A cool front that brought thunderstorms to the Texas Panhandle and far western sections on Friday was not expected to penetrate much farther into the state, according to Associated Press reports.

Storms extended across the Oklahoma Panhandle through the extreme northwestern area of the Texas Panhandle and far west into eastern New Mexico.

Isolated showers and thunderstorms also continued from the Guadalupe Mountain area into the far west.

Showers and thunderstorms were moving to the northeast and east. The front was almost parallel with Interstate 40.

Early-morning temperatures ranged from the 60s to 80s. It was 61 degrees at Marfa and 81 at Galveston.

Other readings were 63 at Dalhart, 70 at Conroe, 72 at El Paso and 76 at Childress, Odessa and San Angelo.

Winds were mostly northeasterly at 5 to 10 mph in the Panhandle, with higher gusts around storms and southeasterly to southwesterly conditions elsewhere.

Patchy, shallow fog developed in the Coastal Plains.

A slight chance of mostly afternoon thunderstorms exists for West Texas and the Red River area.

Daytime highs were expected to reach near or over 100 again in many areas through Sunday, with 104 along the Rio Grande and lower 80s in the northwestern Panhandle and far western mountains.

Lows overnight should be in the 60s and 70s with some mid-to upper 50s in the mountains.

Staff and wire reports

Four Hereford Independent School District elementary schools received the state's highest academic ratings, according to a report issued Thursday by the Texas Education Agency.

The four elementary schools reaching the exemplary status were Aikman, Bluebonnet, Shirley and Tierra Blanca. Northwest and West Central are listed as recognized, with Hereford High School and Hereford Junior High School maintaining an acceptable rating.

The report card for Gov. George W. Bush showed more schools than ever receiving the state's highest academic ratings, but an increased number of schools also in the lowest category.

Almost one-fourth of the rated Texas charter schools, independent campuses championed by Bush, received the state's "low-performing" designation, according to Texas Education Agency ratings released Thursday.

Bush has made education gains in Texas central to his presidential campaign and frequently touts the state's accountability rating system. It was implemented before Bush took office in 1995 but has been strengthened during his tenure.

"These record-setting improvements confirm that Texas is a leader in education and that our schools, teachers and students can rise to the challenge of higher standards," said Bush spokeswoman Linda Edwards.

Texas Democratic Chairwoman Molly Beth Malcolm also praised the improvements, but said lawmakers aligned with her party and not the governor were responsible.

"Student performance has improved as a result of the commitment the Democrats made to public education in the 1980s and the early 1990s," said Malcolm, in a statement issued at the party's national convention in Los Angeles on Thursday night.

"But there's still a lot of work to do in order to make our public schools the best they can be."

A total of 1,291 schools and 167 school districts have been classified as "exemplary," the state's highest rating. The second-highest rating, known as "recognized," was awarded to 2,003 schools and 435 districts.

The state's "acceptable" rating was awarded to 434 districts and 2,924 schools.

School district and campus ratings are based on student passing rates on the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills, which is a standardized test; dropout rates; and attendance.

Critics of the TAAS question whether the test really measures all that children know or should be learning. Al Kauffman, regional counsel for MALDEF, the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, said the test doesn't even measure all the material contained in the Texas curriculum, though he praised the fact that more students are passing the TAAS.

"I don't think just from that you can infer the overall quality of education has improved," Kauffman said.

The state has 6,906 public schools. But 221, including pre-kindergarten schools, were not part of the evaluations. Some 310 schools were rated in an alternative system.

Twenty-three charter schools were among the state's 157 low-performing schools.

DPS stop nets cocaine

Texas DPS troopers netted more than 300 pounds of cocaine which was located Thursday among the cargo of trailer rig. Trooper Eddie Aguiar (right) and Keith Smith look over the contents of the suitcase that burst open when Smith moved it.

A routine traffic stop approximately one-half mile outside Hereford on Highway 60 netted Department of Public Safety troopers more than 300 pounds of cocaine and the arrest of two truck drivers.

DPS Trooper Keith Smith stopped a 1999 Peterbilt tractor trailer rig about 9:45 a.m. Thursday after clocking the truck traveling at 73 mph.

Smith said he became suspicious after talking with the driver and asked for a consent to search. The driver and the relief driver both consented to the search and opened the trailer which was only partially loaded with automotive parts.

Smith located three roll-away suitcases in the trailer among the cargo. One suitcase ripped open when Smith tried to lift it. He then called for the assistance of Trooper Eddie Aguiar and Hawk, the trooper's drug dog.

A thorough search at the Hereford DPS office yielded no more drugs.

Smith's supervisor, Sgt. Ben Urbanczyk, said this was one of the biggest busts in this part of the country. Smith was unavailable for comment.

The driver and passenger of the truck were arrested on

ELECTION 2000

Demo ticket launches journey

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Al Gore hurled himself into the finals of the campaign for the White House, summoning the nation to join him "on a new journey to the best America" and dashing to the industrial Midwest to begin making his case.

Gore and his running mate, Sen. Joseph Lieberman, paused only briefly after accepting the nomination before flying all night to Wisconsin where they landed as the sun rose Friday. After a shower and a change of clothes, they planned to board a riverboat for a four-day tour through a series of important battleground states.

About 200 people greeted the bleary-eyed people aboard the campaign plane as it landed.

Just before taking off, Gore and Lieberman went to a star-studded Democratic National Committee gala in Los Angeles, where they raised $5 million and Gore told activists there they were essential to this year's campaign.

"This is for real and our future really is on the line," he said.

Just after midnight, Gore broke away, telling the activists he was headed "toward Iowa and Illinois and the heartland of America."

Democratic standardbearers Al Gore (left) and Joe Lieberman kick off a four-day riverboat campaign down the Mississippi River.

President Clinton watched the speech in the White House family quarters and called Gore afterward to praise both the speech and his performance, White House spokesman Jake Siewert said Friday.

"He told him it was a terrific speech and told him that he thought he did a terrific job," Siewert said, adding that Clinton thought Gore took the right approach in giving the president only a short mention and focusing instead on his own biography. "The speech is about him — the vice president and his vision," Siewert said. "He thought he did the right thing by focusing on policy and real people, in the model of a good State of the Union message."

Gore aides hoped the photo-friendly boat trip down the Mississippi River would generate heavy press attention and give Gore momentum out of his nominating convention.

Earlier, delegates who nominated him for president cheered and chanted his name, never louder than when the vice president declared: "I stand here tonight as my own man."

The roar overrode the rest of the line, as he went on, "and I want you to know me for who I truly am."

In a 51-minute address aimed beyond the convention hall at the national television audience, Gore blended personal history and his cam-

Bush stumps in Tennessee

BARTLETT, Tenn. (AP) — The day after native son Al Gore accepted the Democratic Party's nomination for president, Republican rival George W. Bush was visiting Tennessee to make a point that Gore's home state is a battleground for November.

Bush and running mate Dick Cheney selected Memphis to start a three-state campaign swing to draw attention back to Republicans after the Democratic convention.

"We like playing on the other guy's turf," said Karl Rove, Bush's chief strategist.

The rally at Brother Industries in Bartlett, a Memphis suburb, will be attended by Tennessee's two Republican senators — Bill Frist and Fred Thompson — as well as Rep. Ed Bryant, former Sen. Howard Baker and former Gov. Winfield Dunn.

In a counter move, the Gore campaign invited Bush to a town hall meeting at the nearby Malco Stage Cinema, but Bush spokesman Tucker Eskew dismissed the offer.

Recent polls show Gore holds a narrow lead over Bush in Tennessee, while Bush maintains a healthy lead over Gore in Texas, where Bush is governor.

Tennessee Republican Party Chairman Chip Saltzman said the polls reflect the basic party split in Tennessee.

"No matter who runs on either side, they're going to get 35 to 40 percent of the vote," Saltzman said. "The fight is for the 20 percent in the middle now."

Frist said Gore is being hurt by his years as vice president to Bill Clinton.

•Survivalist waiting for siege

TRINIDAD, Texas (AP) — An East Texas anti-government survivalist wanted for assaulting a highway patrolman last year has holed up on his rural homestead with a dozen family members to avoid his impending arrest.

According to published reports, 51-year-old John Joe Gray and family members on his 45-acre Trinidad spread along the Trinity River have armed themselves. They say they're waiting for a shootout when Henderson County authorities attempt to arrest him on two felony warrants.

"I'm not worried; it's in God hands," Gray, armed with two pistols in hip holsters, told the Houston Chronicle in Friday's editions.

Meanwhile, Henderson County authorities say they are in no hurry to arrest Gray, who has reportedly been living on his land without water or electricity, feeding his family with stores of food and fish from the river and growing and curing his own tobacco.

"We have no idea how it got started that that place is under siege," Henderson County Sheriff's Chief Deputy Ronny Brownlow told the Athens Daily Review.

Gray is wanted on charges of assaulting a law officer and removing a law officer's weapon during a Christmas Eve traffic stop in neighboring Anderson County.

Gray, carrying a pistol in a shoulder holster and rifles in his car, was pulled over for speeding near Palestine by two Texas Department of Public Safety troopers. He refused to get out of the car and when one of the troopers grabbed him, Gray bit his hand and then tried to take his partner's sidearm.

LISD waits court ruling

Policy remains intact

LOCKNEY, Texas (AP) — Although a mandatory drug testing policy remains intact for now in this small West Texas community, school district officials hope to have a federal ruling by late October or early November on the provision's constitutionality.

At the Lockney Independent School District's first board meeting of the year Thursday night, Superintendent Raymond Lusk explained to members how the system's attorneys received information on testing, how many students tested positive for drugs and prevention efforts in the past.

"Right now, they are still in this stage where they are stipulating facts," Lusk told his six fellow board members. "There won't be a trial. All that will go to the judge and he will make a ruling."

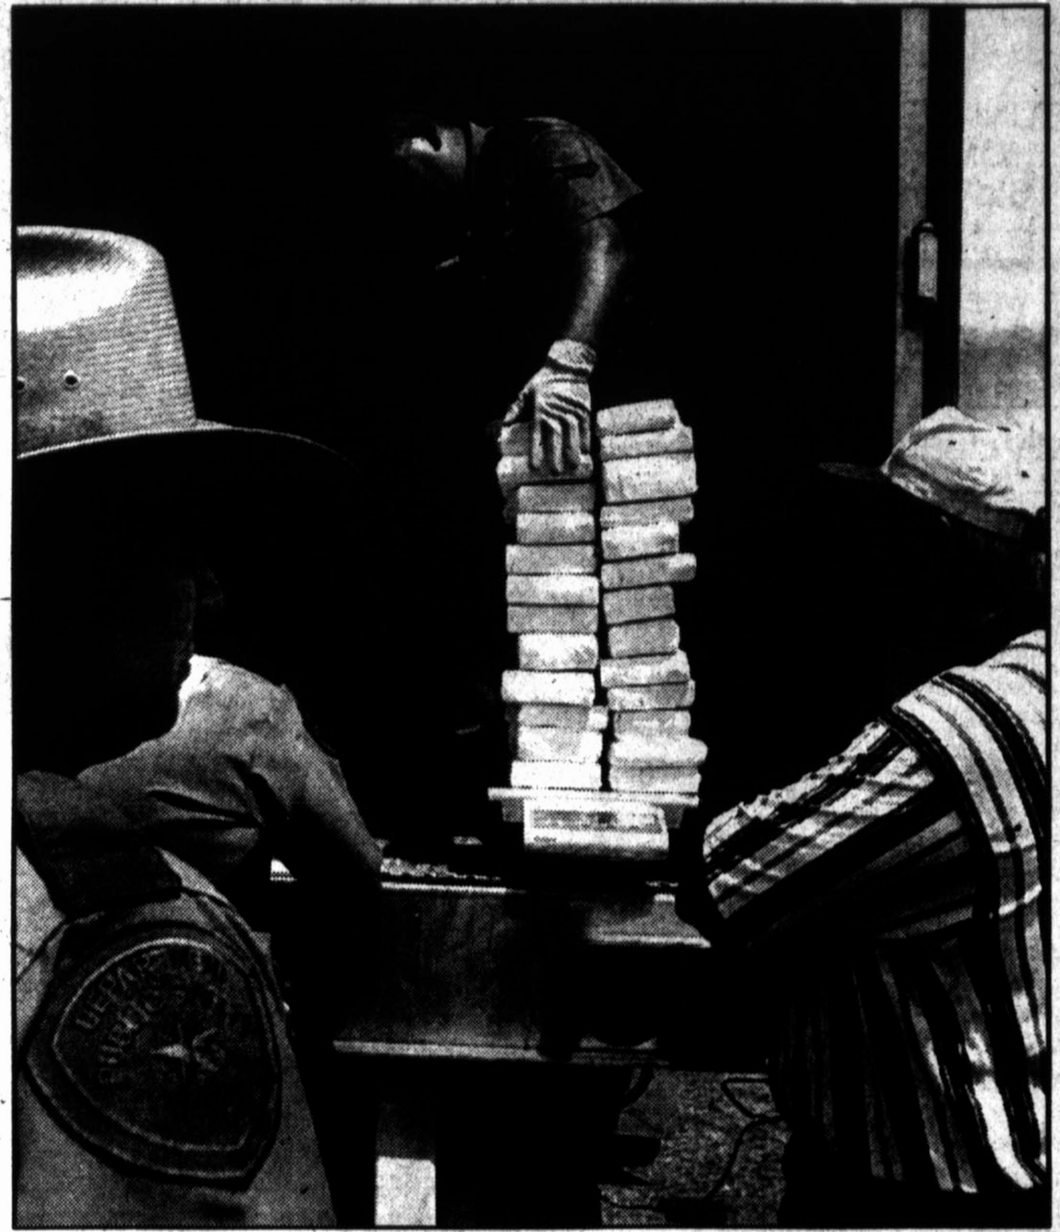

Meanwhile, the board has requested through its attorneys that Larry Tannahill, who sued the board on his son's behalf, respond in writing to revisions the board made to its mandatory policy last month.

Tannahill's attorneys say they have seen no such request. The revisions to the policy include a lessening of the punishment against those who refuse the mandatory test.

Tannahill's 12-year-old son, Brady, was the sole holdout last February when the policy was implemented.

"They are moving inches and they need to move miles," Tannahill's Lubbock attorney, Jeff Conner, said of the revisions.

Weigh in the drugs

Not on our roads — Department of Public Safety troopers made a routine stop Thursday morning and ended up spending the rest of the day counting a stack of drugs which will never reach their destination. Trooper Eddie Aguilar, weighed the goods while trooper Keith Smith logged in the weight of each individual packet. The total weight of the confiscated drugs was 304 pounds.

Free gunlocks arrive in San Antonio

AUSTIN (AP) — Free gun locks that Gov. George W. Bush promised Texans will start arriving in September, and many more will be available than first anticipated, state officials say.

The governor's office had hoped by Aug. 15 to begin passing out the first of an estimated 500,000 free gun locks.

But the first shipment of 20,000 locks will arrive in San Antonio on Sept. 7, Bush spokeswoman Linda Edwards said Friday. Some Texans may have to wait a month or longer for free locks because they won't arrive in all parts of the state immediately.

State officials now believe they can provide as many as 5 million locks through the five-year, $5 million Project ChildSafe program that Bush announced May 12, Edwards told The Dallas Morning News.

The National Shooting Sports Foundation, the Newton, Conn.-based nonprofit group that was awarded the state contract, can supply cable gun locks for about $1 each, much cheaper than the $6 to $10 retail price, Edwards said.

Branded by critics as too close to the gun lobby, Bush announced the gun lock giveaway two days before the Million Mom March on Washington for tougher gun control laws.

The Republican nominee for president also said that if he elected, he will provide $75 million a year in federal matching funds to help other states finance similar efforts.

Critics, including President Clinton, say Bush is trying to hide his allegiance to the National Rifle Association.

The Bush campaign has denied this and noted that the governor supports several ideas that the NRA opposes, such as raising the minimum age for handgun possession from 18 to 21 and banning the import of high-capacity ammunition magazines.

The Texas program is voluntary.

Under Texas' Project ChildSafe, gun locks will be made available to local police departments and sheriff's offices, who will distribute them to the public.

Although Bush pledged to provide Texans with trigger locks — boxlike devices that cover the trigger area of a gun — the program instead will distribute cablelocks, said Bill Brassard, a spokesman for the National Shooting Sports Foundation.

Cable locks fit most types of revolvers, pistols, rifles and shotguns and, unlike trigger locks, cable locks a padlock and cable that runs through a gun barrel to prevent firing, Brassard said.

10-year-old is too young to baby-sit grandmother

Dear Ann Landers: My mother reads your column every day, and I am hoping she will see this and listen to your advice. She certainly won't listen to me.

My grandmother is 95 years old, and her health is bad. Someone has to be with her 24 hours a day. My father is her main caretaker, although my mother, my sister-in-law and I pitch in. Last weekend, my mother asked my daughter, "Ellen," who is 10 years old, to baby-sit Grandma for two hours. We thought it would be good for Ellen's self-esteem, and figured she could handle it. Ann, those "two hours" turned into seven. We were lucky there were no emergencies.

My husband and I have been planning a weekend in the country, and had arranged for Ellen to stay with my parents. My mother informed me that while we are gone, Ellen would be watching Grandma from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. Ann, I don't believe a 10-year-old should be baby-sitting an elderly woman for that period of time. What if Grandma falls down or has a heart attack? Not only would Ellen be unable to help her, but if she called 911, chances are the authorities would come after me for child neglect.

Ellen does not want to spend 11 hours in Grandma's overheated house, and has begged me not to leave her with my parents while we are out of town. I have told my mother that Ellen is too young for such responsibility, but Mom pays no attention to me. Meanwhile, we have decided to cancel our vacation plans so we can take care of Grandma ourselves.

At some point, my husband and I will need some time alone together, but we cannot leave Ellen with my parents, and there is no one else whom we trust. I know this problem will come up again, and I hope you will help us find a solution. — Dilemma in Spokane, Wash.

Dear Spokane: A 10-year-old should not be baby-sitting her elderly grandmother. If you and your husband want to take a vacation, arrange to have Ellen stay at the home of a girlfriend, or hire an adult baby sitter who will keep an eye on your child. This will cost money, but it will be well worth the expenditure in terms of peace of mind.

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing in hopes that you will print this warning to your readers. I wish someone had warned me.

Last April, my husband and I spent two days in Freeport, Bahamas. We had a wonderful time, and bought several lovely souvenirs. On our last day of vacation, we visited a jewelry store, which was a very large establishment, and charged a bracelet for $105 to our charge card. When the bill arrived 10 days later, we discovered that the jewelry store had charged my account three times for the bracelet. Two of those charges were posted a day before we arrived in Freeport.

Please tell your readers about this practice, and let them know it is imperative they look over their charge card bill very carefully. This scheme of duplicate and triplicate charges apparently is not uncommon. — Almost Ripped-Off in Florida

Dear Almost Ripped-Off: Thanks for the alert. Often, people are too trusting or too lazy to take the time to check their charge bills, and the "mistakes" — unintentional and otherwise — go unnoticed. It only takes a few minutes, folks, and I assure you, it will be time well spent.

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Aug. 18, the 231st day of 2000. There are 135 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Aug. 18, 1920, Tennessee became the 36th state to ratify the 19th Amendment to the Constitution, which guaranteed the right of all American women to vote.

On this date:

In 1983, Hurricane Alicia slammed into the Texas coast, leaving 22 dead and causing more than a billion dollars' worth of damage.

In 1997, Beth Ann Hogan became the first coed in the Virginia Military Institute's 158-year history.

Ten years ago: A U.S. frigate fired warning shots across the bow of an Iraqi oil tanker in the Gulf of Oman — apparently the first shots fired by the United States in the Persian Gulf crisis.

Five years ago: Shannon Faulkner, who'd won a 21/2-year legal battle to become the first female cadet at The Citadel, quit the South Carolina military college after less than a week, most of it spent in the infirmary.

One year ago: A day after a deadly earthquake struck western Turkey, survivors denounced the rescue effort as sluggish and disorganized. (The death toll eventually topped 17,000.)

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

"God's Laughter and the Serenity Prayer" is a sermon reflecting on Romans 8:28 and an editorial by Leonard Pitts ("Amarillo Daily News," 8/14/00). In his moments of sharing, Pastor Stone will reflect out loud on questions like, "Why does life twist and turn the way it does?" "What does it mean to say there are no accidents in life and everything, ultimately, has a purpose?"

These questions and the sermon will be wrapped with songs led by Betty Owen, beautiful piano playing by Cindy Cassels, the ritual of prayer candles guided by Administrator Toni Jones, and a simple service of Holy Communion celebrated by one of FOB's lay persons. Gathered worship begins at 10:30 and concludes no later than 11:30.

Perhaps more important than gathered worship is our gathering around good, homemade food at 9:15 - an opportunity to laugh and share and brag on our pets, or children, or grandchildren. Or, maybe even to brag on ourselves! A good joke is always welcomed.

The people are encouraged to take their food into "Forum" (9:30-10:15) - FOB's answer to Sunday school for adults and older teens. This week the group will dialogue about the tempting phenomenon of judging others: why do we do it and what does it mean?

A unique Sunday school activity for children also takes place at 9:30. A supervised nursery is available at all services.

FOB is a multidominational church that abides by no creed but Love. FOB welcomes freethinking believing that our minds are extraordinary gifts of God. No question is ever dismissed or belittled. A sense of humor and the willingness to share in ministries of kindness and generosity are required.

FOB - the building - is located at 245 N. Kingwood (at Moreman). FOB - the people - are everywhere: sleeping in after a very busy week, enjoying summer life at the lake, engaged in worship, anonymously helping a sister or brother, reading a book, watching TV, spending quality time with family, or reading the Hereford Brand!

"Andy, by the way," "Movie Night" will happen at FOB on Wednesday, Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. We will see the 1999 film, "Hands on a Hard Body." The movie was honored by the American Film Institute. "Hands on a Hard Body" is suitable viewing for all ages.

A&M looks for QB

■ Slocumb has three capable quarterbacks competing for starting job

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M had a winning record, beat arch-rival Texas and played in a bowl game last season.

For most teams, that would have been considered a very successful year. Not the Aggies.

"It kind of shows you how far we've come, when we have an 8-3 season and beat the Longhorns but our guys see that as an off-year," coach R.C. Slocumb said. "There is a real resolve this season to put more into it."

With their 24-0 loss to Penn State in the Alamo Bowl, the Aggies finished 8-4. It was only the third time in Slocumb's 11 seasons that Texas A&M failed to win at least nine games.

Now A&M goes into 2000 without a proven starting quarterback, three lost defensive backs and no Shane Lechler, the all-star punter who averaged 46.5 yards per kick to often provide the Aggies a huge advantage in field position.

The Aggies must also overcome the effects of a tragedy-marred 1999 season.

There was the collapse of a 2-million-pound, 40-foot stack of bonfire logs that killed 12 people and injured 27 just more than a week before the Texas game. They also lost teammate Terry Nichols, who was killed in an auto accident.

"We will never forget the events of last year and the sadness of the people involved," Slocumb said. "But we will move on with the understanding that that is part of our history. We will carry it with us and we will deal with it."

At the top of Slocumb's football list is settling on a No. 1 quarterback to replace Randy McCown.

Mark Farris, who played five seasons of minor league baseball before returning to football as McCown's backup last season, began preseason practice as the starter. But that doesn't mean the issue is resolved.

Farris, who completed 6-of-16 passes for 53 yards in limited action, has no more college experience than sophomore Vance Smith, who was 5-of-14 for 86 yards and a touchdown last year. Redshirt freshman Colby Freeman will also challenge for time.

"When you have some uncertainty in that spot it concerns you," Slocumb said. "I'm concerned that we don't know the answer but I'm not concerned that we don't have the answer. We will have a capable quarterback come out of this group."

Even though he was the backup last season, Farris knows that he won't just be handed the starting job.

"We are all pretty even, and that's what is neat," Farris said. "We all bring something to the table. Colby, he ran a lot in high school and Vance has a strong arm."

Farris, a 25-year-old sophomore, got the early edge only because of the maturity he gained through five seasons in minor-league baseball.

"You learn to compete in baseball and not get too high or too low," Farris said. "But I don't get into a lot about strengths and weaknesses. The coaches look at the bigger picture whether you threw for 30 or 300 yards. It's who gets the victory."

One resource the Aggies hope to utilize is 6-foot, 265-

HUSTLIN' HERD!

In the sun—The Hereford Whitefaces began practice this week with temperatures reaching the middle to upper 90's. The team's first test will be in a scrimmage against Lubbock Estacado August 31 at Whiteface Stadium.

Physicals make males nervous

Jeff Blackmon

If you want to make a guy uncomfortable just utter these five simple words:

"Turn your head and cough."

Yes. The five simple words can strike fear in the heart of any male that has ventured into the world of physicals.

On Thursday, August 3, those participating in Hereford High athletics traveled to the HISD Administration building to get the routine check-up in order to play sports in the fall.

Even though the procedure is a necessity and most men have gone through it, it can be quite embarrassing. Especially for first timers.

"It's embarrassing," said senior football player Gilbert Hernandez. "The first time feels degrading."

The HISD procedure is not unlike other school districts since the process is to ensure the student is healthy before taking the football field or running a practice lap for a cross country meet.

Hereford students also realize this is a necessity and appreciate Hereford physicians for doing the deed free of charge.

"I think it is good that we can come here for free and do this," Hernandez said. "It is also definitely a sign that school is near."

Hernandez said the yearly ritual helps athletes realize what kind of condition they are in coming back from the summer break. He said he believes the long summer can hurt a player if he or she is not careful.

"You realize what kind of shape you are in coming off of a long break," Hernandez said. "Sometimes you will realize you are not in the best condition and need to work."

The physical begins with the athletes filling out their medical history, and then they are filed into a large room where everything is checked by doctors from the Hereford area.

After leaving their shoes in the lobby, the students have their height and blood pressure tested along with the student's heart rate.

Next, the ears, nose and eyes are tested followed by the throat and lung check. Then the physicians examine flexibility. The last part of the test comes when...well...you know. It wouldn't be frightening without that last part.

After that, the student is cleared or turned down for participation.

In the end it is necessary and not that bad, but believe me, men are glad it is over and done with.

Tiger tied for lead after 66 Blackmon

Woods and Dunlap each at six under

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Now Tiger Woods knows what it's like to play in the same group with somebody like Tiger Woods.

Paired with Jack Nicklaus — who was cheered warmly and loudly on every hole — Woods shot a 6-under-par 66 Thursday to share the first-round lead with Scott Dunlap in the PGA Championship. Slow play forced some players to stop before they finished the round.

The galleries at Valhalla Golf Club were pulling for a saddened Nicklaus. His mother died Wednesday morning back in his hometown of Columbus, Ohio. One of her greatest fears was that her passing might interfere with what could be her son's final appearance, at all four majors. Reluctantly, he honored her last wish and played on.

"Everybody was yelling out 'Jack!' So I kind of just walked around," Woods said with a broad smile. "Jack! Jack! Look over here, Jack! No one saw me. It was kind of nice."

But it wasn't as if Woods went unnoticed. The rest of the field sure knew he was around.

"There is no stopping him," said Dunlap, who has won tournaments in Canada, South Africa, Argentina and Peru — but none on the PGA Tour.

Woods is seeking his fourth victory in the last five major championships. He could become the first player to win consecutive PGA titles since Denny Shute in 1936 and 1937. He could also become the first person to win three Grand Slam events in the same year since Ben Hogan in 1953.

Since shooting a 75 and a 72 in the first two rounds of the Masters, Woods has played 11 rounds in 44 under in the major championships.

Woods said he isn't driven by matching Hogan's feat.

"The funny thing about that is I really haven't thought about it," he said. "I haven't looked at it that way. I have looked at the fact that I am trying to win a PGA Championship and a major."

"Where the chips may fall after that, let them fall."

Woods had seven birdies and one bogey, missing several other birdie putts inside 15 feet. He nearly eagled the closing hole when his sand shot caught most of the hole, then settled for birdie when he hit the 3-foot comebacker.

Nicklaus, playing his first competitive round with Woods, said he was amazed by what he saw.

"He shot the easiest 66 today, and he missed half a dozen opportunities," said Nicklaus, who labored in the heat for a 77. "Phenomenal control, phenomenal concentration. That was a real treat to watch."

Woods only used his driver on two holes, and those drives were measured at 331 and 328 yards.

For his part, Dunlap enjoyed his moment in the spotlight after playing tours around the world. He has never finished higher than third in 108 tour events, and his best effort in the majors is a tie for 10th in last year's British Open.

Despite missing as many cuts (5) as he's made in major championships, Dunlap said there's always hope of an upset win.

"Hey, you never know when your first one is going to be," Dunlap said.

The 37-year-old Pittsburgh native had never shot lower in a major championship than the 68 he shot in the opening round of the British Open last month. He followed that with a 78 and missed the cut.

"All I can do is come out tomorrow and hopefully do a lot better than I did Friday at the British Open," Dunlap said. "Just play another good round and take it from there."

In his only previous PGA appearance, Dunlap tied for 68th last year at Medinah, finishing 21 shots behind Woods.

But on Thursday he holed a wedge from 30 yards for eagle on the second hole and added five birdies.

Two shots back after 68s were Northern Ireland's Darren Clark and 1997 PGA champion Davis Love III.

Love said he tried to shut out what Woods and everybody else was doing.

"I just play my own game and get lost in my own little world out there a little bit," he said. "I am playing very, very well. And I need to."

J.P. Hayes, Fred Funk, Stephen Ames and Edward Fryatt — who barely made it into the field as an alternate for the injured Steve Elkington — each shot 69.

Ernie Els, second in each of the year's first three majors, had a 74. So did Colin Montgomerie, seeking to win his first major in 38 tries.

Six threesomes were unable to complete their rounds because of slow play. The group of Tom Kite, Jim Furyk and Stuart Appleby was on the course for more than 5 1/2 hours and were playing the 18th hole when play was suspended.

The 18 players were to complete their rounds before starting their second round.

Amarillo YMCA hosting duathlon

Cycling and running event set for September 9

AMARILLO-The Amarillo YMCA's 5th Annual "Fall Brawl" Duathlon featuring both individual and team competition will be held Saturday, September 9. The event kicks off at 9 a.m. in front of the Amarillo Botanical Gardens, 1400 Street, in the Harrington Regional Medical Center in Amarillo.

A strenuous endurance race, the Duathlon starts with a 2-mile out and back run, followed by a 10-mile loop ride and ends with another 2-mile run. A map is available upon request, said Cindy Gibson, race coordinator.

Deadline for pre-registration is August 31. Entry fees are $15 for individuals and $25 for teams. All pre-registrants receive a T-shirt. Participants must be at least 15 years old.

Age divisions, for men and women, are 15-29 years, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59 and 60 and over. Teams, composed of one runner and one cyclist, may be composed of any age participants who are at least 15 years old. The top male and female winners will each receive a special prize. First, second and third place awards will also be given in each division. All participants are also eligible for door prizes, given after the race.

For more information call the Downtown YMCA of Amarillo at 374-4651.

for the 2000 football season Monday following the first day of classes. The team forfeited two weeks of summer practice because the team was able to have organized spring workouts for the first time. This also means the Herd did not have two-a-days this summer. —The Lady Whitefaces volleyball team got off to a great start this past Tuesday defeating Lubbock Coronado 15-13, 10-15 and 15-3. The team got off to a rocky start narrowly beating the Lady Mustangs in the first set and losing the second set. I thought the team looked great though coming back from a 0-2 deficit in the third game to whip Coronado 15-3.

—Finally, I just want to add that I am amazed by Hereford fan support. The high school I graduated from in Fayetteville, Ga., did not have anywhere near the fan support here in Hereford. I love the way you cheer on your teams and are into the game!

pound fullback Ja'Mar Toombs.

Though he liked his limited time at tailback in '99, Toombs knows he'll better benefit himself and the team as a fullback. He worked hard during the offseason to improve his blocking skills.

"I think it's time to show everyone why the coaches recruited me," said Toombs, a junior. "And that is to become the devastating fullback that everyone is looking for me to become."

The 'Wrecking Crew' defense returns eight starters but Slocum must find replacements for free safety Brandon Jennings, the team's leading tackler last season with 94 stops, and cornerbacks Jason Webster (74 tackles) and Sedrick Curry.

The lone returning defensive back, Michael Jameson (74 tackles), has moved from strong safety to free safety.

The defensive front seven returns. Ends Rocky Bernard and Ronald Flemons and nose guard Ron Edwards are solid across the front, backed by linebackers Jason Glenn, Cornelius Anthony, Brian Gamble and Roylin Bradley.

paigned agenda. He offered a quick bow to President Clinton for the thriving economy and his other achievements, but said he is not asking for votes "on the basis of past performance. ...

"For all of our good times, I am not satisfied," he said, promising a better, fairer, more prosperous nation in a new Democratic administration.

Before all the balloons had popped, with the confetti and streamers hardly settled, Gore raced eastward with Lieberman to hunt votes on the riverboat campaign voyage down the Mississippi River, from Wisconsin to Missouri.

His political ports of call there and in Illinois and Iowa were in territory crucial to his bid to beat his Republican opponent, Texas Gov. George W. Bush, in the election now 81 days away.

In his convention address, Gore called GOP proposals "old guard" and beholden to the powerful and the wealthy, but he never spoke Bush's name.

Even so, Bush's spokesman had an instant response. Ari Fleischer called Gore's address "more of the same old language of class warfare, partisanship and division."

Gore was almost conversational at times, not the shouting orator of other campaign days. "If you entrust me with the presidency, I know I won't always be the most exciting politician," he said. "But I pledge to you tonight: I will work for you every day and I will never let you down."

Gore broke no policy ground, repeating the agenda he has been shaping during a campaign that began not long after the 1998 elections.

The man who heard so many jokes about how boring he was that he started joking about it himself tried to turn that into an asset.

"I know my own imperfections. For example, I know that sometimes people say I'm too serious, that I talk too much substance and policy. Maybe I've done that tonight."

"But the presidency is more than a popularity contest. It's a day to day fight for the people."

Gore said "we've got to win this election, because every hardworking American family deserves to open the door to their dreams."

"From this city that marked both the end of America's journey westward and the beginning of the New Frontier, let us set out on a new journey to the best America," Gore said.

Then, showered by red, white and blue balloons, and by glittering confetti, he and Lieberman embraced, and strolled the stage with thumbs-up waves. Their wives, then their children, then an array of Democratic leaders, Gore's vanquished primary rival Bill Bradley among them, joined the unity show.

Their first campaign day as the Democratic nominees was to span 20 hours of travel and vote-hunting before they called it a night in Dubuque, Iowa.

Later Friday morning they planned to board the riverboat Mark Twain for four days on and off the Mississippi, with rallies afloat and ashore on the way downstream to Hannibal.

Mark Miles, a delegate from St. Charles, Mo., said he was going to be there in his 34-foot party barge to welcome the ticket. "The uniqueness of this boat trip is attention-getting, since they usually do planes, trains and buses," he said, and that should play well elsewhere in the state. Bush leads in the most recent polls in Missouri, where Clinton won in 1992 and 1996.

Bob Tully, the Iowa Democratic chairman, said he'd meet the ticket in Dubuque. "It is a smart move on their part," he said. Iowa has gone Democratic in the past three presidential elections, but Gov. Tom Vilsack said Bush would win narrowly if the election were held now.

Wisconsin and Illinois also are battleground, swing states that voted twice for Clinton.

Bush was resuming his campaign Friday after a break at his ranch near Waco, Texas, during the Democratic convention — his first stop a rally in Bartlett, Tenn., Gore's home state. Vice presidential nominee Dick Cheney was campaigning with him in the Memphis suburb.

For all the celebrations and victory vows of Los Angeles, there were upstream political currents facing Gore, in the public opinion polls that rate Bush the leader, 48 percent to 37 percent in a Voter.com Battleground survey released Thursday.

Bush

"He hasn't spent, over the last 8 years, any time in Tennessee. He can talk about the town meetings of the past, but that doesn't mean very much," said Frist, who was named to replace the late Sen. Paul Coverdell of Georgia as Bush's liaison to the Senate GOP.

Gore campaign spokesman Jano Cabrera said, "If Governor Bush were serious about campaigning in Tennessee, he would do more than raise money and hold photo-ops."

charges of possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver.

The truck was driven into Hereford and search warrants were obtained for the other two suitcases. Officers opened the other cases and removed a total of 304 pounds of cocaine.

The street value of the cocaine is estimated at $13 million. The case has been turned over to the federal Drug Enforcement Administration for investigation. The names of the driver and the passenger have not yet been released pending a federal grand jury investigation. The truck, which was traveling from El Paso to East Liberty, Ohio, is being held until further investigation is complete.

Counsel continues to probe Clinton

News digest

WASHINGTON — Independent Counsel Robert Ray is signaling that the Monica Lewinsky scandal is far from over, assembling a new grand jury to investigate President Clinton's conduct, legal sources say. News that the grand jury was impaneled a month ago reverberated to the other side of the country Thursday. Democratic Party loyalists at the convention in Los Angeles decried the story as a politically motivated leak designed to hurt Vice President Al Gore. "You can bet your bottom dollar that the Republican Party was behind" the leak, said House Minority Whip David Bonior, D-Mich. "I think the American people are going to reject this kind of behavior." Russians say crewmen had no time to escape

MOSCOW — Rescue efforts Friday to find any survivors on a shattered submarine looked increasingly hopeless after Russian officials said the crew probably had no time to escape a "catastrophe that developed at lightning speed." The pessimistic assessments came after film of the crippled Kursk showed massive damage, reaching from the bow to the conning tower, which was much more extensive than earlier thought. Navy officials said there was no sign of life Friday among the 118 men aboard the wreck of the nuclear sub trapped 850 feet below the surface of the Barents Sea for six days. Six Hindu villagers killed in attacks in Kashmir

JAMMU, India— Hindu villagers in India's troubled Kashmir state were shot and killed after answering a knock at their door, police said Friday. Neighbors who rushed outside also were killed. Police blamed Islamic guerrillas for the attack late Thursday, which left at least six people dead and six injured in the Kothdara village, 120 miles northwest of Jammu, Kashmir's winter capital. A spokesman for the Hezbul Mujahedeen, the main guerrilla group in Kashmir, said no militant group was behind the killings. U.S. to declassify Pinochet documents

SANTIAGO, Chile — Thousands of documents in U.S. archives about Gen. Augusto Pinochet's 17-year dictatorship — including those detailing human rights violations — will be declassified next month, U.S. Secretary of State Madeleine Albright says. Albright, on a five-nation tour of South America, calls the recent ruling stripping Pinochet of immunity from prosecution historic. Pinochet, 84, could stand trial in connection with the deaths and disappearances of political opponents during his 1973-90 regime. After massive disclosures in June and September 1999, about 11,000 additional U.S. documents are earmarked for declassification, Albright said. Streisand headlines convention fund-raiser

LOS ANGELES — After the curtain fell on the Democratic convention, Barbra Streisand, Whoopi Goldberg and other Hollywood luminaries helped party officials and delegates celebrate the new presidential ticket. More than $5 million poured into party coffers early Friday as more than 6,000 people jammed the concert and fund-raiser at the Shrine Auditorium. Streisand headlined the concert and Goldberg served as master of ceremonies.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI
IT TOOK A CASE OF LEPROSY AND AN EARTHQUAKE TO STOP THIS KING!

UZZIAH, SON OF AMAZIAH, ASCENDED THE THRONE OF JUDAH AT THE AGE OF SIXTEEN TO REIGN FOR FIFTY-TWO YEARS (809-757 B.C.). DURING THIS RULE, HE SERVED AS A WISE AND PIOUS KING. HE REBUILT JERUSALEM, STRENGTHENED ITS WALLS, ENCOURAGED THE ARTS, WAS VICTORIOUS IN BATTLE WITH HIS NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES AND, IN FACT, RAISED THE KINGDOM BACK TO THE POWER AND GLORY IT ENJOYED IN KING SOLOMON'S DAY! HOWEVER, WHEN HE MADE HIS ONE AND ONLY MISTAKE, IT WAS AS STUPENDOUS AS WERE HIS MANY TRIUMPHS! ELATED BY ALL HIS GOOD DEEDS, HE DECIDED HE SHOULD ALSO BE HEAD MAN IN THE TEMPLE, CERTAINLY ON HIGH OCCASIONS—AFTER ALL, OTHER KINGS DID THIS, DIDN'T THEY? WHO BETTER TO SERVE GOD IN THE HOLY OF HOLIES THAN UZZIAH, HIMSELF, WHO HAD DONE SO MUCH FOR HIS KINGDOM?! BUT...

...WHEN HE MADE THIS ATTEMPT, HE WAS WARNED BY THE HIGH PRIEST, AZARIAH, THAT ONLY A PRIEST COULD LAWFULLY ENTER THE HOLY PLACE AND OFFER INCENSE ON THE ALTAR (2ND CHRON. 26:17-18). UZZIAH WAS ENRAGED AND ABOUT TO USE FORCE WHEN, THE BIBLE TELLS US, GOD, IN HIS ANGER, INTERVENED AND UZZIAH WAS SMITTEN WITH LEPROSY, THEN AND THERE! NOT ONLY THAT—THE DIVINE WRATH WAS SO TEPID THAT IT CAUSED AN EARTHQUAKE WHICH SPLIT THE ROOF OF THE TEMPLE AND SENT ONE HALF OF A MOUNTAIN, SITUATED TO THE WEST OF JERUSALEM, CRASHING INTO THE VALLEY BELOW, WHICH DESTROYED AND COMPLETELY COVERED UP THE ROYAL GARDENS! THIS WE HAVE ON THE WORD OF JOSEPHUS, THE ANCIENT HISTORIAN OF THE JEWS, WITH FURTHER CORROBORATION IN THE BIBLE (AMOS 1:1) (ZECH 1:5). FROM THAT DAY ON, UZZIAH HAD TO LIVE IN SECLUSION AS A LEPER, HIS SON, JOTHAM, ADMINISTERING THE AFFAIRS OF GOVERNMENT IN HIS FATHER'S NAME. A RATHER FORCEFUL REMINDER TO ALL ISRAEL THAT, NO MATTER HOW GREAT, NO ONE COULD GET AWAY WITH BREAKING GOD'S LAW!

NEXT WEEK: MUSIC TO SOOTHE THE SAVAGE BREAST!
