

'PET-FRIENDLY' Humane Society's mission is to improve animals' lot

By Donald Cooper

Hereford Brand Managing Editor Hereford can become known as a "petfriendly city," if the humane society is successful in its work.

At the recent Hereford City Commission meeting, Nathan Stone, president of the Humane Society of Deaf Smith County, was on hand "to introduce you to a group of people who care deeply for our town and for the welfare of the dogs and cats who run adoption system in Deaf Smith and play here and bring joy to a lot of people.' Though the humane society, which has about 60 members, has "no axe to grind," Stone said the organization has concerns about the city's animal shelter. "We are concerned about the condition of the Hereford Animal Shelter. ... the age of the shelter concerns us. The building is old and poorly designed, which makes adequate maintenance impossible," Stone said, adding he believes animal control officer Javier Frausto is doing an outstanding job under the circumstances.

inhumane," Stone said.

Although some residents regard the animal shelter as a "death row for stray animals," Stone said it also serves "as a safe haven for lost animals — pets that have wandered from our homes." Because the animal shelter serves as the only available County, Stone said it should be improved. "Adoptable dogs and cats need an attractive and quality shelter for their well being and to enhance their chances of being adopted," he said. "We want to assist you and work alongside you to make President of Deaf Smith Hereford famous for being a County Humane Society. pet-friendly city," Stone said.

euthanizing the pets is out of date and would probably be the most effective way to achieve improvements.

"About 100 dogs are killed and another 40-50 cats every month and what we don't euthanize, we're running over, which indicates our populace doesn't have the proper education about caring for their pets," Josserand said.

Education about proper pet

VIEWPOINTS

THE UNDECIDEDS: Uncertainty

in this year's presidential race extends well beyond the undecideds to an even larger bloc of voters who have picked either Bush or Gore but aren't solidly committed. --- Page A10

Sprechen Sie Deutsch?: A recent cyber-reunion with an old Army buddy who lives in Germany sparks an attempt to renew linguistic skills that have grown rusty over the past three decades. - Page A4

If it's true that every cloud has a silver lining, the this past Monday's cornerstone setting ceremony at HISD's new complex may mean less thunder and more sunshine. ---Page A4

"We also believe the current method of involving both the organization and the city

The humane society's request drew a favorable response from Hereford officer was available to register pets. Mayor Bob Josserand, who said a joint effort care is one of the organization's goals, Stone stated.

Other goals listed by the organization are:

Continue to provide lowcost vaccination clinics.

The organization has conducted two low-cost pet vaccination clinics, one in June and the other in September. More than 500 dogs and cats were immunized against rabies. At the same time, the city's animal control

Please see ANIMALS, Page A2

Panhandle legislators will be honored next week at West Texas A&M University. Participating are (above, from left) Reps. John Smith of Amarillo, David Swinford of Dumas and Pete Laney of Hale Center, and (left) Sen. Teel Bivins of Amarillo.

Legislators to be feted at WTAMU

Special To The Brand

CANYON - West Texas A&M University will salute some of the state lawmakers who have made a difference in Texas Panhandle higher education during Legislators Appreciation Day, beginning at 11 a.m. Tuesday on campus. Sen. Teel Bivins of Amarillo, state Reps. John Smithee of Amarillo and David Swinford of Dumas, and Texas House Speaker Pete Laney of Hale Center are expected to participate.

Attending lawmakers will be treated to an appreciation luncheon and a tour of the campus, and they will participate in a 20-minute panel discussion on cam-

Please see DAY, Page A2

BRAND/Mauri Montgomery

Congratulations - Members of the Frenship Tigers congratulate the Hereford Whitefaces after Friday night's showdown between the Class 4A powers. Hereford, ranked No. 6 in some polls going into the game, pounded the top-ranked Tigers 48-28. See story, Page A7.

Ed Wieck (center) was honored this past week for his many years of service to the Big T Pump and Irrigation Service. With him were his wife, Armell, and his son, Randy.

Weick witness to the changes

By Dianna F. Dandridge

Hereford Brand Staff Writer

The early years of farming - before wells and sprinklers dotted the land - contrast greatly with machines and devices which technology has provided.

For most of his life, Ed Wieck has worked the land and seen the changes taking the area from straight native grassland ranching and small farms to vegetables, row crops and grain fields. For more than a quarter of a century - 26 years - Wieck has helped direct a local company to make today's technological advances.

Wieck retired this week as a Big T Pump and Irrigation Service director.

Please see WEICK, Page A2

NATHAN STONE

INSIDE

OUTLOOK Today's weather

The forecast for Sunday shows cold weather will dominate the central Plains and central Rockies. Snow showers will whiten the Colorado Rockies. A storm will bring rain to the Midwest and Ohio Valley. Hot, humid weather will cover the Southeast. while the Northwest and West Coast will be dry.

Chance of showers

Tonight: Cloudy with a 30 percent chance of showers, lows 40 to 45, northeast winds 15 to 20 mph and gusty.

Sunday: Cloudy, breezy and unseasonably cool with a 30 percent chance for rain, highs in the lower 50s, north to northeast wind 15 to 25 mph and gusty.

Sunday night: Mostly cloudy with lows around 35.

Extended forecast

Monday: Mostly sunny, highs around 70.

Tuesday: Mostly clear, lows in the mid-40s, highs around 75.

to 50, highs around 80.

Friday's high, 92; low, 46; no precipitation.

Wednesday: Mostly clear, lows 45 Hereford weather

HEREFORD BRAND

Local roundup

 Democrats plan meeting The Deaf Smith Democratic Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the lounge of the Hereford Community Center, 100 Ave. C.

Par-Refreshments will be served. ticipants should use the West Entrance

HERD registration scheduled Registration for HERD courses will students will receive a certificate of be Monday-Wednesday at the Career & Technology Buildings on the Here-ford High School campus.

Classes will begin Oct. 2 in the first in a series of adult education classes at the new C&T buildings. The 10-week classes are free to anyone wishing to participate and

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) -

More than 12,000 people filled the Target Center sports arena Friday night, paying $7 each to hear presidential hopeful Ralph Nader denounce the major party candidates and call for so-

Nader said the crowd was proof his candidacy should be taken seriously

- and that he should be allowed to participate in debates with Republican candidate George W. Bush and Democrat Al Gore.

gathering of paying citizens of the entire year,"

Weick

From Page A1

animals."

"This is the largest

cial justice.

bate!"

completion at the end of the course. Most courses will be 6-9 Tuesdays and Thursdays and will be taught by school staff.

Funding for the adult education classes comes from a grant provided by the Texas Workforce Commission to design and develop the Hereford Employment Readiness Development (HERD) Program. All courses are designed to improve the earning potential of area residents and ulti-mately positively impact-our younger students.

Classes offered will be Food for Today's families; basic computer skills; intermediate computer skill; advanced computer skills; interview-ing skills; certified nursing assistant; basic carpentry; basic automo-tive repair; advanced automotive re-pair; welding; English as a Second Language; and GED programs. For more information, call the Career & Technology department at 269,7704 363-7704.

Animals

From Page A1

• Encourage pet owners to visit a local veterinarian as needed.

 Promote a low-cost spay/neuter program similar to one that is in effect in Amarillo.

 Establish a quality and effective pet adoption program. Hereford Police Lt. Ben Barrick Barrick.

said the animal shelter has received some improvements, such as the outside running pens, installation of a good heating system and an outside cover of the pens. "But the city only has so much money," Barrick said. "Our shel-Animal control officer Javier ter is better than some, Frausto with but not as good as oth-

"Unfortunately, human needs come first. It's going to take the people to donate money to get a new facility. (City Manager) Chester (Nolen) has done a good job in getting us funds," Barrick said, adding a new facility would probably cost about $35,000. Frausto picks up more than 100 dogs per month and 15 cats. Unless the animals' owners claim them or they are adopted, they are euthanized after three days. Feral cats, how-ever, are generally euthanized earlier because they are unadoptable. Barrick noted the humane society has helped with food and feeders, as well as staging the low-cost vaccination clinics.

"Over the weekend, the humane society came out here and took four or five dogs that they found homes for," Barrick said.

From Page A1

pus radio station KWTS-FM (91.1). "If it had not been for the efforts of these gentlemen in recent legislative sessions on our behalf, we would have been very fortunate in merely maintaining the status quo, much less moving forward," WTAMU president Dr. Russell C. Long said. "However, thanks to their committed support, we have made significant ad-

The distinguished guests are sched-

Facility. Each legislator will have an opportunity to speak and take

The on-air panel discussion is scheduled to begin at 1:10 p.m. at the KWTS studio in the Fine Arts Building. The campus tour will be

1:30-2 p.m., followed by individual

For more information, contact Salem Wieck, development officer, at interviews with attending media.

uled to arrive on campus at 11 a.m. The luncheon will be 11:30 a.m.-1 vances as a University."

p.m. at the Alumni Banquet questions from the audience.

Nader calling for shift back to the family farm farmer. "By world a better place.

candidate told the raucous crowd, which shouted, whistled and waved placards that said, "Let Ralph dedential debates. Nader's running mate, Winona

LaDuke — who lives on the White Earth Reservation in northern Minnesota — spoke about generational justice and the environment, and

Weick, who lives in Canyon, has farmed in Deaf Smith, Randall and Hartley counties. He remembers the family farms that were mainly for family consumption, with maybe just back in the late '20s," Wieck said.

"You could hear the big Bessemer one-cylinder wells pumping from a long way off. Then in the late '30s, we had some dry years and folks put in a few wells — mainly so they could have a crop to feed to their "First wells in this area came in a little left over to take to market.

Earlier Friday, Nader_proposed shifting control of U.S. agriculture away from corpohow she and Nader would make the

"We will not be taken for granted, and we will vote," she said.

rate conglomerates and back toward the family weakening the stranglehold agribusiness has on the food industry, we will be able to increase farm gate prices and competition, which will consequently reduce food costs for consumers," he said.

Nader billed the Target Center event a "super rally" and hoped it would draw a large audience to raise money and build support for his inclusion in the presi-

His farm plan calls for stronger enforcement of antitrust laws, prohibition of meatpacker ownership of livestock production facilities and allowing American farmers to grow has seen the improvements and the waste of this precious commodity, water.

Oil reserves released

"We had quite a few 8-inch pumps pumping water into the pits for irrigation. There was a lot of waste. But back then, we didn't know how to take care of it and we didn't know it would end. There always seemed to be a steady stream of drilling, but when the sugar beets started to fade, so did the water. We began to see a lot of people use the 6-inch pumps, then the immersible ones. Now we've got the sprinklers and underground drip systems. It's sad we wasted so much water back then, but we just didn't have the technology we do now. You hardly ever see any waste anymore," he said.

the tough years," he said. Weick also expects technology to bring about innovations and lessexpensive ways of finding deeper water and better ways of using the water we have.

"We have only scratched the surface on the Santa Rosa," he said.

He doesn't really expect water to ever be pumped from the oceans and through desalinization plants because of the cost of transporting water up the Caprock; however, he does expect cities and towns to develop dual water systems which will use gray industrial hemp.

Next to him on a table during a news conference sat a pile of 18,000 signatures of Minnesotans requesting that Nader be included in the debates.

12,000 at a rally in Minneapolis, Minn.

The Minnesota stop was the second of four major rallies. The first, in Portland, Ore., was nearly as large as Friday's event, selling out with 10,000 tickets at $7 apiece.

FCE to hold fall luncheon.

The Deaf Smith County Family Community Education Clubs and Council will hold its fall luncheon at noon Monday in the Heritage Room of the Deaf Smith County Library, 211 E. 4th. The program will be presented by the State Delegates on their recent trip to the State convention in Odessa.

Each FCE member is urged to bring a guest and a covered dish for the luncheon.

FCE Council will follow.

Old Timers Day set •

BRODVIEW, N.M. - Pioneer families of northern Curry and eastern Quay counties will be honored Oct. 1 at "Old Timers Day" at the Nazarene Church of Broadview,

A church service is planned for 11 a.m. and a potluck dinner will be served at noon. Meat and beverages will be provided.

Afternoon entertainment and music will be provided by the Border Town Four.

HerefordBrand

The Hereford Brand (USPS-242-060) is published daily except Sunday, Mondays, July 4. Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day and New Year's Day by The Hereford Brand Inc., 313 N. Lee, Hereford, TX 79045. Second-class postage paid at the U.S. Post Office in Hereford, Texas.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Hereford Brand, P.O. Box 673, Hereford, TX 79045.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: Home delivery by carrier in Hereford, $5.20 per month; by mail in Deaf Smith County or adjoining counties, $52 per year; mail to other Texas areas, $57.50 per year; outside Texas, $60 per year

The Hereford Brand is a member of The Associated Press, which is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news and dispatches in this newspaper and also local news published herein. All rights are reserved for republication of special dispatches.

The Hereford Brand was established as a weekly in February 1901, converted to a semi-weekly in 1948, and to five days weekly on July 4, 1976.

Publisher

O.G. Nieman Publisher (1972-98) Mauri Montgomery Managing Editor Circulation Manager Donald M. Cooper Jay Guerrero

The drilling of new wells was temporarily suspended during World War II.

"We didn't see new wells until '45 or '46. Then after the war, grain prices were good and irrigation was cheap. That's when a lot of landowners put in their first wells. Then they started raising crops for sale, not just to feed to their own animals. The vegetable crops really took off. Then we started getting a lot of wells for commercial grain production," he said.

In the years Weick has been farming and working with the Big T, he

HEREFORD BRAND Emergency services

Activities reported by emergency services personnel for Sept. 22 include: POLICE DEPARTMENT Arrests

· A 52-year-old man was arrested in the 500 block of Blevins and charged with driving while intoxicated.

 Two women were arrested in the 400 block of North Main and charged with disorderly conduct.

 A 33-year-old man was arrested at Avenue K and Wulf and charged with public intoxication.

 A resident in the 600 block of Blevins reported someone had laid roofing nails behind his tires causing two flat tires when he backed over them.

· An assault by threat was reported in the 400 block of East Fourth Street. Charges have not been filed at this time.

· A criminal mischief resulting in the paint damage to the hood and trunk and a damaged windshield was reported in the 200 block of Avenue F. Damage is estimated at $300.

 A criminal mischief causing $500 damage was reported in the 100 block of Lawton.

Minor accidents were reported in the 200 block of Avenue F; the 100 block of 16th; and the 400 block of South 25 Mile Avenue.

Weick has turned over the operations of his farms to his sons, but he continues to look ahead at what is in store for area farmers.

"I imagine we're gonna have to go back to what our forefathers did. They're going to have to go back to wheat and cattle. They both worked pretty good on dry land. Folks just learned to salt away something in the good years and rough it out in water - dishwater, bathwater, and washing machine water - to irrigate lawns and parks.

As far as spending 26 years on the Big T board, Weick says he has few regrets.

'We've got some good people here and through the years, we've kept a good number employed. That means something to the community. The water, it's a serious thing all over the country. We're gonna have to pay more attention to how we use it. There will always be work for Big T."

Ford has been recommending is lower than what Bridgestone/Firestone suggests. The Ford letter says the new pressure recommendation applies to Explorer owners with Firestone P235/ 75R15 tires, but does not say whether it applies to other tires installed on the Explorer. Bridgestone/Firestone last month recalled 6.5 million ATX, ATX II and Wilderness AT tires, most of which were original equipment on Explorers. Federal investigators are investigating the possible role of the tires in wrecks that resulted in more than 100 deaths and 400 injuries.

State suspends security clearance of ambassador

WASHINGTON - The State Department has suspended the security clearance of U.S. Ambassador to Israel Martin S. Indyk pending an investigation into alleged security violations, a State Department official -said Saturday. The official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said there was "no indication of espionage in this matter," and that Indyk has "cooperated fully" with investigators from the State Department and FBI. "At this time there has been no indication that any intelligence information has been compromised," the official said. "This is a question of security procedures that have not been followed." Indyk, 49, is barred from handling classified materials and must be escorted inside the State Department building.

The winning Cash Five numbers drawn Friday by the Texas Lottery: 3-25-30-34-35

0.4

The winning Pick 3 numbers drawn Friday by the Texas Lottery, in order: 4-2-5

Parkside Chapel Funeral Home We Accept ANY Pre-Arranged Funeral Plan..." 601 N. Main Street Hereford, Texas 79045 24 hr. Phone 363-2300

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS News digest

WASHINGTON - Citing a prospective heating oil crisis, the government is putting 30 million barrels of its petroleum stockpile into the market, hoping the additional crude will ease tight supplies and reduce prices before the arrival of winter, Analysts were uncertain how much of an impact the additional oil will have as it is released from the government reserve over the next 30 days, and Republicans called it an election-year ploy aimed at getting votes for Vice President Al Gore. "This is not political," declared Energy Secretary Bill Richardson.

Ford raises its pressure recommendation for tires

DETROIT - Ford Motor Co. is recommending that Explorer owners add more air to their Firestone tires. On Friday, Ford released a letter saying it's raising its recommenda-tion to 30 pounds per square inch from 26 psi. On Thursday, a Bridgestone/Firestone Inc. executive told Congress that the 26 psi level

Incidents

Local DAR chapter seeking the names of Korean veterans

Los Ciboleros Chapter NSDAR is seeking names of Korean .War veterans as part of the 50th anniversary observance continues

Information gathered on the veterans will be compiled in book form, including as much detail as possible of what has been provided. The finished product will be available through the Deaf Smith County Public Library. If you are a Korean War veteran or have information on a Korean veteran, please contact: • Friona area: Lesta Lee Neill, 250-3363; • Dimmitt/Nazareth: Charlotte Clark, 276-5601; and Hereford and area towns: Jean Beene, 364-6117.

 Commemorative pins available to veterans U.S. veterans of the Korean War are eligible for a commemorative 50th Anniversary Korean War pin issued through the U.S. Department of Defense, according to U.S.

Rep. Larry Combest. "The 50th anniversary pin is a small token of our immense appreciation and admiration of their courage," Combest

The U.S. began observances of the 50th anniversary of the Korean War, which is commonly known as the "forgotten war." During the 37-month war, nearly 34,000 Americans died in action and more than 100,000 were wounded.

Any veteran who served in the theater of war — on Korean soil — between June 25, 1950 and July 27, 1953, is eligible to receive the pin. Spouses or families of deceased veterans who served during these dates also are entitled to veterans who served during these dates also are entitled to claim one pin per family. To apply for the pin, a veteran will need to provide name, address, telephone number and dates of service. The veteran also should provide a copy of the report of separation, commonly known as a DD-214 or a corrected version of that document, a DD-215. National Guard members should provide the statement of service equivalent, NGB Form 22. All branches of the U.S. armed services will be recognized.

For more information, contact one of Combest's offices or visit the Combest website, http://www.house.gov/ combest/kvets.htm.

Hearing on hospital tax rate set

By Donald Cooper

Hereford Brand Managing Editor Area residents who want to comment on the Deaf Smith County Hospital District's proposed Fiscal 2001 tax rate will get a chance to air their opinions.

The hospital district directors will conduct a public hearing at noon Monday in the board room of Hereford Re-gional Medical Center, 801 E. 3rd, to allow the public to express their opinion about the

The hospital district is proposing a tax rate of 23.1 cents per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 1.98 cents.

INSIDE

The effective is 20.57 cents, while the rollback rate is 23.12 cents. The effective tax rate is the rate required to generate the same amount of revenue as the current level. If the rollback rate is exceeded, the taxpayers could petition for an election to decide if the level is allowed to stand.

The hospital district must year. conduct the public hearing because the proposed tax rate is more than 3 percent above the notice and hearing limit of 21.18 cents.

The average taxable value of a residence within the hospital district has been pegged at $46,902, up from $46,013 this year. If the 23.1cent rate goes into effect, the tax bill for the average residential property would be $108.34, up from $97.18 this

The proposed rate would generate $1,339,186, and increase of $114,776 over the current year.

The tax rate actually provides revenue for two areas - 20.83 cents provides maintenance/operations funding, while 2.27 cents is for debt service.

The maintenance/operations levy will generate $1,207,587, while the debt service levy will provide $133,600.

Hospital, clinic project profits in FY 2001

The budget approved last week by the Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors on Tuesday anticipates a small profit next fiscal year for both Hereford Regional Medical Center and Hereford Health Clinic.

The consolidated FY 2001 budget, which includes both the hospital and the clinic, projects total operating revenue of $12,289,729 and total operating expenses of $13,721,442, leaving an opera-tions loss of $1,431,713. This loss is expected to be offset by $1,454,496 in non-operating revenue, leaving a net gain of $22,783 for the year. HRMC

In looking at the budget, the administration estimates $11,442,036 in total operating revenue and $12,881,820 in to- $1,354,380 tal operating expenses, leaving a operations loss of $1,439,784. That will be offset by $1,454,496 in non-operating income, leaving a net gain of $14,712.

The major expenses include wages/salaries, $4,971,540; benefits, $1,689,012; supplies, $1,210,740; purchases services, $1,109,748 and uncollectables,

HEALTH CLINIC

The administration projects $847,693 in revenue and $839,622 in expenses, leaving a net profit of $8,071 for the next fiscal year. That would represent a turnaround for the health clinic, which is expected to finish FY 2000 with a loss of $227,187. In 1999, the clinic showed a loss of $332,700.

Veterans seminar on benefits slated

AUSTIN - Texas Land Commissioner David Dewhurst, Chairman of the Texas Veterans Land Board (TVLB), urges veterans to attend a seminar next week on improved state benefits that many are eligible to receive. One of the most exciting changes to be discussed is the new low-interest, $150,0000-maximum TVLB home loan, which Dewhurst proposed to the Legislature and Gov. George W. Bush recently signed into law.

The free seminar will begin at 6 p.m. Tuesday at Texas A&M Research & Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West. It will cover TVLB home. land and home improvement loans for Texas veterans. After the presentation, a question-and-answer period is scheduled and the seminar will end with one-on-one discussions.

loans our brave Texas veterans can buy good homes and enjoy affordable monthly pay-ments," Dewhurst said. "And this program doesn't cost the state of Texas one dime, but saves our veterans lots of money. I'd say that's a definite win-win for everyone.'

Dewhurst said the higher maximum loans — more than triple the old limit - make or remain teachers, and to current teachers who are spouses of veterans. Dewhurst also initiated a program that cuts interest rates on home loans for Texas veterans with service-connected disabilities.

Deaf Smith County veterans should contact Jessica Detten in Combest's Amarillo office, 5809 S. Western, No. 205, Amarillo 79110. For more information, call Jessica Detten at 353-3945.

Cold War veterans granted certificate

For more than four decades, hundreds of thousands of young Americans served their country in a war that was not a war, in a cold war.

In 1998, the U.S. defense secretary approved awarding Cold War Recognition Certificates to all members of the armed forces, including the National Guard and reserves, and qualified government civilian personnel who served the nation during the Cold War era, Sept. 2, 1945-Dec. 26, 1991.

The applicants must certify their service was "faithful and honorable," and they also must provide documentation that shows they served during the Cold War era. For deceased veterans, the certificate may be awarded to relatives who apply.

Supporting documentation, which must be submitted with the request, includes military service number, foreign service number or Social Security number, a copy of a DD-214 or a DD-215.

The request should be sent to: CDR, PERSCOM Cold War Recognition, Hoffmann II Attn. TAPC-CWRS, 3N45 200 Stovall St. Alexandria, VA 22332-0473.

ASK ABOUT HOME BANKING

Your life is Busy.

> We have Solutions.

Busy? Now You Can Bank Without Leaving Home.

It's a snap - all you need is a computer, a modem, and our address .... www.hsbhereford.com.

We'll bring the whole bank right to you. No lines, no closing time. You can access our fully-secured site with confidence anytime, day or night, seven days a week.

Real-Time Action.

•Pay your bills •Shop for bank services •Balance your checkbook •Stop payments •Project loan and mortgage loans

In Your Bathrobe.

 Make savings account inquiries

•Transfer funds from one account to another •Make Installment loan payments

With Rover by Your Side.

•Plan your budget online ·Check out your account balances •Project potential earnings on a CD

MEMBER FDIC • 3rd & Sampson • 364-3456 Time & Temperature 364-5100 • Voice Mail 364-1149 E-mail: hsbcld.@wtrt.net

WPOINTS

HEREFORD BRAND • Saturday, September 23, 2000

O.G. (SPEEDY) NIEMAN MAURI MONTGOMERY Publisher (1972-1999) DONALD COOPER

Managing Editor CONGRESS SHALL MAKE no law respecting an establisment of religion, prohibiting the tree exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech, of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances FIRST AMENDMENT TO THE CONSITUTION

66 We're having a pretty tough economic situation, with no rain and the farmers taking a hit. The strong economies of the state and nation aren't being reflected in Deaf Smith County. 99

CHESTER NOLEN.

Hereford city manager discussing the difficulties in preparing the Fiscal 2001 city budget.

perfect world, everyone would already have the provisions needed to enjoy and sustain a full and wonderful life.

And, in that perfect world, there would be no need to ask people to give to the United Way of Deaf Smith County.

The world, though, isn't perfect.

There are many social, physical and psychological needs that are never met within our community.

United Way of Deaf Smith County, and the 13 local agencies it serves, help fill those needs on shoestring budgets each year. Those agencies are American Red ross, Big Brothers Big Sisters, Scouts, Children's Rehabilitation, Girl Scouts, Home Delivered Meals Program of the Senior Citizens Association, Kids Inc., Salvation Army, Texas Panhandle Mental Health Authority, Women and Children's Crisis Center and Hereford and Vicinity YMCA. Many Hereford residents are aware of existing needs and will give their share to help someone less fortunate this year. Some will give more than their fair share. Some will give less. Some won't give at all.

Sprechen Sie Deutsch?

o say my German is a little rusty is more than an understatement, it would be giving me the benefit of the doubt. It wasn't always that way. While I was never able to pass myself off as a German, I was reasonably fluent in the language during my three years in Berlin. But after coming back to the States in October 1968, I no longer had any cause to use my German, so it became a faded memory.

Actually, I had two occasions to use the language over the years. In 1972, some German tourists came into Poncho's News Stand in Big Spring, Texas, and needed directions to get to the interstate so they could go on to El Paso: Fortunately, I still retained enough of my German to tell them what they wanted to know.

That was it until 1989. Annette and I were going through the Petrified Forest. We had stopped and were looking at some petroglyphs when I overheard some other visitors talking. In German. I listened and was tickled to be able to follow the gist of their conversation, which was mostly about how hot it was and why weren't there any restrooms. Since C Trick: Sort of a Memoir, my book about my days with the old Army Security Agency unit in Berlin, was published, I've had some contacts with people in Berlin. Heiko Burkhardt gave me permission to use his 1968 photograph of the Berlin Wall in the book and has plugged it on his webpage. Dr. Helmut Trotnow, director of the Allied Museum in Berlin, asked for a copy of C Trick to be included in the museum's Cold War collection because all of the other books about Berlin during that period were written by diplomats and military brass. Dr. Trotnow said C Trick is the only book written from the enlisted man's perspective that's available. After the ASA shut down its listening post atop Teufelsberg, a 400-foot-tall mountain of rubble in the Grünewald, the Berlin government has wondered what to do with it. The project is to build a complex of condos, a hotel, offices and restaurants up there. Because the antenna bubbles have become such a part of Berlin's skyline, the Hill was declared a historic site, so the developers have to incorporate the bubbles in their plan. Dr. Trotnow said he hoped to bring me to Berlin as a special guest when the complex is dedicated, most likely in about two years. All of my contacts with Heiko and Dr. Trotnow have been in English, so I still haven't had to draw on my depleted German language resources. That's how it stood until August when I had a cyber-reunion with my old Army buddy Tom Maguire, whom I had not seen or spoken to in 32 years. Since getting out of the Army, Tom's been living in Germany, mostly in Berlin.

After all those years in Germany, Tom's very fluent in German. He's also been switching into German for part of his e-mails, forcing me to remember words and phrases I had forgotten. When he learned about Dr. Trotnow's possible invitation, Tom said that I need to revive my use of German for the dedication ceremony.

Last Sunday morning, I got a call from

They say every

Hello, Hereford.

f it is true that every cloud has a silver lining, then this past Monday's cornerstone setting ceremony at .Hereford Independent School District's sprawling new Career and Technology complex may mark the start of better things - less thunder and more sunshine.

To some extent, almost everyone in this community, by now, is aware that some controversy surrounded the aggressive building project. And while opinions still differ about whether such controversy was warranted, few can argue that the project's final tab ($14.3 million) was misrepresented to the HISD school board, and to taxpayers - the scope of which helped necessitate two back-to-back tax increases, 5 and 7 cents, and will inevitably strap the school district's operating capital for the next 20 years.

Then, throw in the loss of one entire and sorely-needed high school student parking lot; falling school enrollment, a sagging local tax base, the district's tax abatement commitments, vast technology purchases and additional campus improvements throughout the district; and it's easy to see why former HISD superintendent Jack Patton felt compelled to move closer to his parents.

One for the history books

All of that is old news - a supplement for future history books.

Yet, it still sets the tone for our school district's passionate resolve to prove good things can come from adversity: the district is working very hard to maximize both student and adult educational opportunities at the new buildings.

Starting Oct. 2, the school district will implement the Hereford Employment Readiness Development Grant (HERD) which was obtained from the Texas Workforce Commission. The grant will afford adults the opportunity to learn or enhance skills in a wide variety of trade areas ranging from computer technology and basic food preparation - to nursing, carpentry, welding, automotive repair, interviewing for employment, language and General Educational Development (GED) testing preparation. Most of the courses run for a 10-week period. And, out of the 13 separate classes being offered 6 to 9 p.m. on different days throughout the week, all but two are free of cost. A $5 fee is required for GED classroom instruction. Surprisingly, less than 100 people attended Monday afternoon's open house at the new Hereford High facilities, and many of those present were involved in the formal dedication ceremony provided by the Hereford Masonic Lodge. Later that evening, a special program covering the HERD grant drew fewer still. For those who missed the open house, the new instructional buildings are every bit as grand on the inside as they appear to be from the exterior.

But never convince yourself that your pledge would be too small. A gift of 10cents per week ($5.20 total) could greatly bolster this town's effort to meet as many needs as fiscally possible.

Volunteers within the community began this past Monday to call on businesses, civic groups and other community organizations, asking for their support and help in reaching this year's local United Way campaign goal to raise $132,000.

When you are asked if you will be able to help in this fund-raising endeavor, we hope you will consider that your contribution will directly affect someone who needs help in Hereford - a neighbor or child you have not yet met, nor may ever meet.

It's a worthy cause in an imperfect world.

KUDOS

Band director changes look

Gary Owens, the new Hereford High band director, is raising more than a few eyebrows over his understanding of etiquette, and the sound it makes with, or without, music.

While under his direction, the Mighty Maroon Band has taken on the look and actions of a band that will soon command more of the respect which is deserving of a music program so richly steeped in a tradition of excellence.

Whether marching on the field or into and out of the stands, there's more polish and discipline in this year's Maroon ranks than we've seen in some time - it looks professional, even to those of us who don't understand the many attributes a good band must have. We have also observed the band kneel

Please see KUDOS, Page A5

21

Tom, and we reminisced for nearly an hour. admit it was a bit unnerving when I answered the phone and heard someone speaking to me in German for the first time in years. He's encouraging me to study German, even suggesting some books and language tapes that could help.

I still have my old Deutsch-englisch wörterbuch from Monterey and a textbook that uses conversational patterns to teach German. So, I've been studying a few pages every night.

It's a long way to reasonable fluency, but Tom's assuring me that I'll make it.

A little learning sometimes leads to a big faux pas.

When I was a student at the Defense Language Institute in Monterey, Calif., the head of the German department decided to take our class to a soccer  $- fu\beta ball - match$ in San Francisco. We settled into our seats to watch the Hannover. 1896ers take on Nottingham Forest, a British squad.

As I remember, the score was tied 1-1 in the second half when a German player managed to break lose from the British coverage and moved into range. He gave a powerful kick, driving the ball past the goalie's outstretched arms into the net for a goal, or Tor.

In German sports jargon, a player "shoots" a goal, so Bobby Hyde, one of my classmates, jumped up and shouted at the top of his lungs: "He shot a goal!"

Or, so he thought.

Herr Becker, a former member of Field Marshall Rommel's staff, looked at Bobby and said drily: "I don't think that's possible.

In his excitement, my classmate had cheered what would normally be a very private bodily function.

Donald . Cooper kann bei cooper@herefordbrand.com in Verbindung getreten werden.

Cavernous is the adjective that immediately comes to mind.

Wide open auto, agriculture, woodworking and homemaking labs adjoin separate classrooms that once shared a common space. A new meat lab, paneled with polished stainless steel, presents itself as a model for sterile environments - imagined only of vacuum-sealed bio-technology labs.

A striking new landscape

Among those complements is a striking commons area in Building II, replete with surrounding display cases, a vaulted ceiling topped by arching skylights - all of which are guarded by the towering historical presence of an authentic windmill donated by the Hagar family of Dawn.

New paint, brightly-lighted shops and even digital clocks in the halls give the complex a look and feel that would draw the envy of many modern college alumni.

And one didn't have to look very far or wide to see the pride worn by HHS instructors whose new classroom addresses now reside at the new annexes lining the north and south side of Grand Street.

Most of the teachers had for many years been hobbled by space limitations in Hereford High, even if they didn't often complain publically.

They can well use the extra leg room.

And from a personal perspective, Here-ford taxpayers did get their money's worth in these new facilities - even if we were mislead about our ability to pay for them. They truly are beautiful.

Now, it's time to put our money to work.

HEREFORD BRAND · Saturday, September 23, 2000 ·

VIEWPOINTS

Dukakis says Bush will do OK in debate

or George W. Bush, the first question ever asked in a televised presidential, campsign debate may echo 40 years later as he and Al Gore meet one-on-one: the ques-tion of the candidate's maturity and depth for White House leadership. Not that the Texas gover-nor hasn't answered, but it persists, revived by slips of the tongue and cam-paign flubs. While Gore has erred and misstated on some points, the burden of proving presidential stature has been on Bush.

The three debates, especially the opening one on Oct. 3, are the stage from which Bush needs to dispel the impression the Democrats will try to promote, that he is not quite up to the job.

Dear Editor:

coming

And Gore needs to show himself a better successor to the Democratic administration in which he has served as No. 2 for the past eight years. With the adpublic opinion polls and with & an apparent lead for the state electoral votes that will choose a president, Gore's priority has to be to avoid any major shake-up in the situation. And also to avoid the strident, attacking style that sometimes he showed during the debates of the Democratic primary campaign. A veteran of presidential debate, Michael Dukakis, the 1988 Democratic nominee, suggests that debating is more likely to reinforce campaign trends shake-up.

Herd fan is annoyed

than to create them. Dukakis lost that election to Bush's father. "I don't think there's a great deal of evidence that debates really change things," the nor said in an interview. He said if he had been running stronger against Bush, the hits he took over his debate performance wouldn't have made so much difference.

Dukakis, now a professor at Northeastern University in Boston, said "if you're kind of trending," debates can strengthen the trend, up, or as in his losing campaign, down. Dukakis said he thinks the Democratic trend is up.

Advance billings also are a factor.

"I know the man is a great debater," Bush says of Gore. He says it often, always adding that he is eager for their debates so he can present his case on the issues and on his record in Texas.

"He'll be OK in the debates," Dukakis said. "I have no doubt that he'll do reasonably well." He said Gore will have to match higher expectations. "He's got to be better than good," Dukakis said.

To get back to that first-ever debate question, it was put to John F. Kennedy in 1960. His opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, had said that Kennedy was naive, at times immature, and had raised leadership as an issue.

Kennedy replied that he had ample experience, that he'd been in the govern-George W. Bush ment as long as will need to dispel Nixon, and that the the impression that real issue was whether Americans he isn't quite up to the job. wanted his programs and views or those of the Republican.

They chose Kennedy's, nar-rowly. The four debates, especially the first, in which a weary, ailing Nixon looked worse than he sounded, were to Kennedy's advantage as the lesser-known nominee.

They helped him to present himself as a man of presidential capabilities. That is Bush's objective now as he and Gore meet before TV audiences that have been between 60 million and 70 million in competitive cam-paigns of the past, although the ratings dropped in 1996. Gore spent 16 years in Con-gress before he became vice president; Bush is in his second term as governor of Texas. He is 54, two years older than Gore. "I've had a lot of experience," he said on the Oprah Winfrey show the other day. "I'm well educated." But said he he doesn't talk down to people because "thinking than you're smarter than everyone else' isn't the way to lead.

The three presidential debates and one between the vice presidential nominees. Dick Cheney and Joe Lieberman, are coming in a two-week span, from Oct. 3 to Oct. 17.

"Debates freeze a campaign," Bush wrote after he ran for governor of Texas in 1994. News coverage focuses on the buildup and preparation, nothing else gets through." That is almost sure to be the pattern in the 2000 campaign. When they are done, there will be only three weeks until election day. Not long to hold or to counter any debate advantage either ticket gains.

Walter R. Mears has re-ported on presidential debates since 1960.

Crown of Texas Hospice Staff and Volunteers Cordially invite You and Your family To attend a "Celebration of Life Service" Honoring Loved Ones

> Sunday, October 1, 2000 2:00 p.m.

Fellowship of Believers Church 245 N. Kingwood Hereford, Texas

Crown of Texas

blasted Justice Federal Judge James turned to the handling of the Parker could have understandably gaveled his quick approval of physicist Wen Ho Lee's onecount plea bargain and disapnation. ..." peared into his chambers, relieved to have the whole dis-

COMMENT

Judge correctly

tasteful mess behind him. But Parker went further. He apologized to Lee for the scientist's unacceptable treatment at the hands of the criminal justice system and issued a stinging rebuke to the Justice Department, FBI and Energy Department for having badly misled him - he stopped short of saying lied — at a bail hearing last ment, and then the judge

BRAND

E-mail

mauri@herefordbrand.com

cooper@herefordbrand.com thorn@herefordbrand.com dianna@herefordbrand.com jeffb@herefordbrand.com

hbnews@wtrt.net

hbnews@hotmail.com

On behalf of himself and the federal judiciary, Parker apologized to Lee for his treat-

December.

case by the Justice and Energy departments: "They did not embarrass me alone. They have embarrassed our entire

That's not enough. Trampled in this case was Lee's constitutional presumption of innocence, a right fundamental to this nation.

More than an apology is necessary. An explanation is demanded.

Hour FOR MORE INFORMATION (806) 372-7696 (800) 572-6365

Al Gore's priority in the debate will be the avoid any major

LETTERS

As an avid fan of the Herd, I would like to thank those Hereford residents who live on Stadium Drive for being patient with the game night traffic congestion and tolerant of the noise, year after year. It takes a special person to live across from the field. Each of us has had to endure the inconvenience caused by the work on 25 Mile Road and all of the orange cones directing us one way and then another, so you can imagine how surprised I was to see city Water Department orange cones in front of a home on Stadium Drive on Friday night Sant 15 L falt computer the city works to the city on Friday night, Sept. 15. I felt sorry for the city workers that were going to have to be working on a water line in the midst of game traffic.

people from parking in front of her home because she had friends

What I discovered was that one resident was using the cones to keep in from out of town and she wanted them to be able to park in front of her house. Unfortunately, I had parked on the street in front of her home at 5:30 p.m. That was before she decided to "cone off" the area.

When I returned to my vehicle at 6:30 p.m. to get my camera, etc. to record the entrance of the band onto the field, this resident asked me to move. By then, the street was full of cars and choices of places to park was pretty slim. I moved, but I couldn't help but wonder what would happen if all Hereford residents were given six orange cones and the freedom to direct traffic and block-off areas of the public streets in any way that suits them. We'd have a mess!

It takes a special person to be able to live close to the stadium and share the public property that may inconvenience them on a game night. To those residents who are so patient with the traffic and fans, I say "thank you". To the woman who created private parking on a public street, I say: "I know a good realtor."

JO OCHS

Physician's skills lauded

Dear Editor:

Our community is blessed with many good physicians whose work sometimes goes unrecognized, but I would like to bring to your attention Dr. Howard Johnson.

My family and I recently celebrated my youngest child's birthday, and I want to express my appreciation to Dr. Johnson. Five years ago, I was a very high-risk pregnant patient ... as I was about to deliver, I went into stress and put my unborn child into distress ... For a while, I thought I had lost her, but by the grace of God and Dr. Johnson's medical skills, we are celebrating five years. ... ESABEL CANTU, MARTINA G. RIVERA

and FAMILY

Kudos

From Page A4

quietly, and with hats at rest, pay proper respect to those who share their commitment to music, but who wear starkly different uniforms.

We like that, even if we're not experts.

364-3030

517 N. 25 Mile Ave. Hereford, Texas

Optometrists Dr. Ken McCarty

Dr. William Townsend

Dr. Janet Townsend

Dr. Kevin Appel

Trust in the comfort of better vision

Your eye care professional can show you how Varilux" lenses give you better vision - near, far, and everywhere in between.

azarene Carreina Academy 4410 farlara 30

Ligresort.

The comfort of better

ie cincinnati post

A6 • HEREFORD BRAND • Saturday, September 23, 2000

Health Care Spending in Texas

Health care injects a lot of money into local economies. Statewide, Texans spent more than $70 billion on health care in 1998 and the estimated spending

| 09                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Health Care Spendin                                                                        |             |                    |             |          |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------|-------------|----------|
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ComptrollerRomanic Region                                                              | Private     | (im BillPublic | (hant)      | Tetal    |
| Carrageles dans                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Metropies                                                                                  | $10.65     | $5.63             | 50.25       | $16.53  |
| Burrand Burrand                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Gulf Coast                                                                                 | 9.28        | 6.00               | 0.34        | 15.6     |
| Westlease                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Upper South Tenas                                                                          | 3.73        | 4.15               | 0.12        | 8.00     |
| Gentral Innas                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Central Tenas                                                                              | 4.37        | 2.84               | 0.11        | 7.31     |
| 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Lower South lienas                                                                         | 2.75        | 2.66               | 0.05        | 5.4)     |
| for is and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Upper East Texas                                                                           | 2.86        | 1.69               | 8.88        | 3.81     |
| Non-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | High Plains                                                                                | 1,56        | 1,28               | 0.86        | 2.98     |
| And the second s | Southeast Texas                                                                            | 1.49        | 1.36               | 0.03        | 2.80     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Northwest Texas                                                                            | 1.84        | 1.14               | 9.82        | 2.30     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Upper No Grande                                                                            | 1.19        | 1.84               | 0.05        | 2.20     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | West Texas                                                                                 | 1.10        | 4.82               | 0.82        | 1.94     |
| 90 U.A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                            |             |                    |             | dist. 1  |
| OURCE Caroler Releases Rylander,Heas Comprises of Public Accounts                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | The estimated $69 billion sstatewide spending of $70cannot be directly identifie | billion bec | Bulle mon          | e than ST b | the tota |

Three new exhibits to be on display at Amarillo museum through Nov. 15

Special to The Brand

AMARILLO - Three new art exhibitions will be on display through Nov. 5 at the Amarillo Museum of Art, 2200 S. Van Buren.

Texart 2000

"Texart 2000" is a survey of professionallyl trained artists who are working in some of the largest artistic centers in Texas.

Different media, including painting, sculpture and photography, and styles, ragning from realism to minimalism, will be featured. Artists in the exhibition include J. Hall of Houston, Otis Jones of Dallas, Ken Dixon of Lubbock, Jack Gilson of Austin and John Pomara of Dallas.

Much of the work reflects the recent shift toward abstract paintig, which is often influenced by images and processes related to electronic technology. Works by Women Artists

The Amarillo Museum of Art's first acquisition was of a woman artist, Electra Waggoner Biggs, in 1972. This littleknown fact serves as the touchstone to this exhibition of work by women artists in the museum's permanent collection.

Over the past 28 years, many works by women artists have been donated to the museum and many are notable in their contributions to American art.

Louise Nevelson, Bernice Abbott, Georgia O'Keeffe and Dorthea Lange will represent the early and mid-20th century. Such national recognized artists as Melissa Miller, Linda Connor and Joan Brown will be among the artists representing the last quarter of the 20th century. The museum also will show works by European woemn artists, including Camilla Friedlander (19th century) and Marguerite Gerard (18th century).

INSIDE

Deaf Smith County residents are invited to offer comments about the content of the draft Llano Estacado Regional Water Management Plan at a public hearing set for 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center, 1501 6th

"This public hearing will give area residents the opportunity to comment on various water management strategies in the draft plan which are recommended to help conserve and preserve our electric generating utilities, region's surface and ground water resources for the next 50 years," said A. Wayne Wyatt of Lubbock, chairman of the planning group.

As part of the provisions of Senate Bill 1 passed during the 75th Texas Legislature, the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) in Austin di-JOSSERAND Hereford mayor is a member of the planning group.

interest user These groups. groups include agriculture, public sector, county governments, municipalities, industries, environmental issues, small businesses,

Water plan hearing s

vided the state into 16 regional water planning areas. The Llano Estacado Regional Water Planning region is man-aged by a group of area residents representing 11 water

river authorities, water districts and water utilities. Hereford Mayor Bob Josserand is a member of the planning group. The Llano Estacado Regional Water Planning Group has been working since February 1998 to develop a regional water plan that identifies both short-term (2000-2030) and long-term (2031-2050) water supply needs and recommends water management strategies.

"The draft plan contains a description of the Llano Estacado Regional Water Planning area, population and wa-ter demand projections, water supplies identified by the planning group, projected water supplies and needs for counties within the planning region and the recommended short-term and long-term water management strategies," Wyatt said.

Copies of the draft plan are available for review in the county clerk's office in each of the 21 counties within the planning region: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Parmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum. In addition, a copy is available for

2. "Monster" by Jonathan

3. "A Walk to Remember" by

Nicholas Sparks (Warner) 4. "Judgment in Death" by J.D. Robb (Berkley)

(Warner Vision)

Kellerman (Ballantine)

review in a public library within each of these counties.

Copies of the draft plan are available for review in the office of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Ave. Q, Lubbock. Single copies of the report may be checked out of the district's library for no more than five days. A $100 deposit is required. A copy of the draft plan may be purchased for $75, which is the approximate cost of reproduction.

The plan and executive summary also are available on the Internet at the Llano Estacado Regional Water Planning Group website at www.llanoplan.org.

Written comments about the content of the draft plan should be directed to A. Wayne Wyatt, Llano Estacado Regional Water Planning Group, 2930 Ave. Q., Lubbock 79405-1499. Comments will be ac-cepted through Oct. 13.

hbnews@wtrt.net hbnews@hotmail.com

Clancy's novel at top of list

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bestsellers

Publishers Weekly Hardcover Fiction

1. "The Bear and the Dragon" by Tom Clancy (Putnam)

2. "The Sky Is Falling" by Sidney Sheldon (Morrow)

3. "Open House" by Elizabeth Berg (Random House)

4. "The Switch" by Sandra Brown (Warner)

5. "Shattered" by Dick Francis (Putman)

6. "Winter Solstice" by Rosamunde Pilcher (St. Martin's/Thomas Dunne)

7. "Four Blondes" by Candace Bushnell (Atlantic Monthly Press)

8. "The Blind Assassin" by Margaret Atwood (Doubleday) 9. "Morgan's Run" by Colleen McCullough (Simon & Schuster)

10. "Pagan Babies" by Elmore Leonard (Delacorte)

Nonfiction/General

1. "Who Moved My Cheese?: An Amazing Way to Deal with Change in Your Work and in Your Life" by Spencer Johnson (Putnam) 2. "Body for Life: 12 Weeks to Mental and Physical Strength" by Bill Phillips Michael and D'Orso(HarperCollins)

3. "Nothing Like It in the World: The Men Who Built the Transcontinental Railroad by Stephen E. Ambrose (S&S) 4. "Tuesdays with Morrie" by Mitch

Albom (Doubleday) 5. "I Love You, Ronnie" by Nancy

Reagan and Ronald Reagan (Random House)

6. "Eating Well for Optimum Health" by Andrew Weil, M.D. (Knopf) 7. "Life on the Other Side" by Sylvia Browne with Lindsay Harrison

(Dutton) 8. "Guinness World Records 2001" (Guinness Publishing)

9. "It's Not About the Bike: My Journey Back to Life" by Lance Armstrong with Sally Jenkins (Putnam) 10. "SellOut: The Inside Story of

President Clinton's Impeachment by David P. Schippers (Regnery)

Mass Market Paperbacks 1. "Saving Faith" by David Baldacci

Modernist Traditions

This exhibition will feature American painters from the mid-20th century, such as Larry Bill, Elaine de Kooning and Nevelson. It will be dominated by abstraction, both in painting and drawings, and will feature both East and West Coast schools of artists.

The msueums earliest patrons were often collectors and enthusiasts of modern American art of the 1950s and 1960s. They most often were drawn to the vibrant New York art scene as a source for both information and acquisition. This circumstance directed the Amarillo museum's collection toward art of that period and the region continues to enjoy a surprising number of private collections focusing on what was the mid-20th century's cutting edge. The museum's series of free evening gallery talks will highlight two of these new exhibitons:

Pomara, assistant professor of art at the University of Texas-Dallas, will speak at 7 p.m. Sept. 21 about his art work in the exhibition, "Texart 2000."

Kathryn Davidson, associate director of the Center for Women and Their Work gallery in Austin, will speak at 7 p.m. Oct. 19 about the "Works by Women Artists" exhibition.

The talks are free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

The Amarillo Museum of Art's hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday-Friday, and 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, except for exhibition installation weeks. It is located at 2200 S. Van Buren on the northeast side of Amarillo College's Washington Street Campu. There is no admission fee.

For more information, call the museum at 371-5050.

Actor gets 60 days LAGUNA NIGUEL, Calif. (AP) — Jan-Michael Vincent has been sentenced to 60 days in jail for violating probation stemming from a 1996 drunken driving crash that left him with a broken neck.

The former "Airwolf" star was also on probation for public drunkenness last year in Orange County.

Shoppers can get kicks on Route 66

TUCUMCARI, N.M. --The inaugural Route 66 Flea Market will be 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Sept. 30-Oct. 1 at the Tucumcari Convention Center. A variety of vendors from throughout New Mexico and Texas will offer all kinds of goods, including antiques, crafts, quilts, gifts, various ser-vices and books.

In addition, there will be a concession stand, door prizes, and a raffle drawing each day. A few booths are still available. Each booth is 8- by 10-feet in size and rental rates are very reasonable. Each vendor will receive a complimentary packet with plenty of freebies and coupons.

For more information, call (505) 461-6382.

Scholarship

Opportunity

Graduate School of Library and Information Science

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Residents of Hereford, Texas: If you are interested in a career in library and information science and hold a degree from a four year college or university, you may be eligible for the Carl and Katherine Perrin

Scholarship at the Graduate School of Library and Information Science, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. This stipend is available to highly qualified applicants. For admission requirements and information, visit http://alexia.lis.uiuc.edu or call 800-982-0914.

HEREFORD BRAND · Saturday, September 23, 2000 · A7

Cowboys' injured receiver facing court hearing in assault case

Galoway

charged

T ... 1

强

24-141

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) - Dallas Cowboys receiver Joey Gallo-way has been charged with assaulting a police officer in a hotel melee in May.

Ohio County Magistrate Daniel Tennant signed a complaint Thurs-day charging Galloway with a misdemeanor.

Tennant, reached at home Friday evening, said he believes his office has scheduled an initial court hearing Oct. 11. Shawn Trell, the agent and law-yer for Galloway, said the receiver is in Dallas and has not received the complaint.

"He will absolutely, vigorously defend himself," Trell said. Trell said Galloway was not directly involved in the melee during a May 14 party. The party erupted into a fight involving more than 100 people.

No one was seriously injured and no arrests were made.

The police detective who drew up the complaint was not available for comment Friday.

Galloway, 28, tore a ligament in his left knee against Philadelphia this month and is out for the rest of the season. The Cowboys acquired him in a trade with Seattle in February.

UT looks for momentum

Texas tries to get back season on track after upset loss at Stanford

Through the middle—Ramiro Zambrano (5) darts up the field during Friday's game at Frenship. Hereford won the game 48-28.

By Jeff Blackmon Hereford Brand Sports Editor hanks to two early Frenship turnovers, the Hereford Whitefaces dominated the No.

Yenzer said

CAMBRONOTANEL + SA

AUSTIN (AP) — A week ago, Texas was a black mark on Houston's schedule.

The Longhorns were big, tough and ranked in the top five. An upset loss at Stanford, however, left the Longhorns and their mountainous offensive line looking a tad meek.

Houston (1-2) and No. 15 Texas (1-1) renew their old Southwest Conference rivalry Saturday, with the Cougars looking to send the Longhorns' promising season into a tailspin.

"We can study their weaknesses on film and take advantage of them and give them a game," said Houston quarterback Jason McKinley.

Big talk from a team that lost to Rice and LSU and barely squeaked by Army.

"There isn't anybody in the country that's invincible by any means," said first-year Houston coach Dana Dimel. "Our football team under-stands that we can play and beat any football team in the country and it's time for us to start doing that.

"The down side of (Texas' loss) from our perspective is that they are now going to be refocused as a football team. On the other hand, it also shows that there is some vulnerability there as well," Dimel said.

Texas coach Mack Brown would agree.

"I said during the preseason that we were overrated," Brown said. "I also didn't think that we deserved to be ranked fifth in the country. Our current rank within in the top 15 is much more fitting."

Great teams dominate opponents they should and win games even when they're not playing well. The 27-24 loss at Stanford showed the Longhorns were a few steps shy of greatness in spite of the lofty ranking. "Playing poorly and winning is a great thing. We've still got to learn to play bad and win," Brown said. Establishing a running game is a top priority for Texas. The Longhorns average 50 yards on the ground per game behind a line that averages 325 pounds from tackle to tackle.

"This is going to be a big game for us," said tailback Hodges Mitchell, who has 83 yards after two games. "We have a lot that we need to prove."

See TEXAS, Page A8

The two early turnovers helped the Whitefaces go up 21-0 in the first quarter, and they never looked back.

"We had real good field position to start off the game," senior quarter-back Cody Hodges said. "Offensively we wanted to score every time we touched the ball."

The Herd did just that opening the game with a 71-yard drive capped by a 22-yard pass from C. Hodges to junior receiver Geoffrey Marquez.

On Frenship's next possession, se-nior Tiger standout Kendal Briles fumbled at his own 29-yard line, and Hereford sophomore linebacker Derek Mendoza fell on the ball to put the Herd in position to score.

"I can't say enough about how good those guys are and how good we played," head football coach Craig Yenzer said. "Our plan was to not give them anything easy. "We got enough stops, and the kids kept their intensity," Yenzer said.

After a 27-yard pass to senior receiver Slade Hc 'ges, C. Hodges ran it in for another score to put the Whitefaces up 14-0 with 7:52 left in the first.

After another fumble by senior Tiger Marty McClendon, Hereford drove the ball 59 yards for the score off a run by senior tailback Ramiró Zambrano with 3:49 left in the first to go up 21-0.

Yenzer said he wanted his team to just improve their play while facing the best in the state. "Going in, I didn't worry too much about winning or losing," Yenzer said. "I wanted to get better.

"Winning was gravy," Yenzer said. C. Hodges said the Herd's offen-sive line along with running the option helped the Whitefaces control the ball on the ground. "I was able to run the ball, and when they stopped me I was able to pitch it to Ramiro (Zambrano)," Hodges said. "The offensive line did a great job of pass blocking and run blocking."

Hodges and Zambrano combined for 153 yards rushing and three touchdowns between them.

Zambrano said the key was being patient and just to keep pounding the ball.

"Our goal this week was just to persevere," Zambrano said. "The of-fense is doing great, and we picked up on our assignments really well." The Whitefaces victory was sealed by the intensity and precision of Hereford High's defense. The defense allowed 28 points to

The defense allowed 28 points to

Herd squashes Frenship's homecoming festivities, rocks top-ranked Tigers 48-28

10 on 10 -- Cody Hodges (10) breaks upfield while Frenship's Jeff Harris (10) tires to anticipate Hodges' next move. The Class 4A rivalry was touted as a quarterback showdown between Hodges and Kendal Briles. Hodges led all rushers with 180 yards and passed for 137 yards compared to Briles' 200 yards.

the Tigers but held them when it mattered most. Frenship averaged 640.5 yards a game, but the Herd held them to 405 total yards and 28 points

"Going into the game we knew that when you are going against the number one offensive player in the state you'd better be ready to play," defensive coordinator Bill Bridge said. "We told the kids we may not be able to stop them, but we can slow them down."

The Herd's defense held the Tigers to zero points in the first quar-ter which let the Whitefaces jump out to a big lead. Bridge said the win was also a huge confidence booster for Hereford.

"I think it is a great confidence builder for our defense, and we need it," Bridge said.

Senior defensive end Michael Barba said the win should continue to at the level Hereford's defensive played at.

BRAND PHOTOS/ Mauri Monto

Hereford added on a pair of touchdowns in the second by S. Hodges and senior receiver J.P. Holman to take a 34-14 lead into the locker room at the half.

Frenship came out in the third quarter and showed just how potent their offense is. The Tigers scored on a quick 57-yard play to Frenship senior Patrick Shelby to put the Tigers back in the game 34-21. The passing play was the only highlight in the air for Briles. The Tiger QB was held to 200 yards passing.

Defensive backs coach Lee Walker said the secondary was able to cover Frenship's receivers and gain confidence with each stop against Briles. The defensive coach also said the game helped the secondary continue to grow.

"We've got some talent back there," Walker said. "Briles is the real deal.

"To beat someone that talented gives you a lot of confidence," Walker said.]

After a key defensive stop, the Herd's offense took the field and marched 59 yards eating up the game clock scoring on another Zambrano run to take the lead 40-

Hereford held the Tigers again with the big play coming on a sack by senior defensive end Gilbert Hernandez.

Frenship went on to tack on another score with 8:18 left in the fourth, but the Herd put any hopes of a comeback away with their final 70-yard scoring drive. Fullback Kyle Artho scored on a 27-yard run to bring the score to 46-28. The Whitefaces added on a two point conversion to lead 48-28.

Yenzer said he was pleased at the poise of his offense.

"Cody (Hodges) did his thing, and Ramiro (Zambrano) did his thing," Yenzer said. "Receivers made big plays when they needed too."

The win gives the Whitefaces a big boost heading into next week's first district game at Borger. Yenzer said the non-district year has allowed them to figure themselves out and trust their program.

"I can't say enough how important it is for the kids to stay with us (coaches)," Yenzer said. "Losing to

See HERD, Page AS

AB • HEREFORD BRAND • Saturday, September 16, 2000

SPORTS

Breeding duck numbers generally strong despite dry spring

or whatever projections are worth, and there is some debate about the validity of those made concerning ducks, the annual report on breeding duck numbers from the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service for the year 2000 seems promising.

If the numbers are to be believed, duck hunters ought to be feeling dowaright optimistic about their prospects for the upcoming fall and winter. Weather-driven migration patterns of these birds will ultimately determine overall success, as many waterfowlers have been reminded, to their disappointment, the past couple of seasons. If cold weather doesn't move the ducks south during the season, a good many hunters could end up disappointed, despite strong duck numbers.

Overall duck breeding population numbers have fallen slightly from the record high of 43.4 million birds in 1999. An estimated 41.8 million birds were in the survey area this year. Projected duck numbers are off only four percent from last year's pinnacle, according to F&WS projections, and remain 27 percent above the long-term average.

The fact that projected duck numbers remain so high has to be counted as a win considering that a dry spring confronted duck populations in much of the northern nesting country.

Dr. Bruce Batt, chief biologist for Ducks Unlimited, says the strong breeding duck number projections might be rated as better than expected.

' I think many who tracked the weather this spring would have expected the overall population count to be more reduced than the final estimate," said Batt.

Pond counts in the prairies of the U.S. and Canada were down 41 perdet from last year and 20 percent below the 30-year average. This would normally have resulted in a much more reduced breeding population estimate. Nevertheless, it looks like we can be pretty confident that most species are doing quite well, and the breeding duck numbers are better then expected, considering how dry the conditions were this spring. Late spring rainfall probably helped," he added.

Unfortunately, one of the bellwether species of local duck hunting-the pintail--isn't included in that optimistic assessment, continuing a troubling trend from the past several years. A continued decline in pintail and scaup numbers has waterfowl managers concerned. Pintails and scaup are the only two duck species with populations below the goals set by the North American Waterfowl Management Plan.

Pintails are 33 percent below the long-term average this year, and they have been on a worrisome decline.

The long tail-stickered ducks were once the second-most abundant, after mallards. Their population peaked in the 1950s at 10.3 million, compared to 10.4 million mallards. They have particularly declined since about 1980--the last year that they were near the population goal.

Happily, eight of the ten surveyed duck species are at or above the population goals of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan, and that includes two important local favorites--mallards and greenwinged teal.

While mallards exhibited the largest drop from 1999--12 percent below last year's count, remember that's off the pace of an exceptionally high 10.8 million birds last year--the second-highest number of mallards since 1955: This year's guesstimate is 9.47 million breeding mallards-still quite a greenhead factory.

the same the that the state of and with the same the

Both green-winged and blue-winged teal breeding bird numbers are at record highs this year. During the past two years those decoy-buzzing, hunt-saving greenwings have increased their numbers by 56 percent, posting a 21 percent increase this year after a 35 percent increase in 1999. Blue-winged teal, sure to be attention getters locally during the early season in September, increased four percent from 1999. That may not sound like a big jump, but that's four percent above a record number of 7.1 million birds in 1999. Breeding numbers this year are pegged at 7.4 million!

Although there were minor declines in the numbers of most duck species compared to last year, that fact that major plunges in numbers weren't registered due to drought has to be considered encouraging.

An abundance of ducks should be winging south again this fall, and season lengths and bag limits similar to those of the 1999 season are likely.

One exception as to season dates, and a good one, is that the/16-day early teal season in Texas has been approved for September 15-30 this year. The early season will be opening a week later than it has in recent years This should give Texas waterfowl hunters a better opportunity to harvest bluewings during their peak migration through the state, and should boost hunter success.

Jim Stelert is a multiple award-winning member of the Texas. Outdoor Writers Association and recipient of TOWA's first "Outdoor Book of the Year" Award.

Major

From Page A7

Quarterback

doing the same.

For one, Texas must prove it can protect against a blitz. Stanford used a steady stream of blitzes and stunts to sack Texas quartarbacks five times and held the Longhorns to 13 yards rushing.

Applewhite, who was sacked twice on Texas' last possession, expects Houston to try

"Teams are going to keep

Roberts leads Ope

Leonard and Mattiace one stroke behind

SAN ANTONIO (AP) -The old saying about getting better with age could be Loren Roberts' motto.

the second round of the Texas Open on Friday, Roberts led Justin Leonard and Len Mattiace by one stroke.

Roberts, who made birdie putts of 18, 15 and 12 feet for a 9-under 131 total, has made slow but steady progress during his career.

Roberts, 45, turned pro in 1975, but had to go to qualifying school five times in the 1980s before making the PGA Tour full time. It took him 19 years to win his first PGA Tour title.

But since that victory, at the Nestle Invitational in 1994, Roberts has been in the hand shot and managed to top 30 on the money list send to feet. every year except one.

year's Greater Milwaukee

with a 2-under 68.

"I'm going to work on it right now," Leonard said after walking off the La Cantera Golf Club course.

Mattiace had a 67 to join Leonard at 132, and Blaine McCallister, Mike Standly, Frank Lickliter, Paul Goydos and Jerry Kelly followed at 7 under.

Leonard had two bogeys and two birdies on the front nine. He birdied Nos. 11, 14 and 15 before running into trouble.

After hitting his drive near tree, he had to hit a back-

"I was in deep, rough, just He has won seven PGA trying to brush it underneath Tour events, including this the tree and run it up on the green, and clipped the tree," he said. "I was in the front cut of rough, in a divot from 77 yards and I hit a good wedge shot about 12 feet, and didn't hit a very good putt."

going right there," he said. He added a 10-foot birdie putt on No. 11.

"I played real solid today," he said. "I was real happy with the first two rounds.

From Page A7

Tascosa was a devastating blow, and they have dedicated themselves and have stayed with us.

"The ability to be knocked down and have kids that get back up is a tribute to what kind of young men we have in our program," Yenzer said.

them prove wrong, Applewhite said.

Houston will also try to take advantage of Texas' special teams woes. The Longhorns had a blocked punt returned for a touchdown against Stanford.

Punter Kris Stockton said the coaches asked him to take snaps from a depth of 14 yards this week instead of 13.

ord-C. Hodges 2-yard run nan kick) Hereford-R. Zambrano 2-yard run nan kick)

> Second Quarter Freinahip-Briles 1-yard run (Mandrell kick) Bistord—S. Hodges 3-yard pass from C. Hödges (Holman kick) Frenship—Briles 8-yard run (Mandrell

Hereford—Holman 5-yard pass from C. Hodges (PAT failed)

Third Quarter Frenship-Shelby 57-yard pass from riles (Mandrell kick) Hereford-Zambrano 24-yard run (pas Fourth Quarter lodges run)

Frenchip-Raodriguez 2-yard run Mandfell kick) Artho 27-yard run (S.

|                   | THE     | rna     |
|-------------------|---------|---------|
| First Downs       | 22      | 24      |
| Rushes-yards      | 35-306  | 32-141  |
| Yards Gained      | 394     | 345     |
| Comp-Att          | 13-16-0 | 12-24-0 |
| Sacked-Yards Lost | 4-23    | 2-24    |
| Punts             | 2-41    | 3-17.7  |
| Fumbles-lost      | 0-0     | 2-2     |
| Penalties-yards   | 6-52    | 6-34    |
|                   |         |         |

Individual Statistics Rushing - Hereford, C. Hodges 14-180, Ramiro Zambrano 17-97, Kyle Artho 3-30, Rivera 1-0: Frenship, Briles 14-64, Rodriguez 11-54, Moore 1-11, McClendon 4-10, Thomas 12, Baece 20 1-2, Rasco 2-0.

1-2, Rasco 2-0. Passing - Hereford, Cody Hodges 13-16-0 137 yards; Frenship, Briles 10-18-0 200 yardt; Rasco 2-6-0 54. Receiving - Hereford, S. Hodges 4-47, Holman 1-5, Marsh 1-4, Zambrano 1-0, Frenship: Shelby 3-106, Thomas 4-91, Moore 4-46, McClendon 1-11.

hemene Cinema Cohr

rland Mail 400 N. 25 Mile Ave., Hereford, TX BUSINESS OFFICE CALL: 364-0101 MOVIE HOTLINE CALL: 364-8000

. Sept. 22nd - Thurs., Sept. 28th

HIGHLANDER

REPLACE

WHAT LIES BEINEATH

7:15 & 9:15

7:05 & 9:20

2:00 & 4:15

1:25 & 4:10

1:20 & 4:00

The difference? "Maturity," Roberts said.

"From the time that I turned 40 until now have probably been the best years of golf for me," said Roberts, 14th on the money list this year at $1.75 million.

"I still think I can play at this level. I'm pretty fit for my age. I'm staying healthy." Meanwhile, Leonard, the 1997 British Open champion, headed straight to the driv-ing range Friday after he lost the lead.

He had been tied with Roberts at 9 under with three holes to play, but double-bogeyed the 16th and finished

The former University of Texas star rebounded with a birdie on the next hole.

"I had some good shots at times, but a few too many misses today," said Leonard, who finished second in the Texas Open in 1995 and '98. Mattiace, seeking his first PGA Tour title, tied for second in the 1996 Buick Challenge and 1999 Sony Open.

Mattiace sank a 30-foot putt on the sixth hole and a 12-footer on the seventh. "So that was kind of the get-# action Lady Whitefaces at Dumas Today at 2 p.m.

Misterand Martin

Anything To Help

Produces a tough finish that locks Int. - Ext.

HEREFORD BRAND · Saturday, September 23, 2000 · A9

 Molina accounts. for Anaheim's offense against Rangers Friday night

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) -Rookie Bengie Molina's pri-mary duty as the Anaheim catcher is to handle a pitching staff that has used 15 start-

He's still finding time to score and drive in runs for the Angels. Molina, while handling five pitchers Friday night, also had three hits, drove in a run and scored the other run as the Angels beat the Texas Rang-ers 2-1.

"He's doing a terrific job in grasping a lot of stuff at the major league level and it's tough to do," said Anaheim manager Mike Scioscia, who caught 15 seasons in the majors.

"He's caught the most games he's ever caught. And we're going on our 15th starter Saturday, and he's done a ter-rific job with all of them. That's important." Texas' Rafael Palmeiro went 0-for-3 to snap a 10-game hit-ting streak and remained one home run shy of becoming the 32nd major leaguer with 400 career homers.

Molina has an eight-game hitting streak during which he is hitting .500 (16-for-32), and has had four three-hit games. He also has 66 RBIs, the most by an Angels catcher since Lance Parrish had 69 in 1990.

SPORTS

Angels hold off Texas, 2-1

Molina scored the winning run in the seventh, when he led off with a single, ad-vanced on a sacrifice bunt by Adam Kennedy and scored on Darin Erstad's two-out RBI single.

In the fourth, Molina's two-out RBI double gave the Angels a 1-0 lead. Tim Salmon, who led off with a single and moved to second when Chad Curtis bobbled the ball in left field, scored.

Lou Pote made his first major league start for the Angels, but it was Ben Weber (1-0) - the third Anaheim pitcher — who got his first win in the majors. "What made it even better was my parents were here. It was the first game they've ever seen me pitch in the majors," said We-ber, who won despite allowing two hits and two walks during 1 2-3 shutout innings. Troy Percival pitched the ninth for his 31st save in 41 chances.

Pote struck out five in his 4 1-3 innings, but also allowed four hits and a walk. He was pulled after Randy Knorr, the No. 9 hitter, singled to put runners at first and third.

Reliever Mike Holtz then allowed an RBI single to Frank Catalanotto, the only batter he faced, that tied it at 1. The Rangers left the bases loaded when Weber got Royce Clayton and Gabe Kapler on popouts between a four-pitch walk to Palmeiro.

Texas starter Darren Oliver (2-8) is 0-5 in nine starts since his last win May 31, and 0-2 t, will not play a mon for the Rang unfielder sidelined

COLUMNEDS

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP)

Manager Johnny Oates ad Friday that the decision has made based on Greer's lait to a doctor the day

ot play, or there would

Oates said surgery isn't n option right now for room, who instead will spend about of a more

And Builder

RY'S AUT

Castrol Oil Change &

Lubrication

600 N. 25 Mile Avenue + 364-7650

in four starts since returning from the disabled list Sept. 1. He gave up two runs and six hits over 6 2-3 innings with one strikeout and four walks.

"I feel good out there," Oliver said. "At this point, we just have to wait until next year."

Notes: In 38 games at The Ballpark, Salmon is hitting .430 (64-for-149) with 43 RBIs, the best by an opposing player.

the final week of the season esting and doing rehabilita-

"We want to go conserva tive until January," Oates said "But we don't want to wait until January to decide if it's worse than we thought." Earlier this season, China wont on the disabled list for irst time in his care ecause of a strained ham-tring. During that time, he lao had arthroscopic surgery a his right ankle.

Greer played in just 105 most this year, the fewest ace he played in 80 games a makie for the Rangers in at-bats, ending a streak of four conser

Casey homers twice for Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) - Sean Casey thought his bat might be the second one used by a Cincinnati Reds player to go to the Hall of Fame this season.

Then he realized it was only an NL record he helped break.

Casey homered twice Friday night as Cincinnati beat the Houston Astros 12-5. His first homer, one of three off Jose Lima in the second inning, was the NL-record 47th allowed by Lima this season.

"I saw it up on the board," Casey said of the record. "I thought maybe they'd send the bat to the Hall of Fame. I'd like to get something in there some way." The bat Alex Ochoa used for his first career grand slam was sought by the Hall. His Aug. 22 slam against Philadel-phia, the 142nd in the majors this season, was a record. The Astros broke the NL single-season home run record but got outslugged. "It looked like Home Run Derby out there tonight," Reds manager Jack McKeon said. "Thank God we had more guys popping them out than they

The Reds hit six and Houston three — two by Richard Hidalgo and one by Lance Berkman — to give the Astros 240 for the season. Colorado had 239 in 1997.

"That says a lot about our season," Houston manager Larry Dierker said. "We set the home run record and lose the game by giving up home runs

Juan Castro, Michael Tucker and Casey all homered in the second off Lima. Philadelphia's Robin Roberts allowed 46 home runs in 1956, when he pitched 297 innings in 43 games. Lima has pitched 188 1-3 innings in 32 games this season. 一位語

"He wasn't able to get much past them," Dierker said. "It was either out of the strike zone or out of the park."

The major league record for home runs allowed in a season is 50, set by Minnesota's Bert Blyleven in 1986.

Lima (7-16) allowed five hits, walked three and struck out one in two innings. It was his shortest outing this year, but only his second-worst home run inning. He tied a major league record April 27 when the Chicago Cubs homered four times in the first. Benito Santiago walked to lead off the Reds' second, and Castro followed with his second home run of the season. Pitcher Elmer Dessens singled, and Tucker followed with his 13th homer. Two outs later, Casey hit his 16th home

"Casey's right on target. Everything he's hitting is hit hard," McKeon said. "He kept saying, 'I'll hit .300.' He's battled. He's got his RBIs up, too. Casey, who raised his average to .311 by going 3-for-3, started the year on the DL with a broken right thumb. He didn't get his first RBI until his 41st at-bat and the first half of the season was a disaster.

But since the All-Star break, he is batting .372 with 12 homers and 50 RBIs.

"After the way I started, it turned out to be a pretty good season," Casey said. "It's sat-isfying to be able to come back the way I did. It didn't happen overnight, but you just have to keep believing in yourself." The Reds' six home runs were a season high, while Houston matched a club

. U. W. O

1714

Here's a GRAND Opportunity

Sign up for the Brand's free THOUSAND DOLLAR Football Contest

I

Each week, when the pigskin flies, so does the cash. Beginning Tuesday, September 5th, weekly winners not only take home cash prizes, but they also get the chance to suit-up in a final $1000 SUPER GRAND -PRIZE ROUND the week of November 28th.

Don't miss your opportunity to play every Tuesday because this game has more prizes than football has bruises.

Try it! It could be your season ticket to a very REWARDING football career.

A10 • HEREFORD BRAND • Saturday, September 23, 2000

Hugeron , tomate of another

INSIDE

By Nancy Benac Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - A personals ad from this year's presidential candidates might look something like this: In search of politically independent female from small town; no college education necessary.

She's a typical undecided voter, part of a shrinking pool of Americans yet to tilt toward either Al Gore or George W. Bush.

Only about 10 percent of Americans remain truly undecided, polls show, although that rises when those who are leaning but not committed are included. That has number crunchers for both campaigns slicing and dicing poll results to learn more about just who's left to get.

They're likely to find people like Tracey Jones, a 33-yearold cosmetics saleswoman. She's a registered Democrat but willing to give Bush a grabs.

"They're probably just tun-ing in," said GOP pollster Linda

Divall. "They're truly up for

And the uncertainty in this year's race extends well beyond the undecideds to an even larger bloc of voters who have picked a candidate but aren't solidly committed. One in four registered voters said there was a chance they might switch before Election Day, according to a recent survey by the Pew Research Center for the People and the Press.

chance. "I'm going to vote," Jones said as she shuttles among customers in a D.C. store. "I just have a lot more homework to do."

THE UNDECIDEDS:

Surveys show the undecideds are disproportionately female and politically independent, with a high school education or less. Some polls show they're most likely to be young, though a recent survey found them older. Nearly twothirds are from small towns or rural areas. Many are from working-class families. They have moderate views on the issues and generally favorable impressions of both Gore and Bush

Uncertainty extending beyond those who don't know yet to those who are leaning

That includes people like Kenny Smith, a 29-year-old construction worker from Orlando, Fla.

"I'm not really undecided, but I can be swayed," said Smith, a Democrat who describes himself as for "Al Gore - as of now."

"I'm waiting on the debates," he said.

Likewise, 23-year-old Molly Lorton, a technical writer from Centreville, Va., says she's leaning toward Bush but far from committed.

"I just have an overall better feeling about Bush, but it's really not that strong,' said Lorton, who doesn't identify herself with any party. "I'm-going to vote, but it's probably going to come down to a last-minute decision."

Independents, who make up more than 40 percent of the undecideds, have been splitting about evenly between Gore and Bush when they do weigh in. But Gore has the edge among women, lower-income and lower-educated voters, groups that are prominent among the undecided. Bush has the edge among others in the group: small town and rural voters.

The Gore campaign lumps together truly undecided vot-ers with soft Bush supporters and sees a "persuadable vot-ing bloc" of about 15 percent of the electorate.

Gore strategist Tad Devine sees encouraging signs for the Democrats in this group. Many have favorable impressions of Gore, already support. a Democrat for Congress and tend to lean Gore's way on major issues, he says. "This segment of the popu-lation is very available to Al Gore," Devine said.

Republicans see opportunity as well in those who have yet to make up their minds. GOP strategists say Bush's challenge is to excite the undecided vot-ers who tuned out after growing weary of partisanship during the Clinton years.

That's why we have to keep a constant drumbeat about Republican initiatives," says party spokesman Mark Pfeifle. The party is working hard to woo specific popula-tion groups such as Hispanics and active Catholics.

A flood of Hispanics defected from Gore to the undecided column immediately after the GOP convention, but have since gone back, polls show.

Come And See Us! Hassle New & Used Cars & Trucks

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS People

Music publisher settles suit with 'Puffy' Combs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Cross the gospel classic "I'll Fly Away" with the rap hit "I'll Be Missing You" and here's what you get: "I'll See You in Court."

But there is a happy ending: Music publisher Albert E. Brumley & Sons this week settled its federal lawsuit against rapper Sean "Puffy" Combs over his use of part of the gospel song. Terms were not disclosed.

The Grammy-winning 1997 song, Combs' tribute to rapper Notorious B.I.G., blends in eight words from "I'll Fly Away," which Albert Brumley composed in 1929 while picking cotton. It became one of the most-recorded gospel songs.

Combs' song also includes words and music from "Every Breath You Take," a hit from Sting and his former band, The Police. The pop star, who was also named in the suit, helped get the two sides into mediation.

Kennedy family plans public auction

NEWPORT, R.I. — Family photos, art and furniture from the Kennedy family's so-called "summer White House" will be auctioned off next month, and everyone's invited.

The 87 items are from the Hammersmith Farm, where John F. Kennedy and Jacqueline Bouvier held their wedding reception and where the family vacationed in the early 1960s.

One piece up for grabs: a grandfather clock memorial-ized in a photograph of Jackie getting ready to toss her bridal bouquet.

The Oct. 10 public auction at Christie's East of New York could bring in $150,000, Christie's spokeswoman Katherine Adler said.

The items belong to the heirs of Janet Lee Auchincloss, Mrs. Kennedy's mother. They had been on display in the estate until last year, when investment banker Peter Kiernan III bought the property for a private home. The furnishings were not part of the sale.

Giuliani says he's feeling all right

NEW YORK — One week after being treated for prostate cancer, Mayor Rudolph Giuliani said Friday that he is feeling all right but he needs an occasional nap. "It's all within the scope of bearable discomfort," he said.

Giuliani, 56, underwent radioactive seed implantation on Sept. 15. Since then, his busy schedule has included marching in a parade, presiding over a town hall-style meeting and holding almost daily press conferences. Giuliani cited the cancer in May when he dropped out of a Senate race against Hillary Rodham Clinton.

HEREFORD BRAND Poet's corner

LEGEND OF SADIE (Jerry Ratliff)

While driving down the highway, I saw glaring lights and cars. The buffaloes were playing a game under the lights and stars. I drove on down the highway wondering about the game, Wondering about life in general, why nothing stays the same. It seems the buffaloes back in time suffered a crushing defeat. While the winners laughed at sky, the losers stared at their feet. Long after eveyrone had left, there was hardly a sound The star of the team sat alone, staring at the ground. He wondered why they had to lose and why some people got so mad, Why winning felt so good and losing felt so bad. He heard a sound and looked up into the eyes of this huge buffalo. Sadie smiled and began to talk of life and how it goes. Sadie said, "Son, we don't always win, and we don't always lose, But we always have the choice of being what we choose. "We can't help what others think, anger is is own art, "Just keep the fire in your eyes and the flame in your heart." Now Sadie was wearing a jersey (Was she wearing it just for fun) Of a legendary player back in time, with the number 81. The star looked up just in time as Sadie disappeared from sight,

Back into other football days, And back into the night.

Poet's Corner accepts poems of any form or style to 40 lines. All submissions should include the poet's name. Poems may be delivered to The Hereford Brand, 313 N. Lee, or mailed to P.O. Box 673, Hereford 79045.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Grandson brings home the bronze From AAU Nat'l Blank competes for the ### Junior Olympics in Disney World

Michael Blank, 12, son of Jeff and Shirley Blank of Amarillo and grandson of A.D. and Alice Hutton of Hereford. won a bronze medal on the vault recently in the AAU National Junior Olympics at Disney World.

Because of his third-place finish, Blank earned the right to march in the Parade of Champions at the closing ceremonies.

He also placed 10th on the high bars and eighth in the floor competition in an event which hosted more than 14,000 athletes competing in 26 sports.

West Texas Twisters in Ama-rillo and is the youngest member of his squad. He was the only one from the Amarillo team that advanced all the way to the finals.

Blank started taking instruction for his gymnastics in 1999.

"I decided that I wanted to be a cheerleader in high school so I can get all the good-looking girls. That's why I started taking gymnastics," he said. "Now I take it because I love the competition and I'm good at

He is also active in Boy Scouts of America, swimming, mountain biking and dancing for the production "Stepping Out."

Blank knows that he is

Calendar of Events

MONDAY

Deaf Smith County Historical Museum: Regular museum hours Monday-Saturday 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday by appointment only. Odd Fellows Lodge, IOOF

Hall, 7:30 p.m. Rotary Club, Hereford Community Center, noon. Planned Parenthood Clinic, 71125 Mile Ave., Monday-Friday,

8 a.m.-5 p.m. AA meetings, 411 W. First, Monday-Friday, r oon and 8 p.m. Call 364-9620 for more informa-munity Center, noon. TOPS Club No. 941, Senior Citizens Center, 9:45 a.m.

Hereford Toastmasters Club, Ranch House Restaurant, 6:30 a.m. Al-Anon, 411 W. First, 8 p.m. Immunizations against childhood diseases, Texas Depart-ment of Health, 300 Witherspoon, 8-11:45 a.m. and 1-4:45 p.m.

Merry Mixers Square Dance Club, Hereford Community. Center, 7:30 p.m. La Madre Mia Study Club.

Ivonne Marie Garcia My Lord it has been 15 years since you blessed me with life. I now come before you to give you thanks as I am surrounded by those & love and my parents Alfredo & Delia Garcia

Michael Blank

...nee Lyndsi Nicole Ames

Ames, Watts wed in Vegas chapel Lyndsi Nicole Ames and Jason linen handkerchiefs from her

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Eric Watts

Eric Watts, both of Austin, exchanged marriage vows at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 9 at the Heritage Chapel in Las Vegas, great-grandmothers.

She wore a matching double layered veil of illusion that descended from a beaded comb.

The bride is the daughter of Scott and Robbi Hudgens and Lloyd Ames, all of Hereford. Parents of the bridegroom are Janice Watts of Abilene and Randall Watts of Austin.

Maid of honor was Hillary Whitener and Cindy Wilder served as the groom's attendant.

The bride, given by her father, wore a strapless delustred satin, full-length gown. The fitted bodice and skirt were accented with floral designed beadwork.

She wore a sapphire ring that was her maternal grandmother's and a diamond ring that belonged to her paternal great-grand-mother. She carried a mother of pearl Bible borrowed from the groom's grandmother and two

The bridal bouquet consisted of pink roses, miniature orchids, baby's breath, and greenery tied with a silver ribbon.

A buffet dinner was held for the couple at the Stratosphere

Hotel in Las Vegas. After a brief honeymoon, the couple is at home in Austin. The bride is a 1996 graduate of Hereford High School and a 2000 graduate of the University of Texas in Austin.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warden Hudgens and great-niece of Marie Stringer and Clovis Seago, all of Hereford. The groom is a 1991 graduate of Clyde High School and a 2000 graduate of the University of Texas in Austin.

Senior Center sponsors 'Home for the Holidays' program of SW Airlines

Hereford Senior Citizens Center is once again this year a sponsoring organization for the Home for the Holidays program of Southwest Airlines.

This program is specifically for those age 65 or older living on a fixed income.

Applications must be com-pletely filled out, signed and submitted by Friday, Oct. 13. Recipients will be chosen based solely on information provided on the application and must meet all rules of the sponsoring organizations.

Ticket validation dates are Dec. 4 through Jan. 20 and these dates will not be extended, according to the guidelines published by Southwest Airlines.

Birthdays, special days, a yearround remembrance? Send them the Hereford Brand, a gift that reminds the recipient of your love about 255 times a year.

Tickets are nontransferable and ground transportation, hotel accommodations and travel expenses are not provided. All recipients must comply with the Southwest Airlines' Contract of Carriage. For more information or an application, contact the Senior Citizens Center, 426 Ranger.

NA

Spanish speaking AA meet-ings, 411 W. First, Monday, 8 p.m. Veleda Study Club, 7:30 p.m.

tion.

FCE Council, Deaf Smith County Library Heritage Room, 1:30 p.m.

TUESDAY

Hereford Rebekah Lodge No 228, IOOF Hall, 7:30 p.m. in the winter and 8 p.m. in the summer. Care Givers Support Group, library of King's Manor, 5:30 p.m. Good Shepherd Clothes Closet, 625 E. Hwy. 60, Tuesday and Thursday, 9-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-3 p.m. To contribute items, call 364-2208.

Golden K Kiwanis Club, Hereford Senior Citizens Center, noon.

Hereford AMBUCS, Ranch House Restaurant, noon.

Hereford Pilot Club, King's Manor Lamar Room, 7 a.m. Social Security representative at Courthouse, 9:15 a.m.-noon.

WEDNESDAY

Noon Lions Club, Hereford Community Center, noon. Al-Anon, Nita Lea Community

Building, 5 p.m. Nazarene Kid's Korner,

Nazarene Church, 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Bippus FCE Club, 2 p.m.

THURSDAY San Jose prayer group, 735 Brevard, 8 p.m. Kiwanis Club, Hereford Com-

Weight Watchers

1 2 3

Hereford Community Center

Park & Avenue C.

Monday 6:00 pm

Weight Watchers POINTS' System:

We've given every food a POINTS value.

TRY IT, YOU'LL LOVE IT!

Eat any food you crave and still lose weight on 1-2-3 Success', Weight Watchers easy POINTS® based program.

7:30 p.m.

FRIDAY

Community Duplicate Bridge Club, Hereford Community Center, 7:30 p.m. Nazarene Kids's Korner, Nazarene Church, 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

SATURDAY

AA, 411 W. First, 8 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. Sunday.

Yvonne attends HHS and particip Varsity Band & Freshman Volleyball

distorted. This abnormal shape causes vision problems by preventing the light that enters the eye from being focused correctly on the retina. The first indication of keratoconus is a blurring and distortion of vision. The disease usually shows up in young people at puberty or in their late teens.

If caught in the early stages, the disease may be corrected with glasses. Keratoconus may progress for 10 or 20 years and then slow down its growth. As the disorder progresses and the cornea continues to thin and change shape, rigid gas permeable (hard) contact lenses can be prescribed to correct vision. Sometimes a corneal transplant is necessary. Yearly check-ups are important to catch this and other developing eye conditions.

Brought to you as a community service by

DR. HAROLD W. BRIGANCE

NO Amanda Sims Gerrit Christiansen Lori Urbanczyk Christy Haney Gray Pam Dean Troy Johnson John Gray Josh Coneway Lyndsi Ames-Watts Kari Barrett Jason Watts Lisa Yerby Tonya Allen Stephen Bezner Clay Gilter Jeremy Brock Tracy Schulze Brandi Williams Leah Butler Clay Harper Kirk Self Jason Cole

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Olson ...oberve golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Olson celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner Saturday at the Country Barn in Amarillo.

Hosts for the occasion were their children and spouses and their grandchildren.

Olson and the former Fannie Cole were married Sept. 24, 1950. He was born in Canyon and she was born in Glencoe, Ark. They met and were married in Hereford and have lived here since that time.

Mr. Olson is a retired feedyard manager, having worked for Hereford Feedyard and Cattletown Feedyard. Mrs. Olson is a housewife. Both are members of the Presbyterian church.

Children and their spouses are Alan and Sheila Hardin of Pottsboro, Walter and Jacque Olson of Turpin, Okla., Alan and Tonita Olson of Pampa, Daniel and Michelle Olson of Amarillo, Richard and Julie Olson of Childress and Howard and Penny Reining of Panhandle.

The couple has 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. and a straight of the ### Money can be source of problems

Dear Ann Landers: When you told your readers some time back that "an inheritance is a gift, not an entitlement," my 75-year-old mother made sure I saw it. She clipped that column and sent it to me in the mail. To put it bluntly, my mother is a very rich woman, but I am so sick and tired of hearing about her money, I could scream.

Every time there is a problem in the family, Mom cuts one of us out of her will. When she cools off, she tells us we are back in. A few months ago, she picked a fight with my husband about some property she owns. It was a matter of little consequence, and I told them they were both being ridiculous. Because I had "belittled" her, she in-formed me that I should not count on an inheritance. Again, I heard that phrase, "You are out of my will."

My brother has been out of her will since he started to date a woman Mom doesn't like. Frankly, I would be a lot happier if she kept her money and treated us better. My brother has voiced the same

Bellview School Reunion scheduled for Sept. 30

LIFESTYLES

Bellview School Reunion will be Sept. 30 at Kingswood Methodist Church beginning with visiting at 10 a.m. Lunch will be served at noon for $7 per plate.

Bellview School originated in 1920 when five schools -Cramer, Crockett, Liberty Bell, Blue Goose and Independence consolidated.

The school was named Bellview because Liberty Bell was in "clear view" of the new school site.

The first graduating class was sentiment. CREATORS SYNDICATE Parents who use money as a club to keep their children in line invariably have lousy relationships with their kids, and no amount of money can fix that. - Enid, Okla.

Dear Oklahoma: How sad that your mother uses her money to control her chil-dren. While I don't subscribe to the theory that the "love of money is the root of all evil," it can be the source of a great many family prob-lems. For one thing, it can kill incentive. Children who know they will inherit a bundle when they are 21 or 25 or 30, sometimes do little to test their own potential. Inheriting money is not nearly as much fun as making it yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married for three in 1922 with two graduates. The last graduating class of Bellview was in 1940 with 11 graduates. In 1940, Bellview and Hollene schools consolidated and the school was named Rosedale in honor of A.E. Rose, who donated the land for the school.

All persons from these communities are welcome at the reunion.

For more information, call Mildred Moyers at 505-763-5063 or Denzil Pulliam at 806-364-5337.

FNRA banquet, auction offers evening for family

The annual banquet and grants The Deaf Smith County 4-

Ann Landers

we get along well. He phones every night, and in spite of the long periods of separation, I am sure he has never been unfaithful. The problem is, I've become involved with a man at work.

make sure to see each other at least once a month.

He is a sweet person, and

"Brad" knows I'm married (he's single), and we have tried to end our relationship many times, but we can't seem to stay away from each other. I realize part of the problem is the fact that we work together every day, but there is some-thing else. When I am with Brad, I am incredibly happy the kind of happiness I expected to experience when I married, but it never happened.

Last week, Brad and I decided to stop seeing each other. I told him I would divorce my husband for him, but Brad said he couldn't live with him-self if he broke up my mar-riage. He wants to say fare-well and get on with his life. I care deeply for my husband, but there is no longer any passion. Should I forget Brad and put more effort into rejuvenating my stale mar-riage, or should I fight for the great love of my life? Help me, Ann. - Agonizing in Wis-

Dear Wisconsin: Stop ago-nizing and face the facts. The "great love of your life" has told you he wants to get on with his life, and his life does not include you. That's the reality.

Work at rebuilding what you had with your sweet husband, and behave yourself. Passion CAN be rekindled, and that is CAN be rekindled, and that is the direction your life should take. If there is any possibility you can switch jobs, do it now, before you get into any more trouble. And try to find some-thing closer to home. No sal-ary is worth destroying your marriage.

"A Collection of My Favorite Gems of the Day" is the per-fect little gift for that special someone who is impossible to buy for. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $5.25 (this includes postage and handling) to: Collection, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562 (in Canada, $6.25).

To find out more about Ann Landers and read her past columns, visit the Creators Syndicate web page at www.creators.com. ANN LANDERS (R) COPYRIGHT 2000 CREATORS SYNDICATE, INC.

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, Sept. 23, the 267th day of 2000. There are 99 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Sept. 23, 1779, during the Revolutionary War, the American warship Bon Homme Richard defeated the HMS Serapis after the American commander, John Paul Jones, is said to have declared: "I have not yet begun to fight!"

On this date:

In 63 B.C., Caesar Augustus was born in Rome.

In 1642, Harvard College in Cambridge, Mass., held its first commencement.

In 1780, British spy John Andre was captured along with papers revealing Benedict Arnold's plot to surrender West Point to the British.

In 1806, the Lewis and Clark expedition returned to St. Louis from the Pacific Northwest.

In 1846, the planet Neptune was discovered by German astronomer Johann Gottfried Galle

In 1939, Sigmund Freud, the founder of psychoanalysis, died in London.

In 1952, Republican vicepresidential candidate Richard M. Nixon went on television to deliver what came to be known as the "Checkers" speech as he rebutted allegations of improper campaign financing.

In 1957, nine black students who had entered Little Rock Central High School in Arkansas were forced to withdraw because of a white mob outside 1962, New York's Philharmonic Hall (since renamed Avery Fisher Hall, formally opened as the first unit of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

RENEE'S REDEAT BOUTIOUE Ladies, Men's, & Children's Consemment Account Plus-Size and Name Brand Clouine Available Shoes . Accessories . Gifts . Furnique . Antique Mon.-Sat. 10:00 AM - 5:30 PM chert + 211 Main + 364-6683 + Hereford, Te

In 1973, former Argentine President Juan Peron was returned to power.

Ten years ago: Iraq threatened to destroy Middle East oil fields and attack Israel if other nations tried to force it from Kuwait. South African President F.W. de Klerk arrived in the United States for talks with President Bush.

Five years ago: In a wideranging interview aboard Air Force One, President Clinton admitted he had tended in the past to get hung up on details, and pledged to do a better job in providing reassuring leadership to Americans confused by tumultuous times.

One year ago: President Clinton vetoed the Republicans' $792 billion tax cut bill, calling it "too big, too bloated." The Mars Climate Observer apparently burned up as it was about to go into orbit around the Red Planet.

Today's Birthdays: Actor Mickey Rooney is 80. Singer Ray Charles is 70. Singer Julio Iglesias is 57. Actor Paul Fetersen ("The Donna Reed Show") is 55. Actress-singer Mary Kay Place is 53. Rock star Bruce Springsteen is 51. Actor Jason Alexander is 41. Singer Lita Ford is 41. Actress Elizabeth Pena is 39. Country musician Don Herron (BR5-49) is 38.

auction for the West Texas District of Friends of NRA will be held at the Hereford Community Center at 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30.

The evening will be a family affair, with a meal catered by K-Bob's, designed to support the Friends of NRA State Fund Grants program.

In addition to a live auction of items donated by local individuals and businesses and NRA packet items, there will be bucket raffles and special door prize drawings just for children.

Funds distributed by the grants program are used to promote gun safety and to teach about the responsibility that goes along with owning a firearm. Many 4-H shooting sports clubs in the West Texas District have been recipients of state fund

Cancer Screening

The Women's Center of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center and Baptist St. Anthony's Health System will conduct a breast cancer screening clinic at South Plains Health Care Providers, Inc., 110 N. 25 Mile Ave., Suite A, on Oct. 13.

Participants will receive a low-cost screening mammogram. Each woman screened will receive a breast health risk appraisal and individual instruction by a registered nurse in breast self-examination.

Funding is available through the Texas Department of Health for Texas residents who qualify for assistance. All exams are done by appointment only. ' Call 806-356-1905 or 1-800-377-4673 for more information.

ng Sports Club will H Sh submit a grant application for funds in the coming year. Tickets for the banquet and auction are $20 and are available at Hollowpoint Gun Shop, address.

Caring for someone with chronic illness?

This will help.

Annual Caregiver Luncheon & Workshop

"Taking Care of Business" Sponsored by the Neurology Research & Education Center

Friday, October 13th 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. Arnett Room 6th Floor, Covenant Medical Center-Lakeside Guest speakers: Susan Imke, RN, MS and Trudy Hutton, JD

$5 fee includes lunch and printed materials. Reservations required. Call Sylvia at 796-2647.

Margie's Notes

By Margie Daniels HSCA Executive Director

Can you believe it? September is almost gone! A group (36) of us got back last night from the Canada Atlantic tour. We had a wonderful time!

We visited Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton Island. Every thing looked freshly mowed and trimmed as if done especially for us.

One day it rained most of the day and our driver told another driver we were like little chickens in the rain, flapping our wings and jumping around. He said, "They think they are in Heaven!"

We had 16 seniors from Wisconsin with us on the 55passenger bus. We made some great friends. The Canadians are wonderful people and made us feel so welcome! I told my roommate, Betty Jo, that in a few days we would feel we had a beautiful dream and two nightmares, two times through the Toronto Airport! We left with our 36 and returned with all of them.

Remember "Festival of Trees" is Nov. 15-19. There is a lot of work to be done. We will be having planning meetings from now until Festival time. Please think about some crafts, some baked items for the bake sale and helping in other areas.

The United Way of Deaf Smith County drive is now going on. Lester Wagner told us today that we would have our kickoff at the Center next Friday. We all need to help with this community project. The funds we get through Untied Way go into our Home Delivered Meal Program. We are very thankful for all the wonderful volunteers and United Way board and staff who make the program successful. We definitely need the funds.

We still have openings for our Branson Christmas Tour, Dec. 4-8. You need to get your deposit in soon. REMEMBER OUR 25 YEAR CELEBRATION, SATUR-DAY, THE 30th. MORE INFORMATION IS IN OUR PAPER.

Thanks to our president, Truman and Norma Thurston, our volunteers and staff who did a wonderful job of "tending the place"!

"Be kind to each other, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God through Christ has forgiven you." Ephesians 4:32

For all the rough edges, which can never be smoothed, and er be eradicated, try to develop the the faults which best possible perspective and determine in your mind to accept reality as it is. The first principle of mental well being is to accept that which cannot be changed. - Dr. James Dobson

Performing at the Anniversary 25th Open House of the Hereford Senior Citizens Center on Sept. 30 will be the Otwell Twins (left) at 2 p.m.

and Calvary (above)

at 3 p.m.

25th Anniversary Open House will feature performers

The Otwell Twins, affection- Otwells totally captivate the ately known as "America's favorite singing twins," will perform at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center at 2 p.m. 25th Anniversary Open House. The Otwell Twins were audience." And as Mr. Welk would say, "They are simply wonderful, wonderful!"

The 25th Anniversary Open Saturday, Sept. 30 during the House begins with lunch from 25th Anniversary Open House: 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. The menu Lowell Sharp includes beans with ham,

President's Comer

By Truman Thurston HSCA President

When you read this I hope that the weather is cool and it has rained a little. We have all had a fun time this summer. Norma and I drove through Yellowstone and now I can say I have been there. Except for the Yellowstone fire damage, it was pretty much like I thought it would be. Thanks to Geographic Mags and other good magazines, it is possible to tour the world from your easy chair.

I hope that you will all help the Hereford Senior Center celebrate 25 years the 30th of this month. This will be Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. If you would like to eat with us at 11:30 a.m., we will be serving beans with ham, cornbread, salad and maybe a dessert and drink. At 1 p.m. we will have a presentation on the history of the Center. At 2 p.m. the Otwell Twins will present a program for us, and at 3:30 p.m. the local group, Calvary, will entertain. Be there. It will be fun and lots of entertainment.

Tuesday, Oct. 3, there will be a called meeting of the Center membership to elect three new board members to serve three years. The meeting will be in the dining room at 12:30 p.m. Every member's participation is requested.

There is a constant need for volunteers for the Center. As you visit the Center notice the number of volunteers who are helping to provide our services. Many are here each day and have been for years. We certainly need a pool of volunteers who can give an hour or two a day for a day or two each week. Our steady volunteers need some time for themselves occasionally. See you at the Center.

September 7 - September 21

Eula Lee Cave AzTx Cattle Company A.T. Mims Roberta Caviness Marie Maxwell

Clyde Cave Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Gilbreath Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Gilbreath

Clyde and Eula Lee Cave Johnny and Janice Brownlow Joe and Lajean Henry

Helen Lesly

Eldred Brown

Juanita Bennett

Eldred Brown

Caudie Ola Brown

Eldred Brown

Eldred Brown

Vesta Mae Nunely Eldred Brown

Eldred Brown

Eldred Brown

Alta Mae Higgins

J.P. and Wanda Jones

Out of town guests are welcomed by HSCA members

Members of Hereford Senior Citizens Association entertained out of town guests from August 22 to September 18. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Vinson hosted Edlana Coryell of Riverside, Calif. Paula Brewer had Dave Brewer of Canton, Colo., as a guest.

Clora Smith and Guy Walser were hosts to Cynthia Latham of Denver; Colo. Anna Stindt was hostess to George, Jon and Nerbert Reznik of Dallas. Virginia Anstey was visited by Lousie Watson of Lingel, Wyo. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Kemp of Coleman were guests of Earline Schneider.

Mr. and L.J. Clark had Scottie Clark of Fort Worth as a guest. Louise Hall was hostess to Dan Hall of Canyon. Effie Robinson hosted Mary Jane Robinson of Houston. Doris Bryant had Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hake of El Campo as her guests.

Jerre Clark was visited by Dr. Jack L. Turner of Fort Worth. Christine Donnell had J.W. Allen of Panhandle as a guest. I.H. Pickens was host to Weldon Pickens of Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Swede Schmucker hosted Janice Weinhermig of Groom and Sherrie Wood and baby of Amarillo.

Mr. and Verdon Watts had Charles Whitehead of Houston as their guest. Roberto Artho and Tony Irlbeck were visited by Al Irlbeck of Canyon. Al Daniels was host to Cheryl Vardeman of Denison. Faye Wright had Margaret Fields of Lubbock as a guest. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Phipps hosted An-thony, Wendy and Katy Gale of Copperas Cove. Bud and Edith Betzen of Wichita, Kan., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Betzen. Emelene Kriegshauser was visited by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kriegshauser of Peoria, Ill. Mildred Hicks was hostess to Jerry and Mary Beth Smits of Soap Lake, Wash. Kathryn Chapman was visited by Sharon Guthrie of Amarillo. Madalena Hudson hosted Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ford of Arlington.

Other guests were Dorothy Ellison, Minnie Kelso and La weekly regulars on the "Lawrence Welk Show," rated as one of the top 10 shows in the state

They have performed in such prestigious theaters as the Cape Cod Melody Tent in Hyannis Port, Mass.; The Front Row Theater in Cleveland, Ohio; The Valley Forge Music Fair in Valley Forge, Pa.; Disney Land and Disney World.

As one fan explained, "The

SENIOR SCENE

monthly supplement to The Hereford Brand since Feb. 25,

1990, is published in cooperation with, and editorial contributions, from the Hereford Senior Citizens Association, 426 Ranger, P.O. Box

270, Hereford, Tx. 79045. The Senior Center is an agency of the United Way of Deaf Smith

HSCA OFFICERS

President

Exec. VP

Secretary

Treasurer

Vice President

Truman Thurston

Swede Schmucker

Carole McGilvary

Jean Ruther

Margie Daniels

County.

The Senior Scene, a

cornbread, salad, dessert and drink. At 1 p.m. there will be a history of Hereford Senior Avis White Eldred Brown Citizens Center, followed by the Otwell Twins at 2 p.m.

Rounding out the afternoon Sherry Kendall will be the local gospel music group, "Calvary."

The public is invited to come by and see the Senior Citizens Pat McNeese Center, dine with us and enjoy the entertainment.

Boyd and Dolores Foster Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce

Maxine Hutson Eldred Brown

Clint Lundry Verlea Bainum

Ruby Sparkman J.E. and Nadine Warrick J.P. and Wanda Jones

• HEREFORD BRAND • Saturday, September 23, 2000

-

SENIOR SCENE

October Menus

| 2CheeseburgerPotato ChipsPinto BeansOuions, Pickles,Lettuce & TomatoesRound BunSL Peaches, Pears &Apricots | 3Chicken FriedSteak w/ GravyMashed PotatoesSeasoned Gr. BennaCabbage, Carrots,Raisin SaladPlans Cobbler | 4Balsod HinmGr. Northern BeamsZucchini/TematoesTurnip Grotus w/Diced TurnipSl. OnionsMeringue Pie | 5Swiss StankBaked PolatoesBu. CarrotsLine Gelatin DelightIce Creans w/Topping       | 6Salanon Pattlesw/Pen SaucoHash Br. PotatoosCora O'BrienStowed TomatoesLesson Pic        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9Chicken Filletw/ GravyMashed PotatoesBu. PeasMixed Fruit SaladIce Cream w/ FruitTopping                       | 10Salisbury SteakBaked Potato w/ToppingFried OkraFrosted LimeWalnut SaladPound Cake w/Fruit Topping | 11Pork Roast w/GravySw. Potato PattiesBlackeyed PeasGarden SaladBread Pudding w/Lemon Sance       | 12ENCHILADASSpanish RicePinto BeansSalad FixingsTostadosPineapple                   | 13Fried Catfish w/Tarthr SanceScalloped PotatoesFrench Gr. BeansColeslawBrownies         |
| 16Beef StewCheese StixFried OkraColeslawMixed FruitCookies                                                         | 17Roast Beef w/GravyMashed PotatoesCalif. Blend Veg.Pickled Beets/Onion SaladFruit Cobbler              | 18Frito PieFried ZacchiniWK CoraCabbage/Fruit SlawCarrot Cake                                             | 19Ranch ChickenSeasoned NoodlesBu. BroccoliOrange GelatinSaladBoston Cream Cake     | 20Fried Scribbles w/Tartar SauceAn Gratin PotatoesGr. Beans/CarrotsColesiawFruit Pie     |
| 23Italian SpaghettiItalian Gr. BeansTossed SaladPeaches/Cookies                                                            | 24Chicken Strips w/GravyMashed PotatoesSeasoned Gr. BeansRaspberryApplesauce SaladCobbler Ala Mode      | 25Roast Beef w/GravyBaked PotatoesCalif. Blend Vog.5-Cup Fruit SaladCheese Cake                       | 26Baked HamMashed Sw. PotatoesBu. PerisPerfection SaladBread Pudding w/Raisin Sauce | 27Fried CatfishHash Br. PotatoesBu. Veg. MedleyCabbage/FruitSlawLemon Ice BoxDessert |
| 30Stuffed Bell PeppersFried OkraHominy CasseroleCottage Cheese/Pineapple SaladButterscotch Puddingw/ Cookies   | 31MEXICAN STACKSpanish RicePinto BeansSalad FixingsTostadosPineapple Tidbits                                | ServinMonday th11:15a.m.For infoHome Det                                                                      | ENIOR CITIZENSg meals –rough Fridayto 12:30p.m.rmation onivered Meals364-5681       | DAILYCHOICEWhole, 1 ½%And Buttermilk                                                                 |

October Activities

| 2                                                                                                 | 2                                                                                                                | 3                                                                                                                       | 4                                                                                                                                                 | 5                                                                                                                                            | 6                                                       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| Pool classQuilting 9-3Line dance 10-11Doll class 1-4FOT Mtg.9:30am            | Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classGolden K Club11:30-1:00                                      | Pool classQuilting 9-3Ceramics 12-4                                                                             | Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classOil Painting 9-11Thrift Store 9-5                                                             | Pool classLine dance 10-11Thrift Store 9-5                                                                                           | DANCE7:30-10:30pmGAMES7:30pm                |
| 9Pool classQuilting 9-3Line dance 10-11Doll class 1-4Nutr. CouncilMtg1:00 | 10Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classGolden K Club11:30-1:00Beltome 10-12NARFE-1:00 | 11Pool classQuilting 9-3Ceramics 12-4                                                                       | 12Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classOil Painting 9-11TRIAD-NoonThrift Store 9-555 Alive Course10-12:00 & 1-3:00 | 13Pool classQuilting 9-3Line dance 10-11HSCA BoardMtg9:00amThrift Store 9-5'55 Alive Course10-12:00 & 1-3:00 | 14                                                      |
| 16Pool classQuilting 9-3Line dance 10-11Doll class 1-4FOT Mtg.9:30am      | 17Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classGolden K Club11:30-1:00Miracle Ear9-12         | 18Pool classQuilting 9-3Ceramics 12-4                                                                       | 19Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classOil Painting 9-11Thrift Store 9-5                                                       | 20Pool classQuilting 9-3Line dance 10-11Thrift Store 9-5                                                                     | 21                                                      |
| 23Pool classQuilting 9-3Line dance 10-11Doll class 1-4                            | 24Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classGolden K Club11:30-1:00Beltone 10-11               | 25Pool classQuilting 9-3Ceramics 12-4Birthday Social11:30-12:30Women's HealthSeminar -12:30 | 26Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classOil Painting 9-11Thrift Store 9-5                                                       | 27Pool classQuilting 9-3Lime dance 10-11Thrift Store 9-5                                                                     | 28                                                      |
| 30Pool classQuilting 9-3Line dance 10-11Doll class 1-4FOT Mtg.9:30am      | 31Pool classQuilting 9-3Exercise classGolden K Club11:30-1:00HALLOWEEN                   | 426 IMonday                                                                                                         | ENIOR CITIZENSRangery - Fridayto 5:00p.m.                                                                                             | OP9:00s.m. trThursday                                                                                                                | F STOREPENto 5:00p.m.to FridayPark Ave. |

Nutrition Update

By Charlotte R. Clark MS RD/LD

Fruits and Vegetables: Wash Them Up!

Eating fresh fruits and vegetables'goes hand-in-hand with a healthy lifestyle. The current recommendations from the Food Guide Pyramid are to eat at least five servings of fresh, frozen or canned fruits and vegetables each day. In the interest of safety, one may wonder why pesticides and food grade waxes are used on produce, or why it is important to wash fresh fruits and vegetables before eating them. Finally, what are the best ways to clean fresh produce? Pesticides

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) identifies pesticides as substances that protect food from pests, such as insects, rodents, weeds, mold and bacteria. Pesticides are an essential component in the production of a plentiful and safe food supply. Treating crops with safe levels of pesticides helps ensure that the produce we are accustomed to is available when we go to the store. Our food supply is not only the safest, but it is the most abundant in the world, and pesticides are one of the important tools that have made that abundance possible.

While we know that pesticide residue levels are safe for adults. the question has been raised about whether these same levels are safe for children. Safe exposure levels were based on adult-sized bodies; however, because pesticides may affect children differently, the EPA is reevaluating acceptable residue levels.

Health professionals, including pediatricians and registered dietitians who specialize in pediatric nutrition, agree that the health benefits of eating fruits and vegetables far outweigh any potential risk. Health benefits include increased consumption of:

· Dietary fiber that may reduce risk of colon cancer,

• Antioxidants and phytochemicals that may reduce risk for heart disease and some cancers, and it does not guarantee that your food is as clean as it can be. After all, food is as crean as it can be. After all, food is grown in soil and people still handle all produce. The solution is to wash all produce carefully before eating. Food-grade wax

Food-grade wax is used to protect produce and make it more visually appealing. Edible wax helps protect fresh fruits and vegetables from moisture as well as preserve them, making them available to us year round. Although food-grade wax is not harmful, it is still important to wash the produce.

What are good ways to clean produce?

Most people wash their produce with water and should use a produce brush to remove dirt and resides from the surfaces and crevices of produce. Vegetable washes are an option to help clean away dirt and chemicals. They are formulated to remove soil, wax and pesticides. The produce washes are made from baking soda and citric acid and help remove the soil, wax and pesticides. It is important to rinse produce well after using produce washes.

Remember, fresh fruits and vegetables provide one with sential vitamins and minerals as well as dietary fiber that help the body function and may reduce the risks of ceratin diseases. It is important to eat at least five servings every day. How to Keep Your Produce Clean and Food-Safe

1. Wash produce in water or use produce wash. Use a scrub brush. Rinse thoroughly.

2. Discard the outer leaves of leafy vegetables such as lettuce and cabbage.

3. Scrub the outside of melons with water or a produce wash product before cutting rinds. Rinse thoroughly. 4. Although it is not necessary to peel waxed produce, one may choose to peel it or use a produce wash.

5. Cut vegetables on a clean cutting board or surface - not one that was just used for raw meat. Be sure to use a clean knife, too.

6. Store produce on a shelf or drawer above raw meat in the refrigerator. If you don't, the raw meat juices may drip on them and cause contamination.

7. Keep the refrigerator produce drawer clean and sanitized.

|                         | DEC 4-8. 2000                                                                                                                                    |
|-------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MONDAY-D                |                                                                                                                                                  |
| 5:30 a.m.5:00 p.m.  | Leave Senior Center                                                                                                                              |
| 7:00 p.m.               | Red Carpet Welcome/Days InnDinner Buffet/Green Mountain Cafe                                                                                 |
| TUESDAY D               | ac.5                                                                                                                                             |
| 3:00 a.m.               | Continental Breakfast/Days InnMountain Man Nut & Fruit Co./Branson Meadows M                                                                 |
| 9:30 a.m.               | Mountain Man Nut & Fruit Co./Branson Meadows M                                                                                                   |
| 12:30 p.m.2:00 p.m. | VI.P. Dining/Osmond TheatreOsmonds Christmas/Osmond TheatreDinner Buffet/Paradise GrillShojj Tabuchi Christmas/Shojj Tabuchi Theater |
| 5:00 p.m.               | Ormer Butter/Paradise Crit                                                                                                                       |
| 3:00 p.m.               | Shoji Tabuchi Christmas/Shoji Tabuchi Theater                                                                                                    |
| MEDNESDA                |                                                                                                                                                  |
| 8:30 a.m.               | Breakfast Bulfet in the Rafters/Hughes Bros. Celeb                                                                                               |
| 10:00 a.m.              | Hughes Brothers Christmas/Hughes Bros. CelebritLunch on your own                                                                             |
| 1:30 p.m.               | Tour/Wine Sampling/Stone Hill Winery                                                                                                             |
| 5:00 p.m.               | Tour/Wine Sampling/Stone Hill WineryDinner/McGuffey's Restaurant-HwyMel and Pam Tillis/Mel Tillis Theater                                |
| 3:00 p.m.               | Mel and Pam Tillis/Mel Tillis Theater                                                                                                            |
| 10:15 p.m.              | Tour Christmas Lights/Branson Festival of Lights                                                                                                 |
| :00a.m.                 |                                                                                                                                                  |
| :30 a.m.                | Continental Breakfast/Days InnYakov Smimoff Show/Yakov's American Pavilion                                                                   |
| 2:30 p.m.               | Lunch on your own                                                                                                                                |
| 3:00 p.m.               | Bobby Vinton Christmas/Blue Velvet TheaterSunset Dinner Cruise/Showboat Branson Belle                                                        |

Topics are announced for seminars

The Hereford Senior Citizens monthly education seminar is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 27 at 12:30 p.m. in the Center's Dining Room.

Senior Center nutritional education outreach coordinator Patsy Bryant will host the September seminar which will focus on prostate health.

The Oct. 25 seminar topic will be women's health. It will also begin at 12:30 p.m. in the dining room.

These education seminars are provided by the Senior Network, Inc. Everyone is invited to attend the seminars.

Planning sessions

The schedule for Festival of Trees planning sessions had been announced.

Meetings will be at 9a.m. in the Golden K Room of the Senior Citizens Center on the following Mondays:

- Oct. 2,
- · Oct. 16,
- · Oct. 30, · Nov. 6.

Please plan to attend. Bring your energy, enthusiasm and fresh ideas

400 Ranger

Activity programs and noon meal provided. Call 806-364-0661 during business hours, Monday through Friday for an appointment to see these residence. KING'S MANOR METHODIST RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Essential vitamins and min erals for good health, including vitamin C and potassium.

Some consumers have decided to buy organically-grown produce or even grow their own if possible. While this may solve the problem of pesticide residues on produce.

Have you checked the rate on your interest bearing checking account lately?

First National Bank is currently paying 2.50 percent interest rate with a 2.53 percent annual percentage yield on our Premier Plus Checking.

LIFESTYLES

Seven Ways to Run Your Business into the Ground

ant to kill your business quickly? Want to chase away customers so you can enjoy a little peace and quiet? Would you like to go from mediocre to really poor? This column is just for you.

I'm going to give you seven secrets for running your business into the ground. You may remember the book, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." If this were a book it ### would be called, "How To Fail In A Flash. Fast failure formula

• Hire dummies. Look for people with no skills, no ambition, and a bad attitude. Put them in areas where they're sure to have a lot of customer contact.

A recent study by the America Society of Quality Control revealed that the number one reason customers stop doing business with a company is the way they were treated. A whopping 68 percent ranked employee indifference at the top of the list. This adds current validity to the U.S. News and World Report survey several years ago. In that research, 7 of 10 surveyed gave their number one reason for leaving a business and not going back as " the way they were treated.

So, hire dummies, ride them hard when they make mistakes, and leave them alone with customers. I guarantee a reduction in sales.

• Don't advertise. Convince yourself that since half of your advertising dollars are probably wasted you shouldn't waste any. Assume everyone knows what you sell.

Tell yourself that advertising is an expense, not an investment in the future business. Ignore the competition and let them spend the big bucks.

Let those new potential customers find you anyway they can. If they can't do a little driving around, that's not your problem, is

. Don't plan. One of the best ways to fail is through failing to plan. Don't analyze your current position. Don't decide where you want to go. Don't write down any steps to get from where you are to where you want to go.

Tell yourself you're too busy. Just let things happen

naturally

· Avoid change. How can you ever excel at anything if you're changing everything all the time? Stay with the same program.

Ignore the successful business owners who are changing. As fast as they are changing, they will probably be back to doing it your way again next year.

• Reduce quality. Although not as good a strategy as hiring dummies to drive away customers, this is a good one. A full 14 percent of your customers will leave if your quality slips. Buy cheap. Sell high. It will take a little while for customers to experience the difference, but when they do they'll be gone. No more fussing; no more complaining.

 Break promises. Promise Monday, deliver Wednesday. Promise early, deliver late. Promise fixed, deliver broken. It takes time to completely kill trust. So, over promise, under deliver.

Be creative. Make a game out of this one. See which employee can get a customer to come back the most times without actually delivering anything. • Take a big price jump. This is always good for a few raised eyebrows. It is also a great one-two punch when delivered with lower quality.

Customers are less likely to notice small price increases, so make it a big one. When the eyebrows go up just say, "inflation." You may even want to put up signs announcing "price just increased." (This is the one exception to the "don't advertise" advice.)

There you have them: seven sure-fire ways to rid your business of customers. Of course, those readers who want to grow your business and build wealth ... well, now you know what not to do.

Don Taylor is the co-author of Up Against the Wal-Marts. You may write to him in care of Minding Your Own Business, PO Box 67, Amarillo, TX 79105

SOME BOOKS WORTH READING

Between the Covers

must be completed by Nov. 1. The money is expended and all that is left is to write the bibliography of loan was approved. Now if the furniture would arrive and the electrician would call, I could

With everything that is going on, sleep is fitful at best. Instead of sleep much better.

materials.

Since I don't have enough to occupy

my time, why not try to buy a house

new

I am really getting excited! I received a call on Tuesday last week saying the computers from the Bill and Melinda Gates Grant were being shipped that day. After the initial excitement, then the stress set in. The computer furniture has not arrived yet, and no one will give an expected delivery date.

before I leave for South America? Okay! The The electrician hasn't gotten lying in bed staring at the ceiling, I find reading just long enough to refocus my thoughts helps me get back to sleep. If you experience the same problem you may want to try some of the new titles.

Island of Dreams by Katherine Stone may be just the thing. Denver architect, Pierce Rourke believes in dreams. Or should I say the hops of others. He also believes in love, even though he has not experienced it. Pierce's island home is proof of his belief. There on rock as white as snow Pierce has created the perfect by his own hand. When a motive presents itself and a number of suspects pop up, Kovac becomes more determined to uncover the ugly truth, even if it means the end of his career.

I heard one patron say that the end of the cold war sure has ruined his spy novels. In Tom Clancy's new book The Bear and The Dragon we see the threat to the United States coming from a different direction and angle.

Newly elected President, Jack

Ryan, finds that being the commander and chief hasn't gotten any easier. Domestic pitfalls, a dissolving Asian economy and high-level assassination attempts on Russian political leaders have the world spinning out of control. With everything happening in such a sequence, Ryan must wonder if something far more dangerous is at work than just coincidence.

While Russian investigators investigate, Ryan's most trusted eyes and ears notice forces in China moving toward a plan of audacious proportions. Tired of the West and eager to fulfill their destiny, China plans to change the world.

.

Other titles of interest are: Winter Solstice by Rosamunde Pilcher

Running Blind by Lee Child. There are several non-fiction titles centering around the topics of pregnancy and early childhood.

the isolated ground sockets in, speaker contracts for the TLA Proand I can't get him to return my calls. The county fiscal year ends Sept. 30 and the invoices for all of these things are not in yet. I am ready to go on my trip and let Martha handle the mess. What are we going to do? Keep making calls. Why should I be the only one feeling the stress? I believe in sharing whenever possible.

Enough of that problem, now the next thing on the agenda is to plan and schedule three programs for the Texas Library Asso-ciation Annual Conference. The event planning forms must be in by Oct. 1. Then get everything ready for the trip to South America, departure date Oct. 8 at 7:20 a.m.

That means make a trip to Texline to get the music keyboard, Bible school supplies, and anything else Mother wants me to take to Jeni. Oh yes, the well Elam Grant setting for weddings. That is, other people's weddings. The perfect place for the celebration of the vows and promises of love.

Ana feels compelled to move from her home in Boston to Denver even though she has never been there. It is strange but the unknown force of nature cannot be ignored. Ana feels an urgent need to find the elusive something that promises to make life wonderful and glorious. Ana has never dared to dream of such things. Pierce's life is his work and he is not looking for anything else. Then there she is, Ana.

Dust to Dust by Tami Hoag is the story of two cops who dare to cross the thin dangerous line between good and evil to investigate the suspicious death of a fellow officer.

Andy Fallon's body hung in front of the mirror reflecting the single word "sorry." Internal Affairs officers want to know if it was suicide or some kind of kinky act gone wrong. Either way the death wasn't a crime.

The victim is the son of "Iron" Mike, Kovac's old mentor. Homicide detective Sam Kovac isn't looking forward to the investigation, but his sixth sense tells him everything is too neat. Shot in the line of duty, "Iron" Mike has been confined to a wheelchair for the past 20 years. The department wants Andy's death to be ruled an accident quickly, saving Mike any undue embarrassment. Unfortunately, neither Kovac nor his partner Nikki Liska believes Andy died

M&R B6 · HEREFORD BRAND · Saturday, September 23, 2000 Equipment dealer forsees h

By Dianna F. Dandridge Hereford Brand Staff Writer Drought.

It hurts the farmers. It hurts the ranchers. Crops burn up, while livestock wind up being placed on feed months early. Not much good can be said about the dry conditions. Most agribusinessmen know they will either have to get out or tough it out.

But for the time being, one agribusiness — Texas Equipment Co., more commonly known as the John Deere house — is enjoying some good times, for reasons unknown.

"Our business has been good recently," Texas Equipment manager Dean Newberry said. "I can't tell you why or where it's coming from, but for now it's good. It will probably shut off by year's end."

a series of and an and a special series of the series of t

Newberry said even though his business is doing well, he can already see signs of drought-induced stress.

"We went into the 2000 year very optimistic, but right now I've got grave concerns for 2001. With commodity prices low, the continuing droughts, which seem to get closer and last longer, I can see some real problems. I'm really going to have to work on my optimism for the com-ing year," he said.

These concerns are surfacing in the ever-decreasing numbers of custom harvesters and combiners who are willing to stay in the business.

"We're already seeing a lot of these getting rid of equipment if they can. I've heard a lot of them say if they could get rid of their equipment, they would quit and just get out of the business altogether," Newberry said.

In the long term, Newberry expects commodity prices to come up and growing conditions to improve, but by that time the industry may lose a considerable number of smaller farmers.

"There'll be survivors, no matter what. But economics are going to rule. Whether producers and harvesters decide to buy new equipment is still ayone's guess. Right now, the trend to get out and get rid of the equipment is prob-ably going to hold for a while,' Newberry said.

The concerns brought about by custom harvesters "getting out and staying out" could result in a different type of problem.

"If we ran into a couple of really good years, we could very well have a problem getting crops harvested in time. Some of the producers will find themselves doing their own harvesting, others will take a chance and try to keep the custom harvesters doing the work," he said.

For now, Newberry says

most of his optimism is just about gone. He's heard the farmers talk about the burned up grain sorghum and dryland cotton. He knows a lot of producers who are trying to get a wheat crop up only to Right now, the bright spot we are looking at is corn harvest in the area is better than expected, all things considered. The corn acreage is short this year and it's going to get shorter in the future. We'll see the insects get to it be-fore it can make a solid stand. bit of good we can get." pretty much take what ever Getting together -- Social contact can well be the best part of any agricultural event, but getting it together is a little different story. Deaf Smith County Agricultural Extension Service ag agent Dennis Newton stood back while the rest of the ag-experts thed to sort their way through the world of technology. Dr. Greta Schuster, assistant professor an TAEX entomologist from WTAMU tackled the lap-top computers while Dr. Carl Patrick area entomologist and Dr. Brent Bean, associate professor and TAEX agronomist offered their expert advice prior to the Deaf Smith County Agriculture Day and Crops Tour on Friday.

115 South 25 Mile Ave. an 8 922 share Hereford, TX. 79045

A&M honors local vet

COLLEGE STATION -The College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University recently honored Dr. Cliff Skiles, Jr., DVM, of Hereford at the college's annual Outstanding Alumni Dinner.

Skiles is a founding member of the American Food Animal Veterinary medical Association and has worked to ensure a safe and wholesome food supply for the public.

'Dr. Skiles has repre-sented the College of Veterinary Medicine and the veterinary medical profession with great distinction," said Dr. H. Richard Adams, Dean of the Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine.

He has served on numerous committees and is a member of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, and was a charter member of the National Cattleman's Association.

Skiles is active in his home community having served as chairman of the Hereford Economic Development Board and is currently serving as the vice president of the Red River Water Authority. He is well known for his civic involvement and his support and compassion for the young people in the community.

Skiles, who was a member of the 1967 graduating class, was honored with fellow graduates Dr. Christina Kornegay (1974), Dr. James McCrady (1958), and the late Dr. Ronny Crownover (1975).

Dr. Cliff Skiles, DVM

Disaster benefits not enough

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) -Farmers in Mississippi may benefit from a federal disaster declaration, but a continued drought and low prices could jeopardize their future and hurt the state's economy, agriculture researchers say.

U.S. Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman issued the disaster declaration Monday, opening up low-interest loans to farmers and foresters statewide.

But Dickie Rhea, extension agriculture program director for North Mississippi, said help needs to go to farm suppliers and others in the agribusiness sector.

"There is less money to put into chemical seed and equipment," Rhea said. "Hopefully, there will be some expenses paid off."

Lower than average rainfall totals have plagued farmers this spring and summer, as well as the previous two years.

Rhea said agriculture in directly tied to the state's overall economy. Another year like 2000, he said, will be devastating for Mississippi and farmers who are already being pushed out of the business because of "depressed markets."

"The crop producers have suffered economic losses due to the decreased yields and decreased prices at harvest time," Rhea said Tuesday. "Livestock producers have suffered from a depressed market for the last four or five years. What we are experiencing at the community level is affecting the county and state levels."

Low market prices and a difficult growing season reduced Mississippi's agriculture economy by 2 percent.

"We have been in harvest about a week and there have been a few fair yields," said Fred T. Cooke, Jr., an agricultural economist with Mississippi State University's Delta Research and Extension Center.

CALL MELISSA MOYA

CLASSIFIED ADS HAY FOR Sale: $80/ton, also would like to buy metal self-feder for cattle. Call 276-5759 between 5:00-7:00am. $4.00 $6.20 $8.40 $10.60 $12.80 4-454, 2-350 Bucks Irrigation Engines. Like new. Will deliver and set up to run. Call Keith Culp 806-364-5569. CLASSIFIED DISPLAY lassified display rates apply to all other is not set in solid-word lines --those with captions, bold or larger type, spe-ial paragraphs, all capital letters. Rates 3. AUTOMOBILES ns, bold or lar phs, all capita er column inch. $5.30 per See Us Before You Buy LEGALS Ad rates for legal notices are $5.30 per ERRORS is made to avoid errors in legal notices. Advertisers Clean Used Cars & Trucks n to any errors in rst insertion. We after the first insertion, we one after the first insertion, we one sponsible for more than one of errors by responsible for more errors by ct insertion. In case of errors by blishers, and additional insertion 1988 CHEV. Conversion van. 364-8812. Tuesday thru Fri 3:00 p.m. the ly paper is (a m. Krist after 5:00 P.M. 1. ARTICLES FOR SALE Now Open Greene's Gifts, Etc. 232 Main Street Gift Baskets, Balloons, Crafts & More!! Booth Space Available $4,200. Call 363-6391. 363-6893 4. REAL ESTATE REBUILT KIRBYS 1/2 price with warranty. Other name I Brands. $39 & up. Sales and

PAY Cash for houses! For quick sale, call Robbie at 364-HOME BUYERS! 1999 Government Assistance Program is available to first-time homebuyers with low to moderate income. You could receive up to $7,500 in assistance. Call 7780. Kyle Michaels at 356-9444 to apply.

B7 • HEREFORD BRAND • Saturday, September 23, 2000

CROSSWORD

CROSSWORD By THOMAS JOSEPH

Motors Co.

V-8, dual air, full power. $3,250.

FOR SALE: 1986 Chevy Pickup long wheelbase, 305 motor, new transmission, good tires. $2,500. Call after 6:00 364-4135.

1981 CORVETTE. Charcoal metallic gray, mirror, T-tops, very clean. Call 806-364-8634

1997 FORD Taurus. Good condition. 63,300miles. New tires. $10,000. 364-4189 or 655-1394.

FOR SALE: 1997 Ford Extended Cab 3/4 ton. 4X4 Power stroke diesel p/u. Call 258-7253 days and 258-7752 nights.

1990 CHEVROLET Pickup. Brand new flatbed, low mileage,

ACROSS DOWN 1 Tussi 2 "Twel 1 Seafood choice Night 5 Battle reminders chara 3 Astron 10 Surfeits 12 "Network" Jim Need director 4 13 Metal 5 Bridge fastener 14 Lower feat 6 New 15 Hail, to Caesar report 16 Target 7 Brazili 18 Pizzazz river 19 Rice 8 Live dishes 9 Instruc 21 Whale tions schools 22 Musket units 11 - life eer's (bread 17 U-235 phrase 24 Carries for 25 "No No one Nanette' song 29 Tart 30 Model's work 32 Blunder Aviv 34 Born 35 V constituents 37 Bolshevik leader 39 Adam of "Chicago Hope' 40 Trombone part 41 Bank offerings 42 Accomplishment

FOR SALE: Betw and Lazbuddy, 32 pivots, 2 good irriga domestic well. Ca 3615.

33-

PRIME FARM Land, NE edge o Avenue K. approximately 130

|        | SIL                    | T                    | AT                                     | S                  | C                                        | HR                           | ISF   |   |
|--------|------------------------|----------------------|----------------------------------------|--------------------|------------------------------------------|------------------------------|-------|---|
|        | E                      |                      | CE                                     |                    | _                                        | AG                           | LE    |   |
|        | A                      | S                    | _                                      | ANU                | -                                        | LG                           | ANS   |   |
|        | Is                     | T                    | ĒΡ                                     |                    | olo                                      | ME                           |       | 1 |
|        |                        |                      | GI                                     | Δ.                 | ום                                       | -                            | _     |   |
| rn | L IT                   |                      |                                        | PC                 |                                          | C                            | CK    |   |
|        | I                      | N                    | FL                                     |                    | Ĩ Ū                               | K                            | EN    |   |
|        |                        |                      | FE                                     |                    | C                                        | AS                           | ED    | 2 |
|        | Ē                      | E                    | NT                                     | Ľ                  | ũ                                        | IN                           | EF    | i |
|        |                        | Ye                   |                                        | day                |                                          | nsw                          |       |   |
| 2      |                        |                      | fice                                   | 2                  |                                          |                              |       |   |
|        | SI21 M             | itelails         | 0.34                                   | 2                  | 9 "L                                     | tive                         | 100   |   |
|        | 23 T                   |                      |                                        |                    | SI                                       | ory                          |       |   |
|        | t                      | e                    | 1                                      |                    | au                                       | tho                          | r     |   |
|        |                        | ice                  |                                        | 3                  | 1 Pl                                     | ayw                          | righ  | t |
|        | 8                      | gair                 | ght                                    | -                  | Je3 W                                | an                           |       |   |
|        | is b                   | ero                  | gin                                    | •                  | 3 44                                     | ls                           | hiles |   |
|        |                        |                      |                                        |                    |                                          |                              |       |   |
|        |                        |                      |                                        | 3                  | 6 M                                      | oral                         |       |   |
| 2      | 26 C                   | TY C                 | of                                     | 3                  | 6 M                                      | oral-no                  |       |   |
|        | 26 Cd27 F      | iscorien         | ofweryid of                    | 3                  | 6 Mnc8 Pc                        | oralo-noole          |       |   |
|        | 26 Cd27 F      | TY C                 | ofoveryid ofit             | 3                  | 6 Mnc8 Pc                        | oral-no                  |       |   |
|        | 26 Cd27 F      | iscorien         | ofoveryid ofit             | 3                  | 6 Mnc8 Pc                        | oralo-noole          |       | ] |
|        | 26 Cd27 F      | iscorien         | ofoverid ofit5         | 3                  | 6 Mnc8 Pc                        | oralo-noole          |       | ] |
|        | 26 Cd27 F      | iscorien         | ofoveryid ofit             | 3                  | 6 Mnc8 Pc                        | oralo-noole          |       |   |
| -      | 26 Cd27 F      | iscorien         | ofoverid ofit5         | 3                  | 6 Mnc8 Pc                        | oralo-noole          |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorien         | ofoverid ofit5         | 3621       | 6 Mano8 Pcwa                 | oralo-noole          |       |   |
| 2      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorien         | ofoverid ofit5         | 5                  | 6 Mano8 Pcwa                 | oralo-noole          |       |   |
| 2      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorien         | ofoveryid ofit1214 | 5                  | 6 Mano8 Pcwa                 | oralo-noole          |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorien         | ofoveryid ofit1214 | 5                  | 6 M/no8 Pcwc                 | oralp-nopleporke |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorienigle | ofoveryid ofit1214 | 5                  | 6 Mano8 Pcwa                 | oralo-noole          |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorien         | ofoveryid ofit1214 | 5                  | 6 Mno8 Pcwc71818 | oralp-nopleporke |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorienigle | ofoveryid ofit1214 | 5                  | 6 M/no8 Pcwc                 | oralp-nopleporke |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorienigle | ofoveryid ofit1214 | 5                  | 6 Mno8 Pcwc71818 | oralp-nopleporke |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorienigle | 5121423                    | 821            | 6 Mno8 Pcwc71818 | oralp-nopleporke |       |   |
| 4      | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorienigle | 512142337              | 362138 | 6 Mno8 Pcwc71818 | oralp-nopleporke |       |   |
| 20     | 26 Cd27 FP | iscorienigle | 512142337              | 821            | 6 Mno8 Pcwc71818 | oralp-nopleporke |       |   |

| ween Friona28 acres, 2ation wells, 1 | 5. RENTAL PROPERTY |
|----------------------------------------------|--------------------|
| all 806-250-                                 | Now Leasing        |
| /PASTUREof Hereford,                     | Guardian           |

|   | APARTMENTS:Blue WaterGardensHEAT, A/CLIGHTS                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|---|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|   | Rent based on income. Acceptingapplications for 1,2,3,4 bdrms. CALLDebra or Janis TODAY for information &directions. 1-5pm (806)364-6661.Equal Opportunity.                                                                        |
| 1 | BUENA VISTA. 1-2-3-4 bedrooms available.Stove & fridgeONLY. No bills paid. Call 3648805.                                                                                                                                               |
| 1 | FOR RENT! 3-bedroom housewith garage & storage shed. Cal364-6444.                                                                                                                                                                          |
| - | 212 AVENUE I. 2 bedroom$225/month, $100 deposit. Stovefurnished. Call 364-6489.                                                                                                                                                          |
|   | 8. EMPLOYMENT                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|   | Heed & Job?Hiring Bonus PossibleWill train in welding, machine shop                                                                                                                                                                        |
|   | skills and engine maintenance. Full paywhile training. Call 1-800-292-5703 ifyou are a high school graduate, ages 17-34, who wants to start a career. Monday-Priday, 8a-4p.                                                        |
|   | CNA OPENINGS 2-10 and 106. Earn "Paid Time Off" fromyour first day and healthinsurance after 90 days; shiftweekend differentials and signon bonuses. Apply in person aKing's Manor Methodist Home400 Ranger, Hereford. |

WE NEED Help! Our organization is expanding in the Hereford area. We are looking to fill 12 FT/PT positions immediately. Great pay, advancement opportunities and paid vacations! 806-354-6702.

Part-time. 342 Miles. Inkahoots.

all-Business Co

のの設定的にの話れるのの思想を見たからオ ナイスイム日本ログアフィスト・ 特徴

364-2030

West Texas A&M Universit elor. The selected ca ist small-bu ess owners in all as of starting and managing a small-b work involves frequent financial analysi planning as Qualifications include, but are not to, a business-related degree (MBA preferred), trong communication skills and in-depth experience with IBM PC's.

Send letter of application and resume to the Office of Personnel Services, WTAMU Box 60999, Canyon, TX 79016-0001 by September 28.

This is a security sensitive position. A criminal history report will be obtained on position finalists. Texas law requires that males, age 18 through 25, be properly registered with the Selective Service System in order to be eligible for employment. WTAMU, a member of The Texas A&M University System, is an EOE/AAP employer.

HEREFORD REGIONAL Medical Center has an immediate opening for full time LVN, PM shift only. Competitive salary with differentials. Contact John Berry, DON at 364-2141 or pick up application at Hereford Regional Medical Center.

NEED EXTRA Money. Sell Avon. Must be 18 or older & qualify. Call 364-0899. 3785

WANTING TO Loose weight. I lost 40 lbs and went from size 16 to 5/6, you can too. www.need2lose.com. 800-939-5677.

KAR Services Call 295-3003 or 1-800-421-5315

paid vaca- PARMER COUNTY Appr

irs in your nome. makes and models. Call 364-4288.

THE ROADS Of Texas and The Roads of New Mexico are on sale at The Hereford Brand in book form. Both maps are $14.95 each plus tax. Discover roads you never knew were there. Hereford Brand, 313 N. Lee.

ELECTRIC WHEEL Chair. New February 2000.Merits brand by Jazzy. Used very little. Cost new $5,862, Sacrifice $4,000 or reasonable offer. Call Charlie at 364-1152.

BRASS GLASS Table with 2 end tables for sale. Good condition. $25.00. Call 364-0492.

ding, plowing, listing & plant-ing. Call Ray Berend: 364-1916 (night), 344-5916 (mobile) or Michael at 344-5917.

CUSTOM FARMING: Discing, sweeping, shredding, listing, 30s and 40s. Call Randy Allmon at 364-4263 or 346-4263.

CLASSIFIEDS WORK! PLACE YOURS BY CALLING 364-2030

NOW FSBO! Price reduced accordingly. 3BR, 1 3/4 Bath, 2 Living Areas, Covered Patio, Approximately 2000 Sq. Ft. 121 Oak Street. Call 364-8394 after 6pm for appointment.

acres. Will negotiate/will finance. For information, call Mr. Dixon-Dallas (972)239-7708.

NEW MOBILE Homes repoed from dealers. Huge discounts, financing. Call toll free 888-539-

1ST TIME Home buyer or single parent program. E-Z financing. 800-830-3515.

REPO'S REPO'S $1,000 & up. Bring cash & save. Over 40 to choose from. 888-539-7780.

NEED A New home. We trade for almost nothing. Call Bell Mobile Homes. 888-539-7780.

2000 MODEL. 16 wide 3+2. $1,000 down, $171.74/monthly. 800-830-3515 (Se Habla Espanol) $18,900 to finance, 10%APR, 300 months with/approved credit.

2000 MODEL. 28X80 under $49,900. $2,500 down, $398/ monthly. 800-830-3515 (Se Habla Espanol) $47,400 to finance, 9.5%APR, 360 months, with/ approved credit.

SHOP BUILDING And 8.4 acres with domestic well, previ-ously occupied by Dearing Wrecking, owner financing will be considered for qualified Purchaser, shop building is 80ft by 50ft. Call for details. Gerald Hamby, Broker 364-3566.

3 BEDROOMS, 1 1/2 baths, near Aikman andBluebonnet schools. Fresh paint, new roof, Price $35,000 must qualify for new loan. Equal Housing Opportunity. Gerald Hamby, Broker 364-3566.

NORTHWEST 3 Bedrooms, 2 bath home, fireplace, large game room. Nice home for $56,000. Equal Housing Oppor-tunity. Gerald Hamby Broker, 364-3566.

VA ACQUIRED Property. 129 Avenue I. All bids must bein hand at HCR Real Estate by 5:00 P.M. on October 3, 2000 or contact any Broker.

Self Storage 1409 E. Park Avenue 364-5778

BEST DEAL In Town! 1 bedroom efficiency apartments. Bills paid, red brick apartments. 300 block West 2nd. 364-3566.

ELDORADO APARTMENTS! Now Available, Newley Remodeled 1&2 bedroom apartments. We pay water, cable, gas. Starting at $70/week. Call 363-1254 or 344-2475. No deposit for September!

APARTMENTS Unfurnished--2 Br--11/2 Bath

Spacious--Comfortable and Newly remodeled

 Retrigerated Air
 Bills Paid (Except Elec.)
 Cable TV furnished
 Newly Redecorated 2 Areas -1 Non Smoking 'HUD Assistance welcome and -1 Smoking

Call 364-8421 for details Thunderbird Apartments

Commercial Buildings

Doug Bartlett - 415 N. Main 364-1483 (Office-Hereford) 383-2183 (Office-Amarillo) 364-3937 (Home)

FOR RENT! 3 bedroom duplex stove, utility room, W/D connections, fenced yard. Some new carpet. 364-4370.

FOR RENT: 4 bedroom, 2 bath, W/D hookup.$375/month, $100 deposit. 200 Bennett. Call 364-4908.

LARGE 2 Bedroom. New carpet and paint. No pets. Call after 6:00 p.m. 364-2486.

2-3 BEDROOM Mobile home. Stove, fridge, W/D hookups, fenced yard. 313 or 307 Avenue H. 364-4370.

TSD HOLDINGS, Inc. Tank Division seekingdrivers. New ownership, new management, new equipment, improved pay package. Excellent benefits and frequent home time. Must be 23 years old, have class A CDL with Tank/Hazmat, 1 year driving experience & clean MVR. For immediate placement, call 1-800-366-7462.

District is actively seeking someone with knowledge in computers and bookkeeping (Quickbooks). Salary is contingent on education and working knowledge. Must be personable and willing to greet the Public. Contact: Ron Procter, Chief Appraiser, P.O. Box 56, Bovina, TX 79009. Fax: 806-251-1121. Qualified persons will be given an interview. Office located at 305 3rd Street, Bovina, TX 79009.

Deaf Smith County has an opening for the following position:

Deputy District Clerk

Applicant must have typing and computer skills, greet public well, and have knowledge of office practices and record-keeping procedures. Bi-Lingual (Spanish) translating abilities necessary for this position.

Pre-Employment Drug Testing Required

Pick up applications from the Treasurer Office, Room 206, of the Courthouse, 235 E. Third, between 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M., beginning 9-25-00. Deadline for submitting applications will be 9-29-00 at 4:30 P.M.

Equal Opportunity Employer

La Oficina del Secretario del Condado de Deaf Smith ahora tiene la posicion habierta para:

Diputado Del Secretario

El aplicante debe de tener la habilidad de escribir en maquina y con computadora, tratar el publico agradablemente, tener conocimiento de practicas de oficina y procedimientos de guardar registros. La capacidad bilingue (Espanol) de interpretar es necesario para esta posicion.

Prueba Pre-Empleo de Droga Requerido

Levante su aplicacion en la oficina de la Tresorera en la casa de corte, cuarto 206 de las 8:00 A.M. a las 5:00 P.M. empezando el 9-25-00. El ultimo dia para someter su aplicacion es el 9-29-00 a las 4:30 P.M.

Empleador de Oportunidad Igual

All real estate advertised herein is subject to the Federal Fair Housing Act. which makes it illegal to advertise any pereference. limitation or discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex andicap, familial status or national origin, or intention to make any such preferences, limitations or

State laws forbid discrimination in th sale. rental or advertising of real estate based advertising for real estate which is violation of the law. All person are hereby informed that all dwellings advertised are available on an equal opportunity basis.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and ou'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same intem/products. Get a sense of going ates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then remember these hints:

· Give the price. A newpaper consultant says 70 percent of · Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.

· Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

. Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

B8 • HEREFORD BRAND • Saturday, September 23, 2000

CLASSIFIEDS/NEWS

HEREFORD BRAND · Saturday, September 23, 2000 · B9

LEGAL NOTICES

fotice of Intent to Open Bids

Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court will open bids for the sale of the followi

LIBRARY CARD CATALOG CABINETS Small Catalog Cabinet 35 1/3"d x 41 1/4"h double sided with a total of 30 drawers.

Large Catalog Cabinet 35 ½"d x 67 ½"1x 45"h double sided with a total of 120

Each cabinet, medium Oak Stain with Formica oak grain tops, solid oak drawer fronts/drawer slides and rods included.

Solid oak legs and pull out writing boards in large cabi

Bids will be opened in open court at 9:00 AM, Monday, October 9, 2000. Details may be obtained by phoning Rebecca Walls at 806-364-1206 at Deaf Smith County Library. Items are available for inspection at the Deaf Smith County Library. Deaf Smith County Commissioners reserve the right to refuse any and all bids.

Advertisement for Bids Hereford SW Pump Station Tank Exterior Painting

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Hereford will be received at the office of City Hall, 224 N. Lee, Hereford, Texas until 2:00 p.m., Thursday, October 5, 2000, for furnishing all necessary materials, machinery, equipment, superintendence and labor for SW Pump Station Tank Exterior Painting, including other incidental items of work as called for in the specifications. All bid summaries shall be read aloud in the Council Chambers at 2:00 p.m.

Bidders must submit a Cashier's or Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the Owner, or a Bid Bond from a reliable Surety company, payable without recourse to the order of the City of Hereford, Texas, in an amount not less than five percent (5%) of the largest possible bid, submitted as a guaranty that the bidder will enter into a contract and execute bonds and guaranty in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without the required Check or Bid Bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a Performance bond in the amount of the contract, written by a responsible Surety Company, authorized to do business in the State of Texas, and satisfactory to the Owner.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work located approximately 1 mile west of the intersection of Hwy 385 and Hwy 60 and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions under which the work is to be done.

Payment for the work performed on this project will be paid by the City of Hereford. Information for Bidders, proposal forms and specifications are on file at the office of the City Secretary, Hereford, Texas and Oller Engineering, Inc., 2517 74th Street, Lubbock, Texas, 79423, (806) 748-5700.

Copies of the specifications and contract documents may be purchased from Oller Engineering, Inc., for twenty-five dollars ($25).

THE CITY OF HEREFORD, TEXAS

Notice of Receipt of Application and Intent to Obtain Air Permit Proposed Permit No. 45359

APPLICATION. Vogt Company, 11540I-40 West, Amarillo, Texas 79124, has applied to the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) for issuance of Air Quality Permit No. 45359 which would authorize construction of a Crushed Caliche Facility on Dairy Road, Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas. The proposed facility will emit the following air contaminants: particulate matter (rock and road dust).

This application was submitted to the TNRCC on August 14, 2000. The application is available for viewing and copying at the TNRCC central office, TNRCC Amarillo regional office, and Deaf Smith County Courthouse, 235 E. 3rd, Hereford, Texas. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the Amarillo regional office of the TNRCC.

The TNRCC executive director has determined that application in administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application.

PUBLIC COMMENT/PUBLIC MEETING. You may submit public comments, a request for a public meeting, or request a contested case hearing to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. The TNRCC will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application. The deadline to submit public comments is 30 days after newspaper notice is published. After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will prepare a response to all relevant and material or significant public comments.

The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit comments or ask questions about the application. A public meeting about the application will be held if the executive director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application or if requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing.

If only comments are received is timely filed, the executive director will complete the technical review, issue a preliminary decision on the application, and a Notice of Application and Preliminary Decision will be published and mailed to those who are on the mailing list for this application. That notice will contain the final deadline for submitting public comments.

After the final deadline for public comments following any required Notice of Application and Preliminary Decision, the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. If comments are received, the response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application, will then be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or is on a mailing list for this application.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. You may request a contested case hearing. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in state district court. Unless a written request for a contested case hearing is filed within 30 days from this notice, the executive director may approve the application. If no hearing request is received within 30-day period, no further opportunity for hearing will be provided. A contested case hearing will only be granted based on disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application. Further, the Commission will only grant a hearing on those issues raised during the public comment period and not withdrawn.

A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a hearing. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number, and fax number, if any; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of you property relative to the facility; and (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility. if the request is made by a group or an association, the one or more members who have standing to request a hearing, and the interests which the group or association seeks to protect, must also be identified. you may also submit you proposed adjustments to the application/;ermit which would satisfy your concerns. Requests for a contested case hearing must be submitted in writing within 30 days following this notice to the Office of the Chief Clerk, at the address balant address below.

If a hearing request is timely filed, additional notice will be provided. Following the close of all applicable comment and request periods, the executive director will forward the application and any requests for contested case hearing to the TNRCC Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact relating to relevant and material air quality concerns raised during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic, safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.

MAILING LIST. In addition to submitting public comments, you may ask to be placed on a mailing list to receive future public notices for this specific application mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk by sending a written request to the TNRCC Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

INFORMATION. Written public comments or requests for a public meeting or contested case hearing should be submitted to the Office of the Chief Clerk, MC-105, TNRCc, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087. For more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the Office of Public Assistance, Toll Free, at 1-800-687-4040. General information regarding the TNRCC can be found at www.tnrcc.state.tx.us.

Buy

Further information may also be obtained from Vogt Company at the address stated above or by calling Mr. Richard Vogt at (806) 364-2322.

P.O. BOX 673 • 313 N. LEE • HEREFORD, TEXAS 79045 364-2030 • Fax (806)364-8364 • E-MAILhbnews@wtrt.net

rade

Rent

HEREFORD BRAND · Saturday, September 23, 2000 · B10

EAL ESTATE

and all Manage Stations Analytic Street or Painting listed with book of the large of the large of the book of the second of the second of the second of the second

ENERGEBBBBAN BUS

BRICK HOME WITH COUNTRY PERSONALITY

Spacious Potential In Completion Of Basement Areas

SLOW ON STANDARD STATE OF STATES THE STATES

BY W.D. FARMER, F.A.I.B.D.

Twin bay windows, gables and dormers give this home a look of symmetry. The open foyer directs traffic either to the great room, kitchen and eating areas, or to the bed room wing of the home.

The great room includes built in book cabinets and a central fireplace. Accessible from here is the covered porch and sun deck.

The great room is flanked by two wings. The formal dining room with bay window and built in china cabinets is directly accessible to the enormous kitchen. This room includes unsurpassed cabinet and work surface and an island cabinet is thoughtfully centered in this room. A double sink overlooks the sun drenched breakfast room.

Adjacent is a complete utility area. A half bath, walk in pantry and large laundry room with sewing area. An oversized double garage is convenient

The master suite of the home is positioned so that it can be private if desired, or access to the family bed rooms can be from the same entry hall off of the great room. The room itself is luxuriously large, and connects to a fully enhanced garden bath. Double walk in closets are also provided.

Although you may not require additional space in the basement, an enormous amount of additional space is designed for possible completion in the future.

The country traditional exterior is constructed of brick, highlighted with bay windows, arch top dormer windows and corner quoins.

All W. D. Farmer plans include construction details for substituting brick, frame or stucco exterior finish. Plan number 2937-B includes 2,928 square feet of heated space on the main level with 1,942 square feet of space shown as finished in the basement and 647 square feet of unfinished basement space.

To receive an information packet on this plan, call W. D. Farmer Residence Designer, Inc. at 1-800-225-7526 or 1-800-221-7526 in GA. You can write to request the information at P.O. Box 450025, Atlanta, GA 31145. Visit our website: www.wdfarmerplans.com.

STUDY

16'6'x20'2'

FINISHED ARE

610 W. 2nd - 2 bdrm., 1 bath, redone inside - new paint & carpet. Sale or Rent - Owner/Broker. 500 Plains - Nice 3 bdrm., 13/4 bath, Central heat & air. For rent $650 a month - Deposit $650. 1 Section - Dryland Farm. Priced to Sell. Commercial Building - $40,000 - Remodeling started. Can finish for any purpose approved by City Commercial Zoning. Country Living with 3 acres - 3 bdrm., 1 bath. Older home old fashion woodwork & cabinets. Refinished Hardwood floors. Could be a 2 story - Hardwood floor attic. $47,500. 1508 Blevins - Priced to Sell - Reduced - 3 bdrm., 1% bath, Central heat & air. Nice neighborhood.

135 N. Texas - Very nice home. Well decorated. 3 bdrm., 1% bath, Central heat & air.

Marn Tyler 364-7129 Juston McBride 364-2798 Hortensia Estrada 364-7245

BED ROOM 17'0"x15'0"

238 BEACH - 3 bdrm., 1<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> bath, new carpet, new roof, and Owners Say They Will Do Whatever It Takes To Sell It! $53,950. 135 REDWOOD - Brand new by Scott Daniels, Isolated master bedroom with large bath, 8', 10', 12' ceilings, designed office, open family room. 233 CHEROKEE - 4 bdrm., 3 bath, spacious living area, new carpet, new fence, redecorated, 2200 + sq. ft., $89,950. 1611 WEST PARK - Colonial Style on 4 acres, 2 Story with basement, 4 bedrooms, formal living, dining, family room, sunroom, $210,000. 739 COUNTRY CLUB - 4 bdrm., 13/4 bath, huge family room, new roof, corner lot, storm cellar, $74,900.

209 N. TEXAS - 2800 + sq. ft., 3 isolated bedrooms, 3 isolated bathrooms, open living-kitchen-dining area, $125,000.

129 KINGWOOD - 2500 + sq. ft., 3 bedrooms, 3 baths, family room, game room, beautiful yards with 15 trees, sprinkler, $115,000.

909 E. PARK - Commercial Office Building For Sale or Lease. 142 N. MILES - 14,000 sg. ft., Commercial Building For Sale or Lease.

364-7792 Carolyn Kollin • (806)364-2017 216 S. 25 Mile Avenue in Hereford. TX ANDREWS R agency MLS = Even if you don't get out much these days, you can still "go shopping" in the Classifieds. Get exactly what you're looking for, delivered right to your front door. Find someone to mow the lawn. Find someone to clean the house. • Find that special recliner. • Buy a computer system. • Buy a new used car. Only . Buy that rare coin for your Senior Special collection ...... and lots more. One-year Subscription

3 bdrm., 2 bath in NW area 4 bdrm., 1 bath in country 4 bdrm., Under 40,000

118 QUINCE

118 QUINCE COUNTRY HOME ON 4½ ACRES - 4 bdrm., 1¾ bath, sharp! COUNTRY HOME CO., RD. 9-A - 2 bdrm., one bath on approx. 11.1 acres. Great location! RESIDENTIAL 115 AVENUE H - 2 bdrm., one bath with great yard 124 STAR - 3 bdrm., 1 ¾ bath, 2 car garage screened-in patio. 200 BLOCK OF KINGWOOD - 4 residential lots ready to build on. 217 GREENWOOD - 3 bdrm., 1¾ bath, brick, good floor plan. 401 AVENUE E - Newly remodeled 4 bdrm., one bath, storm cellar. 402 WEST PARK - 3 bdrm., 1¾ bath.

406 BARRETT - 3 bdrm., one bath home, possible seller financing. 428 N. JACKSON - 2 bdrm., one bath home with apartment 501 WILLOW LANE - 2 bdrm. 1% bath, large rooms, great yard 1108 GRAND - 3 bdrm, 2 baths, with carport & garage.

PRICE REDUCED 118 QUINCE - 3 bdrm., 2.5 baths, 2-story, 2 car garage. 322 AVENUE B - 2 bdrm., one bath home, price reduced for quick

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY 1406 W. 1ST - for lease or sale. MERCHANTS FREIGHT BUILDING S. 385 - next to WTRT Services. For lease or sale. GOLDEN PLAINS CARE CENTER - 90 bed unit with kitchen & day room. ONE FULL BLOCK OF COMMERCIAL PROPERTY - on S. Main. 199 ACRES OF COMMERCIAL PROPERTY ON PROGRESSIVE RD. Just West of Town & Country.

See us for HUD & VA Repo Houses COOPERATIVE WITH ALL BROKERS

Call for further information.

Week of September 24 through September 30, 2000

*.

The Hereford Brand

GUIDE MOVIES · SOAPS · PUZZLES. Buffy the Vampire Slayer

Everyone's favorite stake-wielding heroine, Buffy Summers (Sarah Michelle Gellar), is set to return for anoth-er brilliant sesson of Buffy the Vampire Slayer, beginning Tuesday on The WB Network. But fans shouldn't hold their breath waiting for a reunion between Buffy and her vampire ex-boyfriend, Angel, this sesson.

By John Crook OTVData Features Syndicate

Watch for America's favorite vampire slayer and her star-crossed old flame to continue on their separate paths as two of The WB Network's biggest hits begin their new seasons Tuesday, Sept. 26. As always, viewers can expect the unexpected from Joss Whedon, the ingenious (and often exhausted) creator of Buffy the Vampire Slayer and Angel. Just don't look for romance to rekindle between the title characters played by Sarah Michelle Gellar and David Boreanaz, Whedon says.

*

"As of now, we have no major crossover stories planned," Whedon says. "The network likes them, but they can be very challenging logistically when you have to take the star of one show and move him in the middle of production to shoot some scenes for the other show.

While this news may disappoint hardcore romantics swept up in the doomed romance of the Buffy-Angel relationship, it won't startle most fans. As last season progressed, Buffy met and fell in love with Riley Finn (Marc Blucas). Riley jealously confronted Angel in a crossover episode last season that pointedly suggested both Angel and Buffy had moved on with their separate lives.

"We may occasionally have a supporting player from one show drop in on the other," Whedon adds, "but toward the end of last season, Angel really began to find its own identity, so we'll be pursuing that direction more this season."

That new identity included a major end-of-season prominence for Lindsey McDonald (Christian Kane) and the other villains at Wolfram & Hart, the nefarious law firm with some literally monstrous clients. Angel became No. 1 on its lethal hit list after foiling some of its lucrative schemes.

"Actually, we wanted to bring back Lindsey earlier in the season last year, but Christian is getting a lot of work,"

Atlant

Whedon explains "We'll take him any time we can get him again this season, and Wolfram & Hart will remain a strong presence, thanks to Lilah Morgan (Lindsey's 'ackstabbing colleague, played by Stephanie Romanov)."

Also returning for occasional guest appearances as policewoman Kate Lockley is Elisabeth Rohm, who already has a full-time series . ommitment this season on TNT's Bull.

Back on Buffy, where the title character will gain a little sister (Michelle Trachtenberg). Whedon says fans shouldn't look for another episode like the mind-boggling "Hush," last year's largely dialogue-free episode that netted Whedon a richly deserved Emmy nod for his writing.

"I thought I might have one episode like that in me, an episode that could stand as a special event," he explains, 'and this season we'll be getting back to long story arcs. Tara (Amber Benson) and her relationship with Willow (Alyson Hannigan) will become even more important to the show."

Whedon's reluctance to talk more freely is a direct result of his frustration over how hard it has become to surprise his viewers because of leaks via the Internet.

"It's almost impossible," he says with a sigh. "If just one person knows something, the whole world can know about it in five minutes. We finish a script, and it shows up online before we even put it into production. An actor (from our show) turns up to read for another part, and suddenly the whole town is buzzing that he isn't in our show.

"I guess some people enjoy getting the secrets beforehand, but I must say. I have come to find it really intrusive."

10-KFDA-Amarillo-CBS 11-KDBA-WB 12-AMC 13-KCIT-Amarillo-FOX 14-ESPN 15-CNN 16-The Weather Channel 17-TBN 18-Showtime 19-Community Bulletin Board 20-HBO 21-Cinemax 22-CNBC 23-Turner Classic Movies

Page 2 -- Entertainment -- The Hereford Brand

Above the Law ±± ½ (1988) Steven Seagal, Henry Siva. A renegade cop bucks the system after he uncovers a covert CIA drug-running oper-ation in Chicago. (CC) 2:00. September, 28 7pm, 9pm; 30 5pm.

Airplanel **** (1980) Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty. A neurotic former war pilot is pressed into ser-vice when an airliner's crew succumbs to food poisoning. 2:00.
September 26 1am,

Airplane II: The Sequel ★★ (1982) Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty. A commercial space-shuttle com-pany attempts to keep a pilot from disclosing

7:30

Monster

Rolie Polie

Paid Prog. Paid Prog. Paid Prog.

(6:40) Movie: *1/2 Hello Again (1987)

Church

Bible

8 AM

Barney

Flint

Family

PB & J Otte

Church

Fox News Sunday

SUNDAY

7 AM

Sesame Stree

onster

Ch of God

Bear

Kipper

Hour of Power

2

3

4

5

6

0

0

B

the craft's technical problems. 2:00. 🝘 Sepber 26 3am, 12p

Alice Adams * * * ½ (1935) Katharine Hepburn, Fred Tarkington's novel. (CC) ter 28 9am. 2:00. @ Sep

Allen 3 *** (1992) Sigourney Weaver, Charles S. Dutton. Ripley rallies a group of weaponless convicts in a desperate attempt to kill the alien stalking them. (In Stereo) (CC) 3:00. September 26 7pm, 11pm; 30 3pm.

9:30

Wishbone

Digimon

(:45) Movie: Somewhere in Time (1980) Christopher Reeve. ***

This Week

Sunday Morning

mer Games

Wash, Week Wall St.

Big Wolf

Paid Prog.

BoyWorld Jersey

S Club 7

Totally

All She Ever Wanted (1996) Marcia Cross, James

9 AM

Dragon

Digimon

Movie

Olympic Sum

Rolle Polle Z Games

8:30

Virtues

In Search

Out of Bx

Paid Prog. Animal

First Baptist Church

Flint

Marshaf. A woman with a chronic medical condition makes a risky decision to discon-tinue her medication and become pregnant. 2:00. September 25 7pm.

And the See Will Tell + + ½ (1991) Richard Creme Rachel Ward. A fact-based account of a doubl murder in the South Pacific and the sense d. 4:00 urtroom trial that fol er 26 6pm.

Angel on My Shoulder *** (1946) Paul Muni, Claude Rains: A flamboyant gangster makes a pact with the devil in order to return to Earth as an incorruptible judge. 2:00. September 28 Gene

Algebra Algebra Taking L Hi-Fi Room Two-Kind Angela

Jersey

Movie: Deceived (1991), John Heard ***

Reporter Paid Prog. Paid Prog.

Taking Lea

Movie: Zeu

Football

Football

SEPTEMBER 24

10 AM 10:30 11 AM 11:30 12 PM

NFL Today

Fox NFL Sunday

ngels in the Outfield + + + (1951) Paul Day Janet Leigh. The Pittsburgh Pirates turn a lo streak into a pennant race with a bit of di Intervention. (CC) 2:00. September

- ny Place but Home + + 16 (1997) Joe Lando, Ma Page Kaller. A husband and wife are caught up i a kidnapping plot surrounding a boy who i a kidnapping plot surrounding a boy who reluctant to return to his father. (In Stere (CC) 2:00. September 28 1:30am.
- wakenings ***** (1990) Robin Williams, Rober De Niro. A neurologist uses an experimenta drug to treat a group of forgatten hospita patients suffering from steeping sickness 2:30. @ September 24 1:30pm.

The Awful Truth ***'/2 (1937) Irone Dunne, Cary Grant. A case of mistaken infidelity leads to divorce and a series of outlandish confronta-tions between a man and his ex-wife. 1:30. September 25 7am; 30 4pm.

- B Bables ** (1990) Lindsay Wagner, Dinah Manoff. The desire to have a child leads three women into the difficulties and joys of impending mother-hood. 2:00. September 30 Spm.
- Babylon 5: The Gathering (1993) (Part 2 of 2) Michael O'Hare, Tamlyn Tomita. In the year 2257, a saboteur attempts to derail a peace confer-ence aboard an orbiting space station. (In Stereo) 1:00. September 26 6pm.
- The Bad Seed *** (1956) Nancy Kelly, Patly McConnack. A series of incidents forces a mother to realize that her 6-year-old daughter is a coldblooded murderess. 2:30. Sep-tember 30 5:30am.
- Battle of the Bulge *** (1965) Henry Fonda, Robert Shaw. Allied troops face off against the Germans in this account of the historic World War II battle. 3:00. (D) September 29 10am.
- etore Sunrise *** (1995) Ethan Hawke, Julie Delpy. A chance encounter between a young American and a French student leads to a 14-hour romanticinterlude in Vienna. 2:00. September 28 2:45am.
- The Big Lebowski ** (1998) Jeff Bridges, John Goodman. An L.A. loser and his bowling bud-dies get mixed up in a kidnapping scheme after he is mistaken for a millionaire. (CC) 2:00. September 26 8pm.
- Bitter Blood ***/3 (1994) Kelly McGillis, Keith Car-radine. A disturbed divorcee and her brooding cousin wage a deadly campaign of revenge against her ex-husband. (CC) 4:00. (D) Sep-tember 28 form
- Blind Faith ** ½ (1990) Robert Unich, Joanna Kerns. Three boys must come to terms with their mother's death and the fact that their father has been accused of the crime. 4:00.
  September 30 Spm.
- Body of Evidence ** (1992) Madonna, Will Dalos A woman accused of using sexto kill her wealthy lover ensnares her attorney in an erotic web of seduction. (In Stereo) (CC) 2:00. September 25 1pm; 30 1am.
- Bombshell ** (1997) Heny Thomas, Madden Anick. A drug company employee falls victim to an unknown disease as he attempts to prevent the launch of a flawed medication. (In Stereo) (CC) 2:00. (D September 30 10am.
- Bram Stoker's Dracula * * * (1992) Gary Oldman, Winona Ryder. Francis Ford Coppola's Oscar-winning account of the vampire who left Tran-sylvania for the blood-rich shores of England. 2:45. September 26 12:55am.
- Breaker Morant * * * ½ (1979) Edward Woodward, Jack Thompson. Australians fighting for England in the Boer. War face a trumped-up court-martial. Based on a true story. 2:00. September 25 1am.
- Transout ++ (1975) Charles Bronson, Robert Duvall A Texas bush pilot stages a daring helicopter raid on the Mexican prison where his client's husband is imprisoned. 2:00.
  Beptember 28 11p
- C echún Cachún Re-Ra (1984) Alma Dellina, Al-fedo Alegría. Las travesurns en los años felices de un grupo de estudiante s de la preparatoria. de un grupo de estudiants 2:00. 🝘 September 30
- A Call to Remember ++1/ (1997) Bythe Denner, Joe Managna. In late 1960s America, a Holo-caust survivor prepares for a reunion with the son she thought was killed during the war. (CC) 2:00. September 29 Tpm.
- nplain Horatio Hombiower 4:44 (1951) Geo pay Pack, Viginia Mays. During the Napoleonic Wara, a Brillah captain becomes a national heroby defending England's harbors from the French. 2:00. September 25 Sem.
- Carser Opportunities * * % (1991) Frank Whatey Jennier Connelly. Two would-be burglars tangle with a night-shift jankor and a cornelly shoplif ter in a supposedly empty department store (In Stereo) (CC) 2:00. September 25
- Cat on a Hot Tin Roof +++½ (1958) Elizabeth Taylor, Paul Newman. A childless woman and he alcoholic husband come to terms with each other. Based on the play by Tennessee Wil-liams. (DVS) 2:00. September 24 5pm.

Cat People A W *** (1982) / s that is curse n

- d Affair *** ( . 956) 8 ings in or
- on (1998) Bobbie Phillips, Eric Lloyd killing machine becomes the guardi perfect killing machine becomes of a boy who holds a potentially devas insuchio. (in Stereo) (CC) 2:00.

mentally challenged young man is the subject of a scientific experiment in brain surgery. Robertson won an Oscar. 2:00. (1) Septem-ber 30 Sam. Charly *** (1968) Cliff Ro Cheyenne * * (1947) Dennis Morgan, Jane Wy gambler finds his mission to capture an o interrupted by the criminal's concerned 1:45. September 26 1:30am.

Chitty Chitty Bang Bang + + + ½ (1968) Dick Van Dyke, Saly Ann Howes. A peculiar inventor travels to a fantasy land in a magical car that doubles as an airplane and a hydrofoil. (CC) 3:00. (D September 24 Sam.

Anticipation for GL; disappointment for GH

By Candace Havens OTVData Features Syndicate

He may very well be the hottest thing ever to hit Guiding Light. Daytime newcomer Jordi Vilasuso, who plays hotheaded Tony Santos, had tongues wagging before he made his first appearance on the daytime drama.

Fans saw his picture in a soap maga-zine and couldn't wait to find out more about him. The online chat rooms were buzzing with fans wondering where this young hottie was going to fit in the Guiding Light landscape.

"Tony is a volatile young man; quite simply, where he goes, trouble follows." executive producer Paul Rauch says. Jordi brings a likable quality to the role that makes the character's actions that much more unpredictable."

Vilasuso is of Cuban descent and grew up in Coral Gables, Fla, His parents, Ana and Dr. Frank Vilastoo, have two other children, favier and Marianne.

After attending Glendale Community ollege in Colifornia, Vilasuso began working in films. His credits include An gels Don't Slern Here. The Last Home Pan and Non Smoking He has made guest appearances on the TV series Un solved Masterics America's Most Want ed and Buffy the Vampire Slaver and can be seen in an apcoming episode of Arrest and Trial on USA Network.

In other news Alex Mendoza has taken over the role of Dr. Joe Scanlon on Port Charles. David Gail vacaned the role for personal reasons and is no longer with the show Mendoza has made guest appearances on the TV series Channed, JAG: Pensacola: Wings of Gold, and Beverly Hills. 90210. His first airdate is Monday, Sept. 25.

ar Candace: Most General Hospital fans were incredibly disappointed by the send-off of Ingo Rademacher (Jax Jacks) from the show. It didn't seem worthy of someone who has been with the show for almost five years. They gave Jax five minutes to leave and then focused on Jason's (Steve Burton) tem-porary return of auro C Miami porary return. -Laura C., Miami Springs, Fla. Dear Render: Rademacher has gone on to star in NBC's new series Titans, but his story line was left open, so there is a chance he could return.

.

Send questions of general interest to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, TVData Features Syndicate, 333 Glen St., Glens Falls, NY 12801, or e-mail to souptalk@tvdata.com. Only questions selected for this column will be answered. Personal replies cannot be sent.

|             | NFL Sportwkly                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | NFL Countdo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ICVDN 2D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|-------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Sportwkly                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Sportsctr.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Lines                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Reporters                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Sportsctr.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | and the state of the state of the local distribution of the state of t                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Learn Marchan                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | EXPN 2D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| )           | Movie: In the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | he Right Con                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Fisher Stevens                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |  PG                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | (:45) Movie: 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|             | Movie: The P                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | rince of Egypt                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | '2 'PG'                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | (:45) Movie: A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | A Dog of Fland                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | ers Jack Ward                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | en.  'PG'                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Real Sports                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: Broke                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | down Pala                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|             | Movie: Show                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | d. Tokyo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | (:15) Movie: N                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | lever Been Kis                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | sed Drew Bar                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | rymore.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | (:05) Movie: 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | he Suburbane                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Craig Bierko.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | (:35) Movie: (                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Cat's Eye                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| -           | Movie: The B                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | oman Spring o                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Mrs. Stone (                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 1961)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Movie: Roadt                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | block (1951) *                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | *%                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Movie: The M                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | isfits (1961) M                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | larilyn Monroe.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ***                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| -           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | The second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Inside NASC                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Car                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Raceday                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Auto Racing                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| _           | Guthy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Trucks!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Crank                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | In the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|             | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Zooventure                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Boneheads                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | A.R.K.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Hunter-Croc                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Ultimate Guid                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Coast Guard:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Dangerous                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Inside                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| )           | Movie: No Ma                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | in's Land                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Breakfast Wit                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | th the Arts                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | House Beaut                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | iful                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Top 10                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Unexplai                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| )           | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Guthy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Paid Pros                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Murphy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Murphy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Murphy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Murphy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Movie: The D                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | eliberate Stra                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | nger (1986                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| -           | National Spo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | H.S. Extra                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Cowpoys                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | NFL This Mo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Sportsman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Hunters                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Auto Rad                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| )           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | and the second design of the s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| )           | Movie: Chitty                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | _                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Lois & Clark-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | In the Heat of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | In the Heat of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Academy (19                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|             | Rocket                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Rocket                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Rugrats                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Rugrats                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Spongeb                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Spongeb                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Catdog                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Catdog                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Beavers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Beavers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Ren Stim                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| )           | Saved-Bell                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Saved-Bell                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | USA High                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | USA High                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | WWF Supers                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | tars                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Movie: Dead                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Man's Curve (                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 1998) Matthew                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Lillard.  1/2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| )           | Plaza Sesam                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 0                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Esta Chilind                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Picardia Mex                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | icana                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Republica De                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | portiva                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Futbol                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | and the second design of the s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Touber Orab                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | History                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Maginot Line                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Hunt for Jack                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | the Dioner                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Blunden                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|             | Century: Evil                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Automobiles                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Vietnam                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | mistory                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | and the second division of the second divisio                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | succession with some design of the second seco                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | s une rupper                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| )           | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Battlestar Ga                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | lactica                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Earth 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Star Trek                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Dark Skies                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| )           | Bozo Super S                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Sunday                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Full House                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Clueless                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Malibu, CA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Parenthood                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Parenthood                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Fresh Pr.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Beastmaster                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Cleopatr                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| _           | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 1000                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|             | 12:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 1 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 1:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 2 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 2:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 3 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 3:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 4 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 4:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 5 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 5:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| ,           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | and the second designation of the local division of the local divi                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | the subscription of the subscription of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| _           | Taking Lead                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Literary                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Place                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Place                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Pepin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Season                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Weir                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Caprial                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Artists of the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| )           | S Club 7                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Movie: Earth                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | quake in New '                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | York (1998) Gr                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | eg Evigan.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: Free I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Fall (1999) Jacl                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | yn Smith, Bruce                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Boxleitner.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Movie: Night                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Twisters                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| )           | (9:00) Olympi                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | c Summer Ga                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | mes                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Olympic Sum                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | mer Games                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 10.100                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | News                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| )           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Zeus and Ro                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Smart Guy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Z Games                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Totally                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Boy-World                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Jersey                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Even                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Famous                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Boy-Wo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| _           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | LYON                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|             | Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | And an owner of the local data and the local data a | and the second design of the s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | zel Washington                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | rush (1993) Ci                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | and the second division of the second divisio                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.1.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Movie: Dead                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|             | Honey, I Shru                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | unk the Kids                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Titaris                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Points Plus A                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Auction                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Sneak Peek                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Paid Prog.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | ABC News                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | News                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| )           | (12:00) NFL F                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | ootball New E                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | ngland Patriots                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | at Miami Dolph                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | hins                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | NFL Football                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Kansas City C                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | hiefs at Denver                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Broncos                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Asta Marcala                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | tell stale                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| )           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | and the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | at Dallas Cowb                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Movie                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 1 820                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 1.1.1.1.1.1.1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Simpsons                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 3rd Rock                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| _           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Des Ph                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | least of the state                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | all Deat O                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | the subscription of the su | And a lot of the lot o                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| )           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Skateboardin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Triathion                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | X-Games                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Dog Show                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | And and a state of the state of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | off Bank One                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | of the local division of the local divisiono | the lot of the local division in which the local division in the l                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| )           | Movie: The G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | odson (1998)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: Back                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | to School Rod                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | ney Dangerfiek                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | d. 'PG-13'                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Greatest Rnd                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | s of Boxing-U                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | ntold Stories                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | (:05) Movie: $                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Sliding Do                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| )           | Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Making                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Panic                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: Blue (                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Chips (1994) N                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | lick Nolte, Mary                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | McDonnell.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: The P                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | rince of Egypt                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ***% "                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| )           | Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | (:15) Movie: V                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Volf (1994) Jac                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | k Nicholson M                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | lichelle Pleiffer.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | and the second data and the second data and                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Fugitives Nick                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | A CONTRACTOR OF THE OWNER OWNE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | A COLUMN TWO IS NOT THE OWNER.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| )           | Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | the subscription of the su | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Contraction of the Association o                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | the second division of                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Ribbon (1949)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: Fail-S                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | ny Fonda.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Movie: Cat o                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | -                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| )           | (11:30) Auto                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Racing NASCA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | R Winston Cup                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | MBNA.com                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 400                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Bill Dance                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | In-Fish                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Bassmastr.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | In-Fish                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Buckms                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| )           | Inside                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | On the Inside                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | )                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Behind Ener                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | ty Lines                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | On the Inside                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | ,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | U.S. Navy SE                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | ALs                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | On the Inside                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| )           | Unexplained                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Am Justice                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Movie: Awak                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | enings (1990)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Robin Williams,                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Robert De Nir                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 0 +++%                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Movie: Miser                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | (1990) James                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Caan Kathy                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Rates +++                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| )           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | er (1986) Mari                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | And in case of the local division of the loc                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | and the second rest of the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | And in case of the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| -           | and the second design of the s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | and the second designed as a second designed as a second designed as a second designed as a second designed as                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | k namon.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | and the second data where the second data wh                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | ce (1991) Step                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | and the second se                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | and the second                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | S Grand Priv                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | On the Dala                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | English Dram                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| ,           | (12:00) Auto                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Hacing FIA Fo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | mula One 0.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | O. GIANUTTIA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Fishing                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | On the Pole                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | ier League So                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | occer: reams i                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | BA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| -           | Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Whoopi Goldbe                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | erg. + 1/2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 986) Eddie Mu                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: 48 HF                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| )           | statements when the statement is a                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | the second s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | erg. #%                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Movie: The G                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | iolden Child (1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 986) Eddie Mu                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | phy.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Movie: 48 HF                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | IS. (1982)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Movie: FatalGAS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Beauty (1987)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Whoopi Goldbo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: The GYou Afraid?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | iolden Child (1You Afraid?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | phy. Carter                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Kenan &                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 0           | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Beauty (1987)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Whoopi GoldbeMovie: Uncle                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | erg. ★½Buck (1989) J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Movie: The GYou Afraid?John Candy. +1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | You Afraid?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | phy.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?(a Silverstone.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | IS. (1982)Kenan &                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 999 | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) Futbo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crinen Vivo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Whoopi GoldbeMovie: UncleSolo Boxeo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Buck (1989) J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: The GYou Afraid?John Candy. ++Al Fin de Ser                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | iolden Child (1You Afraid?r <sup>1</sup> / <sub>2</sub>mana                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: Cluele                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | phy. Carteres (1995) Alici                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?is Silverstone.BalcnVero                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | IS. (1982)Kenan &Noticiere                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| )           | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crin                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Whoopi GoldbeMovie: Uncle                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Buck (1989) J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: The GYou Afraid?John Candy. +1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | iolden Child (1You Afraid?r <sup>1</sup> / <sub>2</sub>mana                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | phy. Carteres (1995) Alici                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?(a Silverstone.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | IS. (1982)Kenan &Noticiere                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crinen Vivo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)/ Blunders                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Whoopi GoldboMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat Military                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Buck (1989) J                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: The GYou Afraid?John Candy. Al Fin de SerGreat Militar                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | iolden Child (1You Afraid?1½nanay Blunders                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: ClueinGreat Military                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | phy. Carteres (1995) Alici                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?is Silverstone.BalcnVeroGreat Militar                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | IS. (1982)Kenan &NoticieroBlundero                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) Movie                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Movie: FatalGAS::  True Crird en VivoGreat Military::  Cat Peo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)y Blundersople (1982)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Whoopi GoldbeMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Leger                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) Tom                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sa                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | iolden Child (1You Afraid?12manay Blundersra. + + 12                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: ClueleGreat MilitaryMovie: I Marr                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | phy. CarterISS (1995) AliciBlundersIed a Monster                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?is Silverstone.BalcnVeroGreat Militar(1998) Richard                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | IS. (1982)Kenan &Noticierey Blunden1 Burgi. **                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crinen VivoGreat Military                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)y Blundersople (1982)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Whoopi GoldbeMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Leger                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Buck (1989) Jy Blunders                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sa                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | iolden Child (1You Afraid?12manay Blundersra. + + 12                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: ClueinGreat Military                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | phy. CarterISS (1995) AliciBlundersIed a Monster                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?is Silverstone.BalcnVeroGreat Militar                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | IS. (1982)Kenan &Noticierey Blunden1 Burgi. **                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| )           | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Criren VivoGreat Military:  Cat PeoLead-Off                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)y Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major Li                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Whoopi GoldbeMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legercague Baseba                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Card                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Movie: The GYou Afraid?John Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | viden Child (1You Afraid?12nanaVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVidensVi | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: ClueleGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | phy. Carterles (1995) AliciBlundersled a MonsterCoach                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?ia Silverstone.BalcnVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Kenan &Kenan &NoticiereBunderBurgi. ++Fresh Pr                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Movie: FatalGAS::  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military::  Cat PecLead-Off6:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)g Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L/7 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Whoopi GoldbeMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Card8 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | iolden Child (1You Afraid?1%nanay Blundersra. %po Cubs9 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: ClueleGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | phy. CarterIss (1995) AliciBlundersied a MonsterCosch10 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?ia Silverstone.BalcnVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Kenan &Kenan &NoticiereBunderBurgi. ++Fresh Pr                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Criren VivoGreat Military:  Cat PeoLead-Off                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)(Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L7 PMInside the An                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Whoopi GoldboMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal Mind                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Caro8 PMDebating Our                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Preal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | iolden Child (1You Afraid?15nanay Blundersra. ++ 15po Cubs9 PMdential Debate                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | phy. Carteres (1995) AliciBlundersied a MonsterCoach10 PMMysteryl                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | IS. (1982)Kenan &Noticierey BlunderBurgi. Fresh Pi11 Pi                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| )           | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Movie: FatalGAS::  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military::  Cat PeoLead-Off6:30Computer                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)(Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L7 PMInside the An                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Whoopi GoldboMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal Mind                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Card8 PM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Preal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | iolden Child (1You Afraid?15nanay Blundersra. ++ 15po Cubs9 PMdential Debate                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | phy. Carteres (1995) AliciBlundersied a MonsterCoach10 PMMysteryl                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | IS. (1982)Kenan &Noticierey BlunderBurgi. Fresh Pi11 Pi                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PMDigital DuoMovie: Night-                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Movie: FatalGAS::  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military::  Cat PeoLead-Off6:30ComputerTwisters                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)(Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L7 PMInside the An                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Whoopi GoldboMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal Mind                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Caro8 PMDebating Our                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Preal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | iolden Child (1You Afraid?15nanay Blundersra. ++ 15po Cubs9 PMdential Debate                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | phy. Carteres (1995) AliciBlundersied a MonsterCoach10 PMMysteryl                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | IS. (1982)Kenan &NoticierryBlunderBlunderBurgi. Fresh Pi11 PiChurch                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PMDigital DuoMovie: Night-Otympic Sum                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Movie: FatalGAS::  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military::  Cat PeoLead-Off6:30ComputerTwistersmer Games                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)y Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L(:20) Major L7 PMInside the AnCher: Live in                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Whoopi GoldboMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal MindConcert at the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Carr8 PMDebating OurNGM Grand I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Prealn Las Vegas                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | iolden Child (1You Afraid?15nanay Blundersra. ++ 5po Cubs9 PMdential DebateMovie: Colum                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:309:3015                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | phy. CarterIss (1995) AliciBlundersIed a MonsterCoach10 PMMysterythe Married Det                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?Is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | IS. (1982)Kenan &K++NoticierryBlunderBlunderBlunderFresh Pi11 PiChurchNews                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PMDigital DuoMovie: Night-Olympic SumHeartbeat                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military:  Cat PecLead-Off6:30ComputerTwistersmer GamesEven                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)(Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L7 PMInside the AnCher: Live InFamous                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Whoopi GoldboMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal MindConcert at theFamous                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Car8 PMDebating OurMGM Grand IMovie: Zeue r                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: The GYou Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Prealn Las Vegasand Roxanne s                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | iolden Child (1You Afraid?You Afraid?Yo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:309:301919: Sex and ting.  'PG'                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | phy. Carteriss (1995) AliciBlundersled a MonsterCoach10 PMMysterythe Married Det2 Hour Tour                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?Is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30Iective (1989)So Weird                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | IS. (1982)Kenan 4NoticierryBlunderBurgi. Fresh Pi11 PiChurchNewsZorro                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PMDigital DuoMovie: Night-Olympic SumHeartbeat(5:00) Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military:  Cat PeoLead-Off6:30ComputerTwistersmer GamesEvenDeed Calm                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L(:20) Major L | Whoopi GoldbMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal MindConcert at theFamoust (1990) Patrick                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomIl St. Louis CarB PMDebating OurMGM Grand iMovie: Zeue aSwayze, Demi                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Movie: The GYou Afraid?You Afraid?Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Prealn Las VegasMoore. +++                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | iolden Child (1You Afraid?You Afraid?Yo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:309:3015                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | phy. Carterss (1995) AliciBlundersled a MonsterCoach10 PMMystery!he Married Det2 Hour TourVitnese (1985)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?Is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30Iective (1989)So WeirdHarrison Ford.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | IS. (1982)Kenan &NoticierryBlunderryBlunderryBlunderrBlunderFresh Pr11 PlChurchNewsZorro*                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PMDigital DuoMovie: Night-Olympic SumHeartbeat(5:00) Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military:  Cat PecLead-Off6:30ComputerTwistersmer GamesEven                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L(:20) Major L | Whoopi GoldbMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal MindConcert at theFamoust (1990) Patrick                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomII St. Louis Car8 PMDebating OurMGM Grand IMovie: Zeue r                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Movie: The GYou Afraid?You Afraid?Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Prealn Las VegasMoore. +++                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | iolden Child (1You Afraid?You Afraid?Yo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:309:301919: Sex and tirg.  'PG'                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | phy. Carteriss (1995) AliciBlundersled a MonsterCoach10 PMMysterythe Married Det2 Hour Tour                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?Is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30Iective (1989)So Weird                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | IS. (1982)Kenan &NoticierryBlunderryBlunderryBlunderrBlunderFresh Pr11 PlChurchNewsZorro*                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|             | Movie:Nicktoons(12:00) Movie(12:00) FutboBlunders(12:00) MovieJack6 PMDigital DuoMovie: Night-Olympic SumHeartbeat(5:00) Movie:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Movie: FatalGAS:  True Crisd en VivoGreat Military:  Cat PeoLead-Off6:30ComputerTwistersmer GamesEvenDeed Calm                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Beauty (1987)ne (1995)(Blundersople (1982)(:20) Major L(:20) Major  | Whoopi GoldbMovie: UncleSolo BoxeoGreat MilitaryMovie: Legereague Baseba7:30imal MindConcert at theFamoust (1990) Patrick                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Buck (1989) Jy Blundersnd (1985) TomIl St. Louis CarIl St. Louis Car  | Movie: The GYou Afraid?You Afraid?Iohn Candy. ++Al Fin de SerGreat MilitarCruise, Mia Sadinals at Chicadinals at Chica8:30Destiny-Prealn Las Vegasn Las VegasMoore. ++Moore.                                                                | iolden Child (1You Afraid?You Afraid?Yo                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 986) Eddie MuYou Afraid?Movie: CluekGreat MilitaryMovie: I MarrTenth Inning9:309:301919: Sex and tirg.  'PG'                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | phy. ++Carterss (1995) AliciBlundersled a MonsterCoach10 PMMystery!he Married Del2 Hour TourVitnese (1985)News                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Movie: 48 HFYou Afraid?You Afraid?Is Silverstone,BalenVeroGreat Militar(1998) RichardFresh Pr.10:30Nective (1989)So WeirdHarrison Ford.Seinfield                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | IS. (1982)Kenan &NoticierryBlunderryBlunderryBlunderrBlunderFresh Pr11 PlChurchNewsZorro*                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
