his dad during the mayor's Jan. 2 address on the steps of City Hall, blowing kisses at friends and mugging for cameras.

He even read out a passage of the speech his father had overlooked - giving his parents a chance to look on the bright side.

NEW YORK (AP) - They don't have time for a honeymoon just yet, but Edward James Olmos and Lorraine Bracco got married anyway. Olmos, the grim police lieutenant on "Miami Vice," and Bracco wed Friday in a private ceremony at a Manhattan hotel, Paul Bloch, Miss Bracco's publicist, said Sunday. He declined to provide details.

Bracco was nominated for an Oscar for "GoodFellas."

It was the second marriage for both and they had no immediate plans for a honeymoon, Bloch said.

Bulldogs hold off Herd's comeback

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Borger boys' basketball team started to blow out Hereford Tuesday in Borger, but the Bulldogs ended up fighting for their lives down the stretch.

Hereford came almost all the way back from a 18-point deficit in the first quarter. The Herd pulled to within four points several times in the fourth but eventually succumbed 89-82.

In the earlier girls' game, Borger pulled away from a close game in the second half and won 62-40.

The Herd defense was to blame for Borger's early dominance, Hereford boys' coach Randy Dean said.

"We went on vacation defensively," Dean said. "We had a lot of blown assignments and just didn't play well defensively at all."

Borger led 31-13 after one quarter and 56-38 at halftime. Hereford outscored Borger 23-12 in the third quarter, cutting the Bulldog lead to 68-61.

"It sounds simple, but we just started doing a better job of doing what we were supposed to be doing," Dean said. "We didn't change anything. We just started moving better and playing better."

A three-pointer by Hereford's Stacey Sanders opened the scoring in the fourth and closed the Borger lead to 68-64. Hereford came within four points three more times in the early fourth quarter, but Borger was able to answer with points each time.

A 5-0 run by Borger pushed the lead to 83-73, but Hereford baskets by Isaac Walker and Cody Marion and two free throws from Benton Buckley cut the lead to 83-79 with less than three minutes left.

Hereford had four turnovers down the stretch—three in the next minute—hurting the Herd's chances of pulling it off. Free throws also hurt: Hereford hit only 2-of-5 in the final minute and a half. For the game, Hereford was barely above 50 percent from the line at 15-of-29.

Hereford's Buckley led all scorers with 29 points. Walker had 14 points and Marion added 12. Sanders, Jay Kendall and Jason Colston each had eight points.

In the girls' game, Borger led only 32-29 at halftime. Hereford scored only three points in the entire third quarter, while Borger scored 11. In the fourth, Borger outscored Hereford 19-8.

Coach Eddie Fortenberry was at a district meeting today and was unavailable for comment. Assistant Loy Triana said the Lady Whitefaces "came out flat" in the second half.

He said Borger did not play as well as they did in the first meeting—Borger looked like world-beaters in a 63-51 win on Jan. 14—but Hereford couldn't take advantage of the situation Tuesday.

Hereford also lost all three subvarsity games played in Borger. The girls' JV lost 47-36, though Cassie Abney scored 10, and Deanna McCracken and Julie Cole each scored eight.

The boys' JV lost 70-64, and the sophomore boys lost 62-57. Details were unavailable for those games.

Rockne's Record

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) - Was Knute Rockne the greatest college football coach of all time? Nobody had a better record.

Rockne coached Notre Dame from 1918 through 1930 and had the highest won-lost percentage in the history of the game. Rockne's teams played at a .881 pace.

Credited with having helped establish the forward pass as a great offensive weapon, Rockne was killed in an airplane crash in Kansas in March 1931.

Kuper set to sign with UT

Today is national signing day for college-bound high school athletes, and Hereford is included in the festivities.

Mark Kuper, a two-year, two-way starter at defensive end and tight end for Hereford, was expected to sign a letter of intent today to play football at the University of Texas.

7th girls do well at tournament

Hereford came out well at the seventh grade girls district basketball tournament, held over the weekend in Canyon.

Hereford's White team finished second, falling only to Valleyview Silver 40-26 in the championship game. The White beat Dumas Black 34-22 in the first round and Valleyview Blue 29-25 in the semifinals.

Kristin Cole had 11 points in the Dumas game; Makesha Rives had 13 against Valleyview Blue; and Mayra Olvera had 10 in the championship.

Hereford's Maroon team played in the round robin portion of the tournament, winning it with a 2-1 record. The wins came over Dumas Orange, 24-22, and Borger Red, 32-20. Hereford lost 44-35 to Pampa Red.

Amy Perrin led Hereford in two of the games, scoring 15 against Dumas and 10 against Pampa. Misty Tice's 12 points led Hereford against Borger.

Sonics, Rockets continue to struggle

New YMCA President

Dennis Printz (left) was recently installed as the new president of the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA Board of Directors. Outgoing president Nathan Lockmiller stands at right.

By CHRIS SHERIDAN
AP Sports Writer
Who's the best team in the NBA? After Tuesday night, it's almost too close to call.

The Seattle SuperSonics and Houston Rockets continued their downward cycles with losses, while the New York Knicks and Chicago Bulls kept playing perfectly.

The result today is five teams with nearly identical records. The Sonics, 31-10, still own the best record in the NBA - a bragging right they've held since late December. But just a half-game behind them are the Knicks and Rockets, both 31-11. The Atlanta Hawks are 30-11 and the Bulls are 31-12.

If the question changes to who's the hottest team in the NBA, it's a toss-up between New York and Chicago. The Knicks won their fourth straight and 13th of 16 Tuesday, beating Boston 114-79.

"We hadn't gotten back into the rhythm we had at the end of last season, and people were saying we were old," the Knicks' Charles Oakley said. "We'll see them all at the end of the season."

Chicago beat Denver 118-98 for its ninth victory in 10 games.

"It's one of the best road games we've played all year," coach Phil Jackson said.

Seattle, meanwhile, lost to New Jersey 104-103 for its fifth defeat in six games, and Houston lost to Utah 104-88 for its fourth straight defeat on the road.

"We're not playing with an attitude, we're just playing," Seattle coach George Karl said. "We're just not focused. We lack the enthusiasm and aggressiveness that got us off to such a great start. It's not going to get any easier if we play like we did tonight."

In other games, it was Indiana 116, Washington 96; Miami 88, Milwaukee 82; San Antonio 112, the Los Angeles Lakers 97; Phoenix 108, the Los Angeles Clippers 106; and Sacramento 102, Portland 97.

Jazz 104, Rockets 88

At Salt Lake City, Karl Malone scored 29 points - 15 in the fourth quarter - and Utah held Houston scoreless for the final 4:56. John Stockton added 26 points and 13 assists and Jeff Malone chipped in 13 points.

Knicks 114, Celtics 79

At New York, the Knicks held an opponent to less than 80 points for the fourth time this season, outbounded the Celtics 56-35 and held them to 33 percent shooting from the field.

Seven New York players had at least 10 points, led by Patrick Ewing with 23 and Charles Smith with 14. Dino Radja had 14 points for Boston.

Bulls 118, Nuggets 98

At Denver, Scottie Pippen scored 28 points, Horace Grant and B.J. Armstrong had 19 apiece and the Bulls shot 59 percent from the field.

Nets 104, SuperSonics 103

At East Rutherford, N.J., the Sonics were playing for the last shot when Ricky Pierce dribbled the ball off his foot. He retrieved it at halfcourt and missed a wild hook shot as time expired.

Kenny Anderson led New Jersey with 26 points. Shawn Kemp had 26 for Seattle.

Suns 108, Clippers 106

At Phoenix, the Suns didn't let Danny Manning take the final shot. Los Angeles inbounded to Manning with 3.5 seconds left, but he had to pass it out to Gary Grant because of defensive pressure. Grant missed a 25-footer as time expired. Cedric Ceballos scored 37 points and Dan Majerle had 21. Ron Harper had 28 points for the Clippers and Manning had 26 points and 18 rebounds.

Spurs 112, Lakers 97

At San Antonio, Dale Ellis scored a season-high 32 points and David Robinson had 30 for San Antonio, which has won four in a row and 15 of its last 18.

Pacers 116, Bullets 96

At Indianapolis, Reggie Miller reacted to his All-Star snub by getting nine assists and five steals to go along with his 25 points.

Heat 88, Bucks 82

At Milwaukee, Steve Smith scored 19 points, including seven straight points in a decisive 90-second span that broke the game open late in the fourth quarter. Glen Rice led Miami with 23 points and the Heat won for the third straight time on the road.

Kings 102, Trail Blazers 97

At Sacramento, Calif., Wayman Tisdale scored a season-high 30 points as Sacramento broke a seven-game losing streak and rebounded from an embarrassing loss at Dallas on Saturday.

Syracuse stops UConn's win streak

By The Associated Press
Fifth-ranked Connecticut had no defense for what happened against Lawrence Moten and No. 15 Syracuse.

Moten scored 31 points and Syracuse turned Tuesday night's game at the Carrier Dome into a shootout, winning 108-95. It was the Huskies' first loss of the season in the Big East and stopped their 10-game winning streak.

"As a team, we played a perfect game tonight," Moten said. "We couldn't have played any better. I would never have believed we could score 108 points on Connecticut."

Syracuse (14-3, 7-3) matched its highest point total in a conference game, set in 1983 against Boston College.

"The most difficult thing about the game is giving up 108 points. We prided ourselves on being a good defensive team," Connecticut's Donyell Marshall said.

In other games, No. 6 Arkansas beat Vanderbilt 89-76, No. 13 Michigan defeated No. 8 Purdue 63-62 and No. 10 Temple routed Rutgers 84-45.

Connecticut (18-2, 8-1) played its second game without coach Jim Calhoun, who has been hospitalized with walking pneumonia. The Huskies, who beat Syracuse 75-67 at Hartford on Jan. 10, led 51-48 at halftime but could not hold on.

John Wallace had 25 points for the Orangemen. He and Moten each had 10 rebounds.

"They are not any less of a team because of the way they played tonight. They may be even better because we played as well as we can play. If we hadn't beaten them tonight, I don't know if anybody would. At least now there might be a chance," Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim said.

Marshall scored 30 points and Brian Fair had 25 for Connecticut.

The Huskies gave up 100 points for the first time this season.

No. 6 Arkansas 89, Vanderbilt 76
Roger Crawford and Scotty Thurman each had three baskets during a 19-0 run early in the second half that sent Arkansas past visiting Vanderbilt.

The Razorbacks (15-2, 6-2 Southeastern Conference) led just 46-43 before breaking loose for five minutes. Crawford finished with 16 points and Thurman had 10.

Ronnie McMahon hit six 3-pointers and scored 26 points and Billy McCaffrey had 17 for Vanderbilt (10-7, 3-5). Frank Seckar made five 3-pointers for the Commodores and finished with 16.

No. 13 Michigan 63, No. 8 Purdue 62

Jwan Howard scored after an offensive rebound with 21 seconds left and Michigan won at Purdue in a battle for first place in the Big Ten.

'Skins to hire away Turner

By MATT YANCEY
Associated Press Writer
ASHBURN, Va. (AP) - The Washington Redskins are looking to Dallas offensive coordinator Norv Turner to be another Joe Gibbs and turn their fortunes around.

Two years after winning the Super Bowl, Washington plummeted to a 4-12 record this past season.

The Redskins scheduled a news conference today to formally announce a successor to fired coach Richie Petitbon after Turner met for more than five hours Tuesday with team owner Jack Kent Cooke and general manager Charley Casserly.

"We'll see you all tomorrow," Turner said cheerfully, departing in a car with Casserly Tuesday night from the Redskins' headquarters here, 35 miles west of the nation's capital.

Turner and Cooke shook hands on a multi-year contract, The Washington Post, reported, quoting sources. The length of the contract and salary were not mentioned, although three years is normal for NFL head coaches.

Petitbon, the Redskins' defensive coordinator for 14 years, before succeeding Gibbs last March, had a two-year contract with an annual salary of $450,000.

Upon firing him Jan. 4 at the conclusion of the Redskins' worst season in three decades, Cooke said he would honor the terms of that contract, which calls for Petitbon to be paid a second year if he doesn't take a job elsewhere.

Cooke and Casserly were both mum when questioned after their meetings with Turner, as were other Redskins officials. But both were all smiles leaving their offices Tuesday after NFL commissioner Paul Tagliabue's intervention a month ago prevented them from finalizing the deal then.

Less than 36 hours after Turner helped take the Cowboys to their second straight Super Bowl title with a 30-13 win Sunday night over the Buffalo Bills, he was on a plane headed here.

"I guess it might be ... I'm ready to go," Turner said before his departure from Dallas when he was asked if becoming Washington's new coach was a done deal.

The Redskins' hiring of Turner was all but completed four weeks ago when Tagliabue invoked a league rule that forbids the interviewing of coaching candidates until their last game has been played. No other names were even floated.

Cowboys owner Jerry Jones had earlier given the Redskins formal permission to talk with and hire Turner during Dallas' bye week between the end of the regular season and their first postseason game as long as it didn't interfere with his team's playoff preparations.

"Norv had a window of about two or three days and they had about a day and a half of communications before the league called," Jones said last week. "There's a $500,000 fine, so it's not in the best interest of either side to talk about it."

The Phoenix Cardinals also had expressed an interest in Turner after firing Joe Bugel last week, but Jones said they never made the required formal request to interview him.

Cooke and Casserly began taking a serious look at the 41-year-old Turner in December after the Redskins faltered under limping quarterback Mark Rypien and his backups behind an offensive line decimated by knee and hip injuries. The more they looked, the more they found similarities between Turner and Gibbs, who compiled a 140-65 record and took the Redskins to four Super Bowls in his 12 years at the helm.

Like Gibbs, Turner was a protege of former Los Angeles Rams and San Diego State offensive guru Ernie Zampese, from whom they both picked up workaholic habits and a devotion to details.

In their most recent jobs, both also turned mediocre teams with losing records and unheralded offensive rosters into Super Bowl champions within two years. When Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson lured Turner away from the Rams in 1991 to replace Dave Shula, now Cincinnati's coach, the Cowboys had the worst rated offense in the NFL.

Sampras, Graf await their biggest challenges

By ROB GLOSTER
AP Sports Writer
MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) - While Pete Sampras and Steffi Graf reasserted their dominance of tennis by winning Australian Open titles, their biggest challenges are just ahead.

Graf's only real rival, Monica Seles, is expected back soon. And the next Grand Slam event - the clay-court French Open in May - is the one in which Sampras is weakest.

Sampras, who defeated surprising Todd Martin 7-6 (7-4), 6-4, 6-4 in Sunday's all-American final, became the first man in nearly three decades to win Wimbledon, the U.S. Open and the Australian Open consecutively. Graf needed just 57 minutes Saturday to defeat Arantxa Sanchez Vicario 6-0, 6-2 and win her fourth straight Grand Slam title. The victory made it 13 straight Grand Slam titles that have been won by either Graf or Seles.

Sampras, the ultimate power tennis player of the 1990s, evoked images of the sport's past while defeating the ninth-seeded Martin. He drew comparisons with boyhood idols such as Rod Laver and Ken Rosewall by overpowering Martin with 126 mph aces and unreturnable groundstrokes. His match with golfing buddy Martin was a throwback in other ways to the old days of tennis, when gentlemen wearing crisp white outfits were more concerned about performance than personality.

Sampras and Martin, both of whom have been ridiculed at times as boring and too polite, praised each other after a center-court match of outstanding play but little drama. They also thanked the crowd for supporting their style of play.

"It makes it more fun for me when people really appreciate two guys that just go out there and play their tennis," Sampras said. "I think that is the way tennis should be played, with class and someone who doesn't lose his temper and embarrass himself."

Winning a fourth straight Grand Slam title will not be easy for Sampras, who has never gotten past the quarterfinals of the French Open.

"Every time I step out on the clay I feel like it's a struggle, whereas on hard courts I feel like I can win every match," said Sampras, whose serve-and-volley style is least effective on the slow clay.

Graf, who won her fourth Australian Open title and her 15th Grand Slam championship, overwhelmed Sanchez Vicario with forehand blasts all over the court.

With Seles sidelined since she was stabbed in the back by a spectator during a tournament April 30 in Hamburg, Germany, Graf has taken women's tennis back to the late 1980s - when she ruled the sport.

Since Seles was attacked, Graf has won all four of the Grand Slam tournaments that have been contested. Seles had won the previous three Australian Open titles.

Many of tennis' top stars - including Seles, Boris Becker, Andre Agassi, Jennifer Capriati and Martina Navratilova - skipped the Australian Open, and attendance was down nearly 10 percent from last year. But a few players got their first taste of Grand Slam success during the event.

Lindsay Davenport reached the quarterfinals, and another 17-year-old American, Chanda Rubin, made the fourth round. Kimiko Date became the first Japanese woman in the semifinals in more than two decades. Russia's Yevgeny Kafelnikov came within two points of beating Sampras in the second round in perhaps the best match of the tournament.

Graf said the development of those players is good for tennis.

"It gets tiring to play the same players always," she said. "Tennis really needs a few new faces, and so it's definitely very good for the sport. I'm excited about it."

Rangers' Rogers gets $2 million

By RONALD BLUM
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - Arbitration season began with two cases argued and another settling just before right-hander Kenny Rogers and the Texas Rangers were to appear before an arbitrator.

Rogers, who made $1 million last season, worked out the deal in Los Angeles Tuesday before his scheduled hearing in front of Rolf Valtin. Rogers had asked for $2.5 million and the Rangers had offered $2 million. Last year, Rogers was 16-10 with a 4.10 ERA.

Right-hander Mel Rojas and the Montreal Expos did appear before arbitrator Reginald Alleyne. Rojas, who went 5-8 with a 2.95 ERA last season and made $300,000, asked for $1.2 million, while Montreal offered $850,000.

Tom Gordon of Kansas City, who made $890,000 last season, appeared before arbitrator Theodore High. Gordon, a right-hander who went 12-6 with a 3.58 ERA in 1993, asked for $2,635,000 while the Royals offered $1.4 million.

In other settlements, outfielder Eric Anthony and Seattle agreed at $1.1 million, more than triple the $350,000 he made in 1993; infielder Mike Bordick and Oakland agreed at $1.05 million, more than twice his $400,000 salary last season; and catcher Brent Mayne and Kansas City settled at $500,000, more than double his $225,000 salary last season.

Fifty-two players remain in arbitration, which runs through Feb. 18.

On the free agent front, the Boston Red Sox, who already had signed free agent catcher Dave Valle, agreed to a minor-league contract with Damon Berryhill.

Berryhill, who became a free agent Dec. 20 when Atlanta failed to offer a 1994 contract, would get $700,000 if he makes the team, and Boston would get a $1.1 million option for 1995. He made $1 million last year with Atlanta, when he hit .245 with eight homers and 43 RBIs in 335 at-bats. Another player let loose in December, outfielder Dwight Smith, agreed to a one-year contract with the California Angels. Smith hit .300 last season for the Chicago Cubs with 11 homers and 35 RBIs.

In other news, reports circulated that Robin Yount will retire rather than return to the Milwaukee Brewers. Also, outfielder Dave Henderson and the Royals formally agreed to a $750,000, one-year contract. The deal, announced last week, was contingent on the outfielder passing a physical.

NEW YORK (AP) - Secretariat's victory in the 1973 Belmont Stakes is now a turf legend. Not only did the big colt win by 31 lengths but he posted a record time of 2:24 for a mile and one-half.

Joek. Ron Turcotte, confined to a wheel chair because of an injury suffered later on, reminisced about the race and the record time.

Mammogram screenings appointments scheduled

On Friday, Feb. 28, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., The Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center and High Plains Baptist Hospital Mobile Mammography Unit will be in Hereford at Hereford Regional Medical Center, 801 E. 3rd.

The screening program in Hereford is co-sponsored by the Hereford Regional medical Center. Exams are done by appointment only.

For information or to schedule an appointment call 1-800-377 HOPE (4673) or (806)359-4673.

The total cost of the screening is $70. This includes the x-ray, physical breast exam, and the radiology fee for reading the mammogram. Funding has been provided by the Texas Department of Health to allow for free breast screenings for women who qualify.

The major goal of the clinic is the early detection of breast cancer. The clinic provides low cost screening which includes a breast exam by a Registered Nurse trained in breast cancer detection, teaching of breast self examination, and a mammogram. Currently, the most effective method known to win the battle against breast cancer is early detection. Early detection is best done by following the guidelines recommended by the American Cancer Society for breast cancer screening for women who have no signs or symptoms of breast cancer. The guidelines are:

1. Learn and perform breast self examination every month.
2. Have a physical examination every year.
3. Have a mammogram according to the recommendations by age:
 - 40—One baseline mammogram
 - 40-49 a mammogram every 1 to 2 years
 - 50 and over—Yearly mammograms

RADNOR, Pa. (AP) - Kenny Rogers doesn't mind if the line between truth and fiction gets blurred now and then in supermarket tabloids.

"There's always an element of truth to those stories," Rogers says in TV Guide's Feb. 5 issue.

But the three-time Grammy winner wouldn't distinguish between true and false in recent tabloid reports on his own life. Three women who said he lured them into phone sex games sued; he countersued. One woman has since dropped her claim.

QUESTION: Miss Phipps' sixth grade class at Bluebonnet Intermediate School wants to know if how far away lightning and thunder are.

ANSWER: Count the number of seconds it takes for the thunder sound to reach you after you see the lightning, then divide by five and you have the distance in miles.

Light travels 186,282 miles per second. Consequently, when you see lightning, the time lapse between occurrence and sight is almost instantaneous.

Sound travels only 1,116 feet per second, or 5,580 feet per five seconds. Since there are 5,280 feet per mile, sound travels 1.056 miles every five seconds. By dividing the seconds counted by five, we convert the distance into approximate miles.

For example, if you counted eight seconds, the distance is about 1.6 miles. If you counted four seconds, the distance is about 0.8 miles. A five second count results in about a one-mile distance.

The key is to learn to accurately count off seconds without relying on a watch. One thousand one, one thousand two, etc.

Practice, practice, practice.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - So the earth below may roll every now and then, so what? Yakov Smirnoff says his house has a lot of other things going for it.

"We put in ... a sandbox that looks like a sand trap in the back, so it looks like the yard is part of the golf course," the Russian native said.

The comedian is trying to sell his three-bedroom, ranch style Pacific Palisades house for about $2.3 million.

What Does A Typical Brand Reader Look Like?

That's difficult to say because you are as different as your substantial number would imply! You are one of the 4,100 households we're invited to every evening. That's quite a few. According to the most recent census, our township has slightly less than 5000 households.

Your vocation is part of a broad spectrum as well -- white collar, blue collar, owners, managers, cowboys, teachers, housewives, students and professional.

Yet, with all your individual complexities, your interest in local issues and news gives you and other readers a common bond which is separated only by your level of curiosity.

You are an informed, intelligent and often vocal audience, and we're happy to be a part of your household every evening!

Life May Begin At Forty, But Heart Disease Can Begin At Four.

A study of more than 8,000 children lasting 15 years suggests that it's especially prudent to encourage kids in the right eating habits. A diet low in saturated fats and cholesterol can actually lower a major risk factor for heart disease in children.

LONDON (AP) - Emma Thompson added another prize to her already brimming resume for her role as the charming and intelligent English housekeeper in "The Remains of the Day."

Thompson's performance in the film and in "Much Ado About Nothing" earned her the best actress honor Sunday at the Evening Standard British Film Awards. Last year, she took home an Academy Award and a Golden Globe for "Howards End."

In the best actor category, screen newcomer David Thewlis beat Oscar-winner Sir Anthony Hopkins for his portrayal of a homeless drifter in Mike Leigh's "Naked." Hopkins was given a special award for achievement.

Ken Loach's "Raining Stones" won the best film award and its writer, Jim Allen, won best screenplay honors.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - Governor Moonbeam is on another wavelength these days.

Jerry Brown launched a syndicated radio talk show on Monday, "We the People With Jerry Brown."

"My view of Clinton and the Republicans will be very different from a (Rush) Limbaugh and other talk show hosts," said Brown, dubbed Moonbeam for his futuristic views as governor. "My theme is that people are getting ripped off."

Brown employed a similar theme during his unsuccessful bid for president in 1992.

About 20 stations nationwide have picked up Brown's show, which will be taped daily.

Brown, 55, was elected governor in 1974. He served two terms before making an unsuccessful bid for the U.S. Senate in 1982.

The Newspaper BIBLE

TO WHOM ARE YOU ENSLAVED?

Do not let sin control your puny body any longer: do not give in to its sinful desires. Do not let any part of your bodies become tools of wickedness to be used for sinning; but give yourselves completely to God—every part of you—for you are back from death, and you want to be tools in the hands of God, to be used for His good purposes. Sin need never again be your master, for now you are no longer tied to the law where sin enslaves you, but you are free under God's favor and mercy.

Does this mean that now we can go ahead and sin and not worry about it? (For our salvation does not depend on keeping the law, but on receiving God's grace!) Of course not! Don't you realize that you can choose your own master? You can choose sin (with death) or else obedience (with acquittal). The one to whom you offer yourself—he will take you and be your master and you will be his slave.

Thank God that though you once chose to be slaves of sin, now you have obeyed with all your heart the teaching to which God has committed you.

And now you are free from your old master, sin; and you have become slaves to your new master, righteousness. I speak this way, using the illustration of slaves and masters, because it is easy to understand: just as you used to be slaves to all kinds of sin, so now you must let yourselves be slaves to all that is right and holy.

In those days when you were slaves of sin you didn't bother much with goodness. And what was the result? Evidently not good, since you are ashamed now even to think about those things you used to do, for all of them end in eternal doom.

But now you are free from the power of sin and are slaves of God, and His benefits to you include holiness and everlasting life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Romans 6:12-23

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: Everyone will probably have their car windows rolled up with the heater and radio on in this cold weather.

I think they should know that keeping a car window rolled down about 1/2 inch will make it possible to hear an emergency vehicle approaching and perhaps save a life by pulling over sooner. Yes, it might give a blowing sound in your ear, but at least you can hear.

Also, I am dead set against drivers wearing radio headsets. You can't hear anything when wearing them. So please do everyone a favor and leave them off while driving.

The life you save may be someone you love! Thanks. — Nancy Kelley, Columbus, Ohio

Keep the back window down a crack and avoid the wind in your ear!

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago, I married "Craig," my high school sweetheart. I knew that his brother, "Paul," was stealing and selling drugs. Through it all, I kept silent. I even helped Paul and his mother transport and hide stolen merchandise.

I can't tell you how ashamed I am for becoming involved. I was raised to be honest, and I felt disgusted with myself.

Then, I discovered that Paul was receiving Social Security benefits under two different names. I decided to write an anonymous letter to the authorities and tip them off. Paul was forced to pay back the money.

A year later, Paul's mother got hold of the letter and told Paul. He concluded that Craig had written it. When my mother-in-law and Paul announced they were disowning him, I confessed that I had written the letter.

It turns out that my mother-in-law was involved with this scam, and both she and Paul may have to face criminal charges. Craig is extremely upset with me for alerting the authorities.

He has told his family that he will not leave me no matter what, but I have been banned from their home. I cannot accompany my husband there for holidays, and if I see my in-laws in public, I am not to acknowledge them.

I was shocked when my husband agreed to their conditions. He said, "You've made your own trouble and you just have to live with it. I am not going to choose between you and my family." He says I did not write that letter for any noble purpose, and I had no business doing it.

I've tried to make amends, Ann, but I can't get my foot in the door. I have apologized to Paul and his mother and expressed my willingness to put everything aside and make a fresh start. I realize they need time to forgive me, but my husband says, "You did a terrible thing, and you're going to have to pay for it."

I feel hurt and betrayed. How come I'm being punished like this when his family is guilty of all that garbage?—Hurting in New Mexico

DEAR NEW MEX: I applaud your courage in turning them in, but you should have expected to pay a price. When you tipped off the government that Paul and your mother-in-law were collecting money under false pretenses, you surely must have known it would destroy your relationship with both of them.

Why didn't you give them 30 days' notice to clean up their act or else? According to your own admission, you also were involved in some illegal activities. Maybe one day you'll have to pay for that, too.

I can understand your dilemma, but when you turned in your family, you poisoned the well, and now it appears that you are going to have to drink from it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was interested in your response to the 22-year-old guy who wanted to marry a virgin. You told him if he and his horny buddies had left the girls alone when they were young, there might be more virgins around today.

Where have YOU been for the last 20 years? In a space capsule? Today, it's the girls who are horny. I have two sons, and the girls in this town will not leave them alone. They call our house all hours of the day and night.

Get with it, Ann. It's 1994—Wide Awake in Conway, S.C.

Spend quality time with your family

Busy as they may be, today's families are finding ways to be together, a recent national survey found. Indeed, three out of four parents with pre-teen children are satisfied with the quality of their family life.

That's the conclusion of the American Family Time Satisfaction study, sponsored by Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. and Family Fun magazine. In the telephone survey of 702 parents with children between the ages of three and 12, work is the main reason cited as to why families do not have enough time together. However, the study shows that today's parents seem to be managing their workloads to spend more time with their children.

Findings include:
—Sixty-four percent of fathers say they spend more time with their children than their fathers spent with them. Only 12 percent say they spend less time.

—While 69 percent of all mothers report spending at least the right amount of time with their children, more than half (54 percent) of full-time working mothers said this was true. Moreover, even as 66 percent of the mothers surveyed worked outside the home, 71 percent of today's moms say they spend at least the same amount of time with their children as their own mothers did with them.

DEAR CONWAY: You are right. I have dealt with the subject of aggressive girls before, and I repeat—there's no way you can protect your sons. An unlisted number maybe—unless your sons enjoy being pestered—which they probably do.

—When asked what they would do with an extra day, 40 percent of parents say they would choose to spend it with children, 32 percent would choose their spouse and 22 percent said they would spend it alone.

—The majority (53 percent) say that children do not spend enough time with grandparents and an even greater percentage (58 percent) say the same is true for other members of the extended family.

For the past five years, Mass Mutual has been looking at values families hold and how they are communicated. This year their survey found that people aren't just saying it's important to be together. They are finding time and ways to be with their children.

Three workshops will be offered at 10:45 a.m. from which attendees may choose one. Wylie will take on WRITING POETRY, Bagnull's speech will be titled IDEA TO PUBLISHED MANUSCRIPT and Roper's workshop is on WRITING FOR KIDS.

At noon, the Trinity Baptist Church Group will serve luncheon at the church. Price of the luncheon is included in the registration fee.

After luncheon, a second General Session will feature Bagnull on WRITING FOR THE CHRISTIAN MARKET.

From 2:45-3:50 p.m. three more workshops, from which attendees may choose one, will be presented. Bagnull will speak on "WRITING SALEABLE ARTICLES," Roper on "WRITING A NON-FICTION BOOK," and Wylie's workshop will be "A CONTINUATION OF FIRST SESSION OF WRITING POETRY."

At 4:30 p.m. in a general session, Bagnull will speak on "MAKING IT HAPPEN." From 4:30-5 p.m. Bagnull will hold a "TIME OF COMMITMENT" and closing prayer.

Participants will be able to enjoy the book and freebie tables of sample periodicals and guidelines all during the day. Also, many door prizes will be awarded.

Inspirational Writers Alive! Amarillo Chapter was founded in August 1992, and is one of four chapters in Texas. The group meets on the fourth Thursday monthly, 7-10 p.m., at the Trinity Baptist Church, 1608 Wolfliin Ave.

The object of the chapter is to promote and encourage writing among its members mainly to glorify God, to aid its members in perfecting their writing skills, to advise members about marketing their materials, and to present seminars whenever possible to bring together regional writers for learning, inspiration and fellowship.

Public invited to meeting

The public is invited to the Hereford Flame Fellowship meeting planned at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Hereford Community Center.

The featured speaker will be Susan Owens of Hereford. She graduated from Dimmitt High School and attended Hardin Simmons University. She is married to Ronnie Owens and they have three children and one grandchild.

The couple farms and are members of the Frio Baptist church. Susan is director of Gethesmane Prayer Conference, calling people to prayers and intercession.

In June 1993, their two younger children were in a devastating motor vehicle accident. Mrs. Owens said God used them to show others that God is still in the miracle business.
