Americans don't know much about the Constitution

WASHINGTON (AP) - Even Chau Chu's examiner got one wrong. Chu said on his naturalization exam that the U.S. Constitution was signed in 1787. The answer, though correct, was marked "wrong." His story was heralded Monday as underscoring Americans' ignorance of the U.S. Constitution. Fewer than one in five Americans surveyed was able to correctly answer at least eight of 10 basic questions about the document, including the year it was written and signed.

"I thought it was funny that the tester didn't know," said Chu, a Vietnam native who became a U.S. citizen last spring despite his answer. Mayor Edward G. Rendell of Philadelphia, where the Constitution was signed 210 years ago Wednesday, was less amused. "People have an appalling lack of knowledge for a document that impacts their daily lives," said Rendell, chairman of the National Constitution Center, created by Congress in 1988 to increase awareness of the document. "It's very startling."

According to the survey, which was unconnected to Chu's exam, two in five Americans do not know that three branches of government exist, let alone what they are: legislative, judicial and executive branches. One in two Americans does not know the number of U.S. senators (100). "All you have to do is multiply two by 50 (states) to come up with the number of senators," said Rendell, whose group sponsored the survey. Rendell said the lack of knowledge stems partly from an education system that tends to treat the Constitution in the context of history, rather than as a living document that shapes current events. Judith Rodin, president of the University of Pennsylvania, said basic rights are at risk if citizens remain uninformed. "To protect the Constitution, we have to know it and truly understand it," she said at a news conference announcing the poll. "With insufficient knowledge, we may not notice as American citizens when someone tries to steal our constitutional rights." The survey also found that:

- 16 percent incorrectly believe the Constitution declares Christianity the official U.S. religion.
  - 35 percent wrongly believe the document declares English the premier language.
  - 24 percent cannot name any of the First Amendment rights.
- Nevertheless, Rendell did find a ray of hope in findings that 91 percent consider the Constitution important and 77 percent believe it has an impact on their daily lives - even if many of them cannot say precisely how.

South's funds up

WASHINGTON (AP) - As Congress debates how to divide billions of dollars in federal gasoline taxes, the South is already guaranteed a bigger share of the money at the expense of the Northeast states. The reallocation in highway dollars reflects not only the migration of population from the Snow Belt to the Sun Belt, but also the shift in political power.

Never mind that the chairmen of the House and Senate committees writing the highway bills are from the Northeast - Rep. Bud Shuster of Pennsylvania and Sen. John Chafee of Rhode Island. The leadership of both chambers rests in the hands of Southern lawmakers, and the transportation committee chairmen are bowing to the political reality that the Southern states deserve a better return on their gasoline taxes.

"The leadership in the House and Senate is controlled by the South," said James A. Thurber, director of American University's Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies. "That will be reflected in the way a bill is drafted."

Under Chafee's Senate proposal, New England's share of federal highway funds would drop from 8.8 percent to 5.6 percent, according to the Northeast-Midwest Institute.

The New England states, which received an average of $1.5 billion a year from 1992 to 1997, would get $1.2 billion a year between 1998 and 2003.

The share of the money going to the South would rise from 31.6 percent to 34.9 percent. Fourteen Southern states, which now average $5.5 billion a year, would get $7.7 billion annually to build roads and bridges and meet other transportation needs.

The discrepancies are even greater in the three-year House bill that Shuster has put on the table. The New England states would average $1.2 billion a year, as in Chafee's proposal, but their share would be 5.2 percent of a larger pool of federal funds. Southern states would average $8.4 billion, or 34.8 percent of the total.

"It's a reflection of the fact that the population has shifted," said Rep. Nancy Johnson, R-Conn.

It's also a reflection of how the balance of power has shifted.

In 1991, the last time Congress approved a formula for distributing the federal gasoline tax money, Democrats were in charge and George Mitchell of Maine was the Senate majority leader. Daniel Patrick Moynihan of New York chaired the Senate subcommittee that drafted the legislation.

Today, Trent Lott of Mississippi runs the Senate and John Warner of Virginia chairs the subcommittee that Moynihan once headed. The top four positions in the Senate Republican majority leadership are held by Southerners, as are the top three posts in the House GOP hierarchy, led by Speaker Newt Gingrich of Georgia.

Smoke and cinders

A fire fighter takes a break from the smoke and cinders while others continue to fight the fire at 210 8th Street. The fire is believed to have started on the front porch by a child playing with a cigarette lighter.

Children playing with lighters blamed for weekend blazes

By DIANNA F. DANDRIDGE
Staff Writer

Children playing with cigarette lighters may have been responsible for two weekend fires, according to reports.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department responded at 2:12 p.m. Saturday to a fire at 133 Ave. E.

Firefighters arrived to find the closet of one bedroom and the bedroom in flames. The firefighters worked for more than 1 1/2 hours to control the fire, according to Fire Marshal Jay Spain.

Spain said investigation concluded that a 3-year-old child, who had been playing with a cigarette lighter in the bedroom, had started the blaze.

When the fire began, the child's parents, Alejandro and Rosemary Garcia, and three other children were in the house.

No one was injured, but the house sustained approximately $5,000 damage.

The NVFD responded at 5:41 p.m. Sunday to a blaze at 210 W. 8th, a converted two-story apartment.

Mauri Montgomery, one of the first witnesses on the scene, said the six children, all under 8 years old, had been left in the care of their grandmother.

Montgomery saw the fire from his house across the street and went over to make sure everyone was out of the house.

At about the same time, another neighbor began rounding up the children and getting them to safety. Montgomery located two young girls hiding behind the upstairs couch and the grandmother, apparently passed out on the downstairs couch.

According to Montgomery, the grandmother, Nickie Garcia, was less than 5 feet from the flames and could not be easily roused.

Public hearing, but no public

By DONALD M. COOPER
Brand Editor

Thanks, but no thanks. That was the attitude demonstrated by residents of Hereford when it came to attending Monday's public hearings on the 1997-98 tax rate and budget.

The Hereford City Commission conducted public hearings on the two matters that affect the pocketbooks of all of the city's taxpayers, but the public failed to attend to express its views.

So, the commission will meet at noon Sept. 22 to give the formal OK to the tax rate of 42 cents per $100 valuation and a $6.6 million operating budget for the next fiscal year.

The budget projects revenues of about $4.6 million for the general fund and $2.4 million for the water and sewer fund next year. Expenditures are expected to be about $4.4 million for the general fund and $2.2 million for the water and sewer fund, leaving an estimated surplus of $395,085.

Josserand said the budget is "minimal as far as capital expenditures." Capital expenditure requests totaled about $198,800 and included the purchase of several vehicles, including two new patrol units for the Hereford Police Department.

The mayor expressed frustration that the commissioners had put in "a good many hours on a tough budget," but the public did not attend the Monday night hearings.

"It frustrates me that people don't seem to care anymore. Maybe they think we're doing such a good job they don't need to get involved," Josserand said. See BUDGET, Page 10

Crisis center gets funds

Re-opening of a crisis center drew a step closer Monday night when the Hereford City Commission agreed to provide $5,000 in funds for the Women & Children's Crisis Center.

The city's action follows similar votes of support from the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court and the Deaf Smith County Hospital District.

Nancy Griego, director of the Hereford Regional Medical Center's women and children's health clinic, said the crisis center, which effectively replaces the now-defunct Rape Crisis Center, said the structure is in place for opening the new center.

There has been no organized rape crisis/domestic violence center in Hereford since Amarillo Family Support Services closed the Hereford center.

Griego said the new center will be operated through the auspices of the HRMC.

"We can manage it ourselves - we won't need Amarillo to do it for us," Griego said.

She also said there is a possibility the center will provide service - and obtain funding support - for Dimmitt and Friona, both of which now must deal with Amarillo for the crisis service.

The center's proposed budget for the next year is $25,300. Re-organization of the rape crisis, domestic violence program is an outgrowth of SANE (Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners), which NRMCC put in place more than a year ago.

Griego and two other nurses have been trained to conduct examinations of children and adults who report sexual assault.

The vote to approve funding for the crisis center was unanimous.

Insurance bid tabled

Members of the Hereford City Commission wanted some more information from Blue Cross/Blue Shield before deciding if they would accept the company's bid to provide group health insurance for city workers.

Blue Cross/Blue Shield is the current provider. City Finance Manager Steve Bartels had recommended the city accept the Blue Cross/Blue Shield bid, which would be identical to the current plan with the exception that in-vitro fertilization coverage be excluded.

If the bid had been accepted, the city, which pays for the employee's portion of the insurance coverage, would see its costs increase by 8.8 percent annually. The city's current cost per employee is $121.83 per month, or $1,315.76 per year. That would increase to $140.17 per month, or about $1,497.00 annually.

Although the city pays the employees' portion of the insurance, the employees pay for dependent coverage.

After some discussion, the commissioners requested the Blue Cross/Blue Shield representative provide additional information about possible cost savings, which will be considered at the next commission meeting.

Young families see income fall

WASHINGTON (AP) - With more single moms and a tougher road for less educated workers, the typical young family saw its income drop by one-third over two decades, the Children's Defense Fund said today.

While other families have generally held their ground, median income for parents under age 30 dropped 33 percent between 1973 and 1994, according to a fund, a liberal advocacy organization.

"You see a lot of depressing statistics if you work on child poverty, and yet, the sudden increase for young families is so large it really took me by surprise," said Arloc Sherman, who wrote the report.

Using census data, the report concludes that the poverty rate for children in young families has doubled since 1973, with 41 percent of children living below the poverty line in 1994.

"Twenty years ago, young families typically had $10,000 more income than they do now, adjusting for inflation, and far more of them could afford to rent homes or even to buy a home," Sherman said.

Parents with college educations gained income over the 21-year period.

POPULAR DIET DRUGS PULLED FROM MARKET

WASHINGTON (AP) - Two of the nation's most popular diet drugs were pulled off the market Monday after the government uncovered disturbing new evidence that they could seriously damage patients' hearts. The Food and Drug Administration urged millions of dieters to immediately stop taking Redux, also known as dexfenfluramine, and Pondimin, also known as fenfluramine.

Pondimin is one-half of the wildly popular fen-phen diet combination; the other half, phentermine, appears safe when used by itself, the FDA said. But doctors said phentermine, the sole remaining prescription diet drug, has only mixed results - and they predicted a surge of patients distraught both at the possibility their hearts were damaged and at losing their treatments. "Obesity does kill," said Dr. Richard Atkinson of the American Obesity Association, who said many Redux and Pondimin users will regain their weight.

The FDA asked Wyeth-Ayerst Laboratories, which sells Redux here and whose parent company makes Pondimin, to withdraw the drugs because of new evidence that they damage heart valves, and the firm agreed.

WELD GIVES UP BATTLE FOR AMBASSADORSHIP

WASHINGTON (AP) - William Weld gave up his battle to be ambassador to Mexico on Monday with a scathing attack on Washington politics and a defiant declaration that he wouldn't "go on bended knee" before Jesse Helms or anyone else.

"Washington sure is a funny town," Weld said during a White House news conference in which he criticized a Senate system in which a conservative fellow Republican could block even a hearing on his nomination.

"I can go back to New England, where no one has to approach the government on bended knee to ask it to do its duty," said Weld, who resigned as governor of Massachusetts in July to pursue the Mexico City post. "I've had enough of Washington for the next little while."

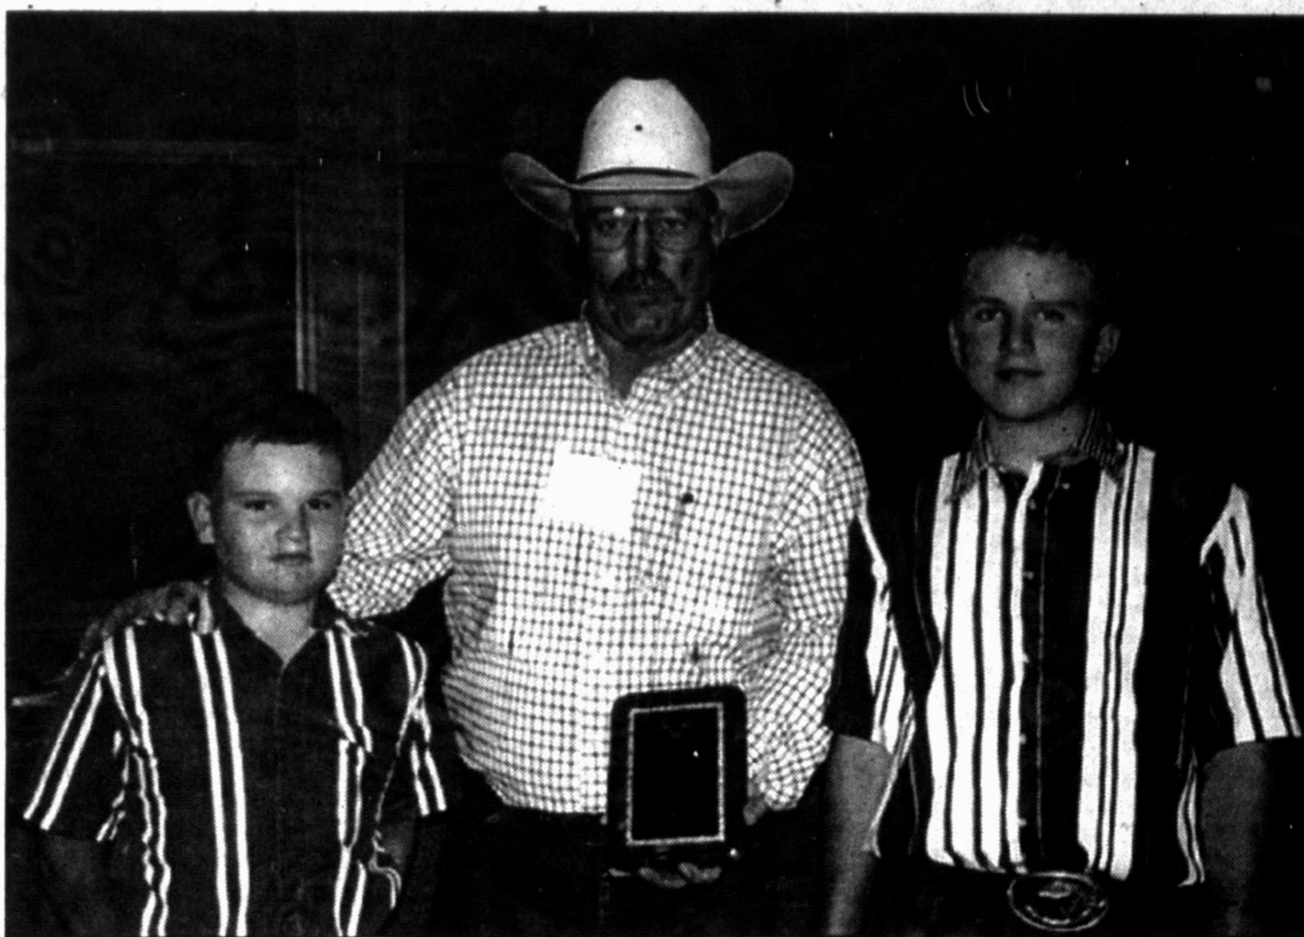

President Clinton accepted Weld's withdrawal during a meeting in the Oval Office and didn't try to talk him out of it, White House officials said. Instead, the president scored the rejection of Weld without a hearing.

"At a time when we have been making strides towards a bipartisan foreign policy, the treatment that my nominee received reflected the divisiveness that does not well serve the American people," Clinton said in a statement.

JEWISH SETTLERS TAKE PALESTINIAN AREA

JERUSALEM (AP) - Jewish extremists hooked up rooftop surveillance cameras Monday in an Arab neighborhood they moved into under the cover of darkness, staking a claim on a part of Jerusalem the Palestinians want for a future capital.

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu awaited word Monday from Israel's attorney general on whether he can evict the settlers, who occupied two buildings on Jerusalem's Mount of Olives. But he warned it would be difficult to take any action against them.

Third place winners

The team of Jarad and Justin Johnson of Hereford captured third place in the written exam in the Team Challenge division of the Junior Fed Beef Challenge recently at West Texas A&M University in Canyon. Presenting the award is Lynn Allen, contest chairman. The Team Challenge, conducted by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, allows 4-H and FFA members to gain practical experience in the commercial cattle feeding industry. # More Texans claim abuse as children

HUNTSVILLE (AP) - The number of Texans who say they were abused as children has risen dramatically - more than 41 percent - according to studies by Sam Houston State University researchers.

In results released Monday, a total of 26.4 percent of 798 people surveyed by the school's Criminal Justice Center, working with the Children's Trust Fund of Texas, said they had been abused or neglected by the time they were 16 years old.

That's 41 percent more than the 18.7 percent who said in a 1991 survey that they had been abused or neglected as children. A similar survey in 1978 found 14.3 percent considered themselves victims of abuse and neglect as a child.

"Whether the respondents are simply more aware of the abuse of the children ... or whether an actual increase is taking place cannot be determined from this survey," researchers Raymond Teske Jr. and Stephanie Whitus Goodner concluded. "However, the totality of the findings suggest that the increases are real."

One-fifth or those surveyed said they were a parent and 28 percent of those with children indicated at least one of their own children had been abused or neglected. That's almost double the response from parents in the 1991 survey.

"I do think there has been a significant increase in awareness and more people are feeling comfortable talking about it," Janie Fields, executive director of the Children's Trust Fund of Texas, said Monday.

In the 1978 study, only 8.5 percent reported abuse or neglect suffered by their own children.

"The findings from this survey provide unique insight into a problem which is of major and growing concern," Teske and Ms. Whitus-Goodner said. "Child abuse and neglect have a significant impact on the quality of life in our society and many parents today worry about their child being abused by either a stranger or someone they know."

The study, based on mailed questionnaires, was conducted from July through October last year.

Just over 50 percent of the people 18 years of age and older who received the questionnaires responded from 124 Texas counties.

Almost 13 percent of the respondents were college graduates, 41 percent had some college and nearly 30 percent had only a high school education. Margin of error in the findings was listed at plus-or-minus 3 percent.

Abuse was divided into three categories: physical, sexual and emotional.

Physical abuse included spanking, slapping, biting, shaking or holding a child in very hot water. Sexual abuse ranged from forcing a child to engage in sexual activity to fondling to showing pornographic movies. Emotional abuse ranged from threats

Farmer's Almanac hitting news stands

DUBLIN, N.H. (AP) - Born when George Washington was president, read by Abraham Lincoln and Nazi spies, the Old Farmer's Almanac hits newsstands Tuesday for the 206th year, predicting a mild but snowy winter and a hotter-than-usual summer.

A white Christmas awaits New England and perhaps other northern regions of the country, but the holiday is more likely to be wet elsewhere, according to the nation's oldest publication, which claims 80 percent accuracy in its predictions since 1792.

"The year ahead may be the warmest on record overall, with a mild winter in much of the country and a substantial risk of drought in the summer across the nation's breadbasket," according to Abe Weatherwise, collective nom de plume for the publication's writers, editors and prognosticators.

For those who like to make their own winter forecasts, the almanac recommends counting the average number of reddish-brown segments on a woolly bear caterpillar. Six or more means a hard winter.

The heart of the almanac is its extensive weather forecast for 16 regions of the United States.

The newsstand edition, at 240 pages, sells for $3.99. A bookstore edition, at 304 pages, costs $4.95.

The almanac is the legal document for tides and sunrises and sunsets in to shouts to locking a child in a dark room or withholding affection.

Some survey results were promising, the researchers said, noting that compared to earlier surveys, the number of people who considered spanking with a wooden paddle to be abusive grew from 36 percent in 1978 to 48 percent in 1996.

Shaking a child violently was considered abuse by 96 percent of the respondents in the most recent survey, up from 84 percent 20 years ago.

"These findings are very encouraging as they suggest that the public is becoming more aware of the potential harm children may suffer from the shaken baby syndrome," Teske and Whitus-Goodner wrote.

However, the most recent survey could not gain unanimous agreement that striking a child with a fist was abuse (3 percent disagreed), or that holding or placing a child in very hot water was abuse (1 percent disagreed).

In addition, 2 percent said forcing a child to engage in sex with another child was not sexual abuse, and 1 percent said it was not abuse for a parent to engage in sexual intercourse with his or her own child. Three percent said it was not emotionally abusive to tie a child to a chair, bed or other object. And 2 percent said failure to provide a child with adequate food did not constitute neglect.

"That's the way someone's parents disciplined them and people generally don't want to view their parents as child abusers," Ms. Fields explained. "Or if someone in their family or perhaps themselves did this, they don't want to recognize that as abuse or neglect."

Varmette does sports

Bob Varmette recently joined the Hereford Brand as sports editor.

Varmette, 33, is a native of El Paso, and is a 1982 graduate of El Paso Ysleta High School.

He received his bachelor's degree in English and journalism in 1988 from Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S.D., where he also was a strong safety on the football team and a catcher on the baseball team.

Observance of Constitution Week planned by Los Ciboleros DAR

Constitution Week is Sept. 17-23 according to an announcement made by Constitution Week chairman Helen Rose during the recent meeting of Los Ciboleros Chapter NSDAR held in the board room of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Promotion of Constitution Week observance will be provided by spot announcements in The Hereford Brand, on KPAN Radio and Hereford Cablevision; posters in the schools, Hereford Senior Citizens Center and the Chamber office; bookmarks containing the Preamble of the Constitution of the United States of America presented to fifth grade students; and an exhibit at the Deaf Smith County Library.

Program chairman Patricia Robinson announced that the society will meet with Pilot Club at 7 a.m. on Sept. 23 at the Hereford Community Center. Constitution Week will be the topic of the patriotic program presented by Don Cumpston, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Robinson also gave the NSDAR President General's message.

Information to be used in nominating DAR Good Citizens, another project of the chapter, will be going to school counselors soon.

Juanita Brown, who served Los Ciboleros Chapter as regent from 1995-1997, was presented the Ex-Chapter Regent Pin by regent Ruth Newsom.

A framed certificate from the chapter was presented to Helen Rose by Newsom in gratitude for the stained glass panel which Rose made and presented to the chapter. The panel was awarded to Cheryl Hill in a fund-raiser drawing held during the Town and Country Jubilee. Money raised by the project will be used to fund the patriotic and community service projects sponsored by Los Ciboleros Chapter NSDAR.

Females 18 years of age who are lineally descended from an ancestor who served as either a soldier or patriot during the period 1885-1783 are eligible for membership in DAR. For information call Kathryn Ruga at 364-4375 or Newsom at 364-0420.

Members present were Newsom, Rose, Ruga, Brown, Robinson, Lois Gilliland, Barbara Burkhalter, Argen Draper, Mary Williamson, Charlotte Clark, Nell Norvell and Jean Beene.

Presentation

Ruth Newsom, right, regent of Los Ciboleros Chapter NSDAR, presents the Ex-Chapter Regent pin to Juanita Brown while Patricia Robinson looks on. Brown served as regent from 1995-1997.

Booths available for annual bazaar

Bride of Flood honored

A bridal shower in honor of Kay Hawkins Flood, recent bride of Keith Flood, was held Saturday in the home of Linda Daniel.

The couple was married Sept. 6. Joining the honoree in greeting guests were Karen Flood, mother of the groom and Wynon Mayes and Gladys Flood, grandmothers of the groom.

Kerri Flood, sister of the groom, presided at the guest register.

Refreshments consisted of petite cinnamon rolls, bacon crisps, fresh fruit, punch and coffee.

The serving table was covered with a white crocheted cloth and centered with a red rose topiary. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Correction

An article in the Sept. 14 edition of The Hereford Brand incorrectly listed prices of admission tickets for the barbecue dinner and country music show being hosted on Oct. 25 by the Texas Plains Chorale.

Correct ticket prices are $15 for adults, $10 for senior citizens and students, $7 for children (under 12 years of age), and $35 for a family of four.

Need a few dollars more? Round up your no-longer-used-but-still-usable articles and call The Brand's Classified Ad department. We'll put a low-cost, fast-acting sales message together for you. Call 364-2030.

IN BRIEF

Shahrahan pleads

DALLAS (AP) -- A 24-year-old woman pleaded innocent Monday to charges she fabricated sex-assault allegations against two Dallas Cowboys players.

At her arraignment, Nina Shahrahan also told County Criminal Court Judge Dan Wyde she wanted to have a jury determine her punishment if she is found guilty.

Authorities say Shahrahan recanted allegations that spawned two lawsuits and a change in Dallas police policy regarding naming suspects.

The former topless dancer faces a year in jail and a $4,000 fine if convicted of the Class A misdemeanor.

Kalka wins contest

Keith Kalka of Hereford was the winner for Week Three in the Hereford Brand football contest.

Kalka missed four games, winning $35.

Buddy Pickens of Hereford took second place, missing only five games.

Third place went to Jackie Redwine of Hereford. Redwine missed six games with a total point score of 35 and picked Hereford to win in the tiebreaker.

Redwine edged out Jim English and Jill Harrison. Each missed six games, but lost on total points.

Pickens picked up $25 and Redwine netted $10. All weekly cash prize winners are entered into the final contest where the winner will receive $1,000.

One hundred and thirteen people entered the contest for Week Three.

Yenzer pleased, concerned

By BOB VARMETTE
 Staff writer

When a coach uses phrases like "tickled to death" and "couldn't be happier," you know you've caught him on a good day.

And Monday was a good day for Hereford head football coach Craig Yenzer.

Yenzer was still savoring the Whitefaces first victory of the season, a 27-21 overtime win over Amarillo Palo Duro Friday night at Whiteface Stadium.

"Obviously we're pleased with the win," said Yenzer.

He said one of the biggest positives that came out of the game was how the Whitefaces handled themselves in a tough situation.

"One of the things I was most pleased with was the character of our young men," Yenzer said. "They have a never-say-die attitude."

Yenzer said another area he felt favorably about was the defensive effort against the Dons, despite the fact the Whitefaces surrendered 378 total yards, well above their 204.5 average entering the contest.

"They were on the field for 86 plays," he said. "With the talent that Palo Duro had, I just can't say enough ..."

The kicking game was another area in which Yenzer felt the Whitefaces made tremendous progress. Against the Dons, sophomore L.J. Vallejo returned a kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown and a punt 75 yards for a touchdown.

The returns both came in the critical fourth quarter and helped spark a Hereford rally that carried them to victory in overtime.

"We've struggled in the kicking game," said Yenzer. "But last week, the kids took everything the coaches said to heart. ... (The kicking game) can be a facet of the game that'll help you win."

Freshman Cody Hodges also was impressive Friday night, tossing a pair of touchdown passes to Jeremy High off trick plays.

But despite Hodges performance, Yenzer said there is no quarterback controversy. And he added that neither Hodges nor senior starter Jeremy Urbanczyk have any hard feelings.

"We're an unselfish team ... (and) Cody's such a level-headed young man," Yenzer said. "He'll certainly handle the fact that Jeremy will start."

"I have a lot of respect for Jeremy," continued Yenzer. "It's a

Cowboys escape with 21-20 victory

IRVING (AP) -- Barry Switzer had called it a "must-win" for the Dallas Cowboys. He couldn't have known he was going to get it with a gift from the football gods.

Anthony Miller, criticized for not playing hurt last week, made a leaping catch of a 14-yard touchdown pass from Troy Aikman with 51 seconds left Monday night and the Cowboys rallied from a two-touchdown deficit to a 21-20 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles who botched a 22-yard field goal attempt as time expired.

Punter Tom Hutton, holding for placekicker Chris Boniol, fumbled the snap, tried to run with it and was tackled by Deion Sanders in the bizarre finish.

"I couldn't believe what happened," Switzer said. "Somebody up there likes us. For the first 59 minutes I wasn't sure. That was just a chip shot field goal. I thought it was over. I'm worn out."

Ty Detmer hit Freddie Solomon with a 46-yard pass to the Dallas 5-yard line with four seconds to play. The Eagles, who had driven from their own 16 following Miller's TD, called their final timeout.

Boniol, a former Cowboy, trotted on for what seemed like a can't miss attempt considering he had made 46 consecutive field goals from the 35-yard line on in.

The snap was perfect. But the hold wasn't.

Aikman, hounded all night by a tough pass rush, took the Cowboys 62 yards in seven plays for the winning touchdown. A fourth-down pass interference call on Charles Dimry set Dallas up at the Philadelphia 45. Replays showed the ball was tipped by Eagles lineman Mike Mamula and that should have negated the call.

Then Aikman, who had been booted in the first half, connected with tight end Eric Bjornson on a diving 24-yard completion to the Philadelphia 17. Two plays later, Miller, who was falling down, grabbed the ball away from safety Tim Watson in the back of the end zone.

"I was lucky I came down with it," Miller said. "I saw Troy scrambling and just went to an open spot. I thought the ball was going to be intercepted. I was just fortunate."

Aikman said the ball slipped coming out of his hands.

"I was late with the ball and just decided to take a chance," he said.

Hereford dumps Caprock

By PAUL MASON
 Special to the Brand

In a game that lasted 1 hour and 16 minutes, Hereford head volleyball coach Brenda Kitten expressed her concern because of service errors. The Lady Horns were at the service line a total of 27 times in the match, and 11 of those were caused by service errors.

Caprock head coach Sherry Taylor's disappointment was with her teams inability to play with Hereford. "We came to play, but our girls were intimidated," said Taylor.

While Caprock goes to 5-9 for the season, the Lady Whitefaces are 9-4 and 2-0 in district.

The first match saw the Ladies off to a slow start. While tied at 3-3, Briar Baker had four straight service points and the momentum picked up. Baker, after serving seven points the first game, continued her domination of the Lady Horns in the second game with nine service points.

While still undergoing the change

Harvester tennis routs Whitefaces, 17-1

From staff reports

PAMPA -- The Pampa Harvesters defeated the Hereford Whitefaces 17-1 in tennis action Saturday in Pampa.

The Harvesters won every match but one. The lone Hereford winner was Bret Berend in boys' singles.

Berend easily defeated Dustin

Laycock, 6-3, 6-0.

Hereford could force only three of the remaining 17 matches to the third set.

In boys' doubles, the team of Berend and Nelson Beville took Laycock and Bryce Hudson to three sets before falling, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Emily Waters needed three sets and a tiebreaker to finish off Holly Weishaar of Hereford, 6-4, 2-6, 7-6 (7-4). Djana Detten also took her opponent, McKinley Quales, to three sets before losing, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

The Whitefaces will host Amarillo Caprock Saturday.

Royals outlast Rangers, 11-9

ARLINGTON (AP) -- Jose Offerman had four hits and four RBIs and Jeff King's two-run double in the ninth inning gave the Kansas City Royals an 11-9 victory Monday night over the Texas Rangers.

Offerman led off the ninth with a single against Danny Patterson (9-6) and Jed Hansen entered as a pinch-runner. Johnny Damon popped up a bunt attempt, but Jay Bell singled and King followed with his double into the left-field corner.

Hipolito Pichardo (3-5) was the winner and Jeff Montgomery worked the ninth for his 13th save.

The Royals opened a 7-2 lead by the third inning. Texas chipped away and pulled within 8-7 in the fifth when Lee Stevens singled home Juan Gonzalez.

Offerman had an RBI grounder in the sixth. Ivan Rodriguez had a sacrifice fly in the Texas seventh, making it 9-8.

The Rangers tied it at 9 in the eighth when Fernando Tatis led off with a first-pitch homer.

Texas starter Rick Helling struggled from the start, giving up three singles to open the game and that put Kansas City ahead 1-0.

Texas took a 2-1 lead in the bottom half on doubles by Tom Goodwin and Rusty Greer and a single by Gonzalez.

But Helling gave the lead back in the Royals' three-run second. Offerman had an RBI single, Bell added an RBI double and King had a sacrifice fly.

Offerman's two-run double in the third made it 6-2 and ended Helling's night after 2 1-3 innings. Reliever Wilson Heredia walked home a run in the third to make it 7-2.

Royals starter Glendon Rusch didn't fare much better than Helling, giving up six runs and nine hits in 3 1-3 innings.

Gonzalez hit a two-run homer, his 38th, in the third.

The Royals left the bases loaded for the third time in the fourth inning, but increased their lead to 8-4 on Mike Sweeney's sacrifice fly.

Goodwin's two-run single, his third hit of the game, cut Texas' deficit to 8-6 in the fourth.

Padres edge Astros, 4-3

HOUSTON (AP) -- Reliever Jim Bruske escaped a seventh-inning jam and the San Diego Padres held off Houston 4-3 Monday night, cutting the Astros' lead in the NL Central to 3 1-2 games.

The Astros have 13 games left, including five against second-place Pittsburgh.

Houston trailed 4-1 entering the seventh, but loaded the bases on two singles and a walk. After an infield single by pinch-hitter Tony Eusebio scored a run, Bruske relieved.

Pinch-hitter Bill Spiers hit a single that made it 4-3 and kept the bases loaded. Bruske, however, retired pinch-hitter Thomas Howard on a popup and struck out Ricky Gutierrez.

Trevor Hoffman closed for his 34th save.

Pete Smith (6-5) was the winner, giving up three runs and five hits in 6 1-3 innings. He walked six and struck out one.

Mike Hampton (13-10) allowed four runs and nine hits in four innings.

Yenzer

tribute to his character. But that doesn't mean you won't see Hodges tossing any more passes this season.

"Cody earned some playing time," Yenzer said. "We need to see him on the field. I think if we handle this correctly, it's a win-win situation."

And what about High, the second leg of the Hodges-High connection.

Yenzer had high praise for his senior wide out. "He's come a long way. It's real rewarding to see a young person grow. I couldn't task for anything else (from him)."

Yenzer was also pleased with the kicking performance of junior Jose Martinez. Martinez was called up from the junior varsity last week.

"He did a great job under a lot of pressure," said Yenzer. "I mean, the third extra point he kicks ties the game. That's a lot of pressure."

While savoring the win, Yenzer said there are still concerns to be addressed. Included among those are the problems the Whitefaces had with making offensive adjustments during the course of the game.

"Anytime they gave us a look we hadn't seen before, we had trouble adjusting," Yenzer said. "I think it's a lack of football savvy offensively. Getting the job done is a concern that will weigh heavily on our success for the rest of the year."

"We have the people to do it; we've just got to get the job done," he said.

Yenzer said that's a problem that can be solved with repetitions. Some other offensive problems may require more drastic solutions.

He said the Whitefaces may be trying to do too much offensively. He said he plans to cut back on the number of plays and the number of formations.

Yenzer also said he and the coaching staff have also looked at Hereford's blocking schemes.

"We've tried to simplify everything," he said. "We hope it'll get us going in the right direction."

In the injury department, the Whitefaces sustained the usual nicks and bruises Friday night, but also lost a key player in Cody Marsh.

The senior linemen was injured late in the game and suffered a broken bone in his left leg, according to Yenzer.

Yenzer said he expects Marsh to be out of the lineup for four to six weeks.

"It's a real serious injury for our football team," Yenzer said. "He was seeing lots of playing time on both sides of the ball. We'll have to reach down to our JV and there are some other possibilities we need to explore."

Still, for all the concerns, Yenzer was a man with a smile on his face Monday afternoon.

"It was a big game," he said. "It got them over the hump confidence-wise. This was a game we probably shouldn't have won. If you don't believe now, you're never going to believe."

Cowboys

"It was a better catch than throw. I didn't have a good hold on the ball."

Eagles corner Bobby Taylor produced 10 points with blindside blitzes of Aikman that caused fumbles. Detmer also threw a touchdown pass and Boniol kicked two field goals as the Eagles (1-2) smelled an upset.

Dallas (2-1), which had rallied from a 17-3 deficit in the second quarter, drove to the Philadelphia 3 late in the fourth quarter but Emmitt Smith was stopped on a third-and-4 play. Dallas had to settle for Richie Cunningham's fifth field goal, a 22-yarder, to cut the Eagles' lead to 20-15 with 5:28 left.

The Cowboys knew they could have trouble with Taylor guarding Michael Irvin but not as a blitzer.

Ray Farmer recovered a fumble by Aikman on one of the hits at the Dallas 45, setting up Boniol's 49-yard field goal. Boniol hit a 44-yard field goal early in the fourth period for a 20-9 lead.

Taylor struck again later in the first quarter only this time the Eagles cashed Aikman's fumble into a 37-yard touchdown return by linebacker William Thomas.

The Eagles led 17-6 at halftime with the only offensive touchdown of the first 30 minutes coming when rookie tight end Chad Lewis escaped for a 12-yard touchdown pass from Detmer with 9:31 left.

Hereford

from the "big" hitter to the "many" hitters. Kitten kept the Lady Horns guessing as her hitters came from all directions of attack. Katie Betzen and Julie Rampley each had eight kills while Meredith Tabor had seven and sophomore Tori Walker had four.

The earlier play, the Hereford JV team improved to 6-9 and 2-0 in district with an 11-15, 15-5, 15-10 win over Caprock. Caprock took the lead in the last game at 13-10 only to see the Hereford JV Ladies ride the serving of Rachel Chavez to shut them out, 15-10.

Every game is supervised and referees are provided. The teams will be drawn at the YMCA office. Teams are coached by volunteers. PLEASE DO NOT REQUEST PLAYERS TO BE ON CERTAIN TEAMS!

DATES: FINAL DAY TO REGISTER IS SEPTEMBER 19TH! Teams play and practice once a week. All Divisions will play on Saturdays. (Coaches will be notified of the game location and time)

LEAGUE FEE: Fee will be $18.00. All participants must be YMCA members. YMCA memberships for youths is $29.00 per year and includes use of the YMCA facility throughout the year. Expired memberships must be renewed. *ENTRY MEMBERSHIP FEES MUST ACCOMPANY ENTRY FORM!

RESTRICTION: Elementary grades only. Exception: Kindergarten children who meet the age requirements for the 8 & under division.

For more information please come by the YMCA office and pick up a registration form. Scholarships are available for those who need assistance.

Parents are welcome to all games, you can make this a family event. HELP US TEACH YOUR CHILD THE BENEFITS OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP!

Mackovic accepts blame

AUSTIN (AP) -- Monday morning had rolled around, and John Mackovic still didn't know what to do.

Two days after the Texas Longhorns were humiliated 66-3 by UCLA, the Longhorns coach didn't know what to do with his game film.

"There are times you want to show the players and say, 'Here are your mistakes,'" Mackovic said Monday. "Other times you just want to throw the film in the wastebasket and say, 'We can't learn anything from this.'"

Answering critics who are blaming

Mackovic for failing to motivate the team for Saturday's game, the coach said, "I try to share as much, when we win, with other people, but the bottom line is the buck stops here. That final responsibility always rests on the shoulders of the head coach."

Mackovic said he told the team all week that UCLA was much better than its 0-2 record and he had made a priority of winning all the team's games in September.

The Longhorns (1-1) have been early-season disappointments in six years under Mackovic, going 10-10-3 in nonconference games.

You'd think our line crews would have enough to do with storms and lightning strikes, downed powerlines, equipment repair, and delivering service to new customers. Line crews have been the kind of people who let their job description describe all of what they do. That's why they've been known to report crimes in progress, repair tires for serior citizens, direct traffic around accidents, even guide visitors to hotels and local attractions. You see, our line crews are committed to bringing you the best electric service possible, but they're also committed to this community and to doing whatever it takes to make life here just a little better. The result is often someone we can all look up to.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married for three years, and my husband and I recently had a baby boy. I adore being a mother, but lately, I've begun to have serious questions about my marriage.

All the romance and passion have dwindled to almost nothing. My husband and I can go for days without so much as a touch, and yet it doesn't seem to bother him. He used to be very affectionate, but it seems he's forgotten how. Whenever I try to make time for just the two of us, he is "too tired." I know he works hard, but I'm becoming frustrated and angry.

I tried to talk to my husband about this recently and asked him, "Where did my romantic husband go? Have you seen him?" He laughed and replied, "There is no need for romance after marriage. Guys just do that stuff to get a girl." And that was the end of the conversation.

After I had my son, I expected some change in our relationship, but not like this. Where do I go from here? -- Desperate in Salt Lake City

Dear Salt Lake: You go back to your husband and tell him you are lining up someone to take care of the baby and making reservations at a nearby motel or resort for a weekend.

Your marriage has become stale and needs resuscitation.

All marriages tend to become less exciting after a few years, but a woman with a good imagination can ignite the flame and start the home fires burning.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been reading your column since I was a teenager, and I've learned a lot from you. You really got my attention when you listed all the signs of a mate who could become a batterer. I got the chills. I could identify with every one. I wish I'd seen those signs 10 years ago. It might have saved me from making a terrible mistake.

I was married to a batterer for 10 years, and the last five were pure hell. Why did I stay? Because of my religious upbringing that said you marry once and you stay married -- no matter what. My mother said divorce was out of the question.

One day when I came to work with a black eye, a co-worker convinced me to talk to a counselor. I was so down by then, I felt I had no one to turn to. Ann, that counselor was a true angel in my eyes. He convinced me that God wanted me to be happy. I tried to get my husband to go with me for counseling, but he refused to have anything to do with it. The counselor then helped me leave him. The divorce was traumatic, but my friends were there when I needed them.

I now have a terrific man in my life and am happier than I have ever been. Thanks to that wonderful counselor, I got a new start in life. Please continue to tell women who are going through what I did to get professional help. It could change their lives. I did it, and it changed mine. -- Been There in Boise, Idaho

Dear Boise: No woman should stay in a marriage where there is physical abuse from a man who refuses to get help. Your mother's thinking went out the door 40 years ago when women were expected to service their husbands and keep their mouths shut. I'm a strong supporter of counseling and am glad you took that route. Don't hesitate to go back periodically for reinforcement if you need to.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is taking vitamins, and I am taking iron pills. When she is ready, I'm rusty. What do you suggest? -- Frustrated in L.A.

Dear Frustrated: I suggest you contact a joke writer for some of those TV shows. They could use a guy like you.

Calliopian Club dinner, social provides beginning to club year

A social and dinner party held at the Hereford County Club recently opened the coming year for the Calliopian Club.

Outdoor breakfast served to La Madre Mia

Members of La Madre Mia Study Club were guests of the yearbook committee for an outdoor breakfast Saturday morning.

The social event was held in the back yard of Marline Watson's home. Other hostesses were Tricia Sims, Mary Beth White, Linda Cumpton, Nancy Paetzold and Susan Hicks.

Members were asked to dress "trashy" and take a "priceless" trashy gift.

Breakfast of sausage and egg burritos, fresh fruit, donuts, fruit juice and coffee was served on a variety of paper plates with plastic utensils.

Old card tables were decorated with gallon plastic bottles as containers for fresh sunflowers. Antique wooden folding chairs were used. Members seated in the chair at each table with duct tape on the bottom won the centerpieces.

Costumed members were voted on by applause. Paetzold won the vote for best all-around costumer. Other winners were Mary Herring, Cindy Cassels and Carolyn Baxter.

Paetzold was the winner of a blue plastic flower centerpiece while others received used boots and a gourd.

Linda Cumpton, president, conducted a short business meeting during which it was reported three homes are already finalized for the annual Holiday Tour of Homes.

Those attending were Ruth Black, Kay Hall, Betty Lady, Gladys Merritt, Jan Metcalf, Lavon Nieman, Bettye Owen, June Owens, Susan Robbins, Georgia Sparks, Betty Taylor, Nicky Walser, Baxter, Cassels, Cumpton, Herring, Hicks, Paetzold, Sims and Watson.

The next meeting will be Sept. 26 and will be a tour of Wyatt's Gallery in Tulia followed by dinner at El Camino. Members should meet at 5:45 p.m. at the home of Tricia Sims.

COMMISSION

- Rejected the request of J.D. High to connect to the city's raw water line being installed on North Progressive Road;
- Retained McGinty & Associates to perform the annual audit. The firm, which has conducted the audit for the last three years, will receive a fee not to exceed $12,500;
- Approved a $320,555 budget for Hereford Economic Development Corp. for the next fiscal year;
- Appointed Cliff A. Skiles Jr., Jerry Stevens and Gilbert Tijerina to three-year terms on the HEDC board of directors.

Skiles and Stevens were reappointed to the board, while Tijerina replaces Rosendo Gonzalez, who did not want another term;

- Approved a resolution authorizing City Manager Chester Nolen to apply for a $21,500 grant through the Regional Solid Waste Advisory Committee for the Panhandle area for a wood chipper.

The grant money will be used to implement a city wood waste reduction program.

INCOME

but less educated parents all lost buying power. High-school dropouts saw their family income drop by nearly half, and parents with only a high-school degree saw income drop by 37 percent.

The report attempts to explain the decline, noting that:

- Single parents have always had lower incomes than families with two parents, and there were many more single parents in 1994 than in 1973.
- Wages for workers with less education have dropped across the board, not just for young parents.
- Wages have stagnated for all workers since 1973, and economists have not reached a consensus as to why.
- Sherman blamed a variety of factors: loss of power by labor unions, decline in the value of the minimum wage and the globalization of the economy.

"It's clear there's more than one thing going on here," he said.

But a conservative economist doubted that incomes have dropped for two-parent families or gotten any worse for single parents.

"There's just no way you can make the argument the same kind of person is making less money now than the same kind of person in 1973," said Karl Zinsmeister, a fellow at the American Enterprise Institute.

But he said there is no doubt that the increasing prevalence of single parents has driven down the incomes of young families.

"It is a very unhealthy, unwholesome social development," he said. "It is the fact of life that is probably hurting children's status more than anything."

Still, Sherman said his research shows that moving back to two-parent families wouldn't help much because the absent father often makes so little money that he would do little to lift the family out of poverty.

FIRES

During the investigation, the fire marshal determined the fire had been started by a 5-year-old boy playing with a cigarette lighter on a couch on the front porch.

Five other children were reported on the scene of the fire. These children include two sons of Nickie Garcia, and three children from the absent parent, 21-year-old Naomi Garcia.

The couch ignited and flames promptly climbed the wall to the eaves, catching the roof line on fire, according to Spain.

The children's mother arrived on the scene after the fire had been extinguished.

The grandmother, described in police reports as inebriated, was reported to have left the scene before she could be questioned.

Both incidents have been turned over to Children's Protective Services for further investigation.

The local Red Cross office is accepting donations of furniture and clothing for both families.

Texas jury to be first to rule on tobacco industry

AUSTIN - A Texas jury will be the first in the nation to decide whether the tobacco industry deliberately or negligently hurt millions of people, including children, it was reported last week in the Austin American-Statesman.

An out-of-court settlement with tobacco companies - similar to settlements struck by Mississippi and Florida - is out of the question.

After a Texarkana federal judge refused to allow Texas Attorney General Dan Morales to introduce "smoking gun" documents as evidence and ruled that Texas must narrow the scope of its lawsuit, the attorney general told the judge the case would not be settled and would go to trial Sept. 29.

"Texas will be the forum to guarantee the industry is held accountable," Morales said.

Tobacco industry officials agreed. Dan Webb, a Chicago attorney for Philip Morris and spokesman for the 11 tobacco companies, said, "This is a mainstream case that needs to go to trial so we can establish our position and prove we have done nothing wrong."

The state seeks as much as $14 billion in health-care costs in its suit, naming as defendants American Tobacco, R.J. Reynolds, Brown & Williamson, B.A.T. Industries, Philip Morris, Liggett Group, Lorillard, United States Tobacco, the Hill & Knowlton public relations firm, the COUNCIL for Tobacco Research-USA, and the Tobacco Institute.

Bush last week to appoint a prisoners' advocate to the nine-member Texas Board of Criminal Justice, which has an opening.

The cry came after print and broadcast reports turned the nation's attention to a videotaped incident last year in the Brazoria County Jail, in which guards allegedly abused inmates. The inmates were being housed under a contract between Brazoria County and the state of Missouri.

No Texas inmates and state prison employees were involved in the incident.

Ray Sullivan, a spokesman for the governor, said Bush will look into the matter.

State Farm will pay up

State Farm Insurance last week announced it will pay for foundation damage caused by leaking water or sewer pipes, even though the company considers those losses "not covered" in the standard homeowners policy.

The announcement came a week after State Farm said it would ignore an order from Insurance Commission Elton Bomer to cover such damage.

Bomer ordered the company to honor claims after the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals held that State Farm did not have to pay.

Bank profits show increase

The Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas reported last week that as of June 30 Texas bank profits were up 11 percent over the first half of 1996.

Officials attributed the difference to an increase in loan volume. For Texas' 872 banks, loans were up 6.3 percent - for a total of $118 billion - for the first half of 1997.

Other capital highlights

- Paul Hobby, a Houston businessman an son of former Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, has declared his candidacy for the officer of state comptroller. The 37-year-old Hobby is the first candidate to officially announce for the post being vacated by fellow Democrat John Sharp, who is running for lieutenant governor.
- The State Board of Educator Certification is looking into whether state law allows it to conduct criminal history checks on student teachers in training.

TAXPAYERS MAY BUY REAGAN'S RANCH

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) - Thirteen months after Ronald Reagan's beloved Rancho del Cielo went on the market, there appears to be a serious buyer: taxpayers.

A deal in the works has Congress appropriating $5 million, which the Interior Department will give California to buy a state park, Gov. Pete Wilson's spokesman said Monday.

Wilson will lead a private $4 million fund-raising drive to provide an endowment to finance operation and maintenance of the ranch, said spokesman Sean Walsh.

A spokeswoman for the former president, Joanne Drake, said the Reagans were aware of the negotiations and supported efforts to put the ranch in the public domain.

"President Reagan spent many blissful years at Rancho del Cielo - it was his slice of heaven," Drake said. "It would make the Reagans happy knowing that the public was enjoying the ranch for both its beauty and historical significance."

In August 1996, the former president and his wife Nancy put the former Western White House on the market for $5.95 million.

MILITARY SEALS OFF STEALTH CRASH SITE

MIDDLE RIVER, Md. (AP) - The flyover of an F-117A stealth fighter was meant to be a treat for fans at the Chesapeake Air Show.

But the Air Force jet broke apart and crashed into this Baltimore suburb, injuring six people after the pilot ejected safely. Citing national security, the military is keeping nine families from their homes until the crash is investigated.

"I figured three or four hours and I would be able to get back in," said Cliff Morrell, 42, who lives on a houseboat near the crash site. "But, they haven't really given us an exact time or date."

After the $45 million wedge-shaped "Nighthawk" crashed near the Glenn L. Martin State Airport, the military took over immediately. On Monday, armed soldiers kept the families from returning home, seized photographers' film and cordoned off the crash site of an aircraft whose existence was once a state secret.

"There was military everywhere. This road was full, the sky was loaded, I tell you it was something," said Paul Canatella, standing in his driveway less than a 100 yards from where the canopy of the fighter landed in his neighbor's yard Sunday. "You name it they were here."

SATELLITES TRACK EL NINO'S SPREAD

LOS ANGELES (AP) - El Nino is anything but little.

Signs tracked by satellites in space show that the globally disruptive weather phenomenon could well live up to its stormy billing: Its mass of warm water in the Pacific Ocean has grown to 1 1/2 times the size of the continental United States and other data mean the southwestern states could well be pounded with winter storms.

In May, when scientists at NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena announced that satellite images showed a brewing El Nino, the warm mass was two-thirds its current size.

Worldwide weather experts said 1997-98 could bring the worst El Nino in 150 years.

"As the satellite has mapped El Nino across the Pacific, what we've seen continually throughout the summer and into September now is that early indications actually have persisted and intensified," said Bill Patzert, a research oceanographer with the TOPEX-Poseidon project at JPL.

MEDICARE COMPUTER OVERHAUL CANCELED

NEW YORK (AP) - The Clinton Administration has canceled its multi-million-dollar order for a computer system that bureaucrats had hoped would simplify Medicare payments and help root out fraud, The New York Times reported today.

The Department of Health and Human Services ordered GTE, the main contractor, to "stop all work, make no further shipments, place no further orders and terminate all subcontracts," according to an Aug. 15 letter obtained by the Times on Monday.

Medicare's current computer system, actually 10 separate systems run by 72 private insurance companies, proved far more difficult to reorganize than had been expected. Officials said the overhaul was behind schedule, over budget and plagued with problems, according to the newspaper.

Names in the news

JANET RENO

MIAMI (AP) - She probably wouldn't have served anyway. Still Janet Reno had a good excuse to get out of jury duty.

The U.S. attorney general got a notice ordering her to appear for jury duty in Dade County, Justice Department spokesman Michael Gordon said Monday.

"She was called for jury duty, planned to attend but had a conflict and had to reschedule," Gordon said.

Reno's chief of staff, John Hogan, contacted Circuit Judge Thomas Carney to explain his boss was occupied by a "Washington investigative thing," he told The Miami Herald.

Reno was Dade County's chief prosecutor before taking the Washington job, a situation that could present an obstacle to her serving on a jury, said Hogan, who was one of her junior prosecutors in Florida.

"She hired half the building," he said.

JAN MICHAEL VINCENT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Jan Michael Vincent is going back before the cameras a year after a traffic accident left him with a broken neck.

The star of the 1980s series "Airwolf" will make a guest appearance this week on the CBS series "Nash Bridges," playing the long-lost brother of star Don Johnson. The series is filmed in San Francisco.

"Doctors told me chances were a million to one that I'd ever work again," Vincent said. "So I'm really just happy to be back in front of the camera."

Vincent was injured in August 1996 when his car rear-ended his girlfriend's Cadillac, spun out of control and slammed into a pole in Mission Viejo. He pleaded guilty to drunken driving and was ordered to complete a six-week rehabilitation program.

Vincent, who also suffered a detached retina in the accident, filed a lawsuit three weeks ago claiming paramedics damaged his vocal cords by placing a breathing tube in his throat. He said he lost roles from being unable to raise his voice beyond a whisper.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then, remember these hints:

--Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an ad with no price.

--Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.

--Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

-- Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

23 CHILDREN DIE EN ROUTE TO WORK

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) - A truck ran off a road and overturned in a canal today north of Cairo, killing 29 children and injuring 54 others, police said. The children were on their way to pick cotton in fields in Kafr el-Sheik, 75 miles north of Cairo, police officials said. They spoke on condition of anonymity.

A police statement said the victims were between 12 and 17 years old. It is not unusual for children and teen-agers to work in farm fields in Egypt, and farm workers are often transported in trucks.

The truck was traveling along a narrow road when the driver lost control and the vehicle tumbled into a canal in the village of Maseer outside Kafr el-Sheik, police said.

The truck was owned by Egypt's Agriculture Ministry and the fields where the victims were to work are government-owned, according to the Interior Ministry.

LAND MINE TREATY TALKS DELAYED

OSLO, Norway (AP) - Negotiations on a treaty to ban land mines were postponed for a day today after the United States requested more time to reach a compromise it could accept.

More than 100 nations have been meeting in the Norwegian capital since Sept. 1 to draft a global ban on anti-personnel mines, which kill or wound 26,000 people a year, most of them civilians.

The United States, which joined the nearly year-old talks for the first time in Oslo, has pressed for exemptions that would allow use of the mines on the Korean peninsula for at least nine years.

When meetings resumed Monday, after a three-day break, U.S. delegation head Eric Newsum immediately requested a 24-hour postponement of talks.

He said the United States needed the time because it was still consulting with many governments on a possible compromise treaty that the United States could sign. The request was granted, since none of the countries objected.

DIANA: THE MUSICAL?

NEW YORK (AP) - Princess Diana's fairy-tale life and real-world death captured the hearts of millions. The combination is brilliant for Broadway, theater insiders say.

"She's the classic tragic heroine," Aaron Frankel, a Broadway director who teaches musical theater at the New School, told the New York Post today. "She was beautiful, she was good and she was flawed."

Composer Jonathan Segal said he has "put some initial concepts together" for a show about Diana's life and death. "It's a fabulous story for a musical."

Several other cultural icons have been immortalized on the Great White Way. Eva Peron and opera diva Maria Callas both were the subject of popular musicals, and a Broadway play opens next month on the life of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis.

UNABOMBER DEFENSE SEEKS PROFILES

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) - Theodore Kaczynski's lawyers say if prosecutors haven't conducted any mental examinations of the Unabomber suspect, then they lied to Kaczynski's brother to get him to help locate the former mathematics professor.

The defense on Monday requested any psychological profiles of their client that the prosecution may have developed, indicating they may be preparing an insanity or impairment defense.

Prosecutors said they haven't examined the 55-year-old Kaczynski or created any psychological profiles.

If that's true, FBI agents may have been guilty of misconduct in persuading David Kaczynski to turn his brother in order to help him get mental health treatment, defense lawyer Judy Clarke said at a hearing.

"Either there were medical opinions, or they lied to David Kaczynski," Clarke said. "Either there is underlying data to support that, or the agent was merely leading David Kaczynski on."

RATINGS DROP FOR EMMY AWARDS

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Ratings dipped for this year's Emmy Awards when the ceremony competed against such popular programming as Arnold Schwarzenegger's "True Lies" and NFL football, preliminary estimates showed.

An estimated 40 million viewers watched all or part of the 49th Annual Primetime Emmy Awards broadcast on CBS, the network said Monday.

The three-hour ceremony Sunday earned an estimated 13.5 rating and 21 share, CBS said - lower than last year's show (14.4 rating and 23 share) but higher than 1995 (12.4 rating and 20 share).

A ratings point represents just under 1 million households, or 1 percent of the nation's estimated TV homes.

MICROSOFT DELAYS WINDOWS 98 RELEASE

SEATTLE (AP) - Microsoft Corp. is postponing the release of the latest Windows upgrade to allow users of its two earlier operating systems to switch at the same time.

Saying the delay was unrelated to any bugs with Windows 98, Microsoft plans to release the software sometime between April and June instead of by the end of March, as originally planned.

The world's largest software maker said it needs more time to test upgrades for Windows 95 and its predecessor, Windows 3.1, which is still used by millions of people.

Microsoft had planned to sell only an upgrade for Windows 95 first, then one for 3.1 later. But Phil Holden, Windows product manager, said releasing the product in two stages would have caused confusion among software testers and customers.

Microsoft stock fell 5 percent Monday after the announcement.

Clinton to outline tobacco demands

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ignoring calls for specifics, President Clinton has decided against proposing detailed changes in the massive tobacco settlement and won't press Congress to act on the accord this year.

Instead, the president plans to broadly outline his demands for legislation and tell Congress the time will be ripe for action next year, aides said.

His announcement is expected Wednesday. The aides spoke on condition of anonymity.

Mississippi Attorney General Michael Moore, who helped negotiated the $368 billion package, wants the president to endorse the settlement. After meeting with Clinton aide Bruce Lindsey, Moore told reporters Monday, "I expect the president to help us out here very soon."

But officials said the president will not endorse the settlement.

Clinton is expected to praise the accord as a historic starting point - but then call it flawed. Aides said he will demand that any pact approved by Congress must:

- Give the Food and Drug Administration full power to regulate tobacco.

- Reduce teen smoking by restricting advertising, sales and placement.

- Punish tobacco companies if goals for reducing teen smoking are not met.

While the proposed settlement touches these same themes, Clinton and his aides have said it does not go far enough. The president does not plan to say specifically what changes need to be made - nor is he likely to put a price tag on an acceptable package, aides said.

He probably will tell Congress to repeal a measure slipped into law by tobacco lobbyists this summer. It would allow cigarette makers to reduce the settlement by $50 billion.

The Senate has already voted to repeal the measure.

U.S. spends more fixing cars than roads

WASHINGTON (AP) - Americans spend four times as much fixing damage to their cars caused by bad roads than state highway departments spend on repairing those roads, according to a study released today by two public interest groups.

More than one-fourth of the nation's most heavily traveled urban roads are in poor or mediocre condition, meaning they need immediate repair, said the study by Surface Transportation Policy Project and the Environmental Working Group.

Their report said drivers spend $4.77 billion annually on car repairs resulting from poor road conditions.

At the same time, state highway departments spend $1.3 billion fixing those same roads, the groups said. The groups studied the 38 states with more than 100 miles of urban highways.

"Failure to fix urban highways adds nearly $2,000 in maintenance costs over the life of a car in some metropolitan areas," the groups said in their study.

The groups complained that under the current federal highway program states have diverted money intended for repairs to building new roads.

Congress is currently debating a renewal of the multibillion-dollar road program. The groups urged that the new law require states to certify that they have adequate maintenance funds available and that at least 90 percent of existing urban highways are in good condition before allowing new construction.

The report found that Iowa has the largest share of urban roads in poor of mediocre repair - 56 percent - with Illinois, Florida, Oklahoma and Arkansas also finishing poorly.

Georgia had the best ranking, with none of its urban highways rated poor or mediocre.

They also looked at the percentage of flexible federal funds that could be used for road repair that go to that use in each state studied. Minnesota spent the biggest share, 96 percent of that available, while South Carolina used just 7 percent of available money for urban road repair, the study said.

Overall, less than half of the money available for urban highway repair was actually spent on repair by state transportation departments, the report found.
