Hospital Board Questions Medicaid Payment

BY BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

An unexpected reimbursement payment to Medicaid by the Deaf Smith General Hospital caused extensive questions from members of the board of directors of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District during a monthly meeting held at the hospital this morning.

The board members also discussed the search for a new doctor to replace two local doctors no longer practicing here, reviewed the results of the weekend emergency room staffing by doctors from out of town, and considered Hospital Administrator Ron Welty's June operating report. All board members were present except Mrs. Wanda Hoover and Isaias Gomez.

THE FIRST ACTION of the board was to approve Dr. Ronald James Janzen of Scott and White Hospital in Temple as part of the weekend crew of six doctors coming to Hereford to work the emergency room coverage. The doctors, three from Scott and White and three from Amarillo, have been contracted by the hospital for the past three weekends to work at a guaranteed $20 an hour to provide medical assistance to local from 4 p.m., Friday to 10 p.m. Sundays.

This program was instituted last month after the doctor shortage here reached the critical point and other doctors were already too busy with added cases to provide needed weekend care. Hap Cavness, board member, said the program has allowed local doctors time with their families and has been well received by them.

Welty reported that 72 patients were treated the first weekend and about 55 patients were treated the following two weekends each. A goal of about 75 patients a weekend is sought to fund the guaranteed payment.

The prime reason for the program is not to make money, but supply adequate medical care, Cavness explained.

L.J. STRAFUSS, board president, and other board members questioned an expense payment of $11,955 to the federal government Medicaid program.

Welty said it was the result of a field audit conducted by Medicaid on the financial books of the hospital. "It is an annual audit to check our records (in reference to Medicaid payments during the year)."

He described the expense as an overpayment by Medicaid for local services provided Medicaid patients. A change in bookkeeping procedures decided by the program's auditors caused the hospital to owe the money.

"I think a good lawyer could hassle them a bit on this," Cavness said. "It seems like we ought to have some recourse to present our case."

Welty explained that channels of appeal do exist and are being pursued. "The hospital has received as much as $35,000 in return based on the yearly audit," he said. "I disagreed with the decision and wrote my reasons why on the audit report."

The hospital administrator said that the payment forced the hospital to operate with a $12,481 deficit during June. "Otherwise, we would have had a balanced month."

HE SAID THE YEARLY budget hearing was scheduled for the August meeting on Aug. 17. Hospital staffers will start preparing the next budget at the end of July or the first of August.

"I know now that next year will be slower due to slower numbers of patients," Welty said. Figures indicate that the patient census may be as much as 20 patient days less resulting in a definite hindrance to the cash flow.

Also, Medicaid assistance may be reduced as much as $40,000 per quarter since the two doctors who used to practice here handled a majority of the older patients in Hereford. The other doctors have naturally been unable to absorb all these cases.

Board members present included Cavness, Straffuss, Frank Zinser and Tommy Carnahan.

Groundbreaking Set For Day Care Center

A formal groundbreaking will be held for the expansion of the Hereford Day Care Center at 11 a.m. Friday at the center, located at 215 Norton.

The center launched a drive earlier in the year to raise funds for the expansion of the center to accommodate a larger number of children and programs.

Board Sets Called Meeting This Evening

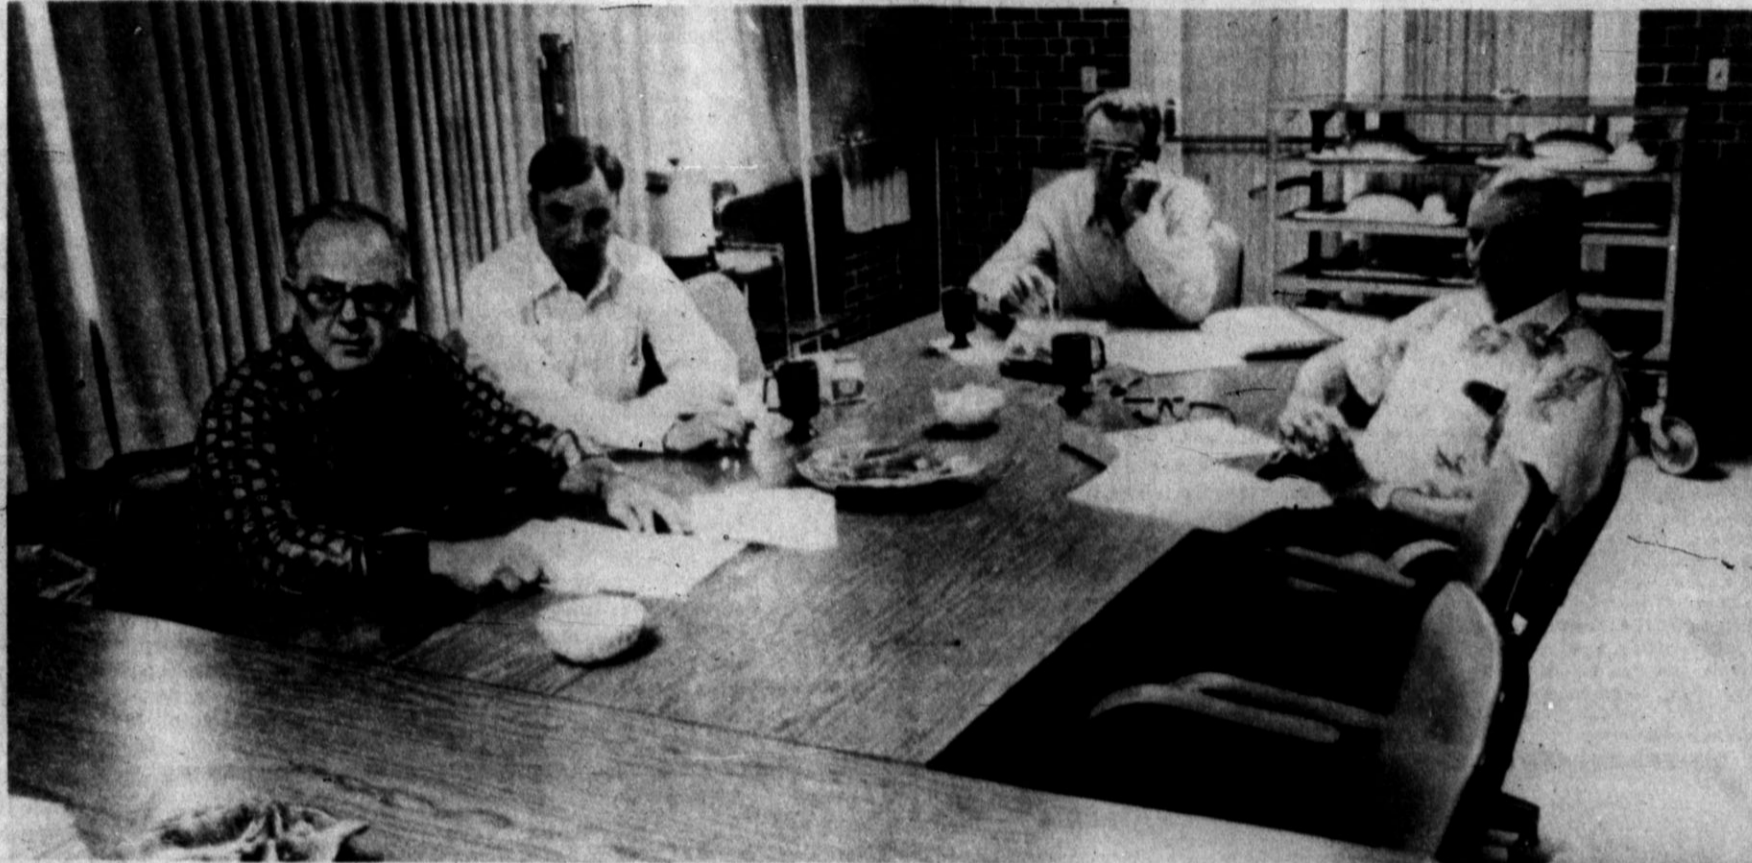

The Hereford School Board of Trustees will meet in called session at 5:30 p.m. today to discuss personnel matters and a street paving matter according to a representative of the school system.

The board trustees will gather at the administration building to consider the light agenda.

Although no announcements of a new superintendent are expected, the board is likely to meet in executive session to discuss applications for the job, vacated by Roy Hartman, who is moving to Grapevine Aug. 1 as superintendent.

Jim Conkright, board president, said the other trustees have been split into three committees to review a third of the applications each. They will be discussed jointly at a school board meeting.

No other business was listed on the agenda.

Kiwanis Krazy Koupon Sales Continue Today

Hereford's Noon Kiwanis Club reported "great response" Monday as members launched the sale of Krazy Koupon booklets.

Kiwanians will complete their door-to-door sales campaign this evening. The booklets, priced at $10, are also available at Western Auto, Abbie's Mister Shop, First Printing, Pioneer Fertilizer, and The Brogue.

The booklets contain 59 coupons which are redeemable for free or discounted items or services at Hereford firms. Ed Coplen, Kiwanis Club president, explained the fund-raising project is designed to benefit local consumers, as well as merchants.

Danny Boyer is chairman of the project, while Coplen and Bartley Dowell are captains of the door-to-door sales campaign. Proceeds will be used by Kiwanians for their worthwhile community projects.

Zoning Changes, Fund Request Head Commissioners Meeting

Hereford City Commissioners approved one of two proposed zoning change requests, tabled a request for funds from a senior citizen's group, let two contracts and approved a 5-year franchise to Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at a meeting Monday night.

The commissioners approved a request to change Lot 19, Block 7 Womble from a B residential to an E business zone.

THEY ALSO TURNED down a request by a local citizen to change Lot 10 and North 42 feet of Lot 11, Block 15 Evans Addition from a B residential to a D-1 zone, which would have allowed positioning of mobile homes on the area.

Several local citizens attended the commissioner's meeting to voice their disapproval of the request.

"We urge refusal of it as it will decrease the value of our property," a spokesman said.

The citizens present all owned property adjacent to or on the same block as the area in question.

Irene McKinster and Lucille Guinn appeared before the commissioners to request $5,000 for the completion of remodeling a part of the Central School building for a senior citizens center.

Mrs. McKinster requested the $5,000 which she said would be used to complete a ramp going into the building, to install lights at entrances, to buy a new front door, and to install hail screen on windows.

AFTER SOME FIFTEEN minutes of discussion in which Mrs. Guinn filled the commissioners in on just what her group needed done to the building in the near future, the commissioners asked the women to submit a detailed estimate for the work they needed done, and tabled the matter until those estimates would be available.

The commissioners let a contract to Water Industries for the drilling of a water well. The low bid by Water Industries was $34,961. Wall and Sons Drilling made the only other bid at $35,600.

A CONTRACT to Taylor Company was let by the commissioners for the construction of a water supply line. Taylor's bid was $39,953 for the project, with 20 days projected as time needed to complete it.

Other bidders were: H.B. Jordan, $41,958.75; Foran, $48,914; Novak, $43,080.50; TOK, Inc., $44,661.55; and Williamson, $40,938.75.

In the final piece of business the commissioners agreed to award a new five-year franchise to Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. SWB had asked for a 20-year franchise in their request before the commissioners. Mike Patrick, Bell manager here, represented the phone company.

Absent from the meeting was Commissioner Paul Abalos.

Alternatives Given

AUSTIN, (AP) - The chairman of a special House committee on school finance says he favors using a large part of the projected treasury surplus to increase the state's share of essential - or minimum foundation-school costs.

"I think we are going to recommend spending an additional, substantial chunk of state funds," said Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, chairman of the House Committee on Alternatives to Public School Financing.

Hereford Receives $14,168.68

Statewide Sales Tax Rebate Checks Total $13.4 Million

State Comptroller Bob Bullock mailed out checks totaling $13.4 million to 535 Texas towns last week as their July rebate of the one-cent city sales tax they collect.

The city of Hereford received a check in the amount of $14,168.68 for its rebate from the Comptroller's office.

Bullock also released a computer analysis of gross retail sales in each Texas County during the first quarter of this year that he said "shows the Texas retail economy is growing as fast as a Waller County Watermelon."

The analysis shows there was a total $23.8 billion in gross retail sales in Texas during the first quarter of 1976, the Comptroller said.

Deaf Smith County had 349 outlets reporting $92,650,877 in gross sales, with $21,328,310 gross taxable sales. In comparison Potter County reported $336,551,614 in gross sales with $194,280,809 taxable, and Randall County reported $71,478,335 gross sales with $22,519,166 taxable.

"The first quarter 1976 total is 13.8 per cent higher than the $24.9 billion in gross sales during the same period in 1975, and a whopping 28.2 per cent higher than the $22.1 billion in the first quarter of 1974," Bullock reported.

Bullock also said city sales tax rebates were running well ahead of 1975. The $158.8 million rebated so far in 1976 is nearly 13 per cent ahead of the $140.6 million rebated during the same period in 1975.

Hereford's rebate came from the period allocation of $15,180.43 from which $303.61 was deducted for the state service fee, and $708.14 was retained.

Adrian to the northwest was not presented with a rebate check due to its period allocation being too low to warrant a rebate. That town's allocation of $64.70 exactly covered the state service fee of $1.29 and the retained amount of $63.41.

Vega also did not receive a rebate due to low period allocation. A state service fee of $2.47 and a retained figure of $121.20 matched that city's allocation of $123.67.

Amarillo's rebate totaled $244,892.33 of its $262,379.39 allocation. Deducted were $5,247.59 and $12,239.47 for the state service fee and amount retained.

Canyon received a rebate check in the amount of $5,236.97 from a period allocation of $5,610.93 from which $122.22 was deducted for the service fee, and $261.74 was retained.

Dimmitt's rebate check totaled $16,159.80 out of the period allocation from which a state fee of $346.27 had been deducted, and $807.65 had been retained.

Comptroller Bullock added that the computer analysis also shows a total $30.6 billion in gross sales in Texas by out-of-state firms during the first quarter of 1976, up from $26.9 billion reported during the first quarter of 1975.

University School of Medicine. Clint Formby of Hereford, chairman of the Texas Tech Board of Regents, said that the 47 year old Dr. Mackey would assume his presidency on September 1.

He has been president of the University of South Florida in Tampa since 1971. Dr. Mackey received the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1949 and the Master of Arts degree in 1953 from the University of Alabama. In 1955 he completed the doctorate of philosophy at the University of Illinois. Three years later he was awarded the Bachelor of Laws degree from the University of Alabama and then did a year of graduate study at the Harvard Law School in 1958-'59.

The newly designated Texas Tech president has previously been vice president for administration and professor of law and later executive vice president of Florida State University. (1969-'71).

A frequent speaker, writer and consultant in the fields of economics, law and transportation, Dr. Mackey has taught at the Universities of Alabama, Maryland and Illinois. While on active duty with the U.S. Air Force in 1956-'57, he was one of four officers making up the original economics department at the Air Force Academy. His primary task was the planning and organization of the economics, curriculum for the newly founded institution.

His government service has also been distinguished, Chairman Formby pointed out. Dr. Mackey served as Assistant Secretary for Policy Development and Director of the Office of Transportation Policy of the U.S. Department of Commerce in 1965-'69. He was also Director of the Office of Policy Development of the Federal Aviation Agency from 1963-'65. In 1962-'63 he served as Assistant Counsel to the Subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly of the U.S. Senate.

In 1967 Dr. Mackey was presented the prestigious Arthur S. Flemming Award as one of the ten outstanding young men in the Federal Service.

Dr. Mackey has been active in community and civic service as a member of the National Boating Safety Advisory Council, of the Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce Board of Governors and several committees, of the board of directors of Commerce

Board of Governors and several committees, of the board of directors of United Fund of Tampa and of the Gulf Ridge Council of the Boy Scouts of America. During this past year he served as chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Transportation in Florida.

"We are honored to appoint Dr. Mackey to the presidency of this university," Formby said in making the announcement. "His record as an administrator, lawyer, philosopher and practical contributor to the welfare of mankind through better government is remarkable. His promise for Texas Tech University is boundless.

"It is interesting to note that Dr. Mackey has had recent experience in helping to establish a new medical school at the University of South Florida, just as we have been doing at Texas Tech."

Retiring President Grover E. Murray, who has led Texas Tech since 1966, commented, "I am personally delighted and gratified that Cecil Mackey has been selected as my successor. I have known and admired this brilliant young educator for many years. He will serve this university and the State of Texas well indeed."

Dr. Mackey, his wife Clare and three children, Carol, 19, John, 9, Ann, 8, will soon move to Lubbock.

Long Distance

The first known system for delivering water to cities was built by the Phoenicians. The Greeks copied the system of digging tunnels to bring water to their cities, and the Romans developed it with aqueducts 50 to 100 feet high that brought water to Rome from more than 80 miles away.

Paul Harvey News

Purple Heart For Pat Nixon

May I respectfully propose a Purple Heart decoration for Pat Nixon.

If any soldier was ever wounded in action, it was she.

We're told that strokes can result from prolonged stress, triggered by a trifle.

Three things happened on July 7, any one of which could have been that last straw.

She saw a front page article by a former White House flunky captioned: "I Don't Think Pat Nixon Drank Too Much."

That same day her husband decided to make a campaign speech for a congressional candidate in Yorba Linda. And with this symptom, however slight, that her husband just might want back into politics...

I can hear something inside her saying, "Oh, no! I can't take anymore."

Another experience of that day which had to be traumatic was watching on television the grand reception for Queen Elizabeth of England at our White House.

Watching—from such a distance—that reception, hosted by another First Family, brought into such sharp focus all that has happened.

Pat Nixon felt the stroke coming on Wednesday night.

Without telling her family, she went to bed. The next morning she could not get up.

I knew Mrs. Nixon only from a distance. It is my understanding that nobody outside her immediate family ever really got close to Pat Nixon.

She'd spent her adolescence nursing her mother until her mother died of cancer and nursing her father who suffered from silicosis and helping in the fields with the hard labor of their family vegetable farm.

She suffered the anguish of any war wife during those years and, though she did not prefer public life, she remained beside her husband through victories and defeats, an uncomplaining companion.

The public on the campaign trail and around the world saw Pat Nixon as tireless, outgoing, modest, chic, so cool as to be almost regal in her bearing, even under fire.

I've never quite understood the military mentality. It seems we reserve our decorations for those individuals who, with a single act of valor, capture an enemy machine gun nest or blow up an enemy bridge or drag a fallen comrade to safety.

Anyone who has survived a single act of heroism knows that such is often an act of impulse or indoctrination rather than of will.

One can win a Silver Star in one shining moment or a Purple Heart from a finger cut on a K-ration can.

Yet there is neither reward nor recognition for the endurables.

And for the women who have lived and suffered and died with them, neither medals nor monuments.

There is a deep-rooted antipathy for the Richard Nixons which goes all the way back to "another war," to the days when an alien "ism" had a foothold in our own country and Nixon vigilance exposed that invasion and humiliated its supporters.

They never forgave him. For two decades they lay in wait for a Watergate--and revenge.

In the light of what's been exposed on Capitol Hill since, any Nixon indiscretions appear innocently pallid by comparison. But the wounds suffered by the family were mortal wounds.

I would hope that for some recognition of her gallantry, above and beyond the call of duty, we might not wait until too late.

VEGETABLE GARDENING PAYS OFF...It has been thrilling and very interesting to talk with friends and neighbors about their vegetable gardens. Also it has been delightful to drive in town (also country) and see the nice vegetables growing in so many gardens. Many gardeners have interspersed vegetables with their cut flowers.

There are many adaptations that can be used to make the vegetable gardens pretty as well as flower beds with vegetable border plantings. Beets are really pretty when grown in front of crimson zinnias, either the giant or the small pom-poms.

The fourth of July evening service, which was held in Veterans Park, had many inspiring presentations, music, scriptures, spiritual message, and wonderful fellowship. All of this I enjoyed, but I found my eyes traveling over the landscape.

One of the beautiful sights was the exceptionally fine vegetable garden, of the Jeff Carliles. The corn was a rich verdant green, and the motion of the leaves fascinated me. If I am any judge of gardening, there will be an abundant supply of "garden sass" produced in this garden.

Yesterday morning I rested my eyes and forgot tooth problems at Dr. Caviness office, while I looked over his sweet-corn, peppers and other vegetables growing, where he had flowers last year. Peppers were ready for the salad bowl, or to be stuffed and baked. Really there is no food more delectable than delicious fresh vegetables.

A friend of mine told me about the garden that Gary had planted and how much they were enjoying the nice fresh vegetables. She has been busy making beet pickles. Her friends husband likes them so well it is hard to keep the jars sealed for winter use. Squash, beans, black-eyed peas and other vegetables are being used daily.

Mr. Ford gathered a large tomato, all red, bright and delicious, from his garden. Mrs. F. said it was large enough for one meal. I understand that tomatoes are not ripening very fast, am sure they will come into fruitage after the showers and cool days. Be sure and check tomatoes for worms, diseases and other insects.

If they are slow in bearing, remove some of the lower foliage, and check soil and moisture. If the soil has been diseased in other seasons, be sure and remember not to plant in same location. It really pays to rotate plantings.

Ralph McCullough, with the help of his daughter and wife, has a nice garden. He always has wonderful luck with gardening. In fact he told me that they had raised enough onions for both families, and that they would soon have cucumbers and beans. (Let me know about your vegetable garden).

In the Horticulture Magazine, I noticed that much emphasis has been placed on Victory Gardens. Uncle Sam urges gardeners to grow beans. They have been advised to plant LOTS of beans and of several varieties. Beans are good food, and can be used instead of meat, especially the dried beans.

The Agricultural Department in Washington, has advised and insisted that more beans be grown this year, because they are very valuable, perhaps the most valuable, of any of the garden vegetables. They further urged that enough be planted that they can be canned or frozen for winter use.

A QUESTION THAT IS OFTEN ASKED, IT SHOULD TOMATOES BE STAKED OR LEFT TO GROW NATURALLY?

The main reason for staking tomatoes is to get more tomatoes from less space. Staked tomatoes produce a uniform supply of fruit throughout the season.

There is an extra cost, for stakes, but really a larger crop is the result, and the tomatoes are easier harvested, and are less prone to have blossom end-rot, where tomatoes touch or rest on soil. A satisfactory stake and less expensive, is to use tripods by nailing 4 foot laths together. One authority I read after, suggested that all tomatoes should be mulched with straw, or dry lawn clippings, also chipped wood is good, and remember when the tomatoes are frost killed, the mulching can be turned into the soil, adding nutrients, and soil more humus. If signs of sunburn shows, it can be caused by the making lack of magnesium line in the soil. Slow ripening can be caused by overloaded nitrogen and being undernourished.

However our soil usually has enough lime. Tomatoes are a good product to can for winter use. Also mixture for vegetable soup using tomatoes as the base, is delicious food for winter evening meals.

JULY IS INDEED A BUSY MONTH: Garden chores are many gathering and preserving of food for winter. Keeping weeds down, and keeping watch for garden pests. Before one realizes the flower beds are choked with weeds and vegetable garden can also soon become choked with weeds, grasses and the gathering of pests.

The incentive that caused us to plant and cultivate our gardens, need a bit of reviving when vacations tempt us, swimming and fishing call loud and long.

During vacations, be sure that the gardens are left in good condition, and that they will be cared for in your absence.

During these days of high food prices, and warnings of shortages, it is good sense to take care of our investments and give them tender sufficient care. 10 or 15 minutes spent in the cool of the evening or morning will bring good dividends. Check mulches and replenish if needed.

Beans, radishes, beets, carrots and greens can be planted now, also zinnias (all varieties) and cornflowers can be planted. Late crops of these will be enjoyed. Chrysanthemums should be checked, stake the large plants for exhibition types, pinch back the garden varieties, and prepare soil well because in August feeding for good bloom begins.

German Visitor Plans Return Trip

BY SANDY PANKEY
Brand Staff Writer

AFTER a lengthy 18 years of separation, Mrs. George Brashear of 143 Juniper and her brother, Josef Funk of Perl, Germany were reunited.

Mrs. Brashear, along with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eulis Stapp, met Funk July 8 at Oklahoma City, Okla. The family then came to Hereford where Funk has been local points of interest.

He explained that he was astonished at how clean and efficient the Arrowhead Mills plant was and he was equally impressed by the local potato sheds' operations.

Although Funk is scheduled to return to Germany August 4 to be with his wife and son, he expressed that he hopes to return soon to the friendly town of Hereford.

During his visit, Bill Albright, executive vice president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, presented Funk with a Diamond Jubilee coin and Mrs. Brashear gave him Bicentennial coins.

FUNK commented that he plans to display his mementoes from the United States in a distinguished place in his home.

The distinguished German visitor is a retired restaurant owner and has also had an import-export business. He understands some English and acquired his Spanish vocabulary while he resided in Barcelona, Spain.

While reminiscing of their days in Germany, Mrs. Brashear explained how she came to America. Born in Butebach, Germany, she married George Brashear Feb. 17, 1948 at Frankfurt while he was stationed in the country.

The couple then moved to Hereford the following month.

They have three children including a daughter, Carol West, who is currently residing with her family in Japan; and three sons, Erceel of Austin and Tommy and Steven, both of Hereford. They also have three granddaughters.

Joyous Reunion

Josef Funk of Perl, Germany, second from left, has been a guest in the home of his sister, Mrs. George Brashear, at left, for several weeks. Funk, who will be returning to his home August 4, commented that he was amazed at the friendliness of Hereford residents. Also, pictured are Funk's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eulis Stapp of Oklahoma.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK

A group of us indulged ourselves recently in a walk down memory lane in the year 1940 b.c. Before Crime).

"Remember when we were kids and slept on our front porch in the summer and your only worry was catching cold?"

"Remember when the only time Daddy locked his car was when his keys were in it?"

"Remember when a sign in the window was for the bread man not an emergency help station?"

"Remember when you could go into a public restroom and hang your purse on the hook inside the door?"

"Remember when your biggest problem was keeping kids from walking on the grass ... not smoking it?"

We were all on a pretty good nostalgia trip when my mother came into the room. "I'll bet Mom remembers those good old days."

"What days are those?"

"The days when pens in banks weren't chained to the desk."

"Why should they be? They never worked anyway."

"The days when we went on vacation and never locked our house."

"There wasn't anything in there worth stealing."

"When there wasn't heavy breathing on the phone at night."

"That's because you never knew your asthmatic grandfather."

"When police didn't have to walk their beat in twos."

"So nuns have been doing it for years."

"Oh c'mon, Mom, you know what we mean. I can remember leaving my tricycle out on the street at nights. You couldn't do that nowadays. By the way, what happened to that tricycle?"

"Someone ripped it off," she said.

"Are you saying someone stole it?" We looked at her like she had just reported that the Yellow Brick Road was linoleum.

"Yep. Same week someone pinched my girdle off the back clothesline and a box of canning jars from the garage."

You never told me that before."

"When we told you Alan Ladd was short, you cried for 15 days. We didn't think you could handle it."

Ann Landers Domestics Misunderstood

DEAR ANN: I read with great interest and mounting blood pressure the letter from the person who employs a "dumbbell" to do her ironing, although she did say that she was a nice person. Wasn't that sweet of her?

I have worked as a domestic in a household for several years, and if asked what qualifications you need to be able to do this type of work, I would say -- a degree in practically everything from psychology to nursing. Also you should have your own teeth, because you will be grinding them a lot.

You will be working for women and men who don't have one ounce of common sense, but are authorities on absolutely everything. They consider them selves BPs (Beautiful People). But the abbreviation really stands for Bitchy Phonies because that's what most of them are. P.S. If you think this letter is rough, you should see the ones I tore up. -- Another Dumbbell

DEAR FRIEND: Willie Washington is a wonderful woman who has done housework for me for 20 years. I read her letter and asked for a comment. Willie said, "That woman is not going to like anybody she works for because she is mad at the whole world, including herself."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please reassure "Newcomer From the Old Country" that not all American are so crude and inquisitive about funerals as her friends and relatives. Questions asked: "Was it big?" "Did anyone faint?"

My husband and I agreed six years ago that our funerals would be simple, and even a little joyous.

When he died unexpectedly three months ago, I kept my word. I asked the funeral director to bury my darling in the red golf suit he loved so much. Friends and relatives on both sides thought it was just lovely. These days, when the funeral industry is under attack, my advice is to find a funeral director who will let you do exactly as you please. -- A Recent Widow

DEAR WIDOW: I second the motion. And may I add, most funeral directors are extremely cooperative. If you encounter one who is not, go elsewhere.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am an 18-year-old girl who knows from reading your column that you believe nothing is so destructive to a woman's skin as the sun. But I have a very white complexion and am embarrassed when I'm around girls who have gorgeous tans.

I've tried getting a little color by sunning just a little. It doesn't work. I get splotchy and look like a freak.

Is there anything I can do to get a tan so I won't feel ashamed and look so sickly? -- Snow White

DEAR SNOW: Use sun-tan makeup. Skillfully applied, it looks like the real thing. When summer is over take some makeup lessons and learn how to enhance your fair complexion -- which many women would give their eye teeth for.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: as a person who must diet for the rest of my life, I'd like to comment on the hostess who was mad because most of her guests ate very little and passed up her dessert.

Dieters should explain the situation to the hostess and ask her to keep their problem in mind when she cooks. Or they should bring their own food. I do the latter and no one is ever offended. Pass it along, will you, Ann? -- former Fatty

DEAR F.F.: Suggestion number two is O.K. if you tell the hostess in advance. But to expect her to prepare a separate meal is, in my opinion, inconsiderate.

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage -- What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The National Geographic Society says, "... in 1871 dandelions were exhibited by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, and in a few years French and American horticulturists were selling choice varieties."

The dandelion's scientific name is Taraxacum officinale.

Former City Marshal Draws Two-Year Term

SAN ANGELO (AP) - Former Castroville City Marshal Frank Hayes was sentenced Monday by District Court Judge Earl Smith to at least two years in prison but not more than 10 in connection with the shooting death of Richard Morales.

Hayes' lawyer, Marvin Miller, said he would not appeal the conviction of aggravated assault in the shotgun slaying of Morales, who was a prisoner in Hayes' custody at the time of the shooting.

Miller asked for probation but was denied.

The San Antonio lawyer told a reporter after the sentencing that the outcome of the trial could have been worse.

"I have no quarrel with this jury verdict," Miller said. "I have quarreled with the jury verdicts in the past but this case was tried well and I won't file an appeal."

Smith said, "I think the conduct of the court was outstanding."

"The jury consisted of ordinary business people and housewives," said Smith who added that there was no indication that the race might have been a contributing factor in the verdicts.

"They were an attentive jury and the jury did recognize the seriousness of the defense," Smith said.

"It was a well-tryed case on both sides," Smith said.

both sides," Smith said.

The jury-10 women and two men-heard testimony that Morales was killed with a single blast from a shotgun held by Hayes. Hayes said the gun discharged accidentally while he was in an open field with Morales, who had been arrested earlier the night of Sept. 14, 1975.

NM Woman Learns Chivalry Remains Alive

AMARILLO - Chivalry is still alive in Texas, an Albuquerque, New Mexico, woman learned recently.

Miss Lillian Harvey, her sister and a friend were traveling early in July in a station wagon on Interstate Highway 40 west of Adrian when one tire went flat.

Along came Jerry Blasingame, a maintenance technician for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation who lived in Vega.

The station wagon was pulled off the road and stopped. "In despair we removed luggage to reach the spare tire," stated Miss Harvey in a thank you letter to James Miller, maintenance supervisor for Oldham County and Blasingame's boss.

"Just at that moment Mr. Jerry Blasingame offered his services, took out the spare tire and jacked up the rear wheel with ease—all this in good Texas broiling sun!"

Only three days before the tires had been rotated during a periodic check up in Albuquerque, Miss Harvey said in her letter.

"You may be interested to know that we offered Mr. Blasingame fruit, cake and payment. He refused our offers," according to the Albuquerque woman.

"Incidentally, had noticed the condition of the slowly flattening tire as we had passed him. As we stopped, he passed us. Because of heavy traffic he had to drive far beyond us, then eventually turned back to help us. This seemed far beyond one's 'call of duty'. We had heard vaguely about the services of the Texas Highway Department. Its reality, July 1st, we shall never forget."

West Texas Supports Southwest Air Routes

AUSTIN (AP) - Southwest Airlines gained support from South and West Texas Monday to offset a protest by the Austin Chamber of Commerce that granting Southwest's application to expand its service could wipe out the state capital's interstate service.

Lubbock, Midland and Odessa and the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce supported Southwest's application to add five more Texas cities to its routes.

A spokesman for each, however, said they had the same reservations as the Austin chamber that allowing Southwest to fly into their cities might result in a reduction of service by interstate carriers. Mike Wilson of the Corpus Christi chamber said, in response to questions of whether he thought the entry of Southwest into the air market would reduce flights by other airlines:

"If you're asking me if I think we're cutting our throats, I don't believe we are."

He said he expected some sort of "tradeoff," but he did not think there would be a "drastic decline" in other flights.

Revamping Of Lo-Vaca Proposed By Coastal

HOUSTON (AP) - Coastal States Gas Corp. has proposed to restructure its troubled subsidiary, Lo-Vaca Gathering Co., into a totally independent company and to carry out a gas search program costing as much as $230 million during a 15-year period.

The plan, aimed at settling more than $1.4 billion in lawsuits involving Lo-Vaca, also called for Oscar S. Wyatt Jr., Coastal States chairman, to dispose of the new company stock to which he would be entitled.

The company announcement Monday said the proposal is conditioned on satisfactory rates being established by the Texas Railroad Commission so Lo-Vaca and Rio Grande Valley Gas Co. could continue to sell gas at a price that assured their continuing viability.

Don Newquist, a Lo-Vaca vice president, said a satisfactory rate would be equal to or more than is now paid by customers. The Railroad Commission has scheduled a July 22 public hearing on the proposal. Harry L. Blomquist Jr., Coastal States president, said some significant problems still must be resolved and many other customers to be included before a final agreement is reached.

Blomquist said if the plan is approved in principal it will be followed by further negotiations in an effort to reach definitive final agreements. These would be submitted to all parties, including certain Coastal States security holders, for a final yes or no.

The restructuring plan calls for Coastal States to assume existing debts of about $108 million and to insure unsecured promissory notes of an estimated $120 million during the next 15 years.

The new company would issue $1.15 billion in preferred stock to be placed in trust for the benefit of Lo-Vaca customers. This stock would have a dividend rate of 8 1/2 per cent and initially, have 20 per cent of the voting rights in the new company.

Ultimately, the preferred stock would be sold or redeemed and the proceeds, together with the dividends paid on the stock, distributed to Lo-Vaca customers.

All of the common stock of the new company would be spun off to Coastal States shareholders.

Wyatt, a major stockholder of Coastal States, has agreed to place his interest in the new company either in a trust to be given to charities, primarily in Lo-Vaca's area of operation, or distribute it to Coastal States shareholders.

Peruvian Wheat Trade Mission Visits Texas

A five-man flour milling-government import authority - food ministry team of officials from Peru is in Texas this week studying types, qualities and use of wheat produced here for export, according to Dwight Hamilton, Chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board, hosts for the group in Texas which is sponsored in the United States by Great Plains Wheat, Inc.

Hamilton said that the mission is a part of the Board's continuing successful efforts to expand markets for Texas wheat which has more than doubled in acreage harvested during the past five years with all of the increase going into newly developed export market channels. He pointed out that this week's USDA announcement of a Texas wheat crop this year of 94 million bushels -- up from 70 million predicted in early June -- and a national crop predicted at over 2 billion bushels puts added emphasis on the producers need to push for even bigger export markets if this year's crop and carryover stocks are to be used and the current trend of surplus building reversed and full production maintained on current acreage.

Members of the Peruvian trade team are:

Sr. Alvaro De La Fuente, Marketing Manager, EPCHAP (Peruvian Importing Agency)

Sr. Ernesto Velarde, General Manager, EPSA (Ministry of Foods)

Sr. Hector Pimentel, Institute of Agri-Industrial Research

Sr. Francisco Delgado, Assistant to the General Manager, Nicolini Bros. Flour Mills

Sr. Julio Castilla, Agricultural Economist, U.S. Embassy in Lima, serving as team manager and interpreter.

Hamilton said that the Board's Executive Vice President, Bill Nelson, will meet the visitors in Houston where technical and trade seminars have been developed and export facilities there studied before traveling with them to Amarillo where a two-day schedule has been arranged. Nelson said that in Houston the group will meet with representatives of each of the export grain elevators -- Houston Public, Cargill, Union Equity, and Good pasture -- as well as with grain inspectors of the Houston Merchants Exchange and officials of the Port of Houston and officers of the Rainbow Bakery and the Texas Department of Agriculture Marketing Division.

The Amarillo area itinerary will include conferences with wheat production, marketing and grading leaders of the Texas Wheat Producers Board, Producers Grain Corporation and the Amarillo Grain Exchange. Winston Wilson, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association said that the organization will host the foreign visitors to a Chuck Wagon Barbeque in Palo Duro Canyon State Park prior to their attending the production of "TEXAS" in the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation's Amphitheater.

The Texas Wheat Producers Board supports export market development activities such as this through a half cent a bushel self assessment at local elevators. After leaving Texas, the Peruvians will travel for additional wheat studies in Kansas, North Dakota and Washington, D.C. before returning to their home country August 2.

Steelman Wants Bentsen Answer

AUSTIN (AP) - Rep. Alan Steelman, R-Tex., called on Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., Monday to explain why out-of-state motion picture producers and book publishers are contributing to Bentsen's campaign.

"His vote to remove the individual tax credit while writing in amendments to provide special treatment for the California-based motion picture industry and other special interests, including book publishers, is clear evidence of his true allegiance," Steelman told a news conference.

Steelman is challenging Bentsen's re-election bid in the November election. The tax revision bill is pending in the U.S. Senate after being approved by committee.

Steelman said, "More than 50 special interest provisions or loopholes were inserted into a major tax bill on the final day prior to passage in committee without serious discussion, detailed explanation or comment from the Department of Treasury. While tax credits for the average taxpayer were being taken away, Bentsen and his cronies were filling the bill with special-interest measures, including at least three provisions by Bentsen himself."

Steelman said he particularly believed Bentsen should explain 14 contributions made to Bentsen, totaling $8,700, from motion picture producers.

"There is no way of telling what prompted these," he said, "but I think it is interesting that all were made just prior to or just following the Bentsen amendment that would benefit the motion picture industry."

Figures distributed by Steelman showed the contributions were made in April and May of this year, except for a $200 donation March 19 from Jack Picture Association of America.

Search Urgent Archeologist Warns

AUSTIN (AP) - Increased oil drilling activity off the Texas coast make the search for sunken Spanish vessels even more urgent than in the past, State Archeologist Curtis Tunnell said today.

Tunnell said he has held several meetings in the past two or three months with large oil companies.

He was told, he said, that the drillers have big plans for the Texas tidelands, where numerous Spanish wrecks as well as other sunken vessels of historical importance lie buried.

There are 38 historical shipwrecks in Matagorda Bay alone, he said.

"We want to work into these high probability areas as quickly as possible," Fannell said.

Tunnell made his remarks during a hearing before legislative budget examiners and members of Gov. Dolph Briscoe's staff concerning appropriations for the Texas Historical Commission.

He said the commission must determine whether oil pipelines or drilling activity will affect each known shipwreck site.

The commission's budget request for the two years beginning Sept. 1, 1977 includes funds to continue the search for sunken ships, $250,000 for grants to help local historic preservation efforts and funds to administer about $830,000 a year in federal grants under the National Historic Preservation Act.

Director Truett Latimer's statement to the budget examiners said the agency does not request its usual appropriation to maintain, repair and replace historical markers.

The commission, he said, "will make a concentrated effort" to persuade county governments to assume those expenses.

Total budget request for the agency, including federal funds is $1,957,657 the first year and $1,999,228 the second year.

Latimer said the $250,000 in state grants for local historic preservation would assist 100 to 125 projects a year. He reminded the examiners that Briscoe had requested the funds from each of the past two legislatures without success.

Comaneci's Perfection Overshadowing Olympics

By BOB GREEN
AP Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) - The very imperfect Olympics - with all its troubles and strife, fears and police forces, threats and boycotts - suddenly has been graced by perfection.

It's a tiny package, this little bit of perfection, standing only 4-feet-11 and weighing in at 88 pounds of pure grace and rhythm, topped by a pony-tail and occasionally spiced by a saucy gesture.

It's magnificent little Nadia Comaneci, a 14-year-old Romanian who has captured the imagination of the world, one billion to whose people have watched on television her performances that are truly unbelievable.

She opened the Games with a perfect score of 10 - the first ever achieved in the Olympics - on the uneven parallel bars Sunday. And she followed that with a mind-boggling, second perfect score on the hazardous balance beam yesterday.

And still she wasn't done. There was more to come - more of that which is supposed to be unattainable by mortals.

She recorded still another perfect score last night in optional performances on the uneven parallel bars.

"I was very glad," she said. "But it wasn't the first time. I've done it 19 times."

But no one had ever done it in the Olympics.

Her spectacular performances brought to their feet a widely-cheering crowd of 18,000, some of them almost tearful in their adoration of this flying, twisting little girl who usually wears a poker face devoid of expression.

But she can, and does on perfect occasions, flash that appealing, beguiling smile of youth.

Her fantastic displays overshadowed another 1-2-3 sweep by the American men's swimming team, this in the 200-meter freestyle.

She was more impressive than the powerful East Germans who have won every event on the women's swimming program so far.

She made secondary cheating incident that resulted in the disqualifications of a Russian star in the Modern Pentathlon.

World records fell in profusion. But what are world records when perfection is offered?

The Russians won the team gold in the women's gymnastics, but it was almost overlooked in the outpouring of praise and affection for Nadia, who is now the overwhelming favorite to take the individual all-around title Wednesday night.

Long John Naber was the star of the American swim team that collected two more gold medals and helped push the United States' accumulation for the Games to three gold, four silver and two bronze. East Germany leads with four gold, three silver, three bronze. Russia has three gold and one bronze.

The 6-foot-6 Naber, a senior at Southern California, won the 100 backstroke in the world record time of 55.49, then just missed in his bid for a double-gold evening. He was out-touched by Bruce Furniss, Santa Ana, Calif., an hour later in the men's 200 freestyle.

Viridon Optimistic After Houston Win

MONTREAL (AP) - Houston Manager Bill Viridon figures his Astros have all the ingredients to be winners, which is what they were once again Monday night against the Montreal Expos.

"We're getting good pitching, our clutch hitting is better and our defense has improved a lot since the start of the season," Viridon said after the Astros defeated the Expos 3-1.

"You need all of those things in order to be a winning club," said Viridon. "Without it, you don't stand a chance of going very far. Mind you, we've still got a long way to go. We don't know exactly how good our hitting and pitching is yet because we've still got a lot of good ball clubs left to play. But, we're a helluva lot better than we were."

The Astros pushed across two runs in the top of the seventh inning to break a 1-1 tie and move two games above the .500 mark in the NL's West Division.

J.R. Richard, the 6-foot-8, hard-throwing Houston right-hander pitched a five-hitter for the victory to even his record at 10-10. He walked five and struck out seven. The Montreal run was unearned.

"The five walks Richard gave up were actually low for him," Viridon said with a grin. "Hell, he pitched a 10-walk shutout a couple of weeks ago. Five is very good for him."

"I'm not satisfied at all with the number of walks I gave up," Richard said. "I've been walking to many batters lately. I'm trying to work on my consistency and as soon as I become consistent, I'll be a 20-game winner."

Richard was the goat on the Montreal run when he wild pitched Larry Parrish home from third.

Naber Contrast To Mark Spitz

MONTREAL (AP) - America's newest swimming hero stands as a 6-foot-6 tower of enthusiasm and a winning symbol of what could be the best Olympic men's team in history.

He's John Naber and after two nights of competition, he set a world record twice and won a gold and silver medal in two diametrically opposite events - the 100-meter backstroke and 200 freestyle.

Swimming fans tend already to compare the University of Southern California senior to Mark Spitz, who won seven gold medals in 1972.

Naber, who wears a red, white and blue knit cap as he marches to the starting blocks, does have a chance of adding three more gold medals to his collection, but his personality is just about the opposite of Spitz.

"Mark didn't have the dominating personality of John, who's a very outgoing man," says Olympic Coach Doc Counsilman of Indiana. "He comes into the dining hall, takes off his cap and waves it at just about everyone.

"It's not just at the pool that he waves. He's an extrovert while Mark was in introvert. The kids jokingly call him a showboat and he kids himself about it too.

"But he can't change. He's just a big, happy extrovert."

Naber, a blond who wears a mustache, won the finals of the 100 backstroke in 55.49 seconds to better the mark of 56.19 he'd set in the semifinals on Sunday.

Minutes later he came back to post a 1:50.50 in the 200 freestyle, losing to college roommate Bruce Furniss, who smashed the world record with 1:50.29.

"Bruce calls me fruitcake. I can't be anything but myself. I just like to get the audience involved with me," says Naber. From Menlo Park, Calif., Naber says he's been training three years for the Olympics and swimming several races at close intervals is nothing new to him.

Harrah Disappointed Despite Three Hits

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) - Toby Harrah says he still doesn't feel right at the plate, but his three hits Monday night - including a game winner - served notice that the groove is somewhere close by for the Texas Rangers' shortstop.

"I got three hits but I'm still not swinging the bat right," said Harrah, the American League's 411-star shortstop, after Texas beat the Boston Red Sox 4-3 on his run-scoring single in the 11th inning.

The loss ruined the debut of Don Zimmer as interim manager of the Red Sox. He replaces Darrell Johnson.

Harrah has been almost totally unproductive since then. His RBI total is still under 50 and his average has fallen into the .270s.

But after a one-day rest, Harrah was back in the lineup Monday night. His first two hits caused no damage, but his two-out single to left field in the bottom of the 11th scored Gene Clines from second base to end the game.

The hit was the first off Red Sox reliever Jim Willoughby, 2-6, who entered the game in the ninth. But the Rangers, who left 15 runners on base, had squandered several chances as Willoughby walked six batters.

Despite Harrah's late heroics that gave Mike Bacsik, 1-1, the victory with one inning of relief, the talk of the Texas clubhouse after the game was starter Tommy Boggs, who made his major league debut.

Boggs, 20, Texas' No. 6 draft choice in 1974 from Austin, Tex., shut out Boston on five hits for the first five innings before giving up homers in the sixth and seventh frames, respectively, to Cecil Cooper and Dwight Evans, tying the score 3-3.

"I got tired," said Boggs. "Normally I pitch a five-day rotation and this was just the fourth day. The humidity here was a lot higher than it is in California and it was sapping my strength."

Texas called up boggs Sunday from its farm team in Sacramento.

"I can see why he is considered our top prospect in the minors," Texas Manager Frank Lucchesi. "I liked the way he challenged the hitters. He's got a good fast ball and lot of poise. He should be more capable of pitching up here than some other 20-year-olds."

Armour Foods Wins District Tourney

Armour Foods turned back Toters 6-5 in the second of two finals games Saturday night to win the championship of the District Softball Tournament held at Hereford's Veteran's Park last weekend.

Toters had forced Armour into a second game by grabbing an 8-3 decision earlier. Toters made their way into the finals by whipping Big Nick of Bovina 17-8, a team they had lost to Friday night.

Big Nick finished third in the tourney after making it to the finals of the winner's bracket, where they lost to Armour. Caviness Packing wound up fourth, with both their losses coming at the hands of Toters.

On Sunday, both Armour Foods and Toters traveled to Lubbock to play in a Regional Tournament at McKenzie Park. After nipping Hodges of Plainview 23-22 in their opener, Armour was eliminated after dropping games to the Lubbock Raiders and the Stars of Lubbock.

Toters claimed an 18-13 win over Tru Value of Plainview in their opener, but lost to Hereford Bi-Products 26-11, and to Hodges of Plainview 7-6 to be eliminated.

Netters Win In Amarillo

Steve Hoover of Hereford was a double winner at the T-Bar-M Tennis Tournament in Amarillo over the weekend, capturing the Boys 18 singles title and teaming with Clayton Faubion, also of Hereford, to win the Boys 18 doubles crown.

Hoover beat Jim Cannon of Amarillo 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 to take the Boys 18 singles title, and the Hoover-Faubion duo outlasted Clemons-Sullivan of Amarillo 6-4, 6-7, 6-2 to nab the Boys 18 doubles titles.

Faubion dropped a 7-5, 4-6, 5-7 decision to Cannon in the semifinals to prevent an all-Hereford finals in the singles division.

Dave Hopper of Hereford finished second in the Men's 35 singles, dropping a 6-3, 6-4 match to Allison Guyes of Amarillo in the finals. Hopper also played in the Men's Open B singles, losing in the semifinals to Adams of Amarillo 7-5, 3-6, 5-7.

In the Men's Open singles, Hoover dropped a 7-5, 6-3 match to Jim Smith of Amarillo.

Playoff Decides Winner

The team of Brain Hamlett, Paul Loerwald, and Idie Gearn won a putting contest playoff to capture first place in the Florida Golf Scramble held at Pitman Golf Course last Saturday.

The Hamlett threesome actually tied for first place honors with the team of Curtis Stoerner, Sid Shaw, and Joan Coupe; with both teams posting scores of 66 for the eighteen holes, but won the putting contest to decide the winner.

Finishing third at the scramble was the team of Wister Clevenger, Jim Werner, and Cindy McWhorter. All three teams won trophies for their efforts.

The scramble was sponsored jointly by the Men and Women's Golf Associations.

Finance Committee Eyes Bills

BY JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Finance Committee is taking a second look at dozens of amendments that were written into a big tax bill last month, including several that benefit only one or two firms.

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., arranged today's meeting of his committee in response to criticism of the amendments as the Senate neared a vote on extending last year's individual tax cuts at least through next June.

Unless the tax cuts are renewed, a four-member family making $15,000 annually would face a tax hike of $180 a year. For a single person earning $8,000, the increase would be $182 and for a couple with no children and earning $10,000, there would be a $204 hike. A family of four earning $6,000 would pay $445 more.

Long called his committee into session after liberal senators attacked several amendments to the tax bill as a windfall for special interests.

Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., who are seeking to reconsider some of the amendments, concede several amendments now being discussed are meritorious.

But as a whole, Proxmire said, the amendments are "welfare for the well-to-do." Kennedy said the package invites speculation that the tax laws are for sale to wealthy campaign contributors.

The amendments were proposed by one or more of the committee's members and approved by the panel without hearings and with no public announcement of who would benefit.

But all were subject to scrutiny, before or after approval, by congressional and Treasury Department experts.

In a statement prepared for the hearing, Long said the committee, because of time pressures, had to make numerous decisions with the clear understanding they would be more thoroughly considered at a later date.

One of the most expensive amendments being questioned would cost the Treasury an estimated $40 million a year for the benefit of the major oil companies. The amendment would make certain that firms belonging to the Iranian Oil consortium continue to receive a U.S. tax credit for foreign taxes paid on their Iranian oil.

It is easy to determine who would benefit from some of the amendments. For example, Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., was looking out for a homestate industry when he won approval of an amendment providing a tax credit for homeowners who install energy-saving thermostats.

One of the biggest manufacturers of such equipment is Honeywell, Inc., of Minnesota.

Other beneficiaries of the amendments, identified by Proxmire or Kennedy, include: Investor Diversified Services, United Airlines, Chrysler Corp., large shipbuilders, Boise Cascade, General Electric, Westinghouse, Eaton Corp., Encyclopedia Britannica, major life-insurance companies and Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

Study Shows Cactus Is Nutritious Forage

AUSTIN--Cactus is a sticky problem no matter how you look at it.

Many Texas ranches are well-stocked with prickly pear cactus, but cattle turn up their noses at it, even during the winter when rangeland is at a minimum.

Recent studies, however, have shown that sipping the spines of prickly pear cactus makes the desert weed a palatable, nutritious winter forage for livestock.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White—noted that this development could be especially important in the arid Plains region of Texas.

The study showed that heifers fed sipped prickly pear cactus gained an average of 1-1/2 pounds per day, compared with less than one pound gained by heifers fed only approximate the nutrition normally acquired from winter forage.

The results of one feeding trial illustrate the advantages of feeding cactus. Twelve heifers weighing an average of 550 pounds were fed a ration of hay and cottonseed meal for approximately three months. Half the heifers also were allowed to eat as much cactus as they wanted.

At the end of the feeding period, cattle which had eaten the cactus and hay diet had gained 62 pounds more, on the average, than those on the hay diet.

Furthermore, the study showed that cactus is more readily and completely digestible than hay.

"If tools and more practical methods of harvesting and sipping can be developed, feeding cactus as a winter supplement may become common practice in Texas," White said.

We may have better legislation when we have better legislators, but we won't get them until we have better people.

Packing it In

It was a tight squeeze for 10 girls who stuffed their way into the box office of the Star Theatre Saturday afternoon for a goal of eight hours. The marathon venture was in promotion of the movie, "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." Reflections off the window and fog from the heavy breathing prevents a more detailed view of the girls.

Female Work Force Increases

In Deaf Smith County, women have been entering the labor force in growing numbers in the last few years. At the present time, more of them are holding down jobs than ever before.

According to the latest government figures, some 2,540 local women, out of a total female population of approximately 6,340 over age 16, were employed or were seeking employment in the past year.

The proportion, 40.1 per cent, contrasts with the 28.6 percent that were in the local labor force back in 1960.

Elsewhere in the United States, the proportion is over 39 per cent.

The details on the female surge into the labor market, as it has affected the various sections of the country, are based upon data from the Department of Commerce and upon a sampling survey made by the Department of Labor.

Nationally, the figures show, there are now more than 37,900,000 women in the labor force, as compared with 31,500,000 in 1970 and with 23,240,000 in 1960.

The increase since 1960 amounts to 63 per cent, as compared with an increase of only 32 per cent in the female population.

Women are to be found in a wide variety of occupations—in banks, in offices, factories, the professional fields and even in considerable number in the military services. Few areas of endeavor remain closed to them.

The degree to which they have made their presence felt in the employment field is brought out in the latest official figures. In Deaf Smith County's regional area, they show, approximately 38.9 per cent of all jobs are now held by women. Elsewhere throughout the United States, 40 per cent of the jobholders are women.

In all parts of the country, it is shown, women have made great strides in that direction in recent years. Federal restrictions on sex discrimination in employment as well as legislation requiring equal pay for equal work have been of great help to them.

The rapid influx of women into the nation's labor force is attributed in large measure to married women.

Ford Says Pardon Was Right

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford says he was right to pardon Richard Nixon in the wake of the Watergate scandals and that the voters will decide if the pardon should be a campaign issue.

Ford was jovial, talking like he had the nomination of his party sewed up, as he held a news conference on the White House lawn Monday.

But Nixon's name and the word Watergate kept popping up, both at the news conference and at the nearby offices of the AFL-CIO, which cited the pardon as one reason in explaining why the labor federation will support Democratic nominee Jimmy Carter over Ford.

Pressed by reporters, Ford said his decision to pardon Nixon was best for the nation. And he added, "I would do it again."

Democrats have raised the pardon and the memory of the Watergate scandals in launching their campaign to take the White House.

Ronald Reagan last week condemned the Watergate comments made at the Democratic National Convention as "brutal." He also said, however, that the pardon could hurt Republicans in the fall if Ford is the party's nominee.

But Ford indicated it would be the voters who would ultimately pass judgement in his pardon of Nixon.

"I think the American people will make the decision, not me, myself, whether it will be an issue or not," Ford said.

"I decided to grant the pardon in the national interest. At that time, the United States was faced with serious economic problems and we were still involved in a long and difficult war in Southeast Asia. We could not be involved in the Nixon matter and concentrate fully on the more important matters. I decided in the national interest, I would do it again."

Ford also said he has sent Congress new Watergate reform legislation "which would further advance our efforts to restore public confidence in the integrity of all three branches of the federal government."

Ford said he didn't like a Senate Watergate reform bill because it would allow federal judges to appoint special prosecutors to investigate wrong doing by government officials without the president's approval. Ford's plan calls for a permanent special prosecutor.

to be appointed by the president. He said such a prosecutor could not be fired except "for extraordinary improprieties."

Ramirez Ends Air Force Basic

SAN ANTONIO--Airman John J. Ramirez, whose mother is Mrs. Georgia R. Rodriguez of 307 Avenue K, Hereford, has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks training at Lackland AFB, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Ramirez will now receive specialized training in the dental services field.

The airman is a 1970 graduate of Hereford High School.

Reading Matter

Originally a magazine was a storehouse, not a periodical. The "Gentleman's Magazine", introduced to the public in 1731, was the first publication to use the word in its new meaning, stating in its introduction that the publication was intended to "store up" a collection of various subjects, "as in a magazine."

A More Perfect Union

Virginia took the initiative in converting the post-Revolutionary American confederation into a stronger federal union, appointing commissioners in January, 1786 to meet with representatives of other states. Meeting at Annapolis, Md., delegates from Virginia, Delaware, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania subsequently issued a call for representatives of all states to meet in Philadelphia in May, 1787 "to render the Constitution of the Federal government adequate to the exigencies of the union."

The Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., was founded by William W. Mayo and his two sons in 1889.
