Chamber of Commerce Dinner Introduces New Directorate

A vague sense of expectancy is conveyed by the invitations issued by A. O. Thompson, vice president of the chamber of commerce, to the dinner to be served in the basement of the First Baptist church tonight. Nothing definite in the way of a program is given, but enough intriguing information is given to arouse curiosity as to the nature of the entertainment, and it is probable there will be a hearty response. Those who attend may feel assured of an evening well spent and thoroughly enjoyed.

This is the first public meeting sponsored by the new board of directors of the chamber of commerce, and a number of new things will be in evidence, including the new officials who will be duly presented and given an opportunity to refute whatever the toastmaster may say about them.

A number of important undertakings are contemplated by the chamber of commerce as its work for the coming fiscal year, and it is expected these will be outlined at the meeting tonight. In addition to the serious side of the program, plenty of good entertainment is also promised.

Plant Spring Bulbs Now and Get Early Buds

Gardeners who are interested in obtaining a supply of flowers next spring should be getting their bulbs into the ground during October, says H. C. Stewart of the New Mexico State College. Such bulbs as tulips, narcissus, hyacinths, jonquils, crocus, daffodils, etc. have their greatest root development in the fall and early spring, and if strong and vigorous blooms are desired, bulbs should be planted early in the fall.

Growth and development of the root system begins in the fall, if the bulbs are planted then, and continues until the ground is frozen. If the winter is mild this development continues during the entire season, on thru the spring. When bulbs are not planted until spring the chances are that root development will be poor, with smaller and fewer flowers resulting.

It is essential that the ground in which the bulbs are planted should be properly drained since heavy water-logged soils are fatal to the growth of bulbs, causing them to rot. Such soils should be lightened by mixing sand, bone meal or well rotted manure with the soil in the bulb bed.

The depth at which bulbs should be planted varies with the size of the bulbs. A good general rule is to place the bulbs below the ground from one and one-half to two times its own thickness. In very cool weather it is advisable to cover beds with straw or leaves, removing them before the warm days of spring.

Even spring annuals, such as sweet peas, poppies, larkspur, etc. produce much larger and finer flowers if the seed is planted in the fall. If the weather is very cold during the winter they can be covered and will continue their growth and be ready for early spring blooming.

HEREFORD LEGIONNAIRES WILL ATTEND PLAINVIEW DISTRICT CONVENTION

Post Commander C. W. Humble, Sank Ramey and W. I. Knacker will represent Hereford Post of the American Legion at the district convention to be held in Plainview Saturday and Sunday, October 15-16. Other members expect to attend but their names could not be secured in time for publication.

The district meeting is one of the most prominent Legion affairs for the Plains country, the New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas state commanders being in attendance, with speakers, bands and special organizations from various points assisting in the program. Special trains will be run from the east and northeast. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, will be the star speaker of the convention Sunday, and the Amarillo and Pampa voltures state "40 and 8" wrock Saturday at 3:30 p. m.

ELMER WOMBLE COMPLETES NEW COUNTY HOME

The Panhandle Lumber Company and C. M. Hicks report the completion of a new five-room modern stucco farm home for Elmer Womble on a tract of land he is improving with entirely new equipment about 20 miles northeast of Hereford. Everything will be new, windmill and well, lots, outbuildings, sheds, garages, etc.

Certify Name of Mrs. Ferguson As Nominee

The name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson will appear on the ballot in the November election as the Democratic nominee for governor of Texas.

The State Supreme Court last Saturday held that the suit filed by Governor R. S. Sterling contesting Mrs. Ferguson's right to the nomination was moot and ordered Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify Mrs. Ferguson immediately to the county clerks as the nominee.

The 13-word telegram sent by Mrs. McCallum, and the Supreme Court decision that the governor's suit was impractical of trial before the November election, definitely ended the bitter fight that has been waged by Governor Sterling and Mrs. Ferguson over the Democratic nomination.

Mrs. Ferguson had taken her case to the highest court after Governor Sterling had alleged irregularities in the August primary in which she polled approximately 4,000 more votes than he did, and the state Democratic executive committee at Lubbock had declared her the party's nominee.

The court's decision Saturday was a joint order. Besides ordering certification of Mrs. Ferguson's name, it settled adversely for the governor his appeal from a district court decision that it had no jurisdiction in trial of the suit alleging irregular voting.

Mrs. McCallum had withheld ordering the former woman governor's name placed on the ballot when Governor Sterling filed his suit in Judge W. F. Robertson's district court and delayed further on the jurisdiction appeal to the supreme court. Judge Robertson had ruled that the legislature was the only body which could decide a contested election.

EASTER STAR OBSERVES 26th ANNIVERSARY OF ORGANIZATION HERE

Hereford Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, observed its 26th anniversary Tuesday night of this week, when members staged a very beautiful program at the hall.

Included in the numbers was a short history of the life of the order in Hereford, given by Mrs. L. R. Brady, who included extracts from the minutes of early meetings, and items of outstanding interest which have transpired in the 26 years; also lists of the principal officers each year since the founding of the order.

Mmes. Jack Rose, Jas. Holley, H. D. Reed, Vern Witherspoon and others also had parts in the program.

A number of charter members of the local O. E. S. were present at this number only Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Black were present. A beautiful birthday cake, with the necessary 26 candles, had been baked by Mrs. Jack Rose, and was presented Mr. and Mrs. Black with proper ceremony.

Past Matrons present were Mmes. Myrtle Reed, Luella Ferguson, Besse Hill, Pearl Gass, Audrey Thompson, Myrtle Witherspoon, Ollie Brady, Bruce Rose, Hallie Kester, the latter of Lockney Chapter. Past Patrons, E. B. Black, A. O. Thompson, F. M. Kester.

Talks concerning events of days past and gone were given by the dozen or more Past Matrons and Past Patrons present, and the feature was heartily enjoyed by those younger in the work. Refreshments of coffee and pumpkin pie and whipped cream were served at the conclusion of the ceremonies.

WRAPS TOMATOES FOR RIPENING THIS WINTER

It may be a common practice among gardeners but was unknown to the Brand editor, therefore, in case there are others who do not know of it, the following knowledge is given out: Green tomatoes gathered before ripening or being killed by frost may be wrapped in paper and kept in a dark place to ripen at a later date, much after frosts and freezing weather would make the gathering of ripe fruit impossible.

Mrs. John Kropf, several miles north on 25-Mile Avenue, says they always gather their best tomatoes just before frost, and carefully wrap and pack them away for future use. The ripening process may be hastened for a few tomatoes as needed for the table by unwrapping the ones wanted and exposing them to the sun.

NIGHT BLOOMING CERES HAD TWO FLOWERS

One of the rarest blossoms of the world is that of the night blooming cereus, a species of cactus, whose blooms open only at night and then for but a few hours.

A most unusual circumstance occurred in Hereford this week when the plant of Mrs. A. B. Rogers produced two blossoms at the same time Tuesday evening about 10:00 o'clock.

The cereus has a waxy white blossom, very fragrant, from four to five inches in diameter. As the flowers are open but a few hours, owners of the plants watch them carefully and the exact time of blossoming is made a considerable event.

E. C. Carter, Former Citizen, Buried Today

Edgar Champe Carter, 65, died in Amarillo Wednesday morning, October 12, and was buried in West Park Cemetery in Hereford today. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Robinson in the Black Funeral Home at 10:00 o'clock this morning.

He was the father of Jess Carter and Mrs. J. J. Buckner, and was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Jennie Thompson.

HOSPITAL SUPERINTENDENT INJURED IN ACCIDENT YESTERDAY EVENING

Miss Berdine Moore, superintendent of the Deaf Smith county hospital, was painfully but not seriously injured last night when the car in which she and Mrs. Rosa Gibbs, night nurse, were returning from Amarillo, became unmanageable and left the road about five miles this side of Canyon.

Miss Moore was thrown from the car when its door came open, and struck in some way to knock out several of her front teeth, break off others and loosen still more, but otherwise was not injured except for cut lips. Mrs. Gibbs was badly shaken but not injured.

WILLIAM HAWKINS WORKS WAY AT W. T. S. T. C. ON COLLEGE FARM

Canyon, October 7.—William D. Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hawkins of Hereford, was fortunate this year in securing a position on the West Texas State Teachers College farm at Canyon which will enable him to make a portion of his school expenses and at the same time gain valuable first hand knowledge of scientific farm management.

Mr. Hawkins will serve as cook at the house for upper classmen on the farm proper and will be in a position to get much valuable information along agricultural lines. The farm, which is primarily a dairy farm, is maintained as a laboratory for the department of agriculture and employs student labor to carry on the necessary work.

Twenty-seven boys, selected from 88 applicants, are employed on the farm this year.

Married At Clovis

The Evening News-Journal of Clovis reports the marriage there of Raymond Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Jennings, and Miss Cleona Cornett, daughter of M. W. Cornett, both of Hereford.

WORLD NEWS OF THE PAST WEEK

The Chinese government is in the market for 15,000,000 bushels of American wheat on long-term credit. It is proposed that the farm cooperatives supply the wheat and that the deal be financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, since the Federal Farm Board no longer has any such surplus on hand. A year ago the Farm Board sold 20,000,000 bushels of wheat to the Nankai government in China, the latter agreeing to complete payments by the end of 1936. China cannot pay cash, and difficulty lies in the arrangement for credit with the United States.

A new idea in theft protection: Four burglars broke into a Florence, Alabama, store one night last week. One of the thugs was bitten by two giant rattlesnakes which were on display in a showcase.

Shot down by seven men who drove by as he was entering his car, Speaker Clemente Vazquez Bello of the Cuban Senate died a few hours after reaching the hospital at Havana last week. It seems that Chicago's influence has spread to Cuba.

Hundreds were injured and 338 people were killed when an earthquake caused the small island of Amogiana, just off the coast of Greece, to sink beneath the raging waters of the Aegean Sea. There are worse things than depressions.

When he drank a glass of wine without noticing a wasp which had fallen into the glass, Camille Labourgais, of Falaise, France, was stung in the throat and choked to death.

A round sum of $182,000,000 has been distributed by the R. F. C. to corporations and farmers in the United States. It is interesting to note that while the loans to corporations average slightly more than $199,000, loans to farmers averaged somewhat less than $125. These distributions were made to 5,500 corporations and to 570,000 farmers.

Italy recently launched a new 54,000-ton ocean liner, the largest ship built since the World War. The craft is expected to be the fastest ship afloat.

An extraordinary idea in gardening has recently been developed in Holland. The ground is electrically heated and artificially lighted so that crops receive the correct amount of warm rays, enabling them to mature much more rapidly.

This week is the 61st anniversary of the great Chicago fire with which 225 firemen struggled seven days in October, 1871. Only four of the firemen who fought the fire are still alive, but they returned to Chicago this week for a reunion.

A Russian recently discovered that if he fed his sheep a heavy preparation of mineral salts the animals would shed their wool so that wavy parts of Russia the shears have been discarded for the newer method. Two or three days after the salts are administered, the wool becomes loose enough to be plucked off.

NOODLE PLANTS ALSO GROWN IN HEREFORD

Those who are wondering what the "noodle plant" that has recently received publicity, look like, will find upon inquiry they have been grown in Hereford this year.

Leslie Culwell presented the Brand with a specimen this week. According to his experience, the only resemblance the vegetable has to noodles is the shape into which the flesh shreds after being cooked. It is a squash, and after being boiled whole 30 minutes, when opened and the seeds taken out, divide into kraut-like strings which are seasoned similarly to any other squash.

The plant is very prolific, two seeds received this year by the Culwells growing 18 of the squashes.

Sterling Vetoes Proposed Bill Regulating Gas

An Associated Press story published in the Plainview Evening Herald yesterday reports Governor Ross Sterling had then vetoed a bill passed by the third extraordinary session of the Texas Legislature which would have empowered the State Railway Commission to make inventories of gas properties in towns of less than 5,000 population for rate-fixing purposes.

He also disapproved a bill designed to exempt farmers from paying chauffeur's license on their trucks. Local authorities had urged the governor's signature to the measure, and had instructed the state representative, Clyde W. Warwick of Canyon to do all in his power to secure the passage of the bill at the past special session of the legislature.

LEGION CHARITY BALL WEDNESDAY NEXT WEEK

Hereford Post of the American Legion will hold a charity ball Wednesday evening of next week, October 19, in the Norton business building recently vacated by the Weir Variety Store.

Proceeds from the dance will go entirely toward the relief and charity work of the city and county, the building being donated for the purpose and the H. P. Sindr orchestra giving its services free for the occasion.

Because of the excellent location and the large and almost new hardwood floor, it is expected the dance will be one of the most popular of the season.

Mrs. C. Bjerg was here from Canyon Saturday visiting her niece, Mrs. T. L. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hacker are the parents of a little daughter born Sunday morning, October 9.

News has been received of the death of E. R. Gamble at Los Angeles, on September 28. Mr. Gamble was a citizen of Hereford for many years and in the saddle and harness business and had many old friends here who will remember him. He was the father of Mrs. J. H. Cardwell, former resident of Hereford, and now living in Los Angeles.

Miss Bertha Zimmerman arrived Saturday from Tulla to visit Miss Ina Mae Hastings.

Whitefaces Turn 6-6 Tie Score Into Victory On First Downs

Football Team Will Play At Clovis Friday

The high school football team will go to Clovis tomorrow for its first out-of-town engagement this year. The band and pep club will not accompany them, according to reports given out Wednesday, although a number of citizens have signified their intention of going along to see the game.

The showing made by the Whitefaces in their encounter with the heavier and aggressive team from Portales last week has raised the opinion of the fans concerning this year's team, and the boys set a model for themselves it will keep them busy living up to the rest of the season.

The team suffered greatly from the six-weeks examinations just passed (?). Those who did not do so well on their tests will not be in the line-up Friday, which the fans think is one of the ways a member of the team has of "laying down" on his mates and just as disastrously as if he failed to play his best during the game. A number of good players will sit on the sidelines all this year just because they were not good enough members of the team to pass their examinations last spring.

Little comparison can be made between the Clovis and Whiteface teams for tomorrow's game. Clovis beat Roswell last Friday, 40-0, at the Roswell fair, which looks bad. Portales thinks they have a good team as the Clovis team, perhaps better, and the local boys held them to a 6-6 tie here and should have defeated them except for bad pass-backs.

The Hereford team will be hampered in executing some of its best plays because of the absence of certain players, but the game tomorrow is sure to be interesting enough for the Clovis team to know someone has been to see them.

Conference Game Next Week. The first and only conference game now scheduled will be played Friday of next week when Friona comes here. Very little is known of the strength of the Friona Chiefs. They are a comparatively new team, but showed great strength last year against Farwell one of the hardest opponents Hereford faced in 1931.

The game scheduled against Farwell this year has been cancelled as that team gave up its interscholastic rating, with the result that should they defeat Hereford the locals would be eliminated; but even if the Whitefaces won they would receive no conference credit for it.

BRAND ADVERTISING GETS NATIONAL ENDORSEMENT

Readers of the Brand who found the advertising of Piggy Wigly store last week so attractive and gave such a hearty response to it, should be told that their approval had not only local but national significance. The advertisement was used last week because one designed in the Brand office last spring and has been used as a model over the whole nation since then.

The various products illustrated in the advertisement are distributed by General Foods Company, a corporation serving all parts of the nation. The advertisement as printed by the Brand last spring was well liked by their general office that a copy of it in miniature was printed and distributed to all their agencies, whose salesmen in turn used it as a model lay-out for their advertising.

Hereford merchants and citizens have just cause to be proud of workmen whose ability receives national recognition and approval.

Mrs. H. J. Henden has gone to Glendive, Montana, to join her husband who has been there the past several months assuming the management of extensive ranching interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ramey and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ramey and two children were over from Dimmitt, and with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Baird and two children and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cummins, spent the day Sunday with R. O. Douglas and family.

W. P. Turner of Sweetwater, Oklahoma, was in Hereford and Deaf Smith county this week while looking after land interests in the Arney community.

Mr. and Mrs. Read Williams visited friends in Amarillo Sunday.

Fighting against heavy odds in weight and aggressiveness, the light and inexperienced Whitefaces held their own against the Portales Rams here last Friday to emerge with a 6-6 tie in score and an 8 to 7 advantage in first downs. Penetrations of the 20-yard line were equal, with one each.

Greater speed, a more shifty and deceptive attack, with a versatility of plays overcame the heavier weight and harder hitting of the visitors. Except for bad pass-backs from center resulting in fumbles or slow get-a-way,

The Whitefaces would easily have rolled up a decisive victory.

The improved playing of Hereford team over its showing against White Deer earlier last week was gratifying to the fans, who now predict a much more successful season than was at first anticipated. In all departments of the game, kicking, passing, accuracy of execution, ball carrying, tackling and blocking, the Whitefaces showed themselves a real football team.

Captain Jack Russell was easily the most outstanding player on the field, but he mixed his ability with that of his other players to use their talents to the fullest extent, and they responded by turning in an exhibition of skill better than anyone expected of them.

Hereford kicked off toward the north goal, and the ball was downed on the Portales 26 yard line. Berry Orr broke through on the first play and set the visitors back for a 1 yard loss. They came back with a 5 yard gain through center, then punted to Russell who brought it back to his own 47 yard line.

Baker took 3 at left end, Russell went around the other end for 4, then passed to Seed on the Portales 30 yard line. Russell ran into his own interference to stop at the line for no gain, but Baker on the next play cut back through center for 7. Russell again got tangled up with his interference but gained 2 at left guard, then went through center for 6, to put the ball on the 15 yard line.

Russell was caught behind the line in trying to go through center and lost 2, Baker made 5 with a cut back through center, Russell tried end but lost 1. Russell's pass to Baker was perfect but failed of enough yardage to make a first down.

Portales took the ball on their 12. They circled left end for 15, failed to gain at center, failed again at the same place, and their

Balanced Farmer Contest Next by A. & M. College

The score card, rules and regulations and other details of the First Balanced Farmer Contest, which begins November 1, 1932, and ends August 31, 1933, will be worked out by a special committee of the extension service, headed by District Agent John R. Edmonds, at a meeting to be held at the Baker Hotel in Dallas on the night of October 18.

Specialists of A. & M. College, who will aid county agents in the contest, and the 1932 judges of the dairy and pork contests will participate in the conference.

Due to the radical change in the character of the work, the score card will be rather difficult to construct, and plenty of time to study the matter has been taken by the committee members. Following the meeting the results will be published for the information of all concerned.

JAS. E. ROBINSON CONTINUES TO IMPROVE

Jas. E. Robinson, who was operated on after his appendix became ruptured Tuesday of last week, continues to improve slowly in the Deaf Smith county hospital. His condition has been very critical and no visitors have been admitted, but today's report says he is now recovering nicely.

Associated Women's Clubs Playing "Oh, Professor" Thursday and Friday

The Convention Association of Women's Clubs will sponsor that outstandingly successful musical comedy, "Oh, Professor," on Thursday and Friday nights, October 20 and 21. Oh, Professor promises to be one of the largest and most unusual shows ever staged in Hereford and is being sponsored by the most prominent group of people. The Convention Association is made up of all the members of the 14 women's clubs thru-out the city of Hereford and Deaf Smith county. The purpose of the show is to realize funds to defray the expenses of the convention of club women which will be held here next April, at which time 350 ladies will be guests of Hereford.

The association also hopes to realize funds to assist with their regular program of charity work.

The director, Miss Emily Neville, arrived in Hereford Sunday afternoon and plans are going forward for the presentation of a splendid production. Miss Neville has expressed her delight with the intelligent and successful manner in which the ladies of the committee are cooperating with her. Mrs. H. D. Reed, who has been the director of so many plays and pageants in Hereford, is general chairman in charge of production. Ladies serving on the casting committee are Mmes. A. A. Foster, B. F. Guthrie, H. D. Reed and Miss Edith Shields. The ticket committee who will direct the advance sale of tickets, and manage the distribution of tickets throughout the county, consists of Mmes. A. M. Jones, H. O. Conkright, Dave McCurdy and Miss Ina Mae Hastings. Mmes. O. G. Hill, Arthur Thompson and Misses Martha Duncan and Lucile Hicks will manage the publicity of the show. Mrs. J. M. Gilliland and Mrs. J. C. Ricketts are chairmen of costume and property committees.

Mrs. H. D. Reed held a general meeting of her committees Monday afternoon and detailed plans were completed for the staging of Oh, Professor.

In towns and cities all over the country, this play is proving one of the snappiest, most charming musical comedies ever produced. It is a scream of laughter from start to finish, and throughout the show beautiful love songs and dainty dances are woven into the plot. In fact one of the most outstanding features of the show are the beautifully costumed and skillfully executed songs and dances. Each piece of music is copyrighted and cannot be played without the sanction of the Wayne P. Sewell Producing company, so the songs all are completely new to Hereford, but before the show is over and the last curtain goes down they will have become songs you know and love. The girls wear especially designed costumes. At this time we cannot give a complete announcement of the choruses, but the following are a number of the high school glee club boys and girls who have been invited to take part in the songs and dances: Lillian Ray, Sherman Morgan, C. J. Borden, Loys Carmichael, Troy Carmichael, Milton Orr, Marvin Thompson, Mary Lee Curry, Ruth Marie Mounts, Betty Bruce Jones Hazel Oglesby, Elizabeth Ireland Mary Elizabeth Stanford, Wilma Jo Jones, Violet Marrs, Effie Whitsett, Nora Alice Daniel, Elizabeth Bowman, O'Neil Johnson Jean Morgan, Ruby Keller, Elaine Newell, Nancy Conkright, Vir-

It is rather doubtful if Texas can ever lay claim to any greatness as long as the events of the past primary elections and the side-stepping of the state legislature, the Democratic state committee, and the state supreme court are remembered. It is rather doubtful if many people will be expressing any pride in Texas for some time to come.

That such allegations can be made and disposed of without ever touching the truth or fallacy of the accusations, is ample testimony of the justice of legal procedure as now practiced. At no time did the legislature, democratic committee or state supreme court consider whether or not the Ferguson had organized illegal voting, or if they were unjustly accused of such practice. All authority before whom the question appeared apparently were afraid, and found technical reasons for shifting the responsibility. Texas is destined to be the laughing stock of all the outside world, and the millions of loyal Texans who know and appreciate our great state cannot help but feel ashamed of recent events and how our public servants have handled them. If the Ferguson are guiltless they should be cleared of the accusa-

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From Files of Hereford Reporter, October 18, 1901)

The new Baptist church, 38x50 feet, with 16-foot walls, was nearing completion.

After observing experiments by French inventors, the editor was of the opinion that man would one day be able to travel over mountains and stream in heavier-than-air machines.

An extended account was given of the death of "Uncle Bob" Harlan, which had occurred September 22.

Prospectors were pouring into the country seeking to buy Plains land, and the editor served notice on the more extensive land owners that it would be necessary for them to divide with the new citizens.

The school correspondent was complaining of insufficient room, and the condition of the flues of the school building, which were so clogged that conditions were very disagreeable for teachers and pupils.

A new residence for Frank Williams was almost completed. (From Hereford Brand, October 20, 1911.)

Jim Clark was visiting the old home town down in Texas. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tynes were attending the Dallas Fair.

Seen On the Screen at the Star

Yesterday's picture, "A Bill for Divorcement," featuring John Barrymore, one of the greatest dramatic actors today, was illustrative of the type of entertainment manager J. C. Parker of the Star theatre is bringing to Hereford. Just ten days ago the same picture showed for the first time in New York City and people there are paying $10 admission to see it. It was shown here for 10 cents.

Today and tomorrow Richard Dix plays in a startling role illustrative of penitentiary chain gangs and convict road camps in "Hell's Highway," a theme being brought before the public forcibly at the present time because of the alleged cruelties practiced.

Saturday's picture will be a one-day-only, 10 cents admission to everybody, western type showing Tom Mix and his wonder horse. Tony, taking part in a small European nation's affairs. It is named "My Pal, the King," and shows Tom helping out a small boy-king; when his throne is threatened.

Punt was downed exactly in mid-field.
 Russell took 5 around left end, then his pass failed, and a bad pass-back caused a fumble and 10 yard loss, putting the ball on the 45 yard line. Wilson's punt was downed on Portales 43.
 Portales took 3 at left guard, 1 at the same place, a pass gained 2. Wilson dropping the receiver in his tracks. Their punt went to the 25 yard line as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter.
 Russell took 7 at left guard. Baker lacked about a foot of making it first down when he went around left end, then Russell went for 8 through right guard. Baker took 6 at right guard, but a fumble was recovered on the 44 yard line for a loss of 8 on the next play. The line leaked and Russell was caught for a loss back to the 80 yard line. Wilson punted to the Portales 45 yard line.

They made 20 yards around left end, then circled right end for 9. They were held at center, but went to the 6 yard line around left end. A center plunge put the ball on the 2 yard line, but passed safely over the goal line on the fourth try, for a touchdown. Their attempt to repeat the pass for the extra point was intercepted by Wilson. Score 6-0.
 Portales' kick-off went to Russell who brought it back to his 30. Sowell lost 3 at left end, then tried the same place for no gain. Wilson's punt was downed on the Portales 49 yard line.

They picked up 11 at left end, were held flat at right end, a pass failed, then lost 2 in a try at the line, and their punt went over the goal line to give Hereford the ball on their 20.
 Russell lost 4 at left end, then made 8 at the same place, was held for no gain at right end, and a punt went out of bounds on their 44 yard line.

Portales' pass was juggled and changed hands several times, but was given them on the 26 yard line. They failed at right guard, tried right tackle for no gain, two passes in succession failed and the ball went over to Hereford with a 5 yard penalty on the visitors. Sowell's plunge through left guard picked up 5 as the half ended with the ball on Hereford's 43.

Third Quarter.
 Portales kicked to the north. Russell juggled the ball but got back to his 25 before being brought down. Baker was held at right guard, Russell took 2 through center, and a punt went out of bounds on Portales' 44.
 They took 5 at left guard, and Baker intercepted their pass on Hereford's 45. Russell went thru center for 9. Sowell opened right guard for 5. Russell took 5 at right tackle, Hartman 2 at center, Russell lacked a foot of making it a first down through center, then on the fourth play fumbled, but recovered the ball for enough gain for a first down. Russell circled left end for 4, but a pass back was fumbled and Baker recovered it for a loss of 10. Russell pulled a beautiful pass to Baker for 8, then a trick pass, Russell to Holland, went for 11 yards to the 10 yard line for a first down.

Russell then smacked center for 7, then hit left guard for 2. Hartman's crack at center was stopped flat with only a yard to go. Russell put it over on the first play with but inches to spare. Clayton's place kick to convert was low and short. Score 6-6.

Hereford kicked against the wind, Portales bringing it back to their 13. Holland slipped thru and set them back 1. R. Orr set them back another yard, Russell went high in the air to slap down their pass on the third play and they punted out of bounds on Hereford's 33.

Wilson lost 3 at left guard, Russell went through to the 43 and a first down as the quarter ended.
Fourth Quarter.
 Sowell sun-dashed around right end for 3. Russell opened left guard for 6, then took 2 at center. Russell's pass failed and Portales recovered Hereford's fumble in mid field.

They took 5 at right guard, then 6 at center, left end let them by for 4, but right end held them flat. They took 8 through left guard, then galloped around right end to the 17 yard line. Left guard held them, but they came back to the same place and took 5. Their pass failed when it was tipped by a Hereford player, and Hollins Orr intercepted their second attempt.

Wilson punted out of bounds on Portales' 44. They took 5 at left end. Hereford was off-side and took a 5 yard penalty to put the ball on their own 45. They were held for no gain, then took 1 at center. Hagar made a beautiful tackle on the next play to stop them without gain. Holland went through and knocked the ball from a passer's hand before he could throw it, then their punt was blocked and Hereford recovered it on their 42.

Russell went around left end for 8, but a bad pass-back was recovered by the visitors on Hereford's 45. They passed 7 at left end, another pass failed. Holland and Hagar together tackled them for a loss of 1, and they punted over the goal line.

Hereford took the ball on their own 29. Russell made 8 at left end and Sowell took 1 at right end, and Russell was held for no gain at right end as the game ended.

"OH, PROFESSOR!"

(Continued from Page One) gina Lane, Sally Skelton, Nina Tynes, Joan Barlight, Madalyn Whitehead, Frances Borden, Virginia Carlyle, Catherine Skelton, Jean Millard, Helen Segel, Virginia Eric Reed, Rena Allred. More will be announced next week concerning the personnel and description of the choruses. Another delightful chorus will be the Little College Chorus, made up of the most attractive children in the second and third grades. This group will introduce the prologue which in almost every instance proves the hit of the show. The prologue is "School Days," the scene a country school house of several years ago, the pupils the most prominent business and professional men of Hereford. This short prologue is really well worth the price of admission. The personnel of school days will be announced later. Don't fail to come and see your neighbor or the man you buy your groceries from in the togs of a little school boy, and saying the most surprising things and generally misbehaving. It's a lot of fun for the people on both sides of the footlights. The play proper is a three act musical comedy, the scene is laid in the fraternity house of a boys' college on the day of the biggest dance of the season. Steve Crandell, the champion athlete of the college, but also one of the most bashful men on the campus, has been persuaded by his friend, Bob Davis, played by Clifford Kester, to invite his childhood friend, Helen to the dance. Johnnie Biggs appears in the role of Steve Crandell. Bob Davis has decided it would be a good joke on the college if he had his brother, Dave, played by J. A. Tapp, to masquerade as a Spanish dancer from the Ziegfelds Follies and pretend to be his sweetheart for the evening of the dance. The minute Bob sees Helen he falls in love with her, and persuades Steve to take Dave to the dance instead of Helen. This suits the bashful Steve perfectly because he thinks it will be a lot easier to make love to a boy dressed as a girl than to Helen, and at the same time he will make a great impression on the college boys when they think he has a date with a Follies star. The plot of the show thickens when Bob's sister, Wilhemina, gets hold of the letter intended for Dave and she comes posing as the Spanish dancer, Senorita Mae. Steve thinks all the time that she is in reality a boy. Dave gets the letter at the last minute and he too comes dressed as Senorita Mae. Miss Lucia Borden, one of the most attractive members of the younger set, appears in the role of the Spanish dancer. Most of the comedy lines of the show go to Mrs. Burnboard, the widowed matron of the college, and Prof. Bangs, the near sighted bachelor professor of the school. Little Miss Edith Jackson appears as Avanelle, the mischievous little daughter of Mrs. Burnboard. Melvin Harris has the role of Chink, the Chinese butler. After two hours of good laughs the plot unwinds and everything ends happily, with the Professor and Mrs. Burnboard at last engaged, Bob and Helen engaged, and Steve cured of his bashfulness and in love with a real girl. "Oh, Professor!" and with everybody in love and happy just as all good musical comedies should. More complete announcement of the cast will be made next week. There will be a parade featuring the chorus girls of "Oh, Professor!" at four o'clock next Saturday afternoon. The high school band will lead the parade and the cast and girls in costume will ride in cars and on floats. The Convention Association looks forward to a most delightful and successful show and knows that in Hereford "Oh, Professor!" will live up to its reputation of being the best, most artistic and most laughable show ever staged in the city. Additions made to the several committees since the writing of the above include Mrs. J. B. Jones as a member of the publicity committee, and Mrs. Burl France as chairman of the parade committee. Selections for the cast of characters today include Marlin Gilliland as Professor; Billie Hill as Helen; Russell Whitehead as Policeman; and Edith Jackson as Avanelle.

CHEVROLET COMPANY WINS CHOICE OF POSITION AT NATIONAL AUTO SHOWS

For the sixth consecutive year the Chevrolet Motor Company has won first place at the annual automobile shows sponsored by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, according to the drawings made last week. This honor, one eagerly sought by the industry, carries with it the right of first choice of exhibition space at the two automobile shows to be sponsored by the N. A. C. C. at New York and Chicago early next year. Relative positions are awarded by the chamber on the basis of dollar volume of member companies in the 12 months ended June 30. In this period, Chevrolet led all member companies of the N. A. C. C., having built and sold more cars than any other manufacturer in the association. First place at the N. A. C. C. drawings was taken by Chevrolet originally in 1927, when the company was building a four cylinder car, and every year since then the award has gone to this largest producing division of General Motors by a constantly widening margin year after year.

POT CULTURE FOR TULIPS

Use a light soil, plant in October or very early in November in a pot or pan, five inches deep, place the bulbs in pot so that the top of the bulb will not be more than one-half inch below edge of pot; water well. Dig a hole in the ground large enough to bury the pot, and cover about six inches deep. Be sure water will not stand where pots are buried. Twenty days before blooms are wanted, lift pot and place in sunny window where they will not be too hot and have plenty of fresh air, water enough to keep soil moist but not wet. Early flowering, double and single varieties force easier than long, slim varieties. Out-Door Culture for Tulips. October and the first two weeks in November is the best time to plant tulips; however, they can be planted as late as December. If there is a quantity to plant, dig out the soil solidly to the depth of 10 inches; put two inches of good top dirt in the bottom; set out all the bulbs, then fill in the excavation. In this way they are of an even depth. Cover eight inches with good garden soil; do not mulch until the middle of December, then cover about three inches with leaves and some well rotted manure. If there is plenty of moisture do not water. If it is dry in December and January water once or twice. Water regularly in February and March, unless we have rain or snow. Slow-Growing Nuts Coconuts grown on the island of Mahe weigh 40 pounds and require seven years to mature.

GREATER DEMAND FOR EXTENSION WORKERS

Demands for help from county and state extension workers have been greater during the past season than at any time during the history of extension work, says E. C. Hollinger, assistant director of extension work in New Mexico. The emergency economic conditions have made work relative to farm management and marketing of leading importance in the extension program, though the emergency work due to drought and to the severe winter of 1931-32, the relief work, and the seed and feed loan required a great deal of time of the extension workers. One of the most important pieces of work has been that relative to producing the home living on the farm and conserving home produced food for winter. The home garden, home poultry, egg and milk, and meat supply have necessarily been maintained on a larger percentage of farms than before and these undertakings have flooded extension workers with problems vital to the success of the respective enterprises. The problems of economy in production have also been important as is has been necessary for farmers to grow their crops at the lowest possible cash outlay, whether those crops were for home consumption or for market. Farm people, while intent on economy in public expenditures, so far as practical, have also been insistent on maintaining the extension service as a profitable investment in a service vital to the farming and ranching industry in the state. While much of the improvement work with crops, livestock and home and community work has been set aside for the current emergency work, a large volume of improvement work is being shown as improvements can be made at costs much lower than ordinarily where there are even small resources available for securing foundation stock, seed supplies or making farm, home and community improvements.

THE CHILD'S HAND WAS SAVED

Little Anne Fletcher, two years old, climbed to a chair beside her mother. Mrs. Fletcher, busy stirring hot taffy, didn't notice the child. Anne had eaten taffy before. Innocently she plunged a tiny hand into the sizzling mass. Screaming, she withdrew little fingers. Boiling molasses dripped to the floor. Almost frantic, Mrs. Fletcher ran to the telephone. A neighbor sped the child to the nearest physician. For eighteen days, treatment was given. And the child's hand was saved.*

Such an accident may not befall you. We hope it never will. But the telephone is ready day or night for emergencies... for business... for pleasure. You can buy few things which cost so little and are worth so much.

October 16.
THE HOME AND THE COMING GENERATION

Gen. 18:17-19; Deut. 6:4-9; Mark 10:13-16

Gen. 18:17. And Jehovah said, Shall I hide from Abraham that which I do;

18. Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?

19. For I have known him, to the end that he may command his children and his household after him, that they may keep the way of Jehovah, to do righteousness and justice; to the end that Jehovah may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him.

Deut. 6:4. Hear, O Israel: Jehovah our God is one Jehovah:

5. And thou shalt love Jehovah thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

6. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be upon thy heart;

7. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

8. And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thy hand, and they shall be for frontlets between thine eyes.

9. And thou shalt write them upon the door-posts of thy house, and upon thy gates.

Mark 10:13. And they were bringing unto him little children, that he should teach them: and the disciples rebuked them.

14. But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me; forbid them not; for to such belongeth the kingdom of God.

15. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

16. And he took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands upon them.

Golden Text: Train up a child in the way he should go, and even when he is old he will not depart from it.—Prov. 22:6.

Introduction.
The child's conception of right and wrong, heaven and the heavenly Father, which lasts on through all the years of life, are strongly influenced by his impressions of home and the earthly father. The family is the most striking case of solidarity and forms the chief source of contentment for the majority of men and women, and when conspicuously successful, wins the spontaneous tribute of reverence from all right-thinking persons.

Our lesson this week emphasizes three things that should renew the sense of parental responsibility and draw out the hearts of parents to their children. First the fact that home life is a true test of parents as well as the first school of the child, secondly, the duty of the religious training of children in the home; and, thirdly, the estimate which Jesus put upon childhood, as revealed in his attitude toward them and his defense of their rights. And our topic reminds us that the home ideals of today will furnish the basis of life tomorrow.

God's Confidence in Abraham.
"When God was about to visit judgment upon the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, he took Abraham into his confidence. Why?"

was because Abraham had established credit with him. He had proved himself worthy of that confidence by the way he had accepted the call of God and proceeded upon the revelation which he had received. It will be recalled that Abraham had left Ur of the Chaldees and made his way by faith toward the land of Canaan. Not for a day did he turn his heart or his face to the old ways. He had been faithful, cherishing the dream that God had given him, and proving day by day his devotion to the highest, both for himself and his house.

God said of Abraham, "I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him." There was no uncertainty about that; the answer of Abraham to the revealed purpose of God removed all doubt.

Learning God's Work "By Heart."
"Hear, O Israel: Jehovah our God is one Jehovah." "These verses constitute the Shema, so called from the beginning Hebrew word, 'Hear.' It was, and is today, the confession of faith of the Jewish religion; comparable to our Apostles' Creed, or the Moslem 'Call to Prayer.' Together with verses 15:37-41, it was the one great 'Sunday school lesson' of Jewish children. Throughout life the pious Jew repeats the Shema. In his reply to the lawyer (Matt. 22:37,38) Christ made its affirmation and command also one of the fundamentals of our gospel."

It is a strong assertion of monotheism, formulated in an age when polytheism was the rule. "Our Lord alone is God," or "The only real god is our Lord." This credo and these few other elementary religious principles, A B C's of their faith, are to be fairly ground into the minds and hearts of the children, and in various ways are to be kept constantly before all Israel. It is of tremendous advantage in the spiritual education of the individual to have important religious truths and laws thus stamped upon the mind. They silently mold character, sweeten and purify human life. There are few people who have not been delivered from temptation and held to Christ and the right by remembering verses of Scripture or sacred song.

The Authority of Parents.
The word used concerning the relationship between Abraham and his children is "Command": "he will command his children and his household." Nature and reason give to parents the headship of the home. They are responsible for their children in the years of their unfolding life. It is for them to set up and maintain an order and a discipline, that minister to life and character. To be sure this ought not to be done in the spirit of a ruler, but in the affection of a father and mother, creating a mutuality of love and respect, that will generate obedience in the children, and, in the parents, consecration to the children's welfare. Only as this is done can a manhood and womanhood be produced that will warrant an optimism concerning the future.

The Home Training of Children.
Another fact to observe in God's thought about Abraham in relation to his children is the distinctly religious and moral note. "They shall keep the way of the Lord to do righteousness and justice." The same thought finds eloquent expression in the second paragraph of our lesson also. The teaching of religion—religious truth and religious conduct—is an essential part of true home life. The Hebrew parents were commanded to teach the unity of the true God and duty of entire devotion to him:

"The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."—Deut. 6:4-5. This part of the child's education the parents cannot give over to another, neither can they make it secondary. The responsibility of the religious training of the young can never be shifted from parents to strangers... and no other work that God gives a man to do is so important, so sacred, so far-reaching in its influence. The parent is the child's first and best teacher, whose duties can never be done by a substitute.

Children Brought to Jesus.
That lovely incident, Christ's blessing the little children, took place during the closing three months of our Lord's earthly life, when he was in Perea, the country east of the Jordan. The story is told by all the evangelists—except John.

"And they were bringing unto him little children, that he should touch them." They were children of various ages, brought to Jesus for his blessing, symbolized by laying his hands on each of them. It was the custom of parents thus to bring their children to the presidents of synagogues, who would bless them and pray that they might grow up to be truly religious men, learned in the law of God, faithful to their families, charitable to the poor. "And the disciples rebuked them." Our Lord was in the midst of a very important and impressive discourse to adults (Mark 10:1-12) and the disciples thought it improved that those mothers and their children should interrupt Christ's teachings. But those teachings gained much from the interruption. Christ, like all true teachers, was ever ready for an interruption if it grew out of life.

Jesus and Little Children.
The disciples of Jesus little understood the attitude of Jesus toward little children and his estimate of their worth. When the parents pressed forward through the crowd toward the Master, the disciples rebuked them. Were they trying to save Jesus from annoyance? Did they fail to see what need the children had of him, since they did not need healing and were too little to be taught? Whatever their reason, they were wrong, as wrong as adults are today who pass by little children in their spiritual concern. When Jesus saw it, he was much displeased and said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God." He was the friend of little children, and his arms were always ready to receive them.

Special Lesson.
All that has been said means that if we are to secure the coming generation, we must utilize the spiritual agencies at our command today for making our home veritable nurseries for the principles that produce moral leadership that has high character behind it. And we must remember that there can be no true character, except that which is formulated by the incarnation and the imitation of Jesus Christ. Love to Christ is the essence of morality. To undertake to build character in people without Christ is like trying to fashion a tree by gathering a bundle of limbs. Faith in Christ is the seed corn of character. We grow to noble manhood and womanhood by growing like him.

FOOTBALL TOPICS

The Whiteface football team and the Portales Rams battled to a 6-6 tie Friday afternoon before a crowd of 300 spectators. Neither team was able to break the deadlock, although Hereford narrowly missed scoring again in the last few minutes of the game when a short series of fast plays and a few passes brought the ball all the way from Hereford's 40 yard line within a few yards of the visitors' goal, when the final whistle was sounded.

Portales out played Hereford the first half and had an advantage of the Whitefaces by having six points to their credit. Their touchdown came in the first quarter when they ripped the maroon and white boys line within a few yards of the goal and then tossed a short pass to make the score 6-0. The last half found Hereford in several tight spots, but the quick thinking of Captain Russell, quarterback, managed to bring his team out of it. Hereford's counter came in the third quarter when the team became more settled. In the last quarter both teams fought hard and steady. When Hereford got the ball and carried it deep into the visitors' territory as the game ended.

This was a tough game for both teams and it gave the spectators an exciting thrill from start to finish. This game showed much improvement in the Whitefaces over last Monday. Each of the new players played his part as if he were a player of two or three years of experience. The coach will continue to iron the kinks out of the boys so they will be able to put up strong opposition in conference games. The maroon and white boys have a couple more hard games before their first conference tilt. Clovis is the next to be played, and what a game this is going to be. Clovis will probably beat the Whitefaces by a score of 13-6, unless Hereford gets settled in the first quarter. Clovis will have the largest team that Hereford will play this year, unless they go far in to the district. Pampa only beat Clovis by three four touchdowns at the first of the season, and you know what that means.

The pep squad, Cowhands and band put on a stunt at the half, which was very clever. All three organizations were in uniforms of maroon and white, and were very attractive. These organizations have practiced evenings for a long while and will be highly complimented by everyone who sees them work out their stunts between halves.

Freshman Class

Wednesday, October 5, the freshmen had a class meeting. Roger Brumley was elected by the freshmen to represent our class in the Athletic Association.

We, the freshmen, are going to be at the football games to boost our boys and do everything possible so that Hereford will come off of the field with a smile instead of a frown. This year we have two boys on the main team who are freshmen. They are J. D. Clayton and G. B. Hagar, and we have more freshmen coming out for football.

In last week's paper it was reported that Wilma Smith is secretary-treasurer, but that was a mistake. Velma Smith is secretary-treasurer. Beginning October 6, through October 8, six weeks examinations were held and probably all noticed that the freshmen did not make as much noise as usual. I think it was because they were studying—not scared at all. But after the first six weeks are over they will make as much noise as the other high school students. If they pass, they pass—if they flunk, they flunk.

Teachers wonder why some of the juniors are so intelligent. We've solved the question: When Miss Rigler was writing a Spanish test on the board, a junior boy came to a question that he didn't know. What should he do but find out? So he was leaning over reading the answer off Lavina West's paper, and while doing so the chair upset and sat Paul Williams on the floor. Miss Rigler inquired: "What happened, Paul?" He replied: "Nothing; I just fell out of my chair." Freshmen are not as dumb as the sophomores, juniors and seniors think—that is, when they want some information.

Public Speaking Notes

Sherman Morgan wants to know where he can buy a quart of mild night oil. He might find it a little high-priced, don't you think?

Don Ray says: "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow you may die." He advises the students of the public speaking class to do this while they are young, and after they get to be about 60 it won't matter what they do.

Ask Jiggs Hartman to tell you about Mr. Determination and Mr. Put-off. If he knew his history a little better he might even trace their ancestors for you. It was a laugh!

Violet Marris says "Haste makes waste." She ought to know. Elaine Newell told us how to "make hay while the sun shines." We wonder how she meant to apply this just exactly.

We suppose Peggy Mitchell will find out sooner or later that "all that glitters is not gold." How about it, Peggy?

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.

When Earl Ferguson, Decatur Future Farmers, produced 94 broilers from 106 baby chicks, he earned a certificate of merit from the Texas Association of F. F. A. Certificates of merit are offered in 15 different farm jobs and only boys showing averages of 85 per cent success in their projects are eligible to receive these certificates.

Did You Pass Your Exams?

How relieved we all feel! Examinations are over until another six weeks have passed. How did you come out on yours? Some of you came out on top, but many of us hit bottom good and hard.

The fellow that is always at the bottom of the ladder evidently has not much grit or "stickability." Any of us dislike being called "sissy" or "yellow" when playing a game of football or basketball, but when we are playing this game here at school every day, we seem not to mind dodging the hard things or turning yellow when it comes time to show enough determination to study. When we admit ourselves beaten by geometry or physics or English, we are quitters the same as when we give up in any other games. There is a certain thrill in doing something that is unusually hard, so during the next six weeks when there is a good picture show or a chance for a big date, just gather your courage and stay at home to struggle with that difficult task. We will feel better and look better—and so will that exam grade.

Soph Class Meeting

The sophs had a class meeting last Wednesday to elect some more officers. All the girls interested in basketball elected Anita Jewell as captain. The sophs are going to root for our team this year, and we know we shall have a good one with Anita as captain.

The sophomore class was allowed one representative to the Athletic Association, and we elected James Garrett to fill the place.

Miss Wrenn suggested that we needed a sergeant. Weldon Beene was elected for this place.

At the request of the Round-Up staff for a reporter, Elizabeth Spradley was elected.

President McLean appointed a committee of seven to plan a party. Betty Miller was made chairman. The committee is to report at the next class meeting.

Come on, sophs, let's put some pep in our class this year.

We wonder who Billie Stoker had a date with Tuesday night.

Olds and Ends About Cowhands

The Cowhands did some nice yelling for the first half of the football game between White Deer and the Whitefaces last Monday, but the last half of the game, when the northern arrived, we were frozen and could not yell. We resolved to wear coats for the Portales game and really did some yelling.

We have taken in two new pledges at our last meeting. They were Clinton Jackson and Berry Jacobsen, and we certainly enjoyed the performance they gave. Berry is going to put up strong competition with Rudy Vallee as a crooner.

We are going to have a little party October 21. We invite all honorary members to have a date and attend this party. This will be the first party of the year for us, so we intend to make it a good one. We expect to have 48 if not more present at this party. We have not fully decided where we shall have the party, but shall decide soon.

Girl Reserve Program

The Girls Reserve had its first program meeting Wednesday afternoon, October 5. The last number on the program was an impressive vocal solo by Betty Bruce Jones, with Elizabeth Ireland at the piano. The number rendered was "Follow the Gleam," the National Girl Reserve song.

One of the discussions was "What it means to be a Girl Reserve," by Nora Alice Dandol. Is the Girl Reserve merely the wearing of the symbol? Is it helping charity or doing some kind deed every day? No; it is something deeper, something finer—something that can not be expressed in words and not always in actions. It is something within us that is made manifest in subtle works.

Patricia Wederbrook gave a discussion of "The Girl Reserve symbol." How do we know that the National Girl Reserve symbol, the triangle within the circle, is an expression of the way we feel about life, that it is the symbol of our attitude of mind? Practice it, consider it, until it becomes a part of our very life and being!

A Girl Reserve grows into appreciation of the meaning of the symbol by living and the big principles it represents. To look upon it merely as an insignia is to be unaware of its power and strength. This symbol embodies an ideal that furnishes a dynamo for girls and women banded together in a search for the "life abundant." Girls, follow the gleam!

PATRICIA WEDERBROOK.

Spanish Club

A Spanish club has been organized consisting of all the members of Mr. Hudson's second year Spanish class. The club is divided into six groups of seven members each. On Fridays one certain group will have charge of the class period and present any type of program they wish that has been approved by Mr. Hudson.

The officers are Francis Higgins, president; Elizabeth Spradley, secretary, and Sallie Gilbreath, reporter.

These programs will begin next Friday; so if any undue noise is heard coming from the Spanish room, don't be alarmed as it will only be the Spanish club performing.

Freshman Boy Hero of the Hour

There was distress, anguish and pain in the home economics room today. Ruth Marie Mountz and Dora McCord have been faithfully caring for some rats which they keep in the home economics room. Today, Ruth Marie, upon carrying food to the rats, discovered to her grief and chagrin that one of their pets had died. Words cannot express the looks of pain which crossed the faces of Ruth Marie, Dora and Miss Parker. They were so grief stricken they would not attempt to carry the poor, dead rat out of his cage and give him a decent burial.

Ruth Marie, bravely restraining her tears, approached Mr. Wilson and asked for some aid in her moment of distress. Joe Ed Buckner, a lad with a true, yet sympathetic heart, offered his humble services. The rat was laid in state to await his burial at a later date.

We, the onlookers of this stirring drama, wish to commend Joe on his courage.

Juniors

Vigor, vitality, and I know I can, To look for the best in every man— That's the Juniors.

The spirit that helps when another is down, To show to the schools there's an all-around Junior.

The do's and the will's and the try's that are rare And the one great impulse to always be fair.

Are Juniors.

Senior Hi-Y

The Senior Hi-Y club of Hereford has decided to carry on inter-club relationship with Plainview. The purpose is to become better acquainted and exchange ideas.

The members of the Hereford club plan to go down on some Saturday and stay until Sunday night. On Saturday tennis, golf and other sports will be enjoyed. On Sunday the Hereford organization will be expected to give a program in one of the churches. The Plainview Hi-Y club will return the visit.

From Far and Wide

Aren't we glad to have so many new faces in school this year? We have met most of them, and we like 'em, too. For instance, there's Billie Stoker from Pomona, California. Billie's a sophomore and a lively one, too; she is also a member of the pep club.

From Dodge City, Kansas, came Earl Waldrip, who is also a sophomore and a lively gas-house member.

And do you know Vern McDonald? He attended the Technological high school in Dallas last year, and is another soph that can't be beat on the gas-house team.

Then there is a good-natured soph, Grace Botts, from Berger. Just watch her play the violin in the orchestra! Grace has a brother, Walter, who is a Junior. She said he didn't like to do anything but of course Walter's story is different.

The junior class is glad to have Katie Balmum from Bellview, New Mexico. She likes to play basketball, and we are sure she will be a great help to the class team.

And another addition to the junior class is Julia Borch from Estevan. She used to attend the school in Canyon, and she likes the pep squad, too.

Mabel Pinckert, the little black-headed senior from Jumbo, said she didn't like to do anything in particular, but that she was always busy.

From Canyon we have two senior students this year, Mignon Greer and Gene Goodman. They are jolly, good pep members and we are glad to have them.

Then, there's Elaine Dyer from Dimmitt. She is a good basketball player and we all like her.

From Plainview came Don Ray. He used to play football—and have you ever noticed his cunning smile? Somebody does—but that is another story.

A very charming senior from away up in Booneville, Missouri is Martha Sue Jones. She likes to play tennis. Watch out, you tennis players!

And you know Jack Alexander, the boy that is always punching someone in the ball. He is a senior, and a member of the Cowhands.

We like them all and are glad we know them. We hope they will like us.

Society

Last Monday night when the wind was howling and blowing and the moon was all covered with clouds, the Foods II class in the home economics lab, was the scene of merry feasting. This merriment was in honor of Betty Ruth Pickett and Elaine Newell, whose birthday it was.

With C. J. cleaning his teeth with a fork, Paul demonstrating his knowledge of women's apparel by making ruffles, and Milton and Jack trying to decide from whence the cake came and whether or not it would be a good idea to eat it, you can imagine the fun.

After supper the following people enjoyed games for the rest of the evening: Betty Ruth Pickett, Owen Miller, Elaine Dyer, Jack Alexander, Mary Lee Curry, C. J. Borden, Violet Marris, Milton Orr, Florence Boardman, Paul Coneway, Jimmie Clark, Orland Wilson, Odesa Lang, Mead Smith, Velma Smith, Buddy Sowell, Jessie Schultz, Thornton Shirley, Estelle McLaughlin, Harry Kibbe, Bonnie Jean Smith, Louise Hamm, Evelyn Plummer, James Bell, Kathryn Hamm, Christine Fincher, Rita Bezen, Marie Beanaven, Wanda Blagg, Larry Merrick and the teacher, Miss Parker.

The Brighter Side of Life

For a live specialist, see or inquire for Sherman Morgan. As he bent close to her and gazed into her radiant, tear-filled eyes, he spoke slowly, softly, and with great deliberation: "Yes," he said, "there is a cinder in your eyes!" Fooled again, aigh?

Teacher: Would you like to go to heaven? Yes, but mother told me to come home right after school.

Jack Gilliland: Here's some candy for you, sweets for the sweet. Nancy K.: Thanks; have some nuts.

Our idea of a real clever guy is the ping-pong player who leaps the net to congratulate his victorious opponent.

Any Cowhands or Hi-Y boys having trouble in securing dates to your parties, can secure help and practical information as to "how it is done" by Junior Thompson and Rex Tynes.

Why buy any second-choice tire when a GOOD YEAR costs no more?

The experience of tire-users is that Goodyear Tires give greatest value at every price—every year the public buys MILLIONS more Goodyears than any other make. That's a pretty definite indication of superior value.

Four and twenty ruffians, Feeling very sly, Slipped into a Greasy Spoon To get a slug of pie. When the door was opened, The waiter began to roar and sing: Here come the ruffians, Hide the crackers or they will take wing. Cause there's Jack Russell in the ring.

Judge: How did the accident happen? Jack Russell: I dimmed my lights and was hugging the curve. Judge: So you were. That's how most accidents happen. Ten days.

Customer: You say you have no more hash? Dick Barnard: No, sir, but I can give you some nice soup. Customer: But soup isn't like hash. Dick: Oh, yes, sir; it's the same things, only looser.
