Fatal Flat

A Bovina man was killed early Tuesday morning when the rear tire of this pickup blew out, causing the truck to roll over once. A passenger in the vehicle is in Deaf Smith County General Hospital with head lacerations, while a third occupant escaped injury. The accident occurred three miles west of Hereford on Highway 60.

A Bovina man was pronounced dead on arrival at Deaf Smith County General Hospital early Tuesday morning after a blowout caused the pickup he was driving to overturn.

Amado Salazar was eastbound on Highway 60 about 8 a.m. when the pickup's right rear tire blew out about three miles west of Hereford. The pickup went into the median and rolled over once.

SALAZAR was apparently thrown partially through the vehicle's rear window and the vehicle rolled over his body. The pickup came to rest right side up. The left side of the cab was crushed almost flat.

Fifteen-year-old Alfred Medina, a passenger in the pickup, suffered head injuries in the crash. He was carried to Deaf Smith General Hospital by Fire Marshal Jay Spain. Spain was one of the first emergency vehicles on the scene. Medina later underwent emergency surgery for head lacerations and was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday afternoon.

ANOTHER PASSENGER, Juan Gutierrez, 24, suffered only minor injuries and was not treated.

All three men were employees of Gateway Farms, vegetable producer in Bovina. All three lived in Bovina.

Funeral services for Salazar are pending with the Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home in Friona.

HISD 1974-75 Budget Set At $5,560,150

JIM BELEW
Brand News Editor

Hereford Independent School District will have an operating budget of $5,560,150 for 1974-75, as approved Monday by the board of education, an increase of "about $292,850 from the 1973-74 budget.

Dr. Roy Hartman, superintendent, said that although this year's budget "is about the tightest we've asked for in the years I've been here," the school district had managed to hold the price down because of federal revenue and sound fiscal management.

The school district will receive about $775,000 in federal funds for the upcoming year.

HARTMAN SAID a raise in the school tax rate would not be necessary this year, but would probably have to be considered for the 1975-76 school year.

The current tax rate for HISD is $2 per $100 valuation, with $1.50 going to local maintenance and .50 going to interest and sinking funds. Currently, the school district has a 45 per cent actual valuation tax rate.

Hartman said 45 per cent of last year's actual valuation came to $111,000,000, but because of declining cattle market conditions, this year's 45 per cent valuation would amount to only $110,000,000.

OTHER PANHANDLE region school districts have already sought tax increases for 1974-75, the superintendent said. Amarillo has increased taxes by .13, Canyon increased to 40 per cent actual valuation, Dimmitt to 65 per cent actual valuation, and River Road and Vega school districts both raising their tax rates to 100 per cent actual valuation.

Inflation and teachers' salaries increases were cited by Hartman as the chief reasons for bigger budget. Teachers here are receiving a salary increase of $600 per year.

In other tax related business, Orpha Click, school tax assessor, told the board his office had completed collections on delinquent taxes from the period beginning in 1919 to 1973, with a total of $208,099 collected in delinquent taxes.

CLICK said cancellations in delinquent tax rolls amounted to $7,042.87.

Click also reminded the board of a need to find a replacement for his assistant, who has resigned effective Sept. 15 to take a position with the city.

The board approved accepting a low bid of $3,763 from Lone Star Insurance Agency for transportation insurance on school vehicles. Other companies which submitted bids were Plains Insurance Agency and State Farm Insurance.

Briefly, the board reviewed the school district's pre-school in-service schedule, which began Wednesday and will extend through Monday.

CLASSES for the fall term will begin Tuesday.

A Texas Education Agency Office of Technical Assistance report based on a visit to the HISD by TEA representatives on April 2 recommended the school stress recruiting of Mexican-American teachers. The report also recommended the hiring of "minority teachers in general as vacancies occur."

The report, in making an ethnic breakdown of teachers, aides and administrators, listed nine Mexican-American, 328 Anglos and 0 Negroes employed as teachers; 51 Mexican-Americans, 16 Anglos and 0 Negroes employed as aides; and one Mexican-American, 17 Anglos and 0 Negroes employed as administrators.

Of total student enrollment, the report listed 2,608 Anglo students, 137 Negro students, 2,836 Mexican-American students and four students in a category named "other."

THE REPORT said with the exception of Central Elementary, a good balance of ethnic balance had been achieved in all schools, achieved by zoning and transporting students.

However, the report concluded, no recommendation was being made regarding Central, since a "new elementary school is being built to eliminate Central's situation."

DR. JOE WHITLEY, organizer and director of Hereford Track Club, thanked the board for its allowing the club to use school track facilities and commended school personnel who volunteered to help coach the club.

Commissioners Eye Long County Agenda

BY O.G. NIEMAN
Editor - Publisher

Deaf Smith County Commissioners, in a regular meeting Monday, waded through a lengthy 16-item agenda which included:

*Approval of transferring a general fund certificate of deposit in the amount of $21,901.90 to the officers' salary fund;

*Okay on advertising for bids on new road maintainer for Precinct 4.

*Appointment of election judges for the 1974-75 term.

*Approval of changing a part-time clerk in the new library to a full-time employee.

*Approval of an actual use report on revenue sharing funds.

*Endorsed an area project of the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation.

*Approved monthly payment of $18,643 on the new library construction contract, and approved regular monthly bills.

The court held several items on the agenda over for the next meeting, and discussed several matters not on the agenda. Commissioners recessed the meeting and were to resume the session Wednesday afternoon. Results of that meeting were not available before press time yesterday.

In the Monday session, commissioners also were questioned by operators of the Hereford Airport about a "conspicuous absence of county business." Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, owners of Hereford Aviation, Inc., fixed-base operators of the municipal airport, appeared at the meeting to ask why the county did not use the local airport for its occasional transportation of prisoners and state institution patients.

The Smiths outlined a long-standing "personality conflict", starting with the previous airport operator here, which apparently kept them from getting county business. The problem involved differences with Ralph Pedigo, local highway patrolman, who is used as a pilot by the sheriff's department.

County Judge H.C. Williams and McPherson both stated that Pedigo did not receive compensation from the county, and the county made payments only to the Friona airport. Commissioner Donald Hicks said he felt the Smiths should talk with the sheriff, that the matter was "no business of the commissioners."

Commissioner Marcus Latham disagreed, however, stating that he pay the bill and it is our business." He added further that he thought the county should do business with and support the local airport rather than use one in another county.

Smith said there had apparently been some misunderstanding before, but that the local airport had a legal air taxi certificate. McPherson told commissioners there was "no problems as far as I'm concerned."

"Would it be fair to say we will try to use the Hereford airport if possible?" Latham asked the sheriff. "Yes, that will be fine," replied McPherson.

In other matters, the court discussed the maintenance of the new library, reviewed the July financial report, heard a report from Jewell Smith on a county welfare matter, approved a routine request for the return of surplus lateral road funds, and read a request from KPAN Radio requesting notification of all commissioner court meetings.

The financial report showed a deficit of $2,287.73 in the officers salary fund, and commissioners approved transferring a CD from the general fund. With interest, the CD amounted to $21,901.90. The report also showed a deficit of $5,433.77 in the Precinct 4 Road & Bridge fund, but no discussion was held on the matter.

Last month the court held a lengthy discussion on a deficit shown in Precinct 3, before a transfer of funds was made to take care of bills. Although the road and bridge funds are actually one fund, separate bookkeeping is maintained for each precinct for budget purposes.

Mrs. Gwen London, librarian, told commissioners that patrons at the library had increased fourfold since the move to the new facilities. A count showed an average of 35 customers on Monday nights. She also said the cost of books had increased so much that there was less than $900 left for the purchase of books this year. The library has had a budget of about $7,000 for books the past few years.

Mrs. London also requested that one of her part-time aides be placed on full-time hours so that two employees

Lightning Proves Fatal

Struck by lightning as he lay under a shelter in Lake State Park at Clayton, N.M. Saturday, Phillip Anthony Diller, 22, of Hereford was found dead Sunday by a park ranger.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in St. Anthony's Catholic Church, of which Diller was a member, by the Rev. George Husmann of Garden City, Kan. Burial in St. Anthony's Cemetery was directed by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

DILLER'S MOTORCYCLE was found at 7 p.m. Sunday near the shelter where park visitors had walked around the body all day, thinking he was asleep. Park Ranger Martin Franz, with the same belief, had decided early Sunday not to approach him.

Burns near "the right elbow and around the belt buckle indicated death from a lightning bolt in a summer storm, and the shelter also showed signs of having been struck.

THE YOUNG MAN had lived most of his life in Hereford, and was born in Canyon. He was a trucker.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Marvin Diller of Hereford; five brothers, George and Ralph of Hereford, Gerald of Amarillo, Kenneth of Texline and Eugene of Enid, Okla.; six sisters, Sister Marcella Diller of Denver, Coletta of Amarillo, Janice of Garden City, Margaret of Gallup, N.M., Mrs. Ken Crandall of San Francisco and Mrs. Jim Knoeber of Spearville, Kan.

Hairgrove Girl Still 'Critical'

Cindy Hairgrove, a 17-year-old former Hereford beauty queen, remained in critical condition Wednesday in Northwest Texas Hospital where she was being treated for injuries suffered in a one-vehicle wreck last Thursday.

She was being treated for head injuries and a fracture of the right leg.

Bryan Adams, her companion at the time of the wreck and also of Hereford, was listed in satisfactory condition at the hospital Wednesday.

A hospital fund has been started at Hereford State Bank for Miss Hairgrove, a 1974 Hereford High School graduate and Miss Teenage Hereford for 1973.

Easter Farmer Has Choice Of Wheels

WHAT HAPPENS when an Iowa farm boy growing up through the depression sees the gleaming sleekness of a Packard auto, asks his father for such a car, only to have the request denied?

Well, if that farm boy grows up to be Harland Frye, there'll come a day when he'll be able to buy that Packard—and other cars as well.

FRYE, A PRODUCE operator near Easter, has seven antique autos, including two Packards, one of them a 1934 model with 12 cylinders. "I started buying cars about 12 years ago," Frye says.

Most of the time, Frye keeps the autos in a shed, away from the sunlight and weather. Last week, however, he brought them out for a family reunion.

Looking at the cars makes one wonder if today's auto industry has not lost ground. For instance, Frye's 1934 Cadillac, a long black job powered by a 16 cylinder engine, is the epitome of elegance. A rap of the knuckles on the car's body doesn't produce the ping it does when you strike some 1974 model.

THEN THERE IS the 1935 Auburn Duesenberg, a streamlined roadster which, when equipped with a supercharger, can hit speeds up to 150 m.p.h. The German made car has an engine with 510 inches of cubic displacement with a double overhead cam and all aluminum engine. It also has a two-speed rear axle.

There are only seven like it.

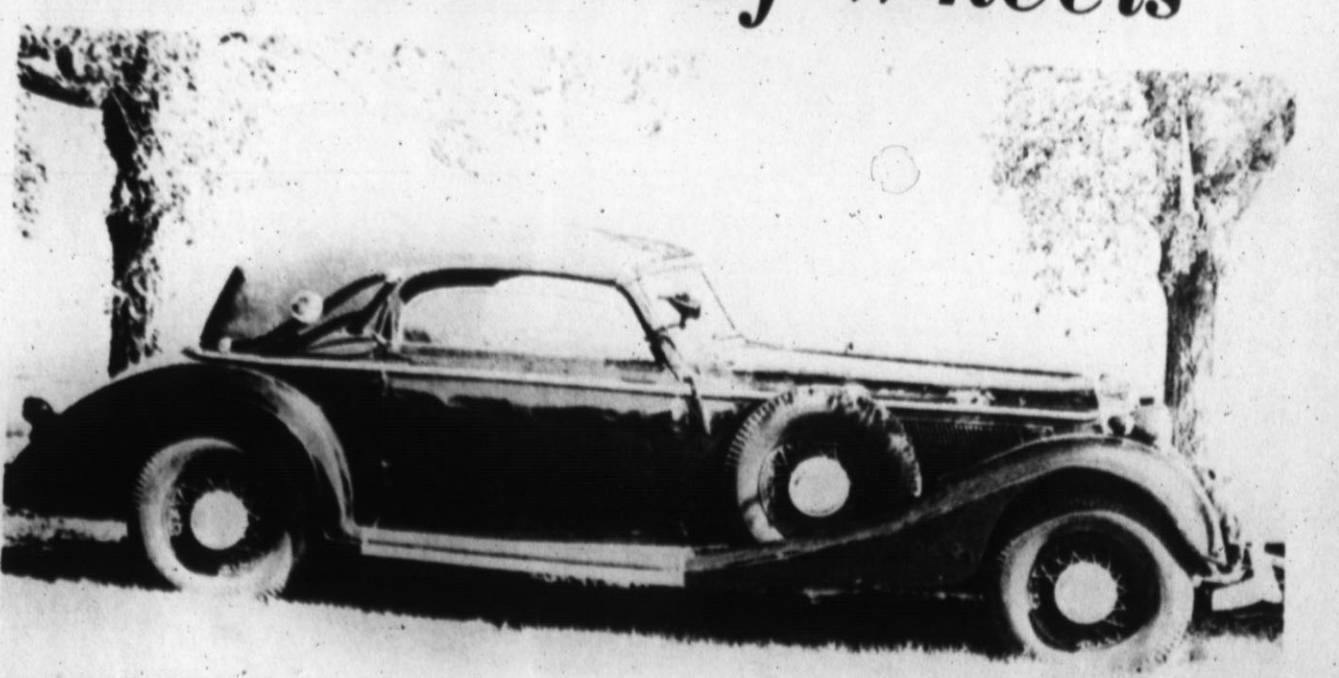

For the lazy driver, Frye prescribes his 1936 Horch. This German made auto, a two door sedan, has turn signals, a real novelty for its time, and a unique wheel jacking device. If the car has a flat tire, all the driver has to do is twist one of four levers beneath the hood and that wheel raises above the ground enough to allow a tire change.

FRYE HAS ANOTHER 1936 Horch, a two-door town and country sedan, complete with glass partitions between back and front seats. The car also features inlaid paneling of burled Walnut.

Along with this exotic collection Frye also has the unpretentious, still-serviceable 1925 Model T Ford. Sometimes, Frye can be seen in the car, chugging along the dirt road around his property.

"This was one of the most popular of the early Ford cars," Frye says.

AND JUDGING by the smile on his face as he wipes the dust from the vehicle after an occasional day's use, the Model T is still very popular.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says bad advice is no excuse for your mistakes; no one can force you to accept advice.

Rainfall amounts varied around the county the past week, from a trace to about one inch. Onion producers were about ready to finish their harvest this week and didn't want any moisture. The rainfall shouldn't hurt the potato harvest. For the non-farmer, the rain was a welcome sight and reminded one of fall and football.

****
President Gerald Ford — proclaiming he is neither "a Lincoln or a Model-T" made a fine impression in his first "state of the union" message to Congress this week. His "let's-get-on-with-it" message sounded good to the American public as he pledged to fight inflation, continue the same foreign policy and prevent invasions of privacy on both the private and government level.

****
The start of the 1974-75 school term is just around the corner with teachers already preparing for the first bell and students to start classes next Tuesday. You'll find many good buys all around town — as back-to-school time approaches — shop the pages of The Hereford Brand!

****
Inflation continues to be the big villain on the local level as well as on the national scene. Deaf Smith County Commissioners announced last week their intention of changing the assessment ratio by two percent, which will raise county taxes by about nine percent. The commissioners put the blame on increasing costs and the need for salary raises to keep up with soaring inflation.

****
According to Commissioner Bruce Coleman, these proposed salary increases will amount to about 10 per cent for all county employees as well as larger adjustments for most elected officials. While commissioners contend the county is in good financial condition, they have been concerned with the "battle of the budget" recently and believe additional tax revenues will be necessary next year.

****
The court will meet as a Board of Equalization on Monday, Aug. 26 to take action on the assessment hike, and a public budget hearing will follow. Commissioners have not yet presented the tentative budget proposal.

****
We pointed out in the news article last week that the meetings to initiate the change in property valuations was called without notice to the news media. The court has assured us that this was simply an oversight, a lack of communications. All meetings of the court are posted on the courthouse bulletin board, as required by law, but we have requested notification by telephone as well.

We take the position that The Brand is attending the meeting in place of all citizens who are interested but unable to attend, or depend on us to report the proceedings. We have no special privilege except we are acting on behalf of the taxpayers. That "watchdog" role will continue to the best of our abilities.

Judge Williams presented the court a letter from KPAN Radio which requested that they be notified of all meetings of the court, in accordance with a provision of the "open meetings" law. Commissioners agreed to the request, but several noted that the radio station never had a representative at the monthly meetings.

Rain Pelts Area

Clouds rolled around dark and heavy above Hereford Tuesday, but failed to let loose their rain-filled burden except for just a trace in some spots.

Pitman East reported receiving .20 inches, the heaviest amount reported anywhere for Tuesday. Elsewhere in the county, only a few drops fell, too little to measure.

It was a different story Sunday, however, when rain measuring between .25 of an inch and .66 fell on the area. The least amount was reported from the county line, south of Hereford, with .25 of an inch being recorded there. At Easter, rainfall amounted to .50 of an inch.

To the northeast, near Wildorado, some crop damage occurred when high winds accompanied both hail and rain.

The small community of Dawn received amounts varying between one-half and three-quarters of an inch.

Based on a KPAN report, Hereford received .40 of an inch of rain Sunday.

Holly Announces Quarterly Sales

Holly Sugar Corporation has reported sales of $60,380,000 for the first quarter ended June 30 compared with $25,219,000 for the same period last year.

In an interim report to stockholders, President John B. Bunker said that "the unit volume of sugar sold during the quarter increased approximately 8 per cent from last year. Substantial increases in the selling price of sugar were the principal factor contributing to higher sales."

"Although Holly's sugarbeet growers receive the major benefit of increased sugar prices under the risk-sharing provisions of Holly's sugarbeet purchase contracts," Bunker commented, "a continuation of refined sugar prices at present levels during the fiscal year would also benefit Holly and could result in a significant increase in net income over last year."

Holly does not report interim earnings until the end of its third quarter, Dec. 31, because of the material and unpredictable effects of seasonal and climatic conditions on sugarbeet production and processing.

"These variables are reflected in current operations because Holly uses the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method of sugar inventory valuation, and it is not possible to estimate any such increase or to assess interim earnings accurately until the end of the third quarter," Bunker explained.

"It is not until the end of December that major cost factors become reasonably determinable and an unaudited nine months' earnings report can be prepared," he said.

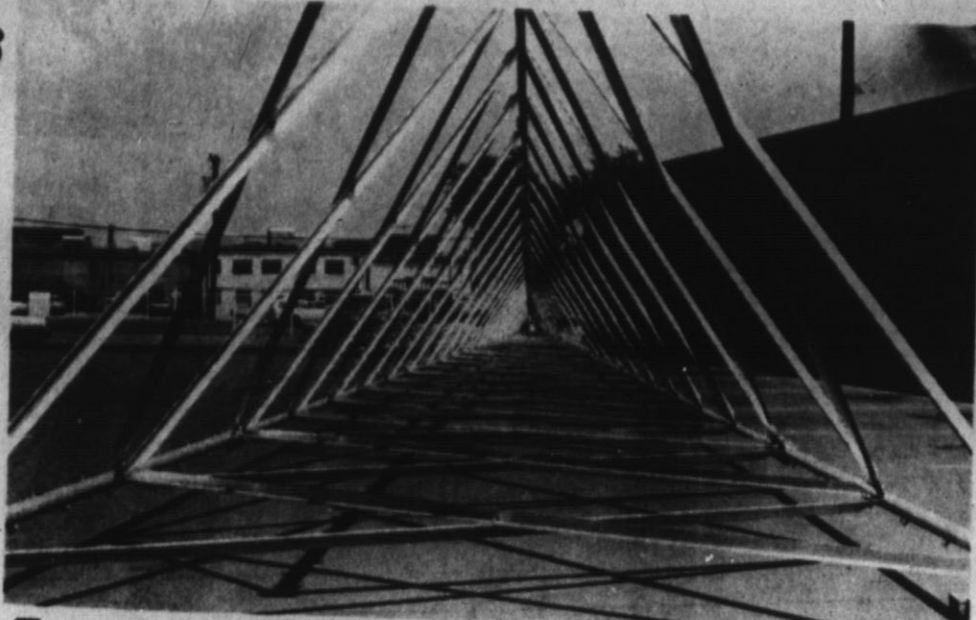

Bunker told stockholders that, since April 1, sugarbeet plantings for the 1974 fall harvest have been completed and are progressing well.

"Harvest this spring in Northern California proceeded according to schedule, and in Southern California the crop has shown excellent yields in tons-per-acre and sugar content," Bunker reported.

He also told stockholders that, on June 5, 1974, the House of Representatives defeated a bill which would have extended the Sugar Act for another five years. "Unless some sort of supply management program is adopted by the Congress before year-end, the program under the present Act will expire Dec. 31, 1974," Bunker explained.

Historically, the price and supply of refined sugar in the United States have been volatile in the absence of a supply management program such as the Sugar Act. This program has been in effect since 1934.

"Holly and the domestic industry can operate effectively without a Sugar Act for some time, but, over the long term, some regulatory legislation will be needed to ensure stability of supply and prices," Bunker concluded.

Tower To Be Raised

Two sections of a 200 feet tall radio tower were constructed on the parking lot between city hall and the fire department recently. The tower is part of a new state police radio network and will also support radio equipment for Hereford police. The two sections will be raised into position with a huge crane in the near future, probably Saturday.

Southwest Supplied With Unleaded Gas

Reports from refiners indicate the supply of unleaded gasoline in the southwest region of the nation should be adequate during August, it was reported Monday by Delbert M. Fowler of Dallas, regional administrator for the Federal Energy Administration.

Based on reports from refiners supplying the five-state region, nearly five per cent of the total gasoline available will be unleaded, Fowler said. The five states include Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Under regulations of the Environmental Protection Agency, every retail gasoline outlet which sells more than 200,000 gallons of gasoline per year must market unleaded gasoline. In specified rural areas, stations selling 150,000 gallons per year must stock the unleaded product.

Many stations across the nation have sold unleaded gasoline for years. In fact, Amoco has been selling an unleaded product since 1915.

However, to meet the new EPA regulations, virtually all automobiles manufactured in 1975 must have catalytic converters to reduce air pollution.

The catalytic converter, which filters exhaust fumes through chemicals to remove air pollutants, requires the use of unleaded gasoline. Otherwise, the converter, which costs about $150, will be ruined and must be replaced.

August 25-31 Declared Public Employees Week

Governor Dolph Briscoe has designated the week of August 25 through August 31 as "Public Employees Week" in Texas. This annual affair recognizes the role of the state, county and city employees in performing the vital functions of governments which all people of Texas enjoy.

The Texas Public Employees Association, composed of over 39,000 state employees, has selected the theme of "Action '74" for the 1974 Public Employees Week. These dedicated employees serve in all capacities while executing the functions of government in our complex society. Professionalism through pride in employment contributes to the efficient administration of our State government.

Highlights of this year's Public Employees Week in the Austin area will be the 29th Annual Meeting of the Texas Public Employees Association on Monday and Tuesday at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel in Austin. During the meeting will be a Monday morning address by Thomas C. Enright, Executive Secretary of the Oregon State Employees Association.

At this meeting there will be approximately 450 delegates representing all state employees throughout the State. They will convene to conduct Association business and also to explore ways whereby greater efficiency might be accomplished in the administration of state government.

As the state capital, Austin has more state employees residing therein than any other metropolitan area in Texas, thus, it is fitting that Austin should be the focal point of Public Employees Week and that all Texans join in saluting our dedicated-public employees.

Volunteers Sought For MD Telethon

Hundreds of volunteers are needed to help with the New Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon in Hereford. The call was issued today by Tony Poole, President of the Panhandle Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America. "We need men and women, young and old, anyone who can answer a phone, tally a column of figures, or help out at all at any time during the 20-hour show. Poole said the Telethon will be broadcast in the Hereford area by KFDA, Channel 10.

Jerry Lewis, National Chairman of the voluntary health agency, will host the glittering festival of stars, which originates from Las Vegas, with program segments featuring top entertainers from New York, Hollywood, and Nashville. The spectacular will be seen on a network of over 150 stations, including Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and Guam. Last year the Telethon raised over $13.5-Million for the fight against muscular dystrophy and related disorders. Jerry hopes that "this year, maybe we can muster up still more love and support for kids with MD who can't walk. That's why

I stand up on stage every year—so they can stand someday, too." Those wishing to volunteer should call (collect) 806-372-6313

A few of the antique automobiles owned by Harland Fry of Easter. Left, a 1935 Auburn Duesenberg, the most valuable of the collection. The roadster originally had a supercharged engine which could generate speeds up to 150 m.p.h. Next, the 1925 Ford Model T, complete with original paint and parts. In front of the car are wheel jacks, the kind used when the driver had to change a flat. Next, a 1934 Cadillac, powered by a 16 cylinder engine.

WASHINGTON NOTES

FOOD & SUGAR

Health and consumer groups have asked the Food and Drug Administration to put a limit on the amount of sugar in breakfast cereals and a health warning on the packages of those that exceed the limit.

NIXON & TAPES

Conceding he withheld some Watergate evidence from Congress and his own lawyers, President Nixon made public a tape transcript showing he authorized an attempt to thwart an FBI Watergate investigation.

U.S. WORK LOSS

The Labor Department has reported the number of days lost because of strikes in the United States during June was greater than at any time since July, 1971.

FARM PRICES UP

Prices of raw farm products jumped 6 per cent from June 15 to July 15 after four months decline and averaged 1 per cent above a year earlier, the Agriculture Department reported.

TAX CUT APPROVED

The House Ways and Means Committee has tentatively approved a plan that would result in lower taxes for most low and moderate wage earners and slightly higher levies for some persons making more than $50,000 a year.

SAFEWAY

We pledge:

ONCE A CAN OR PACKAGE IS PRICE-MARKED, WE WILL NOT RAISE ITS PRICE

When we are forced to make a price increase, cans and packages which are already price-marked will be sold out at the old price.

When a price is lowered, all sales will be at the new lower price. Cans and packages bearing the former higher price will also be marked with the new price.

Should a can or package show more than one price mark, you pay the lowest price.

NOTE: Items on which the timing of price changes is controlled by law are excepted from this policy.

Yeah, the fish was too small to bother with, so I got a couple of guys to help me throw it back in the lake.

When you run into a chronic worrier you are wasting time on a loafer; busy people have little time for worrying out loud.

What is the difference between a waterspout and a whirlpool?

A waterspout is nothing less than a tornado over water. It is a fearsome sight but one which, fortunately, is rarely encountered. Contrary to the common belief, the waterspout does not suck water up great distances from the ocean, or lake.

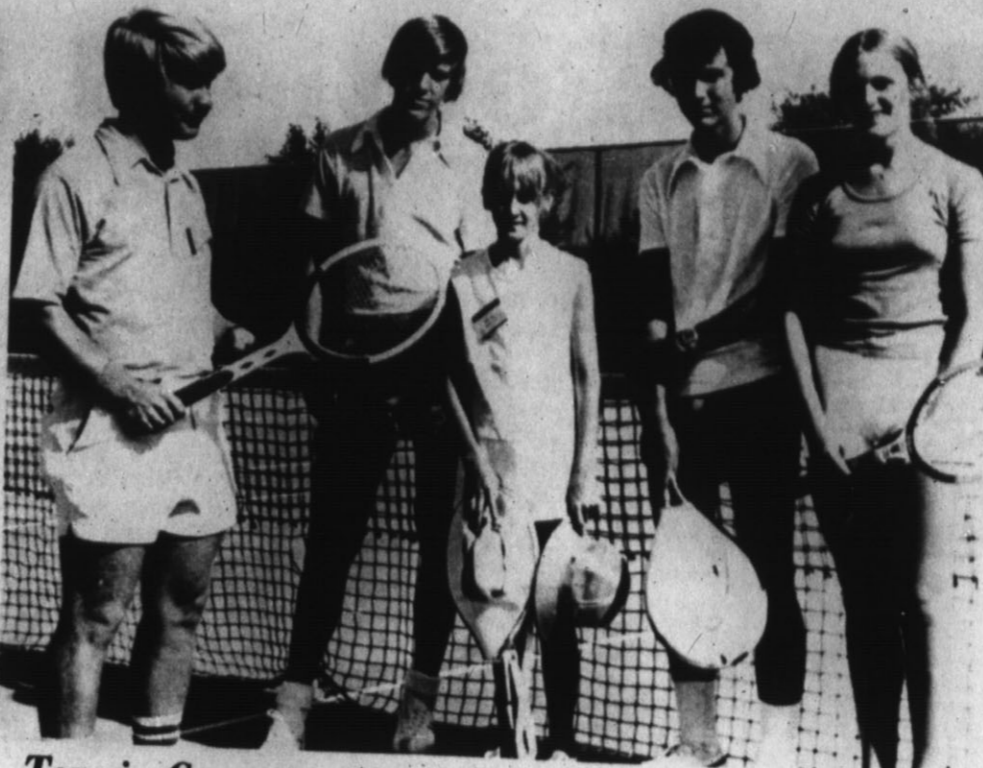

Rather, the spout is composed of moist whirling air, which gives off a dark appearance, but which is not really water being sucked upward into the air.

A whirlpool is a circular movement of water caused by currents, sometimes by wind. They are almost always harmless. Exceptions are whirlpools caused by very strong natural or artificial currents, which can quickly endanger a swimmer, and which should be carefully avoided.

Tennis Campers

Hereford youngsters attending the Trinity University Tennis camp are David Rudder, Marta Jorde, Marshall Formby and Ellen Jorde. Far left is All-American Bob McKinley.

Hereford Youngsters Attend Tennis Camp

Four youngsters from Hereford are learning championship tennis from four-time All-American Bob McKinley at the Trinity University Summer Tennis Camp in San Antonio.

The four are Marta and Ellen Jorde, daughters of Mr. & Mrs. Keith Jorde; Marshall Formby, son of Mr. & Mrs. Clint Formby, and David Rudder, son of Mr. & Mrs. Milton C. Rudder.

Campers at Trinity will receive six hours of professional tennis instruction daily this week on the same courts where the members of Trinity's NCAA National Championship teams perfected their games. At the Trinity University Summer Tennis Camp, the Tennis instructional program that has produced world champions such as 1973 World Championship of Tennis Rookie-of-the-Year Brian Gottfried and 1972 NCAA National Champion Dick Stockton is available to boys and girls ages 8-17.

Designed for all levels of young players — beginning, intermediate and advanced — classes allow each player to learn with players at his or her own skill level and to receive all the individual instruction necessary to build a winning game.

Bob McKinley, winner of eight national championships and ranked among the top 20 U.S. Men's players the last few years, is the director and chief instructor at the camp. Highlights of camp activities this week — besides the tennis — have been a swimming party at Trinity's Olympic-size swimming pool, bowling at the University's private lanes, a trip to see the San Antonio Brewers baseball club and an on-campus movie.

More than 150 youngsters will participate in the Trinity University Summer Tennis Camps this month. Counselors at the camp assisting McKinley include members of Trinity's varsity and junior varsity tennis teams and other top Southwest players.

Football Season Soon; Dippel Tells of Talent

BY DAN WELTY
Sports Editor

"It's here upon us." The words of Coach Larry Dippel above could be classed as an understatement. Football season is close around the corner.

High school players report for fall drills Monday, and Coach Dippel has reminded all players to get physicals before reporting to practice next week. The Whitefaces will hold press day Monday, work out in shorts and shoes till Thursday, and dress out in pads for contact work beginning Friday, Aug. 23.

Coach Dippel and his staff have been hurriedly making preparations the last two weeks for the upcoming campaign. Summer injuries and lack of interest have whittled down the Herd roster and Coach Dippel will choose from the remaining as team members for the 74-75 Whiteface squad.

In a Monday interview,

Dippel outlined most of the players he expects to be on the field this fall. At the quarterback position Dippel has two choices. Mike Crim and Mike Artho. "Crim was a letterman last year as a sophomore. Mike's a good size quarterback, about 187 pounds. Artho, who played on the sophomore team last year, came out as a big surprise in spring training. He's a much smaller quarterback than Crim, but both of them seem to throw the ball well. We feel they're both going to better than average passers and hope they'll come on and learn how to read defenses, pick out receivers and when to throw the ball."

Dippel wants to balance out the running and throwing attacks. "We're going to strive for that balance. Our philosophy has never been to run and then just throw when we have to. We do believe in throwing. We're always striving for that balance. We may not get it, but we're looking for it."

The Herd has running talent also. "The Charest boys, Dave and Doug, will run for us as well as Roy Martinez, a sophomore, and Alfonso Gomez. These four will start out in our running back slots."

Doug Charest, the senior, rushed for only 52 yards last year, but rarely played. James Harris was premier runner for the Herd. Dave Charest, the junior, was a wide receiver last year and moved to running back in spring training. Dippel describes him as having "slightly better than average speed and very good hands. He could develop into an outstanding runner."

Gamez is a junior with JV experience who made a good showing in spring training. Martinez is a sophomore who earned a varsity spot after a good spring training. He will work as a defensive back and will serve on the specialty teams.

Who can catch the ball? "Mike Munnerlyn, a wingback we've moved from defensive back, is going to be a good receiver. Also, Ronnie Ohlig and Harvey Torres working at the split ends we hope will make good receivers."

Dippel continued, "Terry Bell and Kevin Malone will be at the tight ends. Bell is a converted center that we've moved out there. Terry has pretty good speed and we think Terry is going to be a pretty good football player."

"At tight end we're looking for strength as a blocker first. If the tight end can catch the ball, that's an added feature. But our tight ends have to be able to block first and Terry does a good job of blocking."

"It's kind of hard to tell about Malone with him being hurt in the spring. He's been injury-prone since he's been in high school."

The offensive line will be mostly seniors. Dippel listed the prospective starters. "At center we'll play Dennis Evans, a sophomore lineman a year ago. (see FOOTBALL, Pg 8A)

Season Tickets Selling Well

Hereford High School officials report that more than 250 season tickets have been sold to Whiteface home games. Officials said the response to the renewal of tickets is one of the best on record.

Season ticket holders have until August 15 to contact the school administration office and renew their tickets. Although the office must be contacted by Aug. 15, ticket holders will have until Aug. 23 to pick up the tickets.

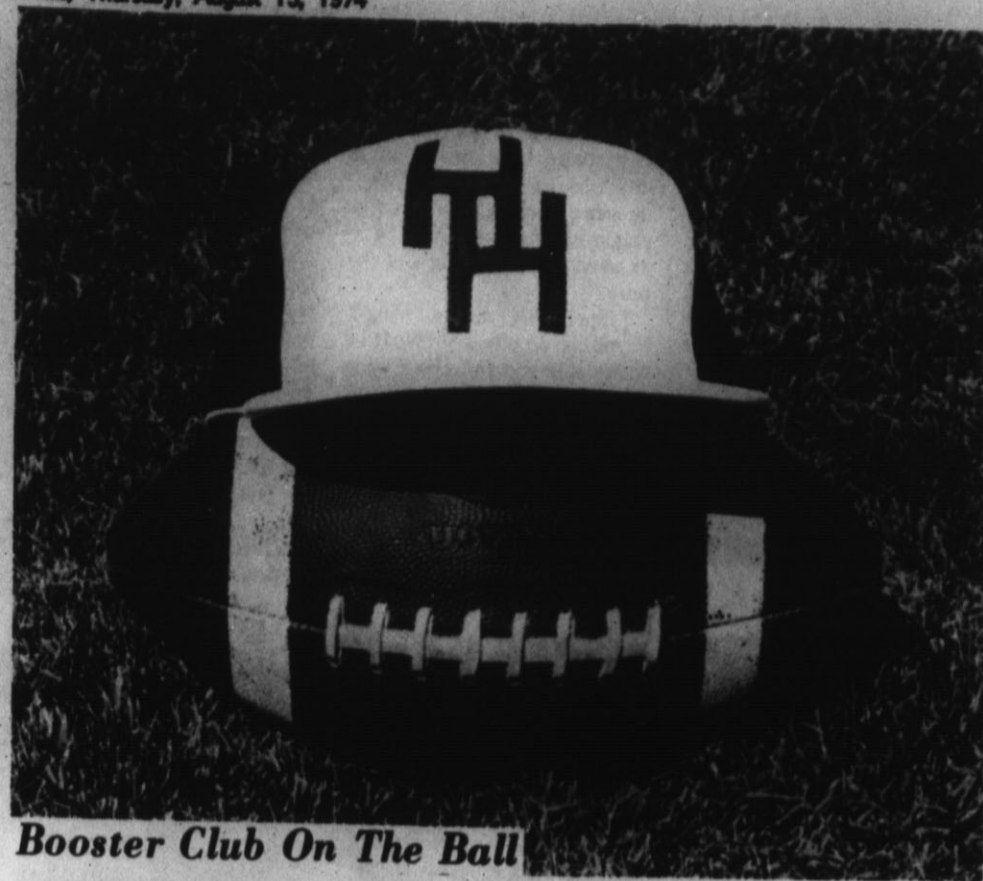

None of the chair seats are available this year, and most of the seats in Section B have been taken. A few choice seats in the B section are still available, though.

Season tickets sell for the five home games for $10. For the first time single tickets during the season will cost $2.50. Season ticket purchasers will realize a savings of $2.50.

Very Likely

The trouble with many of us is that we would rather be ruined by praise than saved by criticism.

Booster Club On The Ball

The Whiteface Booster Club is readying for fall and football and plan to hold their first meeting of the season Tuesday, Aug. 20. Tom Simons, president of the club, urges all persons interested in sports to attend the meeting to be held at the Hereford High School cafeteria. The cap shown above will be sold along with club memberships this year and windbreaker jackets with Whiteface Booster insignias will also be available.

Girl All-Stars to Play

The season for girl's softball in Hereford has entered its last week, with the final ball games to be played tonight in special ceremonies at Hereford's Bronco League parks.

The regular season ended Wednesday night and All-Stars were named. Tonight, major and minor league all-star games will be played at 6 p.m., followed by a sandwich picnic and a contest between the Pony League All-Stars and the All-star Coaches.

Marci Hughes, girls baseball president, invites everyone to attend the picnic. It will be open to both players and parents of players. Each family is to bring sandwiches enough to feed themselves and some extra.

The All-Star Coaches are headed by Charles Gresham with Chuck Cosper serving as his assistant. Tonight, All-Star coaches that will include, Geneva Kilpatrick, Kay Banner, and Darlene Lee, all Pony League coaches. Minor League All-Star coaches will include Franches Kerr, Judy Roberson, Nell McCullar, D'Lyn Davison, Iris Clifton, Randy Hamilton and Carlette Nesser. Major League Coaches playing will be Sondra Layton, Pat Winkler,

Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The question whether a team's top player, in his golden days, should be offered the job of manager is currently a hot one.

There is a political note in the discussion in recent days because there is no black manager in the Majors. Thus some argue stars like Willie Mays, Frank Robinson and Hank Aaron should be offered manager jobs.

Willie Mays didn't want such a job. Robinson has been angling for one for years. Hank Aaron didn't want one, until convinced he ought to be offered the post because he's the super star of the Braves.

Super stars don't often make top managers. Ty Cobb, Ted Williams, etc., were not overly successful. Great stars like Stan Musial, Joe DiMaggio and many others have not become managers.

The clubs have found over the years that stars don't make the best managers, generally speaking. But of course there are, and have been, exceptions. And Mantle, Aaron or Kaline might be one of them.

★★★★★★ Note To Footballers

Coach Larry Dippel has announced that all athletes reporting for fall drills Monday and Tuesday will be required to have a physical.

Dippel says all footballers from seventh grade through high school will have the physical completed before reporting next week.

Football—

The guards will all be seniors. Danny Collins, Stan Fry and Kevin Fox all played on the junior varsity last year. At tackle we'll be looking at Melvin Betzen, David Fish and Vance Hennington. Hennington is the only junior.

Dippel switched to defense. "We're going to try to specialize on defense. Our linebackers will be Bobby Scott, Danny Jones and Dennis Evans. At defensive tackles we're looking at John Paetzold, Clifford Fangman and Jerry Reyna. Our noseguard will be Luis Marquez. To get our depth there, one of our linebackers may have to play one of those positions.

"At defensive ends we're looking at Terry Bell, Gary Schumacher and Jimmy Sanchez. In the defensive secondary we'll return Doug Charest and Mike Munnerlyn. Both of those kids are our defensive captains. Both of them are lettermen from a year ago."

"To go along with them, Dave Charest will play some back there along with Albert Gonzales, Kirk Spain, David Arho and Bobby Fields. Albert and Spain are juniors and Kent Hollingsworth, another senior, will play back there some."

Dippel said the Herd will mostly play a 5-2 defensive formation. "But we'll be a multiple defensive team. We'll do some variations of the five alignment and we'll also be in an even alignment some of the time."

Dippel will use a wing-T formation on offense. "We'll be with a split end and a tight wing set right outside our tight end. A little bit more of a power formation. Although I don't know how much of a power football team we're going to be. We'll run the power sweep. In fact our offense will be predicted off the power sweep."

"We run a lot of plays and we work on a lot of plays. I don't know if we could be called a multiple offensive team, but we do try to do a lot of things on offense."

Sizing up the team as a whole, Dippel said, "I think we're a pretty good size football team. A pretty good size high school team. We're not extra big. We've got kids in the 175-200 pound range. We're going to be bigger than we were a year ago, but I don't think we're going to be as quick. Our overall quickness is going to be down but we do have some quickness. We've got some backs that are fairly quick. I think defensively we may not be as quick as we were a year ago, but we're going to be stronger. We can compensate for it."

Although Dippel wants to have two separate platoons, some of the Herd will have to play both offense and defense. "We have about five or six kids that are going to have to go both ways. Some of our offensive kids will be able to help out where we're short on defense and I think we'll be able to take care of our depth this way."

Mantle Of Power Passes

By BOB PRICE
U.S. Congressman

The President the American people elected has resigned.

It is my prayer and wish that every man, woman and child in our nation will join together in a mutual, national and individual renewal of dedication to America in an effort to remove the animosities, prejudices and other obstacles which divide our people. As the mantle of power passes from Richard Nixon to Gerald Ford, it is vitally important that we have national unity.

I sincerely believe that all the people of our nation must take a more active part in our political process in order to maintain democracy. Our government reacts in direct relationship to the efforts put forth by its citizens to see that the men and women they have elected to public office are responsible to their needs.

HAVING KNOWN Gerald Ford for eight years in the House of Representatives as a personal friend, I believe he meets the qualifications necessary to become an outstanding President of the United States.

I hurt inside with disappointment as if a tragedy had happened to my own family, which time — and time alone — will heal; but time does heal many wounds to the mind and body.

Richard Nixon has served his country well, and has reduced war and suffering on our planet. He has succeeded in bringing about the closest thing to peace among all the people of the world that has existed in my lifetime.

Peace, prosperity and help for the suffering have all been among his aims and goals. History I believe will show he has been in large measure successful in these goals. But the atmosphere in Washington had been like a lynch mob.

No man is perfect — nor will any of us mortals be the final judge.

AS ONE OF HIS LAST OFFICIAL ACTS, President Nixon did veto the appropriations bill for Agriculture and Environmental and Consumer Protection because the bill exceeded by some $540 million his budgetary request. I had voted for this bill, although I had opposed spending money on food stamps for strikers, estimated by some at $234 million annually, and I would have preferred reductions in other unnecessary areas in the non-agricultural portions of this bill.

Funds for water and sewer improvement, conservation and rural development are among the items in this bill which I believe are vitally important, and I shall work for a substitute measure which still provides the vital assistance to rural America which is so necessary.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME is the subject of House Commerce subcommittee hearings which open Monday. The subcommittee will have under consideration my bill to abolish Daylight Savings Time as well as other proposals from other Members.

Last year the Congress passed a 2-year nationwide full-time Daylight Savings Time law in hopes of saving energy. The Department of Transportation has reported that the energy saved by DST last winter amounted to only one-half of one per cent. I had suspected such a negligible saving and had opposed the law because I felt it presented a danger to children going to school in the dark. Now the Transportation Department is urging that winter-time Daylight Savings Time be ended.

Guidelines Released For Training Migrants

Regulations and guidelines for the conduct of programs for migrants and other seasonal farmworkers under Title III of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act have been issued by Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan. The regulations are in final form to speed the designation of eligible applicants. Comments on the regulations are being solicited, however, and amendments may be made after a review of them. To be eligible for funds under Title III, Section 303, an aplicant should be:

A recognized prime sponsor under CETA Title I having a significant segment of migrants or seasonal farmworkers in its geographic area; or
A private non-profit group whose charter or articles of incorporation authorize it to operate manpower programs authorized under Section 303.
TO PARTICIPATE in a Section 303 program, persons must be farmworkers during any 12-month period; or have been employed in agriculture on a seasonal basis; or have been identified as economically disadvantaged. The minimum allocation to any state receiving funds will be $100,000. Based on the development of a viable program, CETA funds will be used to handle transition between current program year funds and FY 1975 funding. Current sponsors of programs who are unsuccessful applicants will be given 90 days to phase out their operations. Sept. 6, is the deadline for submission of qualifications statements by applicants. Qualification statements should be submitted to the U.S. Department of Labor, Manpower Administration, Room 7122 Patrick Henry Building, 601 D Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20213.

George L. Hart, U.S. District Judge, on donations by the Associated Milk Producers Inc.: "This kind of cavalier violation has got to be put to a stop."

County Rated High In Buying Power

Deaf Smith County's business activity continued at a strong pace during the past year and, as a result, it is given an above-average market rating.

This vitality, evidenced by the volume of business done by local retail stores, was made possible by a high rate of employment and by a rise in family incomes.

The facts and figures are presented in a copyrighted report called "Survey of Buying Power," prepared and released by Sales Management, the marketing publication. It gives comparable data on income and spending for communities in all parts of the country.

IN DEAF Smith County, it shows, the amount of disposable income was at a high level. Local residents had net earnings, after deductions for personal taxes, of $70,533,000, as against the prior year's $59,144,000.

In terms of the individual family, this boiled down to a median of $8,279 per household, with half of them having incomes above this amount and the other half less. It was more than was available in many localities throughout the nation. Elsewhere in the West South Central States, it was $8,259.

A considerable part of the added cash was eaten up, however, by bigger taxes and by the continuing rise in the cost of living.

JUST WHAT people did with the disposable income that remained, after taking care of their fixed expenditures, varied with their attitudes.

Some of them became more conservative than usual in their spending and decided to wait until prices came down. Others reacted differently and decided to buy the things they wanted before prices went up any further.

Overall, despite the hesitation on the part of some consumers, business was good for local merchants. They were able to report a sales volume of $94,173,000, topping the previous year's $75,088,000.

Fall Fertilizer Picture Bleak

Texas Agricultural producers will likely take a "wait and see" attitude as far as fall application of fertilizer for next year's crop is concerned.

According to Dr. Charles Welch, soil chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, "The fertilizer picture is considerably different now compared to a year ago. Last year fertilizer supplies were available and prices were still down. But there has been a complete turnabout in the fertilizer cost situation and in a number of fertilizer materials." Welch points out that last year conditions were generally favorable for fall application of fertilizer. A good crop year had been completed and farmers had received high prices for their commodities. In addition there was growing concern that fertilizer would be scarce in 1974.

"This year producers are faced with a different situation. Fertilizer supplies are limited and what is available is at a high price. Special formulations of fertilizer are almost nonexistent. Producers must often buy a complete fertilizer (one with nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium) regardless of whether or not they need all three nutrients.

"And the percentage of active ingredients is also being reduced in many instances so that it takes a larger volume of fertilizer to provide the necessary nutrients. This means increased transportation and handling costs."

What all this amounts to, according to Welch, is that producers will have to take a close look at their particular situations to determine their fertilizer needs and time of application. "Soil testing will be especially important in determining profitable fertilization practices for each field and each crop."

Although U.S. fertilizer production was up 6 per cent during the year ending June 30, the amount sold was up 15 to 20 per cent. This means that inventories are now low at the retail level as well as at the manufacturing point.

"Fall fertilization will be a difficult decision for producers to make, so many will probably shy away and wait to see what the spring season brings," points out Welch.

Texas A&M Adds Science Course

Texas A&M University's College of Agriculture now has a curriculum in Bio-Environmental Sciences leading to a Bachelor of Science degree.

The program, approved by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, will be administered by the A&M Department of Plant Sciences. Students will be accepted this fall.

Dr. H.O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture, said the program will train scientists to deal with increasing problems of man in relation to his environment. It is strongly oriented to the basic sciences but flexible enough to lead to a variety of careers.

Curriculum objective, the dean said, is to produce graduates for careers in industry or governmental agencies with responsibilities for maintaining and improving environmental quality. Professional competence at the cellular and molecular levels will enable graduates to identify, evaluate and help in solution of environmental problems.

Financial Peril Real For Farmers

The financial situation for agriculture is becoming very serious, according to an internationally recognized authority on agricultural finance.

"Farmers, ranchers and agribusiness firms are entering a perilous new era—one where the financial risks have never been so high," says Dr. John A. Hopkin, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas A&M University and a scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Though capital requirements for investment and operation have never been so great, prices of farm commodities have seldom, if ever, fluctuated so violently over such short periods, Hopkin notes. "The result can be a large and rapid loss of equity, such as the one recently experienced by cattle feeders. This situation could jeopardize the Texas cattle feeding industry."

How can Texas agri-industry best deal with these cost increases, price fluctuations and equity losses?

"First," says Hopkin, "we need to discover new sources and types of financing. Second, we need to develop better ways to reduce the inherent risks in today's agricultural production and marketing. Answers to these problems are being sought by widely-known researchers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station."

"MARKETING strategies of farmers become particularly important in times of high price uncertainty for farm commodities," says Dr. Vernon E. Schneider, Roy B. Davis Distinguished Professor of agricultural cooperation. In his Experiment Station program, Schneider has found that the individual farmer is often helpless to either develop or augment a marketing program by himself, and is increasingly turning to cooperative effort to resolve many of his serious marketing problems.

The Experiment Station, acutely aware of the growing importance of agricultural cooperatives here, is directing research based on organization, finance and marketing problems now faced by cooperatives and other marketing firms which serve the agriculture of Texas.

"RESEARCH indicates that capital and credit needs in Texas agriculture will continue to grow," says Dr. Peter J. Barry, Experiment Station researcher in agricultural finance. "Higher operating costs, increased acreage under cultivation and rising values of land, machinery and other fixed resources are the main reason."

"Farm interest rates have also reached record highs, although still below national prime rates," Barry adds. "Growth in use of debt along with declining liquidity causes severe financial pressure for many farmers and ranchers. TAES research programs are testing numerous ideas in production and marketing that are expected to reduce financial risks and maintain credit."

"Shifts are occurring in courses of agricultural financing," Barry explains. "Financing by PCA's Federal Land Banks and many larger commercial banks has risen greatly. These institutions can obtain funds and efficiently lend to farmers. Many smaller banks feel a serious need for gaining access to funds from outside the rural communities in order to meet this growing demand for farm capital.

"Machinery dealers and other farm supply firms face higher costs of extending credit and lease programs to finance sales of their products. Rising land values continue to encourage sellers of land to use installment contracts and mortgages to finance the sales," concludes Barry.

For several years TAES has co-sponsored the Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers with the Texas Bankers Association, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and others at Texas A&M University. The most recent conference was a three-pronged effort which covered topics of new sources of agricultural funds, forward contracting as it affects the farmer and the banker, and the "mechanics" of servicing several types of loans. "As other needs develop," states Hopkin, "the Experiment Station will develop the necessary research to help solve the problems."

Butcher Studies Tech Offers Night Classes Crime Prevention

Dean Butcher of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff Department is completing the fourth and final summer Texas Crime Prevention Institute class which began Aug. 5 in San Antonio. Butcher, who resides at 421 Ave. G, is assigned to forgery and "hot check" detail and has been with the local department for five years.

Forty-three law enforcement officers from 19 different agencies in Texas and Colorado have participated in the workshops.

By the end of the summer program tomorrow 172 officers will have completed the two-week institute curriculum.

The institute classes have been conducted under the auspices of the Southwest Texas State University Law Enforcement Department, through funding provided by the Criminal Justice Division of the state Governor's Office.

Institute curriculum and philosophy has followed closely that of the National Crime Prevention Institute in Louisville, Ky., although the pattern of the course was particularly streamlined for the state of Texas.

The significance of the statewide institute designed to provide enrichment for in-service law enforcement officers is emphasized by the interest in the Texas program from other states.

The Pueblo, Colo. Police Department was so interested, for example, that four of its officers are attending the current institute class.

SWTSU Law Enforcement Department Chairman Donald B. Harrelson points to another significant aspect of the crime prevention approach.

"During the first six months of this year, the crime rate went up alarmingly. We have good police officers and Departments, but they are not able to have much effect on the crime rate using traditional methods.

"Although we don't have sufficient information for evaluation to say conclusively that a good crime prevention program has an effect, I believe we ought to try it energetically to see if it does, over the long term, reduce crime," Harrelson says.

He adds, "The only way that cities can have a thorough crime prevention program is to have their officers properly trained in the philosophy and techniques of crime prevention. Therefore, I think a permanent crime prevention program on a statewide basis is vital at the present time."

Texas Tech University is offering more than 200 opportunities this fall for students of all ages to attend school at night, studying subjects which range from marriage counseling to price and income theory.

Registration for the night courses is Sept. 3-5.

The Department of Art is offering the greatest number of courses, 21, with subjects varying from an introduction to drawing to graduate level work in painting and sculpture.

Five of the university's six colleges offer night study, and the College of Engineering will continue its Flying Professors Program which allows off-campus students in the region to work toward the master's degree. On campus opportunities are available through the colleges of Agricultural Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Home Economics.

A sampling illustrates the variety of course offerings — landscape architecture, experimental sculpture, botany, zoology, bacteriology, Latin American literature, economics, creative writing, geology, German, linguistics, physiology of exercises, and European, Asian, British, Latin American, ancient and U.S. constitutional history.

Students may also study mathematics for teachers, music in contemporary society, physics, American government, advanced child psychology, criminology, theater activities, accounting, computers in business, personnel administration, school housing, educational psychology or home management for the physically handicapped.

Scores of other courses are on the complete list available through the Office of Academic Affairs, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409. Students may also call that office, 742-6214, or the Division of Continuing Education, 742-7201.

Students may work toward a degree or take courses only because they want to advance their skills or enjoy learning. Registration for the night courses will take place in Building X-15, a temporary structure across the street from the Municipal Auditorium parking lot. Building X-15 will be closed during regular registration, Aug. 28-31 but will reopen for late registration Sept. 3-5. Part-time students working toward degrees or qualifying for certificates in education are encouraged to register Sept. 24, when special advisement services are available, according to Dr. Sam E. Curi, associate vice president for Academic Affairs. Individuals who already have made application for enrollment during the fall semester, he said, should follow the regular registration process.

Students who have not previously enrolled in Texas Tech will be asked to fill out standard admission forms at the time of the special registration.

High school or college transcripts are not required for adults who take undergraduate courses for academic credit but not for a particular degree program. Those who take graduate courses for non-degree credit must have a transcript from the last college or university attended unless the information is on file at Texas Tech.

Residents Invited To Cowbelle Coffee

Hereford residents are invited to take their coffee breaks with the Hereford Cowbelles Tuesday morning from 9 a.m.-12 noon at Community Center. According to Mrs. Olen Caviness, Cowbelle treasurer, the Cowbelle Silver Offering Coffee is a chance to meet friends, enjoy good coffee with lots of delicious goodies and at the same time, put your coffee money to work promoting beef. Those who donated beef for Gristown will be honored at 10 a.m. during the social event. "We urge the public to attend in support of the beef industry which is the hub of our community," Mrs. Caviness said.

Officers Chosen For Newcomers

To be installed at a September meeting, officers for a new club year were elected in Hereford Newcomers Club Saturday, with Mrs. Glenn Perry as president. Mrs. G.L. White will serve as secretary-reporter and Mrs. Arthur Dettman treasurer. Plans were also made for a morning coffee next month, with all newcomers and past members of the club invited. The club's purpose is to help women who are new residents in the city to become acquainted, not only with each other and with their neighbors but with community institutions and services. The August luncheon for club members was held in Community Center Tuesday. Mrs. N.E. Tyler and Mrs. Elmo Hall were invited as representatives of the Cowbelles chapter here, to discuss their organization and its aim of promoting beef consumption. Two visitors were present with the members for the covered dish lunch and program.

YHT Entertains With Swim Party

A swimming party and hamburger supper entertained guests with members of the Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, at Denton Park Pool Monday evening. The informal summer party was planned as a get-acquainted event before the club season begins next month. Mrs. Larry Alley was in charge of food preparation. Melinda Watts was the pool guard during the hour of swimming. Guests included the chapter's "little sister", Isabel Pena, and Mmes. State Norvell, Pat Woodard, George Malouf, Johnny Hopkins and Jose Muse. Members at the party were Mmes. Ronald Rayburn, Tommy Betzen, Charles Weatherford, Connie Urbanczyk, Jim Culepper, Alan Dunning, Ray Berend, Louis Montano, Joe Don Edelman and the chapter adviser, Mrs. W.T. Burelsmith.

Summer Reading Program Ending For Children

Saturday will be the last day of the summer reading program for children at Deaf Smith County Library, and those who have participated will be entertained Aug. 24 with a party in Dameron Park, Librarian Gwen London announces. The program this year has been in two divisions, with a theme of Raindrops for the pre-schoolers and Big Chief Reading Feathers for older children. Each of the young readers received a poster at the start of the program, on which he has listed books read. These posters will be admission tickets to the party in the park.

It's open season on barbecues! It's time to send those aromatic signals from porches, patios and parks all over the land.

You can, of course, spend hours simmering a special sauce for slathering on your burgers, wieners, slices of beef, pork or chicken. But why waste the fuel when you can make a really good one in about ten minutes? Four ingredients will do the trick: just melt 1/2 cup (1 stick) of butter in a small saucepan. Add to that 3/4 cup of chili sauce, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and 1 teaspoon of garlic salt. Simmer those four ingredients for only 5 minutes.

If you make hamburger patties which are extended with bread crumbs, this barbecue sauce may be used in the mixture. Use 1 1/2 pounds of lean ground beef, 1 cup of soft bread crumbs and 1/2 cup of the sauce, with salt, pepper, chopped onion to your taste. Brush additional sauce on the burgers just before serving on buttered buns.

This is a sauce that can be used as a brush-on kind for wieners, slices of leftover beef or pork or serving-sized pieces of chicken. Even if these other meats are a leftover variety like beef or pork roast, the sauce perks them up. It will moisten the meat as well as adding flavor.

Use barbecued meats on a bun with a simple, tossed salad, glasses of chilled milk, and ice cream and/or fruit with cookies, perhaps, to give you an easy meal representing the four basic food groups. It's satisfying and a snap to put together.

Wisdom is the art of proportion.

Sue Shirley Wins Rebekahs Plan Visit Of Officer TAEHE Scholarship

Reception plans for the visit of a Rebekah district president were finalized by the Hereford Lodge Tuesday evening in IOOF Hall. Noble Grand Edna Mathes presided over preparations for the Sept. 4 arrival of Cleota Brooks, who will tour District Five while headquartered at the local lodge. Mrs. Jim Loving, lodge deputy, directed a school of instruction. Names were announced of those to be involved in degree work during Mrs. Brooks' visit. Annie Freeman was hostess during the social hour to 15 members.

Marilyn Sue Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Shirley Jr. of 912 S. Main, was a recipient of the Ann Sonner Scholarship during the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists in Austin last week. Miss Shirley is a 1972 graduate of Hereford High School, a student this summer in West Texas State University taking courses which will enable her to receive a degree in home economics education from Texas Tech after a 1975 summer semester. A ten-year member of 4-H Clubs, she received the scholarship on the basis of her record in 4-H work. She has been awarded other scholarships and earned major 4-H awards including the Texas Plains Key Award of 1971, a trip to the National 4-H Citizenship Short course in Washington, D.C. the same year and the Deaf Smith County Gold Star Award in 1972. Since she is a summer student and was unable to go to the Austin meeting, the cash scholarship was accepted for her by Joyce Shipp, Deaf Smith County Extension Agent. Miss Shirley, who has carried out various leadership programs in her 4-H work and held all local club and County 4-H Council offices, plans a career as an extension agent. Music is one of her chief interests; she plays piano and organ, has taught piano and taken part in school musical groups. Energy problems, a nuclear power plant in Texas, land use, women and legislation were talk topics during the home economists' meeting. James M. Rose, director of the Governor's planning and coordinating board addressed the group on The Consumer and the Energy Crisis. Other activities during the three-day meet included a river boat ride, a tour of the LBJ Library and a reception at the Governor's Mansion.

Farewell Dinner To Honor Pastor

A basket dinner in honor of the Gene Meacham family, who will soon be leaving for missionary training, will be held Sunday at Dawn Baptist Church. Regular morning services will begin at 11 a.m. and will be followed at noon by the meal. Another worship service is scheduled at 2 p.m. and there will be no evening service. The public is cordially invited. Those attending are asked to bring a family portion serving of meat, vegetable or salad, and dessert. The Rev. # Fir Street's Party To Be Held Today

Residents of Fir Street, who have made a tradition of their summer street party, will gather in Dameron Park at 8 p.m. today for a picnic supper and their usual informal visiting to get acquainted with newcomers to their neighborhood. All residents of Fir Street are urged to attend the party. Those living in the 200 block will be host this year. Started several years ago when homes in that section of the city were just being built and few of the residents knew each other, the street party has continued each year as the original residents welcome new families. There are now 176 persons residing in the houses facing Fir Street.

Ricketts Family Holds Reunion

It was the 68th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts that was celebrated when their family held its annual reunion at a dinner in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn Sunday. Approximately 120 relatives were present. Children of the honored couple were Mrs. Clyde Russell of Hereford, Mrs. Howard Higgins of Texline, Glenn Ricketts of Santa Fe, Mrs. Archie Daugherty of Clovis and Mrs. L.L. McBrayer of Dalhart. Others at the reunion were grandchildren, great-grandchildren, sisters, brothers, nieces, nephews and in-laws, many of whom live in Hereford. From other cities were the Eldredge Dixon and Jim McDonald families and Howard Higgins of Texline, Mrs. Lloyd Milam and family of Albuquerque, the Joe Neely family and John Burns of Alma, Ark., the C.D. ## Pool Party Given For Vacation Fun Vacation inactivity for Alpha Iota Mu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was broken Saturday evening with a pool party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walser, where members entertained their husbands and other guests.

Swimming was varied with card games in the cool yard, then hamburgers were prepared for a supper topped off with homemade ice cream.

Prizes in the games were awarded to Mrs. Clyde Whitaker, Mrs. Jerry LaFrance and Chuck Laing.

Guest couples were the Charles Boyds, the John Schneiders and the Laings. Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Laing are chapter advisors.

Member couples present were Messrs. and Mmes. Ken Glenn, Coy Mason, Bill Drake, Gerald Sledge, Johnie Burkhalter, LaFrance, Whitaker and Walser; also Carla George and Randy Jones.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haug of 417 Ave. J announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula, to Jim Gregston of Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. N.R. Gregston of that city. Miss Haug, a 1973 graduate of Hereford High School, is employed as a dental assistant in Houston. Her fiancé is a student at St. Anthony's Catholic Church here Sept. 14.

Bride-To-Be Is Shower Honoree

Fiancee of a Hereford man, Kim Gripp, Paula Herring of Sentinel, Okla., was complimented with a shower Monday evening during a visit here. A Sept. 7 wedding is planned by the couple, both students of Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Okla.

Mrs. Spicer Gripp, mother of the bridegroom-elect, greeted guests with Mrs. Earl Holt, in whose home the shower was given, and introduced them to Miss Herring and her mother, Mrs. Dwayne Herring of Sentinel.

The honoree wore a print dress in blending shades of blue, floor length, with blue accessories. Pink carnation corsages tied with burgundy ribbons were presented to those in the receiving line.

Those colors, which will appear in wedding decorations, were repeated in an arrangement of carnations and gladioli on the table where Mrs. Jeff Davenport, Vicki Alford and Gayle Gripp served refreshments.

Hostesses in addition to Mrs. Holt were Mmes. Floyd Cole, Don Clark, Tandy Legg, Joel Hodges, Bobby Jones, Glenn Green, Joe Ed Andrews, Carl Alford, Charles Duvall, Ray Todd, B.G. Cotten, Glen Wilson, J.J. Durham, Buster Miller, George Olson and Bob Sims.

At The Library

Two New Novels Feature Suspense

Suspense novels are among new books on the shelves of Deaf Smith County Library, two of them with widely different themes and settings. These and other books in the library are available to residents without charge, along with numerous periodicals including several large-city daily newspapers.

Open at 9 a.m. on weekdays, the library keeps evening hours to 9 p.m. Mondays and closes at 12 noon Saturdays. The public is invited to use its reading rooms and reference room during these hours, and to check out books for home reading.

One of the new books, The Voice Of Armageddon, is a chilling story of a threat of spectacular violence to take the lives of high government officials, the other, Kilgaren, a tale of romance and intrigue on a West Indian island.

Vice President of the United States and how easy it would be for me to have killed him. In fact, the pistol was in my pocket.

"But the man was not sufficient to my purpose. For mine will be an act so vast it will become the yardstick against which all assassinations, past and future, will be measured."

The last tape concludes with the sentence: "And the time is Armageddon minus 48."

Forty-eight days in which to find an assassin who provides pictures of himself, clues and even a timetable while challenging the strongest legal agencies in the country.

An emergency task force is set up under the leadership of Carlton Ambrose, a marijuana-smoking psychoanalyst specializing in the criminal mind.

What the reader knows, but what the task force must find out, is that Armageddon—in reality a brilliant but unstable man named Lars Colonius—has decided against assassination because "most of the attention goes to the victims."

Instead he has planned a spectacular act of violence to ensure that his name will be remembered forever. But even the reader, who is a witness to step preparations, does not know until two thirds of the way through this spine-chilling novel what that act will be.

And then horror and tension mount as the day of Armageddon moves ever and more inexorably closer while Ambrose and his task force remain as far from Colonius as they ever were.

KILGAREN
By Isabelle Holland

The name Kilgaren had long identified a small green island on the West Indian map, a large and weathered Great House, a family that had dominated its people and managed its sea-girt land for generations.

The first rumors of trouble and a devastating fire at Four Winds sent eight-year-old Barbara Kilgaren and her mother away to the States. By then, some 10 years later, without warning or preamble there came a letter from Jonathan Kilgaren, Barbara's older, strong-willed half-brother to pack her belongings and return to a heritage she had all but forgotten.

Barbara Kilgaren's reluctant journey to her ancestral home soon enmeshes her in a scene her conventional upbringing hadn't allowed for.

Before Kilgaren has run its course, Barbara undergoes a post-graduate course in ancestral deception, tangled bloodlines, mortal danger, and unexpected romance. Her story will grip, and satisfy, the most discriminating reader of suspense.

THE VOICE OF ARMAGEDDON

By David Lippincott

Within a four-week period of time the Justice Department receives four photographs mailed from various parts of the country.

In each the same unknown man is shown shaking hands with a celebrity at some public occasion: the Vice President, Henry Ford II, Leonard Bernstein and Johnny Carson.

Accompanying the photos are splices whose words have been taped from radio and TV programs. The first tape bears the following message:

"This is the voice of Armageddon. You can see how close I was able to get to the

Sunshine Club Plans Picnic

A picnic was slated for Thursday by members of Sunshine Club during a meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Cottie Green, 402 Western.

Mrs. Clint Lundry volunteered to host the outdoor event at her home.

Other business included the acceptance of a new member, Mrs. Gladys Flood. Several of the women received secret pal gifts.

Mrs. Green served a salad supper to these women: Mmes. Willa Dyne Brooks, Elmer Fryar, Lundry, George Miner, Nell Pitman, Edith Sheppard and Helen Watts.

Cabbage is a good source of vitamin C and one-half cup of shredded cabbage contains only 10 calories.

Did you know?—Mild cheese refers to the degree of curdling (or ripening) and the term is generally applied to cheddar cheese. . . . Sharp or "aged" cheese is cured longer and held at a specific temperature and humidity.

Birthday Honorees

Celebrating birthdays in August, these four were among honorees at the monthly party for residents of Westgate Unit, Kings Manor retirement home. From left are Sally Mays, Mary Campbell, Jane Hughes and Carrie Lillard. Others with August birthdays were Dunk Reed, Bonnie Wilson, Mary Siegler and Ardis Stamper. The Women's Organization of St. Anthony's Catholic Church was host group for the recent party and provided the decorated cake on the table.

Glorieta Staff Holds 'Christmas In July'

The summer staff at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center recently conducted the annual "Christmas in July" program for the children at the Ranchos de las Angélicas (Branch of the Angels), a summer home for mentally retarded children located at Santa Fe, N.M.

The Ranch of the Angels is a summer resort for the retarded children from the Children's Haven in Dallas. Each summer, 16 children are brought to the camp for schooling, relaxation and recreation, while 50 other children remain in Dallas. Both the Children's Haven and Branch of the Angels are owned by Miss Innes of Dallas.

The Glorieta summer staff consists of 300 college and high school students from all 50 states and several foreign countries. This year the staff contributed over $250 to the "Christmas in July" program. The money was used to buy presents for the children.

"The work with the retarded children in Santa Fe is one of the most worthwhile projects the staff does each summer," says Larry Blum, manager of the conference center. "The Christian concept to care for your fellowman regardless of his mental or physical handicap. This is one way the staff can exert their Christian love for mankind."

Several years ago, staffers began going to the Ranch to sing and play with the kids, said Gene Konegay, Glorieta staff activities director. Now about 25 staffers go to the home each week. The "Christmas in July" idea grew out of this weekly encounter.

"The best thing about working with these kids is the love that grows between the kids and the staff," added Konegay. "These kids are from Louisiana and Illinois and are sent to the Children's Haven by the state's welfare agency because the parents don't want them."

"In a lot of cases the staffers take the place of their parents. They never see their parents or have a family relationship, so they sort of replace the staffers for parents—during the summer anyway."

Myrt Bluminger, director of the Ranch of the Angels, pointed out that the boys' dorm at the Children's Haven burned a week before the children came to Santa Fe.

"All the recreation equipment was lost," she said. "In fact, everything was lost except for the clothes the children were wearing. The sports equipment the Glorieta staff bought for the children sure came in handy. It will help toward our rebuilding."

The inscription on the side of the bus owned by the Ranch of the Angels reads, "For Angels Unaware," concluded Konegay. "That's what these children are."

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

NOTE to the weatherman—All is forgiven, since we've had such a nice succession of fall days in August, for those miserably hot, dry weeks early in the summer. Even if there is some more summer it should be bearable after the cooling-off period.

But P.S.—Of course it would be much better with some pre-fall rain. Lots of it.

IT WASN'T just a name, but a whole paragraph that was left out of the Sunday Brand account of the Glenda Dodson-Alan Olson wedding. The result may have left the impression that both of them are orphans.

It said something like: Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Dodson of 406 McKinney, and of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Olson of 122 North Texas.

That's an important detail of any wedding report, and it should have been the second paragraph in the story.

PLEASURE and business combined nicely on a trip to Colorado last week by Bub Sparks, manager of Consumers Fuel Co-Op, and Andrew Kershen, another local representative to a Co-Op Conference at Estes Park attended by delegates from several states.

Georgia Sparks and Ann Kershen accompanied their husbands, also the Sparks' sons Jerry and Terry went along, and guests Connie Matthews and Kerrie Womble, for a pleasant vacation up in mountain country that enjoyed an August blizzard while they were there.

THOSE examinations required for CPA rating, which all accountants assure us are very tough, have been passed successfully by Virginia Richardson, she was informed this week. Now she faces several months internship and then she can put the hard-earned initials after her name.

Virginia is a newcomer here, the former Virginia Lehenbauer of Amarillo who married Ken Richardson, Brand advertising salesman, in June.

ARTISTS in this area who wish to exhibit their work for professional judging, cash prizes and gift certificates are invited to do so in the seventh annual Sidewalk Art Festival at Littlefield Aug. 23. It is sponsored by the women's division of the Littlefield C of C, the Art Association and merchants of that city.

Entries are to be made after 1 p.m. the day of the show, in the 500 block on the west side of Phelps Ave. Exhibits are limited to work done within the past year, only five entries per person. There are two divisions, painting and arts-crafts, each with adult, junior and intermediate sub-divisions.

Names Made Visible

Mrs. Joe Henry of the membership committee, Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, shows one of the new name tags in the shape of Texas maps which are now available to members. Mrs. Joe Henry, membership chairman, is encouraging all 165 women in the organization to place orders soon by calling the Chamber office, 364-3333. The member's name will be engraved on the pin, which sells for $2. Pins will be distributed at the general meeting Oct. 1.

Missionary To Speak At Church Tonight

Glenn Smith, missionary in the Caribbean Isles, will be the featured speaker during worship services tonight at 7:30 p.m. at United Pentecostal Church, corner of Ave. H and Lafayette. The public is invited to attend.

Perhaps the only thing better than a cup of freshly brewed coffee is a cup of freshly brewed coffee freshly ground. A coffee mill—say KitchenAid researchers—releases the full-bodied flavor of coffee when you want it. Remember, most dark green and deep yellow vegetables excel as inexpensive and dependable sources of vitamin A.

- Know The Mixing Knead Cream—No heat shortening and sugar until thoroughly blended and creamy.
  - Meringue—A stiffly beaten mixture of egg whites and sugar.
  - Planetary Action—The most efficient means yet discovered for mixing and blending foods. In this time-tested mixing technique, long ago developed by engineers at KitchenAid, a single beater turns in one direction while revolving around the bowl in the opposite direction. The bowl itself remains stationary, helping to mix ingredients faster and more thoroughly.
  - This is the same method used by commercial bakery mixers, and—like the commercial units—two of the three KitchenAid Food Preparators use a special "tough hook" for mixing and kneading homemade yeast breads. And, what's better than homemade bread?
  - (This drawing shows the complete mixing coverage of the bowl made by the path of the beater.)
  - Whip—No heat rapidly to incorporate air and produce expansion—i.e., egg whites and heavy cream.
  - Higher fuel prices foreseen this winter.

GED Test Series Begins Monday

Starting Monday and Tuesday, General Education Development (GED) Tests will be given on the third Monday and following Tuesday during each month of the 1974-75 school term.

The exams will be offered in the Administrative Office of the Hereford Independent School District across the street south from the high school.

Tests are scheduled for 8:30 a.m.

GED Tests are designed for adults who have not received a high school diploma. The Texas Education Agency issues a Certificate of High School Equivalency to those who earn satisfactory scores on the tests.

The GED is divided into five parts, with each segment requiring about two hours to complete. Testing fee is $10.

For further information, call Robert L. Thompson at 364-0843.

Hereford Riders Tops

Host club members carried off top honors in all events when Hereford Riders Club met with other clubs of Range II Sunday in the final summer playday at Riders Arena here.

Mrs. Carlton Richards and Jay Kerr totaled high points for women and men respectively in the senior division. Pam Kerr and Sam Finley for intermediates, Toni Blackwell and Lee Washington among junior riders, Jana Johnson and Joe Smith in the peewee division.

Winners from Range II will take part in the final united playday with Range I winners at Rolling Hills Arena in Amarillo Sept. 8.

The top five winners there in each game, will go to the superfinals at Quanah later in the fall, to compete with those chosen from ranges in that vicinity.

Reid Promoted To Army Post

James T. Reid, 23, son of Mrs. Betty E. McBayde of 1105 S. 4th St., Raton, N.M., was promoted to Army Specialist Five in Germany in Nurnberg. His father, John T. Reid, lives in Hereford.

Koenig Completes Airborne Course

Army ROTC Cadet Wayne L. Koenig, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Koenig, Route 3, received a parachutist badge upon completion of the three-week Airborne Course at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga. During the first week of training, he underwent a rigorous physical training program and received instruction in the theory of parachuting. The second week tested his ability through jumps from 34-foot and 250-foot towers. The final week he was required to perform five static line parachute jumps.

Cadet Koenig is a student at Texas Technological University in Lubbock.

Green Valley Names New Leaders

A new club year began in Green Valley 4-H Club Monday with a tour of Amarillo Livestock Auction Co. and election of officers for the coming term. Rhonda Hagar was named president.

To serve with her are Denni Brillhart, vice president; Alonso Cabezuela, secretary-treasurer; Mark Betzen, delegate to the County 4-H Council, and Sherry Strain, reporter.

Clarence Betzen was guide for the club's field trip, which featured the visit to the auction facilities. Afterward the group went to Thompson Park for rounds of miniature golf, the business meeting and a picnic supper.

Meat Prices Up

Meat prices are trending upwards as predicted, Mrs. Gwendolyn Cyatt said this week.
"Bacon and ham prices have increased, and the cost of many fresh pork and beef cuts have risen," the consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, added.
"Prices on blade chuck roasts and corned beef are economical, and some stores are offering ground beef with soy protein, round steak, standing rib roast and beef liver at special prices."
Occasional values at pork counters include quarter loins cut into chops and liver.
Chickens are also a little higher than they were, and consumer demand has dropped a bit — probably because of fewer bargain prices, Mrs. Cyatt said. Diminishing appetites during hot weather may be another factor, she speculated.
The marketing information specialist further predicted higher egg prices within the next few weeks.
Noting that now is the time to enjoy fresh fruit and vegetables currently on the market, Mrs. Cyatt also predicted higher prices for processed fruits and vegetables.
"At fresh vegetable counters, lettuce is abundant with prices a bit lower, and potatoes follow the same pattern. Cabbage, dry yellow onions, okra, squash, radishes and green onions are among the most economical choices.
"At fruit counters, plums and nectarines are in good supply, and prices are mostly moderate. Peach prices are relatively high.
"Cantaloupes and watermelons — of excellent quality — are moderately priced, and grape prices should decrease some as their season progresses," the specialist said.

AC To Staff Veterans Rep

Amarillo College will be among the 2,763 colleges and universities across the nation to have a veterans education and training representative (Vet Rep) assigned full time to assist enrolled veterans.
"Last year there were many complaints from veterans not getting their monthly checks. Congress heard about this and to remedy the situation, Veterans Administration representatives were assigned to college campuses," said J. Fred Balderston, registrar.
The Vet Rep will be counselor for campus veterans, answering questions and resolving problems relating to VA benefits.
Each college that has 500 full-time veteran students enrolled is assigned one full-time vet representative.
George Doggett, assigned by the Waco VA, will assume duties at AC as well as making visits to Frank Phillips Junior College in Borger and to Clarendon Junior College.
Doggett will be located in the registrar's office in the Washington Street Administration Building.

Enrollment Open For AC Vocational Her Favorite Project Combines Two Aims

Registration will begin Monday for the fall term at the Amarillo College School of Vocational Arts, 6222 W. 9th. Fall study fare will include air conditioning and refrigeration, auto-motive mechanics, commercial electronics, diesel mechanics, and welding.

Everett Williams, dean of the West campus vocational school, has requested that prospective students submit an application form in advance of registration. The forms are available at the school's Administration Building.

New full-time students may begin registration at 9:15 a.m. New part-time students may start at 6:45 p.m.

Full-time students already enrolled will register at 8 a.m. and part-time students returning to campus will sign up at 6 p.m.

Late registration is scheduled through Aug. 26.

Full-time tuition for welding studies is $105. Each other course entails $75 tuition.

Tuition for the evening welding class is $65. Other half-time courses cost $50. The term will end Nov. 10.

Kendrick Addresses Legal Secretaries

Thomas W. Kendrick, Hereford lawyer, moderated a workshop for the Deaf Smith-Castro Counties Legal Secretaries Association during a monthly membership meeting recently in the law library of Witherspoon, Aikin, Langley, Woods, Kendrick and Guley Law Firm.

Kendrick's program, which followed a brief business session, focused on the functions of the law library.

Mary Pagett, a local secretary, was accepted as a new member of the association.

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

BEEF-EATING is an activity that Mrs. N.E. Tyler encourages, as president of Hereford CowBelles whose purpose is to promote use of beef. And her current enthusiasm is the Texas CowBelles' Beef-For-Girlstown project, of which she is state chairman.

A resident of the ranch country of Western Deaf Smith County for 13 years before she moved to Hereford, with brothers who still are ranchers, Mrs. Tyler has reason to be especially interested in beef promotion.

She suggested the Girlstown project to the state organization of women associated with cattle production and marketing, after learning about the girls residence home's need for meat.

A CASUAL conversation with Nolan Grady, president of Hereford Lions Club which has been active in support of Girlstown, gave her the idea.

Since it fits CowBelle objectives, and at the same time helps girls in the West and Central Texas homes, it was promptly adopted by members from over the state.

Now the committee headed by the Hereford woman is asking for contributions of beef, and also for money which is used to buy beef as advocated by CowBelles.

Mrs. Tyler practices what she preaches about use of beef by preparing it often for family meals. A businesswoman who frequently has limited time for cooking a meal, she says "the handiest thing to cook in a hurry for a substantial meal, is broiled steak" and she has evolved a method of cooking it to suit her family's taste.

HURRY-UP STEAK

Club steak may be broiled just as it comes from the freezer, with the broiler setting on Slow.

If thawed first, set the broiler on high heat and in either case the time of cooking depends on the degree of "done-ness" preferred.

For the distinctive flavor the Tylers like, season the steak with liquid smoke, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper while it is cooking.

HER STYLE of cookery Mrs. Tyler acquired, she says, from her mother, Mrs. Tom Hall of Hereford who enjoys a high reputation for culinary skill.

"But she cooks by the 'pinch of this and handful of that' system," Mrs. Tyler says, "and it isn't easy to learn to cook that way. However, when we lived on the ranch I got a lot of practice cooking for hands, as well as for my family."

The Tylers lived on the Guseman ranch just this side of the New Mexico line, and in their own home 30 miles west of Hereford on Harrison Highway before they moved to town in 1965.

FORMERLY Mam Hall, Mrs. Tyler was born at Floydada, a member of a farm family, and lived there until after her marriage. The Tylers have three children. Daughter Nancy is Mrs. Gary Victor and like son Kelly lives in Hereford. The younger son, Jerry, is a Texas Tech student at Lubbock.

Mrs. N.E. Tyler
...ranch background is asset

Mrs. Tyler is proud of her grandchildren, the Victors' daughter Donna and twins Jamie and Jared and the Kelly Tylers' new son, James Paul. After the family moved to Hereford Mrs. Tyler worked a short time in a bank, then with Holly Sugar two seasons, then was credit manager for Sears - "a combination of jobs that couldn't have been better for getting me acquainted with people from all over the county."

SUCH WIDE acquaintance is invaluable in her present business, real estate. And her farm and ranch background gives her an advantage lacking for most women in real estate, in selling farms and ranches. When she talks to a prospective customer about land, he can tell she has "been there."

"It certainly isn't unusual any more to see women in real estate," she observes, "but there aren't many who deal in farm and ranch land because in this business you have to know what you're selling, and few women know enough about this branch of real estate."

She became a real estate salesman after a friend proposed that they both take a course in the subject offered by Amarillo College. After the 30-hour course she passed the salesman's tests, then completed the next course and qualified as a broker, and added more study in real estate financing.

ABOUT A year with a local real estate firm and she went on her own, and says she enjoys the work enough that it's a hobby as well as a business. Association with many people, of all types, is the thing she likes best.

"You do meet all kinds, the over-eager as well as the reluctant," blonde Mrs. Tyler laughs.

In the latter class she cites a young man who bought some land in this county and before final papers were ready or the place surveyed, a neighboring farmer phoned her to report, "It looks like they're fixing to drill a well on my side of the line."

She checked hurriedly, found that he was right and saw the drilling equipment moved.

"THE BUYER was that eager to get to work on his own farm, and had a chance to hire the well rig immediately or wait several weeks, so he rushed ahead," she relates. "And that wasn't the first time I've found that the real estate dealer has more to do than just make a sale and see that the papers are in order!"

When she has any spare time Mrs. Tyler likes to join others in her family for camping. They often go to Ute Lake and lately returned from a trip a bit further into New Mexico, around Cimarron and Ute Park.

"I'M THE outdoor type," she admits, "and like to camp where water sports are handy. My family says I'm a screaming skier, with more screams than skiing, but water skiing is fun anyway."

Another sport all the Tyler-Hall clan enjoys is football. Her husband, sons and brothers played, "and cheerleaders run in the family too; I was one in high school, so were my sisters and daughter. Now a niece is a cheerleader while a nephew - and my grandsons - are growing up to be players again. Meantime all of us go to all the games we can reach, in and out of town."

Law Degree To Be Conferred

The degree of doctor of jurisprudence is to be conferred on Richard O. Gonzales of Hereford in summer commencement exercises of the University of Houston Saturday afternoon. He has attended the UoH law school after graduation from the University of Texas at Austin.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Delfino Gonzales, 234 Ave. C, Gonzales, started school in Hereford and is a graduate of Hereford High. He attended West Texas State University two years before going to Austin.

He and his wife have been in Washington, D.C. on business connected with government employment which will begin this month for him, with headquarters in the area of Mission in South Texas. Their daughter Maria is visiting in her grandparents' home here.

There is nothing sweeter than youth, nor anything as truthful.

B.J. Crowley's HOROSCOPE

Week of August 11, 1974

LEO--Those born under this sign have an abundance of self confidence. They are lovers of luxury, who often have to fight the tendency to show off. Blessed with many fine talents, they make good leaders.

LEO--July 23 to Aug. 22 -- Avoid the tendency to react in a childish fashion. Others don't want to put up with your argumentative mood. A little thoughtfulness for others will put you in good stead.

VIRGO--Aug. 23 to Sept. 22--Get your work out of the way early this week so you can relax later this week. Take care of necessities first.

LIBRA--Sept. 23 to Oct. 22--Hold tightly to your purse strings. Pamper your savings account by paying it as though it were a bill.

SCORPIO--Oct. 23 to Nov. 22--You may have to handle a family problem with a great deal of tact. Whatever you do, don't lose your temper.

SAGITTARIUS--Nov. 23 to Dec. 21--Surprise an elderly relative or friend with a small gift. Start a self-improvement program for your appearance and manners.

CAPRICORN--Dec. 22 to Jan. 19--Learn to control your moods. Others have feelings too. Avoid the tendency to criticize your loved ones.

AQUARIUS--Jan. 20 to Feb. 18--An idea that seemed far out before, suddenly makes sense now. Keep it to yourself for the present. Stay away from someone who seems bent on provoking you.

PISCES--Feb. 19 to March 20--Plan a short vacation. The change of pace will work wonders for you. For the time being take care of your own business.

ARIES--March 21 to April 20--Get as many of your first of the month obligations out of the way as possible. If you are involved with children, spend some time with them.

TAURUS--April 21 to May 20--A family conference could prove rewarding. A great deal of understanding never before achieved could come about.

GEMINI--May 21 to June 20--Your optimism is justified. The period you now move into should be richly rewarding. A strong chance exists that your talent will be discovered.

CANCER--June 21 to July 22--Stick to business this week. Recreation can come later. You may have to work longer hours temporarily to achieve your goals.

The Rev. George M. Schelter
...ordained by his father

Rev. Schelter Ordains Son

The Rev. George M. Schelter, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Herman J. Schelter of 303 Western, was ordained and installed as a pastor of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod at St. James Lutheran Church, Grosse Pointe, Mich., where he will serve on the team ministry.

The Rev. George Schelter, a native of Cypress, attended Concordia Junior College in Austin and Concordia Senior College in Fort Wayne, Ind. He received his Master of Divinity degree from Concordia Seminary in Exile, St. Louis, through the Lutheran School of Theology, Chicago in May 1974. His vicarage was served at St. Paul Lutheran Church in New Orleans.

The Rev. Herman Schelter, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church here, ordained his son. The Rev. George E. Kurz, Pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, Grosse Pointe, conducted the installation, and the Rev. William Woldt, Mission Counselor for the English District, The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, delivered the sermon.

Other pastors officiating at the service included the Rev. Richard Feucht, Director of Parish Education for the English District, and the Rev. Carl Sangers, Circuit Counselor for the Detroit East Circuit for the English District liturgists, and the Rev. Edwin Rehrauer, Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, Detroit, lector. The chancel choir of St. James Church, under the direction of Herman A. Klein, sang "Gloria" by Mozart.

A reception for Pastor Schelter and his family was held after the service.

Fair 'General Store' Will Exhibit Antiques

AUSTIN—An old shoe-shine chair, cream separator, sausage grinder and numerous farming implements are among the antiques collected from East and Central Texas farms for display in the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) general store at the State Fair in October.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said almost all the antiques necessary to outfit a complete general store have already been assembled and will be installed in the display which will cover a fifth of the Food and Fiber Pavilion.

Responsibility for creating the store is in the hands of TDA's marketing division. "The Texas Department of Agriculture is grateful to all the people who have loaned us articles from the past," White said. "Their generosity will help us make the Food and Fiber Pavilion one of the most interesting and educational exhibits at the fair."

A complete store will be built inside the pavilion. It will have paneled walls, a beamed ceiling effect, windows and a front porch visitors will cross to enter the building.

In addition to antiques, some 40 Texas products will be displayed. Old-time recipes will be given away and a daily drawing for a basket of Texas products will be held. A dairy and cola product will be served all day and a complete meal made from Texas products will be on display.

When the fair ends the store's paneling will be returned to the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin where it will be used to create a country store museum in the Stephen F. Austin Building.

The museum will be similar to the fair display and will include a slide show on the progress of agriculture since the turn of the century

Entries Wanted For Art Show

Artists and craftsmen from this area are invited to send entries to the Fifth Republic of Texas Chilympiad Arts and Crafts Show in San Marcos.

Although the arts and crafts show is just one of the many attractions of this State Chili Cook-off, a Chilympiad aficionado reports that this event has been one of the most interesting for chili buffs (and profitable for hundreds of artists) throughout its five year history.

The cook-off with its many attractions is expected to draw between 75,000 and 100,000 persons for the event, which is scheduled Sept. 19-22. "In fact the vent has been so successful that we have had to extend it one extra day," said one of the San Marcos chili pod directors.

And this year's event will not be at the traditional site, the famous Aquarena Springs resort. The people of Hays County have recently completed a 50 acre civic center complex located off IH 35 between Austin and San Antonio.

"This new site has afforded plenty of room to spread out on," said the director, "and even allocates a sheltered area for the arts and crafts display."

The display area is 10,800 square feet, and completely covered to ensure environmental protection. Chilympiad directors have also commissioned a security guard so that the arts and crafts people may leave their displays up overnight.

"There's one drawback, however," said the director. "We've decided to place the display areas on a first come basis and we're only allowing 150 spaces for the show."

Entry fee for the arts and crafts displays is $15 for the four-day Chilympiad festivities.

Those desiring to enter should have their entries in as soon as possible to ensure a space. Mail to Chilympiad Arts & Crafts Show, P.O. Box 2310, San Marcos, TX 78666. Those late comers will receive a refund if spaces are taken.

As mentioned, the arts and crafts extravaganza is only one of the events for the four-day zany chili battle. Also featured will be the Ole Fiddlers Fiddle-Off, antique and classic car show, Confederate Air Force Static Display and the Chilympiad Beauty Pageant.

Every night of the Thursday through Sunday cook-off will be filled with dancing and entertainment by top musical performers. Willie Nelson, that composer and singer of progressive country and western music will be performing Friday and Saturday evenings; Darrell McCall is billed for Thursday; and the Velvets for Sunday's dance.

Larger Crops Indicate Good Year For South

If there are any doubters still around who believe the agricultural south is disappearing, they probably haven't taken a good look at what's going on in crop production this year.

That's the opinion of Emory Cunningham, president and publisher of Progressive Farmer magazine.

He says southern farmers have over a million and a half extra acres planted to major crops this year, compared to 1973. Cotton acreage in the south and southwest is up 13 per cent and corn and rice plantings are up 10 per cent each over a year ago.

States with significant increases in cotton acreage include Mississippi, 455,000; Arkansas, 380,000; Texas, 200,000; Tennessee, 120,000; and Alabama, 95,000. The south planted well over 90 per cent of the nation's cotton, with a total acreage of 12,670,000. Texas, alone, grows more than 5,600,000 acres of cotton.

Corn acreage increases were the largest in the following states: Texas, 230,000; North Carolina, 170,000; Georgia, 160,000; Kentucky, 130,000; and South Carolina, 100,000. This region planted well over 10,500,000 acres to corn in 1974. Southern states growing more than one million acres of corn each are Georgia, 2,000,000; North Carolina, 1,700,000; and Kentucky, 1,300,000.

North Carolina and Kentucky are the only states to grow more than 100,000 acres of tobacco, with North Carolina holding a commanding lead of 408,000 acres to Kentucky's 183,000.

Peanut acreage, a crop grown almost exclusively in the south, totals 1,530,000 acres for this year, slightly from a year ago. Rice growing is concentrated in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. The 2,000,000 acres planted this year represent a slight increase over 1973.

Soybean and sorghum acreages are down from last year. Soybeans is the south's most widely grown crop now, totalling 18,000,000 acres. Arkansas is the soybean acreage leader with 4,400,000 acres. Texas dominates the sorghum growing group of states with 7,600,000 acres.

Farm Receipts Double

USDA reports the 1973 farm cash receipts at $88,589,322,000. Livestock and livestock products accounted for $46,243,653,000 or 52.2 per cent of the total. Cash receipts from crops amounted to $42,345,669,000 or 47.8 per cent of total.

In the livestock and livestock product category, cattle and calves sold amounted to $22,738,918,000 or 49.2 per cent of all livestock and livestock products sold. Dairy products sold in 1973 amounted to $8,071,176,000 which was 17.45 per cent of all livestock products sold. Hogs were third in line with $7,645,627,000 in sales and accounting for 16.53 per cent of the total livestock products sold.

If the three top cash receipt categories are added together, cattle and calves, dairy products and hogs, they account for 83.18 per cent of all the livestock products sold in 1973. Eggs were fourth and broilers were fifth in this particular category.

In the field crops category, soybeans were by far the largest producer of cash in 1973 at $8,846,540,000 or 20.89 per cent of all dollars earned from field crops. Corn was second at $7,535,156,000 or 17.79 per cent of the total. Wheat was third in line at $5,688,114,000 or 13.43 per cent of the total.

When the three top sales categories are added together, soybeans, corn and wheat, they amount to 52.11 per cent of all crop sales in 1973. Cotton was fourth in line producing only 5.4 per cent of total field crop sales.

Direct government payments to farmers and ranchers in 1973 were reported at $2,607,000,000. Farmers and ranchers in the $100,000 and over sales classification group received 19.8 per cent of the total.

Farms and ranches with less than $2,500 sales accounted for 3.2 per cent of the total. Farms and ranches in the $20,000 to $40,000 class the largest share of government payments: 26.2 per cent.

Those in the $40,000 to $100,000 class were next in line; 26.7 per cent of the total. The $10,000 to $20,000 class received 11.3 per cent and the $5,000 to $10,000 group received 5.1 per cent of the total.

Stocker Cattle Near 6½ Million

Stocker cattle on farms and ranches in Texas as of July 1 are estimated at 6,447,000 head compared with 5,495,000 recorded on July 1 last year.

Stocker cattle exclude cows; replacement heifers, 500 pounds plus; bulls, 500 pounds plus; and cattle on feed.

Stocker cattle numbers July 1 are sharply above January 1 where the cow-calf operations are dominant, such as East Texas. Numbers July 1 are down from January 1 on the Northern High Plains where January 1 numbers are at a higher level because of stocker cattle shipped in for winter wheat pasture.

Sound Judgment Needed In Growing Late Cotton

Because of erratic weather conditions over the South Plains this year, the cotton crop varies as much as six weeks in planting dates. This means farmers will need to look carefully at soil and plant conditions and stages of growth as they determine when to irrigate, says Dr. Bob Metzger, area agronomist.

"Hot, sunny weather has promoted heavy fruiting with less vegetative growth in most of our irrigated early-planted cotton," says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

"Irrigation in many fields of early cotton has been behind schedule all season. Early cotton can utilize considerably more water due to the heavy fruit load with less than normal vegetative growth. "But we face a different picture on late cotton planted after the June hail storm," he cautions. "This cotton is making good progress and fruiting rapidly. Full size bolls should be reached by the third or fourth week in August.

"Although the fiber of late planted cotton is expected to reach its full staple length by the last of August, the bolls will still be immature. Fibers must fill out (increase in micronaire) during September and October if these bolls are to reach the desired yield potential.

"Temperature may actually become more important than moisture for this crop," he emphasizes. "It also becomes imperative that this cotton remain in a fruiting phase and allowed to continue fruiting at a rapid pace. One way to do this is by careful use of irrigation water."

The agronomist explains that it may not be necessary or profitable to irrigate late cotton that is currently not wilting and has sufficient soil moisture. However, if some wilting is occurring and soil moisture is low, a light or alternate row irrigation around Aug. 10-15 should provide adequate moisture for the remainder of the season.

"It is much better to stress late-planted cotton a little than to have luxuriant growth," he adds. "Observations and studies have shown that late cotton is much more sensitive to excess water, which usually results in rank, immature bolly cotton.

"You don't have to have a large stalk to obtain profitable yield," Metzger adds. "I realize that growthy cotton certainly looks attractive during the season, but if you end up with a plant having 1/2 white cotton at the bottom with 3/4 bolly cotton at the top, it can be costly with present-day quality discounts and premium, to say nothing of irrigation costs."

The specialist who is based at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, says that each year he cautions producers about over-watering cotton, especially late cotton. It is even more critical this year, he adds, because most late cotton is located in the short season area north of Lubbock.

Sunflower Changes From Foe To Friend

An old foe may turn into a new friend for High Plains farmers according to Dr. Doug Owen, High Plains Research Foundation Agronomist for oilseed research. For years considered only an undesirable weed, the sunflower has been domesticated and developed into a highly desirable oil producing crop.

Plant breeders now have developed hybrids with high seed yielding potential and high oil content. The oil is especially valuable for its excellent nutrition qualities as well as its fine flavor and good cooking characteristics. The hulls and residue left after the oil is extracted is used as cattle feed in the same manner as cottonseed hulls and meal.

The High Plains Research Foundation is in its second year of cultural studies with sunflowers sponsored by a grant-in-aid from the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill. These studies include a variety test containing twenty experimental hybrids; a fertilizer test containing seven treatments of nitrogen and phosphorus in various rates and ratios, and a date-of-planting test having four planting dates beginning in April and ending the last week of July. Each date consists of five hybrids planted under dryland and irrigated conditions.

Tests conducted last year showed that both early (April) and late (July) plantings matured before frost and made satisfactory yields even after sustaining severe hail injury. Some of the earlier plantings in 1974 received severe hail in June and recovered to produce large well-filled seed heads.

A special attachment to the combine header is necessary to minimize harvesting losses but these are available and may be purchased at reasonable cost. Losses estimated as high as 25 per cent occurred in 1973 using a combine without the special attachment.

Two insects are economically important. The sunflower head moth is fairly easily controlled by timely application of the recommended insecticide. There is no insecticide known to be effective in controlling the carrot beetle, but damage from this insect may be limited to certain zones or areas. Large infestations of this insect can cause severe damage and loss, however, few insect have been detected in 1973 and 1974.

Research indicates that sunflowers are drought tolerant requiring less moisture than soybeans, sorghum, and corn; and apparently requiring less fertilizer than sorghum or corn thus costing less to produce. Yields ranging from two to three thousand pounds per acre have been obtained. "With prices at fifteen cents per pound these yield potentials make sunflowers a competitive crop for the High Plains, and the possibility of planting after wheat or hauled-out cotton may provide a valuable alternate crop for area farmers," stated Dr. Owen.

The sunflower research as well as many other research projects of interest to High Plains farmers and businessmen can be observed on the field tours from 1:30 to 5:00 on Thursday, Sept. 12, 1974 during the 18th Annual Field Day and Open House.

Beef Cow Farms Up, New Type Owners

The current trend in the beef cattle industry is toward more beef cow farms, says a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. But the farm owner is changing.

"This is of significance to the purebred breeder because it means an expanded market for bulls and heifers," explains Ernest E. Davis.

Texas' commercial farms with beef cows and heifers that have calved increased in number by more than 17,800 from 1964 to 1969. Texas' Census data indicate a 35 per cent increase of medium sized farms of 20 to 99 cows and a 13 per cent increase of farms of 100 to 499 cows while ranches of more than 500 cows remained constant.

What has brought the increase in beef cow farms?

"Many new landowners who bought land for other reasons have decided to raise cattle," explains Davis. "There's that urge to run a few cows. There is a prestigious image associated with being a rancher or cowman, especially in Texas and the Southwest. Furthermore, some supplemental income can be derived from cattle."

This new breed of cattleman is generally a cattle hobbyist who knows little or nothing about any breed of cattle, says the specialist. He must be introduced to and convinced of the merits of the breed he eventually chooses. Thus breeders must implement awareness and educational programs to reach and sell to this new client.

Of course, the purebred breeder should not forget his other customer, the commercial cow-calf operator, cautions Davis. These cowmen are producing beef to meet the demands of consumers, retailers, packers and feedlots.

"So, not only must cattle breeders recognize the role a breed has in producing the market animal of today and tomorrow, but they must also be cognizant of new customers or new trends affecting the market," adds Davis.

Board To Reward Bread Service

Civic and service clubs and other organizations have a chance to focus attention on restaurants which give them exceptional bread service as well as enhance their own treasury in a new program being jointly announced by the Texas Wheat Producers Board and the Texas Restaurant Association.

The project is in preparation for the annual "Day of Bread" which will be observed nationwide, Oct. 8, according to Miss Mary Ellen Dambold, TWPB nutritionist.

LEON RICHARDS SUGGESTS

Consolidate ...and get your bills under full control

Gather up those nagging bills, those dragging charge accounts, your lagging expenses...bring them to financial house! Let us show you how to add them all together (consolidate!), pay them off in one convenient loan. Your payment may be less than your total monthly payments!

Come in...call us. Consolidate to a larger loan... $1000...$1500...$2000 or more. Act today!

On Wall Street Giants At War

By BOB HILL
Lentz, Newton & Co., Amarillo
Two corporate superpowers,
American Tel & Tel and IBM are about to do battle over who will supply the office of the future. The market is staggering; the data-processing and telephone industries together gross about $60-billion a year and are growing at a compound growth rate of 13 per cent annually.
The telephone industry enjoys a government regulated status as a monopoly, serving an exclusive territorial area. The data-processing industry is one of the most competitive in the world. The big stake is the communications in the office of tomorrow.
Which industry will supply communications gear, typewriters, data-retrieval displays, telephones with pushbuttons which can handle dictation, double as calculators and as computer input and display terminals? The computer manufacturers feel that all of these office activities are natural extensions of their present data-processing activities and they are determined to keep from being "legislated" out of this mushrooming market.
THE TELEPHONE COMPANies are so determined to stop the growth of computer manufacturers in the communications field that they warned of higher residential rates in North Carolina if competition was permitted. The state utility commission proposed a ban on attaching any equipment to telephone lines unless the equipment was owned and maintained by the telephone companies.
North Carolina reconsidered after substantial opposition and has allowed computers and unseat Kissinger."

Boys Ranch To Host Rodeo, Reunion

The 30th annual Boys Ranch
Rodeo will be held over the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 1 and 2.
Approximately 10,000 friends of the boys are expected to attend the two performances of the rodeo at 2:30 on Sunday and Monday afternoons. The only rodeo of its kind in the nation in which the only contestants are boys riding professional rodeo animals, the event is also a reunion for the more than 3,000 boys who have lived at the Ranch since 1939.
More than 150 boys will be riding calves, steers, Brahma bulls and bucking broncs. Older boys compete for the title of Senior All-Around Cowboy and a Junior All-Around Cowboy is named from the younger boys.
All of the boys will have some part in the rodeo, either as contestants or working in the many behind-the-scenes activities.
The Boys Ranch Band will provide the music for the rodeo, while other boys operate concessions for barbecue beef and other refreshments.
Reserve box seat tickets for $2.50 are available at the Boys Ranch office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo, or can be obtained by writing to Cal
Farley's Boys Ranch, P.O. Box
1890, Amarillo, Tex., 79105.
General admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Court Cases Caught In Logjam

By LLOYD BENTSEN
United States Senator which sets out a decisive strategy to end this quagmire in the Federal courts.
Justice delayed is justice denied. If the person charged in a criminal case is guilty society demands that he be tried, convicted, sentenced and that he begins serving that sentence.
And, if the accused is innocent he deserves to have the cloud of suspicion removed from his head as quick as possible.
Citizens who are the victims of crime are forced to watch the guilty go unpunished month after month. And in many cases the criminals are never punished.
We have all heard of defendants being locked in jail for months, even years, before their cases are brought to trial.
THE VICTIMS and the accused aren't alone in feeling anguish and frustration at the delays brought on by the logjam of untried cases in our courts.
One criminal court judge in a large city remarked recently that he is constantly pressured to urge defendants to plead guilty to lesser charges, just to dispose of cases.
"I feel like a fool and a clerk in a bargain basement," the judge said.
The Senate Committee studying my legislation found that there are two basic reasons for the delays and backlogs in our Federal courts. First, the courts have not been given the tools they need to do the job. And second, they are not making full use of the tools they have.
Our Constitution guarantees the right to a speedy trial, but there is no law which sets out just what that means. Astounding though it may seem, there is no incentive at law which would require the courts to come to grips with their problem.
Indeed, many judges and prosecutors and defense attorneys have come to depend on delays to cope with their workloads. And, unless Congress mandates a speedy trial, there is little likelihood that the courts will seek out the underlying causes for delay and take effective steps to correct them.

THE BILL approved by the Senate requires that all criminal cases in Federal courts be tried within 60 days of indictment. It permits an additional 30 days between the time of arrest and indictment.
The measure would take effect over a seven year period.
And when it becomes effective, charges are dismissed if trials are not conducted within the time limits set out.
The Senate, by approving this measure, is saying to the Federal courts: "tell us what you need to clear away this backlog of untried cases and we will give it to you. But when we give you the tools, we will expect results."
So, if any courts and prosecutors are forced to dismiss cases under this law, the burden will be on them to explain their actions to the people.
The case backlog in our court system is a very serious problem. After giving it a great deal of study, I am convinced that a provision for dismissal is the only effective way the legislature can hold the courts accountable for speedy trial without violating the principle of separation of powers.

Something must be done. Our court dockets are jammed. Our system of justice is being undermined. And we cannot permit this problem to continue growing, unchecked.
Under the Constitution, Congress is responsible for the composition of our Federal court system. If the system is so unconstructed that a backlog of untried cases results, then Congress must ultimately take the blame.
Through this legislation,
Congress is seeking to assert itself and guarantee both the American people and those accused of crime of their constitutional right to a speedy trial.

"The Godfather" to premiere on NBC

"The Godfather," starring Marlon Brando—the number one box office attraction of all time and winner of three Academy Awards including Best Picture and Best Actor of 1972—will have its world television premiere on NBC-TV this November, it was announced by Robert T. Howard, President of the NBC Television Network.

The 1972 Paramount Pictures release, which also won an Oscar for its screenplay by Mario Puzo and Francis Ford Coppola (based on Mr. Puzo's novel), will be broadcast over two evenings.

"The Godfather" is the most important recent motion picture release never to have been shown on television," Mr. Howard said. "It has been the subject of intensive pursuit by all three television networks, and we are absolutely delighted to announce that it will join the other super-blockbusters that will have their home-screen premieres on the NBC Television Network."

The New York Times called "The Godfather" one of the most "moving chronicles of American life ever designed within the limits of popular entertainment." The film earned Best Supporting Actor nominations for three performers—Al Pacino, James Caan and Robert Duvall—as well as a Best Director nomination for Coppola. Oscar nominations also went to Nino Rota for Best Original Dramatic Score and Ann Hill Johnston for Best Costume Design.

Memorable portrayal of Don Vito Corleone, head of a large and powerful underworld family. Pacino and Caan appear as his sons, Michael and Sonny; Duvall portrays Tom Hagen, friend and counselor to the Corleones. Also in the cast are John Marley, Diane Keaton, Richard Castellano, Sterling Hayden and Richard Conte.

In the most recent Variety compilation of all-time box-office champs, "The Godfather" headed the list with more than $85,000,000 in domestic rentals.

The overwhelmingly favorable critical reaction to the film included these comments: "In its blending of new depth with an old genre, 'The Godfather' becomes that rarity, a mass entertainment that is also great movie art" (Time Magazine); "the miracle of make-up has transformed the slinky, athletic Brando into a man of 65, and the genius of the actor has done the rest...a whopping sundae of good acting" and offers "a whopping sundae of suspense, melodrama and American mythology, topped by a majestic performance by an American master" (Newsweek magazine); "an extraordinary achievement: a new classic in a classic American film genre" (The Washington Post).

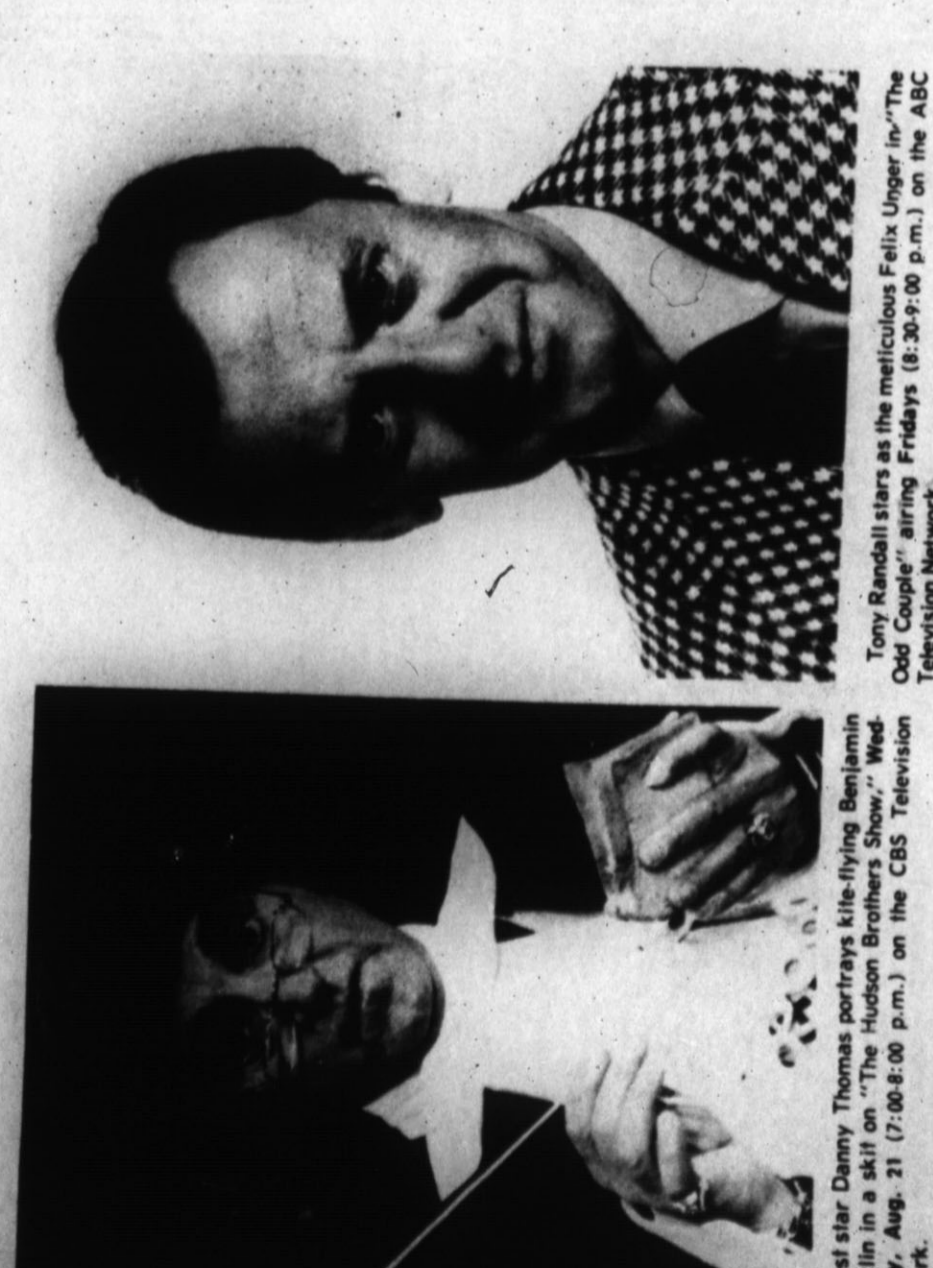

Al Pacino was named the Best Actor of the Year by the National Society of Film Critics, and Robert Duvall was honored as the year's Best Supporting Actor by the The New York Film Critics.

The Directors Guild of America selected Francis Ford Coppola as the Best Director of the Year, citing his work on "The Godfather" as 1972's "most outstanding directorial achievement."

Al Pacino was named the winner of Italy's David Donatello Award for his performance in "The Godfather," and Albert S. Ruddy was the recipient of the David Donatello prize as Best Foreign Producer of the Year. The David Donatello Award, Italy's highest official prize for international films, is presented annually under the sponsorship of the President of the Italian Republic.

Legendary Journey Retraced on
"CBS News Retrospective"

Producer Martin Carr, his CBS camera crew and Bradford sailed "Ulysses" legendary sea-trail in May 1965 using a chartered leitch, a modern equivalent of "Ulysses" small boat. In the course of their journey they filmed at such locations as the site of the storied city of Troy on what is now the Turkish coast; the Tunisian island of Djerba (Land of the Lotus Eaters); the island of Favignone off the Sicilian coast (Cyclops); the Straits of Messina (Scylla and Charybdis); and Malta (the goddess Calypso).

Director of photography for "The Search for Ulysses" was British cinematographer John Wilcox, whose motion-picture credits include "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The Mouse That Roared" and "The Guns of Newore."

An original score for the broadcast was composed by John Addison, who has scored such films as "Tom Jones," "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner" and "The English Patient." Film editor was Jack Harris, called the "Dean of English film editors." His credits include "Great Expectations," "Brief Encounter" and "Blithe Spirit."

Burton Benjamin is executive producer of "CBS News Retrospective." Peter Poor is the producer of the series, which is hosted by CBS News Correspondent John Hart.
