Trustees opt to hold off salary increases

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor
It took Hereford Independent School District trustees more than an hour of discussion to come to a consensus, but in the end decided to hold off on raises for para-professional employees and many teachers.

The board met for its second board workshop in a week Tuesday night, following up a meeting on Aug. 9 in which the more than $17 million local and state funds budget was unveiled. Superintendent Charles W. Greenawalt said no trustees had contacted him with questions in the week since the first meeting.

He presented trustees with figures requested last week by Trustee Raul Valdez as part of his request for raises for classroom aides and other para-professionals.

Greenawalt said giving those employees a 3.5 percent cost-of-living raise -- which is roughly equal to the national inflation rate -- would cost $37,357.

To give the same raise to those people, plus all teachers, central office personnel and other employees not already receiving a raise this year would cost a total of $166,556.

But trustees Ron Weishaar and Steve Wright argued that the district approved a pay plan last year for all professional and para-professional employees that governs raises, and that a market study that led to the plan showed employees are currently being paid a rate that is competitive.

Greenawalt said the employees have been given raises every year for seven years and that this is the first year without a hike.

The only exception is for those teachers who have fewer than 10 years experience in the district, who receive an automatic, state-mandated $1,140 increase each year until they reach the 10-year plateau.

Valdez said his reason for wanting to give classroom aides a raise is that the base salary -- $5.11 an hour -- is not enough money for the work they do with students.

However, the other trustees argued that giving aides a raise would throw them off the salary scale in reference to other para-professionals.

Wright said one objective of the pay plan was to get employees clustered around the mid-point of each pay grade.

Greenawalt agreed, noting that the district wants to have all employees in a given pay grade -- which represents the job and its duties and responsibilities -- to be paid roughly the same amount of money.

Although trustees briefly debated the possibility of a fixed-rate raise or a 1 or 2 percent increase, they ultimately opted to go with Greenawalt's recommendation and not give any raise this year.

Greenawalt said he has talked to several teachers and, "they're not expecting to get anything" other than the regular step increase for those eligible.

"I'm still going to hold to my decision to hold the budget," he said. "I agree with Charles, let's try to hold the status quo" on the budget, Trustee Jim Marsh said.

The only other change made in the 1994-95 budget, Greenawalt said, was that $67,555 that had been budgeted under debt service for bus costs had been double-budgeted in with transportation.

As a result, he said, the budget would be reduced by that figure.

If approved as presented, the budget will be for $17,920,748, which is $7,898 more than the 1993-94 school year. The budget decreases the district deficit -- which is the amount of revenue versus the budget -- to a projected $483,462.

Greenawalt is also recommending that the property tax rate of $1.239 per $100 valuation remain as it is for the 1994-95 school year.

Greenawalt said last week that the deficit budget is made each year with the provision that, if needed, funds will be transferred from the fund balance to cover the budget.

But, he said, that has not been done because he always under-figures tax revenues and the district never spends all the budgeted monies.

The district must approve a budget by Aug. 31.

Trustees will meet in special session at noon on Aug. 31 for a public hearing on the budget. They will then convene a meeting to vote on the budget and set a tax rate immediately after the hearing.

Those meetings will be in the school administration building, 601 N. 25 Mile Avenue and are open to the public.

School welcome reception

Hereford State Bank on Tuesday sponsored its annual reception honoring local educators. Here, Community School principal Jan Wilks, left, and Community School teacher Charlotte Wilburn help themselves to chips and dip, as the line of educators, administrators and support personnel from local school stretches through the bank lobby. The reception also gave bank personnel the opportunity to meet school employees and visit with them before the start of the year.

Hospital board sets 94-95 tax rate at 22.4 cents for 2nd straight year

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN

Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors, in regular session Tuesday night, voted to retain the current 22.4 cent tax rate for 1994-95, approved the appointment of Scott Keeling to the board, decided to make a feasibility study on operating a rural health clinic in Vega, approved various reports and discussed other issues during a meeting last more than four hours.

The board opened and closed the meeting with executive sessions. The first was to discuss persons interested in being appointed to fill out the trustee term of Scott Turner, who moved. The second was to discuss the search for a new hospital administrator. Directors adjourned the closed session at 1:30 a.m., ending a seven-hour meeting for the trustees.

Turner's departure also required the election of a new board vice president. Directors elected Boyd Foster to that position. Keeling, 38, is owner and operator of Keeling Cattle Feeders. He came to Hereford in 1981.

A graduate of Canyon High School, he attended Blinn Junior College, West Texas State, and Southwestern Oklahoma State. He and his wife, Karen, have two children--Tyler, 11, and Levi, 4, and attend the Nazarene Church.

Keeling was apparently one of four persons considered by the board. Others who indicated an interest or were suggested by friends were Jim Clarke, Karen Solomon and Aaron Hutto.

No action was taken following the closed session to discuss a new administrator, but board president Mal Manchee said directors looked over resumes on two unidentified candidates. Lubbock Methodist Hospital is assisting with the search. Jim Robinson, interim administrator, has publicly indicated he might be a candidate, and the other man is associated with a Lubbock hospital.

When the board discussed the tax rate, directors Jo Beth Shackelford and Dean Crofford suggested paring the rate back to 22 cents per $100 valuation. After a full discussion, however, the board voted unanimously to retain the current 22.4 cent rate, which generates about $1 million a year.

Manchee indicated to Robinson that "the board wants you to bring us a balanced budget. We operated with a deficit budget last year, and the board was not happy about that." The interim administrator said he and financial officer Paul Fowler were "committed to presenting a balanced budget."

Robinson and Jim Wurts, assistant vice president for regional services of Lubbock Methodist, pointed out that health care reform might lead to a decrease in Medicare and Medicaid payments.

Robinson also noted that contracts with corporations and industries for (See HOSPITAL, Page 2)

Report Card shows education progress

By CAROLE FELDMAN
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Students are doing better in math and science a decade after American education was rebuked for a "rising tide of mediocrity," but their reading and writing skills have remained stagnant, the Education Department said today.

The findings by the National Assessment of Educational Progress, better known as the Nation's Report Card, reflect schools' increased emphasis on science and math.

"The nation's commitment to improve learning in math and science is starting to show some rewards," Education Secretary Richard Riley said in remarks prepared for a news conference today.

The report said 9- and 13-year-olds in 1992 showed better understanding of math and science fundamentals than students in the same age group in the late 1970s.

In both math and science, students were taking more advanced courses. In 1992, 92 percent of 17-year-olds had taken biology, up from 88 percent in 1986. Increases also were registered for chemistry, to 49 percent from 40 percent, and physics, to 14 percent from 10 percent.

In 1992, 76 percent of 17-year-olds said science should be a required subject, up from 62 percent in 1977. With reading and writing performance generally flat, Riley called on parents to help their children.

"Children who read and are read to, who see their parents read, who have a variety of reading materials in the home, and who write letters or notes at home read and write better," he said.

The study examined trends in student achievement from 1969 to 1992. It found that boys generally scored higher than girls in math and science, while girls held the edge in reading and writing.

The report found there still is a large achievement gap between white and minority students, despite a slight narrowing. "In 1992, both black and Hispanic students, on average, demonstrated significantly lower proficiency than white students," it said.

In science, the study found that student achievement declined in the 1970s but improved in the 1980s.

It was in 1983 that the report "A Nation At Risk," cautioned that "the educational foundations of our society are presently being eroded by a rising tide of mediocrity that threatens our very future as a nation and a people." It recommended high academic standards for all students, tougher courses, longer school hours and more homework.

Today's report found that more students believe science can solve world problems, ranging from pollution to birth defects. One exception, however, was world starvation - only 20 percent of the 17-year-olds said science could be used to help feed the world in 1992, down from 32 percent in 1977.

The study indicated that students also recognize the importance of writing. For example, 52 percent of fourth graders in 1992 said writing would help them get a good job. That's up from 33 percent in 1984.

Increased numbers of students in eighth and 11th grade reported writing stories or poems outside of school. Seventy-one percent of those in eighth grade and 82 percent of those in 11th grade used a computer to write stories and papers in 1992, up from 14 percent and 17 percent, respectively, in 1984.

Still, the report found no change in the writing skills of fourth graders and 11th graders between 1984 and 1992. Among eighth graders, scores dropped steadily during the 1980s before registering a sharp increase from 1990 to 1992.

Josserand tabbed by Perry for state panel

Hereford's mayor, Bob Josserand, a leader in the cattle industry, has been named to the Farm Bill Task Force by Texas Commissioner of Agriculture Rick Perry.

Announced Tuesday by Perry, the task force of 13 agriculture leaders in Texas will advise the commissioner on positions to advocate when the U.S. Congress debates a farm bill next year.

An organizational meeting was held Tuesday in Austin by the task force.

"I can't think of a better group to advise me on this important piece of legislation than these individuals who represent a broad cross-section of the state's agricultural industry," said Perry.

Josserand, president of the family-owned AZTX Cattle Company, headquartered in Hereford, is a former president of Texas Cattle Feeders Association and National Cattlemen's Association. He is serving the second year of a two-year term as mayor of the City of Hereford. AZTX Cattle Company operates five feedlots in Texas, Colorado, Arizona and Kansas.

Other members of the task force represent producer organizations, academic institutions and banking.

Another member of the task force is from the Panhandle area. He is Scott McGarraugh, a Perryton farmer and rancher. He is a member of the Texas Wheat Producers Board. Also named to the task force were two persons from Lubbock, Jane Anne Stinnett, president of the Texas Cotton Association, and Dr. Sam Curl, dean of agricultural sciences at Texas Tech University.

Court hearing nets probation

A five-year probated sentence was assessed a defendant who entered a guilty plea to charges in 222nd District Court Tuesday.

Lewis Wayne Rolen, 52, was charged with tampering with a government record. In addition to the probated sentence, he will be required to make restitution of $2,043.99.

On a motion to revoke probation of Joe Dimas Ochoa, Judge David Wesley Gulley modified terms of his probation and placed the defendant on intensive supervision for three months.

Ochoa originally was fined $1,000 and assessed a 10-year probated sentence on conviction of possession of marijuana.

Improvements offered at latest park meeting

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

One of Hereford's postage stamp-size parks was the focus of a neighborhood meeting Tuesday evening, attended by two dozen, or more, residents.

During the City Commission-sponsored meeting at Ironwood Park, citizens outlined improvements they would like to see implemented.

The park, located at Ironwood and Plains, is the site of two tennis courts as well as a play area, in about an acre of space.

During discussions, City Manager Chester Nolen reported that approximately $125,000 is available in the city's voluntary assessment fund for park improvements.

Asked if there are plans for other park facilities in northwest Hereford, Nolen said the city owns a 22-acre tract, located south of W. 15th and east of Kingwood.

Participants in the meeting Tuesday night encouraged the city to begin planting trees on the tract in preparation for the future.

A suggestion also was made that the city seek tennis court sites away from heavily populated areas.

Ideas for Ironwood Park improvements, submitted by neighbors, include:

-- Fencing on the west side, along the alley, and some fencing on the east side of the park.

-- Play equipment for smaller children.

-- More trees.

-- Picnic tables

-- Sidewalk.

-- Weed control.

-- Water fountain.

-- Lower basketball goal on concrete slab.

Nolen said that the City Commission expects to compile and prioritize the needs of all parks in the city on conclusion of a series of neighborhood meetings.

Involvement of residents in park planning began early this month with a meeting at Buena Vista. Last week, Dameron, Santa Fe, Mother's, Hereford Garden and City Parks were the subject of review.

Next on the list is Campfire Park, located between E. 14th and E. 15th, at Avenue H. Residents of the area may offer their suggestions during a meeting at 7 p.m. next Tuesday.

The neighborhood approach to park planning was adopted by the City Commission in an effort to collect ideas from residents.

Local Roundup

Fire seminar scheduled

Earnest Brown, Bootleg Fire Department chief and a member of the Texas Commission on Fire Protection, has announced that the commission will sponsor a first-of-its kind seminar on the Key Rate, which is how a fire department helps get reductions on insurance rates in cities. The seminar will be from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Friday at the Hereford Fire Department, 215 N. Miles. It is open to the public at no charge and will be conducted by David Lewis of the commission.

Immunization schedule noted

The Texas Department of Health has announced its August immunization clinic schedule for Hereford. Vaccines against polio, diphtheria, lockjaw (tetanus), whooping cough (pertussis), measles, rubella, mumps and HIB (hemophilus influenzae type B) will be offered. The Texas Department of Health charges to help with the cost of keeping the clinic open. Charges are based on family income and size and the ability to pay. Regular clinics will be held from 7 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 5:45 p.m. The clinic will be on Thursday, August 18, then Aug. 25 in the Health Department offices, 205 W. Fourth St., Suite B.

Rain? Not much chance.

Isolated thunderstorms, less than a 20 percent chance, are forecast for Wednesday night with the overnight temperature dropping into the mid-60s. Thursday's forecast calls for hot and sunny, a high in the upper 90s and a southwest wind, 10-20 mph, and gusty. High in Hereford Tuesday was 92 degrees. The mercury dropped to 63 degrees early Wednesday.

Park talk

Neighbors of Ironwood Park gathered Tuesday evening to talk about their hopes for improvements in the small northwest Hereford park. City Commissioner Dennis Hicks, standing second from right, opened the meeting. Explaining the neighborhood park planning program was City Manager Chester Nolen, right. (See story on Page 1) managed health care were on the increase and the hospital cuts rates on these agreements. And, finally, state disproportionate share funds will expire next spring, said Wurts. The hospital currently receives about $300,000 a year in these funds.

Robinson told board members that Oldham County officials had indicted an interest in a clinic at Vega. The board asked the administrator to do a feasibility study on the matter and report back to the board.

Another discussion matter on the agenda was the high costs of legal counsel. Wurts, in an earlier assessment of hospital operations, noted that legal costs were high in comparison with other hospitals of this size.

The financial statement showed year-to-date legal expenses were about $45,000. Robinson reported that an Amarillo law firm was being paid a retainer fee of $3,500 a month, plus additional specified expenses. Several board members voiced an interest in checking out the contract and getting other bids on legal counsel. The board instructed Robinson to investigate the possibilities and report at the next meeting.

The board also adopted a revised indigent care and charity policy for the hospital. The main purpose of the changes were to bring the hospital district in compliance with state guidelines. Revisions included changing several definitions and adopting the Texas Department of Health poverty income guidelines.

Manchee and Robinson asked the board about the possibility of changing the board meeting location, as several citizens had mentioned that the hospital board room was too small to accommodate many visitors. The school district board room and the community center were mentioned as possible sites.

Pointing out that the director of the hospital's WorkSmart program had resigned, Robinson asked the board's direction on employing a new director and pursuing an aggressive program, or dropping the service. The board agreed that the program should be continued.

After discussion, however, the majority of the directors felt the meetings should remain at the hospital. It was pointed out that the board room was easily accessible to doctors and staff members who might be called out of a session. Robinson said he would check on holding the meetings in the hospital dining room, which might provide a little more space.

Manchee appointed Larry Watts to replace Turner on the Hereford Tax Abatement Board. The rural health clinic committee was reorganized with Manchee, Shackelford and Father Darryl Birkenfeld as members.

In the operations report, Robinson reported that patient admissions were down in July but the year-to-date total of 1,473 was 69 ahead of last year. The average daily census for July was 13.9 and the year-to-date figure was 14.5, compared to 14.4 a year ago.

Laboratory tests and respiratory therapy treatments showed the largest increase over last year, while surgeries, newborns and emergency room visits had decreased.

The financial report showed an operating loss of $29,738 for July and a loss of $228,979 for the year-to-date. At this time last year, the operating loss was $1,047,029. With non-operating revenue added to the statement, a gain of $8,549 was noted for the month and a gain of $1,131,112 for the year. Tax revenue accounts for about $1 million.

All six board members were present for the meeting, along with doctors, staff members and several guests.

Candidate wants DPS to oversee trucking

AUSTIN (AP) - The state Department of Public Safety should oversee safety regulations and insurance requirements for the trucking industry in light of congressional action that will deregulate trucking in Texas, according to GOP Railroad Commission candidate Carole Keeton Rylander.

The Texas Railroad Commission currently regulates in-state trucking. But Mrs. Rylander said because of a bill passed through Congress last week that will deregulate trucking in Texas effective Jan. 1, 1995, the DPS should now assume oversight of trucking.

"The Railroad Commission's transportation division should be abolished and trucking safety responsibilities should be turned over to DPS where they belong," said Mrs. Rylander, who is challenging Democratic Railroad Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers.

"If Mary Scott Nabers is serious about efficiency in state government, she will agree with me and take steps to eliminate the Railroad Commission's trucking division," Mrs. Rylander said Tuesday.

Mrs. Nabers said the agency's staff is studying the Railroad Commission's future role in the oversight of trucking safety and insurance requirements.

She accused Mrs. Rylander, a former three-term mayor of Austin, of making an uninformed decision about which agency should oversee trucking safety.

"She is saying anything to get some press attention," Mrs. Nabers said. "Her statement is very misleading. It makes it look like we can abolish the transportation division, and that's not the case. The Legislature would have to take that kind of action."

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock has asked state Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, to study the Railroad Commission in light of trucking deregulation and to determine any duties that "could possibly be carried out by other agencies."

AzTx buys feedyard

GARDEN CITY, KS.--The Bob Josserrand family, owners of AzTx Cattle Co. of Hereford, have joined with a group of cattlemen to purchase Gigot Feeders. Under the new ownership, the yard is to be named Garden City Feed Yard, LLC.

Larry Bilberry will remain as manager of the yard and no employee/staff changes are anticipated.

"We're favorably impressed by the Garden City area," said Josserrand. "The rolling grassland, the nearby availability of feed grains and the proximity of packers all added to our decision to invest in this area."

"My family and I have always had a desire to get back to our roots in Kansas. I know the work ethic is alive and well in this area and the people are some of the best you'll ever find," he added.

AzTx Cattle owns and operates feed yards in Hereford, Farwell, Rocky Ford, Col.; Queen Creek, AZ. AzTx also operates a cattle financing company. The addition of Garden City Feed Yard brings total feeding capacity in AzTx yards to approximately 200,000 head.

Bank crisis seems over, says official

AUSTIN (AP) - State Comptroller John Sharp says a crisis among financial institutions appears to be over as Texas banks and thrifts earned more than $3 billion last year. "So far this year, not one Texas financial institution has failed," Sharp said Tuesday. "That's a refreshing change from the 1980s, when Texas led the nation in collapsed banks and thrifts."

The collapse and rebuilding of Texas banks and thrifts from 1984 to 1993 is analyzed in the latest issue of Fiscal Notes, a monthly publication of the state comptroller's office.

In 1984, Texas had 267 savings and loans and 1,853 banks. During the economic boom of the early 1980s, risky loan practices, and in some cases: fraud replaced traditional policies.

The collapse started as oil prices fell, interest rates went up and real estate prices spiraled downward.

From 1984 to 1988, 207 Texas banks failed, which was more than had failed nationwide from 1943 to 1979. In addition, 67 S&Ls crashed.

"Until the crash, most Texans took their neighborhood banks and S&Ls for granted," Sharp said.

"We assumed that they would always be there and ready to serve us. But the lessons of the 1980s taught us that prosperity can be more image than reality. If the framework begins to crack, as the Texas economy did, many hidden flaws are exposed."

Granddaughter admitted to university

Following competitive exams, Allison Dyess has been admitted to the National Taiwan Normal University in Taipei, Taiwan, Republic of China, where she will pursue studies in Chinese language.

Dyess is the daughter of Bill and Glenda Dyess of Springfield, Va. and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Daisy Steele of Hereford.

Dyess has been in Taiwan since August 1992 when she began teaching English in private schools in Taipei. Currently, she provides private tutoring in English. Upon completion of her studies in Taiwan, she plans to return to the United States and enter into post-graduate studies in Asian affairs.

Dyess is a 1988 graduate of Brownfield High School and holds a bachelor of arts degree from Midwestern State University.

The Bahamas became independent in 1973.

Installation ceremonies conducted

It's picnic season

Pack a picnic and enjoy the great outdoors.

For a hearty picnic sandwich, team up sliced deli roast beef with homemade vegetable salsa; sandwich between two halves of an Italian bread shell.

The salsa stars colorful bell peppers seasoned with rosemary and balsamic vinegar; a delicious complement for the beef. Make sure the sandwiches are tightly wrapped and well chilled for transporting to your picnic site. Carry them in an insulated cooler, and keep them cold until serving time.

Beef Picnic Sandwich with Roasted Vegetable Salsa
Roasted Vegetable Salsa (recipe below)
16-ounce Italian bread shell (about 12 inches in diameter)
2 tablespoons reduced-calorie mayonnaise
1 to 2 small cloves garlic, crushed
12 ounces thinly sliced deli roast beef

DETROIT (AP) - If you open it, they will come. But that's no guarantee that any of the nearly 500 gawkers who toured basketball player John Salley's 62-room mansion will buy it.

The three-story Tudor-style mansion has 14 bedrooms, 11 baths, game rooms, a chapel, nine fireplaces and video surveillance security. The three-bedroom carriage house above the four-car garage can be rented. Taxes? More than $23,000 a year.

Salley put the house on the market when he was traded from the Detroit Pistons to the Miami Heat in 1992.

Heat oven to 450 degrees F. Prepare Roasted Vegetable Salsa; set aside.

Place bread shell on baking sheet; bake in a 450-degree F oven for 5 minutes or until outside edge of the shell is crisp.

In a small bowl, combine mayonnaise and garlic. Cut bread shell in half to make two half-circles. Arrange deli roast beef on top side of one bread half; top with cooled vegetable salsa. Spread mayonnaise mixture on bottom side of remaining bread half; close sandwich, top side of bread shell facing up. Cut sandwich into six wedges.

Roasted Vegetable Salsa
Vegetable cooking spray
1 medium red, yellow or green bell pepper, cut into thin strips
1 medium onion, cut lengthwise into thin wedges
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 tablespoon balsamic vinegar, or 1 tablespoon red-wine vinegar plus 1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon dried rosemary leaves, crushed
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Lightly spray a 15- by 10-inch jelly roll pan with cooking spray. Place vegetables in pan. Combine oil, vinegar, rosemary and pepper; drizzle over vegetables; tossing to coat. Roast in a 450-degree F oven for 15 to 17 minutes or until tender, stirring occasionally. Remove from oven; toss to combine. Cool before preparing sandwich. Makes 6 servings.

Nutrition facts per serving, with salsa: 363 cal., 26 g pro., 38 g carbo., 12 g fat, 4.0 mg iron, 484 mg sodium, 54 mg chol.

Extension News

BY BEVERLY HARDER

Experience fall and nature at its best this year at "Deep in the Heart of Texas." That's what folks 55 and over will be doing at the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood when several hundreds will enjoy the annual Octoberfest during October, according to Beverly Harder, Deaf Smith County Extension Agent.

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, four weeks are offered from which men and women alike may choose: Octoberfest I--Oct. 4-7-Octoberfest II, Oct. 11-14; Octoberfest III, Oct. 18-21; and Octoberfest IV, Oct. 25-28. Opportunities include "hands-on" learning centers where one can learn leather working, oil painting, woodworking, stained glass and other exciting projects. Educational programs on topics such as horticulture, photography, nutrition, finances and another current interests are a popular highlight.

Boat rides and fishing on Lake Brownwood add popularity to your stay. Lighted tennis courts, horse-shoes, billiards, volleyball, shuffleboard, dominoes and card and table games are all popular activities.

A special "Kick Your Heels Up" theme will provide a festive atmosphere to the event. Thursday's theme party will feature some exciting activities and entertainment.

Octoberfest 1994! Are you 55 or older? Then it's for you! Each week is limited to 165 participants at a nominal fee. Get away and learn to make the most of the best years of your life. Call the County Extension Office for more details, 364-3573.

Courier to take time off

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Appearing tired and bored and sounding a bit desperate, Jim Courier announced he is leaving tennis indefinitely.

"There is a problem inside, and I'm not really sure what it is," Courier, the former No. 1 player in the world, said Tuesday after losing to Alex Corretja of Spain 1-6, 6-4, 6-3 in the second round of the RCA Championships.

"And the only way to figure it out is to just take a step away and come back when I am ready because I am not doing myself any good, and I am not doing anybody else any good by putting in a performance like today," Courier said he is not sure if he will play in the U.S. Open, which starts Aug. 29. He hasn't won a tournament since last year's RCA Championships when he beat Boris Becker, and his ouster from this tournament will knock him out of the world's top 10 rankings.

In the first set Tuesday, Courier needed just 28 minutes to blister Corretja. But 42 unforced errors later, the fifth-seeded defending champion had been ousted from the tournament by the 20-year-old Corretja, the youngest player in the field.

"It was all my doing," the world's former No. 1 player said. "I missed a few shots, and I lost interest. I'm tired - physically, mentally and emotionally."

Over the top

Hereford quarterback Michael Brown (8), shown passing in Friday's intrasquad scrimmage, will lead the Herd into a scrimmage against Plainview at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Whiteface Stadium.

Baseball won't use replacement players

By RONALD BLUM
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - Unlike NFL owners did in 1987, baseball owners won't use replacement players.

"It's not something anybody has considered seriously at all. It's not about to happen," management negotiator Richard Ravitch said Tuesday during an interview with reporters. "Both the players and the owners found in football the public wasn't terribly interested."

Baseball's longest midseason stoppage since 1981 entered its sixth day today, wiping out 14 more games and raising the total canceled thus far to 74.

If there's no settlement by this Friday - and a quick deal doesn't appear likely - the strike would become baseball's second-longest in terms of canceled games. The 1981 strike wiped out 712 games.

Players and owners are prepared not to come back this season. The Toronto Blue Jays held their end-of-season organizational meetings Tuesday.

"In some ways, I guess it did feel like the end of the season, but we were just taking advantage of available time," assistant general manager Gord Ash said. "We all want to see a completion to the season, but those of us who went through this in '81 are aware there's different phases. This is, unfortunately, one of the hardest phases."

No new talks are scheduled, but Ravitch said the federal mediators probably would call a meeting for later in the week. The sides haven't met formally since last Friday, the first day of baseball's eighth work stoppage since 1972.

"It's not unc customary in a labor negotiation after a strike begins," Ravitch said.

Executive council chairman Bud Selig, speaking by telephone from his office in Milwaukee, agreed with Ravitch's view that replacement players wouldn't be a solution for baseball owners, saying his negotiator's view was correct.

Replacement players were used by NFL owners for three weeks during the pro football strike of 1987, causing the union to end the strike and fight its battle in court. But baseball teams play six times a week instead of once, making it more expensive to open stadiums if crowds and television ratings are small.

Union head Donald Fehr spent the day in Washington, lobbying congressmen on the latest attempt to pass a bill removing baseball's antitrust exemption.

Meanwhile, Seattle Mariners pitcher Jim Converse became the second player on strike to be sent to the minors, joining Chicago Cubs pitcher Steve Trachsel, who was sent down Monday.

Converse, optioned to Calgary of the Pacific Coast League, had been losing $595.63 per day during the strike but will be paid at the rate of $30,500 for the season.

Herd to scrimmage 'Dogs

Times have been set for the Hereford High School football players' scrimmages this week against Plainview.

The freshmen and sophomores will scrimmage at 5 p.m. Thursday in Plainview. They should be on a field next to the stadium, Hereford coach Danny Haney said.

On Friday, the juniors and seniors will scrimmage at Whiteface Stadium in Hereford, starting at 6:30.

Hereford will scrimmage Amarillo High next week, though times have not been set. Freshmen, sophomores and junior varsity will be at Amarillo High Aug. 25, and the varsity squads will meet in Hereford Aug. 26.

The Herd opens the season in two weeks, meeting Tascosa at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 1--that's a Thursday--at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo.

Texas favored to win next-to-last SWC title

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) - After 80 years of competition, the Southwest Conference is a lame duck with two more years to live.

There will be two more football championship seasons before Texas A&M, Baylor, Texas Tech, and Texas move to the Big 12 and Rice, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian take up residence in the Western Athletic Conference.

No one is certain where the Houston Cougars are going to find a new home.

There's even a blemish on the 1994 championship. Texas A&M is on probation for summer job violations and ineligible to defend the title the Aggies have won the last three years.

However, because of an SWC rule, games against the Aggies will count in the standings. Rice coach Ken Hatfield and SMU coach Tom Rossley have protested but commissioner Steve Hatchell said the games will count.

All Hatfield and Rossley did was make the Aggies and coach R.C. Slocum angry and that's not good considering they have won a record 22 consecutive SWC games.

The Texas Longhorns under John Mackovic inherit the pressure of the team most likely to make it to the Cotton Bowl.

Mackovic is in his third year and had the Longhorns in position to challenge the Aggies last year, losing 18-9 on Thanksgiving Day.

Texas was 5-5-1 but has a strong returning offense that includes dynamic receivers Mike Adams and Lovell Pinkney and a fast-improving quarterback in Shea Morenz.

The Longhorns have switched from the 4-3 to the 3-4 on defense and Gary Darnell is the new coordinator.

"We've got some athletes back there," Darnell said. "I'm a little concerned about our front seven because they don't have a lot of experience."

Mackovic said, "Our depth should be better and we are anxious to see how the 3-4 alignment will succeed. It fits our personnel well."

Mackovic said Texas welcomes the pressure of being the Cotton Bowl favorite.

"We learned a lot of lessons for the future last year and we hope they pay off," Mackovic said. "The schedule is favorable for us. We do have to go to Texas Tech and Baylor late in the season."

Of course, all roads to the championship have to go through the Aggies, who have two of the nation's top running backs in Rodney Thomas and Leeland McElroy, the nation's top kickoff returner last year.

A&M, which was 10-2 last year and gave Notre Dame a scare before falling 24-21 in the Cotton Bowl, has a strong offense and a green defense.

"We have to replace our offensive and defensive lines," Slocum said. "We moved some players around and we'll see how that pans out."

Slocum also will be breaking in six new coaches.

"We need to be more efficient throwing the ball and I think Corey Pullig will have an excellent season," Slocum said. "He is a junior this year and is maturing."

The Aggies have no backup quarterback with experience behind Pullig. And they lost all three of their defensive linemen to the NFL plus cornerback Aaron Glenn, a first round pick along with defensive end Sam Adams.

Behind the big two it should be competitive. Baylor, Texas Tech, SMU, TCU and Rice all are expected to have big Saturdays. Even talent-thin Houston could be troublesome as it makes the changeover from the run-and-shoot to a more standard offense.

Hatfield comes to Rice from Clemson and is familiar with the SWC, having coached at Arkansas.

"The carryover from two winning seasons the past two years could be a big plus," Hatfield said.

"Everything revolves around how effective quarterback John LaRocca can be. He had a great spring."

Baylor could be an excellent offensive team if sophomore Lamont Moore can produce at quarterback.

"This is an offense that goes as the quarterback goes," said Baylor coach Chuck Reedy. "On defense we've switched from the 3-4 to the 4-3 and I think it will be a good move."

SMU could be a potent offensive team behind sophomore quarterback Ramon Flanigan, who averaged 224 yards per game running and passing.

"We have a lot of experienced players at every position on offense," Rossley said. "The defensive line will be a key for us. We've got to be able to stop the run."

Texas Tech finished second in the SWC last year but returns only three lettermen on offense.

"We made great improvement in the spring on offense," said coach Spike Dykes. "We'll be depending on guys in the first game who have never played in college. They will have to adapt quickly."

TCU coach Pat Sullivan said, "I'm optimistic because we have a good quarterback in Max Knake and a solid tailback in Andre Davis. We are still a young team and I hope that doesn't hurt us."

Houston was 1-9-1 under Kim Helton last year and the Cougars added Ohio State to the schedule this season.

"Our biggest plus is that we have a chance to be better than we were last season," Helton said. "My main concern is at linebacker and the interior line. We lost all three starting linebackers and must replace the three interior starters on the offensive line."

Tech counting heavily on defense

By JEAN PAGEL
Associated Press Writer
LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - The experience level on the Texas Tech offense is about as flat as the South Plains horizon.

The job of starting quarterback has come down to a three-way scramble among redshirt players. Last year's standby scoring threats - split end Lloyd Hill, flanker Derrell Mitchell, I-back Byron "Bam" Morris - were drafted by NFL teams.

Returning players contributed just 171 yards to Tech's 5,227 yards of total offense last season.

"We've lost about 28 lettermen on offense," Red Raider coach Spike Dykes said. "All of the guys that had caught passes and all that had run the ball and all that threw the ball."

A preview on the '94 team comes across flip-flopped from one year ago, when most of the attention went to an offensive cast that ended up producing an average 475 yards and 37 points per game.

Now the Tech defense is the side loaded with veterans, high expectations and the burden of extracting victories from early opponents.

"This is supposed to be our rebuilding year, but I think that's kind of a crock," said junior linebacker Zach Thomas. "We've got the athletes, and we've got the defense. ... If we hold them to zero points, we can't lose."

The Red Raiders (6-6 overall, 5-2 in the Southwest Conference) were romping on a five-game winning streak before their 41-10 loss

Christmas Eve to Oklahoma in the Hancock Bowl.

Tech faces Oklahoma again - Sept. 17, in Norman. The season opens Sept. 3 at home against New Mexico.

Dykes expects to rotate redshirt sophomore Sone Cavazos and redshirt freshmen Tony Darden and Zebbie Lethridge in at quarterback.

"We don't have any probable starters. Three finished (spring practice) in a dead heat," Dykes said. "Give them all equal amount of starts, one of them will come to the front."

Whoever gets the quarterback job inherits a heavy legacy from Robert Hall, who set 16 school records. Morris, the I-back and Doak Walker Award winner, rushed for an SWC-record 1,752 yards.

Dykes seems cautious in his outlook for the offense.

"I think it's questionable. ... We've really got a lot of big shoes to fill."

"I hope it's not insurmountable, but it's close," said offensive coordinator Dick Winder. "I don't know if you can replace people like" Hall and Morris.

Senior tight end Scott Aylor and senior center Scott Fitzgerald have won mention as standouts.

Defensively, early credit has gone to a trio of junior linebackers: Thomas, Shawn Banks and Anthony Armour. Marcus Coleman, also a junior, made three interceptions last year en route to two stints as SWC Defensive Player of the Week.

Thomas described the defense as confident.

"We lost good athletes, but others are still on defense, and the offense will come around," predicted Thomas, who logged a team-leading 116 tackles last year.

Dykes said he expects the task of rebuilding will include shuffling some positions and taking a simple approach during his ninth season. The newcomers are good although they lack game experience, he said.

"We've got our work cut out, but that's how you get maturity and how you get better."

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Texas A&M coach R.C. Slocum considers it a compliment when other coaches use negative recruiting tactics.

Using that definition, the Aggies got plenty of compliments during the most recent recruiting season, their first since being placed on NCAA probation for five years in January.

That didn't stop the Aggies from having one of their best recruiting seasons ever, just as no one has been able to keep A&M from winning a record 22 straight Southwest Conference games and the last three league titles.

"After a while (recruits) felt like if the other schools were so concerned about Texas A&M, obviously something must be going on pretty good up there," Slocum said.

Slocum plans to use the same turn-a-negative-into-a-positive philosophy to deal with the other major changes facing the Aggies this season.

The biggest is that A&M can't claim a fourth straight title as part of their NCAA punishment for players having been paid for work they did not perform on summer jobs. The Aggies also are banned from television and a bowl game this season.

On the field, A&M has new offensive and defensive coordinators, five other new assistant coaches, six new offensive starters and eight new starters on defense. Three of the last players were first-round picks by the NFL.

The Aggies' obstacles are steep, but they provide exactly the inspiration they need, Slocum says.

"I think losing the players and coaches has created some excitement on the team," Slocum said. "There are more players who realize they have a chance to play. I know that I'm as motivated as I've ever been."

"They've decided that our games count in the standings and that's going to help. At the end of the season they can put an asterisk by our name, but we'll still know how many games we won compared to the other teams."

The Aggies have tried in recent years to diversify their offense to include more passing. Each year, they've had to fall back on their potent running game to survive.

This year, though, they've brought in Steve Ensminger from Georgia to become the new offensive coordinator in hopes of adding passing zip.

"We'd just like to throw better," Slocum said. "I want us to be more unpredictable on first down."

Quarterback Corey Pullig has had his passing woes, but Slocum expects dramatic improvement in his junior season.

"I thought Corey had a good spring," Slocum said. "You look at Corey two Cotton Bowls ago and last spring he was a lot better."

Although running back Greg Hill left school and became the No. 1 draft pick of the Kansas City Chiefs, the Aggies never seem short on running backs.

A&M may have one of the country's best backfield tandems in senior Rodney Thomas and sophomore Leeland McElroy.

They'll be running behind an offensive line that returns only one starter, Calvin Collins, and he's been moved from guard to center.

"With only one lineman returning, that's a bunch to lose," Slocum said. "That really concerns me. We're playing without experience and that's always a thrill. But we can't do anything about it."

Tommy Tuberville, who left the University of Miami to become the Aggies' defensive coordinator, won't inherit the same unit that ranked third in the nation in total defense last season by allowing only 247.6 yards per game.

He must replace eight starters, including all three defensive linemen, who were drafted into the NFL.

One of the biggest losses was cornerback Aaron Glenn, the New York Jets' top pick. He also was the nation's top punt returner.

Despite the loss of Glenn, the defense will be strong in the secondary as three other starters return. Linebacker Antonio Armstrong also will be a plus for the Aggie defense.

Agassi complains about music

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) - The rock star of tennis says if the music doesn't stop, he will.

Calling a new music tie-in "an embarrassment to the sport," Andre Agassi said Tuesday he won't enter any event where songs are blared on loudspeakers between games as they were at the Volvo International.

"To turn the tournament into a concert like that is an absolute joke," he said. "If any other tournament does this I would quit before I would go out there. If the game doesn't hold it's own, then it's over."

Cranking out tunes during changeovers is one of the new ideas the ATP Tour is premiering at the Volvo tournament as part of its effort to pump more excitement into the sport and get fans more involved.

Music is also played when players enter the stadium court.

Montana, Smith to receive more playing time

By The Associated Press
The opening of the NFL season must be close because it's Joe Montana time in Kansas City and Emmitt Smith time in Dallas.

Those high-profile players expect to get plenty of work along with other veterans in their teams' next preseason games. Opening day is Sept. 4.

Montana, the Chiefs' No. 1 quarterback, will start and play the first half Monday night in Kansas City's game against the Chicago Bears, coach Marty Schottenheimer said Tuesday.

Smith, the top running back for the Cowboys, will play a full half along with most of the other Dallas starters in Sunday's game with Denver, coach Barry Switzer said.

A muddy field in Monday night's 6-0 loss to Houston in Mexico City put a cramp in the Cowboys' game plan - in particular, their intentions to play Smith for the first time this preseason. But Switzer said when he saw how loose the turf would be, he asked Smith if he really wanted to chance playing in those conditions. "He looked me right in the eye," Switzer said, "and he said, 'No coach, I don't want to play on this stuff ... but I do want to be introduced.'"

Consequently, Switzer said the Cowboys' coaching staff will treat Sunday's game against Denver as if it was a regular-season contest for the first half. Switzer said all healthy starters will play the entire first half, including Smith, starting wide receivers Michael Irvin and Alvin Harper and quarterback Troy Aikman.

Pro Bowl center Mark Stepnoski is the only starter not expected to play. He is coming off surgery to repair a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee and practiced in pads for the first time last week. He has not yet been exposed to contact in practice.

After Montana plays the first half, the Chiefs expect to split the rest of the time between Matt Blundin and Steve Bono, who are competing for the No. 2 quarterback position.

The backup job - an important role considering Montana played in only 38 of 64 regular-season quarters last year - might not be determined until the week before the season opener in New Orleans.

"Right now it's neck and neck," Schottenheimer said of the competition between Blundin and Bono, Montana's former backup at San Francisco whom the Chiefs acquired in a trade this year.

"At this point Steve's had limited opportunities. Our plan was to give Matt the lion's share of the work. But we still have two games in which each will get about three quarters of work. But at least we know who our starter will be."

Bears

The Chicago offense, depleted by injuries, received a boost Tuesday upon hearing that fullback Merrill Hodge's injury is not as severe as first thought.

It was feared that Hodge's wrist was broken Monday after a collision with safety Kevin Minifiefield, but X-rays were negative. Hodge practiced Tuesday morning with no apparent difficulty.

Rams

Charles Mann, the 11-year defensive end who was released by Washington in the offseason, worked out for the Los Angeles Rams.

Mann also had a physical, including tests on his left knee, which has been operated on three times in the last two years. If the knee is sound, Mann could join the team later in the week if a contract can be worked out.

Despite a dearth of defensive backs, the Denver Broncos cut one veteran safety Tuesday and said they had no interest in signing another.

Michael Ball, a six-year pro who signed with the Broncos as a free agent last spring, was released.

Defensive end Steve Emtman, the top pick of the 1992 draft but out most of the past two years with separate knee injuries, passed a physical exam Tuesday and was cleared to begin practice with Indianapolis.

Cardinals

No. 2 quarterback Jim McMahon missed his third straight practice Tuesday with a left ankle sprain and may not play when the Cardinals visit Detroit on Friday.

Starting quarterback Steve Buecrlein, who missed the Cardinals' 16-0 loss to Chicago last week with a sore back, said he continues to take treatment and will play against the Lions.

Seahawks

Seattle lost backup wide receiver Reggie Barrett for the season. Barrett underwent surgery to repair ligament damage in his right knee. He was injured in Seattle's 29-6 exhibition victory over Tampa Bay, a game in which he caught passes of 52 and 15 yards.

Bengals

Daniel Stubbs, who had been with the Bengals since the 10th game of the 1991 season, was cut. The defensive end was San Francisco's second-round pick in the 1988 draft and spent two seasons with the 49ers before going to Dallas for 1990 and part of 1991.

Browns

Cleveland waived linebacker Richard Brown, who started 12 games in 1991 but missed part of '92 and all of '93 with a knee injury. Brown was acquired by Cleveland in 1991 as a Plan B free agent from San Diego.

Oilers avoiding serious injuries

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - The Houston Oilers have emerged from their 6-0 victory over Dallas without a major injury in what was their third consecutive preseason game.

The string appeared to be in jeopardy when defensive end Jeremy Nunley was carted off the field during Monday's second half with a heavily bandaged left knee.

However, X-rays were negative and he returned to watch the end of the game in street clothes.

Team officials said Nunley strained a ligament just above his left ankle. He was able to run and loosen up with the team in a short shakedown session Tuesday.

However, an inflamed shoulder nerve may keep all-Pro free safety Marcus Robertson on the sidelines for Saturday's game against Buffalo in the Alamodome, coach Jack Pardee said.

Robertson was held out of the Dallas game because of the shoulder and the treacherous muddy turf at Azteca Stadium in Mexico City.

To Your Good Health

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My regular doctor had me on daily Premarin. Recently, I had a small mass removed from my right breast. The surgeon told me to discontinue the Premarin. I stopped it right away. Now, my doctor wants me to resume the Premarin. I am perfectly willing to do what is best, but receiving two conflicting messages is very disconcerting. I will appreciate any advice you can give me. — P.S.

ANSWER: I wish I had your pathology report in front of me. Without that, I am in the dark about the nature of the breast mass removed. That's an important fact here.

Doctors usually discourage female patients with breast cancer history from taking estrogen, which is found in Premarin. The concern is that the hormone might activate any remaining cancer cells. However, a doctor might feel comfortable continuing hormone therapy for the woman if the cancerous lump is small.

All the above speculation might be moot in your case if the lump proved to be benign.

Ask the surgeon why he wanted to interdict estrogen in your case.

Your regular doctor would want to be informed if you do stop taking the estrogen. Sometimes, continuation of estrogen therapy depends on why it was prescribed in the first place.

There are times when a need for a medicine can outweigh the risks in taking it.

Perhaps you will need a third opinion, although the two physicians should be able to get their heads together on this.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I'm 44, and was told I have spastic colon. I went to the doctor for stomach pains. Also, I was having urges to go to the bathroom, but seemed constipated. My doctor gave me blue pills called Dicyclomine, but my stomach started hurting, so I stopped. I don't use it anymore. Can you tell me more about this? — Mrs. S.T.

ANSWER: In spastic colon, the bowel's normally orchestrated muscle contractions become chaotic. That leads to abdominal pain and constipation, alternating with diarrhea. Dicyclomine relieves the spasms. How are you using it? You should take it only during times of spasm trouble. When spasms subside you can stop use, keeping it on hand for later need.

FOR R.T.A.: Dicyclomine won't cause dependence. You don't become tolerant of it.

For more on bowel problems, see my colitis report. For a copy, write: Dr. Donohue — No. 6, Box 5539, Riverton, NJ 08077-5539. Enclose $3 and a self-addressed, stamped (52 cents) No. 10 envelope.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Recently, my daughter had a sore on her mouth diagnosed as herpes. Then, two weeks ago, blisters in the genital area were diagnosed as genital herpes. Is it possible for the same virus that caused the mouth outbreak to cause a genital outbreak? Her doctor asked if she had been with male strangers recently. She hadn't been. She has been a faithful wife. — M.G.

ANSWER: Indeed, it's possible to transfer herpes from mouth blisters to the genital area. You should not touch cold sores, and should wash your hands if you do.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 70-year-old woman. I am interested in ferritin and its blood levels. How can you bring a ferritin level down to normal? What makes it go up? Also, please explain for me why the numbers change for ferritin. My level is 1,055. — A.D.

ANSWER: Ferritin is the form in which iron is stored in the body until needed. Ferritin levels serve as a handy gauge of the body's iron status.

That is important, because the body can lapse so easily into iron trouble. Too much iron can damage organs, notably the liver and pancreas.

We know that many other problems reveal themselves as an elevated ferritin count. They include some forms of arthritis, certain blood diseases and cancers.

Your level — 1,055 — is truly high. It points to hemochromatosis, an illness in which the body absorbs too much iron for its own good, too much for safe storage.

The primary goal in treatment of hemochromatosis is getting rid of the excess before damage can occur. The usual hemochromatosis answer is quite simple: periodic withdrawal of the iron-rich blood.

Your doctor first needs to pinpoint the reason for the excess ferritin.

High normal ferritin levels are 400 for men and 200 for women. The figures stand for micrograms of ferritin per liter of blood.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am aware that vitamins A and D are not soluble and can, therefore, be toxic when taken in excess. I am most interested in vitamin D, which I have been taking with calcium for osteoporosis. What is the correct dose for D? — Mrs. B.M.C.

ANSWER: All vitamins are soluble one way or another. The problem with vitamins A and D is that they are soluble in body fat, and so can be stored in fat to a toxic level.

Vitamin D helps calcium absorption, which is why it may be given along with calcium supplements. But be careful. Too much vitamin D can lead to excess absorption and a calcium excess. Signs of that might be muscle weakness, headaches and an erratic heartbeat.

I should explain that other vitamins, such as B and C, are water-soluble. The body quickly rids itself of any B and C excess through excretion.

The usual daily recommended dietary allowance for D is 200 international units. Doses up to 400 IUs a day are safe.

For more details on vitamins and their actions, see my 35th report. Order by writing: Dr. Donohue — No. 35, Box 5539, Riverton, NJ 08077-5539. Enclose $3 and a self-addressed, stamped (52 cents) No. 10 envelope.

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) - Chevy Chase is mum on his driver's claim that the driver was busted scoring drugs for his boss.

Fred Moroz was arrested at the Canada-U.S. border south of Vancouver two weeks ago after allegedly picking up a package of painkillers obtained without a prescription.

Moroz claimed the drugs were for Chase, who is filming the movie "Man 2 Man" in Vancouver. Whatcom County authorities, who arrested Moroz at the airport in Bellingham, Wash., said they have no evidence Chase was involved and no plans to question him.

Chase had no comment, his publicist said Monday.

Chase was treated for painkiller addiction at the Betty Ford Center in 1986.

THANK YOU HEREFORD!

The Hereford Lions Club extends its thanks to the many Hereford residents who patronized our two booths and other civic club booths this past weekend in the Dameron Park Jubilee Junction.

The money raised by all Hereford civic clubs during these annual fund-raising activities is donated back into our community for noteworthy causes.

Thanks again for helping us HELP
HEREFORD!

CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion (30.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

| TIMES | RATE | MIN |
|-----------------|------|-------|
| 1 day per word | .15 | 3.00 |
| 2 days per word | .25 | 5.00 |
| 3 days per word | .37 | 7.40 |
| 4 days per word | .48 | 9.80 |
| 5 days per word | .50 | 11.80 |

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
 Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are 4.35 per column inch; 3.85 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGAL
 Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers an additional insertion will be published.

When Less Is More

Each year, every American uses about 190 pounds of plastic. Of that, about 60 pounds is packaging that gets thrown away after opening purchases. In fact, plastic used for packaging consumes some 33 percent of the limited space available in landfills. Reducing this waste starts in the store. Look for packages that offer more contents, and LESS waste. Buy potatoes, carrots and other vegetables loose, whenever you can. Besides cutting waste, you'll help send manufacturers the message that smart shoppers know less is more!

Shopping? Bring Along a Bag

American shoppers use billions of bags annually. But, if we all use just one less a month, we'll cut that use by hundreds of millions a year. That adds up to a BIG BONUS, because one 20-year old tree makes only 700 or so brown grocery bags. If your purchase is small, think twice about taking a bag. Or, bring a bag from home to use one more time before it's recycled. Washable canvas shopping bags are inexpensive and last for years.

Sign of the Times

Concerned manufacturers and retailers now label products and shelves to help consumers choose products that are GOOD for the environment. Look for symbols or copy advising which boxes and bags are made from "recycled" paper. Other packages may say "recyclable". These use new raw materials, but at least they are suitable for recycling. So-called "biodegradable" plastics never really break down to more than smaller plastic bits under the ideal conditions. Other bags and bottles may use plastics reclaimed through recycling, consuming no new petroleum products.
