Water System is Extended Into North Part of City; Santa Fe to Lay Own Line

Ditching for a 1500-foot extension of the city water mains was started last Friday on 25-Mile avenue. A six-inch main will be laid in North Hereford, giving city water conveniences to a number of citizens, according to E. Ireland, mayor.

The ditcher was borrowed from the Santa Fe railroad contractor, who shipped it in to lay a line to the new stock pens. The Santa Fe will lay their own line, a two-inch, from the city's main, preferring to buy their water from Hereford than to connect with their own standpipe.

Another water consumption record was broken in June, says Mayor Ireland, who has figured out that city water users ran through their meters 11,900,000 gallons the past month, exceeding May's gallonage of 10,500,000 by over a million.

Building permits taken out during June amount to $12,300, according to the records of the city clerk, Miss Eva Skelton.

Urged Attend Presbyterian Church Sunday

Attendance by the entire membership of the Presbyterian church on next Sunday morning is earnestly urged by the pastor, Rev. E. F. Gieser. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated, and an opportunity will be given to any one who wishes to unite with the church or to have children baptized. The pastor is to be notified of anyone's desire in these matters.

Immediately following the morning worship there will be a congregational meeting in which every member will be greatly interested. Several important items of business must be decided upon and concerted action is necessary, states one of the leading members. Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock the Presbyterians will have a service with the Methodists and Christians. The pastor wants all present to greet these friends and incidentally help bring up the Presbyterian attendance record.

New Bandmaster Assumes Charge of Work Monday

It is good news to the whole community to learn that Ralph Smith is returning to Hereford to take charge of the municipal band and is director of the high school band and orchestra during the scholastic term.

Mr. Smith is a former resident here and a former bandmaster. He is now at Plainview, and is considered as one of the few outstanding band directors in the state.

The first rehearsal will be held next Monday night with Mr. Smith in charge, and beginning Sunday week, July 27, regular Sunday afternoon band concerts will be held on the court house lawn.

A contract was made with Mr. Smith about two weeks ago by the municipal band committee composed of J. L. Sherman, S. P. Ross, C. H. Dillehay, Homer Fox and Homer Hanes.

LOCAL DAIRYMEN PLAN ON HEARING SCHILLING

An important dairy session will be held in Plainview July 25 with W. S. Schilling, head of the dairy and poultry division of the farm relief board, in charge.

Directors of the Farmers Creamery are planning to attend, spending the day there, and getting information from this national expert on cooperative organizations.

Mr. Schilling was formerly manager of the Twin City Milk Producers association, probably the most successful cooperative for dairymen in the United States. He knows the field thoroughly, how to line up the organizations for farm relief recognition, and men from all over the Panhandle are expected to be present at the Plainview meeting.

Patrons Urged to Assist On Daily Routes

There is a possibility of both rural Routes 3 and 4 being promoted to daily deliveries from the present three times a week, stated Postmaster Donner in an interview Monday. There is probably enough mail directed to the patrons on the two routes to receive the daily designation, provided the patrons waited for its delivery by their carrier.

Hundreds of pieces are passed out the general delivery window on the off-days, Mr. Donner said, who is glad to render the service, but such deliveries cannot be counted in the pieces the carrier takes out with him on the route. Especially on Saturdays the carrier's rack is generally three-fourths emptied by people calling at the window for their mail. The local postal force has taken the position that the citizens are entitled to their mail if they want it on these off days, but they are reminded that the practice is retarding the promotion of the route.

All pieces of mail are counted daily for three months, and, if at the end of the quarter a certain number is reached, the route is entitled to become daily. It is taken for granted that all rural patrons desire daily service, and it would be well for them to keep in mind, said Mr. Donner, the circumstances and make window calls for mail only when important messages are expected.

Route No. 3 is now closest to daily class, and some cooperation on No. 4 would put it up in the running. There are various ways in which patrons may stimulate their mail receipts, such as subscribing to papers, and they are encouraged to do so.

Seven Clubbers Will Be Guests of Business Men

The seven members of the 4-H clubs of the county who get a free trip to the Short Course at A. & M. College in the selection will be the honor guests of the chamber of commerce at the meeting next Monday noon at the Christian church. The successful seven this year are all boys, and J. A. Miller, secretary and manager of the commercial body, has arranged to make the honor more complete for them by having the Camp Fire girls, in charge of Mrs. W. H. Dowell, do the serving at the luncheon.

B. H. Hopkins and A. M. Walker spent more than ten days visiting the projects and examining the records of more than 30 contestants, and they have announced the following as the most outstanding for the year:

Kermit Wilson, Hereford. James Lusk, Ward. Bud Barnett, Black. Carl Frye, Dawn. John Schulz, Summerfield. Ray Chapman, Sims. C. C. Laquey, Daniel.

Through the courtesy of the First State Bank, Western National Bank, First National Bank, W. D. Kelleher, Kemp Lumber Company, Bosson & Buchanan and E. B. Black Company, who have contributed $25 each, the boys will have the opportunity of spending a valuable week at A. & M. College.

The winners are asked to meet Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the office of the county agent, R. O. Dunkle, supervisor of the club work, for talking over details in preparation for the trip.

Besides the club members, the Hereford delegation, which will board a special at Canyon Saturday evening, July 26, is composed of A. M. Walker of Summerfield, B. H. Hopkins, vocational agricultural teacher, R. O. Dunkle, county agent, and Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent.

Grand Jurymen Announced for District Court

Court of the 69th judicial district, will meet in Hereford August 4. Judge Reese Tatum may not be here to preside, in which case Judge Jones of Del Rio will be on the bench, according to Horace L. Schloss, court reporter, who states that Judge Jones is now substituting at Farwell for Judge Tatum. Petit jurymen are now being subpoenaed to appear in the second week of court, and the following grand jurymen have been announced by L. H. Foster, district clerk: John H. Biggs, Wesley Brady, J. D. Buchanan, J. E. Cockrell, R. P. Conaway, Arlie Dean, N. W. Ewton, A. T. Frye, F. E. Givan, G. C. Hartman, Ray Hershey, J. R. (Jim) Lipscomb, O. L. Rutherford, Herman Schulz, Geo. L. Muse, and S. L. Walser.

Courts Set Day at August 19 for Stock Law Vote

The county-wide stock law election will be held August 19 in pursuance to an order of the commissioners' court in its session last Monday. A petition bearing close to 400 names was received in the June meeting of the court and held over, according to law, until the following term for the setting of the date.

It had been figured that the election would come on a Saturday, August 16, as a more convenient day for voting, but it was questionable if the required thirty days after the first day of publication would have fully elapsed by that time, and when the order was finally passed the following Tuesday was designated.

The set of judges selected by the court to preside at all special and regular elections will hold the stock law election at the following places:

Precincts 1 and 2, court house in Hereford; No. 3, at J. A. Roe residence; No. 4, at Sims school house; No. 5, at Union; No. 6, at Ford; No. 7, at Dawn school house; No. 8, at Syndicate school house; No. 9, at Bippus, and No. 10, at Daniels.

Mrs. Fred Fuqua and son of Amarillo were here the latter part of last week visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. J. D. Bourne.

LEADS FIELD IN SELLING FARM PRODUCTS

In later years when some local historian may compile a list of the community builders in this section, the name of W. W. Adams, who lives 12 1/2 miles southeast of Hereford, will undoubtedly be included, and he will have deserved and have earned the distinction by being prominent as a diversifying farmer and finding more and higher cash markets for his products than most of his neighbors.

Mr. Adams is a new comer to the Hereford county, arriving from Kiowa county, Oklahoma, only 17 months ago, but within that short time he has made a record that makes pale the efforts of the average man. Paying down something over $2,000 on 320 acres of land, bought at $32 an acre, he had little left, and according to his own statement, had to look to the soil and his own ingenuity for a living and enough profit to make the necessary additions to his operations.

In that he has manfully succeeded. Not only meeting the land payments, he has paid for seven Jersey cows, three work horses, a new automobile, and a number of new horse-drawn farm tools. Due to his small amount of acreage he has not gone in for power farming, his horsepower consisting of eight head of work stock. He cultivates 275 acres of the half section, planted to over ten different valuable crops.

The variety of the products grown is shown in the following items: Wheat, barley, corn, maize, oats, cotton, peanuts, peas, pinto beans, melons and garden vegetables.

To this long list, each of which brings in money, are added cream, poultry, eggs, pork and beef as cash crops.

Car Movement Wheat Still Going Strong

The harvest season is not yet over for the Hereford country, judging from the daily carlot shipments. Fourteen cars were billed out from Hereford Wednesday and more cars went out for the week ending Wednesday night than for the preceding weekly period from the four shipping points of the territory. The total for the session up to Thursday morning is 598 cars as follows:

Hereford	355
Summerfield	37
Dawn	94
Joel	20

It is now being estimated that Hereford alone will reach 600 cars by the time all carload shipments cease.

Combining was still in operation the first of the week at Arney, Summerfield, Ford and Ward, according to Brand correspondents, who stated, however, that the harvest was about over. The report from the Daniel community said the harvest was complete and all land plowed in preparation for a new crop.

Summerfield had a good rain Monday morning, benefitting materially row crops, but in most of the other communities rainfall is now needed.

Equalization Board Adjusts School Values

A board of equalization for the Hereford independent school district is sitting this week, composed of W. E. Dunlap, Ralph Barnett and Vern Witherspoon. Those whose valuations are raised will be notified and an appearance date set within about ten days.

"It is very important that response be made to these notices affecting change in property valuations," said Jowell Murchison, deputy tax collector. If the new value is inequitable the board can be shown the error and make proper adjustment; the appearance date is the time to settle the tax matter, not later when tax paying time arrives, he said.

Fathers of Both Valentines Died One Week Apart

W. M. Valentine of Colchester, Illinois, father of Wink Valentine of Hereford, died at his home last Saturday after a long illness. Mr. Valentine had many friends here, having visited his son many times during the past few years.

Mrs. Valentine also lost her father, David A. McCullough, of Parmer, Idaho, just one week earlier, Saturday week, July 5. Mr. McCullough was taken to his old home at Knox City, Missouri, for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine were unable to attend the funeral services of their fathers which in coincidence came just one week apart, but they had been visitors in the home of his father less than a month before his death.

Baptists Ready For Assembly In Ceta Canyon

The Panhandle Baptist Assembly will be held at the Ceta Canyon camp grounds August 4 to 11, announces Rev. V. M. Cloyd, of Hereford, president of the encampment.

The daily schedules call for class work in B.Y.P.U. and Sunday school and a sermon at 11:15 each morning. In the afternoons will be swimming, hiking and resting. In addition to the sermon, social leadership and recreational courses and devotional services will be held at night.

Dr. W. P. Meroney, a member of Baylor University faculty, is to be the inspirational speaker for the Assembly. He will address the meeting twice daily, filling the position of encampment pastor.

Ceta Canyon is 15 miles from Happy, to which address mail and express should be sent to reach members of the gathering. All campers should provide themselves with tents and cots, Rev. Cloyd says. There will be plenty of fuel on the ground. A restaurant will be on the ground, but those attending the encampment are advised that the cafe services are inadequate to care for all, and food must be brought along. Bread and a few necessities may be bought at the site.

Mrs. Austin Beene and son, Morris, are home from a several weeks visit with relatives and friends in Hill county.

J. M. White of Dawn Has Big Wheat Turnout

Another successful wheat grower this season, under adverse circumstances, is J. M. White, who lives three miles northwest of Dawn. Up to Saturday night, with the crop not yet finished, he had delivered to the Great West-elevator at Dawn 25,444 bushels, according to E. V. Bond, superintendent of the Dawn schools and at present employed by the elevator company.

Mr. White is a tenant farmer, and this year he has rented in wheat 2,400 acres. He had some slight losses on a field near Daniel school and also near Dawn, and had to plow up 160 acres because of hail and dry weather. Some of the land had a turn-out of 30 bushels to the acre. His average for the total acres is not available until he completes the harvest, which is being done this week.

Dawn, July 16.—J. M. White has finished his harvest and made approximately 31,000 bushels, in spite of the fact that he had a heavy loss on a whole section and from three to five bushels to the acre on the remainder due to hail damage.

His rental plan provides for the land owner, who in this case with the exception of 320 acres is G. T. Oliver, to pay him $2.50 an acre for preparing the land, furnish the seed and pay one-fourth the combining charge, for which he receives one-half the crop. Of the crop 800 acres were summer tilled, and his experience parallels that of other successful wheat farmers, making two to three times as much as the other.

County Council of Club Women Formed Friday

A county council for the home demonstration clubs of the different communities was organized last Friday afternoon at the court house with the assistance of Miss Emma Gunter and Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, extension service representatives.

The council of fourteen members, who also belong to the clubs, will be an advisory board for the home demonstration work and will be a means through which the agent gets information from the women's organizations.

The council will meet regularly in the court house every third Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Miss Gunter, home agent.

The following ladies compose the council: Mrs. J. W. Berry, Mrs. B. F. Fulkerson, Mrs. S. A. Miller, Mrs. J. L. Hight, Mrs. S. O. Russell, Mrs. H. E. Weathered, Mrs. Lee Curry, Mrs. G. F. Morgan, Mrs. W. P. Caraway, Mrs. Fred Saltzman, Mrs. G. C. Hartman, Mrs. J. P. Slaton, Mrs. C. C. Cook and Mrs. Noley Elliston.

LIONS MEET WEDNESDAY FOR REGULAR LUNCHEON

The Lions club will hold its regular twice-a-month luncheon next Wednesday, July 23, at the Christian church. All members are urged to be present by C. C. Acker, president, who reminds the personnel that it is now a rule of the organization that luncheon fees are assessed against each member even though he be absent, in order to meet the guarantee of attendance necessary for plate service at the church.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION ELECT OFFICERS SATURDAY

A meeting of the cow testing association of the county has been called by Lester Galley, president, for Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the office of the county agent in the court house. This is an annual session to elect officers for the next year. The association has a membership of seven dairy herd owners.

Instead of becoming discouraged when retail business slumps and building activities lessen, look to the bank statements and postal receipts for the nature of the town's and section's financial firmness, admonish statistical experts. These are true indexes of the local buying power and a positive criterion as to whether the trade channels have been clogged temporarily or dammed up to a dangerous degree.

Postal receipts for the government's fiscal year ending June 30, have just been released by E. L. Donner, postmaster, showing a total of $17,645.00, compared to only $15,148.00 of last year. The gain is $2,497.00, over 16 per cent.

For April, May and June of the quarter just closed receipts are $4,154.53. The same period of last year could show only $3,581.50, registering the same gain of 16 per cent.

In the previous fiscal year business fell as low as $3,500 for each of two quarters, while under the past 12 months receipts have never dropped below $4,100 in any three-month period.

The city mail carriers are having all they can do and there are requests from patrons for extension of the system. The demand for lock boxes has also been extremely heavy, necessitating installation of an additional section.

During the past two years one rural route has been designated for the trade territory, and city delivery has been inaugurated for Hereford residents.

While the low wheat market has lowered the income from a cash crop that should have raised materially the money reserves for this territory, the three banks of Hereford have shown better statements than most of the cities of equal population class and compare favorably with towns of several thousand more people.

For instance, the Clarendon banks have only $26,000 more on deposit than Hereford. The local institutions have outdistanced Canyon banks in deposits by $258,000, and exceed the Randall county seat by $453,000 in bank resources. During the past year Clarendon suffered a loss of $400,000 in deposits, while Hereford gained $90,000.

Brumley Could Not Do Without Porker Family

When G. W. Brumley had finished one of the most modern automobile buildings in the Panhandle as a proper setting for the new Chevrolet motor cars, and had provided a beautiful show room, private offices, rest rooms, parts and service departments, he discovered that he had made a mistake.

Now everyone knows that Mr. Brumley is a hog man, that Hereford is the most important hog market on the Plains, and the fact is due principally to the efforts of this one man. When he had arranged everything pertaining to the operation of his Chevrolet sales and service, he discovered he had no place for some hogs. Nothing else would do but that a sow and pigs be comfortably located in his private office—and there they are today.

Believe it or not—the hogs are on exhibition where anybody is privileged to go in and see.

It might be well to add that imitation hogs had to be used in this instance to keep the president company and make him satisfied with his sumptuous surroundings.

INTERIOR DECORATOR OF DENVER HAS MOVED HERE

W. F. Maberry and family are new residents of Hereford, coming here from Denver. Mr. Maberry is experienced in interior decorating, tax-toning, house painting and paper hanging, and announces that he is ready to handle any business of this nature.

Mr. Maberry has the contract for interior work on the new funeral home of E. B. Black Company.

A study in human anatomy was presented in the Hyde-Legge visit to Amarillo; Mr. Head wasn't present, judging from the lack of solution of the weighty farm problem that occasioned the assembling event.

Alex Legge, chairman of the farm relief board, is one of the most astute business men in America. He invited questions and got a barrage. Some one wanted to know why the government was urging the industrious farmer to cut his production acreage while it was appropriating money to reclaim the swamps and open up desert land through irrigation. Smiling, Legge gave the only plausible answer: "Just an old American custom."

Another bread-eater rose to ask why flour and baked bread did not come down on a parity with 60- to 70-cent wheat. Just another custom might it be, the speaker tried to explain that the biggest cost item in a loaf was the labor in making it a finished product and delivering it to the consumer. In most every instance of this kind, the cost of the raw product is rather negligible, even when the producer receives a boom price for what he grows.

We knew it! The horsehair question was not destined to die a natural death. Like the ghost of Banquo, it will not down, Allen Bell, a pro-snake man, has invited to inform us that he knows horsehairs turn into snakes, that he has put hairs into a water trough and later found the hair snakes. Nearly everyone has been a pro since the matter came up, but none could produce the proof, and we were about to win by default. However, no such affairs as a Texas election, a hen that lays four eggs within two days, a bumper wheat yield in a dry lake bed or a good harvest from wheat planted in 40-inch rows could down the horsehair controversy. Mr. Bell has promised to conduct a well-ordered experiment and produce a snake from a hair to end the argument. If so, it will be a little bit of creation, making animate of the inanimate, raising from the inorganic to the organic.

Much has been said lately of the peculiar powers of the sun rays, and H. R. Fritz, vice president of the First State Bank, is displaying a large amount of faith. He can be seen cutting weeds in his yard during the hot afternoons with head bare. The potency of the sun in this case is watched anxiously by certain other citizens.

One of our fellow-townsmen, a Republican and high tariff advocate, realizing that the duty on wheat is now 42 cents a bushel, has a simple plan to hike up the price. Scale down the production until we will have to import about ten bushels, and the price will automatically jump up 42 cents on every bushel in the United States. Nothing foolish about that, either.

What we have been trying to find out is whether that was a big Small rally in Amarillo, or was it a Small big rally. It was no

John McLean and Dow Mercer were said to be destined to become great benefactors of the public. They had invented a fly trap that made fly swatting a back number. A tall circular trap was being used and the only bait was a banana peeling. It was claimed that one trap near a door would attract all the pests to it, and the next moment the fly would be safely housed.

Good rains were reported all over the entire Hereford country during the week.

Dallam County had gone into the ranks of the dry counties in a local option election. The "pros" won by a majority of 15 votes. The "antis" declined to contest the result.

A plum branch no larger than an oat straw containing 53 plums was brought to the Brand office by T. E. Shirley. The plums were a late-bearing variety.

Summer fallowing and deep plowing were being advocated then. The main drawback to deep plowing, it was claimed, was the lack of sufficient horsepower.

Miss Ruby Norton had returned from Hansford where she had been on a five weeks' visit with friends.

A cut of a local scene was run on the front page of the Brand showing "where they catch six-seven and eight pound bass near Hereford," catching in the photo three local citizens conspicuous in the dress style then.

The editor ran a booster for advertising, quoting John Wana-maker: "Advertise your business or the sheriff will do it for you."

H. C. Myrick, drygoodsman, had a close-out sale on summer goods, offering a lot of men's suits for $10.00.

Election judges had been appointed for the special election in which a constitutional amendment on prohibition was to be voted upon. Some of the judges were J. M. Chapman, precinct 4; J. C. Let's all lie down and howl about competition—it will help so much!

Believe it or not—but the number of logical buyers who have never heard of us is unbelievably large.

One of the young tribe in Hereford has just remarked of his boss: "Take that bozo out of his swivel chair, change his name, and start him out in a strange town, and he couldn't earn eight dollars a week."

An excerpt from Gerald Stanley Lee: We awe the impenitent with crowds, convert the world with boards, and save the lost with delegates; and how Jesus of Nazareth could have done so great a work without being on a committee is beyond our ken.

"What can describe the folly and emptiness of some conversations like the word 'jawing'?" was asked by Ralph Waldo Emerson ninety years ago. He further remarked, "I feel the force of the double negative though clean contrary to grammar rules. I confess to some pleasure from the stinging rhetoric of a rattling oath in the mouth of teamsters." Cut these words and they would bleed; they are vascular and alive; they walk and run; it is a shower of bullets."

County Agents Recite Progress of Diversifying

Progress of diversification was claimed to be making headway in the wheat belt at a meeting of Panhandle county agents in Amarillo Friday following the federal farm outlook program. It was suggested by O. B. Martin, director of extension work, that hogs be allowed to officiate as combines on a lot of acreage while wheat could not be sold for more than 60 cents a bushel. There would be more cash money in the crop that way, he said. Plans were made for the part of district 1 in the Short Course. The Panhandle will feature grain especially wheat, in the pages of Texas. R. O. Dunkle, Deaf Smith county agent, attended the meeting as well as the Hyde-Legge speaking.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Olson and two children, Clarence and Essie of Waco, spent the week of the Fourth here as guests in the home of his brother, John H. Olson and family. Mr. Olson is president of the Atlas Lumber Company of Waco. Miss Essie Olson remained for a longer visit.

What a lucky guy HE is sitting in the President's chair. No luck at all. Just sound, common sense. He invested his money safely in a Savings Account until he had enough to start his own business. Ben Franklin once said "Save and Have!" And he was right.

put your Telephone on Half-pay during Vacation

You'll save money... and spare yourself inconvenience when you return.

The Rumseys are going vacationing.

The milk's been stopped, the ice man has been called off, and the Man Who Delivers the Newspaper has been instructed to bring no more until further notice.

But the telephone will be left at home, drawing full pay in an empty house!

Something should be done about this!

Vacation rates for idle residence telephones

One solution (provided you're planning a vacation of 30 days or more) is to place your telephone on vacation half-rates while you are away.

It's a convenient way to save money. And—this to folks who sometimes have their telephones taken out—it spares you inconvenience on your return. That's because:

1. You pay just half the regular rate.
2. Service is reconnected quickly after you return—usually within 24 hours after you notify us.
3. You keep your present telephone number. (You'd lose it if you had your telephone removed!)
4. Your name remains in the telephone book.

"Something should be done about this"

If you wish, while you are away we will refer your calls to another telephone—that of relatives, for instance.

Vacation rates are available for periods of more than 30 days, but not over four months. They apply only to residence telephones.

To obtain them, mail the coupon below or telephone the business office.

Milk Supply For City Is All Grade A

The City of Herford is to be congratulated upon its clean milk supply, according to Frank A. Buckley, city milk and food inspector, who has recently completed the inspection of the whole milk dairies and the bacterial counts of the milk. All of the eight whole milk producers passed the Grade A requirements with some to spare. This is remarkable and almost surprising at this time of year, when the extremely warm weather and the unusual number of flies make conditions ideal for bacterial growth and infection and can be explained only by absolute cleanliness in the production and handling of the milk.

Konjola Put Kansas Man Back to Work

"Proved To Be a Wonderful Medicine In My Case," Says Former Sufferer.

Any medicine that can win more than a million friends in seven years must have merit, and that is exactly what Konjola has done. You wonder why Konjola has become a household word? Well, read what Mr. E. C. Sherman, painting contractor, of Goddard, Kansas, says:

"Konjola proved to be a wonderful medicine in my case. Last July 1 was hurt in an automobile accident, and was in the hospital many weeks. When I got out, I was in a badly run down condition; had rheumatism in the shoulder, arm and hand, and my stomach was out of order. I suffered terrible pains, and medicines did me no good. The many endorsements of Konjola led me to try it, and six bottles of this wonderful medicine made me able to resume my work. I am feeling better in every way than for a long time."

Konjola's 32 ingredients work together, battling at their very source, the causes of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Herford at the Corner Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

R. H. Kemp Lumber Co.

The reaction time in hours is given below for the milk of each producer. To interpret intelligently the list it is necessary to understand the principle of the test. Bacteria produce reductases in milk which bleach the blue solution added to the sample. The greater the number of bacteria in the milk the sooner the sample will be bleached. If the solution is bleached in one hour there are over ten million bacteria per cubic centimeter; three hours, over 500,000; five hours, over 50,000; 5 1/2 hours, 40,000 to 50,000. The requirement for grade-A milk, besides certain conditions at the farm, is a count of less than 50,000. Hence, if the reaction time is 5 1/2 hours or greater the requirement is met, and the greater the reaction time, the fewer bacteria are in the milk. It must be understood, however, that it does not necessarily follow that the milk with the shorter reaction time is less clean than that with the longer time. Much of this difference can be explained by the long-time between production and delivery.

The list follows, including name of producer, reaction time in hours, and grade of milk.

Turkey School Second of Kind Starts Oct. 20

The Thanksgiving market for turkeys is too early for Texas turkeys to make the No. 1 grade, but the Christmas market is usually more profitable for Texas producers. While the general price level is lower at the later season, the improved grade of turkeys in this state makes the net price to producers higher at Christmas, is the comment of George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture.

In order for growers to learn the various grade pools and how to tell when turkeys are ready for market at the highest price, the first turkey grading school in the Southwest and the second of its kind in the United States will be held in San Angelo during the week beginning October 20. The school will offer instruction on how to classify turkeys and how to dress and pack them properly.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Smith are now at home to their friends in the Cummins apartments on McKinley avenue.

Terrace expert Here Next Week To Demonstrate

Landowners are urged not to forget to attend the terracing demonstration which will be held next Wednesday on the farm of W. R. Schelhaugen, three miles west of Hereford on the Clovis highway, states R. O. Dunkle, county agent. The slopes of a lake bed will be treated with terraces as an experiment, for holding water from the lake and to catch the rains for the terraced acres, Mr. Dunkle is interested in having alfalfa tried out here on terraced slopes and alfalfa may be tried on the Schelhaugen farm without irrigation.

M. R. Bentley, agronomy engineer of A. & M. College, and A. K. (Dad) Short, soil conservationist, will be here to conduct the terracing work and instruction.

The primary purpose of terracing on this part of the Plains is not to prevent soil washing but to conserve the rainfall. This farming asset is gaining in popularity every year. Last year Texas saved 868,000 acres, according to figures just announced by Mr. Bentley, in his capacity of farm engineer. The work was performed in 202 counties. Total acres in the state terraced or contoured is now 3,389,000.

West Texas is saving the soil at a rate of ten times as fast as Central Texas, he believes, if figures from five typical counties in each section may be considered a fair sample. Runnels county has the distinction of having the greatest total area terraced or contoured to date with about 150,000 acres.

The huge totals above are attributed to terracing schools of recent years which last season trained 3,810 men and 2,585 boys to run levels and build terraces.

In 55 counties county road machinery has been made available by commissioners' court for use of farmers in constructing strong terraces cheaply. "Contouring, which consists of

Simple Plan of Life Made Clear By Rev. J. W. Boultinghouse In Second United Service of Summer

How a man should live to fulfill his destiny, meeting the requirements of his Creator, was the sermon subject of Rev. J. W. Boultinghouse at the Methodist church Sunday night in the second of the united services being held in July and August by the combined audiences of the Christian, Presbyterian and Methodist.

Next Sunday evening, Rev. E. P. Gieser, Presbyterian pastor, will preach to the same three congregations in his own church. Each time the denominational attendance is counted and a percentage with respect to church rolls is made. So far the Christian church is leading with a big margin, and the Presbyterian is in second place with a wide lead over the Methodist.

Reading from the 17th chapter of Matthew, Rev. Boultinghouse selected the question "How may I so live?" for discussion and explanation. The speaker said in part:

"The question is all the more important because life is so brief. I presume that all of you believe God is willing and wants to supply our great needs. Scientists find in the natural world that there are certain unchangeable laws. When they are conformed to, the same result is always obtained. These natural laws are dependable.

"So is God dependable. His reactions are ever the same when the individual meets or fails to meet his requirements. He responds in the same way to all lives that are guided rightly. The life of Jesus Christ is the best example, in which spiritual responsiveness was manifested more than once. There are three distinct events recorded in which God recognized Christ and expressed His pleasure in his acts and life.

"When Christ was baptized by John, he expressly took his stand for the right, and the Voice from above gave approval.

"At the transfiguration God enjoined the world, 'Hear ye Him,' for the son had not only taken the right stand but he had been living the stand.

"And last, when Christ at Gethsemane gave a complete surrender of himself, his personal ambitions, his freedom of will, his physical life, 'Not my will but thine,' his God voiced approval again, saying that He had glorified him and would glorify him still further."

The speaker gave this as a plan of life for any one to follow. If the three simple steps were taken, the dependable God would grant the same recognition to the human being today as given Christ during his three years of living and teaching new principles.

STAR THEATRE HAS SCREEN FAVORITES FOR NEXT WEEK

The Star theatre has this week its patrons one of the best entertainments in years. The presentation of "With Byrd at the Pole" excited more comment than any other picture that has been shown here. A very pleasing feature of the picture was that it fulfilled everything that J. C. Parker made for it, and appreciated by theatre-going everywhere. Hereford patrons have found that when the Star management praises a picture to be shown, they can depend on its being good.

In continuation of playing only the best programs, the Star is presenting such national screen favorites as the following for the coming week: Bebe Daniels tomorrow, Virginia Valli in "Guilty" next Saturday; Richard Barthelmess in "Son of the Gods" next Monday and Tuesday, and Clara Bow in "True to the Navy" the Wednesday and Thursday following.

MOSES, A COURAGEOUS LEADER

Exodus 3:1-12.

Golden Text: By faith he foresaw Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the kings: for he endured as seeing him who is invisible.—Hebrews 11:27.

Introduction.

Moses was born a slave. At the time of his birth all Hebrew mothers were under orders from Pharaoh to throw their boy babies into the river, but he was such a beautiful baby that his mother could not bear the thought of feeding him to the crocodiles. For three anxious months she concealed him away in her home. When she could no longer hide him, she adopted the bold strategy of putting him in a little ark and placing him in the edge of the water where Pharaoh's daughter would find him when she went to the river to bathe.

Early Life of Moses.

When the princess found the infant in his little bed, and heard his pitiful cry, her woman's heart was touched, and she resolved to save him from her father's cruel decree by adopting him as her own. For some years he was left under the care of his own mother, who was a devout member of the tribe of Levi, and who taught him the religion of his fathers. Then he was taken into the palace, where he was trained as a young prince under the direction of Pharaoh's daughter. Later he was sent to the best schools, where he was educated in "all the wisdom of the Egyptians," who had the most advanced civilization of that age. Thus he received such an equipment for his life work as no one else among his people had.

Crisis in the Life of Moses.

The crisis in the life of Moses came when he was forty years old. Realizing the dreadful condition of his fellow Hebrews, he determined to help them, even at the cost of giving up the luxuries of the palace and the prestige of his position as a member of the royal family. His first blundering effort, however, got him into trouble and made it necessary for him to leave the country. Forty years of wilderness life lay ahead of him before he was ready to enter upon his life work. During these years he gained better mastery over his impetuous temper, which had led him to kill the Egyptian. He learned much about the country through which he was later to lead his people. "He learned in the quiet of the desert solitude to know God in that wonderful fulness which revealed itself in the after years."

The Call of Moses.

One day, as Moses watched his father's flock at Mount Horeb, "the angel of Jehovah appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush; and he looked, and behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed." Turning aside to find the explanation of this wonderful sight, Moses heard the voice of God, commanding him to take off his shoes, for he was on holy ground. Here Moses received his call to deliver the Israelites from the Egyptians and lead them into the promised land.

"I Will Be With Thee."

"And he said, Certainly I will be with thee." One would then think that the promise of God's presence and help would have been enough for Moses, but it is always enough for us? We have the same great promise from Christ, "Lo, I am with you always," but do we not often forget it, and fall to avail ourselves of its comfort and power.

The revelation of God's name, "I AM," which was then made to Moses, meant everything to him, and should mean everything to us. "God alone can say 'I am' without saying anything more. God alone is. Everybody and everything else in the world becomes; but God is. God never changes or becomes anything different from what he is now. What he is, that he was, and ever will be."—Charles Kingsley. It was this unchanging God that sent Moses forth on his great errand, and that sends us also to our lesser tasks.

The Passover.

At the time of the tenth plague, Moses, by God's direction, instituted the Jews' most important annual feast, the passover. It was so-called because the death angel, when he saw the blood of the passover lamb sprinkled on the doorposts and lintels of the Hebrews, passed over those houses, and did not destroy the firstborn there. Ever since, the Jews have celebrated the passover each year, dressed as for a journey, and using unleavened bread. Christ, our Passover, was sacrificed for us, the Lamb of God slain for the sins of the world, and slain at the passover season; therefore our memorial, the Lord's supper, takes the place for Christians of the Jewish passover.

The Passage of the Red Sea.

The opposition of Pharaoh broke down with the death of the firstborn, and the Israelites departed from Egypt bearing rich gifts which the terrified Egyptians pressed upon them—gifts which were scant pay for all the long labor of the enslaved nation. No sooner were they gone, however, than Pharaoh's mind changed. He could not bear to lose his slaves and suffer the humiliation which their going involved; so he posted after them with his army, and the Israelites found themselves on the north shore of the Red Sea, cooped in between the sea on their left, mountains in front of them and on their right, and the onrushing Egyptians in their rear. Then came another miraculous interposition, for a strong wind held back the shallow waters of the sea, making a path over which the Israelites passed to safety, while the Egyptian army, following hot upon them in their heavy chariots drawn by horses, found themselves sinking in the muddy bottom and swiftly drowned when a chance in the wind sent the waters back again to their accustomed place. This wonderful event, like the ten plagues, was an intensification of a phenomenon that has been observed in the Gulf of Suez, marked as supernatural by its opportune occurrence.

Moses had been forty days on the sacred mount communing with Jehovah, and on his return found himself facing a most disgraceful scene. Forgetting all the horrors of their slavery, the people's hearts had turned to the disgusting idolatry with which they had become familiar in Egypt. In imitation of the Egyptian bull worship, they prevailed upon Aaron to take the gold and jewelry which they had brought in large numbers from Egypt, and with them fashion a golden calf, which the people proceeded to worship with all the excesses which marked idolatrous festivals. Moses in his hot wrath punished the idolaters by slaying, with the aid of the Levites, about 3000 of them, thus purifying the people of their foul taint, and then he withdrew again into the mountains to make atonement for the people's sins. This he did by wrestling in prayer with God, even offering himself to be blotted out of the book of God's people if Jehovah would forgive the Hebrews and restore them to his favor. In all the Old Testament there is no more wonderful foreglimpse of the work of Christ than this, and surely nothing in the life of Moses better exhibits his largeness of heart and his prophetic insight.

Moses at the Burning Bush.

Thinking of this event, Mrs. Browning sang:
"Earth's crammed with heaven,
And every common bush affire with God;
But only he who sees, takes off his shoes."
The rest sit around it and pluck blackberries."

More Confidence Reflected In Farming In Southwest As Industry, Says Santa Fe

The agricultural industry, in which half the people of the Santa Fe railroad states are engaged, is stepping forth to take an important part in dissipating the depression with which the country has been contending for several months, states the survey of the railroad issued on July 1. The farm has been placed on a more substantial economic basis, and there is more confidence reflected in the farm as an industry in the Southwest at present than at any time within the past ten years, continues the survey report.

Wheat in volume considerably under that in the 1929 harvest has been moving. Prices are below what the farmers expected, and more wheat than usual has been held for a better market. From one-third to two-thirds will be held, much of it piled on the ground in the open. There is not much danger to the grain so handled in the summer time, as there is but little rain, and that which comes runs off the wheat pile instead of soaking into it, observes the writer of the Santa Fe report.

Officials estimate of the Texas wheat crop is 25,200,000 bushels, compared to 37,800,000 of last year. The estimate for the nation is 55,000,000 more than was produced in 1929. Livestock prices are unsatisfactory, and the number of cattle and sheep on the larger ranches has been reduced. Pastures in practically all the territory described were the best in years during the spring and the summer finds them still good, putting livestock in good condition.

Our Bodies, Like An Engine

NEED THE RIGHT FUEL

We burn food material in our bodies, just as an engine burns fuel. And we all know that an engine, to do its best work, must have the right kind of fuel. Butter is one of the best body fuels. Butterfats are more easily digested than other fats. And in addition to its wholesome, palatable fats, butter is rich in Vitamin A, so necessary for growth of the child and strength of the adult.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THIS REGULAR STOCK MOTOR OIL

CLOSE ON THE HEELS OF ITS ACCOMPLISHMENT AT INDIANAPOLIS MAY 30, CONOCO WINS 3RD, 4TH, AND 5TH PLACES AT ALTOONA AT BETTER THAN ONE HUNDRED MILES PER HOUR

Frank Farmer, in a Miller Special, "placed" third with an average speed of 102.2 miles per hour. "Shorty" Cantlon, in a Miller-Schofield Special, was fourth with 101.5 miles per hour. "Speed" Gardner was fifth in a Miller Front Drive Special. All three used CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil in this convincing demonstration of the qualities of this regular "stock" motor oil. At Altoona, as at Indianapolis, this was the first time that a stock oil had placed so high in the finish of the race.

The story of the Altoona race cannot be told without reference to the accomplishment of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil at Indianapolis. For it was in that 500-mile classic that the stamina of this new oil was impressed on the racing fraternity. After observers had seen the oil at the close of the Indianapolis race; after they had observed its full body and good color as it came from Dave Evans' motor, the word went out that CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil had displayed the qualities necessary to solve the lubrication problems of racing motors. CONOCO had earned the respect of this most skeptical group—and earned it fairly.

In view of the Indianapolis results, it was only natural for a majority of the drivers at Altoona to choose CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil for America's fastest competitive race.

And as these cars whizzed around the boards at Altoona on June 14, CONOCO again proved its worth in a field previously dominated by castor blends—a field which other stock oils have repeatedly tried to enter without success! So chalk up another victory for CONOCO

Germ-Processed Motor Oil, close on the heels of Indianapolis... a victory won with the same stock Germ-Processed oil that you can buy at any Red Triangle station.

Then CONOCO victory have a definite meaning to every one who drives a car. They substantiate every claim that was made for it when the oil was introduced last November.

You can experience the safety and economy of this oil by stopping at the next Red Triangle Station and asking for:

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED PARAFFIN BASE MOTOR OIL

The Contest Board of the AAA took all the necessary precautions to make sure that the oil used was the regular CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil. CERTIFIED MOTOR OIL No. 2855
