Erosion Bill Now Law; State Taxes Will Be Remitted

The recently enacted erosion bill passed by the Legislature, became law Tuesday when signed by Governor James V. Allred. It will become effective in September. Under provisions of the law, Deaf Smith county's entire state and valorem taxes for 1935 and 1936 will be remitted for use in the fight on erosion. This will amount to about $45,000 for the two years. In addition, the county may divert 20 per cent of highway license fees to the erosion fight and tax negligent land owners 15 cents per acre for failure to take care of eroding land. Deaf Smith, Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Sherman and Moore counties were in the group whose entire ad valorem tax was remitted. Lipscomb, Hansford and DeSoto counties will be given part of their ad valorem taxes. Already planning to call an election for creating an erosion district in the county, this bill provides an agency that can administer the state law and deal with federal agencies in the fight. County Judge C. W. Humble and Dewey Reed, county agent, were in Dalhart yesterday where they conferred with Dr. H. H. Fennell, head of the Panhandle. They presented him with results of the recent survey conducted in this county on erosion and a map showing the relative damage in various parts of the county. Fennell was well pleased with the work done here thus far and said that Deaf Smith county would be one of the first counties to get attention when the Federal program on permanent erosion control starts.

Relief Clients to Sign Papers

All farm families who have been on the relief rolls are requested to call at the office as soon as possible to make out application blanks for aid under the rural rehabilitation plan. Application blanks are on hand and Walter Pickett, administrator, is anxious to get them all filled out. The office has been ordered to revise all case records of families on relief. Cards are being sent out to clients instructing them when to report for the new investigation. Pickett warns that it is absolutely necessary for all clients to report on specified dates or run the risk of being removed from the rolls.

Mrs. Schroeter Is Victor In Contest

Out of more than 60 entrants, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter has been announced as the winner of the misspelled word contest, conducted by the Brand in connection with the recently closed "Buy In Hereford" campaign. Mrs. Schroeter found all but seven of the 304 words that were spelled wrong during the 15 weeks of the contest. To her goes the first prize of $25. Second prize went to Mrs. B. F. Marrs, and third to E. Dora Clark. They won $10 and $5. While accuracy was the first requirement, neatness and originality of presenting the material were also considered by the judges in the making of the final awards. Both Mrs. Marrs and Mrs. Clark submitted attractively prepared booklets. In addition they ranked second and third in accuracy. Sponsored by the Brand, the contest page carried advertising of 15 merchants. Interest in the contest was at high pitch from start to finish as indicated by the more than 60 papers submitted.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS SATURDAY POPPY DAY; HONOR WAR DEAD

Saturday, May 25, was proclaimed Poppy Day in Hereford in a proclamation issued by Mayor C. J. Paddock. The proclamation urged all citizens to honor the World War dead by wearing the American Legion and Auxiliary memorial poppy on that day, and to aid the war's living victims by contributing to the Legion and Auxiliary welfare funds. The proclamation follows: "The City of Hereford during the great crisis of the World War sent forth its sons in response to the nation's call. They served gallantly in the nation's defense, and of their number some were called upon to lay down their lives in that service. The memory of their patriotic sacrifice should always be held dear by the citizens of Hereford. "Others of these brave young men were called upon to sacrifice, not life, but the health and the strength which makes life worth while. Their families and the families of the dead also were re-

Repeal, Fee Reforms In Amendments

SEVEN CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES COME TO VOTE IN AUGUST

Prohibition, old age pensions and the fee system are the most important questions in the seven amendments to the Constitution upon which the voters of Texas will ballot on August 24. The proposed amendments, published in this issue of the Brand, are in the form of joint resolutions of the House and Senate. They are published in their entirety. Old age pensions are brought before the Texas voters for the first time in an amendment, which would authorize the Legislature to provide a system of old-age assistance, not to exceed $15 per month, and to accept financial aid from the Federal Government. This assistance would go to persons of 65 years and over who are bona fide residents of the state. The liquor question will be submitted in another amendment, repealing statewide prohibition, prohibiting the open saloon and providing for local option. Another would empower district courts of "original jurisdiction of criminal actions" to suspend after conviction "the imposing of execution or sentence." This would enable the courts to place convicted defendants on probation. The much abused and much discussed fee system for compensation of public officials will be clarified by another amendment. Voters will be able to ballot for or against the amendment "abolishing the fee system of compensating all district officers, and all county officers in counties having a population of 20,000 or more; and authorizing the Commissioners' Court to determine whether county officers and precinct officers in counties containing less than 20,000 population may be compensated on a fee basis or on a salary basis." See Free Textbooks. Another will make it possible for amendments to the Constitution to be proposed at special sessions of the Legislature rather than during the regular session only, as is now the regulation. Free text books would be furnished any child of scholastic age attending any school in the state under one of the amendments. Only to public school students are books furnished at this time. Another would authorize county courts to commit mentally ill persons to institutions for temporary periods of observation without trial by jury.

Mrs. J. G. Evans Dies In Amarillo Hospital Monday

Mrs. Bertie Mae Evans, wife of Joe G. Evans, died last Sunday in an Amarillo hospital of pneumonia, following an illness of several weeks. She was 44 years old. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Baptist church in Happy, former home of the Evans family. Rev. J. R. Hicks, Baptist pastor at Canyon, conducted the services. Burial was at Happy. MAYOR PROCLAIMS SATURDAY POPPY DAY; HONOR WAR DEAD quired to make heavy sacrifices. These disabled and dependents are still paying the human price of our nation's World War victory. "From the battle front in France our returning soldiers brought the poppy as the symbol of sacrifice and the memorial flower of the dead. Each year on the Saturday before Memorial Day the men of the American Legion and the women of the American Legion Auxiliary ask us to wear this flower in tribute to the nation's fallen defenders and to give in exchange for the flower a contribution to aid the war's living victims. "Therefore, I, C. J. Paddock, mayor of Hereford, urge all citizens to honor the dead and aid the living by wearing the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary memorial poppy on Saturday, May 25. "And to that end, I do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 25, Poppy Day in the City of Hereford. "C. J. PADDOCK, Mayor."

Heavy Rains Drench Entire Territory During Week-End

Mrs. J. G. Evans Dies In Amarillo Hospital Monday

After threatening skies had promised rains for two weeks, water began to fall last Thursday evening and when the thing was over on Friday morning an inch was registered in Hereford. This was followed with showers Friday and Saturday, and another good rain Sunday afternoon which amounted to almost a half inch. All of this was preceded by a quarter-inch shower the preceding Tuesday, May 14. All over the county—all over West Texas and throughout the Middle West also—there were rains. In most instances these rains were heavier than here. In the western and northwestern portions of Deaf Smith, for instance, the rains amounted to inches both on Tuesday and Thursday nights, and Saturday and Sunday afternoons. More In Country. While estimates of the falls vary too much to be accurate, it is certain the northwestern portion of the county got much more rain than Hereford for the reason that the Tierra Blanca got on its biggest rampage in years last Friday night and did not subside to anything like normal size until late Monday. So high did the creek rise that it covered the flats in the state park, ruining probably 75 of the several thousand young trees that were under water. Friona was also flooded by a big rise in the Frío Draw Friday night, causing highway traffic to be detoured. Following the rains there was a rush of farmers to Hereford for implements, parts, repairs and seed. From estimates of seed and implement dealers, farmers intend to put in huge feed crops, planting much wheat land to grain sorghums. Listing Helps. Emergency listing, which had been done on more than 400,000 acres, resulted in maximum or near maximum benefits to crop lands. With the snows and showers that fell the first week of the month, the total precipitation in Hereford was brought to more than two inches. Skies have been cloudy every day since Sunday with rain threatening, but thus far it has failed to materialize.

Plainview to Hold Pioneer Round-Up

Hale County's Pioneer Round-Up plans are nearing completion for Saturday, May 25, at Plainview. It opens with a pioneer reception at the First Christian church from 1 to 4 p. m. These visiting hours for the reunion of old friends is a feature of the event. There will be a story telling by old timers. A street parade at 4, with Sheriff Kelly Hooper as marshal, followed by the American Legion Colors then the Plainview band, next a company of Texas Rangers will honor Texas heroes. County judges of nearby counties will ride as Rangers honoring early Texas heroes for whom their counties were named. Early Texas flags will be in evidence. Pioneer features, covered wagons, buggies, hacks, buckboards, horseback riders, women with sidesaddles, vehicles carrying early pioneers and the Golden Wedding Circle with the women wearing the old gray bonnet will be in the parade. A chuck wagon supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock in the city auditorium during which time visiting will be resumed. A square dance will be held on the auditorium stage from 9 to 12. Blue Stevens of the Trail Blazers Square Dance club of Hale Center will be in charge. Old fiddle tunes will lead the dancers and all who wish may participate. This is the seventh annual reunion sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club. Pioneers of other counties who wish to renew old acquaintances will be welcomed.

Wheat Vote Will Last Till May 25

While it is permissible to plant contracted wheat acreage to legumes and grass as well as emergency forage crops, it is the opinion of officials of the county wheat board that it will be best not to plant anything on this acreage. Rules of the AAA forbid planting of any basic commodity; but they allow the planting without restriction of grass and legumes as well as forest trees. Emergency forage crops may be raised but not allowed to reach maturity. Or the land may be summer fallowed. In suggesting that farmers either summer fallow or plant nothing, farmers explained that compliance certificates can not be made for farmers until after final disposition of the crop from this acreage. "This will delay making of certificates from 60 to 90 days," explained Dewey Reed in urging that the land not be planted. He warned also against overplanting of wheat in violation of contracts. Voting in the wheat referendum will end Saturday, says County Agent Dewey Reed. Every grower of wheat, whether he be land owner or tenant and whether he has signed a reduction contract or not, is asked to vote. Balloting was to take place last Saturday in all the communities, but the rain and bad roads prevented a full vote. Farmers from all districts may vote at Reed's office any time through Saturday. The government wheat control program after this year will depend upon results of the referendum. Wheat Checks Received. Ten checks for payment of wheat allotments were received at the county agent's office Monday. They totaled $1,055.69. There were also four 1934 corn-hog checks amounting to $124.24.

McDonald Plans To Use Electric Power for Farm

McDonald Plans To Use Electric Power for Farm

Taking advantage of the new rates offered by the Texas Utilities Company, D. L. McDonald is electrifying his irrigation farm just north of the city on 25-Mile Avenue. There are three wells on the farm and they will furnish water to 400 acres. A pioneer in the shallow water development of Deaf Smith county, McDonald has always wanted to use electrical energy for his pumping, but has heretofore figured it to be prohibitive in cost. Under the new set up, taking current for six months out of the year, McDonald has computed that he can water during the whole season for $3.60 per acre. "In some farming areas more than that is spent for fertilizer each year," he said. "Irrigation farming is work," he declared. "No man can make a go of it unless he is willing to put in lots of time at it and attend to business. If a person goes into irrigation he must go into it completely—it is not a half way proposition. "Irrigation wells must not be looked upon as drought insurance, but rather as crop insurance. Many look upon wells as something to fall back upon in case rainfall is not sufficient. That is wrong. An irrigated farm should be irrigated, rain or no rain. "In 1923 this country had plenty of rain, but we continued to irrigate and made bigger crops than anyone who depended upon the rainfall alone—and, remember, there was plenty of rain." McDonald favors use of electrical power because of the low maintenance cost. Cost of operation will be approximately the same as using fuel oil for operation of engines, but a man will be released from the duties of taking care of the engines. Under the plan of the Texas Utilities Company, the amount of power a user consumes is not limited. He will pay a flat price and then operates the motors as long and as much as necessary. It is McDonald's opinion that no agency will be able to furnish power at lower cost than the schedule now available. "This is the kind of rate I've been wanting for 20 years," he observed.

35 GROWERS OF COTTON WANT BANKHEAD SLIPS

Thirty-five cotton growers in the county have made application for Bankhead tax exemption certificates for this year, according to records at the county agent's office. Applications show they will put 859 acres in cotton this year, with 285 acres to be held out of production. Last call for 1934 Bankhead certificates to be exchanged for the 1935 tickets has been issued. Holders of the certificates are asked to get in touch with the office to effect the swap. The 1934 tickets are worthless. Saturday will be the final day for making the trade. Eighteen growers of cotton have signed 1935 contracts, in addition to the four who signed in 1934. They quoted the President as saying in his address to the farmers "that this is the first time in the history of the United States that any delegation or any group of people has ever come to Washington for the purpose of thanking the administration for what they had done." In referring to the "big interest" who had been trying to make the administration believe that "the farmers themselves do not want the AAA program continued," said they are just big liars. They reported that Texas had the largest delegation, about 650; that nearly all, if not all the counties in the state were represented; Hale county had the largest delegation, 18 men.

CC Boys Wham Lions In Tuesday's Battle

(BY HOMER FOX.) The old CCC boys took the Lions to a fair cleaning Tuesday afternoon, and we don't mean maybe. With Weaver on the mound for the soldiers it was a walk away from the start, this old Weaver boy just fired 'em in there and set the Lions down with four hits and two home runs while his team mates gathered 15 runs and a lot too many hits. The soldiers started off with five hits and five runs in the first frame. McCollum chunking to the Lions could not get the boys out. Tommy was wild and couldn't bring that fast one over the plate without grooving it, but the Lions were out for the first time and couldn't get going. The Lions got their third and fourth hits in the third frame. Rose, with one out, busted the first pitch just one and one-half miles over center for a home run (took two water boys and half the team to get him on his feet after he made it in). McCollum singled, stole second, third and scored on a wild pitch, and that was all for the meat-eating boys. With the score 5 to 0 in the third the CCC boys turned the guns loose again, with four or five hits, a couple of misjudged flies and a few errors, they finally wound up with five more runs. They made one more in the 4th. In the fifth Lt. Lafeld called out the 75's, took dead aim at center and blasted one for a country mile. Everyone made the throw in but the umpire and he finally made home plate. It was the water bucket again—everyone began rubbing and finally brought the old boy back to earth. They scored again in the last frame when Doc McMillan, pinch hitting, busted a tear bomb at Bell (now pitching for the Lions). Bell was out for the first time and couldn't get going. The Lions got their third and fourth hits in the third frame. Rose, with one out, busted the first pitch just one and one-half miles over center for a home run (took two water boys and half the team to get him on his feet after he made it in). McCollum singled, stole second, third and scored on a wild pitch, and that was all for the meat-eating boys. Gilmore is his name.

Erosion Funds For Emergency Fight Are Used

MONEY TO TREAT 430,000 ACRES DISTRIBUTED TO FARMERS

The emergency erosion grants of 10 cents per acre for listing to prevent blowing of soil ended in the county Monday when the final allotment of funds was exhausted. From the opening of the program until the close, sufficient dimes to treat 430,000 acres were distributed to farmers of Deaf Smith. This money, $43,000, was distributed to 854 different farmers. Disbursement orders with which to buy fuel or feed were given farmers. They were to list blowing lands either solid or in alternate rows. County Agent Dewey Reed is still pushing the survey of the erosion situation in Deaf Smith with a view to obtaining a permanent program here. He urges farmers and land owners to fill out the questionnaires sent out some weeks ago and return them to his office at once. Reports have been obtained on some 360,000 acres, but more are wanted. "The more nearly complete our report is, the better our chances of getting a real project here," he said. Dr. H. H. Fennell, head of the project at Dalhart, will have charge of the Panhandle's entire work in the permanent program. Material is to be submitted to him. He asked that this county make the survey, intimating that he would look upon the application with favor.

Farm Delegates Return Monday

Troy Womble and Jim Lipscomb returned the first of the week from Washington, D. C., where they went to represent Deaf Smith county in the interest of farmers in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. They report some 6,000 farmers were in attendance, and apparently a great deal of good was accomplished, 35 states being represented. Both the Congress and Senate seemed to appreciate the fact that the farmers of the nation were endorsing and backing their efforts to bring to an end the depression and put agriculture on a basis with other industries. They quoted the President as saying in his address to the farmers "that this is the first time in the history of the United States that any delegation or any group of people has ever come to Washington for the purpose of thanking the administration for what they had done." In referring to the "big interest" who had been trying to make the administration believe that "the farmers themselves do not want the AAA program continued," said they are just big liars. They reported that Texas had the largest delegation, about 650; that nearly all, if not all the counties in the state were represented; Hale county had the largest delegation, 18 men.

A SITUATION SUCCINCTLY STATED

"The country paid a heavy price for the 12 years of Harding, Coolidge and Hoover," says Walter Lippman in the New York Herald-Tribune (Rep.): "The problem which Roosevelt has been struggling with is the problem he inherited. He has an agricultural surplus on his hands because there is a currency and tariff disorder which has closed an important part of the export market. That is why he has a deficit. It is wrong. But are the conservative Republicans in any position to say that? Are they prepared to restore exports by lowering the tariff? Are they prepared to liquidate the internal depression by reducing prices? The truth of the matter is that the Old Guard Republicans have no case against the Administration because the thing they complain about, the deficit, is the consequence of the two policies—namely the tariff and monopoly—with which they are identified."—Curry County, N. M., Times.

THE RAIN FALLS ON THE JUST AND THE UNJUST— BUT NOT JUST ALIKE

The writer of this editorial is disagreeing with the preachers or whoever is behind the propaganda that the Almighty God is visiting the Panhandle with the adversities that come along as result of the drouth and dust storms.

It has been the observation of the writer that God works out the program of life in a logical manner. We have been dilatory in our study of religion. have been a great deal more careless in our practice of the principals of Christianity. However, with all, the writer cannot believe that the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, whom he has known from the picture drawn by the sweetest mother that ever lived, would visit calamity on this section of the nation and heap blessings on the wicked cities of this country.

Why should this county be the recipient of adverse conditions that try the patience of the people, while wicked centers of population thrive with crime and all the accessories of crime? We feel safe in saying that the per capita contribution of Hansford county to the penal institutions of our state and nations is less than perhaps any county in the state. As a comparison, the writer has lived in some eight towns and cities of this state. He can safely say that he has never lived among a more God fearing, morally upright citizenship than is found in Hansford county. The writer has lived in communities where liquor was so plentiful that if all of it was gathered together and placed in one basin it would nearly float a battleship. I don't believe all the liquor in Hansford county would furnish a Saturday night drunk and a Sunday morning headache for the proverbial Corporal's guard. During a period of more than three years the writer has recorded the grand jury reports of this county semi-annually. We do not recall a single instance of emphatic crime being recorded. If one would study the records more carefully one would get a picture of a county that seldom has the bother of crime—supports as many religious denominations per capita as any group of people on earth, takes pride in educating and inspiring a younger generation—and as a whole can be placed before the entire world as a model of sobriety, good morals, excellent behavior, industry, ambition and God fearing. Then if the adverse conditions come to us as a result of this excellent record—comparative speaking, the writer's faith in Christianity is badly shaken.—Bill Miller, in The Spearman Reporter.

Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields and Joan Bennett head an illustrious cast in "Mississippi," Sunday, Monday, Tuesday features at the Star. They are flimdom's leading exponents of song, comedy and beauty.

It is a story of Dixie in the days when ladies wore crinolines and gentlemen did not enjoy a breakfast unless it was preceded by a duel.

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From The Hereford Brand, May 27, 1904.)

For the first time the extent and possibilities of irrigation in this area were to be fully investigated. A company had just been formed to finance and develop shallow water farming. It was a corporation capitalized at $25,000. Judge John E. Ferguson was president, T. J. Graves vice president, S. J. Dodson secretary, Judge C. G. Witherspoon and W. B. Beach directors. The Hereford Light and Irrigation Company was the name chosen. It was the plan to take options on tracts adjacent to wells and pay the owners 10 to 20 per cent profit upon ultimate sale of developed lands.

Three fine rains had fallen during the week, "filling the lakes and completely and very thoroughly saturating the broad prairies."

The editor, J. Ray, had attended the Northwest Texas Press Convention at Quanah, and, with other members of the association, had gone to St. Louis to attend the Fair.

Sam F. Dunn, Hereford's expert fisherman, had hooked a 6 3/4 pound bass from the Terra Blanco.

W. E. Hicks, successful ranchman of near Umbarger, was transacting business in Hereford.

The Ideal Dairy "positively used no preservatives, fresh and pure was their motto."

Rev. A. W. Crawford, pastor of the Presbyterian church had announced a revival for his church, beginning in August and to be conducted by Rev. James O. Reavis of Dallas.

Col. C. C. Slaughter of Dallas, and Geo. M. Slaughter of Roswell had been in Hereford on business. These gentlemen were traveling in their ambulance, drawn by four white horses.

J. W. Hough had completed the Presbyterian church at Dimmitt and the opening service had been announced for the first Sunday in June.

During a thunder storm, lightning had killed 22 head of sheep and stunned the Mexican herder on the Gilliland ranch where Pink and Payne Gilliland were managers.

John N. Jacobsen was prepared to shoe the wildest bronc on the Plains by use of horse stocks.

Because of heavy rains, 5 1/2 inches in the week, the main streets of Hereford were either under water or very muddy and the mayor and members of the city commission were being urged to have much-needed street work done.

Misses Jessie, Bessie, Cotta and Helen Sisk had returned from the College at Canyon where they had gotten their diplomas.

By Their Words AND OURS

H. H. Finnell of the U. S. Soil Conservation service, a practical farmer and long-time student of soils and farming methods, in charge of the government experiment station at Goodwell, Oklahoma, has carefully checked the land where they have done soil conservation work and where it has not been done. His check reveals that where they have contour listing, terracing and such methods that all of the moisture was saved where it fell. On much of the land not prepared in this manner the waste-age of water is as much as 50 per cent. Hold the water on your land that falls and we will never again have a serious drouth.—Jno. McCarty, Dalhart, Texas.

A new red, white and blue button has appeared in Chicago bearing the motto, "Just a Taxpayer—Neither on Dole or Public Payroll." It was first worn at a dinner of Cornell university alumni in Chicago by Warren Piper who explained that with between 25,000,000 and 35,000,000 persons either on the public payroll or relief, the citizens who are paying these bills ought to have some sort of decoration or distinction mark other than tax receipts.—Claude News.

Neither did I run across any farmer, laborer, or clerk who had been given $5,000 by Huey, but I did run across a few who suspected that some of his earnest followers might have earned at least that much by one means and another. I did not meet any independent and fairly prosperous looking farmers such as we have seen many years in the Panhandle, but I did see the skinniest mules that I ever beheld. My own question is: "How can a dictator raise $5,000 for everybody in the United States, when he can't even feed the mules in his own home state?"

The season has now arrived when I long for the eagle eye of Babe Ruth. No, I have long ago passed the age when I hoped to become a pinch hitter on the baseball diamond, but after one of these big old fuzzy moths has swatted me in the eye a dozen or so times while I am trying to read under a light and I have finally gotten a fly swatter and swung wildly at him for ten minutes or so before he finally flies off and hides behind some picture and leaves me standing there with the swatter and nothing to swat at—oh! what a wonderful satisfaction it would have been if I had only hit where he was at the time he was there.—Editor Miller, Moore County News.

BOB WOODS IS CHARGED WITH LIQUOR VIOLATION

A charge of possession of liquor for purpose of sale was filed against Bob Woods last Saturday by the sheriff's officers following a raid at his home. Several bottles of whiskey were confiscated. Woods furnished bond in the amount of $750 after waiving examining trial.

The worst thing about state songs is that some people think they must sing them.

Advices Caution By All Swimmers

The call of the open spaces is with us again, the old swimming hole, lake, river and shore all have their devotees, but in the contemplation of the good times we are going to have on the water let us pause a moment to resolve that we will not be one of the unfortunate victims that each year is added to the toll of those drowned.

If you expect to spend some time near the water, learn to protect yourself—learn to swim. It isn't difficult; you will soon learn to keep afloat, and better still, lose that dreadful fear and panic into which a person is thrown who knows nothing about swimming when he finds himself beyond his depth. Just the ability to keep afloat a few minutes may mean life. And, those of you who can swim! Remember, it is not always the non-swimmer who is drowned. Don't let the knowledge that you are a good swimmer make you foolhardy—you can have just as much fun swimming parallel to the shore as trying to make the other side, and it is much safer. It is much more fun to swim with a companion than alone. Don't dive unless you know where you are heading.

Have you ever stood helplessly by and seen a bungling attempt to resuscitate a drowning person, minutes lost when seconds were precious? The prone pressure method should be started at once. You can learn the proper method in a few minutes yourself.

Swimming is one of the best of sports from a health standpoint, but needs to be indulged in with a proper respect for the possible hazards involved. Incidentally, middle aged and older persons should be physically checked up before engaging too strenuously in this form of activity.

Cream O' Plains Ice Cream-Butter

Two Important Foods

Everyone knows we make Cream O' Plains Butter at our creamery here in Hereford from the finest cream produced in this area. In fact, most people of Hereford insist on Cream O' Plains when they are buying butter. Other cities in the Panhandle are learning how good this butter is and are using no other kind.

But Cream O' Plains Ice Cream is a new product. We just started making it this spring. But let us assure you it is a fit companion for Cream O' Plains Butter. Rich in butter fats, it exceeds the requirements of the state law in butter content. Made of pure, fresh and pasteurized sweet cream, it is truly excellent food.

PROXY BRIDE SAILS TO JOIN HER HUSBAND IN BRAZIL

Mrs. George H. Spencer, 27 years old, of Lubbock, who sailed recently for Rio de Janeiro on the Furness liner Western Prince, has not seen her husband this year, although she was married to him only three weeks ago. He is a cotton buyer in Pernambuco, Brazil. Mrs. Spencer, the former Mrs. Willie Robinson, was in Lubbock on March 11 when they were married by proxy.

Mrs. Spencer, who was accompanied by her three-year-old daughter, Nancy, told reporters that rather than wait until she got to Brazil, where marriage laws would have delayed the wedding several weeks, they arranged to perform the ceremony with a mutual friend replying to the questions of ceremony.

SHYSTER LAWYERS SCORED

Wichita, Kans.—Lawyers who used the shield of "professional rights" to practice what actually should be classed as criminal and unethical were denounced by Hon. Earl W. Evans, Wichita attorney and president of the American Bar Association, in a recent interview.

The attorney who advises his client how to best rob a bank with a minimum of danger to himself and those who advise business men how to complete shady transactions were placed in the same category by Mr. Evans.

The profession, Evans warned, is placing itself in a position for regulation by Congress if its unethical members do not raise themselves above criticism by newspaper and public opinion.

Evans declared that the legal profession has avoided regulation up to this point only by promising to cleanse itself of "rotten" practices at a time when bills were being prepared for introduction to Congress.

State Old Age Pensions Await Action of U. S.

Texas lawmakers are following with interest the progress of old age pension legislation at Washington because any law enacted by Congress will have an important bearing on the state plan to be submitted to a vote of the people.

Texas is one of 20 states which have no old age pension system. The feeling exists, however, that the present Legislature likely will submit the question, particularly if the Federal government agrees to bear some of the financial burden.

Plans offered contemplate that there probably will be Federal and county cooperation with the state. If prohibition repeal is submitted this summer, the old age pension plan may be voted on at the same election. However, the Legislature likely will not take final action for some time to give Congress an opportunity to work out the national plan.

Surveys have been made as a basis for attempts to estimate the cost of said aid to aged, indigent persons. Several factors would have to be considered, among them whether the pensioning starts at the age of 65 or 70, as to what extent the state participates, and whether authorities would be strict of intent in determining who was entitled to pensions.

The Texas Relief Commission has reported that 24,832 persons 70 years of age or older are on the relief rolls. If the Federal government should pay half the cost of pensioning these persons at $30 a month, the expense to the state and counties would be $372,480 per month. Divided equally between the state and counties, the expense to the state would be $186,240 a month, or $2,234,880 a year. Some of those on the relief rolls probably have a small income, which would reduce the pensioning in proportion.

The sum of $2,000,000 annually perhaps does not seem startling, when compared with the state's total income of nearly $80,000,000 from license and fees. There still must be considered, however, the question of how many persons other than those on the relief rolls would be able to qualify for pensions.

Representative Harlee Morrison of Terrell, who has made a study of the question and is an advocate of pensioning, states that California, which has approximately the same population as Texas, is spending only $127,055 a month on aid to the aged, even though the Federal government gives no help.

The Legislature's one woman member, Mrs. Helen B. Moore of Texas City, has introduced a bill to provide an old age pension system if the people should approve a constitutional amendment.

Under her plan aid would be started at the age of 70, the applicant must have lived in the state 15 years and in the county one year, must show that he has no children who could support him and must have less than $3,000 worth of property.

She would provide for the state and counties to participate equally. The pensioner's private income and his pension could be no more than $30 per month.

Some persons contend counties are not financially able to help bear the expense of pensions and if the Legislature should concur in that view the cost to the state of course would be doubled.

HOLDING COMPANIES AT THEIR WORST

A most inopportune event for the embattled holding companies is the New York legislative inquiry into financial pyramiding operations of a group comprising Ellis L. Phillips and associates in control of some public utilities in that state. Notwithstanding the supposedly competent regulation of utilities by the New York law, these men in a single year on an investment by the public of 100 million dollars, "cleaned up" for themselves an astonishing profit or rakeoff of 34 million dollars. That so much easy money could be made in these hard times by financial tricksters only testifies to the possibilities inherent in the holding company, when controlled and manipulated by the wrong persons.

Theodore Roosevelt used to maintain that "there are good trusts and bad trusts," and so there may be and probably are good and bad holding companies. Similarly there are good utility commissions and bad utility commissions. There is a growing public opinion that the Rayburn bill is too drastic and rough-hewn a measure in proposing an indiscriminating war of extermination against holding companies. Some more effective laws nevertheless are evidently needed than the country has yet had when rank swindling of the investing public can be pulled off such as the New York instance reveals.

Twenty-Four Dollars.

The Indians sold the island of Manhattan to the Dutch in 1624 for about $24.00 in goods. This land is appraised at eight billion dollars today, and it is customary to poke fun at the Indians. Facts are that the goods they got were value received, so far as they were concerned, since they had no sense of absolute possession or property rights. The idea of grabbing a piece of land, hanging on to it, and keeping your neighbor off is one of the concepts of modern civilization.

There were 400 Indians on wooded Manhattan in 1600, and there are the same number living in apartment houses today. The Dutch were much more tolerant of differing religious views and beliefs than other colonies in America. During New Amsterdam's first years as a Dutch trading agency it lost money. The first general tax in Manhattan was levied by Peter Stuyvesant in 1657. Captain Kidd once owned a 75-foot lot on the south side of Wall Street which he sold in haste before sailing on his last voyage. Alexander Hamilton sold his residence in Wall Street in 1793 for about $6,000. Work began on the first subway, up Broadway, in 1900. Of the city's six million people, four million visit the island of Manhattan by day for work, trade or play, and go home in the evening. Only two million can stand it both night and day.

WILD ANIMALS LIKE HOMES; SOME TAKE LONG JOURNEYS

A salmon taken in the nets at Gweedore was marked and released. Twenty-four hours later it was taken 80 miles away at Ballyshannon, writes an authority in the Montreal Herald. Good going, yet not equal to the traveling powers of the sea. Seals marked on the Pribiloff Islands in the Far North have been taken in the Antarctic, 10,000 miles away. They had covered that distance in five months.

Most wild creatures are home-lovers and spend all their lives in one district, but there are exceptions. The caribou trek north in spring and south in autumn. They move in herds so large that they will take 48 hours to pass one spot, and they cover between 50 and 70 miles daily.

Elephants move in small herds at irregular intervals. They travel by night and, considering their weight, it is remarkable that they can cover 50 miles between dusk and dawn.

BY LOUISE FRYE

The past week marked the close of a successful school year. Wednesday night a program was given by the school, consisting of readings, songs, drills and a one-act play. Thursday night the high school pupils gave a program with Rev. Strother of Dimmitt giving the address. Friday, parents of the children took basket dinners to the school house, and indoor games were played in the afternoon. Misses McClure and Ramey have done well by their pupils and will be with us again next year. Rev. Armstrong did not fill his appointment here Sunday, as he began a revival at Bethel that day. Tom Jameson was in Amarillo most of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Randall, and sons of Amarillo, and Mrs. R. Jewell of Hereford were supper guests in the U. G. Randall home Sunday.

Richard Chambliss fell from a swing Saturday. He was unconscious several hours but is much better at this time.

Mmes. U. G. Randall and M. Slemmons spent Monday in the home of Mrs. Carl Frye and they worked on a bed spread to be given away by the County Council at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walton spent the week end in Portales with Mrs. Walton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fields. Mrs. Walton's brother, Noland Fields, was operated on last Tuesday for appendicitis.

Miss Oline Ramey lost the last three days of school when she contracted German measles. She expects to attend summer school at WTSU.

Miss Louise McClure left Friday for Claude. She expects to spend the vacation period on the farm with homefolks.

B. H. Medley and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Durant were guests in the Chris Wegner home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Benson of Happy visited the H. M. Benson home last Wednesday night and attended the program at the school house.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith and family of Big Square visited Sunday in the J. S. Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Allen and family visited Sunday in the Sam Hunter home at Jumbo.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hardy and children spent Sunday in the Jno. Noland home.

Only a few were present at the men's community meeting Monday evening. Press Dyer, who had just returned from the farmers' meeting in Washington, was present and gave the important happenings of the trip.

From one-half to an inch of rain has fallen in this community the past week. Farmers would like to see more before starting their planting and to bring out grass.

THE OTHER SIDE

At the annual luncheon of the Associated Press at New York, Secretary Ickes, who uttered no names but did use unmistakable descriptive phrases, set forth his opinions of Senator Long, Father Coughlin and Dr. Townsend.

"I have nothing but contempt," he said, "for the man of crooked intellect who deliberately sets out to fool the under privileged by holding out the hope that as the result of some fantastic share-the-wealth scheme every man, woman and child is to have thrust into his hands the sum of $5,000 which is to come from God knows where."

He called Dr. Townsend an "impractical visionary who dreams or effervescent dream of an unrealizable Utopia," and he mentioned "the cloistered individual whose rich but undisciplined imagination has reduced politics, sociology and banking to charming poetry, which he distills meticulously into the ether for the entrancement of mankind."

SHOULD NOT VOTE ON REPEAL THIS YEAR

Texas ought to be spared the turmoil of a super-heated campaign and the unnecessary expense of a special prohibition election this year. Everybody needs to keep a cool head these troublous times. Public money ought not to be wasted on needless election expenses. Every dollar will be needed to feed Texas' distressed unemployables to be dropped from Uncle Sam's relief rolls.

Legislators can vote for submission and set the prohibition election on general election day, November, 1936, and thus comply substantially with the platform and still save Texas the enormous expense of a special election and the turmoil of a super-heated liquor campaign. Write your legislators what you think.—H. A. Ivy, unpaid L. D. lobbyist.

REVEALS SHORTHAND USED IN EGYPT CENTURIES AGO

Proof that shorthand much like the modern article was used in Egypt at least sixteen centuries ago and probably much earlier has been collected by H. J. M. Milne, of the British museum in London, including an ancient shorthand dictionary written on papyrus, parts of what must have been some student's exercise sheet like a modern stenographers notebook, but written on wax, and finally a contract between an intended student and stenographic business college.

The language of the shorthand documents is not Egyptian, but Greek, says a writer in the Baltimore Sun, that language having displaced ancient Egyptian several centuries before these shorthand documents were written, which is believed to have been about 250 A. D.

The principle on which the ancient shorthand was constructed is much the same as today. Simple signs, easy to write and easily connected with each other were used to represent the ordinary Greek letters and thus the sounds of Greek speech. Greek being a language in which the sound and the letter agree much more closely than in English.

What now are called word signs were used for common words, leaving out a large part of each word and writing for example only the first and last letters. Some whole phrases in common use, such as the ornate phrases for beginning and ending letters were treated in the same way. The business college contract shows that the student was to pay 40 drachmas in advance, equivalent to about $10. Another 40 drachmas were to be paid when the boy had mastered the shorthand text book, and a third 40 drachmas when he was able to write fluent shorthand and "read it faultlessly."

UNCLE SAM—THE HANDBILL DISTRIBUTOR

It won't be long now! Order No. 6338 is to be resubmitted!

On April 15 Postmaster General Jim Farley signed an order rescinding, effective July 1, 1935, the department's order permitting direct mail advertisers to use a simplified address system for posters and other advertising.

The mails were cluttered up with third class matter addressed to "householder" or "patron" or "boxholder," and was carried by Uncle Sam at a very special rate.

POOR, BUT PROUD

Not long ago a business man not any too well off, who had been supporting a poor relative and was objecting to the latter's wastefulness, was told by his dependent that he should feel honored in being permitted to support him.

Don't imagine that the middle-aged couples you see joggling along cheerfully together are not happy. Habit, convenience and community property are bonds between a husband and wife which will outlive the rosiest romance.

Lieutenant Wm. C. Lafield has been notified by radiogram that he will remain in command of the local CCC Company for at least three more months, which is very good news to all of us.

Capt. L. N. Talliaferro, Infantry Reserve, of St. Louis, Oklahoma, has been temporarily assigned to duty with Company 1862. It is expected he will soon leave for Chandler, Oklahoma, to take command of a company there.

A recent communication received at the park superintendent's office states that the approval of a concrete swimming pool may soon be authorized. Architect Vernor has prepared cost estimates and they have been submitted to Oklahoma City for approval. Approval must be obtained from Washington before actual work can be started.

The baseball season opened last Tuesday with the CCC boys on the small end. Team Captain Glasler states the team has ironed out its difficulties and other teams to be played can expect keener competition.

Canteen Stewart E. G. Schlimm has blossomed out during the week with a new set of ivories.

Schlimm reports that the sales of coke has increased greatly since McEarchern has developed his thier.

Leader Marvin Carmichael reported to Amarillo Tuesday to compete in an assembled civil service examination for Statistical Expert. We hope he passes.

Additions and alterations of new windows and repairs in the office and officers' quarters are very noticeable and a great improvement.

Foreman Glison, in charge of planting at the park, reports that approximately 75 trees were lost in the creek rise Thursday night.

Lieut. Lafield and family motored to their home in San Antonio the past week. He reports the old home town looking good, especially the warm weather.

A total of 16 men have been discharged to accept employment and other causes since May 1.

This leaves the present strength of the company at about 577.

St. Anthony's Church

Sunday, the 8 o'clock mass will be sung and the children will make their first communion. Second mass at 10 o'clock. Week day mass at 7: May devotions at 8 p. m.

Closing exercises of St. Anthony's school, especially the three-act comedy, given by the fifth, sixth and seventh grades proved a success. The audience was larger than usual and acclaimed it a good night's fun. The "Penny Pirates," as they dubbed themselves after raising enough funds by means of pennies earned to pay the delinquent rent to Mr. Jones, won over to themselves Florabelle and Harold, elite city children, whose parents would not have them mingle with back yard neighbors, and with the aid of Miss Elizabeth, elite cousin, herself captured by the novelty of the adventure, finally caused the conversion of hard hearted Mr. Baird into a real father, instead of the mere boarder he was. As a happy ending, Mr. Baird reemployed Mr. Jones and permitted him to remain as his backyard tenant, much to the satisfaction of the Penny Pirates.

To prevent motor damage when you

...drive slowly

...pick up quickly

...drive over 50

...you must have oil of high film strength!

DID YOU know that idling along at 10 miles an hour or picking up suddenly can cause as much motor wear as high-speed driving?

All three put extreme pressure on your connecting rod and crankshaft bearings. If your oil does not have enough oiliness and film strength to withstand these high pressures, your motor parts suffer damaging wear. That's why you need oil with the greatest possible oiliness and film strength.

Straight mineral oils have no more oiliness and film strength than they had 10 years ago. Some, because of over-refining, have less!

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has more oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than straight mineral oils! The Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base oil—puts into this oil more film strength and oiliness than any oil possesses naturally, no matter what crude oil it is made from!

That extra film strength and oiliness enable Germ Processed Oil to stay on the job and prevent wear under the most extreme pressure and heat. It helps Germ Processed Oil give long mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Germ Processed Oil protects your motor another way. Because it penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, it forms a "Hidden Quirt" that stays up in your motor and cuts down wear during the starting period.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the oil you need in this day of slow city driving, speed on the highway and sudden acceleration everywhere. It protects your motor and saves you money!
