This bridge over Frio Draw on County Road 4 qualifies for improvements under a plan proposed by state transporation officials.

State officials unveil plan to aid in making repairs

Special to The Brand

A plan to speed improvements to the 7,200 deficient bridges on city streets and county roads across Texas and to provide local communities with a way to stretch their limited transportation dollars is being proposed by state transportation officials.

The result, according to state officials, will be improved safety and mobility for motorist by bringing more bridges up to "school bus" standards faster. The proposals by transportation officials are the latest steps to reduce the number of deficient city and county bridges across the state.

One aspect of the plan, which was to be considered today by the Texas Transportation Commission, will allow the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) to waive the local match for a bridge project on a city street or county road. In return, local officials must commit to roll the savings into improvements

■ While supporters of China trade bill hail narrow victory in House, Helms threatens to delay action RICHARD

WASHINGTON (AP) - Supporters of liberalizing trade ties with China are optimistic for their chances in the Senate after the hotly contested measure won a difficult vote in the House.

But, while the bill enjoys wide bipartisan support there, Senate rules also make it far easier for opponents to slow matters or create parliamentary havoc.

The bill is expected to be voted on in the Senate next month.

Even as supporters were celebrating Wednesday's 237-197 House victory, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, asserted: "I do not intend to allow the Senate to rubberstamp the president's plan to reward the Chinese communists."

Helms has blocked or delayed key treaties or other foreign relations matters in the past, and supporter were not taking Helms' threats idly.

"Delay is dangerous," said Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont., a leading Senate sponsor of the China trade bill.

Baucus estimated that no more than 20 of the Senate's 100 members were likely to oppose the bill once it gets to a floor vote.

The bill would give China the same low-tariff privileges that the United States routinely accords its other trading partners. For the past two decades. China has gotten these benefits - previously called "most favored nation" status - annually.

"I do not intend to allow the Senate to rubber-stamp the president's plan to reward the Chinese communists." SEN. JESSE HELMS, Chairman, Foreign Relations Committee

The bill also would put in force a landmark market-opening pact negotiated with China in November as part of its entry into the World Trade Organization.

That pact would reduce Chinese tariffs, abolish Chinese import quotas and licenses and allow foreign businesses to invest in Chinese banking, telecommunications and other companies.

Unlike treaties and ambassadorial nominations, Helm's Foreign Relations Committee does not have primary authority over trade matters.

That's up to the Senate Finance Committee, and it already has voted 18-1 in support of the China trade bill.

"We need to review what the House has sent us, but then I expect us to take our turn at bat," said Sen. William Roth, R-Del., the Finance Committee chairman.

However, some changes made including adding a the House watchdog commission to monitor hu- sion to monitor human rights in man rights and labor practices in China an unacceptable interference China - could give Helms a chance with the country's internal affairs. to assert joint jurisdiction.

Saying he didn't "particularly relish raining on their parade," Helms said in a statement that there would be Senate votes "perhaps uncomfortable votes - on a range of issues relating to China." He did not elaborate.

Senate Majority Leader Trent Lott, R-Miss., is a strong supporter of the China trade bill.

Wednesday's vote was a big foreign policy victory for Clinton, congressional Republicans and corporate America - and a defeat for organized labor and their Democratic allies in the House.

Clinton welcomed the House vote as a "historic step toward continued prosperity in America, reform in China and peace in the world."

The president said he plans to put as much effort into winning Senate approval for the trade agreement as he had in the House.

"If the Senate votes as the House has just done, to extend permanent normal trade relations with China, it will open new doors of trade for America and new hope for change in China," he said in the Rose Garden.

China also welcomed the vote, but a spokesman for the Trade Ministry alled the bill's creation of commisthe 218 votes needed for House passage. Voting for the measure were 164 Republicans and 73 Democrats.

Labor waged one of its most intense campaigns ever against the bill.

Clinton worked the phones throughout the afternoon to nail down wavering Democrats, the measure's supporters said. Texas Gov. George W. Bush, the likely GOP presidential nominee, also worked to win over wavering Republicans.

The bill has not played a major role in the presidential race, because it is supported by both Bush and Vice President Al Gore.

"I believe the person I saw was Madalyn Murray O'Hair," said William Gordon Jr., an atheism expert who works for the Southern Baptist Convention in Georgia.

O'Hair, her son Jon Garth Murray and her granddaughter, Robin Murray O'Hair disappeared in 1995 with $600,000 in gold coins, although $100,000 of it was later recovered.

Prosecutors believe the O'Hairs were killed, dismembered with a bow saw and buried. However, the bodies have not been found. The prosecution is expected to finish its case early Thursday.

Gordon was the first witness to testify on behalf of Gary Karr, 52, the only man charged in the disappearance. Gordon testified out of order because he was not available Thursday.

Karr faces life in prison if convicted on charges of extortion and kidnapping relating to the trio's disappearance. Two other suspects in the case have not been charged.

Atlantis crew wraps up mission

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - Their most important business finished, the crew of space shuttle Atlantis waited to see if a power glitch in the refurbished international space station will keep them hooked up to the orbiting outpost for another day.

American Susan Helms and Russian Yuri Usachev plugged a fourth and final battery into the Russian control module ahead of schedule Wednesday night. All that remains is for Russian and American flight controllers to charge and test the batteries before returning the station to full power.

If all goes as planned, Atlantis' seven-member crew will start closing up the station tonight in preparation for Friday's undocking.

That schedule could change if NASA cannot work out a small problem with one of the batteries in time. One of the new batteries is causing minor power fluctuations with the others when it is turned on.

NASA managers said the problem was likely in connections between the battery and its converters, which the astronauts were to check today.

Kansas City ends Ranger winning streak, 3-0

Suppan holds potent Ranger offense to only six hits

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) -Tony Muser is not the sort of manager to steal his players' thunder.

That's why it was difficult to pull out of him the fact that Kansas City's 3-0 victory over Texas on Wednesday night meant something special.

A few hours earlier, the Royals announced that the lowkey Muser, who is very popular with his players, signed a two-year contract extension.

"I'm tramned to hide my emotions," Muser said. "(But) was very aware of how the players would respond. If I told you I wasn't thinking about that during the ballgame, I'd be lying to you. I thought about it and I'm very proud of the way they re-

Jeff Suppan (2-4), winless in eight previous starts, shut out the heavy-hitting Rangers on six hits through eight innings, snapping Texas' seven-game winning streak. "He gets the best out of all of us," Suppan said. "Getting on us or pumping us up or walked three. Jerry Spradlin whatever. He deserved that pitched a perfect ninth for his extension and I'm really glad we got a win for him."

The Rangers, who had won 10 of 12, entered the game with a major league-leading .302 batting average, only to be shut out for just the second time this season as Suppan kept them off balance with an

Suppan struck out six and fourth save.

"That's called pitching," Texas manager Johnny Oates said. "He threw a lot of 3-1 and 2-0 changeups. It's pitching when you locate the ball, change speeds and throw what the hitter isn't looking for. He did it very well."

Suppan ended the second, third, fifth and seventh in-nings with strikeouts. The Rangers stranded 10 runners, at least one in every inning, and squandered a chance to move ahead of Seattle into first place in the AL West. "I think I was bearing down the whole game," Suppan said. "I felt like I had to be on top of my game the whole game against this lineup."

With one out in the seventh, Kansas City's Rey Sanchez reached when shortstop Royce Clayton booted his grounder for an error. Johnny Damon then lined a hot grounder off starter Kenny Rogers' right knee for an in-field single, and Mike Sweeney followed with a two-run double. Brian Johnson doublad home the first run in the third.

"I just didn't get hold of it and bobbled the ball," Clayton said. "I just couldn't get a handle on it. That's it."

Rogers (3-5), who missed his previous start because of a strained muscle in his left shoulder, left the game, replaced by Francisco Cordero. Oates said he was not seriously hurt.

In 6 1-3 innings, Rogers gave up seven hits and three runs — only one earned — with one walk and two strikeouts.

Texas' Ivan Rodriguez was 3-for-4 with a double, raising his average to from .366 to .375. He leads the majors with 131 total bases and a .744 slugging percentage. Rain delayed the start of the game by 59 minutes. The Rangers are in a stretch of games against the AL Central.

Owners discuss increasing number of teams in playoffs

BALTIMORE (AP) - The NFL playoffs might soon go the way of the NCAA basketball tournament.

League owners are considering expanding the playoff field to 14 teams and using a seeding system that would make it easier for stronger clubs to advance to the Super Bowl.

The change would occur in 2002, when Houston becomes the NFL's 32nd member and the league switches to eight four-team divisions. Playoff teams would be seeded according to their record.

It's not unlike the NCAA tournament, which is designed to match the best teams against the lower qualifiers.

The top seed in each conference would get a first-round bye, while the team with the second-best record plays the seventh-best team, the third-best faces the sixth-best, and so on. The change was discussed Tuesday and Wednesday at the NFL owners meetings.

Under the current format, 12 teams make the playoffs. Wild-card entrants, regardless of their record, must play on the road against division winners.

"There's a pretty good con-sensus behind the idea of adding two teams to the playoffs," NFL commissioner Paul Tagliabue said Wednesday. "We would add two games the first week. Linked to that is seeding. There's a lot of interest in that."

The new system would force a team that already clinched a division to continue to try to

"If a team can lose the home-field advantage even though they were a division winner under the seeding for-mula, then the last game be-comes critical," Tagliabue said. A final vote probably will be taken in October.

"We didn't get a consensus, but the fact that we were discussing seeding was an important development,' Tagliabue said.

Dallas and Detroit made the playoffs with a 8-8 records in 1999, and some owners are worried that a losing team can qualify for a postseason that includes 14 teams. "I think 12 is enough," Pittsburgh Steelers owner Dan Rooney said. "We have to keep the sanctity of the game intact. I want teams that de-

Thomas, along with Bob McAdoo and Tennessee women's coach Pat Summitt, are taking their places in bas-ketball history by being named Wednesday to the Basketball Hall of Fame.

"As a young guy growing up in the league, you thought about the Hall of Fame as the place where the best of the best went and kind of the old folks," Thomas said Wednes-day. "I don't think any of us as players thought of ourselves as ever being inducted."

The other hall of famers will be coach Morgan Wootten of DeMatha High School in Hyattsville, Md.; Kentucky athletic director C.M. Newton; and the late Syracuse Nationals founder Danny Biasone, who introduced the 24-second clock.

Low-income face 'epidemic' of oral diseases

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS News digest

WASHINGTON - From cavities to mouth cancer, a "silent epidemic" of oral diseases afflicts minorities and low-income Americans even as most of the nation benefits from healthier teeth and gums, the U.S. surgeon general said today.

Thanks to fluoridated drinking water and better dental care, most Americans middleage or younger can expect to keep their teeth for life. Yet dental diseases still threaten the health of low-income people, who are more likely to lose their teeth, said David Satcher, the nation's top doctor.

"Those who suffer the worst oral health are found among the poor of all ages, with poor children and poor older Americans particularly vulnerable," Satcher said in a report. "Members of racial and ethnic minority groups also experi-ence a disproportionate level of oral health problems."

The government's first-ever comprehensive look at oral health in America showed that a combination of social and economic factors - lack of dental insurance, poor diets, tobacco use, a dearth of minority dentists and lack of awareness of the importance of healthy teeth - contribute to poor oral health.

Nearly half of all poor blacks and Hispanics have untreated tooth decay, compared with 27 percent of poor whites, the study showed.

Oral problems begin early more than a third of lowincome children have at least one untreated decayed tooth by the time they are 9 years old, compared with 17 percent of kids living above the poverty line. The disparity gets even greater the older kids get. Over 43 percent of poor kids have tooth decay by age 17 compared to 23 percent of kids who are better off, according to government studies cited in the report.

New Mexico fire finally contained

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. - A fire that blackened nearly 48,000 acres and destroyed more than 200 homes in northern New Mexico was 100 percent contained Wednesday. evening, the Forest Service said.

Fire officials expected to have the Cerro Grande fire snuffed out this week.

Despite containment, Forest Service officials fear the fire, the largest and most de-structive in New Mexico history, could flare up again during thunderstorms forecast for the Los Alamos area this week.

"We have some fuels out there that are prime to burn," said fire information officer Joe Pasinato.

Firefighters on Wednesday completed a 100-mile-long firebreak — an area one foot to 50 feet wide around the blaze that was cleared of forest debris and trees.

More than 600 firefighters, including support staff, still were involved in fighting the blaze, which started May 4 as a controlled burn before winds whipped it out of control and into Los Alamos and its famous nuclear research laboratory. Some 1,400 firefighters were working the fire at its peak last week.

If the fire doesn't flare up again, it is expected to be out by Sunday night, Pasinat said.

Economy soars in first quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) - The supercharged U.S. economy, powered by brisk consumer and government spending, grew at a robust 5.4 percent annual rate during the first three months of 2000, the Commerce Department said today.

The January-through-March increase in the gross domestic product, the nation's total output of goods and services, matched the government's previous estimate and followed the fourth quarter's 7.3 percent rate of growth, the best showing in nearly 16 years. Many analysts expected the government's second estimate of first-quarter growth, which is based on more data than its initial calculation, would come in at a slightly slower rate of 5.2 percent. Higher mortgage rates helped drive down sales of existing homes by an unexpected 6.2 percent in April to a sea-sonally adjusted rate of 4.88 million, the biggest drop since January, the National Associa-tion of Realtors said.

On Wall Street, stocks were little affected by the GDP re-port. The Dow Jones industrial average was down 35 points, while the Nasdaq was up 77. Bond prices slipped.

The first-quarter GDP performance was faster than the to other deficient bridges in the area.

By participating in the program, local govenrments will be able to increase transportation safety and mobility without incurring additional costs.

Under current guidelines, local officials must fund 10 percent of the cost for bridge improvements. The state adds another 10 percent and federal funds make up the remaining 80 percent.

"There are two off-system bridges in Deaf Smith County that can potentially benefit from the change in the program," TxDOT Amarillo District engineer Mark Tomlinson said.

The two Deaf Smith County bridges are on County Road BB over Tierra Blanca Creek about 41/2 miles southwest of Dawn, over Therra Blanca Creek about 4½ miles southwest of Dawn, and CR 4 over Frio Draw, about 5 miles south of Hereford. The bridge on CR BB is a simple I-beam span, two spans 22-feet wide by 47 feet long. The bridge on CR 4 is a sontinues steel, I-beam span, three spans, 21 feet wide by 64 feet long. In the state's proposal, local officials will have the option to use their 10 percent match to improve additional deficient bridges of their choice as long as their design has adequate capacity to handle the weight of a school bus. As a result, local funds are stretched and more deficient bridges are improved quicker, according to TxDOT officials. quicker, according to TxDOT officials.

"Every time we drive over a county or city bridge, we expect to win up safely on the other side," state Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, said. "I applaud the people at TxDOT for finding an innovative way for local governments to maximize their limited transportation dollars and ensure drivers that more deficient bridges will be brought up to our state's safety standards." State transporation officials are taking other steps to speed bridge improvements. They are moving to draft standard bridge designs where possible to reduce design time, speed construction and lower costs.

The officials also are considering contracting tidge improvements in groups or clusters, rather than individually, to save time and money.

In another initiative to assist local officials participating in a federal bridge project, the state will base the required local 10 percent share of the cost estimate made as the project is being planned. TxDOT now bases local participation on the actual cost, which can be higher than earlier estimates. TxDOT also is working to place maps on the Internet by the end of the year that shows bridge location and weight informa-tion. The information is intended to aid school district officials and motor carriers as they plan school bus and commercial truck routes.

Annual funding for the city and county bridge program has increased from $26 million in 1997 to more than $50 million this year. The additional funding in combination wiht the proposed initiatives should triple the total number of deficient bridges improved annually to mroe than 300 bridges on city and county roads across the state, according to state transportation officials.

Texas leads the nation in the number of bridges with 48,500. Two-thirds are on state-maintained highways; one-third are on county and city roads.

Farm aid

1996 law does not provide enough of a safety net for farmers. The extra money for crop insurance could pay for itself by making farmers less dependent on federal disaster assistance and other government programs, USDA officials say. The government splits the cost of crop insurance with farmers. Under the legislation, the federal share of the premium for the most popular type of insurance would jump from 40 percent to 59 rate of 3.5 percent to 4 percent the Federal Reserve regards as the pace that can be sustained without sparking inflation.

Many economists believe economic growth is slowing a bit in the current quarter but will still clock in at a healthy rate in the range of 4 percent or higher.

The Federal Reserve has boosted interest rates six times since June, including a halfpoint increase last week, in an effort to slow the economy and keep inflation from escalating. Even with those rate increases, many economists believe the economy continues to grow too fast.

The measure also would offer coverage for the first time to livestock producers and expand coverage for fruit and vegetable growers.

The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, Texas Republican Larry Combest, said the insurance system will give farmers "comprehensive protection to manage risk from low market values and weather losses."

The $5.5 billion in direct farm payments would go to grain and cotton producers who have annual "market-transition" contracts with the government. That cash is in addition to $5.1 billion in payments that those producers already were scheduled to get this year.

An additional $1.6 billion in the legislation is earmarked for a variety of special commodities - including soybeans, peanuts, tobacco and various fruits and vegetables - that are not covered by the market-transition contracts.

The House-Senate conference committee that crafted the final version of the legislation attached to it another measure that would authorize nearly $250 million in research over the next five years on ways to make ethanol and other chemicals from crops, grass and trees.

AUSTIN - Republican presidential contender George W. Bush says his long list of vice presidential prospects doesn't include Colin Powell, a potent political figure who says he doesn't want the job. "People who don't want to be considered for vice president are not going to be considered for vice president," Bush said on the eve of today's meeting with the former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Just before that get-together, Bush met with South African President Thabo Mbeki and said afterward that South Africa would play an important role in keeping peace in the region. With Mbeki at his side, Bush said, "I told him if all goes well I look forward to working with him.

As for a running mate, Bush said on Wednesday that he also is not considering Arizona Sen. John McCain, the Texas governor's vanquished primary rival who says he doesn't want to play second fiddle at the White House.

"They have told me, they have said publicly, they don't want to be vice president," Bush said. Polls show McCain and Powell are popular with voters and would enhance the GOP ticket. That may be why the Texas governor seemed to leave the door open for both men, saying with a grin, "If they POWELL Former general former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the likely nominee's advisers say Powell is a formidable prospect for the secretary of state post. Bush offered a rare glimpse into his decision-making process, saying he was actively considering "a couple dozen" vice presidential prospects. He said he talks frequently about the choices with Dick Cheney, the former defense secretary heading up his search.

The prospects cut a wide swath throughout the GOP ranks — "T'm looking at every-body," he said — with each candidate undergoing an initial background review.

The other five were found in a basement walk-in re-frigerator, their hands bound behind their backs and their mouths taped shut. Some victims had bags placed over their heads. Four died at the scene and the fifth died soon after arriving at a hos-pital.
