LEGAL TECHNICALITY MAY DESTROY LIBRARY HOPES OF CITY ASSISTANCE

Library Board, Civic and Social Clubs And 800 Member FOL Stunned By Actions

A legal technicality may have killed all immediate hopes that the city might help in assisting to establish free public library services in Muleshoe this Summer.

The action came at a council meeting Friday afternoon when city manager Albert Field and Councilman Irvin St. Clair quoted a law that — in the council's opinion — precluded city assistance in setting up a city public library here.

The law in question is article 11, sec. 3 of the constitution. It states, in summation, the city shall not donate money to private groups or organizations.

Whether or not this law applies to the library situation or not was the debatable question. Is the library a private organization? If so, will it not become a public facility if the council appoints a board to govern it under city direction?

Before the question of legality was raised at least two of the councilmen, Rudolph Wiedebush and Woody Lambert, had been in favor of the proposed assistance.

However, after the raising of the legal question the board went on record of not "wanting to do anything illegal."

After this decision the question arose that it might be possible for the council to take over the entire library and operate it entirely as a city facility.

During the discussions by the group as to whether or not the taxpayers of the city would want the council to take such action, Councilman St. Clair said that he was not sure a majority of the people wanted such action as it would probably raise taxes next year.

He then cited a recent vote by the Muleshoe Lions Club which went 12 for and 9 against. Several didn't vote. The program was brought to the club by Councilman St. Clair.

He failed to mention a recent vote by the Muleshoe Jaycees that was overwhelmingly in favor of the city assisting the library. The vote came only a few days after the Lions' prior vote.

Councilman St. Clair also mentioned that the Library Board had not ever mentioned how much city libraries in such towns as Hereford and Littlefield were used and added, "you know how it is when someone's trying to sell you something, if there's something wrong, they just neglect to mention it."

A few minutes after he stated that he had doubts about the success of the bookmobile. The Library board of trustees has not provided the council with any figures relative to the success or failure of the bookmobile program in Muleshoe and Bailey County.

Nor has the board provided the council with figures as to how much libraries in towns in the vicinity are used by the tax paying public. The council has not attempted to gather such figures either.

The council felt that because of the indebtedness of the library that the city government could not commit itself to taking over the library lock-stock, cash and debts.

The council then suggested that the library board use either the $2,500 presently in the book memorial fund or the about $6,000 in the remodeling fund to operate the library for a test period and then come back to the council and again ask for help. At that time the council suggested it would put a bond issue to a public vote, and allow tax payers to decide upon assistance.

The board fees that the memorial fund, which was donated in memory of deceased persons and specifically earmarked by the donors for books, can not be violated.

It is possible that the $6,000 donated by various local groups and clubs to the library might be used in such a way, even though the clubs themselves earmarked the monies for capital improvements.

The only trouble with such action is that the present library is not suited as a library center there is no room for any study or reading area. It is doubtful that there is even room to set up an adequate checkout desk, not to mention allied and necessary facilities.

In closing the meeting Mayor LeVeque ordered the city manager to contact the library board so they might have the opportunity to prove to the city council that they might help the library legally.

The meeting can be summed-up in Mayor Wilber LeVeque's words — "All we can offer the library is our sympathy."

All the councilmen then went on record of being 100 per cent in favor of library facilities here.

This June 1st deadline set by the library board to provide facilities to Muleshoe area residents went down the drain.

Councilmen Settle Baseball Question

Problems-Accusations Lacerate Harmony

The City Council this week heard the Babe Ruth League's side of the controversy over who shall and who shall not use the Babe Ruth Ball Park for baseball, and adroitly handed the problem right back to the League's directors.

The problem centered around the use of the park by a Latin American ball team who wished to play on the field Sundays.

Officers of the Babe Ruth League felt the "other" team had no right to use the park as it had not assisted in its building or maintenance. Nor had they contributed to the various fund raising campaigns, they stated.

In addition the group charged the Latin American group with destroying property, defiling the grounds and drinking in the park and its immediate area.

The Babe Ruth group pointed to the destruction of the concession stand roof, damage to the fence, and the use of the dugouts as restrooms. They additionally stated it sometimes took a half-day to clean up beer bottles and cans from the area.

On the other side of the question was the Latin American team's belief that the Babe Ruth Park was owned by the city and the land supported to some extent by tax money.

It is.

They additionally believe that since they pay taxes they should be allowed to use the facility.

The ordinance states that the park shall be used by boys between the ages of 13 and 18-years from Muleshoe and the Muleshoe trade area, under the supervision of an organization or proper baseball league.

The Latin American team considers itself organized as it is an organized ball team which meets regularly and is uniformed. In addition the group has elected its own leaders.

As far as the drinking charges go, neither group condones public drinking.

The council in rendering its decision felt the team should have a separate facility somewhere.

The Babe Ruth League officials concurred and offered to assist the Latin American team to set up a park.

The council then agreed that the ball park should be controlled by a five man board to be appointed by the council. The group then appointed the directors of the Babe Ruth Little League as directors. They will settle any future questions.

As the situation now stands any teams wishing to play on the field must first obtain permission of the Babe Ruth League directors.

The council was able to hear only one side of the controversy as the Latin American team had no representatives present to speak for them.

Clean-Up Program Scheduled

Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Education has decided to use summer vacation time to make seven changes and improvements in both the junior and senior high schools.

When school closes, the present junior high school library will be moved to the study hall and the space used to create a curriculum director's office.

Walls in the basketball dressing rooms will be removed and dressing stalls built. The present tunnel leading to the present dressing area will be closed off and used for storage space.

Room 14 at the high school will be divided into two classrooms to help care for next year's influx of students.

The practice area south of the high school will be leveled. All classrooms throughout the system will be painted where needed and campuses sprigged.

A general clean-up including deep waxing of all floors is part of the program, according to Neal Dillman, superintendent.

School Board Charges Superintendent

Lazbuddie School system's year-long boiling troubles erupted with volcanic violence last week when its superintendent of schools was called before the area's school board to answer some 26 old charges.

The charges covered the full range from administrative laxity — through favoritism — to misconduct.

Exactly what brought the long-standing Lazbuddie problem to a boil is not known, and as is usual in these cases nobody is talking.

However, the discussion during Saturday's meeting of the board and Superintendent Albert Fuller, centered around the previous dismissal of a school principal there.

According to statements made at the trial-like meeting, the principal in question was asked to resign because of a "drinking problem".

The board had heard reports and rumors that the man drank, and had questioned the superintendent on the subject. The superintendent had defended the principal because in his opinion he was an "excellent teacher" and he did not believe the man's

BULLETIN

On hearing of the city council's decision in regard to the library assistance, Rev. J. Frank Peery stated in an emotion charged voice, that "he and the board of library trustees felt it regrettable that the city felt it was unable to assist in providing free library services to the area's residents."

He further stated that because some members of the board were not available and for other definite reasons, the library board would not be able to meet with the city council before the June 15 deadline.

Thus the possibility of regular library services for Muleshoe have faded into the dim future.

Bailey County Crops Off To A Good Start

Its no news that Bailey County and the High Plains is currently suffering one of the driest Springs on record.

What is news is that in spite of a 72-day dry spell of hard blowing, seed moving, crop covering sand, Bailey County's 1964 crop season is off to a good start.

In the Muleshoe area, where the about 4,000 foot altitude can mean late freezes in Spring and early freezes in Fall, the word "Early" is almost synonymous with "good" in so far as farm crops are concerned.

Today the big majority of the Muleshoe area's farmers have much of their grain and cotton seed in the ground and many are nursing tiny sprouts that will probably turn into good stands.

The feeling that brings joy to the hearts of men of the soil, that planting — the first lap in a race against the clock in the area's 208-day growing season, is just about in the bag is prevalent. And area farmers are beginning to breathe easier.

Now, the big question — as always — is what the weather will do. Its actions will directly determine the yield potential of the area's crops through the growing season.

The wheat situation is both good and bad. Irrigated wheat is in "good" shape. However, much of dry land wheat has been abandoned in the field.

Cotton is beginning to show well. However some areas have been badly hit by wire worms and darkling beetles, which are the adult wire worms.

The worms are bad enough in some areas to cause replanting of entire fields. Planters have been told to check their rows and pay particular attention to the cotton shanks to determine how

Tags To Change Format In '64

Automobile license tags will have a new, re-designed, county tax assessor-collector revealed this week.

In the new format, the old two-letter prefixes will be replaced by three letters and three digits, she learned when she attended the state conference of tax officers in Corpus Christi last week.

In fact she brought back a sample of the new tags. She was quick to point out, however, that the sample on display in her office is just that — a sample. Prefixes will contain no vowels and no letter "Q" and no "special" letters such as LBJ or JFK will be assigned.

Mrs. Stafford said the state has figured out that it can make 7,920,000 different tags by using the three letters and three digits in the plates — and without using vowels. Since the state this year issued 6.5 million, there is no likelihood that the tag makers will run out of combinations for 1965.

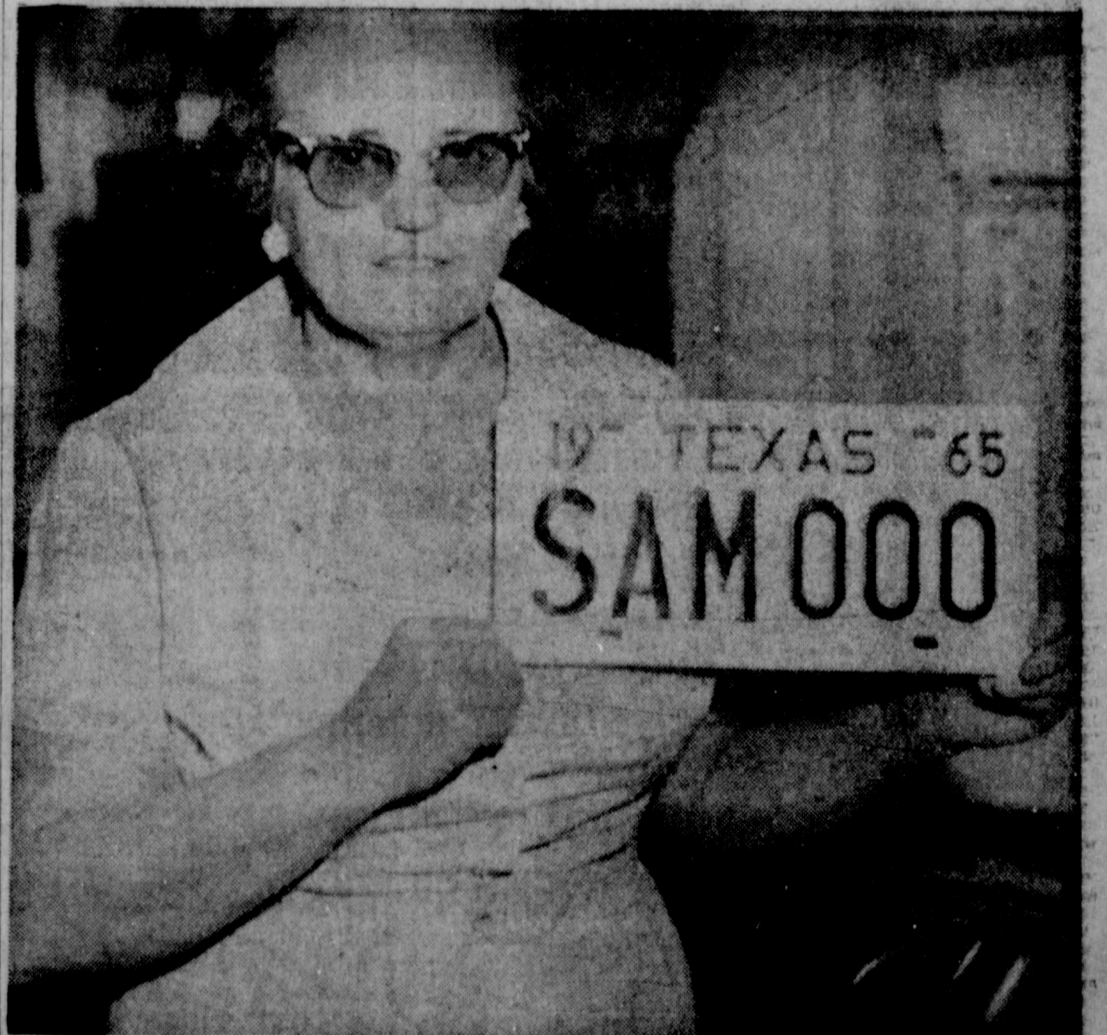

The new tags will be easier to see — up to 125 feet by people with 20-20 vision. And the word "Texas" at the top of the plate has been enlarged, too. Color will be the reverse of this year — black letters on white background for 1965.

Texas ranks third among the 50 states in total number of automobile licenses issued, she said. New York comes first with California only a shade behind.

The new tags won't go on sale until the usual time — Feb. 1,

TIPS...

FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

By JEAN MARTIN IF YOU DON'T SIFT FLOUR

Many recipes for baked products — cakes, cookies, quick breads, and yeast breads — now call for unsifted flour. But many recipes still in use were developed in the days when all flour was sifted — and the measurements are for sifted flour.

Since there is more flour in a cup of unsifted than in a cup of sifted flour, you must either sift before measuring or adjust the measurement to get the right amount of flour for these older recipes.

To adjust a measurement from sifted to unsifted flour, simply spoon flour into the dry measuring cup, level it off, and remove 2 level tablespoons.

Recently, researchers in the Agricultural Research Service compared sifted and unsifted flour in cakes and muffins. When the volume of unsifted flour was adjusted by removing 2 level tablespoons from a measured cup of flour, no difference was noted in the quality of the baked products made with sifted and unsifted flour. However, then unsifted flour was used without adjustment in volume, muffins and cakes were less acceptable than products made with sifted flour. Baking studies showed that spices and cocoa did not blend uniformly by merely stirring the flour with the unsifted flour. So, if your recipe calls for spices and cocoa, you may want to sift them with the other dry ingredients for uniform blending.

Most farmers in the area consider themselves in good shape if they have a good stand of cotton in the field by June 1st.

For most of the area farmers, the goal is within reach. And for others it has already been reached.

Rain, hail and a cold spell held the cotton back last year. So far this year the conditions are reversed.

Farewell Party Honors Courtneys

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Cass Stegall, Three Way, was the scene of a farewell party honoring Mr. and Mrs. James Courtney and son, Pat, last Friday evening May 15. Co-hosting were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. The Courtneys will leave soon for Ft. Collins, Colo., where he will take an eight-weeks course in data-processing. In September, the family will move to Athens, where he will be an I. B.
