Tax League Ask Stand of Candidates On Expenditures

Will Group Answers as They Deal With Tax Questions Asked by League.

The Expenditures Committee of the Deaf Smith County Tax League has pronounced a set of questions and mailed them to each candidate for commissioner or judge, to ascertain their opinions of the several questions the league considers of vital importance in its program of proposed lower taxes here. The complete text of the questionnaire will be found in this article and citizens and voters of Deaf Smith county are requested to carefully peruse the points presented for the candidates' consideration, for it is probable they will be interesting subjects for conversation from now until election time.

The questions follow the outline of the recommendations suggested by the tax league to the county commissioners court a number of weeks ago, and seek to bring out individual opinions of what the Expenditures Committee feels are necessary reductions in the operating costs of the county. Candidates are requested to file their replies by Friday of this week and the committee will meet Saturday afternoon to open answers, and prepare from them a condensed arrangement of each candidate's opinion on each of the questions asked. The committee proposes to publish this review of their opinions in the Brand, the editor having been invited to be present when the replies are opened.

At the same time, the Brand is informed, the county commissioners' answer to the tax league recommendations for immediate reductions in county expenses will be opened and made public. The answer has been sealed and mailed to the Expenditures Committee to receive consideration at the same time as the candidates' replies to the questionnaire.

While all candidates have not been interviewed by the Brand, there are a number who have said they did not feel they could conscientiously answer and sign the questionnaire as it could not fail to bind them morally to do things of which they did not have as complete an understanding as they would need in making a decision if they were representing the people of the county; while others consider the questionnaire a reflection on their integrity and their ability to properly function as officials of the county should they be elected.

The questionnaire follows: Hereford, Tex., June 18, 1932. Candidate for Judge or Commissioner, Texas.

This organization, as you are perhaps aware of, is interested in the reduction of all expenditures that are not necessary for the government of the county.

We believe that this League, as well as every taxpayer of this County is entitled to know exactly what position you take on matters pertaining to expenditures of tax money, as the office to which you aspire is a very important one.

Some four weeks ago, a recommendation was made to the County Commissioners' Court.

Fourth of July Evens Needs to Be Encouraged

Further plans are being arranged looking toward the celebration of the Fourth of July in Hereford with a community good-time meeting at some convenient place where people may enjoy the day. Definite announcement of full particulars cannot be made this week.

It is the desire of those who are working on the idea to have the picnic with a minimum of expense, those who can and will, bringing baskets of lunch to be spread together at noon and everybody throughout the community and countryside be extended a cordial invitation to come and have a good time of friendly visiting whether or not they bring a basket of food.

A program of various activities is proposed, that will feature public speaking (candidates preferred), races, ball games and different athletic and entertaining exhibits. The plan needs more encouragement and indications of approval of those who favor and seeing such a home-town celebration given.

Early Papers of Hereford Discovered

The Brand was fortunate during the past week to discover old files of early papers of Deaf Smith county, beginning with February 23, 1901, and extending down to the present date. It seems the first 12 years of newspaper history of the county had been stored in the court house after the present edifice had been erected, and apparently had been forgotten. Only by chance did the Brand learn of their existence.

In Volume 1, Number 1, of the above date, there are many peculiarities that would make even the most ordinary paper conspicuous these days. There was no Brand then, it was the Reporter. F. L. Vanderburgh was editor. He is the son of Mrs. Emma Mattie Vanderburgh, and brother of Mrs. C. R. Smith, being now located in New York State.

The pages of the paper were but half the size of the present Brand, with four columns of type to the page. Nearly half the front page was advertising, one of the largest being of Jack Harwell's saloon. Advertising could be bought only by the month then, costing $1.00 an inch, nearly as much as the present rate. The ads were seldom if ever changed, looking more like bill boards or picture show slides do now, with no attempt at descriptive typography, balanced proportions or harmonious arrangement.

A legal published the first week of issue was citing one citizen to appear in justice court to show why $61.00 due for labor done had not been paid. Had there been no paper published here, the citation was to have been printed in any paper in the 47th judicial district. If that was lacking, in the nearest paper to the 47th district, W. H. Turnbow was justice of the peace.

Among the real estate transfers mentioned was the sale of a section near Hereford for $1000, and the sale of 100 sections in this and nearby counties for exactly $1 an acre, a Connecticut citizen selling to a New Jersey man. The latter deal took $70 in revenue stamps to make it legal.

A Hereford Sanitary and Improvement Society was being organized to clean and beautify the city, lay off and fence parks, set out trees, build a band stand, and look out for other civic and community welfare necessities.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hill and children of Oklahoma were in Hereford Friday and Saturday on their way to Los Angeles. They visited his cousins, Messrs. J. F. Ward and J. B. McMinn. This was the first time he had seen them for 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mounts and children of Dallas arrived in Hereford Saturday to spend a short time visiting her sisters, Mrs. Victoria Wilson and Mrs. J. A. Pitman. Mrs. Mounts returned home Monday, and Mrs. Mounts will remain for a two-weeks visit.

Friends are rejoicing this week that Sank Ramey, who was given an emergency operation for gall stones in Deaf Smith county hospital Thursday of last week, has withstood the ordeal and is now apparently slowly rebuilding his strength toward recovery.

CLINICS TO BE HELD FOR PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN

Special clinics will be held for all pre-school children who enter school in September, at the court house next Wednesday, June 29, from 10 to 12 a. m., and from 3 to 5 for rural children, and on Thursday, June 30, from 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m. for city children. Physicians and dentists will examine all children and advise parents. This is sponsored by the Hereford P.T.A. and the county health council.

BUILDING INTERESTS PRAISE HEREFORD ADVERTISING PLAN

The Texas Lumbermen's Association, The Gulf Coast Lumberman, the standard publication for the entire South representative of the building industry, and the Atlas Cement Company, have made special investigation of the advertising methods employed by the five lumber yards of Hereford in their recent plan to encourage needed repairs, remodeling and useful construction work on property to provide labor for people dependent on building activities for their livelihood. Copies of the local plans have been secured that they might be given other communities to pattern after.

Wheat Slow In Reaching Market Here

Not many combines have begun running near Hereford if wheat receipts at the local elevators are any indication. Rainy weather during the past week has kept wheat from ripening as rapidly as it would have with sunshiny conditions, and several communities have in that time been visited by hail storms that will make harvesting unnecessary in a number of fields. It is hard to imagine a more depressing outlook for all operations associated with wheat here, from the standpoint of land owner, labor, machinery, power, wheat buyer, truck driver, railroad, banks, and all business interests that depend upon money secured by supplying necessities to citizens.

Elevators in Hereford and elsewhere are prepared to take ample care of all grain to be delivered. Transient buyers, who usually put up loaders at wheat buying centers have proved expensive propositions to farmers in general who have sold to them. Their attractive prices of a cent or more per bushel because of purported cheaper operating costs makes them alluring to farmers who are conscientiously trying to get every possible penny from an extremely low market. Too late, as has been the case in Hereford for the past several years, a number of farmers have found that the operator has slipped from town without paying off, leaving those who sought to save a little extra from the wreckage of their year's labor without anything at all to show for it.

The Brand cannot commend too highly, as it has done and continues to do, for all lines of business, that those with wheat to sell deal with the local buyers who have been here in business the year around and represent property interests that guarantee the integrity of being able to carry out their contracts. Of course there are always some who cannot be told, just as there are merchants, business interests and officials who insist upon people buying at home when needing things those interests sell until it comes their turn to do their own buying at home, which they interpret not to include themselves. Those people do not come in the welfare of a community, yet all localities have them. Buying at home is the best rule for a successful community development in all lines of endeavor, and looms more prominently in the wheat industry right now as harvest time comes upon the country.

More destructive storms of hail and high winds have further lowered the possible production of wheat here since last week, a number of excellent fields being reported entirely ruined.

BANKS WILL COLLECT TWO CENTS TAX AS EACH CHECK IS PAID

Hereford banks announce their method of procedure in complying with the recent federal tax of two cents each on checks and drafts which went into effect Tuesday of this week, will be to take the two cents from the customer's account as each check is paid. A small impression with a rubber stamp will show that an additional two cents is paid from the account along with the amount of the face of the check.

It has been suggested that customers who use personal check books and keep a record of their account by its stubs, add the two cents to the amount of the check when it is written upon the stub, so it will keep in exact balance with the bank account.

Committee Puts Candidates On Ballot List

The Deaf Smith county Democratic committee has accepted the filing of applications of the various candidates for county and precinct offices, and determined by lot what position each shall occupy on the ballot with respect to his opponents. At the same time the committee determined the amount each candidate would be assessed to pay his share of conducting the primary elections. There are 35 who filed for office here, and their assessments vary from $17.50 down to $1.00 each, depending upon the amount of salary or compensation to be derived from the respective offices. The candidates have until the coming Saturday night to pay the amounts assessed them.

S. O. Wilson Withdraws. S. O. Wilson, candidate for commissioner in Precinct No. 1, withdrew from the race and did not file for position on the ballot. All other avowed candidates made application before the committee. After candidates have paid in their assessments to the committee, it will again meet Monday to make final arrangement of the ballot. Should there be any who do not pay their part before Saturday night, they are automatically barred from appearing on the ballot.

W. T. Womble Is Stuck By Lightning

W. T. (Will) Womble, noted Hereford breeder, rancher and farmer of Deaf Smith county, was struck by lightning at his home about 20 miles northeast of Hereford, during a violent wind, rain, hail and electrical storm that swept that region last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Womble was in an outbuilding used for housing his partridge-birds when the bolt hit the structure and passed through him. He was brought in to the Deaf Smith county hospital immediately after he was found, and he has lain in a very critical condition since then. His recovery to consciousness has been very gradual, but it is now hoped he will survive the ordeal. As he was alone when the lightning struck, little is known of the exact particulars.

It is reported there are no serious burns on his body, and no bones broken. His hands and feet and the tendons leading to them seem to be most affected. The hat he was wearing was riddled, his shoes torn from his feet and the trousers legs below his knees split in several places.

Midgets and Lions Meet Next Monday

The first paid entrance game of the twilight baseball league will be played at 5:00 o'clock Monday afternoon of next week when the snappy little Midgets grab hold of the scraggly old Lions. The games heretofore have been free of admission charges—the hat being passed to secure money to pay for the balls used and bats broken. The usual approximate attendance of 200 has been contributing between $1.50 and $2.00, which has not met the costs, and Monday's game will be a 10-cent admission affair to adults, with children accompanying adults admitted free.

Next week will close the present schedule of games and the continuance of the sport through the rest of the summer may depend in a measure upon the response Monday's game is given.

Plenty of fun and good entertainment is promised by the two teams. The Midgets are the fastest playing group of youngsters known, and the Lions team is made up of old-time star players who, although their intentions are good and often sparkles with former brilliancy, are apt to stagger at inopportune moments to furnish thrills or amusement to the spectators.

The Midgets line-up will start with Greenwood, their new star pitcher, in the box; Clayton cat-hat in. Seed on first, D. Baker at second, Russell on third, J. Baker at short, With Carlie, Womble, Speegle, Harris, Vaughn and Smith alternating in the outfield.

The Lions, boasting one of the most erratic hurling stiffs in the league, will spring a new one on the fans Monday with Big Chief Downs on the starting firing line, Horsecollar Close receiving, Slim Jim Dacy at first, Butcher Robinson on second, Tough Thomas McCollum at third, Footer Smith at short, Toughy Acker in right, Chicken Davis in center, Hard-Hit Russell in left, with a reserve pitching staff of Dizay (Dean) Baker, Roller McEntire, Rubber Perkins, Jawful Kessie, Specs Rosson, Nail 'em Stanford and Gas House McCurdy will be ready at a moment's notice to relieve Downs should he ever find himself in trouble.

Floyd County Going After Paving Help

That Floyd county, down on the South Plains, has not let the grass grow under its feet in going after proposed state highway department assistance in securing hard-surfaced highways across West Texas counties if the right of way is provided, is evidenced by the following story from the Floydada Hesperian, in which Judge W. R. Ely, chairman of the state highway department, is quoted:

Definite assurance that Highway No. 28 through Floyd county would be paved at state expense was given in the correspondence this week to J. N. Johnson, committee chairman, from Judge W. R. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission.

"If Floyd county will furnish a 100 foot right of way entirely across the county on state highway No. 28 on location to be approved by state and federal engineers, we will now construct grading and drainage structures and within a reasonable time after the grade is properly settled the road will be hard surfaced," Judge Ely wrote.

Committees are at work on obtaining the necessary right of way and have been meeting with success in more instances. Mr. Johnson said. Many of the property owners have indicated that they are anxious for the road and have signified that they will grant free right of way extensions.

The present roadbed will have to be widened ten feet on each side, it was pointed out.

In his letter to Mr. Johnson Judge Ely said that the road would be hard surfaced "if the legislature doesn't change the law."

"If any change is made a constitutional amendment will be necessary, and that will require at least a year and the road could be completed by that time if the people cooperate and get it through now," Mr. Johnson said. "They have the funds on hand now sufficient to complete the job of closing the 'gaps' in West Texas. It will take only 60 days to put up the grading and drainage structures," Mr. Johnson declared.

Committees at work on the right of way are as follows: A. H. Kreis, A. C. Goen, N. A. Armstrong for route east of Floydada; Roy Snodgrass, N. A. Armstrong and J. B. Jenkins, Lon M. Davis, city; H. M. Mason, A. R. Meriwether and Arthur Barker, Lockney; J. E. McAvoy and Robert Jones, Aiken, according to an announcement by Chairman Johnson.

That it is worth while for Deaf Smith county to be at work on the proposition made here, cannot be denied. W. J. Van London, district highway engineer, assured the Deaf Smith county commissioners court he would personally recommend the hard surfacing of the highway from Hereford to the Randall county line if the work could be accomplished before the legislature was compelled by counties down in the state

As a result of a meeting Friday afternoon in the city hall where-in R. F. Hincey, active vice-president of the West Texas Gas Company; J. L. Ryan, superintendent of plants, and Judge Crenshaw, attorney for the gas company, announced certain gas rates to apply in Hereford for the coming winter, it is evident that Mayor E. B. Black expects to make good his pre-election pledge to lower existing utility rates or know the reason why.

The gas company officials stated that the slight reduction given Hereford users of natural gas during the past winter would not be in effect this coming one, and the old rate that had been used since the first gas was brought to town, would again be in effect. As the city commission was present and was expecting the gas company to make a voluntary reduction in the rate, it is reported several very interesting hours of earnest discussion were spent in arguing the question.

The gas company contended it was not receiving suitable returns from its service here, and would need to raise the rate. The officials are said to have acknowledged the company holdings are in three divisions, the gas wells, the pipe line and the city distribution system, and that after paying 40 cents per thousand feet to itself at the city gates, it could not make a just return on its distribution investment here from the rates being charged users in the city.

Mayor Black, in an interview Tuesday morning, said he proposed to "go to the ground" with the proposition, and put up a hard fight to win, expecting to secure even a lower rate for the city than was used the past winter.

It may take a long and bitter fight, Mr. Black said, but he proposes to call upon the many other cities that are users of natural gas to work cooperatively with Hereford in pushing it to a finish. There has been for some time a group of towns allied together to look after their mutual utility interests, and he intimated he would bring that organization into the fight.

The Brand is placing its services at the disposal of the city officials, feeling that any contention in the interest of the people here, when led by their officials, deserves the support of every interest looking toward the general community welfare, and should be encouraged to the fullest extent.

TOMATO GROWERS MAY GET GOOD PRICE FOR CROP, CANON SAYS

East Texas tomato growers probably will get a profitable price for the bulk of this season's crop, W. A. Canon, chief of the markets division of the department of agriculture, forecasts. The late March freeze, while seriously curtailing production, also had the effect of delaying the crop. Because of the delay, the peak of tomato production will not be reached until after large movements from Florida and Mississippi are completed, he said. Deaf Smith county still has time to raise and can its own tomatoes for winter use.

Rain and Hail Again Sweep Across County

Local rains have continued to fall over Deaf Smith county during the past week, usually rather severe storms accompanied by destructive hail. While not as extensive as the ones reported last week, the regions affected have suffered just as severe losses, adding materially for the total, for the county this year.

Saturday afternoon wind, rain, and hail that swept from near Vega toward the southeast across Deaf Smith county, reached the proportions of a small tornado at times, with heavy rainfall. Monday afternoon and evening a storm forming almost directly over Hereford brought an inch of rainfall and sufficient hail to cause destruction to gardens, while reports from rural sections indicate the hail played havoc with more wheatfields.

Rainfall for the past several weeks has made up for what has been lacking earlier in the year, and hail destruction has exceeded any amount of past recent years.

Tourist Mixes Names of Cattle With the City

The best story that has been told about the city of Hereford for a considerable time is related by Parker McCollough of the Gulf Service Station. It seems a tourist got the names of cattle somewhat mixed, and stopped in the middle of the street to yell toward the station and inquire, "Say, is this Shorthorn?"

It took Parker a while to get straight what was the trouble, and then he was so amused he was hardly able to talk. When told the correct name of the town, the tourist blandly remarked, "Oh, yes, that's right—Hereford—that's what I meant."

There seems to be more preparation for canning and preserving fruits and vegetables in Deaf Smith county this year than ever before. Last year, through the efforts of various cooperating agencies, was a record-breaker here for folks to can things for winter use, but if the gardens and yards filled with growing vegetables are any indication, there is going to be plenty to eat here.

Gardens have begun bearing earlier here this year than usual. The earliest peas are already through producing; many have reported green beans, a week or more ago, while radishes, lettuce, winter onions, strawberries and such provisions have been appearing on local tables for quite a while.

Canning equipment is being overhauled and new cans and fillers are being put in readiness for putting up every stalk, pod or fruit suitable for table use. It is not too late for those who have not as yet planted garden stuff to put some in cultivation and raise quantities of food for themselves and others.

Those who are adept at canning fried chicken should not want for that delicacy when it is out of season in cold weather, for the chicken crop here is flourishing. Hatcheries report they have never sold as many chicks for years as they have this spring and summer.

That questionnaire the Tax League Expenditures Committee propounded to the candidates for judge and commissioners of the county is thought-provoking not only for the ones addressed, but for the voters as well. It doesn't take a long stretch of the imagination for anyone to appreciate the position of the candidates, who will be blamed if they answer the questions, or if they don't, no matter whether they say yes or no to either of the queries.

Most of the candidates with whom I have talked seem to think they are not being treated quite as fairly as they should be by the Tax League to answer specific questions along stated lines. The conduct of the office, should they be elected, seems to be taken entirely out of the officials' hands and built around plans of procedure outlined by the League.

One thing is certain—the intention of the Tax League is one of the most commendable things the administration of public affairs has encountered for a long period of years, but whether every plan it advocates is applicable remains to be determined.

Nearly every candidate with whom I have discussed the questionnaire has an answer ready for each of the questions asked, yet has said he felt a hesitancy in signing a paper committing himself when there might be points involved, of which he did not yet have full knowledge that could very easily change his opinion.

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From Files of Reporter, June 21, 1901)

Fred Mendenhall, who had been operating a gravel pit near Hereford, had been arrested in Denver for business irregularities purporting to extend over a wide territory. Sheriff Inmon of Deaf Smith county had received much credit for apprehending the wanted man.

There was going to be a hot time in Hereford on the Fourth with the reading of the Declaration of Independence, a number of

There is one question that overshadows every other one, as a matter of relative importance to the county, to my way of thinking. It is the one asking whether the candidate favors the forcible collection of taxes. To me it seems that if taxes are not collected, all the worrying of the Tax League and the trying of the candidates to be elected, would go for nothing, for there would be no money to pay public officials, therefore, expenditures wouldn't need watching, and there wouldn't be any officials to serve.

It is an accepted fact that more and more taxpayers of this county do not pay their taxes because they are not made to do so. If they do not, why should others? and tax receipts will continue to grow less and less until they reach the vanishing point. There are people who will tell you that numbers of folks would lose their property if they had to pay their taxes, yet these same ones are still driving automobiles, buying a new one occasionally, and to all appearances having as much money to spend for various things as heretofore. The ownership of property carries with it the obligation to assist in financing the commonwealth for the protection of all alike; yet if some are not made to pay, others will have to pay more than their just share in order to provide a sufficiency, thus placing the penalty upon those who do their part instead of the ones who refuse to pay—all intentions of the delinquent tax law to the contrary.

A number of candidates have given the Brand authority to quote their opinions of the Tax League questionnaire, but some have not been interviewed, and I do not feel free to present the views unless all have equal privileges. I have encouraged all to bring out their platforms and opinions in printed form that all alike could see them, and extend to each one the opportunity to use the Brand for that purpose.

I do think Jack Rose made a valiant step last week when he walked out in the open with the printed statement of what he believed possible of accomplishment in the office he wanted, and I do not think I am mistaken in guessing that it what the Tax League would like for each candidate to do—make a public declaration of what he thinks is necessary to conserve the public finances and yet operate the community's affairs efficiently, thus the questionnaire as it was mailed out.

The Tax League has spent more time than any other agency perhaps, in going into the amounts of money spent in the administering of public affairs, and its chief desire is to effect savings that will be acceptable to the majority of the people. The Tax League in putting out the questionnaire is being put to as much of a test as an organization, as the candidates are as possible public officials.

patriotic speeches, and prizes offered for a ball game, sack, potato, burro, bicycle and foot races. The Santa Fe, better known then as the "Pea Vine", was running special excursion rates from other towns.

The advertising that week was about equally distributed among saloons, livery stables, hotels, barber shops, lumber yards and real estate.

Dr. R. H. Gough had greatly improved the city by putting down gravel walks around his drug store.

Joe Killough, noted Amarillo merchant, was operating a cold drink and stationery store in Hereford then, the editor saying Joe had the finest fountain in town.

A fine healthy son was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Stambaugh the preceding week, June 16, 1901.

An enterprising solicitor from Dallas had been in town to interest merchants and public-spirited citizens in paying for a big write-up of Hereford in a combination of four publications with an claimed circulation of 40,000, but the town had been buncoed so much by similar propaganda that local people shied clear of the proposition.

John Flanagan had been severely cut in a barbed wire fence when his horse bolted with him down along Frio draw.

There was a train each way each day on the railroad and daily stage coach lines running to Dimmitt and Endee, New Mexico.

McGlothlin & Black were enterprising furniture dealers of the city.

D. R. Gass & Son were advertising binder twine.

C. H. Carl had been in from his ranch on a shopping expedition.

A cattle deal of importance that week was a transfer of 400 head of two-year-olds for $23 a head. Other cattle deals of the week ran into larger numbers but reached only $22 in sale price.

Dow Mercer is mentioned in the news of the week as attending a party east of Dimmitt.

One of the merchants changed his advertisement in the Reporter that week and the editor called the readers attention to the improved appearance.

(From Files of the Brand of June 20, 1913)

Paul Barnett, writing his brother, Ralph, from the battle fields of the Mexican revolution then raging, had sent some pictures taken of battle scenes, and some very vivid descriptive stories of the fighting. He observed that the Mexicans were hardly human, judging from the methods they

A local said that the Star theatre was a good place to lose the blues.

Someone with an idea of comparative values had sent in the following contribution: "If all the wheat raised in the Dakotas was just one grain it would have to be planted in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona, the only hole in the world large enough to contain it. If all the corn of Iowa was on one ear it would require a steam stump puller to get each grain off the cob. If all the cattle of Texas were one cow she could browse the tropic forests for herbage, whisk off the north pole with her tail and supply milk enough to fill a canal running from Kansas City to the Gulf on which shiploads of butter and cheese could be transported. If all the chickens of Colorado were on rooster, he could straddle the Rocky Mountains like a Colossus and crow until he shook the rings of the planet Saturn. If all the hogs raised in Kansas were one hog, he could stand with his hind feet in Cuba, his fore feet at the Isthmus of Panama and with one root of his snout dig a sea level canal from ocean to ocean. If all the mules of Missouri were one mule he could plant one front foot in the soil of Texas, the other in the forests of Maine, and with his hind feet kick the whiskers off the man in the moon. (Which goes to show that even in those days there was an over production and something should have been done about it, especially to the one who concocted such a tale. Since then most of the production of the states (above named has been transferred to Texas and it has been discovered that there is still some room down here to spare).

WHICH CRUDE ...
Mid-continent's oldest or Pennsylvania's costliest?

YOU know which motor oil suits your engine best—a pure Mid-continent grade oil or a Pennsylvania. In either of these classes Sinclair offers you the very finest that money can buy.

Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil is blended from the oldest of the Mid-continent crudes, averaging 80 million years of filtering and mellowing. Older of these crudes are of Cretaceous or Devonian crude taken from a mile and a quarter below the surface in Oklahoma.

Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil is refined 100% from Pennsylvania's costliest crude—the famous Bradford-Allegany crude so rich in lubricating quality that every barrel commands an extra price. Bradford-Allegany crude is a product of the Devonian Age—that wonderful age in earth's history when heat and pressure were most perfect for the forming of oil. Enhancing the quality of this remarkable crude has been its hundred million years of filtering and mellowing in the ground.

Both Sinclair Pennsylvania and Sinclair Opaline are not only de-waxed in process of manufacture—they are also freed from non-lubricating petroleum jelly, a process which requires chilling the oil down to as low as 60° F. below zero.

No matter which of these oils you choose—put it to the test of hard, fast driving. Note how it stands up—note especially at draining time how little oil has been used up—positive, visible proof of protection for the last mile as well as the first.

EAST TEXANS BECOME SELF-PROVIDING BY LIVE-AT-HOME PLAN

East Texas farmers are "really living at home this year," and will be even more self-providing next year, says E. T. Crozier, who spends much of his time in that area. In contrast to former years the East Texans are producing their own meat, milk, butter and eggs; feedstuffs for their livestock; and are canning and preserving surplus vegetables and fruits, Crozier relates.

While the freeze considerably thinned out the peach crop, tending to make the peaches larger because of fewer per tree, the growers are not anticipating high prices and are not making plans for the marketing of many, but are preparing to consume them at home, canning the surplus for use this winter, Crozier said.

The same is true of the strawberry and blackberry crops.

Mrs. Raymond A. Walls and son, John Douglass, left last week for an extended visit with home folks in Helena, Arkansas, Lexington and Memphis, Tennessee, and St. Paul, Minnesota. They will be gone about two months.

HEREFORD YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED IN CLOVIS

Miss Wilma Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Arthur, and Ralph Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Webb, were married last Saturday, June 18. Their marriage was solemnized Saturday afternoon at Clovis, New Mexico. They returned to Hereford Sunday afternoon, and plan to make their home on the Webb farm north of town.

Sunday night an ice cream supper was given for them by the bride's parents, when 36 guests were present.

Both the bride and groom attended high school here and are well known in the Hereford community.

MRS. GASTON BAER ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE SERIES

Friday of last week Mrs. Gaston Baer was hostess to friends with two lovely bridge parties, one at nine o'clock that morning, the other at 3:30 in the afternoon, at her home, 232 Avenue B.

The games were played in rooms beautifully decorated with mock-orange blossoms and other cut flowers. At both sessions delightful refreshments consisting of a salad course were served. Mrs. Baer was assisted in serving during the morning by Mrs. Travis Dameron and Mrs. Victoria Wilson, and during the afternoon by Mrs. Tom McCollum and Mrs. Jno. Olson. There were six tables at each session.

Scores for the morning went to Mrs. C. W. Murray, first high, Mrs. Travis Dameron second high, and Mrs. Jim Black third high.

Scores for the afternoon went to Mrs. Glenn Snyder, first high, Mrs. Elmer Dameron second high, Mrs. Dave McCurdy third high. Mrs. McCurdy also received the guest prize for the afternoon.

MRS. J. W. WITHERSPOON IS CLUB HOSTESS

Vari-colored flowers, with pink and green predominating, furnished the attractive decorations for the home of Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, 411 Lawton, Wednesday afternoon, June 15, when she was hostess to the Otrava Club with an enjoyable party.

The green and pink color scheme was carried out in the tallies and refreshments, also. An informal good time was enjoyed in the games of bridge played, scores going to Mrs. Dave McCurdy, guest, and Mrs. B. M. Wiltshire, member.

Guests for the afternoon were Meses. Dave McCurdy, Preston Heath and Jess Carter.

Members attending were Meses. E. L. Brady, T. J. Carter, Roger Corbett, Alton Fraser, J. C. McCracken, J. M. Murchison, J. C. Parker, J. M. Posey, B. M. Wiltshire, Lloyd Edwards, Ivor McClelland; Meses Gladys Seigler, Martha Duncan, Eunice Gilbreath and Emma Jeanne Donald.

SUPPER CLUB ENTERTAINED

Last Tuesday night the Ace-High Supper club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon at their home on Lawton Avenue. A lovely covered dish supper was served at 8:30 and afterwards the rest of the evening was spent playing bridge. Clever tallies were given each player to show them where to go. Scores went to Mrs. Hubert McEntire and M. C. Alston.

Attending were, guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Witherspoon, Mrs. Preston Heath, Miss Emma Jeanne Donald and Jim Gilliland. Members: Meses. and Mmes. Hubert McEntire, Raford Ricketts, M. C. Alston, Meses Martha Duncan, Gladys Seigler, Meses. Frank Mosley and Edgar Pickett.

MRS. S. L. EASLEY ENTERTAINS HUSTLERS

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was a lawn supper given by Mrs. S. L. Easley on Thursday, June 16. About 8:00 o'clock the Hustlers and their girls, and Mrs. L. A. Ricketts' class of boys and their girls, of Dimmitt, gathered at the charming Easley home. After a few minutes of cordial greetings, a game was started whereby the Dimmitt guests met the Hereford boys and girls. This was quite a helpful device in meeting the strangers, but as to one exception there a certain Hustler met the same Dimmitt girl three times without knowing it—well, not much can be said.

Then came the feast of fried chicken, sandwiches, potato chips, pickles and iced tea. The latter was cleverly served from a bucket drawn out of a miniature well. This was followed by more games in which all the 63 guests, of which 18 were from Dimmitt, participated, and by a hastily improvised "radio" program. Chas. Simpson did his part well as announcer of the Fiske quartet, the debate in which all debaters spoke at once, and other entertaining numbers.

It was with reluctance that the guests, including Rev. and Mrs. Thomas of Dimmitt, tore themselves away from the lively scene to say "good-bye" to the charming hostess.

MISS KATHERINE HERSHEY MARRIED TO DUDLEY BUZARD

Of interest in Hereford and surrounding communities is the marriage of Miss Katherine Hershey to Dudley Buzard Sunday afternoon, June 19. The ring ceremony was read by Rev. Hubert Thomson of Wildorado, at 2:00 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hershey, of the Progressive community. The bride wore a lovely dress of white silk georgette.

Mrs. Buzard graduated from the Hereford high school with the class of 1928. She attended W. T. S. T. C., Canyon, and has taught three successful terms in the Daniel school.

Mr. Buzard is the son of Mr. M. Buzard of Muleshoe. He is an industrious young farmer, and is well known and respected in that community.

Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left on a short trip, and on their return will make their home on the Buzard farm near Muleshoe.

WEST HEREFORD CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. DANIEL

June 10 the club met with Mrs. Russell Daniel, with 14 members present. A program was given by four members of the club. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Fair Friday, June 24. Miss Martin will be at this meeting, and each member is asked to bring a pencil and note book to make out a canning budget.

QUILTING CLUB HAS ALL-DAY PARTY

Rogers, Chas. Sowell, E. E. Fridley, Herman Stewart, A. H. Elliston, Henry Williamson, G. C. Barnhart and Miss Ursula Fridley.

MRS. ALBERT ROSS AND MISS MABEL GASS BRIDGE HOSTESSES

Tuesday, June 21, Miss Mabel Gass and Mrs. Albert Ross entertained with two bridge parties, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The games were played in rooms decorated with perennial sweetpeas and other flowers.

At nine o'clock in the morning they entertained with breakfast. The idea of Colonial times was carried out in the tallies and prizes. A sweet pea was placed on each plate as a plate favor.

High score went to Mrs. Jim Black and she received a Colonial make-up box. High cut award went to Miss Gladys Seigler.

There were nine tables of players. At 3:30 that afternoon they were hostesses to ten tables of bridge. The Colonial idea was also carried out. Pink and white ice cream was served. Scores went to Mrs. Tom Carter and Mrs. Dow Mercer. George and Martha Washington silhouettes given as prizes helped carry out the Colonial motif.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks and gratitude to all who gave us timely and kindly aid during the long illness of our now departed loved-one, and to all who extended help and sympathy during the funeral and burial rites.

E. Cottingham and Family.

Jim Gilliland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gilliland, returned home Monday from Lexington, Virginia, where he has been in Virginia Military Institution the past four years. He received his B. A. degree this spring.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

The home of Mrs. J. C. Park, two miles east of Progressive, was the center of attraction Thursday, June 16, when the friends of Miss Katherine Hershey, bride-elect, surprised her with a miscellaneous shower.

About fifty of Miss Hershey's friends from Daniel, Dawn, Hereford and Progressive gathered at 3:00 o'clock and many interesting games were enjoyed by all until 4:30, when everyone drew numbers for the next game. Miss Hershey drew the lucky number and the game which followed was the unwrapping of the lovely gifts by the honoree. Miss Hershey was the recipient of the most attractive collection of useful and lovely gifts anyone could imagine. At the close of the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

Seen On the Screen at the Star

The planned program at the Star theatre for the coming week runs mostly to comedy and light entertainment features, which is in keeping with the demand that cheerful themes should relieve the drabness of every-day existence. Showing for the last time today in a regular 1-cent special sale by which two persons are admitted for a cent more than the price for one, George Bancroft plays in "The World and the Flesh", along with a comedy featuring Zasu Pitts.

Tomorrow, Friday's, program will be the last of the free bedroom suites the Star has been giving away, and is presented with an all-star attraction picture in a Chinese setting, "Hatchet Man."

Saturday's matinee and evening performances will bring two old favorites Hereford show fans have not had the pleasure of seeing for a long time, when George Sidney and Charlie Murray bring their wonderful characterizations of the Cohens and Kellys for a visit "In Hollywood."

Manager J. C. Parker has also announced cash prizes of $10.00 in gold to be awarded Saturday evening.

Sunday's matinee and the Monday and Tuesday shows will have big-mouthed Joe E. Brown back again, this time in "Fireman, Save My Child," a screaming comedy Wallace Beery and Raymon Hatton made into a success years ago with silent pictures. As a talkie production it surpasses the old-time play for entertainment.

The 1-cent special for next Wednesday and Thursday will bring a great actor, Richard Barthelmess, in a smashing drama that takes its spectator into the realms of surgery and its tragic responsibilities.

and times was contained in the story of the shooting to death of Deputy Sheriff Will Rainbolt who's taking a law violator to jail from a dance. After disarming his prisoner and while getting him into a wagon to take him to jail, a brother of the accused man shot the officer in the back. The two then made their escape and were still at large when the paper was issued, although hope was expressed that they would be apprehended.

What is said to be one of the first, if not the first church wedding in Hereford was solemnized that week in the Christian church, Miss Joyce Womble, daughter of J. C. Womble, and M. O. Meeks were the contracting parties. The Meeks now live in Amarillo and often visit their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Holley, and family here.

There was a call issued for the organization of a bucket brigade to be prepared to fight the fire demon should someone's house catch fire.

News printed then took in the births, deaths and marriages over the Panhandle and beyond into the territory of New Mexico.

A printed annual report of county finances revealed that the year 1900 had been a losing one for the county. Beginning with a balance of $1614.25, $7787.70 had been collected into the various funds, $9996.45 had been expended, leaving the county some $500 in debt on that February 1.

L. A. Montgomery was postmaster, general delivery hours being from 8:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m., also for 30 minutes "after the train came in Sunday morning" from 11:00 a. m. to 1:00 Sunday afternoon.

Ed F. Connell, then living in the northwest part of the county, had been called to Sonora by the death of his mother.

ty Commissioners Court, by the undersigned committee, and were printed in the Brand, and you no doubt have considered their merits and carefully weighed their demerits, as you should do if you are properly preparing yourself for the office you seek, for the benefit of the tax-payers.

We are requesting that you consider the recommendation item by item, and take into consideration the condition as it now exists (as of date of recommendation), together with the economic condition as of today, and then contemplate that only 40 per cent of current taxes will be collected by February 1st, 1932. With this solely in view, we will appreciate your answering the nine questions (and sub questions) below asked. In other words, assume that you were now in office, what would be your answers as of June 17, 1932?

Your reply will be held in strict confidence, and when one candidate's answer is received, it will be held until all have had time to answer and all will be made public at one time, and will all be printed in the Brand. Your failure to answer will of necessity cause you being credited with "lack of ability to make a decision."

Please do not use any other expression other than, "for," "against," or "neutral," in the blanks, but you may supplement these answers with an additional letter attached, as we will be glad to consider all explanation, but will classify you in one of the three above places.

In stating what your position, please do not use any indefinite phrases, such as "whatever the will of the people is," or "owing to conditions," and we further urge that you do not need to fear being JAILED OR FINED for mentioning salaries, as we feel confident that no citizen of Texas will prefer charges against you for advocating reduction, and you are not to observe any of the "legal boogers" that have been mentioned as long as you do not classify yourself alone, and separate from all of the like candidates, or offices.

We are assuming, of course, that you will temper your actions, if elected, according to the conditions later existing, so you may base your whole answer on what DOES EXIST now, and of the present condition, in view of course of the recommendation referred to, and in view of 40 per cent collection of taxes.

Do you favor, or not favor, an increase of all salaries of county officer, or a decrease, or no change?

Do you favor, or not favor, expenditures of county funds for: 1. County agricultural agent; 2. Home demonstration agent; 3. County health nurse; 4. County library work?

Do you favor a bond issue for public improvement, that is based on property assessment alone, for retirement?

Do you favor, or not favor, a reduction of 33 per cent from the 1931 expenditures of road (county) maintenance? If more, or less, or state.

Do you favor a reduction of at least 25 per cent in the property valuations, based on the 1931 valuations, of this county?

Do you favor, or not favor, the retirement of warrant and bond indebtedness from the first available funds?

Do you favor, or not favor, the operation of the county hospital at an annual loss of $8,000.00 to the taxpayers?

Do you advocate general economy in all of county business? Do you advocate, or not advocate, immediate forced collections of delinquent taxes?

We trust that we will receive your completed answers to these within six days after date.

Respectfully,
County Expenditures Committee of Deaf Smith County Taxpayers League.

Christian Church Revival Services Begin Sunday

Beginning with the 11 o'clock services next Sunday morning, the big revival under the local direction of the First Christian Church, the Vawter Evangelistic party will conduct one of the most unique series of services Hereford has ever witnessed. The services will be held in the church auditorium, Main and Sixth streets, each evening at 8:30, except Monday.

There are four members of the evangelistic party, Rev. C. R. L. Vawter, minister; Mrs. Vawter, soloist; W. D. Reeves, song leader, and Howard T. House, pianist and crayon artist. The group use varied musical instruments in the revival program, including Notre Dame chimes, the marimba, saxophone, Hawaiian guitar, piano, etc. while Mr. House uses colored crayons to sketch beautiful illustrations of songs as they are sung.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT AT THIRD AND MAIN

Ralph Smith, city band director, announces the first open air band concert of the season will be played at the intersection of Third and Main streets this evening at 8:30. Those who are familiar with the type of concerts the Hereford band gives, will again appreciate hearing them and be present at that time.

A good story comes back from one who heard the high school band at Socorro while the group was on its recent trip through New Mexico. No one associated with the band in any way is responsible for the story reaching Hereford. It came unsolicited, and is all the more appreciated because of the tribute it paid the organization.

Announcement the band would be there had been sent out, and everybody for miles around had turned out to hear it. The crowd got to town a little early and had nothing to do but wait until the band arrived. They are said to have waited some five hours, but no one went home, and when the band did come the citizens stared one of the most enthusiastic receptions of the music, marvelling that a town could produce such a fine group of well trained musicians from among its boys and girls.

Hereford is so used to having good band music that it is indifferent to the playing of its own organization, until appreciation of it is brought home to its citizens from other places.

CYCLONE DAVIS' SPEECH HERE ENTERTAINS AUDIENCE

Cyclone Davis, political war horse of the old Populist party, spoke to a very attentive audience at the court house at eight o'clock Wednesday night, June 15. Mr. Davis is running for a place as congressman-at-large, place number two. He will be remembered by many of the old-timers as a strong advocate of free silver.

Mr. Davis' theme was still the money question, but this time he attempted to prove how our present economic trouble is due mostly to the "eastern money sharks," or capitalists who for reasons of greed are hoarding the capital of the world instead of letting it flow into American channels of business.

Even if a bit radical, Mr. Davis' speech contains much food for thought, and the old gentleman surely departed with the admiration of many Hereford people.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Boss, parents of Mrs. John Olson, who have been here the past ten days visiting, left this week for their home in St. Paul. Mr. Boss is head of the department of farm management, and director of the state experimental stations of Minnesota, and was greatly interested in farming activities and methods as practiced in the Texas Panhandle.

American Victories in Air
During the World war American pilots brought down 751 enemy airplanes and 73 balloons. These were confirmed victories, and there were undoubtedly a number of others which occurred too far away to be officially confirmed. America lost 250 airplanes and 48 balloons.

to use the available highway funds to pay the bonds those counties have already issued. If that comes to pass, no one can even guess when Deaf Smith county will get hard surfaced roads, yet its citizens have been paying gasoline tax money into the state for years and will continue to do so, to pay off bonds farther down in Texas.

It is to be doubted if there is any land owner along highway 33 here who would hold up the operation of the state and county by bickering over the land needed to make up the right of way requirements. The land itself would increase in value far more than the little strip asked for would be worth. A number have already signified their willingness to cooperate by giving the land needed, and it is expected the others will do likewise.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS

Under the new Federal Revenue act which goes into effect June 21, 1932, all banks are required to make a charge of two cents on each check written and paid by the bank. This two cents will be charged to your account at the time the check is paid. We will appreciate the cooperation of our patrons and their help in taking care of this Federal tax.

The hazard of loss by a person from fire in the home, or robbery, is too great for anyone to try to evade the payment of this small levy by carrying the money on their person or keeping it in their home.

Our banks will not receive one cent for this additional responsibility and additional work required to collect this tax, as the entire amount goes to the government.

MRS. ANNIE O. COTTINGHAM PASSES TO BETTER WORLD

Mrs. Annie O. Cottingham, 72 years, nine months and 24 days, died June 15, thirteen minutes before midnight at her home near Hereford.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Thomas in the Assembly of God church in Hereford at 2:30 p. m. Friday, June 17. Burial was made with Eastern Star ritual services in West Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Cottingham had lived in or near Hereford for nearly 19 years. She pioneered in Hall county as early as 1889. She belonged to a family of Texas pioneers who often heard the savage Indian yell. Her father was a soldier under General Sam Houston at the Battle of San Jacinto. She is survived by her husband, E. Cottingham, an only son, R. E. Cottingham of Hereford, and an only daughter, Mrs. Lois Roeder of Phoenix, Arizona. All three were present at the time of her death.

Clovis Golfers Go Wild On Local Course

The Clovis golf team was too hot Sunday afternoon and took the Hereford team of the Wheat Belt Golf League to a cleaning right here at home. The score was 8 1/2 to 5 3-4, and although 8 of the local men shot under 80, the competition was too keen for them to win.

J. M. Posey, president of the Hereford club, broke his own and the course record when he shot a 32 and a 33 for a total of 65, two strokes under the best ever known for 18 holes here. Jonathan Pittman was somewhat warm himself on his second round Sunday when he turned in a card of 33.

Progressive News
By OLIVE PERKINS.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hershey was the scene of a beautiful wedding Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Katherine Hershey, and Dudley Buzard of Muleshoe were united in marriage by Rev. Hubert Thomson, in the presence of about 30 relatives and friends.

The house was beautifully decorated with roses and other garden flowers. The young couple left on a short honeymoon trip, after which they will be at home near Muleshoe. The groom is a well known young farmer, having lived near Muleshoe for a number of years. The bride attended college at Canyon and has been a very successful teacher at Daniel. Mrs. Buzard will be missed, as she has always taken an active part in the Sunday school work and other community activities. Only the immediate relatives and a few friends of the bride and groom were present.

5 reasons for having a telephone

"They're opening the plant again? ... Sure I'll be there!"

"Please change my appointment to Thursday."

"The train is 40 minutes late... I'll wait for them."

"Why yes, I found your keys on the dresser."

"Please hurry, doctor. We're worried about him."

If you haven't a telephone, we believe you're missing a lot of satisfaction, to say the least. And emergencies do come. At such times a single telephone call may be priceless.

For only a few cents a day, you can have a telephone of your own. No more trips to the neighbors, or the corner store. Call the business office.

experiment station saved 70 per cent of the Cameron county Irish potato crop from late blight, a new disease to the Valley, and kept the losses in the 1932 season to less than five per cent, a recent checkup discloses. The disease also attacked tomatoes in 1931 and the losses were limited to 50 per cent. Bordeaux mixture was found to give perfect control where properly applied, but due to the fact that no liquid sprayers were on hand in 1931 many resorted to dusting with copperlime dust which was less effective and more expensive. Where nothing was done losses of both potatoes and tomatoes were 100 per cent, according to H. L. Alsmeyer, county agent.

Growers were ready with 22 power sprayers when late blight appeared again last spring, and 25 per cent of the 10,400 acre potato crop was saved by spraying and the rest by the dusting method. The cost of spraying an acre ranged from $1.25 to $1.50. The value of the crop in 1931 was $650,000 and in 1932 was estimated at $600,000. The value of the tomato crop saved in 1931 was $993,000.

Tuesday is the regular meeting for the North Hereford club.

Wednesday afternoon the agent expects to visit four girls and two women demonstrators in the Dawn club.

Thursday, June 30, the agent will judge the sheer dress contest in Amarillo.

Miss Zetha McInnis, home industrial specialist from A. & M. College extension service, gave a demonstration on making fermented pickles and grading vegetables for canning. Materials for pickling are stone or glass jars for small quantities, wooden kegs or barrels for large quantities, sailometer for determining the strength of the brine, coarse salt, soft water, clear vinegar of 40 to 60 grain strength, granulated sugar, cloves, all-spice, celery or cinnamon, pepper, bay leaves and others. The cucumbers should be sorted according to size, small, 2- to 3 inches long; medium, 3 to 4; large, 4 inches and over.

If you are interested in making pickles you may get F. B. 1438, Making Fermented Pickles, by writing Marvin Jones or by coming to the agent's office.

Representatives from 11 clubs were present, including Mmes. J. J. Boiling, Fairview; O. J. Grabbe, Fairview; Ray Johnson, Summerfield; H. Climer, Everett Wiseman, Ford; J. M. Chapman, Sims; F. R. Stivers, Ward; G. C. Hartman, Westway; Marvin Mundell, West Hereford; Miss Ruth Wolfe, Wyche, Mrs. Bob Wilson and the hostess, Mrs. J. P. Slaton. The meeting began at 10 o'clock and closed at 4:30. A picnic lunch of sandwiches, tea and fresh peaches was served under the trees in Mrs. Slaton's back yard.

Mrs. Ray Johnson, farm food supply demonstrator for the Summerfield club, has two gardens from which she has had rhubarb and asparagus for three months, and in the gardens now she has onions, three kinds of radishes, lettuce, beets, peas, carrots, cherries and six varieties of greens. One of her favorite uses for rhubarb is in punch.

Gardens over the county are looking pretty. Demonstrators and cooperators are already canning beans, peas, greens, asparagus and rhubarb.

At the time Mrs. Otto Magale of West Hereford club, took the wardrobe demonstration she did not have a suitable closet in which to keep her dresses. Since that time she has built a closet from scrap lumber found around the place, and now she has a closet with a rod for hangers.

A NEW, LOW-PRICED, HIGH QUALITY GASOLINE ANNOUNCED FOR THE FIRST TIME BY PHILLIPS » »

The Phillips Petroleum Company introduces UNIQUE gasoline—a brand new gasoline of regular U.S. Motor specifications. It meets all requirements of U.S. Motor Grade.

UNIQUE gasoline is colored light green for identification purposes only.

The Phillips Petroleum Company has discontinued the sale of its third grade gasoline, formerly known as PHIL BLUE gasoline.

UNIQUE gasoline should not be confused with Phillips '66' High Test premium quality gasoline. This quality gasoline will ALWAYS be for sale at Phillips '66' stations.

UNIQUE gasoline, of better quality than the discontinued PHIL BLUE gasoline, sells for the same price.

Look for the light green gasoline at Phillips '66' stations. That's Phillips new UNIQUE gasoline.

REFINED BY PHILLIPS TO MEET U. S. MOTOR SPECIFICATIONS

WARNING!

The Phillips Petroleum Company is now marketing three grades of gasoline, each of which is colored to protect motorists against substitutions, which cannot be accomplished without the purchaser detecting the attempt.

Phillips three grades of gasoline are identified as follows:
UNIQUE GASOLINE — Phillips new U. S. Motor Grade gasoline—is colored light green.
PHILLIPS '66' HIGH TEST premium quality gasoline is white.
PHILLIPS '66' ETHYL gasoline is colored red.

Genesis. The word "Genesis" means beginning. Therefore the book of Genesis begins with the very beginning of everything, Creation: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."—Genesis 1:1.

Great Characters in Genesis. Genesis is peculiarly rich in great and notable characters. The major characters are sixteen, namely: Adam, Eve, Cain, Abel, Satan, Abram, Lot, Sarah, Isaac, Rebekah, Jacob, Rachel, Laban, Esau, Joseph, Judah.

Notable Sayings in Genesis. Many sentences of Genesis have become proverbial, being referred to constantly in books, sermons and Christian conversation. Here are a few example sayings from the earlier chapters only:

1. In the beginning—God.
2. Let there be light.
3. God blessed the seventh day and hallowed it.
4. It is not good that man should be alone.
5. He shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.
6. Am I my brother's keeper?
7. Enoch walked with God; and he was not; for God took him.
8. I do set my bow in the cloud.

2. While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease.

Chief Places Mentioned in Our Lessons in Genesis.

Haran, Hebron, Beersheba, Bethel, Machpelah, Sodom, Egypt, Potphar's home, Joseph in prison, Pharaoh's Palace, Gibeon.

Creation.

"In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth."—Gen. 1:1. Thus opens the first book of the Bible. Being a book of religion, it begins, of course, with God the beginning of all true religion. The endless questions which arise in connection with the creation of the world need not bother if we know that God is creator. How long did it take God to create the heavens and the earth? Since nobody knows, we may well turn over the guessing in that direction to those who like to investigate in that realm. How did he do it? Nobody knows. He spoke, and it came into being—we know that, God's Book says it. The processes by which he did it need not concern us in the religious study. God created the heavens and the earth. On that we rest our faith.

The Faith of Abraham and Joseph. The story is brightened by the chapters revealing the faith of such men as Abraham and Joseph. They do not stand alone by any means, but are the great examples. Abraham is known as the Father of the Faithful and the Friend of God. In the midst of a dark pagan city he heard the voice of God and believed. We need not inquire into the method of God's speech; it is enough that he was understood by the man whom he called. And the strength of Abraham's faith is a marvel of spiritual experience. So little was

Candidate for Re-Election to the office of

District Attorney

69th Judicial District of Texas

Subject to the action of the Democratic Primary election to be held in July.

When I asked the people of this District for the honor of representing them as District Attorney, I had in mind several things that I wished to accomplish in this office. Now, that my right to the office longer is being challenged, I believe it to be proper (although I do so with a good deal of modesty) to report back to the people, something of what has been accomplished.

SAVINGS IN COLD DOLLARS, TO THE PEOPLE:

1. Upon the convening of a term of court in any county, I have always preceded the meeting of the Grand Jury, arranged and outlined the work of that body, had the witnesses ready, and upon the convening of the Grand Jury, have gone right into the work, pushed it through, and completed it without delay. Conservatively speaking, I have saved, for the twelve men who compose the Grand Jury, and approximately three bailiffs, as much as two days time at each court, and when it is remembered that there are two terms of District Court per year in each county, and that there are seven counties in the District, this saving has been in excess of $1,200 per year.

reasonable probability of securing conviction, and the time of the court, petit jurors, attorneys and witnesses has not been consumed in useless and expensive prosecutions in cases where nothing could be accomplished. Several thousand dollars, perhaps, have been saved to the counties and to the state in this way.

2. I have studiously avoided returning indictments in cases where there was no

3. When the criminal docket has been set, I have made it a rule to be present, ready for trial, to have my witnesses present, go into and try the cases, one after another, and to stay on the job until it is completed. By this means, several thousand dollars have been saved to the counties and to the state, in the time of witnesses, jurors, attorneys, the court and court attaches.

SOME FURTHER FACTS:

4. During my time in office, I have prosecuted approximately 350 felony cases, but never have PERSECUTED any man. Of this number, 83 per cent have been convicted. It is true, about 35 per cent of those convicted have received suspended sentences, but this is, perhaps, as it should be, when it is remembered that about 72 per cent of all persons prosecuted have been people under 25 years of age.

to please my fancy, and attempted to enforce it to the exclusion of others. Such shall continue to be my policy if returned to office.

5. I do not believe that anyone can charge that I have neglected the state's business one moment, or that I have ever taken an unfair advantage of the man I was prosecuting, or of his attorney. It has been my purpose and wish to enforce ALL of the laws, and hence I have not singled out any one law, which happened

6. I would not, at all, minimize the ability of my opponent, for he is certainly a young man whom I admire and appreciate. I feel, however, that I ought to call to the attention of the people that the duties of the District Attorney require me to prosecute offenses ranging through the entire category of crime, and he often finds it necessary to call to his aid, every particle of "past experience" which he can command, since he must necessarily set his sails to meet the best talent in the legal field.

FINALLY:

7. Having prosecuted so many people, for so many different offenses, and under so many different circumstances, each of whom has a relative or friend, I naturally expect opposition from several quarters. But my friends should not be discouraged about this, since it is but natural.

number of the people, but I trust that no one will feel, because of my inability to meet and see them personally, that I am not appreciative of your vote and support.

The District Court has been in almost continuous session since early in the year, having adjourned but a few days ago. My time is short, and I shall not be able to meet and see personally any considerable

I have tried to render good service in the office, to be fair, and economical. If my work in the office has been such as to merit further service, then I appeal for the support of all people who believe in a fair, impartial, but vigorous enforcement of the law.

Respectfully,

B. N. RICHARDS
